THE TORONTO WORLD. A One-Cent Morning Newspaper. OFFICE: 18 KING ST. EAST, TORONTO, W. F. MACLEAN, Publisher.

Interpretation. In reply to Mr. Langley's article in the Week, in which he declared confederation to be a failure, because there is not and cannot be a profitable trade between the east and the west, the St. John, N. B., Sun says that while he is talking in this strain other citizens of the maritime provinces are doing something to build up an inter-provincial trade.

Another startling scene in the Tabor divorce suit in Boston has been enacted. It was the spectacle of a young woman, Mattie A. Davidson, of hitherto unimpeached character deliberately swearing away her good name in order to help the cause of the Minister Downes, whose reputation was at stake.

Mr. Torington's Assent List. Editor World: Will Mr. Torington kindly state when any of his of anthems published in to-day's World were sung by the Metropolitan choir? I have attended the church ever since it was opened, and was a member of the choir for a number of years and I never heard any of them, with the exception of the Hallelujah chorus.
