

St. John Chronicle.

AND COLONIAL CONSERVATIVE.

VOLUME XVIII.

NUMBER 15.

THE ST. JOHN CHRONICLE.

Published every Sunday afternoon by William Pearce at his Office in the Brick Building of York Street, No. 1, Doreyer & Son, west side Office William Street.

Visiting and Business Cards (plain and ornamental) Handbills, Blanks, and Printing generally executed.

No paper discontinued until all arrears are paid except in the discretion of the publisher.

Terms—One Year, £1, 10s. Due within the year, 15s. for post until after expiration of the year, All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

THE V. B. PALMER, the American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and correspondence, &c., as required.

Vessels will be recorded at his Agents.

All Letters, Orders, Communications, &c., must be post-paid, and addressed to

WILLIAM DURANT,

Chronicle Office, Saint John, N. B.

The Chronicle is filed, and may be seen free of charge at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244 Strand, London.

LIVERPOOL AND LONDON

TWO AND TWO INSURANCE COMPANY.

Incorporated by Special Act of Parliament.

Capital, TWO MILLION STERLING.

Unlimited Liability of the Stockholders of the Company.

Subscribed Capital, £1,500,000.

Incorporated April 1, 1836.

Dedicated to the Queen of England.

In Parts of 1s, 2d, and Premium, handsomely bound in Morocco cloth, gilt, 9 x 6 1/2.

The British Colonies.

Description of the most celebrated Provinces.

Empire of Great Britain.

Manufactures, Exports, and Imports.

Geography, History, and Natural History.

Commerce, Agriculture, and Manufactures.

Population, Trade, and Navigation.

Mines, Minerals, and Resources.

Climate, Health, and Hygiene.

Religion, Education, and Moral Condition.

Literature, Art, and Science.

Fashions, Costumes, and Manners.

Sports, Games, and Amusements.

Festivals, Anniversaries, and Holidays.

Costume, Dress, and Ornament.

Antiques, Curiosities, and Curios.

Furniture, Household Utensils, and Utensils.

Fashions, Costumes, and Manners.

Sports, Games, and Amusements.

Festivals, Anniversaries, and Holidays.

Costume, Dress, and Ornament.

Antiques, Curiosities, and Curios.

Furniture, Household Utensils, and Utensils.

Fashions, Costumes, and Manners.

Sports, Games, and Amusements.

Festivals, Anniversaries, and Holidays.

Costume, Dress, and Ornament.

Antiques, Curiosities, and Curios.

Furniture, Household Utensils, and Utensils.

Fashions, Costumes, and Manners.

Sports, Games, and Amusements.

Festivals, Anniversaries, and Holidays.

Costume, Dress, and Ornament.

Antiques, Curiosities, and Curios.

Furniture, Household Utensils, and Utensils.

Fashions, Costumes, and Manners.

Sports, Games, and Amusements.

Festivals, Anniversaries, and Holidays.

Costume, Dress, and Ornament.

Antiques, Curiosities, and Curios.

Furniture, Household Utensils, and Utensils.

Fashions, Costumes, and Manners.

Sports, Games, and Amusements.

Festivals, Anniversaries, and Holidays.

Costume, Dress, and Ornament.

Antiques, Curiosities, and Curios.

Furniture, Household Utensils, and Utensils.

Fashions, Costumes, and Manners.

Sports, Games, and Amusements.

Festivals, Anniversaries, and Holidays.

Costume, Dress, and Ornament.

Antiques, Curiosities, and Curios.

EXTRACTS FROM ENGLISH PAPERS.

ANOTHER WINNING MAPPONTE.

A Mass paper gives some extraordinary details of the new miracle vouchsafed in support of Rome. The scene is the Church of the Minor Conventualists at Civita Vecchia; and an ecclesiastic who was present in the church at the time describes what he was witness of what he calls the "fact." According to this parsonage's description, we are told that on the 25th of April, 1859, at about four in the afternoon, several children assembled by the priest, five or six of them, and the other confraternity, all in their vestments, repaired to the chapel of St. Antonio di Padova, to return thanks. On the right side of the statue of the saint was suspended a painting in canvas, three palms in height, representing the Virgin with the eyes closed, and the hands joined in prayer. At the feet of the Virgin were two small crosses, one red and one white, which were suspended from the neck of the saint. The eyes were fixed upon the figure they exhibited. "The Madonna is looking at me and moves her eyes." The other three ran up, and, wondering to state, believed the same; but were told that they were the same. So, having told what they had seen, the priest said, "If you have told what you have seen, it is well done; if you have not told what you have seen, it is well done." Two priests canonized the batteries at Wiesbaden, and on the 26th approached Ebenau, but were repelled.

The Lobkowicz, of the 25th ult., states that the Royal fleet left Crotone on the 21st ult. The Mass statement is made respecting the fleet at Sestrières, and a naval encounter was considered imminent. The journal has probably rectified its information.

MAY 27.—The Turks have voluntarily evacuated Turtakoff, Nicopolis, and Sistova. The Austrian troops are still encamped at Turtakoff, and are moving towards Sistova, and still continue to do so up to the present time. The most remarkable feature of this year (since the beginning of the war) is to look up and down; but very often she moves horizontally or directs them towards the byzantines. The Cardinal Bishop Longhinelli (now dead) ordered that a canonical process should be opened against the author of the outrages inflicted on the church, and in consequence to worship the holy picture, and was followed by the chapter of the neighbouring Tolls; the pious secular confederates and the religious bodies of the government, Dominicans, Capuchins, and Dominican fathers of the Year, and an enormous concourse of devotees crowded during the day and until night at the holy place to implore for grace.

In this manner (adds the reporter), the mother of our Lord, who had been moved by the ardor of his worshippers, her mother, and who, in consequence of this, had given birth to this picture to the people of God. We have done little more than condense the account in the Mass paper; and we conclude it was the wondering query to what the mother of our Lord will venture on next—Church and State Gazette.

The Shipping Gazette publishes the following particulars concerning a letter of Mr. H. J. Donville, the surgeon of the Tiger, dated May 13, in the quartermaster general's office, Liverpool:

"On the morning of the 12th, 6 a.m., we were awoken by the crash of the ship going on shore, and when the dense fog cleared a little, they found themselves about five miles S.E. of Old Suez. Gun was fired to attract the attention of the other ships, and they were soon seen. About nine o'clock gun from the shore commenced firing. In less than ten minutes the Tiger was on fire in two places. The captain and others frantically wounded. They could only use one gun, the men having been scattered over the deck, and the gunner had to leave the ship. Mr. Donville performed first amputations before they left the ship, which he did almost the last, in the case of the wounded. Poor Captain Giffard lost his left leg, and his son a severe wound in the right arm. He lay on deck for three hours under a hot sun. The midshipman who lost both his legs, and who was a relative and namesake of the captain, died on the beach, and one man died on the road. The surgeon says the kindness of their captors is beyond words to tell. Lives were saved, and many lives were spared, as he has only to ask and to have. His last words are, 'The captain is doing as well as can be expected. The amputation progressing favourably.'

CHURCH AND STATE GAZETTE.—The following extract is from the Baltic (London), dated May 15, it is without interest:

"I suppose our friends in England, &c., who live at home at ease, are much disengaged with us for not having active and energetic friends there to take care of our national ship. However, I assure you that the Admiral is not to blame; as the sea has not yet disappeared from the upper parts of the gulf; but, if it had, I cannot see that we can commence operations upon Constantinople until the heat of summer is past. The Tiger is now in the gulf, and we should have it harassing our rear, but, as far as we are concerned, it is not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy."

The irregular troops were stated to consist of 14,745 infantry, not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy.

The irregulars of the 12th, 6 a.m., were awoken by the crash of the ship going on shore, and when the dense fog cleared a little, they found themselves about five miles S.E. of Old Suez. Gun was fired to attract the attention of the other ships, and they were soon seen. About nine o'clock gun from the shore commenced firing. In less than ten minutes the Tiger was on fire in two places. The captain and others frantically wounded. They could only use one gun, the men having been scattered over the deck, and the gunner had to leave the ship. Mr. Donville performed first amputations before they left the ship, which he did almost the last, in the case of the wounded. Poor Captain Giffard lost his left leg, and his son a severe wound in the right arm. He lay on deck for three hours under a hot sun. The midshipman who lost both his legs, and who was a relative and namesake of the captain, died on the beach, and one man died on the road. The surgeon says the kindness of their captors is beyond words to tell. Lives were saved, and many lives were spared, as he has only to ask and to have. His last words are, 'The captain is doing as well as can be expected. The amputation progressing favourably.'

Churc. and. St. Irenatus.—The following extract is from the Baltic (London), dated May 15, it is without interest:

"I suppose our friends in England, &c., who live at home at ease, are much disengaged with us for not having active and energetic friends there to take care of our national ship. However, I assure you that the Admiral is not to blame; as the sea has not yet disappeared from the upper parts of the gulf; but, if it had, I cannot see that we can commence operations upon Constantinople until the heat of summer is past. The Tiger is now in the gulf, and we should have it harassing our rear, but, as far as we are concerned, it is not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy."

The irregular troops were stated to consist of 14,745 infantry, not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy.

The irregulars of the 12th, 6 a.m., were awoken by the crash of the ship going on shore, and when the dense fog cleared a little, they found themselves about five miles S.E. of Old Suez. Gun was fired to attract the attention of the other ships, and they were soon seen. About nine o'clock gun from the shore commenced firing. In less than ten minutes the Tiger was on fire in two places. The captain and others frantically wounded. They could only use one gun, the men having been scattered over the deck, and the gunner had to leave the ship. Mr. Donville performed first amputations before they left the ship, which he did almost the last, in the case of the wounded. Poor Captain Giffard lost his left leg, and his son a severe wound in the right arm. He lay on deck for three hours under a hot sun. The midshipman who lost both his legs, and who was a relative and namesake of the captain, died on the beach, and one man died on the road. The surgeon says the kindness of their captors is beyond words to tell. Lives were saved, and many lives were spared, as he has only to ask and to have. His last words are, 'The captain is doing as well as can be expected. The amputation progressing favourably.'

Churc. and. St. Irenatus.—The following extract is from the Baltic (London), dated May 15, it is without interest:

"I suppose our friends in England, &c., who live at home at ease, are much disengaged with us for not having active and energetic friends there to take care of our national ship. However, I assure you that the Admiral is not to blame; as the sea has not yet disappeared from the upper parts of the gulf; but, if it had, I cannot see that we can commence operations upon Constantinople until the heat of summer is past. The Tiger is now in the gulf, and we should have it harassing our rear, but, as far as we are concerned, it is not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy."

The irregular troops were stated to consist of 14,745 infantry, not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy."

The irregulars of the 12th, 6 a.m., were awoken by the crash of the ship going on shore, and when the dense fog cleared a little, they found themselves about five miles S.E. of Old Suez. Gun was fired to attract the attention of the other ships, and they were soon seen. About nine o'clock gun from the shore commenced firing. In less than ten minutes the Tiger was on fire in two places. The captain and others frantically wounded. They could only use one gun, the men having been scattered over the deck, and the gunner had to leave the ship. Mr. Donville performed first amputations before they left the ship, which he did almost the last, in the case of the wounded. Poor Captain Giffard lost his left leg, and his son a severe wound in the right arm. He lay on deck for three hours under a hot sun. The midshipman who lost both his legs, and who was a relative and namesake of the captain, died on the beach, and one man died on the road. The surgeon says the kindness of their captors is beyond words to tell. Lives were saved, and many lives were spared, as he has only to ask and to have. His last words are, 'The captain is doing as well as can be expected. The amputation progressing favourably.'

Churc. and. St. Irenatus.—The following extract is from the Baltic (London), dated May 15, it is without interest:

"I suppose our friends in England, &c., who live at home at ease, are much disengaged with us for not having active and energetic friends there to take care of our national ship. However, I assure you that the Admiral is not to blame; as the sea has not yet disappeared from the upper parts of the gulf; but, if it had, I cannot see that we can commence operations upon Constantinople until the heat of summer is past. The Tiger is now in the gulf, and we should have it harassing our rear, but, as far as we are concerned, it is not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy."

The irregular troops were stated to consist of 14,745 infantry, not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy."

The irregulars of the 12th, 6 a.m., were awoken by the crash of the ship going on shore, and when the dense fog cleared a little, they found themselves about five miles S.E. of Old Suez. Gun was fired to attract the attention of the other ships, and they were soon seen. About nine o'clock gun from the shore commenced firing. In less than ten minutes the Tiger was on fire in two places. The captain and others frantically wounded. They could only use one gun, the men having been scattered over the deck, and the gunner had to leave the ship. Mr. Donville performed first amputations before they left the ship, which he did almost the last, in the case of the wounded. Poor Captain Giffard lost his left leg, and his son a severe wound in the right arm. He lay on deck for three hours under a hot sun. The midshipman who lost both his legs, and who was a relative and namesake of the captain, died on the beach, and one man died on the road. The surgeon says the kindness of their captors is beyond words to tell. Lives were saved, and many lives were spared, as he has only to ask and to have. His last words are, 'The captain is doing as well as can be expected. The amputation progressing favourably.'

Churc. and. St. Irenatus.—The following extract is from the Baltic (London), dated May 15, it is without interest:

"I suppose our friends in England, &c., who live at home at ease, are much disengaged with us for not having active and energetic friends there to take care of our national ship. However, I assure you that the Admiral is not to blame; as the sea has not yet disappeared from the upper parts of the gulf; but, if it had, I cannot see that we can commence operations upon Constantinople until the heat of summer is past. The Tiger is now in the gulf, and we should have it harassing our rear, but, as far as we are concerned, it is not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy."

The irregular troops were stated to consist of 14,745 infantry, not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy."

The irregulars of the 12th, 6 a.m., were awoken by the crash of the ship going on shore, and when the dense fog cleared a little, they found themselves about five miles S.E. of Old Suez. Gun was fired to attract the attention of the other ships, and they were soon seen. About nine o'clock gun from the shore commenced firing. In less than ten minutes the Tiger was on fire in two places. The captain and others frantically wounded. They could only use one gun, the men having been scattered over the deck, and the gunner had to leave the ship. Mr. Donville performed first amputations before they left the ship, which he did almost the last, in the case of the wounded. Poor Captain Giffard lost his left leg, and his son a severe wound in the right arm. He lay on deck for three hours under a hot sun. The midshipman who lost both his legs, and who was a relative and namesake of the captain, died on the beach, and one man died on the road. The surgeon says the kindness of their captors is beyond words to tell. Lives were saved, and many lives were spared, as he has only to ask and to have. His last words are, 'The captain is doing as well as can be expected. The amputation progressing favourably.'

Churc. and. St. Irenatus.—The following extract is from the Baltic (London), dated May 15, it is without interest:

"I suppose our friends in England, &c., who live at home at ease, are much disengaged with us for not having active and energetic friends there to take care of our national ship. However, I assure you that the Admiral is not to blame; as the sea has not yet disappeared from the upper parts of the gulf; but, if it had, I cannot see that we can commence operations upon Constantinople until the heat of summer is past. The Tiger is now in the gulf, and we should have it harassing our rear, but, as far as we are concerned, it is not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy."

The irregular troops were stated to consist of 14,745 infantry, not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy."

The irregulars of the 12th, 6 a.m., were awoken by the crash of the ship going on shore, and when the dense fog cleared a little, they found themselves about five miles S.E. of Old Suez. Gun was fired to attract the attention of the other ships, and they were soon seen. About nine o'clock gun from the shore commenced firing. In less than ten minutes the Tiger was on fire in two places. The captain and others frantically wounded. They could only use one gun, the men having been scattered over the deck, and the gunner had to leave the ship. Mr. Donville performed first amputations before they left the ship, which he did almost the last, in the case of the wounded. Poor Captain Giffard lost his left leg, and his son a severe wound in the right arm. He lay on deck for three hours under a hot sun. The midshipman who lost both his legs, and who was a relative and namesake of the captain, died on the beach, and one man died on the road. The surgeon says the kindness of their captors is beyond words to tell. Lives were saved, and many lives were spared, as he has only to ask and to have. His last words are, 'The captain is doing as well as can be expected. The amputation progressing favourably.'

Churc. and. St. Irenatus.—The following extract is from the Baltic (London), dated May 15, it is without interest:

"I suppose our friends in England, &c., who live at home at ease, are much disengaged with us for not having active and energetic friends there to take care of our national ship. However, I assure you that the Admiral is not to blame; as the sea has not yet disappeared from the upper parts of the gulf; but, if it had, I cannot see that we can commence operations upon Constantinople until the heat of summer is past. The Tiger is now in the gulf, and we should have it harassing our rear, but, as far as we are concerned, it is not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy."

The irregular troops were stated to consist of 14,745 infantry, not well disciplined, but robust and hardy, and excellent for harassing the enemy."

THE CHRONICLE.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., July 12, 1859.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, JULY 10.—The steamer Baltic of New York, brings intelligence that Vienna despatched positively, that Russia, on consideration for Austria, has consented to evacuate the Principalities.

ENCLAVE IN IRISH LAND.

Notwithstanding the thousands of Roman Catholics, for the past few years, gathered into the fold of Christ in the so-called "Island of Saints," through the zeal and perseverance of the Vicar of Christ in Ireland, we find that Anti-Christ still continues to wage war against the All-powerful Jehovah there. The following we take from the Limerick Herald. Read it Proteants of New Brunswick, and then return thanks to God that Poverty does not deprive you of your heart's treasure—the sacred Word of God—

BRIEFS IN LITERATURE.

Corn Markets.—Transactions are of a limited extent. No change reported in price, though some 100 bushels of oil per barrel in flour, 20 per bushel in wheat, and oil per quarter on corn.

The provision market is unchanged, and the price of salt is still extant.

Lord John Russell has officially announced to parliament that the siege of Silistria has been broken.

The advanced guard of the allied forces had reached Provenza.

Ouan Facha, with his whole force, was advancing to Dromore.

Nothing received from the Boers, and the Boers consider authentic, says that the vast majority of the city of Regis had been levelled with the ground, by order of the military authorities, who removed the houses of the poor.

Lord John Russell has officially announced to parliament that the siege of Silistria has been broken.

The Americans take possession of the Principalities, when Russia withdraws.

ARRIVAL OF THE ASIA AT NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, JULY 12.—The Asia arrived yesterday.

The Asia's official reply to Austria.

The Russians were falling back on Pruth in good order.

Nothing was near Constantine.

Bomarsund, on the Baltic, has been bombed and partially destroyed.

Austria is preparing to march 100,000 troops into the Principality, thus intercepting the roads to Constantinople.

The continuous fine weather in France and England continues a slight decline in flour and grain.

Markets.—Breadstuffs depressed. 1s. 6d. decline in Flour; Corn, 2s. Sugar and Tea, quiet.

Provisions were active.

ARTIFICER EXTRAORDINARY.

In the editorial column of the Morning Post of London, last Friday, a suggestion is thrown out that the British government should make a substantial contribution to the expenses of the war.

The Post says:

"It is a fact that the expenses of the war are to be borne by the British people."

The Post adds:

"It is a fact that the expenses of the war are to be borne by the British people."

The Post says:

"It is a fact that the expenses of the war are to be borne by the British people."

The Post adds:

"It is a fact that the expenses of the war are to be borne by the British people."

The Post adds:

"It is a fact that the expenses of the war are to be borne by the British people."

The Post adds:

"It is a fact that the expenses of the war are to be borne by the British people."

The Post adds:

"It is a fact that the expenses of the war are to be borne by the British people."

The Post adds:

"It is a fact that the expenses of the war are to be borne by the British people."

The Post adds:

