GOT NO SHOW

Charlie Hicklin Thinks Mayor Cowan Got Busy at the Wrong Time—All the Good Things Gone

Big Charlie Hicklin had a grievance when he struck the editorial sanctum this morning. It wasn't the customary yarn with the culminating hearty ha-ha. "This man Cowan ought to be kicked around," the bloke declared plaintively. "Under his regime the poor man ain't got no chance at all. Now, here's this man Lenfestey, right here in our own office—what chance has he got, anyhow. He just got on the School Board when Cowan was in. It's always the way, just as soon as a poor man gets in line, 'Fess aint had time. He aint even got a house and lot but of it yet, let alone had a chance to sell the High School or the County Buildings for fifty cents. It don't seem right to me. Before he gets a chance someone always kinder sees him coming and butts in. A poor man aint got no show at all."

BOY STARVING IN BOX CAR

Was Playing in Car and Companions Saw Him Carried Away

He Hid From Man Whom He Thought was a Railroad Detective—Afraid of Being Arrested

Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—That 8-year-old Louis Dobek is starving in a box car somewhere along the line of the Pennsylvania railroad, between this city and the western grain fields, is the belief of the police, who have been investigating his disappearance since last Tuesday.

Young Dobek was last seen in his long line of freight cars, stretching 60 miles from Cadiz into the Atlantic, signalled to the main fleet the news that the enemy had put out to sea. On the evening of the following day the French and Spanish fleets were sighted, and the morning of Oct. 21 disclosed the enemy formed in close line of battle.

Nelson's Immortal Watchword.

The story of the battle does not need to be told. Nelson had 27 ships of the line and four frigates; Villeneuve 33 ships of the line and seven frigates. The odds in ships and still more in men and weight of metal were heavily against the allied fleets, and in his own words, "to amuse" his fleet with a signal, he proposed to telegraph, "Nelson confides that every man will do his duty" — ultimately changed to the classic signal and immortal watchword, "England expects that every man will do his duty."

Nelson's Death.

At a quarter past 1 o'clock Nelson received his death wound from one of the sharpshooters in the midst of the French ship, "Redoubtable," but he lingered on till half-past four, long enough to know the decisive character of his victory. Dying as he had said, he was frequently overheard to mutter, "Thank God, I have done my duty," his last whisper being, "God and my country." So passed the man who, in his devotion to duty, has been universally accepted as the embodiment of the ideal held best and highest by the British people.

An Interesting Tribute.

By C. A. P.—Among the most interesting tributes in connection with the Nelson centenary is the one which the daily papers, is an immense autumn-tinted maple leaf bearing an anchor lichen and the emblems of the rose, shamrock and thistle from Victoria and Esquimaux branch of the Navy League. At the service held at the foot of the column yesterday afternoon the agents-general of the colonies were all present.

Value of Our Fisheries.

The Morning Post uses the Nelson centenary to draw attention to the wilful failure of the Admiralty to recognize the value of the North American fisheries as a school for seamen.

St. Kitts' Wreath Presented.

Lord Strathcona handed over the St. Catharines' wreath at the centenary dinner given in the Fishmongers' Hall Thursday night, where a cablegram was read from Admiral Togo expressing his everlasting admiration and devotion for the great admiral.

At the Capital.

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—The school children's celebration of Nelson Day, to have taken place on Parliament Hill yesterday afternoon, was postponed until to-day owing to a heavy downpour of rain all night. The Governor-General will arrive at 11 o'clock, the scholars taking up their position half an hour earlier.

The Day in Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 21.—Trafalgar Day will be celebrated here to-day with eclat. The ceremony will include the laying of the floral tributes at the base of the Nelson statue. Speeches will be delivered by Mr. Justice Davidson, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Rev. Mr. Jekill, Lieutenant-colonel of the 11th Battalion Argenteuil, Rangers and others. Prof. Stephen will read Kirkling's "Recessional" and the ceremonies will conclude with the National Anthem.

In Ontario's Capital.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—Thirty-five thousand Public School children and High School students of the City of Toronto yesterday afternoon supplied a link in the great chain of celebrations throughout the British Empire, in commemoration of the Nelson centenary, and the historic victory on Trafalgar Bay. In the hour set apart songs, essays and Nelson's signals formed the program, and the two prizes presented by the Daughters of the Empire for the best essays on "Our Empire" were presented to Miss Cora Willis of Wellesley School and Frederick Reid of Ryerson School. Lieut.-Gov. Clark made a patriotic address. There will be concerts and commemorative services in churches to-day and to-morrow.

In Hamilton.

Col. George T. Denison was the principal speaker at St. George's Society's Trafalgar Day celebration last evening. His subject was "What Nelson's Victory Meant to the British Empire."

Lazy old sores, painful and disgusting, will not linger, long after treatment with Weaver's Cerate has been begun. If the cerate smarta reduce it with sweet oil or lard, and cleanse the blood with Weaver's Syrup.

Oil Prices Again Advance.

Pittsburg, Oct. 21.—The Standard Oil Co. yesterday advanced the price of all grades of crude oil except Raglan.

NELSON'S CENTENARY

Brief Sketch of Incidents Immortal in British History.

Interesting Tributes From Canadian Navy League—Value of Our Fisheries as Schools for Seamen—The St. Catharines' Wreath Presented—Admiral Togo Expresses Devotion to the Great Admiral.

London, Oct. 21.—One hundred years ago to-day was fought the battle of Trafalgar, still the greatest naval combat to which history bears record, and only equalled in importance to the British people by the defeat of the great Armada. It was in September, 1805, Nelson took command of the British fleet, for the first time in his own absolute control. On October 19 his long line of frigates, stretching 60 miles from Cadiz into the Atlantic, signalled to the main fleet the news that the enemy had put out to sea. On the evening of the following day the French and Spanish fleets were sighted, and the morning of Oct. 21 disclosed the enemy formed in close line of battle.

The Day in Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 21.—Trafalgar Day will be celebrated here to-day with eclat. The ceremony will include the laying of the floral tributes at the base of the Nelson statue. Speeches will be delivered by Mr. Justice Davidson, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Rev. Mr. Jekill, Lieutenant-colonel of the 11th Battalion Argenteuil, Rangers and others. Prof. Stephen will read Kirkling's "Recessional" and the ceremonies will conclude with the National Anthem.

In Ontario's Capital.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—Thirty-five thousand Public School children and High School students of the City of Toronto yesterday afternoon supplied a link in the great chain of celebrations throughout the British Empire, in commemoration of the Nelson centenary, and the historic victory on Trafalgar Bay. In the hour set apart songs, essays and Nelson's signals formed the program, and the two prizes presented by the Daughters of the Empire for the best essays on "Our Empire" were presented to Miss Cora Willis of Wellesley School and Frederick Reid of Ryerson School. Lieut.-Gov. Clark made a patriotic address. There will be concerts and commemorative services in churches to-day and to-morrow.

In Hamilton.

Col. George T. Denison was the principal speaker at St. George's Society's Trafalgar Day celebration last evening. His subject was "What Nelson's Victory Meant to the British Empire."

Lazy old sores, painful and disgusting, will not linger, long after treatment with Weaver's Cerate has been begun. If the cerate smarta reduce it with sweet oil or lard, and cleanse the blood with Weaver's Syrup.

Value of Our Fisheries.

The Morning Post uses the Nelson centenary to draw attention to the wilful failure of the Admiralty to recognize the value of the North American fisheries as a school for seamen.

St. Kitts' Wreath Presented.

Lord Strathcona handed over the St. Catharines' wreath at the centenary dinner given in the Fishmongers' Hall Thursday night, where a cablegram was read from Admiral Togo expressing his everlasting admiration and devotion for the great admiral.

At the Capital.

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—The school children's celebration of Nelson Day, to have taken place on Parliament Hill yesterday afternoon, was postponed until to-day owing to a heavy downpour of rain all night. The Governor-General will arrive at 11 o'clock, the scholars taking up their position half an hour earlier.

DISTRICT DOINGS

TILBURY

Oct. 21.—Mrs. Parnell and daughter, who have been visiting Mrs. Jos. Beno, returned yesterday to their home in Chatham.

Miss Minnie Beno has returned from visit with relatives in Essex. Mrs. Wm. Burgess, of Essex, is visiting friends at Rosedale.

Mrs. R. Carless, of Rosedale, leaves to-day to visit her sister in Kalamazoo, Mich.

Miss Annie Sharp is spending the day in Detroit.

A certain number of our residents are objecting strongly to the $2.00 business assessment.

SMILING BABIES

The well baby is never a cross baby. When baby cries or is fretful, it is taking the only way it can to let mother know that there is something wrong. That something is probably some derangement of the stomach or bowels, or perhaps the pain of teething. These troubles are speedily removed and cured by Baby's Own Tablets, and baby smiles again. In fact there's a smile in every dose. Mrs. Mary E. Adams, Lake George, N. B., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets so good for the little ones that I would not like to be without them." That is the experience of all mothers who have tried the tablets; and they know this medicine is safe, for it is guaranteed to contain no opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. Equally good for the child just born or well advanced in years. Sold by all druggists, or mailed at 25 cents a box, by writing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THAMESVILLE

Oct. 21.—Mr. D. McFarlane is still in Toronto with his daughter, Mrs. DePencier. Before returning he will visit his daughter, Mrs. McCrimmon, in Wilby, and Mrs. (Rev.) Borland, in Miss Kate McKinlay, from Fyfe's school, leaves to-day for her home near Ridgeway, where she will spend Sunday.

Mr. Thos. Clark will spend Sunday with his parents in Bothwell.

The Daughters of Rebekah will hold their weekly meeting next Tuesday, when interesting matters will be brought up.

A few of the village people are desirous of attending the reception at Hotel Santa, Chatham, given for our worthy Minister of Education, Hon. Dr. Pyne.

Miss Fairy Watts, who has been ill for a few days, is better again.

Miss Annie Coult's returns from Chatham to-day to spend Saturday and Sunday with her parents here.

Despite the wet weather this week several from town attended the fair at Ridgeway and Moraviantown.

SOME SEASONABLE ADVICE.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy on hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by all druggists.

BLENHEIM

Oct. 21.—Mr. N. Stratton leaves this week to reside with his son, Rev. W. E. Stratton, Buck Creek, Indiana. Lester Stratton, his grandson, goes to Detroit to live with his father, Chas. Allen, of Ingersoll, who some years ago lived here and was in the baking and confectionery business, is renewing old acquaintances. He is travelling in the interest of the Buckeye Club.

J. B. Pickering can now lay claim to possessing the best heavy team of horses in Kent County, having won the first prize at Chatham, Merlin, Leamington, Blenheim and Ridgeway Fairs.

Mr. Chas. Buck has sold his property on Elizabeth street to Mr. Johnson.

Miss Beeston, of Chatham, spent this week at her brother's, W. H. Beeston.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Clark, of London, are visiting at Mr. Ira Shaver's. Tenders are being asked for by the Town Council for night policemen for the balance of the year. Mr. Nelles, having resigned his position, he leaves shortly for Chatham, where he will take a position of watchman at A. N. Byram's bending factory.

Messrs. Theo. Pickering, James Shaver and Geo. H. Bell are at the Eau duck shooting.

A. E. Newsome, of the Bank of Commerce staff, leaves here in a few days. His place will be taken by C. H. Given, of the Galt branch.

Word was received this week of the marriage at Winnipeg of Ormonde Morris, son of Postmaster Morris, Morris, son of Postmaster Morris, to Miss M. A. Houston, of Winnipeg. Born, on Oct. 12, to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Conlin, a son.

Wm. Grant, of Chatham, who has been quite sick at the home of his parents here, is much better.

A comedy entitled the Bell Boy will be put on at the Opera House next Wednesday evening.

Inspector W. H. Colles, of Chatham, was here on an official visit to the Public school this week.

Geo. Pury has opened a barber shop in the old post office stand.

E. L. Williams, manager of the Standard Bank, has been in Picton this week on business.

JOSEPH MURPHY AND HIS PLAYS

To hear Joseph Murphy laugh or sing, to see him smile, or watch him play, is a treat that can be stored in the playgoer's memory and be drawn upon when the evenings are dull and the heart is heavy. Long ago he won all hearts with his beautiful art, but, unlike the old stars, he can still hold those same hearts, and new ones, too. When he plays "Kerry Gow," some laugh and think that "Kerry Gow" is highly buoyant, and points the lighter side of true Irish songs; others cry and believe that "Kerry Gow" is the sweetest bit of pathos from Irish land, and between the laughter and tears come the conviction that Joseph Murphy is a great actor. "Kerry Gow" and Joseph Murphy cannot be distinctly separated. Critics differ on the point as to the art of the play or the art of the man. Some argue that Joseph Murphy made the play, while others testify that the play made Joseph Murphy. Which of the arguments is correct is hard to say, but it is easy for any playgoer to say that both "Kerry Gow" and Joseph Murphy are delights in the theatrical world.

There is an enjoyable element throughout the production: "Kerry Gow" is a rich study of character types. If a word of dialogue was not uttered throughout the four acts the audience would be admirably entertained in the study of characters in the cast.

Mr. Murphy is the central figure in "Kerry Gow." He has the sweet smile—a smile like old Fritz Emmett, and his voice is still possessed of its music. He impersonates the true Irishman, using the Celtic wit to win laughs, instead of low comedy. His pathos is rich and touching. Monday night is Mr. Murphy's date for Chatham.

What Sulphur Does

FOR THE HUMAN BODY IN HEALTH AND DISEASE.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and moans every spring and fall.

It was the usual spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur.

In recent years, research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide) drug stores.

The name of Stuart's Calcium Sulphide is small chocolate coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigor and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver, and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall, but the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur, of which Stuart's Calcium Sulphide is undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidote for liver and kidney troubles and cure constipation and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

At any rate people who are tired of pills, cathartics and so-called blood "purifiers," will find in Stuart's Calcium Sulphide a far safer, more palatable and effective preparation.

Australia's Import Tax.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—A letter from the comptroller-general of Australia to the Trade and Commerce Department says that the recent customs regulations of the Commonwealth adding the inland freights to the cost of imports for customs valuation applies to the ad valorem. Less than half the imports from Canada last year were subject to ad valorem rates.

HE OWES A DUTY TO THE PUBLIC

Tells of Benefit Derived from Fodd's Kidney Pills

Cures of Rheumatism and Dropsy by Canada's Great Kidney Remedy.

Yellow Grass, Assa., N. W. T., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—"I think I should let the public know the benefit I derived from Fodd's Kidney Pills." The speaker was Mr. John White, well-known here, and he voices the sentiments of many a man on those western prairies who has been relieved of his pains and misery by the great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

"I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for years," Mr. White continued. "I tried doctors and medicines, but never got anything to do me much good till I tried Fodd's Kidney Pills. What they did for me was wonderful."

"I also know the Harris family, and I saw their little girl, Edith, who was cured of Dropsy by Fodd's Kidney Pills. I know that to be true. I tell you I feel like recommending Fodd's Kidney Pills even stronger than I talk."

There is no Kidney Disease that Fodd's Kidney Pills cannot cure.

It doesn't take a man long to find out that he is short.

LITTLE ONE ONE SOLID SORE

Covered With Scales and Scabs From Head to Foot—Doctors and All Other Remedies Had Failed—Skin Now Smooth and Clear.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

Mrs. Mattie Shaffer, of Cumberland, Me., says: "Some time ago I used your Cuticura Remedies for my little afflicted babe with wonderful results. I had tried many other remedies without any benefit whatever, and Cuticura came to the rescue when my doctors and all other remedies had failed. One doctor pronounced it scrofula, the other eczema. The little one was one solid sore, with scales and scabs from head to foot, when I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The result was wonderful, and now my baby's face and body are smooth and clear." (signed) Mrs. Mattie Shaffer.

THE DUTY OF MOTHERS At the First Sign of Disfiguring Humors Is to Use Cuticura the Great Skin Cure

Every child born into the world with an inherited tendency to torturing, disfiguring humors of the Skin and Scalp, becomes an object of the most tender solicitude, not only because of its suffering, but because of the dreadful fear that the disfigurement is to be lifelong and mar its future happiness and prosperity. Hence it becomes the duty of mothers of such afflicted children to acquaint themselves with the best, the purest, and most effective treatment available, viz: the Cuticura Treatment, consisting of warm baths with Cuticura Soap, and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the Great Skin Cure, and purest and sweetest of emollients. Cures made in childhood are speedy, permanent, and economical.

The influences which surround children at night should be most carefully looked after that they be healthful. The portion of time given by children to sleep is very important, for the body continues to grow during this time. Impure air exerts a greater influence upon children than upon grown people and a lack of perfect ventilation in the sleeping room will often account for a cross, peevish child in the morning. As far as possible children should be allowed to have separate beds, and on no account should a child ever occupy the same bed with an aged person. If this is allowed, the child will be the loser in the way of vitality.

SLEEPING PORCHES.

A NEW IDEA IN THE SCHEME FOR OUTDOOR LIFE.

Eight Hours More of Fresh Air Out of Every Twenty-four—Denver Makes the Sleeping Porch an Architectural Feature.

My friend—a Denver attorney—smiled and stretched in modest appreciation of my congratulations upon his evidently fine physical condition. "Yes," he said, "I've been sleeping outdoors for about six months now." "Tent?" I asked. "Oh, no; on the porch!" he explained. "Just take a cot out there nights—no body can see me from below—and go to sleep. Have got my wife into the habit of it, too, and I don't know whether we can go back inside for the winter or not. It seems mighty stuffy there." He paused.

"Gives me eight hours more fresh air out of the twenty-four, you understand," he added, "that means a lot to a man shut up as I am in an office."

Right he was; so here presented itself a fact—if "fact" it might be styled—that appeared worth looking into.

Denver builds its porches both on the front and on the back of the house. However, the back porch is not delivered over entirely, as might be expected, to mop and pails and other kitchen and cleaning utensils and debris, but is apt to be a two story affair, with a railing around the second story and a door opening into it or upon it from within. Here is a splendid place for dusting rugs and clothing and for sunning whatever at the moment requires to be sunned. Here is a fine place to sit and write or read or watch the ever changing mountains, invisible, perchance, from the front porch. And here is a grand place to sleep at night.

The average Denverite when asked if many people of the city sleep out of doors is apt to confine the practice to invalids. As is well known, the chief element in fighting tuberculosis is fresh air—fresh air and pure air every moment. Therefore the invalids who are sent to Colorado have their instructions. Many sleep in tents, and it is not unusual to read the advertisement in, say, a Denver paper, "Wanted—By man and wife, a room with sleeping porch," and so on.

Thus introduced maybe by the weak, the sleeping porch practice is assuredly extending among the strong. Denver is witnessing houses being built with sleeping porches especially stipulated, but destined for use by the well, not by the sick.

In apartment houses loggias are being incorporated, whereon tenants may sleep, and an upper floor is left, roofed, but open, as available. It is entirely feasible for a person of good constitution to pursue this healthful plan all through the winter with good results, since the gradual change from warm to cold weather serves to harden the system.—Edwin L. Sabin in Good Housekeeping.

The Pinch of Salt.
The pinch of salt that gives an added savoriness to almost every dish should not be put in till the last moment in cases where any considerable quantity of milk is an ingredient. This bit of carelessness would prevent many a curdled failure. When a "cornel separation" has actually taken place, a dish may often be made fit to serve by the brisk application of an egg beater.

Italian Salad Dressing.
A teaspoonful of tomato paste or tomato catsup, a dash of pepper and half a teaspoonful of salt and a pinch of dry mustard; add four tablespoonfuls of olive oil, gradually stirring all the while; add a tablespoonful of vinegar and a suggestion of garlic.

Combination Sandwiches.
Cream cheese in combination with chopped olives or with chopped nuts is recommended for sandwiches. Moistened the cheese with a little thick cream and add a little salt. About two olives, stoned and chopped, to one cheese is the proper proportion. Mix the two and spread between thin slices of bread and butter. Trim the crusts, and if desired cut the slices into rounds or triangles. Peanuts, English walnuts or pecans or a mixture of these nuts combines well with the cheese. Prepare exactly as with the olives.

Ink Spots on Leather Chairs.
Try washing the spots with milk, renewing the milk till it is no longer stained and the spot on the leather has disappeared. Then wash with warm water and when dry polish with boiled linseed oil and vinegar mixed in equal proportions. But an ink stain should really be removed as soon as possible after it is made. If it has dried and hardened it is doubtful even if with several applications you will be able to remove it entirely.

A MOTHER'S DREAD.

A fear clutches at the heart of the mother that her own little one may not live long. She dreads its second summer, or that it may never wake from its sound sleep. All mothers love a mother—loves to see a mother love her child. A baby and its mother are insured against illness in the future. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a tonic for women, is the best remedy for women. Dr. R. V. Pierce invented over a third of a century ago for women's ills. This is a vegetable tonic, made only of barks, roots and herbs, which puts the female system into perfect healthy action. Before baby's coming it is just the uterine tonic that puts the womanly system into a proper condition to make the birth painless and to insure a healthy child.

Many mothers of families in the United States have reason to be grateful to the person who recommended Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription does, as no other remedy can. It cures the drains and weaknesses of women, and the manufacturers offer to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

International Bible Lesson for To-morrow.
Rebuilding the Temple—Ezra 3, 10, to 4, 5.

Golden Text—"The Temple of God is holy, which Temple ye are."—1. Cor. 3, 17.

We can find in this lesson an outline of God's plan for building His Spiritual Temple. "Other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

First of all the great altar of atonement was rebuilt when confession and blood kept these people right with God—Paul writes thus Rom. 5, 1, "Then comes praise and thanksgiving to God for His goodness and mercy towards His people, who filled with patriotism and religious zeal, very naturally give expression to their feelings; the young people shout (oh what excitement); the older ones weep (oh how emotional); yet though their feelings were so different their hearts were one. "Who art thou that judgest another man's servant?" Tears came from the memories of the grandeur of Solomon's Temple: shouts came from hopes for a greater feast of the Son of God, "a greater than Solomon," trod the courts of this second Temple, and a greater glory yet awaits His people when they are restored to Him. The true Christian outlook is forward, not backward, "looking up to Jesus, the glory that came, and it came, for the feet of the Son of God, "a greater than Solomon," trod the courts of this second Temple, and a greater glory yet awaits His people when they are restored to Him. The true Christian outlook is forward, not backward, "looking up to Jesus, the glory that came, and it came, for the feet of the Son of God, "a greater than Solomon," trod the courts of this second Temple, and a greater glory yet awaits His people when they are restored to Him. ## "Favorite" Baseburner

You never saw a stove that was quite so handsome as the "Favorite." You can't find one simply because there isn't one made.

Massive nickel ornamentation with not a single bolt.

But it is in the tremendous heating capacity that the "Favorite" outshines all others. It will give you more heat for the same amount of fuel than any other stove made.

And then let us show you how one man set it up as easily as can three men with any other stove.

We can show you in a very few minutes why you should pick a "Favorite."

The Pandora Thermometer

The thermometer on the Pandora range oven means precisely in accuracy to the cook what the square and compass mean to the draftsman. Without the square and compass the draftsman would have to work entirely by guess, just as you do without an accurate and reliable thermometer on your oven.

The Pandora thermometer reduces cooking to an exact science. You know precisely how much heat you have and what it will do in a given time. It is one of the small things which makes the Pandora so much different and better than common ranges.

PHYSICAL DEBILITY

The Latest Method Treatment is a heaven-sent boon to nervous sufferers. There are scores and hundreds of persons suffering from severe nervous disorders resulting from overwork, hurry, worry, business and domestic cares, bereavement, dissipation, etc. To these is one continual round of misery, with peace, comfort and happiness are impossible. They suffer from headache, loss of memory, mental depression, strange sensations, dizziness, nervousness, irritability, constant indigestion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, weakness, trembling, heart palpitation, cold limbs, utter fatigue and exhaustion. In this class of cases almost immediate relief is afforded by my treatment. The use of narcotics and poisonous stupefying drugs is done away with, and permanent cures accomplished.

I Cure Nervous Debility, Varicose, Stricture, Early Decay and Waste of Power, All Nervous, Chronic, Blood and Skin Diseases.

X RAY EXAMINATION, ADVICE AND CONSULTATION FREE

HOME TREATMENT

If you are in or near the city you should apply for treatment in person, but if you live too far away, write me a full and unvarnished history of your case. You will receive a careful, conscientious and painstaking attention as if you were in my office daily. As men in different parts of Canada and Mexico, as well as all over the United States, are cured by my system of home treatment, I feel fully justified in claiming that it is the most perfect and successful system ever devised. All physicians coming to me for consultation or over obdurate cases which they are unable to cure, I call upon to treat will receive the usual courtesies of the profession. Medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor, Ont., all duty and transportation charges prepaid.

BETWEEN TRAINS.

By FANNIE HEASLIP LEA

Copyright, 1905, by L. D. Marshall

The 6:30 express stopped at Race-land, and two solitary passengers alighted. A man, tall, lean and dark, left the third coach; a woman, small, plump and fair, descended from the second. Midway in their listless course to a somewhat ancient carryall they met.

"Oh-h! I might have known it!" she cried furiously.

The man said nothing at all.

"I suppose," said the woman, with ostentatious self control, "you are going to the Railstons?"

"I am."

"And have I got to go up in that trap with you?"

"You have not. I shall walk," he said calmly.

"You will do nothing of the kind," she stormed. "And have them wondering and questioning? You will go up in the trap with me."

He led the way to the aged vehicle and she followed. When they were seated and a series of noisy jerks announced their triumphant progress, he looked at her with quiet amusement.

"They will think we have come together," he said. "Do they know you are coming?"

"No," she snapped. "And I suppose you are surprising them too?"

"Quite a surprise party," he agreed. She clenched her little hands furiously.

"They will understand that it was an accident that I met you at the depot."

"They will think you have at last consented to be sensible," he mused, "and will be delighted. You know how long and ardently they have tried to throw us together."

"Us?" said the woman witheringly. "We have been fairly thrown at my head."

"Well, I never seemed to strike you," he drawled.

She flung him a scorching glance, and he subsided into silence.

When the white pillars of the Railstons' splendid old plantation house came into view, she turned on him fiercely.

"For the next two days—I suppose I must stay so long—you will be given any number of chances to talk to me."

"I'm not going to propose again," he said disinterestedly. "Don't be so worried."

"Don't talk to me," she ordered. "Don't come near me unless you have to."

"I never do," he protested, climbing out over the dusty wheel of her chariot.

Five minutes later he climbed in again after a frenzied recalling of the chariot and seated himself beside a well high speechless companion. The carryall jolted an unhappily yard or two.

"You all go in the 7:30 train back?" inquired the ancient driver. "He-he-he! 'tis am too bad. Nobody home, an' you all cum all de way up fun New Leans."

"Whip up that beast of yours, uncle," cut in the man sharply. "There's a train at 7:30, isn't there?"

"Yes, sah."

"That's all right then. Now hurry up." He turned to the tense little figure beside him, snapping open his watch.

"It's now ten minutes to 7," he announced. "It won't be long to wait, I dare say."

She surveyed him intently and without favor. "That train is never on time," she said.

He shrugged his shoulders in silence, and they jolted on till the ugly station came into view.

All around the southern twilight was deepening. A star or two winked out in the purple dusk of the sky, and down the long dusty road the katydids disputed noisily.

No one was in sight on the station platform, and only the sudden rattle of a telegraph instrument from the station itself gave any sign of habitation.

"You had better get out and wait on the platform, Mrs. Leonard," said the man.

"Thank you, Mr. Stanley," said the woman, and followed him stiffly when he had helped her from the carryall.

Stanley sat down upon a truck and whistled softly to himself. Mrs. Leonard paced the farthest end of the platform in superb silence. After a little he joined her with a laugh.

"Apparently," he said, "we're the only human beings in this solitude. I see the station agent making off down the road to get a drink before train time. There's a bit of a store a few hundred yards off. I suppose you noticed it."

"I did not," she said frigidly.

"Interesting things, these plantation stores," he began again.

"I have never found them so." She smoothed an imaginary wrinkle from her glove.

"Now, see here," said Stanley, "would you mind telling me just why I'm being snubbed and cut and frozen this way? I've said I wasn't going to propose to you again. What are you afraid of?"

"Afraid?" she mocked. "I'm not afraid. I'm tired, that's all, of being persecuted. Every one thinks I ought to marry you." Her voice began to tremble. "You think so, too, and the fact that I don't agree with them nor you makes no difference at all. You simply go on waiting in that maddeningly certain way, as if you had only to bide your time and I'd give in. Well, why should I? I'm happy as I am. I have my friends and my amusements."

Who are you that I should give them up for you?"

"Nobody," said the man wearily. "Nobody at all."

"I can't even go out of town for a day or two," she cried hotly, "without being forced into a lonesome tete-a-tete with you. I'm tired of having chances made for you to see me, tired of having people get out of the way for us. She broke off with an unwilling little laugh. "Even fate sends the Railstons to town and throws us together here, with no blissful possibility of an interruption."

"The station agent has come back," drawled Stanley, "so we're not quite alone. I think, if you don't mind," he grinned cheerfully over the misadventure—"I'll go in and wait him if the train is on time. I saw him come up the road and in through the back door of the station a minute ago. You don't mind?"

"No," she said sweetly, "I don't mind."

She sat down on the edge of the platform when he had left her and swung her feet in idle discontent.

It was very lonely. She always had had a horror of katydids, and the trilling in the trees about her excited her strength. She began to be faintly sorry that she had let Stanley go. At least she could quarrel with him, and anything was better than this awesome silence.

Suddenly there was a noise from the little station, a hoarse cry, and then the sound of a heavy fall. Mrs. Leonard sprang to her feet, every nerve strung tight.

"Klunk!" she screamed. "Where are you, Aleck?" She fled across the platform and into the little station house. There was no one in the first room and only the murky light of a kerosene lamp.

She crossed, trembling with fright, her breath coming in gasps, to the second room and stumbled over a dark body by the door. It groaned and muttered her name.

Mrs. Leonard crept back to the lamp, lifted it from the wall with shaking fingers and carried it to the door. Its light fell dimly upon a man, who, drawing himself erect, leaned against the wall and smiled weakly at her.

"I'm afraid I frightened you," he said, "but it's all right. There was a tramp—we clinked!"

"Oh, don't talk—please don't talk!" she begged tearfully, setting the lamp down on a convenient chair. "Are you hurt—much?"

"Am I got away?" Stanley finished, his voice growing stronger. "Knocked me silly for a minute. I'll be all right now."

"Oh, are you sure you're not hurt?" Mrs. Leonard cried brokenly. She laid her hand on his arm and stared at him with wet eyes.

"Don't do that," he warned her. "You'll make me propose again."

Mrs. Leonard wept softly against his coat sleeves. "I wish you would," she sobbed.

"Now, heaven bless that tramp!" Stanley murmured to himself, with a wicked smile. "It was a heaven sent inspiration!"

Led a Double Life.

Officer Martin, who had been on the "force" for six months or more, was different in some respects from many of his fellow policemen. He never went into a saloon except in the performance of his regular duty; never swore, never idled away any time, and never shirked.

Because of these differences and because he was uncommunicative and was not in the usual sense of the term a "good fellow" a suspicion that all was not right and that he had something to conceal became aroused, and at last reached the chief of police, who determined to interrogate him.

Accordingly the chief called him into his private office one morning.

"Officer Martin," he said, "so far as I know, you are one of the best men on the payroll, but there are rumors that you are not altogether what you seem to be, and that there is a chapter in your life that none of us knows anything about."

"I can't deny it, sir," responded the policeman, somewhat surprised, but not at all abashed.

"You confess it then?"

"Yes, sir."

"Would you mind telling me what it is in confidence?"

"Not at all, sir," said Officer Martin. "I sing in a suburban church choir on Sunday."—Youth's Companion.

Anthony Trollope as a Schoolboy.

Sir William Gregory gave a picture of Anthony Trollope at Harrow school that makes it evident why he was so unhappy while there. "He was a big boy," says Sir William, "older than the rest of the form and without exception the most slovenly and dirty boy I ever met. He was not only slovenly in person and in dress, but his work was equally dirty. His exercises were a mass of blots and smudges. These peculiarities created a great prejudice against him, and the poor fellow was generally avoided. It is pitiable to read his autobiography, how bitter were his feelings at that time, and how he longed for the friendship and companionship of his comrades, but in vain. I had plenty of opportunities of judging of Anthony, and I am bound to say, though my heart smites me sorely for his unkindness, that I did not dislike him. I avoided him, for he was rude and uncouth, but I thought him an honest, brave fellow. He was no sneak. His faults were external. All the rest of him was right enough. He might have been a thoroughly bad young fellow and yet have had plenty of associates. He gave no sign of promise whatsoever, was always in the lowest part of the form and was regarded by masters and boys as an incorrigible dunce."

FLETCHER.

Mr. Oom, of Detroit, is the guest of his aunt. Tom Kearns and Wm. Kelly, we understand, are about to take up their residence in Chatham. Quite a number of our young men took in the dancing party at the Auditorium last Thursday. Miss Larna, of Chatham, is the guest of her aunt here. There was a large dancing party at the home of J. Ritchie the other evening.

COULD NOT BE BETTER.

The uniform success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has won for it a wide reputation and many people throughout the country will agree with Mr. Chas. W. Mattison, of Milford, Va., who says: "It works like magic, and is the best preparation I know of. I couldn't be any better." He had a serious attack of dysentery and was advised to try a bottle of this remedy, which he did, with the result that immediate relief was obtained. For sale by all druggists.

WHEATLEY.

Wheatley Fair this year was one of the best ever held by the Romney and Wheatley Agricultural Society. In every class the exhibit was fully up to the mark. In spite of the rain on Tuesday night, a large crowd gathered on the ground Wednesday and were rewarded by seeing some extra good races. The gate receipts were about $275. In the evening the Epworth League of the Methodist church gave a grand concert. Mr. Will J. White gave several humorous selections. Mr. White thoroughly understands his business and if ever he again visits Wheatley he will be sure of a good reception. Mrs. Abram Healy is very ill at present.

Percy Goodison, of Windsor, attended the Wheatley Fair. Mr. W. Chute, of Saginaw, is visiting his brother James. Mrs. Geo. Grant, of Ruthven, spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Robinson. Born, in Wheatley, Oct. 7th, to Mr. and Mrs. David Gillan a son. Died, in Washington, D. C., Mrs. Ann Legross, aged 78 years. Mrs. Legross was formerly a resident of Wheatley.

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, and other throat ailments are quickly relieved by Cr-solene Tablets, ten cents per box. All druggists.

EAST BRANCH.

Large loads of sugar beets pass down the road daily, still there's more to follow. The small boys are laying up a supply of nuts for winter use. Chas. Tassie and his mother, also Mrs. E. Faurior, are spending a few weeks with relatives in Muskoka. Miss Mary Whitmarsh was married on Wednesday evening. A large number of invited guests were present. Miss H. Lynch is spending a week in Dresden.

There were no services in Salem on Sunday morning owing to the harvest home services at Shiloh appointment. Mrs. Teeter, Sr., passed away on Thursday evening after a few days illness, having suffered a paralytic stroke. The funeral on Sunday was largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Moorehouse, of Tupperville. The remains were interred in the Dresden cemetery. The family have the sympathy of all in their bereavement. Mrs. Teeter was over 70 years of age and was well and favorably known to a large circle of friends, who also mourn her loss. Geo. Mickle, who has been in Detroit Hospital for the past three weeks, was able to return home this week.

Mrs. Blanchard remembers her father well, as she was eleven when he died. She recalls the stories he used to tell her of the Revolution.

She is a member of Mercy Warren chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at Springfield, Mass. She has a brother, Cyrus S. Rockwell, of East Dickinson, N. Y., who is the youngest living "real" son of the Revolution.—New York Tribune.

A Room For Two.

When two occupy the same bedroom the room should be furnished with two of everything in the way of important bedroom furniture, each occupant having an individual dressing table, washstand, writing desk or table and a screen of light weight, which can be used around the washstand, bed or desk, as the owner may choose. This is the best compromise with the separate bedroom, which is always the more desirable.

Only by getting away from people, however precious their society may be, can one recover lost equilibrium and reassert one's individuality. It is good for us to be alone with our thoughts sometimes and if we are compelled to room together there should be some provision which assures at least some degree of privacy every day.

Two reasonable people can then usually get along without seriously discommoding each other, provided they are both tidy and agree regarding ventilation and light. But if one who loves order, tidiness and abundant fresh air is doomed to share her quarters with one of opposite inclinations, life will be a burden to both.

Quick Way to Do Your Mending.

With little practice all sorts of mending may be done on a two threaded sewing machine, without turning the work at all, by placing the article under the presser foot and sewing forward across the tear or thin place. When at the point where the work would ordinarily be turned, lift the presser foot ever so little with the right hand and with the left pull the work gently and steadily toward you, without stopping the machine at all. Sew backward to the point where you started from. Then release the presser foot with the right hand and sew toward you again until it is time to reverse. By this means you gradually move over a long tear with the right side of the article resting on the table of the machine and on your lap. Mend the torn scalloped of Hamburg embroidery in the same way. For a small boy's trousers seat this method of mending has no equal: Baste a good thick patch on the wrong side. Place in machine with ragged side up, then stitch up and down until all the thin part is well covered. Literally you can mend a pair of trousers while the small boy waits.

Keep the House Neat.

Keep the house as comfortably clean, but do not carry cleanliness to such a point that the home will constantly be an accusing finger, with yourself as the great human sacrifice. A man loves to have things neat and orderly about him, but hates to be reminded constantly that his wife is the drudge who has accomplished it. And remember also, by one of the contradictions of fate which are so frequently cropping up in life, that the woman who exerts herself the least is the one most humored and cosseted.

But, after all is said and done, there is little need for a woman to kill herself in these days of improved appliances. Invention has not only invaded the kitchen and stamped nearly every article there with some device for the saving of strength and labor, but has covered pretty well the entire house. Sweeping, dusting, scrubbing and polishing are now accomplished with one-half the exertion of past times.

A Too Quiet Life.

The private life is an excellent and a beautiful thing when it is founded on affection and tenderness, but to lead a private life, and only a private life, is for most women not beneficial. It narrows the mind and restricts the sympathies. It makes a woman think that because she never ate her bread with tears bread comes easily to all and there are no injustices which she need trouble herself to rectify. In words she may admit that women workers are to be pitied, but in deeds she will only be effective if she has at some time of her life worked, felt and suffered with them. And the time is at hand when women of the industrial class who do not find that all doors are kept comfortably open for them will ask middle class matrons and maids for something more than philosophic commiseration and the gratifying assurance that "there is no place like home."—Brooklyn Eagle.

A Study of Clothes.

In Paris people make much more of a study than we do of the shape, style and color of their clothes in order to have them becoming. A Frenchwoman will wear old style sleeves, but if she takes any interest in dress she won't wear a color that makes her look ugly, no matter what the fashion may be. She puts her brain power into selecting modes that are becoming to her. Of course the French dressmaker and milliner always have excellent taste, and they help her make up her mind. In Paris when one goes to buy a new costume the first question to be asked is, What will be suitable for the occasions when I want to wear it? The next is, What will suit my figure, height and complexion, without looking too dashing?—Florence Howe Hall in Good Housekeeping.

BLOOD DISEASES

CAN ALL BE CURED BY THE USE OF DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

More than half the disease in the world is caused by bad blood—weak blood, blood poisoned by impurities. Bad blood is always the cause of all the headaches and backaches, the lumbago and rheumatism, the neuralgia and sciatica, the debility and biliousness and indigestion, the paleness and pimples and all the disfiguring skin diseases. That is why these pills cure when doctors and common medicines fail. Here is positive proof: "I suffered agony from indigestion," says Mr. Fred. Pills, of Grand Desert, N. B. "I had no appetite for my meals and no energy for my work; my stomach caused me constant distress, and everything I ate lay like lead on my chest. At times I felt like a 'burden.' I was always doctored, but it did me no good. Then a little book came into my hands, and I read that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills would cure indigestion. I got them and began taking them, and I soon found they were helping me. My appetite began to improve, and my food to digest better. I used the pills for a couple of months and I was well. Now I am always ready for my meals and I can eat anything, and all the credit is due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I keep the pills in the house all the time, and I occasionally take a few as a precaution. I can honestly advise all dyspeptics to use this medicine as I am sure it will cure them as it did me. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is a fair trial and they will cure you, simply because they make that rich, strong blood that disease cannot resist. See that you get the genuine pills, with the full name, 'Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People,' on the wrapper around every box. You can get them from your medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

OUR TOWER OF BABEL.

Thirty Languages Now Spoken on the Streets of Winnipeg—Work For Canada Bible Society.

Traveler over most of the civilized world, and a good deal of the uncivilized; conversant with Russians, Kafirs and Chinamen, Ceylonese, Japans and Romans, and acquainted with the Empire; not following the flag or the dollar, but the Bible, Rev. R. E. Welsh is well fitted to be the secretary of the new Canada Bible Society. Mr. Welsh, who has recently been in Ontario, is now on his way to spend seven weeks, traversing the new polyglot empire from Rait Portage to Vancouver, and north as far as he may.

As will be remembered the Canada Bible Society was organized last year by a federation of all the Bible associations in Canada. The main object of the new organization is the translation from the old haphazard regime to the new organized system of grappling with the polyglot problem in Canada.

"We have the Bible, or parts of it, translated into 390 languages altogether," said Mr. Welsh. "Of these, nearly 40 are languages spoken in Canada and more than 30 west of Ontario. Two hundred and nineteen of them were first reduced to written or printed form by missionaries."

"In these Canadian dialects you include all Indian translations." "Yes, it might interest you to know that Archbishop of Canterbury of Rupert's Land has been lately revising the Cree syllabic dialect in London. He has done it by means of a typewriter, in which instead of the Roman letters he had engraved the Cree syllabic marks invented by Mr. Evans."

"The Cree is still a vital language. One, however, of all our languages is dead. It is the Mohawk. We have a translation of it, but there is not a living soul to speak it."

"There is another thing," continued Mr. Welsh, "a letter which I got the other day from our correspondent in Alberta. As you know, we have John 3:16 translated into all our 390 languages. Our Alberta correspondent sends me a clipping from a foreign paper, published there in a dialect which he declares does not occur in any of our translations. He says it is the language of a tribe which was conquered by Hungary, part of which tribe has settled in the West, and have a paper in their own tongue, which is called The Nitwinnan. However, I feel sure it must be a Hungarian dialect. We have already have. I shall look it up."

"Mr. Welsh was through the Northwest three years ago, and is quite ready to believe that polyglot conditions there are even more complicated than they were then. He was quite sure that at least thirty languages are spoken from the streets of Winnipeg, and was not surprised to hear of one prairie teacher who has seven different kinds of speech in his school."

"And we are aiming now," he said, "to catch these foreigners while they are new to the country, while their minds are open to impressions, before they become organized into a social system. We have great hopes of this work to cope with which the Canadian Bible Society was federated last year. We shall have five assistant secretaries, one in the Maritime Provinces, one in Quebec, one in Ontario, one in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and one in Alberta and British Columbia. Later, we shall increase those in the West. That is our objective point. We have now but a dozen co-operating teachers in all that country. We must increase these. The work must be vigorously pushed."

Reminded that the polyglot principle was opposed to the one-language system of Public Schools, Mr. Welsh said that it was absolutely essential; if the foreigners were to be reached, it must be through the medium of their own language—for the present, at least.

"Of course," he admitted, "we recognize that English is the great language of commerce and civilization, but the country must pass through the polyglot stage before that can be reached. The co-operative must work in the polyglot transition."

He recalled that it was once customary in the Saskatchewan for even English and French to learn Cree that they might converse with the natives. "That, of course, was a phase of progress and a mark of the old regime," he said. "It must pass out. English will conquer—but through polyglot. The Indian word is not our chief work. It is the European and Asiatic foreigners who are coming into that country in such large numbers that we must work on. And that is a big work."

Birth Rate in French Canada.

The birth statistics of Montreal, which have just been published, should delight the heart of President Roosevelt. The mean birth rate for the seventeen years up to and including the year 1903 was 23.22 per 1,000 of population. The French-Canadian birth rate was 49.03 per 1,000; that of the other Catholics, 24.87; that of the Protestants, 23.41. In one section of the population at least there is no race suicide. London, England, has in 1904 a ratio of 29.0 per 1,000; Glasgow, 31.7; New York, 22.7; Paris, 21.4; Berlin, 28.7; St. Petersburg, 25.5; Sydney, 28.2; Madrid, 30.2. The French-Canadian of Montreal lead the world in the matter of obeying the biblical command to "Be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth."

Growth of Winnipeg.

The building record in Winnipeg is greater than ever. Compared with the total figures for previous years it shows a marvellous increase. In last year's record several millions were represented by the new C. F. R. terminals, the Eaton block, the gas works improvements and other large structures. There are over 1,200 more buildings this year to date than last year, but the majority of these are residences. The report, which speaks for itself, is as follows: 1904—Permits, 1,763; buildings, 2,268; cost, $9,651,750. 1905—Permits, 2,761; buildings, 3,559; cost, $9,627,950.

Armour's Extract of Beef in the Kitchen.

Armour's Extract of Beef gives a rich flavor of roast beef to hash, stews, ragouts and potpies. It restores to left-over meats the full flavor lost in the first cooking. With Armour's Extract of Beef in the kitchen a soup or sauce is made ready for the table in a few minutes that it would take an hour or two to prepare with fresh meat, and it would not be as good and would cost more.

Don't forget that a 2-ounce jar of Armour's Extract of Beef will go further than an 8-ounce bottle of Fluid Beef. It is therefore less expensive. Use a quarter teaspoonful to make a cup of beef broth, etc., etc.

No Gas—No Smoke—No Dust in the "HECLA" FURNACE.

As the mercury in a thermometer expands with heat and contracts with cold, so does every other metal expand and contract but in different proportions. Steel and iron in a furnace expand and contract, but in different degrees. When the metal is joined by bolts and cement, the expansion and contractions gradually loosens the bolts and the openings left allow the dust and gas to escape to the rooms above.

In the HECLA, there are no bolts—no cement. The joints are made by fusing the steel and iron together at white heat—just as a blacksmith welds together the pieces of a horseshoe. The HECLA FUSED JOINTS are indestructible—as tight after ten years use, as before the first was started.

Laid Beside Garrick

Sir Henry Irving's Ashes Repose 'Neath Shakespeare's Bust.

Solemn Ceremony Attends Burial of England's Greatest Actor—A Cross From Her Majesty the Queen—Death Considered a National Loss, and Scores of Thousands Stood in Streets Around Abbey For Hours.

London, Oct. 21.—Beside that other great actor, Garrick, and under the shadow of the statue of Shakespeare, the interment of whose plays he won fame, the ashes of Sir Henry Irving were yesterday given burial in Westminster Abbey, thus being accorded England's greatest tribute to her dead. The services were of an impressive character, and were conducted in the presence of a congregation which included many from the highest official life of England, eminent representatives of the gallery to which Irving was so invariably attentive, who could find standing room in the abbey.

King Edward was represented by Gen. Sir Dighton Probyn, keeper of the privy purse, and the Prince of Wales was represented by Lieut.-Col. Wm. H. P. Carrington, son-in-law of the prince's household, while the Cabinet Ministers and Ambassadors attended in person.

Long before the hour set for the service, immense crowds gathered around the abbey, and those having cards of admission were in their seats as early as 10 o'clock. Those who were unable to secure admittance remained about the entrances until the conclusion of the ceremony, when in common with thousands of others they passed through poets' corner to see the burial place.

Impressive Service. The service, although short and simple, was most impressive. Sharply at noon the procession started from the Chapel of St. Faith, where the casket, containing the ashes, had lain over night, and passed through the cloisters to the place between the choir and the sanctuary where the casket, covered with the pall of laurel wreaths, was placed on a catafalque. During the procession the choir sang a hymn. Then followed the psalm, "Lord, Thou Hast Been Our Refuge." The lesson was read by Canon Dickworth, the sub-Dean of Westminster, who was assisted in the service by Bishop Well-Don, Archdeacon Wilberforce and Canon Hensley Henson. The anthems were: "Crossing the Bar" and "Weep Ye Not for the Dead." After the anthems, the casket was borne to the grave as the organ played forth the funeral march from "Coriolanus."

The only mourners were Lady Irving and the sons of Sir Henry Irving. A few intimate friends and the pall-bearers, Sir Squire Bancroft, the Earl of Aberdeen, Lord Tennyson, Lord Burnham, Sir Alexander MacLennan, Kenzie, Beerbohm Tree, Sir Lawrence Alma-Tadema, Sir James Dewar, Arthur Wing Pinero, Mr. Burdett-Coutts, M. P.; Sir Charles Wyndham, John Hare, Geo. Alexander and J. Forbes Robertson followed the casket to the grave.

Cross From the Queen. Of the mass of floral pieces sent by friends and admirers of Irving, but four had places during the service. One of these was a cross of lilacs from Queen Alexandra, bearing the words: "To Sir Henry Irving from the Queen; Into Thy Hands, O Lord, Into Thy Hands." That the death of Irving is considered to be a national loss is shown by the universal mourning throughout London. Scores of thousands of people stood in the streets for hours around the abbey, as the only means of paying a last tribute, while for those who were unable to get into Westminster Abbey services were held in several churches of the city.

PASSING OF "COOL" BURGESS.

Old Time Minstrel Dies at Toronto General Hospital.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—Collin Burgess died in Toronto General Hospital yesterday from heart failure, the culmination of an illness which had extended over several months. As Cool Burgess he was for years leader on the minstrel stage, and was widely known in Canada, the United States, and England.

When Mr. Burgess was admitted to the hospital in June he was very ill, and the end was expected at any moment.

ment till he became considerably stronger and there was some hope of his recovery. He was 65 years old.

All the old boys remember Cool Burgess. He was born in Yorkville, Dec. 20, 1840, and became a clever entertainer in his teens, when he left Toronto for the United States and eventually became the highest salaried man on the minstrel stage. He was associated with John H. Haverley, in whose company he toured the continent, and then went over to Europe. He was as popular in Great Britain as he was on this side, and was the humorist of the age. He introduced the monologue form of entertainment in the early seventies, when he was at his best. He received a weekly salary of $350 when he was in the height of his career, and he occupied the pedestal possessed today by Lew Dockstader as an eccentric black-faced comedian of grotesque dress and droll humor, although Burgess was a clever dancer in addition to his other talents.

as a minstrel. He left the stage nearly twenty years ago. For many years the old minstrel has lived in Toronto quietly. He was never a particularly robust man, and latterly he has been a sufferer from dropsy.

Mr. Burgess married Miss Edna Stephenson Taylor of Toronto, and there are four children—Alexander W., proprietor of the Russell House, Toronto; Colin E., Mrs. J. D. Chapman, and Mrs. J. D. Ford of Toronto. He has a brother living on the old home-stand.

TEACHER'S TERRIBLE DEATH.

Falls Under Train at Vancorbora and Is Horribly Mangled.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 21.—A shocking accident occurred at Vancorbora yesterday morning, by the result of which Miss Lillian Fraser of Northport, near Amherst, N. S., lost her life. Miss Fraser was on her way to her home from Boston, and while the Montreal and Boston train were being made up into one at Vancorbora, was standing on the end of the Pullman, when she was thrown off. She fell under the car, had one leg cut off and the other terribly crushed, as well as receiving serious injuries to her head and internal organs.

Dr. Young of Vancorbora accompanied the woman here. She was still living when taken to the hospital, but died two hours later. Her suffering was terrible.

Miss Fraser was formerly school teacher at Amherst, and was about 35 years old.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively cleans and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and furrows acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of tartar.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

It costs more to revenge wrongs than to bear them.

Rupture Specialist Coming

J. Y. Egan, the long established and reliable Rupture Specialist, of Toronto, will again visit Chatham at Hotel Garner, Saturday and Sunday, all day and evening, two days only, October 28th and 29th. This gentleman has devoted the past 40 years of his life to the study and treatment of Rupture. He is to-day at the head of the oldest and largest Rupture Institute in Canada, and the only exclusive Rupture Institute in the Dominion that owns and occupies its own building. It is an advantage to know you are dealing with a man who is thoroughly responsible. See large "ad."

OF IMPORTANCE

Mr. Joe. Murphy's Engagement at the Grand on Monday Night

The mere announcement that Mr. Joseph Murphy, the eminent Irish comedian, is to appear here on Monday night at the Grand, is enough to guarantee the management a huge success. Mr. Murphy is carrying one of the largest companies he has ever had on the road, and will present "Kerry Gow" here. The blacksmith scene and race horse scene are two of the many scenes that we have heard talked about for many years. It can safely be said that Joe Murphy is the best known and most eminent actor on the American stage to-day, and that "Kerry Gow" holds all records as a play, having been produced to packed houses continuously for over thirty years, and at present is in greater favor than ever.

The Mother Superior of St. Mary's Academy, Windsor, met with a severe accident on Tuesday night. The horse attached to a coupe in which she was driving ran away. She jumped from the vehicle and fell on the asphalt pavement, breaking her wrist and receiving severe internal injuries. The Sister who was driving with her escaped uninjured.
