

The Weekly Monitor

VOL 34

BRIDGETOWN, ANnapolis COUNTY, NOVA SCOTIA, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, 1906.

NO 10

THE HEAVITY IRVING NUPTIALS

ONE OF BRIDGETOWN'S FAIR YOUNG LADIES BECOMES BRIDE OF WELL KNOWN ST. JOHN MAN

One of the prettiest weddings seen in Bridgetown for some time took place yesterday when Miss Emily Dorothy, eldest daughter of John Irvin, was united in marriage to Harry Heddon McAvity, of St. John. For weeks past this has been the principal topic of discussion, and interest, particularly among the fair sex, waxed high. The day dawned with every prospect of fine weather, and long before the hour set for the ceremony the church commenced to fill. At 10.30 sharp the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She looked charming in a handsome gown of cream satin trimmed with silk lace and satin ruching. She wore the regulation veil and orange blossoms and carried a handsome bouquet of bridal roses, lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Bessie, as maid of honor, Miss Ethel McAvity, sister of the groom, and Miss Beverly Troup, as bridesmaids. All three were attired in costumes of white China silk trimmed with Valenciennes and Irish lace, and wore Bebe hats trimmed with chiffon strings and pink roses. They each carried bouquets of pink roses, with white satin streamers.

The ceremony, which was fully choral, was performed by Rev. E. Underwood, the rector of the church. The invited guests occupied special seats and although among so many it is difficult to select any particular costume, it perhaps would not be out of the way to mention a few. For instance, the groom's mother looked exceedingly well in a handsome Paris gown of black and silver sequin. The bride's mother wore black silk, trimmed with cream satin and old point lace.

The groom was attended by Ernest Everett, of St. John, and one of the ushers was also a St. John man, E. Mack Stewart, the other being Robert Hoyt, of Bridgetown.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. The happy couple took the afternoon train en route to Montreal, Toronto, Niagara, Buffalo, Washington, New York, etc., and expect to return to St. John in July where they will take up their residence at 24 Fiddock street.

The presents received by the bride were very numerous. That from the groom was an elegant sealskin coat, and from the groom's mother a handsome cabinet of silver, consisting of about two hundred pieces. There were many articles in cut glass, silver and china, besides several cheques. The groom's present to each of the bridesmaids was a set of gold pins, consisting of brooch and blouse pins, set with turquoise and pearls, and for the maid of honor a gold brooch. The bride's present to the best man and ushers was a stick pin.

The bride's travelling dress was of light grey cloth, with blue silk facings. Her hat was light blue, trimmed with white wings and she wore a grey ostrich feather boa. At the station they were showered with rice and left amid the best wishes of the large crowd assembled.

(Continued on Page 5.)

10 CENTS CASH will buy a pair of 25c Brass Curtain Rings. We have a few left. Sent by mail for 2c. -W. E. Reed.

85.00 CASH will buy a handsome Baby Carriage, worth $12.00. Rubber Tires, upholstered and parcel top. -W. E. Reed.

100 Blouses and Shirt Waist Suits left over from last season.

PRICES WERE FROM 50c to $2.75.

We are going to clear them out at prices ranging from 25c to $1.25.

100 doz. New Summer Hose in Black, White and Tans, (Plain and drop stitched.) ALL PRICES.

25 doz. New Lawn and Lustré Shirt Waists from 50c to $2.00

25 doz. Ladies' Vests in Sleeveless, Short and Long Sleeves. Prices from 15c to 50c.

We want everybody to see our stock of Sunshades, Neckwear, Corsets, Belts, Underskirts and Whitewear.

JOHN LOCKETT & SON
BRIDGETOWN, N. S.

King Alfonso XIII at the age of three. Princess Ena of Battenberg at the age of eleven.

General View of Palace at Madrid

King Alfonso XIII at the age of eleven.

Princess Ena of Battenberg at the age of four

FOR SALE.—Two cows, R. S. Leonard, Paradise.

WANTED.—A chance to prove that our job printing is nice. 41 cents .00 each letter heads and envelopes as a proof.—The Monitor, Bridgetown.

WANTED.—Board for a man for the summer, in the lane or near Carlton's Corner, private family preferred. Address A. G. F., care Monitor, Bridgetown Post Office.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH

Jula, Russia, June 6.—The Agrarian movement in this province is spreading and is assuming a threatening phase.

Winnipeg, June 6.—Another murder occurred in the Galician quarter of the city last night, when the guests at a soiree became so jovial under the influence of liquor that a fight ensued. The victim was Martin Solsky, aged 20. He was struck on the head by a stone and when he fell was badly beaten with a chair. The murder was committed on the street and three of his fellow countymen have been arrested charged with the crime.

Voronez, Russia, June 6.—A col-would be done, no fortunes wrecked, fison occurred here yesterday between the Rural Guards and peasants, who were annexing land belonging to local proprietors. Two guards were killed.

Moheloff, Russia, June 6.—In many places in this vicinity Rural Guards who are in sympathy with the peasants, are refusing to obey the orders of their superiors.

Jere McAliffe and his twenty people stock company and their sixty foot car and scenery will arrive Monday from Kentville, where they broke all records for big business last week. Mr. McAliffe is well and favorably known in this province owing to his former connection with Thomas E. Shea and the McAliffe Company, and has favored this town with his appearance for several seasons. The engagement is for one night only. The play for Monday is "Up York State." The Halifax Recorder says of this company:

"People stood on tip toes at the Academy last night in their efforts to see the performance. The big house who had not secured seats in advance had come too late to obtain even good standing room, and who were thus in the rear, and who had to strain in all sorts of ways to obtain a glimpse of the stage.

Clawson's up-to-date high-class vaudeville features will be introduced by Jere McAliffe, Al W. Wilson and Woodhead's wonderful trained animals consisting of dogs, ponies and monkeys.

Detroit, Mich., June 6.—S. Z. Harrison, for many years assistant wire chief in the Western Union Telegraph office in this city, committed suicide yesterday by shooting.

Ottawa, June 6.—J. J. Hill, president of the Great Northern, was the guest of the Canadian club here. In the course of his speech he said: "There is no difficulty in setting your Northwest. Don't be in too great a hurry to select your population." He also advised Canadians to keep the old flag flying to the end.

St. Petersburg, June 6.—Captain Byer, who left the front in Manchuria shortly after the peace treaty was signed, arrived in St. Petersburg yesterday. He rode the entire distance, about 8,500 miles, in eight months and four days. His horse, which was of English breed, was in good condition when the journey was finished. The captain's orderly, who was his sole companion, had a Mongolian mount.

At the annual chairman of St. James church it was decided to have the cushions renewed and newly covered. As the committee wanted a thoroughly first-class and up-to-date job the work was given to W. E. Reed, who has one of the best upholsterers in the province, J. Percy Thomas. The thirty cushions, newly made and covered were delivered on Saturday afternoon, less than six days after the work was started. The congregation that met on Sunday morning were highly delighted at their appearance and style.

Perez W. Milner, of Round Hill, father of E. L. Milner, town clerk of Bridgetown, died yesterday-morning after an illness of some weeks. He was 68 years of age and leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters.

10 CENTS CASH will buy a polished hard wood Towel Rack worth 25 cents; has three arms twelve inches long, attached to commode or wall.

Walllight Soap is better than other soap, but is best when used in the Sunlight by Sunlight Soap and Yellow Soap.

A Bill The Council Does Not Want to Pay

Coun. DeWitt Says the Work Done by Men Engaged by Ex-Councillor Lockett Amounted to Nothing

The regular monthly meeting of the town council was held on Monday evening. There were present the Mayor and Councillors DeWitt, Harlow, Longmire and Calder.

The following bills were ordered to be paid:

- W. F. White, $1.00
- Alben Walker, 30.40
- Labor (Hicks' hydrant), 3.24
- Road Machine (Habor), 20.00
- Street (Habor), 84.79
- Street gravel, 14.60
- Sewer labor, 21.19
- W. H. Ruffe, 1.25
- Wm. Jones, 6.37
- J. J. Wallis, 3.50
- Chas. E. DeWitt, 3.20
- Norman Collins, 3.40
- Karl Freeman, 5.93
- William Hudson, .25
- Avard Anderson, 8.09

Henry B. Hicks appealed against the assessment of $200 on his house on Granville street west. It was left in an unfinished condition last fall. His taxes at present amount to $24.75 and this sum was reduced to $20.00.

The mayor drew attention to the assessment of $200 on his house on Granville street west. It was left in an unfinished condition last fall. His taxes at present amount to $24.75 and this sum was reduced to $20.00.

The mayor drew attention to the assessment of $200 on his house on Granville street west. It was left in an unfinished condition last fall. His taxes at present amount to $24.75 and this sum was reduced to $20.00.

Mr. Lockett—It was at the time when every man was doing every other man's work.

Coun. Calder said it should be a good object lesson for every man to leave another man's work alone.

Coun. DeWitt rather resented the statements made by Coun. Longmire. He had done as much as any man for the water supply and would not vote to give the town's money away.

Mr. Lockett said the principal reason he sent the men to the Foster Lake was to get information which could be used as a lever to make the owners or lessees of the Crosskill lake be more reasonable in their demands should the occasion arise.

Princess Victoria came from the Prado palace to Madrid early in the morning, accompanied by her mother, Princess Houry of Battenberg and her ladies of honor and escorted by a regiment of the royal guards. The bride's party was installed in the ministry of marine, which had been sumptuously prepared for her. There the Princess put on her wedding dress and Queen Christina greeted the bride after which the ladies breakfasted to (Continued on Page 5.)

You'll Miss Something

Unless you visit our store next Saturday, while we are conducting our great GLASSWARE SALE. Over 400 Pieces that we will sell for 10c each. Over 200 that we will sell for 5c. We give a list of a few of the pieces:

- | | |
|----------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 9 1/2 inch Cake Salver, 10c. | Bread Plate, 10c. |
| 9 inch Cake Salver, 10c. | Round Cake Plate, 10c. |
| 8 inch Fruit Dish on Stand, 10c. | Square Cake Plate, 10c. |
| 9 inch Fruit Dish on Stand, 10c. | Cream Pitcher, 5c. |
| 2 bottle Caster on Stand, 10c. | 6 inch Nappie, 5c. |
| Pint Pitcher, 10c. | Custard Cups, 5c. |
| Quart Pitcher, 10c. | Salt Shakers, 5c. |
| Half Gallon Pitcher, 10c. | Pepper Shakers, 5c. |
| Vinegar Bottle, 10c. | 6 1/2 inch Preserve Dish, 5c. |
| Covered Sugar, 10c. | Tooth Pick Holder, 5c. |
| Spoon Holder, 10c. | Covered Butter Dish, 5c. |
| Cream Pitcher, 10c. | Goblet, 5c. |
| Covered Butter Dish, 10c. | Wine Tumblers, 5c. |
| Covered Molasses Pitcher, 10c. | Tombles, 5c. |
| Tall Colery Dish, 10c. | Jelly Dish with Handle, 5c. |
| Colery Tray, 10c. | Pickle Dish, 5c. |
| Pickle Dish, 10c. | Footed Jelly Dish, 5c. |
| 8 inch Preserve Dish, 10c. | Vases, 5c. |
| 7 inch Preserve Dish, 10c. | Mugs, 5c. |
| 5 inch Footed Jelly Dish, 10c. | |

Saturday Special Groceries

- | | |
|----------------------------|--------------------------|
| Frosting Sugar, per lb. 6c | Crown Cocoa, per can. 7c |
| 2 cakes Toilet Soap, 4c | Life Buoy Soap, 4c |
| Beans, per quart. 8c | Pumpkin, per can. 8c |
| Ammonia per bottle, 8c | Pine Apple 14c |
| Bananas, per doz. 25c | 40c. Chocolates for 32c |

W. W. CHESLEY

Red Rose Tea costs no more than other teas

EVERYONE agrees that the best in anything is always the most economical even if it costs more. But when you can get the best in tea at the same price you pay for inferior teas...

Red Rose Tea is good Tea

Hunting Seal's Their Haunts Are Off the Labrador Coast. Sometimes as Many as 100,000 May Be Seen.

The Atlantic seal is covered with hair, and is valued chiefly for his skin and fat, the former being converted into leather and the latter into oil. The females bring forth their young on the ice floes which every winter skirt the dreary Labrador sea...

While many details of the natural history of the hair seal are at best merely conjectured, the story of his high, halts and migrations is among the most fascinating in zoological records. The seal-like whale and the walrus, formerly abundant in the shoal waters near the Grand banks...

TRAGIC FATES OF FAMOUS AUTHORS

A mispent, wasted life, followed by a wretched and discreditable exit into eternity—such was the fate of Robert Greene, one of the most distinguished of the minor Elizabethan dramatists. He was born at Norwich about the year 1560, and secured his degree of M. A. at Cambridge in 1583.

DEATHS—STRANGE AND SAD. The manner of the death of Sir John Suckling, one of the most delightful of the cavalier-poets, who, during the reign of Charles the First, enriched our literature with songs of gallantry and love, is unfortunately shrouded in mystery and uncertainty.

KILLED IN A BRAWL. The greatest of all dramatists before Shakespeare, Christopher Marlowe, who, had he lived, might even have rivalled him, was one of those to whom particularly adroitly his words to him might almost be regarded in the light of a prophecy.

ABRAHAM COWLEY, like Suckling, was a Royalist. He was born in London in 1618. He was precocious as a boy, and at the age of fifteen issued a volume of poems under the title of "Poetical Blossoms."

A BRILLIANT BOY'S SUICIDE. Thomas Chatterton, undoubtedly the most romantic figure in the whole range of English literature, was born at Bristol in 1752. When fourteen years old he was apprenticed to a lawyer, but the work was distasteful to him, and he occupied all the time he could appropriate to an earnest study of poetry, antiquities and heraldry.

ANEMIA, just the doctor's name for bloodlessness, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People actually make or certain! Blood is bound to grow good. Can any cure be so good as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People? They cured Mrs. Clara Cook, a young English woman who recently came to this country from Portsmouth, England, and is at present residing at Prince's Lodge, Halifax, N. S.

WEEKLY MONITOR

BRIDGETOWN, N. S.

A BUSINESS GETTER FOR ADVERTISERS

HANDSOMELY PRINTED WEEKLY. REACHES HOMES OF ANNAPOLIS COUNTY

Local and Telegraphic News

POPULAR PROGRESSIVE URGENT RODUCTIVE

INDEPENDENT, FEARLESS, TRUTHFUL

Advertising Rates low for services rendered being but 50.00 per inch per year

OFFICE: QUEEN STREET, BRIDGETOWN

The Weekly Monitor

GIVES ALL THE NEWS WORTH READING

LATEST DESIGNS IN MONUMENTS

WE ARE CONSTANTLY securing new patterns and can give you a choice of dozens of designs at moderate prices. Write for particulars.

T. RICE, Bear River

J. E. SANCTON'S space will be filled later on with Spring Announcements

THE START

In life is the first dollar saved. Have YOU made YOUR start? If not, deposit One Dollar in the Saving Department of the UNION BANK OF HALIFAX, at once.

IT PAYS TO BUY Good Implements

We have for sale all kinds of MASSEY-HARRIS MACHINES, including PLOUGHS, HARRROWS, GULTIVATORS, FERTILIZER SOWERS, MOWERS, RAKES, TEDDERS, and all other machines made by the Massey-Harris Company.

N. E. CHUTE, Bridgetown

Always Remember the Full Name Laxative Bromo Quinine

Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in Two.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., LIMITED. Gents, I have used your MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family and also in my stables for years and consider it the best medicine obtainable.

RALEIGH'S GALLANT END. Sir Walter Raleigh, courtier, soldier, explorer, colonist, poet, and historian, was one of the most brilliant of that galaxy of famous men who lived in the reigns of Elizabeth and James the First.

THIN? BEFORE YOU SPEAK? If you are tempted to reveal a tale some one has told About another, make it pass Before you speak three grains of gold.

Three narrow gates—first, "Is it true?" Then, "Is it necessary?" and, last and narrowest, "Is it kind?"

THE SUNLIGHT WAY

Sunlight Soap is better than other soaps, but best when used in the Sunlight way (follow directions).

Hard rubbing and boiling are things of the past in homes where Sunlight Soap is used as directed.

Sunlight Soap will not injure even the daintiest fabric or the hands, and the clothes will be perfectly white, woolens soft and fluffy.

The reason for this is because Sunlight Soap is absolutely pure, contains no injurious chemicals—indeed, nothing but the active, cleansing, dirt-removing properties of soap that is nothing but soap.

5c. Buy it and follow directions. 5c. YOUR MONEY REFUNDED by the dealer from whom you buy Sunlight Soap if you find any cause for complaint. LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED, TORONTO

Money is the Great Modern "Protector"

It is a Life Preserver, a Law Defier. It Represents Frozen Power That Can Be Released Effectively In Any Direction

(Boston American Editorial.)

The problem in the United States today is:

"How can the prison cell be built to contain the strong man with the big bag of money?"

The intelligent reader perceives at once that this is to be distinctly a "muck-rake" editorial.

As a preparation for it, we ask you a few muck-rake questions.

Do you believe that the Trusts have stolen millions from the people in this country?

Did you ever hear of a Trust man going to jail, even for five minutes?

Do you believe that the insurance managers have stolen millions of dollars from policy-holders, from women and children?

Did you ever hear of any big life insurance man going to prison?

If a servant girl steals a silver spoon and hands it to a pawnbroker, what happens?

She goes to prison, and the pawnbroker must give back the spoon.

If a life insurance man steals millions and gives the money to political managers for favors to come, does the life insurance manager go to jail?

Does the "campaign manager" return the stolen money?

The law never fails to punish the man who steals a loaf of bread if it can get hold of him. You are tired of that comparison, perhaps, but probably you are still more tired of its truth.

The man who steals one loaf of bread must go to jail.

The man who steals from all the people by defying the laws concerning Trusts who steal through their meat bills, through their bread bills, and their gas bills, stays out of prison.

The worst thing about the situation is not the mere fact that the law is unable to push into a prison cell the man who has a great bundle of money behind him.

It is bad enough to have the powerful criminal stay out of prison.

It is still worse to have the rich criminal, out of prison, select judges for the bench, members of the United States Senate, district attorneys to prosecute, and many other officials of government.

This, as we have said, is in the line of muck-rake talk, unquestionably. But that is not the question; the question is, is it true?

Is it a fact that crimes of organized wealth against organized society go unpunished?

Is it a fact that the lawyers of the great corporation criminals openly express contempt for judges who summon and question them?

Is it not known to every intelligent human being in the United States that there is a special view of the rich man? Is it not a fact that there is a special treatment for him?

If there is even a suggestion that some powerful man shall be questioned in connection with life insurance dishonesty, what do we hear?

A district attorney tells the grand jury that the matter must be treated very delicately and very carefully. It might hurt the feelings or hurt the reputation of the great man.

When a poor man or woman is accused of a crime, do we hear any such talk? Is the district attorney afraid that this person may be disgraced or lose caste?

The powerful man with millions could better afford to have his reputation hurt than the poor man or woman. But the law ignores that; the law keeps by the people.

The great sums of money behind the big man, filling with awe the minds of public officials, keeps him from the punishment that he has deserved.

What can the people do? Many things.

great fortunes that defy the law come from:

They come from public monopolies, public franchises, from property that belongs to the people, and should be owned by the people.

The people of the United States permit certain cunning men to take their property and use it to bribe or overawe their officials. Money frightens more men than it buys.

Public ownership of public property will at once check unjust discriminating administration of law, by taking away from the class now exempt the public funds which give them immunity.

Another step, and one which need not be delayed a moment, is punishment by imprisonment, without the alternative of a fine, in all cases of offence against the trust law.

At present the law made to suit the Trusts, and made by men whom the Trusts put in office, is ridiculous. At the most it means a trifling fine for the criminal. The real criminal stays in the background, or travels in Europe, while some paid representative goes into court, expresses his contempt for the entire proceedings, and perhaps pays five hundred or a thousand dollars fine as punishment for having stolen millions.

The law provides no option of a fine for the man who steals an overcoat from another man. Why does it allow the option of a fine for the man who steals millions of dollars from millions of people?

The people of the country should elect men that will enforce the laws against criminals, and arrange their laws so that the punishment will be prison, and prison for the really big and responsible men.

The condition of affairs is wrong, but it is not hopeless, and it should not discourage the intelligent citizen.

We should remember that the injustice of today is far less great than the injustice of years past.

Technically, at least, the rich man is supposed to be on a par with the poor man. We have done away with the special privileges in our statute books, at least.

And we have the vote, which can do everything in this country if we use it, and insist on having it counted.

All that is really needed in this country is an aroused and well sustained public sentiment. If the eighty millions of people in the United States could take in their laws and the administration of their justice the same deep interest that the boys in a college take in their football team, there would be no trouble.

You people have got to remedy conditions. You have got to be permanently interested in them. You have got to take your government seriously, to take as much interest in your laws and their administration as you do in the spring styles, or the amount of your gas bill. And we shall continue to remind you of conditions, and discuss remedies indefinitely, notwithstanding the wrath of those that defend the national muck, in and out of public office.

This warm weather is causing us Port Maitlanders to wear a smile for us who know that a hot spell at this time means much in sending people to our shores later on. In the large cities, where undoubtedly yesterday and today is so uncomfortably yesterday the heat must jog the memory of those who can go to the seashore. On the other hand if the spring is cold and disagreeable, these people, many of them forget the summer heat and think that there is not much in going from home. A warm, pleasant spring greatly helps our summer business, so I hope the weather man will not turn off the hot air valve that he uncovers a few days ago.

KEEP MINARD'S LINIMENT IN

AROUND CAPE HORN TO SAN FRANCISCO

The following article is a detailed account of the trip to California made by eighteen young men from Yarmouth in the winter of 1849. They are all dead now, the late Chas. J. Fox, was the last survivor.

"If we double Cape Horn, as we're in hopes for to do, There's lots of sperm whale on the coast of Peru."

In looking over the journal I kept daily of the voyage of the Mary Jane around Cape Horn to San Francisco, in the winter of '49 and spring of '50, I wonder at the great importance attached to small matters. But for more than six months her narrow deck was all of a little world to nineteen of us.

We were the most democratic-republican company that ever went in search of the Golden Fleece. We organized, bought the vessel, loaded her and sailed her.

Midshipman Easy could not have asked for more liberty than we voted to ourselves. All the officers, from captain to cook, and all the sailors were owners, and had an equal voice.

When I read or think of what was done or said during that dreary of dreary of civilization that covers our original savage nature. Deprivation and hunger intensified selfishness in some. In others it created a disregard of a neighbor's rights, others it made audent, economical and painstaking in preparing for a worse future. Those who liked liquor could now procure it with water. The use of the liquor but increased thirst. Some would stint and save from their allowance until they had accumulated a half-dozen bottles, others would dub make tea or coffee, having a good time and then go thirsty until the next allowance was served out. Some found that life could be supported on two pints a day, and made this answer, neither seeking to save, to borrow or lend.

In three weeks we were divided into classes. We had wealthy aristocrats, a middle class, and the unprovided poor.

The aristocrats were those who had stunted themselves to save and to accumulate, those who, from some peculiarity of constitution, required less water than others and could thereby save, and those who had liquor and tobacco to part with for water.

The middle class comprised those who used no liquor or tobacco, but would try to save, feeling that they could not live on less than two pints daily. The poor composed those who could not resist having a good time, who would part with water for brandy, and those who would evaporate it in making tea and coffee and drink at one time more than was necessary because it had thus been made more palatable.

By April 5 we had been forced by the wind on the Mexican coast. Then left us, and we found the Mary Jane becalmed in the Gulf of Tehuantepec. For some days we endured the steady roll and flapping of sails. The long swell then ceased; the sun poured on us his direct rays with more than tropical fervor, the sea became glassy and seemed filled with insect and animal life.

"The very deep did rot, O Christ, That ever this should be, Sea slimy things did crawl with legs Upon the slimy sea."

On the 12th, Judge O'Brien (Thomas O'Brien of Beaver River) who was steward that week (he has since joined the pioneers on the other side of the river) reported that there was but half a cask of water remaining. As this would hold out but a few days we were immediately put on an allowance of a quart a day. The calm still continued; the sun rose out of the ocean each morning a ball of fire; the sea became a mirror and the reflected rays seemed more intense than those that beat down upon us. By the 19th the supply of water was nearly gone, and still the calm continued.

"Day after day, day after day, We staked our breath on motion, As idle as a painted ship Upon a painted sea."

On the 23rd the last of the water from the cask had been distributed. At the Gallapagos Islands we found a Marshpee Indian named Reed, from Sandwich, Massachusetts, who had been left sick from a whale ship at the convict settlement on Charles Island. He begged so imploringly to be taken to California that we gave him passage. When we were becoming short of water he stated that when he was a boy he had worked in a New England rum distillery and thought he could devise a plan to distill fresh water from the ocean. His plan failed.

We had however, several of the crew who were accustomed to the use of tools, and full of inventive resources. Van Norden and Young, who had the reputation of having made an effective gun lock from a cabin door hinge and the blade of a broken case-knife, undertook to create a distilling apparatus. As their success was of vital importance, I find my journal filled with anxious details of their efforts.

The cook's largest kettle, holding about ten gallons was filled with salt water; it was luted on with a composition of wood ashes and dough; the nozzle of the cover was inserted into a gun-barrel from which the breech had been removed. This gunbarrel was fastened a demi-john, in the mouth of which was inserted a funnel. A fire was kept up under the kettle; when the water boiled the steam passed through the gun barrel and when it came in contact with the part surrounded by the cold in the keg it was condensed, and the fresh water trickled from the funnel into the demi-john. It took several days to get this simple apparatus into practical operation, but when completed it answered the purpose. With the fire burning day and night it distilled five gallons a day, which gave two pints to each person.

The calm continued until April 25th, so that in twenty days, we had only moved 32 miles.

The water was carefully guarded and accurately measured to each person at eight o'clock every morning. It became the standard of value by which all other things were measured. Spirits and tobacco had long before become the luxuries which money could not purchase. They yielded to the universal solvent—fresh water.

When I read or think of what was done or said during that dreary of dreary of civilization that covers our original savage nature. Deprivation and hunger intensified selfishness in some. In others it created a disregard of a neighbor's rights, others it made audent, economical and painstaking in preparing for a worse future. Those who liked liquor could now procure it with water. The use of the liquor but increased thirst. Some would stint and save from their allowance until they had accumulated a half-dozen bottles, others would dub make tea or coffee, having a good time and then go thirsty until the next allowance was served out. Some found that life could be supported on two pints a day, and made this answer, neither seeking to save, to borrow or lend.

In three weeks we were divided into classes. We had wealthy aristocrats, a middle class, and the unprovided poor.

The aristocrats were those who had stunted themselves to save and to accumulate, those who, from some peculiarity of constitution, required less water than others and could thereby save, and those who had liquor and tobacco to part with for water.

The middle class comprised those who used no liquor or tobacco, but would try to save, feeling that they could not live on less than two pints daily. The poor composed those who could not resist having a good time, who would part with water for brandy, and those who would evaporate it in making tea and coffee and drink at one time more than was necessary because it had thus been made more palatable.

By April 5 we had been forced by the wind on the Mexican coast. Then left us, and we found the Mary Jane becalmed in the Gulf of Tehuantepec. For some days we endured the steady roll and flapping of sails. The long swell then ceased; the sun poured on us his direct rays with more than tropical fervor, the sea became glassy and seemed filled with insect and animal life.

"The very deep did rot, O Christ, That ever this should be, Sea slimy things did crawl with legs Upon the slimy sea."

On the 12th, Judge O'Brien (Thomas O'Brien of Beaver River) who was steward that week (he has since joined the pioneers on the other side of the river) reported that there was but half a cask of water remaining. As this would hold out but a few days we were immediately put on an allowance of a quart a day. The calm still continued; the sun rose out of the ocean each morning a ball of fire; the sea became a mirror and the reflected rays seemed more intense than those that beat down upon us. By the 19th the supply of water was nearly gone, and still the calm continued.

"Day after day, day after day, We staked our breath on motion, As idle as a painted ship Upon a painted sea."

On the 23rd the last of the water from the cask had been distributed. At the Gallapagos Islands we found a Marshpee Indian named Reed, from Sandwich, Massachusetts, who had been left sick from a whale ship at the convict settlement on Charles Island. He begged so imploringly to be taken to California that we gave him passage. When we were becoming short of water he stated that when he was a boy he had worked in a New England rum distillery and thought he could devise a plan to distill fresh water from the ocean. His plan failed.

We had however, several of the crew who were accustomed to the use of tools, and full of inventive resources. Van Norden and Young, who had the reputation of having made an effective gun lock from a cabin door hinge and the blade of a broken case-knife, undertook to create a distilling apparatus. As their success was of vital importance, I find my journal filled with anxious details of their efforts.

The cook's largest kettle, holding about ten gallons was filled with salt water; it was luted on with a composition of wood ashes and dough; the nozzle of the cover was inserted into a gun-barrel from which the breech had been removed. This gunbarrel was fastened a demi-john, in the mouth of which was inserted a funnel. A fire was kept up under the kettle; when the water boiled the steam passed through the gun barrel and when it came in contact with the part surrounded by the cold in the keg it was condensed, and the fresh water trickled from the funnel into the demi-john. It took several days to get this simple apparatus into practical operation, but when completed it answered the purpose. With the fire burning day and night it distilled five gallons a day, which gave two pints to each person.

The calm continued until April 25th, so that in twenty days, we had only moved 32 miles.

The water was carefully guarded and accurately measured to each person at eight o'clock every morning. It became the standard of value by which all other things were measured. Spirits and tobacco had long before become the luxuries which money could not purchase. They yielded to the universal solvent—fresh water.

When I read or think of what was done or said during that dreary of dreary of civilization that covers our original savage nature. Deprivation and hunger intensified selfishness in some. In others it created a disregard of a neighbor's rights, others it made audent, economical and painstaking in preparing for a worse future. Those who liked liquor could now procure it with water. The use of the liquor but increased thirst. Some would stint and save from their allowance until they had accumulated a half-dozen bottles, others would dub make tea or coffee, having a good time and then go thirsty until the next allowance was served out. Some found that life could be supported on two pints a day, and made this answer, neither seeking to save, to borrow or lend.

In three weeks we were divided into classes. We had wealthy aristocrats, a middle class, and the unprovided poor.

The aristocrats were those who had stunted themselves to save and to accumulate, those who, from some peculiarity of constitution, required less water than others and could thereby save, and those who had liquor and tobacco to part with for water.

The middle class comprised those who used no liquor or tobacco, but would try to save, feeling that they could not live on less than two pints daily. The poor composed those who could not resist having a good time, who would part with water for brandy, and those who would evaporate it in making tea and coffee and drink at one time more than was necessary because it had thus been made more palatable.

By April 5 we had been forced by the wind on the Mexican coast. Then left us, and we found the Mary Jane becalmed in the Gulf of Tehuantepec. For some days we endured the steady roll and flapping of sails. The long swell then ceased; the sun poured on us his direct rays with more than tropical fervor, the sea became glassy and seemed filled with insect and animal life.

"The very deep did rot, O Christ, That ever this should be, Sea slimy things did crawl with legs Upon the slimy sea."

On the 12th, Judge O'Brien (Thomas O'Brien of Beaver River) who was steward that week (he has since joined the pioneers on the other side of the river) reported that there was but half a cask of water remaining. As this would hold out but a few days we were immediately put on an allowance of a quart a day. The calm still continued; the sun rose out of the ocean each morning a ball of fire; the sea became a mirror and the reflected rays seemed more intense than those that beat down upon us. By the 19th the supply of water was nearly gone, and still the calm continued.

"Day after day, day after day, We staked our breath on motion, As idle as a painted ship Upon a painted sea."

On the 23rd the last of the water from the cask had been distributed. At the Gallapagos Islands we found a Marshpee Indian named Reed, from Sandwich, Massachusetts, who had been left sick from a whale ship at the convict settlement on Charles Island. He begged so imploringly to be taken to California that we gave him passage. When we were becoming short of water he stated that when he was a boy he had worked in a New England rum distillery and thought he could devise a plan to distill fresh water from the ocean. His plan failed.

We had however, several of the crew who were accustomed to the use of tools, and full of inventive resources. Van Norden and Young, who had the reputation of having made an effective gun lock from a cabin door hinge and the blade of a broken case-knife, undertook to create a distilling apparatus. As their success was of vital importance, I find my journal filled with anxious details of their efforts.

The cook's largest kettle, holding about ten gallons was filled with salt water; it was luted on with a composition of wood ashes and dough; the nozzle of the cover was inserted into a gun-barrel from which the breech had been removed. This gunbarrel was fastened a demi-john, in the mouth of which was inserted a funnel. A fire was kept up under the kettle; when the water boiled the steam passed through the gun barrel and when it came in contact with the part surrounded by the cold in the keg it was condensed, and the fresh water trickled from the funnel into the demi-john. It took several days to get this simple apparatus into practical operation, but when completed it answered the purpose. With the fire burning day and night it distilled five gallons a day, which gave two pints to each person.

The calm continued until April 25th, so that in twenty days, we had only moved 32 miles.

The water was carefully guarded and accurately measured to each person at eight o'clock every morning. It became the standard of value by which all other things were measured. Spirits and tobacco had long before become the luxuries which money could not purchase. They yielded to the universal solvent—fresh water.

When I read or think of what was done or said during that dreary of dreary of civilization that covers our original savage nature. Deprivation and hunger intensified selfishness in some. In others it created a disregard of a neighbor's rights, others it made audent, economical and painstaking in preparing for a worse future. Those who liked liquor could now procure it with water. The use of the liquor but increased thirst. Some would stint and save from their allowance until they had accumulated a half-dozen bottles, others would dub make tea or coffee, having a good time and then go thirsty until the next allowance was served out. Some found that life could be supported on two pints a day, and made this answer, neither seeking to save, to borrow or lend.

In three weeks we were divided into classes. We had wealthy aristocrats, a middle class, and the unprovided poor.

The aristocrats were those who had stunted themselves to save and to accumulate, those who, from some peculiarity of constitution, required less water than others and could thereby save, and those who had liquor and tobacco to part with for water.

The middle class comprised those who used no liquor or tobacco, but would try to save, feeling that they could not live on less than two pints daily. The poor composed those who could not resist having a good time, who would part with water for brandy, and those who would evaporate it in making tea and coffee and drink at one time more than was necessary because it had thus been made more palatable.

By April 5 we had been forced by the wind on the Mexican coast. Then left us, and we found the Mary Jane becalmed in the Gulf of Tehuantepec. For some days we endured the steady roll and flapping of sails. The long swell then ceased; the sun poured on us his direct rays with more than tropical fervor, the sea became glassy and seemed filled with insect and animal life.

barrel was fastened a demi-john, in the mouth of which was inserted a funnel. A fire was kept up under the kettle; when the water boiled the steam passed through the gun barrel and when it came in contact with the part surrounded by the cold in the keg it was condensed, and the fresh water trickled from the funnel into the demi-john. It took several days to get this simple apparatus into practical operation, but when completed it answered the purpose. With the fire burning day and night it distilled five gallons a day, which gave two pints to each person.

The calm continued until April 25th, so that in twenty days, we had only moved 32 miles.

The water was carefully guarded and accurately measured to each person at eight o'clock every morning. It became the standard of value by which all other things were measured. Spirits and tobacco had long before become the luxuries which money could not purchase. They yielded to the universal solvent—fresh water.

When I read or think of what was done or said during that dreary of dreary of civilization that covers our original savage nature. Deprivation and hunger intensified selfishness in some. In others it created a disregard of a neighbor's rights, others it made audent, economical and painstaking in preparing for a worse future. Those who liked liquor could now procure it with water. The use of the liquor but increased thirst. Some would stint and save from their allowance until they had accumulated a half-dozen bottles, others would dub make tea or coffee, having a good time and then go thirsty until the next allowance was served out. Some found that life could be supported on two pints a day, and made this answer, neither seeking to save, to borrow or lend.

In three weeks we were divided into classes. We had wealthy aristocrats, a middle class, and the unprovided poor.

The aristocrats were those who had stunted themselves to save and to accumulate, those who, from some peculiarity of constitution, required less water than others and could thereby save, and those who had liquor and tobacco to part with for water.

The middle class comprised those who used no liquor or tobacco, but would try to save, feeling that they could not live on less than two pints daily. The poor composed those who could not resist having a good time, who would part with water for brandy, and those who would evaporate it in making tea and coffee and drink at one time more than was necessary because it had thus been made more palatable.

By April 5 we had been forced by the wind on the Mexican coast. Then left us, and we found the Mary Jane becalmed in the Gulf of Tehuantepec. For some days we endured the steady roll and flapping of sails. The long swell then ceased; the sun poured on us his direct rays with more than tropical fervor, the sea became glassy and seemed filled with insect and animal life.

"The very deep did rot, O Christ, That ever this should be, Sea slimy things did crawl with legs Upon the slimy sea."

On the 12th, Judge O'Brien (Thomas O'Brien of Beaver River) who was steward that week (he has since joined the pioneers on the other side of the river) reported that there was but half a cask of water remaining. As this would hold out but a few days we were immediately put on an allowance of a quart a day. The calm still continued; the sun rose out of the ocean each morning a ball of fire; the sea became a mirror and the reflected rays seemed more intense than those that beat down upon us. By the 19th the supply of water was nearly gone, and still the calm continued.

"Day after day, day after day, We staked our breath on motion, As idle as a painted ship Upon a painted sea."

On the 23rd the last of the water from the cask had been distributed. At the Gallapagos Islands we found a Marshpee Indian named Reed, from Sandwich, Massachusetts, who had been left sick from a whale ship at the convict settlement on Charles Island. He begged so imploringly to be taken to California that we gave him passage. When we were becoming short of water he stated that when he was a boy he had worked in a New England rum distillery and thought he could devise a plan to distill fresh water from the ocean. His plan failed.

We had however, several of the crew who were accustomed to the use of tools, and full of inventive resources. Van Norden and Young, who had the reputation of having made an effective gun lock from a cabin door hinge and the blade of a broken case-knife, undertook to create a distilling apparatus. As their success was of vital importance, I find my journal filled with anxious details of their efforts.

The cook's largest kettle, holding about ten gallons was filled with salt water; it was luted on with a composition of wood ashes and dough; the nozzle of the cover was inserted into a gun-barrel from which the breech had been removed. This gunbarrel was fastened a demi-john, in the mouth of which was inserted a funnel. A fire was kept up under the kettle; when the water boiled the steam passed through the gun barrel and when it came in contact with the part surrounded by the cold in the keg it was condensed, and the fresh water trickled from the funnel into the demi-john. It took several days to get this simple apparatus into practical operation, but when completed it answered the purpose. With the fire burning day and night it distilled five gallons a day, which gave two pints to each person.

The calm continued until April 25th, so that in twenty days, we had only moved 32 miles.

The water was carefully guarded and accurately measured to each person at eight o'clock every morning. It became the standard of value by which all other things were measured. Spirits and tobacco had long before become the luxuries which money could not purchase. They yielded to the universal solvent—fresh water.

When I read or think of what was done or said during that dreary of dreary of civilization that covers our original savage nature. Deprivation and hunger intensified selfishness in some. In others it created a disregard of a neighbor's rights, others it made audent, economical and painstaking in preparing for a worse future. Those who liked liquor could now procure it with water. The use of the liquor but increased thirst. Some would stint and save from their allowance until they had accumulated a half-dozen bottles, others would dub make tea or coffee, having a good time and then go thirsty until the next allowance was served out. Some found that life could be supported on two pints a day, and made this answer, neither seeking to save, to borrow or lend.

In three weeks we were divided into classes. We had wealthy aristocrats, a middle class, and the unprovided poor.

The aristocrats were those who had stunted themselves to save and to accumulate, those who, from some peculiarity of constitution, required less water than others and could thereby save, and those who had liquor and tobacco to part with for water.

The middle class comprised those who used no liquor or tobacco, but would try to save, feeling that they could not live on less than two pints daily. The poor composed those who could not resist having a good time, who would part with water for brandy, and those who would evaporate it in making tea and coffee and drink at one time more than was necessary because it had thus been made more palatable.

By April 5 we had been forced by the wind on the Mexican coast. Then left us, and we found the Mary Jane becalmed in the Gulf of Tehuantepec. For some days we endured the steady roll and flapping of sails. The long swell then ceased; the sun poured on us his direct rays with more than tropical fervor, the sea became glassy and seemed filled with insect and animal life.

"The very deep did rot, O Christ, That ever this should be, Sea slimy things did crawl with legs Upon the slimy sea."

On the 12th, Judge O'Brien (Thomas O'Brien of Beaver River) who was steward that week (he has since joined the pioneers on the other side of the river) reported that there was but half a cask of water remaining. As this would hold out but a few days we were immediately put on an allowance of a quart a day. The calm still continued; the sun rose out of the ocean each morning a ball of fire; the sea became a mirror and the reflected rays seemed more intense than those that beat down upon us. By the 19th the supply of water was nearly gone, and still the calm continued.

"Day after day, day after day, We staked our breath on motion, As idle as a painted ship Upon a painted sea."

On the 23rd the last of the water from the cask had been distributed. At the Gallapagos Islands we found a Marshpee Indian named Reed, from Sandwich, Massachusetts, who had been left sick from a whale ship at the convict settlement on Charles Island. He begged so imploringly to be taken to California that we gave him passage. When we were becoming short of water he stated that when he was a boy he had worked in a New England rum distillery and thought he could devise a plan to distill fresh water from the ocean. His plan failed.

We had however, several of the crew who were accustomed to the use of tools, and full of inventive resources. Van Norden and Young, who had the reputation of having made an effective gun lock from a cabin door hinge and the blade of a broken case-knife, undertook to create a distilling apparatus. As their success was of vital importance, I find my journal filled with anxious details of their efforts.

The cook's largest kettle, holding about ten gallons was filled with salt water; it was luted on with a composition of wood ashes and dough; the nozzle of the cover was inserted into a gun-barrel from which the breech had been removed. This gunbarrel was fastened a demi-john, in the mouth of which was inserted a funnel. A fire was kept up under the kettle; when the water boiled the steam passed through the gun barrel and when it came in contact with the part surrounded by the cold in the keg it was condensed, and the fresh water trickled from the funnel into the demi-john. It took several days to get this simple apparatus into practical operation, but when completed it answered the purpose. With the fire burning day and night it distilled five gallons a day, which gave two pints to each person.

The calm continued until April 25th, so that in twenty days, we had only moved 32 miles.

The water was carefully guarded and accurately measured to each person at eight o'clock every morning. It became the standard of value by which all other things were measured. Spirits and tobacco had long before become the luxuries which money could not purchase. They yielded to the universal solvent—fresh water.

When I read or think of what was done or said during that dreary of dreary of civilization that covers our original savage nature. Deprivation and hunger intensified

A FREE TRIP TO THE DOMINION EXHIBITION. THE MANAGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY MONITOR has decided to offer a free trip to the Dominion Exhibition to be held in Halifax from September 22nd to October 5th.

SEEDS. We are showing a full line of Field, Farm and Garden Seeds of only the best quality. Our Seeds are all new and fresh.

J. E. LLOYD BRIDGETOWN BOOT AND SHOE STORE. HAVE IN STOCK.

Fresh Dressings. Packer's Box Calf Combination. Dark and Light Tan Combination.

Murdock Block, Granville Street. E. A. COCHRAN.

Plumbing. ALL THE LATEST SANITARY AND UP-TO-DATE FIXTURES Ranges and Cooks.

New Hats AT Miss Chute's.

I. M. OTTERSON TAILOR. Has moved to the new store in the PRIMROSE BLOCK, Queen Street, where he will be pleased to meet all his old customers.

WHAT Fruit-a-tives ARE

Fruit-a-tives are the marvels of modern medicine. They have accomplished more actual cures—done more good to more people—than any other medicine ever introduced in Canada for the time they have been on sale.

PORT LORNE. Mrs. Louisa Slocum has been seriously ill for the past few weeks. Dr. Young is in attendance.

PARADISE WEST. Mrs. Arthur Morse has returned home from Aylesford, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. C. Patterson.

PARADISE. Visitors to the anniversary exercises at Wolfville, are as follows: Mrs. H. H. Saunders and children.

LOWER GRANVILLE. Work is going very satisfactorily at the big pier and by July it will be completed.

ALBANY. Miss Hilda Oakes spent last Sunday with Miss Edna Darling, of Paradise.

ASK FOR MINARD'S AND TAKE NO OTHER. International Exhibition ST. JOHN, N. B. SEPT. 1st to 8th, 1906

Among Our Neighbors.

LAWRENCE TOWN. Rev. Mr. England is much improved and will soon be around again. Several from here are at Wolfville to hear Altani sing.

PORT WADE. We understand that regular trains will be run here after July 1st. McKenzie & Mann Co. are taking over the mails.

Childhood Allments. Most of the troubles that afflict little ones may be traced to the stomach or bowels.

PARADISE WEST. Mrs. Arthur Morse has returned home from Aylesford, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. C. Patterson.

HAMPTON. I have to congratulate the Monitor on the new press. Hope it will be in working order this week.

SORE MUSCLES. Prominent athletes throughout the country find that the best treatment for sore muscles after severe exercise or hard work of any kind, is a hot bath at bed time.

UPPERVILLE. We do not hear the sound of Mr. Balcom's whistle now.

TUPPERVILLE. We do not hear the sound of Mr. Balcom's whistle now.

ASK FOR MINARD'S AND TAKE NO OTHER. International Exhibition ST. JOHN, N. B. SEPT. 1st to 8th, 1906

My Hair Ran Away

Don't have a falling out with your hair. It might leave you! Then what? That would mean thin, scraggly, uneven, rough hair.

Exzn McGregor is having built a new addition to his house. Mr. Arthur, of New York has his new cottage nearly completed.

How to Break Up a Cold. It may be a surprise to many to learn that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days.

Our merchants report a good business. L. D. Brooks quite recently had a quarter car load of four 1/2 larded a quarter car load of four 1/2.

Our sick folk are convalescing. Owing to the late heavy rain and continued want of sunshine very little farming can be done.

Our stock is all New and Well Selected and we can suit all tastes. Dearnness and Phelan TO LET STORE. GOOD LOCATION.

1 White Silk Shirt Waist Size 34 Former price $3.50, now $2.25. 2 White Silk Shirt Waists, Size 36 Former price $2.50, now $1.75.

YARMOUTH ON THE 8th and 9th of June. Grand Natal Day Celebration. Procession of Polymorphians and Zalthumplings. Harbor Sports. Yacht and Boat Races.

CHAS. HEARN, Tailor Repair Rooms. Ladies' and Gents' Clothes CLEANED, PRESSED and REPAIRED.

Spring 1906. Our stock of NOVA SCOTIA CARRIAGES will soon arrive, and several new styles will be offered.

JOHN HALL. Look! Look! We have our Spring Stock ready for inspection and invite the public to give us a call.

New Spring Suits for Men, Boys and Children, at prices to suit all. Also a large range of Fancy Shirts, Hats, Caps and Neckwear.

J. Harry Hicks, BRIDGETOWN. Standard Works. COMPLETE SETS OF Dickens, Scott, Fenimore Cooper, Dumas, Marlon Crawford, and Wilkie Collins.

Mrs. Fred McCormack. It's a Little Early for ICE CREAM. But many like it now and we keep it in stock at our restaurant all the time.

MRS. BROWN'S RESTAURANT. CHURCH STREET. PATENTS PROMPTLY SECURED. We solicit the business of Manufacturers, Engineers and others who realize the advisability of having their Patent Business transacted by Experts.

The big new mill at Amherst needs more wool than ever. Farmers who have wool should exchange it for at their dealers. Remember Hewson.

Hewson Tweeds

NEWSON WOOLLEN MILLS Limited, Amherst, N.S.

Save Fuel by Buying One of Our

Gasoline Engines

What a user of one of our "Woodpecker" Gasoline Engines writes to us: "Dear Sir—The 6 1/2 Horse Power, Woodpecker Engine, I purchased of you has given me good satisfaction. It is always ready to start, never balks, and is very light on gasoline. Having used other makes of Engines, I can heartily recommend your Engines to anyone requiring power to run wood-saws, grain grinder or thrasher."

Yours respectfully,
HOWARD CADDALL,
The L. M. TRASK CO.
ST. JOHN, N. B., and YARMOUTH, N. S.

Screen Doors

FROM $1.00 to $1.75 each

SCREEN WINDOWS,

From 25c. up.

Wire Fire Stretcher, Rifles, Revolvers, Portland Cement, Drain Pipe, Fence Wire, etc.

AT THE

Hardware Store

Karl Freeman

A. W. ALLEN & SON,

WOODWORKERS.

We make and handle all kinds of Building Material and Finish.

A complete stock of Doors, Sash, Mouldings, Sheathing, Flooring, Siding, etc., always on hand.

Church, Store and Office Fittings a specialty.

Write for Illustrated Books and prices to BOX 98, MIDDLETON, N. S.

DOMINION ATLANTIC RAILWAY

—AND—

Steamship Lines

—AND—

St. John via Digby

—AND—

Boston via Yarmouth.

"Land of Evangeline" Route

On and after JUNE 1st, 1906, the Steamship and Train service of the Railway will be as follows (Sunday excepted):

Trains will arrive at Bridgetown

Express from Halifax	12.11 a.m.
Express from Yarmouth	2.56 p.m.
A. dom. from Richmond	4.50 p.m.
A. dom. from Annapolis	7.25 p.m.

Midland Division

Trains of the Midland Division leave Windsor on daily (except Sunday) for the 7.00 a.m., 1.19 p.m., and 5.49 p.m., connecting at Truro with trains of the International Railway, and at Windsor with express trains to and from Halifax and Yarmouth.

Boston and Yarmouth Service

S. S. PRINCE GEORGE, by for the Boston and fastest steamer plying out of Boston, leaves Yarmouth, N.S., on Monday & Wednesday immediately on arrival of Sunday & Wednesday respectively in Boston express train from Halifax, arriving in Boston next day. Returning leaves Long Wharf, Boston, Tuesday and Friday at 2 p.m.

ST. JOHN and DIGBY

ROYAL MAIL S.S. PRINCE RUPERT Daily service (Sunday excepted.)

Leaves St. John	7.45 a.m.
Arrives in Digby	10.45 a.m.

Leaves Digby same day after arrival of express train from Halifax.

S.S. Prince Albert makes daily trips between Kingsport and Parrboro.

Trains and Steamers are run on Atlantic Standard Time.

P. GIFFKINS, Gen'l Manager, Kentville, N.S.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

cases of the House of Battenberg, and finally came the famed mahogany coach with the radiant bride, Princess Victoria, attended by her mother and Queen Marie Christina.

The appearance of the Princess who was about to become their Queen aroused the people to the highest pitch of emotion. Men and women cheered and shouted friendly salutations, while others from the balconies of the houses along the route showered flowers on the Princess and let loose hundreds of pigeons carrying long bright streamers. The bride looked most charming and graciously acknowledged the continued ovations.

As the cortege entered the Puerto del Sol, the picture presented was strikingly beautiful, with the buildings ablaze with color, the streets packed by a dense mass of humanity, the balconies crowded with people, the swarming windows, housetops and trees and, in contrast, the stately royal cavalcade defiling slowly and with the enthusiastic clamor of the populace.

On reaching the chamber of deputies the cortege came in sight of the church of St. Jeronimo el Real, which was magnificently adorned for the ceremony.

Over the entrance was suspended an immense canopy of red and yellow velvet, embroidered with Spanish es cutcheons and supported on gold-tipped lances. Awaiting the bridal party stood lines of halfbriders and palace guards.

The church was filled with envoys, foreign ministers and others entitled to admission, and at 11 o'clock the marriage of the King to Princess Eugenie Victoria took place with all the splendor of the Catholic church service.

The route of the wedding cortege has been designed to give Princess Ena a glimpse of all that is best of Madrid, and at the same time to give the people an opportunity to see their new Queen. The main route traverses the very heart of the city, beginning at the west of the Plaza de Oriente, facing the royal palace, passing through the Calle del Arenal and the Calle de Alcala and the Carrera de San Jeronimo. These are among the great arteries of Madrid, very broad and lined with fine buildings. Midway in the route is the Puerto del Sol, or Gate of the Sun, led further on that Mecca of all visitors to Madrid, the Prado, now transformed into a beautiful palm garden, and circled with some of the stately government buildings and museums, including the famous Prado gallery.

Along the way one passes the famous equestrian statue of Philip IV., surrounded by 44 other statues of the old Spanish kings. Further on is the Opera House, not recently transformed within by a superb royal box, in which the new Queen will soon take her place. At the Puerto del Sol is the ministry of the interior, facing the splendid plaza. Beyond is the new building of the Spanish government Bank and of one of the American insurance companies. The Cervantes statue, the parliamentary buildings, the ministry of finance and war, the academy of fine arts, the imposing bank of Spain, are on the way to the Prado.

Next by is the obelisk erected in honor of the martyrs of the war of independence, and the stately stock exchange building. At the Neptune fountain the route of the procession ascends to the Jeronimo church, where the marriage ceremony takes place. Practically the same route is passed on the way back from the church, but there are so many different branches of the pageants—one with the King alone, some with the bride's retinue, others with the Queen mother, and other branches of the royal household, and the innumerable suites of foreign princes, that all Madrid has an opportunity to see something of the spectacle.

The church of San Jeronimo el Real, where the nuptial Mass is celebrated and the marriage pronounced, is a quaint old structure which has passed through some strange vicissitudes. This is not the first royal marriage celebrated there, for that of Isabella II. took place with great pomp within its walls. But more recently the church was abandoned to a carpenter's shop and planing mill, and the whirr of saws took the place of solemn measures of the Mass. The origin of the church was one of the strange whims of the old King of Castile, Henry IV. He had set up a magnificent tournament on the Prado road, to celebrate the arrival of a new British ambassador. The tournament was notable for the courage displayed by the King's favorite, Beltrame de la Cueva, who not only unhorsed four knights, but also a small javelin, conquered and killed an infuriated bull which had torn to pieces the greatest torreadors of Spain.

HEAVY-IRVIN WEDDING

(Continued from Page 1.)

The following is a list of the invited guests:

Mr. and Mrs. Prince, Truro.
Miss Francis Yull, Truro.
Mr. Harvey H. Fletcher, West Point Military Academy, New York.
Major C. T. Irving, North Carolina.
Colonel Clairmonte, Lakelands, Mount Uniacke.
Miss Clairmonte, Lakelands, Mount Uniacke.
Mr. Reginald B. Richardson, Summerside, P. E. I.
Capt. J. E. Leckie, D. S. O., Sudbury, Ont.
Mr. and Mrs. MacLaughlan, St. John, N. B.
Mr. and Miss Woodhill, Melrose, Mass.
Mr. Arthur Edwards, Springhill, N. S.
Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Reynolds, Halifax.
Miss Reynolds, Halifax.
Colonel C. E. Kaulback and Mrs. Kaulback, Lunenburg, N. S.
Mrs. William Tupper, Tupperville, N. S.
Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Graham, Hazel Hill, Guysboro, N. S.
Mr. Joseph A. Beneroff, M. P. P., and Mrs. Beneroff, Round Hill, N. S.
Dr. Rufus, M. D., Bridgewater, N. S.
Miss Pauline Marshall, Bridgewater, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Austen, Halifax, N. S.
Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Caldwell, New Glasgow, N. S.
Lieut. Heninger-Heaton, R. N.
Rev. E. Underwood and Mrs. Underwood, Bridgetown.
Rev. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald, Bridgetown.
Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Milner, Bridgetown.
Miss Lottie Davis, Bridgetown.
Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Ruggles, Bridgetown.
Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lloyd, Bridgetown.
Dr. and Mrs. Barnaby, Bridgetown.
Miss Grace Healy, Bridgetown.
Dr. E. T. F. Richards, Montreal, P. Q.
Miss Madge Morse, Bridgetown.
Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Crowe, Bridgetown.
Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lockett, Bridgetown.
Mrs. Lytle McCormack, Bridgetown.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Fay, Bridgetown.
Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Shaffer, Bridgetown.
Mr. Frank Clifford, Bridgetown.
Miss Clara F. Deady, Bridgetown.
Dr. and Mrs. Armstrong, Bridgetown.
Miss Brenda Lockett, Bridgetown.
Miss Una Cameron, Bridgetown.
Miss Jane Piper, Bridgetown.
Mr. and Mrs. S. Benson, Kentville.
Lieut. Coleridge, R. N., and Mrs. Coleridge, Westmount, England.
Mr. and Mrs. George McAvity, St. John, N.B.
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McAvity, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. S. S. McAvity, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Blizard, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Angus, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. McAvity, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. John A. McAvity, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Stewart, St. John.
Ethel McAvity, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. Hammond Evans, St. John.
Mr. Geo. Lawrence, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. Jas. L. McAvity, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. F. J. G. Knowlton, St. John.
Mr. William Warr, St. John.
Mr. Clifford Ellis, St. John.
Mr. E. E. Ellis, New York.
Miss Mary H. Blizard, New York.
Miss Louisa Stewart, Montreal.
Mr. and Mrs. Allen G. McAvity, Montreal.
Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stewart, St. John.
Mrs. Chas. H. and Miss Daisy Fairweather, St. John.
Mr. H. Conroy, St. John.
Mr. Percy Stewart, Dartmouth.
Mr. T. Mea, Stewart, St. John.
Mr. Arthur Forty, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Flood, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. William McAvity, St. John.
Mr. Geo. Ketchum, St. John.
Mr. John D. Purdy, Chicago.
Mr. Frank Roben, St. John.
Mr. Somerton, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Fairweather, St. John.
Rev. Charles D. and Mrs. Schofield, Sydney, C. B.
Mr. Geo. K. McKeon, St. John.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Stewart, St. John.
Miss Millie Stewart, Kingston, N.B.
Mr. Fred Heane, St. John.
Mr. A. E. Everett, St. John.
Mr. John B. Spahn, St. John.
Mr. Francis MacLeod, Toronto.
Judge Savary and Mrs. Savary, Annapolis Royal.
Mr. and Mrs. Burrows, Hamilton, Bermuda.
Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Corbett, Londonderry, N. S.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Parker, Roxbury, Mass.
Mr. B. David Corbett, Roxbury, Mass.

Arriving This Week

6 tons Fence Wire

1 car Fertilizers

1 car Flour, Feed, etc.

Also Rennie's Field and Garden Seeds, Seed Oats, Blue Vitriol, Paris Green and Lime.

ALL AT VERY LOW PRICES FOR CASH

It will pay you to get our prices

W. E. PALFREY, LAWRENCETOWN

Apple Trees

I still have for sale at Lawrencetown Station, properly heeled in, a few hundred first class fruit trees which I will sell at a bargain to those who want them, consisting of Stark, Baldwin and several other nice varieties.

Either drop me a postal or telephone and I will deliver promptly.

F. B. BISHOP Lawrencetown, N. S.

The Carleton House

CORNER ARGYLE AND PRINCE STS.

HALIFAX, N. S.

TERMS, $1.50 A DAY. SPECIAL RATES BY THE WEEK.

Central convenient, plus 1. To reach from railway station take car to Argyle street, then one square to right. No. 20 Argyle street.

F. V. BOWEN, Proprietor

DEEP BROOK.

The new pews for the Baptist church arrived last week and were placed in position. They are made of oak and ash and present a fine appearance. The remainder of woodwork will be painted to match the pews. Statute labor has begun on the roads. The most of the work will be done this year on the "New" deep brook is also up for repairs. The new span being under the supervision of Mr. Chas. D. Ray. This latter is contract work under the "small bridge act."

Albert Carby has his new barn well under way. The basement wall 94 feet at the back is about laid and the ready to put up. This barn when completed will be 94x48 feet and we presume will rank among the largest in the province.

Captain J. D. Spurr who has been to Mobile on a business trip is expected home this week.

The Missionary Aid Society of Baptist church are holding a social tonight (5th) at the parlors of Capt. J. D. Spurr.

The steamer packet "Coteville" was in Deep Brook a few days ago discharging a cargo of lime, cement, shingles, etc., for A. Carby.

Mrs. Norman Burns opened her ice cream parlour for the season last Saturday night.

Donald and Duncan Fraser, of Miramichi, N. H., are spending the summer with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Vroom.

WANTED!

A LARGE QUANTITY OF HIDES, SELTS, CALF SKINS AND TALLOW.

CASH PAID AT THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICES.

MacKenzie, Crowe & Co., Ltd.

Bridgetown, July 17th, 1906.

GOOD MEAT

Makes Health.

Choice stock of Fresh Beef, Pork, Veal, Mutton and Poultry. Hams and Bacon.

FRESH FISH

Special care exercised in handling our stock.

B. M. WILLIAMS' MARKET

Wilson's FLY PADS

ONE PADDED HAS ACTUALLY KILLED A BUSHFUL OF FLIES

Sold by all Druggists and General Stores and by mail.

TEN CENTS PER PACKET FROM

FINEST and FRESHEST

—LINES OF—

Meat & Fish

always in stock.

Wm. I. Troop,

GRANTVILLE STREET.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails.

DESIRABLE RESIDENCE

The subscriber offers for sale the pleasant modern house recently purchased from F. L. Milner. Eight rooms and attic, cellar with furnace and frost proof storage room. Bathroom complete. Possession immediately.

M. K. PIPER.
May 8th, 1906.

Photographs

A good variety of New Cards, Call and see them; Try some of the

PHOTO FADS

New and up-to-date.

N. M. SMITH, - Photographer

Rhubarb

SEND IT ALONG AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE (Shrewsby kind only)

J. G. WILLETT

Commission Merchant
3 North Wharf, St. John

Sheriff's Sale

To be sold by Public Auction by the Sheriff of the County of Annapolis, or his Deputy, on Monday, the 2nd day of July, 1906 A. D., at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the Court House, in Bridgetown, in the County of Annapolis, the following described piece or parcel of land:

All that lot of land lying in Wilnot at Victoria Vale bounded as follows: Beginning at a certain stake and stones at the northwest angle of land owned by John Bowly, on the east line of land owned by Caled and John S. Gates, thence northwardly following the east line of said Gates' land until it comes to the southwest angle of land owned by Inglis P. Phinney, thence eastwardly along said Phinney's south line to the southeast angle of said Phinney's lot on the west line of the said John Bowly land, thence southwardly along said line to the north line of a field owned by the said John Bowly known as the calf pasture, thence at right angles westwardly to the place of beginning, containing by estimation ninety acres more or less.

The same having been levied upon under execution issued upon a judgment in the cause of O. S. Miller vs. S. E. Miller, which said judgment has been recorded in the registry of deeds in and for the County of Annapolis for upwards of one year.

Terms of sale: Ten per cent. cash at time of sale. Remainder on delivery of deed.

EDWIN GATES,
High Sheriff for the County of Annapolis.
Annapolis Royal, May 28th, 1906.

FINEST and FRESHEST

—LINES OF—

Meat & Fish

always in stock.

Wm. I. Troop,

GRANTVILLE STREET.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails.

Sunshine Furnace

The "Sunshine" furnace and "sunny" ways are synonymous.

The cold, dreary winter days can be made cheery and warm with a pure, healthful heat if you have a "Sunshine" furnace.

Is easier to operate, cleaner, uses less fuel and "shines" in many other ways over common furnaces.

Two shakers are used to shake the heavy, triangular-shaped grates. This just cuts the work of shaking down in half, besides being easier on the furnace than the old one-shaker style.

Sold by enterprising dealers everywhere.

Booklet free.

McClary's

LONDON, TORONTO, MONTREAL, WINNIPEG, VANCOUVER, ST. JOHN, HALIFAX.

BRIDGETOWN FOUNDRY COMPANY, Agents, BRIDGETOWN, N. S.

ANECDOTES OF THE LAW

Hardly any profession has such a stock of "good stories" to its credit as that of the Law and the Lawyers. Possibly this may be accounted for by the fact that Law attracts a great part of the best intellect of the country. Another reason is that—scratch a lawyer and you find the law-maker, the politician beneath, and consequently being always well before the public gaze, living their professional life almost wholly in public, the most of the law have little chance of not being observed.

To anyone with a sense of humor Law Courts are not the dry as dust places imagined by the layman. Law courts bring out the peculiarities of human nature as no other place, and the man of humor straying therein may nearly always find something to tickle his risible sense. What, for example, could be more humorous than the situation of the little trier being cross-examined by a big blustering barrister in the following story: The witness had explained that certain documents had been burned. The blustering barrister in his wrath "blundered" and said, "I call upon the witness to produce the documents that were burned." The terror of the unhappy witness was beautiful to behold.

LAWYER AND WITNESS.

Of course, the humor is not always the unconscious effort of the advocate. In a police court case not very long ago, the complainant in an assault case stated that he had received three black eyes from the defendant. The laughter was intended when the solicitor for the defendant enquired if the complainant's wife had recognized "in this trouble-making phenomenon, her loving spouse." Even Acts of Parliament cause little jokes. Two old women were discussing the Licensing Act dealing with child messengers. One of them found herself thereby placed in a position of difficulty. I send my boy, who is old enough," she said, "he drinks half the beer. If I send the old man he never comes back, and if I go myself I'm almost sure to get drunk. Her difficulty was as great as that of the article clerk in a well-known legal chestnut. He had been sent to attend a minor application in chambers in a big action. The official asked him early in the case, "Where is the venue?" Now the venue is the place where the action is to be tried. The assistant clerk observed the man turn over hurriedly all the papers in his bag, search his pockets, and begin to look very foolish. "Where is the venue?" again insisted the official, whereat the unfortunate youth stammered out, "If you please, sir, I think I've left it at the office!" This youth probably developed into the honest practitioner in our next story. A rustic had come to a legal lawyer for advice, who told him he should have come before, as he might have got into serious trouble and there were plenty of lawyers about. "Oh, yes," responded the rustic, "there be plenty, but only one honest one hereabouts." The lawyer beamed encouragement. "No, sir," went on the rustic, "aint you?" "No, Tomkins, but he aint no good!"

THE UNCERTAINTY OF THE LAW.

The uncertainty of the Law is proverbial, so that it is small wonder many stories should turn thereon. A Parliamentary candidate who happened also to be a lawyer (not an unknown event) was canvassing. Calling at a certain cottage he was greeted by the good wife. "Oh, yes, you may depend on my husband's vote, can you get him off for stealing that gun?" "No, no, my good woman," responded the aspirant for M. P. ship.

It's the Quality OF Nova Scotia Carriages

that has made them easy to sell. (People are willing to pay the extra price to get "Nova Scotia.")

The Nova Scotia Carriage Co. Limited. :: Kentville, N. S.

Mock Trial of Two Minutes; Death Astounding Atrocities In Name of Russian Law to Quell Siberian Revolts

SOME VALUABLE HINTS FOR THE NURSERY

Twice cooked meat should never be given to children.

Remember the younger the child is when he gets any illness—above all, an infectious illness—the greater the danger. Keep all children out of reach of all infectious diseases as long as you possible can.

When putting baby to bed see that his face is not entirely covered with the bedclothes, or he will run the chance of being choked. Feather beds are condemned by doctors as unhealthy for children to sleep on.

Children should have at least twelve hours' sleep every night, and, in addition to this, small children should have a nap either in the morning or afternoon. This helps a great deal toward keeping them bright and healthy.

If an attack of croup is threatened, have ready plenty of hot water, in which a bath may be required. In this disease delay may mean death.

If the nursery is kept too close and hot when the children are playing the pores of the skin are kept too open, and therefore the little ones are very liable to take cold on going into cold air, or even into a colder room.

A few grains of permanganate of potash dissolved in a little water makes a strong disinfectant and deodorizer for the sickroom. It may also be used as a mouth wash and gargle in cases of diphtheria, etc.

Always wash baby's mouth and gums every morning with water in which you have put a pinch of borax. It keeps the mouth fresh and sweet and prevents that uncomfortable affliction, a sore mouth, with which so many poor babies are troubled when their mouths are not kept perfectly clean.

ARDENT ROYAL LOVE

THAT DISPLAYED BY ALFONSO AND ENA HAS WARNED THE WHOLE WORLD

Jay knows no bounds among the devoted subjects of King Alfonso, of Spain, who on May 31, in the church of San Jeronimo, Madrid, will take as his queen the charming English princess, Ena, of Battenberg. The princess enters Spain on May 24, and will be met at the frontier by Alfonso, the ministers and the Royal guard, who will escort her with great pomp and ceremony to Madrid. The marriage will cement the political friendship between Spain and England.

VACATION DAYS IN NOVA SCOTIA

This is the title of a sixty page booklet recently put out by the Dominion Atlantic Railway Company and is deserving of more than a passing notice. We have gone through this most interesting volume and have found it well worth a second reading. The Acaemia Land is described in charming language, but it is not overdone. The writer is evidently familiar with the scenes he describes, and tells a story at once full of fascination and true to the facts. We cannot refrain from making a few quotations from the booklet.

THE LIQUOR LICENSE ACT AMENDMENTS

1. Every person who, holding either a wholesale, hotel or shop license, or a brewer's or distiller's license, sends or causes to be sent, liquor to any person in any county, city or town or other locality in which the Canada Temperance Act is in force, or into any city, town or municipality in which such license is issued under the provisions of this chapter, knowing or having reason to believe that the person or persons to whom such liquor is so sent are engaged in the sale of liquor contrary to law, shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars for the first offence, and of one hundred dollars for a second offence, and two hundred dollars for a third offence.

2. Upon complaint in writing, made to the municipal city or town council, by which the license was issued, if any license has been convicted, such council shall after ten days notice to the licensee, examine into such complaint, and if it is proved to their satisfaction that such second conviction has been made, forfeit and cancel the license of such licensee.

3. Every person who, holding either a wholesale, hotel or shop, or a brewer's or distiller's license, sends or causes to be sent, liquor through the in force, or into any city, town or municipality in which no license is issued under the provisions of this chapter, to be paid for on delivery by such common carrier, express company or other conveyance, shall be held to be an offence against the next preceding section.

4. Every common carrier, express company or other conveyance, who knowingly sends or causes liquor through or on behalf of a licensee into a county, city or town in which the Canada Temperance Act is in force, or into any city, town or municipality in which no license is issued under the provisions of this chapter, to be paid for on delivery, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than fifty dollars for every such offence.

River, Long Lake, South Still Water on East Branch, Lake Jolly, Lake Le West Branch, distance five miles to village, and from five to twenty miles on lakes, all good trout fishing, May, June and July, bait used, worms and flies, hotels and private accommodations, fair and reasonable, guides with canoes $1.50 to $2.00 per day, every reasonable.

This booklet is printed on excellent paper, and the type is clear and easily read. The illustrations are many and every one a gem. Take it, all in all, this is the finest advertisement of our fair land that we have ever seen. We congratulate the Dominion Atlantic Railway for their enterprise and regard their out-look as a most commendable notice of this truly charming little volume.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Dr. J. C. Ayer and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS Bears the Signature of

Dr. J. C. Ayer

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, 17 BURNING STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

DEATH TOO GOOD

For This Inhuman Wretch of New York City—Assaults and Murders Woman Before Her Helpless Husband.

New York, May 31.—Mrs. Lena Hopper, devoted wife and mother, was the victim of abuse that resulted in her death as she lay by the side of her invalid husband in their home, 265 East 75th street, Saturday.

While the murderer was choking, beating and assaulting her, her husband, a paralytic, rheumatic and old, gave battle to the murderer until his strength gave out. He saw her straggle and saw the murderer had killed her walk to the door, laugh and threaten to kill him if he made an outcry.

The house at 265 East 75th street is undergoing repairs. For years Mrs. Hopper, who was 47 years old and who had several grown children, had been acting as housekeeper for the owner, named Levy. While the house was being repaired Levy asked the Hoppers to continue to live on the top floor.

The work of remodeling the house has been under a contractor named Krotzner. He wanted a night watchman and hired James MacFarland of 410 East 75th street, a giant in stature. Old Mr. Hopper told the story of the murder:

"Early this morning," he said, "I was trying to forget my hurt from rheumatism, when there came a knocking at the door. I told Lena not to open it, but a man's voice cried out, 'I will brain all of you if you don't open up!' Then Lena got up. I tried to rise, but it hurt too bad and I was too weak. She opened the door and in rushed MacFarland."

"He grabbed Lena and lurked her to the floor. I tried to yell as best I could, but I couldn't make a sound. I saw him choke my wife. She tried to yell, but MacFarland held her in his grasp."

"Just then I gained the strength of a man of half my age. I jumped out of bed when I saw my poor wife being killed and I fought MacFarland until he released my wife's throat and started for the door. There he stopped and tried to throw me off, but he was no match for me while my strength lasted."

"I got him to the hall and then began to weaken. He hurried me from as though I had been a child and said to me: 'If you make any more noise I will do the same way and end you, too.'"

Injunction Against Lovens

Mother Objected to Two Swains Calling on Daughter the Same Night.

Unable to keep two young men calling away from her home and failing to make her daughter send them away, Mrs. Adrain G. Bayman, of Des Moines, Ia., went to Judge Heinze and asked for an injunction on the two ardent suitors. She said between the two they were at her home every night. When she remonstrated with her daughter, the maiden said as long as she worked all day and paid her board she had a right to do as she pleased. Worse still, the young men ignored the mother's order that they should not call at her home. The judge took the woman to court, promise with the daughter and give them each one night a week. She then staggered him somewhat by asking him to go to see the daughter and fix it up for her. The judge said he could not do this but sent his deputy who came to terms with the popular young woman.

ASK FOR MINARD'S AND TAKE NO OTHER.

Professional Cards.

Leslie R. Fairn, ARCHITECT.
Present P. O. address—AYLESFORD, N. S.

J. M. OWEN, BARRISTER & NOTARY PUBLIC
ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, will be at his office in Batcher's Block, MIDDLETON, EVERY THURSDAY. Agent for Nova Scotia Building Society Money to loan at 5 p.c. on Real Estate security

J. B. WHITMAN, Land Surveyor
ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, N. S.

J. J. RITCHIE, K. C.,
Keith Building, Halifax.
Mr. Ritchie will continue to attend the sittings of the Courts in the County. All communications from Annapolis Co. clients addressed to him at Halifax, will receive his personal attention.

James Primrose, D. D. S.
BRIDGETOWN & ANNAPOLIS.
Office days at Bridgetown, MONDAY and TUESDAY of each week. Dentistry in all its branches carefully and promptly attended to.

O. S. MILLER, Barrister, &c
Real Estate Agent, etc.
SHAFER BUILDING, BRIDGETOWN, N. S.

Prompt and satisfactory attention given to the collection of claims, and all other professional business.

O. T. DANIELS BARRISTER,
NOTARY PUBLIC, Etc.
[RANDOLPH'S BLOCK.]
Head of Queen St., Bridgetown

Money to Loan on First-Class Real Estate.

DR. F. S. ANDERSON
Graduate of the University Maryland. Crown and Bridge Work a specialty. Office next door to Union Bank. Hours: 9 to 5.

GRADE IX HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS are not fully qualified for the JULY EXAMINATIONS—until they have studied MARITIME SINGLE ENTRY BOOKKEEPING BY KAULBACH & SCHURMAN, Chartered Accountants, HALIFAX, N. S.

THE C. P. R.'S NEW STEAMER, THE "EMPRESS OF BRITAIN"

A short time ago there was a beautiful marine picture shown in the harbor of Quebec when the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's new steamer Empress of Britain, a class of eight, dashed across a point at Indian Cove, and steamed majestically up to her berth at the breakwater.

SS. "EMPRESS OF BRITAIN"

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, and doubts about the hour of the big steamer's arrival, owing to the prevalence of fog down the river, there were a large number of people on the dock to see her enter the harbor. Many of those present had come a considerable distance from other parts of Canada to inspect the latest and grandest addition to ocean steamers running between Europe and the historical port of Quebec.

The Empress of Britain was built at the Fairbank Ship-building Co.'s Works, Glasgow, 1906, and is the first of the fleet destined to provide the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Fast Atlantic service.

Every known proven device to insure safety, speed, comfort and luxury, has been introduced in her construction and appointments.

The Glasgow correspondent of a British Journal, in closing a recent report to his paper on the Empress, said: "From stem to stern and from keel to truck, this ship is the very last word in shipbuilding."

She will accommodate comfortably 350 first cabin, 350 second cabin, and 1,000 third-class passengers, and is of 14,500 tons register, about 20,000 tons displacement, and 18,000 indicated horsepower. Without driving she has a sea speed easily establishing her right to the title Empress Steamship.

There are five passenger decks, and above them the boat deck, on which is situated the navigating bridge, the wheel house, the chart room, the captain's quarters and those of the other navigating officers.

The upper promenade deck, immediately below the boat deck, affords a walk of about 1 of a mile, and its first cabin accommodation, and the remainder to second cabin staterooms.

The better portion of the main deck is occupied by second cabin staterooms, all of which are large, well-ventilated, and excellently furnished.

This deck also contains the third class dining room, forward of which are the third class cabins.

There are a number of bath rooms and lavatories on every deck so arranged that the occupants of each cabin have but a step or two to their bath.

The first cabin dining saloon is 68 feet long, the full width of the ship, and will seat some 300 persons. The saloon is in mahogany, with carving in dull gold, and the upholstery is in crimson leather. A special feature of the furnishing is a number of horseshoe-shaped tables for small parties, arranged in alcoves at the sides of the saloon. Four long tables running fore and aft occupy the centre space, and six short tables athwart ship in the recesses by the entrance.

In the centre of the ceiling is a large oval opening into the cafe on the deck above.

The cafe, paneled in waxed Italian walnut, is sumptuously appointed, in keeping with its practical purpose which is to supply light refreshments at any time during the day.

The music room, with its very fine dome springing from the great ventilating column, its cosy corners and cherry fireplace, is in accordance with every idea of daintiness and comfort. The decorations are original and artistic.

In the all-important matter of ventilation the "Empress" leaves nothing to be desired. The Thermo tank, on the "Stewart" principle, has been adopted, as the most efficient method of distributing the air equally throughout.

It will be probably be more intelligible to say, that if in heavy weather, it should be impossible to open a port-hole, the atmosphere can be changed constantly in any cabin in the ship.

This is accomplished by drawing air from the open into the Thermo tanks, where it is brought to any desired temperature, and then forced along inside rooms, but by a novel and ingenious contrivance they are provided with outside light and ventilation.

Below the saloon deck is the upper deck, part of which is devoted to the lower promenade, contains the first cabin dining saloon; and the social hall, smoking room, and dining saloon of the second cabin. It also provides one of the promenades for second cabin passengers.

Forward of the first cabin dining saloon is a group of 24 large and excellently situated first cabin staterooms. Twelve of these are so called staterooms, each of which there is an opening, under the control of the occupant. This system insures a comfortable temperature and a perfectly fresh atmosphere everywhere. Another result is that the decks are entirely free from obstruction in the shape of seats and ventilators.

LOWER PROMENADE LANDING AND GRAND STAIRCASES.

be aware of Omintments for Catarrh that contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A VIEW OF THE CAFE

Labrador Is a Peaceful Land

(From Daily Consular and Trade Reports, April 30.)

Sir William MacGregor, Governor of Newfoundland, of which province Labrador is a dependency, has recently issued a report of a scientific and official visit which he made to that remote seaboard last summer, and among other aspects of the subject he treats especially of the absence of crime in that region.

"Labrador," Sir William says, "has a resident population of 10,000, of whom 3,500 are white, settled along its south coast. Many of the Indians are half-breeds, and there are 3,000 Esquimaux scattered along the northern waterfront. In addition it is visited each summer by some 20,000 Newfoundlanders, who engage in fishing, which is the chief pursuit of these people. Yet there is no court or jail, magistrate or policeman or any other officer of the law on this 1,000 miles of seaboard, where all these people are enjoying a subsistence from the ocean. For thirty-three years there has been no session of court held, and in fifty years the only criminal charge which is recorded is that against an Esquimaux whose jealousy was aroused against a rival. His wife's affection, and who shot the man who walked with her. Forty years ago there was a circuit court sent there every summer, but as it

CORNER IN DRAWING ROOM

How many lingering recollections play around the heart of Childhood's early days. Like music wafted from a distant shore. When we once tread, but never can visit more. How oft in thought we meet that which watch'd our slumbers! Hear the heavy sigh that told an anxious mother's hopes and fears. Or feel our cheeks still moistened by her tears! Who thro' the round a mother's neck has clung. An ever forget the thrilling air she sang. While on her lap, in sportive mirth reclined. For mother look about his finger twined. She fondly clasped her dear delighted child. Her full heart bounding with a holy joy. When raised eye, so eloquently mild. Asked of her God a blessing on her child.

A VIEW OF THE MUSIC ROOM

WOMAN.

There is a flower whose never-fading bloom Cheers man's rough path from childhood to the tomb; In simple loveliness its fragrance throws

Alike o'er India's sands and Zembla's snows; In every valley of Earth's varied breast,

On O'ry's mountain high and rocky crest, Fragrant, in spotless purity it springs,

And o'er the heart its softening influence flings. That flower is woman—first in Eden's bowers

She lent a smile to cheer Man's lonely hours; And when Transgression forced him to the wild,

He still forgot his woe when Woman smiled; And wiped away the unavailing tear

When her soft accents broke upon his ear; And still she cheers and charms—her soothing voice

Still breathes delight to bid our sorrows cease; And cares and griefs like morning vapors fly

Before the magic of her radiant eye. Touched by her plastic hand, Life's sharpest stings

Are turned to harmless, if not holy, things. And where could Man his fevered temples rest,

Or seek repose, if banished from her breast? How many lingering recollections play

Around the heart of Childhood's early days. Like music wafted from a distant shore

When we once tread, but never can visit more. How oft in thought we meet that which watch'd our slumbers! Hear the heavy sigh

That told an anxious mother's hopes and fears. Or feel our cheeks still moistened by her tears!

Who thro' the round a mother's neck has clung. An ever forget the thrilling air she sang.

While on her lap, in sportive mirth reclined. For mother look about his finger twined.

She fondly clasped her dear delighted child. Her full heart bounding with a holy joy.

When raised eye, so eloquently mild. Asked of her God a blessing on her child.

And oh! how long a Sister's silvery tone Hangs round the heart with music all its own.

How many sweep on, her rosy cheek may fade, In the cold earth her youthful form be laid,

The heart which throbb'd against our boyish breast, Be sear'd and broken—still, like somechoic'd herb,

For image, conjur'd up by Memory's spell, 'Tis mine from the tomb, of happier hours to tell.

Of scenes of innocent and early joy, Unshaken by night of passion's base alloy.

Of looks of love, and words of fondness spoken Long, long before that tender heart was broken.

Oh! lovely woman, 'tis to thee we owe Each charm that robs the world of half its woe.

Thine is the smile that gilds our early days, Thy accents form our Manhood's noblest praise;

Thy gentle hand, when age has stolen our bloom Can strew with peace the borders of the tomb.

Who deems these false have never felt the power Of woman's faith, in sorrow's darkest hour.

Have never known how steadfastly she clings E'en round the handset and the worst of things.

Nor flies, though all beside the world have fled. Nor shrinks, though death hangs o'er her by a thread.

JOSEPH HOWE.

Unknown Friends

There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with splendid results, but who are unknown because they have hesitated about giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. These people, however, are none the less friends of this remedy. They have done much toward making it a household word by their personal recommendations to friends and neighbors. It is a good medicine to have in the home and is widely known for its cures of diarrhoea and all forms of bowel trouble. For sale by S. N. Weare.

KEEP MINARD'S LINIMENT IN THE HOUSE.

W. E. REED'S Monthly Furniture Offering

Going to Housekeeping

One of the first things that a newly married couple wants is a natty Sideboard. We have here, No. 110. Made of Plain Oak, gloss golden finish, 6 ft. 7 in. high. Shaped top, 20x46. German bevel mirror, 14-24.

Price $16.00

DELIVERED FREE OR FREIGHT PAID.

Don't forget that our prices are always away below any that are named in the cities. No retail firm in Canada can sell lower than we do.

What About the $15.00 Chamber Suite you were going to get this Spring?

DELIVERED FREE, OR FREIGHT PAID

No 1 BEDROOM SUITE.

This fine iron bedstead, with brass knobs, size 4x9 price, $4.50. 1 dark golden finished Bureau, $9.50. Commode, $3.50; 2 Chairs, $2.00; 1 Rocker, $1.25; 1 Stand, $1.00; 1 Large wicker Wire Spring, $2.50; 1 wood-top Mattress, $2.00. Cheapest and best Suite in the market.

Price - - - - - $22.00

Delivered free, or freight paid.

Please remember our terms—discount for cash net 10 days, or approved 3 months note. Illustrated Catalogue free.

Please show this adv. to a neighbor who may be interested.

Make a Cosy Corner

This Woven Wire Cot, size 2-ft.6-in., without head or foot, is an article much in demand for "Cosy Corners." Price $2.00. Add soft top Mattress, $2.00 and a comfortable and inviting nook can be fitted up.

Price $3.50 for both

Delivered FREE, or freight paid. We ask you to come to this store for your Furniture, because we believe you will get the kind you want. Send for our Illustrated Catalogue.

W. E. REED, Bridgetown, N. S.

PLEASE SHOW THIS ADV. TO A NEIGHBOR

The time for spring plowing has now arrived, and we have for this spring's trade a good assortment of the latest patterns of Plows. These we are offering at very low prices, and we have in the lot Stee and Cast Iron PLOWS, as well as a good variety of side hill Plow.

We are sole agents for Annapolis County for the celebrated and have a stock of their latest patterns in steel beam Plows, which we are offering for inspection.

SYRACUSE PLOWS

Bridgetown Foundry Company, Limited.

Remarkable Progress!

That there is no better Company with which to place your Life Insurance than

The Manufacturers Life

is clearly shown by the following comparison:—

	DEC. 31, 1894.	DEC. 31, 1904.
Insurance in Force.....	$9,555,300	$37,666,468
Policies issued during the year.....	2,710,754	7,107,148
Policy Reserves.....	628,429	2,555,077
Assets.....	821,820	6,112,844
Income.....	296,468	1,659,107
SURPLUS to Policy Holders.....	177,630	771,869

The ten years during which these increases have taken place cover the period of the present management of the Company. Certainly such magnificent success guarantees

POSITIVE PROTECTION TO POLICY HOLDERS.

E. R. MACHUM, Co. Ltd. Managers, Maritime Provinces, 251 John, N.B., and Hill, N.S.

Apply for Rates to

O. P. GOUCHER, General Agent,

MIDDLETON, Nova Scotia

Good Terms

—to—

Good Agents

FLOUR

We have a stock of fresh goods of the leading brands, which we offer to the public at reasonable prices. In

FEEDS

We have a large stock of all kinds and can give good values considering the recent advance of from one to three dollars per ton. We quote feeds from 90c per bag up.

CORN MEAL

Just arrived a carload in barrels and bags which will be sold as low as the lowest for cash or in exchange for potatoes for the next few days.

C. L. PIGGOTT

HOW TO FRESHEN UP OLD BITS OF RIBBON.

Nearly every woman knows what it is to have tucked away in some corner bits of ribbon which have become slightly discolored through use, yet which she chafes to throw away. If she only knew how, she might easily sponge, or wash and iron them back into very nearly their original attractiveness.

Ribbon in delicate shades which has lost its color and is somewhat soiled may be washed in naphtha, a process which will effectively prevent it from fading when the rays of the sun become a little stronger and the bright light makes shabbiness so much more apparent. The soiled pieces should be placed in the naphtha and thoroughly saturated with it, every few inches of the ribbon in turn being well rubbed with the hands.

When the spirit has absorbed much of the dirt, empty it into a clean bottle and continue the process with some fresh naphtha. If all the spirit is bottled, well corked and set aside for a day or two, the grains of dirt will be found to settle at the bottom of the bottle, leaving the liquid above clear and clean. When poured out into a fresh receptacle it can be used again and again. After this treatment the ribbon should be pressed with a hot iron on the right side over a piece of brown paper.

One method of treating ribbon which has been washed is to "squeeze" it on a polished surface. It should be laid flat on a clean marble slab—the chimney-piece or the top of a washstand will answer the purpose—the ribbon being pressed down smoothly with the palms of the hands until it adheres to the surface of the marble. Leave it to dry, and when it is rolled off it will be found to have a lustre which cannot be attained by ironing.

The Very Best Remedy for Bowel Trouble

Mr. F. M. Borrowings, an old and well known resident of Bluffton, Ind., says: "I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as the very best remedy for bowel trouble. I make this statement after having used the remedy in my family for several years. I can never without it."

For sale by S. N. Weare.

250 PAIRS LACE CURTAINS

We are showing exceptional values in Lace Curtains this season. An immense assortment. Note the prices and be sure and see them before purchasing as we are confident we can give you better values than you can procure elsewhere

Price per pair -- 25c, 30c, 40c, 48c, 73c, 85c, 98c, $1.10, 1.25, 1.60, 1.65, 1.75, 1.85, 1.98, 2.15, 2.35, 2.39, 2.50, 2.75, 2.98, 3.00, 3.25, 3.50, 4.50, 5.25. With any pair of Lace Curtains at $1.25 and upwards, we will give FREE one White Enamelled Curtain Pole and fixtures.

5000 ROLLS WALL PAPER

Of the celebrated Manzie's Wall Paper Company's Manufacture, and of which we have control for this town. Everybody will remember the extra values we were showing in this line last season, and we can assure you that the patterns and prices are finer than ever this year.

Prices, - - - 3c to 20c per roll

With every purchase of Wall Paper amounting to $1.25 we will give you one of our White Enamelled Curtain Pole and fixtures. Ask to see them.

STRONG & WHITMAN

The Weekly Monitor

M. E. PIPER Proprietor
JAS. J. WALLIS Lessee and Manager

ISSUED ON WEDNESDAY.

At Bridgetown, Annapolis Co., N. S.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, 1906.

Bridgetown Branch of the N. P. C.

A branch of the Nova Scotia Society for the Prevention of Cruelty was organized in Bridgetown last Thursday evening by two of the officers of the parent society, R. H. Murray and G. P. Henry, of Halifax. These two gentlemen arrived by noon train that day and went to work with great promptitude. The case of beating the horse, reported in the Monitor a few weeks ago, was taken up first with the result that within an hour or two information had been laid and the culprit was taken before Stipendiary Cook and convicted. At the request of the society the fine was made a nominal one, the object desired being a lesson to others more than a heavy punishment. Another case taken up was that of a crime against a deaf and dumb girl, a well known young man being arrested in connection with it. He came up for a preliminary hearing and was remanded until Saturday, on which date he was again remanded until Friday of this week. In the evening a public meeting in the Foresters' hall was well attended. Speeches were given by both the visitors, after which a society was organized with the following officers: President—John Irvin. Vice President—Albert Morse. Secretary—A. W. Kinney. Council—D. T. Daniels. Executive—F. L. Milner, H. R. Moody, J. J. Wallis, Rev. W. A. Warren, E. A. Craig and W. H. Cochran.

HYMENEAL

BACON-DARLING.

As the chimes in the beautiful Baptist church in Newton Centre, Mass., were calling the people to the place where occurred in that city an event of interest to many readers of the Monitor. That event was the marriage of Miss Sophie Darling, daughter of a favorite with many friends in Lawrencetown and Paradise. The bride was prettily attired in white organdy with lace trimmings and bridal veil and carried a handsome bouquet of white and pink carnations. She was attended by Miss Marie Bacon, sister of the groom who was tastefully dressed in a gown of pink. The fortunate suitor was Charles A. Bacon, of Dorchester, a fine young man of good promise. The ceremony was performed by Arthur V. Dimock, pastor of the First Baptist church, in Dorchester, but who resides at present in Newton Centre. Mr. and Mrs. Bacon will reside at 23 Charles street, Dorchester, Mass., and thus the sons of America keep seeking the hands of our fair daughters.

Parlor Furniture.

We are showing a select line of Parlor Suites

In Melton and Chenille Rugs Also a full line of Show-wood Suites in Tapestries and Silks, 3 and 5 pieces.

WE ARE NOT OFFERING YOU THESE GOODS AT COST We cannot sell for cost. But we do claim to sell as fine as is possible for any firm to do. WE HAVE BUT ONE PRICE, and use all alike.

We guarantee our Upholstery and Repair work to be of the highest class.

J. H. HICKS & SONS

QUEEN STREET, BRIDGETOWN

Business Locals

Strawberries Saturday at J. E. Lloyd's. Barbed Wire and Staples for sale at reduced prices.—R. Shipley. Pruning saws just received. Fine goods at low prices.—R. Shipley. Prices of Flour has stiffened. Ours still at the low figure.—J. E. Lloyd. For cooling drinks kept on ice, go to the corner grocery.—J. E. Lloyd. They say our Naval Oranges and Lemons are the best in town.—J. E. Lloyd. A lady's black belt, picked up on the street, has been left at the Monitor office. Whole Wheat Meal, our natural food, 5 pound package 25 cents, at H. B. Moody's. J. J. Ritchie, K. C., of Halifax, will be at the Queen Hotel, Annapolis Royal on Friday noon, June 8th, remaining until Monday noon, June 11th. Parties wanting any quantity of first class pasture for cattle and horses can obtain it on the Grand property back of Lawrencetown, by applying to O. S. Miller. It is daily being proved by his customers who take the care to compare quality with price that they can do better, on the average, by purchasing from J. W. Beckwith. Try him with a $25.00 club cash order. J. W. Beckwith's Carpet and Lace Curtain trade, as well as his general trade has been larger this season than any other season in the history of his twenty-eight years of business career. What have the builders up of Toronto to say in answer to the opposition to the builders-up of Bridgetown. Lieut. Colonel Sharp will deliver his thrilling and interesting lecture, entitled "My Life's Story" illustrated by 175 stereopticon views, embracing scenes, Canada, Newfoundland, Bermuda and Mount Calvary, in the Victoria hall, Monday, June 11th. This lecture has been listened to by large crowds of people and is full of interest and instruction. You should not miss it.

ANY person, or persons, who cuts any trees for wood, or poles, or logs, on the Barton land estate, Lawrencetown, without my consent will be dealt with to the full extent of the law. ADDY NICHOLS. 4i

THE EMPIRE LINIMENT CO., BRIDGETOWN. After having used EMPIRE LINIMENT for preventing the black fly bite when trout fishing, I take this opportunity of recommending it to anglers as the finest preparation compounded for that purpose. Have also found it a splendid household liniment for general purposes. Yours truly, EDWIN L. FISHER.

contains nothing injurious—it suits the most delicate skin For sun-burn, prickly heat, etc., it has no equal. Its sale is immense—simply because it is everything we claim for it. You can't afford to be without it when you can get a 3-ounce bottle for 25 cents. IT'S MADE HERE. IT'S GUARANTEED. W. A. WARREN, Pharm. B., Chemist & Optician.

DOMINION EXHIBITION HALIFAX,

September 22 - October 5

Local and Special News.

Mass will be celebrated in the Roman Catholic church next Sunday at 11 a. m.

Geo. H. Dixon and A. L. Beeler left for Yarmouth on Monday, and will take in the great celebration on the 9th.

A schooner load of knees and timber is being hauled to the old shipyard for shipment to Shelburne for the building of L. D. Shaffner's new vessel.

Middleton will shortly take a vote on the matter of incorporation. We are informed that the matter is now in the hands of the sheriff and he will name the date.

At a largely attended liberal conservative convention held here yesterday afternoon Alfred G. Whitman and A. L. Davison were nominated to contest this county in the coming elections.

The inspector of the railway mail service went over the Victoria Beach branch of the H. & S. W. Railway last week. It is stated that a daily postal service will begin on this line about July 1st.

It is said that quite a number from here will attend the great celebration in Yarmouth on Friday and Saturday of this week. This is one of the best months of the year to see Yarmouth in all its beauty.

W. A. Kinney, who has been appointed to the position of government inspector of concrete, on the Halifax and Southwestern Railway, left on Monday to enter upon his duties. His first trip was to Halifax, after which he will leave for Barrington.

Commencing June 10th the steamships "Prince George" and "Boston" of the Dominion Atlantic Railway will make four round trips per week between Boston and Yarmouth leaving Boston Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, and Yarmouth Monday, Wednesday, Friday, Saturday.

The Tridgettville Quadrille club gave a pleasant dance last night in honor of the many St. John people here attending the McAvity-Irvin wedding. There were about forty in attendance. Quite a number of this club will go to the ball given at the St. Andrew's closing in Annapolis next Tuesday.

Owing to the great scarcity of eggs and chickens during the summer season, many of the farmers and poultry who a few years ago, left off keeping poultry on account of the low prices, are now going into the poultry business again on a larger scale, with the hope of not only supplying local demand but that of neighboring towns as well.

J. D. Leavitt, a former manager of the Union Bank here, and later at North Sydney, has been transferred to the agency at Trinidad. North Sydney people presented him with a gold watch previous to his departure. A new issue of 277 shares of the bank's stock has been disposed of by tender at a most satisfactory price, which will add a half million to the capital of the bank.

This is the first issue of the Monitor on its new press, and, of course, the improvement is at once noticeable. The way this was a massive piece of machinery to handle. The press alone cost over nine thousand dollars and cause to us "knocked down" in twenty-nine packages. Percy Burns and the manager took hold of the press and the result that in four days the press was up and ready to run. Our regular routine has been kept up for the past month, but we hope that next week the regular features—weekly sermon, local markets, real estate changes—will become so popular, will be maintained.

The annual meeting of the Annapolis District of the Methodist church convened in Bridgetown today and tomorrow. The district comprises the parishes of Weymouth, Isola, west, to Berwick in the east, and its membership includes twelve pastors in the active work, seven supernumerary ministers, and about twelve laymen elected by the quarterly official boards. The minutes of the session recorded the examination of ministerial character, the recommendation of candidates for the ministry, and the different circuits or missions of the district. Mr. Douglas St. Garay, a candidate for the ministry, preached in Providence church this evening at 8 o'clock.

The Town Council (Continued from Page 1.) had given them the necessary permission. Mr. Milner explained how he gave permission. He had done it ever since incorporation. Councilor Calder said this was a bad precedent. If there was a water committee they should do the work. Coun. Harlow explained the reason why they had consulted Coun. DeWitt. He said the committee had decided among themselves not to allow the irrigator factory to tap the main. He and Councilor Longmire had been informed that Councilor DeWitt, the chairman of the committee, had given the authority. Councilor Longmire did not think it had been necessary to bring the matter before the council at all. The committee could have thrashed the matter out themselves. Coun. DeWitt reported for the water extension committee. They had interviewed James Marshall and could do nothing with him until he saw his brother Newcombe. When they did see them it was found that they wanted the water more than anything else. Figures were finally given and an offer made by the committee. They also saw Mr. Cox and Mr. Crow, who agreed to take for their interest in the $200 $160. The matter was left in the hands of the committee to make the best bargain possible. The mayor reported that there seemed to be a good deal of fault with the policeman, and that the police committee did not seem to be doing their work. The committee were instructed to interview Mr. Arlerson.

FOR SALE—A bell tent, almost new. Suitable for lawn or sports. Price $6; cost $12. Apply to Dr. deBlais.

FOR SALE—An upright Piano and Singer Sewing Machine (5 drawers). Apply to Mrs. Sanford, at Mrs. Murdoch's, Granville street.

MEN WANTED at once to cut and peel hemlock logs and bark by the cord on the Roger property in Upper Granville, next to the late Pinesia L. Chesley property. Apply on sight hereof stating wages required to you.

PASTURE TO RENT—Apply to Fred B. Stone.

ORGAN FOR SALE—A 1 condition. Price $30; originally cost $175. A bargain. Apply immediately. Percy Burns.

Amusements. ONCE MORE WITH US GO WHERE THE CROWD GOES THIS SEASON'S REPERTOIRE EVENT. COURT HOUSE, BRIDGETOWN. ONE NIGHT ONLY MONDAY, JUNE 11th. SPECIAL ENGAGEMENT OF Jere McAuliffe And His Big Stock Company WE LEAD ALL OTHERS FOLLOW

In a Big Production David Higgin's Comedy "The Vandal" performed at the Court House, Bridgetown, and a lot in a hundred new parodies. At W. Wilson and Little White Green, SPECIAL Woodford's Trained Animals, Dogs, Ponies and The Largest Monkey and the Smallest Pony in the world. Night prices—50c, 35c., 50c. Reserved Seats on sale at West's Drug Store.

Up York State

CONTINUE Those who are gaining flesh and strength by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion should continue the treatment in hot weather; smaller doses and the little Scott milk with it will do away with any objection to the cod liver oil during the heated season. Scott's Emulsion is sold by all druggists.

June 5, 1906.

Repeat Order.

Ladies' White Belts
Ladies' Underskirts
Ladies' Top Skirts
Ladies' Umbrellas
Ladies' Hose
Men's Suits

Just Opened At

J. W. BECKWITH'S

G. S. Davies

SHALL IN STOCK

All Wool and Union Carpets 36c., 70c., 80c., 85c.

2 Ends Tapestry Carpet 24 yds and 18 yds, 80c. yd.

Floor Oilcloth, 6-4 and 8-4.

As we are selling out in these lines we will give good discounts.

Ladies' Lawn and Muslin Shirts-waives.

Ladies' Whitewear.

Cotton and Lisle Hosiery Plain and Lace.

Women's and Children's Undersweats.

Infants' Hygiene Vests.

Wash and Leather Belts.

Buster Brown Belts.

Hamburgs and Insertions to match.

Wool Goods in variety.

School Books and Supplies.

QUEEN STREET, - BRIDGETOWN

60 CENTS CASH will buy a handsome colored Picture, nicely framed and worth $1.00. Some very pretty subjects.—W. E. Reed.

50 CENTS OR $1.00 CASH will buy one or more wheels for your Baby Carriage or Go-Cart. If you want them or other parts see us.—W. E. Reed.

The Town Council (Continued from Page 1.)

had given them the necessary permission.

Mr. Milner explained how he gave permission. He had done it ever since incorporation.

Councilor Calder said this was a bad precedent. If there was a water committee they should do the work.

Coun. Harlow explained the reason why they had consulted Coun. DeWitt.

He said the committee had decided among themselves not to allow the irrigator factory to tap the main.

He and Councilor Longmire had been informed that Councilor DeWitt, the chairman of the committee, had given the authority.

Councilor Longmire did not think it had been necessary to bring the matter before the council at all.

The committee could have thrashed the matter out themselves.

Coun. DeWitt reported for the water extension committee. They had interviewed James Marshall and could do nothing with him until he saw his brother Newcombe.

When they did see them it was found that they wanted the water more than anything else.

Figures were finally given and an offer made by the committee.

They also saw Mr. Cox and Mr. Crow, who agreed to take for their interest in the $200 $160.

The matter was left in the hands of the committee to make the best bargain possible.

The mayor reported that there seemed to be a good deal of fault with the policeman, and that the police committee did not seem to be doing their work.

The committee were instructed to interview Mr. Arlerson.

CONTINUE Those who are gaining flesh and strength by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion should continue the treatment in hot weather; smaller doses and the little Scott milk with it will do away with any objection to the cod liver oil during the heated season. Scott's Emulsion is sold by all druggists.

Oh, How Different

Mattress costing $3.00. We fit any size bed.

PRICE $5.00 FOR BOTH

DELIVERED FREE OR FREIGHT PAID.

We can show you the newest ideas and the most popular Furniture for your home that can be found anywhere. Fine illustrated Catalogue FREE.

W. E. REED, - - BRIDGETOWN, N. S.

PLEASE SHOW THIS ADV. TO A NEIGHBOR

FOR A FEW DAYS ONLY WE WILL SELL 40c. Five O'clock TEA for 20c.

Try our 35c. Molasses

JOSEPH I. FOSTER

QUEEN STREET, - BRIDGETOWN

60 CENTS CASH will buy a handsome colored Picture, nicely framed and worth $1.00. Some very pretty subjects.—W. E. Reed.

50 CENTS OR $1.00 CASH will buy one or more wheels for your Baby Carriage or Go-Cart. If you want them or other parts see us.—W. E. Reed.

The Town Council (Continued from Page 1.)

had given them the necessary permission.

Mr. Milner explained how he gave permission. He had done it ever since incorporation.

Councilor Calder said this was a bad precedent. If there was a water committee they should do the work.

Coun. Harlow explained the reason why they had consulted Coun. DeWitt.

He said the committee had decided among themselves not to allow the irrigator factory to tap the main.

He and Councilor Longmire had been informed that Councilor DeWitt, the chairman of the committee, had given the authority.

Councilor Longmire did not think it had been necessary to bring the matter before the council at all.

The committee could have thrashed the matter out themselves.

Coun. DeWitt reported for the water extension committee. They had interviewed James Marshall and could do nothing with him until he saw his brother Newcombe.

When they did see them it was found that they wanted the water more than anything else.

Figures were finally given and an offer made by the committee.

They also saw Mr. Cox and Mr. Crow, who agreed to take for their interest in the $200 $160.

The matter was left in the hands of the committee to make the best bargain possible.

The mayor reported that there seemed to be a good deal of fault with the policeman, and that the police committee did not seem to be doing their work.

The committee were instructed to interview Mr. Arlerson.

CONTINUE Those who are gaining flesh and strength by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion should continue the treatment in hot weather; smaller doses and the little Scott milk with it will do away with any objection to the cod liver oil during the heated season. Scott's Emulsion is sold by all druggists.

Wedding Presents For the June Brides.

Our Stock comprises many Useful and Fancy Articles in English China; Silverware (both sterling and plated), Cut Glass, &c.

Wool - Wool

TWO TONS OF WASHED WOOL WANTED IMMEDIATELY, and we will pay 32c per pound

Jacobson & Son,

Piggott's Block, - Bridgetown

Manicure Parlor

Mrs. Frank S. Brett has opened a Manicure Parlor in the Kuzler's Block where she will be pleased to attend to ladies and gentlemen requiring her services. Price of treatment 25c.

Everything in My Stock is to be SOLD

Ready-made Clothing, Dry and Fancy Goods, Boots and Shoes, Groceries, including the staple varieties. Bargains can be found all through the stock, not only on Saturday but every day.

T.A. FOSTER