Most Popular Man in world

WHY'S the most popular man in the world with the children? Why, Santa Claus, of course. Just glance at the picture for proof. It's a study. What depths of love and tenderness one perceives in the wistful eyes of that child. How appealingly the chubby little arms embrace the kindly face of good old Santa.

But for many Saint John children there will be no Santa Claus, unless those who have the goods of the world will continue to increase the Times-Star Empty Stocking Fund. Contributions have been coming in nicely, but to give joy on Christmas morn in the homes of the poor. Giving to this object will bring its own reward in the pleasure of knowing that some poor little one has not lost faith in Santa Claus.

53 DIE IN ALABAMA MILLS BLAST

THREE BODIES STILL SOUGHT BY WORKERS

Forty-eight Are Recovered From Shaft Today

CAUSE UNKNOWN

Cigarette, Lighted Match or "Windy Shot" Blamed For Tragedy

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 11.—With a death list of 53 believed to have been definitely determined, rescue workers were making final efforts today to remove the bodies remaining in Overton Mines, Number 2, which was partly wrecked by an explosion of gas yesterday. The bodies remaining in the mine are those of two white men and one negro. Of the bodies already removed, 43 are negro and seven white.

The tragedy was due to an explosion, the cause of which has not been determined by mine bureau and company officials, but blame is attributed to a carelessly thrown cigarette, a lighted match or a "windy shot."

Not until new brattices have been constructed can the work crews recover the lower ledges of the mine. Practically all the bodies recovered from the third, fourth, fifth and sixth ledges, but the seventh and eighth ledges remain yet.

According to rescue workers "nothing living could have survived the inferno which the remaining gases ignited after the explosion."

NEW BLAST FEARED Caution was exercised early this morning in stopping the far reaches of the mine lest the remaining gases should be forced into a new explosion. Anxious relatives stood about the mine mouth throughout the night awaiting some word of encouragement.

Ulster Premier Sees New Era Dawning In Ireland

Britain Not Seeking War But Will Maintain Mosul Rights, Declares Colonial Secretary

By HENRY WOOD Copyright 1925 by United Press

GENEVA, Dec. 11.—"It was in fact forced on us, England will maintain her rights as she has always done," declared British Colonial Secretary L. C. M. S. Amery in an exclusive interview with the United Press today. He was discussing the delicate situation surrounding the League of Nations efforts to reach a decision as to future control of the oil district of Mosul.

"The British government," he continued, "is not pursuing an aggressive policy, it is not seeking fresh territorial responsibilities, nor a war; but if war is forced as a result of responsibilities already assumed, she will fulfill her duty."

"We are ready to accept any decision of the League."

He pointed out that a decision adverse to Turkey would not mean that she had actually lost anything, since Mosul had been a part of Iraq since the Sevres Treaty.

Today the council decided to modify its decision and to resume sittings this afternoon on minor questions, deferring further discussion of Mosul as long as there was a possibility of reaching a direct, amicable settlement.

SEAMEN'S UNION OFFICIALS ARE FREED BY COURT

Had Been Held For Deportation In Australia

THREATEN TO SUE Walsh and Johannesen Hint at Action For Wrongful Arrest

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 11.—The high court here has ordered the release of Tom Walsh and Jacob Johannesen, respectively president and secretary of the Australian Seamen's Union, who were arrested on Nov. 20 and held for deportation, because of their activities in connection with the unofficial strike of British seamen at Australian ports.

The deportation act, under which the two were adjudged deportable, was passed at the last session of parliament, and was generally supposed to have been aimed at these two.

It is believed that the high court's decision that Walsh and Johannesen should be released from custody was made on the view that the action of the act under which the deportation proceedings were conducted is beyond the legal power of authority of Parliament, and contrary to the Australian constitution. While the application for the release of the two men was made on Dec. 10, the decision that the chief justice said this was unnecessary.

Walsh and Johannesen now threaten to sue the commonwealth government for carrying out their arrest and imprisonment. The costs in the deportation case are estimated at £12,000. The decision carries costs for Walsh and Johannesen.

9-YEARS SENTENCE FOR QUEBEC ROBBER

Convicted of Stealing $1,000 to $2,000 From Sherrington Branch Bank

MONTEREAL, Dec. 11.—Kin Rifkin and Armand Sylvestre, were yesterday found guilty of robbing the Sherrington, Que., branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale, last year, by Magistrate Lemay, at St. John's, Que. Rifkin was sentenced to nine years in penitentiary, but Sylvestre was not sentenced, as he is serving a life term in St. Vincent De Paul penitentiary for his part in the robbery of a mail van some time ago.

The robbery for which Rifkin was sentenced occurred on December 4, 1924. Between $1,000 and $2,000 was the amount stolen.

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 11.—Prince Edward Island is now one of the very few export areas in the world to be free from bovine tuberculosis, according to an announcement made today by Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture. The work of establishing tuberculosis-free areas in Canada has proceeded most effectively, according to the minister. In Quebec and Manitoba the restricted areas have attracted buyers. The statement issued by the minister says that Jersey Island, up to the present, had been the only important exporter of bovine tuberculosis-free cattle, but now Prince Edward Island, Canada, has become suddenly similarly famous.

SLACKERS IN SOUTH AFRICA CHECKED UP

Face Deportation to Penal Labor Colony if They Refuse Work

CAPETOWN, S. A., Dec. 11.—South Africans who will not work will be liable to deportation to a penal labor colony. This is provided for in a bill which the Minister of Labor has prepared for introduction at the next session of parliament.

Under provisions of the measure any man who refuses to accept work offered him, will be subjected to shipment to a labor colony for any period from one to five years. Men accepting work given them by the government and not carrying out their part of the agreement, also are liable to be sent to the colony. All vagrants or men who do not properly support their families, will come within the terms of the proposed law.

The plan provides for rewards to men committed to a labor colony, who make a genuine effort to reform. They will not alone be able to earn money, but will be aided to secure land under one of several settlement projects inaugurated by the Labor Ministry.

PORTLAND OUT FOR CANADIAN TRAFFIC

Wants Government to Spend Million For Plant to Handle Coal For Montreal

PORTLAND is making a big bid to get traffic which Saint John should have and according to the Portland Express of December 8 affairs have progressed to the point, where the Government of Canada may expend $1,000,000 there on a modern coal handling plant through which Welsh coal for Montreal will be shipped.

D. H. Friedman, Montreal, president of the International Corporation, has, according to this article, been in Portland for some days and a tentative site for the proposed plant has been selected. The paper says that an experimental cargo of Welsh coal is being unloaded from the steamer Downer and that should satisfactory arrangements be made to have the company import its coal through Portland it would mean that 20,000 to 25,000 tons of Welsh coal, which formerly went through Saint John, would be handled at Portland this winter.

Local coal merchants said that so far as they knew there had never been any large movements of coal through this port for Montreal in the winter season.

ROBBERY TALE TOLD IN COURT

Mrs. Lavigne, Pond Street, Questioned About Source of Money

Tell of Insurance Funds From Montreal—Relates Loss of $2,200

Mrs. Jean Lavigne of Pond street, was questioned in the Police Court today on matters relating to the story of the robbery of $2,200 from her house a few days ago. This was in connection with the case of Geo. I. Collier and Margaret Collier, charged with having acted together in robbing Mrs. Lavigne of that sum in $100 bills, in her house on November 29th.

The questioning of Mrs. Lavigne had to do with the source of the money and with other matters. Under examination by E. J. Henneberry, her counsel, Mrs. Lavigne said that she had been known by three different names. Her maiden name was Jean McNulty. She had been married to James Lavigne for some time. Last January she had gone to Montreal and there was known to her neighbors and the people she met there as Jean Hill. She had three children, two of whom were in Montreal with her.

MISSIS MONEY
Relative to the money, Mrs. Lavigne said the Colliers had been occupying a room in the house in Pond street. She had obtained the house about four weeks ago, after she had come here from Montreal. She kept $2,200 in a purse which she had in a trunk in her own room. She had last seen the money between 7 and 8 on the evening of November 29. She had gone into her room a little later and had been in there until 11 p.m. when she had gone into the front room and missed the accused. She went back to the trunk and found her purse with four $100 bills and $2 in smaller bills in it. The sum of $2,200 had disappeared. The remainder of the money was not folded as the whole amount had been but was thrown loosely into her purse.

W. J. Ryan, for the defendants, cross-examined the witness. He said that she had been married to Jas. Lavigne here about 17 years ago and for about four years had been separated from him. Her husband was still living. She said when she went to Montreal one Jack Hill had followed her on the same train and they met in Montreal and had lived in Windsor street, St. George street, and Cadieux street.

She answered in the affirmative when Mr. Ryan asked if she knew Hill as a wife in the city at the time. She recognized Mrs. Hill in court.

Mrs. Lavigne said Hill went to work at the Atlantic Sugar Refineries in Montreal. On Oct. 1 he fell from a rigging and was seriously hurt. He died on Oct. 5, 1925.

INSURANCE MONEY
Mrs. Lavigne next said that Hill had informed her that he had been insured for $4,000 and that in the event of his death the money would come to her. Questioned on the insurance, she denied that, to her knowledge, she had signed any papers in reference to the insurance, also that she had gone before any magistrate in Montreal and sworn that she was the widow of Hill. She said she had never seen any of the insurance papers at any time. The official of the refiner had been given a check for $3,500 and had taken it to the bank with her and the bank had given her the money. She did not endorse the check. Her husband's name was Hill in Montreal. The money she re-deposited in the bank and left there for about two weeks.

SAYS COLLIER KNEW
She said she told Collier how she got the money. She denied that she had asked the Collier couple to come to Saint John with her, but admitted that she had paid their way down and had allowed them to live in her house. Mr. Ryan then asked how she had deposited the money in the Royal Bank of Canada in Montreal. If she had not signed, and got the admission from Mrs. Lavigne that she had signed as Mrs. Hill. On a question if she understood the meaning of the word deceive, replied that she did not.

Mr. Ryan rested his examination at this point.

SON IS CALLED
Mr. Henneberry then called Frank Lavigne to the stand. His story in the matter of the disappearance of the money and the behaviour of the accused on the evening of Nov. 29 did not differ from his mother's, except that he had seen Mrs. Collier go in and out of his mother's bedroom, where the money was kept, two or three times. The witness then told Mr. Ryan, who cross-examined him, that he had never heard his mother say that Hill was his father. He was the son of James Lavigne. He had been to Montreal for a month with his mother, but not while Hill was living with her.

At 12:45 p. m. the case was adjourned. Owing to the fact that Mr. Henneberry is to be out of town for some time, the case will not be taken up again until next Friday at 11 o'clock.

CONVICT HEARD IN BRAGER CASE

Defense in Furniture Store Closing Matter Outlined in Court

E. J. Henneberry Raises Question of Powers of Common Council

The case of Jacob N. Brager, charged with an infraction of the city by-law governing the closing of furniture stores at certain hours, was taken up this morning in Police Court. A. N. Carter appearing for the City Chamberlain and E. J. Henneberry for the defendant.

Counsel for the defendant objected to the fact that the information was laid against Jacob N. Brager personally and should have been made against the incorporated company for which he is manager.

The objection failed owing to a clause which states that the manager of a corporation which contravenes a by-law is liable to the same charge. Mr. Henneberry then asked permission to make a statement which would show the extra cost of a trial before a higher court.

BREAK OCCURS AT GOOD PLACE

Passengers on Strm. Grand Manan Consider They're Fortunate

Shaft Cracks and Craft Grounds on Campobello—Now at Eastport

The passenger and freight steamer Grand Manan went ashore in lower Passamaquoddy Bay yesterday and was towed to Eastport last night with the only damage a broken propeller shaft. The steamer, which grounded on Campobello Island, was refloated after the thirty-odd passengers and their baggage had been taken to Eastport on a lighter.

The ship had touched at Campobello wharf and was passing through Lubec Narrows opening on 10 miles of rough water between Quoddy Head and Grand Manan Island when the grinding and racing of the machinery told of the break. Drifting before the wind, the high winds in the open water in a temperature that had already had led the superstructure. Another steamer will replace the Grand Manan until she is repaired.

TAKES HER PLACE

The auxiliary schooner Lucille B. will take the place of the Grand Manan for the trip to St. Andrews on Saturday and to this port on Monday if weathered this afternoon. Whether this vessel will operate for the entire time the repairs are being made to the Grand Manan has not yet been decided.

RETURNED HOME

Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, who was the chairman of the Liquor Commission, left Fredericton Thursday evening, accompanied by his daughter, for his former home at Arthurville, Victoria County, where they will spend the winter. Before leaving the city Hon. Tweeddale was waited upon by personal friends and presented with a pipe, a slight token of their esteem.

LOOKING BETTER.

A welcome and well justified note of encouragement marked the annual meeting of the Board of Trade. President Simms, in his comprehensive annual address, was able to point to many proofs of progress during the last year and to much evidence of still greater betterment to come, not only with respect to the port and the business interests generally, but in regard to the Maritimes and the country at large as well.

are trying to shoot the bandits, but there are more dead policemen than dead bandits, despite the fact that the police do their bandit hunting in squads. The city has been organized and a highly efficient system of answering emergency alarms has been established. Our police stations have become barracks. One trouble about this pattern firing is that it ranks next to motor cars as a menace to pedestrians.

Odds and Ends

When the Old Man Dies

(The Khan, Toronto Telegram.) Here is the farm the old folks cleared. It was their hands that planted the orchard, and the lilacs, and the snowball tree, and the figs, and the "old man" at the gate, and the maidens plowed at the porch. "I was they who planted the currant bushes and the rhubarb behind the house."

Now someone is selling everything without reserve. "Make me an offer! Make me an offer for this fine farm. One of the best in Ontario."

Here is the cabinet organ. They have dragged it out on the sagging stoop where all may view it. As good as ever she was.

"Hey, Jim, play a tune on her and Jim sits down on the rickety stool that works with a screw, and plays 'Ring the Bells of Heaven, There is Joy Today!'"

"Going, going, gone!"

"They can't sell the lute the old covey on, but they can sell the bed the old man died in."

Worse than that, they will sell his clock that he wound up every night of his life for seventy years. In all those years, morn and eve, midnight and noon, winter or summer, storm or shine, for seventy years it warned them that it was time to be born—"Do hear a bid"—that it was time to play—"Make me an offer"—that it was time to go to school—"Hey, start me!"—that it was time to woo and wed—"Going, going!"—that it was time to die—"Going, going, gone!"

Be-er! It's a cold day. It will be a colder night. A cold night for the old homel when your Lares and Penates are heaped into wagons and cars and go bumping down the lane your empty rooms will call to eye another, questioning in the chilly dark with ghostly voices, "Is the old man dead?"

So?

"Practical Politics."

The method of altering institutions without even attempting to elevate individual character is no remedy at all.

—Dean Inge.

When a Man's Man

(Brisson Smith in Success.) "I can't say a foolish expression."

"It's really a coward's confession. Somehow or other it always comes back."

Stealing the good things we already lack.

Bringing us nothing but trouble and care.

Leaving us hopelessly sunk in despair. But there's never a day

When the world can say "That a man's not a man if he dare!"

"It will be a wonderful blessing. A heart full of courage expressing. Somehow or other it brings us success. Fills us with joy that we cannot repress. Gladness our friends, makes their burdens more light."

Places a star in our crown ev'ry night. For it's never a day

When the world can say "That a man's not a man if he'll fight!"

The Great Canadian Novel.

(W. D. Gough in Ottawa Citizen.) "It is up to me to write it."

"It is all our Nation lacks." Said a man from Musquodoboit

To a man in Halifax.

So he sat him down and wrote it

In a sail-loft by the sea, And a man in Digby told him

It was all a book should be.

Then a publisher proclaimed it

With a banner and a band, But a man in Pipestone read it

And he could not understand.

"'Tis a charming fiction And the reasoning profound, I don't hold with foreign writers," Said a man in Owen Sound.

A Dangerous Doctrine.

(London Daily Telegraph.) (Dr. Eskom, professor of Celtic at Berlin university, declares that the first Irishmen were probably Eskimos and some of the Irish are Eskimos still.)

We do not think it wise to be touchy about remote ancestors. Whoever may have been our progenitor in the old Stone age, he was probably not the sort of person we should like to put among the family portraits. Notions of racial purity are only to be cherished in Western Europe by those whose faith is stronger than their knowledge. But we cannot think Dr. Eskom has been kind. What can patriotic historians make of an Eskimo ancestor? Your Eskimo will never be a figure of romance. He is too fat. He has no glamor. And we must concede that if our Irishmen were once Eskimos they have been, as the French critic said, "diabolically changed en route." We prefer to go on believing in Erhols and Milesians and Kings who descended from Noah. It seems much more Irish.

Just Fun

A PERSON asked to classify French hells, said: "I should think they would come under dresses."

"WHERE was you last night until 10 o'clock?" asked Mrs. Ragson Tatters.

"I don't care who told you; it's a lie," returned Ragson indignantly.

Dinner Stories

A CLEVERMAN, who was summoned in haste by a woman who had taken suddenly ill, answered the call, though somewhat puzzled by it, for he knew that she was not of his parish, and was, moreover, known to be a devoted worker in another church. While he was waiting to be shown to the sick-room he fell to talking to the little girl of the house.

"It is very gratifying to know that your mother thought of me in her illness," said he. "Is your minister out of town?"

"Oh, no," answered the child, in a matter-of-fact tone. "He's home; only we thought it might be something contagious, and we didn't want to take any risks."

A CONNOISSEUR of painting saw in the window of a second-hand dealer's shop the portrait of an admiral in full uniform. He offered the dealer $250 for it, but the latter declined to sell under $375, and, as neither would give way, the picture remained in the shop.

A short time afterward the connoisseur saw the picture hanging in the dining room of a certain house he happened to be visiting. With an exclamation of surprise he walked toward it.

"Hello, what have you got here?" he said.

"This fellow said that the portrait had just been bequeathed to him, and added: 'It is the portrait of one of Nelson's admirals, an ancestor of ours.'"

"Was he, indeed?" commented the connoisseur. "A month ago he was within $125 of becoming one of mine!"

LOCARNO AND LABOR.

(Le Monde Ouvrier.) The Locarno decisions which have fixed the frontiers of the German republic, of France and Belgium, will also exercise a profound influence on the economic and financial situation of the whole of Europe.

It may well be that both in France and Belgium there will now arise sentiments favorable to disarmament, which must necessarily have a beneficial effect on the course of the franc, and consequently on the condition of the working classes.

"NATURE WILL be reported," Emerson observed.

All things are engaged in writing their history.

The planet, the pebble, goes attended by its shadow.

The rolling stone gathers no moss, but it leaves its scratches on the mountain.

The river its channel in the soil; The animal its bones in the stratum; The fern and leaf their epitaph in the coal.

The falling drop makes its sculpture in the sand or the stone. Not a footprint into the snow or along the ground, but prints, in characters more or less lasting, a map of its march.

The air is full of sounds; the sky, of tokens; the ground is all memoranda and signatures, and every object covered over with hints which speak to the intelligent.

THE PIONEER SPIRIT.

(Victoria Times.)

The history of Canada's development is replete with records of achievement in the great open spaces by men who were city dwellers in their native lands—the men who took a chance.

What was taking place 20 years ago is taking place today, with this difference—the men who settle on the land in 1925 do not have to face the kind of loneliness the pioneers faced. Modern invention has changed all that. Get the men who are ready to take a chance and the misfits will be very few.

CANADIAN CAPITAL.

(La Presse.)

In a young country like Canada, the greatest need of all, one that is always felt, in order to further the innumerable developments required to exploit our natural wealth, and add to our national production, is capital, the life-blood of prosperity and economic progress.

What explanation is there, therefore, that the banks, the receivers of our savings and whose essential function it is to assist progress, initiative, development, Canadian production generally, are so markedly reducing the amount of their loans and advances in Canada, and that, having received great increases in savings deposits, they are proposing to lend them, to let them fructify, outside Canada? A strike of capital in Canada is the surest way of provoking an economic crisis in the country.

SKINNING THE SERVICES.

(London Morning Post.)

Successive ministries have solemnly acknowledged the disastrous effect of oppressive taxation; they have admitted the necessity for thrift, and they have promised to enforce it. The present government was, indeed, placed in power to achieve economic reforms, both by suppressing ostentation and by largely reducing public expenditure. It is an axiom that ultimately every government stands or falls by its financial record. So far the only saving worth consideration has been made in the fighting services; and in the process both officers and men have been given just cause for complaint. They have been selected for the purpose, according to the Liberal principle, of which the Chancellor of the Exchequer is presumably an exponent, that the votes of fighting men are worth less than the votes of the international pacifists of organized labor.

In Middleborough, England, licensing magistrates recently enacted a "dry" law for women. Previously hotel keepers were prohibited from supplying women with liquor except with meals, but now they may not serve women such drinks at all. Middleborough is believed to be the only town in England to have such a restriction.

Flemming To Have No Operation Now

Canadian Press Despatch. WOODSTOCK, Dec. 10.—It was announced this afternoon that Hon. J. K. Fleming, former Premier of New Brunswick, will not undergo an immediate operation but will take treatment and endeavor to lie in his seat as much as possible.

She Coughed Night and Day Until She Used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Mrs. B. E. Little, 103 Inkerman St., London, Ont., writes: "I got a very severe cold which settled in my bronchial tubes. I coughed night and day, and although I tried several different remedies I could get no relief until a friend advised me to take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. This I did, and I must say that it gave me almost immediate relief as I got rid of my cough very quickly. I hope this testimonial will be the means of helping others."

Returns From Xmas Seals Beginning To Slacken Off; Society Depends on Their Sale

Returns from the Christmas seals sent out to prospective purchasers by the Saint John Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis had begun to slacken off, it was said yesterday, and the committee in charge was anxious to have returns made as soon as possible.

This year the society is not acknowledging the receipt of the money sent in and is not sending out special follow-up cards reminding the prospective purchasers who have not been heard from that the stamps are still in their possession and the society has very urgent need of funds.

The society relies entirely upon the sale of seals to maintain the services of its two nurses, and has practically no other expense in carrying on its splendid work in the city.

LOCAL FIRM WINS COURT DECISION

Supreme Court of Canada Upholds N. B. Judgment For Baird & Peters. The action arose when the Prune company sold a cargo of prunes and shipped the same by C. P. R. instead of by C. N. R., as stipulated in the purchase order. Baird & Peters on hearing of this refused to accept the prunes on their arrival in California. The decision of the New Brunswick courts was that the mode of shipment is a material part of the contract of sale and that failure to route the goods, as directed, is sufficient reason for the buyer to refuse acceptance of the shipment. The prunes, after refusal had been made by the local firm, were stored and later on sold at auction. The action involved about $7,000.

SUCCESSFUL SUPPER

He Eats Dynamite As Medicine And Pays $25

STAMFORD, Conn., Dec. 10.—Clarence Goodman, who has just left the ministry of the Church of the Nazarenes to be an excavation contractor, eats dynamite. He says it is good medicine. Firemen putting out a blaze in his house found eight sticks of it and called him to court for not having a storage permit. Then he told why he kept it in the house. He was fined $25.

Brings Thoroughbreds Here From Scotland

The Anchor-Donaldson freighter Carmia, formerly the well known passenger liner Cassandra, arrived in port on Wednesday and docked at the McLeod wharf, where she is discharging general cargo. Captain Morris reports a good passage out from Glasgow, making the run to Saint John in less than ten days, although the ship encountered some heavy head winds and sea. The Carmia is an excellent boat and is proving a valuable ship as a freighter for the company. Yesterday afternoon 23 fine looking thoroughbred Scotch draft horses were landed from the ship and are en route to Brandon, Man. They were much

Body Laid to Rest Beside That of Wife and Other Relatives

OTTAWA, Dec. 10.—While several thousand citizens of Ottawa stood in reverent silence in front of the funeral home of John Rudolph Booth, 99-year-old multi-millionaire lumberman, wended its way to Beechwood cemetery this afternoon and the monarch of the lumber industry was laid to rest in the Booth family plot with his wife and other relatives who died before him.

The Booth residence in Metcalfe street, where Mr. Booth died on Tuesday afternoon, was surrounded by about 5,000 persons while the funeral service was being conducted, and only the immediate relatives, executive officers of the John R. Booth Company, and a few distinguished personages were accommodated in the house. A last minute change in arrangements was made owing to the thousands who begged to be allowed to see the body. The side door of the residence was thrown open after the funeral service and a line of people four abreast went on and on for half an hour or more. When it was impossible to permit any longer wait at the house, there were hundreds outside still asking admittance.

Shopping crowds and hundreds of other who went to the centre of the city to see the cortege pass blocked street traffic for some time. The funeral was held in the funeral home on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The body was laid to rest in the Booth family plot on Tuesday afternoon at 11 o'clock.

Some Good Rules to Observe In Sending Christmas Parcels

Here are some rules for wrapping Christmas packages for mailing: "Fragile articles of all kinds need the protection of a box or other outside container in addition to paper used for cushioning."

"When several loose articles are to be wrapped in a single package they should be first tied together to prevent any play or shifting."

"Paper-wrapped packages are subject to the following common-sense rules: "1. Strong, tough paper should be used—the kind you cannot easily punch a hole through with your finger."

"2. Pliable paper should be used—the kind that does not crack when it is folded."

"3. New paper is better than used."

"4. When used paper is employed, it must be free from holes, cracks and tears."

"5. The heavier the package and the greater the distance it is to travel, the thicker the paper should be or the greater the number of sheets to be used, and always strong, tough and pliable sheets."

"6. Use two sheets, unless you are sure one is strong enough."

"7. The twine used in tying should also be strong and should be drawn tight, because such handling induces stretching."

"8. The twine should be in one piece and each crossing should be knotted to prevent slipping. Long narrow packages should have several such crossings."

"9. Just as important as wrapping and tying is marking. Never use lead pencil. Use waterproof crayon, ink or stencil, and mark plainly. Always address to street and number. Precede return address with the word 'From.'"

Another Seat Lost By Conservatives

TORONTO, Dec. 10.—Mr. Justice Wright this afternoon decided the North Huron election case appeal in favor of J. W. King, the Progressive candidate, George Spotton, to pay the costs.

Justice Wright directs the county judge to detach counterfoils from the 942 ballots which were thrown out because the counterfoils were attached, and these ballots are to be counted. The decision virtually results in the election of J. W. King over George Spotton.

J. W. King, Progressive, was first declared the elected member. In a recent court case he was declared the elected member and declared the Conservative candidate, Spotton, to be elected.

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 10.—Ten Lowell officials, including the mayor and former mayor, have been arraigned on secret indictments charging conspiracy and fraud in the making of contracts and larceny in altering public records.

Wives are Neither Toys Nor Unpaid Servants—They Want to Share in the Marriage Partnership and Be Treated as Pals—But Most of All They Want to Seem Always Sweethearts to Their Husbands.

IT IS a curious thing that, although men have been marrying ever since the first of the Adames discovered that it was not good for man to be alone and took unto himself a mate, few men know how to treat a wife.

This is not an indictment of men as husbands. Few men are deliberately cruel and unkind to their wives. There are just as many wife-spoilers as there are wife-beaters.

But the trouble seems to be that there are two schools of thought among husbands about the proper way to treat a wife. One is strong for the baby-doll theory, while the other regards a wife as a mere household contrivance for cooking food, darning socks, pressing clothes and so on.

There are other men who as soon as they have married a woman dump her down into a house and apparently thereafter regard her with as little sentiment as they do the gas range.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS RADFORD

ON THE WHALER.

The next picture in the picture gallery was called "The Whaler."

It was the picture of a large sailing-ship, lying at anchor, with furled sails.

near a small village. The sea was calm and the sky was blue, and altogether it was a very peaceful picture, indeed!

"Is that the kind of a boat they catch whales in?" asked Nick curiously.

"It's a boat they catch whales by," corrected Mister Blue Cap. "Or not even that exactly, for on that boat there is another smaller boat, that really does the whale catching. But come—let's go on the 'Whaler.' You'll be sure to learn a lot there."

The little guard, or rather fairymen, unlocked the glass in front of the picture, it swung out on hinges like a door, and in a trip the Twins had followed Mister Blue Cap up a pair of magic steps, and stepped right across the gold frame into the picture.

Instantly they forgot all about the picture gallery. It was exactly as though they had stepped off a train and found themselves in a strange country.

A wind was blowing from the sea and the very air smelled of salt. Then waves were rolling quietly up on a sandy beach where some fishermen were mending nets.

Smoke was coming out of the chimneys of the little houses in the village and everything was very peaceful. The very sea-gulls flying low over the water near the great ship, seemed to be happy.

"We can't get out to the place the 'Whaler' is anchored unless we go in a row boat," said Mister Blue Cap. "I don't wish to be seen, Nick, so you go and ask that man who is watching the fishermen if he will row you and Nancy over to the boat, but if you

"They all have shore-leave," said the sailor. "Even the captain and mate are ashore. Nobody here but the Chinese cook and a polli-parrot."

"Isn't it grand!" said Nick, looking around at the black oily deck and the big windlass and the oil tank.

"You bet," said the sailor heartily. "To be Continued."

Then when they arrived he lifted each of them up until they had a firm hold on the rope ladder, up which they

What's Louise, Comedian Or Siren, or What?

By RUSSELL J. BIRDWELL.

LOUISE FAZENDA has one bitter and adding aversion, card indexes. For, since Hollywood has adopted the fashion of merely cataloguing its players, she has been cast as a comedian.

And Louise sincerely believes that an actress should be an actress. Which, to her, signifies a player of varied roles, not a mere type.

Of course when one starts one's career under Mack Sennett, dean of the curdled pie college, one is a comedian.

However, Louise really is versatile. For instance, she let her play a boy in "Bobbed Hair." Louise thought it was fun. Her work showed it.

Then in "The Golden Journey," she was a siren. And soon she is to appear in really serious roles.

A long way, indeed, from the grotesque little creature of the Sennett era. So perhaps the card index some time will read, "Fazenda, Louise, Actress."

"We should also be glad that there is the strengthening desire among the nations of the earth for the prevention of war and for the establishment of world brotherhood and lasting peace, and especially for the growing realization here in our own land that if we wish to see the adoption of civilized methods of dealing with disputes between nations, the substitution of law for force, our own great country must take its full share with other nations in bringing this about."

"We have been growing in this matter. I believe that the sentiment of our people is now behind our wise and trusted president."

"Again we should be glad that there is a breaking down of the spirit of intolerance and narrow prejudice in our religious life and the growing among us of a true fellowship in the things of the spirit."

SEE-SAWING ON THE BROADWAY

YOU never can tell exactly who's who in the great street of white lights. The old bird with the shiny-backed coat may be an eccentric millionaire of a playwright that hasn't connected with a success. The tattered looking young lady may be on her way to a costume ball and the most flabbily dressed woman you see may be only three feet ahead of a detective who is about to arrest her for passing worthless checks.

NOW the two young men I saw the other night at the Plantation with Louise Blackburne, one of the "Artist and Models' beauties, were neither cake-eaters, rounders nor millionaires' sons. They were two of the most famous football players in America. You'll recognize their names at once—Benny Friedman, all-American quarterback, and Benny Osterman, all-American tackle, both of the University of Michigan.

Like 75 per cent. of the beauties who dance before the Broadway footlights, Louise Blackburne came from the middle west. She's a Cleveland girl. And Benny is a Cleveland boy. They were childhood playmates. When they last saw each other 10 years ago Louise was talking about how she would be an actress when she grew up, and Benny was assuring her that he'd be a great athlete. And there you are.

Their host by the way, was George La Moine, who now runs a night club, but who did his stuff on the Brown University grid not so many years ago.

THEY had sixty-day bike races, non-stop auto runs, round-the-world flights and every other sort of contest and now, if you please, the national quartet championship of the world is going to be fought to the last drop.

The challenge, I understand, is issued by sending a sour note to a rival quartet, or something like that. Anyway it hides a harsher shop nearby every city within its limits.

If you doubt this, take a glance at the entrants to date: Pennsylvania male quartet, Brooklyn Adelphians, Critterton of Cleveland, Krickerbocker quartet of Boston, Genesee singers of Rochester, etc., etc.

Under the plans, I am told, the survivors of each night's minor engagement will meet another rival on the following night and thus through seven evenings until someone strangles, or something. Those still alive at the end of two weeks get an engagement on the Keith Circuit or something. Anyway, the losers get their carfare paid home.

JAMES W. DEAN.

Da Vinci and His Work Told of at Art Club

Ven. Archdeacon Crowfoot is Lecturer—Copy of "Last Supper" on Cathedral Here

The members of the Saint John Art Club greatly enjoyed the program of the meeting last night in the Church of England Institute, when Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot, president, gave the life sketch of Leonardo Da Vinci and showed a number of lantern slides of his most famous paintings, including "The Last Supper," the cartoon, "The Head of the Virgin" and the "Mona Lisa."

The audience spent some time in examining a collection of the Medici reproductions of old Italian pictures, loaned by Archdeacon Crowfoot and Dr. H. A. Powell, K. C., and an exhibit of Miss Margaret Tarrant's, originally designed Christmas cards. Miss Ryan contributed piano solos and Stewart Smith sang.

W. Shives Fisher, honorary president was the chairman and extended to Archdeacon Crowfoot the hearty appreciation and thanks of the audience. A very large number of new members enrolled last night.

In his biographical sketch of Leonardo Da Vinci, Archdeacon Crowfoot said the famous painter had been born in Florence in 1452, but most of most of his work had been done in Milan. After the capture of Milan by the French he had moved to France, where the Emperor Francis was a very kind patron.

"LAST SUPPER" FAMOUS WORK. When showing the slides the lecturer dwelt especially upon the picture of

King Cole TEA FILL OF QUALITY "Just like the flavor"

"The Last Supper" which is now in Milan and is conceded to be one of the world's most famous masterpieces, and which is reproduced in the carving on the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Saint John. He explained the problems which confronted the artist when he was attempting that masterpiece and how he overcame them, drew special attention to the grouping of the figures and the marvellous painting of the hands. He also pointed out how the artist had shown the reaction of the several Apostles to the Master's statement regarding the traitor, giving evidence of the different characteristics of them.

One slide shown was a picture of a cartoon which is one of the most precious art treasures of the British nation. Leonardo Da Vinci's "Head of the Virgin." When showing the pictures of the "Mona Lisa" Archdeacon Crowfoot said this painting had been called the most beautiful portrait ever painted and had also been said to be the supreme expression in art of the eternal mystery of womanhood.

W. A. HAS MEETING

Plans Made For Sending Christmas Boxes to the Needy

The W. A. of St. Jude's church met on Wednesday afternoon in the W. A. room with a large attendance of members. Mrs. W. L. Penion, president, was in the chair and was assisted in conducting the devotions by Mrs. T. A. Linton. The meeting appointed Mrs. J. William Hart as convener for the study of the book, "The Clash of Color" to be studied this winter. Plans were made for sending the usual Christmas boxes to the needy of the parish and cards and flowers to sick and shut-in members. A committee was appointed to raise the cushions at the altar rail for next Sunday. Reports of the various departments of the branch's work were most satisfactory. The treasurer, Mrs. Frank Tilton, reported a creditable balance on hand. The branch decided to contribute to the memorial fund for the late Mrs. George P. Smith.

C. Alloway, of the Bank of Montreal staff, holder of ticket No. 4872, was announced as the lucky winner of the Chesterfield suite, first prize of the drawings of the G. W. V. A. fair. The drawings took place last night and were conducted by Mrs. O. S. Dykeman and Mrs. C. T. Green, members of Loyalist Temple, Epsilon Slaves, in the G. W. V. A. assembly hall.

The second prize, a hope chest, was won by W. Thorne, 108 Acadia street, holder of ticket No. 2472.

The third prize, a floor lamp, was won by ticket No. 2998 and was unclaimed last night. The holders of the tickets can receive their prizes by presenting the same at the office of the G. W. V. A. in Wellington Row.

HADASSAH CIRCLE HEARS FINE REPORT

The Hadassah Chapter Sewing Circle held a very interesting meeting on Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. M. Serecky, 714 Main street. Mrs. J. Goldman was in the chair and there was an unusually large attendance. A financial assistance given by the Chapter towards the erection of a conservatory of music in Palestine in memory of the fallen heroes of the late world war. The letter came from the Jewish War Veterans' organization of New York and Montreal.

A very minutely descriptive report of the convention of the World's International Zionist organization, held in Vienna during the summer, was read by Mrs. A. S. Hart and was the special feature of the evening. Later cards were played and dainty refreshments were served. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the hostess. The circle will not meet again until after the New Year.

INVESTITURE HELD

The investiture of 23 of the Wolf Cubs of the recently organized St. George's pack, No. 21, was conducted last night by L. L. Johnston, assistant commissioner for Wolf Cubs, and 39 of the members of the pack were present as well as many of the parents and a good representation of Scouts. Special visitors were the Wolf Cub of St. John's (Stone) church pack with their Cub Master, Rev. G. B. Moore. The Stone church cubs gave a fine demonstration of their talent in rendering the grand howl.

Social Notes of Interest

Mrs. G. Wilford Campbell and her daughter, Mrs. H. O. Evans, were the joint hostesses at one of the most joyous and largely attended teas of the season at Mrs. Campbell's residence, 29 Lennox street, yesterday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock. Rose shaded lights and a profusion of American beauty roses in the drawing room and library made an attractive setting for the pleasant event. In receiving their guests Mrs. Campbell wore a lovely gown of grey georgette beaded in steel over powder blue and Mrs. Evans, a French model of sea spray georgette, embroidered with rose work. Mrs. James Pennington conducted the guests to the dining room, where the beautifully appointed table, with its silver and crystal candelabrum of antique design, containing yellow candles. Yellow candelsticks cast a subdued light over the delicious confections. Long stemmed chrysanthemums were used for decoration in the dining room and halls, in combination with parchment shaded lights. Mrs. John MacKinnon and Mrs. Harold G. Clarke were hostesses and were assisted by Mrs. Moffatt Bell, Mrs. Howard P. Robinson, Mrs. Neil McLean, Mrs. Norman Manson, Mrs. General Foster, Mrs. Arthur Carter, Mrs. Kenneth Golding, Mrs. Hugh McLean and Miss Edith Withers. Mrs. L. Peterson, in a smock of pale pink silk, assisted at the door. Upwards of two hundred guests enjoyed the hospitality of the hostesses.

Mrs. Henry W. Wilson, 168 King street east, who entertained at bridge Tuesday evening, was again the hostess at a pleasant event on Wednesday evening. Red geraniums were effectively used in the decoration of the room. The winners of the dainty prizes were Mrs. Kenneth Spear and Mrs. Frank Macneil.

Mrs. Andrew West Murray entertained a few friends very informally at bridge last evening at her apartment, 147 Union street, in honor of Mrs. In the near future for Boston to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wilson entertained on Tuesday evening at a bridge of six tables at their residence, King street east. Scarlet geraniums were nicely arranged in the drawing room as decorations. The prize winners were Mrs. John Earle, Mrs. LeRoy H. Sandall, Mr. F. W. Fowler and Mr. J. B. Hamm. The guests were Mrs. J. H. Marr, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Earle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Smyth, Mr. and Mrs. R. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Mahum, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hamm, Mr. and Mrs. L. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy H. Sandall and Mr. and Mrs. E. Palmer Kinsman.

Mrs. C. W. Dickinson's many friends will be sorry to hear that she has received the sad news of the death of her sister, Miss Pannie Deakin, at Newton, Mass. Mrs. LeRoy King left last evening for Newton to bring the remains to Benton, Carleton county, for burial on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. John C. Bradley, of Syracuse, N. Y., arrived in the city yesterday to spend Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Ernest Fairweather, Princess street.

Mrs. John W. McKean gave a very enjoyable bridge at her residence, Germain street, yesterday afternoon. The drawing room was artistically arranged with decorations of mauve chrysanthemums. Prizes for the highest scores were won by Mrs. W. B. Tennant and Mrs. Robert F. Cowan. At the tea hour Mrs. Walter Gilbert presided over the prettily arranged table which was centred with a crystal vase of pink roses. Mrs. McKean is entertaining again this afternoon and also on Monday afternoon at bridge.

Senator and Mrs. F. B. Black, of Sackville, were in the city last night at the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

Mrs. Hammond J. Evans, Duke street, entertained about twenty of the friends of her mother, Mrs. Edwin Stewart, at a sewing party yesterday afternoon in honor of her 94th birthday. At the tea hour the prettily arranged table was centred with a birthday cake and a bouquet of old fashioned flowers and was presided over by Mrs. Stephen S. McAvity. During the afternoon a program was much enjoyed by the guests and included old English carols with Miss Frances Campbell as accompanist and solos by Miss Florence Warwick and Miss Dorothy Evans. annual meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms with a large number present. Although a young organization the branch looked back on a year of successful endeavor.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Rev. J. S. Bonnell; vice-president, Lt.-Col. Alexander McMillan; secretary, Mrs. D. V. White; treasurer, Miss F. Alward; additional members of the executive, Judge Henderson, Mrs. Heber Vroom, Mrs. J. H. Doody, Mrs. Fred Daniel, Rotheay, Mrs. J. Goldman, Ven. Archdeacon, A. H. Crowfoot, Judge H. O. McInerney, K. C., J. Hunter White, Dr. James Manning and George Hudson.

SECRETARY'S REPORT. Mrs. D. V. White, secretary, in her review of the year's activities, reminded the members that the League of Nations Society, in Canada existed to vitally interest the people of this country in the League of Nations. It had been said that statesmen of the world had given the covenant of the League but it remained with public opinion to give the people the League.

As the Canadian society hoped to have 100,000 members enrolled the Saint John society called a meeting of representatives of various organizations and these undertook to recruit from their own members, members for the local League of Nations Society. Corporate membership was taken by the G. W. V. A., Hadassah, Women's Canadian Club, St. George's Society, Women's University Club, Women's Institute and the local Red Cross Society.

REFERENCE TO ADDRESSES. Mrs. White's report referred also to Sir George E. Foster's second address in Saint John for the League of Nations Society, given in Centenary church, making the third speaker brought to Saint John by the society in a little over a year. The next speaker the society will bring would Prof. H. C. Mercer, of Dalhousie, who is to be heard on Dec. 21. Mrs. White also reported that she had spoken to various city organizations and in Fredericton and Moncton in the interests of the League.

PUBLIC SUPPORT NEEDED. Mrs. White felt that the Saint John society needed public support and pointed out that there had been organization for war and there should be organization for peace. She referred to the recent events which had upheld the League in the eyes of the world, the cessation of hostilities between Greece and Bulgaria at the command of the League and the signing of the peace pact of Locarno by seven nations. Since it was said by those in a position to judge that reconstruction after another great war would be impossible, Mrs. White declared that it was the plain duty of everyone to support the League which was the only solution of the problem of finding a peaceful means of settling national disputes that had been worked out.

MEETINGS HELD. During the year three general meetings, seven executive meetings, two meetings of the lecture committee and two meetings with other organizations were held.

Arrangements for Professor Mercer's visit were completed. He had been in Geneva throughout the summer studying the League and has a special commission to give out information. Members of the society were asked to attend the debate between the Saint John team and the Imperial team to be held in Saint John in January when the resolution will be "Resolved that the Geneva Protocol is worthy of consideration by Great Britain and the Dominions."

TO SPEAK HERE. Judge McInerney invited the members to attend the address on the League of Nations that will be given next Tuesday by Peter Hughes, K. C., of Fredericton, for the Holy Name Society of Holy Trinity church.

Notes Signs of Step in Right Direction From Higher Prices Received for Crops; Reviews Body's Achievements in Annual Report

PORT CAMPAIGN RESULTS ARE GIVEN

Scandlers Urges Revival in Agriculture, and Asks Business Men to Get Behind Move for Farming and Stock-Raising Restoration Throughout Province

DECLARING that all signs pointed to the breaking of the back of the present depression, and reviewing the progress made by the Board of Trade during the last year towards the solution of many civic, provincial and Maritime problems, L. W. Simms, president of the Board, asserted that those at the head of the movements were not yet satisfied and would not be until far greater steps had been made towards the fulfilment of the destiny of this part of the country, in presenting his report at the annual meeting of that body last evening.

F. MacLure Scandlers, commissioner of the Board, in urging a great awakening of interest in agriculture, gave a list of the large quantities of foodstuffs for the growth of which New Brunswick was particularly adapted but for which the people were forced to go to outside producing centers. The business men of the province should get behind a revival of interest in farming and stock-raising, he said, and prosperity would follow.

NEW SIGNS SEEN

Mr. Simms said in his address that he saw signs of a step in the right direction in the good prices being received for crops here and in the West, but declared that the Maritime co-operative consciousness awakened was of still greater significance here.

He reviewed the enlargement of the program and facilities of the Saint John Board and outlined the things accomplished by the body. He referred to the marine insurance question, he said they had been instrumental in having some of the discrimination against Saint John removed, but would not be satisfied until it was entirely wiped out. The port campaign and the increase in the winter shipping were spoken of as well as the larger steamship schedule to the West Indies. The work in staving off the threatened curtailment of the C. N. R. service out of Saint John was mentioned as well as the preparation of the Maritime freight rate by F. C. Cornell.

He reviewed the conference held and delegations sent to interview the Government and officials with the Government. Mr. Simms closed with an appeal to the members to get behind the commissioner and officers to make the work still more successful.

POTENTIALLY RICH

Mr. Scandlers declared that the province was potentially rich in agricultural possibilities, lumber, minerals and fish and that nothing but a concerted industry was needed to make it actually prosperous. He spoke of the products of the province that were in great demand in all parts of the world and advised the business men to get behind agriculture as the one sure means of producing wealth.

Standardization and quantity production were the great needs in reaching out to the world markets.

He reviewed the implementation situation so far as it affected New Brunswick and declared that far better organization was needed to handle this question profitably.

The people should get away from their negative attitude of mind, he said, and forget the bitterness of accumulated disappointments under Confederation.

J. D. McKenna told of the campaign for the interests of the Maritime Provinces by The Telegraph-Journal and Times-Star and of the work accomplished.

MR. SIMMS REPORT

Mr. Simms gave his annual report as follows: "Fortunate is the head of any government whose advent to power coincides with the beginning of a new period of prosperity. No matter how quietless he may be, he is bound to influence the causes that bring the beneficent effect of good times, he may safely bank in the sunshine of reflection. "Your president in our smaller sphere has been in a similarly fortunate position, not perhaps so much from the fact that he has been so much referred to in this report, but because a number of causes have contributed to a background or atmosphere without which it would not have been possible to bring to you the evidence of greater promise and even already realized progress that it has been the lot of our board to experience for many years.

DEPRESSION LIFTING

"Beginning with a growing hope of better times, our year closes with tangible evidence that at last the back of the long spell of depression is really breaking. Not only our western crops but our own potatoes are bringing unprecedented buying power to thousands of our population and signs of hopeful awakening are evident in not a few leading industries. "But here in the Maritime Provinces, a phenomenon of more far-reaching significance than even good crops or reviving industry has been the new spirit of determination which is arousing a new faith that the needs of Maritime opportunity are really ripe for the harvest for her sons, who will dare and do.

"From the mass of data concerning our year's manifold activities, I have found it most difficult to lay aside the relatively unimportant from embolism in this report, but I have made no attempt to arrange the remainder in the order of their relative importance. If I have erred on the part of fullness of detail, it is because of a conviction

Dail Approves Boundary Pact After Four Days' Debate

High Spots In Addresses

MR. SIMMS' ADDRESS

"Our year closes with tangible evidence that at last the back of the long spell of depression is really breaking. Here in the Maritime Provinces, a phenomenon of more far-reaching significance than even good crops or reviving industry, has been the new spirit of determination which is generating a new hope.

"One might as well claim that there were not enough stops and keys in a pipe organ to provide harmony, as to claim that there are no bright prospects ahead for the Maritimes, nor any openings here for virile, courageous and soundly ambitious young men.

"Possibly a false conception of the goods most to be sought after as yielding the most worthwhile rewards in life has been responsible for the trek of many to distant parts, who have frequently failed to arrive at any desirable haven in years of wandering. "Our Empire would never have grown to greatness, nor our forefathers have pioneered in the new world wilderness if beds of ease and luxuries of life had been even a minor factor in their decisions."

MR. SCLANDERS' SPEECH

"This province is potentially great and human efforts alone can make it materially so. "There are no insuperable problems before the people. "Agriculture is the basis of wealth. Providence has piped to us, but we have not danced.

"New Brunswick should be the Denmark of Canada. "The authorities would not know what to do if 20 immigrants should arrive in Saint John at one time. "The people should get rid of their negative attitude towards their own province and become imbued with a sane optimism."

"No one on our council for years who had the political and business acumen and intelligent grasp of all the affairs coming within the purview of her loyal service. Her independence was, however, her strength. Her estimate value stands out so clearly in the light of this experience that arrangements have been made with the Fenell Cemetery Association, who shared her services, which will give us further relief in the future. Her health will admit of her return to the province. "Space will not permit of my naming all of the chairmen of our various committees and their members, but I am sure that the Council, who have given such fine, unselfish service. Without this hearty co-operation on the part of the public, we could not have made the progress we have made and hope to make would be possible.

"Marine Insurance—Towards removing the marine insurance handicap of the Port of Saint John, a very large sum is being raised. It is prepared by the committee under Mr. H. C. Schofield towards the Marine Insurance Board. It is promised to include necessary transportation improvements in his next report. It is a very important matter. We have written him recently, urging that this project be put on the list of the most materialized, without further delay. "Train Services—Several attempts have been made to secure a permanent curtailment of the Halifax-Saint John service. It has been successfully opposed. These included the proposal to remove the train from the point of origin, to be replaced by a bus, and to make a considerable reduction of the winter schedule, before the case in the industrial section of the Board is the opinion that the suburban service has been curtailed to a point where it is no longer a service. It has determined to strenuously oppose all further efforts to that end. "Canadian National—The Canadian National Railway has been determined to strenuously oppose all further efforts to that end. "Maritime Freight Rate Case—The Maritime Freight Rate Case is being handled by the Maritime Freight Rate Commission. It is a very important matter. We have written the Maritime Freight Rate Commission, urging that this project be put on the list of the most materialized, without further delay.

"Harbor Problem—While this highly important matter has been receiving the careful thought and attention of the Board, it is in a sense, had to take second place to the more urgent demand of the Board for the Maritime Provinces. However, it is the intention of the Board to deal with this matter as soon as its entire energy upon the satisfactory and final solution of this long standing problem. There are no insuperable difficulties towards the desired end.

"Port Campaign.—"Another strong and constant effort of the Board has been for the reviving of Canadian goods over Canadian railways and through Canadian ports. In this effort, the Board most gratefully acknowledges the splendid public spirited work done by the New Brunswick Publishing Co. and its very able and enthusiastic ambassador, Mr. A. M. Belding. Already this effort is producing definitely encouraging fruit.

INCREASING STEAMSHIP SERVICE

"To this end the Board has put forward particularly strong efforts and as you will have noticed from time to time in the press, there will this year be a very marked increase in the number of sailings from our port and in the number of foreign points served thereby. In this direction the work of Mr. Belding has been invaluable. A special tribute is also due to Mr. H. C. Schofield, chairman of the Port Interests Committee. From every indication, local port facilities are likely to be taxed to the utmost this season—a circumstance which will help to impress the urgency of further port development upon the authorities so that we may keep well ahead of requirements. In the meantime, we are under equipped. This circumstance is

Plane Takes Off From Dirigible

For the first time in history an airplane was launched from a dirigible. The test was almost successfully completed by Lieutenant Lis Hagg, Head of the upper picture he is seen getting into the cockpit of his D-13 monoplane which was attached to the R-33. In the lower picture the plane can be seen soaring ahead of the big ship. He succeeded in attaching his plane to the dirigible again. The nose and propeller of the monoplane were damaged in the test, which took place 3,000 feet above Putnam, New Brunswick.

status of the Maritimes in the Dominion. "Transportation. "The last named subject was left with the freight rate expert. Findings on the other three matters were to be submitted to the Charlottetown and the 4th and 5th of November and the necessary resolutions prepared for submission to Winnipeg.

"At Charlottetown, your Board was privileged to play a vital and conspicuous part. It is due to Mr. A. F. Blake of our Board for his industrial report, a most intelligent effort and the only one submitted. Also, to Mr. W. F. Burdett for his splendid investigation into the matter of possible economic readjustment.

"The matter of cheap transportation rates to our legitimate market, however, is vital, and this on to trifling adjustment basis, but to whatever extent and on a basis of Government aid, whatever degree that can be demonstrated as necessary to the life of our industries here in the Maritime Provinces.

"The matter of cheap transportation rates to our legitimate market, however, is vital, and this on to trifling adjustment basis, but to whatever extent and on a basis of Government aid, whatever degree that can be demonstrated as necessary to the life of our industries here in the Maritime Provinces.

WINNIPEG CONFERENCE

The reports of the recent Winnipeg conference were very full and are doubtless still fresh in your memory. We found the rest of Canada sympathetically disposed and entirely convinced of the reality and seriousness of our grievances and handicaps. To my mind, nothing short of an artificial wiping out of three to four million dollars from the national budget, and a corresponding increase in the national debt, would be adequate to meet the situation.

"The St. Croix Soap Works, now owned by Lever Bros. concern, has recently lost much of its trade in Eastern Ontario, to their Toronto factory. It is reported that the plant at Montreal would save them the entire value of their investment in building the plant in Montreal. The Montreal factory is being sold to the Robb Engineering Works of Amherst recently sold Mr. W. F. Fisher that unless some drastic readjustment of the transportation rates from and to the Maritime Provinces was forthcoming very soon, they must permanently close down this fine industry at Amherst. These are only three grave examples of the many instances in which disaster has already occurred.

"We all recognize that a reasonable standard of efficiency must prevail in production, in agriculture and industry, that a high standard of quality must be maintained, and that intelligent marketing policies must be pursued. These things depend on ourselves and this Board can and I believe will do much in the days lying just ahead to furnish constructive inspiration and leadership along these lines. But, if after all these things obtained, conditions growing out of our geographical situation under Confederation, prevent a reasonable margin of profit from being realized from these enterprises, no new capital is available for replacement let alone for expansion and retrogression is inevitable.

"It is evident, therefore, that the matter of drastic reform in transportation rates is absolutely vital to our common welfare and that with a clear recognition of this in mind, we must brook no trifling evasion of this issue at Ottawa, but must unite in this Maritime Provinces to command immediate and adequate redress.

EXPORT TRADE

"In striving to secure freight rates, enabling entry into Upper Canada and the West, we must not lose sight of the strategic advantage in location we enjoy in relation to world markets and prepare to take full advantage of same. Mr. W. S. Fisher is taking a keen interest in possible organized effort, looking toward this end.

"In the meantime, every trade enquiry received by our Board, and there are very many of them, is immediately dispatched to local parties likely to be interested. This service has been productive and is much appreciated.

FLOUR MILL PROJECT

"Other subjects engaging the persistent attention of our commission and our industrial committee are the possible establishment of a Flour Mill here, which in spite of the difficulties which seem to lie in the way, offers such advantages to our dairying industries in the way of cheaper feed, as to warrant our continuing interest in it.

NIGHT SESSION WAS WERTED; VOTE, 71 TO 20

Cosgrave Declares Opponents of Agreement Aim at Ulster Coercion

PRESIDENT CHEERED AS VOTE ANNOUNCED

Declares Free State for First Time Has Good Will of Ulster

DUBLIN, Dec. 11.—After a four day's debate the Dail last night approved the London agreement on the Irish boundary, 71 to 20. In view of the previous indecisive discussions and adjournments, President Cosgrave announced that the house must sit until a decision was reached and an all-night sitting was threatened, but was averted. President Cosgrave said the policy of all the political leaders in the past 4 years had been that there had been no coercion of Ulster. But the opponents of London agreement were abandoning that policy; they wanted to coerce Ulster, while not calling it coercion.

REPUBLICAN POLICY

The Republican policy, said Mr. Cosgrave at the time of the treaty was exactly the same regarding Ulster as the Government. An appeal to the League of Nations was possible and might be successful, and if the House defeated the agreement and the Free State was still open to the Government's successors. So was a counter-claim under Article 5 of the Anglo-Irish treaty. The President contended that the Government had secured for the first time the good will of Northern Ireland. The Government had made the best case it could. It had met an honest, just and generous people and set forth the instability of the Free State to pay proportionate payment of the British national debt. All the Free State was asked to pay now was £2,000,000 at 4 1/2 per cent. to cover interest and sinking fund. President Cosgrave's speech was warmly applauded, and the division when announced was also cheered.

FAMILY FLEES HOME IN NIGHT CLOTHES

Bridgetown House and Contents Destroyed by Fire—Baby Murder Case Postponed

NEWCASTLE, DEC. 11.—Fire in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Bridgetown about 4 o'clock this morning, completely destroyed the house and all its contents. The fire started in the night with such intensity that the family were obliged to flee in their night clothes. Owing to the fact that the fire department did not respond, Mr. Morrison is proprietor of the fire insurance company. If he has any insurance.

HEARING SET OVER

The hearing in the case of Francis Muck, who is accused of murdering a female infant which was found dead in the Blenheim Hotel on October 2, was postponed. J. A. Creghan, counsel for the defense, is in Saint John. The hearing will be resumed on Tuesday.

DIES IN EFFORT TO SAIL AROUND GLOBE

Maine Canoeist's Body Found on Shore of Chesapeake Bay

BANGOR, Me., Dec. 11.—The bold attempt of a daring sailor to circumnavigate the globe by canoe has failed. With the discovery of the body of Rudolph P. Roehle on the shore of Chesapeake Bay, the attempt ended a voyage which started at Brewer, near here, on October 16, and which his planner had hoped would bring him to the principal countries of the world on a trip which was to have covered 60,000 miles and taken three years. Three times before Roehle had circled the Horn, but in larger craft. Once he had sailed from Valparaiso to Buenos Ayres with a single companion in a 20-foot dory. A trip the length of the Mississippi River had brought gusty expenses of the Great Lakes in safety. Eagerly he looked forward to what was to be his crowning achievement. He planned to hug the shores of the Western Hemisphere to South America, where he would strike out for Africa. After skirting the Moroccan coast he would cross to Spain and thence to England, France and his native country, Germany, and then through the Mediterranean to the Suez Canal, the Red Sea and the Indian Ocean.

Convict Loses Case As His Own Lawyer

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 11.—George Kammerer, convict, who argued his own case last week before the Court of Appeals, lost his fight to obtain a writ of habeas corpus when the court denied his petition. Kammerer was a law while a prisoner at Blackwell's Island. In 1923 he pleaded guilty to forgery and was sentenced to an indeterminate term of two years and three months to four years. When he entered this plea he believed it nullified an indictment charging grand larceny.

COLORED CONCRETE HOUSES PROPOSED

London Architect Would Remove Objectionable Feature of Monotony

LONDON, Dec. 11.—G. Topham Forrest, architect to the London County Council, speaking at the Council's School of Building, said that the Council has decided to build concrete houses in a variety of pleasing colors, similar to those of brick and natural stones, on their estates. He said objection had been raised to concrete houses on the ground that there was something very monotonous in a long series of dingy grey concrete houses, but it was now possible to obtain Portland cement manufactured in various colors, and, in his opinion, it was practicable to introduce variety into the appearance of the rough-hewn houses by using these cements. White Portland cement was also procurable, and by the intermixing of houses faced with white, buff, brown and red a quite agreeable effect could be obtained.

N. B. MAN IS KILLED

Dies From Bullet Fired at Fleeing Bandit by Chicago Police

MONCTON, Dec. 10.—To be the victim of a policeman's bullet fired at another man was the tragic fate that befell Andre Richard, a native of Coleraine, Ontario, who was shot by Chicago police three weeks ago, according to telegraphic advice reaching his relatives here.

Simms Sees Back of Present Commercial Depression Broken and Significance In Maritime Consciousness Awakening

The Board is equipped to supply all information with regard to foreign tariff, documents, etc., and the demand for such information has recently increased most hopefully.

WEST INDIES AGREEMENT.

Our Board is alive to the importance of West Indian trade. Our committee in connection with the trade agreement did splendid work under the leadership of Mr. A. F. Blake; our views being submitted to the Dominion Government at their request. We had the pleasure of entertaining the West Indies delegates on the 12th to 17th of June. Some of our local industries are doing well in this field.

AGRICULTURE.

Mr. Sclanders has compiled some very startling figures indicating the enormous extent to which we produce farm products, which our own soil and climate are particularly adapted to produce. He also has shown the marked advantage in freight cost alone in dairying and meat products in the British market over the Prairie provinces which are successfully exploiting same.

Mr. Sclanders was markedly successful in the Board's efforts in organizing practical co-operation with the contiguous agricultural interests and feels that perhaps our greatest opportunities for generating prosperity in New Brunswick is by furnishing inspiration and leadership in this field.

The problem of immigration is closely allied with that of agriculture. The complete absence of organized effort in our province is a condition that must be corrected. Here again our board has a great opportunity for service.

The subject of minerals has also had considerable attention by the board's industrial commission, in which Dr. McIntosh gave valuable advice and guidance. Recent geological surveys indicate possibilities far beyond anything we have imagined. Mr. Sclanders has some constructive suggestions for the board's consideration during the coming year.

TOURIST EFFORT.

The State of Maine estimated the income from this source to be worth between $85,000,000 and $90,000,000 to them last year. New Brunswick has been blessed by nature with riches in scenery far beyond anything Maine can boast of. The encouraging increase in tourists during this year is but a small fraction of its possibilities. As a result of several meetings it is certain that next year on a real basis for effective work; ensuring the realization of adequate resources to meet this great opportunity. Colonel Massey has been acting for the board in these matters.

PUBLICITY.

In spite of absence of suitable local publicity matter, a lack that we are arranging to take care of, much valuable publicity has been secured at small cost through the medium of articles in newspapers, magazines, etc., full advantage having been taken of these opportunities. There is still a surprising ignorance as to even our very location. Never, however, has the location been so much invariable publicity given us as the present Maritime effort has engendered. The whole country has awakened to Maritime existence.

Among other matters having the attention of the board were a discriminatory sales tax on canned fish, co-operation with the Commercial Protective Association and stampage reduction for the lumbermen.

LOSS FROM EMIGRATION.

Perhaps it is not always a loss when young people merely seeking the glimmer of gay lights in great cities and large pay for little labor, leave us for distant green fields. But it is a terrible loss when young men with sincere ambition to be of real service in life, feel they must turn their backs regretfully on these provinces and their contributions elsewhere. Possibly some have failed to see opportunities that lay to hand where others have remained and succeeded. If so, our best citizens must help to develop these resources and point the way to a worthwhile stake in our home land.

Possibly a false conception of the goals most to be sought after is yielding the most worthwhile rewards in life has been responsible for the trend of many to distant parts who have frequently failed to arrive at any desirable haven in years of wandering. Here again, may not there be a challenge to us to engender a new loyalty to this marvelous country of ours, a new appreciation of the wondrous heritage God has given us and that here amidst our beautiful rivers and hills, lakes and valleys, a man and his mate may have unfolded to them in a setting unsurpassed, the deep meaning of the truth that life consists not in the things a man possesses.

Our Empire would never have grown to greatness, nor our forefathers have pioneered in the New World, without the luxury of ease and the luxuries of life had been even a minor factor in their decisions. On the other hand, rugged devotion to lives of blind drudgery is both unnecessary in this land and a positive menace to prospective immigration.

BROAD VISION OF SERVICE.

Possibly the most significant factor in the year's exceptional activities of our board has been the new emphasis on a truth but dimly recognized heretofore, that we cannot even serve our own civic interests well unless we are possessed with a broad vision of service, as an inalienable part of our purpose and of our great Dominion.

When your president brought back his recommendations to you from Windsor, Ont., despite the fact that he was so well fortified with information and enthusiasm from prominent people, he was not at all blind to the particular responsibility he was assuming in case you encountered disappointment. Our members' recommendations to us were based on the premise that no ac-

Captain Calls Bay of Fundy And This Port Easy To Enter

THE Cunard Line steamship Verania arrived in port yesterday morning from London and opened the London-Saint John service for the 1925-26 season. The ship is docked at No. 1 berth, Sand Point and is consigned to Robert Reford Company.

The Verania is in command of Captain Wray, who is making his first voyage to this port and, uncollected, was outspoken in giving a real boost for the Bay of Fundy and the Port of Saint John. Captain Wray said that he had made a good voyage from London despite some heavy head winds and seas. Captain Wray further stated that he had heard that the Bay of Fundy and the Port of Saint John were hard to enter but he was now satisfied that such information had been wrong and, although he experienced some bad weather coming up the Bay on Wednesday night, he was agreeably impressed with the easy manner he experienced in bringing his ship to Partridge Island and then into port, and he considered Saint John far superior in regard to safe navigation over very many other ports that he has been obliged to enter during his time as a navigator. The Verania will lead general cargo and is expected to sail for London direct on Wednesday next.

It is taken unless you were prepared to have faith and patience to wait three years for tangible results. Our troubles were chronic and such ill effects yield easily to treatment. It seemed too much to expect that a few months would furnish any certain index as to the wisdom of our choice.

Imagine, therefore, the keen sense of satisfaction that was mine, while still realizing that the fringe has but been touched, in watching Mr. Sclanders impart an ever-growing new faith and hope and purposefulness to our council as new facts were brought to light and new possibilities unfolded before us, then to observe it slowly but surely permeating other members of our board, community and province. Then, to note the fine service rendered at Moncton and Charlottetown and Winnipeg, and in the latter place to note the enterprise and prestige that, possessing in so many important quarters, he so effectively transmitted to our board, as he imparted his enthusiastic admiration for and faith in the Maritime Provinces to his many acquaintances. A prominent member of his former board expressed it in my hearing, "Why you're where you should have been all along anyway" and turning to me, "His name would stop talking of the women of that province of yours down there."

CO-OPERATION OF MEMBERS. "But even a man like F. MacInnes Sclanders can accomplish little by himself and we are learning how much store he sets on the hearty co-operation of our members.

"A year ago I accepted this position, keenly appreciative of the honor you so persistently proffered but with serious misgivings as to my capacity to render an acceptable service in the face of a rather heavy responsibility. Never was a hearty assurance of support more magnificently carried out than that furnished me by our vice-president and council. I am deeply appreciative of your patience, kindness and renewed evidence of confidence. It is a high privilege of which any man might be proud to be entrusted with the leadership of such a body of men, backed by such a staff, for another year. I confidently look forward to a record of worthwhile accomplishment in 1925 and surpassed in any year of our upwards of a century of endeavor."

CALLS SPLENDID RECORD. A. R. Wetmore, in moving the acceptance of the report, declared that it was a splendid record of what had been accomplished and what it was hoped to accomplish in the future. W. F. Burdett seconded and endorsed the motion.

The financial report was read by A. L. Foster, chairman of the finance committee, in the absence of the treasurer. It was in part as follows: "As chairman of the finance committee, I have granted leave of absence to Miss Magee and as such submit the report of receipts and expenditures for the year ending Nov. 14, 1925, attached hereto, together with particulars of the building account and the auditors' report.

"The statement reveals that we have absorbed $4,000 of the $5,000 carried over from previous years and invested in bonds. One thousand of this was used for general expenses the first of the year and $3,000 to pay H. E. Armstrong a cash gratuity on his retirement. "I estimate that the requirements of your Board for the coming year will be about $18,000 to cover bare necessities. To meet this we have individual subscriptions of $11,000, as well as the same amount for the following year, which with the usual amount of $4,000 for memberships would make up this amount.

"For the Board to function to its full capacity and efficiency, it should have its funds augmented to some extent and I suggest to the incoming Council that they give early consideration to the best methods of bringing this about either by a canvass for a much fuller and more individual membership or personal subscriptions."

FINANCIAL STATEMENT. Following is statement of receipts and expenditures for the year ending Nov. 14, 1925:

Table with columns: Receipts, Expenditure. Items include Balance forward 1924, cash and bonds, Interest account, Membership fees, General subscription, Special receipts, Rent received from tenants in building, Operation of building, Subscriptions to periodicals, Salaries, R. E. Armstrong, M. O. Magee, F. McC. Sclanders, Staff, Postage and revenue, General expenses, Office furnishing, Repairs to office, Typewriters purchased, Insurance, Travelling expenses, Club dues, Other dues, Telegrams and Td., Entertainment, Printing and stationery, Sundries, Exchange, Balance Bank of Nova Scotia, Balance cash on hand and Bond.

Table with columns: Receipts, Expenditure. Items include Memo of Building Account, Total expenditures for year, Rent received from tenants, Net cost of operation, Liou-Colonel A. E. Massey, D.S.O., Moved the acceptance of the report, MR. SCLENDERS SPEAKS, F. MacInnes Sclanders, commissioner of the Board, in opening his remarks, declared that his coming here had been the attainment of a long ambition. It was not merely the beauty of the country or the charm of the people which attracted him; there was also his belief in the inherent greatness of New Brunswick.

The province was potentially great and human efforts alone could make it materially so. He thanked the members for their support and declared that the co-operation afforded him had been greater than any he had experienced before coming here. If he failed in his work it would be his own fault, he declared.

There were no insuperable problems before the people. "There is no question that the province possesses all the possibilities of intense prosperity," he asserted.

AGRICULTURE IS THE BASIS OF WEALTH. "What is New Brunswick doing?" he asked. The province imported 3,323,298 dozen eggs, 346,229 pounds of cheese, 1,460,000 pounds of butter, 2,100,000 pounds of oatmeal, 333,000 barrels of flour, 115,000 cans of fruit and vegetables, 5,350,000 pounds of meats and 187,000 worth of poultry in a year.

THE AVERAGE PRODUCTION OF VEGETABLES IN THE PROVINCE WAS $1.95 WORTH PER CAPITA OF POPULATION AND, OF THIS AMOUNT, THE FARMER CONSUMED ABOUT 75 PER CENT. IN ADDITION, THE NUMBER OF PURE BRED STOCK WAS VERY SMALL IN PROPORTION TO THE AMOUNT OF LIVESTOCK KEPT.

DEPARTED AREAS INCREASE. During the last ten years, the speaker continued, the areas of deserted farms had increased 423 square miles. If the province were merely raising enough agriculture products to feed itself, agriculture would be prosperous and business would prosper along with it. This would keep the young people at home and would attract immigration to the province.

HE POINTED TO THE CASE OF SASKATCHEWAN, WHERE THE FARMERS WERE GETTING ONLY ABOUT 32 CENTS A POUND FOR THEIR BUTTER FAT COMPARED TO 42 TO 47 CENTS A POUND IN NEW BRUNSWICK. TEN YEARS AGO IT HAD BEEN ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO GET A DRINK OF MILK IN SASKATCHEWAN AND LAST YEAR THEY HAD PRODUCED 38,000,000 POUNDS OF BUTTER.

NEW BRUNSWICK SHOULD BE THE MARK OF CANADA, THE SPEAKER DECLARED. IT HAD ALL THE ADVANTAGES TO BE ASKED FOR WITH THE ADDITION OF A SHORT HAUL TO THE SEABOARD.

ADVANTAGE TO FARMER. In regard to beef cattle, he declared that the banks of the Saint John river were dotted with steers ten years ago and that today they were few and far between. He spoke of the cost of $15 to ship a steer to Saint John from the west and of the attitude of the rest of Canada to the Maritimes than to advertise these provinces. They had explained what they had hoped for from Confederation and what they had not received. As a result, the people of Canada and the press of Canada were now behind the Maritimes.

He agreed with Mr. Sclanders that nothing would put the Maritime Provinces on their feet more quickly than the commonsense development of agriculture.

He believed that a great deal had been accomplished at the Winnipeg conference and thought this was evidenced by the fact that the resolutions advanced had met unanimous support.

While the Maritimes were being told they were always asking for something, he would like to remind the others that these provinces had pledged themselves for $476,000,000 for the development of support and declared that the co-operation afforded him had been greater than any he had experienced before coming here. If he failed in his work it would be his own fault, he declared.

SHIPPING MEN OF DOMINION FORM NEW BODY

Will Have Jurisdiction Over Trans-Atlantic Traffic From Canada-U. S. Ports

MAJOR S. A. CURRY IS HEAD OF EXECUTIVE

"Canada Trans-Atlantic Conference" Is Title Adopted

MONTREAL, Dec. 10.—Formation of a new conference by Canadian shipping interests known as the Canadian Trans-Atlantic Conference, has been consummated, announcement to this effect being made tonight by Major P. A. Curry, president of the executive committee of the new organization and general manager in Montreal of the White Star Dominion Steamship Line.

The new conference will have jurisdiction only over Eastbound Canadian and American freight from the St. Lawrence route and Maritime Province ports to United Kingdom and continental ports. It will not have jurisdiction over Westbound freight of cattle, and all passenger traffic will be dealt with from across the Atlantic.

NO ILL-FEELING EXISTS. Although the Canadian body will in no way be connected with existing North Atlantic conferences, Major Curry pointed out that there was no ill-feeling. It would be necessary for the working of the North Atlantic Conference to be studied carefully for the advantage of shippers through Canadian ports. It will be useless for the new conference to quote higher rates than those in force out of United States ports.

NECESSARY TO FORM BODY.

"Through the growing importance of Canada as a maritime nation and of Montreal as its principal port and premier seaboard grain port in the world, it was found necessary for shipping interests here to form an association to deal with rates on commodities passing through the port and other pertinent matters," said Major Curry. "Then again, some bitter criticism was levelled at the Canadian steamship companies during the rates inquiry held in Ottawa during the summer, to the effect that they were being imposed upon by European interests. Through there was no truth in those implications, the suggestion was of which cognizance was taken and it was seen that the Canadian companies could better serve the interests of the Dominion if they united to consider problems that were continually cropping up for solution."

"The conference will welcome all applications made to it by shippers for consideration," concluded Major Curry, "and will be glad to meet representatives of the export trade who have questions to discuss with them."

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The executive committee of the Canadian Trans-Atlantic conference are: Major P. A. Curry, White Star-Dominion Line, chairman; J. W. Nichol, Witley and Company; W. T. Marlow, Canadian Pacific Steamships, Ltd.; W. A. Coates, Robert Reford Company. Members of the conference: The

CHILDREN'S AID FACING DEFICIT

Need $2,000 to Close The Year With The Accounts All Settled

The monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held last night in the Children's Aid Home with the vice-president, Sheriff A. A. Wilson, in the chair. Mr. H. A. Goodwin, who was named one of the committee appointed to consider possible amendments to the Children's Protection Act, reported progress.

K. A. Wilson, the treasurer, read a statement of the financial position of the society, showing that the expenditure to date amount to more than $1,000.

The monthly report of the agent showed that since the last meeting two children had been admitted to the Protestant Orphanage leaving 21 now under the charge of the society, nine of these being compassionate cases. Mrs. W. B. Tennant made a general statement of the preparations which had been made for ensuring a good Christmas for the children.

HOME OPENED 6 YEARS AGO.

The present Children's Aid Home on Grenville street, was opened for its benevolent work on June 23, 1919, and for more than five years has sheltered many of the less fortunate children in the community. Last evening at the children's bedtime a reporter of The Times-Star called at the home and was met by the capable nurse in charge, Mrs. Leth, who for five years has mothered the children under her care.

A request to see the various rooms was cheerfully granted. The general health in the Home is good, as was proved by the rosy cheeks and smiling faces of the children, who were lovingly tucked in their comfortable beds ready for dreams of Santa Claus.

Tomorrow the Saint John Women's Council will make its annual tag day appeal on behalf of these children. The day has always been known as Rosebud Day, and it is hoped that this year's response will far exceed the result of any previous effort.

BOARD FACES DEFICIT.

The board now faces a deficit of $1,488, which by the end of the year

Constipation's warnings show on the face—

Get sure relief with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Thousands have rid their systems of this disease with Kellogg's.

Constipation in your body is like dry-rot in timber. It continually weakens the structure to the point of collapse. Its poisons creeping through your system lead to over forty serious diseases.

Pimples are caused by constipation. So are circles under the eyes, and spots before them. So are hollow cheeks and sallow skin. So is unpleasant breath.

Drive constipation out of your system with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Doctors recommend it—they know

"TWO MONTHS AGO my four-year-old daughter took her first yeast cake. It immediately satisfied a craving for something that her food did not contain. Her vitality has been wonderfully increased. None of the children's activities seem too strenuous for her to share in. She says she is always warm on the coldest days and begs to go without wraps. She used to be a bunch of slivers. She was called 'pale face'—now her cheeks are rosy red. And she comes in from play asking for yeast, not candy. Fleischmann's Yeast has solved all my worries."

Mrs. Mito Griffith, Racine, Wis.

"I HAD THE REMEDY for my ill-health right on the shelves of my grocery store, but didn't know it. So I sold my store and entered the insurance business with the hope that the change would cure my stomach cramps and constipation. But it did not help me. I grasped someone's suggestion to try Fleischmann's Yeast. After taking three cakes daily for about two months I began to feel better. That was three years ago. I have taken no medicine for three years—just yeast. My insurance business is prosperous, so I am not sorry that I sold my grocery store, but I am sorry that I suffered for thirty-five years with stomach cramps and constipation before I discovered that the cure, Fleischmann's Yeast, was back there on the shelves."

Philip Holm, Clinton, Iowa.

"I AM A RAILROAD MAN of thirteen years' service, working on freight trains at all hours of day and night. Rest and meals are as uncertain as health would be without proper care. Conditions such as no one can control brought constipation, then stomach trouble, so-called heart burn—followed by skin eruptions. Knowing the cause of my trouble, I began at its source, following the directions with Fleischmann's Yeast. Four months' time with the yeast has restored my health completely. I have such faith in it that I intend to continue its use."

Pierre Lottford Conklin, Port Jervis, N. Y.

"THIS SPRING, desperate from years of constipation and unavailing attempts to cure its resultant evils, I read this definition by a physician. 'Yeast is an antiseptic and is effective in all diseases in which there is threatened putridity.' I began taking one cake in warm water before breakfast and at bedtime. My looks a month later demonstrated a release from cathartics. With my food now assimilated, I gained in two months ten pounds, after being that amount below normal. Continuing the treatment, I gained, not in weight but in vigor, feeling daily more rejuvenated. Years of intestinal poisoning take their toll of youth, so I shall continue to drink my yeast."

Mrs. Carrie M. Crema, Philadelphia, Pa.

Now enjoy everything more

With constipation banished, skin and stomach disorders conquered, vitality regained, thousands have found a new zest in living through one simple food

NOT a "cure-all", not a medicine in any sense—Fleischmann's Yeast is simply a remarkable fresh food.

The millions of tiny active yeast plants in every cake invigorate the whole system. They aid digestion—clear the skin—banish the poisons of constipation. Where cathartics give only temporary relief, yeast strengthens the intestinal muscles and makes them healthy and active. And day by day it releases new stores of energy.

Eat two or three cakes regularly every day before meals: on crackers—in fruit juices or milk—or just plain. For constipation especially, dissolve one cake in hot water (not scalding) before breakfast and at bedtime. Buy several cakes at a time—they will keep fresh in a cool dry place for two or three days. All grocers have Fleischmann's Yeast. Start eating it today!

And let us send you a free copy of our latest booklet on Yeast for Health. Health Research Dept. 443, The Fleischmann Company, 208 Simcoe St., Toronto, Ont., Canada.

FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST IS MADE IN CANADA

THE TRANSFORMATION OF COLD BEEF

Cold roast beef is good food, but even those who praise it most must have an accompaniment of pickles, chow-chow, chili sauce or mustard to make it palatable. A good way to serve it sometimes is to slice the beef and arrange on a hot platter. Dissolve two or three Oxo Cubes in boiling water, thicken to taste, and pour over the beef. Then you have a dish that brings back the best Dickensian days—prime roast beef with all its rich, juicy deliciousness matured by OXO Cubes.

HOW DO YOU MAKE POULTRY DRESSING?

When you are stuffing a turkey or chicken, here's a hint that will just about double your enjoyment of the dressing. Dissolve two OXO Cubes in half a cup of water and moisten the dressing with it. OXO Cubes, blending with the onions, sage and savory puts a flavour that is simply delicious.

CREAM SAUCES FOR VEGETABLES

The favorite white sauce for carrots, onions, cauliflower, potatoes becomes a new sauce altogether when OXO Cubes are added. Here is the recipe:—

OXO BEEF CUBE CREAM SAUCE
This recipe makes one pint and is for use with various dishes. Where a cupful of OXO BEEF CUBE SAUCE is called for, make half this recipe; where one quart is required, double the recipe.

2 OXO BEEF CUBES
2 cupfuls cold water
1 1/2 cupfuls milk
Melt the butter, add the flour and stir till blended; then pour on gradually the milk, stirring constantly and cooking until thick. Then remove from the fire and add the OXO Cubes which have been dissolved in the 1/2 cup boiling water.

SALADS AND SALAD DRESSINGS

Salads of all kinds, from the humble potato to the aristocratic lobster, are all the better for an OXO Cube or two in the dressing. Whether the Salad Dressing be French or Mayonnaise, add OXO Cubes and see how much tastier it becomes.

QUEEN OF SALADS

2 OXO BEEF CUBES
2 cupfuls boiling water
3 tablespoonsful gelatin
1 cupful shredded cabbage
1/2 cupful cold water
1/2 cupful small sweet pickles (sliced)
1 teaspoonful celery salt
Dash of Cayenne pepper

Soak the gelatin in the cold water five minutes. Dissolve the OXO BEEF CUBES in the boiling water. Mix together lightly with a fork the chicken (cut into small pieces), shredded cabbage, pickles, celery salt and cayenne pepper. When the cubes are dissolved, pour the boiling solution on to the soaked gelatine and add the lemon juice. Strain, and when beginning to set, add the chicken and cabbage mixture. Turn into a mold and when firm, serve on lettuce leaves garnished by thin slices of the hard boiled eggs. (The eggs may be omitted). Serve with or without salad dressing.

THE ECONOMY OF FLAVOUR

OXO Cubes are a sound economy because they enable you to make so many inexpensive dishes attractive to the taste and lend a welcome variety to every-day meals. Baked macaroni and cheese, omelettes, meat pies, stews and hash all get the magic touch of flavour and appeal to the appetite when OXO Cubes are added.

AS A HOT DRINK FOR YOUR GUESTS

So easy to give them something deliciously refreshing when you have OXO Cubes handy. Fragrant, tasty Hot Oxo is made in a moment by dissolving OXO Cubes in boiling water—a cube to a cup. Such a warming welcome drink, just before your guests go out in the cold.

A FREE RECIPE BOOK

The Magic Touch in Flavour

of Salads, Stews, Sauces, Dressings and Beverages

HERE'S magic in the very word "Flavour," for it conjures up rare and delightful dishes that linger in one's gastronomic memory. No matter what science tells us about calories and balanced diet, we are all children at heart when it comes to mealtime and we want to eat what appeals to our individual appetite.

Indeed, dietitians have modified their dictates about eating to live, and admit that even the most nutritious foods are less beneficial to the system if these do not appeal to our taste. It is Flavour that brings enjoyment—and the present day problem of home cooking is to get the attractiveness of Flavour into everything served.

This does NOT mean an overload of condiments. Thousands and thousands of homes are using Oxo Cubes almost as freely as salt. They have found that the fresh beef flavour of these nutritious Cubes is the magic touch which converts ordinary things into dishes to be thoroughly enjoyed and recalled with pleasure.

20,000 PEOPLE EXPECTED FOR BOXING CLASSIC

Bout Expected to Start at 11 p.m., Local Time

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Paul Berlenbach, of Astoria, N. Y., light heavyweight champion of the world, faces the greatest test he ever has known when he meets Jack Delaney, of Bridgeport, Conn., tonight, in the Madison Square Garden ring, the first championship in the new sport arena.

More than 20,000 persons, greater than any that has witnessed an indoor bout in history, are expected to attend this engagement scheduled for 15 rounds to a decision. Delaney knocked out Berlenbach in four rounds at the old Garden March 1923.

The Astoria champion is a much improved boxer. When he met Delaney the power of fate was great, but he had not developed a method of defence against the sharpshooting tactics of the Bridgeport man. Delaney stands up straight, at times dropping his arms to his sides, his speed carrying him out of danger. Berlenbach will need every defence tactic known to the game.

Boxing followers are divided in their predictions, but Berlenbach appears to be a slight favorite. The men should enter the ring about 11 o'clock Saint John time.

FLOWERS VS. McTIGUE

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Tiger Flowers, Atlantic negro who defeated Frank Moody, of Wales, in Boston, last night, knocking the European to the floor three times, will meet the former light heavyweight champion, Mike McTigue, in the feature bout of the Christmas fund card here December 23. This match was arranged after Jimmy Goodrich, of Buffalo, had lost his lightweight title to Rocky Kansas Goodrich here, scheduled to meet Lucien Vines of France.

Badminton Stars Leave For West

TORONTO, Dec. 11.—The British all-star badminton team left here last night on their way to Western Canada, where they will play matches to play in Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, Okanagan, Kelowna, Kamloops and Vancouver, before returning for a final game at Ottawa to complete their Canadian tour.

Yesterday's results follow: H. R. C. Martin and A. K. Jones defeated Sir George Thomas and E. Hawthorne, 15-9, 15-12.

Sir George Thomas and W. M. Swindon defeated A. K. Jones and J. E. Flavell, 15-12, 15-9.

Sir George Thomas and H. R. C. Martin defeated W. M. Swindon and A. K. Jones, 15-11, and lost, 15-9.

Sir J. De Villiers defeated H. R. C. Martin, 15-8, 15-12.

Writers Reconsider

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—After registering disapproval of player-writers in major league ranks by a charter vote of 6 to 1, the Baseball Writers' Association of America today decided to reconsider the question.

The seven chapters of the organization will be asked to ballot again on a definitely defined resolution to be drawn up by a committee headed by William Brandt, of Philadelphia.

Agitation over the player-writer became prominent during the last world series, when Commissioner Landis, in Pittsburgh called Roger Peckinpaugh, Washington shortstop, before him for an explanation of a story published over Peckinpaugh's name expressing criticism of an umpire's decision. Manager Bucky Harris and "Muddy" Ruel, Senator catcher, both player-writers, also attended this hearing.

"OLD GLORY" SALE

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—After selling something like 440 horses in three days for about $260,000, the Old Glory Sale closed yesterday. Two notable sires were among the offerings reserved for the closing day. One of these, Justice Brooke, 2:09 1/2, is the sire of last year's sensational trotter, 1:59, as well as 17 others in the 2:10 list. He was purchased for $10,000 by R. W. Wright of Chicago. Orlean Axworthy, 2:07 1/2, the other prominent stallion sold, was purchased for $5,500 by Peter Goode of Goshen, N. Y. The 14-year-old sire of Axworthy is the sire of Dr. Strongworthy, 2:04 1/2, and many other fast ones.

MAY CALL IT DRAW

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 11.—Wednesday's hockey game in Victoria, which was won by Vancouver, through a penalty awarded the Maroons in the closing second of play, likely will be called a draw, with each team taking one point, according to Frank Patrick, manager of the local team.

Mr. Patrick says the Maroons erred in allowing a penalty shot at Boucher had not beaten the two defense players when Walker tossed his stick. The proper ruling is a major penalty to the player. Under the circumstances, he will oppose the protest of the Victoria Club.

IN SEMI-FINAL

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Bobby Garcia and Dick Honeybaker, Finest featherweights, have been signed as a semi-final to the championship match between Kid Kaplan and Babe Herman here, a week from today.

Gorman To Receive Cup In Honor of Indoor World's Record

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN J. DUNLOP

DECISION to appoint a committee to devise ways and means of best perpetuating the memory of Christy Mathewson was one of the most important matters before the annual meeting of the National League and there is so much of real good to the sport world in the resolution presented, that a part of it is given here. It is worth reading.

"Christy Mathewson is dead, but his spirit, character, and example will live eternally to help enlighten the gloom and sadness that his earthly parting means to us all. With the sinking of the Western Sun over the hills of Saranac Lake, New York, on Wednesday, Oct. 7, 1925, Christy Mathewson passed away in the arms of his devoted and faithful wife—Jane—bereaving her to be brave and smile through. He died as he lived, courageous and thoughtful of others. His last message to his boy and to his friends was one of faith and love. To Young America his message, which was part of his religion and mission in life, to be truthful, to live, think and be clean. The little cemetery, situated in the shadow of his college campus, Bucknell, the scene of his early dreams and his first and only love. His career began and ended there. In early boyhood he there received the religious teachings and inspirations which he carried in later manhood to the youth of the country, both in books and sermons. Christy Mathewson was a loving son, a devoted husband and father, a faithful and loyal friend, a forceful advocate of true sportsmanship and an American of courage in war as in times of peace. He achieved greatness because he was simple and human. He understood humanity and the other fellow. He played the game of life as he did the game of baseball, fighting hard, but always fair and honorable, always trying and willing to learn and to perfect himself. Modest in victory and great in defeat. His career stands as an ideal and an inspiration to mankind; he leaves a stainless record of faithful services to God and country."

THAT DELANEY-BERLENBACH bout tonight is going to be a real scrap—make no mistake. Tiger Flowers' decisive win over Moody last night boosts his stock considerably.

MR. JOHN CONWAY TOOLE was re-elected president of the International League the other day, only Sam Robertson, of Buffalo, declining to make it unanimous. Mr. Toole, however, somewhat spoiled the harmony by also announcing he had received an increase of $2,000 in salary. Mr. Robertson demanded loudly how Mr. Toole got that way and declares that no mention of salary increase was made. In this, he is supported by other magnates. Mr. Toole, Mr. Robertson says, gets $10,000 a year. "We increased the salary of his secretary," says Mr. Robertson, "and he probably figures that the increase to Manley relieves him of any obligations to his secretary. And, thus, constitutes an increase to himself. That is for Mr. Manley to decide with Toole." Questioned on the matter, Mr. Toole said: "I'm getting $2,080 more this year than last. Is that not an increase? How it is provided is nobody's business." Apparently, Mr. Robertson's diagnosis of the case is correct but Mr. Toole's logic is rather unanswerable. If he does not have to pay $40 extra a week for a secretary, would you call that a credit or debit? We were never very strong on geography but it seems that extra forty is hardly a drawback. But in the strict constitutional sense of the word "It is an increase?" We say "No." But if Mr. Toole gets that much more, would you call it just the same salary. We say "No." Well, if it is not the same and a little more, it must be an increase. Is it not so, as the French say. If it is an increase, then Mr. Toole is right and Mr. Robertson wrong. But the magnates did not vote any further increase and therefore Mr. Toole is wrong and Mr. Robertson is right. Therefore, Mr. Toole gets no increase. And yet, it is admitted he will get $40 a week more. Bah—we give it up. Page "Kid" Solomon.

PAAVO NURMI is planning another invasion of the United States. We'd hate to have the job of Keeper of Records when the Flying Finn gets going.

IN A FACETIOUS MOOD the other night, we suggested that Mickey Walker would not be long in the Cape Breton vales before a delegation to him to show his wares in a Sydney ring. They beat us it down there for the invitation already has been passed out and accepted. Mickey, through his trainer, Teddy Hayes, will appear in the ring, but as a referee only. This is somewhat disappointing to one of the Sydney writers and he blandly suggests that possibly the Playgrounds Association, for whom the bouts are being staged, might show their persuasive power in high gear and get Mr. Walker to step a few rounds. In an innocent and off-hand way, he suggests Jack McKenna. He declares there would be a stampede to the box office if a three-round bout or so were arranged. At this point, he touches Mr. Walker on a tender spot until Mr. Walker remembers the proceeds go to the playgrounds. That might make him pause a bit and send his agent to dig up Mr. McKenna's record. In fact, that is not worthy of us at all. Any guy that can give Harry Greb the time of his life need not fear a Cape Breton minor. What we do fear is that Mr. McKenna in a mad moment will fancy he sees an opening to Mr. Walker's jaw. We can safely draw the curtain at that.

ED. SNODGRASS IS IN MEET FOR STOCKING FUND

Ice Should Be Great Wednesday if Snap Continues

"E. D." SNODGRASS, rising young local skater, has sent in his entry for The Times-Star Stocking Fund meet next Wednesday night on Hilton Belyea's rink, West Saint John, and with Charlie Gorman, Canadian champion, and Willie Logan, Maritime and Provincial champion, entered, this trial alone is sufficient to have some good competition. Snodgrass has not been able to work out on skates yet owing to an injury he received to his hip while playing football with the Fairville Canucks, intermediate champions, in their last two games, but said he believed it had healed now and that all he needed was a few stiff workouts to be in fairly good shape for the Stocking Fund meet. Three of the leading skaters in the city now are entered and with the brilliant Gorman heading the pack, the fans who crowd into the rink are going to get their money's worth. The events Wednesday night are the 220, the 880 and the mile. Gorman has his best to let the fans get a line on his form for his forthcoming tilt with the mighty Thunberg, the Phantom Finn, who captured the world's title in 1924 at Chamoux.

In addition to the events carded, which will take long to run off, skating will be enjoyed following the skating races, so the evening can be made doubly attractive for all skating fans. The other events will be run off on Monday, December 21, provided conditions are right. The 440 and the 5-mile will comprise the Monday program and it is possible a veteran's race also may be staged on this card.

"Bake" Dye to Play Ball With Toronto

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Cecil ("Babe") Dye, captain of Toronto's professional hockey team, is also to play professional baseball for the Queen city. His outright purchase by the Toronto Club of the International Baseball League from the Buffalo International Club, was announced here today by President Sam Hubbard, of that latter club.

VERNON FORBES IS STAR OF CONTEST

Ottawa Scores Brilliant Victory Over New York Sextette, 3-0

OTTAWA, Dec. 11.—In last night's National Hockey League game here, in which Ottawa triumphed 3-0 over New York, Billy Burch was the outstanding star of the victors, and turned in a grand game. However, the persistent attack of the Ottawas frustrated any attempts the Americans made at combination. The Ottawas' efforts were practically smothered. Ottawa's defence last night consisted of a relentless attack that had the visitors fighting desperately to stave off goals for the major portion of the game. Neighbor and Smith again led the Senators with superb displays, the work of the former being especially brilliant. At one time in the second period, he turned back six successive New York attempts to get the puck past centre ice. He assisted in the scoring of the second goal, and scored the other two himself. Boucher and Clancy made an airtight defence in front of Connell, who registered his fourth shutout of the season, and his third in league fixtures. Kilrea was a star while used.

A packed house turned out to see the teams play, and while the Gotham team was decisively beaten, the rink was in a constant uproar from the many thrilling plays executed. The crowd rose on mass several times to cheer the spectacular work of the expert goals who barred the way for sweeping victory for the league leaders. The game was hard fought and while 14 penalties were imposed, the offences were mostly of a minor nature.

MASCART WON

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Edouard Mascart, French featherweight champion, gained a ten round decision over Joe Malone, of New York tonight.

Judge Landis Settles Dispute in Bold and Decisive Manner

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Disagreement of the American and National Leagues over abbreviation of the playing season was settled quickly and decisively today by the single ballot of High Commissioner Landis, the closing of both races on September 26.

With that bold and decisive stroke to characterize of his activities organized baseball's dominant figure thus broke a tie in which magnates of the National League voted solidly against the new date, routed the storm clouds which hung threateningly over the joint session of the two circuits and hurled the stern rebuke at the forces of nature which had so discourteously poured rain upon baseball's annual classic, the world's series in the campaign just completed.

RED HEAD CAPTAINS

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 10.—Two red heads, Tom Hearnton and Eugene Edwards, will divide the honors of captaining the 1926 Notre Dame football squad. The election resulted in a deadlock and the squad decided the men would rotate the honor. Edwards, a junior, is from Weston, W. Va., and Hearnton, also a junior, is from Green Bay, Wis.

Notre Dame is the second eleven this year to elect two men as captains, for Missouri decided on the same course after its election resulted in a deadlock.

STADIUM GROUND BROKEN

COLUMBIA, Mo., Dec. 10.—Ground has been broken for a $300,000 memorial stadium at the University of Missouri.

"Ed" Snodgrass

Another entry for The Times-Star Stocking Fund is that from young "Ed" Snodgrass, a rising young skater, who cleaned up the Policemen's sport here last winter. This will be his first year in senior company.

BURNS TO NEWARK

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—George Burns, former outfielder of the New York, Cincinnati and Philadelphia National League teams, admitted to newspapermen, while attending the baseball meetings here, that he would play in the Newark outfield next season.

Lamb Plays On Defence

MONTREAL, Dec. 11.—Joe Lamb, former Sussex, N. B., hockey player, had a defence position on the Royal Bank team here last night, in an exhibition game played against Victoria's, of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association. Victoria won 4-2.

Bathurst Wants Exhibition Game

BATHURST, Dec. 10.—The exhibition hockey game which was to have been played here on Dec. 21 between Fredericton and Bathurst has been called off on account of Fredericton replacing Moncton in the Northern New Brunswick Hockey League. The manager, H. O. Schryer, is in communication with teams not in the northern section with a view of having an exhibition game here on that date.

The team has had two practices on the ice and the trainer, J. Barbery, has the boys in mid-winter form. Fredericton will play at the places and on the dates assigned to Moncton in the schedule drawn up at a meeting held in Campbellton some time ago.

A. A. Gillis, of Campbellton, replaces Joe Wood as president of the northern section.

The members of the Bathurst team are as follows: H. O. Schryer, manager; W. Finnigan, D. Crosby, R. Cripps, K. Carroll, T. Lawlor, Dan Cripps, J. Fallon, R. Robertson.

PORT ARTHUR LOST

STRATFORD, Ont., Dec. 11.—The Dominion Amateur Hockey champion Port Arthur team lost to Stratford 4-3 last night.

TROPHY TO BE PRESENTED AT TEAM BANQUET

Programme For Monday's Function Is Now Completed

THE only world's championship lodging in the Maritime Provinces at present—and one of the very few in Canada—is held by a Saint John boy, Charlie Gorman. Not only does he hold at world's record for the 440 yards outdoors, but on February 23, 1925, he lowered the indoor record for this mark to 34.4 seconds. This mark, along with his 86 1-8 for outdoors, has been officially O. K'd by the International Slating Union. The indoor mark was made on the Victoria rink, and in honor of that, George Hamm, manager of the Victors, has announced that on the night of the Watermen's banquet he will present a cup, suitably engraved, to Gorman in memory of his remarkable race. The function will take place on Monday night next in the Victoria Hotel, with Hon. Rupert W. Wigmore in the chair. The banquet is in honor of the members of the Water Works' team that won the first Maritime amateur baseball championship, ever decided, and the guest of honor will be "Billy" Maynes, recently appointed Rhodes Scholar.

The programme, which has been completed, includes the following: Presentation, Eaton shield, emblematic of the Maritime championship, by Mr. Gralinger, Moncton; presentation, Senator McDonald shield, emblematic of the New Brunswick championship, by H. W. Corey, first vice-president of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union; presentation of championship medals to the victors, by Mr. W. S. Siding; remarks by "Steve" Matthews; selections by the McEwen Male Quartet; toast to Billy Maynes and a short address by the chairman. Manager Snodgrass and Captain Gorman will receive the cup on behalf of the team. Indications point to an attendance of nearly 75.

GRANGE INJURED

Reported Now Grange Received $10,000 Only From Motion Picture Men

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11.—"Red" Grange, injured in a football game yesterday, will go to Detroit today with the Chicago Bears.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The motion picture owners of America today issued a statement through General Manager Jos. M. Seider saying that "Red" Grange would not be allowed to appear on the screen of the theatres of their organizations if the exhibitors found his $300,000 contract check with an independent producer was "chink publicity."

Mr. Seider quoted a statement of E. A. Shallenbarger, the independent producer with whom the football star signed a contract last Monday, in which Shallenbarger said the $300,000 check was in reality to be held until the picture is completed, and that Grange has been advanced $10,000.

Elizabeth Arden Toiletries

The one place in New Brunswick to find the exclusive Beauty Aids of Elizabeth Arden is the Ross Drug Co. Ltd.

Perhaps there is nothing you could give of greater welcome than a dainty box of one of her famous preparations.

You then shop here just as though in one of Elizabeth Arden's Beauty Salons in Paris, London or Fifth Avenue.

The list is large and covers everything. Rare Perfumes, Creams, Wrinkle and Hollow treatments, Reducing Soap, Skin Food, Talcums, even Rouge.

None more beautifully boxed. None so economically efficient. Sole agents for New Brunswick are

AUTO WRECKED AFTER WILD RUN

Emerson Bros. Truck Smashed Up on Courtenay Bay Flats

Madly Races Down King Street East When Left as Driver Delivers Parcel

Racing madly down King Street East hill and plunging over the seawall, a ton truck owned by Emerson Bros. was wrecked in Courtenay Bay flats this morning. No one was injured.

The truck started on its wild career from near the corner of Pitt street where Roy Livingstone, the driver, had left it while he was delivering a parcel.

STARTS AWAY While he was calling at a house with the parcel, the truck started away down the hill. It rapidly gathered momentum and by the time the fence work at the foot of the street was reached it was traveling at a terrific pace. The noise made as the truck crashed through the fence attracted many people living in the vicinity.

After ripping its way through the fence the truck, which was covered with a winter top and enclosed cab for the driver, leaped down the 30 foot embankment to the railway track. There it turned over and took a further plunge; this time over the seawall and landed on its top on the flats of Courtenay Bay.

MACHINE WRECKED The machine was badly wrecked. The winter top was smashed in, the front wheels broken, the windshield wrecked, the steering gear twisted out of shape, the engine partly torn from its fastenings and the mudguards bent into weird shapes. The truck as it lay with the wheels in the air was viewed by many citizens.

It was practically a new one, a member of the firm said this afternoon and he feared that it would prove to be a total loss. He said that efforts were being made to have the remains of the truck lifted at once.

Fortunately no people, teams or other automobiles were in the way as the truck sped on its way to destruction.

MISSING MEN SAFE ON BOARD SCHOONER

Beaver Harbor Schooner Men Held on Vessel Because of Storm Wrecking

The two Beaver Harbor men, Albert Eldridge and Edmund O'Brien, reported missing yesterday, are safe on board the schooner Gideon Blais off the Wolves, having been caught there by the storm late on Tuesday night, according to a long distance message received here this afternoon by the Gideon.

According to this report the men took a new sail off to the Gideon Blais and before the repairs were completed the storm made it perilous to leave. They fastened their boat securely and are still awaiting smoother weather.

A large motor boat put out from Beaver Harbor just before noon today, but it was forced back by the seas still running in that locality, it was reported. Since the word has been received that the men are safe it is expected that no further efforts will be made to take them off for as soon as the weather moderates they will be able to return in their own motor boat.

NEW COMMISSION MEETS.

The commission to consolidate and revise the Acts of Assembly of the Province of New Brunswick met this morning in the Government rooms here.

Hon. W. P. Jones, K. C., chairman, presided and the new members, J. A. Creighton, Newcastle, and E. H. Richard, Sackville, with the secretary, K. E. MacLachlan, were present. It was said that only routine business had been dealt with.

RIVER ALMOST SEALED.

River ice is now pretty strong in the narrower stretches and where tidal influences are not felt to any great extent. It was reported today that it was fairly well frozen over, though thinly as yet. There are a few patches of open water at headland points.

AT ST. COLUMBA'S.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Columba's Presbyterian church met yesterday afternoon for quilting. At the 10 o'clock supper was served in the church rooms. There was a large attendance.

In the evening the W. M. S. of St. Columba's church met at the mans with Miss A. M. Townsend, president, in the chair. Miss Townsend led the devotions. Mrs. Catherine Leggett read the scripture portion. It was decided to change the night of meeting to the first Thursday of the month.

HALIFAX SHOWMAN HERE.

L. R. Acker, veteran Halifax theatre owner, manager and horseman, passed through the city at noon today en route home from Boston and New York. He reports the usual ups and downs of the box office financial thermometer due to seasonal influences, but on the whole a better show season than for some years. Only recently Mr. Acker has added a fully-equipped stage to the Orpheus Theatre, which was formerly what is known as a "flat" stage house, permitting of picture screen only.

INSPECTOR RETURNS Chief Prohibition Inspector W. L. MacFarlane returned to Fredericton last evening after a two day visit to headquarters here.

STILL LATER BLOOMS Mrs. J. W. Keirstead, Rothesay, forwarded, to The Times-Star office, two dandelions, picked on her lawn on Dec. 10.

CASE NOT FINISHED. Further evidence was heard by Mr. Justice Byrne in the Circuit Court this morning in the case of Smith vs. the Harvey River Lumber Co. et al. It is not thought likely that the case will be finished until early next week.

THOS. MELVIN INJURED Thomas Melvin, a longshoreman working at No. 6 shed was struck on the head for the last week by a sling. He had his scalp cut. At the emergency hospital the wound was attended to and he returned to his work.

JOHN O'BRIEN SOUGHT Last night Chief of Police Smith received a wire asking him to inform John O'Brien that his sister, Mary Elizabeth, was sick in the Harlem Hospital. An effort was made to locate him by last card party until after today without success.

REPORT BETTER TODAY. Friends of Hon. Lewis Smith, minister of agriculture, will be sorry to learn that he has been confined to his bed for the last week quite seriously ill, but glad to know that reports today were that he was slightly improved.

ASSUMPTION SOCIETY The Ladies' Society of the Assumption church met last evening with the president, Mrs. W. E. Morris, in the chair. Reports from the committees were received and it was decided to hold the last card party until after Christmas on Monday evening next.

ASK MERCHANTS TO HELP. It was said by one of the local shipping men this morning that local merchants and importers could help materially to prevent congestion at the wharves by taking prompt delivery of goods brought in for them. It has been the custom to allow a week or ten days to the local importers to remove their goods from the sheds.

THE LATE MRS. A. G. DAY William McConchie, brother of the late Mrs. Alex G. Day, of Adelaide street, whose death took place last night, arrived in the city from Central Blissett today. Mrs. Edmond Mills, of St. Stephen, a family friend, also arrived. Mrs. Day's funeral will be held at Brown's Flats tomorrow and services are arranged to be conducted at the house tonight. The funeral party will proceed up river by motor.

MUST NOT BE DONE Hector Fantacer, of Italy, was fined $24 by Magistrate Henderson this morning for interfering with an officer in performing his duty. Policemen Cooper and Gunter said he had tried to prevent them when they were arresting a drunken man. Fantacer said he did not know he was breaking the law. He had tried to tell the policemen he would look after the man and see him home.

DOES NOT SHOW ALL THAT SOCIETY DOES.

Number in Home Not Measure of Work Accomplished by Children's Aid

The 21 children in the Children's Aid Home, 68 Garden street, do not by any means represent the number of children dealt with in any one month by the Children's Aid Society, said Rev. George Scott this morning. The home is simply a clearing house between the street and the foster-home, and every effort is made to find homes as soon as may be. Many of the children dealt with never enter the home at all, but go direct to foster homes.

OF THIS LAST CLASS are little ones whose parents are finding the struggle to live too hard and feel obliged to turn to the child or children. In a number of such cases the agent of the Children's Aid Society has been able to place infants in homes where they will have far better conditions under which to grow up than their own parents could afford.

SOME EXAMPLES. Some years ago an infant was found in the city and taken to the home. It was placed in a foster home and now has grown up to be bright and intelligent and is taking music lessons. Another child placed has grown up to be a fine young lady and is taking a course of nursing in the states. This part of the work, he said, is the most important and far reaching in its effects not only on the child but on the community.

TWO CARD PARTIES Held Last Night

One hundred tables were required to accommodate the players last evening at the weekly card party of St. Peter's. The convener was Miss Nellie Harrington. The prize winners were: Ladies' first, serving tray, Mrs. George Waring; second, electric iron, Mrs. Margaret Gilbert; consolation, Mrs. C. A. Gordon; gentlemen, first, smoking jackets, Thomas B. York; second, gloves, William Peterson; consolation, Hayden McCurdy.

A very pleasant time was enjoyed last evening at the Y. M. C. I. when the weekly night of cards was carried on with Mrs. John McDonald convener. The prize winners were: Ladies' first, Mrs. A. Mahar; second, Mrs. O. Traynor; consolation, Miss Geraldine McCann; gentlemen, first, George Arneberg; second, O. Magnusson and consolation H. A. Pierce. The door prize was won by Thos. Bonner.

Y'S MEN'S CLUB.

Arthur B. Gregg, chief of the secretarial staff of the Y. M. C. A., was the speaker at the regular lunch-hour session of the Y's Men's Club at 447 headquarters today. He gave an interesting talk on his impressions of the world's assembly of workers with boys held in the Rocky Mountain fastnesses of Estes Park, Colorado, last June. The camp-meeting lasted 12 days and there were over 400 prominent workers among boys in session representing 20 nations. It was a most inspiring gathering, Mr. Gregg said, and proved lasting encouragement to him. Alfred Stephenson presided today and Ralph Stephenson was financier. The club during its business deliberations decided to proceed with its annual entertainment for the new-boys, January 2 and committees were appointed.
