PRANKS OF ELECTRICITY

Breaks in St. Clair Street
Mains Caused by Escaping Fluid

Water Board Discuss Subject at an Emergency Meeting

The scene presented on Sixth street this morning a short distance from Chairman W. D. Sheldon's fine new business block indicated that there was an emergency meeting of the Water Board in session on the sidewalk. Those present were the genial chairman—with his inevitable unlighted cigar—Commissioner G. W. Cornell, Superintendent E. B. Jones and City Foreman R. M. Paxton.

The matter under discussion was the bursting of the water mains on St. Clair street, which was mentioned in last evening's Planet. These mains are bursting through the action of electricity on them, which through inadequate bonding on the Aberdeen bridge, escapes from the rails to the mains beneath. The water in the mains proves a good conductor and the fluid in this way finds its return to the power house.

Superintendent Jones says that if the railway company would install an automatic switch between the disconnected rails on the bridge, and suspend another cable across the river, the difficulty would be overcome. He has drawn a pattern for this switch at the request of President Kipp, of the C. W. & L. E., and has left it at the company's office.

"This is the fifth break our mains have suffered through the escaping electricity," said Chairman Sheldon, "and it is about time the railway people were taking some action to prevent the electricity from escaping this way. I think it is up to them to employ a competent engineer to go over the ground and suggest what should be done to remedy the defect."

"We will have to notify the company that they will not foot the bill for any damages of this kind resulting in future."

CONDITION UNCHANGED

It is reported that Mr. S. T. Martin's condition is unchanged to-day. His physicians cannot notice any change from yesterday. Mr. Martin's many friends will be sorry to learn that he is still very seriously ill.

A LITTLE IMPROVED

Mrs. E. B. Northwood, who has been seriously ill, is reported somewhat improved to-day. It is understood that she passed a very good night, and her friends, while they realize that she is still very seriously ill, look now for a steady improvement in her condition.

MEDALS AWARDED

A very pleasant and interesting event took place at the Collegiate Institute at noon on Monday, when the medals and prizes won at the recent Field Day of Sports, were awarded to the successful students. The honours were awarded by the Principal of the school, W. J. Twomey. The boys and girls interested in the events gathered in the open air and the presentations were made from the steps of the teachers' entrance.

Owing to the fact that the Senior medal contest ended in a draw, it was found necessary to present two medals. The extra medal thus awarded was presented to the committee by Alex. VonGutten, whose kindness and generosity in this respect was the subject of much favorable comment from the principal and the committee in charge of the games.

PLEASANT FUNCTION

Hon. Adam Beck, who addressed the Board of Trade in this city on Monday evening, was the guest of President Robert Gray during his stay in the city. When he arrived in the city, Mr. Beck was met at the station by a committee from the Board and City Council, and was driven around the city in the afternoon by Mr. Gray's fine automobile. The drive was a very pleasant one for Mr. Beck, whose gratefulness for the splendid entertainment provided for him was heartily expressed at the meeting on Monday evening. Mr. Beck was greatly pleased to find Chatham such an up-to-date city in the present with the beauty everywhere in evidence.

After the evening meeting, Mr. Beck was entertained at the residence of Mr. Gray on William street. At this function the chairman of the different committees of the Board of Trade were included among the guests. The affair passed off very pleasantly, Mr. Gray proving an ideal host.

A VESTRY MEETING

Special Session Held at Holy Trinity—Miss Ruby Maggs Appointed New Choir Leader

A meeting of the Holy Trinity Vestry was held last evening in the Sunday school room. Those who were present were Messrs. Shannon, Thomas, Scullard, Dr. R. V. Bray, C. D. Williamson, N. H. Stevens, Gen. Sayer, W. J. Moore, A. E. Lenfestey, W. R. Baxter, C. E. Beeston, Sam Horn and Wm. Cockrane. As the rector was unable to be present, Mr. Shannon was moved to the chair.

A statement of the receipts and disbursements from June 30 to September 30, was read by the Vestry Clerk.

Some time ago the managers of the church complained to Clare Bros. that the furnace was not working properly. A letter has been received from the company and it was read at the meeting last evening. The company promises to have a representative in Chatham, in the near future, and he would be instructed to look over the furnace and place them in first class shape.

It was moved by Mr. Beeston, seconded by Mr. Moore, that the appointment of Miss Ruby Maggs as choir leader be confirmed.—Carried.

It was moved by Mr. Beeston, seconded by Mr. Baxter, that the church Warden and the Rector be authorized to appoint an organist at a salary not exceeding $4 per Sunday.—Carried.

It was moved by Mr. Stevens, seconded by Mr. Beeston, that a suitable door spring be purchased and placed on the front door of the church.—Carried.

The church Warden were authorized to purchase the fuel for the coming winter.

The meeting then adjourned at 10.30.

MARRIAGE IS NOT A FAILURE

The third of a series of debates was held at No. 1, Harwich, last night. The debate, was Resolved that Marriage is a Failure.

The speakers of the affirmative were L. S. Parrott, F. Zink and H. Cameron. The negative side was taken by H. English, M. Smith and W. Parrott.

After considerable discussion the judges decided the debate in favor of the negative, by one motion. Everett made a very acceptable chairman for the evening.

ONTARIO CURLERS

At a meeting of the Ontario Curlers' Association, held in Toronto, the clubs in the different cities were divided off in groups for the Ontario Tankard competition. Chatham was placed in group six, as follows: Group No. 6.—Glencoe, Detroit, Chatham, Grand Rapids, Sarnia, Windsor, Petrolia, Thamesville, Toledo, Fort Wayne, Play at Windsor. Umpire, Mr. J. G. Kerr.

In the district grouping for the district cup competitions, Chatham was placed in district 8, as follows: District No. 8, Section A.—Fort Wayne, Windsor, Toledo, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Sarnia, Petrolia, Chatham. Play at Detroit. Winners to play off.

A TALL ONE

Richard Slagg, cake baker at Lam-on Bros., St. Clair street, says that while he was leaning over the railing of the foot bridge at Tecumseh Park this morning at five o'clock, a large carp, which was evidently having a prize fight with another of its kind, flopped up out of the wet, and Mr. Slagg says that the spray it brought up with it so thoroughly drenched him that he has since been afflicted with a bad cold.

Slagg says that his first thought was that a water main had burst, and he had visions of messenger boys, Chairman Sheldon and Foreman Joe Tucker rushing to and from the scene.

Mr. Slagg says that the tarp was as big as an ordinary pig.

FONTANET

WIPED OUT

Fifty Killed and Six Hundred Injured in Awful Explosion

Town Practically Annihilated—40,000 Kegs of Powder Blew up

Fontanet, Ind., Oct. 15.—Fontanet was practically destroyed yesterday by the explosion of the plant of the Dupont Powder Co. The dead number from 25 to 50. More than 600 persons were injured, and every building in the town was wholly or partially leveled to the ground.

Where stood a thriving and busy town of 1,000 people, last night there was ruin and scattered wreckage. The dead and more seriously injured have been taken away. Five hundred inhabitants, all more or less injured, remain to gather their scattered household goods, and sleep under tents and on cots, guarded by soldiers of the state.

40,000 Kegs of Powder.

Without warning, the powder mills, seven in number, blew up at 9.15 yesterday morning. They employed 300 men, and of these, 75 were at work when the first explosion occurred in the press mill. In quick succession, the grating mill, the two coining mills and the powder magazine blew up, followed by the cap mill. In the magazine, situated several hundred yards from the mills, were stored 40,000 kegs of powder. When it blew up, the concussion was felt nearly 200 miles away.

Farmhouses two miles away and schoolhouses equally distant were torn to pieces and their occupants injured. A passenger train on the Big Four Railroad, four miles away, had every coach window broken, and several passengers were injured by flying glass.

Wreckage in Flames. The mills went up with three distinct explosions, following 90 minutes later by a fourth, even more serious than the others, when the magazine went up. Immediately following the explosion the wreckage caught fire, and the inhabitants of the town, who rushed to the rescue of the mill employees, were powerless to save them. They worked frantically in constant danger from possible succeeding explosions, unmindful of their ruined homes. Dead and dying were consumed. Eighteen bodies, burned and mangled, were carried to a protected spot to await identification, while the badly injured, numbering upward of 50, were put on a special train and were taken to Terre Haute.

The mills were located one mile south of the town. With the first explosion the employees ran for safety, but most of them were killed or wounded by the quick following explosions in the other mills. When the heat from the burning mills exploded the giant powder magazine, practically destroying the town by the concussion, many of those engaged in rescue work were badly injured and several killed.

Churches in Ruin. Among the buildings totally destroyed in the town were the Methodist and Christian churches, the depot, all business blocks including a large block just completed, a large warehouse and 500 homes. In many of them the fronts were blown away, while in others the roofs were torn off, the side blown out or they were left a confused mass of collapsed wreckage.

School Buildings Destroyed. Three school buildings were destroyed, two at Fontanet, and one at Coalbluff, two miles away. All were filled with school children, and every one of them were more or less injured by the collapse of the buildings.

A four-room schoolhouse was torn to pieces and not one of the two hundred children escaped unhurt. None were fatally hurt. The school building at Coalbluff was turned over and collapsed. The teacher and 90 pupils were more or less injured. The force of the explosion destroyed all telephone communication with outside towns, and it was with great difficulty that aid was summoned.

Hurried Aid to Injured. Terre Haute and Brazil sent physicians and nurses with supplies in carriages and automobiles across the country, while special trains were made up and run over the Big Four Railroad for the care of the injured.

Governor Hanly at Indianapolis ordered the Indiana National Guard here to patrol the ruined district, and protect life and property. The governor arrived last evening about the time the soldiers reached here. He brought with him seven hundred tents and cots for the use of the homeless.

Generosity has a way of making its influence felt without much pushing.

RAILWAY GRIEVANCES.

It is announced that the Board of Railway Commissioners will sit in this city on the 29th of this month. This announcement is what the people of Chatham have been looking for with a great deal of interest, and in some cases, not a little impatience. There are many railway matters which seriously affect this city, and which should, and no doubt will, be placed before the Board for their consideration.

One of the most important of these is the injunction issued by the Robertson-of-Inches Estate, preventing the Chatham, Wallaceburg and Lake Erie railway from running their tracks on the southern extension, along the western side of Queen street, from Park Avenue to Indian Creek. At present the company is forced to take the centre of the road—not, however, that it is any inconvenience to them, more than that they will have to move them off the road when the authority is granted by the Commissioners, as it is sincerely hoped it will, but under present conditions it is a source of great annoyance and danger to the farmers and others coming in and going out of the city, by this route.

It seems that there has been an unfortunate mix-up in connection with this matter. Some time ago it was understood that the Commission had granted the railway permission to use the side of the road adjoining this estate. Later a judicial order was issued which placed exactly the opposite face on the matter, and here things came to a standstill. It is clearly in the interests of this city that the southern extension of this road should be completed and in running order just as soon as possible, but it is as much in those interests that the travelling public should be protected. It is hoped that the city will overlook nothing in placing this matter before the Commissioners, in its proper, and therefore, most favorable, light.

The railway accommodation on the Grand Trunk and Wabash is also of vital importance, and the establishing of a M. C. R. station in conjunction with the C. W. & L. E., to accommodate Chathamites, is also a worthy move, and one deserving of attention. One of the most important matters, however, which will come before the Commissioners during their meeting here, is the proposed establishing of gates at the C. P. R. crossings at Wellington and Centre streets. This is a question which has been frequently commented upon by The Planet, and it is felt by many that notwithstanding the frequency of these comments, the matter has not been given as much prominence and boosting as it deserves.

Everyone in the city is forced into the belief, in view of the many serious accidents and narrow escapes at these two points, that these two crossings are veritable death traps. There is absolutely no protection of any kind for the teamsters and horsemen, and even pedestrians, who are called upon to make use of these crossings. The fact that high buildings obscure the view, along the approaches to the tracks in both cases makes the danger still greater.

As a result of the general complaint which has been made from time to time, the Railway committee of the City Council took the matter up, but it seems they have been unable to make much progress. Probably if the members of the Commission were given the opportunity to personally inspect these crossings, something beneficial to all concerned might result.

Secretary Landon, of the Board of Trade, touched the point when he urged the Railway committee of the Board to immediately prepare a statement of the city's stand on all of these matters to be served on the different railways concerned as soon as possible. It is necessary that these statements shall be in the hands of the railway companies at least ten days before the Commission meets, and if this regulation is to be complied with, no time should be lost by the men on that committee.

The Ontario Government has very properly warned prospectors for oil and gas off Road Eau Park. If there are any valuable deposits there they should be exploited for the benefit of the community. — Toronto Globe.

DISTRICT THAMESVILLE

Thamesville, Oct. 15.—The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of St. James Presbyterian church will hold a thanksgiving service on Friday evening, October 18, at eight o'clock. Mrs. Ribble, of Dresden, will give an address on mission work. Appropriate music will be furnished by the choir, and a social hour with refreshments will be spent with the congregation at the close.

Rev. Mr. Hodgins, of Trinity Church, Chatham, conducted the harvest festival in St. Stephen's church on Sunday evening.

The new G. T. R. depot is now occupied and is certainly complete and up-to-date in all its fittings. The freight building, pump house and water tanks are also good structures, and altogether there will be a decided improvement to the east end of the town.

Mrs. Mary Julian, of lot 12, concession 1, Howard, is offering all her farm implements and stock for sale on Wednesday, October 16, at one o'clock.

E. S. Williams, of Detroit, spent Sunday with friends in town.

W. H. Thetford, of the Mail and Empire, Toronto, is in town today. Alfred Lawrence, of Pequet, Minn., is visiting relatives here after an absence of fifteen years.

The Misses Causgrove and Duncan, also J. K. Duncan, were among the number that saw Maude Adams in "Peter Pan" on Saturday.

The Ober-Ammergau passion play was reproduced in moving pictures in the Opera House on Saturday night. Quite a number were in attendance.

D. E. Wallace is enlarging and improving his mills generally.

Miss Anna Goutts is entertaining a number of her young lady friends this evening.

J. R. Duncan is in London today. Mrs. Behmer, who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Sherman, returned to her home in Toronto last week.

Mrs. J. A. Mustard left yesterday for Toronto.

The C. P. R. hunters' single fare excursions are on until Nov. 5th. Doubtless some of our sportsmen will be taking advantage of this.

An immense number of souvenir cards of the old boys reunion are being sold. Some fine views of different streets and buildings are shown.

Thamesville, Oct. 15.—A petition was circulated in town yesterday asking that the council submit a by-law, to be voted on in the near future, to grant a bonus to a local joint stock company to establish a factory for the manufacture of boxes and all small wooden ware.

H. J. Lawrence returned yesterday to his home in Grand Lodge, Mich.

Mrs. Mercer is in Toronto this week.

G. A. Fraser was in Detroit yesterday.

Stewart and Howat have improved their store front by a very decorative coat of paint.

Apples are reported as being scarce in this vicinity.

DRESDEN

Dresden, Oct. 15.—I. B. Webster spent Sunday in Chatham the guest of his sister, Mrs. John Webster.

Mrs. (Capt.) Ribble spent Monday in Chatham, where she attended a meeting of the Women's Missionary Society in the First Presbyterian church. On Tuesday she will speak in a country church near Chatham.

Mr. and Mrs. Hildred Ripley returned to Chatham on Monday morning after visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Packham.

Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell returned to Chicago on Saturday morning.

Mrs. John Jackson died on Monday at her residence here after a short illness.

Miss Turner, of Thamesville, spent Tuesday with Dresden friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Byers renewed acquaintances with Dresden friends this week.

Miss Abbie Davies was a Chatham visitor on Wednesday.

Mrs. Tallach McKinley, of Ridgeway, spent Tuesday and Wednesday as the guest of Mrs. John H. McVean.

The Dresden quartette, with Mrs. McCrosty as pianist, gave several selections at a concert in Gulls on Monday evening.

Burns Bond, representing the Methodist book rooms, Toronto, was a Dresden visitor last week.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. D. R. Campbell were held on Thursday afternoon at her residence, Holden street, the Rev. A. J. Langford officiating. Among the out-of-town relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Noxall, Chatham; Miss Margaret Walker, Glenora; Miss Jane Campbell, of Port Lambton; Messrs. Hugh and Will McCutcheon, of Glenora.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Wright, of Leamington, spent a few days this week with Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Wright, North Dresden.

Mrs. Watson, of Chatham, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. Brandon, on Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Tiffin, of Chatham, spent Thursday in town.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Meadows on Sunday, Oct. 6, a son. Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Cuthbert announce the engagement of their daughter May. The wedding will take place on October 23.

The house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Loudon was destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning. It was impossible to save anything. An insurance of about $200 is carried by the owner, Mrs. Wheeler.

CERTAINLY WORTH TRYING

There is so much Rheumatism here now that the following advice by an eminent authority will be highly appreciated by those who suffer.

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take ten teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime; also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and tortuous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only Rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and save you from much misery and suffering after while.

Priests Ejected in France.

Landerneau, Department of Finistere, France, Oct. 15.—The priests of the Department of Finistere having generally refused to quit their parishes, which reverted to the common law, are now being expelled by the aid of gendarmes.

At many places resistance was encountered. At Relecq, the gendarmes were forced to break in the doors of the parishes in order to eject the priests, who were surrounded by weeping women. At Pomeran, after a tumultuous scene, the gendarmes took possession of the bell in the tower of the church in order to prevent the irate populace from arousing the people.

Stop The Strenuous Life

Weakens The Tissues And Lessens Organic Vitality.

The stress and strain of the strenuous life in both city and country tends towards stomach troubles. Five people suffer to-day where one did ten years ago with sick headache, indigestion, flatulence, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousness, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms of indigestion.

All who are suffering with stomach troubles, and that include at least two out of three in Chatham and elsewhere, should use Mi-on-a stomach tablets. Nothing else is as safe, yet effective; nothing else can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Mi-on-a.

It is not a mere digestive taken after the food is eaten, but a true tonic stimulant and strengthener for the muscular walls of the stomach, increasing the flow of digestive fluids and putting the stomach into such condition that it does the work Nature expects of it.

So reliable is Mi-on-a in its curative action that C. E. Gunn & Co., with every 50 cent box they sell give a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy does all that is claimed for it.

Crown Prince at Work.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—Crown Prince Frederick William yesterday began a year's work in the Prussian Ministry of the Interior, as part of his preparation for assuming the crown in due course of time. It is understood that the crown prince will successfully serve in this important Ministry. He has been relieved from military duty for a year.

FURIOUS ITCHING HUMOR ON CHILD

Bleeding Sores Covered Her Whole Body After an Attack of Measles—Nursed Every Night for Three Weeks—Nothing Helped Her.

THEN CUTICURA MAKES COMPLETE CURE IN 5 DAYS

"It is in my opinion my duty to join those who praise the Cuticura Remedies. After my granddaughter of about seven years had been cured of the measles, she was attacked about a fortnight later by a furious, itching and painful eruption all over her body, especially the upper part of it, forming watery and bleeding sores, especially under the arms, of considerable size. She suffered a great deal and for three weeks we nursed her every night, using all the remedies we could think of. Nothing would help. We then remembered having heard so much about Cuticura Remedies. We sent for them and after twenty-four hours we noted considerable improvement, and, after using only one complete set of the Cuticura Remedies, in five consecutive days the little one, much to our joy, had been entirely cured, and has been well for a long time. Mrs. F. Ruefenacht, R. F. D. 3, Bensfield, Cal., June 25 and July 20, 1906."

HUMOR ON FACE

Cured by Cuticura Remedies No Return in 20 Years.

"My son, when a lad of sixteen, was troubled with humor on his face and after using Cuticura Remedies he was freed from every humor and has continued so to the present time after twenty years have passed. Your Cuticura Soap has been used in my family for several years and I have faith in the Cuticura Remedies. A. H. Smith, Marion, Mo., Dec. 1, 1905."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of the Face, Neck, and Arms, consisting of Cuticura Soap to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment to Soothe the Itching, and Cuticura Tablets to Purify the Blood. A DOCTOR'S HEROISM.

His Very Remarkable Feat Required Strength as Well as Bravery.

The author of "The Malakand Field Force" records the following deed, which was performed in India and was indeed a noble one. It occurred after night had fallen upon a hotly contested battleground. The British had with great difficulty repulsed an enemy overwhelmingly superior in numbers and had withdrawn into their defenses. The deadly hollow some distance in front of their lines, called "the cup," was commanded from several directions by the fire of the natives and swept at intervals by their swordsmen.

"Lieut. Ford had been seriously wounded in the shoulder. The bullet cut the artery and he was bleeding to death when Surgeon Lieut. V. Hugo came to his aid. The fire was too hot to allow of lights being used. There was no cover of any sort. It was at the bottom of the cup. Nevertheless the surgeon struck a match at the peril of his life and examined the wound. The match went out amid a shower of bullets, which kicked up the dust all around, but by its uncertain light he saw the nature of the injury.

"The officer had already fainted from loss of blood. The doctor seized the artery, and as no other ligature was forthcoming he remained under fire for three hours, holding a man's life between his finger and thumb. When at length it seemed that the enemy had broken into the camp he picked up the unconscious officer in his arms and, without relaxing his hold, bore him to a place of safety."

For many hours after this feat, as remarkable for the strength displayed as for the heroism which inspired it, the gallant surgeon's arm was paralyzed and useless from the strain. Little wonder. Not every man could carry another away, using one arm only and with the other hand retaining a grasp which had already lasted three hours upon a severed artery.

"Had he not had the strength to do so Lieut. Ford must have died." Is the way his commanding officer put it when he narrated the act in his dispatches.

GET RID OF ENGLISHMEN.

Boers Are Replacing Them in South African Constabulary.

The plan of the Boer Government of the Transvaal to get rid of all the Englishmen in the South African Constabulary and replace them by Boers is said to be causing great indignation among the men at home on leave, who have been warned by Sir Richard Solomon, the Transvaal Agent-General, that if they return they do so at the risk of dismissal. One of the officers who was just about to return after completing six months' leave in England, says that he has been informed in a letter from a friend in South Africa that 500 men would be discharged from the Constabulary before long owing to the work of the Hot Volk. "I wrote for my discharge on receiving Sir Richard Solomon's letter," he said, "and I shall sail in England. I was in Johannesburg once or twice not very long ago, and I saw hundreds of men there out of work."

"If you ask me who is to blame for all this, I say the British people, who permit themselves to be blown about here and there by every puff of wind." Trooper F. Hooper, who came home on April 1 last, having obtained his discharge after six and a half years' service, said he had been stationed lately 20 miles from Krugersdorp, on the veldt. "Everybody from this country in the service of the Transvaal Government," he said, "has suffered more or less from the pin-prick policy of the Boers. I had enough of it, and that is why I had taken the trouble to become proficient in the Dutch language. They have all got rifles—service rifles. A man had to get a recommendation from the police before he could secure a gun; but I have never known a case in which the recommendation was withheld."

Children's Climb.

Two little children of Acconington, England, Ida Partington, aged ten, and her brother, Jack, nine, have performed the feat of scaling the lofty tower and spire of Christ Church, 150 feet high.

Mr. Partington, the father, is repairing the steeple, and time after time the children, who have spent all their lives among the ladders—explored him to take them up the ladders with him, right to the pinnacle. At first he was reluctant, but they did so well on other ladders, that at last he consented.

So one morning the three set out for the climb. Hand over hand, up the ladders fixed outside the spire, climbed little Ida; after her crawled young Jack; and the father brought up the rear. The crowd, at first horrified, were delighted at last to see all three standing safe and sound on the tiny platform at the top of the highest ladder.

For some time the youngsters stood enjoying their situation. Then, at a word from their father, they carefully and safely descended.

Inside the Earth.

Prof. Milne, the great British seismologist, has demonstrated that at least part of the weather and changes in the atmosphere's temperature seem to come from below instead of directly from the sun. He has been in the habit of leaving an ingenious photographic arrangement in quarries at night. The photographic paper when examined later was found to be marked from time to time by dark bands, black spots and what are called singes. Some of these markings occurred at the time of earthquakes, but by no means all. Scientists say that most minerals become luminous at frequent intervals. The cliffs of Dover have been seen suddenly to gleam and hilltops become visible in the darkness. The conclusion is that the disturbing forces which go on even at the very centre of the earth are converted before they reach the surface into heat and light and make all manner of difference in climate and weather.

TO TALK WELL.

Don't Affect a Stilted Style of Conversation.

Don't speak in a low, monotonous voice. Conversation is like a song. It needs pronounced accent and a great variety of intonations to keep up a sustained interest.

Don't tell long stories of personal experiences. One who has the habit of making personal recitals takes the lion's share of the conversation and doesn't give the listener a fair chance.

Don't ask trifling questions. Don't air your prejudices. Neither contribute to the grace of conversational art, the essence of which should be sympathy.

Don't talk of melancholy or grow-some matters. Give the talk a happy turn. Don't ride conversation too hard. Leave breathing spaces in the talk. It is not essential that every moment two people are together should be filled with a flow of words. Don't gadden and hinder the conversation by being too accurate over details. Don't go back and add appendices to a subject after you have once left it. If the subject was not closed to your satisfaction, no matter.

Don't run one story into another. When you have told a good story stop short in order that its effect may tell. A good story should be set off by a blank or dull space in the talk.

Don't make a point of agreeing with every speaker. The real zest of conversation lies in just enough difference of opinion to bring out the strong points of two people's character. There is nothing more genial than the warmth of friendly discussion which never rises to anger.

Don't harp too long on one string. Change to another topic before the one in hand is quite thrashed out. To turn the conversation gracefully is like reversing in the waltz, a nice point of skill.

Don't affect a stilted style of conversation. The longest words are by no means the best. Everyday idioms and colloquialisms have a directness and terseness that commend themselves to the really good talker.

JACK LONDON'S RECIPE.

Wild Duck Cooked in This Way Is "Sovereign Food."

Jack London, the novelist, is a great lover of game, particularly of wild duck, which he has dubbed the "sovereign food." If he is to eat duck, however, Mr. London insists that the bird shall be cooked after his own particular recipe. Thus if the wild duck is to be roasted it must first be stuffed with celery and then cooked in a very hot oven for just fourteen minutes. This leaves it blood rare, but when it is dusted with salt and paprika, garnished with lemon and served with fried hominy or Italian spaghetti there are few dishes that could be more delicious. There are so many methods of cooking spaghetti that Mr. London's favorite recipe for this dish will be read with interest. "Boil one pound of Italian spaghetti for about half an hour," he says, "and be sure that the boiling water is first poured upon the spaghetti, as otherwise it will be disagreeably sticky. Peel and boil three good sized tomatoes. When they are smooth add the juice from one can of French mushrooms and one tablespoonful of cornstarch, already mixed with a little water, a clove of garlic, a pinch of cayenne pepper, a little salt and sage as seasoning. Take the mushrooms from which the juice has already been used, cut each of them once or twice and spread the pieces cold over the spaghetti after it has been placed upon a hot platter. Then pour the tomato sauce over the spaghetti and mushrooms, add a little Parmesan cheese and garnish with parsley."—Delineator.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

A little charcoal mixed with clear water and thrown into a sink will disinfect and deodorize it.

A tablespoonful of sirup of lactophosphate of lime just before each meal will be found very helpful if the teeth are soft and brittle. Plenty of whole wheat bread is also very beneficial. When brushing the teeth always brush away from the gums.

When using hot fannel applications in case of pain or illness it is well to heat the clothes in the covered steamer or placed over boiling water. They will not have to be wrung out of the boiling water, and there will be no dripping on the patient's clothing.

The teeth should be thoroughly brushed and cleaned night and morning with a firm brush and an antiseptic mouth wash used. Particles of foreign substance may be removed with dental floss. This is the only possible way of keeping the teeth in a good condition.

Finishing Tablecloths.

The French hem is the most attractive way to finish tablecloths and napkins.

It is made by turning an ordinary hem—that is, turn it once and over again. Now turn it back upon itself so that the right side of the hem will lie upon the right side of the material and top, sew the edge.

When this is finished spread out the hem and crease it flat. This forms a much stronger hem than the one usually known and sewed with the hemming stitch.

The raw edge only of a tablecloth and napkin should be hemmed.

The hem on the napkin should be as narrow as it is possible to turn it—that is, about an eighth of an inch.

The hem on a tablecloth should be a quarter of an inch wide. No. 60 cotton should be used, and the work should be very firm to prevent its ripping out.

STREET CAR CONDUCTOR INJURED

Mr. H. G. Purchas, conductor on the Toronto Street Railway, happened with a nasty accident. The trolley pole caught in the wires, and was forced up. Purchas held on to the rope, and his hand was drawn up until it caught the top of the car, and the rope pulling through his fingers by the force of the moving car, tore and lacerated a shocking extent three fingers, tearing several pieces of flesh completely away. Zani-Buk was applied, and eased the pain very quickly. Writing to this effect, Mr. Purchas says:—

"I bound the fingers in Zani-Buk, and it was most soothing the way in which this bandage was applied. Two days after the wound was closed, and new skin was beginning to form over the top. My hand is now as sound as ever, and to look at it you would never know it had been so terribly torn and lacerated. I do not think there is anything to equal Zani-Buk."

Zani-Buk is a marvel of healing. Absolutely pure, it is nature's balsam, and as a first aid is without equal. Try it. Zani-Buk will also cure ulcers, festering sores, ringworm and scabs due to blood poison, boils, eczema, piles, etc., etc. Write Zani-Buk Co., Toronto, for free trial box, sending 10c stamp. All stores and druggists sell at 50 cents a box. (Z. S. P. & Co. Limited)

Hats That Improve With Age.

"A smart hat, like wine, improves with age," said a clubman. "The oftener you have it ironed the sleeker and more brilliant it becomes. It costs a good deal at the outset, but in the end it is the cheapest hat to wear. It lasts, you see, so long, and to iron it costs so little. Some folks think the topper very perishable. If it gets soaked with rain, if some one sits on it and crushes it into an accordion, they think it must be thrown away the same as if it were a derby. But not at all. A silk hat can be taken apart and put together again like a watch, and if it gets crushed nothing is easier than to melt off the silk, straighten out the frame and then put on the silk again. In England, the home of this hat, I have known men to wear the same topper for ten or twelve years. And the oftener the old hat is ironed the brighter and finer it shines. Its luster increases with time and friction like the luster of good antique furniture."—Los Angeles Times.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they swallow, whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies in plain English. This he feels he can well afford to do because he knows the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming. It is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the female system in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and cures nervous exhaustion, spasmodic chorea of St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs. A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

An Expensive Rug.

If you are a steady smoker don't throw away your old tobacco bags. By saving them until he had a trunkful a resident of Sixty-second street got busy with a needle and made one of the oddest rugs one would find in a day's walk. Of course this economical genius is an incessant smoker. Often he smoked two bags of tobacco in a day. Then, too, he changed his brand often and in this way got a more highly colored assortment. He told his friends about the rug he had in mind, and they got busy collecting. As a result Mr. Smoker got a big crop each week. In less than six months he had gathered together a square feet of tobacco bags, which was a nice 0 by 12 rug. He used a piece of thin flannel as a foundation and sewed the bags to it each night on returning from work. On several occasions some of the fellows from the office helped him do the "sewing." It was interesting work. For some unknown reason many of the helpers sewed the bags on backward, but all were finally straightened out, and when the rug was finally laid there was a little celebration in the genius' room. Now as he looks at the rug in silence he prides himself upon his economy. And yet the refreshments that he supplied to keep the workers in good humor and on the night of the "rug laying" cost him $24.50.—Philadelphia Record.

FLEET AT MANOEUVRES

Numbers One Hundred and Ten Ships From Home Squadron.

Reserves Not Called Upon—Great Display of Britain's Naval Power—Squadron Is Larger Than Available Resources of Any Other Two Nations—Dreadnaught Not Present—"Mosquito Fleet" Busy.

London, Oct. 15.—There is now assembling in the North Sea and the English Channel for manoeuvres, under the command of Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, a fleet of British warships, representing an aggregation of naval power surpassing all the immediate available resources of any two other countries of Europe, and yet not a single ship of this fleet has been drawn from the reserves, the Mediterranean fleet, or the Devonshire or Portsmouth divisions. The home fleet, which is now assembling, consists merely of those ships maintained in the vicinity of the British Isles, and which throughout the year have been engaged in war training.

It numbers 110 pennants, and is composed of 28 battleships, 15 armored cruisers, various auxiliary vessels and 48 torpedo vessels. The battleship Dreadnaught is not taking part in the manoeuvres, as she is being fitted with a new steering engine before further sea trials, which, it is hoped, will prove of assistance in determining the design of future large battleships.

The first section of the coming naval manoeuvres, covering four days, will be of a tactical description, and the final days will be devoted to studying the problem of defending ships against torpedo attacks. With the "mosquito fleet" attacking the large warships, and all the land stations manned, the coming operations are expected to be most interesting.

POST OFFICE ROBBED.

Package of Money Containing $3,500 Missing at North Sydney.

Halifax, Oct. 15.—It is stated here that a daring robbery has taken place in the postoffice at North Sydney, N. B. A package of money containing $3,500, mailed by the Bank of Nova Scotia, on the 8th inst., is missing.

It was addressed to the bank's head office at Halifax, and has not been received there. Should the money not be recovered the losers will be the Maritime Insurance Co., with whom the money was insured. Postoffice Inspector McLellan is investigating the matter.

GREAT STRIKE IMMINENT.

British Railway Companies Refuse to Recognize Employees Union.

London, Oct. 15.—Richard Bell, M. P., general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, announced yesterday that the railway companies had sent an unfavorable reply to the society's demand for the recognition of their unions. The ballot so far received from the men on the advisability of declaring a general strike are largely in favor of a general strike.

Good Word for Redmond.

Dublin, Oct. 15.—John Dillon, member of Parliament from East Mayo, has returned to political activity, and in a letter addressed to The Tyrone Nationalist, declares himself thoroughly in sympathy with John Redmond and his party. He declared the criticism of Redmond was without foundation and said that Redmond acted with the greatest possible independence, courage and judgment, and that the Irish cause had made more progress in the last two years than in any two years during the thirty years of his political life. When the facts about the Council Bill become fully known, he declared that Redmond and his party will be triumphantly vindicated.

Ross Check Returned.

London, Oct. 15.—The Canadian Associated Press has been told that Dugald Ross sailed on the Deutchland, but his name does not appear on the list of either first or second-class passengers. Ross purchased one horse here, paying, he said, £150. For the same horse a firm of horse dealers on Brompton road offered him £200. A check on the Metropolitan Bank, Streetville, for £14, given a firm by Ross, has been returned unpaid. It is thought that he sailed on the Donaldson liner Athena from Glasgow Saturday. The Athena carries second-class passengers only.

London Labor Candidate.

London, Oct. 15.—John D. Jacobs, iron moulder, employee of the McClary Manufacturing Co., was last night nominated by the Labor party of London to be the candidate at the coming bye-election for the Commons. Upwards of 80 delegates attended. There was much enthusiasm. Jacobs is well-known as a labor man and in military circles, having until recently been color-sergeant of the 7th Regiment.

Guilty With Intent.

Sherbrooke, Que., Oct. 15.—The Green Hill case, for assault upon Lily Lynn in July, was closed yesterday afternoon. The jury brought in a verdict of assault with intent to murder. They were out only five minutes. Sentence will be pronounced on the last day of the term.

Struck by Express.

London, Oct. 15.—John Lamont, watchman at Colborne street crossing of the Grand Trunk, was instantly killed at that crossing last night. He stepped in front of the cars being shunted and was ground to pieces.

Twenty-Five Injured.

Eric, Pa., Oct. 15.—Twenty-five persons were more or less seriously injured here last night in a trolley car collision.

Doctors

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a doctor's medicine. Doctors prescribe it, endorse it. Use it or not, as your doctor says.

You could not please us better than to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis. Thousands of families always keep it in the house. The approval of their physician and the experience of many years have given them great confidence in this cough medicine.

A Simple Recipe.

Everybody in Cedarbury owned that Mrs. Hanson was the queen of cooks, but they were likely to add that when it came to explaining the processes by which she arrived at her excellent results she left a good deal to be desired.

"Your scalloped oysters are the best we ever have at our church suppers or anywhere, and you know it," said a neighbor, endeavoring to win special favor from this culinary goddess. "Most folks get 'em either too wet or too dry. I tell 'em I don't know how you manage it so yours are always just right. I don't suppose you could tell exactly yourself."

"Why, yes, I could," and Mrs. Hanson smiled indulgently at the eager, hopeful face of her neighbor. "All I do is butter the dish, put in a layer of oysters, salted and peppered, then a layer of buttered crumbs, then a layer of milk and back to oysters again. Easy as pie, 'tis."

"A layer of milk?" faltered the neighbor.

"Why, yes," said Mrs. Hanson cheerfully. "That's what makes 'em about right—layer of oysters, layer of crumbs and layer of milk. Letsways that's what I do, and you say you like 'em."—Youth's Companion.

A Welsh Sermon.

The Welsh are noted for their fondness for sermons and music. The annual elafeddod, the national bardic congress, is attended by thousands, who on the great day of festival "chair" the fortunate bard, the winner of the prize.

A similar enthusiasm greets the Welsh preacher who is eloquent in speech and practical in expounding the Scriptures. The following story of a Welsh preacher, told in the "Journals of Walter White," illustrates the graphic, simple exposition which commanded the attention of the congregation:

"Noe worked at the ark, driving nails, plump, plump, plump. The hay-then came and said: 'Noe, there's good hunting in the woods here, hares and foxes. Leave your work and come and hunt.' But Noe kept on hammering, plump, plump, plump.

"The haythen came again: 'Noe, there's good beer at the Red Lion. Leave your work and come and drink.' But Noe kept on hammering, plump, plump, plump. And then the rain came, and the flood lifted up the ark and carried Noe away and left the haythen all screaming and squabbling in the water."

A Dumas Story.

Dumas the elder was rarely spiteful to or about his fellow men, but one day, when he happened to be in that mood, a friend called to tell him a piece of news. "They have just given M. X. the Legion of Honor," he said. "Now, can you imagine why they should have given it to him?"

"Yes," answered the great dramatist promptly. "They have given it to him because he was without it."

The French Brand.

Customer—Why is a pipe made from French briar root better than one made from American briar root? Tobaccoist—Because anything that's French is a little tougher than the same thing in any other country.—Chicago Tribune.

Anatomy of a Violin.

Taken to pieces a violin would be found to consist of the following parts: Back, 2 pieces; belly, 2; combs and blocks, 6; sides, 5; side linings, 12; bar, 1; purflings, 24; neck, 1; finger board, 1; nut, 1; bridge, 1; tailboard, 1; button for tailboard, 1; string for tailboard, 1; guard for string, 1; sound post, 1; strings, 4; pegs, 4; total, 69. Three kinds of wood are used—maple, pine and ebony. Maple is used for the back, the neck, the side plates and the bridge. Pine is used for the belly, the bar, the combs and blocks, the side linings and the sounding post. Ebony is used for the finger board, the tailboard, the nut, the guard for string of tailboard, the pegs and the button.

LOCAL

J. S. Preatt, superintendent of the P. M. Railroad, of Detroit, is in the city for a few days.

Hear Gordon Rodgers in Monologues, Readings and Songs in St. Joseph's Hall, Cross St., Chatham, on Tuesday evening, October 22nd, under the auspices of St. Joseph's Court, No. 241, C. O. F. M. Rodgers comes highly recommended as a first class entertainer, and a pleasant evening is promised all who hear him. Tickets 25c.; no reserved seats.

Mr. Wm J. Stacey, proprietor of The Passion Play, and who has put these pictures on at Wonderland, the Central Baptist Church, and other churches in the city and district, has decided to remain in this city. He is now fitting up his place of business in the Seane Block, King Street East. He will put on The Life of Christ, from His Birth to His Ascension, and The Holy City, as originally presented in Bavaria, Germany. The play opens at 2 p. m. on Friday, Oct. 18, also evening at 6.45, the entertainment lasting one and one-half hours. Come early and get a seat. Admission 10 cents straight. Mr. Stacey has been urged by the people of Chatham to put the pictures on again, so he will comply by producing them on Friday and Saturday, and longer if necessary.

Can't Possibly Repeat

Thursday and Friday bargains will be as follows: Any cloth skirt for half price, all $1.25 and $1.00 winter waist or wrapper for 50c; assorted belts, 75c to 50c, for 25c; 50c neckwear for 25c, all suits for half price, all furs about one-third off, new swell jackets, most stylish stock in the city, at 25 per cent. less than usual prices. Be early. See window to-night. N. Y. Clock Store.

DESERVES CREDIT

Judging from the program advertised by the Senior Guild of Christ Church for a musical concert to be held in the Opera House on Friday night, the ladies of this organization deserve much praise, as the program consists of the best of Chatham talent. Along with the musical numbers, Miss Verna Sheldon will contribute several reading numbers.

DEATH OF MR. REAUME

The death of Richard Reaume Wood Survey, took place on Monday evening after a lingering illness. Deceased was 83 years of age, and has been a resident of Kent County all his life. He leaves a widow and a group of family to mourn his loss. The funeral will take place to-morrow at 9:30 o'clock, from St. Joseph's Church. Interment will be made in St. Peter's burying-ground. Deceased was born on the River Road, and was twice married. His first wife was Miss Julia Pettit, by whom he had seven children, Richard, of Chatham; Judie, of Chatham; Annie, of Chatham; Agnes, of Tilbury; Mary, of Windsor; and Zeb and Alex, of Tilbury. His second wife was Miss Fannie Thibodeau. He was ill about three weeks. He is well-known in this city, having for many years been a prominent gardener.

SOCIETY

BRACKIN-BATTISBY.

A quiet but pretty and fashionable church wedding was consummated at St. Andrew's at twelve-thirty this afternoon, the occasion being the nuptials of Miss Anna Mellis Battisby, only daughter of Rev. Dr. J. R. Battisby, Ph. D., and Mr. Robert Livingstone Brackin, son of the late Mr. James Brackin, Rev. Dr. Battisby, father of the bride, and pastor of St. Andrew's, officiated and escorted the bride to the altar. The church was beautifully and appropriately decorated for the occasion. The bride was prettily gowned in white crepe de chene, with clumsy lace trimmings and pearl ornaments, while her maid-of-honor, Miss Marian Fleming, was costumed in a net robe and white picture hat. The groomsmen were Mr. Herbert Loudon, manager of the Strathroy branch of the Standard Bank.

Luncheon was served at the Manse at one. Among the guests at the wedding and luncheon were Mrs. Sutherland, of Newmarket; Mrs. George Stephens, Mrs. James Brackin, Misses Mary and Bessie Brackin, Mrs. Manson Campbell, Mr. Livingstone and Garnet Brackin. Mrs. Sutherland wore black peau de sole with mauve trimmings and mauve hat. Mrs. George Stephens was gowned in black lace over white and wore a large black hat. Mrs. Manson Campbell wore black sequine over white, with a black and white hat. Mrs. Brackin, mother of the groom, was attired in black silk. The Misses Brackin wore black with black and white hats. The ushers were Messrs. Harry Pritchard and Edward O'Sullivan, of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Brackin left on the afternoon Wabash for New York, the bride's going-away gown being of brown chiffon. She wore mink furs and hat to match. On their return they will take up their residence on Wellington street.

The groom's gift to the bride was a turquoise and diamond ring, to the maid-of-honor, a gold neck chain; to the organist, Miss Mary Brackin, a turquoise and pearl brooch, and to the groomsmen and ushers pearl tie-pins. Mr. and Mrs. Brackin were the recipients of many beautiful presents from admiring friends.

This pretty event marks the first occasion when a church wedding has been celebrated at St. Andrew's, since the nuptials of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gray some twenty years ago. Mrs. Gray's father, a Presbyterian clergyman, resided in the Manse at present occupied by Rev. Dr. Battisby.

The popularity of both the bride and groom is shown by the great interest which has been taken in this event by the people of the city. The bride is one of Chatham's first young ladies. She has been especially active in church work, and she has a host of friends in the city. The groom is a rising young Maple City barrister, with a bright and promising professional future before him. The church where the wedding ceremony was performed was crowded with people, who by their presence conveyed to the newly married couple their congratulations and best wishes.

Life is worth the living in spite of what the dissatisfied may say.

They are also preparing the plans for a $15,000 apartment house for Dr. Charteris. The latter building will be built on the corner of Wellington and Third streets, and will be three storeys high. Great care is being taken to make it as modern and fully equipped as any other apartment house in the country.

ENGLISH SPAIN LINIMENT removes all hard, soft or calloused lumps and blemishes from horses, blood spavin, curbs, splints, ringbone, sweeney, stifles, sprains, sore and swollen throats, coughs, etc. and cures $50 by use of one bottle. Warranted the most wonderful Blemish Cure ever known. Sold by C. H. Gunn & Co., and W. W. Turner.

Chatham is to have a new five-cent theatre in the near future. Wm. Somerville, of Detroit, who for the past seven years has been conducting a moving picture theatre, will open a new Wonderland in the Scene Block on Friday. Gallagher & Sons began work on the building this morning, and the place will be fitted up in modern style. A singer and player will be employed and good attractions will be presented. His opening picture will be the "Passion Play." As only half of the play has been exhibited in this city, he proposes to give the whole thing for the benefit of the people of this city.

DO YOUR EARS RING!

When they buzz and sometimes slightly deaf, beware of catarrhal inflammation. This grows steadily worse, but can be cured by Catarrhazone.

J. A. Hamill, of Greenmount, P. E. I., proved the merit of Catarrhazone and writes: "No one could have worse Catarrh than I had for years. It caused partial deafness, bad taste, upset my stomach, made me sick all over. Catarrhazone cleared my nostrils, stopped the cough and gave me a clear feeling in my breathing organs. I am absolutely cured." Doctors say nothing is better than Catarrhazone. Try it and you'll say so, too. Two sizes, 25c, and $1.00, at all dealers.

WILL ISSUE READERS

Toronto, Oct. 15.—Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, has decided that a new set of readers shall be issued in the schools of Ontario that will be a little more patriotic and useful in character than the present ones. Dr. D. J. Groggin has been chosen as the head of the committee entrusted with the work. He will be assisted by W. Atkin, St. Thomas; Prof. Alexander, Toronto University; G. E. Broderick, Lindsay; N. W. Campbell, Durham; T. A. Craig, Kemptville; Inspector James L. Hughes, Toronto; Dr. Waugh, of Whitby, and Principal Young, of Guelph.

A Sample of What V.S.O. Does.—Mr. Merrifield—I was so severely stricken with Joint Rheumatism that I was confined to bed for a long time with swollen and stiff joints; it even affected my stomach. I gave up all hope of ever being cured. The doctor finally told me he could "ease my pain but could not cure me." My sister heard of your Veteran's Sure Cure, and sent for a bottle. I took half of a $1 bottle. This enabled me to walk about as usual. This was about six years ago, and I have had no return of Rheumatism. Mrs. H. F. Pratt, Williamsford, Ont., Sept. 11th, 1907.

CLARIFIED AND BOTTLED MILK

To clarify and bottle milk is the only sanitary and up-to-date way to handle such an important product of the dairy as milk, for while it is one of the best and most necessary foods we use, if properly cared for,
it is certainly one of the most dangerous if neglected or carelessly handled, and should never be exposed to street dust, as is done in the ordinary way of peddling milk
from large cans with open measures.
The Steam Turbine Machine used
to clarify all the milk sold from the

Maple City Creamery

will certainly take all the impurities out of the milk, thereby removing the danger of many cases of sickness, especially among children,
that can be traced directly to the

SOME CURIOUS SPOONS.

Uses to Which They Were Put by People a Few Centuries Ago.

We are familiar nowadays with spoons of many shapes intended for every variety of purpose, but some old fashioned styles are now merely curiosities. There is the old fashioned narrow spoon, for instance, which was used for extracting marrow from bones. It was made double, one end being used for small bones and the other for those of larger bone.

Another example is the mulberry spoon. This has a perforated bowl and a spiked and pointed handle, says the London Globe. The implements were made for use in a day when mulber-ries were much more commonly eaten
than they are at the present time.
With the perforated bowl a little sugar
was sprinkled on the berry, which was then conveyed to the mouth on the spiked end of the handle.

The introduction of tea led to the making of a variety of new kinds of spoons, including the necessary teaspoon itself, some of which still remain in use, while others have disappeared. At South Kensington may be seen, for example, a curious collection of the little scoops so well known
to our great-grandmothers as caddy spoons. Tea caddies of the old fashioned kind have long been superseded,
and when the caddy with its two lidded and metal lined end compartments and the sugar bowl in the cavity between went out of use the caddy spoon
or scoop disappeared also.

Another obsolete curiosity is the snuff spoon, which in the days when nearly everybody took snuff and took it everywhere was used for conveying the scented powder from the box to the hand or in some cases direct to the nose. Candle spoons and pap spoons also are out of date. A Llangollen gentleman a few months ago wrote in a Shropshire paper that he had in his possession a silver pap spoon which had been originally given by the Marquis of Exeter to a member of the Hoggins family of Bolas. The possessor of this spoon remarked that it had been given to him by his father with the wish that it should be handed over to the first married in each succeeding generation, for as such it had come to him through the intermarriage
of two families in years gone by.

Three hundred years ago there was one at Ilford, in Essex, which held more than a quart. Others of more legitimate make were such as the curious combination implement with which folk of that date were familiar. When most people still dipped their fingers
into the general dish to help themselves to meat more dainty diners carried about with them an implement which was a combination of spoon
and fork and toothpick.

The fork was at the back of the spoon, while the handle of the double article was finished off with a little figure terminal, which served as handle for the toothpick. The terminal figure was a very favorite form of spoon ornamentation.
It is most familiar in the apostle spoons, of which original sets fetch such high prices, and of which latter day imitations are so abundant, but the figures were by no means confined to the apostles. In some cases the spoons were curiously finished with double heads, which can hardly have conducted, one would think, to convenience of handling. A curious but decidedly unpleasant form of ornament gave its name to the "death's head"
spoon, which was made for commemorative purposes, a very unattractive
kind of "memento mori."

A ROYAL NURSERY.

Green and White Are the Colors Used
For Decoration.

The suit of rooms occupied by the heir of the Spanish throne is situated directly above the queen's bedroom and communicates with her apartments by a private staircase.
It is on the sunny side of the palace,
and it consists of a day and a night
nursery, a dining room, bathroom, a dormitory for the attendants and a workroom.

Green and white are the colors of the day nursery. On the walls is a continuous series of animal pictures.
Among the peculiarities of this room,
which is to be the royal playroom, is the fact that there is not a sharp corner in it. Every angle is rounded so that the stumbling of the little feet
may not result in cuts and bruises.

Another feature is that the room itself from floor to ceiling and every article in it except the delicately rose tinted carpet of English manufacture is washable. The windows are protected without with hammered iron gratings of old fashioned design.

The night nursery is adorned with three frescoes, "Morning," "Midday"
and "Night." The first shows a baby awakening in a cradle flooded with sunshine, the second a little child eating and the third a little boy saying his evening prayers, kneeling by his bed.

The furniture is of mahogany, lacquered white. A frieze of grotesque figures borders the walls.

Young Alfonso occupies the same crib
that his father and grandfather slept

in, but the queen has had it remodeled.
It used to be ornamented with two high pillars, which supported a canopy modeled on the Spanish crown. From this heavy draperies of lace flowed to the ground.

The queen has had pillars, canopy and curtains removed. The court says she was afraid of the crown falling and crushing the infant. Most likely it was her modern appreciation of free circulation of air about the sleeping
child that dictated the change.

All the rooms, though beautiful, are simple. They are planned and adorned in the child spirit. Queen Victoria is something of a fresh air fiend. She inherits it from her grandmother and namesake.

Utilizing Burlap.
Did you ever think the ordinary yellow burlap that comes around bulky parcels can be turned to account by the clever needlewoman? For instance, some of the cleaner pieces may be utilized as really pretty porch cushions.

Take two pieces twenty-four inches square and make a simple border of scrolls or cross stitch in heavy twisted cotton, rope silk or even colored wrapping cord, as has been done with not bad effect.

Fill the cushions with excelsior and use white Manila rope as a cord, fringing short pieces for tassels at each corner.

Another pretty treatment is to applique large flowers cut from cretonne to the burlap. Buttonhole with cotton a tone or two deeper than the flowers or else with a very narrow line of black.

Finish such a pillow with a turned hem on each half. Cover the machine stitching with a row or two of narrow band the color of the outlining.

Help That Counts.
There is one person in the world that will never fail you if you depend upon her and are honest with her, and that is yourself.

The girl who learns to seek power within herself, who learns to rely upon herself, is never disappointed when she depends upon any outside help.

It is the self-reliant girl that is in demand everywhere.

It is the girl who can do things with force and originality, not simply dream about them.

It is the girl who takes the trouble
to go to the bottom of everything, who is thorough in small things as well as large.

It is the girl who not only has high ideals, but is willing to make sacrifices to live up to them.

It is the girl who takes the thorns in her occupation with as good grace as the roses.

It is the girl who does not measure
the quality and quantity of her work
by the amount of her salary.

Conventional and Natural.
Many people are puzzled by the terms conventional and natural designs.

The former means a design which does not profess to copy nature and only by device or form suggests the flower, leaf or fruit found in the pattern. It may be worked in many colors.

A natural design endeavors to follow
the coloring of the natural leaves, blosoms and stems in pictures.

The First Teacups.

Even after tea was introduced into Europe and had come into general use teacups were scarce. At the same time coffee was introduced; but, apart from Constantinople, the first coffee cups in Europe date back only as far as 1645
in Venice, 1659 in Paris, 1652 in London and 1694 in Leipzig. From the first, however, the conventional oriental coffee cup, without stem or handle,
was little used, and in Germany not at all. The Chinese teacup was used for tea, coffee and chocolate as well. Specimens of porcelain were undoubtedly introduced into Europe in the middle ages, yet not till the sixteenth century were cups imported from China in any great quantities, and even then it was as articles of vertu. Most of those found their way back into China again,
as collecting porcelain is a lasting fad
there, and high prices are paid for good specimens. The collection of Chinese porcelain, if only the genuine specimens are desired, requires immense study and knowledge, as the Chinese are skillful imitators and put numerous falsifications on the market.

Society Music.

Mary will have to be asked to play
when she goes out in society. A proud mamma will attend to that. And Mary will play with faithful accuracy something from Chopin or Beethoven or Mendelssohn, and the young people will watch her chubby fingers thoughtfully and wonder when the selection will come to an end. They will applaud, too—when the end is reached—for that is good manners, and everybody likes Mary, anyhow. And then—well, Lucy Smith, who has never taken lessons, will roll up to the piano and begin a coon song, hands and feet
will beat time all over the room, half
the listeners will hum the refrain, everybody will see the difference between the piano as a penance and as a pleasure, and only Mary's mamma will make unpleasant side remarks about the degeneracy of popular taste in music.—Cynthia Westover Alden in Success Magazine.

A Misunderstood Jest.

Lord Lytton when viceroys of India was seated one day at dinner next to a lady whose name was Birch and who, though very good looking, was not overintelligent. Said she to his excellency:

"Are you acquainted with any of the Birches?"

"Oh, yes!" replied Lord Lytton. "I knew several of them most intimately
while at Eton—indeed, more intimately than I cared to."

"My lord," replied the lady, "you forget the Birches are relatives of mine."

"And they cut me," said the viceroys,
"but," and he smiled his wonted smile,
"I have never felt more inclined to kiss the rod than I do now."

Said to say, Mrs. Birch did not see the point and told her husband his excellency had laughed her.

PASSING OF THE SAILOR HAT

Upturned Brim a Favorite on Fall
Models—An Air of Alertness About
This Shape Which Appeals to French and American Fancies.

When dark velvet hat facings by Dame Fashion's stern decree went out of favor many women loudly bewailed
the mandate, knowing well that their milliners were abandoning temporarily
one of the most becoming modes ever invented for feminine adornment. Fortunately velvet has again been assigned a leading role among fashions for autumn hats, and none is more joyfully welcomed than those which show

BEAVER HAT FOR SMALL FACE.

the black velvet faced rolling brim,
which lends softness to shapely features and heightens the bloom of the youthful. In the larger shapes the facings are usually put on smoothly,
as it is not advisable to add to their bulk, and again the wired brims may more readily be bent into angles most becoming to the individual wearer and to suit the hair, which is dressed more loosely about the face and neck than was the case a few months ago. The folds of velvet trimming for the shirred hats are also wired at both edges, a treatment which makes the work of adjusting them artistically comparatively simple, even for an amateur,
who has only to remember that the trimming must be kept fluffy and not stiff.

The sailor hat is dying hard and acquiring more trimming in the demise.
Again it is seen in the silk covered models trimmed solely with many looped taffeta bows, which are to be purchased ready made at the better class shops. It will doubtless be more or less in evidence until the snow flies.

The mushroom will undoubtedly go out, although, truth to tell, the inverted bowl shape is wonderfully becoming to certain faces of the pliant type. However, there is an air of knowing alertness about the new upturned brim, which rather appeals to French and American fancies. That is why the wide brimmed hat that sets
well off the face seems to suit the average woman of fashion.

Hats of the three cornered type appeal strongly to the woman who must make a small quantity of hair look a great deal, for the corners may be dented in toward the head and the trimming so arranged as to fill in vacuums. Continental hats newly brought forward show rather more trimming than of yore, and most of them have the fascinating big buckle conspicuously placed. They are essen-

TO BRAND DRUNKARDS.

Will Display Their Portraits in Saloons of Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—The Hyde Park
Liquor Dealers' Association, as a matter of self-protection, has started a crusade against those who over-indulge. Notices have been sent out by the secretary of the association requesting each bartender to ask for the photograph of every drunkard
from his wife or family in case complaint about giving him liquor is made.

The pictures then are to be sent to the secretary of the association, who will have copies made and sent to every member of the association.
These pictures then are to be pasted on the mirror behind the bar, so that a dispenser of drinks may see at a glance that he is selling liquor to a drunkard.

Two members of the association
have been prosecuted by indignant wives for having sold intoxicating drinks to their husbands. This caused the movement to brand the drunkards.

"Peerless" Oven Damper
Gives Absolute Control.

Most oven dampers have only two positions. They are either wide open or tight shut.

The "Peerless" dampers
are adjustable. If the oven is too hot, you can open the damper and keep on adjusting until you get the proper temperature.

This means economy in fuel consumption. With the ordinary oven damper to keep the oven from getting too hot, the heat must be all thrown up the chimney. Then the drafts have to be turned on again, because the temperature drops too rapidly.

Ask your dealer to show you this special damper. Also the "Peerless" Drop Oven Door, Daylight Oven, and Duplex Grates. These points of advantage over other stoves, are exclusive. Write for catalogue.

Laughed Away the Danger.

An old traveler tells of an experience
of his in mid-ocean. The day was foggy,
and most of the passengers were below listening to two evangelists
who were holding a particularly fervid gospel meeting in the saloon. Suddenly and without the slightest warning
there was a terrific crash and the engines stopped. Every one rushed on deck. The steamer had run into an iceberg.

Nobody knew what damage had been done, and everybody was ready to fly into a panic. The boats were lowered, and then for the first time the two evangelists, who had been forgotten in the saloon, appeared on deck. They wore their overcoats and their hats,
and they carried rugs and handbags.
They elbowed their way rudely to the rail, with the evident intent of securing for themselves first places in the boat. It was just at a time when a breath would have sent the passengers
panic stricken into the boats.

The sight of the two evangelists was about to undo the work of cool headed officers when a pert little cockney stepped up to the gentlemen with the rugs and handbags.

"Beg pardon," said he, tipping his cap, "I've a cab, sir."

And in the general laugh the danger
of panic was averted.

Could Not Risk It.

A dealer in real estate tells this story:
A middle aged widow came to his office to try to make arrangements for the purchase of a house and lot. "We can make a small payment down," she said, "and would sign a mortgage running for a period of five years to secure the payment of the rest of the money. My daughters have good positions as bookkeepers in a large mercantile establishment and can save enough out of their salaries to meet the payments as they become due."

The real estate man hesitated.

"I should want to be sure of you paying for the property in the stipulated time," he said. "I should feel like a criminal if I had to foreclose the mortgage at any time—and yet business is business. I shall have to see your daughters."

She brought them to his office the next day.

"Madam," he said, shaking his head,
"you will have to give me some additional security. Your daughters are too handsome. They will marry and lose their jobs long before the five years are up."

Veal calves sold at $4 to $5.50 per cwt., or an average of $5.00 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Export sheep sold at $4.25 to $4.40 per cwt.; lambs, $3.50 per cwt.

Hogs.

H. P. Kennedy reported selects at $6.25 per cwt., but all light, thin hogs will be cut out at $5.25 per cwt.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Oct. 12 were 428 cattle, 388 sheep and lambs, 432 hogs and 806 calves, while the offerings this morning for local consumption consisted of 140 cattle, 120 sheep and lambs, 190 hogs and 600 calves.

There has been no new developments in the cattle situation since this day week.

Supplies continue to come forward very freely, which consist largely of unfinished steers, heifers and cows and calves and calves are very scarce on account of the fact that farmers will not feed them, owing to the low price of feed. The local market is very quiet, and the very high prices ruling for the same, as compared with previous years. The local market is very quiet, and the very high prices ruling for the same, as compared with previous years.

Sales of choice cattle here were made at 4 1/2c to 5c; good at 4c to 4 1/2c; fair at 3 1/2c to 4c; common at 2 1/2c to 3c; and canners at 1 1/2c to 2c per cwt.

Supplies of sheep and lambs were fairly good and smaller than a week ago, and in consequence a stronger feeling developed in the market for the latter, which resulted in prices being advanced 3c to 4c per lb., but sheep values were firm and unchanged. The demand for local consumption and export account was good. Sheep sold at 4c to 4 1/2c, and lambs at 3 1/2c to 4c per lb. The demand for calves was good, of which the offerings were fair. Choice stock sold at 12 to 15c; good at 10 to 12c; fair at 8 to 10c; common at 6 to 8c; and canners at 4 to 6c per cwt.

In sympathy with the stronger cable advice on Canadian bacon, and the advance in prices of 1c to 2c per cwt. during the past week, in all the leading European markets, a firmer feeling prevailed in the local hog situation, and prices show no change, as compared with those of a week ago, but they are a trifle higher than a week ago.

Receipts were large, for which the demand was good from local dealers and packers, and trade was active, with sales of small lots at 3 1/2c to 3 3/4c per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

He Picked Them.
An English commercial traveler visiting a large Glasgow warehouse made a bet with the manager that he could pick out all the married men among the employees. Accordingly he stationed himself at the door as they came back from dinner and mentioned all those whom he believed to be married, and in almost every case he was right.
"How do you do it?" asked the manager in amazement.
"Oh, it's quite simple," said the traveler, "quite simple. The married men all wipe their feet on the mat; the unmarried ones don't."—Glasgow Times.

READY ON THE SHELF.
That's where you'll find "Nervine" in every well regulated household. So pleasant to take that even little children will cry for it. So certain to cure coughs, sudden colds and tight chest that thousands of bottles are used every day. Poison's Nervine does prevent illness, and by being handy will save worry and keep down the doctor bills. Large bottles sold for a quarter at all dealers.

How He Judged.
First Man—Writing must have been very expensive in the middle ages. They used feathers for pens. Second Man—Why should they be expensive? First Man—Well, I was only judging from my wife's hats.

Nearsighted.
Killa—I have seen twenty-two summers. Stella—I wish I were as nearsighted as you are.—Illustrated Bits.

YOUTH'S VITALITY SAPPED AWAY.
Your child looks poorly, is tired and frail. You would like this boy or girl to be more robust; more energetic and vivacious. The "something" that is wrong is simply this: Stomach and bowels need attention. Constipation and indigestion must be relieved, new life and vigor are required in the blood, slight assistance is needed for the kidneys and liver. Nothing is so effective as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They put new life into young folk as well as the old ones. Every child should use this medicine regularly because its benefits are not to be had in any other way. 25c. at all dealers.

Whisky and Typhoid.
It may be interesting for you to know that habitual whisky drinkers never recover when once attacked with typhoid fever or pneumonia. The whisky makes the system unfit to withstand the ravages of the disease, and death is always the result. Eminent physicians all over the world have noted and studied this fact.—E. V. Condon in Nashville Tennessean.

LOSS OF APPETITE AND ENERGY.
Singly they are a worry—combined they become a burden, telling that waste has been immensely greater than the body's power to rebuild. The first need is to reconstruct the blood, make good the deficiency of red cells. Ferrozene improves digestion, makes blood, the kind that nourishes and rebuilds. Quickly the nervous system responds to the new power supplied by Nervine. Strength returns, ambition revives, energy and endurance give the system just what it needs to maintain the balance of health. No tonic better than Ferrozene; 50c. per box at all dealers.

Waves of Water.
Waves are deceptive things. To look at them one would gather the impression that the whole water traveled. This, however, is not so. The water stays in the same place, but the motion goes on. In great storms waves are sometimes forty feet high, and are certain travel fifty miles an hour. The base of a wave (the distance from valley to valley) is usually considered as being fifteen times the height of the wave. Therefore a wave twenty-five feet high would have a base extending 375 feet. The force of waves breaking on the shore is seventeen tons to the square inch.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

When you have an unusual stock of good spirits, put some in cold storage to be used when you get out of temper.

The fun in shirking lies partly in seeing how it will work.

If a man is afraid he will fall in love he should carry an accident policy.

The people who are always willing to start something rarely make it a bank account.

Cigar smoke is the smoke that the many fortunes go up in.

Probably the reason why some people don't stop to think is because they can think without stopping.

All competition looks unfair to the man who has a good thing.

A personal grievance is necessary to the complete equipment of the occasional individual.

It depends upon who gets it whether sympathy is sweet or bitter.

If you want to be popular, give sore shins a wide berth.

The Great First Aid.
The man who gets the favors is he who is my son. Right there with the masama. When things are being done. So make a noise like money. As round the water flies. If you would have him notice The color of your eyes.

There's nothing like a dollar To smooth the rugged way. A little ready money Will roll the stones away; An unobtrusive quarter Slipped slyly underhand Will make an obdurate clerk Your thinking understand.

It makes the porter notice; It makes the man proceed; It comes to you in trouble. The greatest friend indeed; It keeps the wheels in motion; It makes the engine pound, And to be brief and pointed, It makes the world go round.

There's nothing quite so handy To have about the place As twenty million dollars On which your plans to base. Be there with the masama, And take my word for it The sailing will be pleasant And all your clothes will fit.

No Relation.
"Jolly old Frits is out singing 'The Watch on the Rhine.'" "Yes, and his wife is in the back yard muttering something about the wash on the line."

Easy to Acquire.
"I always take my country cousins around to the slot machine booth." "Do they enjoy it?" "Not specially." "Then why do you go?" "Well, I can get a reputation as a spendthrift for about 40 cents."

Brought Business.
"How do you like the doctor's new office girl?" "Her face gives me a pain." "That is what he has her for. There is nothing he likes better than prescribing for the pain."

Her Construction.
"You think 'twas made to torture. The heart that's at your feet?" She raised her eyes in meek surprise. "I thought 'twas made to beat."

Proclaiming It.
"Mamie has a new engagement ring." "Yes; her mother made it." "You are crazy. Made it?" "Yes; made the engagement ring all over town."

Way to Save.
"I cost myself a good deal." "Well, there's just one way to do." "What is it?" "Sell out to some one who won't spend so much on you."

Indestructible Cat.
While expounding to his wife the alleged fact that men can control their feelings better than women can, Mr. Hinks fell over the cat and nearly broke his nose.

"That wretch!" he hissed. "I've often threatened, but now I'll drown the brute!"

His wife begged him to be merciful, but his mind was made up. Accordingly he placed the offending feline, along with two large bricks, in an old flour sack and hastened upon his murderous errand. On reaching the canal he threw in the bag with such vigor that he overbalanced and fell into the muddy water. After struggling for half an hour and incidentally drinking half the water in the canal, he returned home wet and weary.

At the door sat the cat. "Well, of all!" exclaimed Hinks. "Why, I drowned the brute!"

"I don't think so," said his wife as she let him in. "You didn't give me time to tell you that there was a hole in that bag!"—London Answers.

Stomach troubles, Heart and Kidney ailments can be quickly cured with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. THE WATCHTOWER OF WOMEN.
Modesty is woman's watchtower. Whatever threatens her delicate sense of modesty, frightens her. For this reason many a woman permits diseases of the delicate womanly organs to become aggravated because she cannot bring herself to submit to the ordeal of unpleasant examinations, offensive examinations and obnoxious local treatments, which some physicians find necessary. Doubtless thousands of the women who have taken advantage of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter, have been led to do so by the escape thus offered from a treatment repugnant to modesty. Any sick woman may write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., in perfect confidence; all letters being treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential, and all answers being sent in plain envelopes with no hint of anything of other printing upon them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been long hailed as a "God-send to women." It makes weak women strong and sick women well. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol. All its ingredients printed on every bottle-wrap.

An English Fling.
"High buildings, sir?" remarked an American contemptuously. "Why, in England you don't know what height is. Last time I was in New York it was a blazing hot day, and I saw a man coming out of a lift wrapped from top to toe in bearskins, and I said to him, 'Why are you muffled up on a blazing day like this?' 'Well,' he said, 'you see, I live at the top of the building, and it's so high that it's covered with snow all the year round!'"—London Mail.

Trials Catarrh treatments are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription, known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy.

The Innocent.
Plaisantin offered in payment of a bill a gold piece which had a suspicious ring. "Here, you've given me one of those fake coins that the counterfeiters have just been arrested for making," answered Plaisantin. "It is dated 1803. If it were false surely it would have been found out before this."

A weak Stomach, causing dyspepsia, a weak Heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak Stomach nerves or weak Heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis., will mail samples free. Write for them. A test will tell. Your health is certainly worth this simple trial.

TIME TO QUIT WORK.

Fatigue Symptoms and Tests That Should Be Heeded.

NATURE GIVES THE WARNING

Tomorrow's Work Will Suffer if You Overdrive Today—The Price a Man Is Compelled to Pay if He Keeps on the Pressure Too Long.

When we have set out on a piece of muscular work or head work we might expect to find a steady, regular increase in the fatigue that resulted from it—so much work, so much fatigue. But that is not the case. The "fatigue curve" is not a straight line sloping up from one corner of the chart diagonally to the other. Instead it goes sharply upward at the start. Then for a long distance it runs along on an approximate level, and then it takes a sharp upward turn again.

The level stage—the plateau of hard, normal working power, where the cost in energy doesn't vary perceptibly—is the "second wind."

You know how it is in long distance running. At first the fatigue increases very rapidly. A man has to push himself with all the will power he can muster. Then all of a sudden it gets easier. It seems as if he had tapped a big, new supply of energy, and he can keep running for a long time without any great increase in his feeling of fatigue. At last he reaches a point where the exertion tells hard again. Fatigue piles up terribly fast now, so fast that unless the runner knows just how much he is good for and has made careful calculations he is likely to be "all in" before he gets to the end. Every step makes an inroad on his reserve energy. The last spurts costs more than all the rest together.

If a man has covered his distance without touching this final turn of the fatigue curve he will get rested in a reasonably short time and be able to go over the course again. But if instead he has to keep on, teeth set, eyes bulging, "hugging his comb" until he rolls over on the ground, it may take weeks for him to get into good form again. In a big race naturally he's got to be ready to do that.

There are emergencies in everybody's life when the merely prudent thing isn't the right thing. If a house is on fire and a family on the top floor is in danger and you're the only person on the premises you can't stand calmly aside and calculate your fatigue curve. There's a necessity for action—at any cost whatever, even life.

A man may have a big proposition to put through, some important combination to effect, a new movement to get under way. Perhaps he is the only person who knows the whole situation. Success may depend upon him. In such a case he must let mere prudence go by the board, and he must stand ready to pay the price, too, when that's called for.

But such emergencies are not every day matters. Tomorrow we are going to have another day's business to attend to, and the probability is that it will be just as important as today's. Consequently we have no right to overdrive ourselves today, for the price of it will be taken out of the quality of tomorrow's work. We have done enough when we have come in sight of that last costly lap. It's the time to quit.

A great deal of interesting information about the nature of fatigue has been made available through the ergograph, an ingenious recording apparatus devised by Professor Angelo Mosso, a great Italian scientist. It works something after this fashion: You lay your hand, back down, on a little table, and to the end of one finger is attached a cord which connects horizontally over a pulley with a small hanging weight. The motion of closing the finger lifts the weight, and as the effort is repeated over and over again the fatigue symptoms in the finger become clear and can be observed and recorded in detail.

New, one of the important discoveries that Professor Mosso has made is that if you keep raising the weight until your finger is exhausted it will take just about two hours to rest it—that is, in two hours you can do the same amount of finger work over again—and the least bit more.

You would imagine from this that if the experiment were repeated at the end of one hour instead of two you could do just half the amount of work. But it's only one-quarter as much!

That's the price of work on top of fatigue. One unfatigued man is to his work as four semifatigued men is to the same work. Using all the strength you have, you can't begin to get normal results, and the strain on will and nervous energy is terrific. Carrying a thing through on "nerves" is the costliest business a man can indulge in.

Some people, especially those of nervous makeup, find it hard to tell when the stopping point has been reached—that is, just where the dividing line comes between energy funds available for investment and a capital which cannot legitimately be tampered with. If they get interested in their work they lose sight of everything else and are going on sheer nerve before they realize it.

Though fatigue symptoms vary greatly in different people, it may be worth while to mention a few of them. Sometimes there is a flushing at the temples. That is the case with myself when I have been reading hard for two or three hours, and then I know that I ought to call a halt. I could keep on reading with undiminished interest for a good deal longer, but it would be at the price of a sleepless night.

With some people a sure sign is the increased circulation of blood in the ears or cheeks. Some people have queer feelings in the pit of the stomach—not nausea, but something suggestive of it.

One of the most reliable tests is the control test, holding the arms out horizontally at the sides and noticing whether or not the fingers tremble. The fatigue condition raises the nerve pressure gate and allows flowovers from one nerve into another. Normally a nervous impulse goes along its nerve directly to the point of strain, but when you are fatigued the stimulus spreads into other nerves as well and is not distinctly transmitted.

Dr. Francis Galton, the great statistician, says that the best test he knows is that of restlessness, shown in muscular movements. Many times, he says, he has sat in a position where he could watch an audience as it listened to some long scientific memoir. He took notes of how people acted under the strain of protracted attention—how often they moved. At the beginning of the hour they would sit quietly; then they would begin to move on the average of once every four seconds, then every three seconds, and he says that it is possible to trace right through any audience every degree of fatigue by the number of muscular movements made.

He has simply put together mathematically some data that are familiar to all of us. We have all seen—and, alas, been a part of—an audience that was trying to endure the last half hour of an unendurable speech. Everybody was shifting his position, crossing one leg over the other or back again, moving the fingers, playing with watch chain or chain, yawning, twitching, folding programme, wiping eyeglasses, adjusting back hair, twisting mustache. Those were all fatigue signs.

A loss of self control in small things—that's the symptom in different terms, and another name for it is irritability.

At first it seems strange that this undue sensitiveness to slight stimuli should be so sure an effect of fatigue; but it means that the resistance gates are down and we become aware of sensations pouring in from all sides, slight sensations that ordinarily we take no notice of because—by the laws of attention—they are quietly shut out from our consciousness. But when our attention is tired—no longer focused, but scattering—all these slight nerve prick attacks insistently and we cannot neglect them.

"The Sign of the Slate"

on a SLATER SHOE means just what the signatures do on a Bank note. The paper may be the right kind—the engraving may be faultless—but unless the names of the proper officials are signed in their proper places—the note has no legal value. The signatures make the Bank responsible for the payment.

"The Sign of the Slate," either stamped on the sole or sewn on the lining of a shoe, makes it a SLATER SHOE—proves that it was made in the Slater factory by the famous Goodyear welt process—makes the Slater Shoe Company responsible for its wear, service and comfort. "The Sign of the Slate" means that the shoe has been examined—that factory experts could not find a flaw in it—that they deemed it worthy to uphold the high standard set by SLATER Shoes.

"The Sign of the Slate" is just as important to shoe buyers, as the signatures are to the holder of a Bank Note.

Drunken Logger Crashed Into Window of Laundry

Attempt to Arrest Him Leads to Furious Onslaught

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—As a result of an attack on a Japanese laundry Monday night, the proprietor and one of his employees are in a hospital, many whites are nursing bruises caused by the clubs of the police, and the exterior of the laundry is a wreck. The trouble was occasioned by Joseph King, an intoxicated logger, who crashed into the window of the laundry conducted by Umekube at 422 Fell street.

The proprietor and Omura rushed out and dragged King to a rear room, where he was placed in charge of a young Japanese, who stood guard armed with a section of gas pipe, while the other Japanese hurried to summon the police to arrest King. Three intoxicated companions of King planned to rescue their friends. Other whites were called in, and there followed a combined attack on the laundry. The streets were soon filled by a large crowd, and a dozen Japanese on the inside sought to repel the invaders.

Policeman Thomas Collier attacked the crowd single-handed. Another officer soon arrived in an automobile, and a riot call brought strong reinforcements. The police charged the crowd with clubs, and many persons were hit. Umekube and Omura were conveyed to a hospital, where it was found the former was cut about the head, while Omura sustained a fracture of the shoulder. King was found asleep in the rear room, innocent of the trouble he had caused. Attorney Walker of the Japanese Society of America is procuring evidence about the affair.

WILL RE BUILD

The Planet, in a short interview with W. M. Drader, whose two mills here were recently destroyed by fire, was assured by that gentleman this morning that it is his intention to rebuild.

"Things are still in an unsettled state," he told the reporter, but it is our intention to build again. I could not say just now as to whether we will construct one large mill, combining both the planing and stave business, or whether we will erect two mills. This matter has not been decided upon as yet, but I can give you some news as to this point later on."

DIED OF OLD AGE

George F. Ecklin, aged 89 years, 2 months and 9 days, passed away this morning at the residence of his son, C. W. Ecklin, corner of Hilliard and Forest streets. Deceased was a widower, his wife having passed away twenty years ago. He leaves a family of six to mourn his death. They are, C. W. Ecklin, of this city; G. W. Ecklin, of London; F. M. Ecklin, of Toronto; Mrs. R. McNichol, of Woodstock; Mrs. W. B. Graham, of Goderich, and Mrs. F. Hathaway, of this city.

Deceased was born in Ireland, but has lived the most of his life in Canada. He came here only last September, and at the time he was quite feeble and had been ailing for some time. Death was the result of extreme old age. He was not at any time considered seriously ill, and was talking pleasantly to the members of the household half an hour before he passed away.

The funeral will take place Friday morning at eight o'clock to the Grand Trunk Station. The remains will be taken to Goderich for interment.

Mr. Ralph, of Wonderland, left this afternoon for Chicago on a purchasing trip.

There is such a thing as being good to the extent of oppressiveness. There is a form of insinuation that cuts like a two-edged knife.
