Farmers' Day at the Western Fair yesterday set an all-time record for the show with an attendance of 50,000 people, but perfect weather and large morning crowds promise an even greater attendance today.

It is Citizens' Day, and officials hope and believe that residents of London, together with a full quota from the surrounding country, will swell the attendance figures to new record heights.

Replacement of the Crystal Palace or the erection of a new combined poultry and live stock building looms as an early possibility to keep pace with the ever-growing popularity of the fair. Improvements to the live stock sheds this year have been the subject of much favorable comment. rendering as they do the cattle and horses much more accessible to visit-

New Hydro Commission Takes Over Duties Without Formality.

MAGRATH'S OPINION

Will Push Electrical Development in the Province to Limit.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter.

Toronto, Sept. 17 .- The new hydro regime began at 10 o'clock this morning with a graceful tribute from the new chairman to the old regime and its regent.

There was no ceremony in the inauguration of this new business administration. Mr. Magrath came in from Ottawa, breakfasted and then went to the hydro headquarters on University avenue, where Mr. Cook and Mr. Maguire, the other two mem-bers of the commission, were waiting for him. It was all done as simply as throwing a switch in a huge power house.

It might have been thought that Premier Ferguson's office would be Magrath's first Toronto port of call But at Queen's park there was no of-ficial news of his arrival in Toronto. Carry Out Beck's Plan.

The premier was not aware that he is here and had no appointment with him. This, though a trifle, is probably real dividing line between the hydro building to the south and the par-liament buildings to the north.

Canadian Press Despatch. Guelph, Sept. 17 .- Sylvadore Sansone, hailing from London, an inmate of Wellington county jail since Aug. 31, where he has been awaiting trial on a charge of breaking parole from the Ontario reformatory, mysteriously disappeared from the county institution some time between o'clock and 6:15 o'clock last night, and is still at large.

Immediately his escape was discovered, the local police were noti-fied and all surrounding towns in the district were advised of his getaway. As thorough a search of the city as possible under the circumstances was made, and the surrounding country was patrolled, but without effect, as no trace of the escaped man was discovered.

Search Leads to Hamilton. Major Lorne Cosby, governor of the jail, left early this morning for Hamilton, where Sansane has rela-

Some time later, it is understood, two of the inmates were allowed out to bring in some tools used during the afternoon in the garden. It is believed that at the time of the main door of the jail was opened to bring in the tools he had evidently been lurkyoung criminals ever placed under arrest in Western Ontario. By Staff Correspondent of the Canadian Press.

King continued his maritime campaign today with a meeting held by the seashore. During the whole campaign, the prime minister has spoken in no spot more picturesque, nor in one more closely associated with stirring days of early Canadian history. Close by, the Portuguese founded the first settlement of San Pedro from which St. Peters gets its name. The view from the open-air platform swept beyond where the Atlantic links up with the lakes of Bras d'Or, over seas where English privateers from Canso once harried the French shipping of old Port Toulouse, and it was to men "who go down to the sea in ships and make their living on the waters," as one speaker put it, that argument was largely directed.

Hon. E. M. MacDonald, minister of defence first pressed the point with reference to reductions made by the government in the import duties on articles used by fishermen, declaring that higher protection under a Conservative government would increase the duties again.

Premier King carried the point further by emphasizing, as he emphasized at Amherst, that in the development of export trade lay the way of the Maritimes. "How can the maritimes be made prosperous?" he asked. "We say by getting wider

He did not think that Ontario and Quebec with their large manufacturing centers, offered the field to the Maritimes that was offered in export Maritimes that was offered in export trade. The Maritimes were better situated than any part of Canada to participate in overseas trade. "What you need," he said, "is to have a lowering of ocean freight rates on your products. We had the courage to attack the problem. We have not to attack the problem. We have not solved it yet, but we intend to keep at it.

He mentioned the West Indies trade agreement, declaring that Nova Scotia members of the house had been requested to name the things in which the Maritimes were chiefly interested, and under the agreement, these things would enter the West Indies at reduced rates of duty.

Canadian Press Desnatch. Winnipeg, Sept. 16.—Rumors of Progressive-Liberal election pact in Western Canada definitely negatived this afternoon by Hon. Attitude Is Made Known in a Circular Sent to Missionaries in China.

NO STRIKE-BREAKERS

Feeling Is Mostly Against the British and Japanese Exploitation.

Anti-imperialistic feeling in China grows daily, and with it explanations of the Chinese student-labor riots grow more numerous. It is difficult to appreciate fully the close bond of sympathy between the Chinese student and the laborer, a condition peculiar to China and the Chinese.

According to literature received by her parents here from Miss Margaret Wilson, a Unionist church missionary in Canton, religious organizations in China are taking up the cause of the Student body heads in Shangha

The circular which Miss Wilson sends home is signed by eighteen of-ficials of the Chinese Christian Union for National Salvation. Offering as for National Salvation. Offering as facts a lengthy report on the Shameen demonstration of June 23, the Union says: That shots were fired from the international quarter first; that armed cadets, who were parad ing with students and others, could not retire and when fired upon were forced to shoot to defend themselves. The Christian Union sets forth that the students have no desire for lence, and had no such desire in June when more than 40 of their number were killed in the rioting.

An appeal is made to missionaries of China to take a part in the student movement for China's salvation. "Being aware of the fact that the world has been inadequately informed of the Chinese viewpoint and the presentation of the characteristics." sentation of their case in such affairs, we feel that it is our duty to make known these facts to our mis-sionary friends in China, and through them to the Christian people all over

Impossible To Make Definite Recommendation For Paving

Subterranean troubles along York street may lead to the abandonment of plans for a new pavement there this year. An ancient sewer has passed into a stage of wornout senility and it will either be replaced by a larger main on York street or on another street close by. Until the exact needs of the district are known it will be impossible to make a definite recommendation for York street paving this year.

Sewers now in use on York street vere constructed more than a quar ter-century ago. They are small in capacity and were laid close to the surface of the street.

This shallow sewer is proving inadequate for the needs of the downtown warehouse district. Large areas of flat roofs, paved alleyways and yards send the entire flow of rainfall onto the street.

Studies now going on indicate that the greater percentage of this rainfall is diverted by natural courses onto York street. At storm time, yardmaster of the Canadian Pacific Railway here, who was appointed recently to be yardmaster at Windtherefore, the sewers are burdened beyond capacity.

Either a new trunk sewer will be built on York street or a supplementary sewer will be built to care for the excess of moisture from the warehouse district. This may or may not be constructed on York street.

According to City Engineer W. P. Near, it will be possible to attend to sewer needs of this district before Following are stock judging results the possibility of a new pavement on issued Wednesday morning by West-ern Fair offices:

Osteopaths Deal With Problem in New Way, Speaker Explains.

To prevent or cure disease, osteopaths must get in line with the natural laws. If both physicians and laity could be brought to a clearer knowledge of this fact, the achievements of scientific medicine would still be more glorious. This was brought out by E. J. Gray, St. Thomas, speaking at the 11th annual meeting of the Western Ontario Osteopathic Association here yesterday.

The speaker said that through the department of the Laymen's Osteopathic Association many families were now receiving two of the best magazines on health culture, as well assured the souther physical exas two careful routine physical examinations annually. It was known that heart disease could be traced to some infection. Infections of childhood, sore throats, colds, flu, St. Vitus dance and other such illnesses were often the starting point of heart trouble. LONDON

WHAT IS PROSPERITY?

A concrete answer has been given by London.

"Prosperity," announces this thriving city, "means

Payrolls increased and increasing, Population increased and increasing, Building increased and increasing, Thrift multiplied,

Large local investments earning dividends."

Continued evidence of the steady and substantial growth of the City of London, the Commercial Capital of Western Ontario, is abundantly apparent in the Hundreds of houses built yearly,

School equipment constantly enlarged,

Miles of improved sidewalks and streets added.

Extension of municipal electrical equipment, water mains and all

Telephone and other public utilities expanded,

Business, commercial and financial institutions enlarged,

Motor cars and golf clubs increased in number.

Instance after instance can be multiplied showing the sound growth of London and its strongly supporting suburbs.

GREATER PROSPERITY

An opportunity is presented now, which, backed by the determination and support of citizens, will bring greater prosperity to London.

To adequately care for, catch up to, and keep pace with, its ever increasing growth, London needs a large, modern hotel.

The thorough study made of London's hotel capacity, supported by the voice of the people expressed in their overwhelmingly large majority vote given in support of the two hotel bylaws makes manifest:

1. That there is an immediate, imper-

tive need of a new, modern hotel in

2. That a new modern hotel will prove of immediate and far-reaching value in the continued growth of London.

3. That a new, modern hotel will be a practical investment, which will from the start bring profit to citizens and to London.

Facts prove that London wants, needs, and must have a new, modern hotel. In order to get it, the practical co-operation of citizens of London is necessary.

Much has been said in the past about building a new hotel in London, but words accomplish nothing, constructive action is what counts.

Answer: No. A man doesn't marry a woman just to get a household drudge. Nor does he marry her just to be a mother to his children. He marries to get a companion, and when a wife fails to be this she fails just as much in her duty as if she were a poor housekeeper, or neglected her

Dear Miss Dix-Why do you think it is that a man never wants the girl he marries to have been kissed by any other man, when he has been taking part in petting parties himself, and considers it all right for him to have done so? SIXTEEN.

Answer: Because, my dear, man thinks that only the best is good enough for himself, but he considers that anything is good enough for a woman. He wants for himself the peach with the down upon it, the rosebud with Many Visit Canadian National the dew gemming it, the white, unsullied innocence of girlhood, but he thinks that the girl should be satisfied with any sort of second-hand damaged goods.

> You girls write me by the hundreds asking me what is the harm in letting boys kiss you. There is your answer, more direct, more forceful than I could make it. Any man will kiss you if you will let him do so. He will beg, cajole, persuade you into kissing him; swear to you that he thinks none the less of you for making your lips free to every Tom, Dick and Harry who takes you to the movies, and demands the price of his entertainment of you. But when he comes to marry, he wants the girl who has kept herself undefiled, who has not been a "neck hound," who hasn't been fondled and caressed, and pawed over by other men.

From the painted shadows of the unromantic side of the footlights a thousand thrills have been sent forth by those artists who splash melody and laughter into the drab kaleidoscope we call life, interpreters of a love ditty, the syncopated fascination we call jazz, a Rachmaninoff prelude, a Chopin nocturne, or a sweetly plaintive melody of home. And we crowd to hear these makers of music that all the world loves, finding an answering throb in our souls, for they speak a language that is intelligible to everyone—the universal language of music.

Tec Catcher's Long Double in Second Frame Brings Klein in With Run That Decides Thrilling Battle of Pitchers.

BOTH GIVEN STELLAR SUPPORT

By the irony of fate, baseball, and of course, base hits, two of Buzz Wetzel's pitching finds, or lucky liscoveries, were sicked into a duel yester-day, and Bill Coogan won a 1-0 verdict from Lefty Carmen, evening up the current little world series between the Hamilton Clippers and London Tecumsehs. More irony entered into the affray when it was recalled that while Coogan and Carmen were both members of London's pitching staff, while Coogan and Carmen were both members of London's pitching stan, when Wetrel brought two pennants to London, the little southpaw had stuck like a shadow to the pilot who had twice sold him to the major leagues while Coogan's chance is still to be cinched. Still more irony and perhaps a dash of coincidence covered the duello in the fact that both are tie in league records with 26 wins each, Carmen having hung his up in But there was more good pitching than irony to yesterday's contest witnessed by nearly 3,000 fans, for while Coogan allowed but five hits, witnessed by nearly 3,000 rans, for while coogan allowed but live his, carmen went him one better, but made the fatal mistake of allowing two pf these blows to be grouped in the same inning. This was the second. Joe Klein, yesterday the subject of a presentation of a suit of clothes by President T. J. Halligan before the game, as the leading hitter of the Mint League, dumped a roller down toward third which he easily beat out, and the good-natured fat man, Misther Kernan, obligingly followed with a double to the right field alcove, which means a home run for fleeter baserunners, scoring Klein with the one run that looked so fragile at first,

Coogan had chalked up 26 victories, equalling Carmen's record, and yesterday, if there were any doubts about the merits of the record. Coogan dispelled them. He was coolly poised ever moment, even in the face of hazards, and he had such perfect control that even when he thought he was denied the corners. control that even when he thought he was denied the corners by Ward, refused to put them down the alley. Twice Chief Froman, who carried off the batting honors of the game, with the batting honors of the game, with two of the Hams' five hits, reached third, but Coogan stuck to his poise and refused to be stampeded. In the Becond frame, Froman opened with single to center. A sacrifice and an infield out advanced him to third. There he gasped out as a potential tally, when Duckworth was forced to roll to Vermilyea.

FROMAN LIKED THIRD BASE. In the fourth again, Froman, with one gone, drove a triple to right field, the ball going high over Brower's head on a line and continuing to the head on a line and continuing to the gate. Coogan struck out Robertson, a consistent hitter in the pinches, and Lopez was tossed out by Baker, in the ninth, Roper opened with a line the coor of the healt smoking in the ninth, Rober the ball smoking single past Coogan, the ball smoking by second on its way to center field. The next three went out in order. Carmen pitched in much the same most entirely by the pitching, the fire support must inevitably be underestimated, but it was there, and a estimated, but it was there, and a break either way might have produced a shambles instead of the perfect game it was. At least two of the hits that came off Coogan might have been outs without ever seeing the bases, dependent upon the coincidence of the fans' views with those of the umpires. But, after all, the umpires were calling them as they saw them, and that's a tough place to be in when the game might have been decided on balls and strikes almost.

Both pitchers were taking all the Both pitchers were taking all the long chances in sight, and not more than five balls were grooved all afternoon, and it was the sort of struggly that confirms the opinion that pitching is 75 her cent of baseball.

It take poise and courage to seek the corners and gamble with the fractions of inches that mean the difference between balls and strikes, in a game such as yesterday's was ting in the two circuits.

If first year is to be taken literally, Simmons of the Athletics, who is about the best batting kid of the lot, must be excluded, as he was in the big show last year, although he was pretty generally written down as a frost at that time. Combs can't be considered either, because he played just enough last year to take the new off before he broke his leg. Rice of St. Louis is out of it, too, because he played in 1924. That leaves only Paschal of the Yankees and Cochrane of the Athletics as possibilities in the American league first year class. Paschal has played in more than 70 games, and will probably play in 90 or so. Cochrane has played in more than 115, and may be good for 130.

In the National league Burrus of Boston and Leach of Philadelphia are the leaders, although it may be that Leach will be barred because he played in eight games in 1924.

PRELIMS GOOD

Tommy Ryan, lightning-fisted contender for the world's bantamweight belt, featured a popular boxing card at the London arena last night, when he put a sudden crimp in the aspiration of Joe Clements, rising young battler from Chicago. Ryan's appearance was a genuine treat for local fight fans, and the feature mill was far from a vaudeville performance. Referse Hayes storped the bout after Clements had been knocked down a couple of times in the second round, a decision that was as popular as it was fair. More than 600 spectators watched the bouts The main bout was scheduled to go en rounds, but Ryan showed his sin-erity by refusing to stall at any time. Associated Press Despatch. Chicago, Sept. 17—Reports of strained elations between Great Britain and Chicago, Sept. The chicago, and relations between Great Britain and relations between Great Britain and Turkey gave an early upward trend today to wheat prices here. The fact that Liverpool quotations showed something of an advance was taken as significant of the Anglo-Turkish situation, and as reflecting the smallness of immediate supplies destined for European countries. Reports of threshing delays in Canada were also given attention.

Chicago opening prices, %c lower to 1/3c higher, were followed by material gains all around. Iffring the market to $1.5214 for December. Ise higher, were monored to si.52% for December.

Corn and oats sympathized with the action of wheat. Besides, there was talk of better demand for corn to be shipped. After opening at ½c off to ½c up, the corn market scored a slight general advance.

Oats started at ½c to ¼c higher, reacted a trifle, and then rose to above the initial range.

It is estimated that eight thousand Goyan Christians have been forcibly turned out of their homes by the Turks.

Formal complaint was made by Great Britain to the council of the League of Nations at Geneva on Tuesday that Turkish soldiers had removed Christian inhabitants from villages in the territory of Mosul, sovereignty over which is claimed by both Turkey and the British mandate state of Irak. The Turkish spokesman said the British charges could not be true as there had been no Christians in the territory in no Christians in the territory in question for the last year.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR

Neutralizes Stomach Acidity Pre-vents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble — in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic, just try the effect of a little Bisurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, or milk, but the pure Bisurated Magnesia, which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or three compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach, which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that, provided you take a little Bisurated Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow, and moreover the continued use of the Bisurated Magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.—Advt.
