

IS ROUGH RIDER WEAKENING AND REPUBLICAN CONVENTION TURNING TO A THIRD MAN?

Justice Hughes, of the U. S. Supreme Court, Appears To Have Necessary Qualities to Satisfy Both Factions.

YESTERDAY'S CONVENTION MEETINGS WERE TWO FIVE-MINUTE SESSIONS

Programme All Shot to Pieces By Fight in the Credentials Committee, and No Chance Given for Demonstration or Stampede.

Special to The London Advertiser and The Toronto Star By H. F. Gadsby.

Chicago, June 21.—Ang the morning and the evening were the third day, and nothing doing. The talk has shifted from blood to passive resistance on the part of the Roosevelt forces. This passive resistance cannot possibly last longer than Saturday, because many of the delegates who are here at their own expense are going broke. They spent it all in riotous living the first part of the week, and are now scaled down to the physical culture restaurants, where you get a hamburger steak composed of onions, rice and bird seed, for fifteen cents.

LIVELY TODAY—PERHAPS.

It looks as if we might get action today, because it has heretofore been the custom to put the national republican convention through in three days, which is about as long as the fever can be kept up. A three-day meeting, packed with events, sends the delegates home well fed and full of enthusiasm for the cause. If he runs short of money and has to go on a low diet, the stuffing is out of his duck, and he develops a grouch. Little things like these must be considered in nominating a President of the United States. If they are not, the nation suffers.

AFTER THIRD CANDIDATE.

At this writing both are looking for a third candidate. Only time will tell how many delegates were sent and how many favorite sons were offered the job. The Taft stand-pairs would accept a conservative progressive. The reasonable Rooseveltists would be satisfied with a moderate radical. One delegate says: "When Mark Hanna was alive he kept in the middle of his room and the country was all right." Another delegate says: "The Republican party is bigger than any man. If Teddy is a good sport he will show himself as good a loser. Bring on your compromise candidate."

ELIMINATE BOTH.

Everywhere the drift of opinion is that Taft and Roosevelt should both be eliminated and somebody else given a chance. This does not imply any lack of loyalty in the followers of William or Theodore. They have done their best up to the limit of judicious support. They are disposed to remember that Judge Charles M. Hughes, of the supreme court of the United States, would accept the nomination if it were handed him on a platter. His family, his achievements, his high position, forbid him to reach for it. He is presidential timber all right. He would please all parties. The platform is a little rotten, but it can be made to fit Judge Hughes' angles.

LOTS OF FUN FOR DYING.

The Taft managers have played the game all the way through. They are mostly politicians who have stepped on from behind in their own states. They are dead, and they are having a lot of fun in their dying moments. They have held the fort for Taft with all the tricks they know, and some of them they learned from Teddy himself, when he was captain of the steam-roller. They have yielded points to make Teddy come to a show down. They have said he would be welcome to speak at the convention, but Teddy has passed up two psychological moments without putting in an appearance. They have offered to give him sixteen out of the forty-two contested delegates, whom he claims, but Teddy spurns the offer. The bluffing has been very good, but it has caught Teddy sitting in a boat.

EVERYTHING IS WORK AT GODERICH CAMP

Men Are All Hard at Drill and Are Getting a Fine Training.

MEN OF TWENTY-SIXTH

Are the Heroes of the Camp After Their Long March Across Country.

[By Our Own Man.]

Goderich, June 21.—The reception of the officers and men of the Twenty-sixth Middlesex Light Infantry, who completed the last lap of their march from "Lancaster to the sea," was the event of the week in camp, and another big day is promised today.

Colonel the Honorable Sam Hughes arrived this afternoon.

About a dozen different dates had been announced for the minister's arrival—some were of the opinion that he would come like a thief in the night, when no man kneweth, and others feared that he might not come at all, being too deeply engaged with the Bunker Hill campaign and other weighty affairs of state. All doubts were set at rest, however, when Colonel Hodgins announced that Colonel Hughes will inspect the camp today.

No special preparations have been made for his reception, but officers and men are on the qui vive to make the best possible showing before the commander-in-chief.

The blare of bands, mingled with the rousing cheers of the assembled soldiers, greeted the marching Middlesex men as they entered the camp gates yesterday afternoon. They looked fit and fine, ready as Colonel Robinson declared, to march another 20 miles without stopping. Aside from a fine, ruddy color, the result of three days' exposure to a June sun, the men appeared absolutely unaffected by the hardships of the long march. Altogether they were as fine looking a bunch of patriots as ever marched into a Canadian camp.

The only men in the regiment not absolutely satisfied with their trip were the members of the Indian band, who felt aggrieved because their comrades

RAILWAY COMMISSION PASSES THROUGH LONDON

Remained Only a Short Time in City and Went to St. Thomas.

The Dominion board of railway commissioners arrived in London this afternoon at 1:33 in their special car Acadia, attached to the train arriving from St. Marys on the Grand Trunk at that hour.

The commissioners had held a joint session with the Ontario railway and municipal board yesterday afternoon at Galt, and last evening proceeded as far as St. Marys on the C. P. R. This morning they were transferred to the Grand Trunk and continued on to London.

They remained here but a short time, the Acadia being transferred to the Michigan Central at London and sent on to St. Thomas at 2:30. Later they are to go to Simcoe on the Varsity, and from that point back to Toronto.

The party included Assistant Chief Commissioner D'Arcy Scott, Commissioner McLean, Acting Secretary Richardson, Operating Officer A. J. Nixon, Assistant Chief Engineer T. L. Simmons, and Official Reporter Nelson R. Butcher.

The late Mrs. Lawason was in her 74th year, having been born in Galt, Township, Wentworth County, in 1828. She has resided in this city for the past 35 years.

Her husband, the late P. M. Lawason, a well known oil refiner of years ago, having predeceased her about nine years ago. She is survived by four sons and two daughters. Mrs. H. C. Vivian, of Winnipeg, and Mrs. G. R. Sanderson, of Chicago, are the daughters, and the sons are Mr. O. Lawason, of Calgary; S. F. and Frank Lawason, of this city, and Mr. Arthur Lawason, of London.

The funeral will be held from her late residence, 632 Nelson street, under the auspices of the Christian Science Church on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

"EVERYBODY'S DOING IT!"

JUDGE DECIDES FOR MDE. MORIN

Daughter of Dr. Chiniquy Is Given Damages Against La Croix

FOR THREE THOUSAND

Article Declared That Wife of Famous Ex-Priest Was Merely a Concubine.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, June 21.—Judgment was handed down this morning by Mr. Justice Greenfield in the Chiniquy libel suit. His lordship found for the plaintiff and allowed $3,000 damages. This was an action brought by Mrs. Rebecca Morin, a daughter of the famous ex-priest and writer, Father Chiniquy, and wife of Prof. Morin, of McGill University, against Joseph Begin, editor and publisher of the Roman Catholic weekly paper, La Croix, for $10,000 damages for libel. In an article on Chiniquy La Croix contended that as he had taken vows of perpetual chastity he could never legally marry, and that the woman he proposed to marry was therefore only his concubine. Plaintiff contended that such a statement branded her as illegitimate.

The victory of plaintiff's lawyer, Gonzales Desautels, K.C., must be very gratifying to him as La Croix which purports to be the organ of all devout Roman Catholics here, has bitterly criticized him from time to time for his connection with Le Pays, the organ of the advanced educationalists in Quebec, of which he is part proprietor, and the famous French-Canadian masonic body, Emancipation Lodge, in which he was a prime mover.

When Justice Greenfield took his seat on the bench the court was crowded, though the defendant and his lawyer were both absent.

His lordship began by dismissing the application to postpone judgment, because of the new evidence supplied by David Latour, who signed the affidavit contending that Mde. Morin was not the daughter of Chiniquy, and therefore had no cause of action. The judge said it was clearly proved that Mde. Lefebvre, the companion of Mde. Morin, was the daughter of the Peier Murray of the Peier Murray of Illinois, claimed by the defendant as Mde. Morin's father. He therefore dismissed the application for postponement with costs.

His lordship added that defendant, by submitting the affidavit had corrected his description of Mde. Chiniquy as a concubine.

Mr. Greenfield then pronounced upon the merits of the case. He first of all read the plaintiff's plea that the publication in La Croix of the statement that her mother was a concubine was distinctly damaging to her, in the eyes of whom such a marriage as Chiniquy's was alleged to have contracted, must have been considered null, because he was a priest, and because it was tainted with irregularity.

Ample Proof.

The judge then took up the question of the validity of the wedding. He said he had the marriage certificate of Charles Chiniquy and Miss Albert before him, and the defendant had not produced proof that the marriage had been annulled.

ANOTHER LOT OF T. R.'S MEN STEAM ROLLED BY COMMITTEE

In All-Night Session Many More Are Added to the Taft List —Looks Now as if Convention Would Go Over Until Next Week.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, June 21.—The credentials committee, of the Republican National Convention, voted at 12:20 o'clock to submit to the convention its report on the Alabama contest.

Roosevelt members, led by Henry and Halbert, made a vigorous attempt to delay this action. The vote on the adoption of the motion was 32 to 15.

Typically absent.

Chicago, June 21.—Chairman Root called the convention to order at 12:26 p.m. He announced the first business to be the report of the committee on credentials, as it had been decided to take up the report in sections.

The reports recommended the seating of the Taft delegates in the 9th Alabama district.

Chicago, June 21.—After an all-night session the credentials committee of the Republican National Convention had, at 6 o'clock this morning, settled only fourteen of the seventy-two contests considered vital by Governor Hadley, and the Roosevelt leaders in their appeal from the decisions of the national committee.

All of them, together with many that the credentials committee took upon its own initiative were settled for President Taft.

The decisions were: Alabama, ninth district, two delegates; Arizona, six delegates-at-large; Arkansas, fifth district, two delegates; California, fourth district, two delegates; Florida, six delegates-at-large and two each from the first, second and third districts; Georgia, four delegates-at-large; Indiana, four delegates-at-large.

Pleased With Canada.

Mr. J. S. Locke, owner of half a dozen British publications, was particularly impressed with Canada, and declared that while he is also familiar with England, Ireland, and Scotland, and the greater part of Europe, even for great distances inside the polar circle he has never before seen a country which he was so greatly pleased. Others voted the same sentiment and regretted that their schedule provided for such a brief visit here.

AGED LADY STRUCK BY A MOTOR CAR

Ran Before an Auto at Corner of Dundas and Richmond Streets.

Despite the fact that pedestrians swarmed about the roadways this morning during the circus parade no serious accidents were reported. However, shortly before ten o'clock a lady, who ran in the path of a motor car, driven by Mrs. James Granger, across the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, was knocked to the pavement, but escaped practically unhurt.

SIXTY-FIVE BRITISH DELEGATES TOUR LONDON IN MOTORS TO SEE CITY'S INDUSTRIES

Some of the Largest Firms in Great Britain Included in Representation of Old Country Businessmen, Who Spend a Few Hours as Guests of the City.

COMMISSIONER HENDERSON SEES CHANCE TO SECURE SOME CANADIAN BRANCHES

Train Which Brought the Visitors Here Was the Finest Ever Seen on the Grand Trunk Railway—Guests Given Breakfast at the Tecumseh—Left for Brantford This Afternoon.

A delegation of 65 British businessmen reached London today on their tour of Canada, and spent a couple of hours driving about the city in motor cars.

They arrived here early this morning, having left Hamilton shortly after midnight, and departed for Brantford at noon. From that point they are to proceed to Cobalt.

The visitors were greatly impressed with Canada in general, and London in particular, and expressed their pleasure at the hospitable receptions tendered them by every municipality.

There are five who are looked upon as reasonable prospects for a branch in London by Commissioner of Industries Henderson, who was in charge of the arrangements. They are: Chever & Son, manufacturers of jams and jellies, represented by T. J. Hook; O. B. Stanton, a yarn and hose manufacturer; Peak, Trean & Co., manufacturers of confections, represented by Thos. Gadsby; Armstrong, Stevens & Co., makers of drop forgings and stampings, represented by H. F. Refern; Redman Bros., clothing manufacturers, represented by H. J. Redman.

Entertained at the Tecumseh.

The Britishers were entertained to breakfast at the Tecumseh House by the commissioner of industries, and at 10 o'clock commenced the trip about the city. An exhibition run by the fire department had been arranged and proved equally interesting to those who had come into the city to attend the circus.

Superintendent Dr. Robinson provided refreshments on the London Hospital for Insane grounds, before the party returned to the Board of Trade rooms. An hour's discussion followed after which the delegation entrained for Brantford.

INSPECTOR SEIZED DRAY LOAD OF BEER

Raided Canteens in Goderich Camp But Had Hard Time Getting Away.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Goderich, June 21.—Inspector Oliver Johnson, of Centre Harbour, assisted by a constable from Goderich, made a raid yesterday on the canteens in connection with the military camp at Goderich and seized a dray load of beer, which was being freely sold in four canteens.

A gang of soldiers tried to interfere with the officers as they were leaving the grounds, and succeeded in recapturing two of the kegs. The officers of the camp apparently had no control over the men, and it was with difficulty that the inspector got away from the grounds, with the wet goods. Crown Attorney George will prosecute the cases.

BALL AMMUNITION SERVED BY MISTAKE

Miraculous Escape of Militia in Training at Barriefield Camp.

[Canadian Press.]

Kingston, June 21.—Through some mistake, ball ammunition was served to members of the Eighth and Ninth Brigade Regiments at Barriefield camp Thursday afternoon. It was nothing less than a miracle that there were not a number of men killed. The only reason given for the mistake is that perhaps the cartridges came through the stores department with the wrong label. Either this or the soldiers used wrong ammunition. Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes was on his way out of the camp grounds for the railway station when the bullets whistled through the ranks. The affair caused a big sensation. Those in charge of the camp were anxious that nothing be said about the episode. Captain Pridmore is president of a court of inquiry into the circumstances. No announcement has yet been made by it.

ISAAC LEVI ILL

Well-Known Pawnbroker's Condition Is Very Serious.

Isaac Levi, of King and Clarence streets, a Hebrew pawnbroker, is very ill at his home and his recovery is not expected.

The train which brought the British delegates to London was the handsomest and largest special ever sent to this city by the Grand Trunk Railway, and for that matter, is one of the finest Canada has ever been able to boast of.

MR. W. LEONARD PALMER, Organizing Director of the Tour of British Businessmen.

It was made up of one of the most powerful and modern types of locomotives, and six cars. There were four magnificent coaches; all of steel, except the upholstered ones, and as Mr. A. G. Penny, of the G. T. R. head office, Montreal, facetiously remarked, except the bed linen.

The steel was grained to look like real wood, and represented mahogany and other classes. The cars were the Hopdale, the Gwendale, the Barnard and the Bonaventure, the latter carrying a

PARKER CHAIRMAN OF DEMOCRATS AGAINST THE PROTEST OF BRYAN

Hurry-Up Call Sent to the "Peerless One" to Come to Baltimore and Fight Against Selection of Parker Is a Possibility.

Baltimore, Md., June 20. — Former Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, was selected today as the temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention of the arrangement committee. The choice of Judge Parker was made against the protest of William J. Bryan, whose friends on the committee submitted the names of four other candidates for the honor. Eight of the sixteen votes of the committee went to the New York jurist, while Representative Henry, of Texas, received three votes, Senator-elect Ollie James, of Kentucky, three votes, Senator Kern, of Indiana, one vote, and Senator O'Gorman, of New York, one vote.

SUFFRAGETTE PRISONERS STARTED A HUNGER STRIKE

And Keir Hardie Charges the Government With Favoring Rich Ones.

London, June 20.—The suffragettes now in prison, including the most prominent of them, are on a hunger strike because their leaders have been transferred to the first division and their followers have been left behind in the hard labor department. Several of the suffragettes have not eaten anything naturally since Thursday morning. In the House of Commons tonight Keir Hardie, the socialist leader, accused Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, of differentiating between the rich and the poor. Mr. Hardie became very emotional when he spoke of the pump-feeding of the suffragettes. Mr. McKenna repudiated the charge that he had been differentiating through his prison authorities, between the suffragette prisoners. The leaders, he said, had been transferred because they had made an undertaking not to repeat their offence. If their followers will sign a similar undertaking, they would be released. Meanwhile the leaders and followers alike would be pumped unless the doctor certified that it would injure their health.

PRAIRIE VILLAGE WIPED OUT BY FIRE

Explosion Causes Destruction of Year-Old Edanfort.

North Battleford, Sask., June 20.—A fire, which originated from a gasoline explosion, almost totally wiped out the year-old village of Edanfort, north of here, on the Jackfish branch of the Canadian Northern, this morning. The following business places were burned: Arizona Hotel, Lindgren's Hall, poolroom and livery, Stevie's grocery, the Lumber Company, Naden's general store, postoffice, two padrooms, three livery barns, Pioneer Lumber Company, and many others. The estimated loss is $250,000.

GREAT CONTRACT AWARDED BY C. P. R.

Toronto, June 21.—It was announced yesterday that a contract for the proposed double-tracking of the C. P. R. between Sudbury and Port Arthur had been awarded to Deas & Hinds, of the Toronto Construction Company.

Work will be started at once and rushed to as early as completion as possible, and it is hoped that the road will be in operation before winter.

Ten million dollars is the estimated cost of construction, and it is expected that twenty-five hundred men will be engaged by July 1.

Whipping Up Tired Nerves

The driver reaches his destination weary by whipping up his tired horse, but no one supposes that the whip imparts strength to the horse. It merely causes the more rapid expenditure of strength.

An so it is with stimulants. When the system is run down the use of stimulating medicines merely calls forth the additional expenditure of the wasting vitality and in reality hastens the breakdown.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is not a stimulant. It does not give rise to false hope by whipping up the exhausted system. It is a true tonic, and cures by gradually and naturally building up the feeble, wasted nerve cells, and adding new, firm flesh and tissue. You need not expect any startling results from the first few doses, but can be certain that the benefits to the body are thorough and lasting.

PROVE DICTIONARIES ARE NOT LIKE WRINGERS

Distribution of Books Is Surprising Many Residents.

The immense distribution of The London Advertiser Dictionaries has caused much comment in the commercial world, for seldom has such a marked success been known.

Incidentally it has proven the salesman and his comparison of dictionaries to wringers to be wrong. When the project of distributing handsomely bound volumes of Webster's interesting work with modern additions was first considered, a wiseacre book salesman tried to throw cold water upon the proposition with the following fable:

Once upon a time a salesman started out to sell patent wringers in a country district, but after a week's toll returned to his employer disgusted and said, "Wringers are like noses." Upon his employer asking him for an explanation, he spoke briefly, saying, "Everybody has one."

The salesman said: "Dictionaries are like wringers and noses—find the man who had not one good enough for him."

But the salesman was wrong. Salesmen often are.

It may be admitted that almost everybody has a dictionary, but the rule is so far behind the times that it has long ceased to be an authority, and such people are the first to recognize their absolute need of a modern dictionary. The London Advertiser's book is accurate, authoritative, and up to the very minute, being officially known as Webster's New Illustrated Dictionary, containing latest Canadian census.

GOVT. RETURNED IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Early Returns Indicate Only Two Members of Opposition Elected.

AND TWO INDEPENDENTS

Government Now Has Forty-Eight Seats—Majorities Are Large.

St. John, N. B., June 20.—The provincial elections today resulted in practically a clean sweep for the Government, only two Opposition men, Dugal and Pelletier, in Madawaska, being elected. In Northumberland, where three Independent Conservatives ran on the Government ticket, two of them were elected. In St. John city, York and Sunbury Counties, the Opposition candidates lost their deposits. Mr. A. B. Copp, the Opposition leader, was badly defeated in Westmoreland. Premier Fleming headed the poll in Carleton.

The result of today's voting gives: Government, 40 seats. Independents, 2. Opposition, 2.

The Opposition has twelve seats at dissolution. The Gloucester polling takes place on Monday.

Complete details have not been received, but the majorities given are about as near as can be figured out now. The majorities are those of the top Government man over the top Opposition candidates: Albert—Prescott and Dickson, Government, elected. Carleton—Fleming, Munroe, and White, Government, elected. Charlotte—Grimmer, Clarke, Taylor, Captill, Government, 900 majority. Kent—Laundry, Bourque, Sheridan, Government, 500 majority. King's—Murray, Jones, Dickson, Government, 700 majority. Madawaska—Pelletier and Dugal, Opposition, 600 majority. Northumberland—Allain, Government, 2,875; Hon. John Morrissey, Government, 2,354; Stewart, Independent Conservative, 2,058; Swin, Independent Conservative, 2,017. Moncton City—Price, Government, 300 majority. Queen's County—Woods and Slipp, Government, elected, 425 majority. Restigouche—Howart and Culligan, Government, 400 majority. GRAND TRUNK LINERS FOR THE PACIFIC

Mr. Chamberlin Says Ships Will Be Put on When Road Is Completed.

Montreal, June 20.—Mr. E. J. Chamberlin, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, announced today that a line of steamers would be placed on the Pacific as soon as the road was completed through to the coast.

Mr. Chamberlin is optimistic over the prospects of this line. "Ship masters assure me," he said, "that by sailing from Prince Rupert about two days will be saved in the voyage to the Orient."

Mr. Chamberlin is leaving Montreal on Sunday for four of the Grand Trunk system, going via Chicago to Winnipeg, and thence to the end of the track in the Rockies. He states that he believes that it will be possible to run trains from Montreal to Prince Rupert by the end of next year.

A CONSCIENCE-JOGGER

Disaster Has Started Stream of Money to the Customs.

Ottawa, June 20.—Apparently as a result of the Titanic disaster, the customs department here is in receipt of an unusually large amount of conscience money. There always is a certain amount of conscience money coming in, but since the disaster of last April the amount has greatly increased. Today the Archbishop of Chiconitini sent $5.25 which had been entrusted to him for this purpose.

$645,000,000 FOR A NAVY

Russian Parliament Passes Bill Providing for Enormous Expenditure.

St. Petersburg, June 20.—The Duma today passed the navy bill, which involves an expenditure of $645,000,000 in the next five years. This would place Russia second to Great Britain in naval expenditure.

SIXTY YEARS A PRIEST.

Windsor, June 20.—Sixty years a priest is the proud record of Rev. Father Marselle, who today celebrated his 60th birthday at the Hotel Dieu, in this city, where for several years he has been stationed as spiritual advisor to the Sisters of St. Joseph. In company with several old friends in the priesthood, Father Marselle attended mass in the hospital chapel today.

Yes, There Are Still Men's Suits at Their Full Prices

And what is more, they are worth these prices, and they are selling in a way that proves their worth to men who prefer to be absolutely sure about the excellence of a thing at its full price than doubtful about it when offered at an alleged reduction.

We will show tomorrow the finest range we ever stocked to sell for $15.00 to $20.00—not a cent less. That would be impossible unless the steam roller or skimming process was arranged with the tailor who made them, and we despise specifications with such contracts, the sum and substance of which is to skimp. But there are times when suits can be and are sold for less than their true value, and for legitimate reasons. When you buy a suit at a reduced price at the Smallman & Ingram store, you buy with a certainty that the workmanship, the goods, the trimmings and the style have nothing to do with the price reduction.

If you believe in clothing that is unskimped in value and true inward and outward excellence, you believe in Smallman & Ingram Clothing, and we are ready to serve you with it today.

LONDON, FRIDAY, JUNE 21,

STARTING TO WALK.

The Pyne regime tottered forward a little this year under general urging and criticism on the path of educational reform. It had really any idea where it is going, any comprehensive policy, beyond simply responding to the spur of criticism from this or that quarter, the reforms adopted might be more heartily acclaimed. Our education department leads public opinion, as a man leads the goat which butts him along.

Something, however, is done for agricultural education. School gardens are to be encouraged and summer schools helped. A little tinkering change, intended for the better, comes into the apportionment of funds for instruction in agriculture.

A more decided forward step is made in the "Adolescent School Attendance Act." By this measure it is proposed to do something for both the general and vocational education of those boys and girls in town and city, who leave public school at fourteen and get some sort of employment more or less regular, or hang about undecided as to their future life's work. So with one palmed hand the Pyne administration reaches out to stir up rural conditions, and with the other, tries to help things in town. Praise be to its intentions, and really this Adolescent Act may lead to something, much as it yet falls short of what is required.

Adolescents are defined to be persons between the ages of fourteen and seventeen. Power is conferred by the act upon school boards to pass bylaws enforcing attendance by such persons at day or evening classes. The action of a board may, however, be checked by a petition signed by at least ten per cent. of the municipal electors, praying that the bylaw be submitted to a vote of the people. In that case the vote must be taken at the next general municipal election, when the majority decides. It is provided in the act that employers must not use the services of an adolescent for such a number of hours as together with the number of hours in which he is required to attend classes will exceed the number of hours during which the adolescent may be lawfully so employed. That is, working boys and girls between fourteen and seventeen shall have time taken from their work hours for systematic improvement both general and occupational. They are to be made skilled workmen and good citizens. This journal has for some time advocated such legislation, preferably by the province itself; but the present act at any rate makes an important step forward in permitting the local authorities to make salutary provision for a part of the population at present sadly neglected.

In Germany the compulsory continuation of school education along with the first years of employment, is highly organized. In Great Britain there is a strong movement, led by men like Mr. Chiozza Money, M.P., towards this end, though there the ruling class lulled by richness, success, and good living into indifference on such subjects, are slow to act. Here in Ontario the conditions of adolescence in our cities are a ground of serious anxiety. It behooves wide-awake school boards to seize the opportunity now afforded by the "Adolescent School Attendance Act."

NOT ALL EMPTY NOISE.

The personal ambitions and jealousies, the bitter accusations flung across the floor, the shouting, marching and school boy behavior of many of the delegates and the circus features generally, obscure the underlying seriousness of the Chicago convention, in which some Canadians can see only Bedlam. It would, of course, be far more decorous if the proceedings were "steam-rolled" from start to finish by the party machine. There have been many nice, well-mannered conventions in the past, when the Republican party was the passive instrument of the corrupt interests which have held the republic in their grip. Roosevelt may be a demagogue—he is certainly an actor—but there is a genuine moral significance behind the tumult and the shouting at Chicago, and the movement of which he is accidentally the head is a great deal bigger and broader than any one man. The Republican party has been cleft in twain for the time being, but the wedge is a healthy insurrection against the trusts, the tariff, and the forces of privilege. It is unfortunate that so personally clean and amiable a man as Mr. Taft should be the nominal head of the "stand-patters." It is certainly not a position he relishes, or would have chosen if he had been master of the circumstances which have driven him into it. He has many fine achievements to his credit and all told a better administrative record than Mr. Roosevelt, whose policies seemed to end in platform thunder. But although not a reactionist, the reactionists have been driven into his camp by their hatred of his opponents, and like many good men he is to some extent discredited by his company. Politics makes strange bedfellows. A party chieftain has to work through many persons for whom he feels no liking; even Roosevelt was hand in glove with Harriman for campaign purposes.

Roosevelt's last-minute entrance into the fray is, however, a usurpation of the position that rightfully belongs to LaFollette or Cummins, chiefly to LaFollette. The Wisconsin man did the heavy spade work for long years before Roosevelt ever showed a sign of friendship for the insurgent cause. In the current number of the American Magazine he shows how Roosevelt in the White House proved a broken reed. He was strong in word, feeding the insurgents with fair promises, but petered out in action. Not until Republican insurgency became a real force in the country as well as in Congress did Roosevelt throw his hat into the ring. It is no wonder that he is suspect by the pioneers of the movement; but he happens to have the faculty of catching the public's eye and tickling the public fancy in a greater degree than LaFollette. In his personal magnetism and driving force he is an extraordinary man; but as LaFollette says, he "has not the capacity for thinking a thing through."

Setting aside the personal equation which is bulking beyond its merits, the ferment at Chicago is a more reassuring symptom than the smooth stagnation of the normal party convention in the United States, where the platform is a plaything and principles are ignored. There is an awakening in the nation. Party lines may be broken up, but party names will take on more real meaning than they have had since the civil war. The heaven that has been working in British politics is beginning to work in the republic. But Roosevelt appears to be a pinchbeck imitation of Lloyd George.

Of course father went to the circus merely to show little Willie the animals.

Sir Max Aitken is not talking for publication since the cut in the cement duty.

There are signs at Baltimore that Mr. Bryan doesn't believe in the rule of three-times-and-out.

If the Roosevelt managers are looking for new tricks, they should be told that Hon. Bob Rogers has a box of them in the gallery.

Fort William asks the Ontario Government for $2,000,000. The Provincial exchequer hardly measures up to Fort William's opinion of itself.

No one today talks of the country staggering under the cost of the Grand Trunk Pacific. The treasury is overflowing, and the ex-croakers have the key.

In the Maritime Provinces governments have a habit of making clean sweeps, and long stays. It is not surprising that the Conservative Government in New Brunswick in its first appeal to the electors should easily win. The Liberals had an extended luncheon before 1908, and cannot complain.

Travers says he wrote a letter to Provincial Treasurer Matheson asking him to deposit more public money in the Farmers' Bank, and reminding him that he had promised Dr. Beattie Nesbitt and the Toronto World that he would do so. Colonel Matheson says he never received the letter. Travers says Col. Matheson replied to it. Inspector Duncan, of the Toronto police force, says that he (Duncan) read the colonel's reply. Can tricks of memory explain away these conflicting statements?

TIPPING MAY GO.

[Ottawa Free Press.]

It looks as if there will have to come a day when the tipping system in hotels shall be stopped by law. It is not only wasteful, but it smacks of criminality. The waiters themselves ought to be the first to move toward the abolition of tipping. It is both unfair and degrading to them. A waiter is entitled to a definite and adequate wage from his employers. If his demand for that wage is coupled with a demand for the abolition of the tipping system he will have the public with him.

CHILE, THE LAND OF SALT PETRE

[By Special Arrangement With the Winnipeg Telegram.]

South America has often been called the neglected continent. There are vast countries down in that southern world, teeming populations, immense resources, and a high degree of civilization. From our geography days we have remembered that there are such countries as Peru, Brazil, Ecuador and Chile, but few Canadians are posted on the conditions which prevail in South America today. I am afraid that most of us regard it as a western Africa, a continent given over to darkness and comic opera wars. I must confess that I have had my eyes opened to the greatness of one of those republics by reading Mr. Nevin O. Winter's "Chile and Her People of Today" (Page & Co., Boston). This is a travel book done up in the most approved modern style, handsomely illustrated, and written in an easy style. It is a book designed more to inform than to amuse, and we have, therefore, able chapters devoted to such topics as "Education and the Arts," "The Development of Transportation," "Religious Influences," and "Present Conditions and Future Possibilities." In addition to such informing chapters are others of a descriptive character in which the author gives us glimpses of the streets, life, and people of various leading cities. By the time you read this charming volume you ought to know pretty nearly all that is worth knowing about Chile.

The Andes have decided Chile's shape. It is a long ribbon of land and its breadth ranges from 65 to 200 miles. It is said that if Chile could be placed on the western coast of North America, in the corresponding latitude, it would extend from Sitka, Alaska, to a point in the Pacific coast opposite the city of Mexico. Naturally there is a wide divergence of climate in this ribbon country. In the north it is very hot and it becomes colder as you travel south until you reach perpetual snow in the Fuegian Islands. But the Chileno, whether he lives in the north or in the south, has the snow always within easy distance. In the hottest and driest sections of the north country the natives can take the train and in a few hours reach the snows which are always crowned with snow. Narrow as this country is, however, it contains immense resources in minerals and fertile soil. Not more than one-fourth of the landed surface of Chile is fit for cultivation, but the possibilities of Chile are seen when it is remembered that only one-fourth of this arable land, some of the richest in the world, has been touched by the farmer or ranchman. The most fertile stretch of land is a great central valley, which runs in a southerly direction for several hundred miles from Santiago. This valley, six hundred miles in length is the granary of the country and the source of its principal food supply. All the cereals grow to perfection in this valley and it is only a question of time until Chile, like Canada, will be a great exporter of wheat.

Chile, however, has reaped more wealth from her deserts than from her fertile valleys. The great desert of Tarapaca, which stretches along the coast for hundreds of miles, is probably as barren a desert as exists anywhere in the world. And yet this inhospitable, pale yellowish desert, more enormous beds of nitrate of soda, more familiarly known as saltpetre. English capitalists have exploited this desert to good purpose, for the nitrate shipped out last year was valued at almost one hundred million dollars. More than two million tons are shipped annually from Chile and, as the government gets a share of the proceeds, the republic of Chile is in splendid financial condition.

As every gardener and farmer knows, saltpetre is one of the best fertilizers that has ever been discovered. A friend of mine who operates the largest peach farm in New England buys it by the ton. One use which he makes of it is to sow it on his hay meadows. Although it is said that the Incas of Peru were acquainted with the value of saltpetre as a fertilizer, the author of this book tells us that a poor Scotsman who lived near Iquique had a small garden which he cultivated with great care. "One day he noticed that a part of his garden which has been banked up with soil containing this mysterious white substance, flourished much more than the rest. This led to experiments and some of this soil was sent back to Scotland. The success of the experiments that followed gradually led to the development of the present industry, but the discoverer died as poor as he was born. The nitrate works of Chile have been in operation since 1826 and English nitrate princes have paved colossal fortunes with saltpetre.

Turning from the nitrate desert let us look at the Andes through the eyes of Mr. Winter. It may surprise some of my readers to learn that it is possible to travel across the South American continent from Valparaiso to Buenos Ayres in a Pullman car. On such a trip through the Andes you would have for fellow-passengers "Chilenos with big hats and ponchos, and Chilenas, whose faces are coated with powder or paste. There will be priests in beaver hats and black gowns, which reach to their feet. Soldiers in uniforms modelled after the German army are quite likely to be companions as far as the border. Americans, British, French, Germans, Italians and Argentinians—all of these nationalities go to make up a potpourri of nations." If you begin your journey in the morning you will see "the gray skies turn to a steel blue, then to a rosy pink, until, at last, the highest peaks are illuminated by the rays of the sun. One may leave Los Andes clad in its summer plumage, with myriads of butterflies and moths flitting about, but these characteristics soon disappear, for the upward climb begins almost immediately. In the next thirty-five miles this rack and pinion road climbs upward more than seven thousand feet."

One of the most interesting sights on this mountain trip is the statue known as the Christ of the Andes. It stands high up in the mountains on the international boundary line between Chile and Argentina. It was erected in 1904 as a symbol of perpetual peace between the two nations, and was cast in bronze from the cannon purchased through fear of impending war. Mr. Winter states that near it is a sign with the word "Chile" on one side and "Argentina" on the other. In one hand it holds the emblem of the cross, while the other is extended in blessing, as if uttering the one magic word "Peace." On one side is a tablet with the inscription: "Sooner shall these mountains crumble into dust than the people of Argentina and Chile break the peace to which they have pledged themselves at the feet of Christ the Redeemer." On another side is the inscription:

"He is our Peace
Who hath made both one."

In this respect at least South American republics can boast that they are ahead of Europe.

Everybody's Experiences.

How often in the long ago,
I rose before the dawn,
And labored on the canvas ropes,
With men of beef and brawn;
And then when breakfast came along,
The hands all went to feed,
While hungrily I stood and watched,
It made my young heart bleed.

How often in the long ago,
By promise long sustained,
I carried water to the beasts,
My clothes with mud all stained,
Expecting soon to see the show
Beneath the grand, big tents,
But always had to rush back home
To dig up fifty cents.

But though I labored hard and long,
And found I'd been a dupe,
I chatted with the chariot man,
And the man who looped the loop;
And what they said made me feel proud,
And the day repaid with joys,
They said: "We couldn't raise our tents
If it wasn't for you boys."

"Grab Off a Fat One."

[Brussels Post.]

Pick out a fat man. They wear better in the long run, and then, too, they are easier to land. A fat man is tender-hearted, and simply cannot refuse an offer of marriage. Never mind the looks. Don't wait until you find a Greek god. Grab off a homely one, while it grabbing is good; the homely ones are the ones who bring home the pork chops.

young man, for when he learns the truth there's apt to be trouble. Be sure that your approach is all that it should be. Everything depends upon that. When you ask a young man to marry you, don't go about it as though you were ordering a ham sandwich in a one-armed restaurant, but be pleasant about it. Approach him with tact and let him find out your true nature after it is too late for him to back out.

Under the circumstances I can see nothing for it, having invited our public men to deal with our case, and to give them our utmost support in carrying this task to a successful issue."

SCARCITY OF SAILORS.

[Montreal Witness.]

Another aspect of the sending of this ship to be added to the Australian navy is that it draws attention to the scarcity of sailors in England. The British people have just now a larger fleet than they can man. It is said that if war were suddenly to break out a considerable number of ships would either have to lay up that others might have a full complement, or that all go to sea undermanned. This being so, it is of little use for the colonies to give the Mother Country more ships. They must be manned to be of use, and it would be impossible to contribute manned ships to an imperial navy unless they were both stationed in the colony, contributing them and under its control as to enlistment and regulations.

It is becoming steadily more apparent that the building up of colonial navies is the greatest desire of the new First Lord, Mr. Churchill. It is a reversal of the former policy that efforts have proved most essential. They have perceived that they need the colonial men as well as the colonial ships, and that any gifts of more money or ships would be but spasmodic and uncertain compared with the responsibility that will be created by the development of colonial navies.

ADMIRATION VERSUS CRITICISM

[By Virginia T. Van de Water.]

[Copyright: 1912.]

Most of us have the habit of criticism, and it is one of the most disagreeable and at the same time one of the cheapest that can be cultivated. The veriest ignoramus and vulgarian can criticize, or find fault—not always intelligently, perhaps, but intelligently enough to suit himself.

When one meets a stranger who has any decided personality one cannot avoid forming some opinion of the new acquaintance. One must observe something, and what that something will be depends largely upon the trend of mind of the observer.

It is strange that so many people should seek points to censure rather than qualities to admire in those with whom they are thrown in contact. It is much pleasanter to regard agreeable things than disagreeable—then why accent the latter class by paying special attention to them?

When I was a girl I cut from a calendar and pasted in my scrapbook the suggestion: "Strive to learn the hard lesson of admiring rather than criticizing." The words stuck, not only in my mind, but I have said themselves over often when I have been tempted to pass what someone calls "a snapshot judgment." It is surprising when one follows the advice contained in that single sentence how many delightful people one meets and how many admirable traits one notes in almost every acquaintance.

WOULD BE HAPPIER.

For it is a truism that in our intercourse with others we usually see the characteristics for which we are searching. And, if we would consider the matter simply from the standpoint of personal comfort, we would appreciate that we would be much happier if we looked only for the good things in our friends and acquaintances.

Then, too, the absence of criticism makes one much more acceptable as a companion and guest. Does not each of us know some person who is so critical that we dread to have her meet our friends? Of course, the critic herself is not at all that she blames others for not being, but she has grown accustomed to looking for defects rather than for beauty.

Note how quick some women are to detect the unfashionable touch in a costume, to remark that a sleeve is of last year's cut, or that a certain hat is no longer in style. And all the time, the dress that is under fire may be of an exquisite material and the colors on the hat really artistic. Then why not look at those features, and if one must make any comment, let it be of appreciation of these pleasing things?

The lesson of "admiring rather than criticizing" may be a hard one to learn, but the converse—that of criticizing rather than admiring—can be acquired with painful facility. And it is a habit that grows until it makes the possessor positively disagreeable as an associate. We all become afraid of her, and then, of course, we do not enjoy her presence anywhere or at any time.

What a difference the viewpoint of those we meet makes! A woman was ready to go walking with a friend when the friend remarked that she intended stopping for a few minutes at the house of a certain acquaintance who was not very well. "It will cheer her to see us," she added.

A DIFFERENT VIEW.

The pair were on their way to the front door when this remark was made. The other woman hesitated for a minute, then turned back. "Where are you going?" asked her astonished friend.

"Upstairs to change my dress. This one is all very well for the casual observer to see, but it cannot stand the scrutiny and merciless criticism of Mrs. Blank, upon whom you propose calling. It was made last year and she would know that it was."

Does not each of us understand how the wearer of the year-old costume felt? Has not each of us been fairly comfortable until suddenly brought face to face with some censorious person? Then the dress we thought was fairly presentable appears shabby and we remember that the skirt never did hang just right; we cannot talk with ease any longer; whenever we speak we imagine that our voice, language and manner are being criticised. We all know that there are some women and a few men in whose presence we "feel like fools," and "have nothing to say." I sometimes wonder if it is not because some subtle instinct tells us that the person in question considers us fools, and is sitting in judgment on our speech and bearing.

And yet none of us wishes her acquaintances to feel uncomfortable in her presence. Then do let us look for the pleasant things in those with whom we meet. "Ten! Merry sweet!" said one woman to her husband of a friend of whom she was fond.

"She's nobody's pretty child, is she?" was the rejoinder. "How could the wife help feeling vexed? Or how could another husband avoid showing temper when, to his enthusiastic remark to the effect that 'John Blank is a fine fellow!' his wife replied with 'Yes, but I do wish his table manners were better!'"

WHAT'S THE USE?

What was the use of either of these unkind criticisms? And one of the ironies of the situation is that the very people who are most critical have certain characteristics that could be criticized equally as harshly as we are. If we could see ourselves as others see us we would talk often and volubly about our friends' good qualities in the hope that by so doing we could keep them from noting our bad ones. Yet one of the homeliest women I ever knew was most scathing in her unfavorable comments of other women's appearance. When one tried to forget her unattractive face one's thoughts were drawn forcibly to it by her censure of the features of each person she met. She made the practice of the admiring habit very hard for all of us.

The critic is seldom popular with anyone except himself. If we want to bring out the best that is in others as well as in ourselves we have to show appreciation of the good that we know exists and shut our eyes to defects which, perhaps, strange as it may seem, may make the possessor more uncomfortable than they can possibly make us.

An Effective Ribbon Arrangement

A foundation waist of white net has a high folded girde of dull blue satin and is covered above this girde by a drape of cerise chiffon. A dull blue velvet ribbon, matching the girde, is crossed in front under the cerise pinn, as shown in picture. The chiffon is shirred a little in the front and chiffon frills finish the sleeves. In the back the ribbon extends to the girde and the fullness of the chiffon is folded over a little at the lower ends.

White and cherry color represent a favorite alliance at the present moment. Three Ways to Cook Rhubarb

Baked Rhubarb.
Cut into inch lengths after stripping. Put in a shallow baking dish; sprinkle with large seeded raisins that have been cut in halves. Dust thickly with granulated sugar. Cover the pan closely and cook for ten minutes. Then pour over a half pint of orange syrup, cooking in a moderate oven until the fruit is tender. To make the dish extra pretty, cover the fruit with sponge cake and a meringue. Return to the oven for a few minutes to brown.

Rhubarb Shortcake.
Rub into one heaping cupful of pastry flour that has been sifted with a teaspoonful of baking powder, a pinch each of salt and sugar, one teaspoonful of lard and a small butter ball. Moisten this to consistency of biscuit dough with sweet milk. Arrange in flat cakes, spreading with butter. After placing one on top of the other, bake for 20 minutes in a quick oven. When cake is done, break apart. Rub with a brush of thickened cream. Sweetened whipped cream makes it richer. Finely chopped nuts may be sprinkled on top of the cake for variety.

New England Rhubarb Griddle Cake.
Soak 2 cupfuls of stale bread crumbs in 2 cupfuls of hot milk for one hour, and then beat smoothly, adding beaten yolks of 2 eggs, 1 cupful of flour, 1 tablespoonful of melted butter, a pinch of salt and lastly 2 teaspoonfuls of baking powder with the stiffly whipped egg whites, together with a smidgen of strained cooked rhubarb (sweetened). Bake this on a hot griddle (soapstone if you have one). Serve dusted with powdered sugar, and ground cinnamon.

bow of soft satin ribbon. Crepe paper napkins decorated with jonquils can be used.
The use of paper in this way will help the busy mother and housewife, as it can all be thrown away, saving a heavy laundry of table linen after the party.
The centre pieces may be either a gilded yellow basket filled with jonquils and maiden hair fern, its high handle decorated with a many-looped the form of jonquils by cutting out and mounting on cardboards the designs from the paper napkins. A slip of fine Bristol board upon which to place the name of the guest should be pasted across the flower stem. A particularly dainty receptacle for the ices can be made by making a crepe paper jonquil to which is set the tall glass.

CANADA'S OLYMPIC TEAM

FRANK LUKEMAN, of Montreal, an all-round athlete star who has been entered for the Decathlon and Pentathlon at Stockholm. He is shown in one of his whirlwind finishes of the 100 yards sprint.

Tecumsehs Back Again; Brantford Here Today

Manager Bowerman and his team arrived home from Berlin last evening in good shape and report that they should have grabbed both contests in the Dutch city. Empire Cancelli was about the worst official they have yet been afflicted with, according to the players and it is not likely he will unlive any more Canadian League games.

President Fitzgerald witnessed the game from the grandstand, and although he did not make any statement following the contest, his remarks during the game were not favorable to Empire Cancelli becoming a Canadian League fixture. President Stevely, of the London Club, also attended the game. The club has decided not to go on with the protest, although it was pretty certain that Cancelli had a bet on the game. Yesterday's game was one of the best ever played in Berlin, but was marred by the poor umpiring of the Brantford Italian. Berlin had several chances to score, but Hynes always tightened up with men on bases and the Green Sox could not come across with a run until after London had scored two in the tenth. Bolinger, who was on the mound for Berlin, is the pitcher that spent a few days last week in a London uniform, but was sent to Berlin by Manager Bowerman when Deneau needed a pitcher in the worst way.

Powell did not strike Cancelli but only pushed him. The protest was on a decision at first base, Powell catching the runner off the bag by feet. It is likely that President Fitzgerald will attend Saturday's game between Brantford and London in this city. He is contemplating making a trip to this city, and it will likely be on that date.

SOME REAL SPEED AT LONDON RACES

Cold Weather Has Kept Horses Back, But They Should Be Going Fine

The London race meet to be held on July 9, 10, 11 and 12, promises to be the best ever held in this city. All the crack horses going down the line will be on edge ready to trot very fast. The cold weather has kept the horses back some, but it is expected that when the London track is reached the whole lot will be on edge ready to trot very fast. Secretary Mr. A. H. Brener has received a large entry list, the stake races being particularly well filled. There will be a big crowd here for the meet.

"Blue Belle" Day at Ascot, Owing to Predominance of That Color.

"Get-Away-Quick" Ballingame

"Get-Away-Quick" Ballingame was as chipper as ever this Friday morning when he arrived at the office of Carr, Lode, Lott & Co., where he was clerk. And why shouldn't he be? He hadn't missed a ball game in two weeks. One excuse after another had won for him many afternoons at the ball park.

His superior, Dudley Jones, the bookkeeper, was on the job when he arrived and had been for half an hour. He bestowed on Ballingame one of those citrus smiles that savored of envy.

"Say, Ballingame," said Dudley, "help me out. I want to go to the ball game this afternoon. Let me in on your system."

"Sure," said Ballingame, "I'll think up a scheme for you."

In ten minutes Ballingame slipped over to Dudley's perch and unfolded a plan.

"About 2 o'clock," said Ballingame, "you tell Mr. Carr the Boss that you need postage stamps. Then you duck for the ball park. About 2:30 you call Mr. Carr by telephone and tell him you stepped on a banana skin and got hurt and won't be back. See?"

Dudley "saw" quickly enough. Right on schedule he invaded Mr. Carr's office and with much blushing and faultering he got the information out of his system that the stamp drawer was empty. Dudley slipped out and

WATVERALE WON ONTARIO HANDICAP

Fine Performance of Belmont Horse Was Feature of Hamilton Races.

PHILIS FINISHES THIRD

London Mare Was Shut Out And Blocked Several Times, But Ran Good Race.

Hamilton, June 20.—The fine performance of Mr. Belmont's Watverale in the Ontario Handicap was one of the features of an interesting day's racing. The big 4-year-old carried 133 pounds, made all the pace, and ran the six furlongs in 1:12, with a very stiff wind in his face all the way home. Knights Differ was the next best throughout.

The third race saw Mr. Seagram's colors home in front for the first time this year. Rustling did the job. She followed the Brookdale colt, Marcovili, right to the finish, and wore him down in the last stride. Philis, shut out and blocked in several times at critical points, finished ahead of Commla and Havrock.

The summary: First race, selling, 3-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs—J. H. Houghton, 117, 1; Lewis, 100, 2; Vreeland, 117, 3. Time, 1:12 4-5.

Second race, selling, 2-year-olds, 5½ furlongs—Arcene, 109, 1; Marie T., 104; Frog Levy, 107, 3. Time, 1:07 2-5.

Third race, selling, 3-year-olds and up, 8½ furlongs—Rustling, 115, 1; Marcovili, 85, 2; Philis, 107, 3. Time, 1:49.

Fourth race, Bronte steeplechase, 4-year-olds and up, about 2½ miles—Jimmy Lane, 151, 1; Luckola, 151, 2; Miss Hynes, 148, 3. Time, 4:36 3-5.

Fifth race, Connaught selling stakes, 8½ furlongs, 3-year-olds and up—Altamaha, 99, 1; Bonanza, 109, 2; Blackford, 107, 3. Time, 1:46 2-5.

Sixth race, Ontario handicap, 6 furlongs, 3-year-olds and up—Watverale, 133, 1; Knights Differ, 104, 2; Lahore, 115, 3. Time, 1:12.

Seventh race, maiden 3-year-olds, mile on turf—Cloud Chief, 115, 1; Con Curran, 115, 2; Pons Asinorum, 115, 3. Time, 1:42 1-5.

HORSE TALK

Don Pronto (4), 2:05½, the wonderful young pacer, bred by L. C. Webb of Mason, is at it again this year, and he won a free-for-all at Los Angeles in May in 2:09, pulled up at the end.

Frank H. Colby has not been faster than 2:25 with Ty Cobb, but the little pacer is in fine trim and does not need much brushing. It is likely to start in the free-for-all at the Marshall meeting.

Peter H., 2:07½, is in pretty good shape this spring and will be a factor in the fast-paced events on the half-mile tracks. He is to make his initial appearance tomorrow in the matinee on the west side track.

Those who like horse racing regret that John Dickerson will not have a mount in the M. and M. both of his mares having gone wrong. Eva Bellini, the first one declared out, is rounding to form and will be raced during the season.

Cox has no fears that his horses will not be ready when the bell rings, although he has not been an extremely fast miles. New England trainer is apt to land in Michigan almost any day as his first engagements are at Grand Rapids.

The Estabrook horses will arrive at Grand Rapids some time this week. There is some question whether Denver Jay will be in shape to start in the Chamber of Commerce, although he showed fine form in training. The stable has had an unusual run of hard luck this spring.

Billy Andrews ventures the opinion that Margaret Parrish is likely to be what Sorprano was last year.

Snow thinks very well of a 2-year-old in his stable by San Francisco and belonging to George H. Nichols of Mt. Clemens. Chatham promises to have about as good a meeting next week as any half-mile track has had in this part of the country for a long time.

Binetta, a 3-year-old by Hingara, trotted in 2:17½ to wagon in one of the Pittsburgh matinees.

Phil Bars, formerly a hobbled pacer but now an M. and M. candidate, is some shucks as a trotter, as he recently worked in 2:16½ on a half-mile track.

Beth Clark, a green pacer by Joe Patchen that Snow has in the 2:16 class at the Blue Ribbon meeting worked in 2:16 on Saturday and came the last quarter in 29½ seconds.

W. C. Brown, president of the New York Central, has been a patron of the trotting turf for many years, and if the young stallion Bergen happens to win the M. and M. it will cause general satisfaction.

Bessie Fulton, that won on the ice at Trainers at Indianapolis have been up against a lot of wet weather this spring. The Michigan state fair grounds has been in a lucky spot, as there has been less of a let-up because of weather than at any of the camps.

Gun Metal, the trotter that won at Toronto last week, is a stallion by Bingen and stepped in 2:25 in a race on a half mile track as a 2-year-old. The Canadians overlooked him as he sold for $30 in pools of $150 and the men from Boston cornered these.

Eugene Metter, of Indianapolis, who owned the sensational Miss DeForest, appears to be in luck. He has a 3-year-

The Only Tailoring Establishment on the American Continent Which Owns and Controls Exclusively Its Branches Throughout Canada and the United States—Scotland Woolen Mills Company.

Notice that heading? It is a pretty wide statement to be able to make considering that it was only a few years back since we opened our first branch in Canada. Toronto was the first city in Canada and Detroit headed the list in the United States.

You will observe that we do not employ agents. We sell our goods direct through our own branches. We have to do that if we want to keep the price of our suits and overcoats down to $15, no more, no less. There is no room in our calculations for the wholesaler, the manufacturers' agent, the travelling salesman or the retail agent. We have our own branches with our own manager selling goods direct between the Mills and the Wearer of the Clothes.

NO MORE - NO LESS

Above all bear in mind that when you buy from us you are getting the best weaves in material that the Old Country Mills can turn out. Nothing better made in the world. Also remember that you have a choice of cloth shown to you in full mill webs and that there is absolutely only one price. Fifteen Dollars, no more, no less, for a Suit or Overcoat.

Every inch of material sold by the Scotland Woolen Mills comes first to the storerooms in Toronto and is distributed from there. Believe us, it would take a moving picture machine with a flash light equipment to get a record of the continuous arrival of shipments at headquarters. Not single suit lengths, nor single webs, nor yet case lots, but carloads of one line of selected weaves. Handling so much material means that we get the benefit of close buying and selling.

SOUTHCOTT---RANNIE

Pretty Zurich Girl Becomes Wife of California Man.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Zurich, June 20.—A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. S. Rannie, on Tuesday, when her daughter, Helen, was united in marriage to Mr. Fred Southcott, of Santa Monica, California.

At high noon amid the strains of a wedding march played by the bride's sister, Mrs. A. Geiger, the contracting parties took their places before a bank of ferns and roses.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. E. Rannie, looked charming in gown of meshine silk, trimmed with point de venise lace, and carried a bouquet of cream colored roses.

Miss Elizabeth Rannie was her sister's bridesmaid and wore pale pink silk striped voile and carried pink roses, while Mr. Milne Rannie, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. E. Crofton in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

After luncheon the bridal party left for an extended wedding trip down the St. Lawrence.

The bride's travelling suit was of gray whipcord with tuxcan hat.

GROWS NEW HAIR ON BALD HEADS IN THIRTY DAYS

Real Hair Grower Discovered at Last in the Juice of Tropical Shrub. Stops Falling Hair and Induces Scalp in One Application. Kills Dandruff Germs in Three. Restores Color to Gray Hair in Seven Days Without Dyes.

Deadly Hair Destroying Dandruff Germs Greatly Magnified. The Salithol Treatment Kills Them—Quick.

500 Fifty Cent Packages FREE

Stop being a Bald Head. Stop scratching! Stop pulling your hair by the handfuls with every combing. Stop hiding your poor scanty tresses with dead hair, wigs, puffs, switches, transformations that never fool anybody.

Kill for once and all the Deadly Little Dandruff germ that saps the vitality of your hair roots and covers your hair, scalp and coat with disgusting scaly matter. Stop grinding old and gray. Be young again. Have hair its natural color.

Begin today to end all hair and scalp trouble and have a thick, glossy, luxuriant head of hair as Nature intended.

The SALITHOL treatment is the most wonderful hair remedy in the world. Not a mere pleasantly perfumed hair wash like the drug store advertised "tonics," not a greasy pomade, but a marvelous original scientific discovery that genuinely and actually grows new hair on the balddest heads where roots are not totally destroyed. In thirty days or less, and quickly ends hair and scalp trouble of every form and description. It will prove this to 500 readers of this paper by sending them a full-size 50c package of SALITHOL absolutely free to use on their own head.

The SALITHOL treatment has, as its base, the juice of the rare and little known Fernambuco Shrub of South America, which grows new hair with utterly amazing rapidity. Hundreds of people, living in every corner of the United States, testify to its marvelous qualities.

One lady writes to say: "My husband has been bald for twenty-five years and has used everything. The first week after using your treatment his hair began to come in and what hair he did have is turning back to its original color. A lady user says, 'I have been terribly tortured with itching scalp and dandruff. Your treatment stopped them quickly.' Another user says, 'I have been coming out in handbuds with every combing. One application ended all trouble.'"

I want 500 readers of this paper to step forward and send me the free coupon below—readers with any form of hair and scalp trouble. I want bald-headed people—the balders, the better-folks who wear wigs, who think their hair roots are dead and that nothing can help them. The hair roots rarely die and merely lie dormant beneath locked follicles waiting for a true stimulant and scalp food to set them to work again.

Here is the test that tells. Use the SALITHOL treatment one week. Then take your mirror and note the countless tiny hairs that have sprung up on your bald and thin spot. Watch them grow. Be careful not to apply where hair is not needed.

Sign and send this Coupon today, enclosing ten cents in stamps to pay for postage and packing and a full-size 50c package of SALITHOL will be sent you free. Do it now and be one of the lucky five hundred. Address me personally, Everett Wood, Hair and Scalp Specialist, Suite 4223A, Clark Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.

LACE PEDDLER WAS FINED AT INGERSOLL

Woman Claimed Machine Lace Was the Real Scotch Hand-Made Variety.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, June 21.—Peddling without a license was the charge on which Maria Williamson, a stranger to Ingersoll people, appeared in the police court yesterday. Her mission to Ingersoll was ostensibly to dispose of lace by the door-bell method. She emphasized the quality of her wares by the statement that it was Scotch hand-made lace for which femininity appears to have a craving. Just how long she had been plying her trade before molested by Chief Fysh is not known, but as soon as the officer learned of the presence of the lace vendor he got busy. At the request of the chief, Mr. Strong, of a local drygoods store, examined the lace, which he pronounced to be machine made. It was stated that the woman was selling the lace at 35 cents to 50 cents per yard, and it can be obtained in Ingersoll for 20 cents per yard. After taking all the circumstances into consideration, the magistrate called upon the vendor to contribute the sum of five dollars to the police exchequer for violating the town bylaw relating to peddlers' licenses, and ordered her to leave the town forthwith.

In view of this experience the chief has warned citizens to exercise judgment in buying from peddlers.

MAN STRUCK BY AUTO AT CONGESTED CORNER

Vaughan Schooley Injured in Six o'Clock Rush on Dundas Street.

Mr. Vaughan Schooley, son of Lance A. Schooley, a tailor, was struck by an auto owned by Mr. T. A. Stevens, of the Empire Manufacturing Company, in charge of his chauffeur, Grant, at the corner of Dundas and Wellington streets last evening, and was seriously injured. Mr. W. J. Stevens, driven to the office of Dr. W. J. Stevens, was later taken to his home at 382 Waterloo street. His condition which he was injured. His condition was reported to be somewhat improved today.

The view of the driver of the motor was obstructed at the corner by a number of cars, while a score of autos and other vehicles also swarmed about the intersection. The driver of Mr. Stevens' motor was running slowly through the six o'clock rush, but Mr. Schooley suddenly emerged on a bicycle from behind a street car and ran directly in his path.

Mr. Schooley was knocked from his wheel and fell beneath the auto wheels, which crossed his abdomen. The car, which was comparatively new, was said to have been in good condition with satisfactory brake equipment.

CHEAPSIDE GETS STREET RY. LINE

Deputation for Victoria Street Failed to Win Their Point Before Committee.

WELLINGTON STREET LINE

Company Given Power to Move It to Richmond Street if It So Desires—Injunction Is Threatened.

THE BYLAW.
North end extension, from Wellington or Richmond street, on Cheapside to William, south on William to Oxford, east on Oxford to Adelaide, connecting with the Belt Line at Central avenue. Double-tracking Horton street, from Richmond to Wellington; Hamilton road, from Marmalton to Rectory streets; York street, from Ridout street to the bridge. Work to be completed by Dec. 31st.

Permission given the company to remove the Wellington street line to Richmond street, if the company desire to do so.

"It" rails to be used, if the company desire. Wellington street to be put in good repair if tracks are moved. Double-tracking to be classed as mileage, and charged up to future population.

This is the agreement which will be entered into between the London street railway and the council relative to north end extension and other matters.

For some time past there have been many secret conferences between the special street railway committee and the company's representatives, and the various points of differences were threshed out. A meeting of the council was called for Thursday night to finally pass the bylaw, but Mr. C. H. Ivey, the company's solicitor, was unable to be present, and the committee merely discussed the question. Inasmuch as the council is in communication with the company, and listened to deputations with protests.

The first deputation was from Victoria street and vicinity, asking the council to see the new north end line on that street. Mr. E. T. Essery, K. C., represented them, and claimed that Victoria street was much more suitable than Cheapside street. It would make all portions of the north end equidistant from a street car line, and would develop the district.

Cheapside in Favor.
Mayor Graham explained that the committee had gone carefully into the question, and were unanimously of the conclusion that Cheapside was the proper street. If the line were placed on Victoria street it would tend to develop the London Township district, and this was not desirable. His wish was that the route would not be changed.

Mr. J. M. McKevoy, acting on behalf of the residents of St. James and Wellington streets, protested against the removal of the Wellington street line. The ratepayers living on that street would suffer a serious property loss if the line were removed. Some compensation should be made to them if any service were to be taken from them.

Writ of Injunction.
"I have been instructed to issue a writ of injunction if any attempt whatever is made to move the line," declared Mr. McKevoy. "The citizens whom I represent feel very keenly on this subject."

The protests were listened to, and Ald. Blandford, the chairman, promised to give them careful attention. Then City Solicitor Meredith went over the bylaw clause by clause, explaining each, and changing the wording here and there.

The only flurry in the committee was over the double-tracking of Horton street. Ald. Bennett made strenuous objection to that.

"That is not fair to the residents of that street," said Ald. Bennett. "They paid high prices for the land there, and they should be given some protection. There will be a storm over that."

The sidewalks will be moved back to the property lines," Ald. Blandford explained. "That will make the road plenty wide enough."

Ald. Bennett Objects.
"I object to that," declared Ald. Bennett. "This will put the walk right up against the buildings, and spoil the street altogether. I do not think that this is a square deal. These people along there should be given fair treatment."

The clause giving the London Street Railway permission to remove the Wellington street line created some interest. The council did not order the line moved, but gave its consent.

"We simply allow the company to move the line, if they so desire," it was explained by Ald. Bennett. "I understand that they do desire to move it."

It developed that double-tracking does count as mileage. It was thought that the company would be allowed mileage up to their limit, 1.73 miles, but there is something better than half a mile, or 1,900 feet, that did not seem unreasonable, so we agreed to it."

Other details of the agreement were discussed, and then the committee adjourned to take the bylaw up again, when the representatives of the London Street Railway can be present.

Those present at the meeting were: Ald. Blandford (chairman), Ald. Moore, Ald. Bennett, Ald. Richter, Ald. Spittal, Ald. Johnson, Ald. Robinson, Ald. Murphy, Ald. Ashplant, City Solicitor Meredith and Secretary Baker.

I am of the opinion that we should get the men out frequently."

"I think that would be a good idea," said Ald. Ashplant. "It would do the

ROOSEVELT DELEGATES DECIDE TO HOLD RUMP CONVENTION

If Credentials Committee Decide Against the Colonel's Delegates, Unseated By National Committee, Rough Rider's Supporters Will Bolt the Convention.

Chicago, June 20.—The Roosevelt delegates in session this afternoon agreed to attend the convention to the end, but decided in case the credentials committee brings in a report unfavorable to the Roosevelt delegates, who were unseated by the national committee that they would take no part in the business of what they declare to be an illegal body. At this meeting, which was composed of two delegates from each Roosevelt State, it was agreed further that after the Taft delegates have adjourned since the Roosevelt men will hold a rump convention of their own and nominate Theodore Roosevelt for president.

Colonel Will Accept.—Somewhat earlier Col. Roosevelt made a declaration over his own signature that he would accept such nomination as the delegates might make. The feeling for his nomination must be general among the progressives. In that case he would run for the presidency on a progressive platform.

Tonight some of the colonel's more belligerent followers are disgusted because the original plan to bolt as soon as the convention would accept an unfavorable report of the committee on credentials was not followed. Some of the delegations, on the other hand, are pleased with what they consider a conservative plan of action.

Roosevelt Explains.—The acceptance of a milder plan is explained on the score that the colonel was not able to carry with him enough states to make a bolt really effective. The more conservative among the Roosevelt men are pleased because they believe that the new plan of action will leave a large majority of the Roosevelt delegates in their seats and that they have avoided the obnoxious word "bolt."

Col. Roosevelt, after coming out of the meeting, said that the decision of his delegates not to be bound by any action of the convention, providing the "illegally seated delegates" are allowed to vote, was unanimous. He said that Governor Hadley, Governor Stubbs, Governor Deneen and "all the others" were there. He added, "this does not mean that all of them will bolt, but it means that they will reserve the right to do what they wish, and that they will take no active part in a convention where the fraudulent 89 are allowed to vote."

What of Today?—Chicago, June 21.—Delegates to the comes, William Barnes, Jr., of New York, declared that he knew positively that the president would have at least ten votes over the necessary number to nominate, and that he expected this many would be increased by six or more votes.

There was much conjecture and gossip this morning as to the exact number of delegates that Colonel Roosevelt could depend on to stay with him through any sort of move that the former president might decide upon. Outside of California, Pennsylvania and possibly Kansas, it was predicted that Colonel Roosevelt would get comparatively little support among delegates on any proposition that might compromise the "regularity" of the men who followed him.

Ror, in the last few hours the Roosevelt followers plainly demonstrated that they were willing to do almost anything for Colonel Roosevelt, but as it is known in racing parlance, "go the route." When it came right down to the point of butting their heads on a dead open and shut game of win or lose, there was a scurrying to get from under, and the colonel was left holding the bag.

Hadley Won't Bolt.—Governor Robert Hadley, of Missouri, Governor Charles S. Deneen, of Illinois, and Senator Borah, of Idaho, serve notice that they would not join in a third party movement or in a bolt from the regular convention. Other leaders of nearly equal prominence did likewise.

In this connection it was reported that Governor Hadley and Col. Roosevelt disagreed in a heated argument at one of their last conferences. Governor Hadley, it was said, had minced no words in making his position clear, and Col. Roosevelt plainly indicated his surprise at the turn that matters had taken.

Meanwhile the veteran leaders in command of the Taft campaign used their political genius adroitly for the purpose of disintegrating the Roosevelt support. They were reported to have encouraged dark-horse compromise talk at every opportunity, and in other ways to have turned the fire from their candidate until the preliminary steps in the organization of the convention had been concluded.

Congressman William B. McKinley, of Illinois, President Taft's campaign manager, insisted that at no time had he considered a third candidate. He declared that all talk of a compromise candidate had come from the Roosevelt men, and that none of it had been given his sanction either directly or indirectly.

Taking up a review of the situation, as appeared to him before today's session of the convention was called to order, Mr. McKinley declared that the Roosevelt men were demoralized and disorganized to an extent which would preclude any further united action in a rout of the convention. The Taft leaders went into conference early today for the purpose of advancing plans for both day and night sessions of the convention with a view to winding up the convention certainly by Saturday night.

Many were inclined to think that the plan of "positive resistance" mapped out by the Roosevelt managers, would be discarded before it had been placed in fair working order. According to this plan the Roosevelt delegates were not to vote on motions connected with the work and organization of the convention, but were to place Col. Roosevelt's name in nomination.

Also, if a candidate is nominated with the votes of the alleged "fraudulent" delegates, it was announced that the Roosevelt forces would call a convention in Chicago for the first week in August, to which all progressives would be invited, and at which it is expected that Col. Roosevelt will be nominated for the presidency.

According to one of the progressive newspapers, Woodrow Wilson would be selected as Col. Roosevelt's running mate.

With the approach of the time for nominations, United States Senator W. S. Kenyon and Congressman S. E. Prouty, of Iowa, were particularly active in behalf of the candidacy of Senator Cummins. Both said they expected important developments today that might decide the chances of the Iowa senator's success.

There were strong indications in the Taft camp also that the leaders had gotten together on their programme, and that the session of the convention today might bring forth a clean-cut outline of what finally these leaders intended to do. Final plans were discussed at a number of breakfast councils, during which communications were received from nearly all state leaders as to late developments last night.

PROTEST AGAINST SUNDAY MARCHING

Ministerial Association Sends Strongly Worded Resolution to the Militia Department.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Woodstock, June 20.—The Ministerial Association today forwarded a strongly worded resolution against the marching of the Twenty-second Regiment to Goddard camp on Sunday, and preceded it by a wire of protest to the Minister of Militia. The reply came from the minister stating that no orders had been issued from his office instructing the regiment to go on Sunday. The association is now waiting a reply from Colonel Hord, an authoritative source. They have applied for information as to who issued the orders.

The senior officers of the regiment decline to state from whom they got their orders to entrain on Sunday morning, and say that if they go on Sunday it will be with orders from an authoritative source. The Ministerial Association is greatly worked up over the matter.

Railway Commissioners Give Very Important Decision in Conference at Galt.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Galt, June 20.—A joint meeting of the board of railway commissioners for Canada, and the Ontario railway and municipal board was held here this afternoon to consider the applications of the boards of trade of Galt, Preston, Hespeler, Berlin and Waterloo, for an order directing the Grand Trunk Railway, the Galt, Preston and Hespeler Street Railway, and the Preston and Berlin Railway to connect their lines by interswitching tracks in the places mentioned. The boards of trade were represented by J. H. Hancock, of Galt, who presented the case for the various municipalities. The interests of the street railway were watched by Mr. M. K. Cowan, of Toronto, and Mr. W. E. Foster, of Montreal, appeared for the Grand Trunk.

After hearing evidence in support of the claim of the Galt Board of Trade, the joint commission ordered that the interchange track between the G. P. and H. and Grand Trunk be constructed, at a location to be mutually agreed upon, within ten days; and if the location could not be agreed upon, that the engineer of the Dominion railway board make the selection; the question of distribution of cost to be decided at a later date. The commission reserved their decision as to interswitching.

The same decision was arrived at in regard to Preston, Berlin, Waterloo, and Hespeler, Commissioners McLean and Ingram dissenting in the two last instances.

PAWNBROKERS STUNG.

New York, June 20.—The pawnbrokers do not always get the best of it. An investigating committee here has just found that 200 pawnbrokers in New York City have on hand several thousand summer uniforms on which they allowed the pawn-takers from $10 to $20 apiece. The pawnbrokers say they have been accustomed to take up these police uniforms in the fall, saving the police the bother of storing them away in moth balls. They generally allowed the blue-coats liberal sums in the belief that the pawn tickets would be promptly redeemed in the spring. Now it develops that a new type of uniform has been adopted by the police, and the pawn tickets for their old suits. The result is that the pawnbrokers are selling out at 75 cents apiece uniforms on which they were paid from three to five times that amount.

WHAT A BIG RAILROAD IS DOING

Some Live Items From the Grand Trunk Railway System.

A curious instance of the manner in which modern transportation facilities have brought closely together the old and the new worlds came to light the other day in the Grand Trunk Railway's new hotel at Ottawa, the Chateau Laurier. Some of the barbers employed in the building were brought there especially from Europe and, among them, one from Edinburgh, who had worked at his trade in this city up to the day he sailed. This man had for one of his latest customers an Englishman whose personality impressed itself upon him more than usual by reason of a conversation which he had with him. Great was the mutual surprise of both men, however, when the Englishman seated himself in the chair of the same barber at the Chateau ten days later. Although neither knew that the other was intending to travel, they had met again a quarter of the way round the globe, the customer having received an unexpected cable which necessitated his sailing immediately for this country to look after interests here.

Two splendid locomotives of a new type have recently made their maiden trips on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific between Edmonton and Winnipeg. These big triple drive wheel, trailer truck, high speed engines of the Walsworth valve gear, consolidated Pacific type, were built last November.

The commissioner of Dominion parks is at present in Montana from where he intends to ship a number of buffalo from the herd of Mr. M. Pablo to the Buffalo Park at Wainwright on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific. Some 15 animals have been rounded up, but it is possible that not more than a car load will be captured.

The death has occurred within the past few days of two of the best known employees of the Grand Trunk Railway in Ontario. One of these is Mr. Harry Donald who was, at the time of his decease in London, Ont., among the oldest conductors in the company's service, having seen 40 years in harness, spent principally on the Stratford branch. The other is Mr. George Brown, an exceedingly capable and popular engineer who fell dead suddenly last Friday in the office of the locomotive foreman at Brockville, the cause being ascribed to heart failure. Mr. Brown was only 38 years of age, but had been in the employ of the Grand Trunk for seventeen years, during which time he had risen from fireman to the position he held at the last. As an engineer, he had qualified for passenger service and frequently piloted express trains between Belleville and Montreal.

The inauguration of the new service between Winnipeg and Regina has been marked by a businessmen's excursion over the Grand Trunk Pacific to the latter point. Invitations sent out by the Regina boards of trade to the boards of all the principal towns along the main line were very generally accepted and the special left for Regina, Sask., at six o'clock on Monday morning, stopping at intermediate points and reaching its destination at 1:30 p.m. The guests of the excursion were taken to the Parliament Buildings where a luncheon was served, after which a tour of the city was made in a number of automobiles.

Dr. Bruce, a Toronto surgeon, made perhaps the fastest run yet recorded over the northern division of the Grand Trunk from Toronto to North Bay. The occasion was an urgent call to perform an operation for peritonitis at the latter point. A special train of two cars and a locomotive was quickly put together by the G. T. R. and the distance of 227 miles was covered in five hours.

A dispatch from Regina states that all the tenders for the Grand Trunk Pacific station are expected to be in within the next ten days when the contract will be let and work started immediately. The estimated cost is in the neighborhood of $100,000. A city ticket office is also being opened by the G. T. R.

Mr. Silcox, locating engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific, who is engaged in surveying a line from Watrous to the international boundary, has completed the preliminary survey to the Vermilion Hills about 50 miles south-east of Swift Current, which he expects to reach about the middle of the current month. It is understood that he has secured a good grade as far as he has gone and that the line will run through a thickly settled country which is at present badly in need of railway facilities.

Capt. Edward McCroskie has just been appointed shipping master at Prince Rupert, the Pacific terminus of the G. T. P., in addition to the position of harbor master which he already holds. Capt. McCroskie is one of the best known men in marine circles on the Pacific Coast and has had a long and adventurous career, dating back to 1865.

Engineers of the Grand Trunk Pacific are now at a point on the west side of Spotted Lake, close to Lacombe, Alta., in the survey of a line from Mirror to the Brazeau. It is considered probable that this line will be constructed from Mirror to Long Valley into Lacombe by an easy grade and

Keeps the Skin Clear and Soft

Humors of the skin are especially prevalent in the spring. There is nothing more annoying than to have irritation of the skin and disfiguring eruptions breaking out to mar the beauty of the complexion. Internal treatments are slow and unsatisfactory in results, but you can depend on Dr. Chase's Ointment to heal up the sores and bring lasting relief. Unlike pore-clogging powders, Dr. Chase's Ointment cleans out the pores of the skin and makes it soft, smooth and healthy. It is a food for the skin, and a beautifier of the complexion.

Eczema, salt rheum, psoriasis, chafing and all forms of itching skin disease soon yield to the soothing, healing influence of this well-known ointment. It is indispensable in the home where there are babies and young children.

"SALT RHEUM"

Had It On Hands For Two Years.

ITCHED SO DID NOT KNOW WHAT TO DO.

Tried Three Doctors and Went to Hospital.

All skin diseases are more or less occasioned by a bad state of the blood, and no one can expect to be free from some form or other of skin trouble unless the blood is kept in good shape. All skin diseases can be very easily cured by the wonderful blood cleansing properties of Burdock Blood Bitters.

This is due to the unrivalled purifying action of Burdock Blood Bitters on the blood, coupled with the thorough manner in which it cleanses and expels the impurities from the body.

Mrs. Richard Cantine, White Head, Que., writes:—"I have been bothered with salt rheum, on my hands, for two years, and it itched so I did not know what to do. I tried three doctors, and even went to Montreal to the hospital without getting any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, so I got three bottles, and before I had the second used I found a big change, and now to-day I am cured."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for about 35 years and is manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

will then run around the north end of Gull Lake to the Brazeau line and the Yellowhead Pass.

Mr. Cy Warman, of the Grand Trunk Railway System, has returned from Omaha, where he delivered a lecture before the Canadian Club on "Canada." The hall was filled and great interest was taken in the speaker's address on the developments of the Dominion, especially of the western provinces, and the expansion of the Grand Trunk. Moving pictures were used to illustrate the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific, as well as several pictures showing special features of the Dominion's development calculated to be of interest to a western audience.

A prominent Toronto resident, who has just returned from an extensive trip through Western Canada and British Columbia, writes to the Grand Trunk Railway as follows:

"I cannot feel easy until I drop you a line to express the appreciation I feel of the kindness of the G. T. P. officials while on your line. You are certainly to be complimented upon the splendid sleeping and dining car service now in operation between Edmonton and Winnipeg. We were also greatly pleased with the splendid country through which the line passes. In this respect travelling over the G. T. P. is a wonderful improvement over the ordinary prairie country."

The eighth, or 1912 edition of the Grand Trunk Pacific folder on the Temagami region has just made its appearance and is even more attractive than in the past. The most varied information that the sportsman or camper could require is supplied in convenient form and the illustrations convey an adequate impression of the scenic beauties of the district. Particularly effective is the cover, showing a small boy holding up for admiration a 22-pound lake trout caught in Lake Temagami, which is almost as long as himself. The new edition of the Northern Navigation Company's publication on the Grand Trunk route through Lake Superior, the Georgian Bay, and the 30,000 islands is also off the press and will be found to contain much of absorbing interest for those who are contemplating a summer cruise.

The Premier of British Columbia, the Hon. Richard McBride, in a recent interview on his arrival at Vancouver, stated that he had met Mr. J. W. Stewart, managing director of Messrs. Foley, Welch and Stewart, two days before leaving London and had been informed by him that he had then successfully completed financial arrangements for the construction of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to connect Vancouver with the Grand Trunk Pacific at Fort George and that work would be started at or near North Vancouver before July 1, which before next fall the company would be employing one of the largest forces of men ever assembled on a railroad contract in the province. Mr. D'Arcy Tate, chief counsel for the company, and formerly with the Grand Trunk Pacific, who was also in London, expected to sail for Canada about June 14.

The two new stern wheelers of Messrs. Foley, Welch & Stewart, the "Conveyor" and the "Operator," built during the winter months at Tete Jaune Cache, are now busy in distributing railway supplies along the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific and Captain Johnson reports unusual activity, work on the grade being maintained night and day. The line is now covered with camps down river for a distance of 120 miles, or about half way from the Cache to Fort George which will probably be reached next year as all the work has been let and will soon be in full swing.

With the signing of the "Grand Trunk" bill by Governor Foss of Massachusetts, the Southern New England Railroad of that state has become an accomplished fact, and as the measure permits of union with the Southern New England Railroads of New Hampshire and Rhode Island, the company's system is now complete. It is probable that work on the new lines will be pushed immediately, that to the city of Boston in particular. The line from Palmer, Mass., to Providence, R. I., is already under construction, contracts for the work having been awarded in April. The proposed Boston line is to start from Lowell Falls, Vt., and enter Massachusetts through New Hampshire to the northwest.

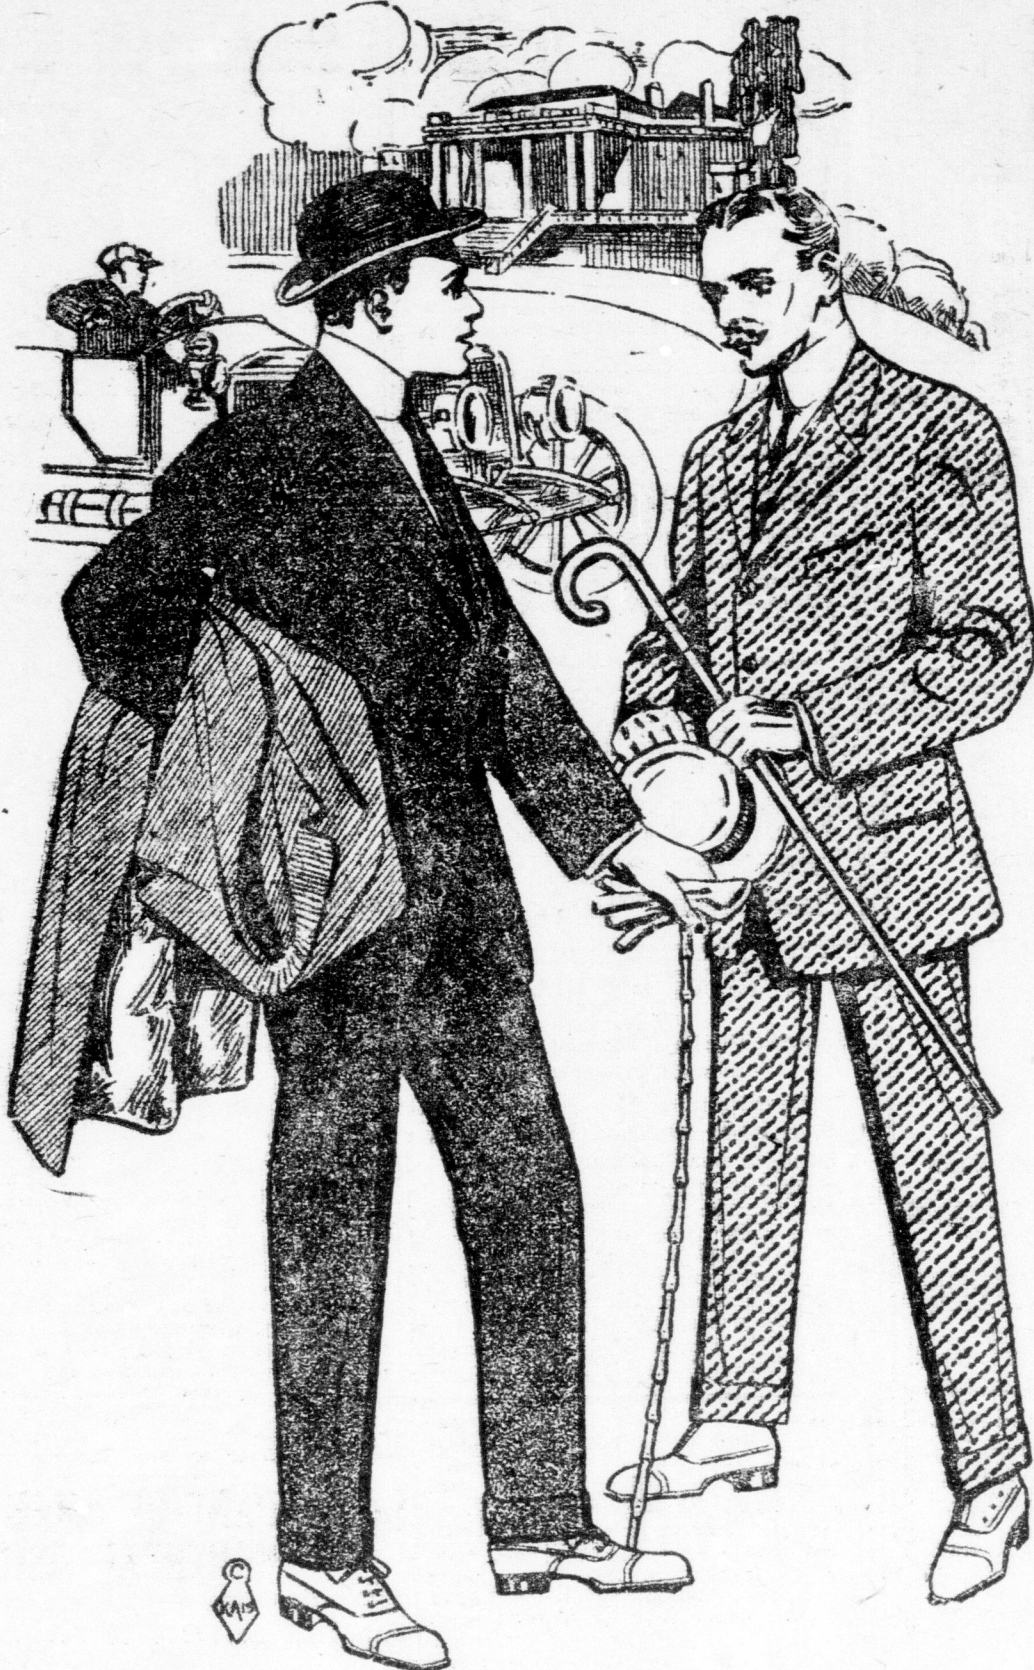

During the past week 2,480 steamship passengers from Europe passed through the Grand Trunk's Bonaventure station at Montreal en route for points in Ontario and Western Canada.

national character as well as on literature.

The growth of the Poetry Recital Society has undoubtedly been helped by the fact that it has fashionable patronage. The founder is Lady Margaret Sackville, sister of Earl de la Warr. She is a poet herself and has published several volumes of poems. Among them are "A Hymn to Dionysus and Other Poems," "Hillside the Queen," "Fairy Tales for Old and Young," and "Bertrud and Other Dramatic Poems."

IDENTIFYING BULLETS

French Physician Describes a System He Has Formulated.

Paris, June 21.—Dr. Balhazard at the recent congress of legal medicine in Paris described his experiments on the identification of revolver bullets. He has formulated a system for identifying human beings.

He showed by greatly enlarged photographs that every gun barrel leaves marks on a bullet and that the marks are always the same for the same barrel, but never identical for two different barrels. He showed too that the hammer of a gun or revolver strikes the cartridge at a point which is never the exact centre of the cartridge, but is always the same for the same weapon.

Dr. Balhazard has succeeded in making negatives of bullets nearly a foot wide. Every detail naturally appears very distinctly, and it can be decided with absolute certainty whether a certain bullet was fired from a given weapon.

OPERA IN OLD CASTLE

Plans For the Finnish Bayreuth Festival Next Month.

Helsingfors, June 21.—Public expectation in Finland is running high pending the preparations for what is ambitiously termed the Finnish Bayreuth festival, which will be held from July 2 to 7 at Nyslott, a picturesque little town on the Kymen.

The main feature is an opera based on the Finnish national epic poem, the "Kalevala," and is entitled "Aino," after the well known Finnish singer Mile. Aino Ackte, for whom it has been composed and who will fill the title role. The performance will take place amid romantic surroundings. Opposite Nyslott stands on a high cliff the ancient historical castle of Olofsborg, which was built in 1475, and it is here amid its massive granite walls, battlements and turrets, without the aids of modern stagecraft, that the scene will be laid.

Mr. Erkki Melartin, the composer of the opera, will conduct personally.

AUDITORIUM RECITAL

Advanced Pupils of Parnell Morris Give Splendid Programme.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, a large audience gathered last evening to head advanced pupils of Mr. Parnell Morris, assisted by Miss Carrie MacDonald, reader, Miss MacDonald gave three numbers of varied character, which were well received. The programme opened with an overture, "The Merry Wives of Windsor" (Nicola), played by Miss Robinson and Edith Line. This brilliant composition was beautifully interpreted. Miss Margaret McGregor (West Lorne) has a high, clear soprano voice, and sang with telling effect. Miss Winnifred Pick (Orillia) has a beautiful mezzo-contralto voice, a fine stage presence, and sang her group in an artistic manner. Miss Jessie M. Perry, in her piano numbers, showed a good technique, and a grasp of the finer points of the compositions. Mr. George Andrews has much histrionic ability, coupled with a baritone voice of power and quality. Miss Gwendolen Ware was a delight, her deep rich contralto voice and perfect enunciation being much admired. In the opera number from "Der Frieschutz," Miss Edna Weston showed careful preparation, and good tone production. Miss Claire Darville, in the difficult "Tarentelle" by Liszt, was a revelation to the audience. With an abundant technique and true musical instinct, her playing marks her for a brilliant future.

In a splendid group of songs Mr. George White revealed a rich tenor voice, most carefully trained. Miss Irene Straloch sang with seizing effect "Championade," "Summer," and "Love's Echo," by Newton.

Mr. Leslie Roberts, as accompanist, added to the success of the evening in no small degree.

Beautiful bouquets were presented to Miss Straloch, Miss Darville, Miss Weston, Miss Ware and Miss Perry.

Mr. Parnell Morris is to be congratulated on his success in being able to produce the splendid results shown last evening, and the performers on having so capable an instructor.

SONS OF SCOTLAND
HELD FINE CUTTING
Big Picnic at Forest Was Attended By More Than Two Thousand People.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Forest, June 21.—The annual Scotch picnic held here today at Valley Grove at the lake shore under the auspices of the Sons of Scotland was the most successful of a long line of successful outings that have been held. Fully two thousand people from all parts of the district gathered here today, and it took every auto, bus and available vehicle in the town to take the crowds out to the picnic grounds.

Three pipers—A. McElena, from Dundee, Scotland; Angus Bricker, of Wainwright, and Robert McGill, of Forest, played a fine programme of Highland music which delighted the crowd. During the afternoon Peter MacArthur gave an address that was greatly enjoyed on "The Sons of Scotland." The speaker, in his usual capable manner, and addresses were given by Dr. Fairbank, of Clinton, and Dr. Fairbank, of Clinton. In the afternoon a fine programme of athletic events proved a great attraction.

WORMS ARE DESTROYING ALL THE POTATO BUGS
The Crops in London Township Promise to Break All Records This Year.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Arva, June 21.—Farmers in this district are looking forward to one of the best years they have ever known. Oats will be a record crop, and hay was never better. Wheat is in good shape. In some districts the corn will be a failure, owing to poor seed and the lateness in sowing, but in many localities a good yield is expected. Potatoes are being kept down by a worm, which preys upon them and are doing no damage at all to the plants. The prospects are for a good yield of all kinds of fruit. Mr. Oscar Fraleigh has already started having.

The garden party, held under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Arva Methodist Church last evening, was a great success, notwithstanding that the threatening weather necessitated holding the programme indoors.

Rev. Mr. Salton was in the chair and the programme included numbers by Miss Hoskin, soloist; Mr. Moyer and Miss Daniels, of Lobo, and a quartette under the leadership of Mr. Reginald Hudson. Rev. Mr. Moorehouse gave an address that was much enjoyed.

Mr. Hawkins recently received a shipment of 4,000 bushels of wheat. This is one of the largest he had ever
