OUR REAL GIFT TO AMERICAN CULTURE

(For the Associated Negro Press)

"It is better to give than to receive" says the book of books. And, no people pins more faith to the Bible than does the American Negro. It has, is and will be his guide.

Our amusement group is no exception to the general rule—and they have given. Given not "to the least" but to Big Broadway itself, to Broadway, that highest and noblest castle of things theatrical.

The talent of our composers, the ingeniousness of Negro arrangers of music, and the cleverness of colored dance directors have all been most indelibly impressed upon the entertainment of the Big street; and by fact of this accepted authority upon the amusement life of the nation with an excellent chance of becoming a world influence wherever vocal and instrumental music is professionally presented to civilized humanity.

Let any doubting reader with any knowledge of the Negro showworld that extends back even five years, go to any of the prevailing successes in the musical comedy and revue theaters if he would be convinced that we have really given. We have given until it hurts, but it hurts with the pain of joy that is tinged but little with regret.

There you will hear tunes that are reminiscent of J. Lubrie Hill and My

To those men and women, both white and colored, who have so earnestly, so devotedly and so zealously given themselves to the work of The Canadian League for the Advancement of Colored People, the following lines seem most appropriate.

TO OUR FRIENDS.

We've kept the faith. Our soul's high dreams"

Untouched by bondage and its rod,

Burn on! burn on! It seems

We shall have Friends—while God is God!

By Lucian B. Watkins, Negro Poet.

CHRISTMAS—THE NEW AGE

At this happy season of the year, when all civilized lands observe Christmas with some kind of festivity or devotions, it is fitting that we recall the purport of the coming of the "Babe of Bethlehem." We go to Bethlehem with the angels, and look upon a babe in its mother's arms. What do we see in that babe more than in any of the many born in Judea's land that day? There is no halo around His head, there is nothing striking in His countenance; as He nestles in His mother's bosom we see in Him nothing more than the characteristics of a child. But centuries have rolled away since then, and this child has become the most marvelous personage in them all. He has revealed Himself to the ages; and now untold millions worship at His shrine. The many years have unfolded the wrapped up glories in that child, so that now we see in Him facts that could not have been dreamt of by any who gazed upon Him in His mother's arms. Christmas becomes then to us, the age of a new race. The babe the shepherd saw that first Christmas morning had indeed a remarkable history. He was born of a woman; but He was conceived of the Holy Ghost. There were the human and the Divine in His generation. He was distinct from the ordinary human being in the history of His birth; but He was also distinct from him in reasons that led to His nativity. He came to make a new beginning of the human race. It had faltered and fallen and become vile, and

REDEMPTION OF AFRICA HOPE OF THE NEGRO

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec.— (By The Associated Negro Press)—Great audiences greeted with rounds and rounds of applause the speakers at the opening of the Great Missionary Symposium, held at the Union Baptist Ch. on Monday. Delegates listened to an interesting address on "West Africa" delivered by the Rev. F. E. East. Dr. East has spent many years in Africa, and the information he gives is first hand. At the night session Dr. East illustrated with pictorial slides the needs of Africa.

Dr. East spoke on the economical situation as applies in general to the entire Dark Continent, with particular reference to the Republic of Liberia. He spoke of the great indebtedness of a million and a half dollars; how much of that debt was incurred by a white concern that pretended to be interested in the development of Africa, but which concern squandered the money and did not make any explanation about it. It was clearly demonstrated how the Liberians for the last one hundred years have had to fight hordes of savage natives, and how wonderfully they had stood, with practically nothing to hold on.

The purpose of this symposium is to raise $25,000, which sum is needed to carry out the program that has already been outlined.

DOES JESUS BEAR THE CROSS ALONE

As the Christmas season approaches we believe the spirit of "Peace on Earth, good will to all men," grips, to a greater or smaller degree or smaller degree, every human being of all civilized countries. Naturally, therefore, being of a receptive, meditative mode, we begin to think of the great sacrifice, which was necessary to bring "Peace on Earth" and "good will to all mankind." We think of the cross and the crucifixion and we reverently sing: "Must Jesus bear the cross alone and all the world go free?" No, Jesus does not bear the cross alone nor has He ever done so. For as He first took up the cross and began that agonizing march to Gethsemane He found a Negro, Simon the Syrian, who was willing to help Him bear His cross. As the Master grew faint and weary from the weight of the cross Simon, with broad shoulders and with a heart filled with love and sympathy, stooped down and picked up the cross and he bore in for Him. And he bore in all the way. And since that memorable event the descendants of the tribe of Simon have never ceased to help the Master to bear the cross, of sins of this world, the cross of greed, the cross of hate, and mockery and discrimination. And this, they have done with a meekness of spirit which passeth all human understanding. When upon this continent their yoke was hardest and their cross was heaviest, their bards and their poets sang songs, and their songs, although crude of expression and at times weird in sound, still breathed the same spirit which burst from the lips of the Master in His great agony on Calvary: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." How aptly does Cotler's poem express our feelings:

Brother come,
And let us go unto our God.
And when we stand before Him
I shall say—
"Lord I do not hate,
I am hated.
I scourge no one,
I am scourged.
I covet no lands,
Lands are coveted.
I mock no peoples,
My people are mocked."
And brother, what shall you say?
If there are any of the elements of the spirit of Christ in which my people exceed all other peoples it is the spirit of loving kindness and the spirit which causes men to forgive and forget. If we had contributed nothing in science, in music, in literature or in art—these two contributions alone would entitle us to a place in the, for these two are the greatest of them all.

Oh Christ! Thou canst not bear the cross alone. The sins of this world are too great and too greivous. And so, we your dark brethren, come, from the beginning, even now and forever more to do what in our power lies to help you bear the cross.

CHRISTMAS EVE IN FRANCE

Oh little Christ, why do you sigh
As you look down tonight
On breathless France, on bleeding
France,
And all her dreadful plight?
What bows your childish head so low?
What turns your cheek so white?

Oh little Christ, why do you moan,
What is it that you see
In mourning France, in martyred
France,
And her great agony?
Does she recall your own dark day,
Your own Gethsemane?

Oh little Christ, why do you weep,
Why flow your tears so sore
For pleading France, for praying
France,
A suppliant at God's Door?
"God sweetened not my cup," you say,
"Shall He for France not more?"

Oh little Christ, what can this mean,
Why must this horror be,
For fainting France, for faithful
France,
And her sweet chivalry?
"I bled to free all men," you say,
"France bled to keep men free."

Oh little, lovely Christ—you smile!
What guerdon is in store
For gallant France, for glorious
France,
And all her valiant troops?
Behold I live, and France, like Me,
Shall live for evermore."

JESSIE HANSET,
Negro Poetess.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Stewart of Ottawa Ave. had the misfortune to have their home partly destroyed by fire last Friday morning. Many valuable pieces of furniture were burned and several articles were ruined by water.

Last Sunday was quarterly meeting at the BME Church. Rev. Stewart, although weak from his recent illness, was able to be present at the three services. Rev. James Hamilton preached in the afternoon and Mr. W. D. Yeo. was the speaker at the evening services. Both gentlemen presented strong and thoughtful sermons.

Mrs. Jane Cormwell is improving favourably. Rev. E. M. Wood was able to attend services at the Hill St. Baptist Church last Sunday, although he was still unable to deliver one of his very stirring sermons. He hopes to be able to conduct the services all next Sunday which will be an eventful day. He expects to baptise one candidate and to ordain three brethren as official deacons. Several visiting deacons from the white Baptist Churches are expected to be present.

Mrs. Wm. Berry of Front Street has been confined to her bed for several days.

The Lord's day was very quiet here it being one of the worst storms of the season few turned out to public worship at any of the churches here because of the fierce snow and wind storm. The services in the B.M.E. church were conducted by bros. T. Breen and J. Smith, the pastor, Rev. E. A. Richardson being at Collingwood attending to the mission there of the B.M.E. connexion so as to be home for Christmas tide. The services at the church were very inspirational and deeply appreciated by all those who were present.

NEW GLESGOW, N.S.

Before one of the largest audiences of the season Wm. A. Borden (colored) won his right to the title "Canada's Peerless Colored Master Singer." With marvelous skill and consummate artistry he wended his way through a formidable list of twelve songs, some of them in foreign tongue, yet so beautiful was his tone and so clear his enunciation and accent that the audience listened spell-bound while the youthful singer of 24 yrs. wove the golden warp of his songs and captured completely the hearts of his listeners.

To attempt to particularize on any of the group of songs would be difficult. Perhaps the group under the heading of Negro Melodies is really worth mentioning. This group contained 2 spirituals: "Goin' Home" by Dvorak and "Goin' to Shout."

Our race has produced many great people but no nation can be called truly great until it has the leisure to turn its attention to the artistic side of life. Borden is a forerunner of what the race will accomplish as soon as it obtains the leisure.

Mr. Moriarty presided acceptably at the piano. All in all it was a splendid entertainment and much credit is due to both Mr. Borden and the other artist who assisted.

Brown and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Carter were the god-parents. Covers were laid for thirty. Friend from Kentucky. Of Miller and Lyles, Sissle and Blake and their more recent productions of "Shuffle Along," "Running Wild," "Chocolate Dandies" and topical songs that are reminiscent of S. H. Dudley's "Old Black Crow" of the Smart Set days. Even George Walkers "Shine" with altered lyrics is the vehicle for a pair of white girls doing a kid sister stunt in one of the big revues.

And the dances, Ye Gods of Terpsichore!—how Frank Montgomery, Leonard Harper, Eddie Green, Lawrence Deas and a few more of our men have set the Negro idea of action into vogue. Lubrie Hills' unique walk, the familiar leg work, and a pitiable effort after Irving Miller's finale effects, with none of the vigorous soul stirring results that worthy achieves may be seen in the big shows.

Other names grace the programs: but take it straight from us that the orchestrations of the numbers have the familiar strains of numberless fellows like Dave Peyton, Grainger and Hicketts; Bill Vodery, W. C. Handy; Quallie Clark, Carl White, Edgar Dowell.

Yes, we have given, and our gifts are bearing fruits. We can, therefore, enjoy our Christmas with a certain satisfaction that is born of well doing. Enjoy it all the more since it is also said that "By their fruits shall they be known."

She met the Annual Conference at Brantford, 1922, Also at Windsor, 1924, made a fine impression on all she came in contact with and we looked forward to many years of fellowship and service. During these few years Mrs. Jackson rendered valuable service to Winnipeg Mission, also to our Conference her financial reports were good. She complained of poor health at Windsor Conference but continued her work, was at Moose Jaw when taken ill the last time. Her heart and soul was in the work. Her last words were: Thy will be done. Blessed be the Name of the Lord. She leaves to mourn her loss, a loving husband, a son and a host of friends both in the U.S. and Canada.

He came to lift it out of its fallen state, and give it a new start. He made Himself the starting point, and required that all who would join themselves to Him should become like Him. He required of them that they should experience a new birth through the operation of the Holy Spirit, and that He Himself should enter their lives and control all their activities. He whose birth we celebrate on Christmas day became a luminary to earth shining into the hearts and minds of men with a strength that had never been experienced before. That Babe became the light of the world; making the age of His shining the most luminous and glorious of all the ages.
There never was an age when the spirit of philanthropy was so dominant as it is now. The poor, the sick, the aged, the infirm, long neglected of the human kind, are now being cared for by loving hearts and hands. No one denies, not even the enemy, that it was He whom the shepherds went to see that morning, that ushered in this glorious age; and it is His Spirit in the hearts of His followers that is increasing its glory.
Before His entry into the life of humanity much suffering, strife and woe existed. But day broke when Jesus was born; and it has been increasing in splendor ever since. This is a blessed age! Prophets and patri-archs longed to see its glories; but died while yet it was afar off. But how happy our lot; we live amidst its splendors, and participate in its privileges and joys. How ardent our love should burn for Him whose age it is, and how earnestly we should labor that men and women who are out in the night of sin and sorrow might be brought within its glorious radius, that they, too, might share in the blessings Christ has brought to mankind.

F. O. STEWART, London.

Redemption of Africa Hope of the Negro

inent divine, one of the most powerfully eloquent of Baptist ministers, moved the audience to its feet at the afternoon session on Monday, when he spoke on "Some Needs in the Redemption of Africa." He appealed to the sacred honor of every Negro in the United States, saying that God had given the American Negro this freedom in order to make it possible for the larger freedom of the world —Africa in particular. Dr. Morris mentioned the needs of a hospital to conserve the splendid heroic pioneers who leave America and must be nursed until they are acclimatized and also to nurse missionaries when they are sick. He also mentioned as one of the great needs an African Tuskegee where the natives of Liberia could be taught up-to-date farming and the industries.
