ONT. HYDRO COMMISSION DECLARED A BIG FAILURE BY STATE INVESTIGATORS

New York Legislative Committee Appointed to Inquire Into State's Water Power Resources Advise Against the Adoption of Mr. Beck's System.

"METHOD UNSUCCESSFUL, MEASURED BY ECONOMICAL AND BUSINESS STANDARDS'

Report Says That the Operations of Commission Are Conducted at a Loss of $259,080 in Addition to Expenses of the Administration.

[Canadian Press.] Albany, N. Y., Jan. 15 .- The joint legislative committee appointed in 1911 to investigate the state's waterpower resources and recommend a possible plan for conservation and utilization reported today that "it would be impossible for the State of New York to develop a sufficient amount of hydraulic power to make any appreciable impression on the power demands of the state." The committee have investigated the plan of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of the Province of Ontario, and they report that in their opinion "it is not a success measured by economic and business standards." They oppose the adoption of this plan by the state. STATE'S WATERPOWER.

The commission renew their recommendation made to the Legislature in 1912, and ask for the passage of legislation introduced at that time. They point out that there is within the state a daily consumption of over 2,000,000. horsepower and that to deliver this to the point of utilization would take over 8,000,000-water horse. power at the penstock.

They find that there is undeveloped within the state only 1,196,-800-horsepower, 262,700-horsepower of which is actually owned by the state, and 934,100-horsepower of which is claimed by private

REPORT ON HYDRO. The committee report regarding the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario that it has never developed any waterpower, but has acted merely in the capacity of middleman in the merchandising of electric energy; that it furnishes power to the municipalities below cost; that if the same methods were applied to it as are employed in business transactions of a similar nature, it would show an annual loss of at least $432,170 a year; and that in addition to this loss to the province, the local municipal distribution power system of the city of Toronto showed a net loss to June 30, 1912, of $268,984.

VAST EXPENDITURE. The report further shows that, while there are three smaller districts in which the Hydro-Electric Power Commission operates, known as the Port Arthur, the Ottawa, and the Big Chute, the great majority of its operations are confined to what is known as the Niagara system; that the commission has expended upon its operations provincial funds amounting to approximately $5,000,000; that its an nual administration expenditures are $275,000; that its operations have involved the municipalities served in expenditures for distri-bution of public lighting and power service exceeding $8,000,000; and that the result of this expenditure of $13,500,000 has been to distribute, without any power generation, either hydraulic or steam, less than 35,000-horsepower, or as the committee point out, about the amount utilized in and about Glen's Falls and Hudson Falls, CONDUCTED AT A LOSS. Attached to the report is a financial summary showing that the operations of the provincial Hydro-Electric Power Commission are conducted at a loss of $259,080, in addition to its administration expenses, which has never been charged against the cost of powers that the burden placed on the several communities by the expendi-Commission is of a variable character: that some have been bonded to the extent of $3.15 for each individual in the community, while others have been bonded for over

It will be remembered that the Mothers' Clubs of London at a recent meeting passed a resolution, asking the city council to pass a bylaw compelling children to be off the streets at 9 o'clock.

Mayor Graham was of the opinion that the age limit should be twelve years, not fourteen as suggested by Mr. Hamilton. After that age It was pretty hard to tell whether a child is fourteen years or rot. The police department will be asked to keep the rinks free of youngsters under twelve.

"This should not be the case," he declared. "It is time the board prohibited them the use of the rinks. They should be at home."

They have also found that because an electric motor develops its power by rotation, it is not necessarily easy for it to turn the wheels of a locomotive. For some years it has been recognized that one of the greatest problems in the electric locomotive is the transmission of the torque of the motor to the driving wheels. There have been a great many combinations proposed and quite a number of different types have been built, and are now in operation, but there are few transmission systems that are absolutely satisfac-

> Mr. Guthrie also quoted from the British Hansard speeches of Lord Crewe in the House of Lords, and Bonar Law, Balfour, Churchill and Lloyd George in the Commons, reiterating Mr. Asquith's position. He asked Mr. Borden to produce the statement of one British statesman who was qualified to speak, differing from that of those men on both sides of British politics whom he had quoted. How different was their position from that of Mr. Borden and Mr. Foster, who had declared that there was "grave cause for concern," and of Sir Rod mond Roblin, who had had the tem-Borden Fettered.

The facts were, Mr. Guthrie maintained, that Premier Borden had gone to England fettered. He did not pre fer a general request of the admiralty; the request of a self-respecting Canadian citizen should be: "What can we do?" He had made a circumscribed request, a request with certain condi tions attached to it. He had announced that Canada could not have a perman-ent policy, such as the first lord of the admiralty looked forward to, until the barriers that he (Borden) had conjured up in his imagination had been removed. He wanted represen-tation first. The admiralty had not a free hand in framing its response. It Borden's conditions for immediate and temporary aid.

Would You Like Your Old Furniture Made New? One-Third Off Cost of Upholstering

HIS offer is made to induce those who have furniture to be reupholstered to have the work done now during the quiet season, January and February, and keep our full staff of upholsterers busy during this time.

If you have any work to be done, we would advise getting same into our workrooms at once, as only six weeks' work will be taken at reduced prices. When sufficient orders are in to keep our upholsterers busy during the balance of January and the month of February, special prices will be discontinued.

As the value of good furniture increases with age through the popularity of antique styles, your old furniture when reupholstered will be more valuable than when you purchased it new.

Hundreds of old frames which the owners thought were ready for the second-hand store, have been renewed in our upholstering room during the past year, and we have yet to hear from a dissatisfied customer, and in most cases they would not part with their pieces for the prices originally paid.

We employ only first-class workmen, and guarantee all work to be finished in first-class style, and carry a first-class stock of upholstery materials in silk, tapestries, leathers, etc.

This offer may last only a few days. Act quickly. We will send a man to your home and give an estimate on recovering any pieces you may have if desired. A good opportunity now to have slip covers made to protect your furniture from the summer dust. A phone message will bring a man to your home. Upholstering Department, Fourth Floor.

Premier's Reply. The Premier's reply was written two days later, as follows:

"My Dear Mr. Monk,-I received this morning, with very great regret the letter by which you place in my hands your resignation as a member of the Government. The information which has been placed before us by His Majesty's Government discloses to grave a situation that in my judgment the granting of immediate and effect ive aid is necessary in the interest of this Dominion, as part of the British Empire. Such a step is entirely of a temporary character, and is absolutely distinct from a permanent policy of co-operation in imperial defence, which, when formulated, ought to be placed before the people for their consideration and approval. Your resignation is a matter of special regret to me, as I most fully recognize and appreciate your very earnest devotion to the duties of the onerous and important office which you have filled since the 10th of October, 1911, and the very great assistance and kindly consideration which I have by Currie. [Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Jan. 14.—Col. Sam Hughest probably will be the next minister of railways. It is understood that on the appointment of Hon. Mr. Cochrane ext autumn as lieutenant-governor of Ontario, Premier Borden will select

col. Sam Hughes for the railway port. Col. Hughes has the strongest sort of Col. Hughes has the strongest sort of backing for the position, and it is said that he would be quite willing to make the change. For one thing, he found that Sir Fredireck Borden left the Department of Militia in such good shape, and carried militia organization to such an advanced point that there is very little left to be done, and certainly not enough to enable even such a stirring man as Col. Hughes to make a name for himself.

He thinks that with the big develops Hughes to make a name for nimself. EXIT CHAMBERLAINISM.

Mr. Chamberlain's Aream of an Imperial zollverein has dissolved That it was ever within bailing distance of actuality is proof of the power of one marvelous man.

Ten years ago Britain's system of free imports was accepted by all responsible British statesmen and by the nation at large as the most settled fact in the kingdom. The sudden challenge of it by Mr. Chamberlain produced a political earthquake comparable to Sir Robert Peel's abandonment of the corn laws sixty years before. The abolition of the corn laws was preceded by many years of agitation, but Mr. Chamberlain's coup was a bolt from the blue.

The proposal to tax foreign foodstuffs in a country where most of the food had to be imported, and where it had been duty-free for a generation, seemed to spell political suicide, yet this one man bent a great historic party to his will. Its titular leader, Mr. Balfour, was not convinced, and conference of the dominions on naval executed a marvelous series of defence in the Pacific. The reaction following the Liberal weep of 1906 heartened the Chamberlainites, and it seemed that the British people might be disposed to return the Unionist party on a food tax platform. But the Lloyd George budget and its ill-advised rejection by the House of Lords, stemmed the tide. The Government survived two general elections, but with majerities so reduced that the Unionists still hoped for a speedy return to power. particularly with the aid of the antihome rule and anti-insurance act agiations. The ne drawback is that he is the father of four children, and as I am not very strong I want to ask you what steps you would take if in my place. A.—If you really love the man the four children would make but little difference. I would not advise you to marry, however, without giving considerable thought to the matter. A woman who assumes the duties of stepmother usually places a heavy burden on her shoulders. It is a thing no one should rush into blindly.

The Only "Eligible." Dear Miss Grey: I am a wealthy undertaker in a small town. I am short, heavy set and dark complexion-Lam 27 years old and am considered handsome. I am the only eligible man in town and there are several eligible girls by whom I am continually surrounded, as I have a five-passenger car. Clearance of All Winter Goods

TE ARE not yet certain of the exact date when we will move into our new building, but we are certain of this, that we will not be in our present premises for another fall and winter's trade. We have many lines of winter goods now in stock which we do not wish to carry into our new store. Therefore we must clear them now, as we couldn't do so at any price next July.

The goods specially priced for this sale consist for the most part of the most seasonable goods. For instance, the sale includes a big clearance of Ladies' Winter Underwear. You will find many bargains here in goods which you need right now. Besides, the lines really coming under the head of winter goods we have on sale, many lines which we have bought at reduced prices, these include Sheetings, Tablecloth Seconds, etc. You will be sure to find something here you need, so come at once, it will pay you. Many lines of new spring goods just received.

JOE HALL, OF QUEBEC, FINED AND SUSPENDED

Montreal, Jan. 14.-President Emmett Quinn, of the National Hockey Association, this morning handed down his decision on the episode in the game between the Canadiens and Quebec, last Saturday, when Joe Hall was alleged to have struck Referee Melville. Mr. Quinn finds that though Hall did not actually strike the official, he swung at him with his stick. Hall will therefore be fined $50 and suspended for two weeks. In addition, the Quebec

JOHNSON LODGED IN CHICAGO JAIL

Could Not Explain Why He Shipped His Two Autos to This Country.

Chicago, Jan. 15 .- Jack Johnson, the egro heavyweight pugilist, was taken to e county jail here last night to await e judgment of Judge George A. Carenter, of the United States district court, s to whether his bail bond of $30,000 hould be forfeited.

When the pugilist's party, consisting of is white wife, two white secretaries and calet, reached here after being turned calet, reached here after being turned oack at Battle Creek, Mich., from a Canada-bound train, Johnson asked to alk over the telephone to Charles F. Dewoody, superintendent of the United States department of justice. At the condusion of the conversation Johnson told Deputy Marshal Meyers that Mr. Dewoody gould allow him to spend the night at him beputy Marshal Meyers that Mr. Dewoody would allow him to spend the night at his town home. Meyers refused to take the order unless from Mr. Dewoody direct. The puglist and his retinue were taken automobiles to Mr. Dewoody's resi-

"Johnson, if you did not mean to stay it of the jurisdiction of the federal court why did you ship two of your automobiles to Canada?" demanded Mr. Dewoody. The puglist hesitated in his reply, and Mr. Dewoody gave him his choice being held in a hotel in charge of marshals or of being taken to jail.

Johnson chose the jail. He was allowed to take his wife home and to change his clothes, and then was locked up.

Chicago, Jan. 15 .- Two important baseball gatherings are scheduled for Chicago omorrow. One will be the annual session of the national baseball commission, which was to have been held in Cincinnati on Jan. 6, but was postponed on account of the illness of President Ban Johnson, of the American League. The other will be the yearly meeting of the club owners of the American Association.

The national commission will go through the formality of electing a chairman and secretary. August Herrmann is expected to succeed himself in the first position, while John Bruce, it is announced, will be elected secretary. Herrmann and President Lynch of the Name of th nann and President Lynch, of the Na-lonal League, are expected to arrive in The American Association members are xpected to adopt a shorter playing chedule than the one in force last year.

CORRESPONDENCE

Mr. Daly's Rejoinder.

PITCHER, HAS BEEN SOLD To the Editor of The Advertiser: I must thank you for the attention past two years a member of the Boston Red Sox pitching staff, was sold last night to the Buffalo club of the Interna-tional League. No conditions, it was said, attached to the deal. and courteous criticism given my letter in which I urged the importance of cheap power and low freight rates for London if our city is to attain the growth and prosperity which are her due. My assertion that nearly all the great and flourishing cities of the IN THE UNITED STATES world are situated at or near the water is called in question and I am asked to get out my old geography and examine the map afresh. Having done so, I rise from its perusal, more convinced than ever that my contention is correct. The cities which you mention: Sheffield, Birmingham, Leicester, Nottingham, etc., together witch Paris, Madrid, Vienna and Berlin, can be matched, and a little better than matched, by London, Liverpool, Manchester, Glasgow, Belfast, New New York, Jan. 15. - More than York, Hong Kong, etc.

The great cities of Europe already mentioned are as you say capitals, and to this fact is due much of their importance. These cities are several centuries old, and their growth is due to a variety of causes. They are, however, cosmopolitan and attract each year many thousands of visitors from oreign countries, whose visits are made possible by cheap water transportation. Of course, I did not say that there could be no growth or prosperity without the aid of water freight rates, nor did I expect that the phrase, et on to the lake" would be taken literally, and that it would be gravely pointed out that St. Thomas must first be moved before London can pass that way! It is not always wise to place a strictly literal interpretation on any scripture-sacred or profane.

Let us return to those English cities London the less might learn from London the greater. The history of that great metropolis is indissolubly bound up with her merchant marine. Her ships go out into all the world and return to her laden with the good things of the earth,

The prosperity of the inland cities mentioned was first due, of course, to the juxtaposition of iron and coal. But s the trade of these cities confined to investigation. the British Islands alone? Do they not depend upon water freight rates off her foreign trade altogether and turned in the case. Great Britain would immediately sink freight rates.

The city of Venice attained teh power and prestige of a great state throught her opulent trade with the Orient. When the Cape of Good Hope was discovered, that is to say, when the towns and cities of Western Euroclieved she had been dead since Sat- ope obtained water freight rates, the power of Venice began to decay. Then arose great empires-Spain

Providence has blessed this part of he North American continent with the largest body of fresh water in the When the Welland Canal is leepened ships will come direct from Europe to Detroit, Fort William, Chicago and Duluth. An enormous traffic will pass by water from the ocean to the heart of the continent, and from the heart of the continent to the ocean. Many steamers will pass up and down Lake Erie. Will they call it Port Stanley? Will it be worth their while? and do the people of London wish them to call? Given cheap power and low freight rates and the people of Western Ontario may become one of the most prosperous communities on

Canadians might learn some things from the Old Land. We are behind in many respects. In the matter of ownership and control of public util ties they are much in advance of us. In today's paper it is announced that he British Government will take over the telephones at an expenditure £62,000,000. We might learn from the City of Glasgow, where the ownership and operation of public utilities have reduced taxation to a minimum, if that city were situated as London is, would her citizens hand over their own rail-road to a private corporation? Hardly. How long would they tolerate such deplorable conditions as have obtained on the Port Stanley road during the past decade? Is London proud of her steam road? I am informed that when first bullt fifty or sixty years ago it was a success; that Port Stanley was a flourishng and growing village; that a lake raffic of large proportions sprung up, and that the road paid its way. Then a change took place. The road was leased to the G. T. R., after which

To relieve these terrible pains it is necessary to keep the kidneys healthy for healthy kidneys secret fluids that dis-solve the gravel and stones, and they pass out through the urine harmlessly and without pain.

Reading of Doan's Kidney Pills, I tried them, and am now well, and can recommend them to all. My kidneys were so sore I did not know what to do, but after using the Doan's Kidney Pills, you would be surprised at all the gravel and small stones that passed through my urine. Now I am well and event the lake traffic began to dwindle Port Stanley ceased to prosper: steamers ceased to call; the railroad's business grew less, and a succession of annual deficits ensued; freight evidently went east and west overland, and not by water. Will a repetition and continuance of the same old policy bring about any better results? Yours F. W. DALY. London, Jan. 13, 1913.

ARMS AND FACE VERY MUCH DISFIGURED

Skin Cracked and Bled, Causing Much Pain. Was Getting Discouraged. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Soothed Right Away. Used Them Four Weeks. Has Not Been Bothered Since.

8 Hunter St., Davisville, Toronto, Ontario .- "My little girl was troubled with cracked arms and face from the time she was born. They were certainly very much disfigured. The skin was sensitive and cracked and bled, causing much pain by smarting. When healing a little it took the form of itching. The trouble made her very cross. When she cried the tears would make it smart and cause more pain. I tried cold cream, ---- and it got better only to break out again when exposed to the air. She suffered for over three years and I wan getting discouraged when I read of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for samples. Cuticura Ointment seemed to soothe it right away, where other ointments made it burn, so I bought some more. I used them for four weeks and she has not been bothered since. Her face and arms have never had a mark since, in fact her complexion is wonderfully clear."

(Signed) Mrs. Underhill, Dec. 11, 1911. Cuticura Soap is best for skin and hair because of its extreme purity, delicate yet effective emollient properties, and refreshing fragrance. It costs but little more than ordinary soaps, wears to a wafer and gives comfort and satisfaction every moment of its use, for toilet, bath and nursery. Cuti-cura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post card Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept.

What was she that she should dream such dreams? She sobbed until exhausted, and went to sleep with her head still buried in the wet pillow.

The worst of it was, as she realized when she came to set the table for breakfast in the morning, that the darned pillow-case was all wrinkled. It made such a shaby-looking tablecloth that she could not use it. She took one of her clean handkerchiefs, which she had ironed on the mirror that night, and spread it at the mirror that night, and spread it at 'Gene's place. She herself would eat off the bare wood. But she didn't mind that.

The bare wood. But she didn't mind that. She didn't care whether she ate or not this morning, but she wanted to make this last meal they were to have together as shipshape as possible for him.

While she was waiting for him to come in, she packed her suitcase. This didn't take her long. The stove and the dishes she would leave. He could sell them. She folded up a few clothes with her shabby waitress' uniform and a clean white apron on top. Then she shoved the case under the bed, where he couldn't see it. She didn't know how much he would mind her going, but he might as well have his breakfast in peace, anyway.

He came in heavy as usual from his deep sleep.

"Mornin', Bella." he greeted her. She turned red at the sight of him, but evidently he didn't remember the episode of last night. At first she was in "You' You mean ter say you're leaved in'?"

He took his place at the table. She had warmed over the beef stew he had so enjoyed last night. For his luncheon she had prepared a litle surprise in the shape of an apple pie. It was baker's ple, to be sure, but she knew he would like it. She had hidden it in the bottom of the tin lunch box she bought for him the other day. With it she had packed away a piece of cheese, three or four sandwiches and a couple of doughnuts. On top of this she had another surprise—a five-cent cigar. She was glad that these extra attentions hapened to come on the day she was leaving.

Excuse haste and a bad pen, is obsolete in modern business correspondence and is rapidly becoming so in social correspondence.

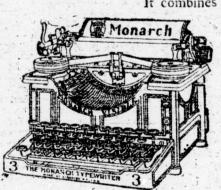

A hand-written letter inevitably has a repellant effect upon the business man who opens it. His first thought is that his correspondent who writes "longhand" isn't modern-isn't progressive-isn't up-to-date-in fact isn't a good business man. Typewriter type, on the contrary, has a

Alpha Glee Club. The Alpha Brotherhood of the First Methodist Church are full of practical ideas. Recently an employment bureau was installed, and it has been the agency of securing work for several young men and women. The latest innovation is the formation of a glee club with Mr. A. D. Jordan as conductor. The glee club will commence its work in two weeks' time, and several have signified their intention of joining.

A New School. The ratepayers of school section No. 22 of London Township, which has been greatly reduced in size by the recent annexation of Pottersburg, are taking steps towards the erection of o new school in the future. A meeting of the ratepayers has been called, when the question will be more fully discussed. and plans for the new building prepared. The school will probably be a oneroom building, as the atendance for the section has greatly decreased. Death of Miss Jennings.

Miss Harriet Jennings eldest daugher of Mrs. S. J. Jennings, of 47 Stanley street, and the late Thomas Jennings, formerly of Kincardine, died Victoria Hospital this morning. Miss Jennings is survived by her mother and one brother, William, of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Second, of Webb, Sask., and Miss Mabel at home. The funeral will be held Friday morning at 8 o'clock to the Grand Trunk depot, and the body will be forwarded at 8:30 to Kincardine for interment.

> An iron post support on the main oor of the Holeproof Hosiery factory on King street, crashed to the floor yesterday. The pillar which is a support extending from the main floor to the ceiling, measures a foot in diameter, 16 feet in length, and being of solid iron, weighs about 600 pounds. The continuous weight of the chines on the floor had caused it to become depressed, thereby loosening the hold of the pillar in the ceiling. While all the hands were at work the post toppled over without warning. Fortunately no one was struck and after a slight delay the work in the factory was resumed.

LECTURES MAGISTRATE AND CROWN ATTORNEY

Alleged Wife Beater Creates a Sensation at the Carling Street Station.

Police Magistrate Judd and Crown Attorney McKillop were lectured by a at the first of the month, but as yet prisoner in Carling street court this morning in a manner that made the regular attendants gape with amazement. Despite the most unusual display, the lecturer, Robert Baldwin, of East London, was accorded much leniency, and while he was threatened with a week in jail for contempt, arrangements were later made to bring him up again at a special session this afternoon.

Baldwin was charged by his wife with having assaulted her at their home on Sunday night. Apple sauce, a whetstone, a broken clothes line, wet clothing, extremely foul language and most pronounced incompatability commingled to bring about this morning's remarkable outburst. morning in a manner that made the regu-

Mr. McKillop endeavored to learn from the man something concerning his relations with another woman. Baldwin, leaning over the edge of the witness box, informed the crown prosecutor with the strongest emphasis that he would not discuss that portion of the trouble with anybody. "That is my business and not yours," he shouted. "I'm in the habit of going where I like when I like, and I'm going to keep on doing it." I'm going to keep on doing it."

Baldwin continued in this strain until the magistrate informed him that persistence would lead him to eight days in the county fall for contempt.

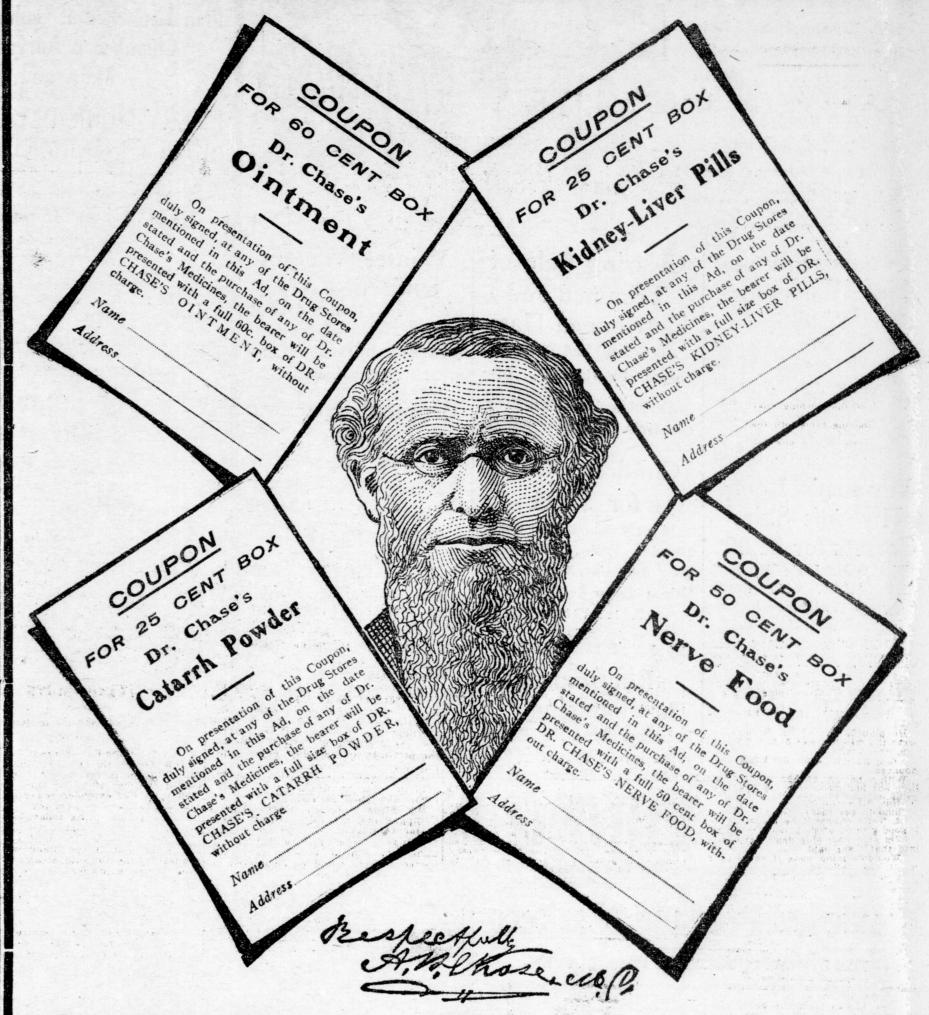

"That's all right," he answered. "The doctor told me only a little while ago that I need a rest. I can do ten days easy—standing on my head."
Giving up all hope of bringing the couple together, an information charging Baldwin with non-support was drawn up. He was found guilty on the assault charge

How to Beautify a Weatherbeaten Face

It's really a simple matter to renovate a face solled by dirt, wind or cold. Ordinary mercolized wax, used like cold cream, will transform the worst old complexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer vell of surface skin but so gently. [From Beauty and Health.] plexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer veil of surface skin, but so gently, gradually, there's no discomfort. The wornout skin comes off, not in patches, but evenly, in tiny particles, leaving no evidence of the treatment. The younger, healthier under-skin forming the new complexion is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store is enough to remove any coarse, chapped, pimpled, freckled, faded or sallow skin, Apply before retiring, washing it off mornings.

Many skins wrinkle easily with every wind that blows, with heat, worry, etc. An excellent wrinkle-remover, because it tightens the skin and strengthens relaxed muscles, is a wash lotion made as follows: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. This gives inmediate results.

A Tribute to the Children's Aid

At the annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society held Tuesday afternoon, Sheriff Cameron, the president, referred to the significant fact that of the thousand odd children that have been placed in foster homes by the society not over 2 per cent have gone wrong. This, said the sheriff, was an eloquent tribute to the work of the society.

He also referred to the increase in the work and the necessity of an addition to the staff, which was made by the appointment of Mr. Richard Sanders. While there has been no large increase in the subscriptions during the year, there was no shortage. An increase in the subscriptions would prove of material benefit to the work of the society. The grants from the city of London and county of h. dlesex have been increased from $250 to $1,000 and from $50 to $75, respectively.

Law Abandons Food Taxes

London, Jan. 14 .- Andrew Bonar Law, the Opposition leader, has acceded to the proposal of his followers that in order to save the party from disruption the question of the imposition of duties on food stuffs be not pressed. He writes a letter, in which he says that he has discussed the matter with the Marquis of Lansdowne, the leader in the House of Lords, and that they do not regard the proposal not to impose duties on food without submitting it at a general election as a very important alteration of the policy of imperial preference in regard to the colonies, but as a method of affecting the policy.

The modification, says Bonar Law, does not seem to them to involve any principle the adoption of which would have prevented them from loyally supporting the course of action desired by the memorialists, who compose the majority of the party. Nevertheless, says the Conservative leader, speaking for himself and the Marquis of Lansdowne, it would have been more agreeable to themselves, and in their view better for the party that the change of method should have been accompanied by a change

As, however, the memorialists express the opinion that a change of leadership would be fatal to the interests of the party and the country, they (Mr. Law and the Marquis of Lansdowne) feel it their duty to comply with the request of the memorialists, which they are prepared to do.

Mr. Law's reply to the memorial was issued in the form of a letter to Lord Balcarres.

RUBS MILK INTO HER SCALP; HAIR IS NOW KNEE LENGTH

New York, Dec. 5.—On the strength of statements made repeatedly by Mme. Kathryn Knight, contralto with the Carlton Opera Company, it is said there has been a tremedously increased demand, particularly among the theatrical profession, for the milk of the tropical Pernambuco Shrub, known in its refined state to druggists and the medical profession as Lavona de Composee. Mme. Knight spent part of her vacation in South America, and noticed on trips throughout the country the luxuriant wealth of hair and particularly its great length, possessed by practically every native woman she met. Not only the young women, but the old as well, had glorious tresses, so long that the double tracks are in operation. This will continue until well into the spring when the work of erecting and the double-tracking and the spring when the work of erecting and the two final 408 channel spans will commence and single tracks will be reverted to for a short space of time. The double-tracking of the line between Windsor, street station and Farnham Junction has already proved of great service, and trains are operated with greater facility than heretofore, while freight is also more easily manipulated, and the holding up of trains is entirely eliminated. The Not only the young women, but the old as well, had glorious tresses, so long that the most venturesome picture hat would have been lost among them. Mme. Knight asked questions and was informed the women rubbed the milk of this strange shrub into their hair daily, the method being to mix two ounces of the pure Lavona de Composee with six ounces of Bay Rum and half dram of Menthol Crystals, the undiluted milk being too powerful in its effect to be used alone. She tried the experiment for sixty days. At the end of that period her hair was nine inches longer. Now it reaches to her knees. All three of these ingredients are standard, inexpensive, pharmaceutical products obtainable at any drug store. Mme. Knight has recommended this treatment to all her friends.

the Quaker, and later by followed the Catholic settlement, the Germans, and E. Loyalists. The Dutch Tongue. Mr. Stauffer stated that the Dutch was a simple tongue, which always rang true and was a language meant for the fireside. He admitted that the race which he represented did not possess a keen sense of humor, neither would his countrymen take the initiative in any venture without thinking the problem over twice, but there was one thing which could be said about the Pennsylvania Dutch-they keep their word, and are honest to the core in all matters. The speaker contended that if all Canadians were as faithful and as honest as the Dutch theusands of dollars could be saved annually from litigation, and there would be no need for Osgoode Hall or A Frugal People. "The Pennsylvania Dutch may also be recorded as being frugal," said Mr. "But they are thrifty. Their lands are second to none. Their acres yield in abundance, and they could show the Canadia farmer many

O. Kinsey Hurled Against a Telephone Pole Near Aylmer.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Aylmer, Jan. 15 .- O. Kinsey, of Calton, met with a serious accident near here yesterday. He had just got his horse and started to drive home, and when in front of J. B. Hambidge's residence, the horse became frightened at a passing automobile, and shied, causing the rig to strike a telephone pole.

As the buggy struck, Kinsey's lower jaw was jammed against the pole, breaking it on both sides. Kinsey was not thrown out of the rig, but lost the lines and was unable to stop the horse. It was captured near the home of Ira Mabee, a half mile east of the town Kinsey was taken from the rig to the iome of Albert Gillett, where he is getting along as well as could be ex-
