

FIENDISH WORK

An Attempt to Blow Up the Railway Bridge at Doaktown with Dynamite.

The Extent of the Damage Done to the Bridge.

Five Hundred Dollars Reward Offered.

A high landed and daring deed was committed at Doaktown on an early morning morning. It was an attempt by some evil disposed person to blow up with dynamite the new railway bridge that is now in course of erection there. The explosion, which occurred between twelve and one in the night time, was heard by many people residing in the vicinity. There were two distinct reports which followed one another in rapid succession. The cause of the disturbance was not ascertained, however, until the following morning, when it was discovered that the new bridge had been subjected to the force of dynamite. The bridge has three spans, the middle of which is fully completed. Near the middle of the two bottom chords which support the completed span, auger holes had been bored in them horizontally in which the dynamite had been placed. The explosion which had shattered the chords fortunately did not cut them apart. How they stood the test is the wonder of everyone. The chords are built of three pieces of timber which are packed and held together by bolts, and the only reason which is ascribed to the bridge's safety is that when the explosion occurred, the bolts were broken, allowed the chords to spread. Superintendent Hobbs who visited the bridge yesterday, says that about an equal amount of damage was done to either chord. A hole as large as one's foot was made clear through the chords, and the bolts within the vicinity of the explosion were broken. Outside of this the bridge was not much damaged and Superintendent Hobbs is of the opinion that the damage can be repaired without having to replace the chords. It is no doubt the intention of the perpetrator of the deed to thus burst the chords under the middle and fall the whole span into the river. There seems to be little doubt that dynamite was used. Contractor Ruel is positive of this fact. It is believed that the chords been thus weakened near the abutment the span would have broken down, for it is there that the greatest strains come and not in the center, as the party to the affair no doubt thought.

The terrible deed has set a terror through all connected with the railway. The failure in accomplishing the nefarious act does not lessen the evil intentions of the person or persons who committed the deed. "Why would such a high-landed and terrible act be committed?" is the question asked on all sides. Everything has been of mounting anxiety in connection with the railroad and the revolving door has been sprung upon them as suddenly and without any warning that it has been known what the deed would be done by the perpetrator of the deed, whether one individual or a party of them, or for what purpose it might have been done, there seems to be little wonder that the promoters of the road are actuated with a feeling of discouragement in their endeavor to open up and develop the country. Without knowing who committed the deed, whether one individual or a party of them, or for what purpose it might have been done, there seems to be little wonder that the promoters of the road are actuated with a feeling of discouragement in their endeavor to open up and develop the country. Without knowing who committed the deed, whether one individual or a party of them, or for what purpose it might have been done, there seems to be little wonder that the promoters of the road are actuated with a feeling of discouragement in their endeavor to open up and develop the country.

PROPOSED NEW DRIVING PARK.
Organization of the Fredericton Park Association.

Another large and representative meeting of the Fredericton Park Association was held at the Queen on Tuesday night, to take further action regarding the establishment of a new driving park for the city. The plan of the grounds and site plan of the track were submitted to a meeting by Sheriff Stirling, who also submitted the proposition made by Mr. Odell, offering to lease the grounds for five years at an annual rental of $1000. The necessary papers were ordered to be drawn up. The grounds selected for the park are 400 yards in length and 200 yards wide—the track to be a half-mile on the east and the entrance to be from Smythe street.

Temperance Notes.
An appeal has been made to the temperance people of New Brunswick to carry their banner in the enforcement of the Scott Act. The appeal asserts, "Why should not this next municipal election be a temperance crusade throughout the whole county?" And adds: "If we can get a Council with sufficient temperance men in it to have an inspection of the Scott Act will have what it has never had in the county—a fair chance."

FALL SAL MON.

The breeding establishments on the Miramichi develop only a September. The September run of salmon is now going up the river, says the Advocate, and as this is the time the hatching establishment on the northwest procure its fish for spawning purposes it naturally brings up to public discussion the much opposed principle on which this establishment has been so long conducted. It has been long noticed that the fall run of salmon has been gradually increasing, while the different summer runs have been apparently diminishing, and it is agreed by many fishermen that our September salmon are a variety of fish that only come up at this time of year, and that the custom of getting the breeding fish at this season only increases a kind of salmon that our fishermen are prohibited by law from catching, and does not distribute the benefits of the establishment throughout the summer or bring them within the reach of those for whom they were intended. There are many who think there are varieties of salmon which have different times for coming up the river, and point to runs in other rivers where the peculiarities are more marked, such as the Oregon, where not only the color but the shape is altogether dissimilar, and the fish are of different sizes. It is also pointed out that the fish which are taken at different seasons of the year—There may be many reasons given for the gradual decrease of our summer salmon, but there is enough evidence to create a strong feeling that the Fishery Department should change the present method of the breeding establishment on our river, and experiment with the spawning of summer salmon. It should recognize the growing opinion against the present arrangement by at least placing on trial some plan for obtaining eggs from other than fall salmon. The habits of salmon are so little understood that any one can run for their protection and development.

Carleton County in the Front.
A short time since our county was prominently and successfully represented at the fair held in Bangor. Following this honor comes another of which we feel justly proud. The provincial secretary of agriculture has been advised by the people's representatives representing the Carleton County in London, that they are desirous of having a competition in fruit between England and Canada. The secretary has visited Carleton County, the first in the province in fruit culture as in some other things, and asked for, and has been promised, the cooperation of our people. Led by our most distinguished fruit grower, Mr. Sharp, we trust our people will generally be ready to respond to this opportunity to so practically advertise our soil and climate. We have no fears but that Canada will do herself credit in this display, and thus forever settle the slander of him who said, "Canada has no fruit." Such fruits as Canada has display in London grow only under favorable auspices.—Woodstock Press.

More Earthquake Tremors.
Savannah experienced another very distinct earthquake shock yesterday morning. The vibrations lasted several seconds, causing glass, windows, etc., to rattle. Hundreds of people were awakened, and many were frightened badly, though there was no general alarm. At O'Connell's, S. C., yesterday morning, a long rumbling sound was followed by a severe shock of earthquake, lasting about half a minute. Houses were perceptibly shaken and most people were awakened. Quite a few shocks of earthquake occurred at Charlotte yesterday morning. The people were aroused from their sleep and much excitement prevailed. Houses were shaken and in many cases the plastering was thrown down. The most serious damage was to the medical college, the front wall of which collapsed. No one was injured.

Harvest Home Near Work.
A harvest home and bazaar, by the Baptist church and congregation in this city, is announced to take place in the city hall on Wednesday and Thursday next week. A large collection of agricultural produce, the best the county can produce, will be exhibited and offered for sale. The refreshments will be delicious and the choicest varieties of home and foreign products. High tea will be served each day from 5 to 7 o'clock. Competent and experienced committee are busy at work preparing for this grand affair, and it is likely to be one of the greatest attractions of the season. The bazaar and show room will be opened each day at 10 o'clock. The proceeds will go to the building fund of the church.

Wiggins' Appeal.
Wiggins, the attorney, has appealed to the Supreme Court, predicting a terrible earthquake, storm and tidal waves for the afternoon of the 25th of the present month. He says the earthquake will be felt in the north and central Canada, Southern Strait and southern parts of Europe. He thinks Canada will escape, though tremors may be felt in Quebec Province north of the 30th parallel of latitude. Wiggins says the disturbance will take the form of a hurricane. This will be especially severe in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Eastern Provinces and New England. There will be a powerful north wind on the 25th and 26th inst., the 25th will probably be fine, he will tell the press the storm.

Attempted Theft at Cork Station.
A correspondent from Cork Station writes that a couple of well known roughs of the place stole a horse from Mr. Daniel Crowley's barn the other day and were making way with their booty before they were captured. Mr. Crowley was away from home at the time and the culprits have not been punished. The correspondent complains that these same individuals have been allowed to go unpunished on several occasions before for similar crimes, and thinks that the officers of the law should make out speedily justice to them before serious offences are committed.

Lennox's Variety Store.
The full shipments are beginning to arrive at Lennox's variety store and their large store is being stocked with an endless variety of new goods. This great repository of ornamental and useful goods is well worthy of a visit. Extensive improvements are being made for the better display of the goods. The Messrs. Lennox have recently fitted up a commodious marble office in their store, which is not only surpassed anywhere in the province.

Detroit	31	10	41	.756
New York	29	10	39	.745

Rowing in England.
John Teemer has been very desirous of having Joseph Gaudin's race on the Thames course, from Putney to Mortlake, for $1000 a side, any day within two weeks after the match with William Beach.

Carleton County, the first in the province in fruit culture as in some other things, and asked for, and has been promised, the cooperation of our people. Led by our most distinguished fruit grower, Mr. Sharp, we trust our people will generally be ready to respond to this opportunity to so practically advertise our soil and climate. A great sweep-stake race of $5,000 each has been arranged between Gaudin, Nelson, and Hendrie, the three greatest horses in England, to be run at Newmarket Oct. 13th. The race will be the favorite as it is considered the best horse produced in this century, but the others have splendid records and betting will be enormous.

Tom Loe, who, by defeating Van, Parman for $200 a side, has become Australia's heavy weight champion, wants to fight Sullivan.

Mr. J. I. Case recently received an offer of $30,000 for his brown stallion Phalaris, record 2:13 1/2.

County Council Business.
A large number of the County Council were in town yesterday to attend to committee work, which was necessary to be done previous to the holding of the election. The committee on the Fredericton Branch railway matter met during the afternoon and will meet again in a week's time. The committee on the parish of Bright collectively discussed and reported, also the committee to examine into the accounts of the Treasurer.

The Municipal elections take place on Tuesday, the 5th of October. There seems to be no burning question before the election and the chances seem to be a struggle solely between the candidates. From present indications the elections will be contested in every parish.

Farmer's Banket Meeting.
The ladies of the Baptist church and congregation of Kewick intend holding a farmer's banket on Tuesday afternoon next, 25th inst. Every preparation is being made for the festival and its success is assured. A good time may be looked for. In the evening Dr. McLeod, of this city, will lecture. The proceeds are to be appropriated to church purposes.

Canker humors of every description, whether in the mouth, throat, or stomach, are expelled from the system by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. No other remedy can compare with this, as it acts directly on the origin of impure or impure blood.

SCOTT ACT DECISION.

The Police Magistrate has the honor to inform the public that the Scott Act, which was passed by the Legislature of this province, has been decided upon by the Police Magistrate of this city, some weeks ago, for violation of the Canada Temperance Act, but an application was made, it will be remembered, for a certiorari on the ground that the police magistrate had no jurisdiction to try such cases when the violation was committed in the county and outside of the limits of the city. The chief justice gave his decision in the case this morning referring to grant the application. The police magistrate consequently has the jurisdiction to hear any offence committed against the act anywhere in the county. The decision will also affect several other cases which have been set aside for the same reason.

He has now on hand, as will be seen by his advertisement, a large supply of native oysters. Meals are served at the restaurant at all hours of the day.

MOONDYNE.
THE GOLD MINE OF THE VASS.

"Yes, you may laugh, Hamerton; but this is very interesting," said Lord Somers. "Have your men retained any of their savage ways, Mr. Wyville?"

"I think they have all kept their natural customs, which people in England call savage ways. They eat and sleep in their own fashion—I do not see any reason for improving my way upon them, if they prefer theirs. Mine is in itself no better, except as it pleases me.
They even keep their familiar implements, if they please."

"What, for instance?" asked Lord Somers.

Mr. Wyville touched a bell. Ngara, a native, appeared at the door.

"Tanga danga somera," said Mr.
Wyville.

The Australian disappeared, and in a few moments returned to the door, holding three or four long and slender spears in one hand, and the somera or throwing stick in the other.

Lord Somers and Mr. Hamerton examined the weapons with great interest, vainly trying to draw a word from the observant Australian, while Mr.
Wyville took Sheridan aside, and conversed with him for several minutes.

On taking their leave, Mr. Wyville gave Sheridan a cordial invitation to come and see him soon, as he had much to say to him.

"You will find me at home almost always," he said.

"And if Mr. Wyville is absent, you will certainly find Mr. Hamerton," said Lord Somers, jestingly.

Before they parted, Lord Somers informed Sheridan that Hamerton was a wealthy gentleman who had refused to adopt his hereditary title, and who had also decided to earn his own livelihood, making a yearly division of the profits of his estate among his farmers and tenants.

This had earned him quite an income of his kind, but he had gone on working in his own way, and had already won for himself an honorable name as an author.

"Hamerton is a Republican now," said Lord Somers, after a pause; "he was a Socialist in the University."

Mr. Sheridan remarked that he seemed quite to agree with Mr. Wyville's opinion.

"Yes," the Secretary said, "he has been much attracted to this remarkable man —more so than any one he has ever known." Lord Somers also mentioned that the government was about to introduce a sweeping reform of the entire Penal System, at home and abroad, and that the assistance of Mr. Wyville had been deemed of the utmost importance.

"He has already reformed our system at the Andaman Islands, the Penal Colony for India," said the Secretary;
"that the Australian colonies offer a profound problem. If possible, we would like to see him, to use the words not merely as slaves, preparing the way for civilized life, but to transform them gradually into a healthy base of population."

"It certainly is a wide field, and a grand undertaking," responded Sheridan,
"and it is terribly needed. But Mr.
Wyville is an uncommon mind. I trust his views will be largely heeded by the Government."

"He has the matter in his own hands," said the Secretary, confidentially and earnestly; "the Prime Minister has asked him to draft the entire bill."

THE UPSTREET.

In a few days, as soon as he could do so without apparent haste, Will Sheridan visited Milbank again, and was escorted by a warder to the governor's office, where he was graciously received by that dignitary. Very soon, Sheridan adroitly turned the conversation on the transport service, and the chief of prisoners to be transported in the next ship. The governor, who was a portly old army major, was willing enough to talk on the subject.

The Government has no special ships for transport," said the governor; "we charter a large merchant vessel, and fit her up for the voyage. The Hongkong which will sail in April, is now lying at Portland, under preparation."

"The convicts to be transported you select from those who are best conducted, do you not?" asked Sheridan.

"No," said the governor, "only the women. These are the healthiest and best among their class; because they are soon released in Australia, and get married to liberated men, or go to service in settlement houses. But the men who go to Australia are the worst criminals in Great Britain. They are first selected for their sentences; men imprisoned for life, or for twenty years, are sure to go. Next we take them for re-conviction; we want to send away as many professional criminals as possible.
Then we make up the number with strong young fellows, who have never been in prison before, but who are able to do a good deal of hard work."

"I presume the Australian authorities soon give this last class their liberty, and encourage them to become settlers?"
said Sheridan inquiringly.

consumption.

Notwithstanding the great number who yearly succumb to this terrible and fatal disease, which is daily winning its fatal clutches around thousands who are unconscious of its deadly presence, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will cleanse and purify the blood of every impurity, and cure tubercular consumption (which is only another name for the lung). Send 10 cents in stamps and get Dr. Pierce's complete treatise on consumption and kindred affections, with numerous testimonials of cure. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Day and Night
During an acute attack of Bronchitis, a ceaseless tickling in the throat, and an exhausting, dry, hacking cough, afflict the sufferer. Sleep is banished, and great prostration follows. This disease is also attended with hoarseness, and sometimes Loss of Voice. It is liable to become chronic, involve the lungs, and terminate fatally. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral affords speedy relief and cure in cases of Bronchitis. It controls the disposition to cough, and induces refreshing sleep.

Without Relief,
I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It helped me immediately, and effected a speedy cure.—G. Stovall, M. D., Carrollton, Miss.
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is decidedly the best remedy, within my knowledge, for chronic Bronchitis and all lung diseases.

Mr. Rust, M. D., South Paris, Me.
I was attacked, last winter, with a severe cough, which from exposure, grew worse and finally settled on my lungs. By night, I was reduced almost to a skeleton. My cough was incessant, and I frequently spit blood. My physician told me to give up business, or I would not live a month. After taking various remedies without relief, I was finally weak lungs, and suffered from Bronchitis
