Berlin Declares Year's Toll Taken of Shipping by Subs Will Amount to Ten Million Tons

AMERICA MUST RUSH MEN OVER TO WAR FRONTS

Winston Churchill States Need of Hastening U. S. Reinforcements. AMERICA BIG FACTOR Anglo-Saxon Democracies to Win Triumph for World Freedom.

London, Jan. 11.—Winston Spencer Churchill, British minister of munitions, in addressing the American Luncheon Club today, began his remarks with a plea of support from the American and British nations of their leaders. He also made a powerful appeal for the prompt sending of large numbers of American soldiers to Europe.

"I have accepted the invitation of the American Luncheon Club," Mr. Churchill said in beginning, "for two principal reasons. First, that we have arrived at the main crisis of the war; secondly, that the great issues of this war can only be satisfactorily solved by vehement and effective action of the United States as a factor in the conflict. It is a very happy thing that at the present moment two Anglo-Saxon democracies should each have found a leader who, by the march of events and their own great qualities, have so far surpassed their contemporaries as to acquire the right and the power to speak without challenge in the names of the nations as a whole. They also command that paramount authority without the responsibility of which and without the fortitude of which no safe or sure path can be found or followed. Co-operation Required. "May every man here and across the Atlantic who desires that we may meet our present peril do his utmost to strengthen and sustain the authority of the men at the helm. May they encourage them in their responsibility and free them from embarrassment so they may concentrate their whole energy on the deadly enemy in front and have no distractions or jealousies at home. May they be free from every cause of distraction and devote themselves to the selection and the seizing of the essential points of the war." (Concluded on Page 2, Column 3).

NO CONSCRIPTION OF LABOR AS YET

A MISTAKEN IDEA Arose From Suggestion Made by Col. Mewburn During the Election.

Special to The Toronto World. Ottawa, Jan. 11.—The suggestion of General S. C. Mewburn, minister of militia and defence, made during the elective campaign that alien enemy labor in Canada be conscripted, has apparently failed to commend itself to the minister's colleagues. A statement issued from the prime minister's office, this evening, emphatically declares that the government has no intention of taking any such action. General Mewburn's suggestion that alien should be conscripted for essential industries was made in the course of an address to the Unionist convention which nominated him at Hamilton. Later General Mewburn amplified his suggestion and fixed the wages which should be paid conscripted aliens at the rate given private labor in the Canadian forces. However, the statement issued from the prime minister's office, this evening, says: "Any reports which have appeared in the press respecting the question of the conscription of any class of labor for any purpose whatsoever are entirely without foundation. The government as yet has not had an opportunity to give the matter any deliberate consideration, and for this reason the statements which have been appearing in the newspapers are misleading and erroneous. In the very near future the labor problem which confronts all industries in Canada, and particularly agriculture, will be comparatively reviewed by the government with a view to devising ways and means whereby the available labor of the country may be utilized to the fullest possible extent for all such industries as are essential to Canada's war efforts."

GENERAL ELECTION IN ENGLAND

In some respects the British Government is much more democratic than that of the United States. This is illustrated by the passage of the woman's suffrage measure by the house of lords, while congress is just able to slip it thru the house by whipping up the sick and crippled, while the senate is still doubtful; and beyond these lie the state legislatures, a more difficult barrier than the house of lords. The great point is that woman's suffrage is on the way. The prime minister has pledged his word to it for Canada, and the fact, conveyed to President Wilson by the governor-general, elicited an official boost for the measure in congress. Women are going to vote. They are going to bring their intelligence to bear on social problems. In England a general election is evidently on the way. The British Weekly, which is always well informed, accepts the view of its necessity, and joins in warning Lloyd George of his danger. "What is intolerable," it remarks, "is the idea that a general election can be taken on the present register of voters." This, chiefly, on account of the enfranchisement of women. The election will be a temperance election. If state purchase is forced thru before the election, the W. W. looks for the defeat of the government and the repeal of the measure. The reports of the brewery companies for the year show profits rising to 300 per cent. This in one company was for ordinary stock, the preferred paying 650 per cent. Another paid 600 per cent. It has been shown that while the submarines sink two per cent. of the grain supplies, the brewers take ten per cent. These are the facts relied on by the prohibitionists.

EIGHTEEN CANADIANS DECORATED FOR VALOR

One Corporal Attacks and Captures German Guns—Other Daring Soldiers Carry Pill-Boxes—Several Victoria Crosses.

London, Jan. 11.—Graphic descriptions of Canadian heroism in France were given today when 18 Canadians were decorated for bravery. How Capt. J. O'Kelly advanced his command 1000 yards after the original attack failed, took two enemy positions on the crest of the hill under a heavy fire and personally organized and led attacks against "pill-boxes," capturing six with 100 prisoners and 10 machine guns, was graphically gasetted. Another hero was Corporal Colin Barron, who, single-handed rushed enemy guns, killed four of the crew and captured the others and then turned the captured guns on the retiring enemy, causing severe casualties. Sergt. Geo. H. Mullin captured a "pill-box" single-handed, rushed a sniper's post in front of him, destroyed the captured guns on the retiring enemy, causing severe casualties. Sergt. C. E. Spackman of the Border Regiment, and Corporal R. McBeath, of the Seaforth Highlanders, also were awarded the Victoria Cross for capturing enemy machine guns together with their crews. McBeath put five machine guns out of action, capturing an officer and 30 men who had taken refuge in a dugout. A trooper of the Indian Cavalry was decorated for thrice carrying despatches over open ground and under a heavy fire, and, each time his horse was shot under him. Cecil J. Kinross and James P. Robertson. The accounts of the deeds for which the Victoria Cross was awarded embrace even this which must have been as thrilling as any during the war. Captain Robert Gee of the Royal Fusiliers, when the enemy pierced the British lines and captured brigade headquarters and an ammunition dump, finding himself a prisoner, killed one of the enemy with a spike and succeeded in escaping. He then organized a party of the brigade staff, with which he attacked the enemy, clearing the locality. After establishing a defensive flank, Gee won a revolver in each hand, rushed and captured an enemy machine gun, killing eight members of its crew. Sergt. C. E. Spackman of the Border Regiment, and Corporal R. McBeath, of the Seaforth Highlanders, also were awarded the Victoria Cross for capturing enemy machine guns together with their crews. McBeath put five machine guns out of action, capturing an officer and 30 men who had taken refuge in a dugout. A trooper of the Indian Cavalry was decorated for thrice carrying despatches over open ground and under a heavy fire, and, each time his horse was shot under him.

BRITISH PURSUE ENEMY IN PORTUGUESE AFRICA

Mounted Troops Follow Up German Column Retreating Near Lake Nyassa—Enemy Force Splits Up Into Small Bands.

London, Jan. 11.—Dealing with the course of the operations in East Africa during the past month, an official communication issued today says: "Having entered Portuguese territory at Ngomano as a small exhausted force, short of food and ammunition, a German column under Gen. von Lotztorbeck moved up the Lujuenda Valley, capturing several small isolated Portuguese posts, subsequently dispersing in scattered groups and raiding parties over the whole country between Mwenbe, near Lake Nyassa, and the coast in the vicinity of Port Amelia. British mounted troops followed up the Lujuenda Valley, while other columns acting in co-operation with the Portuguese, disembarked at Port Amelia and advanced east and northeast from the southern end of Lake Nyassa. "Patrol encounters have occurred during the past few days in the Mwenbe area, where an enemy detachment has been located."

FOE TRENCHES DESTROYED BY ITALIAN ARTILLERY

Austro-German Troops Moved Down By Machine Gun Fire As They Beat Retreat. London, Jan. 11.—On the fighting fronts there is only slight activity, except by the artilleries. Several trench-raiding operations have been carried out on the western front by the French in the Argonne Forest and Vosges Mountain sectors, in which German prisoners were taken. "Notwithstanding the deep snow on the northern Italian front, the Italian guns have been active near Cavazzurina, in the hill region, demolishing Austro-German trenches and forcing the enemy to evacuate them. The Italian machine guns worked havoc among the enemy as they endeavored to retire."

FOE MAINTAINS OFFER OF PEACE TO RUSS NATION

Teutons, However, Won't Extend Same Terms to Other Allies.

CONFERENCE STILL ON

Lenine Refuses to Make Any Concessions to Central Powers.

London, Jan. 11.—With fighting still at a low ebb on all the battle-fronts, the chief political issue—the negotiations between the central powers and Russia—remains the absorbing point in interest in the world war. Chaotic indeed is the situation surrounding these negotiations, due to the fact that nothing but contradictory reports of her proceedings have come thru for publication. That peace again has been discussed, as far as Russia's allies are concerned, their peace proposals of December 25 of "no forcible annexations or indemnities, which were conditional on Great Britain, France, the United States and other enemy powers participating in the peace parleys. The refusal of these powers to be drawn into the Teutonic net is given as the reason for the Austro-German delegates recanting. "But Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, told the Bolshevik delegates that the door has not been closed to the Russians, and that the situation now had resolved itself into a question of a separate peace between Russia and the central powers. The seeming ultimatum of the representatives of the enemy powers was taken under advisement, and the meeting was adjourned. Nikolai Lenine, the Bolshevik premier, apparently is maintaining his previous attitude of unwillingness to concede any points to the enemy, and has re-asserted that unless the central powers accept the Bolshevik proposals, the Bolsheviks will declare war on them. He also has declared himself in favor of stopping demobilization and preparing for war.

The bishop returns in five weeks' time after visiting the front.

TEN MILLION TONS TOLL OF U-BOATS IN ONE YEAR

Berlin Claims 821,000 is Average Monthly Tonnage Destroyed, February to December, 1917.

DECLARES ARMISTICE WOULD BE PARALYZING

Von Tirpitz Wants U-Boats to Operate Unhindered—Says Germany Doesn't Need Belgium. London, Jan. 11.—Germany is depending upon her U-boats to defeat the American menace and bring about peace, declares the Berlin Tageblatt, a copy of which has been received here. "The entire entente hopes," says this newspaper, "are now based on the expected help from the United States. Whether the Americans will be able to provide a fighting army in numbers sufficient to bring about a decision, whether they will be able to furnish sufficient ships for the transport of the army, and whether they will then be able to provide the necessary supplies of food and war materials are questions upon which opinion is divided. But there is no doubt that the efforts of the Americans are making must be taken seriously. The hope of an early peace depends almost entirely on the efficacy of our submarine weapon." "Reviewing the first year of Germany's ruthless submarine campaign, which ends Feb. 1, The Tageblatt asserts that the central powers have succeeded in completely upsetting the economic life of the entente, and adds that the submarine campaign, which has now become the principal factor in naval warfare, is being expanded and developed still further. "Summarizing the results of the underwater campaign since Feb. 1, The Tageblatt claims that U-boats have sunk on an average 821,000 tons of shipping monthly from February to December, and for the whole year the toll may be expected to show nearly ten million tons, and that the building of new ships by the entente and neutrals during the year will replace only between 3,500,000 and 4,000,000 tons of these losses. The newspaper says the monetary loss to Germany's enemies as the result of the year's operations will reach $5,000,000,000, figuring the value of the ships at $250 per ton and the cargoes at the same amount.

NATIONALIST PARTY IS TRUE TO HUGHES

Loyalty of Colleagues Restored Australian Premier to Power.

CONSCRIPTION VOTE

Majority Against Compulsory Service is Announced as 165,000.

Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 11.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—The governor-general has issued a statement giving reasons why he re-commissioned Hon. Wm. Hughes. He states that in advance of the Nationalist defeat in parliament he endeavored to ascertain the situation by seeking information of all sections of representatives with a view to avoiding dissolution, and decided that the majority of Nationalists was likely to retain cohesion and would be able to establish a stable government under Mr. Hughes. The final vote on the conscription poll follows: Yes, 1,013,000; no, 1,178,000. The soldiers' vote gave a small "Yes" majority. States in favor included New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, New South Wales, Western Australia, Tasmania. Further organized efforts are being made to secure recruits voluntarily. Substantial increases in pay went into effect in the Australian navy on Jan. 1. Speaking in the house of representatives, Premier Hughes said the government's one desire was to spend all the energies of Australia to do its duty in the war.

UKRAINIANS OPEN WAR AGAINST BOLSHEVIKI

Petrograd, Jan. 11.—Fighting lasting seven hours has taken place between Maximilian and Ukrainian troops near Ratchnatch, in the Government of Tchernigov, after severe fighting. London, Jan. 11.—A Reuter's Limited despatch from Petrograd says it is reported there that Ukrainian troops have occupied Ratchnatch, in the Government of Tchernigov, after severe fighting. Bolnigov, according to advices received here, is at Debeltzovo, in Khar'kov, Novoska and Semenov.

BRITISH BOMB COURTRAI

Drop Two Tons of Explosives on German Positions in West. London, Jan. 11.—The British official communication dealing with aviation issued this evening says: "Nearly two tons of bombs were dropped Thursday on an ammunition depot in the vicinity of Courtrai and other targets. "One enemy machine was driven down out of control. One of our machines is missing."

COAL PROBLEM IS MOSTLY DUE TO NEGLIGENCE

Warnings Sounded by Commissioners Not Heeded by Authorities.

SHORTAGE PREDICTED

Remedy Suggested in Good Time, But Not Availed of.

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—That the present scarcity of coal was anticipated nearly three months ago in the offices of the commissioner investigating the high cost of living and measures to meet it advised, is indicated by a report to Hon. T. W. Crothers by W. F. O'Connor, K.C., commissioner on cost of living, which was made public today. The report, which deals with the period from April to October, 1917, "the first six months of the coal year," states that during this time there was a great deal more anthracite imported into Canada than was the case in the previous year, and probably more than had ever been imported into the Dominion during a similar period. The report goes on to say: "Under these circumstances it might be thought that the coal situation should be most satisfactory indeed, and that there would be no trouble experienced this coming winter. While this had been the case, yet owing to indiscriminate distribution there is likely to be a great deal of inconvenience experienced, more especially in small communities, where, owing to the scramble for coal in large centres, they have been practically overlooked. This situation ought to be taken care of and the wants supplied, at least partially, at once, if not thru the producers direct, at least thru the large wholesalers.

Panic Caused Shortage. "Again, owing to the panicky feeling of buyers in the large cities, more consumers have had their full orders supplied than has ever before been the case, which has placed the balance—even the a greater tonnage than ordinary—on the wrong side of the scale, and as a consequence, while in our large centres a greater tonnage has been received than ever before, it is practically all in the hands of a few dealers, and the coal dealers have very little, if any, in store. This, of course, means that from now on—with the balance of the coal received—great care will have to be exercised." (Concluded on Page 2, Column 7).

BRITAIN SAVIOR OF HUMAN RACE

Baron Ito of Japan Pays Tribute to British Sacrifices.

GUESTS AT OTTAWA

Canadian Part in War Receives Laudation From Tokio Mission.

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—Baron Ito and Dr. Hishida, members of a special Japanese finance mission to the United States, met members of the Dominion Government at a dinner given in their honor by Yasuoka Numano, Japanese consul-general for Canada, at the Chateau Laurier tonight. Among the guests of the evening were Sir Thomas White, minister of finance; Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice of the supreme court; Hon. F. B. Carroll, minister of public works; Hon. J. A. Calder, minister of immigration and colonization; Hon. Arthur Meighen, minister of the interior; Hon. Martin Burrell, secretary of state; Hon. A. K. Maclean, minister without portfolio, and Hon. Justice Duff.

Baron Ito paid a tribute to the part the British Empire has played in the war. "I firmly believe," he said, "that when the history of the war is written generations yet unborn will turn to the British Empire and hail her as the savior of the human race." Speaking of the part Canada had played in the war, the baron said that "one of the most notable things in connection with the war has been the manner in which the spirit of Canada has risen to the help of the mother country." Touching upon his own country, Baron Ito said that Japan was a nation dominated by sincerity and a sense of justice. He described the Anglo-Japanese alliance as the "marrow of far eastern peace."

WIND-UP MEETING IS QUIET AFFAIR

Final Session of City Council Enlivened Only by Presentation to Alderman.

SIX WILL TRY AGAIN

Controller Foster Declares Last Meeting Should Be One of Business.

The final meeting of the 1917 city council, held yesterday, was a very quiet affair, enlivened only by a presentation to Ald. Dunn, and the promise of the last six of the ten retiring members that they would make another try next year. Ald. Louis Slinger made reference to his recent slinger against the assessment department, and explained how between $50 and 1000 voters were left off the list, but he did not go so far as to demand a recount or an investigation.

Controller Foster, who is retiring to take up a seat in the house of commons, almost put the quietus on valdatory speculating by coming out strong against holding a "final" meeting of council. "We should serve the public, but not gloriously," he said. "The last meeting of council should be a business meeting, not an opportunity for speaking."

This is only a temporary setback. He warned the new aldermen that a heavy year was before them.

"I would not ask for a recount if I were defeated by one vote," said Ald. Slinger, at the moment for a moment think of contesting the validity of the election. He explained that he was not complaining because he was defeated, but because he wanted every British subject to be allowed to exercise his franchise. "Two hundred people who had counted on voting for me came to my office and told me their names were not on the list," said the alderman.

Earlier in the proceedings a letter was read from Assessment Commissioner Forman explaining how the voters were disfranchised. He said that the lists had been open for inspection 21 days before the election when any voter could have assured himself that he was on the list. Ald. Dunn was given a great reception on rising to say farewell after 21 years' service in the city council. "I have yet to find a dishonest man in the city council," he said. "I have always found the aldermen devoted to the interests of the people, and working unselfishly for those interests. I shall carry with me to my grave pleasant memories of my terms in the council chamber."

The other retiring members—Controller Shaw, Ald. Archibald, Ald. Fenwick and Ald. MacGregor also spoke. Ald. Whether was ill and could not be present, and Ald. Burgess is overseas.

Officials of the G. W. V. A. at 72 Carlton street yesterday drew attention to the fact that a number of men were selling publications and other articles as representatives of the G. W. V. MISSIONARY CIRCLE EXCEEDS OBJECTIVE

Pupils of Baptist Sunday Schools Give Over $5000 for India.

Four thousand dollars the objective and $5367.50 received for missions was the splendid announcement at the annual mass meeting of the Toronto Baptist Sunday Schools Missionary Circle, held last night in Walmer Road Baptist Church.

In spite of the bad weather the church was packed to standing room. Twenty-six Sunday schools were represented in the offering, each one having a scholar go forward and give the amount collected in their school.

As each child did so, he held up a letter and at the same time words, "Aid for Christ; Victory, 1917," were formed. Last year the circle gave about $3500, but this year it exceeded the expectations of even the most hopeful.

A splendid musical program was given, also a play, entitled "A Day in the Trenches." This was the true story of one day in a missionary's life in the far east. It was given by the students of Moulton College under the direction of Miss H. S. Ellis, the leading part being taken by Miss Florence Scott of Peterboro.

DEALERS EXPECT FAIR PLAY

Oil dealers in Toronto, interviewed yesterday, stated that they expect a fair play in the operation of the new order issued by the United States fuel controller, forbidding the export of coal except for war purposes.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE. "Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well-nourished body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately thereafter a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisulphate of magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and neutralizer of the acid irritation of the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any other method. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must add that I cannot see the sense of doing so, and am advised and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisulphate of magnesia from your drug store, take some of the bisulphate meal, take some of the bisulphate meal, as directed above, and see if I'm not right."

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

"Katinka." When Otto Harbach wrote the musical comedy which Arthur Hammerstein will present at the Royal Alexandra next week, commencing Monday night, he selected the name of Elaine for his heroine, and as Elaine, the play was given to the dramatic columns of the daily papers. This was before the play was put into rehearsal. The name Elaine, with its elfin sound and its suggestion of romance and old world chivalry, tickled the fancy of Mr. Hammerstein and it was decided to call the new Harbach musical comedy by that name. Rehearsals were started and it was suddenly noticed that Elaine was surrounded by Russian furniture, Russian gaiters, Russian slippers, very atmosphere seemed to be reeking Russian, and who ever heard of a Russian girl named Elaine? So Mr. Harbach restricted the play "Katinka." The cast includes Howard Langford, Eve Lynn, Marquita Dwight, Clara Palmer, Dixie Blair, Eleanor Vincent, Peggy Bates, Nicholas Kovacs, Bernard Gorcey, William Schuster, John Roberts, Daniel Sullivan and S. Paul Vernon. Seats are now on sale at the theatre box office.

"Seven Days' Leave."

Will Morris in "Tattered," a delightful comedy bicycle act which is a side-splitter, while Ryan and Juliette are top-notchers as singers and dancers. Florence Rayfield, a popular musical comedy star, in a repertoire of new song successes, is making her initial appearance in vaudeville. Mischa Elman on Tuesday.

A more sublime interpretation of the greatest violin compositions by the greatest masters could not be listened to than that which the remarkable Elman will give in Massey Hall Tuesday evening next, for he is acclaimed a genius by the most noted critics of the world over. Why does this young man grip his audiences and hold them in breathless suspense? It is because his playing touches the responsive chord every time, it is because he seems to draw a magic bow across an instrument that fairly leaps to reveal the soul of the player. From the tips of his fingers it would seem that new life is born into the piece that the writer is speaking again and telling perhaps the anguish of his heart on the joyful movement in a moment of carelessness.

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 12.

An Up-to-Date Banker.

Mr. E. L. Pease, vice-president and general manager of the Royal Bank, is not a stand-patter. He recognizes that Canada, like all other civilized nations, must utilize the collective credit of the country by invoking the principle of rediscunt. In his address at the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Royal Bank, some account of which appears in this issue of The World, Mr. Pease is reported as saying:

"If Canada had a bank of rediscunt patterned somewhat after the Federal Reserve Bank in the United States it would render legitimately available millions of assets in the form of high-grade commercial paper now lying dormant in the portfolios of the banks, and thereby greatly increase our financial resources."

When the Bank Act was last up for revision Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P. for South York, advocated the formation of a government bank of issue and rediscunt, to be known as the Bank of Canada, with a capital stock of fifty million dollars, in which the government and the chartered banks would be stockholders. Such a plan was subsequently adopted with modifications in the United States, made necessary by the pledge of the Democratic party not to re-establish the old "United States bank." Twelve regional banks were instituted under the supervision and control of the federal reserve board at Washington.

In Canada we are not hampered by the political prejudice that runs back to the historic struggle between Andrew Jackson and the United States Bank. We can easily form a big central bank of issue and rediscunt under government control which will not hamper, but on the contrary will help the chartered banks. The chartered banks would be member banks in the great national system.

But the government bank which rediscunts the securities offered by the chartered banks must have a circulating medium of some kind, and quite logically it seems to us the national credit must be represented by a national currency. The circulation privileges of the banks should not be arbitrarily withdrawn, but, as The World has often suggested, the government could issue for a stated time at a nominal rate of interest national currency to the various banks up to the amount of their paid-up capital. After that the banks would have the great advantage of a strong central bank of rediscunt to which they could go with their securities. At present they hold idle large gold reserves and gilt-edged securities aggregating an incredible number of millions in anticipation of a possible "run" or panic that may never come. If their securities were rediscunted and their reserves largely kept on deposit with the central bank they would have much more money to do business with, and in case of a "run" or a panic they would have national credit and national currency ready for their relief.

Another Street Car Failure.

Toronto has once more been dived by the Street Railway Co. The railway board, with all its august dignity, ordered the company over a year ago to have one hundred new cars on the lines by January 1, 1918, and another hundred in another twelve months. The Street Railway Company has taken the measure of the railway board, as it has taken the measure of the city, and the cars have not been put on.

There are plenty of excuses arising out of the war, but if these had not been available there would have been others arising out of peace. The street railway continues as it was in the beginning and ever shall be. But excuses do not fit the lamentable privation and inconvenience to which the people are subjected.

Those who inveighed and continue to inveigh against the purchase proposals of a few years ago should study the present conditions, and in their tabulations of revenue and costs make allowances for the grievances of the public which does not ride in limousines, but hangs to straps. Had the street railway been under the management of the city for four years past, even at the figures proposed, the city would have been vastly better off. As it is the street railway traffic, with all the disadvantages of car shortage, of overcrowding, of bad service, has practically regained the level of 1913. In the next four years, with a consolidated service and improved accommodation, the estimates would have been surpassed. The figures for the past year prove this. The gain to the city would have been incalculable.

As it is, we hang to straps and depend on the railway board, neither experience being satisfactory. If the board exerted its outraged authority there would be some hope, but the matter will probably rest.

Whose Friend is Russia?

General Kaledines is the head of the new Don Republic. Thus another step is taken towards the reconstruction of Russia. If the Bolsheviks were as logical as they think they ought to be they would segregate themselves in a separate government and allow the other people of Russia who are not of their opinion to go their separate ways. The Don Cossacks are as distinctive a race as any in Europe, and if they determine themselves into a republic that is their right as laid down by the Bolsheviks themselves. The Ukrainians have equally distinct national aspirations and are laboring towards a government.

It is quite conceivable, if the Bolsheviks had a large view of the situation, that a federation of Russian states could be organized, something on the lines of the United States of America. This is not what Germany wants, however. It suits the kaiser better to have a Russian anarchy than anything short of a friendly despotism. But that is gone forever.

Trotsky said the other day that if he were logical he would declare war against Britain on account of India, Egypt and Ireland. He has been more friendly to Germany in his actions, whatever his sentiments may be, than he has been to the entente allies. He could not have done a more unfriendly act to France, short of declaring war, than to permit the Germans to withdraw their troops from the eastern front for service in the west. He may say that the Germans broke faith, but if he is silly enough after the last three years and a half to depend on the word of the kaiser he is scarcely wise enough to rule Russia.

In spite of unfriendly acts and doubtful sentiments we shall make a great mistake to turn a cold shoulder to the Russians, however badly they have treated us under the influence of German propaganda. It is reported that the Russians feel gloomy and depressed because they fear their former allies will now do nothing for them, and they think they must turn to their former inveterate enemies, the Germans, to save themselves from disorganization and national disaster. This is where the allies should intervene and make it clear to the whole Russian people what they can expect, and the conditions.

We are vastly nearer the Bolsheviks than we are to the Germans, whatever the latter profess, and however misguided the former may be. It is our policy, therefore, to have an understanding with those with whom we are more naturally in sympathy. France could do this with a good grace. The United States could encourage the real Russians tremendously by a direct appeal and statement of intentions. But Britain, above all, could say the word that would bring the whole Russian nation into line. With all his brilliance, Lloyd George does not seem to have been able to strike the right note. Perhaps the new ambassador to Petrograd will be able to effect an understanding. Perhaps it will devolve on President Wilson to say the right word and consolidate Russian feeling. We do not know what the great and distinguished men of Russia are doing. We may be sure that they are not idle. When the opportunity is ripe and the right moment comes they may have a great deal to say and do yet.

The Trenches

From The Christian Science Monitor.

What is to be the fate of the trenches? Are the long windings of modern catacombs, writhing in miles upon miles of serpentine folds, from the North Sea to the Swiss frontier, traceable like some line of Levinthan mole hills, to disappear under the upturned furrow? Will the corn fields roll along the Bapaume road as they roll over the streets of Calveva Atrebatum? And will the plows wind over Vimy Ridge as they wind thru the gates of Horn? It is proposed that after the war France and Belgium shall build a great highway, from the submarine nests of "Koblenz" to the forts of Belfort, and preserve the trenches all the way, so that, in years to come men may visit them, as before the war they visited the mountains that look on Marathon or the banks of the Metaurus.

It is, from every point of view, to be hoped that this proposal will be carried out. The world preserves, with great care, the shrines of its crimes and tragedies, like the Castello di St. Angelo and the Chateau de Loches. Then why not the scenes of its purifications? It does this, it perhaps thinks, in its great churches, in its Canterbury and its St. Marks. But in the whole story of its regeneration it will find nothing to compare to the heroism and renunciation of those battalions of men, of all sorts and of all conditions, of all nations and of all peoples, who have marched into the inferno of the trenches, in as pure a spirit of martyrdom as the men who faced the lions in the Roman circuses, or the stake in the market places of the Inquisition. The trenches, in short, have become the cross of twentieth century Christianity, and the stupidity and selfishness, the blindness and self-righteousness, which for long hid this from the eyes of thousands not engaged in the battle, is yielding to an almost awed consciousness of the truth to which their eyes were hidden.

For years the whole civilized world has been reading aloud the broad words to the music of the labors or pleasure and the shrill squeal of the pipes of envy and hate. The worship of blood had given place to the worship of mammon, the motto "noblesse oblige" to the motto "put money in thy purse." Never did the world seem, to those who had, a more delightful place to live in than in the summer of 1914, or a world better worth striving for a place in, to those who had not. And yet, all the time, the lee in the great carnival, wrote itself, was being showered, from New York to St. Petersburg, and from Stockholm to Rome, was beginning to crack, and there were spectres to be seen as gaunt as any who ever herded in the faubourgs in '93, or lurked in the deep woods round the chateaux. The awakening, however, was not destined to come that way. It came thru the ambition of ambition, thru the arrogance of arrogance. In a sentence, thru the desire of unbridled human will to draw into its maw the power, the wealth, and the dominion of the world, and to war waged with a fierceness, a horror, and a remorselessness which had been unknown since the days of Attila and Alaric.

Then it was that, in the midst of its desolation and its shame, there came to the world the revelation of the trenches, and that humanity began to realize the fact of the indestructibility of good. Evil comes and evil goes, with all the foam and finfulness of the tide of passion, but good stands like the great rock against which the waves of evil crash, only to be scattered and powdered into spray. In July, 1914, what is called Society was drifting in an aimless, pleasure-logged way, along Piccadilly or the Boulevard des Capucines, in its pleasure barge. Youth in the prow, and folly at the helm, it was shouting, like the Israelites of old, "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we may die," but, all the same, without any expectation of death. And all that time the socialist clubs and the labor unions were meeting and denouncing the crew of the barge, and planning plans for wrecking it. Then suddenly the skies split and the war-clouds thundered amidst the lightning. And, marvel of marvels, the pleasure seekers climbed out of their barges, and the socialists and labor unions closed their meetings, and all marched together, shoulder to shoulder, into the trenches to defend Principle.

That night Mephistopheles must have sat puzzled, angry and alarmed. Nothing had gone the way he had calculated; and, as he watched the transformation in the trenches, he must have realized that the game was lost. "We went into the trenches," said a British officer, not long ago, "Christians by education, infidels in practice. And this is what the trenches have done for us—today, we know that there is a God." What the pulpits were powerless to teach the trenches have taught. Self-denial, self-sacrifice, self-renunciation in the trenches have taught men what Love meant on Calvary. "What message," asked a journalist one day on leaving the front, "shall I take to them at home?" And the answer came without hesitation from the officer addressed, "Tell them that the men are splendid." There, huddled together in the mud and blood of the long city, stretching from Zeebrugge to Belfort, amidst the crash of "coal-boxes" and "Jack Johnsons," with the great guns roaring and the rifle bullets pattering, with the blasted trees and shell craters of "No Man's Land" for a front garden, officers and men are alike splendid. It is the same, too, amidst the sands and limestone ridges of Palestine, and by the fly-covered mud flats of "Temptation square" in Eden. There is no "class" in the trenches. Peers and factory hands, laborers and university professors, academicians and artisans, all putting Principle first and themselves last, in a common fellowship. And that is the redemption of the trenches.

For the first time half the men are beginning to think truly. A company of troops, going shouting and laughing over the top not long ago, fought themselves into a position where they were surrounded on every side by death, and from which escape seemed impossible. From the tense silence which fell upon them, said one of the officers afterward, I knew that they were praying. And then I don't know how, but the whole danger melted away and we were safe. Safe from what? demands the cynic, ordinarily, from the fate they went out to inflict on somebody else? No, not from that, but the explanation is difficult in a few words. Safe from the dangers their own fears had conjured up for them. Safe, owing to their own simple trust in God, which made safe also those whom they had gone out to fight.

All of which, the cynic may reply, in the phrase of Marshal Canrobert, is quite possibly magnificent, but it is not war. Yet it is war, war in heaven. It is war with fear, with hate, with murder, in a word with self. But, says the cynic again, has a man got to go to war to learn love? No, he has not, but neither has he shown a superfluity of love in peace. He should demonstrate love in the self-forgetfulness which overcomes sin, disease and death, in the way demanded by Jesus of Nazareth. But if he will not display this self-denial in the ease of peace he may be compelled to manifest it amidst the terrors of war.

The trenches have been the school of this lesson. And it is in the learning of it that the hope of humanity is rising. It is in the conquest of self that true victory is being born. The winning of trenches here and of cities there is but an indication of this conquest, for the victory of Principle is inevitable. It is conduct and not shells, surrender to Truth, not bayonet thrusts, that will win the day, no matter what the accompanying physical manifestation may be. For Michael fights not in vain against the dragon.

made fair progress with Italian, and am at present dabbling with Spanish. I have not the slightest illusion about the knowledge of languages making an educated man, or the self-complacency which comes from patting a foreign tongue. I am learning them because I think they may be useful to the movement.

"The movement" is the effort of the Workers' Educational Association to introduce study classes for soldiers at the base camps where soldiers rest, just back of the fighting front. Just how well along the effort is I can't tell you in figures, for the effort is so young that thus far the association's officers themselves are not in possession of statistics. There are known to be seven study classes at the front, but their membership is in such a continual state of fluctuation that statistics really are of little significance. Attendance at the classes is regular enough, however, to give them a continuous and semi-prosperous existence.

They have been started by the 1,000 members of the association, now serving at the front—members whose zeal for the work of their association has kept alive by its War-Time Comradeship Committee, which maintains a regular correspondence with

SOLDIERS AND SELF-EDUCATION.

By Leon Lorenzo.

I have chanced upon a letter from a soldier in France, which quite accidentally reveals an important story. Part of it reads as follows: "I've started learning Spanish and am keeping up botany, one lecture a week and two afternoons with the microscope; am also polishing up my mathematics. I'm also learning book-binding, and enjoy it very much. I wish I had found some of the other handcraft classes (leather, wood and metal work), but there has been a big rush for them. I'm writing this seated cross-legged on my bunk, have washed seventeen handkerchiefs, etc., etc., etc."

Here is another: "Much of my time here is taken up with running the classes and with managing the school and the library. My reading has been varied, almost indiscriminate, and my studies confined practically to the acquisition of foreign languages. I have no special talent for languages, but I considered that a knowledge of three or four might be useful after the war. I have a fair working knowledge of German, French and Russian, have them throughout their period of service.

The Workers' Educational Association occupies a unique place in the world. So far as I have been able to discover it is the only organization in the world which runs on a great scale, free classes for workers, school-leavers in their evenings and on their Sundays. Clerks and telegraphists, teachers, textile and domestic workers, engineers, shop assistants, miners, printers, metal workers, building laborers, carpenters and joiners, factory hands, railwaymen, tailors and dressmakers, insurance agents, postmen, tram conductors and motormen, policemen, potters, boot and shoe workers, warehousemen, laborers, foremen and managers, bookbinders—all are represented in its lists of pupils. It dates back only to 1908, when a group of thirty potters at Longton got together in the evenings to study industrial history.

Today it has over 191 branch classes, 2,320 affiliated societies and 10,750 members in Great Britain and Ireland alone, with others in Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. The "affiliated societies" are in reality labor unions whose members have taken up the association's study courses. The Derbyshire Miners' Association, the General Federation of Trade Unions, the Amalgamated Association of Tramway and Vehicle Workers, the National Amalgamated Society of Male and Female Pottery Workers, the National Association of Manual Training Teachers, the Society of Operative Stone Masons, the Amalgamated Society of Paper Makers, the Postoffice Amalgamated Engineering and Stores Association, the Ship Constructors and Shipwrights' Association, the National Federation of Women Teachers, the National Federation of Women Workers and the Young Women's Christian Association—these are some of the latest additions to the affiliated list. All its work is performed free, the subscriptions of wealthy men defraying the cost of operating the huge educational scheme.

Its work is divided into tutorial classes to prepare young workers for university training; one-year classes, to substitute for university training in the cases of many of the older workers; study circles, a less arduous substitute for university work; and lectures. Ninety-nine tutorial classes are now running in Great Britain and Ireland with 1,926 students. One hundred and fifty-four one-year classes, 70 study circles and 526 public lectures were put on during the year which ended June 1. Of these, 25 one-year classes, 24 study circles and 146 lectures were on subjects which had to do with the war. Among the men workers history and economics are the favorite subjects, and among the classes for women workers the favorites are first aid, home nursing and hygiene. Other subjects in large demand are history, literature, nature study, French, singing, embroidery, dressmaking and millinery, and elementary biology.

YORK COUNTY'S RIGHTS FIRST CONSIDERATION

Ontario Railway Board Will Decide Status Before Negotiations to Take Over Metropolitan.

Not until the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board decides what rights the County of York has in regard to the taking over of the Metropolitan division of the York Radial Railway will negotiations be proceeded with. This will be Jan. 28, after which the board will state the status of the company in the arbitration proceedings.

A preliminary hearing to determine what has been agreed upon and to define the issues not settled as well as to decide the method of procedure, was held yesterday with Corporation Counsel Fahey, Commissioner Harris and Finance Commissioner Bradshaw representing the city and H. J. Wright and William Moore appearing for the company and County of York. In stating his decision that the first thing was to decide the status of the company, whether or not they had any rights in the franchise, and their value, Chairman McIntyre said the county would not be allowed to delay matters, and that by Jan. 28 the county must enter its claims. The order for the company to file its papers was made for Jan. 25.

Just Learning of Betting on Golf

New York, Jan. 11.—Betting as an adjunct to the game of golf has steadily increased in the last few years. The tendency ranges from a ball a hole to $5 or more a hole, while non-participants indulge in wagers on various players or groups of players, and find therein a satisfactory outlet for instants which in former days were trampled in the betting ring at the great turf meetings. At an uptown university on the other evening a group of golfers and non-golfers were discussing golf in relation to other sports, and the betting aspect came up.

"I don't quite understand why betting is essential to the game," said a man who had never played golf. "You take two tennis players. They don't have to bet money on either or anything else in order to get the necessary flip or thrill or sporting interest out of it nor do baseball players, nor do squash, nor competitors in almost any sport one can name feel this necessity. So why golf?"

"I think," replied a man who stands well in the lists, "that golf differs from other sports, inasmuch as you don't play for money or for anything else, but for the term; you play against yourself, and against nature. If you are off your stride in your game, you are on his game, you lose, not because your opponent has done anything to cause you to lose—as in tennis, baseball and other sports—but because you have beaten yourself."

"Another player said that, as a matter of fact, he would rather play the game without a stake, but that the growth in the practice of betting which the past few years had seen in this country forced

Worst Twirler in League Is Traded to Brooklyn

New York, Jan. 11.—According to the pitching averages of the National League Al Mumaux, of the Pirates, who was traded to Brooklyn today, was the worst pitcher in the circuit in 1917. Mumaux won two games and lost eleven. Furthermore, he allowed an average of 5.23 earned runs per nine innings, which is a record of ineffectiveness not equaled by any other pitcher.

Notwithstanding this had showing the Pirates youngster is the most sought-after hurler in the National League, if not in the game. He is only about 24 years of age, and he showed in 1917 and 1918 that he has the stuff to rank with Johnstun and Alexander if he cares to.

Mumaux would not keep in condition last season for either Jimmy Callahan or Hurr Bezdek, who handled the Pirates. In the middle of the season he was suspended.

The youthful erstwhile pitching star seems to be troubled with exaggerated ego. He is not apt to come back very far in Pittsburgh. It would do him a lot of good to come to New York under McGraw or go to Philadelphia under Pat Moran.

NEW FIRE ESCAPES NEEDED AT SCHOOL Girls at Alexandra Industrial School Will Be Amply Protected.

High cost of living is afflicting the industrial schools. The board of management is faced with providing somewhere a deficit for each boy and girl committed to their care. The Victoria Industrial School for Boys at Mimico is given $4.30 a week per boy, and it costs the institution $4.63 a week.

It was decided to increase the number of milch cows at the school to 25, the purchase of five more being authorized. The gardens will be put into good shape and fertilizer purchased for this purpose.

Only nine girls have given serious trouble, said the superintendent. The success attending the gardening of the school is worthy of note. They have raised a number of fresh vegetables and potatoes. The three hundred hens are industrious, too—they laid 10 dozen eggs last week.

COSSACKS PROCLAIM DON REGION REPUBLIC

Petrograd, Jan. 11.—Reports from Roslov today say that the Republic of the Don has been declared existent with General Kaledines as president and prime minister.

Special dispatches from Petrograd yesterday reported a majority of the Cossacks and the population of the Don district in general, grouping themselves around the Don military government under General Kaledines, whose aim was said to be not to fight the Bolsheviks, but to consolidate the democratic organizations in the Don district with a view to bringing about an end to civil war.

The territory of the Don Cossacks takes in an area of more than 63,000 square miles, comprising a large part of the lower Don basin, and extending in southeastern Russia. The population is mainly Cossack, whose social structure has been on a military basis.

Grain Crops of Argentina Are Fired by Incendiarists

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Jan. 11.—The burning of crops is continuing in many parts of the republic. The incendiary nature of at least some of these fires is indicated by the action of the manager of the Province of Buenos Aires Railway, who has reported to the authorities two individuals seen setting fire to grain fields just ready for harvesting.

Skin on Fire With Eczema

The Most Torturing of Skin Diseases—Few Doctors Have Satisfactory Treatment to Offer, But This Ointment Cures.

St. Thomas, Ont., Jan. 11.—Eczema's itch is torture, the skin seems to burn with the burning, stinging humor; at times it becomes almost unbearable, and in desperation you could tear the skin to pieces. You do not exert for fear of aggravating the itching, neither can you sleep, for no sooner does the body become warm than the trouble begins, and instead of restful, refreshing sleep, it is scratch, scratch all night long.

Mrs. Alex. Perry, 18 Ross St., St. Thomas, Ont., writes: "I cannot recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment too highly, as it cured me of a very bad case of eczema. For six years I was ashamed to go near my door when anybody called, my face was so affected with this terrible disease. After consulting several doctors, but they could not help me at all. When I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment being good for eczema, I tried it, and before I had used two boxes I could see it was helping me. Now, since my face is entirely healed, they want to know how I was cured, and I certainly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment. I cannot speak too strongly in its favor, as I paid out many dollars for doctors' medicines, but did not get any relief until I used Dr. Chase's Ointment."

You may be skeptical regarding the ability of Dr. Chase's Ointment to cure you. Most people are after trying in vain to get relief from a host of remedies, but Dr. Chase's Ointment will not disappoint you.

EUROPEAN NEUTRALITY GET AMERICAN GOODS

Sweden, However, is Virtually Off the List—Shipments to Allies Sharply Decline

Washington, Jan. 11.—American supplies were allowed to move more freely in November to northern European neutrals with which re-exports of goods had reached, and exports to the allies were reduced sharply. Figures made public today by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce show that decrease in shipments to Great Britain, France and Italy accounted for most of the $55,000,000 reduction in exports during the preceding month. On the other hand, the Netherlands received $14,917,774 worth of goods in November compared with $12,000,000 in October. Norway received $2,275,543, compared with $558,649 the month before.

INCREASED EXPORT OF DAIRY PRODUCTS

Annual Report of Labor Department Intimates That High Prices Increase Production.

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—The annual report of the department of labor just issued shows that during the last calendar year the quantity of butter exported was 1,233,753 pounds, valued at $309,046. During the previous year the quantity exported was 7,990,453 pounds, valued at $2,491,822. Cheese was exported to the amount of 180,733,428 pounds, valued at $36,721,136. The aggregate value of butter, cheese, condensed milk, fresh cream exported from Canada during the year amounts, says the report, to the fine total of $413,770,576, a sum which is more than double the amount of the previous year. If to this we add the value of milk, butter and cheese consumed at home, a reasonable estimate of which would be $140,000,000, we arrive at a total production of $553,770,576. The foregoing figures present an unmistakable form of convincing illustration of the argument that the best spur to increased production is found in high prices.

CANADIANS INTRODUCE TUMPLINE CONTINGENT

New Method of Transporting Packs by Soldiers Much Favored on West Front.

London, Jan. 11.—(Via Reuters' Ottawa agency)—Much interest has been shown in the new method of transport called "the tumpline," which the Canadians introduced into the army. The tumpline is a strap of material, made of each end of which a long strap is sewn. The straps are fastened around the load and pass over the soldier's shoulders. This method of transport is much favored by the Canadian soldiers on the west front, as it enables them to carry heavy loads without the use of pack animals, which are scarce in that region.

GERMANY IS CONDEMNED BY HER OWN NEWSPAPERS

Socialist Organ Charges German Authorities With Seeking to Satisfy Vast Ambitions.

Milan, Jan. 11.—When the despotic German censorship is constrained to permit the publication of such a leading article as is printed in a number of the Leipzig Volkszeitung, regarding the German Government's policy in the east, it is a symptom of the maturing crisis in German democratic spheres. Under the heading "Cleanliness," the official organ of the German Independent Socialist party says: "The German Government has disclosed its true aims with Russia. It is not peace, but a peace which will go into the pockets of the bourgeoisie and the economic power of Germany in the east. The German Government wants to exploit the economic power of the Polish middle classes. For the purpose of making its real reasons from those people, never has German policy been so doubtful. It is certain in this new light that the German Empire cannot exist simply of vast ambitions."

BRITISH AIRPLANES SCORE AGAINST ENEMY IN ITALY

London, Jan. 11.—British airplanes on the Italian front attacked an squadron of seven hostile machines yesterday and brought down four of them, the war office announced today. Two of the enemy airplanes crashed down to earth and two others were driven down out of control. The British came out of the fight with all their machines intact.

Canadian Ballot Protest Will Bring No Results

Canadian Associated Press Cable, London, Jan. 11.—A paragraph appears in many English papers alleging that sensational developments are expected in the Canadian ballot box, when opened, to show that the Press is able to say that, while the opposition scrutineer may raise an objection to the ballot, it is extremely unlikely it will be carried any further, and there will be no sensational developments.

KALEDINES TO CONFIRM DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC

Majority of Cossacks to Consolidate Power of Liberalism in Don District.

London, Jan. 11.—A majority of the Cossacks and the population of the Don district are grouping themselves around the Don military government under General Kaledines, according to a special despatch from Petrograd tending to give an authorized account of conditions in south Russia. General Kaledines' principal aim is to fight the Bolsheviks, but to consolidate democratic, republican government of the Don district.

General Alexieff, former Russian commander-in-chief, around whom has gathered a corps of some 25,000 officers, has considered it necessary to organize a struggle against the Bolsheviks on an all-Russian plan and to create in Russia a moderate liberal regime. Monarchical principles are said to be very strong among Alexieff's group.

General Kaledines and his party oppose General Alexieff in his desire to utilize the Don government against the Bolsheviks, and is willing to include in the Don government representatives of all the democratic organizations in order to bring an end to civil war.

A RESTRICTED SCHEDULE

Special to the Toronto World. Brantford, Jan. 11.—The shortage of hydro-electric power through Ontario, thru the great demand for power for war munitions industries, has resulted in placing the Brantford municipal street railway on a restricted schedule up to 6 o'clock each evening. A 15-minute service will be given on the main line and a 20-minute service on the Eagle Line-Homedale line up to that hour. After that time each day the customary schedule will be in force.

The action in cutting down the service during the day was taken by the Brantford municipal railway committee on orders from the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission.

TRENDS UPWARD GRAIN MARKET

Transportation Troubles and Waning of Peace Hopes Responsible.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Unsettled transportation conditions throughout the west, together with fading optimism with regard to peace, tended today to lift the corn market. Prices closed unsettled at 1.27 for January and 1.25 1/2 for May, the same as yesterday's finish, to a 1/4 higher. Oats gained 1/4 to 1/2 in provisions; the result shown from a decline of 40c to an increase of 80c.

Forecasters were cold weather made corn traders pay special attention to a decrease in rural portions of consignments to corn-holders. A shortage of motive power on western railroads. Advances were at hand, also, which indicated that crops planted in the west would be hampered by adverse weather conditions. On the other hand, grain despatches failed to confirm bearish views on the subject of peace. Advances, however, were checked by reports of a shortage of multi-railroad railroads, shipments to the east from here had been rendered more difficult.

Oats showed decided strength, owing, chiefly, to the failure of peace talk to get on foot. The market for wheat continued to dwindle. Invariably down-turns in values proved transient.

Provisions advanced with the strength of grain. At first, the weakness in the hog market had a temporary depressing influence.

Imperial Development. To Pay Britain's War Debt. Limited State Participation in Industries Urged by Royal Colonial Institute Speaker.

London, Jan. 11.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—Lecturing to the Royal Colonial Institute on the payment of the war debt, the development of the empire, the speaker, Mr. Wilson Fox, M.P., argued that state financial participation in a limited number of branches of industry will not impede individual enterprise. He referred to the electrical industry, in which almost indefinite expansion was possible.

Mr. Wilson Fox also emphasized the practically unlimited supplies of the most nutritious fish obtainable from Canada and Newfoundland and that before the war it improved transportation and cold-storage is afforded. The state might profit by fifty million pounds sterling annually from them. The home government might also co-operate with the Canadian Governments of Alberta, Saskatchewan and British

KIRKLAND LAKE AREA IS EXTREMELY RICH
Activity Never So Great as at Present, Says Mining Engineer Loring.

NEWRY'S BIG FUTURE
Porcupine Crown and McEneaney Properties Also Exceedingly Valuable.

"Aldo labor is scarce and the cost of operation more than 50 per cent greater than before the war, there never was so great activity in Kirkland Lake district as at present," was the statement made by the World yesterday by Frank C. Loring, the well-known mining engineer, who has just returned from a few weeks' visit to the Kirkland Lake and Montreal River country.

The high price of silver, he said, had stimulated prospecting to a remarkable degree, but while it was true that an ounce of gold was less valuable than at any previous time, its purchasing power, considered, prospecting in gold districts was also active.

Montreal Pool Operations in the Shares Apparently Responsible for Rise.
Canada Steamships shares were to the fore in yesterday's local market, an advance of almost a point being made in the afternoon's trading.

Other transactions on the Toronto Exchange were an extremely uneventful one, but the bid was steady at 3 1/2, with 2 1/2 asked. The steel stocks also were entirely neglected.

CANADA STEAMSHIPS FEATURE AT MONTREAL

APATHY IN MARKET

J. E. Bickell and Co. received the following closing stock letter from New York: "Traders sold the market during the final hour owing to the general apathy which had prevailed all day. There was also some week-end liquidation, as is customary in an upward movement. Marine was notably strong and reflects very good buying."

MINING MARKET INCLINED TO SAG

Newray is Still Most Active Issue - Bullish Advice on Kenabeek.
The local mining market was inclined to softness yesterday, but price swings were kept within a narrow range and the general undertone was considered good. Newray continues to be the best issue in the Porcupine group, 21,000 shares being the total of business yesterday in this issue, the stock reacting to 47. McIntyre showed no change at $1.48. Hollinger was steady at $5. The company's annual report, which is expected in the middle of February, is being awaited with keen interest. In the meantime, however, rumors of a restoration of dividends are less strong than they were a few weeks ago. Dome was not traded in, but the bid was a shade higher at $3.85. Teck-Flanagan held its advance at 47, and Waspakka was buoyant at 23.

In the Cobalt list, features were a re-advance in Hargraves to 10 and an advance in McIntyre to 9. Regarding the latter, it is stated that a syndicate has been successful in placing 150,000 shares of treasury stock with Montreal interests. The Montrealers visited the mine about a month ago, and were greatly pleased with the result of their inspection. Within the past few days the mine manager has reported the discovery of a promising silver vein. The manager says he will guarantee to make a shipment before April.

BANK OF REDISCOUNT BECOMES LIVE TOPIC

Montreal, Jan. 11. - In local banking circles there is much interest shown in the recommendation made by Edson L. Pease at the annual meeting of the Royal Bank that there should be established in Canada a bank of rediscount. Mr. Pease's statement was received with greater attention, as he is also president of the Canadian Bankers' Association. In his recommendation, Mr. Pease points out that a bank of rediscount would render available millions of assets in the form of high-grade commercial paper now being dormant in the portfolios of the banks, and in this way would greatly increase the financial resources of the country.

GOVERNMENT FINANCING AIDED BY UNION BANK

In connection with the annual report of the Union Bank, previously published in The World, a notable feature of the balance sheet is the volume of the bank's notes in circulation, which have reached the sum of $12,775,862, or more than two and a half times the paid-up capital. The proportion of these notes uncovered by the capital stock is fully covered by the deposit of gold and Dominion notes in the central gold reserve.

Since this great expansion of business has taken place without any increase of the capital stock, it is not surprising to find that the earnings, while moderate for the volume of business, amounted to $763,463.02 for the year, but from this there must be deducted an amount of $225,000 for taxes, donations and the proportion to contingent account. The dividend and bonus take $450,000, and $75,000 in written off bank premises account, and the remainder is added to the profit balance carried forward.

The Union Bank is continuing its important services to the country and the empire in the financing of government and the holding of Canadian and British Government securities show a further increase since 1916, and its immense reserve of Dominion notes nineteen and a half millions, but not including those deposited in the central gold reserve, is in itself a notable assistance to the Dominion exchequer.

TO SECURE CONTROL OF CASTLE PROPERTY

Trethewey Shareholders Strongly Endorse Plan Submitted by Directors.
At a well-attended meeting of Trethewey shareholders yesterday, President Wickert announced that the proposal of the directors that the company acquire a controlling interest in the Castle Mining Company was almost unanimously upheld, more than 300,000 votes being in favor, while only two small shareholders recorded their objections. A committee of three was appointed to confer with the directors in securing the stock. The option secured by the Trethewey directors, which will now be exercised, called for the delivery of 51 per cent. of the Castle Company stock of $1,500,000 at 20c per share.
