GOD's PRESENCE WITH EIS CHURCE.

* My presence shall go with thee, mid I will give theer rest, And he acid unto IIIm, If Thy premence go not with me, carry usyot up hence."一 Fionn. xxxill. 14-15.

Go forward is the command of Good to mainta nurl with ninnera. The paalmist enhin peoples Follow whene duty lemin; shrink not from it, lecause it is arduons, nor keip back becmuse there are diffleulties in tho way. "Ile mendeth no mnn at any time at his own charges" He nccom panics the command with the promise, "my presence ahall go with thee." It was thus he apake to the childrein of Isrnel. when journeying to Cmanan; it is thía lio ajeaka to his people still, when engaged in nuy special enterprize for the glory of God, or when performing the grand work of the Christian life.

We do not stay to review the occasion, interesting though it be, on which these words were first spuken. We approprinto tha language to this true Isract in all nges. The presence of God with his pepple is a prominent fadure of tho New Testament Charch-more cilarged, and enriehing and abiding, than uuder furmer dispousations, sidd therefore our text may, with great propriety, be applited to the Church of God and her work in the present age, and we at once proceed to examine it in this light.

The presenee of Goll wish his Church -the Church's estimate of his presencethe church's desire for its continued enjoy-ment-the ehurch's guranteg that this desire will be gratifiod und his promiaed preence, a pledge and fotutaste of future tost, are the main topies suggested by our text; and maye His prosence aid apd direct us, to a clear understanding and proper improseenent of them, while we endersour, in lumble dependance on his help, to examine the important truths, thus presented for our ocosideration.
I. The presencs of God witil His Cucach.

Ominipresence is a grand attribute of Jehovah. He is present in every part of the univenw-in hesiven-on earth-in hall, with augels and with devila, with quires, "whither *hull I go from thy apirit? or whither whall I thee from thy presence? if I aroud up into heasen, thou art there; if I nuke my bed in hell, behold thon art there; if I tuke the winge of the morning, and dwell in the uttermont parts of the pea, even thero shall thy hand lead me, änd thy right hand ahall hold me." But it is not in respect. of his ensence, we now view this expreanion, there is another sense in which it is understood-ne implying a apecial privilegr, enjoyed by His perple mul by none elmo. Giol gave two ennible manifestations; of Himself to arcient Isruel, in the pillar of fire and of cloud, that went before them in their jou neyings: and in the Shekinah that c,venat shadowed the mercy acat; but thepe were only temporary accommodations nad were by aind by discontinued, so that the Jews must regard this promised presence in a higher sense, than any outward and visille manifestation. While it includtd his special providential dispensations toward them,-such us providing for their wants -defonding then from onemien delivering them out of danger and directing them in difficulty, it referred particularly to his peculiar love to them in owning them as his people and in making all things work together for their good. In our Lord's valedictory disconrse ar recorled by Jobn in the xice. chapiter of his pospel, this presence is expdaned of the Holy Spirit. : He assured his disciples, that "he would pray the Futber, and he shall give you another comforter, that he may abile with you for. every even the Spirit of truth. whom the world enamot receive, hecame it soeth him not, neither knoweth hin, for he dwelleth in you and shall be in ron," "t ho that hath my comanimelinents and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me, atul he that loveth me shatl be doved of wy Fathe:, and I will love him and will manifuat mywelf to hism. Judan anid unto him, boot licariot, Lard, how in it that thon will manifent thysulf unto us nad not to the word, Jemus inbawored and mail unto him, if a man live me, he will keep my wordis, ntul my: Father will love him, und wo will come unto him and make our abote with him." The promised presence of Gou, then, is not bodily. material, of visible; it in apirituil, felt and anjoyed in the soul. Xet it is not whlthout fite manifeatations; the riel blewsings it impares tell where it in-the ponce and joy -the comfort and encouragement-the mupport mul succour, in a word all that distinguishes God's poople from the men of the world, are pleasing priblences of his presence. "Behold the taleernacle of ciod is with men, and he will dwell with then and thoy shall be his peoplo, and Gose himself shinll be with them and le their (ioml."

Wherover this spiritual presence is roalized, the sonl feels as if inspirel and seew Gorl, wise, goosl and glorioun in allaround; in tho dew drop that sparkles in the morning sun, and in the snowflake that fulls so softly on, the grave of nutumn-in the gente breeze mad in the furious stomin-in the clear blue aky and in the dark and luride cloud-in the tiny flower and tender herb and statcly tree-min the insect of the breeze, and bird upon the wing, and the manger of the forest-in all, he sees (iorl revealerl, as he had never secen him hefore: nor are only things around thins rean differently; the Bible is like another look, its trutiss are clearer, richer, holicr, happier than before The glory of God tills the soul, sanctifying every feeling and facully. A growing likeness to the Holy One manifents itsolf in his heart and life, and verifies the declaration of the Saviour, " I in them and they in me." What a bleasing! (God dwelling with man on earth in very deal. We cannot yet, until our work is done, ascend up to Heaven, to his holy habitation there, but he graciously condepeends and comes down to dwell with us here ainl if when an earthly prince visits the distunt part of his dominion and there sijourna for a night, nothing is heard, but one loud, and united and enthusiastic hurst of loyality, shall (iod himself come down and dwell in our midst by his Spiritdweell, 1 ony, not pay a traneient visit hit tuke up his abode with un, and the honor?
conferral be lont night of and the blemsing not highly prizel.
II. 'Thik Chunchís matimate or Gon' phonench.

If lhy prenence go not with me, carry us not up hetuce. Thin in not to be underntood as a hypothetical sintement, at if the apeaker had iny doubts on tho subject, after God had promisel, but racher as a very strong way of expressing the truth, that he regarded Gol's presence ins absolutaly necessary to succens.

1. His premence, indeed, is regarded as neconary to the very vitality of the Church. In Eden he faxhioned man from the dust of the earth, but until he brealhed into tris nostrils the bronth of life, Ire was not a living moul: the body may bo gorgeously robed and decked with sparkling jewels, but these do mot impart life; so n collection of people without the presence of God is not the Church; thay may bo numerous, united inul wealthy, but unless God be in their midst, they cannot be regarded his people; his presence ulene can impart lifo.
2. His presence is regarded as necessary to success in any undertaking. Mosen would not take one step alone; he felt that God must go with him; and this has ever been regurded the true mecret of success.

Except the Lard do build the house,

 The builders lose their pain;Except the Lorl the city keep,
The watchmen watch in valu.
This is signiticantly acknowledged in the earnest ant continued prayers of his people for divino aid. Praver precedes and accompanies all the efforts put forth by a propjerous church. When the first missionarion, Barnabas and Saul, were nent forth, Gol's presence was invoked; they were recommendel to the gruceof God for their work, and whon they had ruturned and werefgiving a report of their laborn, they reheirsed all that God had done with them, and how Ife had opened a door of fuith unto the Gentiles In going forth agninst the enemy and seeking to rescile the heathen from their degridation and misery, they knew that the work was too great for man, no human might, nor power was alle for it, Gol's spirit alone could give the needed thessing-they might plant and witer, but the increase must come

GOD's PRESENCE WITH HIS CHURCH.
cognised by the propple of Gol: evorywhere and always they regard the continued prenence of Gort in the grand emential to success in all their labora for the mivancement of Mossinhin kingdom.While this high extimate of Gol'n premenco with his church in founded upon the sure word of God, yet it inplemingly confirmed by the experience of his peoplo in the past. When Ho in with her, whe prospers, atrengthens her stakes and lengthens her cords, and shoots forth to the right hand and to the left. Look for example, at tlint branch of the church with which it in our priviluge to the connected, (and we nelect it, not because the same may not be found in other branchea, but lecause you may not be so famillar with their history.) Witnessing ngainat error, the four brethren came out from the Established Chiurch of Scotland and formed themselver into a separrate and diatinct aseociation. They trusted in God and he was with thern, and soon gnve unmistakenble proof of his presence. Others beholding it, joined their ranks, saying " we will go with you for we know that God is with you," until in the present day, the Church numbers about 550 congregations. "And what hath the Lord enabled her to accomplish? Sho hath borne noble testimony to the truth in the land of her birth, and she hath sent forth the gosjel to other parts. Before the commencement of the prement century, she had pent at least 50 ministers to the United States of America; and since then, she hath planted the standard of the Cross in Nova Scotia, Jamaica, Trinidad, Persia, Caffrariá, Old Calabar, Australia, India, besides labouring for the conversion of the Jews and aiding other societices that were similarly occupied. And it becomes us gratefully to acknowledge her early oare for Canada, in planting and foatering and atrengthening the United Presbyterian Church in this land. And hath not God heen with us as with the parent Church? Twenty-nine winters have come and gone, since the first band of missionaries landed in Montreal: within a nionth, one of their number was removed by denth; another, after many years of arduous toil in the Master's work-preaching from the pillpit, writing through thé preses, and teaching from the professorial clanir-bas finished Hfs course and gone to his rewarl: and the last of the hand remaine with un to the day, the holoved pantor of a numerous people and the honored father of the Church. Other labourers followed. from year to year, and young men word cruined up in the country, until at prement there are over 100 congrogntions and hotrrom notand 80 ministers and prenchgrm. What has the Lord done for un? Surely, it well bocomon un, ero we lomo our meparato exintance and unite with the ainter church, to make mention of the goodnens of (iocl, and trace ull our pant anceens to hingracious presence. Here, where firat our churoh lifted up her voice in this land, she it brought agalin, not by her own plana, but by the leading of Hin provilence, that she might reviow what thingn Gipd has dono for her, since she eutered the country and shall we not now and here erect our Ebenezer and enseribe on it, "hitherto hath the Lord helperd un." And when wo leave this city, a larger, more influential and I trust atill a united body, shall we not causo it to be known, throughout the length and breadth of the land, that God's presence hath blessed us in the past and ia with us still!
III. 'pot Cuurcin's debikn yór God's paeben (at

If thy presence go not with me, carry us not up hence. Whatever elso these words imply, they undoubtedly express a very strong denire for the premence of Uod; so strong, indeed, that if not granted, ho has no heart to go forward.It is an expression like that of Jacob, when wrestling with the angel, "I will not let theogo, until thou bleas me." While others may be enquiring, who will show us any good! God's people are praying. "Lord, lift thou upon us the light of thy countenance-thy favor is lifo and thy loving kindness is better than llfe." This dexiro thidy express, when from day to day they observe his ordinances and delight in doing his will: for well they know, that they need not expect his continued presence if they do not seek him in the means of his own appointigg, or if they continue in a course dishovoring to him. If we ain. corely rospeot and wish to gratify our friend, we will not thwart his well known wishes-that would be to insult him, we will not undermine his character, or injure. his worldy interests,-that would bo to repel him: much more will the people of God carefnlly noiet nny thing that would grieve the tholy spirit and drive him from them, and oo, curefully olmerve tha well. known pleasires of thes Lord. The peor mendiequnt often willa him wanta leffore he haw spoke a ningle word, hin inttered grormenta nuld his hugenal fevatures plenal signithenntly for him; but he in not antiafied whit this, in phintiver towem, he wella his atory, antl auks relief in worils that melt nnother's leart nuil gnín for thim aspistatico. And mis (iod'n paople are not conitent with uppearing beforo the Jowd, who latholde their delloment Athi gnilt, but they cry to him for help. their daily prager in, "nbiule with us. "O cant me mot away from thy preachese take not thy Holy Spirit from me." 'Tha ancient Romans wera wont to consult their oraclee, beforo entering on ang great enterprizes, and they lond their hoinsehold goels, whone finvor thoy might dialy scol, nomb nurely $n$ Christian perplog alaill but be autcone by pmgnin; they will not fail to neknowlelgo the henter of prayer, "Acknowledge the Jord in aill thy waysa and he will diredt thy ateps." Ho hus blexsinges in alore, he has made ample provinions for all their wante, atill he anyn, "For all thin, I will yet ke enquired of, by the house of isrucl to do it for them."And when (ioul's people clierikh thin atrong desire, they always find the good they seck Their prayer is as grod ns unswered. In the numery tules, there is a pleasing story alout a wishing cup, whoever puts it on procures whatever he is pleased to ask; in the christian religion, there is also a winhling cap, and the christinn who wears it well, receives exceeding abundantly, ahove all that be asks or thinks; and thione blessings are enjoyed so long as desired and enjoyed the more, the stranger they are denired.
IV. Tue Chluch's ovarantee that this degire will de ogatified,

My presence ahall go with thee. How often does disappointment darken our sky -freyluently our bast laid schemes prove alrortive-our fondeat hopes are darhed to the ground-warmest friends grow cold-neareat relatives are snatched from ut-the merchant fails-the farmer's crops are blas-ted-the sailor is wrecked-the soldier is left on the battle-field-the politician is de-cuated-ayeand the aation itself is brought

"Arine, aline, for thy light in come and the glory of the Lorrl is risen upon thee."
V. God's presencs a rledue and TORETABTE OF YUTURE ment.

And I will give thee rent. On this purt of our subject we cannot enlargo; your time forbids mo doing more than merely to indiente the train of thought wo would have followed, had time permitted. In its primary apphication this promise may bo underntood as aynchronous with the promise of his provence, when the church exjoys God's prenence she at the very anme lime enjoys rest; happy is that people whose God is the Lord." Or this promise may vefer to the termination of their journey and to the enjoyment that awaitex them then. And the language of Joahua 1. 13, $16-21,43,44$ would countenanco this ininterpretation. But taking a more colarged view of the subject, you will at once agree with mo in saying, that this promise can only be regardod as receiving its grand fulfillment when the church militant becomes the church triumphant. Heaven is peculiarly a pince of rest-rest from sin,and sorrow, from trouble and toil, from anxioty and distress-rest in the bosom of the beloved. Sweet is pleasure aftor pain. The presence of God with his people on earth is the greatest good they can enjoy herebut there is agreater good in Heaven; in thy presence is fullness of joy, at thy right hand there are pleasures for ever more. So that what is enjoyed below may be viewed na a foritame of the reme that remnineth forp the pargile of (tirl. It is alaon aplertige of it: whon thin pilot unclertaken to ateer the reanel, alue will not ejplit upon the rocka, nor run upon the manda, nor yield luefore the morm, he will ave hor anfuly into ifiog haven of reat. God will tring his ranmomed home. Ite will fluiah the goonl he hontwarun. Four not listle flock it in your Father'n good pleaaure to give you the kingdom.

Goodnem and mercy all tny didy, Shall aurdy follow me;
And in Gorl'n house for ever more,
My dwelling place alaall bee.
In conclusion-fathem and brethren, the position wo now occupy ns a charen in poculiariy interenting. We look linek and from the amall beginning we mark her ontward procrewn to the preseent fime. Snrely God him fulfilled his promiso, him pranewico has boon with us.

We look back over the years of negotintion with the Sister Church and think of the difflculties that have been surmounted -the obatacles that have becn removedthe heart-burnings and jealousies arkl atrifon, that have been exchanged for mutual love and confldence. Suruly (lod has fultilled his promise, and his presence han loon with us.

Wo look iuto the relationahip so clong and gratifying and helpful, that has aubsisted betwoen us and the mother chureh for over a quarter of a century, which will. to a certain extent, be broken up and wer might regret the action that leads to this result, did we not feel assured that the Church in Scotlind will hoartily rejoice over the union and regard it, ns another ro ward of her miasionary enterprize.

And wo look forward to the work still to be dune in this country nnd note the hinderances in the way, arising from the carelessness and worldly-mindedness and skepticism of the age; and we cannot but rejoice at the prospect of having our hands greatly strengthened and our hearts encouraged lund a new impetus given to ministerial and missionary zeal. " 0 , for his presence to direct and animate us. Lord, send now promperity.

O Saviour, let thy glory shino And fill thy dwellingohere, Till life and love and joy divine
Make earth like Heaven sppear.
