CHAPTER XXII.
DAYS OF ANGUISH.

Reginald Dartmouth drew back. The old man's shriveled hand caught the candle and, with a cry of rage, flung it full at his mocking face. "Burn the other—the other—you thief!" he shrieked. "You'd rob the lad! You'd—"

"Silence!" hissed Reginald Dartmouth, his quick ears catching the sound of footsteps in the hall. "Silence, you old fool!" he repeated, approaching the bed and thrusting the will into his breast beside the other.

"Burn the other—you thief!" gasped the old man, striking out wildly. "You—thief!"

The footsteps came closer. In another moment the person would hear the old man's cries and all would be lost!

With a glance as black as a fiend's Reginald clutched the old man's throat as he opened his livid lips for another shriek and, choking back the sound, forced him onto the pillow. Then, as the old man's eyes turned up to him with a threatening glare of impotent hate, and the death rattle rang in the throat beneath his hand, he plucked the first will from his coat, glancing at it by the light of the fire, and, as the footsteps halted outside the door, thrust it under the pillow.

Then he picked up the candle and, with a cry of alarm, hurried toward the door.

"The doctor and Mrs. Lucas entered. 'Quick—quick!' he cried, breathlessly. "He has had a fit. I have knocked down the candle, I fear—"

The doctor, snatched the candle from Mrs. Lucas's trembling hand and hurried to the bed.

Reginald Dartmouth, trembling and white as a sheet, faltered: "Is—he—"

"Yes; he is—dead," replied the doctor, gravely.

CHAPTER XXIII.
"IT IS ALL OVER."

The ports of death are stars, of life good deeds through which our merit leads us to our beds.

How willful blind is he, then, that should stray, and hath it in his power to make his way!

This world, death's region is, the other, life's; And here it should be one of our great strifes

So to front death, as men might judge us past it. For good men but see death, the wicked taste it.—ROWE.

"Dead!" echoed Captain Dartmouth, looking shocked and agitated.

"Dead!" sobbed the old servant. "Oh, my poor master—oh, my poor master! Oh, not dead, surely, Mr. Todly!"

"Yes, ma'am, the poor squire is dead—yes, dead," and he turned, with a look of interrogation, to the captain, who seemed greatly though silently affected.

"Did you see, captain—"

Reginald Dartmouth shook his head.

"No," he replied, answering the half-spoken question. "I—I am sorry—I shall never forgive myself as long as I live—but I had fallen asleep. I have had little or no rest for the last few nights; indeed, have scarcely been out of the saddle, and the stillness and heat of the room overcame me."

He looked full of remorse, and spoke in a tone of such self-reproach that the doctor said, emphatically:

"You have no cause to feel the matter so acutely, Captain Dartmouth; you could have done nothing if you had been awake. None of us could. It was a fit, a sudden and fatal fit."

And he turned toward the bed again and helped Mrs. Lucas cover the silent, stone-like face with the sheet.

"A fit," repeated the captain, in a hollow voice. "I heard him call; indeed, his shriek, which you must have heard coming up the stairs, woke me—woke me so suddenly that, as I sprang forward, I knocked over the candle, and was coming to call for lights and assistance as you entered."

The doctor nodded. He was rather struck by the precise way in which the captain made the statement, but had no suspicions.

"Poor fellow! Unused to such scenes he blames himself for having fallen asleep," he thought; then said, aloud:

"The shock has unnerved you a little, Captain Dartmouth. I think if I were you—that is, I should advise—ahem!—that you went out for a little air—ahem!"

"Yes," assented the captain, absent-ly. "I think I will. I am rather out of it."

And he rose from the chair into which he had sunk and left the room. When he reached the door he turned.

"If you want me, I shall be in the dining-room or on the terrace."

"Very well," said the doctor. Mrs. Lucas could not speak for sobbing.

And the captain, with a heavy sigh, went slowly down the stairs. The servants were crowding at the bottom of the staircase, talking and asking each other questions in suppressed and awe-stricken voices.

They stood back respectfully as Reginald came down, and looked at his white face.

Simmons, the butler, came up to him. "Is the squire worse, sir?" he asked, with a husky voice.

"It is all over—my uncle is dead, Simmons," replied the captain, in a solemn tone. And the old man, who had stood behind the other old man's chair for forty years, turned away with a sudden, child-like sob, while the other servants, most of them long in the Darrell service, burst into tears.

Captain Dartmouth passed them and went out on the terrace, and there, safe from prying eyes, gave way to his emotion.

But it was not the emotion of grief; for, when he drew his hands from before his eyes, it was to feel, with a stealthy gesture, if the paper within his breast was safe; and, instead of sorrow, his face bore a look of supreme triumph.

In a moment, however, the smile of satisfaction gave place to a look of cautious cunning, and, with his hands touching the last will and testament of Harry Darrell, he looked round thoughtfully.

"This must be got rid of," he muttered, "and at once. But where? Throw it in the fire in the dining-room? No. The old woman, or one of the crazy pack of idiots, will be running all over the house and some one will smell the burning paper, or perhaps see it, and get an inkling of the game. No; I can not burn it. Not a room in the house is safe. Where, then?" He thought for a moment or two with painful intensity, then his brow cleared.

"Of course," he muttered; "the very place!" and with a slow and dejected step he walked down the steps and went in the direction of the shrubbery.

The Dale and the Warren had been bound together in ties of affection and esteem for too many years to allow Rebecca to harbor her just indignation and anger one minute after the tidings of the squire's illness were brought to her.

Like most timid women, when her spirit had flashed up into the blaze which had scorched the poor, blundering, worldly-minded master of the Dale, she had forgotten her weakness, and timidity and, as it were, cast aside her identity. She was no longer Miss Rebecca Goodman, timid, shrinking, and diffident, but a woman slighted and wronged; for such a gentle woman as Rebecca, though she could bear an injury done to herself, could not endure an ill done to those she loved. She had loved Hugh; she had loved Grace; and the squire, through his narrow-mindedness and morose, overbearing temper, had driven them both from the Dale to wander homeless and helpless.

Had it been in his power the squire might have served her so and timid Rebecca would not have raised her voice in entreaty, much less indignation; but her very gentleness and tenderness of heart lent her courage and spirit when those she loved were concerned.

She knew when she saw the squire's white face and heard the rap of his stick on the marble hall that the old friendship between Dale and Warren was over for all time, and in the midst of her paroxysm of anger, and for the whole night following, she regretted and mourned over it; but she had spoken nothing but the truth and would not unsay it.

Her courage did not desert her even after the squire, who had been the indirect cause of it, had gone. She started two of the grooms off to search for the missing, Grace, and sent the butler, up to London to hunt there, charging him to spare no expense or trouble in his endeavor to recover the poor girl.

Then Rebecca sat down to mourn for Hugh, Grace, and the old friendship of the Dale.

She was a very good little woman, and maybe our readers will have learned to like her by this time; but they will not wonder that in that dark hour she wished herself dead.

All the wealth of the Warren could not give her Hugh, Grace, or the squire's friendship, and she was miserable.

The days passed and stray rumors reached her that the squire was ill; but she did not think him any worse than usual. She never remembered him without periodical attacks of the gout, and thought this was nothing more than an ordinary attack, intensified by his trouble about Grace.

The Most Beautiful Car in America

A New Development in Light Sixes

Before we began experimental work on our new six-cylinder motor three years ago, we made a very thorough investigation of the light six field.

We found out just what qualities car owners desired in the power plants of their motor cars and then we designed an engine to meet these requirements.

The wisdom of our method is attested by the unanimous approval given our five-passenger "Glenbrook" model. With its first appearance, it immediately won the enthusiastic support of motorists.

And, by its dependable and economical performance, it has so clearly demonstrated its high character as an investment value that our production schedule is already proving unequal to the demand.

The "Glenbrook" is a truly remarkable development in five-passenger cars. Won't you arrange for a demonstration while our dealer is in position to meet your requirements as to delivery?

Military Supporting Police.

60,000 Troops in Ireland -- British Warsnips Bombard Turkish Positions--Poles Claim to Have Made Gains over Bolsheviks -- Fifteen Extra Days Allowed Ottoman Government-- Bolsheviks Suffer Defeat by Japs.

60,000 TROOPS IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, June 3. Although information regarding the number of troops in Ireland is refused by the authorities, careful estimates place the present number at more than sixty thousand, which is being increased daily. Troops come from all parts of England and latterly the Government has evidenced a desire to send seasoned men instead of raw recruits. It is declared the purpose of these military preparations is to preserve order and protect police, and the chief quality cultivated is mobility. The idea is that police barracks should be kept in immediate touch with military support.

POLES ALSO CLAIM SUCCESS.

WARSAW, June 3. The Poles according to an official statement issued to-day, are continuing their successful attacks and have occupied Giubokol, sixty-five miles east of Cventatny, and Dokohitcha, fifteen miles south of Giubokol, taking many prisoners, with guns and booty. The Bolsheviks to cover their retreat attacked in strength in several places trying to cross middle Beresina. They were repulsed however, the statement says.

BRITISH WARSHIPS FIRE ON TURKS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 6. British warships opened fire on the Nationalist position near Touzia, on the Sea of Marmora, forty miles west of Ismid late Friday night. Constantinople was aroused by the heavy firing of guns of the warships. The Nationalists had approached close to the British entrenchments along the gulf of Ismid where many British units are stationed to protect troops guarding railway terminals opposite Constantinople. Many American and Greek refugees have entered Ismid after escaping from the Nationalists.

LLOYD GEORGE AND RAILWAYMEN.

LONDON, June 3. The text of Premier Lloyd George's conversation with the national union of railwaymen leaders Thursday with regard to the railwaymen's refusal to handle munitions was made public Saturday afternoon. It shows that the Premier characterized the move as "one calculated to influence political decisions, not by ordinary machinery of state, but by bringing pressure to bear through a threat of disorganizing industries of this country, to effect changes which up to the present the electorate of this country have not sanctioned." The Premier added "that is a serious issue, I should regard it as a complete abdication of Government if I were in the least to countenance this demand."

WILSON USES VETO.

WASHINGTON, June 5. President Wilson last night vetoed the bill to establish the budget system of submitting estimates of Government Departments. The President said that under the bill Congress would have authority to remove the Comptroller General from office and this authority should be reserved to the Executive Department. The President said he returned the measure without his approval "with the great est regret" because he was in entire sympathy with its objects. He added that he returned it at the "earliest possible moment with the hope that Congress may find time before adjournment to remedy this defect."

SIX NEW BUBONIC PLAGUE CASES

VERA CRUZ, June 5. Six new cases of Bubonic Plague were discovered in this city yesterday and one of the victims died during the day. In addition five suspicious cases are under observation.

POTATO PROFITEER FINED.

NEW YORK, June 5. A fine of one thousand dollars for making "an unjust, unreasonable and unlawful profit" of two thousand dollars on potatoes was imposed yesterday on the New York Products Co., by Federal Judge Hand.

BOLSHEVIKI SUCCESS.

LONDON, June 6. The Bolsheviks have inflicted severe losses on the Poles in an attack south of Bialatsekiev, fifty miles south west of Kiev, according to an official statement issued by the Moscow government Friday.

TURKS GIVEN DELAY OF FIFTEEN DAYS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 6. The Government has received a note from the Allies granting the Turks a delay of fifteen days in which to present their observations on the peace terms. Turkey has asked an extension until July 11 in which to submit its answer.

EXPLOSIVES EXPLODE.

LONDON, June 3. Fourteen persons were killed, several others were injured and many buildings destroyed by an explosion of eight carloads of explosive in a suburban station of Turin last night, according to a Rome despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. A despatch to the Central News says that the explosion occurred in For Pampula, at Mount Cenis, northwest of Turin. Besides the fourteen persons killed, one hundred were injured, the despatch adds.

JAPS DEFEAT BOLSHEVIKS.

HONOLULU, June 5. Nikolaevsk has been captured by the Japanese, the military and naval forces co-operating in a short decisive battle in which the Bolshevik were either driven out or captured, according to a Tokio cable to the Nippon Jiji, a Japanese language newspaper here quoting War Department advice.

To-Day's Messages.

AFTER THE REPUBLICANS.

CHICAGO, June 5. Eamon de Valera, President of the Irish Republic, arrived in Chicago from New York, and announced that he would attempt to obtain a plank in the Republican platform in favor of the recognition by the United States of the Irish Republic.

STIRRING UP TROUBLE.

LONDON, June 5. Encounters between German and French soldiers at Gletwitz, Silesia, which resulted in a number of persons on both sides being injured, are reported in a wireless despatch from Berlin received here last night, which credited such reports to the German press.

ARGENTINE TAXES WHEAT.

BUENOS AIRES, June 5. The customs houses in all Argentine ports have received orders from the Government to suspend the exportations of wheat, pending the enactment of a proposed wheat export duty law, which is awaiting the approval of the Senate.

CHINA PROTESTS.

PEKIN, June 5. China has sent a message to Great Britain in which a protest is made against the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance without China being consulted.

LABOR WILL SUPPORT IRELAND.

MONTREAL, June 5. In reply to a question put to him by a newspaper interviewer here this morning, Matthew Wall, Vice-President of the American Federation of Labor, states that the convention which opens here on Monday, will go on record as unanimously supporting Ireland's fight for Home Rule. Mr. Wall said the Federation would approve the demands of the Irish to govern themselves, according to their own ideas, aspirations and natural requirements, and that a resolution to that effect will be brought up in accordance with the basic principles of organized labor and the true spirit of democracy. Mr. Wall further stated that there is a possibility of the consideration of a further resolution demanding that troops be withdrawn from Ireland.

U. S. GRAIN FOR SWISS.

BERNE, June 5. Arrangements have been completed for a supply of grain from the United States. This supply, it is believed here, will assure the provisioning of Switzerland this year, no matter how the Swiss harvest results.

NEW BUDGET BILL.

WASHINGTON, June 5. After it had been amended to meet President Wilson's objections, a bill to establish a national budget system on July 1, was re-passed to-day by the House and sent to the Senate.

THE REAL TEST COMING.

LONDON, June 6. The first real test of the League of Nations as a practical working body, will be made when the Council meets in London on June 14th, to deal with the case of Persia versus the Bolsheviks. The greatest importance is attached to this case by supporters of the League, partly because it has unusual complications. One of these is that a section of the British press holds that the recent British-Persian agreements amount to a British protectorate, and Persia thus has the right to look to Great Britain to defend her from attacks. Another is that the Bolsheviks may reject any communications from the League. Otherwise the issue is a perfectly straightforward one, the League could not refuse to take it up if it wished. Prince Firouz Khan, Persian Foreign Minister, made a formal appeal to the League invoking article eleven. He recited circumstances of the bombardment and landing at Enzeli and placed the interests of the Persians in the hands of the League, asking it to take necessary measures to deal with the situation. The result probably will be a correspondence between the League and the Bolsheviks.

If the Bolshevik leaders decline to have dealings on the subject, the position of the League as the protector of small nations will be placed on trial.

SUGAR FOR U.S. FROM U.K.

LONDON, June 5. The London Times reports that large consignments of sugar are being shipped from Great Britain to the United States. Some of these shipments, it says, have recently arrived from the West Indies.

PEACE TREATY NO GOOD.

The Treaty of Peace, about to be signed, will not bring eternal peace but will sow discord and the seeds of fresh conflict among peoples, said president Rakossy of the National Assembly in addressing that body yesterday. The Assembly voted an adjournment for a day as a sign of mourning.

SHOWING THEIR TEETH.

BERLIN, June 5. Trouble is brewing in connection with the taking of German airships by the Entente as provided for in the Peace Treaty, according to the Friedrichshafen correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger. The correspondent states that the staffs of zeppelin works refuse to prepare airships for surrender to the Entente, unless guaranteed that two big passenger airships shall be left, and that no destruction of workshops or their installations is contemplated.

ONLY IN ATHENS.

ATHENS, June 6. Martial law, which was proclaimed on Tuesday, thus far has only been applied to this city. No censorship has been imposed.

NO CHANGE ANTICIPATED.

LONDON, June 5. Rumors, which have been circulating, that King Alexander of Greece contemplates visiting his father, former King Constantine, and that it is his intention to abdicate, are denied by the Greek Minister at London. He declares that no change in the present status of Greece or of King Alexander is yet looked for.

Supreme Court.

In Chambers Before the Chief Justice. In the matter of the Petition of Otto O. Osmond of Moriston's Harbor, accountant, alleging that the estate of Joseph B. Osmond, late of Moriston's Harbor, deceased, is and that it be declared insolvent.

Otto Osmond, sworn and examined by Mr. Foots. Mr. Hunt for T. & M. Winter cross-examined the witness. It is ordered that the estate be declared insolvent and that Mr. Charles Ball be appointed trustee, and that costs of application be allowed.

Before Mr. Justice Johnson. In the matter between W. F. Coaker, the Evening Herald, Daily News and Telegram. Mr. Howley for the defence announced that a settlement had been made out of court.

Richard Cram vs. Harry J. Bell. Howley, K.C., informed the court that a settlement had been made out of court.

Youthful Vandalism.

This morning in court Inspector General Hutchings took occasion to make some remarks on the disorderly conduct which is all too prevalent in the city. He said that there was lately growing up a general lack of restraint on the part of young boys, and that if both school teachers and parents would spend more time inculcating the duties of citizenship and patriotism in the children there would not be so much destruction of public property. "Complaints of damage to fences, doors, trees, and in fact everything, are continually coming into me," he said. "I have not sufficient men in the force to keep order in the city. In one of the worst sections—that is along Harvey Road—I have put a special policeman to keep children, going to and from school, from destroying property on the way." Continuing, the I. G. said: "If I do not get the help of school teachers and parents in this matter it is almost impossible for me to keep order and protect property."

He Wants to Pass the Good News On, States Armstrong

Says it is Wonderful the Way Tanlac Has Improved His Wife's Health.

"The wonderful improvement in my wife's general health is entirely due to Tanlac, and I am glad of the chance to tell folks what a splendid medicine we have proved it to be," declared William Armstrong, of 98 Winter St., St. John, N.B., recently. "No one will ever know what she has suffered during the past few years on account of indigestion and gastritis. Rich or heavy foods acted like poison on her stomach and she had to be very careful in her diet. But even so the gas would form and bloat her up until she would almost choke and sometimes she would faintly groan with agony on account of the pains which she had after eating. She had frequent bilious attacks that left her so weak that she could hardly stand, and at one time she was so bad that we had to send her to the hospital. They patched her up for a bit but it wasn't long before she was just as bad as ever."

"When I saw by the papers that so many people were being helped by Tanlac, I got some for my wife, for I reasoned that if it didn't do her much good, it couldn't do her any harm. She often remarks now what a good thing it was she tried Tanlac, and after the way it has helped her, we have absolute faith in it. She now has a good appetite and can eat anything without fear of any stomach trouble afterwards. She is never bothered with biliousness, and indeed feels better in every way. She is more grateful than I can say for all the good Tanlac has done her, and we never miss an opportunity of passing on the good news of what a splendid medicine it is."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors; by Reg. Sullivan, Pouch Cove; Sound Island Store, Sound Island; Dennis Flynn, Avondale; J. J. O'Brien, Cape Broyle.—adv

Mayor Gosling Hopes for the Best.

BUT THE DUST NUISANCE IS STILL WITH US.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—I know that city editors are often hard up for a subject, and that periodically they feel it incumbent upon them to castigate the Municipal Council for imagined sins of omission or commission; when they do so, however, I think it as well to choose a topic which displays a little more knowledge and observation than your editorial on the Dust Nuisance.

I would first call to your notice that since May 3rd or 4th, when heavy rain fell, there have been only three days of partial showers. Contrast our present experience with past years when we are generally swamped with rain and wet fog. It has been more like July than May weather. It would have had oil and motor sprinklers and sprinkling carts all standing ready to start out the moment the sun shone, but that means money and the city revenue does not allow us to expect that everything is going to be just perfect. Last year the Reid sprinkler was so unsatisfactory and the motor sprinkler so very satisfactory that we determined to stop the former and order another motor. We also calculated that by ciling an increased number of streets, these two sprinklers could take care of the whole town. Three hundred barrels of oil were ordered three months ago and the motor sprinkler early in May. But it is one thing to order and another thing to receive. The first shipment of oil has just arrived, and the sprinkler we expect by the next Rosalind.

In nine years out of ten the middle of June would be the earliest that dust preventative would be required, but unfortunately this seems to be the tenth year. So far as we can see, however, it will be the last year that dust will be much of a nuisance in St. John's. I confidently believe that the problem has been solved. As a matter of fact the plan adopted was decided on some years ago, and only lack of funds prevented its being carried out. Experience has taught me that dust is more troublesome when the roads first dry up than at a later period of the year because, I imagine, there is then the powdered accumulations of the winter to be contend with, which it takes some time to sweep up and remove.

Very few people are aware that one half Water Street is swept and flushed alternately every morning, but I hope the effect has been observed—that there is very little dust on Water Street. When the second Motor arrives the whole of Water Street will be thoroughly flushed every morning, and I believe it will not then require watering for the rest of the day. You make the statement that Dust has never been so bad as it has been this year. I am afraid your memory is short of your experience is slight. In spite of the extraordinary season, and although the carrying out of the plans made by the Council has been delayed through no fault of theirs, I am of opinion that conditions are much better than they were formerly when we were dependent upon horse drawn Sprinkling Carts.

Instead of such unnecessary and superfluous criticism why not try to help things along? Why not preach observation of the City's laws? Why not teach people that they cannot expect much from our ridiculously low rates of taxation? Why not urge them to pay their small taxes as soon as they are due instead of being hauled before the Courts? Why not defend the City's rights and Revenues when they are assailed?

There is just one other matter. For the past two or three years, whenever anyone has had some fancied grievance against me or the Council, they make some sneering allusion to Child Welfare. It would appear that I do commit an offence in trying to do anything to better conditions in St. John's. You write of germ laden dust and claim that St. John's is worse than it ever was in this respect. A few days ago you published the vital statistics for May but you do not appear to have noticed that the death rate was the lowest on record. One can only come to the conclusion, therefore, either that Dust is wholesome, or that the work of the Community Nurses has been of some value.

HOW'S YOUR HABIT ACCOUNT?

RUTH CAMERON

It has long been the custom to say that the only time to form good habits is when you are a child. I don't believe it, and I think it is a bad thing to say. It may scare the child into good habits (though I doubt it) but it certainly is bad for us as we grow older to get the idea that we have passed the age when we can form good habits.

In the past year I have two good habits to my credit, and I count them as much on the credit side of my accounts as the money I put in the bank.

Just a Hair's Breadth Balance.

You can form good habits any time you want to and they are not half so hard to form as the doleful proverb-makers try to make us think. The first necessity is that you shall want them hard enough, the second is that you shall make some initial effort to get started. There's really just a hair's breadth balance between forming a good habit and a bad one.

A business letter comes to your desk. You take it in your hand and start to place it in the file to be attended to in a few days. Just frank and write the letter that minute. It won't take any more time and it will use up less effort than if you put it off and answer it later, because it won't be subconsciously weighing on your mind. And once you get started in this direction, you will find it's just as easy to go in that direction as the other.

As Easy to Do as to Forget.

Or take the habit of drinking enough water—something so many of us don't do. Once you get the habit of drinking a glass of water at some special time in the day—before breakfast, for instance—it's almost as easy to drink it as it was to forget to drink it before.

The habit of disorder causes as much discomfort and loss of time as any habit in the world. We fall into it because it is so much bother to be orderly. But once you get started in the habit of order, it isn't much bother after all. It just means that as you undress, you hang the things in the closet or place them in bureau drawers where they belong instead of piling them about the room. Once your mind gets accustomed to doing this, you do it automatically and it isn't half the bother it looks to you when you have the opposite habit. Don't Believe the Doleful Proverb-Makers.

We have felt too long that good habits and bad habits are a million miles apart. When we realize how little positive effort it takes to start a good habit, and what helps good habits are when you get them started, it becomes a fascinating game to see how many good habits, both mental and physical, one can add to one's habit account each year.

THE DESERT.

THE DESERT

I crossed the desert in a car that Mr. Pullman made; it rolled without a jolt or jar, in bright green plush arrayed. And when I wished to sleep at night, and rest my drowsy head, there came a porter, most polite, who tucked me into bed.

And to the dining car I went three times a day, at least; beneath large trays the waiters bent, and brought a gorgeous feast. The train was full of dames and men who grumbled all the time; they'd never come out there again—the desert was a crime. It hurt their eyes to view the sand, and watch the hills of stone; and everything their anger fanned, and they put up a groan. And I recalled the pioneers who blazed the path that way, and sternly whacked their mules and steers through burning sand all day. They only halted in their stride across that waste accurst, to plant some fellow who had died of heartbreak or of thirst. I wished those mighty men of old could board that gorgeous train, and there some moving discourse hold, of tragedy and pain; for that might shame the stalfied men, and fat, enameled dames, who sighed and swore and sighed again, and called the desert names.

Just Folks

WONDERIN'.

I wonder if the fun to-day is like the fun we knew When we were racin' bare of foot through fields all wet with dew; I wonder if the kids to-day know all the apple trees The way we knew them long ago, an' if the summer breeze Seems just as sweet to them out there as once it seemed to be. In those old days of happiness now lost to you an' me.

I watch 'em from the railroad cars, an' see 'em race about, I know the games they're playin', an' I think I hear 'em shout, I see 'em fishin' in the creeks an' ponds, an' wonder, too, If they are catchin' beauties there the way we used to do. Oh, I had youth like that, think I, like that I used to play. I wonder if they're havin' all the fun we had, to-day.

Time brings its changes, but I feel that youth remains the same, Age leaves its treasured joys behind for younger hearts to claim, An' youngsters everywhere to-day are racin' high an' low until it is too late.

Many and very complicated matters are to be adjusted in the Rhineland of Germany. In the work of readjusting Great Britain is represented by Sir Harold Stuart as High Commissioner. He has had long experience in the administrative affairs, especially in India, all of which should be useful now in dealing with complicated problems that will arise in carrying out the terms of the peace treaty. Sir Harold Stuart was born at York on July 29, 1860. His high education was received at King's College, Cambridge. Soon after graduating he entered the Indian Civil Service and went out to Madras, where he filled many administrative positions, and also served as Under Secretary to the Government and later as Secretary under Lord Amphil, and as private secretary to Sir Arthur Havelock. He directed the taking of the census of 1891, and wrote the report.

The Bay-de-Verde Election.

The promptitude of the Government in opening the District of Bay-de-Verde so quickly following the decision of the Supreme Court in declaring the election of W. H. Cave null and void, would be commendable were it not inspired by the terror of desperation, a terror which has descended upon them so suddenly that their boasted courage is merely a replica of their fear. It is true that they have issued the writ for an election, but there is not any particular meed of praise to be awarded them for that, under the circumstances. Nor is there any amount of credit due them for an action that is entirely of their own doing, and all the arrangements for which are in their own hands. Not that any person will quibble over the proclamation or complain of the short notice given, because there is a fair field and no favors—excepting such as the Government may have bestowed upon their own candidate—to either side.

Contrary to the expectations of the administration manipulators, the Opposition welcomes the opportunity thus afforded of fighting the Government on a battlefield of its own selection, and in a district which, however irregularly, returned two men to their ranks last November. Had the election been conducted properly, Bay-de-Verde would have given one man to either side, thus winning a diplomatically political advantage. But irregularities crept in, the result of which has brought about the near contest, the date for which has been set for June 24th. Thus Bay-de-Verde voters have a chance to express their opinion on the manner and method of the Liberal-Reform Party control since their assumption of office last fall, and in the expression of that opinion, through the ballots, to say whether they approve or disapprove. The electorate have it in their power to return to their original status of having two men in the Government, or they can, by defeating Mr. Cave, have representation in the House on either side.

With the latter object in view, the unanimous choice of the Opposition in the selection of a candidate to oppose Mr. Cave, who it will be remembered was counted out by the Supreme Court a few days ago, has fallen upon Mr. John C. Puddester, Business Manager of the Daily News, and that gentleman, having accepted the nomination, will enter the fight with high hope of winning a victory for his party. The campaign will be opened within a few hours after this announcement, in the very central stronghold of the Government nominee, and Mr. Puddester will be assisted by all the forces at the command of the Liberal Party, and the bye-election will be fought consistently and conscientiously and with all the power in the possession of those opposed to the Liberal-Reform Party, led by

Hon. R. A. Squires. The record of this party, since taking charge of the Government, is so well known that it would be supererogatory to comment upon it at this juncture. Its sins of omission and commission, particularly the latter, have been glaring. The legislation passed by its members has been more calculated to retard than to advance the prosperity of Newfoundland. The tide of emigration has been never so strong as under the Squires-Coaker Government, and daily the principal settlements are being denuded of their young manhood, obliged by the passing of disastrous statutory measures, to leave their native homes and seek for that employment abroad which is denied them in Newfoundland. All these, with others, will be discussed in their turn, but it will be well for the voters of Bay-de-Verde to bear in mind the iniquitous Fish Export Regulations, which have caused the price of fish to slump; the edict of the Food Control Board, by the act of whom Sugar was advanced from TWENTY-TWO to THIRTY CENTS a pound at one jump; the incompetence and incapability of the Squires-Coaker Government to deal with the Salt situation, and their numerous other failures which have acted as a blight upon the prospects of the Dominion. So much has the incompetence of the leader and his following been demonstrated, that we do not venture beyond the frontiers of political rumor when we say that the real leader of the Government, Hon. W. F. Coaker, is so amazed over the utter incapability of the men of the Squires wing with whom he and his Union men are associated, that he will not render the assistance of his influence in Bay-de-Verde district, thus leaving Messrs. Squires and Cave to the fate awaiting them at the hands of the electors of that important section.

The S. S. Escasoni Episode.

It will be remembered that in September last we published a statement with regard to the question of the guaranteeing by the Government of this Colony of the Roumanian Bonds given to certain fish exporters here in payment for a cargo of fish shipped in 1918 per S.S. Escasoni. At the time it was stated that Mr. W. F. Coaker was interested in this cargo; and that he had tried to obtain a guarantee from the Newfoundland Government of the Roumanian Bonds. The statement was made in all good faith, and the parties responsible for same were misled by the fact that Mr. Coaker shipped fish on the Escasoni. On subsequent investigation we now find that although Mr. Coaker shipped fish on the Escasoni at that time, the fish so shipped by him was not owned by him but had already been sold to parties in Greece and had been paid for before it was shipped. No part of the fish sold to Roumania belonged to Mr. Coaker or to any of the F.P.U. Corporations, and therefore he or they had not received, and were not entitled to any Roumanian Bonds. This, of course, disposes of the suggestion that Mr. Coaker, or any Company with which he is connected, had wanted or had any personal interest in the guarantee of the Roumanian Bonds; and we gladly publish this correction in justice to Mr. Coaker.

1,000,000 Feet of Lumber Destroyed by Forest Fire.

Springdale, N.D.B., Wiped Out, Rumor Says.
Springdale, N.D.B., has been wiped out by fire and Clarke's Mill, with 1,000,000 feet of lumber, has been destroyed by forest fire, a rumor declares. Several small fires have been burning between Whitbourne and Clarendville during the past few days. However, thanks to the efforts of firefighters, most of them have been put out.

"Play the Game."

The arguments used in the City Council protest to the Government against the proposed motor tax legislation, will not stand investigation. It is claimed the Legislature is now ready to hand over half the motor taxes which the City has been receiving; this is misleading and absolutely incorrect. No part of what the City has been receiving is asked for, as the City will receive more in motor taxes this year than ever before; it is only the increase in taxes the Motor Association is asking for. If motorists are willing to place an extra tax on themselves for road improvement, surely they should be allowed this increase, without interference, especially when there is no cause of reason to interfere. The protest says "If motor car taxes (amounting to $5,300.00) are to be taken from the city, either the expenditures upon streets must be reduced, or the people of St. John's must tax themselves in some other way, to make up this amount."

This statement is open to much criticism, as Mayor Gosling, when writing it, knew the Council was to receive $700.00 more this year than last, as he was informed by the Committee of the House of the bill that the City would receive $8,000.00 this year. In the face of this, I would like to ask every right thinking person interested, is it fair for him to write such a protest to the City Council could not have been advised by Mayor Gosling that the City was to receive $700.00 more in motor taxes this year than last year that they read it is impossible to think that men of the calibre of Councillors Morris, Ayre, Vinnicombe and Mulally would vote for such a protest, as it is misleading and unfair.

The protest also says "It seems hardly possible that the Legislature can contemplate depriving the City of this revenue in order that motorists may have a pleasanter trip through the country." This is "not playing the game" and is written for the purpose of prejudicing parties against motorists and the bill. How could any one write such a protest regarding the city is not being deprived of one single cent. The whole protest is a tissue of misrepresentations, and the author of it must think Newfoundland Legislators "too great to burp" the he imagines he can "get past" the keen sharp witted members composing the House with such unfounded representations. Since writing about this matter Mayor Gosling's letter in this morning's news, in which he acknowledges being present when the Government Resolutions were being discussed, and at Premier Squires' suggestion it was agreed to allow the City $8,000.00. I would like Mayor Gosling to explain why he kept this fact of his protest, and why he claims the City is being robbed? Regarding the $4,000.00 originally in the resolutions I will give Mayor Gosling credit for having the amount raised from $4,000.00 to $8,000.00. The reason for $4,000.00 being raised is that the Motor Association executive considered with the machinery we propose importing the City would receive better value from $4,000.00 than they are now getting. $5,300.00—the amount collected last year.

Mayor Gosling says "He is pleased I mentioned LeMarchant Road, as it is an excellent example of the same age done by Motor Cars." It is not motor cars which put LeMarchant Road in the condition it has been in the past two years; IT IS NOTHING OTHER THAN NATURE. If motor cars made the ditches as exists between Patrick and Pleasant Streets on LeMarchant Road, why is not all Topsall Road ditched in the same manner? Motor cars run on every other street in the City, and on every road outside the City, but no such piece of road is found elsewhere as LeMarchant Road. Why should not roads be the same as LeMarchant Road if motor cars are to blame? Mr. Gosling admits this road was so bad four years ago that it would take $10,000.00 to repair it, and it has not been touched since. We certainly have a progressive Council.

English Corrupt Practices Act

APPLICABLE TO THIS COUNTRY, SAY PROMINENT COUNSELLORS.

St. John, Nfld., May 31st, 1920.
Sir Michael P. Cashin, K.B.E., City.

Dear Sir—Referring to the question of the applicability of Section 4 of sub-Section 41 of the English Corrupt and Illegal Practices Act 1883 of Newfoundland, we have received by last English mail the written opinion of English Counsel and we herewith enclose same.

Our people in London advised us that they were unable to get an opinion from Sir John Simon, as that gentleman was out of town, but the enclosed opinion is the joint opinion of Mr. Douglas Hogg, K.C., and Mr. Geoffrey Lawrence, K.C. and is a prominent King's Counsel with a large practice and Mr. Lawrence is one of the best known members of the outer Bar.

You will note that the enclosed opinion confirms that which we have already given you, namely, that the parties to the making of an agreement of the character referred to in said sub-section 4, section 41 of the English Act are, under the law of this Colony, guilty of a misdemeanour and liable, on conviction, to imprisonment for a period of one year and to a fine.

Yours very truly,
HOWLEY & FOX.

Re Newfoundland Statute Election Act 1918. Joint Opinion.

We are of opinion that S 41 (4) of the English Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act 1883 (46 and 47 Vic. C. 51) is part of the law of Newfoundland in so far as it makes certain agreements unlawful and provides a certain penalty for making them.

Subsection 4 of Section 41 is part of the law of England as to crimes and offences, the case for which it provides does not appear to us to be provided for by local enactment in Newfoundland, and it appears to us that it can be applied in Newfoundland.

It follows that it is made part of the law of the Colony by S. 1 of Ch. 63 of the Consolidated Statutes of Newfoundland 1892. The only Section Act (3 Geo. V. C. 21) which might be said to be a provision of local enactment on the subject is S. 186. This section does not in our opinion provide for the case provided for by S. 41 (4) of the English Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act of 1883. It is true that it provides that an Election Petition may be withdrawn by leave of the Court on application of the Petitioners subject to such terms as the Court may direct but this does not, we think, mean that the Court could allow the withdrawal of a petition in relation to which an agreement obnoxious to S. 41 (4) of the Act of 1883 has been made. The section of the English Statute can be read and stand side by side with section 186 of the Newfoundland Statute without any inconsistency. It may be that the Court in Newfoundland in the exercise of its discretion under S. 186 would not insist upon all the provisions of S. 41 of the English Act of 1883 as to affidavits (though we gather from the judgment of 23rd March, 1920, a newspaper report of which is before us that the Court in Newfoundland is disposed to follow the English practice as closely as possible). In such case it would, of course, not be a misdemeanour to omit mention of a lawful agreement in whatever affidavits were required.

It is arguable that apart altogether from S. 1 of Ch. 63 of the Newfoundland Consolidated Statutes Act incorporates S. 41 (4) of the Act of 1883 by providing that the principles respecting the trial of controverted elections in England shall apply and we think that this section supports the view which we take.

We think, however, that Section 1

The brethren of the Masonic Order had their annual church service in aid of the Tasker Educational Fund in Gower St. Church yesterday afternoon, Rev. D. B. Hemmeon, B.A., preaching on "Education." His text was "Man doth not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord." He emphasized the necessity of a broadening of our views of what constitutes true education. There was something in it more than a means of livelihood. There was something more than merely the physical or the aesthetic. There was the moral; and man should be educated so as to bring him in harmony with his God. Brother F. Cornick rendered a solo, while a strong male chorus, with Bro. F. J. King at the organ, greatly enhanced the proceedings. Upon return to the Temple the usual votes of thanks were accorded the preacher, church officials, etc.

The Demand Growing.

The number of signatures to the petition for modifying the Prohibition Act is steadily increasing. Over 300 petitions have been received on which appear the signatures of 13,157 electors. The leading outport districts in order, according to the number of petitions are Trinity, Twillingate, Placentia, Bonavista and St. George's.

Important!

There are many good reasons why you should "Klean Up" your house; here are a few:—

Paint preserves wood from decay. A painted house will outlast an unpainted house. Buy "Klean Up" Paint.

People are judged by the appearance of the house they live in; a shabby looking house is a reflection on the people who reside therein.

A house which is painted every 4 or 5 years expresses in a forceful manner the cleanliness and character of its occupants.

Buy enough "Klean Up" Paint now to improve the appearance of your house. Get your neighbors interested in the "Klean-Up" campaign.

That Abattoir.

OPEN LETTER FROM THE EAST END PEOPLE.

To the Municipal Council.
Your Honour and Gentlemen.—
From the account of the proceedings at your last meeting we learn that the subject of the proposed erection of an "Abattoir" in the East End of the City was again discussed, and the matter deferred until a Report was received from the Medical Health Officer.

We beg to remind you that some time ago we laid before you a petition, largely signed and voicing the opinion of all the residents and property owners in the East End, strongly protesting against the erection of an "Abattoir" or "Slaughter House" on the proposed site on Water Street, immediately west of the Standard Manufacturing Company, or anywhere within the city limits.

Our burden of smoke and smells and dust is already very heavy, and we pray that you will not add to it by planting in our midst a Slaughter House, for call it an Abattoir or by any other name, it is a slaughter house pure and simple, where all the killing of animals for food purposes will be carried out, with the attendant sickening odours, myriads of flies and swarms of rats, whilst the idea of having a slaughter house in our midst is to us very objectionable.

The promoters of the Abattoir scheme have, no doubt, presented for your approval plans and specifications which look and read all right, but things do not always turn out according to plan, and please remember, Gentlemen, that if you permit this building, costing a large sum of erected, no matter how great a nuisance it proves to be, it cannot be removed and we will have no redress.

You are probably aware that of late we have been endeavouring to make this end of the city a better place to live in than formerly. Some of the old unsightly buildings have been torn down, and in their stead we have erected a new Church and laid out the grounds around it; also a new School and Hall that compare favourably with any buildings of the kind in the city, and we had visions of our children reaping the benefit in years to come, but our time and money will have been expended for naught if you permit abattoirs and such like to be erected in our midst.

With miles of land lying idle outside, we fail to understand why this building must be built within the city limits; no other slaughter house is allowed there, and we anticipate that the Medical Health Officer will remind you of this fact.

As residents and taxpayers of the East End of the city, we have read our petition before you, and have placed ourselves on record as being strongly opposed to the building of any slaughter house within the city limits. We are desirous of seeing conditions bettered, and submit that the building of the abattoir on the proposed site would be a step in the wrong direction.

EAST END PEOPLE.

Time and Talents.

In accordance with the decision made at the last meeting held at Government House on May 21st, the Secretary of Time and Talents will be glad to receive all contributions to the "god-child's" summer outfit by the end of the second week in June, viz., next Saturday, June 12th at the very latest.

Hon. Sec.

Bishop's Court.

Valuable Property Destroyed.

On Saturday the dwelling house, stable and fox farm of Mr. John Guiney, Freshwater, Ferryland district, near Cappahayden, were totally destroyed by a forest fire raging at the time, and being some little distance from that settlement, the burnt premises were cut off by the flames and no assistance could be rendered by the nearest neighbor. The flames also threatened Cappahayden and people there did not know the moment that it would be swept, but luckily a change of wind averted what would otherwise have been a tragedy. The loss to the Guiney family is very severe as we understand that no insurance was carried on the property. No other particulars are available at the time of writing, but it is said that almost all the live stock about the farm was destroyed. Mr. Guiney and his family have the sympathy of all the residents of the section.

Forest Fires.

Wednesday last dense smoke resulted from a fire in the woods to the west, the wind from that direction blowing the mass to us. The fire was the westward of Shearstown, and the smoke was so great that a considerable haze must have been on and the area burnt over extensive. The area must have been a fire made by some one in the woods for some purpose. It is not unlikely that trouble made a fire and by neglect allowed it to run. The law about making a fire in the woods is very stringent, but there is evidence that conditions are more observed in the woods than in the past years as the smoke seen in the burnt places year after year. There is quite a lot of green woods to the westward of Shearstown south of the old railway line and east of the track, woods that is valuable to the people supplying them with timber for the many purposes for which timber is required.

WANTED!
A VEST MAKER.
Apply at once to Canadian Clothing
Company,
P. J. Shea Building,
Water Street.
may10,tf

If there are any fire-wardens in this or in Port de Grave District they should do something in the way of protecting the small areas of woods that is left. The railway, years ago, was responsible for a great part of the fires which then swept over the land contiguous to the line, but the present fire cannot be charged up to that cause. There is gross carelessness shown by men making fires in our woods, carelessness that causes damage which in time will leave nothing but bleached rocks to mark the tracts where good timber grew. The law respecting the making of fires in the woods should be published to show how and where fires can be made.—Mr. Grace Standard.

Lipton's Heart Set on Winning America's Cup.

New York, May 29.—Having already spent a vast fortune in three unsuccessful attempts to capture that elusive bauble, the America's Cup, Sir Thomas Lipton is now engaged in the fourth and most expensive venture of them all. The big outlay of all three past attempts pales into insignificance in comparison with the amount the Irish yachtsman is spending this year. A conservative estimate of the Baronet's total outlay this season runs well over $1,000,000. The cost of yacht racing has soared to fabulous figures, but the Irish yachtsman, now well along in years, counts the cost but little if he can sail away with the coveted trophy.

A glance at the plan of campaign outlined by Sir Thomas and his executive yachting heads, Charles Nicholson, the designer, and Col Duncan Neill, will quickly convey the idea of what large and unrestricted financial resources there must be at hand to carry on with. When all is ready for the race there will be a fleet here under the Lipton house flag of no less than five vessels. The upkeep of this flotilla at the present price of butter and eggs would stun the most case-hardened housekeeper.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Mr. William (Billie) Jones, arrived Tuesday night from the United States on a month's visit to friends.

Mr. John Sheppard, one of our freightmen, met with a very untoward accident one day this week. While lifting a package of freight from his dray, the parcel overbalanced and fell on his hand. Luckily it was not seriously hurt, but it is very inconvenient. It is hoped that the thumb will be O. K. again in short, and Mr. Sheppard be able to go about his duty with cheer-ho.

Thursday was observed by our townspeople as a general holiday, but there was no sport of a public nature. Many parties went countrywards trout-fishing, and some returned with fair catches, while others did not do as well as expected.

The tug D. P. Ingraham towed the River Queen into this port Thursday.

The F.P.U. and the Olive C. came off dock Thursday morning. Both sailed shortly after. In the afternoon the Willis C., Merrimac, and Tipperary were taken on dock. Tuesday the Cecil Jr., as well as the Acme arrived to Messrs. McRae & Sons, each coal laden. During the week the following schooners sailed into this port:—Louisa Gordon, Topaz, Agnes E. Downs, Hilda Maud, Sarah and Perfect.

On Tuesday Mr. John Trappell retired from the post of Gaoler and Keeper of the Court House, which he had held for upwards of thirty-five years, to the satisfaction of all concerned. Our townspeople wish him a long happy life of retirement.

On the same day Mr. George T. Gordon entered upon his duties as Gaoler and Keeper of the Court House, and we wish him success, and see in him a man capable of the position.

Miss Elsie Martin, daughter of Mr. Frank Martin, arrived from St. John's on Tuesday night, where she had been in hospital to undergo treatment for appendicitis. Miss Martin is now on the road to complete recovery, and will, no doubt, be able to be about again in a short time.

The French steam trawler Emmanuella came off dock Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris arrived in town on Thursday evening.
 CORRESPONDENT.

Capt. Kendrick and Bride Arrive.

Capt. Sid Kendrick arrived in the city a few days ago from St. Pierre, where he left his vessel the Alvin Thierault, after a passage from St. Malo, France. Capt. Kendrick was accompanied by his bride, she having made the trip across with him some time ago. Seventy-eight fishermen were brought out to St. Pierre on the vessel.

Work is a Pleasure When Health is Good

With lots of rich, red blood coursing through the arteries and veins to keep up nervous vigor and muscular strength, there is a joy in living and work becomes an actual pleasure.

If tired at times, healthful natural sleep soon restores the wasted energy and you are happy in being able to accomplish things—to do your work thoroughly and well.

It is only when the blood is thin, the system run down and the nerves starved and exhausted that work becomes irksome and you get down-hearted and discouraged. In this condition you do not rest and sleep well, get up tired in the mornings and dread the day's work ahead of you.

It is under these circumstances that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food can be of inestimable value to you.

By feeding to the blood the elements from which new blood is formed, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food builds up the run-down system in the most natural and rational way imaginable.

Through the blood stream new vigor and energy is instilled in the nervous system and the benefit is felt throughout the whole body.

The functions of the vital organs are resumed, digestion is improved, you sleep and rest naturally and regain gradually and certainly the vigor and energy of health.

Mainly About People.

Booth Tarkington used to write fearsome tales as a youngster. They generally began: "It was dusk and four horsemen were seen coming over the top of the hill." "Tark" was at Princeton planning to become an illustrator and cartoonist when he wrote "The Better Man," and this won for him a $15 prize and decided his career.

Manianne Brandt, one of the favorite stars at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, would have died of neglect and lack of nourishment in Vienna but for her New York friends. She lived to see the days when she received $1,000 a night and enjoyed every luxury changed to days of want by war. It was 20 years ago when she last sang in Gotham, and she is now 84 years of age.

Queen Victoria "Ena" of Spain is very proud of her reputation as "the best dressed queen in Europe." She delights to cover her face with hats, wraps and furs, because it permits her to be incognito at her own will. She bought $100,000 worth of furs of a London furrier. She has a fine figure and likes short dresses because they show her ankles and shapely legs.

So much poverty was in the childhood of Marie Ganz, who for years was one of the chosen lieutenants of Alexander Berkman, Radical and Red extremist, and who is now an opponent of his dogmas and doctrines, that it took the Ganz family 18 years to pay on the installment plan for a sewing machine.

Lieutenant General Sir W. P. Pulteney, who has been appointed by King George to the purely ornamental office of gentleman usher of the black rod, has a good war record. In his new position he has nothing much to do to get $5,000 a year and a free suite in the House of Lords. It is his duty to invite the Commons to the Lords to hear the King's Speech.

Mrs. Edward T. Stotesburg of Philadelphia, probably has a gem collection that puts those of many leading society women in the shade. On public occasions the Quaker City banker's wife has so scintillated that opera glasses of such ultra-aristocratic matrons as Mr. Ogden Mills and Mrs. Charles R. Alexander level their opera glasses at her. Her rope of pearls is worth a million. She has also innumerable tiaras and diamond chains that hang below the waist line.

Captain Joseph I. Kemp, the marine superintendent of the Fore River plant at Quincy, Mass., has a world record in having during his career, delivered to owners boats which cost $350,000,000. In 18 months he delivered to the United States government 49 destroyers. Among battleships he delivered were the Nevada, Oklahoma, Utah, New Mexico and Mississippi.

General Varerino Wewler, who was the Spanish commander in Cuba during the Cuban insurrection, to suppress which he was specially sent from Spain, is now living near the royal palace in Madrid and is in his 90th year. He is still chief of the general staff and despite his years, active in the performance of his duties. He pays no attention to either criticism or ridicule, although he has fought many duels. One of his sons is a senator, another a deputy, and a third a Jesuit priest.

Helen Montague, one of the chorus girls at a New York theatre, who is called by her companions "Monte," is the Hon. Helen Scott Montague, in whom is vested some of the most ancient and proudest titles in Burke's peerage. She is a tall, golden-haired, good-natured English girl and is the eldest daughter of Lord Montague of Beaulieu, England, and her mother is the second daughter of the Earl of Middlethian of the Scottish peerage. Her father is an eminent London journalist. She has been in America five years.

George J. Whelan, the head of the United Cigar Stores, was in the also-ran class when he selected 20 good looking fellows, dressed them as admirals and sent them about New York pushing a cigarette he had branded "Admiral." He pestered Francis B. Duke, the millionaire tobaccoist with these admirals, for wherever Mr. Duke went there would be an "admiral" hovering in the offing. Duke insisted upon knowing so clever an advertiser. Whelan and Duke have done big business since.

Hilda Conkling, a little 9-year-old girl who lives at Northampton, Mass., has written songs, that are considered good enough to publish. There is no instance of such really beautiful poetry being written by a child.

Lady Newborough, generally admired as one of the most beautiful peeresses in England, is the daughter of the late Colonel Henry M. Carr, U.S.A., of Louisville, Ky. She met her husband, the baron, while touring in Egypt. Another American much admired is the Hon. Mrs. Alfred Shaughnessy, a widow, the daughter of Judge J. C. Bradford, of the Supreme Court of Tennessee. She lost her English husband in the war.

The Harbour Main Election Petition.

Dr. W.E. Jones Unseated.

In re the Election Act, 1913, and the Election for the District of Harbour Main, held on November 3, 1919. Charles Hynes, Petitioner and William E. Jones, Respondent.

In this case the respondent is charged with having committed various corrupt and illegal practices, before, during and after the election, in the District of Harbour Main, held in November last, when he was elected a member of the House of Assembly for that constituency. The petition contains nearly every charge known to the law under the description of corrupt practices at elections, but the only offence, of which any evidence was given was that of bribery, by himself, by his agents or by other persons on his behalf. The other charges were not proceeded with at the trial. Counsel for the petitioner stating in his opening remarks, that he did not profess to prove them. The petitioner relied mainly upon the charges that the respondent paid James Whelan of Colliers, the sum of $22.00 to induce him to vote for him, and that during the election and between October 1st and November 3rd, polling day, public moneys to the amount of $13,000. 17 more or less were caused to be distributed by William Woodford, to voters of the district, for the purpose of inducing them to vote in favour of the respondent, William E. Jones. The election was held on November the 3rd. There were four candidates in the field, two representing each opposing party—one of which was supporting the government of the day, the other in opposition to it. Messrs. Woodford and Jones were the candidates of the Government party for Harbour Main. They associated in their canvass of the district as joint candidates. Mr. Woodford, who, at the time filled the office of Minister of Public Works and, had represented the district in the Legislature for a number of years before the elections, was a leader of the team, and the respondent, who was a candidate for the first time put himself largely in the hands of Mr. Woodford. They began their canvass about the 14th of October, the respondent having a few days before consented to contest the district with Mr. Woodford, and they conducted a joint canvass from that date until November the 3rd, which was polling day. The effect of their coalescing in this way was to make each the agent for the other for the purposes of the election, and to render each responsible for corrupt acts of the other. They embarked upon a joint venture, co-operating to make it successful, and the acts of each of them contributed to the ultimate result. If that result was tainted by the use of corrupt practices by either the election of both candidates was thereby made void the other must share the consequences, at least to the extent of their election being void unless either can show, in excuse, that the corrupt practices of his colleague or agent were committed without his knowledge or consent and were of such trifling nature or extent that the result of the election could not have been affected by them, but he may not remain passive, and claim to be excused on the ground that he took no part in acts in the benefit of which he shared. In the Norfolk case 1 O.M. & H. 240, Mr. Justice Blackburn says: "It appears in this case that the respondents stood jointly. They have chosen to, what we commonly call coalesce. They united in a canvass, and, in fact, have made each an agent for the other, and they have chosen to stand or fall together. Consequently if any corrupt act is shown to have been done by an agent appointed by one member it will affect both. Such are the consequences of a coalition. If therefore a corrupt act is brought home to one, both are unable to hold their seats." In Malcolm vs. Ingraham, 44 L.J., C.P., 131 Lord Coleridge, Chief Justice said: "Where two candidates at an election coalesce and embark, as it were, in the same boat, they and their agents are all in the same boat and they are joint actors, and each is responsible for the act of the other." See also the Bridge-water case 1 O.M. & H. 113, per Lord Blackburn, and the Tamworth case 1 O.M. & H., per Willis Willis J., in which these principles were acted on. These quotations may be applied very aptly to the canvass which the respondent and Mr. Woodford jointly conducted in the district of Harbour Main. They were so intimately associated in the election that any corrupt act done by Mr. Woodford, during the canvass, necessarily affected the election of the respondent, who has chosen to stand or fall with him. Mr. Woodford was Minister of Public Works during the election, and, as such, he had entrusted to him the management of the Department of Public Works and of the construction and repair of roads and bridges. By the Public Service Act, 1919, by which the Legislature provided the moneys required to defray the expenses of the public service a sum of $500,000.00 was appropriated to "roads and bridges." The appropriation was, by order of the Governor-in-Council, allocated, on a per capita basis to the various electoral districts of the country, to be expended one-half by the Public Works Department upon roads and bridges, and the other by the Marine and Fisheries Department on wharves and other marine works. In accordance with this direction of the Government a sum of $9,857.75 was allocated in the District of Harbour Main. Mr. Woodford, as Minister of Public Works, had control of the expenditure of this money in the district, and he so intimately associated the distribution and expenditure of it amongst the voters and his joint canvass during the election as to allow of no other conclusion than that he did so with the intention and for the purpose of promoting their election. The evidence shows that while nominally he observed the routine of his department in relation to the allocation of these moneys, he really made them serve as a means to secure votes and influence in the constituency for himself and his colleague. He gave moneys to some voters under circumstances that showed that the repair or improvement of the roads and bridges were only excuses to pay voters—in some cases the voters were not even informed how or where the work was to be performed, in other cases no attempt was made to ascertain whether the work was really needed, nor was any effort made to discover its nature, value or extent. In other cases voters were given money to make or improve private roads within the boundaries of their own land. The evidence leaves no doubt that Mr. Woodford, during his canvass with the respondent used these moneys improperly, and unfairly with a view to promoting the election of himself and his colleague and with the corrupt intention of influencing votes in their favour. The prevention of practices of this kind lies at the very foundation of the law relating to the freedom and purity of elections. If a private employer of labour, who is also a candidate at an election, so arranges the distribution of his patronage as to make it an instrument by which to promote his election and influence voters in his favour, he is guilty of a corrupt practice within the meaning of the Election Law. So also when the Minister of Public Works diverts the road moneys of a district, in which he happens to be a candidate for election from their legitimate purpose and under colour of providing for the repair or construction of roads and bridges makes payments of any money therefrom or allocates work in connection therewith to the voters of the district for the purpose or with the intention of procuring votes for himself or his colleague or other candidates he is guilty of the corrupt practice of bribery. The procedure adopted by Mr. Woodford during the election in Harbour Main in the distribution of moneys from and providing employment through the opportunities given him by his control over the "Surplus Trust Special Account," demonstrates a distinct intention to use those opportunities for corrupt and improper purposes and must be held to be bribery within the meaning of the Election Law. A separate petition has been presented against the election and return of Mr. Woodford, and upon that petition he has been found guilty of personal bribery, because during his canvass of the district he distributed these public moneys and allocated public employment on the roads and bridges in the district for the purpose and with the intention of influencing the votes of electors in his favour and practically the same evidence was given this case. During that canvass the now respondent was his colleague and conducted with him a joint canvass, forming a coalition with him for the purpose of the election and thereby placing himself in the same boat with him and permitting his election to stand or fall with Mr. Woodford's, he must abide by the consequences and his election must be declared void. We find, however, that the respondent in other respects, and apart from his having coalesced with Mr. Woodford in the joint canvass of the constituency endeavoured to carry on his election in a proper manner, free from acts of personal corruption. He does not seem to have been aware of the nature of the campaign which was being carried on by his colleague, who did not discuss with him road matters or the distribution of public moneys or the allocation of public works, but to have dealt in each case personally with all the voters. We find nothing against Dr. Jones in the circumstances under which he paid James Whelan of Colliers the money due to him by the Public Works Department, in anticipation of the arrival of the money from St. John's. It was an act of convenience without taint of corruption whatever. Nor can the part he took in the interview with George

Whelan of Colliers, in relation to the completion of the country road from Colliers, to connect with the Brigus Branch of the railway support an allegation of corrupt motive. It was an incidental conversation during the canvass as to a matter upon which the respondent with other Harbour Main voters had presented a petition to the Legislature early in 1919, long before he had decided to submit himself as a candidate for election in the district, and we are not persuaded that it was used by the respondent to in any way influence Whelan's or any other vote. The respondent was free from personal bribery, but we are of opinion that owing to his having coalesced in his canvass with Mr. Woodford (whose proceedings during the election were of such character as to render his election void) the election of the respondent Dr. Jones must also be declared void. We shall accordingly report to His Excellency the Governor as directed by the Election Act that the respondent W. E. Jones was not duly elected or returned and that his election is void. The respondent must pay the petitioner's costs upon the issue relating to the distribution of public moneys in the district, but he is entitled to be paid by the petitioner such costs as he may have been put to upon several charges in the petition which the petitioner abandoned at the opening of the hearing. Resolute May Beat Vanitie in Trial Races

New York, May 28.—When an American yacht sails out past Sandy Hook in July to meet Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IX. in the thirteenth defense of the America's Cup she probably will be Resolute.

This is assuming, of course, that she does not come to grief in the trial races. Furthermore, it is not a snap conclusion. The yachts have been built six years. They sailed many races in 1914, and Resolute won most of them. In some of them Vanitie showed bursts of speed that carried her past her rival. There was no question that Resolute was better sailed. The following year they raced again and Resolute carried off the honors, but still there was a warranted belief that Vanitie might prove the faster, and a general conviction that she would win if the crews changed boats.

On Saturday they sailed their first race since improvements were made in both, and although the wind was anything but steady, several things stood out after it was over.

Resolute still rates lower under the measurement than Vanitie and therefore would receive a greater handicap from the challenger.

She is faster going to windward than before, when she beat Vanitie in that important point of sailing. This is acknowledged to be the Shamrock's best point, and thus the one to be most considered in the selection of the defender. If Shamrock is so fast in that, Resolute would have more of a chance of holding on to her.

A yacht that is fine on the wind usually does her next best work running before it. There was no actual running on Saturday, but in the broad reaching in the light air at the race Resolute did splendidly. There was no doubt that Vanitie passed her and lead at one time. Resolute also was helped in reaching the outer mark first by the stake boat being displaced, but the fact remained that she travelled like a witch.

To these considerations must be added the one that Resolute apparently has the better crew. Charles Francis Adams, who sails her, has had far more experience with her than Rear Commodore George Nichols has had with Vanitie. Resolute also has many men among her professionalists, who were on her before and are trained to a second in handling her sails. They worked twice as fast as the men on Vanitie, but allowance was made, of course, for the inexperience of the latter.

Produce and Provisions.

(From Saturday's Trade Review)

Codfish.—The shipments of dried codfish from St. John's and the outports during May, amounted to about 4,625 quintals, of which 27,545½ quintals were sent from the Western outports, and the balance 27,545½ from St. John's. The principal markets were Oporto which was practically the only one on that side of the Atlantic receiving our fish—and Brazil. The price fell there to 52 and 50 shillings early in the month, and owners of cargoes have lost heavily on this fish which was bought here at high prices last fall. The Brazil market kept steady all the month of May and all sales appear to have been satisfactory to shippers. The last week of May the dried codfish held up in the northern outports since last fall began to come along to St. John's in the schooners and by the close of the month a total of about 27,000 had arrived. The price declined immediately to $9.00 and $8.00 per quintal for good fish and there were few buyers of these figures. Other qualities sold at $6.00 and in a few cases under that price.

Codell.—The exports of Common cod oil the past month was 64,159 gallons nearly all to the United States. The demand was well sustained throughout the month and the price strengthened to $345 per ton in the local market by the close of the month. The quantity now held in Newfoundland is very small and the scarcity will be more in evidence every day till the product of the new East Coast fishery comes on the market in plenty. The new oil from the West Coast is of a higher quality and a negligible factor in influencing the market, owing to poor livers. Nearly all has been sent to the Halifax and Boston markets the past month and the price there was quite steady. The factory to the shippers. There is a disposition amongst dealers in cod oil just now leading them to believe that this quality will pay better than the coming Summer.

Codliver Oil.—The shipments were slow during May, going out in small lots via the steamers to New York; the total was about 6000 gallons. The price per gallon at the beginning of the month was $2.00 to $2.20 per gallon and at the close it had dropped fifty cents a gallon. Some dealers say that this is only temporary and that the price will recover next month and that refined oil will be quoted locally at about $2.00 next August—if not more. As far as we can learn, the manufacturers all over the country are preparing again this year to follow up the business as usual. Our Codliver Oil has now a good reputation owing to the work of the local inspectors. It should be safe to make the purchase of livers on the basis of $1.50 a gallon.

Salt.—The only City Firm that holds any considerable quantity of fishery salt is Bowring all they can the past month to give a share of their supply to other firms, but Wednesday were obliged to cut down in order to have enough on hand to supply their own dealers who arrived in port this week in their schooners, and for others who are yet to come. There were two small cargoes arrived here from Cadiz and Santa Pola on May 27th, viz. the "Esther Hankinsons" to A. S. Rendell with 470 tons, and the "Mark Grey" from Santa Pola with 170 tons, total 640 tons. This is a mere bagatelle and will supply only about 20 schooners. So far, Bowring Bros. have no definite news as to when the big steamer chartered to bring salt will leave. At best, she cannot reach here now before the middle of June.

Herring.—The herring trade was "dead as the doornail" throughout the past month. Except a few parcels to West Indies and New York, nearly all splits, there was nothing doing. The price of split herring fell to a pre-war point viz. $4.00 a barrel, and it was necessary that they be good to fetch this figure. The Scotch Pack appears to be done. No one quoted them in May and no one appeared to want to handle, we doubt if they could realize $5.00 per barrel in the local market. There is a large quantity of split herring now coming forward from Notre Dame Bay by steamer and schooners, and the prospect of marketing them profitably just now is not at all bright. The whole system will have to be reformed before money can be made here at the herring trade.

Lobsters.—The fishery throughout May at Western and South Western sections of the island where it was as promising as packers could desire and they all believed that it will be a good Summer for lobsters. There are more packers than last year. The price is expected to open at about $30.00 on the Coast. The cost of outfit is nearly three times what it was before the war, and this is the reason that packers are looking for $35.00 per case. But if the market outside does not warrant that price, buyers are not going to give it at the risk of losing on the trade as some of them did last year. We are informed that the lobsters this Spring are not only more plentiful but very much larger in the run.

Pork.—The importations of Pork for May were remarkably short, the total being only 1,782 barrels. As the market was declining all the Spring, importers held off waiting for lower prices. Only those who realized that they would be obliged to have a supply for their fishery dealers, gave any attention to importing Pork. The decline from the highest point since New Year is now over $10.00 per barrel, and $49.00 will purchase a good barrel of P. B. Pork. Ham Butts is about $57.00. Stocks held all Spring are now going out fast to the fishermen in schooners here, but there is sufficient in to meet all requirements. Planters and skippers of fishing schooners are taking a smaller quantity than in other years, and are wisely substituting more of other food.

Beef.—Imports of Beef to St. John's for last month were only 509 barrels. This is accounted for by two facts, there was already a fair stock on hand, and more favorable prices were expected later. Beef it is gratifying to record is one of the food products that continued to gradually decline the past month and showed the greatest progress back to pre-war prices. Beef grades in May could be bought for $37.00 wholesale, and other quantities as low as $23.50 per barrel. The indications at the close of the month in the American market were that Beef had about reached its lowest price for this season. There is an ample supply in St. John's for the fishery requirements. The imports to date here since New Year are about 8,200 barrels, which is to the last of May 1000 barrels in excess of 1919.

Flour.—During the past month St. John's imported 35,912 barrels and 7,493 sacks of flour. The price in the local market was increased in the latter part of the month to $18.50 for leading brands. It is thought that the price will go over a dollar higher here before he new crop is available. The trade in flour increased to great activity on the arrival of the first of the northern schooners the last week of May, but the stocks were kept up by the arrival of the steamers from Montreal which brought large consignments. European demand has increased, and as the acreage soon in the States and Canada is very much short of that of last year, there is no prospect of a reversion to anything like pre-war prices this year. The imports to St. John's up to the end of May was about 61,000 barrels.

By the S. S. "Stourx Falls" this week 12,500 barrels of flour were brought here from Montreal which, with 2,548 that arrived by the S. S. "Sachem" from Halifax, and 2,389 by the S. S. "Roseland" gives a total of 17,437. This is the biggest one week receipts of flour since last Fall and makes the total since New Year over 75,000 for St. John's. The whole year's four requirements for all Newfoundland is about an average of 380,000 barrels. It will be seen then, that imports will have to become lively from now on to bring in our full complement the next seven months. The price $18.50 is not likely to change till the new crop comes in.

Sugar.—About the 20th of May Raw Sugars advanced to $23.50 per 100 pounds in New York, which is equal to 30 cents per pound in this market. This was followed by a break of about three cents a pound and the market held fairly steady up to the end of the month. Meantime, the local Food Control Board intervened and took charge of all sugar unsold in the local market and contracted for. They have fixed the price at 28¼ cents per lb. wholesale. This will mean about 30 cents in general retail. Canada is partly responsible for the recent advance. The stocks in St. John's are running "hand to mouth" all the Spring, and it is necessary to have shipments every steamer to keep the market going.

CHAFE—WHITTEN.

The church of St. Andrew's at Petty Hr. was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday, June 1st, when George Henry Whitten, eldest son of Thomas H. Whitten, led to the altar Jessie A. Chafe, daughter of John W. Chafe, both of Petty Hr. Precisely at 4 o'clock the bride entered the church feasting on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was charmingly gowned in blue Georgette crepe, over silk, with bridal veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white roses and spirea. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Fanny, who looked attractive in fawn silk with hat to match. Mr. Frederick Whitten, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Hewitt, and was most impressive and very beautiful. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Hewitt, who presided at the organ in her usually faultless fashion. The bride was a passenger on the S. S. Rosalind, which was due here from New York on Monday, May 31st, from Pittsburg, where she had spent many years. Photographs were taken of the wedding party on leaving the church. After this a dainty supper was served by the groom's parents, to only the immediate family connection. The bride and groom were the recipients of many presents. Among the numerous gifts being several pieces of silverware, cut glass dishes, and gold pieces. The groom's gift to the bride was a twenty dollar ($20.00) gold piece. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Whitten many years of happy wedded life.—Com.

Freeman's English Foods

A complete supply for your larder.

Custard Like Cream. Freeman's Custard, made according to directions, provides a creamy dish that softens the tartness of fruits. It is ideal for trifles, and as a hot sauce with puddings it is delicious.

A Popular Blanc Mange. Freeman's Blanc Mange Powder is distinctly flavoured with fruit essence, and is agreeably smooth to the palate. A packet in the house ensures a delightful "emergency" dish, easily made.

Making Better Cakes. There is nothing better for making cakes than Freeman's Egg Powder. It is an improvement upon eggs rather than a substitute for them; making cakes lighter and more digestible, and never "dry".

A Clear, Light Jelly. The delightful clearness and colour of Freeman's Jellies is the next best thing to their taste. There is absolutely no heavy sediment in a jelly made with Freeman's Jelly Crystals, and the flavours are true to the fruit.

A Comforting Drink. There is no more comforting drink on a cold day than Freeman's Glass Lemon and hot water—as hot as you can drink it. Freeman's Glass Lemon is sweetened sufficiently for the average taste; it is made with real lemons by an entirely new process—a great advance on the old lemon crystal.

If a cold drink is required it is only necessary to add Freeman's Glass Lemon to cold water, it dissolves immediately—no need to wait while the drink cools.

Hawker's Undercarriage Put in Museum.

The Telegram is pleased to be able to announce that Hawker's undercarriage has been placed in the Museum by Hon. W. B. Grieve. It will be remembered that this paper announced exclusively a few days ago that Mr. Grieve was about to do this. The undercarriage is comprised of two rubber-tyred wheels attached to an axle and frame, which was, in turn attached to the bottom of the fuselage, or main body of the Sopwith biplane, flown by Hawker and Grieve, the first to attempt the transatlantic flight. The weight of the undercarriage was about 700 pounds, and the object of releasing it was to lighten the machine. An automatic device rearranged the fuel so as to keep the plane evenly balanced. The undercarriage was dropped just outside the Narrows, thousands of citizens seeing it fall and thinking that it was one of the daring fliers. Hon. W. B. Grieve's agent at Presque purchased it from a fisherman who picked it up and paid him $200 for it. Mr. Grieve has held it ever since. Everyone will commend his generosity and public spirit in donating it to the country's collection of souvenirs and antiques. In the latter connection it might not be out of place to say that, of late, many people have shown interest in the museum, and donations of antiques and souvenirs are coming in in profusion.

The ink stain on the rug will disappear if you shift the rug so that the sun shines on the spot.

Search Party From Bell Island.

Some 100 members of the Boys' Brigades came over from Bell Island yesterday and made a thorough search for the missing child Miller of Portugal Cove. Assisted by residents of the place a continuous search was kept up until 7 p.m. without success. The lads returned to their homes by motor boats. Though the search has been kept up the past two weeks, nothing has been discovered that would throw any light on the mysterious disappearance. The police have no reason to advance any other theory than that the body is still lying in the woods.

Football League Had Annual Meeting.

The Football League annual meeting was held Saturday evening, Pres. Mark Chaplin in the chair. The nine teams were represented by delegates. Mr. J. P. Crotty was appointed chairman and the election of officers proceeded with. The full executive now is:—

Hon. President—Mr. Mark Chaplin.
President—Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C.
Vice-President—Mr. C. E. Hunt.
Secretary—Mr. B. E. Harris.
Treasurer—Mr. F. C. Brien.
Auditors—Messrs. J. P. Crotty and J. A. Carmichael.

The first change in the presidency for 25 years occurred, when Mr. Chaplin resigned. He was unanimously appointed Honorary President and Patron, and Mr. Higgins, who has during most of that time worked with him in aid of the League, elected in his place.

The grounds are now in good order and the first game will take place on Monday, June 14th. There will be three additional teams from last year, Feildians, H. M. S. Briton and the Highlanders. This will make nine teams, and the fans are looking forward to a very successful year. The first round was drawn and resulted as follows:—

Saints vs. Highlanders.
Feildians vs. C.C.C.
"Briton" vs. B.I.S.
G.E.I. vs. Star.
Collegians (bye).

The balance of the fixtures will be drawn and published during the next few days. Owing to so many teams the games will be played on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and it is hoped there will be no postponements, as it will take well up in September to complete the schedule. After the usual votes of thanks to the officials, etc., the meeting adjourned.

Women's Missionary Society.

At the fifth and concluding session of the branch meeting of the above organization, held in Cochrane Street Church, last week, Dr. Tait reported the work done by the Resolution Committee and the following report of the Courtesy Committee was made by the Mrs. (Rev.) Dr. Saint:

The Courtesy Committee begs to submit the following report:

RESOLVED that the heartfelt thanks of the Officers and Delegates of the Woman's Missionary Society, assembled in Branch Meeting, be tendered—

(A) To the Trustees of Cochrane Street Centennial Church, for the use of the Church for our gathering.

(B) To the Sexton for his unremitting attention to our comfort.

(C) To the generous hosts and hostesses who received the delegates into their homes, as well as the kind ladies who entertained us at three social gatherings.

(D) To the Billposting Committee, who gave noble service.

(E) To Mr. A. Mews, for the delightful Organ Recital, and to the singers, organists and pianists who charmed us by their sweet music.

(F) To the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly gave us a morning of great delight by means of their motor cars.

(G) To Dr. Bond for the beautiful and instructive views and talk on China.

(H) To Dr. Jones and Dr. Pedley of the sister churches for their eloquent and inspiring messages.

(I) To the Deaconess, Miss Miller, who was always on the alert for our comfort.

(J) To the proprietors of the Daily Newspapers of this city who printed the reports of our meetings.

(K) To the Reid Newfoundland Co. for the privilege of tickets at reduced rates to Delegates and those attending the meetings from various districts.

Something New in a Novelty Shower.

Something new in the way of a novelty shower was sprung on Mr. Edmund Shea, a popular member of the office staff of Franklin's Agencies, Ltd., on Tuesday evening last, when just at 6 p.m. at the close of the day's proceedings, the employees of Standard Oil Co. of N.Y. and Franklin's Agencies, Ltd., surprised him with a miscellaneous shower of kitchen utensils, in which articles of tin predominated, and for a few moments the usual quiet of the office was filled with a din that would do justice to a prosperous boiler shop. One of his fellow associates proffered the presentation in a peevish address, and one by one each member presented Mr. Shea with his and her offering. The equipment of a new kitchen to be made ready this month. Sincere wishes were extended by all the members, to which Mr. Shea ably responded.—Com.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Mr. and Mrs. John Woolridge wish to thank the "Lansdowners" working on S.S. Rosalind and Saint Falls for the liberal way they subscribed towards the collection taken up for him during his recent illness.—adv.

King's Birthday at Grand Falls.

His Majesty's birthday was observed at Grand Falls in accordance with the expressed wish of the King's representative in this dominion. At the Grand Falls school and the R. C. Academy, the scholars were, on the day previous, given a lecture on the significance of the event and a whole holiday was granted. The business places, the bank and the government offices were closed for the day thereby giving all employees and officials an opportunity to enjoy the pleasures of suspended labor for a brief period. Many fishing and picnic parties were organized and the day being delightfully fine scores of people availed of the occasion to "whip the waters" of the nearby streams while others sought the shady nooks of the Exploits River and enjoyed that portion of the good things of life which the "H.C.L." will permit. In the town itself there could be seen a generous display of bunting which greatly added to the appearance and beauty of the well-arranged and tastefully carried out programme of the company in the laying out and construction of the various residences. Perhaps the most attractive feature of the celebration was the illumination at night of the big "G" on top of the Acid Tower. This electrical display emblematic of the initial letter of His Majesty's name, was erected through the courtesy of the A.N.D. Co., and showed for the first time on Empire Night. The letter is built in a monster framework of wood, thirty feet square, and the frame also contains an "S" which it is intended to light on the night of the arrival of the Managing Director, W. Scott, Esq., as a compliment and greeting to the home-coming of that worthy gentleman.—Com.

Nine Cent Sugar.

Nine cent sugar has arrived—in Queensland, Australia. This on the authority of Edward G. Theodore, Queensland, premier, now in New York on his way to England. Queensland has most of the cane sugar mills which supply Australia. Their annual output is 300,000 tons. There are 42 cane mills, of which four are state property.

There is a system of labour courts to determine a fair living wage for the employees, both on plantation and mill. The workers, the farmers and the government are represented on these boards.

Then there is a fair price court for each mill. This includes representatives of the cane growers, the cane millers and the government, with technical experts as advisers. It determines a fair price for the cane to be sent to each mill.

All the raw sugar purchased by the mills becomes the property of the state under the law passed by the government. The price paid by the government is the cost of the cane, plus the cost of normal operations, with allowance for interest on the investment. The higher the efficiency of the mill, the better price it gets. This puts a premium on efficient operation. The state owned mills pay a better price to the farmers than the privately owned mills, because they do not have to pay a profit on their investment.

The result—sugar at 9 cents a
