CANADIANS TAKE ARLEUX-EN-GOHELLE

Successful Rapid Charge Results in Advance Over a Mile Deep on Mile and Half Front --- Manitoba Battalion Suffers Severely When Held Up by Barbed Wire --- British Troops Carry the Enemy Positions as Heavy Artillery Slaughters Thousands of Germans Ordered by Their Officers Into a Shambles --- Hand-to-Hand Fighting Develops Utmost Ferocity.

LONDON, April 29.—Bitter fighting continued throughout last night and today on the front of the British offensive. Reuter's correspondent at the British headquarters says that the Germans apparently have a good idea of the principal points against which the British effort is directed and which must be carried before it will be possible for the British to go ahead again. The Germans are throwing in fresh troops to defend these positions as rapidly as it is possible to hurry them up.

The British troops have captured Arleux-en-Gohelle and German positions on a front of more than two miles north and south of that village, says the official report of Saturday night.

By R. T. Small, Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press
BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, April 29, via London, 11.05 p.m.—There was more desperate fighting along the British front today, and the Germans, evidently spurred on by declaration from Field Marshal Von Hindenburg that they must hold their present positions at all costs, are making a resistance more stubborn than any heretofore encountered. At various points captured in the first onward rush by the British, the Germans have been ordered into counter-attacks with a reckless disregard for loss of life.

The battle was still in progress late today, and it was possible near Oppy to see at one time no less than five grey waves of Germans blindly facing the British fire in an attempt to retake their lost positions. Heavy shells broke upon them in a great explosive torrent, and where each shell burst great gaps were cut in the ranks of the oncoming men. Those who penetrated the British barrage from the larger calibre guns were met by field gunfire and mown down under continuous sprays of machine gun bullets.

By Stewart Lyon
CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, via London, April 29.—From a ridge above Farbus, whence a view could be obtained of the Arleux-Oppy slope, upon which the Canadian and British advance was made, I watched the tremendous spectacle of the last fierce burst of fire from hundreds of guns. It was Vimy Ridge over again in that respect.

The infantry went forward in the half light of dawn, and from the ridge their progress could be followed by the time as the enemy gave way. He had been taken by surprise, the first prisoners said, and while expecting the attack, had not expected it so soon. A few of the higher officers were in their dugouts or front trenches when our assault was launched. For a time the Germans gave evidence of a lack of direction or control, but they speedily rallied and put up a stiff fight from the cellars of Arleux and had to be driven out with bayonets and bombs.

German counter-attacks are expected. The British to the south advanced simultaneously from their position near Gravelle against the fortified village of Oppy, which lies midway between Arleux and Gravelle.

The contour of the Scarpe Valley is particularly favorable to the establishment of a perfect nest of machine guns, and they are very hard to deal with by artillery fire, but they are gradually being subdued.

Our troops also progressed north-east of Gravelle and the western slopes of Greenland Hill, between Gravelle and Rouex. South of the river we have gained ground north of Monchy-le-Preux.

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, via London, April 29.—Sunday afternoon, and no counter-attack upon Arleux has yet been made, after the hard fighting in the village yesterday morning, much of it with the bayonet, in cellars and among the ruins of the houses which were knocked to pieces first by our guns. After the enemy had been expelled, the Canadians dug themselves in to the west of Fresnoy, and prepared for a counter-attack.

Share in Brilliant Operations
The first attempt to penetrate the German wire on the northern end of our front was not successful because of the network of houses at Arleux, as well as the heaps of shale around the pit mouths which sheltered nests of machine guns, the fire from which made an advance too costly.

During the night a strong enemy counter-attack upon our new positions north of Arleux-en-Gohelle was broken up by our fire. Fighting continues at several places north of River Scarpe.

U.S. TROOPS IN FRANCE JOFFRE'S EARNEST HOPE
Expeditionary Force Will Hasten End of War and Cement Franco-American Ties, Says Marshal —Germans Dread British Prowess.

Washington, April 29.—Marshal Joffre today told the people of America through Washington newspaper correspondents who called on him, that France cherishes the confident hope that the flag of the United States soon will be flying on her battle lines.

It is estimated that seven hundred men were caught in the open while marching in four towards Fresnoy, and fearfully cut up by the concentrated artillery fire directed upon it by an aerial observer, who afterwards reported that he was practically destroyed, and discouraged by his heavy losses, the enemy became quiet until dark.

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

FIELD MARSHAL HAIG thrust out rather violently against the German positions north of the Scarpe River and south of Lens on Saturday at dawn, and also the Germans resisted desperately the British troops moved forward everywhere on the six-mile battlefield. By yesterday evening the British had captured Arleux Village, with trenches of about 3600 yards frontage north and south of the village; also trenches northeast of Gravelle, besides those between Gravelle and Rouex, and north of Monchy-le-Preux, on Saturday and yesterday. They stormed a trench system of about a mile across south of Oppy Village. Before Rouex, where the British also advanced, the Germans are offering their principal resistance. They perceive that this point, in a bend of the Scarpe and a complementary position to Monchy, is a vital one for them to hold, so they are using up troops wholesale in an attempt to stem the rising tide against them. North of Rouex and south of Gravelle the British carried the western slopes of the eminence known as Greenland Hill, and they advanced beyond the summit to within easy range of some important cross-roads. In all the British made nearly 1000 unwounded prisoners. The ferocity of the fighting made the numbers captured smaller than usual.

The British lines, as modified by the latest fighting north of the Scarpe as far as Arleux-en-Gohelle, now bulge out into the German defences in such a manner as to make Lens and its environs form a salient projecting into the British lines. The Loos salient threatens Lens from the northeast, and the Scarpe and Arleux salient now threatens Lens from the southeast. Pressure from Loos and from Arleux-en-Gohelle directed against the neck of this salient will eventually compel the evacuation of Lens and will open up a new salient in the German lines for attack north of Loos and southwest of Lilla. The fighting promises shortly to become even more intense and to extend to a much broader front than even the present front of more than 100 miles.

These latest British gains have also the important result of bringing the British lines north of the Scarpe River at points a mile closer to

Doua. The fighting has had the effect of the driving of two wedges about 1800 yards deep into the German system of defence, while the progress has his attention chiefly attracted to the defence of Rouex. The progress made north of that village will prove of material assistance in a turning movement, if the enemy refuses to yield ground to a frontal attack. The Canadians met with the most rapid success of the day, charging at dawn and carrying Arles-sur-Gobbelle by 7 o'clock the same morning. Then they advanced to the open fields to the east of the village and consolidated their positions.

The increased ferocity and heaviness of the fighting chiefly marks off this action from others of its kind. The way that the Germans are pouring forward to the assault, impelled mainly by the weight of the masses behind them, proves clearly that the enemy has become thoroughly alarmed by the British advances. The destruction of so many German soldiers will cripple his future action if he continues much longer to drive them against the terrible fire of the British army. The enemy's machine guns still present the greatest obstacle for the attack to surmount, and the favorable conditions of ground in the Scarpe Valley for these deadly weapons compels the charge to go slowly, but nevertheless these arms are signally failing to block the British progress.

In the past few days the French, in their operations, have enlarged their gains to the holding of a considerable section of the Chemin des Dames. They have just made progress near Ostel on this highway, and for the first time grenade fighting has begun between the rival forces, owing to their greater proximity to each other. They also captured considerable fortified ground from the enemy about Courcy, taking 200 prisoners. The French artillery kept up its great activity, shelling the German organizations near the Chemin des Dames and in Champagne. All signs point to the resumption of the active French advance any day this week.

The Austrians continue to harass the Italians with their air squadrons, especially in the Trentino. The bulk of the expeditions are apparently scouting. It looks as if the Austrian general staff, abetted by the German general staff, had not given up the notion of a sudden descent into Italy by way of the Trentino and thru the Brenner Pass. This attack would encounter great difficulty at every turn, and even if the enemy penetrated the Alps and reached the Plain of Lombardy he would run grave risk of an attack by an Anglo-French army advancing from the north. The French have an excellent railway system leading to the Italian frontier and they could make a rapid concentration of force and move a large army southward with celerity. Taken between two fires, the enemy would run grave risks of losing the Brenner Pass to an allied counter-attack and have the way thrown open to Munich from the south.

The Balkan front will not see an important battle for some time yet, for now six to eight feet deep covers the communication. The enemy has captured the new British positions along the Vardar with no success, on one occasion he penetrated the captured position, only to be thrown out by a counter-attack.

The Turkish offensive southeast of Erzingan, near Balumer, in southwestern Armenia, soon spent its force, for the Russian troops speedily recaptured the heights lost to the enemy. Five miles west of Balumer, at Take-Pinar, a fierce battle proceeded with the Turks, but the Russians kept their positions. This outburst of Turkish activity probably owes its prompting to a desire of Von Mackensen, now in command of the Turkish army, to test out the strength of the Russian positions in Armenia before sending an army further east to confront the British in Mesopotamia. Erzingan marks about the farthest western limits of the Russian advance in Armenia towards Asia Minor and Constantinople. It is nowhere near the Persian border.

KITCHENER HONORS PROGRESSIVE SON

T. H. Rieder Banqueted on Eve of Departure for Big Montreal Job.

Special to The Toronto World.

Kitchener, April 25.—At the first meeting of the Kitchener Manufacturers' Association since its organization, T. H. Rieder, recently elected president of the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Co., was banqueted prior to leaving the city to take up his residence in Montreal. At the dinner, 150 members of the association and their friends, including a number of out-of-town guests, attended the banquet in Masonic Hall, which was especially decorated for the occasion. Everything connected with the dinner decorations of the hall and table contained the trade mark of the Kitchener Manufacturers' Association. The dishes, table napkins, cigars, programs and walls, all contained the insignia "K. M. A."

At the head of the hall was a life-size oil painting of Lord Kitchener, painted by a local lady, Mrs. M. Cairns, draped over which was the Canadian standard and on one of the other walls a Jack and on the other the stars and stripes.

Following the dinner which opened with the singing of the "National Anthem," the chairman, S. J. Williams, president of the W. G. & B. Shirt Co., proposed a toast to the Kitchener which was responded to by Rev. C. A. Sykes, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, who has two sons serving in the trenches.

It was a memorable event in Kitchener, the speaker pointed out, in referring to the guest of the evening, that a native of the city before he had reached middle life should be the head of the biggest concern of his kind in the British Empire; the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Co.

Pointing to the painting of Lord Kitchener, the speaker said: "We may thank God that such a name was available to adorn this manufacturing and industrial center. Entrepreneurs should thank Almighty God that the cause for which Britain is at war has come home to the 100,000,000 people in the republic to the south of us."

Referring to Mr. Rieder's endeavors to have the Assessment Act changed to include the taxation of bonds, stocks and mortgages, to lift some of the burden of taxation off the working man, Mr. Williams stated that in Kitchener there is only $248,000 of income assessment and it should be $1,000,000.

There was prolonged cheering when Mr. Rieder arose to speak. He congratulated the "K.M.A." on the program and stated that such a gathering of business men had not been seen in Kitchener before. The speaker told of his rise from a boy in the Berlin Rubber Co. to his present connection with the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Co. He stated that some 20 years ago he had vision of this city becoming the Akron of Canada. There are approximately 2,000 persons in Kitchener engaged in the rubber industry. Mr. Rieder stated, and 20 years ago there were none.

Speaking of the outlook after the war, the speaker stated that to his mind this war would prove the most leveling influence in the history of the world, and he predicted, the struggle would be followed by the greatest industrial competition the world has ever known.

James Acton, of the Acton Publishing Co., Toronto, told of his acquaintance with the guest of the evening and stated that he had known for some years that Mr. Rieder was the coming man in the rubber trade in Canada. In regard to the trade mark of the "K.M.A." Mr. Acton was most enthusiastic and stated that the object of an organization of this kind is to get the city together. He stated that it might be well emulated in other cities to advantage.

R. W. Ashcroft, advertising specialist of the United States Rubber Co., and E. C. Kabel, superintendent of the Consolidated Rubber Co., also spoke. J. M. E. Carruth, of the Consolidated Rubber Co., Montreal, was also a guest.

At the close of his address the chairman presented Mr. Rieder with a huge gilt key, which, he stated, was the key to the hearts of all members of the Kitchener Manufacturers' Association.

New Scale Adopted at Early Morning Meeting in the Labor Temple.

AFFECTS ALL WORKERS

Ald. J. Gibbons Believes Company Will Agree to the Latest Demands.

The Street Railwaysmen's Union held a mass meeting in the Labor Temple, which lasted from one a.m. Sunday morning until 4.15, and which was attended by over one thousand members. The chair was taken by James E. O'Connell, president, and the meeting was called to order by the new agreement which will be submitted to the company this week. The document was a formidable one, and contained twenty-seven sections, which were all finally adopted. The main clause was that asking for an increase in wages of 10 cents per hour all round. At present the rate of wages is: 1st year men, 28 cents per hour; 2nd year men, 28 cents per hour; 3rd year men 30 cents per hour. The new terms asked are for first six months, 36 cents per hour; second six months, 38 cents per hour; and all after 40 cents per hour. Another clause was that all motor men and conductors be recognized as belonging to the union, and another that, according to seniority, the men should be taken into the practice in other cities. A committee consisting of the following was appointed to carry out the negotiations with the company, Messrs. James Scott, president; Ald. W. D. Robbins, secretary; Ald. J. Gibbons, business agent; A. Conn, H. C. Johnstone, and T. Dulan, representing the machinists department.

Speaking to a reporter for "The World," Ald. Gibbons stated no trouble is anticipated, although he added "Should the company refuse to meet us, we shall not take it sitting down."

SACRIFICIAL LIFE NEED OF THE TIME

Baccalaureate Sermon Preached Before Graduates of McMaster University.

WAR PROFITEERS Preacher Declares They Are Greedy and Selfish of Purpose.

"It would be a calamity if we allowed our public men to grow rich on the very blood of our dying soldiers and to thus allow their blood be shed in vain," declared Rev. A. A. Marshall last night in his baccalaureate sermon to the 24 graduates of McMaster University and before a crowded congregation in Walmer Road Baptist Church. Continuing he referred to war-profiteers as greedy, selfish of purpose and unworthy of their citizenship.

The preacher also paid a tribute to the heroes at Vimy Ridge, comparing their valor to the immortal deeds of Louisbourg, Horatio, and the soldiers at Balisavaie. He said that Canada would never lose admiration for those heroic boys.

He urged the graduates to take the sacramental view of life and consecrate their relationship with God. He also told them that the unselfish life is the most desirable and that the questions of character is not courage, but sacrifice. He spoke of the vicariously of civilization and how the spirit of self-gratification predominates the present age, to such an extent that it makes culture weak.

The spirit of sacrifice, he concluded, is the most desirable and the only true course to follow in this great time when genius must serve ignorance and rich poverty.

Chancellor McCremon of McMaster University was present and pronounced the invocation. Professors Gilmore and Farmer also gave prayers.

JOFFRE ASKS U. S. TO SEND FORCES

English version, which he explained, was hurriedly made and imperfect.

As the last word was read and the non-French-speaking correspondents realized the importance of the marshal's remarks there was a burst of applause, then cheers.

A translation of Marshal Joffre's statement issued here the state department was expurgated and did not contain vital passages relating to the marshal's previously known desire for the presence of an American force in France. The translation follows:

Joffre's Message.

"The very cordial welcome given me by the City of Washington, and the expressions of sympathy which reached me from states and cities throughout the United States have moved me deeply, since they are a homage paid to the whole French army, which I represent here.

"The heroism and resolution of the soldiers of France indeed deserve all the affection the United States has shown them. After having in a supreme effort thrown back a barbarous enemy, the French army has untrammelled labored to increase and perfect its efficiency. And now in the third year of the war it is attacking the enemy with greater vigor and material force than ever before.

"Side by side with it and animated by no less heroic spirit stands the British army, whose formation and development will ever remain the admiration of the world. The Germans have realized its growth. Every encounter has made them feel the increasing menace of its strength. The contempt they pretended to feel for it in the early days of the war has gradually become a dread, more openly avowed each day.

Hasten War's End.

"Led by his illustrious president, the United States has entered into this war. By the side of France in the defence of the ideals of mankind the people of America is marked. France, which has long recognized

Derailments on the C. P. R. delayed the train from Winnipeg and the west, which was due in the Union Station at 3.50 yesterday afternoon, until 11 p.m. last night. The Sudbury train was also delayed.

On Saturday afternoon some 19 box cars were derailed near Lovering and are now lying on both sides of the track for a stretch of almost 200 yards. The line was opened yesterday, but it will require two or three days to clear up the wreckage.

The other derailment occurred at Pickering, about 40 miles this side of Sudbury, where some 15 freight cars jumped the track. It is reported that no one was injured in either accident.

WAR SUMMARY

The valor of the American soldier, cherishes the confident hope that the United States will soon unfurl its flag on our fighting line. This is just Germany's dread.

France and America will see with pride and joy the day when their sons are once more fighting shoulder to shoulder in the defence of liberty. The victories which they will certainly win will hasten the end of the war and will tighten the link of affection and esteem which have ever united France and the United States.

Later in the day the correspondents were informed that it was the desire of the French visitors that their interview with Marshal Joffre should not be published until it was submitted to the state department.

Swagger, Serviceable Garments for Walking or Motoring, Priced From $15.00 to $32.50.

THE ENGLISH BURBERRY COATS are known to many men, who prefer them because of their jaunty style, their all-round service, and for the materials, which are treated by special process, making them weather-proof. They are smart-looking coats when the weather is bright, and particularly good when weather is misty or rainy. They make ideal coats for motoring and driving.

The mere announcement that a new shipment has just been received from England should be of interest to many men. The following are some of the prominent lines in the selections:

Burberry raincoats, made from a light-weight covert cloth in a fawn shade, are in single-breasted style, buttoning in fly and closing up to throat with tab across. They have Raglan sleeves, full-fitting back and slash pockets, with buttons. Sizes, 36 to 44. Price, $15.00.

In the same style is a Burberry raincoat in a stone grey gabardine cloth, priced at $16.50.

Another Burberry coat suitable for motoring or street wear is in an English model, with Raglan sleeves, full back with deep vent, fly front buttoning to throat. This coat is in a twill worsted material in a fawn shade and with large check lining. Wind shields in sleeves. Price, $22.50.

Similar in style is a coat in a rich, pliable gabardine cloth in olive shade. This coat is lined throughout with a fine twill mohair and is priced at $27.50.

A smart topcoat in single-breasted, button-through style, with notch shape convertible lapels, has Raglan sleeves, side patch pockets, is half lined with twill mohair and has wind shields in sleeves. This is in a handsome covert cloth in olive shade with indistinct stripe. Price, $32.50.

A topcoat in a soft, woolly heather cloth is in a single-breasted model, with set-in sleeves, full back, notch lapels and slash pockets with buttons. This coat is lined through yoke and sleeves with Burberry twill silk. Wind shields in sleeves. Price, $32.50.

The Hats of Summer—As New York Modistes Have Designed Them

Delightful Affairs in Leghorn, Milan and Tagel, Priced at $7.00 and $10.00.

LEGHORN is again coming into its own, and this season many of the summery hats are in this charming straw. One graceful model has a soft crown of Georgette, the same material being used for the inner facing of the brim. A tiny wreath of flowers is the sole trimming of this picturesque hat. Milans and tagels, too, are considered a fit accompaniment to the pretty summer frock, and the designers have clung to their past fondness for black and white effects. Very smart is a white Milan, which has a soft crown of black velvet, is faced with the same material, and has a huge velvet bow, artistically fashioned, on the front of the hat. A chic little affair of Milan has two lovely white wings attractively arranged in flat effect against the brim and crown. These are but a few of the modish styles in the collection, all extremely smart and moderately priced at $7.00 and $10.00. (See Yonge Street window.)

Labor Fakery and the Income Tax

One of the local evening papers, which represents the downtown real estate men, the capitalists and the big interests in general, but which likes to pose as the only genuine representative of the poor man and the working classes, is exceedingly anxious that no income tax shall be levied to meet the cost of the war. This organ, which is usually represented in the civic government by the most classed capitalist in the city council, is trying to convince the workmen that income tax would be a ruinous burden, and the proper way to pay for the war is to leave it to posterity. Posterity consists chiefly of the working classes and the returned soldiers. It is a fine scheme to ask the soldiers to pay for the war with their lives, their blood and their toll, and after this is all over, ask the survivors to go on paying in cash the cost of it all. Still this paper will pose as the friend of the workman and of the returned soldier, and quite a number will be found to believe it.

Hotels That Pay With No Bars

The question of prohibition in its relation to hotel profits has been given a great deal of attention in Canada, and it would now appear from the evidence gathered by experts, that apart from the temporary profit loss the earnings of the hotels have not seriously been impaired, says The Financial Times of Montreal.

public in the dark not to state the facts. Self-Bitten Germany.
There is an obtuseness about the German mind that is positively ridiculous. The results are not so tragic. The recent declaration that the German Government would institute reprisals if German wounded prisoners were placed on hospital ships and submitted to torpedo risks is an example of this absence of logic and general mental density. The result, undoubtedly, of overweening conceit and egotism. The egotist never has the gift of humor, and the German is a serious and obstinate criminal who cannot conceive it possible that he could make a mistake.

RAILWAY CONTROL MUST BE BRITISH

Ottawa, April 28.—The special committee of the house which is considering the consolidation and revision of the Railway Act discussed today the important question of the control of Canadian railways by aliens, particularly in war time. It was finally decided to appoint a sub-committee, consisting of R. B. Bennett and F. B. Carvell, to co-operate with Strachan Johnston, K.C., who is assisting in the revision of the act, and E. E. Fairweather, the law clerk of the railway department, to draft protective clauses.

HOTELS THAT PAY WITH NO BARS

The manager of a first-class hotel in Winnipeg expressed an answer to this question. How is prohibition affecting hotels? "We naturally lose the liquor receipts, and the profits from the sale of liquor, but we are trying to adjust ourselves to meet the new conditions, and we are glad to say that the volume of business is now about equal to what it was under the old condition, even in face of the loss of the bar. This is effected by an increase in our rates and possibly more 'travel' coming to the City of Winnipeg, together with a substantial increase in the amount of local business.

IRON IN UNGAVA

Editor World.—Geological reports show that in Ungava, the new Quebec territory, there are iron ore deposits as large, if not larger than any in America. Then, why not government development of some of this area, with government shipping yards on the shores of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, say Morie Bay or thereabouts, and a railway from there to the iron ore district, another railway from the deposits to a government-owned shipbuilding yard at Hamilton Inlet? Here it would be necessary for Canada to obtain a lease of ground from the Newfoundland Government, as I believe Hamilton Inlet belongs to them. This district is as rich in iron ore as reported, it will help a great deal in the building up of Canada. It would be of immense value to the whole of Canada if the government railways would agree to give free transportation

CENSORSHIP AND THE SUBMARINES

Possibly the best result of the American conference is the greater publicity which will be attained concerning many phases of the war. The submarine problem, for example, under the strict censorship, turns out to be much more serious than has been thought, the returns of losses only applying to British tonnage. Neutral tonnage losses is as much as five to two (not five to one, as a typographical error made us say on Saturday), and this equals the half million ton a month which the Germans set out to get. There is a great virtue in publicity, especially as regards knowing the worst. United States methods are averse from the secrecy which has dominated the British censorship in what is often a silly and mischievous manner.

NONE TO OPPOSE SIR SAM HUGHES

Rousing Welcome at Convention in Lindsay to Former Minister. MADE LENGTHY SPEECH

Speaker Recalls Happenings of Past Few Years and Part in the War.

Special to The Toronto World.
Lindsay, April 28.—That Gen. Sir Sam Hughes is still the idol of the Conservatives of Victoria and Haliburton was demonstrated this morning, when he was given a rousing welcome at the convention held to elect a candidate for the Dominion parliament in election officers followed by the selection of a candidate was merely routine work, these being no semblance of opposition to Sir Sam, who has represented the riding for a quarter of a century.

In the course of his address this afternoon Sir Sam said in part: "What year by year, from 1911 to 1914, I was quietly but surely and firmly getting the Canadians prepared for the war, which anyone who carefully studied the conditions could foresee, the Conservative members stood firmly and loyally, and although the increase was large they trusted my judgment. They were always appreciated and never betrayed this trust and confidence. It appears again in some quarters regarding the attitude I would take in my remarks on the address. My comrades of the Conservative party, however, again paid me the highest of compliments in implicitly trusting me. Although I had not informed the members in the session of 1914-15 or in that of 1915-16 of the cause of the trouble, and thus not having given them an opportunity of taking action to compel proper consideration on the part of some of my colleagues, yet with scarcely an exception the members realized that nothing would be said by me to injure a brother member of his constituency, or to harm the party as such in the country.

and Italy. The fish industry is my friend. The Shell Committee. Sir Sam then dealt exhaustively with the work of the shell committee. "Early in the war the proposal was made that, as a matter of course, I should pursue the policy of the South African war, and have all the money for these orders placed to my personal credit and paid out on my personal cheque. This I pointedly refused to allow, but arranged that the credit should pass to the shell committee and be cashed by General Bertram. I had appointed an auditor, and from the outset took the precaution to have accounts audited by the bank officials.

The shell committee gave place to the Imperial Munitions Board. J. W. Flavelle has long been the president of the National Trust Company. The finance minister was for years the general manager of that company. Mr. Flavelle, certainly a capable financier, became head of the new Imperial Munitions Board. In March 1916, attacks were renewed upon the old shell committee. These attacks or conspiracies upon the shell committee and myself are classified under a series of military Political ambition seems next to have been aroused, and while I was being my best energies looking after our soldiers and the successful prosecution of the war, hoping for the end thereof that I might retire to private life, agitations towards my downfall were planned.

Perley had always been active seeking to create an unhealthy atmosphere against me in England. Both he and the finance minister seemed to have had certain newspaper influence. The Canadian Press Association covers up the names of those who are reported, as is generally regarded as his Toronto organ, viciously attacked me, while two Montreal papers were instigated in their adverse criticism.

Another plan seems to have been the sweetening of the newspapers of Canada by separate articles in the principles of the national policy to secure printing paper at fixed prices, and incidentally benefit to a considerable extent the Canadian banks. The next move was the furnishing to the Liberal party the material to bring about the attack, which resulted in the dismissal of an excellent minister, Mr. Meredith and Duff. Not one solitary improper act on the part of anyone concerned was found.

Previous to my calling for Europe last spring, 1916, I had heard rumors that there was going to be an attack made on the militia department. After consulting with the premier and which I should not call, that an attempt was being made to get rid of my job. I was urged to cancel my trip. The gentleman assured me it was not torpedoes at sea, but conventions on the part of some of my own colleagues in the cabinet who seek to get rid of the prime minister, but who realize that you are behind him they must first get rid of you.

The next step appears after the failure of the judicial committee became troubled less things must be done wrong with finances in England in connection with the Canadian soldier. It never occurred to these gentlemen that if there was anything wrong financially, a finance minister in England was much more necessary than a new minister of militia. I also knew that the business end of the medical service was badly in need of reorganization. This I proceeded to tackle in 1916. It has been greatly improved, but stands in need of reorganization. The last of the war of the finance department must be appointed. Bunny Hearne Was Steadier and Secured Victory Over Bill McTigue.

Providence, April 29.—Larry Lajoie, playing before about 2000 fans today at Rocky Point, had the satisfaction of winning his first International League game on this side, his Toronto team handing a 3-to-2 defeat to the Grays in the opening game of the series. The big Frenchman was given a fine reception, and while he did nothing of note with the bat, showed by his smooth fielding on the few chances he had one of the reasons for his standing in the affections of the fans.

Washington made six runs on Foster's error, and the sixth, when Foster doubled and scored on Milan's single.

The Tecumseh's have never been in favor of a single schedule with the other clubs of the league and being obliged to wear away on the percentage basis. This the N. L. You Cannot Value This Milk at Pints for a Dollar

More enters into a dollar's worth of The Farmers' Dairy milk than in ordinary milk. The purchasing power of your dollar does not stop at eighteen pints of milk. It goes much further.

Your dollar buys you eighteen pints of milk that's better than ordinary milk. Milk that is richer in cream, that is pure, is fresher.

With a dollar's worth of The Farmers' Dairy milk goes the assurance of safety and quality. For this milk comes from the healthiest cows on Ontario's finest farms. It passes through a big, modern, sunshine-flooded dairy. A dairy fully equipped with every piece of machinery necessary to the production of better milk.

The dollar spent with The Farmers' Dairy gives you also an ultra-satisfactory delivery. Satisfactory from the point of efficiency—cleanliness, punctuality. From the point of courtesy.

Are you getting all this for your dollar—getting something more than merely eighteen pints of milk? Order your milk from The Farmers' Dairy and increase your dollar's buying power.
