UNITED FARMERS WILL LAUNCH EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN IN ALL PARTS OF ONT. THIS YEAR

Political Propaganda Will Be Carried To All Sections of the Province by Ablest Speakers in Legislature—More Than Fifty Meetings Arranged For Summer Months—Secretary J. J. Morrison Scheduled To Address Largest Number of Gatherings.

Toronto, June 3.—The United Farmers of Ontario have planned one of the greatest political educational campaigns ever staged in Ontario for the coming year. A partial list of the meetings arranged for the summer months all ready has passed the fifty mark, while an equal or greater number is scheduled in the U. F. O. co-operative selling drive.

J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U. F. O., stated today that the organization is better equipped than ever before to carry on its educational propaganda, as a great number of speakers have been recruited for the various meetings.

Premier Drury, Hon. Manning Donnelly, Hon. F. C. Biggs, R. W. E. Burnaby, president of the U. F. O.; A. A. Powers, president of the U. F. O. Co-operative Company; J. J. Morrison, Mrs. Brodie, J. H. Purvis and Mrs. Laws, are the ones upon whom the heaviest burdens will fall. Mr. Morrison heads the list so far compiled.

"It is not our intention to throw the full load of the work upon the members of the Legislature," said Mr. Morrison. "We did not do that during the last election. Mr. C. C. Sandy of Victoria, being about the only one who was asked to work in the general cause."

PUBLIC SCHOOL IS FORCED TO USE CORRIDOR AS CLASSROOM

Another Temple of Learning Teaches A B C's in Cloakroom—Problem For Board of Education.

Evidence of the crowded condition of the public schools is illustrated by the fact that a corridor at Wootton Road School has been fitted up as a classroom; cloakrooms are being used at Ealing and Colborne Street schools, and Victoria School in using rooms in the South London public library for overflow classes. Eerton Street School is still being converted from a temporary residence into a permanent school. In many of the other schools, 50 or more pupils are found in one class.

YOUNGSTERS WAITING ANXIOUSLY FOR BIG SCHOOL PICNIC FRIDAY

Arrangements Completed For Annual Event That Brings Joy to the Hearts of London Children.

All arrangements, except as to the very desirable guarantee of fine weather, have been completed for the big public school picnic on Friday afternoon. All recreations have been undertaken to prevent accidents, and nurses and first aid experts will be in attendance in case of minor hurts and bruises or emergencies of any kind.

Every teacher will be accompanied by a company his or her class, and remain in charge until after luncheon. Parents have been requested to send an abundance of provisions so that the children will enjoy a real picnic.

Baskets of all sorts of food, including sandwiches, will be labelled by the teachers to avoid confusion or mixing of supplies belonging to different schools. A band concert will be provided by the band of the Western Ontario Regiment, under the direction of Bandmaster Slater.

London, June 3.—(By the Canadian Associated Press)—King George's 55th birthday today produces many loyal eulogistic references. The colonial office list of honors which was published today, contains no Canadian names, but a number of knighthoods, etc., go to other Dominions.

WAIVES OATH OF ALLEGIANCE FOR RETURNED MEN

Winnipeg, June 3.—Administration of the oath of allegiance was waived yesterday when fifteen new members were admitted to the Manitoba bar, fourteen of whom were returned soldiers.

"I consider it unnecessary to administer the oath of allegiance to these men who have served their country in battle," said Chief Justice Mathers in his address, "and they have already proved their fidelity and loyalty; several of them were wounded in service. We are glad to welcome them to the bar."

ITALY MAKES NEW OFFER IN ATTEMPT TO SOLVE PROBLEM

Premier Nitti Submits Compromise Proposal to Jugoslavs.

League Involved

Wilson's Stipulations Regarding Certain Districts Are Followed.

Paris, June 3.—Premier Nitti of Italy has made to Jugoslavia a new compromise proposal intended to solve the vexed Adriatic question, says a Lathach dispatch to the Matin.

President Wilson's stipulations relative to the eastern boundary of Julian Venetia has been followed with a few slight modifications, which are for the purpose of assuring the defence of the city of Trieste, it is said. Albania, just west of Fiume, would be under Italian sovereignty. The harbor, however, would be placed under the administration of the League of Nations, and the suburb of Sussak would be given to the Jugoslavs. With the exception of Lussino and Cherso, situated in the Gulf of Quarnero, southwest of Fiume, all the islands along the coast would go to Jugoslavia, which country would also receive all of Dalmatia except the port of Zara, for which an autonomous government is planned.

URGES FARMERS TO SEE THAT THEY GET ATTENTION BY GOVTS.

J. B. Reynolds Advocates Better Organization Among Agriculturists.

Ottawa, June 3.—That the work of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists would open up vast avenues for the benefit and opportunity of the future generations was the sincere assurance given the society at its banquet at the Chateau Laurier last evening by His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire in the course of a comprehensive address.

President J. B. Reynolds of Manitoba Agricultural College, in his address on the subject of "The Future of Agriculture," urged the necessity of organization—organization for political purpose of the abolition or reduction of the "luxury tax" in this respect is being urged to Sir Henry Draxton, minister of finance. The speaker also stated that the burden of collection be removed from the small retailer.

AMERICA'S GREATEST FIGHTING SHIP WILL BE LAUNCHED TODAY

Super-Dreadnought Tennessee Constructed At A Cost of $20,000,000.

New York, June 3.—The super-dreadnought Tennessee, the largest and most formidable United States battleship afloat, goes into commission today at the Brooklyn navy yard. Constructed here at a cost of $20,000,000, she is 625 feet long, has a beam of 95 feet and a displacement of 23,500 tons.

A "fighting brain," incased in a steel fort near the bow, the forward mast, the enemy craft could sight the Tennessee. The ship's complement is 23 men, their fighting consists of three decks and a gun turret. The ship is equipped with a number of concentrated devices for observing enemy ships. These include the new "fighting brain" which is a special signalling device connected throughout the ship, instant instruction of range and rapid fire. The "fighting brain" is filled with mechanical devices for range finding and other delicate instruments.

THE BUSY BUDGETEERS

By H. F. GADSBY.

The Government has been acting just a little like a drunken sailor. The inebriate mariner squanders his own money, but the Government has been squandering ours. But now the fat men of easy money are all over, and we are down to brass tacks again.

Had Three Alternatives.

The Government was confronted by three alternatives—borrow more money and incur our credit, repudiate the war bonds and ruin the credit of the nation, or tax. It was Hobson's choice—they taxed. They have no patience with the millionaires who are comparatively few. When a man has a million dollars, he has a million dollars more. They have no patience with the millionaires who are comparatively few. When a man has a million dollars, he has a million dollars more. They have no patience with the millionaires who are comparatively few. When a man has a million dollars, he has a million dollars more.

CONGRATULATIONS TO KING ON HIS 55TH BIRTHDAY

Ottawa, June 3.—The Canada-West Indies conference today dispatched to the King the following message of congratulations:

"The members of the Canada-West Indies conference, assembled at Ottawa, present their loyal congratulations to his majesty on the occasion of his birthday. Under the stern test of the world war, an inflexible resolution and an unwavering unity of effort inspired the people of the Empire in their defence of British ideals and British institutions. Facing new problems in times of peace, we assure his majesty of our conviction that a similar spirit of unity and an equally high resolve will inspire all his majesty's subjects in their determination to maintain and strengthen those bonds which have so happily joined us together in the past."

CANADA'S TRADE IS INCREASING BY MILLIONS EVERY MONTH

Ottawa, June 3.—Canada's trade continues to increase, as shown in the figures for May prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Imports for May, 1920, show an increase of more than two hundred million over the corresponding month of last year, and of more than one hundred and fifty million over May, 1918. Exports show an increase of more than twelve millions for 1920 over May 1919, but there is a decrease of two hundred and sixteen millions as compared with 1918.

Imports from the United Kingdom totalled approximately $141,000,000, and from the United States approximately $122,000,000. Exports to the United Kingdom were $147,000,000 and to the United States $466,000,000.

NAME THE ROADS AND WE WILL MAKE REPLY SAYS MR. POCKOCK

Answers Challenge Made by A. B. Ingram, Vice-Chairman of Ontario Railway Commission Regarding the L. and P. S. Fares.

"Let Mr. Ingram name the electric roads which are operated under the jurisdiction of the Ontario Government and we will be able to make a comparison with the fares on the London and Port Stanley Railway." This was the reply which Philip Pockock, vice-chairman of the railway commission, made today to the offer of A. B. Ingram, vice-chairman of the Ontario Municipal and Railway Board, to wage the fares on the London and Port Stanley were higher than the fares charged on any electric railway under the jurisdiction of the province on Ontario.

"I am satisfied that the L. and P. S. R. rates are considerably below those of any other electric lines with which a fair comparison may be made," Mr. Pockock said. "John Farnley, the chairman for the employees, when conducting negotiations with our road, commented on the favorable state of affairs here as compared with similar electric roads. For all that, Mr. Ingram is not trying to compare the city with some suburban line on a parallel with the street railway line to Springbank. When I made comparison of prices I was naturally thinking of the bigger roads. If we were to make a comparison of steam road rates we would make them with the C. P. R., G. T. R. and C. N. R. and not with the minor lines, and so in comparing the Port Stanley, I did so with lines that are on practically the same basis."

"However, if Mr. Ingram will name the particular railroads we will have a basis to work on."

Mexico City, June 3.—State authorities at Vera Cruz have accepted the offer of the United States Government to send a sanitary detachment and supplies to that city for the purpose of combating the spread of bubonic plague, says a dispatch from that city to the newspaper Universal.

Ships are allowed to enter the port, but rigid quarantine regulations are being enforced. Furniture suspected of having come in contact with the plague is being burned in the streets. In one lot of furniture burned yesterday there was a bomb concealed. This exploded, killing one man. Theaters and churches, it is said, will be allowed to open soon.

POSSE SEARCHES IN VAIN FOR INDIVIDUAL SUSPECTED OF CRIME

Thomas Mund of Edmonton Is Suspected of Murdering Children.

MAY HAVE SUICIDED

Boy and Girl Allowed To Go With Him To Plant Tree.

Edmonton, June 3.—Search for Thos. Mund, who is alleged to have brutally murdered a boy and girl, aged 10 and 15 years respectively, the two children of Otis Macdonald, Manitoia, has so far proved fruitless. A party of 100 police and farmers are scouring the district, but at a late hour last night Mund was still uncaptured. Belief is gained that Mund, rather than face capture, has suicided in the Fennell River.

Mund is alleged to have secured sanction to have the children accompany him, on the pretext of planting a spruce tree on the grave of Mund's father. The bodies of the children were found with their heads battered out of recognition, supposedly by a blunt instrument.

White and Negro Clash in Street Fight in Newport, Wales.

Newport, Wales, June 3.—White and negro sailors clashed in street fighting last night and early this morning in this city. Large crowds assembled in the thoroughfares, windows were smashed, and a number of houses badly damaged. Several revolver shots were fired, but resulted in no casualties. Several combatants, however, were badly beaten, and one white sailor was arrested. Careful handling of the crowd by a large force of police finally restored order.

The encounter, which was caused by a quarrel over a woman, recalled similar rioting last year.

U. S. STATE DEPARTMENT ASKS INVESTIGATION OF BURNING OF FLAG

Washington, June 3.—The United States state department today asked the District of Columbia commissioners for a statement of fact as to the burning of a British flag yesterday in front of the treasury building.

The department acted on its own initiative, officials said, no protest against the action of the women having been made by the British embassy. No arrests were made when the flag was burned, and none has been ordered since that time. The women have pickedet the treasury frequently, and their burning of the flag passed almost unnoticed, as the presence of the banner-bearers at the treasury building had ceased to excite public curiosity. State department officials would not indicate what action would be taken under the report as to the facts had been received.

The latter, until recently a Carranza general, is officially admitted to have joined Villa. The Osuna following is variously estimated at from 1,000 to 1,500 men.

'SIMPLIFIED PLUMBING' EXPONENTS WIN ANOTHER VICTORY IN TORONTO

Provincial Housing Commission Withdraws Objection to the Elimination of "Back-Venting"—Means Saving to Purchaser of House.

Another victory for the exponents of "simplified plumbing" resulted from the conference of London representatives with the provincial housing commission, Ald. Cunningham stated on returning from Toronto today.

The provincial commission has withdrawn its objection to the elimination of "back venting" in houses being erected by the local housing commission, and will be satisfied if the plumbing is carried out in accordance with by-laws that may be adopted by the city. Ald. Cunningham claims that this means a saving of $30 or $40 to the purchaser of each house.

With H. C. McEldrie, Ald. Cunningham also interviewed E. A. Dallyn, provincial sanitary engineer, in regard to permitting simplified plumbing under provincial rules. Mr. Dallyn was somewhat opposed to the proposal, but it was agreed that this type of work could be permitted if fixtures used to replace the vents were approved in each case by the local board of health.

VISITS WESTERN
MEDICAL SCHOOL

Rochester Foundation Representative Would Make No Statement Regarding Grant.

Dr. Richard Pearce of the medical education division of the Rockefeller Foundation visited London on Wednesday to investigate the claims of the Western University in the five million dollar appropriation set aside by the foundation to aid Canadian universities.

He would make no statement as to the likelihood of a grant to Western University, but he did make a report to the foundation, but he appeared well pleased with his visit to the medical school, the Institute of Public Health, the new medical building in course of erection on Ottawa street, and Victoria and Bathurst hospitals. It will, however, be some time in the fall before announcement may be expected as to what grant will be made to the Western medical department.

Dr. Pearce was entertained at a luncheon at the London Hunt Club, attended by members of the medical faculty, the university board of government and other medical men interested in the university. Among those present were Mayor P. S. Little, A. T.
Little, Philip Peacock, Major T. J.
Murphy, Dr. Hadley Williams, Mr.
Gregor, Patten, Crane, McKibben,
Miller, Luney and Slack. From London Dr. Pearce left for Montreal, and will later visit Western Canada.

BUTCHERS THROW OUT
INTERNATIONAL CARDS
TROUBLE NOT KNOWN

Electricians Accept 75 Cents
Co-operative Store Soon
—Carnival Arranged.

Small local butcher shop proprietors
have no objection to displaying union cards in their shop windows, but they object to paying anything towards maintaining the shop cards. They want the cards for nothing, so the butchers'
delegates told the trades and labor council on Wednesday night, and because all the shops didn't get cards, some of the big shops, where quite a number of union men work, threw out the cards.
The delegates to the labor council weren't just sure what the trouble really was about, but they expressed the opinion that the Butchers' Union would get it straightened out all right.

The electricians reported that they had accepted 75 cents an hour, and agreed to return to work for a year.
The bakers received a new bakery started recently in London was enjoying nearly all international union men, and paying them. The status of the firm in question had been questioned at a recent meeting of the union, and the bakers reported that conditions were still very unsatisfactory.

Joseph Hill reported that the cooperative store committee will call a big meeting shortly, and that the new store will be started in rented premises
until the Labor Temple takes material form and can offer the co-operators a congenial location.

Under the auspices of the trades and labor council a carnival is to be held at Queen's Park this week commencing August 2. An aggregation of attractions known as "The World-at-Home Shows" will be the chief feature.

TWO NEW PLAYGROUNDS
FOR LONDON YOUNGSTERS

Matter To Come Before the Public Utilities Commission.

Recommendations for the establishment of two new playgrounds, one at Queen's Park and the other at Bur-kett's Flats in the southeast section of the city, will be before the public utilities commission this afternoon by the playgrounds committee. The committee Wednesday afternoon recommended the establishment of two playgrounds amounting to $5,000, and General Manager Buchanan will proceed at-once with the equipment of the grounds.
David Allan has been selected by the committee as chief supervisor, and he will have six assistants. The grounds will be three acres. A permanent park building may be erected at the Thames park playgrounds. Plans and estimates will be obtained and if built, it will be in the bungalow style of architecture, constructed of brick, concrete and steel. Reduced appropriations granted by the city council will not permit the purchase of land for a playground in the southeastern section of the city, but citizens in the Pleadilly-Adelaide vicinity will be appealed to donate or lease sufficient land to the commission for temporary playgrounds. A fifth playground may be established south of Blackfriars bridge, report being made that sufficient land might be obtained from Sunny flats, belonging to the Gibbons estate. Mrs. Ronald Harris will be interviewed in regard to the matter.

AFTER "FLU," GRIP

Flu and Other Prostrating Diseases
That Exhaust the Blood.

There is often that extreme tired feeling, loss of appetite, tendency to anemia, nerve exhaustion, inactive bowels, constipation and great danger of still further prostration and serious illness.

Hood's Sarsaparilla first works upon the blood. It is remarkable how promptly its purifying, vitalizing effects are noticed. It "smokes food taste good," promotes assimilation so as to help secure the greatest nourishment possible, promotes digestion. Nerve strength and cheery health inevitably follow;
rueful danger is avoided and the glad-to-be-alive feeling again prevails. To read this is well, to realize it yourself is better.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today, and for a cathartic, nothing better than Hood's Pills. In small doses a gentle laxative; larger, an active cathartic.

It doubles the fun when

RESCUE WORK MAY BE DUTY OF POLICE DEPARTMENT HERE

No. 1 Committee To Recommend That Police Take Care of Drowning Accident.

Rescue work in connection with drownings and other accidents may be placed under the direction of the police instead of the fire department. No.
1 committee of the city council decided Wednesday afternoon to make a recommendation to this effect to the council.

Fire Chief Aitken said that if the fire department was to continue to do this type of work three men would have to be added or one piece of fire-fighting equipment would be made useless while the men were engaged in rescue work. The fire department was never called on for this duty until the city hall disaster in 1899. It had been left in their charge since then. He thought it a possibility that the fire underwriters would demand the addition of men to the department.

Ald. John Bridge said he would like to hear the police department's side of the story. The matter likely will be discussed fully by the council before the recommendation is adopted.

The parks department has again made its annual refusal to pay local improvement taxes on parties improperly amounting to $512.20. As the parks appropriation was considerably reduced
this year without consulting the parks
board, the matter will not be pressed.

Mayor Little and Aldermen Harley and Drake were appointed representatives of the council on a committee to administer the industrial site. City Engineer Barker and General Manager
Buchanan were authorized to co-operate in preparing plans for developing the property.

An increase from 60 cents to 90 cents was recommended in the per diem charge for city patients at the institutions under the control of the Women's Christian Association. This is done with the proviso that room be found for several city patients whom it is claimed have not been able to get accommodation.

Additional Men.

If the rescue work in connection with drowning accidents is made the duty of the police instead of that of the fire department by the city council,
it will mean the employing of additional men, according to Inspector Robert Birrell.

At present there are only two men around the station all the time, namely,
the desk sergeant and the patrol sergeant. When an accident occurs, the driver takes the ambulance to the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets to pick up the traffic officer and then proceeds to the scene of the accident.

As a drowning case necessitates the rescue party being away from headquarters for a considerable time, a second driver would have to be on duty at the station during the absence of his fellow-officer, the inspector explained.
Not all the policemen in fact, only a few of them, are trained drivers. Therefore the taking over of the additional duty would result in the doubling of each patrol shift, and consequently the training of more policemen as drivers.
Should trouble arise during the absence of the regular driver, and incidentally the patrol, only the open car, which is not very suitable for carrying prisoners to the station, would be available.

WESTERN UNIVERSITY
AND COUNTY COUNCIL
COMMITTEE MEET

Discuss Grant Which May Be Made to University by Middlesex.

A committee from Western University,
comprised of Dean Sherwood Fox,
of the arts department, and A. T.
Little, chairman of the board of governors, is in session at the county buildings this afternoon, with a special committee selected from the county council to hear inducements for a grant to be made by that body to the university.
The latter committee will report back to the county council, which meets here on Monday next, and the grant is to be made for a practical memorial to Middlesex heroes of the war.

The form of grant to be made has not as yet been definitely decided, although a science laboratory in the proposed new arts building has been suggested. The committee from the county council is composed of Thomas Clark, county warden; S. Oles, reeve of Strathroy; J. E. Harrison, reeve of Parrishall; C. H. Henry, reeve of Mc-

OBJECTIVES PASSED
IN S. A. CAMPAIGN

Salvation Army Officers Meet
With Success in This District.

All centres of the London district of the Salvation Army in which the juilee self-denial campaign opened on May 31, have reached their objectives.
The 27 towns which have reached their objectives are: Chatham, Dresden, Wallerston, Listowel, Owen Sound, Palmerston, Durham, Harrington, Monrovia, Glencoe, Ridgeway, Glenheim, Kingsville, Amherstburg, Seaford, Stratford, Strathroy, St. Marys, Theod-
ford, Tillsonburg, Aylmer, Wallaceburg, Windsor, Hanover, Southampton, Port
Elgin and Lucknow.

Woodstock, which was delayed for some time by the Jewish relief fund, has now started to canvass, and already has $1,500 of its $2,500 objective.
In St. Thomas the campaign will open on the 14th of this month, and Sarnia will start on the 14th. Chesley will start within the next week. Windsor, which has been delayed on account of the new sanatorium, will not start until the fall.

Staff-Capt. H. Ritchie stated this morning that the amount which would be reached by the district would easily total $50,000. This amount will not include Windsor or London, the drive
here being postponed indefinitely.

JUNE WEDDINGS

WONNACOTT-HAYWARD.

Queen's avenue, when his daughter,
Freda, became the bride of Elmer Wonnacott, of London.

Thomas Wonnacott, E. and the late Thomas Wonnacott of London Township. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. E. Prescott, pastor of Dundas Centre Methodist Church.
The young couple were unattended.
The guests partook of a dainty wedding dinner, the table being most attractively arranged with pink roses and carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Wonnacott left on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, and on their return will reside on the groom's farm

GRAND JURY URGES A JUVENILE COURT

Find Ontario Hospital and Jail in Excellent Condition.

The grand jury sitting at the June sessions in the county buildings here this morning brought in its report and was discharged by County Judge Talbot Macbeth, who is presiding. According to the report, the jail was visited and found to be in first-class condition. There are 20 prisoners incarcerated here on the following charges: Vagrancy, breach of Ontario temperance act, receiving stolen goods, theft, bigamy, drunkenness, and indecent assault. There are two females and two juveniles in detention. On the two criminal cases heard, the jury brought in true bills in each case.

The report states that one inmate of the jail is helpless physically and mentally, and should be removed to a proper institution. The juveniles, says the report, "made mistakes possibly without criminal intent and other punishment than commitment to the common jail should be provided for them." The jurors also urged a juvenile court.

The Ontario Hospital for the Insane was visited and conditions found to be excellent, with clean rooms and comfortable beds. The new balconies provide extra sunshine for the patients, which now number 1,235, and overcrowding is in evidence. The fire has handicapped live stock development, but the two were found to be in first-class condition.

"In the interests of economy," concludes the report, "the county should be visited."

Commenting on the report, Judge Macbeth said: "The helpless case referred to, according to the sheriff, is one of vagrancy, and the authorities are handicapped when no other institution will accept such cases. The man cannot be turned out into the street. With regard to the juveniles, as soon as they are sentenced they are taken away at once to industrial school."

"With regard to a juvenile court, I may say that there is no more fit man for dealing with juveniles than our magistrate, Mr. Graydon. He hears these cases separately in police court, and the Children's Aid Society has a representative present, so it is practically a juvenile court. I congratulate the jurors on their report and sense of economy in curtailing their visits to county institutions at this time." The judge then discharged the grand jury.

L. S. R. AGREEMENT TO BE CONSIDERED TOMORROW NIGHT

City Council Will Hear Report of No. 1 Committee.

Having been successful in defeating the London bill in the Legislature, the London representation committee has decided to carry the fight against higher car fares to the Provincial Parliament as well. William Tite, secretary of the organization, today forwarded a letter to Attorney-General Raney strenuously opposing an increase without a vote of the people.

The letter follows: "Dear Sir: We are again forced to solicit your kindly offices to protect the citizens of London from the group in our city council from deliberately overruling the expressed wish of the citizens."

"They are again proposing to increase the street car fares, this time about 40 per cent, with a temporary agreement, until a bylaw can be submitted to the people (at their leisure), although the people turned down flat a 25 per cent rise in car fares in the last January election."

"I might point out that the council last year gave this 25 per cent increase to the company, and the company, in return, submitted it to the people. The company illegally collected the extra 25 per cent for some months before restraining proceedings, but the poor working men and women never got their money back from the company. They again propose to do this same thing, promising to submit to the people."

"But the people have refused a 22 per cent increase. It is preposterous to suppose they will sanction a 40 per cent increase, especially as this increase amounts to about three times more than is necessary to pay their employees the extra wages asked."

"Now, however, we are calling on you to protect this act pertaining to the London Street Car Company, as it is a violation of the public interest. A reason for the act, there is a reason to protect it, and we look to your office for aid. I have the honor to remain, yours truly."

"WILLIAM TITE."

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. JOHN DICKSON, 521 Emery street, celebrated their golden wedding Wednesday afternoon. Friends and relatives from the city and outside points were present. The home was beautifully decorated with roses, carnations and lilies. A marked feature of the celebration was the wedding ceremony, in which Rev. M. Savers of Watford, officiated. The evening the party sat down to a sumptuous supper, and a little later they were serenaded by the McClary Band. Mr. Dickson is a valued employee of McClary's, having been in their service for 29 years. He is at present holding the position of foreman of the metal pattern department. After the supper Mr. and Mrs. Dickson were presented with a purse of gold by their children. Many other beautiful and valuable gifts were received from friends. Mr. and Mrs. Dickson were married in Falkirk, Scotland, on June 2, 1870, by Rev. James Hunter, B.D., of Falkirk, Scotland. They came to Canada in May, 1891.

LUXURY TAX UNFAIR TO THE JEWELERS

President J. S. Barnard of the Association Points Out Facts.

An illustration of striking unfairness resulting from the imposition of the new luxury tax without any reasonable notice, is pointed out by John Barnard, president of the London Jewellers' Club. While the tax on new goods will only amount to 2½ per cent more than the total of previous taxes, it is being charged on goods in stock on which 10 per cent has already been collected by the manufacturer, plus a war tax of 7½ per cent.

The 10 and 7½ per cent charges will not be charged hereafter, but the jewellers are being obliged to collect the new tax of 20 per cent on goods which have already been assessed the other taxes.

Another big objection is the burdensome bookkeeping involved, retailers being obliged to make returns in triplicate of all purchases, and as many jewellers have a large repair trade to attend to, the loss of time is serious. The Hamilton collector of customs frankly told the Jewellers' Club of that city that he had no idea where he was expected to store all the invoices he expected to receive.

On mounted diamonds the new taxes are 1 per cent, 20 per cent, as compared with the old tax of 10 per cent, or an increase of 11 per cent in all. Since there is no tax on unmounted diamonds, Mr. Barnard was asked if there was any way to prevent the purchase of unmounted diamonds and their return to the same or other dealers with rings or other articles of jewelry to be sold by the jewellers.

"Nothing but our own sense of honesty," said Mr. Barnard, adding that the purchase of unmounted diamonds are considerable in Canadian towns near the border. American tourists picking up diamonds in London, which enter Canada free of duty.

A turnover tax, even if it were a little higher in actual working out, would be preferable from the jewellers' standpoint, he said. It would mean much easier bookkeeping.

W. F. Boughner stated that the haberdashers are not being too seriously affected by the new taxes. While there is an increased demand for straw hats costing less than $5, the minimum value at which hats are taxed, there continues to be a good demand for Panama hats, which have not advanced in price, apart from the tax. But no other cloth hats are being hit harder by the taxes, as they have already advanced in price.

Prospective purchasers of a Panama, which he could go on for 24 years as a luxury tax, naturally expects the price to be increased, so does not register any kick. Mr. Barnard said that the luxury tax of $1.25, giving him the same hat this season for $13.25.

Present An Extraordinary Opportunity To Save You Money

Our advice is to BUY NOW, and buy to the limit of your needs and means. What we are particularly featuring in this exceptional bargain list below are many drug lines which either are already or are liable to be seriously affected by the recent budget. The 30 per cent tax on all patent medicines containing alcohol has not yet been clearly defined, but there is every likelihood of many popular preparations, such as BEEF, IRON AND WINE, TANLAC, TASTELESS COD LIVER OIL, AND MANY LINIMENTS, COUGH SYRUPS, etc., coming within the meaning of the act. Already an excise duty of $2.00 per gallon prevails on such articles as PERFUMES, TOILET WATERS, FLORIDA WATER, BAY RUM, COLOGNES, HAIR TONICS and FACE LOTIONS, etc., containing alcohol. Since the tax is to be put on by the manufacturers, the stock we have on hand is exempt, and that is the one reason we can afford to offer such exceptional bargains as these for

WITHDRAWS HIS CASE OVER HOLSTEIN BULL

Hugh McCullough Ordered To Pay Portion of Defendant's Costs.

At the sitting of the June sessions in the county court today shortly before his case was to go to the jury, through his solicitor, P. H. Bartlett, Hugh McCullough, suing W. H. Armitage for $500 and costs, withdrew the case, and Judge Macbeth decided that he should pay his own costs and a portion of defendant's.

Because his peddler Holstein bull met death on June 20 by crashing into a post after charging a dog which was worrying it, caused Mr. McCullough, a farmer, to sue Mr. Armitage, a neighbor, and owner of the dog, for $500 damages.

Hugh McCullough, when called to the stand stated that he had first seen the bull standing half way between his house and that of Armitage's. It was drooping and its back was humped. He managed to get the animal to his barnyard, where it died a few minutes later. He received no money for the carcass when it was removed by the fertilizer company.

When questioned about the dog which the bull had charged, Mr. McCullough admitted that the dog was a good one. He said the bull was worth $400. The plaintiff claimed that when Mr. Armitage came to the barnyard next morning he had said that nothing would have happened if he had turned it down the road.

Broken Bones.

Mr. Hetherington, an employee of the fertilizer company, was called. He stated the bull's death was caused by broken bones and blood vessels in the neck. The skin was scraped in several places.

Mrs. McCullough claimed that Armitage expressed surprise at the animal's death. She claimed that the collie dog owned by Armitage was vicious.

Wilson McCullough, son of the plaintiff, corroborated his father's evidence as to the statements made by Armitage in the barnyard next morning. He also claimed that the dog was vicious.

At this point R. G. Fisher, who appeared for the defendant, asked that the case be thrown out as a non-suit. His honor was inclined to agree with him, but after consulting with P. H. Bartlett, who appeared for the plaintiff, he allowed the case to proceed.

Mr. Armitage was called to the stand and told how the accident had happened. His dog had pursued the bull onto the road, when the animal turned and charged the dog. In missing the dog the bull ran head-on into a post causing the injuries. The bull had jumped the fence, which had divided the pasture, where it grazed from the field where Mr. Armitage's cows pastured.

One case for the jury was settled out of court this morning. Joseph E. Jeffrey claimed $150 and costs from Sol. Warner, alleging breach of contract in the sale of a horse. Defendant issued a counter-claim for $100. Terms of settlement were not made public.

The suit of Sophia Stofish, St. Marys against Allan McQueen for $500 and costs for alleged false arrest, is being heard by the jury this afternoon.

URGES A COMMUNITY SAFETY LEAGUE FOR LONDON AND DISTRICT

Manager of Ontario Safety League Addresses Chamber of Commerce.

"Accidents are not accidents, according to the dictionary definition, said R. B. Morley, general manager of the Ontario Safety League, with head members' council of the local Chamber of Commerce at the regular noonday luncheon, held in the local Chamber today. 'Accidents are but the effect of carelessness in some form or other,' he declared. 'Safety is a habit, and it is beyond that point, and is the one non-controversial subject we have, where employers and employees can agree that safety work will pay them and pay well. The employers have more to gain than the employees.'

"There are two features to safety work," continued the speaker, "the humanitarian and the economic. As the former is obvious, I will deal with the economic feature, which provides ample justification for the work. Our league opened in January, 1914, planning to spend $20,000 in the first year, but we started on the goodwill taken from the surrounding atmosphere. Now we are going strong. Our industrial work includes weekly bulletins, a library, motion pictures, which we loan to firms, and school bulletins."

"I am sorry to say," continued Mr. Morley, "that there is only one copy of our weekly school bulletin sent to each London principal. We hope some day to persuade your school board to take one for each room. We obtain ideas from a community point of view, exchanging with English and States Safety Leagues. We know that children under the auspices of the Ontario Motor League for the best safety essays, and send letters to parents. We also give publicity to our safety work through Canadian newspapers and magazines."

"In Toronto alone our results have been great. The number of violent deaths, exclusive of murder and suicide, in the Queen City in 1912 was 252, and 219 respectively. At no time since the inception of the Ontario Safety League has the above death rate gone above 250. In 1919 the rate was 221, or 12 below the expected total. Last year we spent $20,000 in Ontario, and if our work saved twenty of those lives at a cost of $1,000 per life, the money was well spent in Toronto alone."

Reports from various chiefs of police in Ontario and other officials, he concluded, "show that we get results. We cannot get all the money we want to spend on this work. We need more education and co-operation. Let the Chamber of Commerce consider the formation of a community safety league, of some sort for homes, schools and industries. It gives dividends which are not always in money, but in lives, legs and arms."

The speaker advocated safety patrols for school children here, whereby several older pupils in each school, whose deportment warrants such recognition, should be selected by the principal to constitute a safety patrol. Their duties would consist of arriving at the school early each day so that they may caution the younger ones of street dangers and leaving places to take the school route to school assigned to them, where they could warn the children rushing into roadways and at dangerous intersections. He claimed that marvelous results had been obtained by these patrols in other cities, where the patrol captain forwarded a report of every accident with its cause.

Bart Cottam presided at the luncheon and introduced A. B. Ingram as manager of the London street railway. C. Warner, conductor of the street railway, B. King as former manager, and H. B. Ashplant as counsel for the railway. A. B. Ingram, who was in the chair, presided at the table between Manager C. B. King and Superintendent Harry Hetherington of the street railway. Before the meeting concluded, Chairman Cottam pledged to Manager Morley that the Chamber of Commerce would seriously consider the formation of a community safety league here in the near future.

No. 1 committee of the city council received the agreement from City Solicitor T. G. Meredith Wednesday afternoon, but took no action with it. It was thought that the special street railway committee would meet today to deal with it, but it was later decided to deal with it up in committee of the whole.

ENJOYABLE PICNIC

Dundas Centre Choir Hold Annual Event at Springfield.

An enjoyable time was had by the members of the Dundas Centre Church choir, which held its annual picnic at Springfield Wednesday afternoon. The baseball game was the main event of the afternoon, in which there was much loose play and many long hits. A goodly number of which went for home runs.

The luncheon, which was eaten in the pavilion, was a decided success, being served by the ladies, who had the tables beautifully decorated with flowers they had gathered during the afternoon.

Race Results.

Novel and interesting sports were carried out, and the contestants proved themselves athletes of no mean ability. It is said that "music hath charms to soothe the savage breast," yet it must be admitted that voice culture was thrown aside for the day and pedal extremities used to good advantage. The several events which were run off included:

Young Ladies' Race—Miss Lenore Webster. 2 Miss Marjorie Tanton. Young Men's Race—1 Gordon Morris. 2 Douglas Morris. 3 Peanut Race—Marjorie Tanton. 3 Lenore Webster.

Married Men's Race—1 Harry Allport. 2 A. C. Deacon. Married Ladies' Race—1 Mrs. Harry Allport. 2 Mrs. D. C. McQuinn. Horse race—1. Marjorie Tanton (driver). D. and G. Morris (team); 2. Miss MacKewell (driver). H. Allport and R. Adair (team).

Ladies' throwing baseball—Lenore Webster. Men throwing baseball—Heber Gibson. Eating the doughnut—1. Roy Adair; 2. Delmar Lewis.

Cost race—1. Miss Ollie Suhr and Mr. Herman Brouwer; 2. Mildred Pocock and Douglas Morris.

Mr. J. Parnell Morris was starter and master of ceremonies; Mr. Brouwer and Clay Gibson were the judges; Mr. Harry Lewis was prize distributor; Mr. John Adams was umpire of the ball game and general clerk of the course.

Cheers were given for the success of the picnic to the conveners of the social and sports committee, Miss Suhr and Mr. Harry Lewis.

JUDGE IS FOUND NOT GUILTY OF WHISKY THEFT

Cautioned in Court To Be More Careful in Future.

Alex. Judge of this city was found not guilty of stealing a quantity of whiskey valued at $1,500 from the C. Ontario Safety League, with head members' council of the local Chamber of Commerce at the regular noonday luncheon, held in the local Chamber today. The verdict was returned after the jury had deliberated for one hour and a half.

On discharging the prisoner Judge Macbeth cautioned him to be more careful in the future.

"If any stolen goods are dumped on your property hereafter," he said, "I would advise you to notify the police immediately. You will find that it will prove the safest and the cheapest course in the long run."

Many Witnesses.

The case was in progress from 9:30 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Many witnesses were called by the prosecution.

MORE THAN HUNDRED SEEK DIVORCE HERE

Petition With 117 Signatures Sent To Parliament—Majority Males.

Seeking divorces and unable to procure them under the present system because of the high costs entailed, 117 Londoners have signed a petition which Major G. N. Weekes, a local lawyer, has sent to Ottawa for the local House of Commons.

"At present divorces cost anywhere from $1,000 to $2,000. If the power of granting them is given to supreme court judges, the cost will only be one-tenth of these amounts."

Of the number asking for the separation decree are males and 30 females.

"To the Senate and House of Commons of Canada:

"The petition of the undersigned citizens of the City of London, Ont., humbly sheweth:

"1. That your petitioners have been deserted by their respective spouses and such spouses are living in adultery with other persons.

"2. That nearly all of us are returned soldiers or the wives of soldiers, and we lived happily in our homes until separated by the duties of the war, and doubtless would still be living happily but for such separation on war duty.

"3. That most of us have children, who, by reason of such desertion and the breaking up of our homes, have now no real homes and we ourselves are likewise homeless.

"4. We are all young and healthy people, and with all those instincts with which our Creator endowed us, and we feel that the continuance of the legal bond binding us to those who, on their part, have scorned it, and depriving us all our lives of the privilege of lawful wedlock is a cruel wrong to us.

"5. Already many persons, in positions like ours, seeing that divorce in Ontario is treated as a luxury, quite available to the rich, but out of the reach of the poor, the class to which we belong have formed natural fringes and are asking for pity in them, desiring the disapproval of those persons who, not having occasion themselves, are denying to others, but for ourselves, we prefer to be lawfully married, to produce and bring up our children in peace and quiet, and to live in peace and quiet, or as outcasts, or in social ostracism, who, by reason of such desertion and the breaking up of our homes, have now no real homes and we ourselves are likewise homeless.

THE LATE VERSCHOYLE CRONYN, K.C.

The death of Verschoyle Cronyn, K.C., closes the life of a first white child born in the county of Middlesex. The Huron & Erie was organized before Confederation, and Mr. Cronyn was born before the rebellion. During his lifetime he saw London and Western Ontario grow from small beginnings to the splendid country it now is, the best part of Canada. Mr. Cronyn was the eldest son of the late Rev. Benjamin Cronyn, D.D., Bishop of Huron. He graduated at Toronto University, and was called to the bar at Osgoode Hall in 1857. He was the head of a firm enjoying one of the best legal practices in the province. His life was quiet, even, successful, characterized by more than ordinary ability and the strictest integrity.

Mr. Cronyn's life was one of singular value to the country. In his long life he came in contact with many people as a solicitor, and in connection with the various financial concerns with which he was connected. The Huron & Erie and the Canada Trust are his monuments. He organized them and to him is mainly due their great success. Through them the good of Mr. Cronyn's life will be projected into succeeding generations. London owes a great deal to the Huron & Erie and other companies like it. That London is a city where the majority of the people own their own homes is largely due to such corporations. Money was easily obtained to build a home or for any proper purpose, and more was paid to depositors than in the chartered banks, and they brought many millions to Canada for investment. The Huron & Erie has had unbroken success, and in time the necessity for a trust company, in connection with it, became apparent, and the Canada Trust was organized. It, too, has had unbroken success, and both such continuous growth that Western Ontario, their native field, was found too small. They expanded and opened branches in the Prairie Provinces.

Mr. Cronyn's life emphasizes the value of a good life to the country. He accomplished the work not of one man, but of many men, and others have taken up the work he so well established. It will be continued and grow to vaster proportions. Dr. Lyman Abbott says, "No man is ever finished. We are here in the making. Death is home-coming. 'I go,' Christ says, 'to prepare a place for you.' We set sail upon an unknown sea, but we go not to a strange land. Here we are pilgrims and strangers; there we shall be at home. From some poor hut in Ireland one after another of the family set sail to America, their Eldorado—first the sons, then the daughters, last of all the father and mother. With some sorrow in their hearts for the memories of the past, with some fear in their hearts mingled with anticipations of the future, they take their passage in the narrow quarters furnished by the steerage. But when the voyage is over and they land on this side, the sons and daughters are on the wharf to welcome them. Theirs is really a home-coming. So all of us have sent some friends before us, a brother, a sister, a child, a husband, a wife. When we are summoned to our departure, though the ship be strange, and the sea unknown, we shall be embarking for a land where friends will be awaiting us. To fall asleep here, to wake up there and find ourselves at home—how strange will seem the sudden transition."

Mr. Cronyn's activities were not confined to these companies. He established the first street cars. He was also one of the organizers of the first Bank of London, which sold to the Bank of Commerce, and of which for many years Mr. Cronyn was solicitor.

In politics, Mr. Cronyn commenced life as a Conservative, but when Edward Blake, his brother-in-law, became leader of the Liberal party, Mr. Cronyn became one of his most ardent followers, and was at one time president of the Reform Association of London. As such he presided at a well-remembered meeting when the Hon. S. H. Blake addressed it. Mr. Cronyn leaves a large family of sons and daughters. Mr. Hume Cronyn, M. P. for London, is his eldest son. They have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement. Again of such a life it is true to say:

"Death is the entrance into light:
Behind its cloudy purple gates
The everlasting morning waits."

The lives of very few, if any, now living or who have lived in London have produced as much benefit to the country as Mr. Cronyn's life. It is well that Mr. Cronyn a few years ago passed the Huron & Erie and Canada Trust in very competent hands and the practice as solicitor of the firm of which he was the head in the hands of his son-in-law, Mr. F. P. Betts, K.C., associated with Mr. Thomas Coleridge.

JAP LABOR AND FAR EAST.

Far Eastern Siberia has become the centre of interest in the Far East. It now seems clear that the Japanese militarists have been moving to get control of the rich district. Strange to say they have of late been blocked, not by Russia or pressure from the other powers, but by a domestic row.

The Siberian and Chinese policies are directly linked up with the quarrel between the Japanese workers and the capitalists. When the enacting of progressive labor laws was broached in Japan, Japanese cotton manufacturers—who, by the way have participated in the golden rewards of cotton manufacturers the world over and show dividends of fifty per cent and upwards—threatened to move to China, where they would be unhampered by restrictive labor legislation. The capitalists of Japan then had their fingers in the Shantung pie. They pushed the militarists, already over-willing.

Much of the secret diplomacy which marked the aggressive policy of Japan during the past year and a half in Siberia has now come to light. Still more has not been revealed. Enough is made clear to show that Japan ardently desired and secretly worked for complete economic domination of that immense field. But the temper of the workers was becoming more incorrigible. It hampered the Government in its foreign policy. Only two per cent of their number, approximately, have the vote, according to Paul Reinsch, former United States ambassador to China, yet agitation was strong enough almost to force a manhood suffrage bill through the Japanese Parliament in February last. This was in spite of the fact that practically every member of the Japanese Parliament was against the bill. The situation was flamed by the emperor suddenly dissolving Parliament.

Since then, the temper of the workers has become more truculent. The cost of living is always on the rise. Wages, as elsewhere, have risen greatly, but still lag behind. The Siberian ambitions of the dapper Japanese military staff were embarrassed at every turn by the avowed sympathy of workers in Japan with workers in Siberia. The struggle is not yet ended. But if the Japanese ambition to dominate Siberia (to the prejudice of the just trade ambitions of other nations) fail, then the failure will be due to the increasing power of the working population of Japan, not less than to influence exerted on Japan through Great Britain, the United States, Canada and Australia.

Yet Japanese labor exists under such varying conditions—so different from the fairly uniform pattern of American and European labor—that it would be futile for the westerner to prophesy its future.

Men workers fall into various groups: the casual laborer, the "ordinary workman," the artisan and the factory workers. The factory worker is most amenable to organization. It is he who has led the strike movements, as it is he who is best informed on trade unionism in other countries, on the significance of the International Labor Bureau and on Parliament.

Ordinary workmen are divided into coolies. The "hewers of wood and drawers of water," the tetsudai, the helper or doer of odd jobs. The tetsudai usually group themselves around the local boss or chief. The chief finds work for his men, pays them and is in fact the same relation toward them as the railroad contractor in Canada is to his men. But the Japanese relationship is more intimate and has more exciting possibilities. The Japanese chief is father to his children, the workmen, and the members of one group frequently carry on feuds with the members of another group.

Coolies, on the other hand, have no immediate protectors. Their lot is a hard one. They collect at so-called "human marts," found in all the larger cities, especially in Tokio and Osaka. In the markets of Osaka, the second largest industrial centre, they congregated last year to the number of 500 a day. The condition of most of the men is miserable. Their clothes are ragged. When it rains they have no shelter. They herd in railroad inclosures. The "human marts" are usually found in the vicinity of shipyards, arsenals, iron works and around docks. There, employers and foremen pick out such as offer themselves for the day's work. And when his day's work is done, the coolie repairs to the miserable doss house just outside the city.

The factory laws of Japan, ridiculously inadequate as they now are, have been designed to apply particularly to women and children. In 1917, 30 official records show, out of 1,300,000 employees in factories (establishments employing 15 or more), about 54 per cent were women. The number of women employed in actual factories is, however, far surpassed by those employed in industrial shops and at home. The factory law applies to 21,000 factories. Of these, about 340 employ more than 500 workers. Besides these, there are 63,000 factories employing less than 15 workers.

The factory law as it exists fixes normal working hours at 12 per day, but it does not apply to factories where men and boys only are employed. Further, an extension to 14 hours is allowed to factories or factories turning out silk goods until 1931. Prohibition of night work is provided in the case of persons under 15 years of age and women; but this again does not apply until 1933, where the night work is in two shifts. Again, cotton mills are exempted until 1931.

The majority of the women and girls are employed in the cotton and silk mills, according to the last Government report more than 300,000. More than this number of women and children are employed in weaving at home.

It is now becoming evident how significant are the projects of Japanese capitalists. The human ambitions of Japanese workers are not so well understood. But a real sympathy with them is as necessary to peace in the far east and to a proper shaping of foreign policy as is a thorough comprehension of the aims of Japanese militarists.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

June is here with its bees, butterflies, brides—and bugs.

Somebody wants to know what the common people think about when they are idle. Well, a good many of them are wondering how soon they will have to break into the baby's bank.

As soon as possible it should be made clear just what standing the board of commerce possesses. While there is doubt as to its jurisdiction, its functioning cannot have the confidence of the public.

OTHERS WONDER, TOO.

[Helen Rowland.]

Sometimes I wonder what sweet, romantic dreams of love and marriage are those of the little girls and boys who acquire all their knowledge of domestic life from the comic supplements.

From Here and There

BOYS AND BOXING.

[Kingston Whig.]
Boxing is a manly sport and ought to be encouraged. The country would be all the better for more boxers and less sissies.

UNWELCOME IMMIGRANTS.

[Providence Journal.]
No matter how thrifty and industrious they may be, if these Menonites who threaten to migrate to Mississippi persist there in being a law unto themselves in such vital things as education and national defence, and so come into contact with the public authorities, will they not be as undesirable as they are in Manitoba and Saskatchewan?

THE LARGEST BIBLE.

[London Morning Post.]
Though the Bible Society has a remarkable collection of Bibles in its library, the largest and most wonderful Bible in the world is in the Royal Library at Stockholm. The covers are made of solid planks, four inches thick, and the pages each measure a yard in length. It is estimated that a hundred asses' skins must have been used to furnish the 398 parchment leaves of this colossal book.

THE MAIN SPRINGS OF COMMERCE.

[Springfield Republican.]
Railroads are the foundation of the vast industrial development which the twentieth century has inherited from the nineteenth. It is idle to plan for the future without considering the means of transport. The increase of production as the remedy for high prices if the additional product cannot be marketed. Wipe out railroads, and America would sink to the present economic status of Russia, where the cities starve and the farmers produce little more than enough for their own consumption.

IN THE LAND OF THE SPHINX.

[Cassidy Mail.]
Happily the Miller commission found a number of torch-bearers on route who made many doubts very interesting discoveries, but were unable to tell us anything about it, because had it been publicly announced that Lord Miller had had a most illuminating talk with X Pasha behind a laurel bush at the Cafe Riche at midnight, while Sir Rennell Rodd extracted invaluable information from Y Bey enrobed in the splendour of the Zoo, and somebody else exchanged views with a third notability in the shadow of the Sphinx at dawn, this publicity would have deterred all the other notabilities from making their secret rendezvous in their turn.

CARTOGRAPHERS KEPT GUESSING.

[London Daily Chronicle.]
The announcement that Petrograd has suffered another change of name, and is henceforth to be known as Leningrad, will be a warning to cartographers not to hurry with the map of Russia. Those who are issuing their war maps in monthly parts will be wise to conclude their series with Soviet-land, or whatever its name will be. And even then it may be necessary to trace the country on a slate background, for the convenience of those who like to keep their maps up to date. Leningrad today may be Trotskygrad tomorrow, and Moscow and Nijniygorod will hardly retain their old-world form. Trotskyism seems inevitable.

SUMMER DANGERS.

[Kingston Standard.]
Deaths from drowning have already commenced for the season; for as regularly as summer comes round so do these. Swimming is being taught more than ever it was and it is to be hoped that in the future reduce the deaths. Another series of deaths may be expected owing to the fools who will insist upon rocking the boats, and there would seem to be no remedy for knocking except the use of the head. Canoes may also be anticipated to levy their toll of deaths, and here again it is often stupidity and rashness which are answerable for catastrophes. There is yet another danger in the summer, that of bush fires due to the heedlessness of campers not putting out their smoldering ashes, throwing burning cigarette and cigar ends about, and other careless acts. What these bush fires, due to these causes, would probably have cost the country, could they be ascertained, would run into startling figures, and not only cost the country in money, but in precious lives. Summer is a delightful time, but it has its dangers.

GETTING TOGETHER.

[Hamilton Herald.]
One of the most hopeful signs of the times is the "get-together" movement in which employers, labor and organized employers are participating. It is very cheering to be able to note the successful outcome of the meeting held in Hamilton yesterday for the purpose of organizing a "national joint conference" of the employers and workers engaged in the building industries. Prominent representatives of the Canadian Association of Contractors and Building Industries and of the organized building trades met and agreed upon a plan the details of which appear in our news columns. The important feature of it is that chosen representatives of the employers and workers are to constitute a conference board to which will be referred for settlement all local trade disputes which cannot be settled locally. The end desired by both parties is to lessen friction and avoid strikes. This national board will have other functions, all for the purpose of "improving the building and construction industries."

It is worth noting, however, that something even better than the board is hoped for as an instrument of co-operation between employer and employee, for one resolution adopted yesterday affirms that the board's functions shall be advisory and educational, "with the purpose in view of its ultimate replacement by a permanent national industrial council for the building and construction industries."

There is good reason for hoping that that other "get-together" movement, the Hamilton branch of the Independent Labor Party will soon be very much in evidence. We understand that the reorganized chamber of commerce is going to get behind it and shove and the directors of the chamber of commerce are men of action; every one of them has a record for getting things done in the right way. It may be expected that very soon conferences will be held such as those proposed by the labor men, to consider ways and means of overcoming present economic difficulties and averting threatened economic and industrial dangers.

SIX DAYS ENOUGH.

[Windsor Star.]
The city council is to be commended for its firm attitude toward the proposal of a Detroit firm to sell Olibway property on Sundays. An advertisement in a Detroit paper the other day stated that there would be Sunday selling of the property in question. Of course the real estate men may get around the Canadian law, by merely showing the property on Sunday, and actually completing the sale across the river or on some other day of the week, but it is well that all should know just where our authorities stand on such matters. When Canada is no longer able to do enough business in six days of the week, it will be time for Canada to shut up shop and retire from the field. We do not want here the Sunday conditions that obtain across the river.

TAX ON MEDICINES.

[Montreal Gazette.]
We referred yesterday to the tax on patent and proprietary medicines as unduly high. The case of hospitals and other eleemosynary institutions is in point. These are not proper objects for taxation, but rather for gifts and support; yet it is estimated that the proposed new taxes will amount to not less than $50,000 annually upon the hospitals in Montreal, and a vastly greater sum in respect of hospitals and like institutions throughout Canada. That surely is not the purpose of the finance minister. Hospitals are hard put to it already to make ends meet, and instead of being levied upon they should receive the largest measure of assistance in their work the federal authorities can extend.

It is believed that the larger portion of the tax on medicines will come from the poor, and that a workingman will be better able to pay a tax on his daily food when he is well than on medicinal remedies when he is ill and earning nothing. Proprietary medicines are to a large extent the poor man's doctor. To the rich price is of little concern, even when these remedies are used, but the less well-to-do, and particularly the numerous part of the population living remote from doctors, are compelled to rely upon the family medicine chest and its proprietary medicines. The finance minister is expected to give an open mind and an appreciative ear to the representations now being made to him from many quarters, and he should not hesitate to amend his taxation proposals as equity and an even incidence of the burden indicate.

Poetry and Jest

THE FAIRIES HAVE NEVER A PENNY TO SPEND.

Rose Fyfe.
The fairies have never a penny to spend,
But theirs is the dower of bird and flower,
And theirs are the earth and sky,
And though you should live in a palace of gold,
Or sleep in a dried-up ditch,
You could never be poor as the fairies
And never as rich.

Since ever and ever the world began,
They have danced like a ribbon of flame,
They have sung their song through the ages long,
And yet it is never the same.
And though you be foolish or though you be wise,
With hair of silver or gold,
You could never be young as the fairies are,
And never as old.

KINGS.

The "class" composition was on "Kings," and this is what one boy wrote:
"The most powerful king on earth is work-king; the laziest, shir-king; one of the worst, kings, shir-king; the witliest, shir-king; the quietest, shir-king; the thickest, shir-king; the shiest, shir-king, and the noisiest, shir-king."

RUS VS. URSS.

[Franklin P. Adams.]
When'er the penner of this poem
Regards a lovely country home,
He sighs, in words not in measure,
"I think I'd like to live out here."

And when the builder of this ditty
Returns to this pulsating city,
The perpetrator of this poem
Yawns for a lovely country home.

THE SOURCE OF PROFIT.

Jones was very much surprised to see a lot of quite nice-looking clocks displayed in a window, marked $5 each. He went inside and asked to see one. "I don't know how you can do it at the price," he remarked. "It must cost that to make one of these."
"It does," replied the jeweler.
"Then where does your profit come in?" asked Jones in amazement.
"In repairing them," the jeweler informed him bluntly.

DAWN.

Marjorie L. C. Pickett in "Drift of Fancies."
O, keep the world forever at the dawn.
"Ere yet the opals, cobweb-strung,
Have dried,
"Ere yet the moon's lustrous glow
Has faded, stars have died,
O, keep the eastern dawn no wider than
An angel's finger-span,
And hush the increasing thunder of the
To murmuring melody
In those fair coverts where tempests
Ne'er should be.

Hold back the line of shoreward sweep,
And veil each deep sea-pool in pearl-
mist,
"Ere yet the silver ripples on the verge
Have turned to amethyst,
Fling back the chariot of encroaching
day,
And call the winds away
"Ere yet they sigh, and let the hastening sun
Along his path in heaven no higher run,
But show through all the years his golden rim,
With shadows lingering dim,
Forever o'er the world awaiting him.

Hold every bird with still and drowsy wing,
That in the breathless hush no clam-orous shout
Shall break the peace that hangs on everything
With still awakening notes;
Keep fast the half-seen beauties of the rose
In undisturbed repose,
Check all the iris buds where they unfold
Impatient from their hold,
And close the cowslip's cups of honeyed
gold.

Keep all things hushed, so hushed we seem to hear
The sounds of low-sung clouds that sweep the trees;
Let now no harsher music reach the ear
No earthlier sounds than these,
When whispering shadows move within
the grass,
And airy tremors pass
Through all the earth with life awakening thrill,
And so forever stilled,
Too sweet in promise e'er to be fulfilled.

O, keep the world forever at the dawn,
Yet, keeping so, let nothing lifeless seem.
But hushed, as if the miracle of morn
Were trembling in its dream,
Some shadowy moth may pass with downy wing
And fade before the sight,
While in the unlighted darkness of the wall
The chirping crickets call;
From forest pools, where fragrant lilies
are,
A breath shall pass afar,
And o'er the crested pine shall hang one star.

The Town Marshal—Well, sometimes the boys pitch horseshoes on the public square.

A PRAYER.

Teach me, Father, how to go
Softly as the grasses grow;
Hush my soul to meet the shock
Of the world as it is a rock;
But my spirit propped with power,
Make as simple as a flower,
Let the dry heart fill its cup
Like a poppy looking up;
Let life lightly wear her crown
Like a poppy looking down,
When its heart is filled with dew
And its life begins anew.

Teach me, Father, how to go
Kind and patient as a tree,
And the crooked croon under Under shady oaks at noon;
Be still on my mission bent,
Tarry in that cooling tent,
Let me also cheer a spot,
Hidden field or garden grove—
Place where passing souls can rest
On the way and be their best.

TWO POST-GRADUATE PUPILS OF T. MARTIN ARE HEARD IN RECITAL

Enthusiastic Audience Filled Conservatory Hall Last Night.

The piano recital given last night at the London Conservatory of Music by post-graduate pupils of Thomas Martin, Miss Laura Kirkwood and Miss Margaret Crawford, was a musical treat of rare excellence. Both young artists are possessed of a musical appreciation which is the gift of but a few students of the piano. Miss Kirkwood's rendition of Saint-Saens' "Concerto in G Minor" was a brilliant piece of piano work. No less enjoyable was Chopin's "Nocturne in C Minor" and Beethoven's "Waldstein" sonata played by this talented young artist. Another exquisitely rendered number was the Liszt "Hungarian Rhapsody" No. 6. Miss Margaret Crawford, a second year student of the conservatory, was heard first in Beethoven's "Concerto in G Major," gaining at once a sympathetic audience. Backs "Italian Concerto" gave ample scope for a display of technical knowledge and musical feeling. "Caprice Espagnole," played with fire and understanding, brought to a close her part of a most enjoyable program. Thomas Martin appeared at a second piano in the concerto numbers.

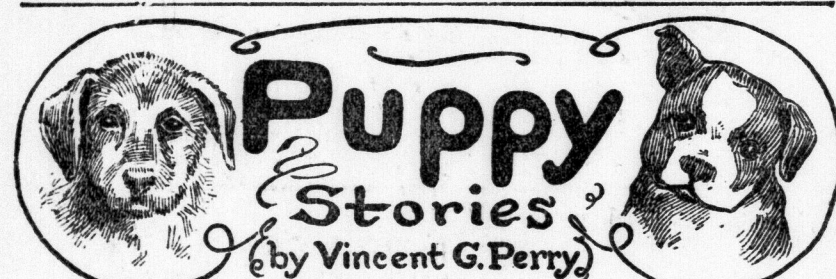

Amidsting Miss Kirkwood and Miss Crawford were several talented vocal pupils of the Conservatory of Music. Miss Nettie Jones, a pupil of Miss Dorinda Abbott, was heard in a Porgues number and Haydn's "The Spirit Song." Miss Miss Elsie McDermid, another of her pupils, sang "The Duet Man" (Dramas) and "Will of the Wisp" (Soprano). Miss Eula Kennedy, a pupil of Charles Percy, rendered Heineken and Buch numbers, while Mrs. M. E. Panton was heard in "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from Samson and Delilah (Saint-Saens). The vocal part of the program was of a very high order and put the finishing touch to a recital which ranked very high indeed, from the artistic point of view.

"THE ORPHAN PUPPIES."

Part II.

"Two Little Orphans."

Now, in another part of the city was another old mother dog, and she had two pretty little puppies, just two days old. She was very proud of them, just as Dolly had been proud of her little puppies that had died. For two days this old mother dog, whose name was Mons, guarded her puppies faithfully, but on the evening of the second day she left them and went in search of her little friend Tessie, the little girl across the street.

How proud Mons was going to be to show her little treasures, Tessie, and how delighted she knew Tessie would be. She had made quite sure all was well with the puppies before she left them, and she made quite sure that the door of the kennel would not blow closed and lock her from her little family. So eager was Mons to get

TALKS ON HEALTH

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D., Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

By the time I had attained the venerable age of twenty months the entrance to my esophagus, vulgarly known as the gullet or food chute, was armed with a fairly useful outfit of masticating apparatus consisting of eight incisors or cutting machines, four canines or tearing machines for tearing apart hunks of meat and the like, and four molars or grinding machines. With these I was able, if necessary, to shift for myself, though practically all of the work, and more or less eminent baby specialists as my dad found out, was done by the action of their books, advocated considerable coddling and pampering for older boys. I reckon, from soft remarks occasionally emitted by dad, that these baby specialists just hate to admit a guy must eat. They prefer to teach that he must be fed by a baby specialist, if he could have his own way about it, would never turn the baby over to the family doctor or the other specialists until he was safely married and settled down. Pediatricists, as they are secretly called in the profession, limit their practice to the care and treatment of infants and their complaints. By the time the pediatricist is reluctantly constrained to surrender the management of the case, another very liberal and comprehensive specialist, the internist, generally assumes charge for the vital period from, say, age 22 to age 60. After that the lesser specialists are permitted to see the case in consultation. Father thinks that every young doctor who is too lazy to remain in general practice should be a baby specialist until the babies are pretty well grown up and then sort of metamorphose into an internist to go right on looking after the same babies. That is, he advocates this course for young doctors who do not feel impelled to get rich quick by becoming eye, ear, nose, throat, head, brain, neck, chest and shoulder specialists. The reason why specialists are so numerous in this latter branch of medicine is because the internists have cornered about everything worth mentioning below the diaphragm, save the feet, and the shoe clerks are glad to pose as specialists.

Here is a sample menu of my diet from the age of eighteen months until I was three years old.

BREAKFAST—Two ounces apple sauce or prune pulp or orange juice. Eight ounces milk. Four ounces oatmeal, farina, rice or hominy, with a little cream or milk and a teaspoonful of brown sugar on. Or in place of the oatmeal sometimes I called for buttered toast.

LUNCH—Eight ounces of milk with plain or graham crackers. 1 O'CLOCK DINNER—Potato, preferably baked or mashed. One other vegetable, cooked and cut up in small pieces. A slice of meat, or a slice of fish (until I was 2 years old, not strained after that). Some fresh beef, mutton, chicken or turkey, with a boiled, poached egg or some fresh fish, baked. A slice of bread and butter. Some custard, tapioca, or ice cream.

3 O'CLOCK—Eight ounces of milk with bread and butter and brown sugar on if desired.

SUPPER AT 6: Two ounces of cereal, any kind, with milk or cream, and brown sugar if desired. Some stewed fruit pulp without skins or seeds. A sugar cookie, or some toast. A glass of milk.

After supper I generally took a few rolls in the parlor with my father or helped mother dust the whatnot, until I felt sand in my eyes, and then bade everybody a fond good night.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Nellie, B. C. M.

Seeing your "beauty hints" in the paper I am writing to ask what you consider the best powder for a blonde with light blue eyes. Will buttermilk remove wrinkles? L.A.

Anna—The title you apply to my department is flattering to me and shows that you have unusual discrimination. Health is beauty, and once young women learn that the road to beauty is along the ways of health, she stands some show of getting there. If I keep on improving my work, no doubt Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model, will write to ask whether they're going to wear cream de ville or foil de vel this season. I can't recommend buttermilk for removing wrinkles, but wrinkles may be prevented by the milk of human kindness.

The Fatality of Anger.

A son has a slight difference with his father, a man of 70 years of age. The father was greatly upset, and two weeks later had a slight stroke. This was followed three weeks later by a hemorrhage of the brain with fatal outcome. The father was under treatment at the time for Bright's disease and high blood pressure. Could excitement and anger have had anything to do with his death?

Ans.—Anger or other intense emotion increases the blood pressure, and so may have hastened the apoplexy.

BIG NATIONAL THRIFT CONFERENCE OPENS SESSION IN CALGARY

Women From All Over Dominion Meet Today To Discuss Practice of Thrift.

The big national thrift conference opens session in Calgary today and will continue throughout Friday and Saturday. Calgary was chosen as the meeting place, since the thrift campaign originated in that city, and it is expected that delegates from all parts of the Dominion will be present to urge greater thrift throughout the country. Representative will represent London, however. At this conference the women of the country will be urged to practice careful and systematic buying. Some of the points emphasized on the thrift program are:

To refrain from the use of luxuries. Exercising economy in the choice of home and outside amusements. To study the market and learn to understand the rise and fall of prices and to train the young people in this direction.

To encourage home industries and home production. To discourage societies against extravagance and carelessness in the actions of civic, provincial and Dominion governments.

individual article. In their scramble for extra business some firms may claim to pay

WASHINGTON, June 2.—By unanimous vote the House judiciary committee today ordered out a resolution repealing all war-time emergency legislation except the Lever's food control act, the espionage act and the District of Columbia rent profiteering measure.

Afternoon Session.
STRATFORD, June 2.—Everything is in readiness for the opening tomorrow of the general sessions of the London Methodist conference in Central Church. The ministerial and lay sessions are on today. The first draft

Sir George Foster has the principle at heart, although he falls down as to practice. In one of those sunset glow speeches with which he warms our hearts ever and anon, the Elder Brother told the members of parliament to

of the rationing committee has been presented, and the decks have been cleared for the next sessions.

Between 450 and 500 delegates are now in attendance. This is above the capacity of the billings committee, which has been working overtime finding accommodations for the visitors.

Although rain threatened all day yesterday and part of today, the delegates have not suffered at all. The delegates are divided in their destinations. Rain is badly needed for the crops, but a rainy season would not be welcomed.

General Session.

Following the opening exercises tomorrow by Dr. Bland, the election will be held for the officers and business. Rev. J. W. Hibbard of Essex and Rev. George Jewett of Wyoming will be the candidates for president. The choice, it is said, decidedly in favor of the latter. The remainder of the day will be devoted to the business of the general session.

At the opening of the ministerial conference, Rev. J. W. Penrose of Toronto, speaking on "A Christianity for Today," dwelt on the vital position occupied by Christ in our religion for the past nineteen centuries. "The divinity of Christ," he declared, "is the absolute foundation of Christianity."

The afternoon and evening sessions were given over to disciplinary questions.

Twelve for Ordination.

The probationers who come up for ordination on Sunday are:

London District—Maxwell C. Farr, Stratford—J. M. Eddley and A. C. Motyer.

Wingham—Frederick Stride, Strathroy—R. A. Blackburn and H. F. Lawson.

Windsor—A. Pace, Chatham—Lefroy C. White and George C. Clayton.

Ridgeway—J. W. Penrose, St. Thomas P. N. Caven.

J. W. Penrose of Ridgeway, applied to be taken on as a probationer, though aged 40 and having seven children. He entered under the usual conditions, but is now being received into full ordination.

A Mystery Man.

The resignations of Ernest Everingham, London district, and H. Hodgkinson, St. Thomas district, and the resignation of William C. Martin, St. George's, were accepted. Under the question, what probationers have withdrawn from the work within the year, the name of William C. Martin, of London, was read, but he was not on the list.

A peculiar case, coming under this heading, which caused some debate, was that of Edward R. Cowell, of Saratoga, who was spoken of as a "mystery man." Mr. Cowell was granted "leave of absence for military service," but he has not yet been known of him and his present address is unknown, though he is supposed to be in the military service. His name was finally struck off the list.

DR. J. W. HEART, PRESIDENT OF THE TORONTO DISTRICT OF THE KAPUKASKA FAIR.

Premier and Agriculture Minister Will Also Visit Kapuskasing.

TORONTO, June 2.—Premier E. D. Duggan, Minister of Agriculture, and Minister of Agriculture, will leave for their Ontario next week, and will inspect the government farms. They will also visit Kapuskasing, where the Heart Government established the first "model" colony that was the subject of an investigation recently.

GAS COMPANY WILL MAKE SERVICE CHARGE
ON EVERY CONSUMER

City Has No Control Over
Rates, Is Solicitor's Opinion.

Commencing in July a service charge of 85 cents will be made to every user
of gas in the city. A. H. M. Graydon, solicitor for the company, announced at a meeting of No. 1 committee of the city council Wednesday.

According to City Solicitor T. G.
Merrett, the city has no control over gas rates. Mr. Graydon said he appeared before the committee merely as a matter of courtesy. He said the only alternative to an increase was to go out of business, as the company was now operating at a loss.

The company had made every attempt to secure permission from the Legislature to increase the rate, but had been unable to do so this session.
Further attempts will be made later,
and in the meantime the service charge will be made to meet costs. A circular will be sent to all gas consumers explaining the situation.

Not Meeting Costs.

Mr. Graydon said that the present rate of 90 cents per 1,000 feet was not meeting even manufacturing costs,
much less office and other overhead expenses.

Ald. Harley thought the flat charge of 85 cents to each consumer would not be fair to the small user. Mr.
Graydon said that the service rendered in each case was exactly the same, and for that reason the same charge would be made. He did not think a floor-space charge would be fair, as in many homes the gas was used in only one room.

In response to another question from Ald. Harley, he said that the service charge was being made because it was thought the former would be more acceptable.

Take Care of Necessities.

The increase will not provide sufficient revenue for extensions, but will merely take care of present costs, he asserted.

The company has 11,000 customers
now. They expect to lose some when the increase is made, their representatives stated.

"When that hoped-for time arrives,
when everything returns to its normal level, we hope you will come just as courteously and announce that you are cancelling the charge," said Ald. Bridge.

PLUMBING REGULATIONS
Ald. O. I. Cunningham went to Toronto today to discuss plumbing regulations with the provincial housing commission. He was a member of the special committee of the city council which revised the local plumbing by-law, eliminating sections which required back-venting, and drafting the new bylaw so as to permit "simplified
plumbing."

The views of the provincial commission do not coincide with the city's,
and the inspector for the housing commission on a recent visit here demanded that plumbing fixtures in houses be eliminated sections which required back-venting, and drafting the
new bylaw so as to permit "simplified
plumbing."
