Jottings From Rome.

(N. Y. Freeman's Journal.)

Rome, Sept. 20.—For one whole day Rome was in a state of terror. A general strike of cabmen, street car conductors and operators, bakers and butchers. Even the newspaper presses suspended their work. Ten thousand Italian soldiers in the streets of Rome ready for the hour of trouble. But it passed over. All over Italy the workers stood still for that one day, facing defiantly the Italian soldiery and (except in some few instances) then quietly resumed their work at bench and table and tram depot and pressroom.

They had demonstrated that they could not unanimously and to the great discomfort of the public. They had done so as a protest against the government's action in sending troops to shoot down strikers in other parts of Italy. Having given quite a scare and a warning as to what they might do at some future time if provoked, they are satisfied.

Meanwhile in the midst of the excitement of the strike a ceremony of importance to Americans took place in the Church of St. Ambrose, near the once great Benedictine convent.

It was the consecration of the new Archbishop and Delegate Apostolic to the Philippines, Most Rev. Ambrose Agius, O. S. B. The church was filled with friends and relatives, with Benedictines, with Americans, as well as with representatives of every Roman congregation, though all had to walk there on account of the strike.

Cardinal Merry del Val, the Secretary of State to His Holiness, performed the ceremony, assisted by Most Rev. Archbishop Caspelle and Archbishop Stoner, Bishop-elect Giles of Philadelphia was present. Abbots Krugg, Vagioli, Ciaramella, Polosari, and Scrczai of Benedictine Congregations in Roman solemnity to the scene. S. did distinguished representatives of the Capuchins, Carmelites, Dominicans, servites, Christian Brothers and other religious bodies.

The relatives of the new Archbishop occupied special seats, the families of Agius and Nolla (his sister's husband) and Mascat making a noble group of distinguished looking men and women—his mother, Mrs. Agius, at their head.

Next day all these relatives of Archbishop Agius were given a special audience by the Holy Father, and later a very special audience by the Archbishop himself.

Archbishop Agius expects to be in the United States in October on his way to Manila with his secretary, Father Lopez, also a Benedictine. Both speak English as well as several other languages.

The Bishop of Lvallo is here living with the Trappist Fathers. There is some ugly talk back and forth between him and the editor of La Matin, but pay no attention to it. Whatever Mgr. Gay may have said or not said formerly, he has done the right thing now in his humble submission to the Pope.

Another ceremony of importance, recently was the Christening of the heir to the throne of Italy. His father had the good taste not to style him "Prince of Rome," as the Pope's enemies would have liked him to do. He is "Prince of Piedmont" instead, and in homage to the Feast of the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin "Maria" is occupationally a part of his name.

With the beautiful fall weather now the pilgrims will pour into Rome once after another in almost continuous procession to cheer the heart of the Holy Father and draw from the tomb of St. Peter renewed strength for the church militant.

Thousands from France, from Spain, from Belgium, from half a dozen different sections of Italy poured into Rome during the first week of September. Other thousands from Ireland, England, Switzerland, Hungary, Germany and Austria have sent word of their coming so that from now till the end of the year you may picture to yourself streams of people in procession with bands and banners and joyful as well as reverent attitudes, converging on Rome from all points of the compass, their hands outstretched and eyes strained toward one small figure in white—the great high priest—the representative of the Lord of our race, Jesus Christ—the one man of universal interest to all the world.

The Holy Father's speech to the French pilgrims on Sept. 8 deserves publication in full. It is a sample of sweet dignity and love with which the Holy Father receives his children, and makes one think of the days we read of in the country about Jerusalem when the people flocked around our divine Lord to be taught and fed and comforted, to feast their eyes on His adorable countenance and their ears with the magic of His gentle voice.

The thousands who come to the feet of Pius X., leave their hearts there. But here is his address to the French pilgrims as fatherly as mortal man ever uttered, full of authority as it is of peace and good will:

"Welcome, beloved ones, who come for the thirty-fourth time to venerate the tombs of the Apostles, and to bring comfort by your presence to the successor of St. Peter."

"We thank you, M. signore, for having placed yourself at the head of the pilgrimage, and for having expressed to us in so noble terms the sentiments which animate the Catholics of France."

"We cannot tell you, dear pilgrims, how acceptable to Us is the homage of your fidelity and devotion. This fidelity and devotion you manifest not by words only, but, by acts; even at the price of heavy sacrifice, you take count of the recommendations of Our venerated predecessor, who wished to see every year at the Vatican the representatives of working-class France."

"We are pleased that you put into practice in Christian popular action the teachings of the Holy Apostolic See, which are those of the Gospel of Our Lord Jesus Christ. Our satisfaction increases further, inasmuch as you take for the base of all your works the holy fear of God, the observation of His Divine Law, the practice of Christian virtues, and the frequentation of the Sacraments. Be assured, beloved ones, that if the Lord build not the house, in vain those labor who put stone on stone to erect it; if the Lord keep not the city, in vain the soldiers watch to defend it from the threats of the enemy; and all work is fruitless without the blessing of God."

"Descendants of those sons of France who were faithful to the Church, devoted without reserve to the Chair of Peter, ever ready to defend and propagate the true and the good, be not degenerate heirs. Notwithstanding the difficulties and sacrifices which to-day, above all, you must face, be ever generous in the certainty that in that manner you work not only for your own happiness, but for the prosperity of your country."

"History, in truth, proves it: the epochs at which France attained the splendor of glory, in which she poured upon her children, with the joys so pure of peace, the advantages of the most solid prosperity, have been those in which she listened to the salutary counsels of the Church. In the shadow of that banner which led her to victory she merited the glorious title of Eldest Daughter of the Church, and exercised throughout the entire world the benefits of her influence. The Church was always happy to applaud lovingly this glory. Is it necessary to repeat it, beloved sons?—this love of the Holy See for your country, despite everything, is always living in Our hearts; and were it necessary We would accept suffering to assure the well-being and greatness of your country."

"Taught by the lessons of the past, enlightened as to the dangers of the present, inspiring yourselves, above all, by the precepts of your Faith, hold yourselves always most closely attached to the Church and the Holy See, sure of thus arriving at true prosperity. It is by that means you will bring down on yourselves and your country the blessings of Heaven, and will hasten the coming of days less sad and agitated."

"In this hope, and as pledge of our affection, we accord with all our heart to your venerable Bishops, your clergy, yourselves, your families, your works, and to all France, the Apostolic Benediction."

Items of Interest.

The commission appointed several months ago by Pius X., to supervise the preparation of the Vatican edition of the Gregorian chant have concluded their sittings at Appuldurcombe Abbey, Wroxall, Isle of Wight.

Dr. Schorr, the distinguished Professor of church history in the Catholic Theological Faculty of the University of Bonn, has been elected rector magnificus of the university for the scholastic year 1904-05.

Writing to the London "Catholic Times," Dudley Baxter, B. A., expresses the hope that some day the friars, both Franciscan and Dominican, will be enabled to resume their original mendicant state and preach in the open air to that appalling multitude who never go inside a church. It seems deplorable, he remarks, that this apostolic method of evangelization should be utilized by Protestants alone, e. g., the Church or Salvation Armies, among a people turning towards the True Gospel.

Very Rev. Father Miller, assistant-general of the Order of Oblates of Mary, has been appointed Bishop of Johannesburg. Father Miller is a native of Dublin, an enthusiastic advocate of temperance and a priest who was never lukewarm in the cause of faith and fatherland. In his new diocese he will have as his neighbor in the adjoining diocese the Right Rev. Bishop Gaughren, O. M. I., who succeeded his brother in the Bishopric of the Orange River.

In London, on the 8th of September, Captain and Mrs. Bartle Teeling celebrated their silver jubilee. His Holiness Pope Pius X., sent them a special blessing on the occasion in recognition of Mrs. Teeling's services to Catholic literature during a quarter of a century. Their marriage on the 8th of September, 1879, was the first celebrated since the "Reformation" in the historic Church of Saint Ethelreda, which was built in the year 1297, and is the only church in London at present in the possession of Catholics which dates from pre-Reformation times.

Amateurs are now ransacking the second-hand book shops of the Paris Latin Quarter in the hope of coming across a little book written by M. Combes, now Premier, some forty-four years ago, and having the title, "The Psychology of St. Thomas Aquinas." This book, which for many years could be found in the 14. box of rubbish, now finds ready purchasers at 25 francs. It is a masterly exposition and defense of the Philosophy of St. Thomas Aquinas and of the role of the Church in the progress and civilization of the world. The admirers of the "Tu quoque" movement are now very fond of quoting the M. Combes of 1860, professor of logic, against the M. Combes of 1904, Prime Minister.

According to recently published statistics there are 6,560 Catholics in Morocco. For these there are seven churches and fifteen chapels, and for the children, twenty-one elementary schools. In Tangier there is a higher school for boys and a college for girls taught by nuns of the Third Order of St. Francis. The mission is under the spiritual care of Spanish Franciscans—twenty-seven priests, thirty-one lay brothers and seventeen nuns. Besides their purely spiritual work and the ministry of teaching, the Franciscans are engaged in the study of languages and the natural history of Morocco. They have published many works which have deserved and received the praise of the learned. The Spanish officials value the Franciscan religious as their most helpful auxiliaries, always amongst the people, by whom they are esteemed.

Under the heading, "A Popular Bishop," the London "Catholic Times" tells of the exceptionally heavy reception accorded to Bishop Mangan, of Kerry, after his recent consecration. Not even, perhaps, in Ireland were ecclesiastical dignitaries so near to the hearts of the people as there ever been on such an occasion a more enthusiastic popular demonstration than that which the Bishop was greeted. No less than thirty addresses were presented. They were tendered by representative bodies of every kind in the diocese—by clergy and teacher, local councils and Chambers of Commerce, the United Irish League, the Gaelic League, the National Foresters, and so on. The secret of his Lordship's great popularity is his manliness of character, which has prompted him to do battle for oppressed tenantry and to help forward every good cause no matter how great the opposition to it.

Mgr. Pelaco, Bishop of Troyes, considers that the consequences of separation between Church and State in France would be "ruinous both for the Church of France and for the country itself, which does not demand it." In the opinion of Mgr. Dubillard, Bishop of Quimper and of Leon, the consequences of the separation will be "a complete loss of faith by a certain number of souls who still hesitate, while that faith will be decidedly fortified in many others. We shall," he says, "be less numerous, but stronger."

Progress of the Campaign.

The Federal election campaign increases in intensity as the time limit approaches. All over Canada the battle is now in full swing. From all the Provinces comes the most cheering news for the Conservatives. The Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, the Territories and British Columbia have their Conservative candidates in the field and all are working as they never worked before to overthrow the Laurier Government and place at the head of the Government, the brilliant, able and honest Mr. Borden. There are no jealousies; there is no friction in the Conservative ranks. They are working for the one end, and are actuated by the desire of seeing our country once more freed from the grafters, the political corruptionists, the promise-breakers, the squanderers of the people's money. All are working to place at the head of the Government of our country, a man worthy to succeed Sir John McDonald, Sir Charles Tupper and Sir John Thompson, and that man is Mr. Robert Laird Borden. The thought of having Mr. Borden as our next Premier should inspire all patriotic Canadians and stimulate them to the utmost efforts in order to overthrow the Laurier Government. In this Province, from east to west, the Conservative prospects are the brightest. In King's County, the meetings held during the past week were largely in favor of Mr. McLean, who is conducting a most vigorous campaign. In Queen's County, the Liberal candidates can scarcely get a meeting worth addressing. There is no enthusiasm in the rank and file of what used to be the Liberal electorate. From Prince comes the intelligence of splendid work done by Mr. Lefurgey. Everywhere he is warmly received by the people and his addresses on the great political issues produce most telling effects. All this is as it should be. The present Federal Government attained power under false pretences, and have retained it by falsifying all their pre-election promises and violating every pledge given to the people. To crown their duplicity and deception they have saddled upon the people a liability of $170,000,000 for the building of a railway that never was asked for, for which no surveys were made, and which is destined to carry the products of Canada to foreign ports for ocean transportation. They had no mandate from the electorate to assume this liability, and now the people have their opportunity to turn out of power, the Government and the party that have thus betrayed and deceived you. Electors of Prince Edward Island, a duty devolves on you on the 3rd of November. Rise in your might and hurl from power those who have played you false and place in power an honest Government under the leadership of Robert Laird Borden.

The Liberal party in New Brunswick will miss, in this election, the support of Mr James F. Robertson, of the firm of Manchester, Robertson & Allison. Mr Robertson is one of the leading business men of St John, and has hitherto been a strong Liberal; but he could not swallow the Grand Trunk Pacific project. In an interview with a Sun representative, Mr Robertson said: "Much as I regret having to separate from the party with which I have been associated so long, I feel that there is no other course open to me. There is one great question before the people. That is the Grand Trunk Pacific project. On that issue I have strong and decided convictions, and have given to them in the resolutions unanimously adopted on three occasions by the St John board of trade. The government policy is directly opposed to what I regard as sound policy. On the other hand the liberal conservatives in the house and the leader of the party have adopted the policy which I have advocated. Therefore they are entitled to my support." That is the frank and clear statement which Mr Robertson made of his position. It is exactly what might have been expected of any independent and consistent business man, in view of the part he has taken in the board of trade on this question. Referring to this matter the St John Sun says: There is nothing to excite surprise in the statement made and reasons given by Mr. James F. Robertson in the interview which appears in the Sun today. It would be more surprising if, after advocating so strenuously the policy of government ownership of the transcontinental railway, Mr Robertson should now refuse his support to that policy when it is adopted by the conservative party. The associates of Mr Robertson in the Board of Trade would have had reason to be amazed if he had endorsed the government railway policy in this election, after having so strongly condemned it in their presence, and persuaded them to do the same.

In giving his support to Mr Borden and the conservative candidates, Mr Robertson is simply following the course which he marked out nearly two years ago. He agrees with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with Mr. Emmerson, and with the government candidates in St John that the railway question is the paramount issue in this election. On that grave issue he votes with the party whose policy is the same as his own. To do otherwise is of course impossible for any independent elector.

Nor is it right for a man who feels strongly on this question to conceal his position and intentions from others. There were many business men not usually interested in ordinary party politics who four years ago early and openly expressed their intention to support Mr Blair. They expressed the opinion that his railway policy was sound and progressive, and that he would be able to do good service to his party and the country. If some or all of these citizens find the government of today committed to a policy which Mr Blair condemned, and which their own reason and science also condemned there is no reason why they would conceal their opposition to it.

The reports of the Board of Trade meetings show that Mr. Robertson is one of a large number of leading business men who feel as he does on this question. It may be that some of these will not have the courage or the independence to give expression in words, or effect at the polls to their convictions. But we know for a certainty that there are more than one or two who have been supporters of this government, but having advocated Mr. Borden's policy in the Board of Trade and elsewhere will vote for it in November.

The issue before the public is not whether the Railway shall be built. The issue is, whether the Laurier Government has fulfilled its trust and has in its railway policy conserved the best interests of the Country.

Why did it not take over the Canada Atlantic Railway when it was for sale and make the system of Government Railway a paying proposition? Why should the people contribute in cash and credit 9-10's of the whole cost without a chance of participating in gains if the road is a success?

Millions on Millions Of the people's money thrown to "Grafters" with a lavish hand.

The 1903 session of Parliament broke the Record for reckless extravagance.

To raise election funds, the Liberal Government poured out the People's Money into the grafters' "barrels" like water.

Read for Yourself the official statement of the enormous votes the Government forced through Parliament last session, in spite of the strenuous protests of the Opposition.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Main Estimates ($57,109,877), First Supplementary estimates ($300,000), Second Supplementary estimates ($5,090,968), etc.

Remember that the Liberals used to denounce an annual expenditure of $38,000,000 as excessive, and promised to reduce the expenditure by from two to seven million dollars a year. This is the way They Have Kept Their Promise.

If you approve of this voting of $256,280,703 of your money in a seven month's session, you will keep the present Government in power. If not, you will put in the Conservatives, who protested against it.

Lastly and most important why has it failed to seize its opportunity to protect the people on the transportation question and effectively control freight rates over all the various railways of Canada by itself controlling and operating one of the transcontinental railways.

Electors: You Are Honest.

YOU WOULD NOT OBJECT TO HAVING YOUR ACCOUNTS CHECKED, WOULD YOU?

But the Liberal Government of Canada does not want its expenditures audited.

WHY?

That is a point for you to think over.

At the last session of Parliament, the Government introduced a bill to deprive the Auditor General of a large amount of his powers.

The Auditor General had been investigating too closely into the Government's methods of book keeping.

With the enormous expenditures it is going to make on the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme, the Government did not want any more of this careful investigation.

WHY?

The Government would have succeeded in this attempt to prevent a proper audit of its accounts, but for the strenuous opposition of the Conservatives.

When the Conservatives made the country realize what was about to be perpetrated, public indignation forced the Government to drop its bill.

Is a Government that cannot stand an audit of its expenditure of your money worthy of your confidence?

Are you going to vote to keep such a Government in power for another five years?

The Honest Elector will vote to put in power the Conservative Party, which believes in a Full and Thorough Investigation of the Way in Which the People's Money is Spent.

Vote for the Borden Candidate.

The Conservative Leader is an able lawyer, a sound jurist, an accepted authority on constitutional and international jurisprudence.

is respected, and feared by his opponents.

He is a constructive statesman with a Wide Range of Vision and a deep knowledge of historical precedents in economic matters.

He is unstinted in His Efforts in the Public Weal. Ever he is fighting the battle of the people in and out of Parliament.

The Conservative candidate in this constituency is the standard bearer of Mr. Borden's party. It follows that he is a Public Spirited Citizen And A Loyal Canadian Vote For Him And Vote For Borden? Your Confidence Will not be Betrayed under the Conservative leader's administration.

Surely the discussion of such questions is not futile and the issue is not dead, But in another form the issue is directly before the people and takes this form—shall the Grand Trunk Pacific be built entirely by and for the people of Canada or shall it be built principally on Canada's credit and money but be owned and controlled exclusively by private promoters? The Liberals propose the latter, Conservatives the former.

News of the War.

London, Oct. 12.—For the past three days there has been sharp fighting north of the railway town of Yentai, between Liao Yang and Mukden. The Russian advance has been checked and the attacking force compelled to retire to the north side of the Schili River, where at latest advice a ten-day military fight is in progress. In military circles at St. Petersburg the fighting is not considered as being of the magnitude of a general engagement such as was expected to come possibly within a few days, somewhere within the triangle indicated by the lines connecting Liao Yang, Yentai and Sykwaotin. This battle which was expected to be decisive of the year's campaign. The wounded Russian soldiers who were taken back to Mukden show by their cheerfulness the improvement produced in the spirits of his troops by Kurapatkin's course in assuming the offensive.

London, Oct. 13.—Kurapatkin's advance met with a counter advance of forces under Field Marshal Oyama. According to advices received from Tokio, a general engagement is in progress between Liao Yang and Mukden, but reports from Russian sources describe the fighting there as merely of the nature of an advance guard action. Kurapatkin is reported to be aiming to strike at two widely separated points on the left.

There has been some hard fighting a short distance north of Oosima, in which the Russian loss was 150 killed or wounded. It is reported that the Japanese claim to have cut off the Russian column south of Taitse River. No official reports from the front have been received by the Russian war office last night and this fact is regarded in some quarters as indicative of the non-success of Kurapatkin's forward movement. Military authorities point out that owing to the magnitude of the movement planned it is too early to expect news of a decisive result.

London, October 14.—No progress has been made in the projected advance of the Russian army, under Kurapatkin, since its initial success movement, resulting in the capture of Benning. Fighting of the most stubborn description continues along practically the entire front. Field Marshal Oyama reports the capture of 30 guns from the Russians, and claims distinct successes in forcing the Russians to retire from some of their advanced positions. Kurapatkin's report to the Emperor was couched in guarded terms and claims nothing in the way of accomplished results. Reports from the Russian military commander at Port Arthur show that the Japanese have brought shell fire to bear upon the inner fortress. The garrison however is represented as hopeful of the outcome of the siege.

Mukden, Oct. 15.—Fighting raged yesterday with the same bitterness as on previous days. The engagement and the result is still in the balance. Losses on both sides are enormous, that of the Russians being fifteen thousand. Wounded soldiers are being brought in all directions. The roads are crowded with long trains of wagons, baggage and transport wagons as well as ambulances being pressed into service, and even the Chinese two wheeled carts are obeying the mandate of military men afoot, limping and using their guns as crutches. The last severely wounded are supporting their comrades after first aiding in dressing their wounds on the firing line. Even across the field you meet them taking the shortest and straightest road for help and shelter.

The most pitiful feature of the bloody drama is being enacted at the front when stiffened with wounds, their pain racked bodies sank upon the road side, after the danger and glory of active fight have been withdrawn.

The Prices.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Price. Includes Butter (fresh) 0.24 to 0.25, Butter (salt) 0.00 to 0.20, Beans (per bush) 0.02 to 0.5, Cabbage 0.02 to 0.05, etc.

DIED

At the residence of his daughter Mrs. A. Simpson, French River, on Oct. 4th, 1904, Thomas McNeill, 83 years of age.

At Emerald, on the 28th of Sept. ult. after a lingering illness, Mary beloved wife of Mr Peter Greenan, aged fifty-five years, leaving a disconsolate husband, three sons and one daughter to mourn the loss of a kind wife and mother. May her soul rest in peace.

At Wincepog, Man., Sept. 27th, 1904, aged 10 days, Emma Frances Margaret, infant daughter of Dr. C. E. and Mrs. Kennedy.

Suffered 15 Years.

Mrs. Wm. Ireland, 170 Queen St. East, Toronto, wife of the well known shoemaker suffered from indigestion and constipation for over 15 years. Nothing did her any good till she tied Laxa-Liver Pills, which cured her.

The Liberal Party would have the road built through Grand Trunk Pacific promoters under the present agreement. The Conservative party undertake to place on the Statute Book legislation whereby the Railway shall be taken over by the nation on equitable terms, and be operated under a management "absolutely free from party influence and political interference."

All Stuffed Up

That's the condition of many sufferers from catarrh, especially in the morning. Great difficulty is experienced in clearing the head and throat.

No wonder catarrh causes headache, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, pollutes the breath, deranges the stomach and affects the appetite.

To cure catarrh, treatment must be constitutional—alterative and tonic. "I was ill for four months with catarrh in the head and throat. Had a bad cough and raised blood. I had become discouraged when my husband bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and persuaded me to try it. I advise all to take it. It has cured and built me up." Mrs. Helen Robinson, West Lincoln, N. S.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures catarrh—it soothes and strengthens the mucous membrane and builds up the whole system.

MORE NEW FALL COATS

AND WATERPROOFS

Recently we opened up another large lot of New Fall Coats direct from Germany. Also a swell line of

NEW WATERPROOFS.

The Coats we are showing this fall came direct from the best coat makers in Canada and Germany.

The coats are radically different from any previous season—there's a finish and style to them that's most becoming.

We didn't have a coat left over from last fall—all the coats are new. We have a large stock—and we know no one can beat our prices.

F. Perkins & Co.,

The Millinery Leaders, SUNNYSIDE.

There is no necessity, there is no justification, there is no object, good, bad or indifferent, to be obtained. * * * "Yes; it is absolutely useless. It is a total waste of the public money. It is not only a destruction of the intercolonial Railway, but it is a sheer, unjustifiable squandering of the public money."—From A G Blair's speech on the Grand Trunk Pacific contract.

Is it useless to discuss such questions as these? Is the Grand Trunk Pacific a dead issue?

Minard's Liniment cures Burns, etc.

A triduum of prayer and devotion, in connection with the Jubilee of the immaculate conception, opened in St. Dunast's Cathedral on Monday evening, and is now going on. On Monday evening, the sermon was preached by Rev. P. D. McGuigan, last evening the preacher was Rev. Dr. McDonald and this evening Rev. R. B. McDonald will deliver the closing sermon. The devotions close each evening with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

A strange man registered at the Grand Central Hotel, Truro, N. S., Saturday afternoon by the name of William Johnson dropped dead in his chair this afternoon. There are no facts known concerning his identity but he is probably Capt. Wm. Johnson of Murray Harbor, P. E. I. He came to Truro on Thursday from New Glasgow where he was under treatment for a complication of diabetes and was on his way to Victoria Hospital, Halifax. He had $250 on his person at the time of his death and had sixteen $10 notes in his hand.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

Mr. John Anderson, of Kensington, and Mr. M. C. Delaney, of Tryon, are the Conservative candidates for the Legislative Assembly for the Belesque district.

Mr. George V. McInerney, of St. John, was nominated by the Conservatives of Kent County, in Convention Assembly at Richibucto, on Saturday last.

His honor, Lieutenant-Governor McKinnon, was sworn in, in the Executive Council Chamber on Saturday last, by J. J. McGee, Esq., Clerk of the Privy Council.

John E. McNeill, brakeman, was killed in a head on collision of two freight trains, at McKinnon's Harbor, C. B., last week. Daniel McDonald, engineer, had his arm and leg broken. Several cars were demolished.

His Lordship, Bishop Casey, of St. John, N. B., accompanied by Rev. Father Chipman, arrived here on a brief visit to his Lordship, Bishop McDonald, on Wednesday evening last. They left again on Friday morning. They were guests at the Palace during their stay.

A fire broke out on Thursday morning last about 2:30 o'clock in the Alchorn building, Queen street, Charlottetown, then occupied by Messrs. McDonald & Hughes, as a grocery store. It is a wooden building and in a short time was enveloped in flames. The firemen were soon on the scene and the flames were soon extinguished. The building and contents were badly damaged.

"Put this question how you will, turn it over, turn it over, turn it back, examine it right and left, inside and outside, it fails to present to me—I do not know how it may appear to other hon. gentlemen in this House—a single redeeming feature in any phase of it from beginning to end. I have yet to hear of the first man in the province of New Brunswick asking that this road should be constructed."—From Hon A G Blair's speech on the Grand Trunk Pacific contract.

THREE of the largest business blocks in the centre of Winnipeg were reduced to ashes on Tuesday night of last week. The fire started in the new Bullman block, at the corner of Albert and Bannatyne Streets, and the building was in flames before an alarm was turned in. The flames shot across narrow Bannatyne Street to Ashdown Hardware Company's store corner of Main Street and Bannatyne Street. This immense establishment, one of the largest in Canada was burned within an hour. Cartridges and other inflammable material exploded and spread the fire in a northerly direction to the Rialto Block, occupied by Miller's and O'Leary's, Hyndman's Furniture Store and the Dominion Express Company and a number of business offices. The Great Northwestern Telegraph Office was also burned. Woodbine Hotel, Barker Block and Dufferin Block adjoining the Bullman Block, were all partly damaged. The chief sufferers in these blocks are the Slater Shoe Co, the Grandy Music Co, Caldero Photographic Supplies, Davies' stationery stock and Connolly's Drugs, Rialto block, were saved after a hard fight. The fire had such a start that anything the firemen could do was of but little avail. The electric lights and power were all cut off owing to fire, and all the newspaper offices were in darkness at midnight. The Free Press office in the rear of the Bullman Block escaped injury. The loss is estimated at over $500,000 of which the Ashdown Company will lose $500,000.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

The beautiful new altar in St. Andrew's Church, was solemnly consecrated on Tuesday of last week. His Lordship, the Bishop officiated, assisted by Very Rev. Dr. Morrison, V. G., Rev. A. P. McLellan, P. P., Rev. A. J. McDonald, Rev. R. J. Gillis, Rev. P. D. McGuigan and Rev. I. E. A. McDonald, with Rev. A. J. McIntyre as master of ceremonies. Solemn Mass was afterwards celebrated by his Lordship, the Bishop, assisted by the clergy above named. This splendid new altar is the gift of His Lordship, Bishop McDonald and several of the clergy who were also born in St. Andrew's parish.

A small part of the forward section of the hull and a slanting foremast stood as mute reminders of the ocean tragedy enacted at Chatham, Mass., last Thursday night when the three-masted schooner Westworth of Moncton, N. B., struck on Chatham bar during a raging northerly gale, and all on board perished in the terrific sea. With the exception of the loss of the steamer Portland in November, 1898, the wreck of the Westworth is the most appalling disaster that has occurred on the Cape Cod coast during the last decade. Of the twelve persons who were on board the stranded vessel not one reached the shore alive, although two bodies were snatched from the surface Friday morning, one of them that of a woman, believed to be the wife of the captain. With her three children she was accompanying her husband on a trip from Hillsboro, N. B., to Newark, N. J.

ONE of the most horrible murders ever committed in this Province took place in this city on Thursday evening last, about seven o'clock. The victim was Miss Harriet Drake Warren, about 35 years of age. She was a seamstress and had been working that day at the house of Mr. A. E. Igoe, on the Esplanade. She left there about seven o'clock in the evening to go to her home on upper Pownall Street, where she resided with her widowed mother. She started up Haviland Street, as was her custom, past the Charlottetown Hospital. Just past the hospital and before coming to the large warehouse of the Connolly estate on the corner of Sydney street, there is a small building, and then the gateway leading into the warehouse yard. This place is pretty dark for the most part, and here the horrible tragedy occurred. The murderer was evidently concealed about this gateway and rushed on his unfortunate victim as she passed. The murdered woman was struck on the back of the head and on the neck and other parts of the body with an axe and felled to the street. A terrible gash was in the back of the head and there were other marks, as if made with the pole of the axe. Her death seems to have been instantaneous and the victim died without a groan, as the body was discovered a few minutes after she had left Mr. Igoe's residence. A Miss Robinson, coming in the same direction, from the house of Mr. Gane next to Mr. Igoe, was the first to discover the body. She left Mr. Gane's a few minutes after seven, and passing this part of the street stumbled over the body, which was lying on the sidewalk. She thought it was a drunken man went home a couple of blocks away, and told her brother, who came to the scene of the murder. By this time others had congregated and the alarm was given. The body was taken into the Hospital awaiting the arrival of the Coroner. The axe was identified, as his, by Thomas Bisean, who lies on Union Street, nearby. He works on the Hillsboro Bridge, and when he came home missed the axe out of his yard. Henry Palmer, who lives in the same building as Bisean, and who has recently been discharged from the Lunatic Asylum is under arrest. Michael Power, who had recently been in an asylum in the States was taken into custody on his father's recommendation. The Coroner summoned a jury and the inquest was continued on Friday and Saturday.

ARTISTIC AUTUMN MILLINERY.

We invite the ladies of Charlottetown and surrounding country to call and examine our peerless display of novel and alluring high-class Millinery. We do not purpose holding a formal millinery opening this season, but all are welcome to come when it suits their convenience, and see the fascinating headwear gotten up by our own milliner, MISS M. MURNAGHAN, who, since her return from the Fall Millinery Openings abroad has been busy putting into effect the newest and best ideas stored up while away.

The ladies are loud in their praise of the work shown, which, when compared with imported models, more than holds its own, and is, we venture to say, the prettiest and most artistic collection of popular priced Millinery yet shown in the city.

All the newest shades and trimmings are in evidence, and one is bewildered by the variety of the season's shapes, as well as by the ingenuity displayed in their adornment. A novelty in the tri-corne shape is made of navy blue PANNE Velvet, with cut steel head band and black ostrich plume, which sweeps gracefully over the flared brims. Price $10.60

A charming hat of somewhat similar shape is of black PANNE Velvet with chenille finished brim. A huge bird adorns the front, while another of smaller size rests beneath the brim on the left, which, with cut steel ornaments makes a most delightful creation. Price only $7.60.

Another is a Mahogany colored picture hat with shirred facing of the new FRAMBOISE shade taimmed with wings, cut steel ornaments and ribbon to match, a very beautiful and artistic hat. Price $6.17.

A hat of castor furry felt, torpedo shape, trimmed with pale blue and castor velvet with pale blue pon pons is decidedly chic, and not expensive. Price $5.98.

Another most beautiful and picturesque hat, with crown in the oyster shape is of black panne velvet, the entire crown and brim being finely shirred, three Prince of Wales tips not to the left, which, with cut jet head band and ornaments complete a hat which is the acme of style and good taste. Price $9.85.

Still another charming example is of the new Victorian or bottle green shade with black coq plumes and jet ornaments, while others show a dash of coq de roche or reddish orange shade which is now so fashionable.

The trimmings this season surpass anything we have ever shown, and comprise plumes in black, white and shaded, whole birds, paradise feathers, tips, breasts and quills, buckles and ornaments in jet, cut steel and jewelled. Altogether we are prepared for the largest Millinery trade in the history of the store.

In addition to our usual staff of Millinery we have secured the services of MISS MINNIE MALONE, well and favorably known to the ladies of Charlottetown, being for some time head milliner at Beer Bros. and other firms in this city, and who has lately carried on millinery business in Tignish. She takes charge of the Ready-to-wear and trimmed Millinery, helping customers to select, taking orders, and making changes if necessary, to suit individual purchasers.

Being thus equipped with a magnificent stock and a staff of the best Milliners in the Province, we are prepared to fill all orders promptly and satisfactorily. See our show window for samples of work done by Miss Murnaghan and staff.

TWO HOMES.

My home was in the island that we love,
Set in the sea,
The heaven alternate smiles and frowns Shows.

My home is in the solemn, wide Karoo,
The boundless veldt,
Spangled over with infinite dots of stainless blue.

My home is in the American soldiers were frequently found to have the Crestion tattooed on his back, but rather as a charm than as a specific.

One of the last cases of flogging in the British Army was that of a man at York, who had been guilty of desertion, and was an altogether unpleasant subject.

These facts are given by two officers
who conducted experiments to determine the effect of weight on soldiers
in full marching order.

These facts, whatever may be their generality, do not quite dispose of the question of degeneracy. They are what we should expect from the more abundant and cheaper food of the people, their better housing and improved sanitary surroundings.

At these words a stably dressed man who had listened with great interest to the traveler's tale stepped forward with extended hand.

"Stranger," said he, "was the man that lent you that quarter twenty years ago in Chicago, if you'd offer to return it now, I shouldn't refuse it."

Not long afterward, in another public place, the old gentleman was again recounting his favorite tale, intending to add as a climax an account of the miraculous finding of his former benefactor.

A Diplomatic Omission.

During the reign of Emperor Napoleon
III. he and the empress visited Normandy and had arranged to spend a couple of days at Evreux. M. Janvier de la Monte, who was the prefect learned that the revolutionaries intended to hiss the sovereigns as they passed, and so he summoned the leaders of the movement and told them that he knew of their plot.

The conspirators accepted the terms offered them, and so the emperor was greeted only by cheers, as the revolutionaries, frightened at the arrest of their chiefs, had not dared to utter a sound. After the emperor and empress had gone the prefect went in person to release his prisoners, who had had such a pleasant time that they greeted him with cries of "Long live the prefect!"

These facts are given by two officers
who conducted experiments to determine the effect of weight on soldiers
in full marching order.

These facts, whatever may be their generality, do not quite dispose of the question of degeneracy. They are
