IN LONDON.

Miss Elliott Writes of her Journey

WELL RECEIVED,

and Royally Entertained at The English Hub. Sailed May 10th.

The last words you said to me were, "I hope you will meet with friends." In one of the girls' letters I told them to assure you I had. Now I can re-assure you of the fact.

The S. S. Lake Ontario arrived at Liverpool about 7 a. m. Wednesday, April 31. We landed at 8.30, but before leaving the boat we received a letter from "The Girls' Friendly Society," saying that their president—Miss Gertrude Langlin—would meet us there and do all she could to help us.

She and Miss Sanistead met us at the Customs, helped us look after our luggage, and came to Lime Street Station with us, where we took the train for London. When we reached Lime Street Station, L. Pendleton—American Passenger Agent—was expecting us, and saw us safely on board the train. A special car was put on for us, and of course, no other passengers allowed in except a few gentlemen who had come over on the boat with us, and for whom we asked permission.

As we stepped on board train, Miss Langlin presented us each with a bouquet of "Lily of the Valley" the Queen's favorite flower, and two baskets, one containing sandwiches, and the other chocolates and fruit cake. These, of course, were for our luncheon on the train.

We left Liverpool at 9.45 a. m. and arrived in London about 2.30 or 3 p. m. Miss Mansfield, representative of Colonial Office, met us at Euston Station, and gave us any necessary information concerning luggage, cabs, etc.

It takes some time to look after luggage here, especially when there is a party of twenty, each with not less than two trunks, a bag, a shawl strap and hat box, for you never know what you will find.

Miss Mansfield also informed us that the first party of teachers was still in London, and would not sail till May 3rd, so that we would not be likely to leave before the 10th.

About 4 o'clock we reached the hotel but they scarcely got to our rooms when a message came for us to be at the Colonial Office. We went and were given our first salary. Mr. Martin, the agent, answered our many questions as best he could, and told us that we would leave Southampton on Saturday, May 10th, by the S. S. Avondale Castle of the Castle Line. So you see we do not have to go on a transport as was reported. That evening we attended a meeting of the "Sons of the Empire" where we met a number of the other teachers and spent a very pleasant evening.

Thursday morning we registered at the Windsorian, with the sixth and two of the teachers. In the afternoon we attended an "At Home" which was given by Miss Balfour in the house where Gladstone used to live. Her brother, Hon. Alfred Balfour, leader of the government in the house of commons, and Lord High Treasurer. Among those present were:—Duchess of Marlborough, Earl and Countess of Jersey, Earl and Countess of Devon, Lady Evelyn Cecil, Lady Alice Shaw Stewart, Lady Raleigh, Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn Cecil, Hon. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lyttelton, Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, Mrs. Arnold Forster, Bishop Webb and Canon Willerforce. After supper we retired to the drawing room where we were addressed by Mr. Sadler, Minister of Education for England, and Hon. Joseph Chamberlain who left the house to come and speak with us. Hon. Alfred Lyttelton was in the chair.

By invitation of Hon. Arthur Balfour, we visited the House of Commons that evening. The speaker's wife, Mrs. Gully, took us to her gallery and Lady Frances Balfour stayed with us through the evening and told us the names of the members as they rose to speak. Friday morning we went to the Educational Supply Association and got our supplies for South Africa. We were allowed £2, with which to get our supplies, and had only to supply ourselves, not the children. That evening we attended the Royal Lyceum Theatre and saw Sir Henry Irving take the part of Mephistopheles in "Faust." Oh! it was grand.

Saturday afternoon we visited the Royal Stables from 2 to 2 o'clock. There are in all 150 horses. Of course, each set has its own special use, but they are kept most elegantly. The ten "creams" are certainly very beautiful. They are of Hanoverian stock brought here by George I. and are all of their kind in the world today. They are used only on full state occasions, and their harness is of red leather mounted with gold. This harness, Queen Victoria had made specially for the jubilee. Then the Tull Stute Carriage is also red and gold. It is made of oak, weighs 4 tons and cost £17,650.

The painting was done by a very old Italian and cost £9,000. Since Edward VII. came into power he had the coachman's seat moved as he prefers postillions. The foot board however, was left as it was and still holds.

Last evening we attended "Her Majesty's Theatre" and saw "Ulysses" played. It was so inferior to "Faust" that we didn't stay to see it, although we had seen it first, we certainly would have enjoyed it very much and thought it grand.

We are not very sure as to what we will do this afternoon, except that at 4.30 we are to meet Mrs. Chamberlain at the Royal Albert Hall and go to her home for supper.

On Monday we take tea at the Imperial Institute with Miss Hervey and afterward visit the South Kensington Museum.

Tuesday, by invitation of Lord Salisbury we visit Hatfield House and have supper with Edward Cecil.

Wednesday we dine with Miss Stanley at the Fate Gallery.

Thursday we have special per- training school or post have made no afternoon as Lord

Strathcona is going to entertain us then. What his plans are I can't say just yet, but will later. Friday we visit the Tower with Lady Buller and have supper at her home afterward. We have seen so much since we came to London, that it seems a month at least instead of four days since we came.

Any time we have to spare we spend in sight seeing. We could not get into Westminster but saw the state church close by and was built by the Monks for use while the Abbey was being built. We visited the British museum and St. Paul's Cathedral to.

Of course we have all next week yet and will make the best of our time but we already have invitations for every day.

The people here are lovely—at least lovely to us. They are so proud of Canada and the Canadians. Everybody seems to know who we are, and we feel pretty proud of ourselves. Just think of us being entertained by all the Lords and Ladies of the land. Why, we have received invitations and admittance to places that money could not buy.

As yet we haven't met the King. Of course I will be able to give further accounts of this week after it is over. I will probably write on the steamer and mail it at Middles.

It seems as though we should not take time to write for there is so much to see, that it seems a waste of time to stay in the house.

We have just got orders to meet at 2 to go to the Zoo, so I'll leave this till this evening.

Well, I'm home again. We were at the Zoo and although we didn't see nearly all, still we saw a good deal and enjoyed it too. We saw the Monkeys, Apes, Tigers, Lions, Jaguars, Yaks, Deer, Reptiles, Antelopes, Pheasants, Foxes, Wolves, Sloths, Goats, and even so many other birds and animals, too numerous to mention.

When we got through with that we went to Mrs. Chamberlain's to tea, and met Madam Albani, Lady McDonnell—widow of Sir John A. Lord, Admiral, and Lady Seymour and several others, who, perhaps, were not so noted.

But I do wish you could meet the Duchess of Marlborough. She is too sweet. Her manner is so gracious and lovely and she is honestly beyond all power of description so far as beauty goes. Just picture all the loveliness you can in human being and it may be half as lovely as she.

The day we met her, she was dressed in light grey, some sort of very soft material, she wore a very broad black hat and a grey and white ruff. She is very tall and slight with dark hair and eyes and a lovely complexion. She is certainly handsome.

It seems as though I could keep writing for a week there is so much to write about. If I was just home I could tell you so much but it is no use to try to write it all.

No matter what hardships we have to endure in South Africa, we all feel amply repaid even now.

MABEL ELLIOTT.

FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

Canadian Troops Start From Halifax.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 17.—The steamer "Halifax" left for Cape Town, S. Africa, this morning at 10.15 o'clock amid scenes of enthusiasm. The harbor front was lined with thousands of cheering citizens as the troop ship steamed down the harbor. The men on the transport responded vigorously.

The regiment paraded at 8 o'clock this morning and were played to the embarkation pier by the bands of the Royal Canadian Regiment, 63rd Rifles and 66th Fusiliers. The bands played "Far Away," "Girl I Left Behind Me," "United Empire," "Auld Lang Syne" and "Good-bye Sweetheart."

Over 10,000 persons followed the troops to the transports. Lieut. Colonel Irving and Colonels Boulanger and Gordon were given a grand send-off. Seven hundred and fifty men embarked and 930 horses. The steamer will anchor at the mouth of the harbor till this afternoon, when she will sail for Africa.

AN EYE-WITNESS.

Describes the Mont Pelée Eruption.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Frederic Clerc, a millionaire and mayor of Trinity, is one of the few persons who witnessed the eruption of Mont Pelée and in a letter tells about it, says a despatch to the World. He says on the morning of May 8 he noticed the rumblings from the volcano were more pronounced than they had been up to that time. The barometer in his house fluttered violently and he at once instructed his servants to harness mules to his carriages and prepared for flight. Clerc took his wife and four children with him and hastened from the city. He arrived all his friends to hasten away also, but his advice was disregarded. He left behind him at his house twenty-eight of his friends who had gathered there at his call and whom he advised to get away as quickly as they could. As Clerc and his family were leaving St. Pierre he saw Mr. Prentiss, the American consul, standing in front of his house, with Mrs. Prentiss. Mr. Clerc called out to Mr. Prentiss and warned him to flee from the city at once, but the consul only laughed and waved his hand as he said: "Oh, there is no danger; don't be afraid."

When Clerc reached a distance from St. Pierre he looked back and saw a huge mass of white colored stones and ashes burst from Mont Pelée and tumble down on St. Pierre. This was followed by a great wall of flame, which seemed to rise and topple over on the doomed town. The whole thing lasted not more than two minutes. So sharply defined was the wall of flame that a bull caught on the edge of its track was roasted on one side and not a hair of the animal turned on the other. A man in a small carriage drawn by a pair of mules escaped, while the mules were instantly killed. The coachman, who was behind the mules, also escaped unhurt.

Another Strike.

ALMONTE, Ont., May 10.—The employees of the picker room, card room and contest department at the Casino and Casino Club, have struck for an increase in wages.

OVER THE WIRES.

A Nova Scotian Murdered in U. S.

THE COAL STRIKE.

Praise for Canada's Field Hospital in South Africa. Other News.

Nova Scotian Murdered.

Miss Josephine Marsh, Highland Village, N. S., has received a letter from her brother, Leonard, in Massachusetts, saying his eldest son, Sanford, had been murdered in Oklahoma Territory. His body was found May 4th or 5th in a river, with his forehead broken. Sanford Marsh was born at Port-
Mouche forty years ago. Sanford Marsh's pockets had been picked. He was a carpenter.

The Coal Miner's Strike.

HAZLETON, Pa., May 19.—The second week of the hard coal strike began today with the faintest ripple. Not one of the coal companies in this territory made an attempt to start up a colliery today, and not a man went near the breakers. The coal miners in all the mining villages and coal patches held meetings today, at which speeches were made by the local leaders to keep up the courage of the men. New members were taken in by some of the local and preparations for relieving distress in case the strike is prolonged, were discussed. So far as known no applications have been received by the union for aid.

Praise for Field Hospital.

TORONTO, May 30.—Major F. L. Vaux, O. C. M. S., in a letter to his father, Harry E. Vaux, states the Field Hospital sent out by Canadian government for use in South Africa is the envy and admiration of the army, which says it is the finest ever sent from any country. Major Vaux adds he hopes the new contingent will bring one also. It is a splendid advertisement.

From The Yukon.

TORONTO, May 19.—A Dawson City special to the Globe says: Creek sluicing is in full swing. The work is so extensive it is impossible to estimate the output; prospects good.

A big sale of a block of gold run to a French syndicate is on the tapis. An expert from Paris is now making an examination for the syndicate. A million dollars is said to be involved in the transaction. The despatch adds that the Yukoners are well pleased with the modifications of the French gold concession, and are especially gratified at receiving local and federal representation.

MT. PELEE ACTIVE.

Fifteen Distinct Detonations in One Night.

London, May 10.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Kingston, St. Vincent, dated Friday, May 10, says the British cruiser Hialla has arrived there and that while passing Martinique last night she encountered wreckage and Mont Pelée was seen to be still burning. Volcanic dust was falling thickly at some distance from the Martinique coast.

Fort De France, it is reported here, is still in some danger.

One thousand five hundred and sixty-two bodies have been buried at St. Georgestown; more are still in the lava, while the persons who are dying are mere human cinders.

The lava is still running from La Soufriere, on St. Vincent, this (Friday) morning.

Paris, May 18.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Fort De France, Martinique dated Saturday, May 17, says that during the previous night fifteen violent detonations Mont Pelée were heard, and that they were accompanied by lightning which lit up the whole of the entire island. The eruption redoubled in violence, says the despatch, and for the moment a second catastrophe was feared.

New craters are forming in the neighborhood of La Precheuse.

In spite of danger which threatens them, conclude the despatch, the refugees from the northern part of the island are beginning to return to their homes.

London, May 19.—The St. Thomas correspondent of the Times, calling attention of May 18, says volcanic of St. Vincent on St. Vincent is now quiet, but that the Martinique volcano is still very active. The correspondent announces that a few volcanoes have broken out north of that place.

HOULTON ME. SCORCHED

Seventy-five Residences and Three Churches Destroyed.

Houlton, Me., May 17.—What proved to be the most disastrous conflagration in the history of the town started at noon today and before it was finally gotten under control, had destroyed the greater part of the business section, 75 residences and three churches, retelling a loss of $400,000, only one-third of which is covered by insurance. One hundred and twenty-five families are rendered homeless, and the loss to the town is one that will require many years to repair.

The town fire department, which was powerless to cope with the fire, was ably assisted by firemen from Woodstock, N. B. Presque Isle and Caribou, Me., while volunteers from this area surrounding the town, rendered excellent service with buckets and other apparatus in saving property that must have been otherwise destroyed by the immense showers of sparks which were blown in all directions by the wind. The fire started in the rear of Dyer's market and grocery store on the north side of upper Main street, and it was an incredibly short time before it was sweeping through the business section of the town in a pace which many believed that the entire town would be wiped out of existence before it could be controlled.

More Boers Captured.

Another big Drive Which Resulted in the Capture of 400.

VERBODEN, Bechuanaland, Friday, May 16.—The immunity which Lord Kitchener granted to the delegates to the Visiting conference of Boer leaders and their immediate followers from molestation by the British columns, has not prevented the continuation of one of the biggest drives of the war, which has just wound up against the Bechuanaland blockhouse line.

General Hamilton and other commanders have gathered in 400 prisoners, including 100 rebels and recalcitrant Boers, who have caused much trouble in the past. Among the prisoners are a brother of General Buller and several other commanders. The movement was remarkable for the lack of resistance by the Boers, most of whom surrendered after aimless dodging, without fighting. There was no British casualties. Five hundred Boers managed to escape in the earlier stages of the drive.

of Cod Liver Oil is the means of life, and enjoyment of life to thousands: men women and children.

When appetite fails, it restores it. When food is a burden, it lifts the burden.

When you lose flesh, it brings the plumpness of health.

When work is hard and duty is heavy, it makes life bright.

It is the thin edge of the wedge; the thick end is food. But what is the use of food, when you hate it, and can't digest it?

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the food that makes you forget your stomach.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample. Its agreeable taste will surprise you.

Some steps were taken towards the organizing of a basketball team. It was decided to expend the sum of $12 to procure the necessary outfit for this team.

Secretary was authorized to procure application blanks and membership tickets. Considerable discussion took place as to the best time and manner of holding Evangelical service. # QUEER LAKE GEORGE

IT WAS LOST TO SIGHT FOR YEARS, BUT APPEARED AGAIN.

Cattle Pastured in Its Bed, But the Day Came When the Settlers Had to Leave Before the Rising Waters—Game, Birds, and Fish—Has No Outlet Except by Evaporation.

Lake George, the largest lake of New South Wales, Australia, has no outlet, except evaporation. For a series of years, the brooks that tumble down the mountains which edge the lake may steadily contribute to it a larger quantity of water than is evaporated from its surface. Then the lake steadily rises. The water pushes north and south until the lake is twenty-one miles, or more in length with a width of seven or eight miles.

For another series of years the waters brought by the brooks may be steadily smaller than the quantity evaporated. Then the lake begins to fall, shrinking in a few years to half its former dimensions, this process going on sometimes till Lake George entirely disappears except for a few water holes in the lowest part during 1801 extending north and south for twenty-one miles with a depth of twelve feet.

Since in the last century thousands of sheep and cattle were pastured on large areas now covered with water. They were the most numerous representatives there of the larger forms of animal life just as fish and water fowl are to-day.

The cabins of the stock raisers or squatters, as they are called, were scattered over the meadows. Vegetables were raised and patches of wheat. So little was known of Lake George in those days that the herders really had a feeling of security and permanency, but the day came when the rising waters swished around the cabins, drowned some of the stock and drove the squatters to the highlands.

Everybody knows now that the bed of Lake George offers a very uncertain tenure to settlers. When it comes into view again perhaps no attempt will be made to utilize it on so large a scale as was done in the 30s and 40s of the last century.

The lake, which is about 150 miles southwest of Sydney, near the south end of the Blue Mountains, was for many years almost inaccessible among the wilds that hem it in, but now a branch of the railroad between Sydney and Melbourne skirts its eastern shore. Many sportsmen alight at the neighboring station for a season of fishing or shooting.

The incredible number of ducks, swans, pelicans and other water fowl makes the lake one of the finest shooting resorts in New South Wales. The birds have few such opportunities in the almost lawless continent and they make the most of this basin when it is worthy to be called a lake. At an elevation of over 2,200 feet, not many lakes outside of Africa and inner Asia are so high above the sea.

The lake lies at the lower end of a basin so walled in by mountains and hills that the drainage into it has no chance to escape to the sea. It was long before this fact was discovered. Some early miners showed Lake George as the probable source of a small river known on the coast, but a careful survey finally revealed the fact that not a drop of water escapes from the basin except to the clouds.

The native blacks have always regarded it with superstitious dread. When they piloted the first exploring party to the lake in 1820 (the first reports of its existence came from the blacks in 1818) a splendid sheet of water was found.

The whites were first perplexed and then amused by the stories the natives told them. One old woman said she had seen a time when there was no lake, but many trees were growing over the place now covered with water; others reported that sometimes the lakes disappeared and a number of little ponds occupied its place; still others affirmed that all of the water sometimes sank through the bottom and nothing was to be seen but dry land.

It was years before it was discovered that the natives had been trying to tell, in their imperfect way, of phenomena that mystified them. It all seemed very queer to the poor blacks, who feared the lake and usually avoided it.

Eighteen years elapsed after the white settlers became acquainted with the lake before its waters entirely disappeared. In 1838 and 1839 the surface of the lake bed was dry and firm.

The period between 1838 and 1851 was the heyday of the pastoral industry in the lake bed. The lake bed was divided into thousands of acres being devoted to grazing. Cart roads connecting the ranches extended across the bottom in all directions.

In these fourteen years the lake was not entirely dry except in 1850, 1851 and 1852, and in a few of those years a few water holes and swamps were found on the lower levels. The lake retains all the mineral substances brought to it by the brooks that wear away the granite and other rocks of the mountains.

When the lake is shallow or nearly dry, the water is not potable. The only drawback of which the herders complained was that they had to haul water from the foot of the mountains to their cabins, the contents of the water holes being too salty for use long when the basin is filled the water is only slightly brackish and may be used for many purposes.

It was a strange sight to see rich meadows stretching away where only a water expanse had been visible a few years before. The herders kept changing from year to year as the waters advanced or receded.

The mountain flocks greatly increased their contribution of water about 1850. When one-sixth of the bottom became covered, and two years later Lake George was a lake.

At this point the stage manager slipped into the wings and hoarsely whispered: "You'll have to take a four or five times more, Bill. The star has mislaid her shoe here and ain't dressed to come on yet."—Baltimore American.

Browning's Courtesy. On one occasion Robert Browning's son had hired a room in a neighboring house in order to exhibit his pictures there, and during the temporary absence of the artist Mr. Browning was doing the honors to a room full of fashionable friends.

He was standing near the door when an unannounced visitor made her appearance, and of course he shook hands with her, greeting her as he had the other arrivals.

"Oh, but you are a new one," she exclaimed. "But, please, sir, I'm the cook. Mr. Barrett asked me to come." "And I am very glad to see you," returned Mr. Browning, with ready courtesy. "Take my arm, and I will show you around."

Chasing the Fox. A fox had pressed by the Warwickshire hounds, in England, dashed into a back kitchen at Nalley Hall, the seat of the Marquis of Hertford, where a woman was washing clothes. Seeing a place of concealment, the animal sprang upon the furnace and dived into the almost boiling soap suds, from which, however, he was quickly driven again and was then captured.—London Telegraph.

A Financial Puzzle. Here is a problem in finance which we submit to those of our readers who are always inclined for an argument on the money question:

A banker sauntering home saw a woman picking it up and took the number in order to find the owner. While at home his wife remarked that the butcher had sent in a bill for meat amounting to £5. The only way he had with him was the money he had found, which he gave her, and she paid the butcher. The butcher paid it to a farmer for a calf, and the farmer paid it to the merchant, who in turn paid it to the washerwoman, and she, owing the banker a note of £5, went to the banker and paid her note. The banker recognized the note as the one he had found and which up to that time had settled £25 of debt. On a more careful consideration he found the note counterfeit.

Now, will some of our financial friends tell us what has been lost in this transaction and by whom, if anybody?—London Telegraph.

English Oaks. The old parliamentary oak in Clipse park, England, is believed to be 1,500 years old. The tallest oak in that country, called the "Duke's Walking Stick," is higher than the spire of Westminster abbey, and the largest is the "Crowthorne," which now measures seventy-eight feet in circumference and at one time with its branches covered more than an acre of space.

The Treasury account of the receipts and disbursements of the Duchy of Cornwall for the year ended Dec. 31, 1901, was recently issued. It appears from it that the total receipts for the year were £131,081, and, after making total payments amounting to £115,000, the balance carried forward is £16,081, as compared with a balance of £8,722 in the preceding year. The two largest items of disbursements are: Payments made to His Majesty's use for the period to Jan. 22, 1901, £21,980, 15s. 7d.; payments made to His Royal Highness's use from Jan. 23 to Dec. 31, 1901, £52,000; making together £73,980, 15s. 7d. paid to royalty in a year when there were two Princes of Wales. The outlay for the benefit of the state was £1,522.

Effects of Pepper. A writer on foods declares that pepper is a vegetable poison, a stimulant, but in no sense a food; a substance poisonous by the vital organs and therefore to be thrown out of the vital domain.

Red or black pepper is a prolific cause of enlargement of the blood vessels and ultimately of disease of the heart. Its immediate effect is to create increased action, not only of the capillaries, causing temporary congestion and even inflammation of the mucous surfaces, but also of the organs which secrete the digestive fluids. Its ultimate effect is to weaken and deaden these organs by repeated stimulation to abnormal action. It also impairs or destroys the nerves of taste in the mouth, together with the gastric or other nerves which aid in the process of digestion.

When these are weakened by stimulants, the functions themselves are necessarily impaired, and confirmed dyspepsia, with its attendant train of bad symptoms, brings up the rear.

Why the Villain Protested. "Ala-a-a," growled the heavy villain, scowling savagely at the footlights, "I have her in me power at last. Ala-a-a!"

This was the cue for the heroine to enter and give a start of horrified surprise at discovering him with the history of her past life in his hands. But she did not enter.

"Ala-a-a!" repeated the villain once more, while he looked anxiously off stage. Still no heroine.

"Ala-a-a!" At this point the stage manager slipped into the wings and hoarsely whispered: "You'll have to take a four or five times more, Bill. The star has mislaid her shoe here and ain't dressed to come on yet."—Baltimore American.

Bowser's Sentiment.

There was a softness and a sadness in Mr. Bowser's face as he came home the other evening, and Mrs. Bowser was puzzled to tell whether he had found a nickel on the street corner or heard of the death of a cousin. After dinner, during which he mentioned his childhood days and sighed over the passing of years, he proceeded to explain.

Do you know that we have become cold-hearted, indifferent and selfish, he asked as he heaved a sigh and shook his head in a solemn way.

Not in particular, replied Mrs. Bowser, who remembered that she had had four tramps within a week.

But we have, just the same. How often, as we sit here on an evening, do we call up and discuss the days of our childhood, of our boyhood and girlhood, of the dear old homes that sheltered us, and we went out into the world? Not once in 10 years. My father and mother are dead as well as your father—

And what else she asked as he paused.

He suddenly remembered that her mother was still living and was wondering why death had not also claimed her. He thought it best not to say anything about it, however, and went on—and the dear old homes have passed into the hands of strangers. Do we ever speak of the gardens, the meadows, the old pear trees, the lanes and the orchards? Never. There are the hills we used to slide down in winter, the brooks we paddled in when summer came, the groves with their swings and the big white trees shading the front porch but we never recall them. Instead of that we sit here and read or play cards or go to theater, and our hearts grow hard and selfish. We are no longer the same.

Mr. Bowser got up and wiped at the corner of his eye and walked around, and the cat came out from under the piano and sat up and looked solemnly at the figure of the cat.

And what happened today to start this train of thought? asked Mrs. Bowser after awhile.

The merest trifle, replied Mr. Bowser. On my way home I saw a cat in a flower. Among the flowers he had two bunches of catnip. The instant I got the odor of it I was carried back to my boyhood days. In our homely old garden we had thyme and hollyhocks and pink and creeping Charlie and catnip. You must remember catnip.

Yes.

The scent of it comes to me through all these long years. I remember nothing of the past so vividly as catnip.

They didn't make you eat catnip soup when you were a boy, did they? she asked.

Madam, answered Mr. Bowser as he stopped before her and glared, don't run this thing into burlesque! If you have got a brickbat, where your heart ought to be, I haven't. I am still a human being, although you have tried your hardest to make me a man of stone.

Well, you saw to bunches of catnip. I did, and I bought them at once.

Burning, Itching, Stinging Piles

If people could only realize the virtue of Dr. Chase's Ointment they would not suffer long with piles.

Mr. W. H. Whitehair, a well-known and respected citizen, of Cobourg, Ont., states:—"Having used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles, I can testify to its great value. The suffering which I endured from the burning, itching, stinging sensation of piles was something awful, and I can say that there is nothing in this world to equal Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for this dreadful disease. I tried a great many remedies and never got more than slight relief from any of them. But while Dr. Chase's Ointment brought quick relief it went further and made a thorough cure. I cannot say too much in recommendation of this great remedy."

This is the only preparation which is positively guaranteed to cure any form of piles. Ask your neighbors about it. 60c. a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's

I have brought them home, and I am now going to plant them in our back yard. I am going to have something around to recall the happy days of the past. I don't want to forget that I was once young and innocent hearted—By thunder, but that cat's got a bone in her throat and is choking to death!

The cat had one eye cocked up to the ceiling and was gurgling and choking, but as Mr. Bowser stepped forward she made a dive under the lounge, and Mrs. Bowser quietly said:

She often does that when she's amused.

O, she does! Then there's something to amuse her, I take it. Let her do any more gurgling around here tonight and I'll wring your old neck! You and the cat make a nice pair!

Then you are going to plant the catnip in the back yard? queried Mrs. Bowser.

He made no reply but getting the parcel from the front hall, passed out of the back door and looked around for a suitable spot.

It there anything that's going to swell up and bust up and tear the house down? anxiously inquired the cook.

No, my good woman. Didn't you ever hear of catnip?

Seems as if I did. Didn't the Spanish blow up the Maine in Havana with the same, bad luck to 'em!

Mr. Bowser smiled in his benign and paternal way and set about the work of planting, and in 10 minutes the job was done. Then he stood back and surveyed the plants with a mixture of sadness and gratification and said to himself:

Remembrances of the happiest days of my life, days before I met Mrs. Bowser! When I feel that mercy, pity and charity are being crowded out of my heart, I will come out here and sniff the fragrant odor of this catnip. 'Tis but a homely plant, but 'tis full of sweetest memories.

Then he returned to the sitting room to say to Mrs. Bowser:

I want to give you and the cat and the cook fair warning that if I come home tomorrow evening and find that catnip damaged or missing there will be a row around here.

Why should you say that? she asked.

Because you have no sympathy with me. The past does not appeal to you. I don't believe you call up old times once a year. Should an old tramp come to the door and prove to be a playmate of your childhood, you'd hit him in the eye with a cold potato instead of clapping his hand.

Mrs. Bowser went upstairs and left him reading his paper, and half an hour had passed when a wild, weird yell from the back yard raised what little hair he had on his head. It also brought the family cat out from under the lounge, and her eyes glared and her tail grew bushy.

By John—

His exclamation was cut short by a still wilder yell, followed by a rattling and a hanging on the back fences. Then came another yell and rattles and bangs, and the voice of Mrs. Bowser called down:

You'd better go out and see to your catnip! There's more than a thousand cats on the fence!

By thunder, but I'll murder 'em to the very last one! shouted Mr. Bowser as followed by the excited and meowing cat, he rushed down stairs and out in the yard.

There were not a thousand cats. There were only 900. They were scampering across the yard, roosting on the fences, lighting 10 deep over the catnip plants. He picked up a spade and dashed forward with a yell but his foot caught in an old iron hoop and went down. The 900 fled, and a hundred of them ran over Mrs. Bowser's prostate foot, and when Mrs. Bowser extended her foot, she extended her emotion.

It's my 17th attempt to assassinate you, and of course you'll pay for a divorce.

But he simply sighed and groaned and went to bed, like an inverted boy. He had met the cats and the cats, and he was thirs.

Success Assured When The DIAMOND DYES Are Used

Success in home dyeing depends altogether upon the quality of the dyes you select for the work of coloring. Diamond Dyes are acknowledged to be the best in the world, so far as brilliancy and strength of color are concerned.

They always do perfect work, and never disappoint the most exacting dyer. Diamond Dyes are sold at 10 cents per package, the same price that many people pay for imitation and adulterated dyes. The most progressive druggists and dealers will sell no other dyes but the Diamond, because the inferior dyes cause so much grumbling and loss of materials.

Do not accept imitations or substitutes from any dealer no matter how strongly he may recommend them. The poor dyes are sold simply because they pay large profits. See that the name "Diamond" is on each package you buy.

Send Postal Card with your address to The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain St., Montreal, P. Q., for Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Designs.

We are here, begin the chairman of the committee, to discuss ways and means for securing the passage of our bill by the legislature.

Well, remarked one who was something of a lobbyist, I know the surest of all ways if we only have sufficient means.

The fellow who keeps grinding is almost sure to make his point.

Dejected youth—Yes, I must confess, dear old chap, that women want a lot of understanding.

Oh, I borrow money from them.

You ask for my daughter's hand in marriage. Why do you want to marry her?

I will leave with your daughter.

Do you wish a fashionable or quiet wedding?

Her mother determine that.

What is it you come?

I'll leave that entirely to you sir.

Woman's Troubles.

SHOULD BE ALLOWED TO URGINE HEALTH AND BEY BUT SHOULD BE TRIED AT ONCE BY FERROZEE.

It is impossible to go into details on this subject, but the experience of many a poor woman who is crippled for life, just because she didn't use a good remedy in time, should be a warning to others.

When the stages of womanhood appear in a young girl, a great deal depends upon getting her over this critical stage, so that in years to come she will not develop green sickness or consumption.

As soon as the complaints of flushed face, headache, burning down feelings, give her at once a dose of Ferrozine treatment, which will try her past the crisis.

In the case of a woman if any irregularities occur, she will be found a remedy of red blood, potency and power.

Perfection is the ideal regulator for the monthlies and causes all organs of the body to perform their work properly and at the expected time.

It purifies the blood, tones up the nerves and vital energies. The stomach is strengthened and digestive and assimilative powers are improved by the good work of Ferrozine. It regulates the bowels, constipation is a pile, and restores the system and decay by health and strength.

There is a better for the complexion than any other. It removes the dark spots from the eyes, removes and cures the skin eruptions, the blotches, the freckles, the wrinkles, whitens the skin, and makes the complexion well rounded.

It is a perfect and reliable remedy, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians, and is used by the most refined and cultured women of the world.

A new form of emetic, eh? Yes, something to operate on the pockets of certain of our patrons.

DON'T BE DECEIVED

into buying any remedy as a substitute for the original and genuine McLean's Vegetable Worm Syrup. The kinds applied as "just as good" are not the genuine.

I believe that ere girl flew a kiss at me. Well, if she did and you turn round you'll catch it.

THE STORY OF MORNING TIREDNESS

It is told by impure blood, poor digestion, sluggish liver and tired nerves. It is a warning of very serious trouble ahead, and should prompt sensible people to take a bracing tonic like Ferrozine, an energetic invigorant and restorer.

Ferrozine will give you a sharp appetite, promote good digestion and sound sleep; it will feed and energize the enfeebled organs, strengthen the nerve and vital forces, and regulate the heart.

Ferrozine changes that tired feeling into vigor, strength and ambition, and does it quickly. Remember the name, and insist on having only Ferrozine; it's the best tonic made. Price 60c. per box, or 6 boxes for $2.50, by Druggists, or N. C. Poleon & Co., Kingston, Ont. Sold by A. E. Shaw.

Mother—Johnny, you ought to be ashamed of yourself. Here you sit in bed yet, while the sun has been up for hours.

THE HACKING COUGH.

One of the meanest things to get rid of is a hacking cough. There is apparently no cause for it. No soreness, no irritation at first; but the involuntary effort of the muscles of the throat to get rid of something is almost constant. Of course with many, cough is a habit, but it is a bad habit and should be stopped. When you realize this and try to stop it, you find you can't, for by that time there is an actual irritation, which will never get better without treatment.

It is a curious thing that nearly all treatment for cough actually makes the cough worse. Then, too, most medicines for cough have a bad effect on the stomach. This is especially true of so-called cough remedies that contain a narcotic. The true treatment for cough is one that heals the irritated surface. This is what Adamson's Botanic Cough Balm does. It protects the throat also, while the healing process is going on.

was first compounded, our old men were young boys, and all this time it has been doing a steady work of healing throats. The most obstinate hacking cough will quickly show the effect of the Balm. People who have been trying for years to break up the mean little cough, will find a sure friend in this old-time soothing compound made from the bark and gums of trees. All druggists sell Adamson's Botanic Balm. 25 cents.

The Norwegian barques in port were flying their flags on Saturday in honor of Norway's natal day, or rather the day on which the Norwegian gained the power to make their own laws and form their own government. The event took place in 1814, when Norway was ceded to Sweden. The one king reigned over Sweden and Norway, but beyond the sending of a viceroy Sweden has practically nothing to say in the government of the country. All the legislative power resides entirely in the national representative assembly, called the Storting (great court), which meets yearly. The day is celebrated among the Norwegians no matter in what part of the world they reside.

The second contingent of young lady teachers from Canada for South Africa left London on the morning of the 10 inst. The audience which assembled in the Methodist Church last Wednesday evening, enjoyed a concert of great excellence. The choir under the training of Professor Layton seemed inspired for the occasion and those who could appreciate high class music well rendered, were delighted. Miss Rogers of whom much was expected was not a disappointment. She delighted the audience with her simple grace and unaffected style. Her impersonation of Shylock in Merchant of Venice showed fair dramatic ability. Her selections from Shakespeare were especially worthy of praise. As Dr. Emerson, Head of the School of Oratory, Boston wrote of her, "Her voice is free and responsive, revealing unusual sympathy of character. Her manner is pleasing, graceful and dignified." She deals with subjects of deep interest to the good of mankind.

TRAVELLING FLAMES.

New York, May 14.—All the survivors of the St. Pierre disaster continue to be greatly broken up by the terrible experience through which they passed, says a despatch to the Herald from St. Kitts, B. W. I. First Officer Scott, Assistant Purser Thomas and Cooper Taylor are still in a pitiable condition. Scott who lost a son about to enter college, cannot take his mind from the scenes of last Thursday.

All three men speak in the highest terms of Capt. Pierre Lebris, of the French cruiser Suchet, whose kindness to the survivors endeared them to him.

In a despatch from its correspondent on the Island of St. Vincent, B. W. I., the Herald says: Admonitory rumblings and earthquakes in the vicinity of Soufriere came two weeks ago. On Monday, May 5, the lake in the old crater became greatly disturbed. On Tuesday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon the mountain began a series of volcanic efforts. Severe earthquakes accompanied these terrific noises and detonations succeeded quickly. At 7 o'clock in the evening an immense column of steam issued from the crater and lasted until midnight. Terrific explosions followed on Wednesday morning and at 7 o'clock there was another sudden violent escape of steam. This ascended for three hours when other material was ejected. At noon three craters appeared to open and began to vomit lava. Six streams at once ran down the sides of the mountain, making an awful scene.

The mountain labored heavily for half an hour after the appearance of the lava. Fire flashed around the edges of the craters and there were tremendous detonations in succession, rapidly merging into a continuous roar. This lasted through Wednesday night and until Friday morning. The thunderings of the volcano were heard through the night. The eruption began Wednesday. A huge cloud in a dark and dense column, charged with volcanic matter, rose to a height of eight miles from the mountain top. Darkness like midnight descended and the sulphurous air was laden with fine dust. A black rain followed, a rain of faviata scorice rocks and stones.

There were bright flashes luminous, and marvellously rapid. These with thundering, the mountain shocks, the earthquake roar, the lava falling, created a scene of horror.

Large areas of cultivated land have been buried beneath the volcanic matter. On the Windward coast, seven plantations are totally destroyed. Nothing green is visible. Sixteen hundred and twenty deaths are already reported. There are 157 cases in the hospital at Georgetown under treatment. The deaths have been caused chiefly by suffocation by the sulphurous gas, lightning and burning lava masses.

Few of the cases in the hospital are likely to recover. The crew of H. M. S. Indefatigable buried the peasants of the Owia estate, north of Soufriere. A new crater is reported formed on the Richmond estate, near the seashore.

The country districts on the Windward coast are literally covered with bodies.

KINGSTON, May 14.—The capital and the whole population are safe. There have been no accidents or deaths. Clouds of dust are blowing over the city, however.

The royal mail steamer Weare is transporting food and water to the Leeward coast. Sailing vessels proceed to the Windward coast on the same errand. Doctors and nurses have gone to the scene of distress.

The majority of the corpses being found are covered with ashes decomposed and hardly approachable. The dead are being buried in trenches, thirty in each.

CASTRIES ISLAND, St. Lucia, Tuesday, May 12.—The volcano in the Island of St. Vincent is still in destructive eruption. Terrific detonations can be heard a hundred miles away. The reports are followed by columns of smoke, rising miles in the air. Immense balls of colored fire also issue from the crater, lightning is playing fiercely in the upper sky and the whole northern part of the island is one mass of travelling flames. It is impossible to reach the burning district by land or sea, and there are no means of estimating the destruction wrought to life and property. Kingston, the capital of St. Vincent, is still safe, though showers of ashes and pebbles are continually falling on the town. The volcano is invisible.

CASTRIES, Island of St. Lucia, May 13.—It has just been officially reported that there are 1,600 dead up to yesterday at St. Vincent.

The correspondent of the associated Press here has visited St. Pierre, Martinique, by the relieving steamer Kenneth. The destruction there is appalling. The streets are two feet deep in ashes and cinders, which cover thousands of dead scorched black and shiny, as if they had been plunged in boiling pitch. Many of the dead were never touched by the volcanic fire, and some of the houses and woodwork destroyed show no signs of having been burnt.

At Moudlage in the southwestern portion of St. Pierre, the town hall is still standing as high as the first story, while at the fort in the northwestern part of St. Pierre the most massive stonework is calculated. The church tower, built by the Jesuits two centuries ago, of cyclopean mason work, is now like a huge heap of old metal. Soldiers are guarding property from prowling ghouls who are robbing the dead. They meet with severe punishment when caught.

The stench throughout St. Pierre is terribly offensive. The streets are still obstructed by huge piles of debris and dead bodies. The work of clearing the thoroughfares will necessitate the employment of large numbers of men for many months.

Moudlage Rouge, near St. Pierre, is preserved and Basse and Macoutba are yet unharmed. But the crater is still active and smoke and ashes are blowing steadily northward. The surviving inhabitants are trying to cross from St. Pierre to the Island of Dominica in boats. Many drowning accidents are reported.

Assistance is constantly arriving at Fort de France from all the neighboring islands.

CASTRIES, Island of St. Lucia, May 14.—The St. Lucia signal station here reports having seen a conflagration last night in the direction of Fort de France, Martinique.

Though sometimes small evils, like invisible insects, inflict pain and a single hair may stop a vast machine, yet the chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex one and in prudent cultivating an undergrowth of small pleasures, since very few great ones, alas, are let on long leases.

Disease Lays Its Heavy Hand On Kings, Princes, Presidents, the Noble and Wealth as Well as on Those of Low Estate.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Is the Great Restorer of Health for the Ruler and his Humblest Subject.

Sickness, disease and suffering respect neither ruler or subject. The noted and highborn have their trials and physical sufferings like those in rumbler stations, social standing and wealth cannot bar the progress of disease when the common rules of health are violated.

Impure blood and weak nerves are responsible for many of the common diseases of life. The experienced physician will tell you that men and women with pure, clear coursing blood and well braced nerves, can never become victims of Rheumatism, neuralgia, liver troubles, debility, headaches or sleeplessness.

It follows therefore, that sufferers from any of the ailments referred to, should at once take proper measures to cleanse the blood and feed the weak nervous system with proper nourishment.

For the happy accomplishment of this important work, Paine's Celery Compound guarantees a perfect regularity of the bowels, healthy appetite, sound sleep, good digestion, pure blood, strong nerves and clear brain, all of which mean full and robust health.

Mr. B. H. Hutton, one of the most prominent Real Estate men in Montreal, says: "About five years ago I wrote you a letter asking you to send me some of your Paine's Celery Compound. I had, upon me after I had given it a fair trial; that it cured me entirely of neuralgia in the head from which I had suffered most fearfully for over fifty years, and also that it cured me of rheumatism in my limbs. In fact it removed every pain in my body and made me feel 25 years younger. I have not had a return of my old complaint, and therefore have to confirm all the statements I have ever made respecting your Compound."

Parliament Prorogued To-day.

Trouble Among Officers in South Africa—Montreal Stock Market.

OTTAWA, May 15.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon Lord Minto prorogued parliament. There was a good attendance in the Senate chamber to witness the closing ceremonies. A detachment from the Ottawa Field Battery fired a salute from Nepean Point, the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards furnished an escort and the Governor General's Foot Guards supplied a guard of honor.

Mr. Fielding announces that the revenue had been so buoyant since the delivery of the budget speech that it was now clear the result of the financial year would be a larger surplus and a smaller addition to the public debt than had been predicted in the budget speech.

It is understood that Col. Evans, commanding 2nd C. M. R. in South Africa, has asked that Col. Merritt, second in command of the regiment, be recalled. In the meantime Col. Cameron, who was junior major, has been given the place of Col. Merritt. The matter is now under the consideration of the Minister of Militia. The reasons which are given by Col. Evans are said to be of a rather peculiar, if not startling, character. It is said that upon arriving in South Africa Merritt endeavored to himself promoted so that he might be senior to Evans, and to get the name of the regiment changed.

MONTREAL, May 15.—The strong spot which developed in Dominion Common stock yesterday afternoon was in evidence when the market opened this morning. Steel Common opened at 56 3/4, compared with the closing sale yesterday of 56 1/4, and advanced to 57. Shortly afterwards, however, it sold off again to the opening figure, but a stronger tone was prevalent.

MONTREAL, May 15.—Sir Thos. Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific, does not affirm positively or deny the story that the company is negotiating for the organization of a fast line on the Atlantic. Sir Thomas was shown this morning the story sent out from Ottawa, stating that the government had opened up negotiations with the C. P. R. for a fast service of weekly sailings, the company to have a capital of $50,000,000 and the government to be represented on the board by Trustees. He read it and laughed, remarking a moment later: "There is a good deal of imagination in that story. Still, it is always possible, but it requires great consideration." He would not discuss the question further, but it is known that Sir William Van Horne always advocated a fast line and seeing no sign of it succeeding considered the company undertaking it, and on this question as on many others Sir Thomas Shaughnessy entered heartily into his views.

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion. About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely. I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever. I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain, very truly yours,

A NEW VETERINARY QUARANTINE OFFICER FOR CANADA.

Dr. Arthur G. Hopkins has recently been appointed to represent the Veterinary Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in Great Britain, with headquarters at Glasgow. His official designation will be "Veterinary Quarantine Officer for Canada," and he will assume the duties performed last season by Dr. J. G. Rutherford, now chief Veterinary Adviser to the Department of Agriculture. Dr. Hopkins, while still a young man has had a wide experience, not only as a practical veterinarian, but also in the varied duties of lecturer, author and editor. He was graduated from Toronto Veterinary College in 1891 with the degree of V. S. In 1897 he obtained his diploma in Agriculture at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. He has also the degree of B. Agr. from Iowa Agricultural College, of D. V. M. from the Veterinary Department of the Iowa State College, and of M. D. V. (post grad.) from McKillop College, Chicago.

For several years Dr. Hopkins practiced his profession in Manitoba, and was at a later date appointed Instructor in Animal Husbandry at the Agricultural College, University of Wisconsin. This position he resigned to become Associate Editor of the Farmers' Advocate, Winnipeg, Man., with which paper he remained until called to his present duties. Dr. Hopkins is also the author of Veterinary Elements a manual for farmers and Agricultural students which has been accorded high praise by leading authorities as a treatise of great value to every man who has stock under his care. Dr. Hopkins leaves immediately for Great Britain in order to be prepared for this season's importations of live stock. His address until the close of navigation on the St. Lawrence, will be 52 St. Enoch Square, Glasgow, Scotland. The certificates issued by him will be accepted by the United States authorities in the same way, as were those issued by Dr. Rutherford last season.

LESSON IN BUTTER-MAKING TO SECURE PROFITABLE HOME AND ENGLISH MARKETS.

Canada enjoys the unique position of being unable to suffer from over-production so long as she tops in quality, as she can do, all competitors without more than the use of ordinary diligence, care and prudence. To get trade, a country must supply a want, and to make that trade permanent, that want must be supplied at a standard of quality superior to its competitors, or at a price lower than theirs. Canada produces what Great Britain and the rest of the world cannot do without; but, while she sells it at a market rate favorable to herself and acceptable by her customers, she is not making the most out of her latest material wealth. Her farmers and commercial men are not yet educated to the operation. It is not generally known that the Agricultural Department of the country lead them towards greater prosperity than has been enjoyed hitherto.

Frequently one hears complaints about white thread-like streaks appearing in butter. This is due to errors in the butter-making process. The butter is not properly worked, and the salt is added to the butter in the latter is still in the condition and not in the condition at a time, it dissolves quickly and throughout the mass some extent before there will not be any result. If, however, it has begun before any salt is added, as is sometimes the case, the smooth surface of the butter has been ruined. The result is that the butter is not so readily soluble in a paraffin solution. There is a process of the action of the paraffin solution, the shape of the butter is ruined.

distributed throughout the mass of butter, either through careless addition of the salt, insufficient working or working at unsuitable temperatures. The parts which contain the most salt have the deepest color; this is the natural effect of the addition of salt to butter come together in layers, and remain so for some time, the bleaching occurs which causes the streakiness.

As Mr. J. A. Ruddick, chief of the dairying division has pointed out time after time, the commercial value of Canadian butter can in no way be more easily advanced than by paying the utmost attention to finish and appearance. Use good parchment paper so as to fully protect. Avoid slovenliness in putting up butter for exportation; use black and not red stencilling, because in the British market red stencilling is the outward and visible sign of inward rot, and is a mark of very inferior grades of butter.

By this we do not mean black stencilling on qualities which really should be marked red, but if the factories would follow the practice of putting a distinguishing mark on all packages of dairy produce which is inferior in quality it would be greatly to their advantage. many a shipment of cheese or butter, of passable quality except for a few culls, is condemned wholesale because the trier happens to drop on the inferior sample. These culls are sometimes included among the good in the hope that they may escape detection. But this has become well nigh impossible, and the best remedy is to try it.

When only the quality of the butter has to be considered it is sufficient to pasteurize the cream after separation; but when it is also desired to lessen the danger of spreading disease by means of the skimmed milk it is necessary to heat the milk before separation, and cool the skimmed milk and cream afterwards. A temperature of 185 degrees Fahr. is sufficient to destroy disease germs likely to be found in milk, and whole milk may be heated to that temperature, with proper appliances and handling, without giving any objectionable flavor to the butter made from it.

In making butter from pasteurized cream the preparation and use of the fermentation starter are important parts of the operation. About two parts of skin-milk are heated to 205 degrees Fahr. and held at that point for ten minutes, after which the milk is cooled to 80 degrees Fahr. by pouring from one vessel to another, exposed to the atmosphere of the butter-making room. It is then left in a tightly closed glass jar at ordinary atmospheric temperature, in summer from 60 to 75 degrees, until it is coagulated and has a mild lactic flavor. This method can only be successful when the atmosphere to which it is exposed is free from germs which cause undesirable odors and flavors. When the culture, as this is called, has been prepared, a quantity of skim-milk, which is pure, sweet and free from taint, should be heated to 150 degrees Fahr. and left at that temperature for ten minutes. It may then be cooled to a temperature of from 60 to 70 degrees Fahr., when a portion of the culture, as already described, at the rate of from 5 to 10 per cent, should be added to it, and well mixed with it. That is the fermentation starter. It should be left to ripen at a temperature not exceeding 70 degrees Fahr. When it has become distinctly sour and is beginning the point of coagulation, the development should be checked by lowering the temperature. The starter may be added to the cream at the rate of from 5 to 6 per cent. of the quantity to be ripened. In summer where the cream has been kept in the taint be of the fermentation starter added. This will improvements in construction, in their drainage appointments and in their equipment. These changes must be effected or we cannot expect to hold a prominent place in the markets against our progressive Danish, New Zealand, Victorian and Russian, and other competitors.

It is necessary also, to provide for pasteurizing the cream from which butter is to be made for export. Among the various minute and low forms of life which are present as germs in milk and cream there is that constant struggle for survival which in a cultivated field goes on between weeds and useful plants. The careful farmer kills the soil to kill weeds and then sows pure seed for the crop he desires. The buttermaker follows a similar course where he pastures milk or cream, and then puts it into a pure starter to yield the desired flavor. Pasteurization does not destroy all the germs in milk or cream any more than cultivation eradicates all the weeds, but it decreases their number. Sterilization when efficient, destroys all forms of life; but pasteurization destroys about all of those which are injurious to the quality of dairy products. The condition thus created gives the germs of fermentation or souring which are introduced by the starter a good chance to become the prevailing life in the cream, so that the flavors which are the result of ripening or souring are those characteristic of the germs of the starter. The latter treatment should be such as to prevent any germs which bring about decay or nasty flavors from becoming active in the butter, and this is the use of cold storage.

The process of pasteurizing consists of heating the cream to a temperature of 158 to 160 degrees Fahr., and cooling it rapidly to the ripening temperature by the use of some special cooling apparatus. Wherever this has been carried out properly in Canadian creameries the results have given better keeping qualities to the butter, and have remedied faults in flavor in cases where taints of various sorts have previously been troublesome.

When only the quality of the butter has to be considered it is sufficient to pasteurize the cream after separation; but when it is also desired to lessen the danger of spreading disease by means of the skimmed milk it is necessary to heat the milk before separation, and cool the skimmed milk and cream afterwards. A temperature of 185 degrees Fahr. is sufficient to destroy disease germs likely to be found in milk, and whole milk may be heated to that temperature, with proper appliances and handling, without giving any objectionable flavor to the butter made from it.

This will check the taint and leave the particular fermentation of the starter to be the prevailing one in the cream and butter. To be the most effective, the starter should be added to the cream very soon after it has coagulated. After that point has been reached it deteriorates in activity as a starter and undesirable flavors are apt to develop in it.

Dr. Geo. E. Newell, in writing to the Live Stock Journal, says: The practical value of regularity in milking has long been recognized, but very few dairymen observe it strictly to the letter every day in the season.

VALUE OF REGULAR MILKING.

Some years ago a series of tests showed me that cows milked at irregular intervals, although twice within the twenty-four hours, shrank in yield on an average to each animal of half a pound daily, or three and a half pounds during the period of a week. During this time, other cows in the herd milked with the utmost regularity as to hour, morning and night, maintained an even flow without shrinkage.

Not caring to render the first number wholly unprofitable, a return to regular milking was made at the end of a week, but even with this it took three weeks' subsequent time before they regained their original yielding status.

On even so-called first class dairy farms the subject is not given the importance that it merits, as witness how oversleeping in the morning, or prolonged evening labor in the field, are made to reframe on the milking hour.

Bear this in mind, that if you milk cows at all, no other work on the farm that you are called to do is more important than this self-same milking.

If you stay an hour late in the field at evening to finish planting a crop of potatoes while your herd of cows stand at the pasture gate waiting to be milked, what have you gained?

The few extra rows of potatoes would grow as rapidly if planted the next morning, while what you have lost in milk yield may not be regained in many days of renewed vigilance.

On this subject a cow is wiser than some of her masters. Milk her at a certain hour a few days, and while she carries no watch, animal intelligence guides her unerringly at the self-same hour to the accustomed milking place.

You see the average cow is anxious to be a good, faithful and profitable servant to her owner, but he often opposes this endeavor by his own carelessness or stubborn ignorance.

In the flush of feed of summer it is sometimes expedient to let only ten or eleven hours intervene between the morning's and night's milking, while thirteen or fourteen hours might separate the night's from the morning's laccal extraction.

The reason for this is obvious, as the milk animal feeding more industriously during the day, secretes more milk in her udder by evening than through a corresponding time in the night, thus demanding earlier relief from her load.

LIVES WELL ON TEN ACRES.
A good friend of ours, the owner of only ten acres of good land, lives as comfortably and happily on the products of this little farm as any man on a much larger place. He keeps a pair of brood mares which raise him two good draft colts each year, barring accidents; he keeps two good cows, three or four pigs, about seventy five hens and a few stands of bees; he keeps about two acres in small fruit, strawberries, raspberries, currants, gooseberries; grows three of four acres of potatoes each year, an acre of broom corn which he works up into brooms in the winter, an acre of onions and the rest of his land in corn. He raises very large crops, for he plows deep, fertilizes his land heavily and takes good care of all crops while growing. He has in addition a plum orchard and a big a-paragus bed, which both bring in quite a nice little sum each year. He told us that he lived well and saved a little money each year, and yet there are lots of men who really believe that they cannot live on less than 100 acres.

HOULTON ME. SCORCHED

Seventy-five Residences and Three Churches Destroyed.

Houlton, Me., May 17.—What proved to be the most disastrous conflagration in the history of the town started at noon today and before it was finally gotten under control, had destroyed the greater part of the business section, 75 residences and three churches, retelling a loss of $400,000, only one-third of which is covered by insurance. One hundred and twenty-five families are rendered homeless, and the loss to the town is one that will require many years to repair.

The town fire department, which was powerless to cope with the fire, was aided by firemen from Woodstock, N. E. Presque Isle and Caribou, Me., while volunteers from this and surrounding towns did excellent service with buckets and other apparatus in saving property that must have been otherwise destroyed by the immense showers of sparks which were blown in all directions by the wind. The fire started in the rear of Dyar's market and grocery store on the north side of upper Main street, and it was an incredibly short time before it was sweeping through the business section of the town at a pace which led many to believe that the entire town would be wiped out of existence before it could be controlled.

MIRAMICHI YACHT CLUB.

Annual Meeting—Programme of Races for 1902.

The 16th annual meeting of the Miramichi Yacht Club, the oldest yacht club in New Brunswick, was held in Col. Call's office, Newcastle, Thursday afternoon. Mr. Fred Treadwell's steam yacht, Weneau, took up most of the Chatham members of the club. She easily outran a big schooner with a fresh fair wind.

Commodore Miller took the chair. Mr. R. A. Lawlor read the Secretary's report showing only a small amount on hand except a ten-dollar gold piece that was given as a prize by Col. Call in 1900, won by Mr. James Miller in the Mande, and not yet handed over to Mr. Miller. The cash on hand, including the dues paid at the meeting, will just about pay the cash prizes that were won last season.

The following were elected to membership—Hon. J. P. Burchill of Nelson, and Mr. E. N. Raddock of Chatham.

The following programme was arranged for this season:

Saturday, May 24. Cruise.

Thursday, July 24. Race Chatham. Stewart flag.

Thursday, Aug. 21. Race Chatham to Newcastle and back. Adams Cup.

Thursday, Sept. 18. Race Newcastle.

Saturday, Oct. 4. Race Chatham.

More Boers Captured.

Another big Drive Which Resulted in the Capture of 400.

VERBURG, Bechnaland, Friday, May 16.—The immunity which David Kitchener granted to the delegates to the evening conference of Boer leaders and their immediate followers from molestation by the British columns, has not prevented the continuation of one of the biggest drives of the war, which has just wound up against the Bechnaland blockhouse line.

General Hamilton and other commanders have gathered in 400 prisoners, including 100 rebels and recalcitrant Boers, who have caused much trouble in the past. Among the prisoners are a brother of General Delany and several other commandants. The movement was remarkable for the lack of resistance by the Boers, most of whom surrendered after aimless dodging, without fighting. There was no British casualties. Five hundred Boers managed to escape in the earlier stages of the drive.

Meeting of Presbytery.

The Presbytery of Miramichi held a pro rata meeting at Newcastle on Tuesday, May 20th, at eleven o'clock a. m. Rev. J. D. Murray acted as moderator pro tem and Rev. J. M. McLean as clerk. Seated, Revs. Wm. Aitken, T. G. Johnston, D. Mackintosh, J. D. Murray, S. M. McLean, J. Wheeler and A. M. MacLeod, ministers, and Messrs. John Sinclair and John Menzies, Elders.

The business before the meeting was the call from Blackville to Rev. A. D. Fraser, St. George's, N. B. The call was duly sustained and ordered to be forwarded to the clerk of St. John Presbytery.

In case of acceptance provisional arrangements were made for Mr. Fraser's induction on June 19th at 7.30 p. m. Rev. T. G. Johnston to preside and induct, Rev. J. M. McLean to preach, Rev. D. Mackintosh to address the pastor and Rev. A. M. MacLeod to address the people. There being no other business, the meeting adjourned.

Two residents of Bloomfield Station—Mrs. Fillmore and her grandchild, the five-year-old son of Station Agent R. A. Brown—were instantly killed yesterday afternoon when attempting to cross the track in front of the Pacific express, as it passed Bloomfield at 3.15 o'clock (local).

Lieut. Col. R. R. Call has received his Colonial Auxiliary or Long Service decoration. It is very neatly made of gold and silver, with the monogram V. R. I. in gold surrounded by silver ring on which is "Colonel Auxiliary Forces" on the reverse side. Lieut. Col. R. R. Call, 12th Field Battery, C. A. F. is attached by a neat silver pin and dark green ribbon.

Col. Call held a commission for over 32 years divided as follows:—

Lieut. 3 years, 3 months, 12 days.
Captain, 5 years.
Major, 11 years, 1 month, 17 days.

Weak?

"I suffered terribly and was extremely weak for 12 years. The doctors said my blood was all turning to water. At last I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was soon feeling all right again."
Mrs. J. W. Fila, Hadlyme, Ct.

No matter how long you have been ill, nor how poorly you may be today, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine you can take for purifying and enriching the blood.

Don't doubt it, put your whole trust in it, throw away everything else.

Ask your doctor what he thinks of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He knows all about this grand old family medicine. Follow his advice and we will be satisfied.
J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Bro. Henry Wyse, Deputy Grand Master of N. B. invited the members to his residence where a sumptuous supper was served. County Master Grindlay occupied the chair and W. J. Sutherland W. M., of No. 47 the Vice chair. After full justice had been done to the good things provided, Bro. John Menzies proposed a toast to the host and hostess which was spoken to by Bro. Ward, Anderson and Sutherland.

Bro. Wyse replied in happy style and gave some interesting reminiscences of early days in the history of the Order in Newcastle.

Speeches were also made by Bro. Russell, McGurn, O'Donnell and Corbett of No. 47; C. M. of No. 110; and Cowie and Clark of No. 90.

The gathering broke up about 1.30 a. m. with the singing of the National Anthem.

Maine has now a Smallpox Scare.

Eleven Cases Near Hallowell; Four New Ones Saturday.

HALLOWELL, Me., May 17.—There is some excitement on account of the outbreak of smallpox on Granite Hill about three miles from this city. Four new cases were discovered today making 11 in all. A strict quarantine has been placed on a number of buildings there. The majority of heads of families residing on the Hill are employed at the works of the Hallowell Granite Company and that concern has voted to shut down its plant until the case is over. Dr. A. G. Young, secretary of the state board of health announced tonight that the disease was the genuine article and that after an investigation and after a consultation with the local board it had been decided that precautionary measures be taken. A general quarantine occurred in a boarding house where it is said that the person from whom the disease was contracted boarded. The local board of health has issued orders requiring all persons to become vaccinated.

Y. M. C. A.

A business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held in their room on Tuesday evening last. President McNaughton in the chair. A considerable amount of business was transacted. The Committee on athletic sports reported that they had procured a suitable field for games, part of which had been vacated, which would make the rent very low. Some steps were taken towards the organizing of a basketball team. It was decided to expend the amount of $12 to procure the necessary outfit for this team. Secretary was authorized to procure application blanks and membership tickets. Considerable discussion took place as to the best time and manner of holding Evangelical services. It was decided for the present that a Sunday afternoon meeting for men only, should be held at 4 o'clock. Other routine business was transacted and the meeting adjourned to meet Tuesday next, May 20th.

DOAKTOWN.

The forest fires have already started. There is one sweeping the forest back of Carrol Crossing in Ludlow and another in Blenheim.

The water is getting very low in the river, and the drives at last account were up about Burnt Hill, twenty miles above Boiestown, and it will be almost impossible for them to reach the boom without rain.

GRAND ANSE.

The Northwest gales that raged here from the 10th until the 14th almost without ceasing caused great destruction among the lobster traps and salmon nets. Driving the traps ashore, in many places the lobster traps cannot be found at all, while in others they are so badly broken as to be almost useless.

A whale 60 feet long was driven ashore at Blue Cove on Monday. The amateur whalers of that section are now busy cutting a supply of whale oil and many have driven a long distance to see it as whales are not to be seen every day around here.

At that time there was no railroad along the coast. All the travel was done with teams, and that in many cases over very bad roads but with the building of the Caraqueet R. R. which took place some time after, that the prosperity of the country began by the opening up of trade of all kinds. The farmers were then given a market for their surplus produce which they were not slow to take advantage of.

THE BOER DELEGATES.

One Hundred and Sixty Leaders Confer The Outlook.

PRETORIA, May 18.—The Boer delegates who are assembled at Vereeniging, Transvaal, held prolonged conferences Thursday and Friday of last week.

LONDON, May 19.—A despatch to the Times from Pretoria says that about 160 Boer leaders are assembled at Vereeniging, and that their demeanor leads one to suppose that they will vote in favor of a continuation of hostilities, but the fact that the voting is by ballot might turn the balance to the side of peace.

Whatever the direct result of the conference may be, says the correspondent, the end of the war is not far distant, because the conference will probably be followed by numerous surrenders in various directions, enabling large bodies of British troops to be liberated and poured into the resisting districts.

The fire department was called out yesterday to help extinguish a fire which caught in the dry refuse from Mr. Hickson's mill and which threatened to spread and set fire to the surrounding buildings.

Side-Tracked in the Temperance Hall last Saturday was about the meanest apology for a show that has visited Newcastle for some time. The actors seemed bent on having a good time and the way they carried on both between the acts and during the acts made a play a roaring success instead of a delightful comedy as advertised. The audience was good natured and enjoyed it all.

Rev. Dr. E. S. J. McAllister, May 7th, at Portland, Me., united in the bonds of matrimony James H. Soule of South Portland and Mary Jane Lillard of Black River N. B. The ceremony took place at the residence of the officiating clergyman and was witnessed by a small company composed of the contracting parties. After their marriage the newly wedded couple went immediately to their new home at South Portland.—World.

The first Sunday afternoon meeting for men in the Y. M. C. A. rooms was a decided success. A goodly number were present and listened with close attention to a very pointed and practical address from a visiting clergyman. The singing was good and everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves. The Executive are planning to make these afternoon meetings a regular feature of the Association work and extend a cordial invitation to old and young men to be present.

The Norwegian barques in port were flying their flags on Saturday in honor of Norway's natal day, or rather the day on which the Norwegians gained the power to make their own laws and form their own government. The event took place in 1814, when Norway was ceded to Sweden. The one king reigned over Sweden and Norway, but beyond the sending of a viceroy Sweden has practically nothing to say in the government of the country. All the legislative power resides entirely in the national representative assembly, called the Storting (great court), which meets yearly. The day is celebrated among the Norwegians no matter in what part of the world they reside.

The second contingent of young lady teachers from Canada for South Africa left London on the morning of the 10 inst. They were all well and said they felt almost as homesick at leaving England as they did at leaving Canada. The agent general for New Brunswick and others went to the station to see them off and they expressed themselves delighted with the treatment they had received in England.

An extensive programme is being arranged by an efficient committee. The chief feature of the day will be the laying of the corner stone of the new hall.

The audience which assembled in the Methodist Church last Wednesday evening, enjoyed a concert of great excellence. The choir under the training of Professor Layton scored inspired for the occasion and those who could appreciate high class music well rendered, were delighted. Miss Rogers of whom much was expected was not a disappointment. She delighted the audience with her simple grace and unaffected style. Her impersonation of Shylock in Merchant of Venice showed fair dramatic ability. Her selections from Shakespeare were especially worthy of praise. As Dr. Emerson, Head of the School of Oratory, Boston wrote of her, "Her voice is free and responsive, revealing, unusual sympathy of character. Her manner is pleasing, graceful and dignified." She deals with subjects of deep interest to the good of mankind.

Mr. W. L. T. Weldon's four-year old daughter set fire to her clothes, Wednesday evening, while she and her youngest brother were playing at the kitchen stove. The little boy's lusty yells brought father and mother flying to the rescue, and they quickly tore the burning garments off the little girl, getting their hands badly burned in doing so. A friend of Deputy Sheriff Irvine sent him up from down river a fish for his Sunday's dinner but it failed to arrive until Monday morning. On opening the parcel which was very carefully tied up the Deputy was startled by the most hideous looking fish which was presented to his vision. No one who viewed it has been able to give it a name and it was forwarded to Dr. Cox of Chatham to mount for the Miramichi Natural History Society. The fish was about 18 inches long and girthed about the same and had a head resembling that of a pug dog.

Bowser's Sentiment.

There was a softness and a sadness in Mr. Bowser's face as he came home the other evening, and Mrs. Bowser was puzzled to tell whether he had found a nickel on the street corner or heard of the death of a cousin. After dinner, during which he mentioned his childhood days and sighed over the passing of years, he proceeded to explain.

Do you know that we have become cold-hearted, indifferent and selfish, he asked as he heaved a sigh and shook his head in a solemn way.

Not in particular, replied Mrs. Bowser, who remembered that she had fed four tramps within a week.

But we have, just the same. How often, as we sit here of an evening, do we call up and discuss the days of our childhood, of our boyhood and girlhood, of the dear old homes that sheltered us before we went out into the world? Not once in 10 years. My father and mother are dead as well as your father—

And what else she asked as he paused.

He suddenly remembered that her mother was still living and was wondering why death had not also claimed her. He thought it best not to say anything about it, however, and went on—and the dear old homes have passed into the hands of strangers. Do we ever speak of the gardens, the meadows, the old pea trees, the lanes and the orchards? Never. There are the hills we used to slide down in winter, the brooks we paddled in when summer came, the groves with their swings and the big walnut trees shading the front porch but we never recall them. Instead of that we sit here and read or play cards or go to theater, and our hearts grow hard and selfish. We ought to be ashamed of ourselves.

Mr. Bowser got up and wiped at the corner of his eye and walked around, and the cat came out from under the piano and sat up and looked solemnly at the figure of the carpet.

And what happened today to start this train of thought? asked Mrs. Bowser after awhile.

The merest trifle, replied Mr. Bowser. On the table in a corner of flowers. Among his flowers he had two bunches of catnip. The instant I got the odor of it I was carried back to my boyhood days. In our homely old garden we had chyme and hollyhocks and pinks and creeping charlie and catnip. You must remember catnip.

Yes.

The scent of it comes to me through all these long years. I remember nothing of the past so vividly as catnip.

They didn't make you eat catnip soup when you were a boy, did they she asked.

Madam, answered Mr. Bowser as he stopped before her and glared, don't run this thing into burlesque! If you have got a brickbat, where your heart ought to be, I haven't. I am still a human being, although you have tried your hardest to make me a man of straw.

Well, you saw bunches of catnip. I did, and I bought them at once.

Burning, Itching, Stinging Piles

If people could only realize the virtue of Dr. Chase's Ointment they would not suffer long with piles.

Mr. W. H. Whitehair, a well-known and respected citizen of Cobourg, Ont., states:—“Having used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles, I can testify to its great value. The suffering which I endured from the burning, itching, stinging sensation of piles was something awful, and I can say that there is nothing in this world to equal Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for this dreadful disease. I tried a great many remedies and never got more than slight relief from any of them. But while Dr. Chase's Ointment brought quick relief, it went further and made a thorough cure. I cannot say too much in recommendation of this great remedy.”

This is the only preparation which is positively guaranteed to cure any form of piles. Ask your neighbors about it. 60c a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

It's my 17th attempt to assassinate you, and of course you'll apply for a divorce.

But he simply sighed and groaned and went to bed, like an over-tired boy. He had met the catnip and the cats, and he was theirs.

Success Assured When Th DIAMOND DYES.

Are Used.

Success in home dyeing depends altogether upon the quality of the dyes on select for the work of coloring. Diamond Dyes are sold at 10 cents per package, the same price that many people pay for imitation and adulterated dyes. The most progressive druggists and dealers will sell no other dyes but the Diamond, because the inferior dyes cause so much grumbling and loss of materials.

Do not accept imitations or substitutes from any dealer no matter how strongly he may recommend them. The poor dyes are sold simply because they pay large profits. See that the name “Diamond” is on each package you buy.

Sent Postal Card with your address to The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain St., Montreal, P. Q., for Diamond Dye and Rug Designs.

We are here, began the chairman of the committee, to discuss ways and means for securing the passage of our bill by the legislature.

Well, remarked one, who was something of a lobbyist, I know the surest of all ways if we only have sufficient means.

The fellow who keeps grinding is almost sure to make his point.

Dejected youth—Yes, I must confess, dear old chap, that women want a lot of undetected grunting.

Dick—One is so apt to lose sight of one's friends.

Phil—That's not necessary. Mine stick to me with touching fidelity.

How do you manage it?

Oh, I borrow money from them.

You ask for my daughter's hand in marriage. When you want to marry her?

I will leave that to your daughter.

Do you wish for a fashionable or quiet wedding?

Her mother can decide on that.

What is your income?

I'll leave that entirely to you sir.
