MURDER IN A CROWDED STORE. St. Louis, Mo., April 11.-Yesterday afternoon, when the department store of Siegel & Hillman was crowded with shoppers, Frank Callaway caused a panic by shooting and killing his wife, who was employed there as a saleswoman. Five shots were fired at the woman, the bullets entering her head and breast. Callaway gave himself up, Recently Mrs. Callaway filed a suit for Liverpoor, April 10 .- News from the River Opobo shows that the Niger Coast Protectorate troops, whilst going into the Ibo country, met with serious opposition when a couple of days out. This was about 25 miles from Opobo, where British troops were confronted by several thousand armed natives. After a severe engagement. The enemy fled, but returned next morning, and to the number of 1,500 surrendered to the British. They also brought in their arms, which consisted chiefly of flint-lock guns.

This tribe would never allow the white to go into their country, and at their caprice trade was, stopped from time to time. The protectorate force had several quick firing guns with them, which inflicted serious loss on the natives. The white officers en-deavored to bring the people to a palaver first, and avoid fignting. Two of the protectorate force were killed and several wounded. Capt. Mackenzie, who held the distinguished service order, and lately served in India, died on his way home.

Major Leonard, with the victorious troops, is marching inland, and making across country for New Calabar. He does not expect to meet with any further opposition. A vast stretch of country is being opened up by this expedition. The scene of the fighting is not, of course, within the territory of the Niger Company, but in a region under government administration. The country is situated immediately behind the coast, west of Akassa, the port at the chief mouth of the Niger.

BRITISH-CANADIAN TRADE. London, April 11 .- The statement of the board of trade for the month of March shows a decrease of £1,920,430 in imports, and an increase of £1,474,-100 in exports. The statement shows the following changes in trade tween Great Britain and Canada for the first three months of the calendar year: Imports from Canada-Wheat decreased £13,500; cheese decreased, £89,500; fish decreased, £161,000; maize increased, £23,000; bacon increased, £25,000; hams increased, £39,000. Exports to Canada-Cotton, piece goods, increased, £23,000; linen increased, £13,000; woolen goods, $12,500; wearing increased, apparel and slops, £18,000. SOMEBODY LIED. Paris. April 11.-The Eclair this morning publishes the deposition of Senator Trarieux, made before the court of cassation in the Dreyfus revision proceedings. M. Trarieux said that Count Tornelli Brusati di Vergan, the Italian ambassador to France, told him when the Matin printed a fac-simile of the bordereau that it was a flashlight reproduction, that the documents mentioned had been given to the German attache by a person other than Dreyfus, and that the handwriting of the bordereau was that of the officer who gave the documents to the attache. Count Tornelli further told him that an attache of the Italian embassy showed him (the ambassador) a letter from the German attache, stating this, and asserting that he did not know

Dreyfus, and attributing to Count Esterhazy the act for which the courtmartial had wrongly found Dreyfus M. Loriller, private secretary to the late Lieut.-Col. Henry, who committed suicide at Mont Valerien fortress last August, after confessing to having forged a letter largely instrumental in delaying the Dreyfus revision, killed himself last evening. EASILY SATISFIED.

The premier, Charles Alexandre Duspeech to his constituents yesterday at Le Puy, capital of the department of Haute Loire, said that the situation both at home and abroad was eminentand Great Britain, and said that France was "now free for industrial and commercial development and a large field of colonizing." Reverting to home affairs, he said: "The agitations are only on the surface. Beneath are calm industry and security. The end of the Dreyfus affair appears to be in sight, and the complications will be unraveled. The government, however, attaches importance to reiterating its determination to repress all polemics which call the national army in question."

POISONED HER SISTER. London, April 11 .- At a coroner's inquest the cause of death of Caroline Ansell, an inmate of the Leavesden asylum, who died of poisoning, after eating cake received from her sister, Ansell, the testimony disclosed the fact that the sister had previously insured the life of deceased. The jury found Mary Ansell guilty of the poisoning, and the coroner committed her for trial on the charge of murder.

Complete Success of Gen. Lawton's Campaign.

An Insurgent Attack Repulsed-Filipinos Suffer Heavy Loss.

Washington, April 11 .- The war department has received a dispatch from Gen. Otis announcing the success of Gen. Lawton's campaign in the capture of Santa Cruz. He says that Gen. Lawton is pushing the rebels into the mountains beyond the city. Gen. Otis also informs the war department that the insurgents made an attack upon Gen. Wheaton's brigade, and that they were repulsed with heavy

Santa Cruz was the Filipinos' stronghold on Lake Laguna de Bay, and it fell into the hands of Gen. Lawton's expedition after some sharp, quick firing, forming one of the most interesting and important battles of the war.
The plans of the American commanders worked perfectly, with the exception that the progress of the expedition was delayed by the difficult navigation of the river. About 1,500 picked men composed the expedition, which was under the personal command of Gen. These troops partly surrounded the city, while the gunboats Laguna de battery, held the city and outlying born in Hamilton, Ont., and was 61 years old. He married Miss Shenstone, trenches. Gen. Lawton and staff accompanied the troops, sometimes leading charges tually resulted in the complete rout of the rebels, with the smallest amount of damage to the city and slight loss to the Americans.

THE FIGHT. At sunrise Monday the assault commenced. The American line south of the city stretched two miles inland and, with its left sweeping the shore, it moved north, while the Fourth Cavalry men on the point advanced toward the city pouring volleys upon the trenches. Simultaneously the gunboats hovered along the sore, shelling the woods ahead of the troops, and driving the Filipinos inland. The Gat-lings cleared several trenches.

The whole brigade was divided into squads of twelve, and the fighting was carried on in the old-time frontier fashion, from behind trees, crawling through bushes, or rushing across the open. The trenches that were not cleared by the gunboats gave considerable resistence when the line was nearing the city. General Lawton, with the Fourteenth Infantry battalions, approached a narrow iron bridge across a creek on the south border of the town. Here a company of Filipinos was entrenched across the stream, and behind a stone barricade at the entrance to the bridge. The Americans rushed forward in single file in the face of a galling fire, demolished the barricade with their hands, and drove the enemy from the trenches.

were taken prisoners. A considerable number of Filipinos fled northward, crossing the open marshes, but the Gatlings poured upon them a deadly hail until they disappeared in the woods, slaying dozens. Major Weisenberger deployed the sharpshooters along the shore, and they crept steadily forward, aiding the Gatlings. Finally a large body was sent against the enemy in the woods, driving them toward the mountains. Gen. Lawton established his headquarters at the elegant palace of the governor, and a guard was immediately placed in the church. Almost ali the inhabitants had fled during the two preceding nights.

DEAD FILIPINOS.

On the marshes north of the town were found 40 dead Filipinos-some terribly torn by shells, and many others wounded, to whom the Americans offered their canteens as though they were comrades. A surgeon who traversed the field counted eighty killed, and General Lawton will report at least 68. One Filipino, attempting to escape, slashed viciously at Weinberger, who shot and killed him.

Sunday the insurgents captured two men of the Fourteenth Infantry, while unarmed, but the Americans stole the guns of their captors, clubbed them, hid in the trees over night, and returned yesterday morning.

Woman's ...Nerves.

"Poor girl," you say, as a fainting saleslady succumbs to exhausted nerves and is prostrated. But think of the headaches, backaches, and weak, languid feel. ings of the thousands of women, in all walks of life, whose nerves are shattered and exhausted, and to whom life is one round of misery.

It is in the spring, when the blood is thin, watery and diseased, that the nerves are starved and exhausted for want of proper nourishment. Every spring the majority of women struggle against the weakness of exhausted nerves, gradually growing more nervous and irritable, gradually getting paler, thinner, and weaker, as the days go by.

Energy, appetite, and vigor disappear. One is too nervous to sleep. The nerves of the delicate female organism are powerless to control the natural functions, and menstruation is either profuse or suppressed and painful, causing a further loss of vital force and weakness of the system.

Is it any wonder that women become irritable? Is it any wonder that they worry over trifles and become pale, thin and weak? Is it any wonder that beauty fades and they lose interest in life and become despondent?

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food

Restores and revitalize the exhausted nerve cells as no other remedy was ever known to do. It is the ideal restorative for spring because it supplies the blood with the life-giving principles which make it pure, rich and red.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does not stimulate; it does not arouse false hope. It does effect prompt and permanent cures by filling the body with the vigor of robust health and so strengthening the nerves as to enable them to overcome weakness and disease.

Pale, weak, nervous women become plump, rosy and healthy by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The ills peculiar to their sex are driven from the system. The tired, languid feelings of spring give way to new energy and vitality when this great food cure is

HIS NINTH VICTIM

"Rajah," the Elephant, Kills His Trainer at Kansas City.

Kansas City, April 11.—"Rajah," a mammoth elephant owned by Lemen Bros.' circus company, which has been wintering in Argentine, Kan., near here, on Sunday killed its keeper, Frank Fisher.

Fisher had returned to the tent intoxicated, and tried to make the different animals perform. Coming to the elephant he hugged the beast's trunk and ordered it to open its mouth. Becoming enraged, Rajah crushed Fisher's arm, and, throwing him to the ground, made repeated efforts to pierce the prostrate trainer's body with its

Unable to reach him, "Rajah" finally knelt upon Fisher, crushing his life out before assistance could arrive. Fisher was 28 year old, and his home was in Montreal, Canada. He is said to be "Rajah's" ninth victim.

Practical Address by the Minister of Customs.

Workings of the British Preference Explained.

Increased Trade With Great Britain and Prosperity in Canada-Opposition Refuted.

Ottawa, April 11.—The feature of yesterday's session was a brilliant address by Hon. Wm. Paterson, minister

Hon. Mr. Paterson applied himself especially to the tariff question, pointing out that it was likely that the minister of finance will be able to announce a surplus of a million and three-quarters this year, and will possibly, if not probably, be in a position to tell the taxpayers of a surplus am-ounting to twice that amount at the close of 1899-1900, a statement which doubtless will be applauded in the country, as it was in the house this afternoon. The minister of customs also showed that arguments of the opposition against the government's pref-erential tariff reeked with contradictions and inconsistencies. It needed no figures, no elaborately prepared tables to show that the country's foreign trade had increased a full 25 per cent since the auspicious Dominion Day of 1897, and that every dollar of the resultant $60,000,000 increase in foreign trade meant more money for the Canadian nearly Craphical and the Canadian nearly canadian ne adian people. Graphically Mr. Paterson showed that the factories, which Conservative stump orators had said would be closed and vacant, were working overtime; that the operatives in place of being idle, had money in pockets in which two years ago not many coin clinked. With great particularity Mr. Paterson explained the workings of the reciprocal tariff, and completely did away with Mr. Clarke Wallace's moth-eaten charge that the effect of the reciprocal tariff was to benefit the Americans in place of our own kin in the motherland.

The Conservative charge that the duties on corn, wheat, flour and other staples which are brought from the United States were in favor of the Americans was disproved. Figures submitted by the minister of customs incontrovertibly showed that the importation of American flour had been decreased by 40,000 barrels, while the importation of American wheat had been reduced from 142,000 brushels to

IRON AND STEEL TARIFF.

The cry against the reduction of duties on iron and steel were shown to be unjustifiable, because the effect of the change had been to give work to Canadian mechanics, and had reduced the prices which the Canadian farmer has to pay for the manufactured articles. According to the argument of Mr. Wallace the reduction of the duty on scrap iron from $4 to $1 per ton had aided the Americans; a perversion of facts, as Hon. Mr. Patterson showed. The American now paid $100 duty on 100 tons of scrap, while the importer of the English article contributed but $75 to the customs department when importing the same quantity. By concrete instances such as these Hon. Mr. Paterson showed that the British preference is not a myth, but a tang existent fact; the sort of fact that results in saving money for the pockets of the Canadian importer in place of compelling him to hand it over to the customs officials. No Canadian is prohibited from importing United States goods if he chooses to deprive himself of the 25 per cent reduction of duties which he would obtain under the pref-erential tariff. The tariff is a matter of business, and business men know, and their profit and loss account shows, that the preferential tariff discriminates in favor of British products. Gentlemen of the opposition might as well argue that the earth is flat as to repeat, as they seem to delight to repeat, that the preferential tariff is a figment of the imagination. Results show that the preference exists and benefits Canadians; merchants all over Canada know that they have savmoney by its operations, the customs returns, prepared by officers who have no prejudice one way or the other, set forth plainly the true condition of affairs. The Conservative press publishes these returns once a month, yet there seems to be no abandoning of their leaders' worship of the fetich, of the denunciation of the preferential tariff by the followers of Sir Charles Tupper and his aide, Mr. Foster. THE BRITISH PREFERENCE. Another portion of Mr. Paterson's contribution to the debate was devoted to showing that cottons and many other textiles of British manufacture enjoy a marked preference. Mr. Paterson pointed out that in a list of 41 items of such goods of British make there is not one that does not come into the Dominion under a lower impost than under the Foster tariff. In the same way the allegation that the administration had leaned towards the United States was disproved by the use of the following compact table: Imports from the United States in 1896, $53,529,390; average duty. 14.51 per cent. In 1898, $74,824,923; average duty, 13.28 per cent. Imports from Great Britain in 1896, $32,824,505; average duty, 22.42 per cent.

In 1898, $32,043,641; average duty, 20.44 per cent. Thus it will be seen that the reduction of the average duties under the workings of the preferential tariff is 1.23 per cent on United States goods, while on British imports it is 1.98 per cent, or exactly .75 per cent greater on British goods. But nine solitary ar-ticles of British manufacture pay a higher rate under the preferential tariff than under the Foster tariff; while in contrast with this 957 articles from the mother country now come in under lower rates than specified in the Conservative schedules. In other words, $80,000 worth of British goods annually pay increased duties, while in the same time $20,000,000 worth secure the cut rate of duty provided for by the Cana-dian-Imperial preferential tariff. A signal instance of the government's determination to act in thorough good faith was to be seen in Mr. Paterson's announcement of their action in re-funding $100,000 in duties on British goods which were imported before the workings of the preferential tariff were thoroughly well understood by exporters. This, of course, is an exceptional case, and the $100,000 will be money well and fairly expended. By the workings of the preferential tariff Mr. Paterson showed beyond dispute that the taxation of the country has been greatly diminished. The total taxable imports in 1896 were $105,361,161, on which $20,219,037, or 19.19 per cent was collected in duties. Last year the same imports had swollen in value to $126,307,162, paying $22,157,788, in place of $24,238,344, which a 19.19 average rate would have produced. Thus $2,080,555 in cash, which, under the old tariff would have been excised, under the new tariff was left in the pockets of the people of the Dominion, and the average rate of duty was lowered to 17.54, in place of 19.19. The interruptions from the Conservatives that had marked the ovening of the speech of the minister of customs ceased under this torrent of proof, and the opposition leaders took the dose with ill-grace. Although the national forum has heard many a brilliant speech, few have been more notable than that of the minister of customs yesterday.

MR BERGERON ANSWERED. Mr. Bergeron followed in an attack on the minister of public works. He made a statement that election frauds had taken place in Quebec at the time of the taking of the plebiscite. The wind was rather taken out of Mr. Bergeron's sails by an immediate an-nouncement by the first minister that on receipt of charges possessing any semblance of definiteness steps would be taken immediately to have an investi-

THE BOUNDARY QUESTION. The government, Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated, are conducting negotiations with Washington with a view to arriving at a provisional arrangement concerning the boundary and bonding question at Dyea and Skagway. The action of United States customs officers at Dyea in stopping consignments of Canadian goods and demanding the payment of United States duty has been reported to Washington.

THE CLOSURE SUGGESTED. The undue and useless prolongation of debate has impelled Mr. Charlton to ask the House of Commons to take some steps towards preventing the inexcusable waste of time. He will move that a special committee be formed to consider the question and make a recommendation to the house.

THE YANKEE KICKERS. Allen and Semple, the two Americans who came to Ottawa to revolutionize the administration of the Yukon, have left for parts unknown, bers of the administration. It is remarkable that with the arrival of Mr. Fawcett in Ottawa their anxiety to interview the ministry evaporated, and their stay came to an abrupt close.

HONEYMOON INTERRUPTED

W. K. Vanderbilt and His Bride Burned Out-The Beautiful Mansion "Idlehour" in Ashes.

New York, April 11.-W. K. Vanderbilt's country house, Idlehour, at Oakdale, L. I., was totally destroyed by fire about 3 a.m. today. No lives were lost and no one was injured. W. K. Vanderbilt, jun., and bride, formerly Miss Virginia Fair, were occupying the house at the time.

The fire is believed to have originated in the cellar accidentally. It broke out at 3:45 a.m., and in the hour the magnificent structure, with all its val-uable fittings, was totally destroyed. Besides young Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt there were 12 or 15 servants in the house. All got safely out. Mr. Van-derbilt and his wife came to New York on an early train.

THE ALARM.

The fire was discovered by one of the Vanderbilt watchmen, who saw flames coming from the cellar. He arroused the occupants of the house, and they all left it hurriedly. Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt, jun., were among the first to get out. The servants then began to remove some of the furniture from the lower floors of the house One of the domestics took a rockingchair to young Mrs. Vanderbilt, who sat on the lawn and watched the fiames burn down the house. Young Mr. Vanderbilt left his bride, as soon as he saw she was in no danger, and gave directions as to fighting the fire.

When the volunteer firemen of the neighboring villages reached the Vanderbilt grounds, the flames had spread through the entire structure, and had communicated to the annex constructed recently. It was an impossibility to save the house, and the flames continued to burn until they had completely razed the building. Mr. Vanderbilt remained seated in a chair on the lawn until the flames had almost died out. This was about 6:30, and she suffered from cold. Mr. Vanderbilt, after his fruitless effort to prevent the destruction of his father's property, returned to the side of his wife, and they went to the house of the keeper of the lodge at Westgate, and then came to the city. THE LOSS.

The furniture saved was not valuable. The bric-a-brac, paintings, and everything of value in the mansion were consumed. The fire is believed to have started from one of the furnaces. The total loss is estimated at between $250,000 and $300,000. There was carried a heavy insurance.

The house was of Queen Anne architecture built of brick, stone and terra cotta. It had double gables with handsome bay windows on the side, a tower in the center and an octagon effect in the front section of the building. The tower part of the structure had spacious verandes.

A Possible Pope-A Popular English Prelate.

Herbert, Cardinal Vaughan, who is said to be the newest candidate for the papacy, is the foremost Englishspeaking ecclesiastic in the body of the Roman Catholic Church since the death of the famed Cardinals Newman, Wiseman and Manning. Vaughan is a priest of the title of Saints Andrew and Gregory on the Coelian Hill; he has been the archbishop of West-minster (unreformed) since 1892. He is 69 years old, and is the son of the late John F. Vaughan, of Courtfield, near Ross. The cardinal was educated in the Jesuit school at Stonyhurst and at Rome, where he won his degree doctor of divinity. His early work in the church was connected with foreign and home missions, and his wealth and prominence enabled him to be the founder of several colleges. Prior to his appointment as the archbishop of Westminster he was the bishop of Salford, and he went to London in 1892. He has written a number of able tracts and pamphlets upon religious questions and upon social matters. The cardinal is especially interested in social movements, and is scientifically inclined. He has among his friends some of the most eminent of the Protestant nobility and is one of the most popular churchmen in England, Protestant or Cath-

CANADAIN MEAT TRADE

Big Syndicate to Cater to Foreign and Domestic Markets.

Montreal, April 11.-The Consumers' Syndicate, of New York, is being organized, with a capital of $500,000. mostly subscribed in New York, for the purpose of engaging in the Canadian domestic and foreign meat trade.

The proposition is explained by Mr. John Beiser, of this city, who represents the company here. The syndicate proposes to erect slaughter-houses chances of an error to the minimum. somewhere west of Toronto for the When Mr. —— is umpiring at first purpose of killing American cattle for the British trade, and Canadian cattle ball being fair or foul by reason of its for the Canadian trade. Refrigerators closeness, he is in a position to judge of a capacity sufficient to contain any to a certainty, and should give you a supply of meat which may be requirsign to guide you in making an abso- ed will be erected at Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal, and Quebec, and meat gether in this and many other ways will be delivered in Montreal within 24 hours of the time it is killed. It is claimed that by killing in the west a saving of from 1 to 2 cents per pound can be secured to the customer in Montreal, the reasons being the saving of freight effected by bringing the meat here dressed instead of alive, the lower price of live stock in Toronto, and the improved facilities promised by the syndicate. The proposal is to sell butchers their dressed meat at a less price than they can purchase the live stock and kill and dress it themselves. The syndicate's profit will come mainly from the utilizing of the offal, etc., of the animals, which they value, for certain specific ends.

The syndicate has proposed to pay the federal government 25 cents a head upon all cattle killed for the export trade, providing the government refunds the duty upon the carcasses shipped in bond. The syndicate is willing to pay the duty on American cattle imported, but they want it refunded when the meat is shipped out.

A WOODSTOCK CASE.

Mr. Masa Willis Tells of His Escape From Kidney Disease.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him-He Used Other Medicines but Got Little Good From Them-Cured by Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Woodstock, Ont., Aug. 10.—There has been a great deal of discussion in this city during the past two weeks, regarding the truly remarkable case of A. N. Wideman, of Duntroon, who was cured of Inflammatory Rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after his doctor had failed to cure him, and his recovery was not expected.

During it all not one voice has been raised to say that the story of the Wideman case was not strictly true. Dodd's Kidney Pills have effected too many cures in Woodstock for that, But the talk about Mr. Wideman's case has brought forward another grateful citizen, who boasts of having been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. This gentleman is Mr. Masa Willis, of 295 Dundas street, and he tells his story thus:

"For several years I suffered severely from Kidney Disease, pains in my back, etc. I used various medicines, but got little benefit from any of them

"My son had used Dodd's Kidney Pills with excellent effect, and he advised me to try them. I acted on his advice, and am happy to say I am thoroughly cured.

"I used only four boxes of this grand medicine, but I needed no more. Now I always keep a box in my room, as I believe Dodd's Kidney Pills are a first-class family medicine."

Dodd's Kidney Pills the only sure cure for Bright's Disease, Diabetes,

Our School System Criticised.

Prof. J. C. Robertson, of Victoria University, Toronto, in a paper read before the Ontario Educational Association last week passed some severe strictures on the Ontario school system. The burden of his complaint is that the system is too rigidly uniform, that it gives the same food to all, and represses individuality and independnce. These phrases have a familiar ring. They have been repeated, parrotlike, by a clique of politicians who have no license to discuss the philosophy of education at all. If the Ontario school system is to be judged by what it has done for a certain class of its critics, then it stands condemned. Of course, we exempt from this class members of the teaching profession, like Prof. Robertson, and others, who are supposed to be qualified by scholarship to treat the subject intelligently. For this reason one would expect a man in Prof. Robertson's position to mingle with his criticism some practical and helpful ideas of reform or Britain, are being understood by the improvement. He makes a vague reference to the secondary schools of in which the egg export trade of Can-England as models to be studied. It ada has been built up with the old is not a good illustration, because the English secondary school system hap- phenomenal. This comparative statepens to be an object of fierce attack ment of exports from the Dominion just now. The Government is being urged to lick it into the uniformity which Prof. Robertson deplores in Ontario. It is regarded as being too irregular and disconnected. Prof. Robertson speaks as if he deprecates the whole scheme of state education and he makes some nebulous suggestion in favor of allowing the school system to "grow up from local conditions." He leaves his exact meaning to be guessed at. One might infer that he believes in each municipality or school section devising and managing its own system and adapting the curriculum to "local conditions"-which in most cases would mean the whims and crotchets of the local trustees. This plan would certainly break up the present baneful uniformity and produce a beautiful heterogeneity. There would be no lack of individuality-each school would have its own. Independence would flourish, as each school would be independent of the other. There would be no system for critics to attack. Prof. Robertson does qualify his home rule principles by saying that Government inspection would be a check on local regulations, but this is an admission that some system is necessary, but he does not presume to

An ideal education presupposes an ideal teacher, capable of discovering and developing the special aptitudes of the individual pupil. It is impossible to realize such an ideal when the state undertakes to educate the masses. When every teacher numbers his pupils by the scores and every pupil passes through the hands of at least a dozen teachers, the individual is liable to be subordinated to the class. Doubtless it would be an improvement if the state could afford a private tutor for every child. This is a reductio ad absurdum; but it is just as rational as some of the theories advanced by critics of the Educational Department-theories which cannot be reconciled with any system of popular education. It is true that many of the world's greatest thinkers owed nothing to the schools. Herbert Spencer and the late John Stuart Mill are often cited as modern examples of this truth; but if every youth had the unique advantages of private tuition enjoyed by Mill and Spencer, the schools and colleges could close their doors. How all the children, rich and poor, of any state can be given equal opportunities of education without a state system of schools has never been explained. Prof. Robertson rails against such a system in general terms, but he offers no intelligible substitute or remedy. A little constructive criticism might be appreciated by the Minister of Education, but the attacks of pedants and politicians have hitherto been of one species, without a germ of original suggestion.

An Un-British Spirit.

John Ross Robertson, M. P. for East Toronto, is not a man who in private life can be charged with narrowness. but in politics he sometimes belies his reputation. Take his references to Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper's innuendos against the character of Major Walsh, of Brockville, late commissioner in the Yukon. Mr. Roberston, in his recent speech in Parliament, is reported as saving:

"As to Major Walsh, Mr. Robertson at first thought his appointment a good one, and while he might have been mistaken, he still hoped he would be able to disprove the charges made

Could anything be more unfair, more sontrary to the British idea of justice than such a proposition? A member of Parliament makes certain anonymous charges against a former servant of the Dominion, who had always enjoyed a splendid reputation. Instead of joining in the very fair demand of the Government that the evidence shall be produced, or that a definite charge which can be met shall be made by some responsible person, we have Mr. Ross Robertson alleging that Major Walsh shall be held to be guilty, unless he first establishes his innocence.

This is an attitude of which any man, any party, ought to be ashamed of taking. Why do not Mr. Robertson and his associates demand that the traduc-ers of Major Walsh shall go before Commissioner Ogilvie, Judge Dugas or It is one of the brightest, cleanest and Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

any judge of the land, or even on a public platform, and make their accusations like men?

The Canadian Hen.

We quote the following interesting testimonial to the worth of the Canadian hen and her owner from the British Chamber of Agriculture Journal:

"Great improvements have taken place both in quality and magnitude of Canadian importations. The demand exceeds the supply. Great credit is due to the Canadian shippers for the manner in which the eggs are now put up for the British market. The eggs are securely packed in paper in separate compartments. The process is more expensive, but the freedom from breakage, mustiness and other objectionable flavors which arise from straw, wood shavings or sawdust packing more than compensate. So long as we have to import eggs, it is only fair that our own most go-ahead colony should be fully encouraged to send us the best they have, as against continental competitors."

That is a sentiment which the Canadian people will thoroughly appreciate. We have been trying, under the new pro-British policy which the present Government has so happily inaugurated, to make some return to the mother country for all her helpfulness to us, and we are glad to find that these efforts, which displaced a system designed to prevent trade with Great people of the motherland. The manner country during the past two years is tells the tale:

1944	To Great	To United
	Britain.	States.
Year.	Dozens.	Dozens.
1896	5,585,725	894,989
1898	10,280,466	38,643

Mayhap when Mr. McKinley put the stiff duty on eggs sent from this country to the United States, he believed that he had killed the industrious Canadian hen. If he did so, the official returns show how much he was mistaken. So it is with other Canadian products. If Canada markets the best, as she is capable of doing, she need never fear for her future. Great Britain will give her the highest market price for all that is sent forward. No doubt our farmers would find it profitable to have the United States market is well, but if our neighbors choose to be exclusive, we can stand it.

Another Honor for Western Ontario.

Among the honors at Queen's University at the convocation on the 26th inst., that of Doctor of Divinity, honoris causa, will be conferred on the Rev. W. G. Jordan, of Strathroy. Mr. Jordan took his B. A., in the first class countries. As to Rudyard Kipling, if from London University England and the official laureate of Engfrom London University, England, and land, he is the unofficial laureate, the is a graduate in honors of the Presby- uncrowned king, of the mass of readterian College of the same city. He ers throughout the whole English-Queen's. We are convinced that Rev. sion, of Democracy. Dr. Jordan, as shortly we shall be entitled to call him, will wear worthily and adorn his new title.

Mr. John Charlton, M.P., is going to make an attempt to shut off longwinded speeches in the House. The Tuppers may take it as a personal insult, but we believe Parliament will uphold Mr. Charlton. This is the third week that tongues have been running and business standing still.

The Toronto Star points out that the municipal taxes which the people of Toronto have to pay are higher than those of any of the large cities in the United States, Alleghany, Pa., alone excepted. It is time for the Torontonians, who are generally so ready to give others advice, to set about establishing a municipal home missionary

We congratulate Messrs. Brierley & McKay, of the Montreal Herald, upon their acquittal of the charge of libel brought against them by Chief of Police Hughes. The Herald has done a courageous work in exposing the slipshod methods in vogue at the city hall. Several of the departments have been given a shake-up, which has resulted in a decided reform.

While the Americans are wiping out the brown man in Asia, the British are having another tussle with the black man in Africa. The whole job of thrashing the brown, black and red man into submission seems to have been thrown into the hands of the "peaceful" Anglo-Saxon. If it is the decree of Providence that the white man shall rule, then the Anglo-Saxon can flatter himself that Providence considers him the best instrument for the purpose.

The new charter of the city of Montreal has one salutary provision. Under it the city corporation is only liable for the price of work done, merchandise supplied, or goods furnished in the event of the conditions imposed by law being duly observed. This will tend to the protection of the taxpayers. Hitherto, every official has been counted good personally for anything which he liked to order, because it was felt that the city was at his back. Under the new law, if an official orders anything without warrant, the dealer will have to look to him, and not to the city, for payment.

Observations.

I have received the following letter from a reader at Dorchester Station: "Will you kindly answer through the columns of your valuable paper at the earliest date possible the following questions:

'Who succeeded Lord Alfred Tennyson as England's poet laureate? "How and by whom is the title "Is it a degree or honor conferred on someone by our Queen? "Is Rudyard Kipling England's lau-reate at the present? When was the title given to him, or about what date did he receive that honor?"

In answer, I may say the present official laureate is Alfred Austin, a pleasant enough poet, but, of course, many degrees below the status of his predecessor, Alfred Tennyson. The appointment is made in the name of the Queen, but practically by the government of the day. By many the continuance of such an office is ridiculed, but old customs continue long in old has for several terms been giving speaking world. OF CANADA

The direct Route between the West and all points on the Lower St. Law-rence and Baie des Chaleur, Province of Quebec; also for New Bruns. wick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward and Cape Breton Islands, Newfoundland and St, Pierre.

Express trains leave Montreal and Halifax daily (Sunday excepted) and run through without change between these points.

The through express train cars of the Intercolonial Railway are brilliantly lighted by electricity, and heated by steam from the locomotive, thus greatly increasing the comfort and safety of travelers.

Comfortable and elegant buffet, sleeping and day cars are run on all through express trains.

The popular summer sea bathing and fishing resorts of Canada are all along the Intercolonial, or are reached by that route.

Canadian-European Mail and Passenger Route.

Passengers for Great Britain and the Continent can leave Montreal Tuesday morning and join outward Mail Steamers at St. John on Wednesday, or they can leave Montreal on Wednesday morning and join outward Mail Steamers at Halifax on Thursday.

The attention of shippers is directed to the superior facilities offered by this route for the transport of flour and general merchandise intended for the Eastern Provinces, Newfoundland and the West Indies; also for shipments of grain and produce intended for the European markets, either by way of St. John or Halifax, Tickets may be obtained and all information about the route, also freight and passenger rates, on application to

The gentleness of Spring, of which the poets sing, is, to a certain extent, visionary. There is more disease and sickness wafted about on the gentle Spring breezes than is carried along by the gales of a blizzard. "When Spring unlocks the flowers that paint the laughing soil," it also frees from the frozen clutch of winter the imprisoned germs of disease. Each melting pile of a winter's collection of dirt and snow exhales disease-ladened fumes. Your health, at this critical season of the year, depends on whether your system is strong enough and your blood pure enough to withstand the disease that lurks in the spring atmosphere. Abbey's Effervescent Salt purifies the blood; strengthens the system; imparts energy to every portion of the body; prevents disease. It is not only a Spring medicine. It is a general all-the-year-round tonic, in all climes, at all times. Its use in the Spring-time will do you more good than many self-styled Spring medicines. The daily use of Abbey's Effervescent Salt gives robust, energetic health and a clean system. Do you take it daily? If not, commence now. You could not choose a better time.

What two Canadian medical authorities say:

The Canada Lancet says: "This preparation deserves every good word which is being said of it. A sample is offered to each physician, and most favorably is it commented upon. There is no doubt but that the daily use of Abbey's Effervescent Salt will be a great preventive and aid in warding

Dr. Charles L. DeMartigny, of Montreal, has been a physician for the past 50 years. He has seen much suffering in that time, and has done much to al-This is his opinion of Abbey's Effervescent Salt: "I have given Abbey's Effervescent Salt a very thorough trial among the inmates of the House of the Sisters of Providence, where I am resident physician. I have found it particularly useful in cases of Flatulency, Headache and Chronic Constipation, and am using it now in a case of Rheumatism. I have tested Abbey's Effervescent Salt in a great number of cases, and have always found the results perfectly satisfactory. I have no hesitation in recommending Abbey's Effervescent Salt as a thoroughly reliable preparation. I may add that I use Abbey's Effervescent Salt myself every day, and have found it more beneficial in my own case than any similar thing I have ever tried."

Abbey's Effervescent Salt is known as "The Foundation of Health."

DIVORCE MILL IN DAKOTA

Doing a Rushing Business-Days of the Old Regime Nearly Ended.

Fargo, N. D., April 11.-The final curtain is just being rung down on the old divorce regime of North Dakota. Hundreds of divorces are safeout. The closing days of the divorce regime have been characterized by a rush of divorce emigrants across the country to be in under the 90 days provisions of the old law, and the divorce colonies at Fargo, Grand Forks, Mandan, Bismarck and Jamestown have received sudden and hurried additions from east and west, wherever marital bonds have proved galling.

Emigres from stricter communities still come, but theirs is a bootless chase. By July 1 the last suit for divorce under the old law, which Da-kota ecclesiastics call "a stench in the nostrils of the people," will have to be filed. The colony at Fargo, with additions from the immigration, is estimated to number about 150. Decrees are being issued in the courts of the third judicial district at the rate of three a day. The colony at Mandan, across the river from Bismarck, is nearly as large, owing to the favorable complexion of the courts, and the di-vorcees have also flocked to Grand Forks and Jamestown.

'Tis an Eminent Physician's Prescription.

Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., leading professor in the celebrated Dartmouth Medical College, first pre-scribed what is now known in every home of the civilized world as Paine's Celery Compound, a positive cure for the common ailments and diseases of spring, such as blood troubles, kidney and liver complaints, dyspepsia, nervous diseases, neuralgia and rheuma-

As a spring medicine, Paine's Celery Compound now occupies first place in the estimation of medical men. It has been tested by members of the profession in cases where ordinary prescriptions have failed, and in every instance the wonderful compound has maintained its claims and banished disease.

The action of Paine's Celery Compound on the nervous system in spring time is marvelous in health-producing results. It quickly purifies the vitiated and impure blood, braces the nerves, rebuilds the tissues, adds to flesh and weight, increases the appetite, augments the powers of assimilation, and keeps the whole digestive organism in proper repair.

Paine's Celery Compound has done a grand work for millions in the past. JOHN GREEN DEAD

Was Head of the Oldest Wholesale Drygoods House in London-Other Deaths.

Death has claimed another prominent citizen of London. Mr. John Green, the oldest wholesale drygoods merchant in this city, died at his residence, 526 Ridout street, last evening, aged 67 years. He had been ailing for some months, but the news of his death will be a surprise to his friends. Last September he took a trip to England to recuperate his failing health, and for a time showed some improvement. The late John Green was the third son of Edward Wilkins Green (who was of Quaker descent, and whose ancestors were natives of the county Down, Ireland), and was born in Lon-don township. In his youth he entered the employ of his uncle, the late Jas. Coyne, as clerk, then he became partner, and finally succeeded to the business. In the year 1871 Mr. Green embarked in the wholesale drygoods business at the corner of Ridout and Carling streets, which business still continues. Deceased was a member of the First Methodist Church, and a former member of the quarterly board of the old Queen's Avenue Church. A widow, four sons and two daughters survive. The sons are Messrs. John C., George M., Harry E. W., and Reginald W., and the daughters are Mrs. C. H. Ivey and Miss Beatrice Green. All are residents of this city.

The funeral will take place tomorrow (Wednesday) to Mount Pleasant Cem-

WM. H. FAWCETT. One of the oldest pioneers of Middlesex, William H. Fawcett, of Belmont, died Sunday evening at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Suton. For 54 years he lived on a farm near Belmont. He never married. Deceased was a faithful member of the Methodist Church. He is survived by one sister and three brothers-Mrs. Suton, of Belmont; S. W. Fawcett, of Elmwood avenue; John, of Princess avenue, and Joseph, of North Dakota. Interment tomorrow at Belmont.

Mrs. Braithwaite Crowe, of 31 Bathurst street, died yesterday, aged 51 years, after a week's illness, with pneumonia.

Five Men and One Woman Killed at Pana, Ill.

Nine People Seriously Injured and May Die-Deputy Sheriffs Fired on Negro Miners.

Pana, Ill., April 11.-In a riot which broke out at 10:30 yesterday in the main streets, in front of the telegraph office, between white and black miners, in which deputy sheriffs took part, five men and one woman were killed. Nine persons were wounded, several so seriously that they will probably die.

The killed are: Xavier L. Leroez, a Frenchman, union miner; Frank Coburn, son of ex-Sheriff Coburn; three unknown negro miners; one negro woman. The trouble began Sunday night when 100 deputy sheriffs were called household effects preparatory to leaving for Iowa, and were being prevented by negro guards armed with rifles furnished by the Pana Coal Company, who claimed the goods the negroes were moving were company property. deputies guarded the negroes while they loaded their goods in wagons, conveyed them to railroad cars and packed them for shipment. The negroes, their wives and families, were then marched to Union Miners' Hall, where they were fed and cared for by white union miners, and given protection by a guard of 50 deputy sheriffs, it being feared that negroes who did not wish them to leave Pana would interfere and attempt forcibly to prevent their de-

During the night, while deputies were guarding the negroes in the Pen-well district, they were fired upon by unknown persons, supposed to have been negroes and private guards at the Penwell mine, and fully two hundred shots were exchanged.

SMASHED THE SKYLIGHT. A large screen on the roof of the Y. M. C. A. building was lifted by the wind this morning, and fell upon a skylight of heavy glass, breaking a number of panes. The broken pieces then fell to Race for the Ashley Plate-Cutaway a glass ceiling below, and some 20 or 30 panes were broken. It made a great crash, and for a time it was thought that a piece of the roof had given way.

CITY HALL NOTES

It will hardly be possible for the board of works to have its estimate for street improvements ready for the next meeting of the council. The inspection of the sidewalks and roads has been interfered with too much by bad weather. Some work is being done this week by the engineer's department and the aldermen, in the way of sizing up the needs of the various wards, but the whole city can not be covered in time to present the estimates Monday night. Hence the estimates will not be brought down by the council until the first meeting in May

"There's no reason why No. 2 committee's estimates shouldn't be presented in February," an alderman, who is willing to accept the inevitable, though it be a hard dose, said this morning. "Why not put in a lump sum for street improvements? It doesn't matter what's needed. The committee can't get half what they need, anyway. The estimates for street improvements are usually two or three times the appropriation.'

Water rates must be paid on or be-fore Saturday to get advantage of the

Who Is Plunket Greene?

It will be of interest to many who will have the pleasure of listening to Mr. Plunket Greene's delightful singing at the Grand Opera House Thursday evening to know a little of his personal history. Mr. Greene is a nephew of the late Lord Plunket, Archbishop of Dublin, and he is a first cousin of the present Lord Plunket. His grandfather, Baron Greene, was a famous Irish lawyer and judge, while his great-grandfathers, Plunket and Bashe, were prominent in the country's political history at the time of the union. That the statesmanlike qualities of the family continue is evident by the fact that Plunket Greene's brother is at the present time her Hajesty's representative in the Transvaal. Mr. Greene is a personal friend of Lord Minto, and was a guest at Government House during his recent visit to Ottawa. Citizens should not miss the opportunity of hearing this great singer Thursday

By the Devastating Frosts in Essex County.

Peach Industry Crippled for Years to Come-February Frosts Did the Mischief.

Major J. E. Johnson, of this city, received word from Leamington, Essex county, this morning, that his peach orchard, consisting of 6,000 trees, has been destroyed. The damage was done by frost in February, but has just written a letter to the Associated Press saying: "It is absolutely false that Aguinaldo is willing to accept an autonomist system similar to that in India. The Filipinos and their govarrent have only one idea absolute." frozen during the extremely cold February weather, when the ground was bare. The buds came out in due course, and the owners thought the trees had weathered the winter safely. Now it develops that the orchards will be practically wiped out. Mr. Johnson's loss will be $10,000 or $15,000. It will cost him $1,000 to replant his trees, and five years must elapse before another crop will be

Some of the other losers are well known in London. They include Dr. W. A. Piper, who has an orchard of Paris, April 11.—The Figaro an- 30 acres; E. Tyhurst, the prince of the orchard; Messrs. Mitchell, 30 acres; of about 20,000 young trees.

PEACH TREES DESTROYED

Frost Has Left Only One in Ten

Kingsville, Ont., April 10.-Inspection of the fruit trees in this district shows that fully 90 per cent of the peach trees were killed by frost. Only small trees that were well banked survive. In many large peace orchards not a single live peach tree remains. It is the biggest disaster the peach growers of Essex county have ever known. The loss will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

sales have been 3 to 1 as compared with last year, so far," said a prominent dealer this morning. "The comother dealers said the same thing.

Prices have dropped materially. The price on chainless wheels have been almost cut in two. The class that brought $140 last year are offered now, 99 model, for $85. Ordinary standard wheels of all makes are from $5 to $20 cheaper than they were last year. The average drop is $15. Among the novelties shown, the most striking is the acetylene gas lamp, in various styles and makes, It gives a perfect light, is neat, durable and cheap. In the line of bells, cyclometers, etc., there are, as usual, some interesting novelties.

PANA PEACEFUL.

Pana, Ill., April 11.—Business, interrupted by yesterday's rioting, was resumed in Pana today. The city is under martial law, and quiet and orderly. For the first time in weeks negroes appeared boldly in the principal streets, taking advantage of the presence of the soldiers. All the deputies have been disarmed by the militia, and the soldiers control the city, but the people are still in great terror of the factions which caused yesterday's bloodshed, and women and children are kept closely within acors.

BOLD HOLD-UP BY TEXAN COW-BOYS.

El Paso, Tex., April 11 .- One of the boldest hold-ups ever committed in this section occurred yesterday afternoon at the office of the Alamo Gordo Lumber Company, at Alama Gordo, N. M., 70 miles north of El Paso. Yesterday was pay-day at the lumber camp. Many thousands of dollars were on hand to pay the men. Suddenly the door was thrown open by two cowboys, armed with Winchesters, who compelled Cashier Davidson to open the safe. It contained a bundle of scrip, amounting to $50,000, which was stacked in packages and resembled greenbacks. The robbers took this and de-Their horses were awaiting parted. them at the door, where they were held by a third cowboy. A posse was quickly organized, and is now in pursuit of the robbers.

"Will the carriage be long?" gasped the overwhelmed wife and mother, thankfully accepting the attentions of Mrs. Aubrey, wno, in the face of her great sorrow, could not retain any anger, but soothed her with sisterly While she arranged Mrs. Lyssendon's ated. mawl, and compelled her to swallow a little wine, the ensign timidly approached Eden.

"Miss Aubrey, I scarcely dare to address you. It seems madness to hope that you will ever forgive me my share in that disgraceful business-

"Ah, do not speak of it," murmured Eden, shivering and averting the eyes that had become so hollow and sad He bowed and drew back.

"I will not, then; but if you ever can overlook my fault-no, I ought not to be so importunate; but my father is a stern man, and till I have won your forgiveness, he refuses me his. He will not let my mother or the girls write to me. I am an outcast; and, knowing how they must feel, this makes me very

Eden held out her hand.

"I have no quarrel with you. Perhaps you, like myself, believed Captain Lyssendon to be an honorable man."

The lad fidgeted, stammered, and longed to plead something in extenuation of his friend; but the severity of Eden's look made the words refuse to flow. He could only say, after all:

"I am afraid, Miss Aubrey, the wine and brandy I had been foolish enough to swallow had addled my head to such an extent that I was not able to think at all. And this is what I regret most of all; for if Lyssendon had only been fortunate enough to have one faithful friend at his elbow that night, the message that deceived you would never have been sent."

"Did he write it?" asked Eden, below her breath. 'No; nor do I believe that he knew

Eden turned away abruptly, for the Stretby carriage, driven by Venetia, was in sight, and Mrs. Lyssendon rose to hurry out and meet it. But she was so feeble, so exhausted, that she could not stand without the support the ensign hastened to give her. As she leaned on his arm she put out her hand and drew Eden towards her. There was such a depth of entreaty in her gaze that the young girl trembled, and covered her face with her handkerchief; but as Mrs. Lyssendon, sighing deavors to teach her to forget the helplessly, released her fluttering fin- treacherygers, and signed to her escort to lead her away, Eden suddenly raised her head. "Stay." she said hoarsely and uncertainly. "I will do what you have marriage; for, to be candid with you, asked of me. Mrs. Lyssendon sobbed her thanks, and departed with a lightened heart, Eden flying to her own chamber directly afterwards, and locking herself in while Mrs. Aubrey sat over the fire till long after midnight, brooding on her daughter's resolve, with keen regret that she should have been so wrought upon-for she hated Captain Lyssendon with all the intense dislike only an incensed mother can nourish. Yet every time she recalled the agony of his almost heart-broken mother, she could not help feeling a sensation of thankfulness that if Mrs. Lyssendon were bereaved of the husband whom this trouble had prostrated, she would not be called upon to endure a still sadder, because more hopeless, parting with her only son. Then, too, she re-membered that Eden would be left to her-would be spared the pain of appearing against her quondam lover, and, if taken away from Eastham, might soon recover her health and spirits. As for the tie that would be so hastily formed, never to be strengthened, a few years, and it might be legally set aside. Eden was young enough to endure it patiently till then; and with such thoughts as these the mother consoled herself.

But Eden, who, not many weeks since, had dreamed happy dreams of a very different kind of bridal-of being caressed, idolized by the handsome young husband, whose lightest wish should be her law-how did she, lying on her bed, feverish and speechless, contemplate her marriage with Frank Lyssendon? Alas, poor child! there were such recollections now standing in dire array betwixt her and the man she had loved with the romantic, enthusiastic affection of her young heart.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Frank Lyssendon followed his mother as soon as he learned the reason of her sudden departure, traveling all night in his overwhelming anxiety to win one word of forgiveness from the father whose death, ere he could arrive to entreat it, would be the climax of his misfortunes.

But Mrs. Lyssendon came to meet him with a smile on her tired face. The attack, alarming though it had been, had yielded to the remedies applied; the rector was out of danger, and, as she had been able to whisper a hope that their boy would yet escape the public disgrace with which he was threatened, the mental distress, which had been at the root of Mr. Lyssendon's illness, was considerably allevi-

He consented to see his son, and, instead of the stein rebukes Frank was dreading, the few words he was able to say were so full of sorrowful kindness that the young man broke down completely, and, rushing out of the room, hid himself from every eye till he could regain his composure. His mother, too, was very tender and pitiful, and forgot her own fatigue in ministering to him.

It was not till he had been persuaded to lie down on the sofa in her dress-ing-room, and snatch a few hours' sleep, that she told him the particulars of her visit to Eden. He grew alternately hot and cold as he listened.

"And, in her generous compassion for you, mother, she consents to marry he exclaimed, agitatedly. "It was rig! demand such a sacrifice not rig! should be mean indeed if of her, I accepted it."

"Oh! Frank, you will not refuse?" cried his mother, vexed and alarmed beyond measure at his obstinacy.

"Not refuse!" he echoed. "My dearest mother, I should despise myself more than I do already, if I accepted the hand of Eden Aubrey under such circumstances. Her consent was wrung from her; you do not deny it. She detests-she loathes me, even while she suffers herself to be persuaded to be mine. No, mother, no; I cannot let Eden do this."

"But, Frank, consider! It is not of yourself alone that you must think," sighed Mrs. Lyssendon, almost wits' end as she saw fresh perplexities arising. "Think of the lad who is implicated in this abduction almost as deeply as yourself; of your other companion, who will not dare to return to England unless the prosecution is quashed; of your father, and of me. If you were the only sufferer by what ve done, I shald call your determination heroic; it, as it is, I feel that you ought to consider us."

"But Eden, Eden!" he exclaimed. "If I dared see in her decision a sign of relenting towards me; if I could hope that my contrition, my earnest en-

When Mr. Goodchild came home on Saturday evening he found a note from his wife awaiting him. It was brief and to the point. It said that she was going away and that he need not look for her for he would not find her. The husband was, naturally, at a loss to explain his wife's disappearance, as they had always lived happily together and he had provided her with every comfort his means would afford. He began to put two and two together, however, and subsequently he learned from a neighbor that Moore had been seen to leave home with his banjo under his arm and go towards the L. E. and D. Outlived Consumption

Many people outlive consumption. They have it all their lives, but keep it in check by the use of Shiloh's Consumption Cure and finally die of some other disease or of old age. Jeremiah Day, LL.D., formerly president of Yale College, lived to be nearly one hundred years old, notwithstanding the fact that he suffered several years in his youth from consumption. It is not the mere fact that the lungs are touched by consumytion that causes death, it is the amount of lung-tissue that becomes diseased and disorganized beyond repair that is of serious import. Personal care and the administration of Shiloh's Cure according to directions will overcome every case of tubercular affection when there remains enough tissue to make a foundation. If the forces of life are reinforced before it is too late the process of decay will be conquered and the patient will get well. In other words consumption is cured. Fifty years of uniform success have made Shiloh's Cure the standard remedy for consumption in every form. J. H. Caldwell, of Malta, Idaho, writes as follows to the S. C. Wells Co., of Le Roy, N. Y. "I have used Shiloh's Consumption Cure many different times, and always received great benefit from it. I believe it saved my life in a case of congestion of the lungs, and kept LIFE SAVED-Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good.

THOSE DIRTY STREETS.

The asphalt pavement on the south side of Dundas street and the west side of Richmond street, is in some places It's What covered with three or four inches of a mixture of mud and ice, which leaves those thoroughfares in a filthy and dangerous condition. Bicyclists and citizens generally are loud in their complaints. Other Canadian cities have had their pavements clean for some six or eight weeks.

HATS IN CHURCH. St. Thomas Journal: Rev. Mr. Irvine, of Grace Church, occupied the pulpit of the Central Methodist Church Sunday morning. He commended the action of the pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Crews, in requesting the ladies of the church who wore large hats to remove them during the ser-mon. He said the request was not contrary to Scripture, inasmuch as women were in a condition of servitude at the time when Paul wrote, but they were not so now. He said he hoped the movement would become quite general in all the churches. ONLY ASKS BRITISH JUSTICE,

At the service of praise in St. Andrew's Church last night, Rev. Dr. Johnston took occasion to refer to the case of the convicted murderer, Marion Brown. Dr. Johnston said he was acting in behalf of Brown, from a desire solely to see British justice done. He desired that Brown should receive the full measure of the law for the crime he had committed, but he believed that crime to have been manslaughter, and not murder. He further said that his petition had been signed by many of the clearest-headed legal and business men in the city.

AN EVENING

St. Andrew's Church.

The Choir, Assisted by Talent From Detroit and Toronto, Contribute the Excellent Programme-Dr. Johnston Congratulated.

The anniversary service of praise at St. Andrew's Church last night will long be remembered by those who attended, as a rich musical treat. Large as the church is, standing room was at a premium throughout the evening. The choir was assisted by Mrs. Winnifred Scripps-Eliis, of Detroit, soprano of the First Presbyterian Church of that city, and Mr. Bruce G. Bradley. tenor soloist of the Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto. Mrs. Scripps-Ellis, possesses a clear, sweet voice, and sings with admirable ease and excellent expression. She was enthusiastically recalled after each number. Mr. Bradley, who was in fine voice, gave a number of the most successful efforts of the evening. He has a clear, powerful voice, rich and full, and takes the high notes without the least apparent

Too much credit cannot be given to the fine choir, under the direction of the choirmaster and organist, Mr. Charles E. Wheeler. A pronounced artistic success for both the choir and its director was the opening anthem, "Sing Unto the Lord and Praise His Name." -While walking across the floor of The choir numbers about 40 voices, the Grand Pacific Hotel dining-room splendidly trained, and their singing last evening, Miss Kate Regan, a do- had a very large share in the evening's Mr. Wheeler executed a number of organ solos, showing to advantage his finished technique and perfect command of all the finer shades of expression, and he received an ova-

Street Railway Employes Have Many Grievances.

The Industrial Banner Issues a Warning-Change of Tacti s Called For-Mr. Oarr Scored.

The Industrial Banner for April officially predicts trouble for the London Street Railway Company unless the management changes its tactics. The company is charged with systematically breaking the agreement entered into with the employes at the time of the iate strike, and in a three-column article gives a detailed statement of some of the grievances which now exist. Some of the provisions nection with this society. The C. M. S., in the new rule book conflict with the agreement, and the men look upon the book in the nature of a catch. The Banner concludes "that the company's actions have proven that they will respect the provisions of the agreement only where they are forced to. Surely Detroit News: The giant hulk of the shareholders do not want the the car ferry Shenango No. 1, which management to precipitate another conflict. They can hardly be blind to the runs between Port Stanley and Con-neant Ohio plowed its way up the oughly organized or self-reliant as it is at the present moment. They cannot surely be ignorant of the fact that fraternal societies are honeycombed with members of labor organizations. To invite a conflict now would be to paralyze Springbank traffic during the approaching season." Dealing with probabilities, the Banner says: "It is a question as to whether the employes can tolerate the present state of affairs until the expiration of the existing agreement on May 11. The old agreement must be revised, and unless the directors insist that Manager Carr shall change his present tactics and live up that the employes may take the matter in their own hands." ELOPING PREACHER FORGIVEN. Vancouver, B. C., April 11.—There has been an unexpected development in the Albany elopement case. MONTHS. Atlanta, Ga., April 11 .- Allan Kelly, of Hill county, has just married his third wife in ten months. In June he wedded Miss Jennie Fowler, the eldest of four pretty daughters of John Fowler, a prosperous farmer. After two months of wedded life Mrs. Kelly died. Within a month Sallie Fowler accepted him, and they were married a few weeks ago. She died. The third of the Fowler sisters, Miss Lithonia, at first refused him, on the ground that his wives seemed to be victims of strange fate. She finally consented and they have just been married.
