The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

McLennan Library
McGill University

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de l'état de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

CARRIER'S

NEW YEAR'S ADI

TO THE PATRONS

THE VINDICA

MONTREAL, JANUA

UNITED WE STAND;—DIVIDED W

PATRONS ! the faithful herald of the times,
Comes with the greetings of a new-born year ;
His thoughts and wishes drest in rugged rhymes,
Perchance ungrateful to fastidious ear.
The saturnalia of the Gazetteer,
Emboldens him to introduce his strain,
The past's record, the future's pioneer.
Of style or length, pray reader don't complain,
He'll not for twelve long months your ears eo vex again.

For his is not the idle strain,
To wake the reveller's joy ;
Such to the trifler, or the vain,
Is fond and fit employ.

Though hearts may warm, and happy cheer
Gives mirth to thousands gay,
His spirit mourns a barren year,
Passed profitless away.

Barren ? yes, barren it has gone.
Hopes raised by foreign Lords,
Prove, now the shallow mask's withdrawn,
More subterfuge and words.

A twelve-month since, our hearts were warmed
With hopes of griefs redressed ;
But unregenerate, unreformed,
More heavily they rest.
Still rules the Bureaucratic drove,
Slaves to that baneful den ;
Our thoughts in idle circles move,

The attitude sho bore,
And free, a nobler state maintain
Than her tyrants did of yore.

OLD ENGLAND moves her steady gait.

Her money-seeking throng,
When trade is brisk, and profits great,
Ne'er seems the world goes wrong.

But still a spirit only sleeps
To wake with might renewed,
While the Lordling rules and the churchman
Ere bursts the deadly feud.

For 'gainst those Lords the judgment stands—
" Reformed your House shall be,"
The parsons' tythes, the bishops' lands
Must yield to destiny.

IRELAND ! thine is a bitter fate ;
Thy long, long years of woe
Will soften not your Tyrant's hate,
Until you " strike the blow."

O'Connell did do much for you,
That man of giant mind,
When aiding an ungrateful crew
The truckling Whigs he joined.

But what is now his recompense
From the people he has served ?
Their gratitude is impotence ;
Such the reward reserved !
While gathering storms o'er England lower'd
When Peel's feared gang came in,

CARRIERS'S
 YEAR'S ADDRESS
 TO THE PATRONS OF INDICATOR.

... , JANUARY 1st, 1837.

STAND;—DIVIDED WE FALL.

The attitude she bore,
 Free, a nobler state maintain
 Than her tyrants did of yore.
 ENGLAND moves her steady gait.
 Her money-seeking throng,
 Her trade is brisk, and profits great,
 Her'er /leems the world goes wrong.
 At still a splrit only sleeps
 To wake with might renewed,
 While the Lordling rules and the churchman reaps,
 Ere bursts the deadly feud.
 'gainst these Lords the judgment stands—
 'Reformed your House shall be,'
 'p parsons' tythes, the bishops' lands
 Must yield to destiny.

ENGLAND ! thine is a bitter fate ;
 Thy long, long years of woe
 Shall soften not your Tyrant's hate,
 'ntill you " strike the blow."
 'Connell did do much for you,
 'hat man of giant mind,
 'en adding an ungrateful crew
 'he truckling Whigs he joined.
 'what is now his recompense
 'rom the people he has served ?
 'eir gratitude is impotence ;
 'uch the reward reserved !
 'ile gathering storms o'er England lower'd,
 'hen Peel's feared gang came in,

Whose steam-boats fastest fly ?
 Where runs the rail-road's longest train ?
 Or canal boats richest ply ?
 Where do the world's stored treasures wend ?
 And the world's purse-holders bow ?
 To thee, America, they bend,
 An Eldorado now.
 The old world, and the old world's ways,
 Are spiritless and dead ;
 The genius of the west displays
 The conquering " Go a-head."
 Proved problem of philanthropy !
 Thy institutions sage,
 They shield a land ordained to be
 The Eden of our age.
 Why are you chos'n a model bright,
 For the world's admiring gaze ?
 'Tis that your fathers judged aright
 A freeman's flag to raise !

AND are examples lost to us,
 So brilliant and so plain ?
 Shall we groaning 'neath our Incubus,
 Still a chrysalis remain ?
 Shall we forever led in strings
 With timorous footsteps tread ?
 Nor spread to nobler flight our wings
 To follow where they lead ?
 No, no ; in free America,
 A state, however small

A twelve-month since, our hearts were warm'd

With hopes of griefs redressed ;
But unregenerate, unreformed,
More heavily they rest.
Still rules the Bureaucratic drove,
Slaves to that baneful den ;
Our thoughts in idle circles move,
Automatons, not men.
Forgetful of our wrongs long told,
The Lords of Downing street
A vile foul system still uphold,
Our priyers contemptuous treat.
And thus our weary days are spent
In useless bickering strife,
While powerful neighbouring states, content,
Bloom rich with prosperous life.

OUR SISTER PROVINCE, wedded now,

To one of hair-brained deeds,
Must don the widow's garb of woe,
And long she'll wear the weeds.
'Tis a liason unnatural,
Formed with Sir Francis Head ;
But she'll not forever rest his troll,
For "butter" and for "bread,"
Who sow in crime, in sorrow reap ;
And when her chains are riven,
Like Mary she'll have long to weep,
Ere her sins are forgiven.
How pitiful her politics !
Infatuation strange !
To fall the dupe of Tory tricks,
When thought is free to range.
Perhaps 'twas done to prove the rule,
"Each dog must have his day ;"
For this puling Orange Tory school
In no other place can stay.
Spirit of Toryism ! around
Kicked by mankind about ;
Refuge in Canada you've found,
And followers devout !
The Spartan sire before his son
His slaves inebriate placed,
That he pollution's wiles might shun,
Nor be in soul debased.
So was enthroned this old world sprite,
In Orango rags arrayed,
That none also become her proselyte,
Unthinkingly betrayed.

EUROPE ! our eyes still turn to thee,

Our forefathers' birth-place ;
As spirits in Elysium free,
May view their kindred race
Struggling amid a thorny life,
In sorrowing, grief and toil,
'Gainst want and woe a daily strife,
Of wearisome turmoil.
Your glorious deeds of olden times
We'll strive to imitate,
But not your follies or your crimes,
Your prejudice or hate.
Fair France ! of freedom, slave or lord,
A birth place and a grave !
How cringe to Bourbon Kings restored,
That people proud and brave.
Spain, drowsy Spain, has woke from night
Of lethargy and gloom,
And gathering thousands, seek in fight
The Patriot's crown or doom.
Oh ! may she one assume again

The trucking Whigs he joined.

But what is now his recompense
From the people he has served ?
Their gratitude is impotence ;
Such the reward reserved !
While gathering storms o'er England lower'd
When Peel's feared gang came in,
Beneath his sheltering arm they covered
Foremost in contest's din.
But now the party's fixed in power ;
No more it wants his aid ;
Quite heedless, it forgets that hour,
And promises then made.
His voice a show of justice wrings ;
They slight reforms begin ;
But these Whiglings are the hollowest things
All rottenness within.
Rouse ! Ireland, rouse ! nor longer bide,
Despoiled of every right ;
What justice has till now denied,
Would yield to craven fright.

OF SCOTLAND, and of Scottishmen,

Enough will others say ;
For three Scotch muses take the pen
To carol forth this day.
Saint Andrew, whose set day by law
Is chosen for Scotchmen's gleu,
By some was drowned in usquebaugh,
By some disowned in tea.
The Saint cashiered, I grieved to hear,
There where the tea was spilt ;
I had thought he was the Highlander
Who introduced the kilt.
Pity that those who Scotchmen jeer,
Can't learn the Scotchmen's sense ;
Like them for fortune persevere,
And boo for pounds not pence.

AMERICA ! from out the north,

We view thy fair expanse
Of new born nations, bursting forth
From their long colonial trance.
When Europe's flags above you rolled,
Childish and mean were ye ;
Now you're erect in manlier mould,
Ennobled when made free.
What though amid the varied forms
Of governments new framed,
Some are convulsed with angry storms
Of energies untamed.
Ages to form a state we're taught
The ancient world requires ;
Experience is more cheaply bought
When Liberty inspires.
Whate'er may mar or dark your name
In your struggling infant day,
Your necks bow not in servile shame
To European sway.

BUT YOU the first born of the band,

The free United States,
Brethren, advancing hand in hand—
The twenty six confederates.
You blaze a beacon of the west,
Fair freedom's loveliest star ;
Spreading like refuge of the bleat,
Your glorious rays afar.
Whose ships most nobly cleave the main ?

the trucking wings be joined,
what is now his recompense
from the people he has served?
Is gratitude his impotence;
Or the reward reserved!
The gathering storms o'er England lower'd,
When Peel's feared gang came in,
Each his sheltering arm they covered
Foremost in contest's din.
Now the party's fixed in power;
No more it wants his aid;
He heedless, it forgets that hour,
And promises then made.
A voice a show of justice wrings;
They slight reforms begin;
These Whiglings are the hollowest things,
All rottenness within.

New born nations, bursting forth
From their long colonial trance.
Men Europe's flags above you rolled,
Childish and mean were ye;
Now you're erect in mailler mould,
Annobled when made free.

Whatever may mar or dark your name
In your struggling infant day,

WANT YOU the first born of the band,
The free United States,
Whence then, advancing hand in hand—
The twenty-six confederates.
At blaze a beacon of the west,
Fair freedom's loveliest star;
Reading like refuge of the lost,
Your glorious rays afar.
Whose ships most nobly cleave the main?

Still a chrysalis remain?
Shall we forever led in strings
With timorous footsteps tread?
Nor spread to nobler flight our wings
To follow where they lead?
No, no; in free America,
A state, however small,
Needs but her nervous arm essay,
Her chains unshackled fall.
Why should they not? from earliest time,
'Mongst nations, as with men,
The youth who serves till manhood's prime
Seeks separation then.
When to either side is profitless,
This ill assorted match,
There's small virtue in submissiveness
To a Downing Street Despatch.
Our trade's protected! some will cry.
Where rests the mighty gain?
All we can raise, the world can buy,
Of potash or of grain.
If we had rotten ships to float,
Or sink in ocean's foam,
We might a better market scout
For timber nearer home.
But 'tis not so; we drive a trade
In deals, in pine and oak,
That when th' expense and risk are paid
Leaves nothing for the stock.
Richer than mines of gold appear
Our forests soon would be;
Now for no price despoiled each year
To sink with ships at sea.

PROTECTION? we have not forgot
Our commerce with the Isles.
Interference we requested not,
T'excite and mock our toils.
Has not a threatened act for years,
Our lumberer's traffic marked?
While England's legislation sneers
At capital embarked.
What does the mother country gain?
A market for her wares.
A heavier trade should we maintain
When ruling our affairs.
Britain would be our furnisher;
A prosperous trade would thrive;
Each year would bring more wealth to her,
Than now she gets in five.
Had she not better cast us free,
And cease the paltry strife?
Inglorious it is doomed to be,
With pain and trouble rife.
Wrangling and hate continue will;
Each year the bickering worse;
Wiser fates' sure decree fulfil,
And sue out a divorce!

PATRONS! I use plain language in my verse,
The thoughts of thousands, though they dread to speak;
Who mourn in silence that colonial curse
Which blights our prospects with its shadow bleak—
Who feel; nor dare emancipation seek.
I'm but an advanced picquet in the field,
To lead the confident, or cheer the weak—
The utterer free of sentiments concealed,
To whose firm, bold expression, all our ills might yield.
