GODERICH, APRIL 16, 1867.
POLITICAL MEETINGS.

The Campaign successfully inaugurated.

A very large meeting was held at Exeter, on Monday afternoon, April 8th, at the call of Messrs. Cameron and Gibbons. The hall was densely packed with electors. Arch. Bishop, Esq., reeve of Uxbridge was called to the chair. Amongst those present were Messrs. Cameron, Gibbons, Ritchie, Carling, Wm. Case, J. S. Sinclair, T. Gidley, L. F. Toms, C. Crabb, I. C. Moore, E. Holmes, C. F. Clark, G. Remball, and other prominent gentlemen.

M. C. CAMERON, Esq., was the first speaker, and was met with a warm reception. He was listened to with much interest, and made a very good speech. In a clear, manly fashion he stated his claims upon the suffrages of the ratepayers of the Riding. As for the objection that he was a lawyer, he stated that the leaders of the conservative party in Parliament, for many years past, were lawyers, and that it was necessary to send down another good lawyer on his side of politics to keep them in order. The objection that he was not a local candidate, as far as that section was concerned, was also met. He could not live in every locality, and that he paid more taxes twice over in Stanley than Mr. Ritchie, while he paid five times as much as that gentleman into the County treasury. He went on for carrying out Confederation in a fair spirit would oppose Grand Trunk jobbery in every shape, advocate a liberal postal system, the settlement of our waste lands by a system of free grants, and do all in his power to advance the general interests of the country. Mr. Cameron made a most favorable impression upon the minds of the audience.

Mr. GIBBONS was next introduced. He based his claims to their suffrages upon his long and thorough knowledge of the various subjects which would come upon the floor of the House of Assembly, such as the Assessment Law, Education, Crown Lands, Agriculture, &c., all of which would receive his attention in a spirit of progress and liberality. The most proof he could give of his local knowledge, which had been called in question, was his character, public and private, during a long series of years, and the part he took when the country was threatened with rebellion. Mr. G. was repeatedly applauded.

Mr. RITCHIE made an extremely short speech, to which he stuck faithfully at every succeeding meeting. He coincided with the views of Mr. Cameron in nearly every particular, but begged them to elect him, in which case he would prove to be a splendid representative.

Mr. CARLING was equally reticent. His only claim was that he was an old resident, and had filled nearly every little office upon the path to the County Council.

Mr. CRABB of Goderich, after announcing that he had just turned his back upon the County Council, and was now engaged against Mr. Gibbons by charging him with annexation proclivities, and in trying to prove that he was a man unworthy of belief, had the fire thrust down his own throat, to the immense amusement of the audience.

Mr. SINCLAIR gave Mr. Crabb such a dressing for the palpable meanness of his conduct that the latter was hoisted and drenched by men of all parties, and by his chop-fallen look, it was evident his career, as a Tory orator had been nipped in the bud. If the "people did" as Mr. Sinclair's speech, according to Mr. Elliott the Seribe, Crabb did for he "cut his lucky" bright and early next morning.

A division of the meeting being suggested by Mr. Carling, Mr. Cameron said he was quite willing, but the former, evidently fearing to expose his weakness in his own stronghold, thought it was not necessary.

An indication of how the contest will end, Messrs. Cameron and Gibbons had every reason to be gratified with the result of this meeting.

THE FAELING.

Never since preparation was commenced for the approaching contest, has there been so strong and decided an opinion formed by the great body of the electors of the South Riding, favorable to the return of Messrs. Cameron and Gibbons as at the present time. Never, perhaps, at an election in this County has such unobjectionable candidates presented themselves for election, and never have men met with a more favorable reception. No charges can be made against either, whether to impeach their integrity or shake the confidence of the people in their character. It is true certain parties, through motives of vindictiveness and animosity, have tried to blacken their names by untruthful statements and unsupported assertions, but the electors have wisely and properly condemned such conduct. Such a course can do no influence upon the minds of honest and right-thinking men. Since the last instant an active canvass was commenced, the people have with their usual sagacity discerned the comparative merits of the respective candidates; they are not slow to form opinions for themselves, when the opportunity is presented to them. From the day the first meeting of the electors was held, the success of Mr. Cameron and Mr. Gibbons has been remarkable. Even in the stronghold of the enemy, he was overmatched. At every subsequent meeting our candidates gained the confidence of the people, by the clear and masterly exposition of their views. They are men who can express their opinions fairly, openly, and in a manner creditable to themselves and not to their opponents. The school-boys required by their opponents. They gentlemen appear to think the Houses of Parliament are fit places to learn public speaking. They have both said that if returned they will in a short time be able to let their voices be heard in behalf of South Huron. We can't believe the electors can be duped and hoodwinked by any such pretax. Let them bide their time of probation, and if possible gain these necessary acquiescences which at present they do not possess, before seeking election of any constituency. Let them learn to express some original ideas in plain and intelligible English, and their claims may become more apparent. But to send men to Parliament who cannot give reasons to the simplest and most uneducated elector, would not redound much to the credit of the constituency. Such would be the result of the election of Mr. Ritchie and Mr. Carling should the electors honor them with their confidence. In no such position would a reflecting man who has the best interests of the country at heart, and is not blinded by party bigotry, like to see his representative placed. We want men like Mr. Cameron in the House of Commons, who know what we want and can advocate our interests. We want one like him whose interests are the property of this constituency, and whose wish is the advancement of the interests of its people. We don't want the representation of fossilism and of days gone by. We want energy, perseverance and ability; all of which Mr. Cameron possesses to an eminent degree. The Legislature of Ontario, no doubt, could be more useful to us than Mr. Gibbons. The nature of the legislation will be such that his previous training will apply fitly. He has qualifications that none other in the County possess, and from his acknowledged honesty and upright character, we can safely rely on their proper exercise. He who has been so long and so successfully a prominent man in the making of our municipal institutions, cannot be other than an influential man in the House to which he aspires to have a seat.

The views we have expressed are, we feel certain, those of the great majority of the electors. People who think for themselves, will no doubt concur in our remarks. But what other objection can be laid to his charge for the more reading and display of them there, yet I somehow doubt if the electors would be so easily taken in. Direct the mind of all of a rancorous party spirit, pride, or deep-seated animosity, and we will have the people who are never slow in forming correct opinions of men, proclaiming by their verdict at the polls the just reward of honest men.

THE PRINCESS OF WALES. If into telegrams are to be trusted, the Princess of Wales' recovery is no hopeless. The amiable Princess has found a place in the warm regards of the British people, and her death would be deeply deplored.

SPRING.—A fine warm rain has fallen, introducing a spring weather and our farmers will be at once busily engaged with their spring work.

NAVIGATION OPEN.—The lake is now open for navigation along this coast, and the NAVY will take up her route early next week, after undergoing a thorough repair. We are not sure yet as to what route the Bonny will take up. The Prince Alfred was out yesterday for a trial trip.

FRUIT TREES.—Mr. Wm. Campbell has now on hand a choice stock of fruit trees of all kinds. Give him a trial.

OUR SALT WELL is progressing finely. The brine never falls in strength below 90 degs., and the daily production is very fine quality of salt averages from 50 to 60 barrels. The enterprise is an undoubted success.

MR. PARS has opened out an elegant stock of seasonable boots and shoes in Parsons' Block.

THE NEW WELL is being pushed down as fast as possible. Several of the shaft-drawbacks have occurred, but the energy of the gentlemen engaged in the work must prove successful.

STOCK INSURANCE.—Mr. Wm. F. Gooding has been appointed agent for Goderich for the Hartford Live Stock Insurance Co., a most useful institution for farmers, stockmen and others.

PAUL WEBER.—We're obliged to observe, during a recent trip throughout the County that the full wheat generally has suffered extremely. Many fields are badly winter-killed, and present a sorry aspect. How winter may, however, make a change for the better.

MALCOLM.—On Sunday evening last, while enjoying a buggy ride with a female friend Mr. James Dunlop stopped for a moment at Duggan's tavern, Huron Road, where several malicious persons removed one of the nuts which fasten on the wheels, thus giving much trouble and endangering two lives. Such a scandalous proceeding should be looked into.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.—Last Monday evening, after the parade of the Huron Rifle Company, Sergeant Major D. Ferguson, of the Toronto Military School, was elected Visage Seymour promoted.

MR. ANGUS McDONALD, well-known to many of our readers, has opened business as a hotel-keeper in the British Exchange, Exeter. The travelling public will find in Angus a most attentive and obliging host.

WE ask Mr. Ritchie to compare the merits of his various speeches in the Signal from time to time, with the garbled, lying accounts of what his opponents say as published in his organ.

PERSONAL.—The Hon. A. T. Galt, one of the delegates to England, arrived here yesterday, and is staying at the "Huron".

MR. HUGH DUNLOP, tailor, next door to the Bank of Montreal, West Street, has just received his Spring stock of first-class goods, which he is prepared to make up in a style not to be beaten at moderate rates.

WE direct attention to the advertisement of the holding of the Huron Teachers' Association.

A contemporary is at a loss to understand what constitutes a competency in the great art of public speaking. In this country, the art of public speaking is a business, as we have, he would have no difficulty in understanding what we mean. We are not, however, in the point exactly, and that is all we care for.

EXAMINATION.

An examination of School Section No. 3, in the Township of Huron, was held on Monday, the 10th inst., at the school-house, Goderich, by Mr. W. H. Yule, took place on the 8th inst. The examination was held in the school-house, Goderich, by Mr. W. H. Yule, took place on the 8th inst. The examination was held in the school-house, Goderich, by Mr. W. H. DEAR FATHER.—Knowing that you are ever interested in politics, I thought I would give you a slight hint of how they stand in the County at present. The present contest must give you some interest. A gentleman who met him at Bayfield, wondered what made him wear such a dejected air, as did not discover the cause until he arrived in Exeter. We might Mr. C. Crabb felt dejected! He drove all the way from Goderich to Exeter through mud and rain for no other reason than to gratify a silly feeling of party spirit which had been bottled up for years. He had the poor gratification of being heard, but he soon learned that the people of South Huron were too honorable to tolerate such a scandalous proceeding. Hence poor Crabb's ignominious defeat and high flight to the rear. Had he been successful, he would, no doubt, have been happy to follow Mr. Gibbons through the Riding, and do his bit in roasting a full harvest of rot-wee.

Let Mr. Crabb learn from the experience of this week that, in the hands of a man of his character, a good name will be held sacred by a good-thinking person, and let us rejoice that there is a general disposition on the part of men of all parties to carry on this contest in a spirit of honor and good nature.

Another Break Down. The conservative convention in Blyth on Wednesday last (10th) resulted in a more complete fiasco than that held at Clinton recently. After much squabbling, Dr. Sloane was asked to accept the nomination for the Assembly, but he refused to have anything to do with such a body. Then it was proposed that Mr. Holmes should retire from the Commons candidature in favor of Dr. McDougall, in the hope that the former might be run into the Assembly under the wing of the Doctor's popularity. This plan promised such poor results that it was given up, and the meeting broke up in disgust.

FRUIT TREES.—Mr. Wm. Campbell has now on hand a choice stock of fruit trees of all kinds. Give him a trial.

THE GEORGIAN BAY CANAL.

Twenty Millions of the Capital Secured. Mr. Caprell, President of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal Company, returned last evening from the United States, where he has been engaged in a most successful negotiation to secure the guarantee of aid to the extent of half the capital stock. All the Boston papers contain reports of the success of the negotiations, and the fact that the board of trade in that city, which he was present and explained the leading features of the scheme. The Daily Advertiser of Boston stated that during his recent visit to Philadelphia, the capitalists of Pennsylvania had offered to guarantee half of the money required, on condition that the other half should be advanced by British capital. The line of the canal should make advances indicating their favor toward the enterprise. He intended to return to the room, and then to proceed to London, and then to proceed to London, and then to proceed to London.

Before the close of the meeting, J. H. Josiah Quincy, who is pressing the project that the enterprise would be a great advantage to Boston, submitting the following resolutions: "Resolved, That the thanks of this board be presented to Mr. E. C. Caprell, for his clear explanation of the importance of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal." "Resolved, That in the opinion of this board, the completion of this work will tend greatly to promote the commerce and navigation between the west and the Atlantic and as such is worthy of the patronage, both of the public and of the private citizen." "The resolutions were adopted, and the board adjourned."

THE MADOC GOLD MINES. The rush to Madoc and Eldorado village north of it still continues, and the stages from Belleville are daily crowded by miners, speculators and prospectors. A man was discovered in the place on the property of Mr. John N. Moore, and caused great excitement in the neighborhood. A man was discovered in the place on the property of Mr. John N.
