

GOOD ADVICE TO LIBERAL PARTY

Should Organize for Federal Campaign

Premier Robinson and His Colleagues Speak at Moncton Meeting

MONCTON, March 4.—Five hundred or more enthusiastic Liberals gathered tonight at the Liberal Club rooms to celebrate the victory of Hon. C. W. Robinson and his three colleagues in Westmorland, and the meeting resolved itself into one of the most enthusiastic and vigorous of the campaign. Fighting speeches by the four members from this county and predictions that five years would see the end of power for the present government after it had failed to carry out its extravagant pre-election promises were received with great acclaim by the crowd.

Hon. C. W. Robinson made a vigorous and forceful speech. He expressed his gratitude to the Moncton city electors for the magnificent manner in which they had stood by him, and said the landslide which has overthrown the government is almost unaccountable, but we know that the farther the pendulum swings in one direction the farther it will swing when it comes back again. (Cheers). Our opponents, he said, will be unable to carry out their promises. They have almost promised that if they were put back into power the millennium would be brought about in the province of New Brunswick, and I do not think that they are magicians enough to accomplish this, and when the people of this province find that the promises made before election were all humbug they will hunt them from power by a much greater majority than was rolled up against the government. (Loud cheers).

Mr. W. J. Sweeney, A. B. Copp and C. M. Leger also spoke, and their lines in fighting speeches that were loudly applauded.

John T. Hawke occupied the chair and said it had been shown quite conclusively that corrupt methods had been employed by the Conservatives in this county during the election, and that the Conservative bullocks had been distributed in envelopes to houses with dollar bills in the envelopes, and that had been put up to the party committee.

DEPUTY MINISTER ASKED TO RESIGN

OTTAWA, Mar. 4.—There has for a long time been criticism of the marine department and every minister has had trouble in justifying in the House acts of officials. As the first step in reorganization an intimation was conveyed to Deputy Minister Gougeon that it would be convenient if he should resign. Mr. Gougeon, accountant of the department, has recently been suspended, and this is expected to be made permanent. There will probably be other steps taken when a new deputy is appointed.

HUNDRED AND SEVENTY CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH, PRISONERS LIKE RATS IN BURNING SCHOOL BUILDING

FATHER IN JAIL; SON GOES AWAY

Latter to Wed the Widow Patterson

Prisoner Held in $1,000 Bail on Charge of Shooting His Son-in-Law

BOSTON, Mar. 4.—While his father was locked up in Cambridge jail yesterday charged with shooting his son-in-law, William E. Weddleton, of Brighton took out a license in Providence to marry Ellen Frapada Patterson, a widow, also of Brighton.

Until midnight last night the four children of Mrs. Patterson, ranging from 6 to 17 years old, sat up waiting for the return of their mother at their home, 36 Lincoln street. Then, when told by a Herald reporter that a marriage license had been taken out in Providence, the two boys and two girls retired. Nothing had been said to the children about going to Providence.

Weddleton, John Patterson said, had boarded with them for about a year. Neither Mrs. Patterson nor Weddleton had ever said that they were to be married, although some friends had hinted at it about two weeks ago when visiting the house. The oldest son said he did not approve of the match, and if it was true declared, he would leave the house.

After taking out the license Weddleton and Mrs. Patterson were referred to the Rev. Mr. Alexander, a minister in the city, but he said that they had not married the couple. No record could be found of their marriage in that city.

Weddleton is 33 years old and Mrs. Patterson 35. He is a paper maker at Waterston. Mrs. Patterson has been a widow for about four years and is a landlady.

A Herald reporter called several times during the evening at 452 Massachusetts avenue, where Weddleton's parents live, but could get no response. Occupants of the same house said that none of the Weddleton family had been seen about the house all day or during the evening.

Alfred C. Weddleton, the father, who was arrested early yesterday morning charged with shooting his son-in-law, John J. Claire, at his home on Massachusetts avenue, pleaded not guilty before Judge Stone in the Cambridge district court yesterday morning. Weddleton said he shot to protect himself that he was frightened, and heard Claire, who is blind, threaten him.

Judge Stone held Weddleton in $1,000 bail, hearing March 10, failing which he was taken to the East Cambridge jail. Claire was reported to be still on the dangerous list last night at the Cambridge Relief Hospital.

Panic Jammed the Only Exit--There Were No Fire Escapes--Front Doors Were Locked

Fearful Holocaust in Ohio Village--Two Teachers Lost Their Lives in Heroic Effort to Save Their Pupils--Fear-Stricken Children Packed in the Halls Died Within Sight of Rescuers

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 4.—Death in one of its most terrible forms claimed between one hundred and sixty and one hundred and seventy school children of the North Collinwood school, in the village of Collinwood, an eastern suburb, today, when the school building, catching fire from a defective furnace, was wrecked in the space of half an hour.

The building being inadequately provided with fire escapes, the children were unable to make their way to the lower floors in time to escape the flames as they hot up from the basement and cut off egress.

Starting about 9:30 o'clock in the basement from the over-heated furnace, the fire gained tremendous headway before its presence was noted. The fire drill was inaugurated at once, and those in the rooms on the lower floor quickly moved out of the building. But when the panic-stricken little ones in the upper rooms attempted to make their way to the hallway, the jam of uncontrollable fear-stricken children grew until but few were able to extricate themselves, and they perished almost within reach of safety.

Various uncorroborated statements are made as to the cause of the fire, and it is stated also that the doors at the hallway end of the building were closed, while but one door of the rear entry was unfastened. The janitor, Fred Heger, who was in the school at the time, says the doors were open according to custom. At any rate, the congestion of fleeing children in the hallway being so effective, the fire, which was burning in the hallway, spread to the school, and the mother recognized the shoes on her children's feet.

Within three hours after the start of the fire it had burned itself out, and the work of recovering the bodies proceeded. The village fire department had only two engines, and neither was at the scene. The school was a two story and attic brick building, constructed about six years ago. It was over-crowded with pupils and it was found necessary to utilize the attic for those of the ages between six and eight. Nearly all the children were killed in the mass at the rear door, which was finally opened by men from the Lake Shore R. R. shops, who hurried to the scene.

The wall of flames had formed across however, and most of the children all were dead by the time the doors were sprung.

Approximately three hundred children attended the school, which had nine rooms. Janitor Heger could remember little of what happened after the fire started.

The janitor's story "I was sweeping in the basement," he said, "when I looked up and saw a wisp of smoke curling up from beneath the front stairway. I ran to the fire alarm and pulled the gong that sounded throughout the building. Then I ran first to the front and then to the rear doors. I can't remember what happened next, except that I saw the flames shooting all about and the little children running through the doors screaming. Some fell at the rear entrance and others stumbled over them. I saw my little Helen among them. I tried to pull her out, but the flames drove me back. I had to leave my little child to die."

Heger was badly burned about the head.

Teacher's lost life Miss Catherine Walker, one of the nine teachers in the school, lost her life in a vain effort to marshal the pupils of her class and lead them to safety. She died in the crush at the rear door. Her room was on the second floor, and when the fire alarm sounded she marched her pupils out into the hall, thinking it was only a fire drill. There she was driven upon by the flames, and pupils and teacher alike were killed.

Miss Walker attempted to stem the rush, but was driven up into the hall, and her body was found an hour later piled high with those of her pupils.

Miss Fisk, another teacher, was taken to the altar, but she cannot live. Burning through the cross-supports of the first floor, the flames passed upward until the three floors crashed into a smoldering pile into the hall. After the fire had practically burned itself out, the work of rescuing the bodies was begun by firemen and a hired employe from the Lake Shore shops. The railroad company turned over one of its buildings nearby to be used as a temporary morgue, and the bodies were removed as fast as they could be dug from the ruins. Within five hours practically all had been recovered. They were missed in rows in the Lakeshore shops. Identification was made only by means of clothing or trinkets. The fire had swept away nearly all resemblance to human features in the majority of instances. Dazed and dazedly soon began to gather, and the work of identifying the blackened and mangled corpses was commenced.

The gruesome task of taking out the blackened bones and bits of human remains was one of horror. A line of rescuers were formed, backed by half a dozen fire engines. As the bodies were untraced from the debris, they were passed along to the stretchers and then loaded in the ambulances. Men in the crowd were seen to weep, and their eyes were filled with the crowd of curious that stretched about the entrance of the structure. As fast as a body was taken away to the morgue, it was succeeded by another within a short time.

The sights of the human charnel house caused the men delving into the mass of charred flesh to hesitate, but the work had to be done and done quickly, as the feelings had to be smothered for the time being as that was mortal sin for that was mortal sin for the little tots.

At the temporary morgue, the scenes became fourfold for their intensity of human suffering. Brothers, sisters, mothers and fathers passed up and down the lines formed of one hundred and sixty corpses. To facilitate identification, the bodies were numbered as they were received at the morgue. The first identification was made by the mother of Nels and Tommy Thompson, an unemployed man who lives on the street near the school. The heads and arms had been burned from both bodies, but the mother recognized the shoes on her children's feet.

After the bodies were numbered and placed in coffins, the mother went on, accentuated now and then by a piercing shriek or plaintive moan as a loved one was recognized by clothing or some other article of personal property. About the burned school house there ate but few residences. In one of these, Mrs. Clarke Sprung lived. Her little boy, aged seven, was a pupil in the school. When the fire started, the mother ran over to the school and arrived when the first floor was a mass of flames. At a first floor window she saw the face of her boy. He recognized her and pleaded for help.

Rushing across the street, Mrs. Sprung secured a step-ladder and placed it against the window. Climbing she reached for her boy. She caught him by the hair. It burned off in her hands and she fell back into the flames.

"DISGRACEFUL EXHIBITION"

Commander Sims on American Gunnery

Spaniards Were Worse or They Could Have Escaped Easily

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Commander William H. Sims, naval aide to President Roosevelt, by his own statement, is responsible for the most "disgraceful exhibition" of gunnery that ever took place on the face of the globe. He said that only one-half per cent. of hits were averaged by the American ships with the target, and that the loss of the Spanish ships was due to the fact that they were better gunners.

There might be a heavy sea running and the fleet not able to use their guns freely, then the ships would need full bunkers."

He said that the loss of the ships of the battleship fleet should be attributed to the fact that the water line of all the ships was over a foot and a half upon arrival at Rio de Janeiro. He said that the German naval construction figure on full bunkers at locating the water line, and that the loss of a ship are accurate evidence, and defied the witness to show that vessels were over a foot and a half upon arrival at Rio de Janeiro.

Admiral Capps asked the witness if he knew whether the double bottom of the ships were full of water when they arrived at Rio. Commander Sims had no data in this regard, so Admiral Capps declined to continue. He commented that it was "obvious" that the witness had no data on which to base his criticism.

"Well, I should like to have the committee call Rear-Admiral Goodrich and officers of his type to bear me out," said Commander Sims.

"I'll make specific allusion to that officer later," said Admiral Capps. His tone indicated that the "appreciation" was not to be commensurate. The question of turret construction and the relative merit of direct and interrupted ammunition hoists were then taken up. The commander gave a graphic description of the open turret with the direct hoist, which pictured the dangers in such manner that caused Mr. Sims to remark: "The wonder to me is that any man come out of these alive." He thought that there is no broken hoist that would permit of such rapid firing as is averaged by the American ships with the direct hoist, but that the danger now is great.

Radical Supporters Get a Rebuff

Asquith Sees Nothing to Create Alarm in Germany's Naval Programme

LONDON, Mar. 3.—The House of Commons yesterday debated the motion of John Murray Macdonald, member of Falkirk, urging that in view of the continued friendly relations between Great Britain and the powers, a further reduction be made in armaments and effect be given to the policy of retrenchment and reform to which the Government is pledged.

HON. H. H. ASQUITH

Mr. Asquith, who had been asked to support the motion, said that the Government had failed to reduce its armaments, but he maintained that during the last two years the Government had made considerable retrenchment in the army and navy expenses, without impairing the fighting efficiency. He added: "Our naval position is one of unassailable supremacy. Such it must remain. The command of the sea is with us a matter of life or death. We must safeguard it, not against imaginary dangers, but against all contingencies that could reasonably enter into the calculations of a statesman. The government therefore believes it to be its duty to maintain our standard of relative naval strength."

This standard requires that the British navy be as strong as those of any two powers it is possible that Great Britain may be opposed to.

Adding to numerous references regarding the naval activity of Germany, Mr. Asquith recalled that the government did not witness with apprehension a naval expansion which corresponded to the economic and advancing needs of that country. He added that there was the best reason to hope that the two powers were advancing nearer and nearer to a complete mutual understanding. Mr. Asquith insisted that the naval policy of Great Britain was purely defensive.

Mr. Macdonald's motion was rejected by a vote of 386 to 73. The minority was composed of Nationalists, Laborites and Extreme Radicals.

ONTARIO BANK AFFAIRS

Shareholders Voted This Afternoon to Approve a Committee of Five to Decide Whether Suit Against Old Directors for Two Million Dollars Should be Proceeded With

TORONTO, Mar. 4.—Ontario Bank shareholders voted this afternoon to appoint a committee of five to decide whether suit against old directors for two million dollars should be proceeded with.

One of the nominees of the catastrophe was little Mary Whitman. She ran through the smoke-filled halls and grasped her little brother, whom she managed to drag from the room and take out through a window, both of them being nearly strangled with smoke.

Four or five children who broke from the line she had formed, ran down the stairway were killed.

THE LONGEST SITTING OF COMMONS FOR YEARS

Opposition Succeeded in Wasting Valuable Time and Blocking All Business—Mr. Foster Had to Retract His Statement Regarding Mr. Brodeur.

OTTAWA, March 1.—Sunday closed the longest sitting of the commons for many years. It began at three o'clock Thursday afternoon and lasted continuously until Saturday night, or fifty-seven hours. There were two dinner recesses of two hours each, making the actual time in session 52 hours. Of this 48 hours was occupied in committee on an item of $42,000 for ice breakers, which was obstructed by the opposition.

The policy of factious obstruction was inaugurated in the absence of R. E. Borden by George B. Foster, who was leading the Conservative side. Mr. Foster declared Thursday evening that unless returns were brought down showing Mr. Brodeur's travelling expenses from 1904 to date the opposition would sit there days rather than allow the item to pass. Mr. Brodeur explained that the information had all been published by the auditor general and could be obtained by simply turning up the report. He had already brought down a return of his expenses since 1904. Mr. Foster declared that he did not choose to take the trouble to turn up the auditor general's report. That was one of the excuses given for keeping the house sitting for so many hours at work or play from which the country got no benefit.

The other was that the minister of marine had taken two thousand dollars from a vote for ice breakers when he was going to Europe for the colonial conference and to negotiate the French treaty. Mr. Foster and other members of the opposition went so far as to estimate that this was misappropriation of funds which practically amounted to stealing.

This inaugurated a programme of the bitterest obstruction which has ever been seen in the commons. Four after hours the Conservative members killed time and abused the government.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. Brodeur got his justification and forced a return from Mr. Foster.

Mr. Brodeur said "Mr. Foster stated I had stolen from an appropriation a certain amount of money and had proposed this money to another purpose. As a matter of fact he knows there was an appropriation for an ice breaker that I was going abroad in connection with an ice breaker that was to be built and the sum was taken to pay my expenses. I was also going for other purposes, so Mr. Foster said this was a bad thing and was a 'steal.' That was the word he used. He said I had stolen the money from another appropriation and applied it to another purpose. I find that in 1896-1 Mr. Foster had occasion to go to Jamaica and no money being available for his travelling expenses he took $64, not out of civil government contingencies, not from a vote for travelling expenses but from a vote which had been voted for commercial agencies. A commercial agencies' vote does not admit of money being taken for travelling expenses more than does the vote for ice breakers.

"In answer to a question at that time Mr. Foster said in the house: 'The intention of the speaker was not to be roughly carried out, but as we had not a surplus in the strictly proper appropriation I thought it just as well to take the money out of the commercial agencies vote.'

Mr. Brodeur said: "In view of this record I think Mr. Foster had not better withdraw the word 'steal'."

Mr. Foster acquiesced but admitted that the money was not stolen. However he said that he had evidently done an improper thing in 1896. He had heard more about the right and wrong since and he declared this was an absolutely improper method of treating appropriations.

Another incident occurred Saturday afternoon which showed the opposition could become at times too unreasonable to support themselves. Mr. Taylor used the word "Rake-off" and was ordered by the chair to withdraw the word. Mr. Taylor said "I am not a rake-off, I am a rake-off from the ruling of the chair to the speaker who was called on and sustained the ruling. Colonel Hughes appealed from the speaker to the house and all the members on the Conservative side stood up to demand a recorded vote. By the time the members were called in the Conservative side had come to the conclusion that they could not support their own position, and one after another they stood. Col. Hughes appealed from the speaker to the government to sustain the decision of the chair from which they had appealed. Only one Conservative, Lewis of Harnon, voted for the Conservative resolution.

A tired handful of members save the hands of the clock point to twelve and the advent of the Sabbath broke the deadlock.

The impossible French members raised their voices and the speaker and mass left the house to the strains of "Canada" and "Marsellaise." The members hastened to their homes to sleep off a parliamentary debauch.

If you knew what big profits Chatham Incubator users are making, I am sure you would write me to-day for my booklet and special price on time

If you could only see the piles of letters I get every day from all over Canada and the United States telling of the big success the users of my incubator are having—then I know you would believe, as I do, that you can make big money raising chickens with a Chatham Incubator.

It will take but a little of your time, too. Not as much as you would give to any other make of incubator and a little more than you have to give to a dozen hens. And the profits are sure—and big if you use a Chatham Incubator.

I have actual positive proof—heap-loads of it—from people who are making more money out of my incubators than they ever made out of any other make.

They give the figures that prove it, too.

Then there is the Government Experimental Farm at Guelph. They use six of my incubators in their poultry course. They use Chatham Incubators because they hatch more chicks than any other make. And that is what makes your profit—more chicks.

I want you to write for my booklet to-day—it's free.

TERRORISTS MUST DIE, SAYS CHIEF

The Death Sentence is Confirmed by General in Command

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 29.—General Hasenkamp, chief of the general staff over-ruling the plea of the council for the withdrawal of the death sentence passed by a court martial on the seven terrorists, including the "mysterious Italian," who was "compromised" and "wiped white" by the plot against the lives of Grand Duke Nicholas, Nicholasovitch and M. Chichegiovitch, the Minister of Justice.

A new trial for the condemned men has been asked on the ground that the verdict of the military court is invalid since the necessity of extraordinary security ceased to exist, and that the original statute establishing various classes of military law promulgated in 1881, had expired in August, 1907. In addition delay in the execution of the sentence as it affected the Italian was originally sought by the Ambassador, but today the Ambassador dropped all his efforts in behalf of the man, having received confirmation of previous reports that the Italian is not the person he represents himself to be. The real Italian, Calvino is living in Italy.

It was learned today that Premier Stolypin had a narrow escape when he delivered the ministerial statement to the Duma on November 29. The Italian, who has been posing as Calvino, was at this session with a bomb in his pocket. He laid in wait for the Premier in the restaurant, but the Premier left the building early and did not run across the man.

MRS. THAW DENIES SEPARATION RUMORS

No Truth in Report that She Will Leave Husband

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Mrs. Evelyn Thaw denied today that she demanded $100,000 or that she had any offer of money to induce her to consent to an annulment of her marriage to Harry Thaw. Mrs. Thaw added: "There has been no conference of lawyers and there will not be any. I have never been approached by any lawyers on the subject of divorce or separation, and you can say positively that there is not an atom of truth in these rumors. I have received no offer of money to consent to anything, and have made no demand for money."

"Yes, it is true that I have not been to Mattawan to see Henry in three weeks. That is because I have been ill with the grippe. I have not been out of the house except to take a drive."

"Is it true that detectives are following you?" she was asked.

"It is not true. Mr. Doberty wrote to me assuring me that he had no detectives engaged in following me, and that the story was untrue."

BOGUS NAVAL OFFICER GETS RICH ON LIES

Man Who Had Never Seen Warship Tells of His Exploits

BERLIN, March 1.—A clever rascal masquerading in the uniform of a naval officer of the navy has been arrested at Greiz, in Central Germany.

For the last month this individual, whose exploits in some respects resemble those of the famous Captain of Kopenick, has been visiting towns and villages in the neighborhood of Greiz in a naval uniform, decorated with the China medal. He speedily became known at most of the inns and beerhouses, where he was welcomed by the people frequenting these places, probably for the sake of the uniform he wore, probably also because of his extraordinary oratorical equipment. He harangued his company about the hardships of warrant officers and their trouble in drilling recruits, especially those recruits who had the misfortune to be educated in universities.

In one way and another and on various pretenses, he collected considerable sums of money from persons in sympathy with him. Encouraged by his success, he took to lecturing on his experiences in China, rivalling the famous De Rougemont in tales of hair-breadth escapes. On the Kaiser's birthday he addressed a large and fashionable audience on this theme with extraordinary success financially.

But Nemesis was at his heels. He was detected in various inconsistencies of statement and arrested. It pres that the man has never seen a warship in his life and was never in China. He had been a soldier, but had been drummed out of the army for persistent misconduct, and when last employed, he was a servant.

SCOUT SHIP TRIALS OFF THE MAINE COAST WERE SATISFACTORY

PORTLAND, Feb. 29.—The U. S. sport ship "Chester" which is making her government acceptance trials off the Maine coast arrived in the harbor and anchored tonight at the conclusion of her 24 hour endurance coal consumption run, at an average speed of 12 knots an hour, the second of her four trials under the observation of the trial board from the navy department.

While no figures were obtainable the general officials stated that the results were satisfactory and today were satisfactory and President John S. Hayes of the South Iron Works, the builders, returned many congratulations from the local people.

It was intended to sail at midnight tonight and begin at once the four hour run at full speed during which the Chester must maintain an average speed of 21 knots, according to her contract requirements. Estimating from the results obtained yesterday at Rockport, it is believed she will easily exceed the requirement and meet all the requirements for access to the United States navy.

The final trial may begin immediately if these tests are satisfactory.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS SAVE A LITTLE LIFE

Mrs. T. Osborn, Norton - Mills, Vt., writes: "I do not think enough can be said in praise of Baby's Own Tablets. I can assure you that my baby would not have been alive today if it had not been for the Tablets, as he was so weak and sick that he took no notice of anything. The Tablets I gave him the Tablets and they have made him a bright, laughing, healthy, plump, and happy baby. He is now as well as any baby can be. He sits and plays nearly all the time and he is as healthy as a horse. The Tablets would say to all mothers who have sick babies give them Baby's Own Tablets, as I did mine, and you will have a healthy, happy baby. The Tablets will cure all the minor ailments of little ones and are absolutely safe. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

THOUSANDS SAW BATTLE FLEET SAIL

Ships Left Callao Saturday on their Long Run

CALLAO, Feb. 29.—The American fleet sailed today for Magdalena Bay in lower California. Signal boats went out from the Connecticut, the flagship, this morning, and shortly after 8 a. m. the ships were steaming slowly out to the ocean on the long run to the next stopping place. The fleet described a semi-circle, the great white ships moving to the southwest, and as they passed the Peruvian cruiser Almirante Grau, from which President Pardo and the officials of state viewed the departure, each of the warships fired a salute of twenty-one guns. The cruiser replied when the Connecticut was passing and there was a dipping of flags by the other vessels in the harbor and a ringing salute from the thousands who had gathered to watch the ships of a friendly nation as they swung majestically out to the open sea.

The steamer Cachapost, crowded with spectators, accompanied the fleet some distance from shore, but as the battleships gathered speed she was left astern with the enthusiastic Peruvians still watching and waving flags.

Thousands of sightseers on points of vantage on land witnessed the magnificent and imposing scene.

The newspapers both at Lima and Callao are full of expressions of regret at the departure of the visitors.

BOY WITH AN AIR GUN WOUNDED HIS FATHER

READFIELD, Me., Mar. 1.—Postmaster George G. Heuston was dangerously wounded tonight by a rifle bullet fired accidentally by his son Emory, aged 7 years. The boy was playing with a 22 calibre rifle. It went off unexpectedly, the bullet hitting his father in the forehead between the eyebrows. A local physician who had been called to the wound, decided that the bullet had pierced the skull and entered the brain. Late tonight an Augusta physician was summoned to assist in the case. The injured man is still living but his condition is critical. He is 38 years old.

SEVEN TERRORISTS HANGED ON SUNDAY

ST. PETERSBURG, Mar. 1.—The seven terrorists who were condemned to death in a court martial for complicity in a plot against the lives of Grand Duke Nicholas, Nicholasovitch and M. Chichegiovitch, minister of justice and whose sentence was confirmed yesterday by General Hasenkamp, chief of the general staff, were hanged at daylight Sunday at Lissy Noss Peninsula, opposite Kransstadt. Among those who suffered death were Calvino the supposed Italian, who had in his possession when arrested, a passport issued to the real Calvino, the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Italian paper, and three women, two of whom were eighteen and nineteen years of age, respectively.

PATRICK GARRETT SHOT TO DEATH

Known America Over as the "Gun Fighter"

Man Who Killed Notorious Outlaw "Billy the Kid" Was a Sheriff.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 29.—Patrick F. Garrett, known the continent over as the "gun fighter" who in 1880 killed the notorious outlaw "Billy the Kid" was shot and killed today by J. Wayne Brazzle, a youth near Las Cruces, N. H., in a dispute over a ranch lease.

At an inquest this afternoon a coroner at Las Cruces returned a verdict that Patrick Garrett came to his death as the result of wounds inflicted by a revolver in the hands of J. Wayne Brazzle.

The sole witness to the killing Carl Adamson told the story of the shooting saying that Brazzle threatened Garrett. Brazzle declared that the shooting was in self defense but made no further statement.

Garrett had been on a visit to one of his ranches near Las Cruces and was returning on a horseback with a friend to Las Cruces when he was overtaken by Brazzle. A quarrel followed. Garrett is said to have reached for his gun. Brazzle fired twice, both shots taking effect and Garrett fell dead.

Brazzle then rode five miles to Las Cruces and surrendered to Sheriff Garrett who was an officer of the law and took up the hunt for the outlaw and found him in Lincoln county. Garrett managed to shoot himself in a house where "The Kid" was in a rendezvous, and as the outlaw stepped into the place with his gun drawn, Garrett proved the quicker on the trigger. Garrett was a native Texan and had been engaged in ranching and cattle raising. He soon gained a reputation as a cowboy and in 1880 he was elected sheriff of Lincoln county. It was only a year later in 1881, after having been the principal in a dozen exciting fights and adventures, that he killed "Billy the Kid." Later Garrett moved to Dona Ana county where he served two terms as sheriff.

Garrett was subsequently a captain of rangers in Texas and did much to help make the reputation for fearlessness which the Texas rangers then had.

Great Plans for the Next Few Months

Will Shortly Have Five Improved Airships Available for Military Purposes.

BERLIN, March 1.—The German Emperor and his military advisers have resolved to lay the foundations of a German aerial fleet during the present year.

Within a few months the German Government will possess five airships which will be available for use in military operations, and whose value in this respect is rated highly by those who are competent to judge.

Count Zeppelin, the inventor of one of the best types of German airships, firmly believes that the development of aerial navigation will enable large bodies of troops to be conveyed rapidly and safely through the air.

German military experts and other German aeronauts may be somewhat skeptical on this point, but they are none the less convinced that airships, even in their present form, will be able to render many valuable services in case of war.

The military authorities are also taking measures to protect themselves from the airships of other countries. At the Krupp works at Essen guns of a peculiar type are now being manufactured, for the purpose of disabling hostile airships maneuvering at a great height.

It will be possible to fire these guns either vertically or at an extremely high elevation, and they will be loaded with projectiles of an equally peculiar type, designed to inflict the greatest possible damage on the balloon which supports the hull of the hostile airship. Some of the projectiles will have jagged chains attached to them, experiments having shown that the best results are obtained by means of these chains.

The German possesses two systems of wireless telegraphy which are adapted for use on airships. The apparatus invented by the German engineer Hainkele is of comparatively minute size, both the transmitting and receiving apparatus being in the same small case, which weighs only forty pounds. The radius of communication is thirty miles.

Another system already in use is also small and of trifling weight. Moreover, it has a radius of communication of 100 miles, and it has even transmitted messages over a distance of nearly 150 miles.

The great firm of Siemens and Schuckert has established an airship department, already it has more orders than it can fulfill. Two new companies are also being formed for the construction and equipment of airships.

These facts show that Germany is taking the lead in respect to airships, and it is well known that the Kaiser desires German predominance in the air to be an unquestionable as Great Britain's naval supremacy.

"His Majesty reveals his keen interest in this subject in all manner of ways, and ambitious young German officers and engineers know that there is no surer road to distinction than to introduce some welcome improvement in aerial navigation."

POLICEMAN MAKES AMUSING BLUNDER

BERLIN, March 1.—The lessons of Kopenick had not gone unheeded. A passer-by went out to a policeman on duty in the Berlin suburb of Halensee, and in an awfully whimsical way drew his attention to the fact, real or alleged, that an elderly gentleman who was at the moment crossing the street was wearing a general's uniform that was not strictly in accordance with the regulations.

Remembering how the suspicious captain had kidnapped mayor and confiscated a municipal treasury, thereby convulsing the world with laughter, and not stopping to reflect on the frightful consequences that might ensue from the actions of a sham general, the constable rushed up to the suspect, and in gruff and peremptory tones, demanded his name, address and proofs of identity.

"Ah," replied the individual so accosted, in bland and amused accents: "you evidently take me for a second captain of Kopenick. It is possible that you really didn't know who I am? I am Field Marshal von Haseler." It was, indeed, Count Haseler, who was quartermaster general of the army of occupation in France in 1871, and is one of the most distinguished soldiers of the empire.

ENDORSE TAFT'S CANDIDACY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Frank H. Hitchcock, Secretary Taft's campaign manager, received a despatch from Whitaker, Chairman of the Congressional Committee of North Carolina, stating that at a meeting of the committee a resolution was adopted unanimously endorsing Mr. Taft's candidacy.

GHINA WILL COMPLY WITH JAPAN'S DEMANDS

PEKIN, Mar. 1.—It is announced that the Chinese government will surrender the Japanese steamer Tatsu Maru, which was seized on February 1 by the Chinese customs cruisers outside of Macao while unloading a large consignment of rifles and ammunition, the rifles numbering several thousand. It was originally charged that an attempt was being made to bring war supplies into China for revolutionists. The statement is made by officials of the Chinese government that a conspiracy is on foot to import seven or eight thousand rifles and ammunition and the government believes that the munitions of the Tatsu Maru were intended for rebel on the Tsouking border, but it has not been able to prove the act of smuggling.

FRANCIS HARVEY IS 101 YEARS OLD

Oakham, Queens Co. Has Aged Citizen

A Very Intelligent and Hardy Man He Is—Some of His Life History.

OAKHAM, Queens Co., Mar. 5.—Oakham has a citizen, Francis Harvey, who resides with his daughter Mrs. Jenner Oakham, Queens Co. He was 101 years old Feb. 25, and is undoubtedly the oldest resident of Queens county and probably of the whole province.

Mr. Harvey, who is a very intelligent man, was born at the little village of Stoke Newington, near London, England. In 1811 his grandfather came to New Brunswick and became the pioneer of English Settlement, Kings Co. Two years later, after sufficient preparation, as the fact that the family left the Old Land and came to St. John. Here they remained for a short time, and then went to their homestead in Kings Co. At that time no road ran within five miles of the place, a path marked by blazed trees being the only mode of ingress or egress.

Mr. Harvey tells of the same hardships as we read in history. He says that the wild animals at that time were very plentiful, which made the life of the settler a burden. Although surrounded by a wilderness full of dangers, he felt no fear, mainly on account of his firm belief in God. He is still able to walk about. Up to two years ago he possessed all his faculties, but his eyesight and hearing have failed lately. He also suffers from the asthma. For the last two years he has kept within doors.

Five of Mr. Harvey's children are now living, their names being Charles, Agnes, Helen, Elizabeth and Mary. There are also five surviving members of the thirteen children of Mr. Harvey's first wife, Jane Perry, daughter of Edmund Perry, of English Settlement. Mrs. Jane Thomas, the second wife, has three children, the oldest being a son, living, though at the advanced age of seventy-nine. The children reside in various parts of New Brunswick and Maine. Mr. Harvey also lives in various parts of the province with his grand-children and thirty-eight great-grandchildren.

On the evening of Feb. 25th a party of his friends, relatives, about forty in number, gathered at his home, and spent a very enjoyable evening. During the evening Mr. Harvey sang the hymn entitled, "The Son of Man Condemned to Die," which he sang remarkably well for a man of his years.

Luncheon was served at eleven o'clock. The party, after wishing Mr. Harvey many more years of health and happiness returned to their homes.

AN ELOPEMENT BY BOBSLEIGH

GENEVA, Mar. 2.—An elopement by bobsleigh has occurred at Blonay, where a young Swiss, forbidden to visit his sweetheart's house, carried off the girl by an ingenious ruse. The girl persuaded her parents to accompany her up the mountain to the Evillard to watch the tobogganing. Half-way up shouts of warning were heard, a sleigh came tearing down, and the girl was seen to be flying. The girl alone stood still. The lover and his friends, who were on the sleigh, slackened speed, caught the girl in their arms, and rolled down to the bottom of the run. There the lovers caught a train to Bale, where their marriage took place immediately.

PLYMOUTH HEARS A WHALE STORY

PLYMOUTH, Eng., March.—Passengers who disembarked from the Hamburg-American Company's steamer "Puerst Blumenthal" returned to Plymouth from the Mediterranean, relating a extraordinary story of an encounter between the liner and a whale. As the boat was approaching Corunna the weather was very hazy, but away in the distance was seen what was at first thought to be a waterspout. A little later it was realized that it was a whale disporting itself and shooting up immense volumes of water into the air at frequent intervals.

The appearance on the scene of the Puerst Blumenthal was instantly resented by the whale, which was between forty and fifty feet in length. Suddenly ceasing his antics the huge creature swung round, and headed straight for the starboard side of the vessel. Before the captain could manoeuvre to fill the whale it charged the liner with terrific force, making the ship shiver from stem to stern. The big steamship, however, was proof against the shock, which would have sunk a small vessel. As for the whale, the consequences of the collision are unknown, but nothing more was seen of it.

SUGGESTS REFORM OF THE CANADIAN BANKING SYSTEM

OTTAWA, Ont., Mar. 2.—There was peace in parliament today. Private members had the right of way and discussed projects dear to their hearts or to those of their constituents. The Canadian banking system got into the limelight.

Mr. Frigate (Conservative) moved the following resolution, that in the opinion of this house it is an opportune time to consider the advisability of amending and revising the bank act, and that the following among other amendments should receive consideration:—To provide for the government inspection; to provide more stringent regulations as to circulation; to make provision for the percentage of capital and reserve that may be loaned to any one borrower; to make provision for percentage that a bank may loan to its combined directors; to limit the amount of interest or discount that banks may contract for; to revise the powers of the bankers association.

In the course of his address in moving the resolution, Mr. Frigate expressed many ideas that he was attacking the banks. He thought one should be able to discuss the question without being accused of that.

The Canadian banks that had adopted the Conservative methods, he continued, were still strong and had weathered the financial storms. It was only those that had disregarded the proper way of conducting business that had got into trouble.

FOUND FROZEN STIFF

Harvey Spafford Loses His Way Walking Home. BRIGHTON, Feb. 28.—Harvey Spafford, living on an island in Lake Ontario, called the Bluff, about five miles from Brighton, was found dead on the beach about half way home. Spafford had been at Brighton, and left for home in the evening. He reached a house occupied by the child's family and left there about 9 p. m. for his home on the island. He must have lost his way and wandered around the sandbanks, finally walking off the top of one and rolling to the bottom, where he was found today.

NICE FULL OF ROBBERS

NICE, Mar. 1.—There have lately been cases of robberies and assaults in this neighborhood which point to some slinkiness on the part of the local police administration. It would seem that there must be some ground for this complaint, for in the latest case an English lady was assaulted at Cimiez in broad daylight close to the Nice-Cimiez tramway. Justly or not, English and American visitors to the neighborhood have been rendered rather uneasy, and the authorities would do well to give the matter attention.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 2.—Going suddenly insane while twenty miles at sea yesterday in a fishing schooner, Edward Anderson, one of the sailors, became violent, and in his desperation bit off his own thumb. He also attempted to throw other members of the crew overboard. Anderson was overpowered and tied with ropes to the mast in the cabin. With superhuman strength he got one arm free and bit off his thumb.

His shrieks of pain terrified the other sailors, who were about to docked, Anderson was taken in charge by the police officials and placed in a padded cell.

NO WATER VAPOR ON MARS, HE DECLARES

A Discovery by Professor Lowell at Arizona, Not Credited by Astronomers.

Dr. S. A. Mitchell, professor in astronomy at Columbia University, said yesterday that the recent discovery of Professor Percival Lowell in regard to water vapor existing on Mars was highly improbable and is little credited by local astronomers. He stated that the discovery, which Professor Lowell made at Flagstaff, Ariz., is impossible with the small telescopes used. Reported water vapor on Mars, he says, eliminates the possibility of canals on the planet.

The surgeon's duties require clear judgment and a steady hand, and slip or an unnecessary incision may do irreparable damage to the patient. WONDERS OF PIERPONT MORGAN'S CATALOGUE

His Famous Collection of Miniatures Best Possible Work Being Done on the Catalogue Regardless of Expense. LONDON, Mar. 1.—The wonders of Pierpont Morgan's catalogue to his famous collection of miniatures have aroused so much interest and been so thoroughly described that Mr. Williamson, who has the entire work in hand has consented to supply some definite information.

The title of the catalogue is most misleading. The volumes are the most ornate and elaborate of the century, illustrated by paintings by skilled artists, silver-mounted, and adorned and embellished in costly fashion. Mr. Morgan's desire is for the best possible work without regard to expense, and the best possible work is being done. The catalogue is being prepared in three editions. The first consisting of 150 copies only, is printed on the finest hand-made paper and illustrated with numerous photographic plates, the latter being printed on Japanese vellum. This edition is the most valuable and is half-bound in brown morocco and the second, the edition de luxe, is wholly printed on Japanese vellum, the color selected for the paper being similar to those in the ordinary edition, but in addition to them a series of hand-colored illustrations, representing the most beautiful in the world, are included in the edition de luxe. This edition is whole-bound in green morocco and has double covers of the same material, richly tooled in gold and featuring the most beautiful designs and faceted jewels of the same material. Forty copies only of this edition de luxe are being prepared, and the hand-colored plates are surrounded by pale-tinted borders.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the principal speaker of the evening, was well received, and his speech from start to finish was punctuated with applause. He confined his speech principally to a review of progress and development in Canada from the time of Confederation to the present. Paradoxical as it may sound, he said we were in danger of an excess of prosperity. He eulogized the Canadian banking system and considered that the prudent action of Canadian banks in restraining credits early in the year had averted any serious consequences of the panic in the United States.

WILL OPPOSE SUNDAY TRADING LAW IN ITALY

ROME, Mar. 1.—The new law against Sunday trading in Italy which will come into force Feb. 24 is likely to arouse some opposition if too strictly applied. The tobaccoist are to be allowed to keep their shops open, but only for the sale of the articles which they are especially licensed to sell. Many of them keep a stock of various useful articles, which are at all hours much in request with poor people, who have neither the money in their purse nor room in their overcrowded dwellings to lay in anything like a stock of provisions or household requisites. AFTER THE ELECTION

So far as we could learn last night the land-slide which swept the government out of existence left the foundations of the province intact and undisturbed...

We honestly believe that it would have been better for the province if Mr. Robinson's government had been sustained. The new Premier had taken hold of affairs in administrative style...

We sincerely hope, however, that Mr. Hazen's Premier will develop a broader outlook in the future of his province than he has displayed as leader of the opposition...

It is not difficult to be wise after the event; but it has for some time been apparent that the government's great obstacle was the Highway Act. This was unpopular from the first...

Not that the Highway Act alone upset the government; but it furnished the seed for discontent. People who would otherwise be in a time of prosperity...

In St. John other causes than the Highway Act must be found. One thing is made certain, and that is that considerable reorganization in the fighting force is needed before the federal election comes on...

To Hon. Mr. Robinson personally we extend sincere congratulations on his success in Westminster—the only country where he is well known—and on his conduct of the campaign. He fought a clean, honorable fight, in many respects on a broad level and has won warm admiration. His political career has only begun...

TECHNICAL EDUCATION

That the discussion of a political campaign should tend to give exclusive place to those issues which divide the opinion is perhaps, inevitable. But it is apparent that to the extent to which that is true those pre-election discussions present a very incomplete picture of the issues which divide the opinion...

It is true that institutions offering technical training of many sorts exist in parts not remote and welcome with cordiality from the students. But there are disadvantages other and more serious than the involved humbug of the acceptance of such training...

With the last shout of victory and the last light of the party, the people have given to the government the opportunity of conserving and advancing their interests. By his honesty and ability in that service he will judge the people to be satisfied that in no way can the people be better served than by putting within the reach of every child the opportunity of becoming skillful in some useful and well-paying work.

PROVINCIAL POLITICS AND PARTY LINES

Looking back upon the campaign just closed, its chief significance is found in the emphatic evidence is found in the emphatic evidence that the people of New Brunswick do not desire the complete domination of provincial politics by the Conservative party in 1899 declared itself in favor of fighting provincial elections upon straight federal lines...

That is beyond doubting the present will of the people. And whether they are right or wrong, the people are right; and the new government and the new party in opposition will both do wisely to heed and to follow this expression of the public will.

that the two governments, Dominion and provincial, were afflicted in interest and sympathy and that a continuance of that affiliation would be to the advantage of New Brunswick. But the Liberals of New Brunswick very evidently thought otherwise...

Mr. Hazen has said distinctly that the government's defeat is not a Conservative victory and undoubtedly this is the view of the general public of this province, particularly of those Liberals who voted against the government. But, as a rule to be expected, Conservative papers elsewhere point to the result as the start of a tidal wave...

PHILADELPHIA CHURCHES

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 5.—Two of the largest Catholic churches in Philadelphia today and plain clothes men are watching them tonight because of the rumored threat of anarchists to destroy them. The churches are St. Ann's which covers a block at Cedar and Tucker streets, and the Chapel of the Holy Name.

Politics aside, it is a matter for real regret that the parties did not divide more equally in Tuesday's election. If the Independents vote with the government, which is not unlikely, Mr. Hazen will have a majority of 25 in the next legislature...

HOW SOME OF THE RULERS HAVE BEEN ASSASSINATED

Twenty-one rulers of civilized countries murdered in just over a century! No wonder a third man like the Czar shut himself up in the fortified palace and everyone is constantly quoting Shakespeare's words: "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown." And it has remained for Portugal, which like his neighbor Spain, has been practically free from Royal assassinations—although attempts have been made by anarchists and political revolutionaries to establish a sad record; for never within modern history, at any rate, have a Sovereign and Crown Prince been murdered together.

HAIRBREADTH ESCAPES.

Three years previous to the Serbian tragedy, King Humbert of Italy was slain by the anarchist Bresci; while in 1888 the cruel and utterly purposeless murder of the beautiful and graceful Empress of Austria took place. The Empress was passing through Geneva on her return from Wiesbaden, where she had been for treatment of a heart affection, when she was stabbed with a small six-bladed stiletto which pierced her heart. King Humbert was shot while entering his carriage, and it is an extraordinary fact that he had twice previously escaped being murdered only by a hair's-breadth. In Naples in 1878 a man rushed up and tried to stab his majesty with a dagger, but the king escaped with a slight scratch; while, nineteen years later, as King Humbert was driving the Capanne Raccourse, a workman struck at him with a dagger. Luckily the blow was averted.

Included in the twenty-one rulers already mentioned are eight Presidents who have been assassinated and it is a singular fact that three of these were Presidents of America; and they have been murdered within the last forty-five years.

First came President Lincoln in 1865, Garfield in 1881, and McKinley twenty years later. The murder of President Lincoln came like a thunderclap to the people of America just when they were rejoicing that the great Confederate War had come to an end. Lincoln went to Ford's Theatre in Washington, by the government in the election just ended I wish to express my grateful acknowledgment; the trust friends are those who stand by the ship when weathering the storm. To those who have formed the majority and shown their desire for a change of government, I have no complaint to make. The franchise is free and I am somewhat a believer in the old ideas that "there is a divinity which shapes our ends, rough-hew them as we may." I hope that the change may prove beneficial to the province and it will not be without its advantages to our own party. In Westmorland county an agreement made to run a pure election has so far as I know been honorably carried out by both parties.

"The unpopularity of the Highway Act seemed to be a potent factor here as in other parts of the province. Mr. Hazen will now have a good opportunity to give the people school books at half price, and to show that he is more than an opposition critic. Mr. Fleming will also have his chance to prove that the province can be run and steel bridges built out of current revenue without any addition to the public debt. If they can do these things they will deserve the support they are receiving from the electors. I take this opportunity of expressing my hearty congratulations to Mr. Hazen and his supporters and to all most sincere thanks to the many friends who have worked so hard to sustain the government. I wish also to express my appreciation of the courteous and kindly treatment accorded me by my opponents during the campaign. (Signed) "Your obedient servant, C. W. ROBINSON."

Four members of the government, Hon. L. P. Farris, Hon. E. H. Allen, Solicitor General Jones and Hon. D. J. Purdy have been defeated.

The opposition have gained three seats in St. John City; two in Northumberland; one in Charlotte; two in Albert; one in Carleton; three in Kings; four in York and two in Queens. The government have made no gains at all.

In St. John City the opposition success was quite unexpected, the general feeling appearing to be that there would be two elected from each ticket. Charlotte was another disappointment, as the opposition had figured on carrying one man sure, with a good chance of two. The election of Mr. Byron had been regarded as practically certain, but the opposition have carried their full ticket, Clarke and Grimmer, Hart being re-elected while Dr. Taylor will succeed Hon. G. F. Hill.

In Northumberland too the government expected to at least break even, but their calculations were astray and the four opposition men, the redoubtable John Morley and his old colleague, Donald Morrison, being joined by Mayor Macleachlan of Chatham and Mr. Allain.

HORRIBLE DEATHS.

Four of Russia's Czars have been assassinated, the last being Alexander II. in 1881. Six times did assassins attempt the monarch's life. On one occasion he only escaped through the barrel of the assassin's pistol bursting, while in 1866, when the dining-hall of the Winter Palace was wrecked by an explosion proceeding from the ceiling, the company not having sat down to dinner when the explosion took place.

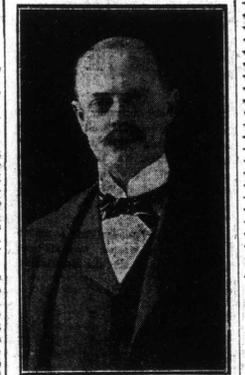

His Majesty's "Guardian Angel," however, was powerless against the nihilist's bombs of 1881. The Emperor was returning to the Winter Palace after a military review, when his carriage was suddenly shattered by a bomb. Several of the escort were killed, but strangely enough the Czar himself remained unharmed. After enquiring about the wounded, His Majesty, with phenomenal coolness, continued his progress on foot. He had advanced but a few steps when another bomb exploded at his feet, and mangled his body in the most frightful manner.

From 1872 to 1876 four rulers were assassinated—namely, Colonel Baita, President of Peru; Morena, President of Ecuador; Gutierrez, President of Peru in 1872-3; and the Sultan Abdul Aziz. At the time it was given out that the latter, having gone mad, had committed suicide by cutting the arteries of his arm; but in June, 1881, the Sultan's brother-in-law, were convicted of the murder of the Sultan.

Perhaps the most barbarous assassination on record was that of Queen of Corea in 1894, when a band of hired Japanese assassins, backed by Korean troops, entered the palace and backed the Queen and two ladies the court to flee afterwards burrowing the bodies with paraffin.

HON. H. A. MCKINNON.

Yesterday's contest was replete with surprises. The first and greatest of course is the defeat of the government, which was unexpected by either party. The conditions have been practically reversed. The opposition have carried thirty-one seats, the government twelve while the political allegiance of the three independent Liberals elected in Gloucester is uncertain. The independent Liberal ticket was elected in Madawaska, but they have promised their support to the Liberal party.

Four members of the government, Hon. L. P. Farris, Hon. E. H. Allen, Solicitor General Jones and Hon. D. J. Purdy have been defeated.

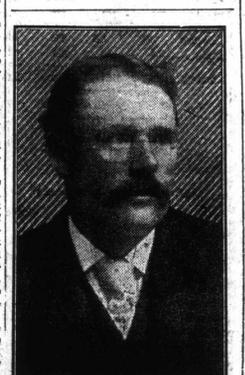

The opposition have gained three seats in St. John City; two in Northumberland; one in Charlotte; two in Albert; one in Carleton; three in Kings; four in York and two in Queens. The government have made no gains at all.

In Carleton County the fight was a hot one from the opening of the campaign, but the government were confident of Solicitor General Jones, who has, however, been engulfed in the general wave. He will be succeeded in the legislature by Donald Munro of Woodstock, while J. K. Flemming and B. Frank Smith were re-elected.

In Kings, where the government carried three seats at the elections of 1902, they fully expected to do so well this time, but the opposition have carried all three seats. This was one of the biggest surprises in the fight, but the retirement of Hon. Dr. Pugsley, followed by that of Ora P. King, almost on the eve of the election, no doubt weakened the government ticket, although the election of Dr. McAlister had been regarded as certain by the opposition. Fred. M. Another entirely unexpected victory was in Albert county, where Speaker Osman and S. S. Ryan who have been in the House for many years, have been left at home and George Prescott and W. B. Dickson, two entirely new men have been elected to support Mr. Hazen.

Queens furnished another shock to the government forces, Hon. L. P. Farris for many years one of the representatives, and his colleague, Mr. Carpenter, having met with a severe defeat at the hands of A. R. Shipp and E. W. Wood.

The regular government ticket but gave its pledge to support Mr. Robinson was elected. The old ticket was Mr. Clair and Mr. Martin. The Sun had no information of the substitution of Mr. Soucie for Mr. Martin.

DEFEAT DUE TO LACK OF ORGANIZATION

Govt. Candidates Heard Returns at Berryman's Hall—All Good Losers

Defeated but defiant was how the government supporters felt in the city last evening and was well exemplified by the spirit shown by the meeting in Berryman's Hall, where the returns were received. Everyone seemed surprised at the government's defeat, but there was everywhere a determination to retrieve lost honors whenever the opportunity was offered. "There is a better time coming," was the way one elector expressed himself.

At Berryman's a large crowd gathered shortly after the polls closed and listened to the returns as they were announced. When it became apparent that the opposition ticket had been elected in St. John City the defeated candidates were called upon for speeches.

His Worship Mayor Sears briefly thanked the electorate for the support it had given him. He acknowledged that the ticket on which he had run had been defeated fairly. Lack of proper organization on the part of the Liberal party was the cause of the defeat.

Mr. Lantlam ascribed his defeat largely to the same cause. He also thanked those who had voted for him, for their votes.

A. O. Skinner was the last candidate to speak. Over confidence and lack of organization was what had beaten the ticket. He hoped that when the next election took place the Liberals of St. John would begin to work more than two or three weeks before polling day. It could not be expected to beat a party with as good organization as the opposition had by letting things slide. Mr. Skinner expressed his gratitude to those who had supported him and urged them to take the defeat with

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP WAVE IN MANITOBA

Legislation Has Been Very Radical

A Review of the Work of the in Legislature of Manitoba in the Session Just Closed

WINNIPEG, Man., Mar. 2.—The legislation enacted at the session of the Manitoba Legislature, which has just closed, will probably excite a more widespread influence upon Western Canada than all previous sessions of the local House combined. From start to finish it has been a history-making session, replete with radical legislation, surprising in many instances the friends and foes of the Government alike. The three great features of course relate to liquor restriction, Bell Telephone purchase, and the practical elimination of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Each of these are radical departures and display as nothing else can, the progressive, changing sentiment of the Great West. The impetus given the public ownership in sentiment by the absorption of the great Bell system is perhaps the most spectacular piece of legislation introduced by a Canadian Legislature since Confederation. It commits the province ultimately to the ownership of all public utilities and is the inevitable forerunner, at least, in the estimation of many thinking men, of public ownership of railroads, telegraphs and electrical energy now controlled by private corporations.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

There is undoubtedly an impression in Manitoba as in other sections of the West that the province has undertaken a very drastic experiment in this direction and the investment of $3,444,000 of public funds in this venture is being scrutinized closely. There was a strong sentiment in favor of this purchase and it is felt that the detailed operation of the scheme that the public ownership is being inaugurated. However, the purchase is of chief interest as forecasting similar action by Saskatchewan and Alberta. British Columbia, of course, has enjoyed its share of less elaborate system of government ownership of public utilities.

It is interesting to note that the purchase of Bell lines from the Great Lakes to the Coast. Since Winnipeg is already in on a tremendous scale, the public ownership of electrical energy, the ownership of the telephone system is merely another step in this direction.

From all parts of the world enquiries have been received in the past few months concerning the situation, and the province is being studied very generally as a pioneer, in a very unique experiment. What has not been reduced on a platter, though it is said the 'phone commission is now engaged in this phase of the work.

The special value claimed for government ownership of the system is that adequate capital is available for the extension of the system to the remote rural districts. There seems to be a mania for this service by the farmers of the West. Advertisements for farmers' property exploit widely are of easy access.

This seems to go hand in hand with the demand of agriculturists for increased transportation facilities. It illustrates an aspect of the situation in the West that is interesting. It is this view point, apparently, that is responsible for the impetus given every form of public ownership of public utilities.

By a more conservative element it has been characterized as a wave of public ownership almost akin to madness. Some sections of the municipalities have gone into the fuel business. Legislatures of Alberta and Manitoba were foiled this session with demands for charters authorizing a variety of these public ownership deals and the idea, radical though it is in many respects, seems to be of increasing popularity.

LIQUOR LEGISLATION.

In the same channel as a bit of radical legislation, of a more spontaneous character, however, is the liquor bill which was sprung by the government the latter part of the session. The writer has talked with a number of well-known hotel men in Winnipeg since the bill was published, and their judgment is that prohibition is practically assured all over Manitoba within a year or two at the most, and in Winnipeg within five years. The radical feature of the measure is that majority instead of three-fourths of the vote as before, shall determine the sale of intoxicating liquors, and what is even more in favor of local option, these women who have children in school, or who pay taxes, may vote. The church element is jubilant, and the hotel men are correspondingly cast down.

The hotel proprietors reared with special alarm the provision that the local option clause must be submitted once a year to the voters, provided a petition of ten per cent. of the authorized voters is received. They say this spells ruin, because it prevents a hotel man making improvements for fear of being not out of business within a year. His hotel cannot be regarded as an asset, as the entire proposition may be extinguished within one year.

The municipal code is foreshadowed and bills will be submitted respecting re-organization of criminal courts, saying jurisdiction in summary trials and the appointment of additional judges to the superior court in Montreal.

GOVERNMENT IN EARNEST.

That the government is in earnest in this liquor traffic reform is evidenced by the refusal of all charters for club bars at the past session. Dozens of such requests were before the session, and in every case they were refused. Even the American-Canadian Club, one of the most substantial organizations in Winnipeg, is having trouble trying to secure a permit to supply its members with liquid refreshments. Premier Roblin very laconically said in explanation of his actions: "Let the majority rule. That's the law of the land, and the tradition of the Empire. If the people want this local option measure, we will give to them. That's all there is to it."

The outrageous conduct of some few hotel men in the city is declared to be in no small measure responsible for this revolution against the saloon. The charge that "knock out drops" were being freely used in some saloons, and other charges of sinister administration, has resulted in strong resentment against the traffic in general, though the liquor regulation in Winnipeg as a whole has been for years very fair.

QUEBEC LEGISLATURE OPENED YESTERDAY

QUEBEC, Mar. 2.—The provincial legislature opened yesterday afternoon, when Lieut. Governor Jette in the speech from the throne said in part: It is a great pleasure to me that the first words I utter as a ruler should be to publicly state that our province has suffered but little from the economic and financial crisis that has been so severely felt elsewhere.

After referring to the additional subsidy obtained from the federal source he announced that the dispute with Newfoundland over the boundary line will under agreement be submitted to the judicial committee of the Privy Council. It is announced that the annexation of Ungava may be expected before the end of the Dominion government has not yet granted the request.

The increase of crime in certain parts of the province, especially those whitish the current of immigration chiefly tends, is an object of earnest attention of the government and it is firmly resolved to neglect nothing to secure the safety of person and property. To induce school commissioners to increase school mistresses' salary and encourage the latter to persevere in their career the future yearly bonuses will be paid to the most deserving school municipalities and to school mistresses who teach more than ten years.

The municipal code is foreshadowed and bills will be submitted respecting re-organization of criminal courts, saying jurisdiction in summary trials and the appointment of additional judges to the superior court in Montreal.

HUNDREDS OF ADMIRERS GAVE MR. HAZEN GREAT RECEPTION AT DEPOT

Future Premier in Speech at Keith Theatre Said He Did Not Regard It as a Conservative Victory—Promises Good and Progressive Government.

Speaking to The Sun last night J. D. Hazen made the following statement: "I naturally feel great gratification at the result of the election. After nine years of opposition such a result is very pleasing to us all. The victory was due to the strong feeling against the present government throughout the province."

There was a full house at the assembly rooms at Keith's last evening as the returns from the various counties were announced. The result in the city caused great enthusiasm and the rejoicing was renewed as the later returns showed that the majority would have in line with it the majority of the other counties in support of Mr. Hazen. Ald. Baxter presided, and with L. P. D. Tilley and W. H. Harrison, announced the results as they were received.

There were many calls for the candidates, but it was some time before they put in their appearance. Meanwhile Philip Granman, Ald. Christie, and ex-Ald. Lockhart told how the victory was won in the different wards. When Messrs. Maxwell, Wilson and McNerney arrived they were heartily welcomed, and it was some time before they were allowed to speak.

Mr. Wilson thanked the citizens for the magnificent vote which had placed him at the head of the poll. Mr. Maxwell thanked the voters for returning him again, together with his associates. Mr. McNerney said that he attributed his victory not so much to his own popularity but to the magnificence, the justice and the uprightness of their cause. W. W. Hubbard was next called upon and spoke briefly.

It was not much more than 8.30 when the meeting broke up and at the suggestion of Mr. Tilley the citizens present formed themselves four abreast and headed by the City Cornet Band marched to the depot via Kings. There was a weary wait at the station until 11.30 when the delayed Boston express arrived with Mr. Hazen on board. The crowd however which had gathered, amused themselves by cheering, blowing horns, etc.

The train shed in the depot was thronged with enthusiastic admirers of Mr. Hazen and the leader of the winning party received a royal welcome from his supporters. The train was carried to a carriage waiting outside to be drawn to the Nickel Theatre which had been engaged for the occasion. There was a bad crush at the station and Mr. Hazen in his elevated position looked most nervous than delighted. At last Mr. Hazen reached the waiting barouche and the driver was allowed to start the horses in the direction of the theatre when a host of enthusiastic admirers seized hold of the horses and demanded that they be taken out and that they be allowed to exercise their own strength. Their wish was granted, but the task was greater than anticipated, and the carriage soon came to a halt. Mr. Hazen came forth and addressed his admirers.

Finally the band started up the street and the crowd followed. Mr. Hazen transferred to another cab and drove home. When the band and the crowd arrived at the Nickel Theatre they found Ald. Baxter presiding and a fair

THE VICTORY IN THE CITY WAS A DECISIVE ONE FOR THE OPPOSITION AND CAME AS A BIG SURPRISE EVEN TO THE VOTERS THEMSELVES.

John E. Wilson leads the voting in the city with 4,461 votes, which is 118 more than Maxwell, the second on the list, 4,343 more than McNerney, and 1,180 more than Hatway's total. Mr. Wilson leads Sears, the government's high man by 632 votes, leads Lantulum by 873, leads Skinner by 994, and leads Purdy by 815 votes. Maxwell, the second highest on the winning ticket, is 118 votes behind Mr. Wilson, 49 votes behind Hatway, and 49 ahead of Hatway. Maxwell leads Sears by 514 votes, leads Lantulum by 261 votes, leads Skinner by 81 votes and leads Purdy by 87 votes. McNerney, the third highest man on the opposition ticket, is 167 votes behind Wilson, 49 votes behind Maxwell, and 11 votes ahead of Hatway. Hatway, the lowest man on the opposition's ticket, is 178 votes behind Wilson, 99 votes behind Maxwell, and 11 votes behind McNerney. Hatway is 454 votes ahead of Sears, 491 ahead of Lantulum, 811 ahead of Skinner and 637 ahead of Purdy.

The total vote cast for the government is 14,923 and the total opposition vote is 17,285. The difference between the highest government candidate, Sears, and Wilson, the leader of the opposition ticket, was elected over

ALL OPPOSITION IN YORK.

FREDERICTON, N. B., March 3.—The election today was the most exciting held in a long time, both parties working hard to elect their men. The opposition made great gains in every voting place and with plenty of "resources of civilization," carried several places which went strong for the government five years ago. There is a big turn-over in the "town" of Miramichi, as well as in the wards of Gibson, Stanley and other small places such as Kingscliff, Burt's Corner, Pennac, New Maryland, Millville, Nashwaak Village and Queensbury. In the uptown wards in the city—the John, in which he had made his home for the last nineteen years, had sent up four men to his support. He was very much pleased that the nine followers who had struggled with him through the last house against a heavy majority had all been returned. When he was called upon to form a government he must soon be, he would try and give the country an honest and progressive administration. Mr. Hazen thanked the press of the province which had supported him and looked upon the victory as not a Conservative victory but the people of the country demanding better government. Messrs. Wilson, McNerney and Maxwell were also enthusiastically received. The last speaker was Mr. Hubbard, who was referred to by Ald. Baxter as "the man behind the gun." He also was accorded a good reception. It was almost two when the meeting came to a close.

BRIDE OF FIVE MONTHS DEAD AT HAWKSHAW

WOODSTOCK, Mar. 3.—Mrs. Lebaron R. Bull, of Hawkshaw, died here this afternoon from the effects of an operation at the home of her father, Ches. E. True. She had been a bride but five months. The funeral will be held Thursday.

TWO LIBERALS ELECTED IN RESTIGOUCHE.

CAMPBELLTON, N. B., March 3.—Messrs. LaBlouie and Currie were elected here today. They led in all the parishes save Durham and the small parish of Maple Green. The majority of the Robinson government here today is considerably greater than it was a year ago, when the by-elections took place. The news of the defeat of the government was received here with great disappointment. Tonight a mass meeting is being held in the Opera House, at which speeches are being delivered by the successful candidates.

W. V. HATFIELD KEEPS AT WHITE CANDY CO.

Another Charge of Coal Dumping Against Them

There was another charge of allowing coal to remain on the sidewalk in front of its premises for an unnecessary length of time made against The White Candy Company yesterday morning in the police court. As on previous occasions, W. V. Hatfield was the complainant. It was charged that there were three offenses, one on Feb. 24 and two on Feb. 24th. Homer G. Forbes appeared for the complainant. In the morning the complainant gave evidence. He told of the sidewalk being obstructed at the time of the various offenses and of speaking to Thos. White concerning the matter. The case was resumed in the afternoon. Thos. White went on the stand. He stated that the company was having the coal put in the bins by the persons from whom it was being bought. The company was paying 25 cents a ton extra for that and in consequence of that agreement the company did not own the coal until it had been placed in the bins and consequently was not liable for the coal while it lay upon the sidewalk.

Charles Alford, the witness who put the coal in for The White Candy Company, also gave evidence in the afternoon. He acknowledged that he stood at the edge of the sidewalk and threw the coal in as it was all cut in.

Mr. Forbes asked that the company be fined as a violation of the by-law which has been passed and the company because it was the party that had caused the coal to be brought to the premises, was liable.

His Honor Judge Ritchie decided to give judgment on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

LONDON WILL HAVE ASSEMBLY OF CATHOLICS

LONDON, Mar. 2.—What is likely to be the most important Roman Catholic assembly held in England for 300 years will meet in Westminster in the early part of next September. This will be the nineteenth Eucharistic Congress, and from the provincial programme just issued we are enabled to give a brief account of the details. The centre of the gathering will be the Westminster Cathedral and the precise date from September 3 to 13.

During the past week invitations have been sent out to some 200 English speaking bishops, and intimation has been given to all the clergy in the British Isles. The intimation, it is hoped, also extend to all the priests of the Catholic world. The British Isles alone can provide about sixty bishops, including, of course, the English bishops of the titular sees.

30,000 LICENSES CUT OFF BY NEW BILL IN BRITAIN

Proportion of Saloons to Population in Cities and Country Districts is Now Definitely Fixed

LONDON, Mar. 2.—The country has long been speculating on the Government's promised Licensing Bill, dealing with the liquor trade, which the Chancellor of the Exchequer Asquith introduced in the House of Commons this afternoon. It was expected that it would be a drastic temperance measure, but few if any expected such sweeping proposals as the Chancellor announced.

If enacted the bill will reduce the number of saloons in England and Wales by one-third; in other words, it will abolish about thirty thousand saloons at which intoxicants are now sold. There will thus be one licensed saloon to every 600 or 800 people in towns, and one for every 400 or 500 in the country districts, compared with the present general average of one for every 370 inhabitants.

Compensation will be given to those who are dispossessed, this being levied as now in certain cases upon the remaining license holders, but after 14 years no compensation will be paid when a license is taken away.

The granting of all future new licenses will be the subject of local option, a poll being taken when demanded and a simple majority will be sufficient to grant a new license which will be rescindable only after three years by another poll. Public houses outside of London will be allowed to stay open only three hours on Sunday.

CLUBS ALSO INCLUDED.

Took the view of preventing clubs from becoming virtually public houses, and reading the law, they brought this the act, and must renew their license annually. They must also submit to police inspection. There will be no exception and the law will be applicable to the fashionable clubs in Pall

FIELDING'S BARGES STILL DELAYED

Reached Digby on Sunday—Moorings for Dredge Now in Position

Stormy weather has delayed the W. S. Fielding's barges and as a consequence the dredge is forced to remain idle, although entirely prepared to begin dredging the harbor entrance. The dredge's two barges are being towed here from Yarmouth. On Sunday they were at Digby, their progress being slow on account of unfavorable weather. On the 5th ult. the barges were at Tiverton. Yesterday's storm, it is expected, will still further delay the barges and it is impossible to predict the time when they will arrive. The moorings for the Fielding have been placed in the West Channel and the proper buoys have also been placed in position. The lack of barges is the only thing that prevents the big dredge from beginning to dig.

A JAPANESE DINNER

Plenty of Variety, but Too Much Salt For American Palates.

"I am afraid you won't like it," said the young Japanese diner. "You insisted, though, on a real Japanese dinner. So what was I to do?"

They seated themselves, the three girls and he, upon the green silk cushions placed on a parquetry floor about a little table a foot high. A Japanese servant entered with the tea, and the Japanese dinner began.

For first course there were sweet biscuit and tea—delicate taste of the April harvest, "first choy" tea, formerly served with cherry spoons and a poem for each guest.

Next came uesho, a salty soup, with which the national dish called uesho, was served in flat saucers.

The third course was a little raw fish, very salty and steeped in a sour and appetizing sauce. The guests, contrary to their expectation, found the raw oysters. With this course went a salad of white chrysanthemums.

The elaborate fourth course consisted of boiled chestnuts and a paste of shark's fins, quail roasted and hashed with preserved cherries and crawfish with eggs. These viands were all arranged decoratively on one large dish. The fifth course, also on one dish, was boiled bamboo shoots with soy, salted mushrooms, and cold boiled salmon and this dish, served with pickled shoots of the ginger plant.

Next came a soup of seaweed, bitter, salty, decidedly good; next an assortment of nuts boiled in soy; next salty roll-ups, puff deliciously hot, the grains as large as cherries, and, to conclude, tea again.

The young girls as they rose from their low cushions and limped about in the effort to get the stiffness out of their legs said that the Japanese dinner had been very good, really much better than they had counted on, but perhaps a little too salty for occidental tastes.

BATHURST, March 2.—Every man on the opposition ticket lost his deposit today and the straight Liberal ticket, put in the field by Mr. Turgeon, was elected over the Burns-Poirier-Young by a large majority. While the friends of the Burns ticket are naturally disappointed at the outcome they admit that the result shows that the voters far as the government is concerned, are the successful candidates will be just as strong in their support of the government as they were in their support of the provincial government, has given definite promise to this effect.

The opposition forces are hopelessly downcast. They were confident of electing Hazen's men, Stewart, Witzel and Blanchard, in the struggle between the two government tickets. They admit tonight that if the opposition could not run in Gloucester under such conditions it cannot hope for success anywhere.

The vote is the largest ever polled in Gloucester. Much interest has never been displayed in any election, federal or provincial. The candidates on all sides were active and were aided by outside speakers. The Turgeon ticket received speeches from Hon. R. Emmerson, several supporters of Premier Robinson from that constituency taking part in its behalf. The Premier himself remained in the city, but it is understood that federal aid was given to the Turgeon ticket.

The Burns ticket was put in the field in protest against the Conservatives on the Burns ticket, which nominated itself without a convention. Messrs. Byrne, Sormany and Lezer were the regular government candidates, but as Mr. Burns and Mr. Poirier, who though Conservatives, had supported the government in the legislature, refused to relinquish their places were compelled to run as Independents. Now that the Burns ticket is removed politics here will settle down on a straight party line and the Liberal ticket will support the Liberal government and will control the astronegation.

Opposition Claims Refuted.

Speaking to the press on the long distance telephone from Bathurst last night P. J. Venlo, the representative of the Liberal ticket, denied emphatically the opposition's claim that Messrs. Byrne, Sormany and Lezer would support Mr. Hazen whether he was opposition leader or premier. The Liberal candidates, he said, wanted to run as the regular government ticket, but the Burns ticket and endorse Messrs. Burns, Poirier and Young as Independent Liberals and appealed for Liberal support successfully. They had made no statement from this stand, but recognized the fact that the Burns ticket and that Premier Robinson's government was a Liberal one.

Dr. Pugsley last night requested the Sun to deny the Times' statement that he had "interfered in behalf of the government ticket (Conservative)."

"As between the Burns ticket (so called) and the Liberal ticket I did not interfere in any way," he said, partly because of the exceptional conditions, the Burns ticket running as supporters of the government, and the members of the successful ticket being not only Liberals, but being warmly supported by Mr. Turgeon, M. P., who is a supporter of the Liberal government.

"I am heartily satisfied with the result."

BRITAIN AND UNITED STATES STAND UNITED FOR PEACE

James Bryce Talks of the Friendly Feelings Between the Two Countries

BOSTON, March 3.—British Ambassador James Bryce, Governor Curtis Guild, Jr., and Bishop Wm. Lawrence were the principal speakers at the 16th annual dinner of the society of Colonial Wars of Massachusetts, at the Somerset Hotel last night. Mr. Bryce said that the differences and the high feeling of the war of 1812 between Great Britain and the United States had entirely passed away and the time had come when England and the United States, acting together, are powerful factors in the peace and progress of the world.

"United," he said, "we are the two nations of the world to promote the great message of peace."

Mr. Bryce said the industries in both countries should be distributed and not confined to thickly populated districts. The people, he thought, should be distributed as well.

MISS NORMA MUNRO MAY BECOME WIFE OF THE EARL OF YARMOUTH

Rumor to That Effect is in Circulation in American Colony in Paris.

PARIS, Mar. 1.—In the American colony in this city and among members of the social set in which the Earl of Yarmouth and other younger members of the British nobility may be seen, the rumor that Norma Munro, the American heiress is to be the second wife of the Earl, is the only topic of conversation. The Earl is said to have recently spent much time at Monte Carlo and at the green tables. The announcement that the Earl would wed Miss Munro is said to have been made by the young woman herself in a letter she wrote to one of her intimate woman friends in New York with whom she maintained correspondence since her exile from New York at the time she was sued by Mrs. Leslie Carter.

Miss Munro could not be found today to either confirm or deny the story.

YEAST IS A PLANT.

But It Can be Such Only With the Microscope.

Yeast is a small plant which can be seen only with the microscope. It varies, says Good Health, in two varieties, wild and cultivated, and these tiny plants can be improved through cultivation, as larger plants can be.

Firms which make yeast for the market must grow these plants quite as carefully as the florist grows his flowers. Care must be taken that they do not become mixed with other varieties, therefore destroying the culture. In some laboratories where yeast is grown two separate buildings are kept for this purpose. They are both carefully disinfected, and if it is found in one building the culture is started anew and the other building previously disinfected before moving into it.

This plant, like bacteria, requires warmth, moisture and food. The materials out of which the bread is made should always be warmed, and the dough should always be kept in a warm place. The temperature most favorable is about that of the body, a little less than 100 degrees.

There is always considerable moisture in bread and plenty of food for the plant. The food which it requires is sugar. This is obtained from the wheat, there being some sugar in the flour, and more sugar is also formed from the starch.

As the yeast plant feeds upon sugar they break it down into two substances, alcohol and a gas known as carbon dioxide or carbonic acid gas. As the gas is formed it is held by the gluten, which is a very elastic substance. When the bread is put into the oven, the heat expands the link bubbles of gas, causing the bread to rise or to become much lighter. The alcohol formed, being a volatile product, passes off into the baking.

HOT BISCUIT Kind of Breakfast Passing Away

The old-time hot biscuit played a prominent role in the breakfast bill of fare, along with fried potatoes, ham and eggs, and coffee.

It is the more pleasant the cook, which was usually Mother, who did the best she could with her understanding of the matter. Mrs. 36 said to have been made by the young woman herself in a letter she wrote to one of her intimate woman friends in New York with whom she maintained correspondence since her exile from New York at the time she was sued by Mrs. Leslie Carter.

NOTHING MUCH.

A Harvard man tells the following story: "Walking one afternoon down a certain avenue, he saw great volumes of smoke and flames coming from a second story of an attractive-looking residence. Rushing madly up the steps, he rang the bell which was answered by a deaf woman:

"Good heavens! Your home is burning! What?"

"I saw the entire house is a mass of flames."

"Is that all?" she squeaked.

"I'm sorry, madam, but that's about all I can think of just this minute."

SAVAGE SENSE OF HUMOR.

Lecturing on New Guinea, A. H. Dunning said he once offered a native some smelling salts. After sniffing through extraordinary contortions the native went away, retiring soon with another native, whom he compelled to make acquaintance with the salts. The two brought a third, and so on until the whole village had been victimized. The savages watched each new sufferer with the keenest delight and took good care not to let him know what fate awaited him—London Standard.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Feb. 24.—The heat has culminated in a series of disastrous bush fires throughout the Commonwealth, especially in Victoria. It is too soon yet to calculate losses, but the total must be enormous. In the Edenhope district a fire spreading over forty miles has been raging for five days, despite the efforts of hundreds of fire-fighters, many of whom were temporarily blinded by smoke and heat. They made many heroic rescues.

At Dergholm the settlers rushed into the river when they saw that it was impossible to save their homesteads. Elsewhere people sought shelter in sequence in the Dergholm district some 150,000 acres of grass, miles of fencing, and 10,000 sheep, besides the farmers' buildings were destroyed. Thousands of sheep that escaped are carrying the disease scorching.

A squatter at Hamilton had 2,700 sheep burned to death. The signal lights on the Victorian coast have been obscured by clouds of smoke, thereby impeding shipping. One wreck is attributed to this cause.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Feb. 23.—According to telegrams received here the suggestion has been made in Germany that the Penal Code should be altered so as to enable the German Government to establish penal settlements in the Pacific. This has led to much comment here, and many newspapers there is a strong adverse opinion, apart from Australian feeling in the matter, and those who know the German mind declare that the colonies there would die like flies if liberated, and would kill the natives if they were not kept in a state of slavery. The experience of the French, moreover, shows the deportation system to be a mistake in New Caledonia.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Feb. 27.—The touring New Glasgow team was blanked and completely outclassed in their exhibition game with Sydney hockey club in Rosslyn Park tonight. The game was four to nothing first half and during the second half the home team tallied once, making the score 5 to 0, which the goal sounded.

MEMRAMCOOK, Feb. 27.—The most successful political meeting ever held in Memramcook took place tonight, when five hundred people packed the C. M. B. A. hall and scores of others were turned away. For three hours the enthusiastic Liberal gathering cheered and sang the national anthem. Mr. Emmerson, J. L. Gauthier, M. P. P. of L'Assomption, Quebec, and Hon. F. J. Sweeney.

All three delivered fine addresses, and if tonight's indications count for anything this section of the county is solid for the Liberal cause.

F. J. Sweeney scored the slenderest canvasses which the opposition press and speakers are employing regarding the Central Railway. The alleged school book ring and other issues, entirely refuting and disproving these charges.

Mr. Gauthier for upwards of an hour addressed the gathering in French, speaking eloquently and receiving tremendous applause.

Mr. Emmerson made a strong appeal for the support of the straight Liberal ticket and devoted much of his time to the laudation of the proposal for making over the branch railway line to the Liberal Government. He also scored Hazen's platform as "lacking originality or constructiveness."

C. M. Lezer spoke briefly and the meeting closed with enthusiastic cheers for the Liberal leaders and cause.

SUSSEX, N. B., Feb. 27.—This community was shocked this morning to learn of the death of William Eveleigh at his home, Lower Cove. Deceased had been in good health up to within two hours of his demise. Last night he was assailed by an attack of heart trouble and breathed his last this morning. Mr. Eveleigh was one of the best respected residents of this section of the county. He was seventy years of age and had a host of friends in all parts of Kings. He is survived by his second wife, who was Miss Anderson, and two sons, Councilor N. W. Eveleigh, Sussex, manager of the Maritime Dairy Co., and manager of the N. W. Eveleigh & Co., and Samuel, Hamstead, and four daughters, Mrs. W. J. McArthur, Fallford, Conn., Mrs. Fred Beers, and Mrs. Chas. Smith, Hartford, Conn., and Mrs. A. W. Berry, Sussex. The date of the funeral will be announced later. The surviving members of the family will have the sympathy of all friends.

Another sudden death took place this morning at Peabodique, when Charles McCready, of Cranbrook, R. C., died almost without warning. Deceased was on a visit to his brother, E. J. McCready. Last night he came from St. John on the Maritime express and while he had been unwell for a couple of years his condition had improved to a marked degree. He was 88 years of age and had been a resident of the west for many years. He was with the C. P. R. in the early construction days of the road, and during the rebellion of 1855 was actively engaged in the transportation of troops to the front. He was in charge of a number of construction crews for the company, but severed his connection with the railway some time ago and engaged in lumbering. For some time he was a resident of Calgary, but later he moved to Cranbrook, and was connected with the Peabodique Lumber Company. He is a brother-in-law of H. N. Coates, St. John. The funeral takes place at Peabodique on Saturday at 2 p. m.

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Feb. 27.—The feature of the campaign here at the present moment seems to be a rather fantastic attack upon the part of Mr. Clark and other Conservatives resulting in wild mis-statements on a number of subjects, especially upon the subject of the railway. It is absolutely untrue that the Senator ever suggested that the present members of the ticket be nominated, persuaded them to run, or undertook to assist in financing the campaign. It is also untrue that he made such promises as were imputed to him on the floors of the House of Commons. His efforts on behalf of needed public works have been continuous for years and are not made for political effect. If he has made any promises there is no one who knows him who can doubt that they will be carried out, in spite of objections made by the representative of Charlotte County at Ottawa, to the expenditure of money on public works in the county. It is now well understood that the purely resolutions as formulated by the opposition, and their subsequent action in the Dominion House of Commons, is a plan to discredit Mr. Gillmor, which has failed completely. Mr. Gannon evidently expects whether rightly or wrongly that the Senator will be again a candidate for the House of Commons, and is badly scared in consequence.

FREDERICTON, Mar. 2.—Bishop Richardson to a congregation that filled the cathedral last evening, preached a powerful sermon on political purity. In the course of his remarks he condemned in the strongest manner the way the campaign just ending had been carried on. It was one of the greatest bitterness and slander, and for this he placed much of the blame upon the press. No one in the congregation believed that one quarter said about any candidate had any truth and as soon as one entered the political field his motives and principles were attacked. If any wonder, he asked that men of the best standing hesitated before taking up such a contest. On bribery and corruption his Lordship spoke very strongly and the man that sold his manhood was the worst of all. The sermon made a deep impression. At the present day he said there was too much partisanship.

At the Baptist church Rev. J. H. McDonald also preached on political purity and delivered an excellent discourse.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Mar. 2.—Deird, the British expert employed by the Dominion Government for the building of ice breakers, is now making trips between Georgetown and Pictou on the winter steamers Mito and Stanley, to observe ice conditions. Deird is completing his designs for a new ice breaking steamer for communication between the island and the mainland.

Selectees are now on the island ferreted out the robbery of a considerable quantity of liquor landed in Georgetown from the winter boats and consigned to Charlottetown. Cars have been broken open on several occasions.

It is proposed this season to have the steamer Enterprise now running between Kings County ports and Pictou, which will be a great boon to the people of the island. The Dominion Government.

Fifty thousand bushels of seed oats for Western Canada have been carried across the straits, it being carefully inspected bag by bag by the men of the next Legislature, the next session of which will open in January next.

ANDOVER, N. H., Mar. 1.—The depredations of a herd of elk, protected by the law, for the first time in the extensive herd of the Rocky Mountains, have aroused great anxiety among the farmers of this and surrounding townships, who apparently have no legal means of protecting their property. Already damage amounting to several hundred dollars has been done to orchards in the vicinity of Ragged Mountain, over which the elk are roaming.

The state fish and game commissioner have inspected the territory and noted the evidence of damage, but have expressed the opinion that the farmers can obtain no relief under the present law. The only way of securing payment for property loss caused by the animals, they say, will be to secure the passage of special acts by the next legislature, the next session of which will open in January next.

AMHERST, N. S., Mar. 2.—Word was just received here of a terrible accident in which Timothy Mills, son of Mr. Esen Mills, a resident of Flat Brook, Cumberland county, about two miles east of Shuben, N. S., lost his life. Mills, then about 15 years of age, left his home at noon Sunday with a large knife to go to the woods in search of gum, and while walking along cutting a stick he tripped and fell on the knife which was a crooked one, the blade severing an artery below the heart. The young man turned towards home and had gone a considerable distance, as shown by the trail of blood in the woods. He at last fell to the ground where his lifeless body was found about 3 o'clock this morning on the road by a searching party. Great distress is felt over the loss in the community as the young man was a particularly bright young fellow. He leaves two brothers and three sisters, besides his parents, who are distracted over the sad affair. Cassner Munro, of River Hebert, has proceeded to the scene of the accident and is now holding an inquest.

AN OLD FAVORITE REVIVED IN LONDON

LONDON, March 2.—J. M. Scrymgeour, the admirable critic, was revived last night at Charles Frohman's Theatre by York Theatre with a strong and before a distinguished audience which received it with the greatest enthusiasm.

Yyn Harding played the part of the butler, and Miss Clements that of Lady Mary. Gerald Du Maurier appeared in his original part and Roy Lewis played the Earl, all brilliantly.

Trick Perpetrated on French Peasants—How a Child's Remark Was the Means of Saving Several Lives.

PARIS, Mar. 3.—Most of the members of the French Academy of Medicine are stirred out of their quiet humor by a discussion of wine and arsenic, brought forward at their last meeting by Dr. Caseneuve, a distinguished professor of the Faculty of Lyons called attention to the fact that within recent years wine-growers in France had got into the habit of using arsenate of lead as a radical means of destroying insects and mildew on the vines. The arsenic contained in the mixture destroys the insects, it is true, but according to the doctor's statements, traces of both arsenic and lead are found in the wine distilled from such vineyards. The percentage is not great—something like one-thousandth of a milligramme per litre—but he argued that this was sufficient in the long run to poison anyone's stomach. This at once aroused an animated discussion. Some questioned the fact that so small a portion of arsenic or lead could have an effect on the constitution and others took sides with Professor Caseneuve. In conclusion, the Academy decided to hold a special meeting to discuss the matter. The idea that French wines might be declared poisonous to be possible, the Academy decided to hold a special meeting to discuss the matter. show that the fair sex is in the majority, its representatives being 19,632,829 in number, while the males are 18,818,889. Females, too, are more favored as regards longevity. Thus, whereas in one year which is cited 4,022 men between ninety and ninety-four years of age were recorded, upwards of 9,670 women had attained that limit. The total number of the French families is set down at 9,781,117. There are 1,814,778 childless couples, 2,349,337 have only one child, 2,018,466 have two, 1,246,254 three, 748,744 have four, 429,239 five and so the figures go on dwindling down, until we find 71,841 with eight, and 38,317 with nine children. But, while there are twenty-four couples with seventeen children, thirty-four have eighteen to show. As many as 218,700 couples have celebrated their golden wedding and those who have been wedded from twenty-five to forty-nine years there are 2,935,281. This, at least, when the latest estimate of the kind was taken, and when there were 24,132 blind and 15,203 deaf and dumb persons in the list.

HURT ON ELECTRIC
R. R. IN CAPE BRETON

GLACE BAY, N. S., March 3.—Car 106 on the Sydney and Glace Bay Railway left the rails at Bridgeport curves on Tuesday night and was thrown across the deep ditch and onto a fence. Twenty passengers were on board. One, Bart Myles, of Dominion, had his skull fractured and half the side torn off his face. He is unconscious and is not expected to live. Conductor Graham, Dominion, has two ribs broken, and Nell McMullen, Reservoir, arm artery severed. A number were badly injured. J.W. Madden, barrister, Sydney, was slightly injured. All the others got shaken more or less. This is the first bad accident in the history of the road, which has been running for years. It is customary to slow down at the crossing, but a blinding snow storm prevailed and the motorman made a miscalculation of the curve's exact position. Six doctors were called out to attend to the injured, who were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital.

AMHERST NEWS

AMHERST, Mar. 4.—The death took place yesterday of W. N. Garrett, former superintendent of Curry and Co. car works here. Mr. Garrett had been in failing health for a long time, and recently went to a specialist. He could find no cure and returned home to die. Deceased was very popular among the workmen of the firm. He leaves a wife and seven young children. The body will be taken to his former home in the State of Ohio where interment will take place. Coronor's jury returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of young Timothy Mills, aged 16, of St. John, N. S., who lost his life Sunday by falling on a large knife which he carried in his pocket. The young wife of Edwin Forrester of Amherst Point died yesterday after a brief illness. Deceased was very prominent in church work in India. Her funeral was very marred last November and had just settled in their new home at Amherst Point.

BOSTON, March 2.—It is a south end lodging house fire early today Patrick Mahoney, a tenant on the upper floor of the three story brick structure was overcome by smoke and burned to death. His body was found after the fire had been extinguished. He was unmarried. The property loss was small.

APPALLING LOSS OF HUMAN LIFE
PRICE OF INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS

Nearly Sixty Thousand Persons Meet Death Each Year in Mine Fires and Landslides, Railroad Collisions and Accidents in Big Manufacturing Plants

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 2.—More men, women and children have been slaughtered in the United States in times of peace than in all the wars of the country combined. More persons are being killed in the United States while in the ordinary pursuit of happiness than in some of the bloodiest battles that have ever excited the hopes of mankind. These statements, startling as they are, are borne out by tabulations made by government experts and others whose business or avocation has led them into a study of the appalling conditions. The United States Census Bureau is authority for the statement that nearly sixty thousand persons are meeting death every year through accidents. The total number of Americans killed in all the wars that the United States has ever made is estimated at 610,845. Thus it will be seen that the great republic in a period of ten years of industrial peace kills as many men as all the conflicts that have shocked this nation. War, spectacular, heroic, grim, dramatic, has stirred the imaginations of millions of people. The deeds of valor performed in its service have been sung by men, women and children. Its horrors have been told in stirring tales, word pictures and, with such effect, that now a mighty demand has arisen that war shall cease. This movement against the deadly business of war has been championed by the United States for several years has spread over the world until its embodiment has been found in the Hague Conference.

But there is no such widespread movement to stop the slaughter in industry. It may be that the industrial element that appeals to the sympathy of the people is lacking when an accident happens that kills forty or fifty passengers on a railroad train to eternity. A holocaust in a coal mine which the lives of three or four hundred others in the dark pit are snuffed out by an explosion of gas is forgotten after a few days. There is no comment when the brakeman on top of a sleek covered car is hurled to his death, or a pedestrian is ground into a lifeless mass beneath the wheels of a street car, or a laborer tumbles upon a seething mass of writhing white-hot iron in a steel mill. In several volumes of statistics gathered by the exact statisticians of the United States Census Bureau here is the only comment of the government on this fearful condition: "The total number of deaths reported as due to accident and injuries in the United States during the census year 1906 was 57,519. In 1890 the corresponding proportion was 53.7."

ONE MILLION INJURED ON RAILROADS

In the last nineteen years, according to the Interstate Commerce Commission, 145,577 have been killed by the railroads of this country. In the same period nearly one million persons were injured. In 1906, 14,969 were killed and 1,043,418 were injured. In 1907, 14,969 were killed and 1,043,418 were injured. In 1908, 14,969 were killed and 1,043,418 were injured.

5,600 INJURED IN TWENTY-SEVEN DAYS

Street railways in Philadelphia, in 1907, according to the official records, slaughtered 801 persons. In New York City, a reporter who tabulated the results for twenty-seven days found the following: Accidents, 4,509; killed, 45; skulls fractured, 10; limbs amputated, 10; limbs broken, 44; other passengers seriously injured, 83. These are the great industrial plants of the country are supposed to kill at least twenty-five thousand persons every

A THOUSAND MURDERS A YEAR

The slaying of man by his fellow-man is another important factor in the record of violent deaths, although they can hardly be figured as murders. Statistics on murders are thorough, but it can be estimated that more than a thousand persons are victims of the railroad each year in this country. Southern papers recently commented editorially on the lynchings in the United States during 1907.

WILL STOP UNDERSIRABLE PEOPLE COMING TO CANADA

WINNIPEG, N. S., March 2.—Addison Lechin, brakeman and former conductor on the Midland division of the D. A. R., died suddenly at his home here on Sunday morning. The deceased, although in failing health for several years, was at his post of duty until last Friday evening. He had been suffering for a few days with a severe cold, which ended in a slight attack of bronchitis. He stayed at home all day Saturday and seemed better and passed a comfortable night. In the morning the maid in the kitchen heard him making unusual gasping sounds as though laboring for breath. Soon after she went to his room and found that he had passed away. Mrs. Lechin was away from home, having been in Truro several weeks undergoing medical treatment. The sad news was communicated to her last night and she arrived home today. Mrs. Lechin was 66 years of age and had been in the employ of the D. A. R. since the age of sixteen years. His only daughter, a young girl of fifteen, and several sons, were at home at the time. Besides his wife, deceased leaves six children, several of whom are away from home.

CAUSES OF CARNAGE

A multitude of reasons has been given for this terrific record of deaths from accidents in the United States. A familiar theme seems the carelessness and ignorance of foreign born citizens but a careful analysis of the responsibility mainly upon the employers of these men. The statistics show that these frequent accidents are simply the coining of the life blood of men into dollars through neglect to employ proper precautions which would add an hour to the life of each man. The statistics show that in the mad rush for wealth industrial masters have sacrificed human life. The story is told of a certain mine foreman who when he was asked to place more props in his mine to protect the lives of his men, he cracked one, and said: "I've got to make money, men are cheaper than timber."

Describing the cause of a collision that killed several and injured twenty-three, the commission says: "While in these cases the block system as used and administered on the best managed railroads does not provide against extreme carelessness or all kinds of gross negligence, and to that extent falls short of perfection, the roads do not block signal continue to fill the records with costly and fatal collisions which the block system would undoubtedly have prevented."

Young and Beautiful Aristocrat Elopes on the Eve of Her Wedding.

ROME, Mar. 3.—Much excitement has been caused in aristocratic circles here by the news of the disappearance of Signorina Corinna Caselli, a young woman of remarkable beauty belonging to one of the richest patrician families. She has fled together with a certain young gentleman, on the eve of her marriage to a well-known member of high society in the capital. The betrothal and intended marriage has been impeded by Signorina Caselli, who had formed a romantic attachment, which has culminated in her flight. The pair disappeared a few days ago, without leaving any clue as to their ultimate destinations. The parents of Signorina Corinna were disconcerted when a letter, sent by their daughter from Milan, was received stating that she had decided to enter a convent. She, however, is a minor, and it is believed that steps will be taken to prevent her carrying out her intention. Inquiries have already been made at all the convents in Milan but without any result.

Catarrh and Throat Suffering Cured

No doctor attempts today to cure a genuine case of catarrh or bronchitis except by the inhalation method. Stomach dosing has been discarded because useless—medicine so taken affects only the stomach—never reaches the seat of catarrh. The advanced physician recognizes that only air cure can be sent into the lungs and bronchial tubes. Fill this air with healing medicaments and you solve the problem. No combination of remedies is so successful as Catarrhose, which contains the richest pine, balsams and the greatest healers known. One breath of Catarrhose instantly circulates over the area which is affected with inflammation. Thinking stops at once—germs are destroyed—every taint of disease removed. Fever is over—seriously. Here is a remedy that clears the throat, relieves hoarseness, coughing, and bad breath. Irritating phlegm is cleared out, inflamed bronchial tubes are healed, throat and voice are strengthened. When Catarrhose is so pleasant and certain, isn't it foolish to tamper with dangerous internal remedies? You breathe Catarrhose—you don't take it. The monthly meeting of Foreign Mission Board was held at the following: Rev. W. Camp, chairman; McIntyre, Rev. W. W. M. E. Fletcher, Rev. W. D. S. Stimmis, W. H. W. Clark and others.

HEIRSS AND DIPLOMAT

Mrs. Anne Weighman will be worth $60,000,000. Will be bride of Fred C. Penfield. The wedding has not yet been announced.

LOCAL MATTERS OF INTEREST.

SATURDAY

The many friends of Mr. W. G. Nutt will be grieved to learn of his death which occurred at his home, 173 Adelaide street, after a few months illness, of Bright's disease. Deceased was one of the firm of Bonnell and Nutt, meat and groceries, Main St. Besides a wife, one child, a father and mother, he leaves two sisters, Mrs. George Bruce, of Kingston, and Miss Jennie Nutt, at home in Greenock. He was 39 years old. The funeral services will be held from his late home at 8 o'clock this evening, and interment will be at 11 o'clock tomorrow in the Kingston cemetery.

Dr. Davidson and Lieut. Harvey of H. M. S. Egema arrived in the city yesterday and are guests at the Royal. The Egema is the surveying ship on the Pacific station and for the past two years has been in charge of Surgeon Davidson. On the 29th of February it will be recommissioned and the relieving crew consisting of sixty-eight deck hands and two officers, who arrived on the Magdalenet for the west on Tuesday. They will board the Egema at Esquimaux. Dr. Davidson and Lieut. Harvey will sail for Great Britain on the 29th.

Last evening there was a wedding in the Assiniboia colony on Bruner street to which the entire colony turned out. The contracting parties were Mary A. Morie and Elias Morie. The bride was the belle of the St. John colony. The groom hailed from St. Flavie. P. Q. Rev. Archdeacon Raymond officiated.

Rev. E. H. Nobles, pastor of the Victoria street Baptist church, was presented with a purse of gold amounting to $10 on Thursday evening. The presentation was made in the nature of a recognition of the efforts of Rev. Mr. Nobles in connection with a series of special services lasting five weeks which has just been finished. Rev. W. Camp made the presentation on behalf of the congregation.

An increase in the price of sugar amounting to 10 cents per 10 lbs. went into effect yesterday afternoon. Granulated is now quoted at $4.65 per hundred, and light brown at $4.65 per hundred.

An Ottawa despatch says that the Imperial War Office, through Lord Elgin, secretary of state for the colonies, has offered command of the 5th Infantry Brigade at Aldershot, England, to Brigadier General Otter, the command to be assumed on May 1 next. It is considered unlikely that General Otter will leave Canada even to accept such an important post. The offer of the post at Aldershot is a great compliment to General Otter and to the militia forces of Canada which he represents. It is the first time such an offer has been made to a colonial officer.

MONDAY

The charge made by Alfred Clarke, one of the county opposition candidates that the Milford ferry is being operated with irregularities was refuted by Joseph Klervin, chairman of Stanley ward, as a base and cowardly fabrication, made for the purpose of injuring the candidates. He says that Capt. Leonard runs his boat on a schedule time, and that no complaint can justly be made against the schedule.

About thirty friends of Mr. and Mrs. Connelley Regan invaded their residence on Britain street last night and celebrated their wedding anniversary. A large number of presents were given the couple and a most pleasant evening was spent by all in dancing and games.

The Empress of Britain of the C. P. R. steamship line arrived in port at eight o'clock Saturday morning. She had on board nine hundred passengers, 78 of whom travelled first cabin and 82 second cabin. Lady Shaughnessy, wife of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy was a passenger on the Empress, as was also Allan Cameron, general traffic agent of the C. P. R., and Comtesse de St. Thomas, who was on her way to Casablanca. Sir Thomas and Lady Shaughnessy and daughter left for Montreal Saturday.

The Grand Trunk Pacific and the Quebec County Coal fields are shown on a large map in Gibbon and Co.'s Charlotte street office window.

Samples of the coal, the kind of screens used, the miners' picks and the miners' lamps are on exhibit that is attracting crowds.

The steamer Empress of Ireland reached port about one o'clock Friday night and was docked at 7:45 this morning. She has a general cargo and a large passenger list which is divided as follows: First cabin, 78; second cabin, 82; and steerage, 469.

The causes of the deaths of the past week, as reported at the Board of Health, were as follows: Heart disease, 3; scurvy, 2; pneumonia, 2; toxemia, convulsions, consumption, suffocation, Bright's disease, acute bronchitis, capillary bronchitis, and malignant disease of the abdomen, a total of fifteen.

The Dominion Express Co office on King street was damaged by fire Saturday morning to the extent of about $1,000.

TUESDAY

Shortly after ten o'clock Saturday night Emilie Hershpool of West Side fell when leaving the East Side ferry house on his way to the ferryboat and on his head on the stone steps. The injured man, who works on the West Side shore staff of the Allanite, was taken to Carleton place and afterward brought back to the city, where his wound was dressed by Dr. Scamminell.

Several residents of St. James street have been much annoyed during the past few weeks by the persistent depredations of thieves. A long list of petty robberies have taken place, lumber and other stuff, the loss of which, although their value is not great, is very annoying to the owners. R. N. Dean, the contractor, has been a victim to a considerable extent. Mr. Dean keeps a quantity of lumber about his premises and, on several occasions lately, quantities have disappeared. It is supposed that the thieves are boys, and steps will be taken to punish them unless they cease their depredations.

A case of smallpox was discovered in a house on Stanley street Friday night. The victim is a child aged seventeen months. The child was ill for several months and on the advice of the regular physician the Board of Health physician was called in and he diagnosed the case as smallpox. The child and its mother were removed to the isolation hospital Saturday and the child was thoroughly vaccinated. There are no other children in the family and the mother and father were vaccinated some time ago. The case is of a mild type and the child will probably recover.

Fords Mills, N. B., is the residence of a man who is wonderfully active for his age. Peter Campbell, of that place, who has lived ninety-eight years, still works in the lumber woods every fine day. A few days ago he walked to Bass River, a distance of four miles, and walked back again the same day.

Seven new members were baptized in the Main street church yesterday morning. At the communion service in the evening they will have others who were received into the church. The special services will be continued indefinitely. Rev. A. H. Johnston, who has been assisting with the meetings, has returned to Hopewell Cape, but will probably be back in another week. During the coming week the meetings will be addressed by Rev. Harry King and Rev. Wellington Camp.

The death occurred on Saturday last of Walter Spencer, of Annapolis, N. S. The deceased leaves a wife and several small children. Mr. Spencer was an adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Spencer, of 51 Millville street, North End, and Mrs. Spencer left for Annapolis this morning.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman has suffered a relapse. The premier's illness is considered very serious and he will leave for the continent as soon as he is strong enough to travel. It probably will not appear in Parliament again this year.

WEDNESDAY

The case of Morrison vs Green which has been in and out of court for five years, was taken up before Judge Forbes this morning in the county court chambers. The plaintiff sued the city court some years ago for $80 rent. The jury did not agree and Mr. Morrison is now endeavoring to recover the amount in the county court. MacRae, Sinclair, and MacIsaac, for the plaintiff; and A. Wilson and S. B. Bustin for the defendant.

A party of R. K. J. C. yachtmen had an exciting race on the lake on Saturday afternoon. While the wind was blowing violently they put out from Millville on the ice-yahts for a race for a small boat. The race was won by Fred. Munroe at the pier.

The yacht race along at tremendous speed for several miles until Sand Point was reached. On the return trip, during a violent squall, the boat became unmanageable, a crack in the ice some six feet wide was crossed in safety, but when off Millville the ice struck the posts which mark the finish of the race. The boat was put out of business temporarily and the posts broken off close to the ice. Except for minor bruises the crew escaped injury.

After the service in St. John's Stone church Sunday evening a large number of people enjoyed an organ recital given by D. Arnold Fox. These recitals seem to be becoming a popular institution. Last evening's programme included Dvorak's Requiem, Liszt's Ave Maria, Handel's Largo, Post and Peasant overture, Marriage scene from Lohengrin, Schiller's march, "The Boat" and "The Boatman" and "The Boatman" and others. Mr. Sydney Beckley contributed a solo, Gounod's "Gloria" to the accompaniment.

The appointment of four new vicarages for the Argentine Republic in the Dominion is gazetted by the Royal Diplomatique of Paris in its February number. Leon Farnelart is appointed in Montreal; Thomas Carby in Quebec; John Neville in Halifax, and H. H. McLean in St. John.

B. McCormack, foreman in the local agency of the Labatt Brewing Company, on Saturday last received the news of the death of one brother and the serious illness of another. One brother, Thomas, was drowned at sea near Barbados. Another brother, Michael, is seriously ill from typhoid fever in New Haven, Conn. The condition of the latter has been made much more dangerous on account of a fire that broke out in the hospital on Saturday.

James Clark, a seaman, working on the pilot boat Howard D. Troop, was drowned off Musquash early Sunday morning. Clark was out on the main boom hooking the block tackle when a lurch of the boat threw him into the sea. Owing to the roughness of the water and the coldness of the weather it was impossible to rescue the man. Clark was a Scotchman, who had been working in and about St. John for some time past.

There was a very pleasant gathering on Monday evening at Seaman's restaurant, Charlotte street, when members of the American steam laundry entertained members of the steward's department of the stmr. Empress of Ireland. Tables were laid for thirty covers and after the repast there were songs by Messrs. Brooks and Hains of the Empress, and Mr. McKenna, Cards, dancing and other amusements made the time pass pleasantly and it was nearly 9 o'clock in the evening when the happy gathering broke up.

The city Y. W. C. T. U. held their Frances Willard memorial service in their hall on Germain street last evening. Mrs. Henniger in the chair. A number of church women of the W. C. U. attended the meeting, some of whom gave an interesting outline of their work. Mrs. Myles read a very interesting paper on the life of Frances Willard. Mrs. Seymour spoke on her work among the sailors from which you would conclude that there is a great work to be done in that line. Mrs. Dearborn gave a paper on "Motherhood," which was very interesting and much enjoyed by all present.

THURSDAY

The evangelistic services at the Tabernacle Church continue to draw a large attendance. Mr. Addison is growing in favor as an evangelist. He will speak again at the service tonight. The Rockwood Section of the Temple of Honor will attend in a body on Friday evening.

The Fairville Presbyterian Church is henceforth to be known as St. Columba's. The church is also to be incorporated at the coming session of the legislature. This decision was reached last night at a large meeting of the congregation held in the church hall. Rev. W. H. Downard, the pastor, presided, and John McFarland acted as secretary.

This morning at about 1:15 o'clock an alarm of fire was rung in from box 122, in Indian town. The fire was in a large launch owned by Frank Goodwin, and before it was put out the boat was practically destroyed. The launch was on the wharf at Marble Cove and caught fire to the engine room. The cause of the fire is not known. The vessel was practically a new one, having been in the water but one season. It was necessary to turn water on the blaze.

It is given to but few to celebrate a birthday only once in four years. Among these unfortunate is George, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. E. Mitchell, 17 Exmouth street. Although four years old, George held his first anniversary on the 28th of February. His parents gave him a birthday party, and a merry crowd of little ones assembled. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in games and play, and at supper thirty-two little guests enjoyed George's hospitality. The table was nicely decorated with flowers. George was the recipient of many tokens of remembrance on his long-delayed natal anniversary.

George C. P. McIntyre, of Sussex, for several years travelling salesman for the Frost and Wood Company, was presented with a watch by the local office employees Tuesday morning. Mr. McIntyre had severed his connection with the company to devote his entire attention to the Druggist Drug Co. Ltd., the watch company formed here, of which he is secretary-treasurer. The presentation was made by W. F. Burditt, the manager, and Mr. McIntyre, who is a popular with his business conferees, made a suitable reply.

The regular monthly meeting of the Home for Incurables, with Dr. Walker presiding, a large representation of the board were present and after some minor matters had been discussed, three applications for admittance were considered. One male applicant was accepted, while the other two were placed on the waiting list, there being only one vacancy. Miss Ramsay, who has been acting as nurse, was placed in charge as matron.

At 10 p.m. on Feb. 27th the death of Benjamin Kilpatrick occurred after a few days illness. The deceased was in his 86th year. Death came as a shock to the family. He left four sons to mourn their sad loss. The sons are Donald and Boyd of Youngs, of British Columbia and Burpee at home.

William Paisley, of Greenwood, Kings County, and Miss Emma Gorham of the same place, were married yesterday afternoon at the Victoria street Baptist parsonage. Rev. B. A. Nobles officiating. The wedding was a quiet affair. Mr. and Mrs. Paisley drove last evening to their home at Greenwood.

The Gloucester fishing schooner, Yachima, Capt. Robt. Whiting, ran aground on the north-east side of Lovell's island, at 2:45 Tuesday last while inward bound from the fishing grounds. The vessel struck heavily and became disabled. The crew were rescued and taken to the shore. The schooner was damaged and is expected to be repaired. The Yachima had on board about 30,000 pounds of haddock, cod and hake. It is believed the Yachima can be successfully floated.—Besson.

Up to date the amount spent for widening and improving the Welland Canal has been nearly thirty-two millions. Some Maritime Provinces should return how for how to the Ontario bigots who are never tired of knocking the expense of the I. C. R.—Halifax Echo.

The purity contract, which was entered into by the representatives of the two parties at the taking part of well. Not a dollar was spent on either side for the purchasing of votes and not a drop of liquor was used. Both parties kept their coats to the letter and a bigger vote than ever before was polled.—Besson.

The Empress of Ireland was detained eight hours off St. John on Saturday, the harbor being out. How would it do to have another of the Empress of Ireland? The Empress of Ireland was a Scotchman, who had been working in and about St. John for some time past.

DR. MACDONALD WILL PREACH

Rev. John McNeill of Toronto is to speak under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. in the evening of Baccalaureate Sunday.

A SERIOUS COLLISION ON THE INTERCOLONIAL

Two Freighters in a Smashup at Salt Springs—Three Men Hurt, One of Them Perhaps Fatally.

AMHERST, N. S., Mar. 5.—A bad rear-end collision occurred on the I. C. R. between Loubourg freight specials at Salt Springs station, N. S., about 11 o'clock this morning. It appears that Barker's east-bound special was doing some shunting and was about through and backing in on a siding from the east. The electric semaphores was at danger, when McDonald's east-bound special, Driver Hollingsway, came in at a high rate of speed and cut Barker's train about five cars from the rear, injuring three sectionmen very badly, who were in Barker's special van. Five cars were badly smashed, loaded with freight. The injured men were taken by special with all possible speed to the hospital at Springhill Mines. The line is blocked. The local train and the C. P. R. express are behind the wreck. An auxiliary has left Truro for the scene of the accident. The line will be cleared in a few hours. Facts as to how the accident occurred cannot be had yet, on account of the conflicting reports. One of the injured men, whose name is not known, is not expected to live.

JAPAN AND CHINA ARE NOW ON VERGE OF WAR

Japanese Steamer Carrying Arms Was Seized by China Under the Belief That Cargo Was Consigned to Revolutionists—Japan Ready to Use Force.

PERKIN, March 5.—Japan is threatening force to recover the Japanese steamer Tatsu Maru, which is still retained by China at Hwang Pu on the West River. This vessel was seized at Macao February 7 by Chinese customs cruisers on the charge that the cargo arms and ammunition was intended for Chinese revolutionists, although consigned to a merchant of that place. The cargo of the vessel is still on board. Chinese customs victory of Canton, before taking action is said to be awaiting proof that the vessel and its cargo should not be confiscated. The cargo is said to be arms and ammunition. The occasion of China's fear here on account of the weakness of the government and because of the doubtful loyalty of the Chinese army is said to be the reason for the seizure of the Japanese steamer.

Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister to China yesterday handed to the Chinese government Japan's refusal to accept China's proposal to appoint a joint Japanese and Chinese commission to examine all the charges, in the meantime releasing the Tatsu Maru under the condition that the vessel be placed in the hands of the Chinese government. The Chinese government has refused to accept the proposal, and has demanded the unconditional release of the steamer, and, second, an arrangement to protect the ship's crew from loss. This is the first time that China must buy the cargo on board the Tatsu Maru.

Today China proposed arbitration by Vice-Admiral Sir Arthur W. Williamson Moore, commander-in-chief of the British-Chinese station, but Japan refused these overtures also, and has warned the foreign board that such a proposal is unacceptable. She again expressed her desire for the release of the vessel, failing which she said she would take the steps necessary to secure its return to her.

400,000 KILLED IN FRISCO'S RAT HUNT
Gov. Gillette Astonishes the Capital With Tales of War on Plague.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Gov. Gillette of California, who is here spending a short vacation among his former colleagues in congress, tells about the biggest rat hunt in all history. The San Francisco authorities are conducting it with a view to exterminating the bubonic plague.

"They have already killed between 300,000 and 400,000 rats," said the governor. "The slaughter is going on at the rate of several thousand every week. Out of every weekly catch they select 1,000 rats, which are tested for evidence of the contagion. These weekly tests show a constantly small percentage of infected rats. Of course, Mr. Rat has been shown by medical science to be the medium by which the plague is conveyed and the warfare is to be continued till the tests show that the pest is eradicated.

"There are very few cases of plague in the city now. An occasional patient is found, as happens in Honolulu and other places where the plague has prevailed."

INDIANS DUMPED IN SEA
Mexico Said to be Exterminating the Yaquis.

NEW YORK, Mar. 4.—The Herald has received the following despatch from Galveston, Texas:—According to stories told by Americans in Mexico, the extermination of the Yaqui Indians is being prosecuted in an inhuman manner.

A Nelson said to be of Washington, and C. B. Gowan, described as an electrical engineer, of El Paso, who cannot be further identified here, make affidavit that the Mexican government had planned to deport the troublesome Indians to Yucatan, but shipments of these people, started from Guaymas, the western port for Yucatan, were in fact, thrown into the sea. In his statement Mr. Nelson says:

"I witnessed many carloads of Yaquis brought from the interior into Guaymas for deportation and they were hauled in open cattle cars that had not been cleaned after service as cattle. The Mexicans lifted the tracks beside the cars and spat upon the imprisoned Indians, women and children as well as men. In one load there were one hundred and fifty persons, and I saw the cars switched to the docks and the Indians driven into the hold of a fatality ship and started for Yucatan. But none of these wretches were ever landed for the ship was back in port in less than three days. Under the most favorable conditions the voyage to the isthmus of Tehuantepec cannot be made in less than seven days. The officers gave out the report that about fifty of the prisoners jumped overboard.

"I personally witnessed the loading of six vessels with human freight during my sojourn at Guaymas, but it was the same cruel story. At Hermosillo I learned that though this was the concentration point for the Yaqui prisoners only a small percentage of the captured Indians reached there, and those from only the immediate sections. I learned at Hermosillo that some prisoners had reached there from Cananea, and yet I had seen many a bunch of Yaquis started out from Cananea for Hermosillo."

GERMAN CAR WINS OUT IN ORMOND RACES
ORMOND, Fla., March 4.—One event of the 12 1/2 mile race for amateur drivers, marked the second day of the Ormond Beach automobile tournament today. It was won by Louis J. Bergdoll in a German car, which covered the distance in 112 minutes, 39.25 seconds, bettering the time for the distance made yesterday by over 17 minutes. Bergdoll did not get the lead until the 70 mile post had been passed, when Stevens, driving a sixty horsepower American car, went out, owing to a break. At this time Stevens was leading by four minutes, 48 seconds. The other entrant, R. G. Kelsey, with a 50 horsepower American car, did not get beyond the 50 mile post when engine trouble put him out of the running for good. The driving of Stevens, though he lost the race, was the feature, his car covering fifty miles in forty-five minutes, 37 seconds, close to the record time, but holding that clip until the accident.

FRENCH PRESIDENT WILL VISIT RUSSIA
M. Fallieres Plans to Return Visits of Different Monarchs.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 3.—A visit to Russia this summer by M. Fallieres, the president of France, is regarded in diplomatic circles as a practical certainty, in connection with the extensive trip that has been planned during which the French president will return the visits of the monarchs of Sweden and Norway, and also to Copenhagen. M. Fallieres will not start on his tour until about the end of July. He will be escorted by a squadron of warships, which will go to Copenhagen, as on previous occasions.
