RAILWAYS IN CANADA MUST READJUST SCALE OF PAY, SAYS CARVELL

McAdoo Award to Railwaymen Branded as "Iniquitous" by the Railway Board Chairman, Who Says Canadian Systems Cannot Go on Under Burden Imposed—Believes Fair Scheme Can Be Worked Out.

Ottawa, March 14.—That the McAdoo award to the railwaymen was one of the most iniquitous pieces of legislation ever foisted on the United States was asserted by Hon. F. B. Carvell, K.C., chairman of the board of railway commissioners, addressing the members of the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon here today.

Mr. Carvell said that the award was never based upon business or sound economics, but simply to get votes, and even in that it failed. To the chairman of the railway commission attributed most of the ills from which the railways of Canada were suffering at the present time, and so long as it obtained, Mr. Carvell did not hold out any hope of reduction in rates either on freight or passenger traffic.

Mr. Carvell made it clear that the scale of wages in the schedule was a fair one in his judgment, but the whole trouble lay in the working conditions, by which it was possible for workers, or many of them, to draw twice the amount scheduled, and in many instances more than that.

NEW RESERVOIR IS NEEDED AT ISLAND

Growth of Toronto Necessitates Providing Safe Water Supply Margin.

TOUR OF INSPECTION
Scheme Suggested to Enable Postponement of Building
Duplicate System.

The growth of Toronto has overtaken the city's pumping and water storage capacity and an expenditure of $750,000 for the construction of a 20,000,000-gallon capacity reservoir at the island is required at once in order to provide a safe margin of supply. This information was given by Works Commissioner Harris to the committee on works, who were on a tour yesterday of the waterworks system at the island and in the city, and also of the sewage disposal plant at Ash-bridge's Bay. The inspection today was also a tour yesterday of the waterworks system at the island and in the city, and also of the sewage disposal plant at Ashbridge's Bay.

The tour was a preliminary center for the work of going thru the estimates, which will be undertaken today.
shelved Owing to War.

Commissioner Harris is asking for about twelve million dollars this year, most of which is wanted for new works that were shelved because of the war. None of this twelve million is to be used on the duplicate water system, which the commissioner recommended some years ago. It is understood that if the new reservoir which he now proposes to construct at the island is provided, it will be possible to put off the construction of the duplicate system for several years more.
The duplicate system would cost possibly fifteen million dollars.

The party was taken to the island
on the city tug Genoa and were shown over the big plant there, which includes the slow sand filtration system handling about 40,000,000 gallons of water a day and the more modern chemical and sand filtration plant, which has a capacity of 60,000,000 gallons a day. The island pumping plant has three electric pumps with a capacity of 35,000,000 gallons a day each,
but one is always held as auxiliary and the other two are not working consistently.

Shows Results of Tests.
The laboratory work carried on by Chief Bacteriologist Howard in order to keep the supply of water up to a standard of purity interested the members of the committee very much.
Mr. Howard was able to show the results of tests of impure water, and tests after filtration. Superintendent Sanderson of the filtration plant and Mechanical Engineer Millan gave the visitors a thorough schooling on the main features of the equipment.

About 65,000 gallons a day are being sent thru the big pipe line under the bay to the pumping station at the foot of John street. This amount is the average consumption at present. The quantity demanded by the citizens goes up in the hot weather and also in the cold weather. Many people let their taps run in the winter to keep them from freezing. The pumping equipment at John street could handle 100,000,000 gallons a day
and with a 20,000,000 gallon reserve at the island the danger of pumps running low in the hot weather would be removed for some time as the top consumption is considerably under 100,000,000 gallons daily. About $100-000 worth of new and more modern pumps are now being installed in the John street station. The committee found two new pumps about ready in the high level pumping station on Poplar Plains road.

Not Worked to Capacity.
This plant pumps to all the district
north of College street and has never yet been worked to capacity.

On the way to the sewer disposal plant the party stopped at the Danforth avenue car burns and were permitted to inspect the plant. A small machine shop has been set up in a section of the barns where motors and other car machinery as well as car bodies are repaired. All the machine repairing from the other civic lines is done here.

The members of the works committee were much interested in the tests that are being made of two new expensive plants at Ashbridge's Bay.
Commissioner Harris said he was not prepared to recommend either of them
at present.

DECLARES SINN FEIN
OUT FOR INDEPENDENCE

Sinn Fein history was reviewed by Rev. J. H. Boyd at the Baptist Ministerial Association yesterday. "The object of the Sinn Fein group," Mr.
Boyd said, "is the re-establishment of the independence of Ireland. The policy of the Sinn Fein group is to unite Ireland on a broad national platform. It is difficult to say to what extent the Roman Catholic Church is responsible for present conditions in Ireland. One thing I think is clear: if the Church of Rome had exercised her authority as she might have done in the early stages of the movement it would never have developed as it has, and many lives would have been spared."
"This leads me to inquire," continued Mr. Boyd, "why Great Britain will not grant Ireland her off-repeated demand for independence. The answer is that such would be suicidal, Ireland being bound to England
by many ties."

RESUME SERVICE TO HAVANA.

The Canadian government merchant marine is in receipt of information from Havana, Cuba, pointing out that conditions are now satisfactory in that port. As a result the national merchant marine is planning to resume its regular service to Havana, and expects to clear a ship from a Canadian Atlantic ocean port on March 20, and a second probably about April 10.
The advice to the Canadian government merchant marine is to the effect that unloading of cargoes can now be accomplished with dispatch and at a minimum of expense.

FAIR RENT COURTS

Measure.

The minister of labor, Hon. W. R.
Fowler, introduced in the legislature yesterday his promised bill for the establishment of fair rent courts. The bill is the result of agitation thruout the province for the establishment of rent courts or some other efficient method to prohibit exorbitant rents such as have been charged in the last year or two.

CIVIC CONTRACTORS
MAY FIX WAGE RATES

Orders have been issued that contracts to be awarded by the city shall not include the 60-cent minimum wage clause, as was proposed by the board of control recently. Contractors will have the privilege of fixing their own wage schedules.

BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED.

The following building permits were issued by the city architect's department yesterday: A Remmer detached two-story brick dwelling, 184 Rose-lawn avenue, $8,000; five and a half detached one-story brick dwelling,
southwest corner Oakdene crescent,
and Gledelholm boulevard, F. H.
Johnson, pair semi-detached dwellings,
Bastedo avenue, near Hanson street.

LIABLE TO A FINE.

A fine of $50 shall be recoverable for failure to give within fourteen days after request the standard rent. The act is retroactive to Oct. 8, 1920, and rents in excess of those allowed under the act may be recovered either directly from the landlord or by deduction from the rent. It is also unlawful to charge a premium for renting or releasing a dwelling and any such premiums which have been paid
since Oct. 8 may be recoverable.

WANT BRANCH RAILWAY.

A deputation of mining men will wait on the government on Friday
with the request that a branch railway be built connecting with the T. and N. O. at Swastika Junction, and with the C.N.R. at West Shining Tree.

M-RSHAL FOCH NOT COMING.

A letter was received by the Toronto
district command, G.W.V.A., yesterday
from the office of Marshal Foch, Paris,
in answer to an invitation to attend
Veterans' Day at the Canadian National Exhibition. Other engagements prevent acceptance.

FUND SUGGESTED FOR
PARK LAND PURCHASE

Committee Makes Recommendation
to Board of Control
for One Mill Rate.

The committee on parks and Exhibition yesterday sent on to the board of control the recommendation that a one mill rate be established to create a fund for the purchase of park lands.
Commissioner Chambers told the committee yesterday that if this fund had been set aside in 1915 the department would now have a fund of $4,000,000 and in that time only three-quarters of a million dollars has been used for the purpose.

The commissioner was asked to report on the purchase of a block of land at the corner of Yonge and Merton streets for park purposes.

The commissioner was asked whether it would not be possible to get work started in some of the other parks
as a measure of relief for the unemployed. Mr. Chambers said that little could be done in the other parks unless the frost was out of the ground.
Commenting on the relief work already undertaken, the commissioner said that some of the gangs were 80 or 90 per cent efficient, while others were simply loafing on the job.

MANY MINERS ARE OUT.

New Waterford, N. S., March 14.—
Three hundred miners are out of Company of No. 15 mine here.

The Issue

Shall the importation and the bringing of intoxicating liquors into the province be prohibited?

THE Federal Government enacted legislation which provides that a Referendum upon the question of Importation of liquors may be taken after the Legislature of the Province has made application for the same.

To Clinch Prohibition

On April 26th, 1920, the Ontario Legislature did by resolution so apply to the Federal Government, asking that such a vote be taken. The proclamation on July 28th 1920, fixed April 18th, 1921, as the date for the taking of this vote.

The Question is Now Before You

A majority voting "Yes"
on this question will prohibit importation of intoxicating liquors into this Province for beverage purposes.

Vote and vote "Yes!"

RENEW BATTLE OF PENDRITH AVENUE

Civic Property Committee Turns Down Request for Boiler Installation.

SOME LIVELY SCENES

Applications for Garage and Gasoline Pump Licenses to Be Advertised.

The committee on property wrestled with the Pendrith ave. problem again yesterday, and as usual a deputation was on hand and in its usual belligerent mood, the wrestling at times became a little too strenuous for Referee Ald. Burgess, who nearly broke his gavel trying to maintain order. He seemed tempted at one stage to fire the gavel at the head of Ald. Baker.

The issue was the application of C. M. Chesworth for a permit to install a boiler in the dry cleaning plant which he has erected in the rear of 61 Pendrith avenue. The residents fought the dry cleaning plant tooth and nail, on the ground that the gasoline stored there was a menace to people of the district. Falling in this they are now trying to stop the boiler permit. Mr. Chesworth had announced that it would be impossible for him to operate his plant if the boiler permit was withheld, and that if council refused him he would take the matter to the courts.

Suggest Expropriation.

City solicitor advised the committee that having permitted the erection of the dry cleaning plant they could not consistently stop the issue of the permit for the boiler. Ald. Hacker suggested that the department be asked to expropriate the property as an addition to Willowdale Park.

W. D. McPherson, appearing for the applicant, said his client was under a penalty of $180 a week to the contractors and it was necessary to settle the matter one way or the other. Ald. Cowan's motion that the application for a permit be granted, got the support of only Aldermen Ryding and Bink. The committee then voted on Ald. Hacker's motion to urge the expropriation, which was given unanimous approval.

Approval of the committee was given to the application from Sup. Doughty of the board of education, for permission to remove a portable school from the Jones Avenue School to Morse Street School. Ald. MacGregor moved that the Big Sisters and Big Brothers organizations be given more space in the Registry Building, which was given unanimous approval.

The committee recommended the passing of a bylaw placing residential restrictions on Jones Avenue, between Myrtle and Myrtle streets. A large deputation, while C. K. Brown is present also to press his application for a permit to erect a store front at 311 Jones Avenue. Ald. Wagar, who supported Mr. Brown's application, was cleared with business establishments already.

"Ald. Wagar is a liar," replied Albert Taylor of the deputation. He was forced by the chairman to retract. A deputation from the North Toronto Residential Restriction Association moved from Merion street, Mount Pleasant road, and Eglington Avenue in order to throw their weight in.

An application was before the committee for a permit to establish a monument works at 297-301 Merton street. The proposal to open these streets to business was opposed by another deputation, and the committee decided to make an inspection and see for themselves what streets were the most suitable for business.

The committee accepted a motion from Ald. Cowan to make a compulsory for applications for garage and gasoline pump licenses to be advertised in the daily press for the information of the people of the district, so that any who wished to offer objections could do so.

Better lighting was recommended by the committee for Yonge street from Wood street to Davenport road, Queen street from Woodbine Avenue to Leuty Avenue, Bloor street from Avenue Road to Lansdowne Avenue, Dundas street from Royce Avenue to Cleddenan Avenue.

DENIES IGNORING SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Chairman of Service Commission Also Disclaims Any Slight on Council.

Chairman W. H. Smith, of the social service commission, who was criticized by Ald. MacGregor at the meeting of the special committee on social service because of the fact that he had ignored the committee, sends the following letter to The World:

"I feel that if Alderman MacGregor had known my reason for not attending the meetings of the special committee, he possibly might not have made the motion submitted to the committee at their last meeting. I had no slightest intention of ignoring the committee. Personally I was anxious to attend the meetings, but on the advice of my friends and those members of the commission who had learned that what I would do or say would be subjected to ridicule on the part of others, I remained away.

"May I say that I never referred to the council as 'that bunch'? My connections with the board of control and the city council have always been of the most harmonious character. May I add something that I do not know whatever they consider to be in the best interests of the work?"

GETS THREE-YEAR TERM FOR FORGERY OF CHEQUE

Arthur B. Loudon, a former employe of the assessment department, pleaded guilty before Judge Costello yesterday to a charge of forgery and was sent to the penitentiary for three years.

Loudon, who made his home with his three aunts, represented himself as their agent, and by forging their signatures to a mortgage secured a loan of their property. When the cheque for $1,461 was made out to them he forged their endorsement.

SPRACKLIN UNLIKELY TO SPEAK IN TORONTO

Neither the Toronto referendum committee nor the Ontario referendum committee has any intention of engaging Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin to speak in Ontario in the present temperance campaign in Ontario.

Rev. Peter Bryce, head of the Toronto temperance campaign forces, stated yesterday that Mr. Spracklin has not been engaged to speak by the Toronto forces, and it is not contemplated in the program at all.

A UNIQUE MUSICAL CHARACTER.

Joseph Hislop, the Scottish tenor, who is to make his first appearance in Massey Hall on Wednesday, the 16th inst., is a versatile genius. One time he excelled in the photo process engraving business while he studied at the Royal Academy of Art, Edinburgh. At this time he obtained some degree of skill as a portrait painter. Then he went to Gothenberg, Sweden, where he became an artist, and his musical talents gave him some fame. Meanwhile he had not forgotten his singing, and hearing of the existence of Dr. Bratt, famous throat specialist and teacher of voice production, Mr. Hislop placed himself under the doctor's care and treatment. Thereafter he became a singer, and later attached himself to the Royal Opera at Stockholm. There he gained a scholarship and subsequently made his debut in London at Covent Garden last spring, making his debut as "Rodolfo" in "La Boheme," on which occasion he was engaged by the Chicago Opera Company for their season in Chicago and New York. Toronto is to have the opportunity of hearing this Scottish tenor, as he is termed, but who can sing equally in Swedish or Italian. On this occasion, as with so many great artists, it will be a Heintzman & Co. grand piano of the "Old Firm" that will be used exclusively.

SUGGESTS CITIZENS ARMY FOR CANADA

Canadian Club Speaker Fears Everlasting Peace Era Has Not Arrived.

Creation of a volunteer citizen army in Canada by a puritanical system of physical training, upon which the defence of the country might rest in time of need, was strongly advocated by Maj.-Gen. J. H. McBrien, C.E., C.M.G., D.S.O., chief of the general staff at Ottawa, in his address before the Canadian Club yesterday, in which he outlined the causes of war and the various means which, if undertaken, would go far in preventing even a bloodier struggle than the late war. Future wars would be caused by governments seeking world power and by competition in commerce. They would be the natural results, he thought, of a healthy ambition, a desire to expand. The era of everlasting peace had not arrived, the speaker continued, because it would be known by the evidence of brotherly love between nations, the abolition of police and the cessation of manufacture of all warlike stores. The world had not experienced that complete change in human nature in that there still existed a continual battle, in which the spoils were being given to the survivors of the fittest.

General McBrien stated that only by a show of force would peace be induced to liquidate her debts. At present she was professing friendship with Britain while openly declaring her intention to revenge herself on the British. Another instance of the future possibility of war was the race in naval armament between Japan and the United States. There were pacifists and disarmament advocates abroad today, and General McBrien could only liken them to ostriches without fear, because God had deprived them of wisdom. War, he said, would recur until it was realized that peace meant more than casting off the burden of arms. The best method of maintaining peace was to adopt a strong prevention policy.

NEW SLEEPING CARS FOR OTTAWA SERVICE.

The effectiveness of a railway from a service standpoint is judged largely by the sleeping cars it operates. The Canadian National Railway, with a view of providing the Ottawa patrons the best of everything, have arranged to replace the present fleet of sleeping cars on night-trains Nos. 7 and 8, by eight new cars, all steel, like those now in service.

The first of these, the "Ottawa," will be on the run within the next few days, and the remaining cars, "Yale," "North Bay," "Canora," "New Westminster," "Dauphin," "Neepawa" and "Portage la Prairie," will follow in due course.

The cars now in service contain every known device for safety and comfort, and while there is no room for improvement, the new fleet will be fresh from the shops and each will duplicate the qualities that have made Canadian National Ottawa service famous.

DUBLIN STIRRED BY EXECUTIONS

Immense Crowd Surrounded Prison Reciting Prayers and Hymns.

Dublin, March 14.—Six prisoners convicted of complicity with the murder of British intelligence officers and members of the crown forces in Ireland were executed in Mountjoy prison, this city, this morning. The men were hanged in pairs at intervals of an hour.

Twenty thousand people gathered outside the prison during the hours that the executions were going on, and all work in the city stopped until eleven o'clock. Even the postoffice was closed, and telegraph service was suspended.

The crowd began assembling in front of the prison at dawn, and by six o'clock the prison yard was packed. An hour later the crowd had filled the roadway leading to the prison and all the adjoining streets. An altar had been improvised near the prison doors, and on the walls and trees in the prison yard sacred images and pictures had been placed.

Everywhere candles were burned, scores of persons in the heart of the suns throng holding them aloft throughout the long vigil. Here and there priests or women led in prayers or hymns in which everyone joined earnestly. Hundreds kneeling in the roadway were obliged to rise when an armored car forced its way thru the crowd. From five o'clock this morning it had paraded up and down in front of the prison. On the roof of the jail, overlooking the entrance, a cast iron sentry box had been erected overnight, from which a soldier kept careful watch on the crowd.

Two of the men executed, Patrick Moran and Thomas Whelan, were found guilty of complicity in the killing of intelligence officers in Dublin on November 21, 1918. The other four, Frank Flood, Bernard Ryan, Thomas Bryan and Patrick Doyle, were convicted of participating in an ambush near here in January, in which one member of the attacking party was killed.

Was Profoundly Stirred.

No since the executions following the 1915 uprising, with the possible exception of the hanging of Kevin Barry in November last for an attack on a military escort, have the Sinn Féin sympathizers been more profoundly stirred. Although six o'clock had been fixed for the execution of the first pair, it was not until 8.20 that the crowd knew the fate of the prisoners. At that time the following notice was posted outside the jail gates:

"The sentence of the law passed on Thomas Whelan and Patrick Moran, found guilty of murder, and on Thomas Bryan, Patrick Doyle, Frank Flood and Bernard Ryan, found guilty of high treason in leaving war, has been carried into execution."

No hint reached the watching multitude of the grim proceedings going on in a distant wing of the big prison, but hourly, beginning at six o'clock, the sary was recited. But for a number of reverent voices and the occasional sob of a woman, profound silence was maintained. Shortly after posting of the notice

DEATH IS SUDDEN OF SERGT. McMAHON

Sergt. Henry McMahon who died suddenly of heart failure last night at his home, 438 Sherbourne street, in his 70th year, had served 21 years in the imperial army and was a prominent member of the army and navy veterans. Grief over the death of his wife who died last September and the tragic fate of a son, Francis Stephen McMahon, a returned soldier, who was suffering from a severe case of shell-shock, plunged over Scarborough Bluffs last night, was the cause of his death. He was a returned soldier, who had served in the 2nd Gordon Highlanders. He served 14 years in India, fought against the Afghans under Lord Roberts in 1879 and 1880 and then saw service in South Africa, taking part in the disastrous battle of Majuba Hill. He came to Canada 21 years ago.

Surviving him are a son, Henry Robert McMahon of 988 Davenport court near here in January, in which one member of the attacking party was killed.

The Width of Business Streets.

The proposed widening of Yonge street revives the discussion whether street widening is of special benefit to the thoro-fare concerned. Admittedly a wider street facilitates freedom of wheeled traffic; different opinions are held regarding the immediate advantage of a widened street.

THE KAISER IS DOING HIS SPRING CLEANING AND DECORATING.

Remarked in Passing.

"Pussyfoot!" Johnson is going to take a hand in Ontario's coming referendum fight. He starts his campaign at Windsor, and somehow that seems a good place to start in.

The 15-year-old Toronto boy who successfully moved a 350-lb. safe from a main floor to a basement is certainly qualifying for strong arm job of some kind.

Rev. Mr. Spracklin is certainly not going to let the world forget his record gained in the cause of temperance.

The United States is concentrating its entire fleet in the Pacific ocean. This is not intended as a war move, but if anybody in the east wants a war, they now know where to get it.

Children of Beamsville's public school bought a piano, but when they started dancing its merry music the caretaker decided that if such ungodly noises were not stopped he would have to quit. He ought to be caretaker of the local prison if Beamsville has any such thing.

Boston school teachers who play golf and find themselves compelled to meet had luck with expressions stronger than "cut out" or "dear me" will be in danger of losing their jobs. As if anybody who played golf would ever use stronger language than this.

O. T. A. ENFORCEMENT.

Editor, World: If it is meritorious or just for any body or organization, snubbed by the law, to so astound and misuse the meaning of that law in the employment of a stool pigeon, who snuff out a defenceless widow with five small children and a nursing baby, and deliberately tempt her to sell him a bottle of liquor in return that she might buy bread for her children, subsequently securing her arrest for breaking a law through his efforts—if this is either legal or just, we do not wonder that Bolshevism may be born of O. T. A. chicanery and persecutions.

The Germans won the contempt of civilized people by their treacherous and slimy spy system. They might learn of the O. T. A. for it is indeed Prussian justice that treats the hired murderer and convict the poor widow struck by Herr Stool Pigeon.

Another little instance. A greatly excited young woman rushed into a corner drug store here in the city, and begged the druggist to sell her a small bottle of whiskey as her baby was dying. The druggist thought only of the mother's anxiety and a snapping, dying child. He quite forgot that even in an extreme emergency she should have a doctor's prescription. He remembered it quite distinctly when he faced Fraulein Stool Pigeon in the police court and paid his $200 fine.

Moral: If you are inclined to be charitable to human, don't do it. The O. T. A. will get you, if you don't watch out.

If we knew who these stool pigeons were we should then be able to draw aside clean skirts from contact with the unclean.

It is not our understanding that Christ ever taught that it was wise, or just, or good, to tempt or betray your fellow-man—yet the O.T.A. pay their hirelings to tempt and betray to the law.

SMALLPOX SITUATION AGAIN BAD AT OTTAWA

Montreal, March 14.—The smallpox situation does not warrant the raising of the quarantine against the Ottawa and Hull districts, the provincial board of health has decided. Figures for the first week in March show a decline into previous unfavorable conditions. While only 33 cases were reported during the last ten days of February, 87, or more than double the number, were registered in the first ten days of March.

ROB THREE LINDSAY STORES.

Lindsay, Ont., March 14.—Three stores were burglarized here, namely Fisher's and Baker's grocery stores, and the Merchants' boot and shoe store. A considerable quantity of provisions, as well as boots and shoes and money were lost. So far no trace of the thieves has been found.

Rhyming Views On Daily News

By GEORGE H. DIXON.

The grinding, grasping landlord gang, who've had their pound of flesh, We hear, will now be sternly restrained from acting up so fresh.

The meek and lowly tenant birds whose sufferings have been great At last are going to get relief and have a kinder fate.

The members of the U.F.O. are putting thru a bill to make the landlord octopus restrain his grasping will. The fair rents bill, the thing is called, which Rollo introduced, which means that Mr. Shylock will have profits much reduced. His itching palm he'll have to scratch to drive the itch away because, altho the itch is bad, the tenants more won't pay.

For if the little bill is passed, as it is sure to be, the meek and lowly tenant hounds will then be nearly free. Almost of course, let us explain; he still must pay his rent, but all that can be advanced is merely ten per cent. At least, I think that's what it means; I read the story over, but when I got just half way thru it then became a bore. The way the bill is worded out with here and there a clause its just as hard to figure out as all the other laws.

"Whereas" and "Inasmuch" of course will puncture every line, and all the other points of law will make the tenant whine. The thing is retroactive, too, whatever that may mean, but tenants that will surely know it will save their green.

The only trouble with the bill as far as I can see, is that the way its worded is too blinking deep for me. No matter if the thing is passed, to me, relief is nil Unless my honest landlord first explains the blessed bill.

DRASTIC ECONOMIES IN NAVAL PROGRAM

Number of Capital Ships in Full Commission Reduced to Sixteen.

London, March 14.—The British naval estimates for 1921-22 amount to £31,188,869 gross and £22,479,000 net, it was announced by Lord Lee of Fareham, first lord of the admiralty, today.

In a statement explaining the estimates, Lord Lee said they were based on the government's policy of maintaining a "one-power standard."

The admiralty have decided to carry out that policy as economically as possible. Lord Lee's statement continued, "giving full weight to the special geographical, international and other considerations, which have arisen since the war. This they are doing—in no mechanical spirit nor with assistance of numerical equality."

Recognizing to the full the necessity of reducing expenditure to the lowest limits compatible with national security, the admiralty have effected drastic economies and have agreed to assume risks, which in ordinary circumstances they would regard as prohibitive.

Lord Lee pointed out that the economies included a "reduction in the number of capital ships in full commission from twenty to sixteen, as compared with 38 in 1914."

This is the smallest number that will enable the essential sea-going technical training of officers and men to be carried out properly," the statement asserted.

Other Changes Announced.

Other changes announced by Lord Lee are the placing in reserve of one of the four destroyer flotillas of the Atlantic fleet, reduction of the North American and South African squadrons by one light cruiser each, complete temporary withdrawal of the reduction of the personnel of the fleet during 1921 to 123,700 men, as compared with 127,500 men in 1920.

Altho he escaped without a scratch represented by the arms of the law Hutchinson, who caught him just as he reached the street. He is held on a charge of attempted robbery, which is alleged to have occurred last July.

The World's Weekly Novel

By DANA COOLIDGE. (Copyright, 1918, by E. P. Dutton & Co.)

"He's not here," replied the old Judge, grimly.

"Well, I understand him and Lum Martin are coming here to swear me into the pen—is that correct?" "Ah—ahem," quivered the judge, "I—I really cannot say."

That settled the matter with Sycamore. The old judge, trembling and evasive; the detective-looking past him and saying nothing—here were the men he was looking for and Haines had not yet arrived.

"Mr. Slocum," he said, turning upon that man of iron, "I want to make a confession to you—that train robbery, will you promise not to prosecute me if I tell you all I know? All right, then! You're witnesses to that, judge and Roy."

"Shut up!" thundered Slocum, leaping suddenly to his feet and confronting Lum Martin. "Don't you interfere here, Lum Martin, or—All right, boys!" he swung out, thrusting a hand inside his coat and the next moment a side door was thrown open and the muzzles of two sawed-off shotguns shoved in the chief himself held a six-shooter. Roy Hackett was standing with two more; and in the sudden calm that followed Sam Slocum's voice rode out harsh and rasping:

"Lum Martin, Jack Haines—I want you boys for train robbery." "Well—I'll be—damned!" muttered Martin, and together they held up their hands.

Sycamore Brown was a fool. The look on Lum's face, the staring shotguns, and his own heavy heart, all told him so. He had listened to a "friend" who was not a friend, and now Lum Martin was in the toils. There was no occasion for Jack Haines to curse him—he knew what he was, and he was not a friend.

"Well, shoot me then, you coward!" he cried, as Hackett sprang vengeance to his feet. "Go on and shoot me, you express company sneak—here? I want to be quiet about this. When Martin, as he turned to go, and he said it in such a way that Sycamore never forgot it.

Sycamore was only a boy, but his pride had been touched, the victim of a trick he had betrayed his friend and sent him to prison, but he would never send him to the pen. Even so, the reason Slocum, perhaps, he could use the boy yet. From what he had learned already he was satisfied that Lum Martin and Lum Martin were the same man, and the treasure was what he was after. It was a great treasure, minimize it as they would, for besides the reason of the robbers, there were bundles and bundles of papers that meant fortunes to the owners. And the owners were clamoring for them to be returned to the owners.

THE FIGHTING FOOL

By DANA COOLIDGE. (Copyright, 1918, by E. P. Dutton & Co.)

Slocum asked would be granted, of course, and that without question, but along with his chief and the rest of the deputies, Charley Randall held a grudge against Sycamore.

"Bout my dinner time," he observed, as he unlocked the outer door, "so out it right."

"All right," answered Sycamore, stepping in and peering about in the gloom. He watched the locking of the doors and noted the particular pocket in which the jakes kept his keys. Then he followed about behind him as he led the way to the cells, passing down a darkened passage, around a corner, and stopping at the cell-room door.

"Lum Martin!" called out the jailer, striking with his big key against the bars, and as Lum shuffled up he passed thru the gate without a word.

The jailer retired up the corridor, in order to leave them alone, and the moment his back was turned Sycamore winked at his partner, significantly and touched a bulge at his belt. Then, to divert suspicion, he talked upon different topics for several minutes while a fierce light glowed and grew in Martin's eyes.

"Lum," he said at last, still speaking in his ordinary voice, "Sam Slocum has got it in for you. He's going to send you up for life unless you come thru with that treasure. Now get you into this, Lum, and I'm going to get you out of it if you just say the word. I got two pistols here, and when Charley comes back to lock you up I'll throw down on him, take away his keys, open up the doors and turn you loose. You can get your pick of the horses at the hitchin'-rack and we'll pull our freight for Mexico. What do you say?"

Lum Martin's deep-set eyes gleamed and glistened as he thought out the possibilities.

"Say!" broke in the voice of the jailer, "Ain't you boys pretty near here? I want to get to dinner."

"Just a minute, Charley," answered Martin, hastily. "Now here," he went on, speaking earnestly to Sycamore, "we got to be quick about this. When Charley comes down with the keys you hold him up, I'll frisk him, and we'll turn the whole jake loose and skip out while they're ketchin' 'em—savvy?"

"All right, Charley," he called over his shoulder, and stood back with a wise look while Sycamore felt for his guns.

The jailer was just unlocking the inner combination when Sycamore whisked out his long hidden pistol and showed it against his back.

"Throw up your hands, you dastard," he ordered, "and do it quick or I'll shoot you full of holes!"

"You damned coward!" sneered the jailer, looking back at him over his shoulder; but at the same time he held up his hands.

"Keys are what we want," commented Lum, and relieved him of his key-ring. He shook out the bunch and began to fumble among them for the keys to the outer doors.

"Here, give me them keys," broke in Sycamore impatiently. "I know which ones they are. You take this gun—he drew his spare gun left-handed—and watch Charley—and give them boys a talk!"

A sudden tumult and excitement had broken out inside the bars. Sycamore rushed down the dark corridor and threw himself upon the solid iron door, but hardly had he fitted the key to the lock when he heard a scramble, a warning shout, and then the resounding whang of Lum's pistol.

There was an instant's silence, and then the voice of the jailer spoke up.

"Don't shoot," he cried. "I'm down!" "Well, stay that then!" cursed Martin, and at the sound of his voice Sycamore turned back to his job on the doors.

The moment they were open he came running back to help, but Randall was a bloody wound in his leg.

"Never mind him!" shouted Martin, as Sycamore stooped to look. "Gimmee them keys!"

He reached out and grabbed the bunch and before Sycamore could do more than drag the wounded man aside, the first of the escaping prisoners came rushing around the corner and went scuttling out like rats.

Lum clutched Sycamore Brown by the shoulder and dragged him to the door.

"Take that blue-roan," said Sycamore, bustling off to get Round Valley and a moment later they were both in the saddle and lopping quietly out of town.

TWAS A BLUE MONDAY DOWN IN WALL STREET

Foreign Situation, Railroad Complications and Deadlock Existing in Leading Lines of Industry Inspire Fresh Selling of Stocks.

New York, March 14.—Practically the same adverse influences which contributed in measurable degree to the depression of the stock market last week were operative again today, a number of new records being registered. The foreign situation, the precarious position of the railroads and the state of deadlock existing in some of the leading lines of industry were once more the factors which precipitated fresh liquidation and emboldened the shorts to extend their commitments.

Statements of earnings submitted over the week-end recess by various transportation companies in the form of staple products offered striking evidence of the steady decline of railroad tonnage and the detached or indifferent attitude of consumers.

The stronger position of the domestic banking situation, as demonstrated by the weekly reports of the local clearing house and the federal reserve bank, almost as a whole, was ignored in the

LARGE OIL FIELD NEAR FLESHERTON

Geological Formation in Caledon Mountains Promising for Oil Development.

Recent developments point to the existence of an oil field between the Caledon Mountains and Flesherton, and within easy distance of Toronto. In the townships of Artemesia, Osprey and Protin, in the County of Grey and the southern half of Melton, all of Amaranth and the eastern edge of East Luthar in the County of Dufferin, there is a great geo-anticline or elongated dome about 25 miles in length and 7 miles wide. This dome is entirely composed of rock, which usually carries oil in economic quantities. It is convenient to the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and attains an elevation of 1500 feet above the sea. What is known as the Protin swamp, with an area of 2000 acres, lies on the top of the dome. The dome in fact forms a considerable mass of oil-bearing birth-place of several rivers, some of them running to the Georgian Bay.

During the past 15 years several attempts have been made to obtain oil in this vicinity. But most of the prospect holes have been on the rim or altogether outside of the dome. The gas and oil have been obtained in small quantities, but they are only in small quantities. About 1905, however, the Canadian Oil Fields Limited began operations in the Protin area. Since then they have secured leases of the oil rights covering about 15,000 acres, covering the greater part of the watershed. One and a half miles west of the Protin swamp, the number 2 well has been located. It is a nearly completed. It will cost about $12,000 with all tools and equipment, for its construction is of an unusually substantial character, following the best American standards. Drilling at this well will begin in a short time. The ground looks promising from the oil man's point of view. Apparently there has been little disturbance and the anticline are of a gentle character, while the well is near the centre of the great dome.

TORONTO MARKET FIRM COMPARED WITH OTHERS

The Toronto market, considering the action of outside markets, must be accounted for in the light of yesterday's dealings. The explanation of this was discussed in the editorial columns of this paper. It was pointed out that the volume of transactions was fairly large, and prices in general were firm and in some spots even strong.

Canadian General Electric was again an outstanding feature of the speculation, with sales at 15 1/2, a rise of 1/4 from a point above the level of the previous week, and the advance was held until the close. This advance, however, is not a point above the level of the previous week, and the advance was held until the close. This advance, however, is not a point above the level of the previous week, and the advance was held until the close.

V.N.T. PRESSED TO SALE, BUT OTHER SHARES STEADY

No change of consequence was noted in the dealing on the local mining exchange yesterday. It was a quiet day, with a few shares of business of 97,000 in the extent of some 25,000 shares, and the price was undoubtedly under 100. The liquidation is thought to be in need of money, and the price was set at 100. The liquidation is thought to be in need of money, and the price was set at 100.
