Shipbuilders Have Nothing to Say Regarding Situation-Germany's Position—Cable News.

EXCITEMENT SUBSIDING.

London, April 28.-The excitement caused here by the shipping deal is subsiding, owing to the maze of contradictions and the lack of authentic information. A sense of irritated uneasiness remains unmistakably, for the independence of the British commercial Cunard and White Star Lines, in joining an American-Canadian-German coalition, keep the same flag afloat, the grip of a foreign money power is dreaded as a source of danger in time of war.

THE GOVERNMENT VIGILANT. A fresh series of questions asked in parliament threw little light upon the subject, but disclosed the fact that the government was fully alive to the importance of establishing safeguards against the transfer of subsidized British ships to foreign flags. The heads of the admiralty and the board of trade have been consulting, and there is likely to be something more tha a reappointment of the committee on steamship subsidies. Mr. Arnold Forster is both a naval expert and a man of energy, and important action | CAPT, MAHAN ON IMPERIAL FEDis foreshadowed.

POSITION IN THE GERMAN LINES. What may be the real force of the to imperial federation is contributed equivocal denials of steamship owners by Capt. Mahan to the forthcoming at Liverpool, it is clear that Germany number of the National Review. The ownership, have made a definite agreement with the Anglo-American coalition respecting future operations. It is a natural inference that the English lines have either accepted foreign regulation and direction or are likely to do so.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION. London, April 29.-The Canadian the proofs received at the emigration office that the shipping combination, with two Canadian lines in it, are already interfering with the systematized operations of the highly successful bureau. Commissioner W. T. R. Preston confirmed yesterday the report that the two representatives of the shipping ring had threatened to divert emigration from Canada unless the work of the sub-agents appointed throughout the United Kingdom for promoting it without prejudice to any line were restricted. Mr. Preston told me that important correspondence on the subject would arrive at Ottawa on Thursday, showing that the ring UNITED STATES CONSUL-GENERis seeking to control the rates for passage to Canada, and to interfere with the wise policy which has led to the enormous increase of inquiries and departures of British settlers. SHIPBUILDERS SAYING NOTHING. The most significant feature of the shipping excitement is the silence prevaiing at the shippards of Belfast, the Clyde and the Tyne. There are no outcries from British shipbuilders, when it is suggested that the United States may adopt a free ship bill, and take over European merchant fleets. The truth is discerned that the Morgan combination is not helpful to the shipbuilding interests at Philadelphia and other American ports, and that the adoption of a free ship policy would be a tremendous gain for British yards. There was a sharp relapse on the part of Cunard shares yesterday.

Establishment of High Court the Transvaal Foreshadows

Peace.

London, April 28 .- A Pretoria dispatch reports that a proclamation has just been issued establishing the high court of the Transvaal, which will be opened on the 8th of July. This marks a great stride towards the re-establishment of civil government in the colony. The court, as at present constituted, consists of four judges, whose appointments will be permanent-Sir J. Rose Innes, Mr. Justice Solomon, of Cape Colony; Sir William Smith, a man of wide experience in crown colonies, lately judge in Natal and also in British Guiana, and Mr. J. W.

Wessels. A single judge court will be established at Johannesburg, with high court jurisdiction over the Witwatersrand district, and will be presided over by one of the judges of the high court sitting in rotation.

cations for admission to the bar. In this respect the provisions made are most generous to advocates throughout the empire, and at the same time they secure the efficiency of the bar. English barristers, Scottish advocates and advocates of the high court of the late republic are entitled to admission, also advocates from any British colony who have either passed an examination, which in the opinion of the judges of the high court, is equivalent to the law examination required for admission to the bar of Cape Colony, or who have practiced exclusively as advocates, not in partnership with attorneys, for a period of years, in the supreme court of such British colony.

The work of organizing the new contingents is steadily going on, and several preparations are being made for the third regiment, which will sail first. The clothing for the lot of this regiment has all been served out and today the troopers of the ninth regiment were receiving their kit. Several troopers were before the commanding officer of the third regiment today and minor charges were tried. One of the men was charged with striking a fellow trooper, but he was acquitted. Several for breaking bar-racks and being absent from parade were dealt with. A number of horses arrived today and were taken to the stables at the camp. The third regi-

Lord Strathcona and Other Noblemen Designated as "A Line of Figureheads."

London, April 28.-More interest than usually attaches to libel suits against Henry Labouchere was exhibited at the trial of a case in the King's bench division of the high court of justice today, in which Lord Suffield was the plaintiff. Lord Suffield, who is permanent lord-in-waiting to the King, claimed damages for articles published in Labouchere's newspaper, Truth, one article alleging that a club of which Lord Suffield was president, was "an impudent and transparent humbug," and that the council of the club and others connected with the scheme was "a line of figureheads" on the front pags of city prospectuses, "for the purpose of decoys and by means of which smaller people were lured into a snare." Counsel for Lord Suffield pointed out that Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, the Canadian high commissioner, was president of the club in 1897, while the council of the club, when Mr. Labouchere wrote his strictures, included Mr. Choate. United States ambassador; Cardinal Vaughan, Lord Strathcona and Mount commandos last week. At these meet- Royal, Lord Charles Beresford and similar celebrities. in the House. London, April 28.-The Shipping Gazette this afternoon says: While it is perfectly true that the White Star Line has not been sold to the American syndicate and that the present owners of shares retain their holdings, the statements made Saturday do not fully represent the real position. We are authoritatively informed that while there will be no sale of White Star shares there will be an exchange of these shares for those of the new company. In this way the financial interest of the White Star in the combine will be established. The two great German companies will, on the other hand, make no similar exchange of their shares for those of the new company, but they will enter into an agreement binding them for ten years and renewable for another ten years, by which their co-operation is secured. The simplest way of indicating the real position is to describe the companies concerned as entering into a pooling arrangement. It follows that there will be no competition between tnem at the ports with which the individual steamship corporations have

In the House of Commons today the president of the board of trade, Gerald Balfour, replying to a question said the board had no power to require the disclosure of any agreement or the transfer of a British ship to foreign owner nor to require the White Star Line or other lines which had entered into the American combination to disclose terms of their agreements with the American syndicate or to produce any documents showing the status of the persons who, under the agreement, acquire a share in the control of a beneficial interest in the ships concerned.

WESTERN SYNOD ASSEMBLED

Rev. Alexander Henderson, of Appin, the New Moderator.

Thoughtful Sermon by Rev. E. W. Panton, the Retiring Moderator-The Century Fund.

The Presbyterian Synod of London and Hamilton held the first meeting of itsannual session in the First Presbyterian Church here last night. The moderator, Rev. W. E. Panton, of St. Andrew's Church, Stratford, opened the meeting with prayer. The attendance was large, consisting chiefly of Presbyterian ministers, although laymen were also fairly well represented. It is expected that there will be representatives from nearly every Presbyterian Church in Western

Ontario. In his annual sermon to the synod the moderator took for his text I. Corinthians, iii., 9: "For we are laborers tothians, iii., 9: "For we are laborers together with God." The speaker began by dealing with the early Christian church and the manner in which Paul met the divisions in that church. He then went on to apply the text to present conditions. Let them first consider the divine and human co-operation in this life. The glory and the power belonged to God, but the responsibility, rested with man. The husbandman plowed and sowed, but it was God who gave longed to God, but the responsibility, rested with man. The husbandman plowed and sowed, but it was God who gave the increase. In all things there was a laboring togething on the part of God and man. Mr. Panton pointed to the inspiration which was to be found in the thought of being a co-laborer with God. The inspiration came first from the thought of God's infinite power. Never for a moment was that to be lost sight of. God possessed infinite powers that could not fail. So long as God was for us there was nothing too great for us to attempt. The thought of the wisdom of him with whom we labored was also a source of inspiration. Infinite wisdom was one of the attributes of God, and therefore could the Christian say that all things work together for good to them that love the Lord. God's love, too, was infinite in its strength, tenderness and comparison, a constant refuge for the weary and heavy-laden. Being a colaborer with God brought with it great responsibilities, continued the moderator, for the slightest faltering of the weakest saint served to retard the progress of the church and of the kingdom of heaven. saint served to retard the progress of the church and of the kingdom of heaven. The Presbyterian Church had during the past two years given an indication of this responsibility, in connection with the century fund. By this fund Presbyterians had been enabled to free most of their churches from the onus of debt which had oppressed them, thus giving an immense impetus forwerd. Boundless possibilities for splendidly aggressive work lay in this fact. The field was white to the harvest. The century fund had demonstrated the church's financial strength, and her ability to respond to appeals to all that was highest and noblest. A great work lay before the nt served to retard the progress of appeals to all that was highest and noblest. A great work lay before the Christian church in the mission field, and a great responsibility lay on the Presbyterian Church that she should do her share of it. Since they had last met two of the church's greatest missionaries had been called to their rewards, two considerances exponents of the gospel had spicuous exponents of the gospol had fallen. The preacher referred to Rev. Dr. McKay, of Formosa, and Rev. Dr. Robertson, of the Northwest Territories, representatives respectively of the foreign and home mission fields. Devotion to the missionary cause, a quenchless zeal in the winning of souls, boundless enthustagen in arousing hearts, and rare and asm in arousing hearts, and rare and unique statesmanship in handling men, had characterized these two great men, and had won for them names that would ong be cherished by the Presbyterians the Dominion. Mr. Panton went on to state that on large and rich Synod of Hamilton

Mr. Panton went on to state that on the large and rich Synod of Hamilton and London rested a great responsibility in the cause of missions. We should arise in our might to help in God's cause, and not wrangle over the affairs of men and of the present. Let us, he said, push onward towards the mark of the highest Christian ideals, the glory of God and the salvation of men, and thus show that we are genuine laborers with God. The speaker pointed out, in conclusion, that the text said nothing in regard to reward. There was a great work ahead, but the true Christian labored not for wages, but for an inheritance which lasted forever. Neither was anything mentioned as to the success that would attend our efforts. Much thought was wasted in vain worrying over our lack of success. We should regulate our lives to Christ's command to take no thought for the morrow. "God is ready to send his holy angels to strengthen us as we pass through our Gethsemanes," said the moderator, "and all grace and power is pledged to support us, for we are laborers together, with God."

After the changes of the synod during the past year, occasioned by death and removals, were read, the assemblage proceeded to select the chief officer for the coming year. The following nominations were made for the moderatorship:

Rev. Alexander Henderson, Appin, by Rev. W. J. Clark, London, and Rev. John Johnston, of Paisley.

Rev. E. W. Panton was heartily thanked by the meeting for his thoughtful sermon, as well as for his efficient services as moderator during the past year.

WOMEN'S WORK

Good Record of Y.M.C.A. Auxiliary for the Past Year.

Interesting Reports Submitted at Annual Meeting—The Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., was held yesterday at the association building, with a good attendance of members present. Gratifying reports were presented, the consideration of which constituted the main business of the af-

The report of the secretary, Mrs. A. J. Wood, reviewed in condensed form the work of the year. The society has at last obtained its long-desired object, that of wiping out the debt for furnishings to the Y. M. C. A. building, the cost of which they undertook to defray. Not a cent now remains to be paid The sum required was a large one, and the efforts of the members of the auxiliary must have been untiring and determined to meet it in so short a time. Because this has been done, however, the work will not be stopped. The secretary's report showed that ten regular and two special meetings had been held during the year, with an average attendance of 13 members. The devotional exercises during the year were of a helpful character, many of the ciey clergymen taking part. In May the society had the pleasure of making the last payment on their share of the debt fund. All work allotted to the different committees during the year was very successfully performed. The rooms committee added several new pieces of furniture to the rooms, besides keeping all the furnishings in order. The president, Miss Ware, was unable to do active work at the beginning of the year, and that was the only time when any feeling of despair was felt. She has since been able to attend to her duties and the work has gone on very smoothly.

One hundred and thirty-eight members were now on the roll, a decrease of 31 from last year.

The treasurer, Mrs. Gregsten, in her report, thanked the many kind persons who had contributed during the year, and showed that the auxiliary was flourishing financially.

Other reports were presented and accepted without discussion. During the evening Mr. F. W. Anderson, who leaves shortly as a traveling association secretary to India, gave an interesting little talk, and spoke of the work he was about to take up. His sister, Miss Emma Anderson, of Chicago, was also a visitor at the meeting.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss M. A. Ware; first vice-president Mrs. J. K. Spry; second vice-president, Mrs. Snell; tressurer Mrs. B. Creestent, Springer Mrs. B. Creestent treasurer, Mrs. E. H. Gregsten; secretary, Miss Macnamara; convener of membership committee, Miss M. S. Ware; rooms committee, Mrs. N. S. Williams: social committee, Mrs. T. S. PAINE'S GELERY COMPOUND Is the Only Medicine That Can Promptly and Permanently Banish All Wasting and Dangerous Diseases.

It Restores Lost Health When Physicians Pronounce Your Case Incurable.

If, in springtime sick people-young and old-act with promptness, wisdom and decision, suffering, agony and misery would never be carried into the summer months. To delay the work of banishing disease, regulating the nerves, purifying the blood and restoring perfect digestion is a serious mistake.

When the blood is sluggish, impure and poisoned, when the nervous system is unbalanced, when digestion is deranged and the appetite poor and variable, be assured your condition is critical, and calls for instant attention before the summer months bring additional dangers. At this time the use of Paine's Celery Compound will do a marvelous work for every run-down, sick and diseased man and woman. Its life-giving work first commences with the blood, which is made clean and pure; then the nerves are quickly set in order, digestive vigor is fully resetored, the appetite is made natural, sleep is refreshing, and the desponding heart is made light and joyous. It is well to bear in mind that Paine's Celery Compound owes it ori-gin to the most distinguished physician that this American continent has ever produced, and his marvelous prescription is publicly indorsed by our best and ablest physicians.

If all sufferers who have been disappointed in the past will promptly start with Paine's Celery Compound, they will be astonished and delighted with the speed with which this wonderful remedy is able to call a halt to wasting and dangerous diseases. It is now making tens of thousands well and strong, and fitting them to enjoy the summer months which, to the well and strong, are pleasurable and happy.

Dr. McLaughlin Gives His Reason for the Popularity of His Electric Belt.

Electricity, as furnished by my Belt, cures by giving back to the weakened nerves, muscles and organs the vitality they have lost, reducing inflammation, developing the full vigor of health and removing the effects of overwork, exposure to weather and long-continued sickness. You can be cured if you will grasp the opportunity. My Electric Belt has restored to health and strength thousands of nervous, debilitated and pair your debilitated and pain-worn men and women. It fills your nerves with electricity while you sleep. Its power goes into the body in a gentle stream, saturating every nerve and charging them with its vital element until they are as strong

The current supplied by my appliance enters the body in a glowing stream of vitalizing heat, so gentle that the nerves and vital organs absorb it as freely as a hungry babe drinks milk. This force is added to the natural power generated by the stomach; it saturates every vital part and soon transforms the debilitated body into a natural storage battery which generates its own health and closes the doors forever to describe the doors forever the doors forever to describe the doors forever the doors for the doors for the doors forever the doors for the doors for the doors for the doors forever the doors for the d tery which generates its own health and closes the doors forever to disease and debility.

"I am an enthusiast," you say. Why should I not be? I have the gratitude of thousands of people who have been cured by my Electric Belt after the failure of the best physicians. I am enthusiastic, because I know that I relieve suffering humanity with the surest cure for the least expenditure of money that is known to-day. I know there is no better way to prove my confidence in the wonderful curative power of my Belt than to cure you before I ask my pay for it, and as I do know that it will restore strength in every instance, I am willing to cure first and ask my pay afterwards. I will allow any man or woman who can offer me security to use it entirely at my risk. I take all the chances, and you can

He Toronto and Niagara Power Company's bill, Mr. Leonard's market gardeners' resolution, and Mr. Logan's minimum wage resolution. The house went into committee upon the bill to incorporate the Toronto and Niagara Power Company, as amended by the standing Mr. E. F. Clarke moved certain ad ditions, the effect of which would be to render it obligatory upon the company to supply power to all persons, corporations and municipalities desiring the same along the line of its works, or within a reasonable distance thereof, and providing for a reference to the railway committee of the privy council in case of disagreement. Mr. Arch. Campbell, of West York, contended that the proposal of Mr Clark was altogether too sweeping and two wide in its effect. The company, he said, would be willing to sell all Crippled With Pain Was Complete the power it could, but objected to the word "shall" being inserted in its charter, which would place it at a disadvantage with competing companies. As the men seeking incorporation were capable of carrying out their project, he thought they should not be hampered by unfair restrictions.

MARKET GARENERS. Mr. Leonard moved the resolution standing in his name for an increased duty on vegetables for the protection of market gardeners. Mr. Tarte argued that the vegetables raised in the United States could not be raised in Canada. Hon. W. S. Fielding thought it unnecessary to repeat that the view of the government was that no tariff changes of this character should be made during the present session, other than the trifling ones of which notice had already been given. As to what might happen at a future stag, it would be time enough when the stage was reached to consider the question. He might, however, point out that on the particular class of good referred to the duties were exactly the same as under the National Policy. The tariff upon these goods being 25 per cent, it was not thought necessary to reduce it. As far as this item was concerned, it therefore happened to be one upon which both political parties agreed. Mr. Fielding moved the adjournment of the debate, which was carried by 71 to 33.

Premier Ross Speaks at Brampton of Its Riches.

GREAT VALUE

The Results of the Efforts of a Canadian in the Development of His Country.

Brampton, April 28.—Premier Ross addressed a meeting here tonight, which for enthusiasm and zeal for the cause of good government has probably never been equaled in the county town of Peel. The town hall, where the meeting was held, could not hold half those who sought admission. The premier, who was in excellent form, delivered one of the best speeches of the campaign. His speech tonight was a complete reply to his critics, and as he modestly put it, showed the result of the efforts of a Canadian in the development of his country. Speaking of New Ontario Premier Ross said that he had promised to explore it. There were there valuable resources, and the quicker we knew what they were the better. Only 10 per cent of Ontario's area was under cultivation. Exploring parties were sent out, and they reported 16,000,000 acres of land north of the height of land, of as good quality as the land in the county of Peel. There were also 288,000,000 cords of pulpwood, which would yield a revenue of $15,000,000, and 3,000,000 feet of pine, which would yield a revenue of $9,000,000 of 10,000 of yield a revenue of $9,000,000 of -10,000,- yield a revenue of $5,000,000 of -10,000,000. He therefore contended he had explored New Ontario as promised. The third promise was that he would proceed with the velopment of railways in New Ontario by land subsidies instead of cash. There were many precedents for land grants, and the policy was especially appropriate in Ontario, where there been so subsidized, and 140 miles were now nearly completed north Sault Ste. Marie, and none of it cost a single dollar year it was $171,000. Had he not his promise in this rekept gard? In the fifth place, he had promised to endeavor to develop our mineral resources. Five years ago there was not a ton of iron ore smelted in Ontario; now there were three smelting furnaces, at Hamilton, Deseronto and Midland, and there would soon be a fourth and a larger one at Sault Ste. Marie, all a direct result of the policy of the government. Dr. Mond had invested $1,ment. Dr. Mond had invested $1,-000,000 in a nickel works, employing 250 men, at Victoria mines. In 1898 there were 7,495 men employed, receiving $2,400,-000 in wages, in the mineral industries of Ontario; last year there were 11,855 men employed, receiving $4,233,000 in wages. These industries, together with those established at the Soo, on which $15,000,000 had been spent, furnished a market for the products of old Ontario. He wanted

Nervous Dyspepsia

Can Never Be Cured by Mere Temporary Aids to Digestion-The Nerves Must Be Restored and Filled With Vitalizing Nerve Force.

You know that certain drugs, such as pepsin and bismuth, bring about artificial digestion, and if you have dyspepsia or indigestion, it is possible that, like hosts of others, you have taken these into the stomach, hoping that they will take the place of gastric juice and other digestive fluids, digest the food, and by resting the stomach, effect a cure.

Did you ever hear of a bodily organ being strengthened by inactivity? It is to the organ that is exercised that the new, rich blood is conveyed in order to restore the tissues wasted by functions of that organ, and so the stomach that is given rest does not get stronger, but the gastric juice gradually ceases to flow, and you are finally compelled to resort to the continual use of artificial digestants. If, instead of these temporary aids you seek permanent cure, you must treat the nerves, because it is the nerves that control the glands of the stomach, and only when the supply of nerve force is liberal is digestion rightfully performed, and the body proper ly nourished. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is no experiment, as you know if you have read the hundreds of testimonials that are commend it for nervous dyspepsia and scores and hundreds of cases. Here is an interesting letter: Mrs. J. Hamilton, 709 William street, London, states: "For a number of years I have suffered a great deal with nervous headaches and nervous dyspepsia and indigestion. Believing this to be the result of a weakened and exhausted nervous system, I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that I found it very beneficial. It strengthened and restored the nerves, improved the digestion and cured the headaches. I can heartily recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

This treatment will prove equally effective in your case, because it actually contains the most powerful restoratives known to the medical pro-fession. It cures by building up the system, and instilling new vital nerve force into the wasted and depleted nerve cells. 50 cents a box; 6 boxes for $2 50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Mr. Hance Logan, in speaking to his Bates & Co., Toronto.

Echoes of the Campaign.

Here are a few statements taken at random from this morning's Free

"In the 25 years from 1876 Mr. Ross Provincial Government from licenses. This being so, it is little wonder there are so many hotelkeepers deeply in debt or encumbered with mortgages."

Of this $11,517,021 the municipalities got $6,166,848. No member of the Opposition has ever suggested that the license fees were too high and no public man will do so now. These crocodile tears just before the election will make the license-holders smile.

"Mr. Whitney charges that while the ally with railway corporations in the matter of grants, it has allowed the railways to discriminate against the farmers of the Province in the matter discrimination means that an aggregate of $600,000 a year is lost to the Ontario farmers through Ross' negli-

This sympathy for the farmer, like that for the hotelkeeper, comes a little late. The subject was never mentioned by the Opposition until the recent session of the Legislature. The Ontario Government has adopted the principle of reserving control over the rates on railways which it subsidizes. The discrimination of which the farmers justly complain is practiced by the trunk lines under Dominion control, and the Ontario Government has no jurisdiction in the matter. It has remained For a Liberal Government at Ottawa to take the first steps toward compell-Ing fair treatment of shippers by appointing a railway commission.

"Every dividend check sent out by an insurance company has the tax levied by the Government deducted from it. That is where people feel the Ross direct tax.'

There is no evidence that every dividend check sent out by an insurance company has the Government tax deducted from it. Mr. Whitney said a friend had informed him that his own check was minus the amount of the tax, but a single instances does not prove the case. It has not been shown that the Provincial tax has fallen on a single policy-holder or affected intes in the least. Most of the hardly appreciable.

"The Government have levied upon the corporations the taxation which formerly belonged to the municipali-effect of a judicial decision, not of a breakers. As the Baltic is not so salty change in the assessment law. The tically on their old footing. Mr. Whitin opposing the taxes on corporations.

"When Tarte urges his Frenchhands with the Ross Machine to perpetuate the rule of the Ballot-Stuffing Brigade, the people should smash the

It was Le Journal, the leading French-Conservative organ, that started a race crusade in the eastern provinces of Ontario, calling upon French-Canadians to support Whitney because they had no representation in the Ross Government. If La Patrie, the Liberal daily, is urging the French-Canadians to disregard such appeals, there is not much fault to be found.

Americans Feel British Duties. The millers of the United States have become alarmed over the new British import duty of 5 pence per hundred pounds on imported flour. They regard it as a discrimination against imported flour in favor of imported wheat, on which the tariff is 8 pence per hundred, a difference of from 4 to 7 cents per barrel. The milling profits in the United States during the past few years have been very small, only about 3 cents per barrel. Millers have not been able to make as favorable terms with the railways many years more of Laurier. for transportation to the seaboard as the grain dealers have, owing, it is said, to the fact that cars cannot be loaded to their full capacity with flour es they can with wheat. The new duties, therefore, are almost prohibitory of American flour and afford nearly an absolute protection to the British miller.

In this connection the grain growers of the United States are beginning to realize Canada's growing importance as a grain producing country. Last year's exportable surplus of wheat in Manitoba and the Northwest was nearly 60,000,000 bushels. The Chicago complains that Canadian wheat is rushed to the British markets as soon as possible after it is harvested, and thereby takes precedence over American grain. The Tribune argues that the American duty on wheat is really an injury to home growers, as the Canadian surplus finds no outlet in the United States and is forced to seek the British market, ed. where it becomes the most formidable competitor of United States wheat. As the situation stands the Canadian grain producer has a precedence, if not a preference, in British markets and every effort should be exerted to enable him to retain it.

Carnegie and His Millions.

Mr. Carnegie would have served humanity better if he had devoted at least a portion of his surplus millions to relieving the misery and misfortune of his fellow-creatures. Public libraand do something for the uplifting of society, but the lack of educational agencies is not the greatest defc't in the United States or Canada. A wider diffusion of literature is less needful meat? than a more even distribution of happiness and well-being. There are so many people in the world who require bread before books. Think of the demands on charity even in this community, where the standard of comfort is perhaps as high as anywhere on the continent, Apart from the two hospitals, one of which is supported by public rates, there are nine or ten institutions dependent almost entirely on private beneficence. We might mention the Protestant Orphans' Ross Government has dealt too liber- Home, Mount St. Joseph, Hount Hope, the Women's Refuge and Infants' Home, the Home for Incurables, the Convalescent Home, the Salvation of rates without lifting a finger. This Army Rescue, the Children's Shelter and the Aged People's Home. The work of the United Charities has also a strong claim. Were it not for the philanthropic endeavor of a comparatively few people, these institutions could not be maintained and the hand of mercy would not reach a mass of affliction: How many think of this?

Can the St. Lawrence Be Kept Open All Winter?

It is to be hoped that parliament will not adjourn without maturing plans to make the navigation of the St. Lawrence safe for every class of ocean shipping. Difficulties there may be that will prevent very large ocean vessels ascending above the ancient capital. But surely; with such an expanse of deep water from Quebec to the Atlantic Ocean it should be possible to make navigation so safe that insurance rates, and consequently the rate for freight, should be very greatly lowered, and the route made much more popular than it now is. The general public, as well as the shippers, will profit through these reforms.

After these changes are effected, and the Marconi wireless telegraphy ought to be of great service in bringing them about, it will be time to con-Insurance companies are making large of the St. Lawrence. By this means the ports named are kept open to navigation, and many steamships ply between them and the east coast of Scotland and England, as well as to and from German ports.

> If the Gulf of Finland, why not the St. Lawrence? After due investigation of the facts the Dominion Government will no doubt be prepared to answer it. The writer, whose evidence we have given, has reached the conclusion that, with good, strong icebreakers, such as they have in Northern Europe, there would be no very serious difficulty in keeping the St. Lawrence open every month of the winter, up to the city of Quebec. It would be a great thing for Canada if this could be effected with safety, and the subject is worthy of earnest con-

By the death of Sol Smith Russell he public stock of harmless pleasure is diminished. His plays were always sweet and wholesome and reflected the character of the man. He proved that fortune and public favor could be won by appealing to the best sentiments of the human heart, and his career was a standing rebuke to the prurient tendencies of the modern stage.

SOL SMITH RUSSELL DIED AT WASHINGTON

Veteran Actor Had Been in Poor Health for Some Time.

Washington, April 28 .- Sol Smith Russell, the actor, who was in impaired health for several years, died today. Sol Smith Russell was born June 15, 1848, in Brunswick, Mo., traveled in 1863-72 with the celebrated Peak and Burger family; went it alone as a monologist for several seasons; then started starring successfully in such plays as "Englewood Folks," "A Poor Relation," and "Peaceful Valley," in the two last of which he is best re-membered for his inimitable smile, his drollery and his perfect "down-east" dialect. He was compelled to retire several seasons ago, owing to mental difficulty, breaking down utterly while on the stage in Chicago one night. His figure had been a familiar one at the local theaters during his illness particularly at the matinee perform ances. Ogilvie Milling Company Announces Another Montreal, April 28.-The Ogilvie Milling Company, which has recently made several advances in the price of flour, announces another move up of 5 cents a barrel, making $4 20 for Hungarian and $3 90 for Glenora patent. The Lake of the Woods Milling Company has made no change since the other company commenced the advances, and its prices for what are commonly called the same grade of goods are now 30 cents a barrel lower. As these big concerns have always sold their goods on the same price basis, the situation has caused much comment in their trade.

Just about the worst pain of all comes from sore feet. Some people have to take off their shoes right in the middle of the day because their feet hurt them so. If these same people would first bathe their feet in warm water, and then rub them with Omega Oil, they could wear their shoes from morning till bedtime. Omega Oil is a liniment that contains a rare little Swiss green herb that goes in through the pores of the skin and stops pain. It takes out the soreness, removes the tenderness, reduces swellings, invigorates the tired muscles, and causes all the bad odors arising from perspiration to disappear. That's a good deal for one remedy to do, but Omega Oil does it just the same. It is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for.

Tell your druggist you want Omega Oil and nothing else. If he refuses to supply you, the Omega Chemical Co., 267 Broadway, New York, will mail you a bottle, prapaid, for esc. in each, money enter of stamps.

KINGSTON GIRL SHOT AT SCHOOL

Fifteen-Year-Old Boy Killed Beatrice Holland.

She Had Teased Him and He Said He Would Shoot Her-Gave Himself Up.

Kingston, April 28.-Just as the children were being dismissed this afternoon at Frontenac school, a shot rang through the building, and a bright, happy girl, aged 14, named Beatrice Holland, fell over and was soon dead. The bullet pierced her temple. Eric Sharp, aged 15, a schoolmate, fired the fatal shot. The girl was cared for, and physicians summoned, but she was beyond relief when they arrived.

Meantime the boy fled. At 7 o'clock he gave himself up to the police. He says he knows not how the deed occurred. He had said he would shoot the girl, she having tip-ped his hat in the cloak-room. When he pulled the revolver it went off. Scholars say that Eric told the girl if she did not stop he would shoot her, and he drew his revolver and aimed it at her. The revolver was an American bull, self-acting. He threw the weapon away. An inquest will be summoned tovictim was the daughter of George Holland, an engineer on the Kingston and Pembroke Railway. The lad is a son of Henry Sharp, a Princess street grocer. He was a lively lad, fond of cigarettes and novels.

Last evening the retiring social department of Colborne Street Methodist Church Epworth League gave their closing entertainment, and a very happy time was spent. The programme consisted of amusing reminiscences of "The Ride to Lambeth;" addresses by Rev. A. K. Birks and Mr. S. Charlton, president-elect; instrumental selection by Miss Nettie Kirk; recitation by Miss Hossie Kirk, and the presentation to Miss Katie Lewis of a handsome gold opal ring, with pearls, as a slight acknowledgment on the part of the league of her valuable services. Miss Webb read the very complimentary address, and Mr. Archie McCallum made the presentation, which was acknowledged in a very pleasing manner by the recipient. The league is now in a very prosperous state, and good work is anticipated to be done during the ensuing term. BAKER---PINEL

Men of Wolseley Barracks Bid Adieu to Their Friends.

Enthusiastic Send-Off Accorded Capt McCrimmon and Soldiers Leaving Home.

Not since the memorable day that B Company of the first Canadian contingent left London for Africa has greater enthusiasm been displayed than that which marked the departure of Capt. McCrimmon and the ten non-commissioned officers and men of No. 1 Company, R. C. R. I., yesterday. The Wolseley Barracks men who-to use their own expression-are unfortunate enough to remain behind, determined to give their comrades a rousing parting reception. They succeeded admirably. The 7th Regiment Band was secured for the occasion, and, together with the entire company, marched to the Grand Trunk depot, where they were welcomed by a crowd of several thousand people. The company was in charge of Lieut. Uniacke, and made a most creditable showing.

Thirty People Injured by Wreck at Fort Wayne.

Engine Blows Up at Dover, N. J .-Bad Smashup at Joliet, Ill.—Bad Kalamazoo Wreck.

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 28 .- A Sunday excursion train on the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad collided with a freight train at Wallen, six miles from here late last night. Two coaches were overturned and more than 20 persons were injured. A relief train sent out with several physicians brought the injured to Fort Wayne dences of approval on the Republican early this morning. The greater number of those injured received scratches, bruises and cuts. The most seriously injured are: John Hedges, hurt about back and F. P. Wiltzer, seriously injured about head. Miss Norma Allen, both arms broken, Herman Durnell, badly hurt about head and arms. All of the injured were residents of this city.

Joliet, Ill., April 28. - A fast passenger train crashed into a buggy containing Mr. M. B. Mulock, her daughter Orda and a young man, Floyd C. Pearce, at the Patterson road crossing of the Santa Fe. The man and young woman were killed outright and Mrs. Mulock died shortly after.

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 28.-A broken coupling caused a freight train to break in two on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad at the diately. The fire spread to the Lull & Skinner carriage works, and the firemen were unable to quence the flames before $10,000 damage had been done to the works. The wreckage was all burned causing a loss to the railroad company of not less than $30,000.

The charred remains of a man were found in the ruins, and it is thought probable that others lost their lives, as it is known there were several tramps upon the train. The train crew escaped without injury.

"I am sure that was very kind-very thoughful," she said, tremulously; "for truly, Max, there were some things in the old house that caused me quite a pang to part with."

This was the most that she had ever said about the trial of giving up her beautiful treasures; but it told Max a great deal, and he only hoped that she would find in the coming cases what she most desired.

We may as well state that, aside from We may as well state that, aside from the plate and a few ornaments, she found what she had longed for most of all.

Laura had decided that she could spend the following summer traveling, and decided that she did not care to be burdened with things that would have to be packed and stored; therefore, after making a few selections for herself, she had surrendered all else into Mr. Field's hands, to be advertised for sale under the hammer.

While thinking to wound Max and his

While thinking to wound Max and his mother even more deeply by this proceeding, she was doing the very thing which would be, in the end, a great comfort to them, for it enabled their friends to come nobly to the front and prove the value of their friendship.

The choicest of her pictures, every piece of statuary, all her costly china, and whatever else they thought she especially valued, were purchased without regard to expense, carefully packed and expressed to Mrs. Remington.

The lovely woman was almost overwhelmed by this evidence of her friends' faithfulness and continued regard, and she shed more tears over the recovery of her treasures than she had done at parting with them.

that Mrs. Walton had died only a short time previous, and the young lady had gone away, but where he did not know.
"Mrs. Walton dead." Mrs. Remington repeated, greatly shocked and tears starting to her eyes, for she had been drawn toward the quiet, gentle woman.
"Yes, marm, and it's a great pity, too, for she was a true lady if there ever was one." returned the man, who had greatly admired Mrs. Walton because of her invariable politeness to him.
"What caused her death? Mrs. Remington inquired.

"I should think so-poor child!" Mrs. Remington said, sorrowfully, as she realized how lonely this would leave Agnes, and she went home longing inexpressibly to comfort the desolate girl, but telling herself that she would have to wait patiently for Mr. Archibald's return to learn where to find her.

He was walking slowly along the street, his head down, his eyes bent upon the ground, and without appearing to notice anything or anyone.

"How do you do, sir?" Max asked, as he came up with him and gently touched him upon the shoulder.

"Eh?" said the man, looking up and arousing, with a start, from his brown study.

arousing, with a start, from his brown study.

"Oh-er-it's you?" he added, brightening a trifle as he met Max's friendly glance. "Well-well, it's a long time since I've seen you-not since those gay doings at your house," he added, with a sigh, as he thought of all that had occurred since. "How's your mother, young man?"

sigh, as he thought of all that had occurred since. "How's your mother, young man?"

"She is well, thank you," Max replied, seeing at once that he had not learned of the sad change in their affairs, "and I hope you are the same."

The look of dejection and anxiety timmediately returned to Mr. Archibald's face at this reference to himself.

"Well—yes, I am tolerable, physically, but mentally I believe I'm the most wretched man, just now, on the face of the earth." he responded, with something very like a groan.

"Really!" said Max, looking concerned. "I hope you are not in any trouble?"

"But I am, youngster, in the worst trouble I ever knew, and I've seen a great deal, first and last."

Max pitied the man, for both his look and tone were pathetically despondent; but he was so eager to learn something about Agnes, that it did not impress him as it might otherwise have done.

"I am very sorry, sir," he said regretfully; then he added, "my mother and I were greatly shocked to learn of Mrs, Walton's death—it must have been very, sudden as well as very sad. I hope Miss Walton is well."

He colored and his voice was slightly tremulous as he spoke Agnes' name.

"I hope so, too, youngster," returned the old man, a look of distress sweeping over his wrinkled face; "but I can't tell you anything about her, and that is just what has upset me; I can't find the girl—She has disappeared."

she shed more tears over the recovery of her treasures than she had done at parting with them.

When Laura heard of this—as she did almost immediately, for Mr. Field took especial delight in informing her of the fact—she was nearly wild with rage and regret that she had not foreseen such a result, and kept the things herself.

The very afternoon—of the day that he had took his mother of the opening as traveling salesman, Max closed with the offer of Mr. Nash, and immediately entered upon his duties.

Mrs. Remington made a master-stroke when she advised him to, accept the position, as results, later o., will reveal.

The young man's first week on the road was far more successful than he dared to hope; but his fine address, his manly and courteous bearing seemed to impress every one in his favor, and he came back from his maiden trip with a very promising handful of orders.

While he was away, Mrs. Remington started out one day to see Agnes with the hope of effecting a reconciliation between her and Max, who she knew was still grieving over the misunderstanding that had occurred the night of their reception.

But to her surprise and sorrow she found Mr. Archibald's apartments closed and was told by the janltor that that gentleman had gone to the Pacific coast; that Mrs. Walton had died only a short time previous, and the young lady had gone away, but where, he did not know. Some of the glory of Ed. Siever's famous victory was taken off from him him as "the young Canadian twirler." If there is anything that makes the southpaw sore it is to be called a and never lived in Canada except when | Hargrove and White, outfielders. he was pitching for the London, Ont.,

And is it, then, such a disgrace to be called a countryman of Lajoie, the acknowledged king of the diamond? Is it possible that it brings the blush of shame to Mr. Siever's classic brow to be mistaken for a countryman of Ned Hanlan, Jake Gaudaur and George Orton? It is to be feared that Mr. Siever has earned the name given him by the fans; in Texas they still believe Montreal is a fur-trading post on Hudson's shown in Thursday's game, when Mc-Guire was receiver for Siever, says the Detroit Free Press. Chicago batsmen became desperate as inning after inning rolled by without a hit, and studied the pitching closely, in the hope of finding the weakness. Tom Daly thought he had it solved when he went up to bat in the eighth inning. He had watched the break of the ball closely, and when he reached the plate he took a place up towards the front of the box, figuring to gauge the curve ball just right. Mc-Guire observed the change of position and signaled Siever to shoot over a couple of fast, straight ones. Daly thought they were going wide, for called balls, and let both go by, with the result that there were two strikes on him before he realized it. The next one that looked good he went after, knocking it down to Elberfeld, who gathered it in easily.

The Chicago papers are loud in their praises of Siever, and give him due credit for his brilliant work in last Thursday's game. The Tribune says: No such remarkable exhibition of pitching has been seen this early in any season as that presented by the left-handed young Canadian who faced the two-time champions and made them forget they had even seen a pitcher before. Exactly three whitestockinged players reached first base, and as many as one of them lived to see second. That is the total of the execution permitted by Mr. Siever in the face of a team of veterans, many of whom have faced the best twirling in the country and solved it.

The programme will eclipse anything ever attempted before in the way of sport, and will be on a scale big enough to cause the ancients to turn in their graves with envy. It will include contests in every ancient, medieval game, including the chief sports of every country of the globe. LACROSSE. CANADIAN WIN SEVENTH VIC-TORY. London, April 29.-The Torontos won their seventh match in England Saturday by defeating J. J. Cawthra's Cambridge twelve by 12 goals to 7. This is the smallest margin by which the Canadians have won against any of the English teams. Cawthra is a Canadian, and he has trained his team in the latest style of play, and this counted in their favor when they entered into Saturday's competition. The Cambridge men did not develop any speed until the last half, when a marked improvement was noticed. The Torontos could have scored more goals if they had put forth any great effort. The match was a really good exhibition of lacrosse, and the 800 persons who were present were interested from the start. The day was beautiful, warm and balmy as a Canadian summer day.

BOWLING.

LOCAL MATCHES ON MAY 10. The annual President vs. Vice-Presdent bowling match will take place at the club on Saturday, May 10. Members who will be able to play on that date are requested to notify the secretary not later than May 1, as rinks will be drawn only from those thus signifying their intention of taking part. This match always excites a great deal of interest, and doubtless a large number will enter.

He spoke of the distinguished careers of the Hon. Edward Blake, of Judge Hugh MacMahon and of Sir William Ralph Meredith.

The sound common sense of an Irishman, Edward Burke, saved England from the disasters that had overthrown nearly every throne in Europe. The Irish who immigrated to Canada were men of little means, but strong of arm, keen of intellect, and with ability to discern spiritual things. They had helped to build up the greatest nation in the world-a Canadian nationality. "We are, first of all, Cansaid Mr. Latchford, "and wherever the cause is a worthy one we are willing to die to defend it." In conclusion he quoted a timely tribute to Irish valor by an American newspaper versifier:

J. J. Foy, K. C.

Mr. Foy, on rising, said that he feared the only Irish quality he could display was his temerity-he could not call it heroism-in attempting to reply to a toast which would tax the The toast of "Canada, the Land We oratorical powers of a much abler live In," called forth one of the most man than himself. "Ireland and the Irish," paid a tribute to Mr. James Magee, K. C., one of the society's founders and staunchest supporters. He also made a humorous reference to Col. T. Tracy as having come all the way from Vancouver to attend the banquet, while Chris Fitzgerald, "the greatest sport and the best race-starter in the world," had come from New York for a similar Canon Dann was in one of his happiest moods. His subject, he said, was an inexhaustible one, as was denced by the fact that he had himself spoken on it no less than seven times in London. Though an Irishman, he found he was becoming also a thorough Canadian. None of the previous speakers, though they had all referred to the Irish race, had said anything of the beautiful little island in the east -a very little island, but, like Lord Roberts, "a terror for its size." It had caused more trouble than any other island in the world, but that was only a proof of the greatness and power of its sons. If Ireland had been content would have never attained the postgood of the world. Previous speakers had touched upon the fighting qualithe case of the Irish prisoner who pleaded in defense of an injury inflicthad been freed from the Spanish yoke.

could be taken up till dawn with stories to illustrate it. Canon Dann closed by giving two examples of Irish wit. The first was the story of the Irishman and the Frenchman who were seated behind a runaway team of horses. The Frenchman in despair gasped that he would give £500 to be out of his seat. "Keep your money, my boy," said the one that he feared he could not do it justice in the brief period of an after only here in Canada, but throughout it for nothing in a minute." Rev. J. G. Stuart.

Rev. Mr. Stuart, who followed, said that one of the characteristics of the Irish, which had not been mentioned by previous speakers, was their long-Elizabeth, swept the Dutch from the evity. He instanced a case which seas. He spoke of the distinguished came under his own notice, of the oldest British inhabitant dying in Ireland a few years ago at the age of 131, his life being shortened, it was ungallantly alleged, by his marriage at the age of 90 years. As a sample of Irish wit Mr. Stuart told the story of the Irishman who, on being quizzed by Dr. Norman Mc-Leod, on the paleness of his whitefaced horse, replied, "Arrah, you'd be pale yourself if you had a halter around your neck."

Mr. Stuart, to prove the ancient lineage of the Irish, quoted Dr. Wilde's contention that the Irish were the direct descendants of the Israelites. Mr. Stuart, after a tribute to the generosity of the Irish, closed with a word of praise for the broad and benevolent spirit which led to the formation of the Irish Benevolent Society, and which has continued its guiding principle.

"Mayor and Corporation."

The toast of "The Mayor and Corporation of London" brought the mayor to his feet. His worship said that in order to do justice to the toast he would need the eloquence of a Cooper, and the wit of a McMechan. He could not claim Irish blood like so many present, but while of German stock, he could truthfully say he was a thorough Britisher, a loyal Canadian and a faithful Londoner. The citizens of London were always ready to give one to which full justice was done by to every good object, and none were J. J. Foy, K.C.. of Toronto. take it.

Mr. Cameron, who is first vice-president of St. Andrew's Society, said it was due to the modesty and generosity of Mr. John Pringle, the society's president, that he was given the representing St. Andrew's. Mr. Cam-eron congratulated the Irish Benevoachieved in its 25 years of existence, and expressed the hope that it would go on to the century mark with renewways looked upon the Irish Benevolent Society as a good comrade in the work of benevolence. Mr. Cameron said he was sure the feeling was reciprocated, and that therefore those present would be glad to learn that St. Andrew's was also enjoying a season of success, its coffers being full to overflowing. After expressing his belief that no race on earth surpassed the Irish for brilliancy and natural gifts, Mr. Cameron closed with the hope that the cordial relations of the national societies in London would long continue.

This concluded the toast list. All
