THE FLAG-FLAPPERS.

The Tories of Canada are trying to divert attention from the shameful revelations which are daily being made in Ottawa of the willingness of middlemen and contractors to enrich themselves by the sale of war supplies, instead of manifesting their patriotism at a time when so many men are willing to offer their lives for their country.

More shameful still is the fact that the Tories are endeavoring to divert attention from their own rascality by defaming Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who is the foremost Canadian statesman of his time.

In the house of commons yesterday Sir Wilfrid directed attention to a pamphlet entitled "Laurier and Quebec" sent out by the government publicity bureau, and charging him with failure to call upon the French-Canadians in Quebec to enlist for the war.

The proper course for Sir Robert Borden to have pursued when Sir Wilfrid directed his attention to this matter in the house would have been to pay a tribute to the man who sent Canadian troops to South Africa, who gave the British preference, and who since the present war began has not only urged his compatriots to enlist, but as leader of the opposition has assented heartily to all the war measures of the government.

A FLAG ELECTION. The prediction that the present year would witness the meanest and most contemptible political campaign ever waged in Canada seems likely to be fulfilled.

AN UNHAPPY FAMILY. All is not peace and harmony in provincial government circles in New Brunswick. Ex-Premier Flemming does not appear to have forgiven Premier Clarke, although the latter certainly did not show any disposition to be harsh with Mr. Flemming when the Dugal inquiry was in progress.

The Allies are concentrating a land force to co-operate with the fleet in forcing the Dardanelles. That way lies success.

The objectionable feature of the bill from St. John giving valuations the power to summon any citizen before them to give a full and complete schedule of his real and personal property and income was struck out by the municipal committee at Fredericton last evening.

aliens and not Canadian citizens and have no right to express an opinion as to the course to be run. Having thus put words into Sir Wilfrid's mouth which he did not utter, the slander goes on to say that "it was the most astounding declaration of an astoundingly anti-British career."

Editorially The Standard is quite as venomous as its Ottawa correspondent, and makes a hysterical appeal to "the fathers and brothers and friends of the Canadian soldiers." It charges Sir Wilfrid with saying in effect that the soldiers are good enough to fight and die for Canada, but not good enough to vote for her; and it concludes with this sentence:

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier, by his latest insult to Canada and Canadians, has proven himself not only a disgrace to the Liberal party but a discredit to the race that gave him parentage."

Every province in Canada today torments stands exposed, and the Liberals do not fear the issue. A government which would throw this country into the turmoil of a political campaign as bitter as that must be which is waged in the spirit of the Tory speeches in parliament yesterday, and the utterances of the St. John Standard this morning, deserves nothing but utter condemnation.

Ever since the war began the Liberals have heartily supported the government's war measures, and refrained from criticizing anything but its domestic policy. Apparently they are to be rewarded by having their loyalty impugned, and by being made the targets of abuse and slander.

The climax of Tory rage and folly, however, is reached by the St. John Standard, in a venomous and utterly shameful attack upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The Ottawa correspondent of The Standard declares that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is "the real arch enemy of British connection with Canada," that he wishes to disfranchise the soldiers, and that "he has not forgotten nor forgiven the Canadian soldiers for taking part in the South African war."

"Deep down in his anti-British heart he dislikes the idea of Canada taking part in the wars of Empire. Rather would he sit aside and let the rest of the Empire do all the defending of this country, and to revenge himself upon the brave men who have gone with sword in hand to strike a blow for liberty and freedom, he will use every means in his power to prevent them taking part in the affairs of the Dominion; they have temporarily left behind them. They have gone," he says in effect, "let them go, they are not of us."

WAR TIME ELECTION

Borden Shows Intent in a Wave-the-Flag Speech

THE SOLDIERS' VOTE

Bill Discussed—Sir Wilfrid Laurier Favors Proposal But Points Out Important Considerations Left Out of the Measure

Ottawa, April 8.—Parliament has been served with its first formal notice of the intention of the Borden administration to pull off a "war time" election. The Frigg bill to provide for the taking and counting of the votes of the Canadian soldiers at the front has been made a government measure. It was presented to the house by the minister of justice for second reading. The minister invited suggestion and criticism, confessing frankly that in such radical legislation it was apparently impossible to provide the ordinary safeguards surrounding an election. Hon. Mr. Doherty asked that the measure be considered on its merits apart from partisan considerations.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier met him upon that ground. The Liberal leader presented practically the only serious expression of conviction on the measure submitted to the house. He expressed himself as favoring the proposal to permit all electors of Canada serving the empire to exercise their franchise, providing a scheme could be worked out after consultation and approval of Lord Kitchener and the British war office, whereby the sacredness of the ballot could be assured, the paramount duty of the soldier not in any way interfered with, the responsibility of the officers entrusted with taking the ballot made definite, and the machinery for polling and recording votes subjected to the spirit and letter of the Canadian law. These important considerations Sir Wilfrid maintained were lacking in the measure as submitted.

Whereupon amidst the tumultuous and repeated cheering of his followers, Premier Borden waded into a fervid pre-election stump speech, punctuated with partisan recriminations. The presentation of the bill as a government measure was accepted by the house as a formal sentiment intervenes Canada is to be shrouded in the throes of a bitter partisan general election in the midst of the great tragedy of war.

Beyond the brief criticism of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the occasional speech of Dr. Michael Clark, the plain spoken Ristlerer from Red Deer, the house lazily gave itself up to this aspect of the case. Truth to tell, the measure is not taken seriously on its face. It is more or less frankly regarded by the members as a piece of political play on the part of the government made merely for such political advantages as it is believed it will produce. This was manifest in the discussion which pervaded Hon. Mr. Doherty's introduction of the measure. It was proposed to allow all soldiers at the front to make an affidavit as to their home address to be put in an envelope, on the back of which there will be a certificate by the military officer who takes the affidavit and the vote. These envelopes will be forwarded to the secretary of the high commissioner in London, and thence by him to the clerk of the crown in chancery, whose duty it will be in turn to distribute them to the deputy returning officers to be opened in the presence of the candidates.

In response to other questions, Mr. Doherty frankly admitted that it would be impossible to surround the votes of soldiers taken in this way with the customary safeguards. Trust would have to be placed in the officers.

Mr. McCall wanted to know whether wounded soldiers in hospitals would likewise be permitted to poll their votes. "Why not?" observed Hon. Dr. Pugsley, amid the recurring laughter with which questions and answers had been greeted. "The government could send the ballots to the nurses and make them returning officers too."

Why was it, asked the Red Deer man, that the government went to the United States, New Zealand and other countries for precedents, but never to Britain herself. Conservatives claimed to be met with their approval. (Liberal cheers.) The first thing the government should have done, Dr. Clark declared, was go to Kitchener. There was in his opinion little use passing the measure at all, for he believed the war office would over-ride it. Once men were gathered under arms for the grim purpose of war they were regarded as men set apart. The British Army had been kept from interference in politics. The petty politician, who put anything in the way of the soldier in his supreme duty of saving the country, was guilty of serious offence.

Dr. Clark maintained that the only work soldiers at the front think of or care for is the work they have in hand. "I know it," he added, "because I have the best of reasons for knowing it."

The reference to his son who distinguished himself in the memorable charge of the Princess Patricia's was greeted with cheering. Look to Kitchener, was Dr. Clark's counsel. In his first speech in the House of Lords the British secretary for war had made it clear that he had but one purpose. He used the pregnant sentence: "As a soldier I have no politics."

There was another idea behind the last minute presentation of this bill. It was not the holding of a general election in Canada and the Empire and the fight for the greatest of objects, for which war was ever waged, the government had enough on its hands without concurring at an election. The moderate man in Canada would not look on this bill with favor. He did not desire comparisons, but the government of Britain would not desire of bringing on an election at such a time.

The soldiers in the trenches were not thinking about an election in Canada. He had a letter the other day which stated that the Canadian soldiers were not feeling physically as strong as when they first went into the trenches. They had seen such sights as to make them wonder whether there was such a thing as Christianity. Now it was proposed by the government to go to these men and say: "Some of our friends did not take too good care to give you sound boots, but will give you votes."

The debate was continued until midnight by Messrs. MacDonnell, Nickle, German, Kay, Loggie, Bennett (Simco), MacDonnell and H. H. McLean. The last named was the only member speaking from the Liberal side who favored the bill, although he reserved judgment on details, until the committee stage. The bill passed its second reading without division, to be further dealt with in committee.

THE NEW PULP MILL

The Northern Light, of Bathurst, says that the stones for the collar gangs of the new pulp mill are being quarried in Germany and will be brought via Holland to England and thence to New Brunswick. The stones cannot be got in any other part of the world, and in being quarried with the consent of the German government, the work being done by women, as all the men were engaged in the war. The pulp mill plant covers over seven acres of ground, and will be set in operation early in the summer. It will produce daily twenty-five tons of bleached mitscherlich sulphite pulp and sixty tons of extra strong container board.

HIS LEG CUT OFF
 At Macoon, eight miles east of Amherst, yesterday, Fred Purdy, twelve years of age, fell beneath the wheels of a freight train, and had one leg cut off, and sustained other injuries of such a nature that his recovery is not expected. He was playing about the freight train, which was shunting in Maccan yard.

RUSSIA LAYS MINES ON GERMAN COAST

German Minefield Breaks Adrift and Cuts Off German Fleet—Five Vessels Sunk

Stockholm, via London, April 8.—The Dagblad states that it learns from the Swedish naval authorities that Russian ships have laid a large number of mines along the Baltic coast of Germany from Rugen Island to Barnholm Island. It is said that the Swedish naval officials have stationed torpedo boats in the Baltic to warn shipping of the mines.

Ferry traffic between Trelleborg and Storms has been discontinued on account of floating mines, which have destroyed five German vessels in the past ten days.

Cut Off From Base

London, April 8.—The German Baltic fleet has been cut off from its base by its own mine field, which broke adrift in a storm, according to a Copenhagen despatch to The Mail. A large number of mines have floated into neutral waters.

The German fleet, returning after a Russian expedition, found the mines dangerously thick and decided to retire between the islands of Gotland and Oland until the sweepers could clear a passage.

YOUNG MEN'S FASHIONS

Some of the New Styles Favored by Younger Men

In the Semi-ready Special and also in the Fashion Portfolio there is shown the photograph of Style 500, which will be very popular with young men. It is pictured in a neat check, but the design is reproduced in many other patterns.

The coat is made in different lengths to suit every height. The body is shapely, with shoulders and sleeves of medium width and the general effect is pleasing and attractive. The notches of collar and lapel are angular, and the front is made with soft roll and slight cutaway. The vest buttons high and shows one button when the coat is buttoned up. The trousers for this season for an average man have a 16-inch knee and 16-inch bottom, are of medium width over the hip and, when so desired, the turn-up should be 2½ inches.

"The Marlin" is a smart three-button sack suit, slightly form-fitting, with lapels liberal in width and collar and lapel notch square or slightly rounded. The pockets are all patched, and the front closes with three buttons and is moderately cut away.

"The Savoy" is a double-breasted type which will make a fine navy blue outfit suit, with white serge trousers for the afternoon or evening at the lake or seaside.

All these and other new styles may be seen at the Semi-ready Store, 54 King Street.

USE "NERVILINE"—IT WON'T FAIL

The Miraculous Healing Power of This Liniment is Unfailing RUB ON NERVILINE

There may be a thousand pains; yet, excepting sciatica, neuralgia is the worst. Most remedies are not strong enough or penetrating enough to relieve neuralgia. You know everything you have tried has failed to give even momentary relief, and you have decided that neuralgia must be borne forever. Do not make this mistake—try NERVILINE. Apply it to the sore spot. Notice the glow that spreads deeper and wider as Nerviline's curative power is carried further and further into the tissue. How quickly the pain is soothed! How rapidly it lessens! In a little while you have forgotten the pain—it has actually gone.

Neuralgia gives Nerviline an opportunity of demonstrating its superiority over all other pain remedies. Not magic, as you might imagine after you have used it—simply the application of scientific knowledge to the relief of pain. Nerviline is a great outcome of modern medical ideas. You cannot afford to be without it, because pain comes quickly and comes to us all. Guaranteed to cure the aches and pains of the whole family. Large bottles, 50 cents; trial size, 25 cents; at druggists, or The Cathartico-Che Co., Kingston, Canada.

Sad News Comes From Cumberland Point to Mrs. W. F. Roberts

A telephone message received by Mrs. W. F. Roberts, North End, announces the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Arch Rees of Cumberland Point, Queen's county on Thursday the 8th inst. Mrs. Rees had been in poor health for several months and was eighty-five years of age. She leaves to mourn two daughters, Mrs. Robert Granville of St. John and Mrs. H. She was a daughter of the late Deacon Butler of Lower Newcastles and one brother James Butler survives her. The Sheriff W. S. Butler, who represented Queens in the N. B. Legislature for several years also was a brother. Besides these there are eight grand children and three great grand children, the latter being the children of Dr. W. F. Roberts of this city. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon from the home of her son, James H. Rees, and interment will be in the family lot, Cumberland Point. RECOMMEND BOTH CEMETERY BILLS

New Graveyard on Westmorland Road; Extension of Cedar Hill—Other St. John Legislation

Fredericton, April 9.—Corporation committee this morning re-opened consideration of the Pine Valley cemetery bill, so that some new opponents might be heard. Mr. Amdur, representing owners of real estate near the proposed site, and W. S. Fisher, on behalf of owners of another subdivision, were heard in opposition to the bill. The promoters then called G. Murdoch as an expert engineer to show that there would be no drainage from the cemetery on other property, and R. Hanson, on behalf of the promoters, replied to the opponents of the bill.

The committee next took up the bill to enlarge the boundaries of Cedar Hill, St. John. This was supported by Mr. Tiley of St. John, among others, and while those for and against were being heard, Mr. Carter of Victoria acted as chairman of the committee. F. R. Taylor, K. C., on behalf of the St. John Railway Company and Dr. G. Melvin and Col. J. R. Armstrong of the Board of Health of St. John, also appeared in opposition to the bill. A. J. Gregory, president of the company, gave information as to the number of lots sold and the number remaining available, and J. A. Barry, solicitor for the company, addressed the committee in favor of the bill and also requested an amendment to take in another block of land, making a total of nineteen acres to be added to the cemetery.

In committee in private session it was decided to recommend both bills, with amendments suggested by the promoters. The municipalities committee considered the St. John bill to tax fire underwriters agencies. F. R. Taylor, Harry Robinson and Harry Frink appeared in opposition to the bill. J. M. Queen was called and asked to give his opinion, and he explained that separate policies were issued by underwriters agencies. The committee decided to recommend the bill.

The municipalities committee in private session last evening dealt with the county valuation bill, striking out the clause providing for the summary conviction of a property owner who did not file a statement when ordered to do so, and confirming the assessment if it is completed. The board was given until October 1 to finish its work. Regarding the petition for a plebiscite, it is rumored that the bill may reach the legislature from the committee, and there must be a meeting of the members of the committee to give the commission form a longer trial. It is reported that the Potts' transaction amendment will not pass, but that the common council will be given the months to appoint an assessment commission.

WM. CAMPBELL KICKED BY BRONCHO; SERIOUSLY HURT; IS ST. JOHN MAN

Former Times Reporter in Montana Hospital With Hemorrhage of Brain—Mother Goes to Him

G. Willford Campbell, who has received a telegram from Montana stating that his son, William, who has been in the ranching business, had been kicked on the head by a broncho which he was breaking in, the injury causing hemorrhage of the brain and also breaking his jaw. He is receiving every care in the hospital, and his mother has gone to be with him and will arrive there on Monday.

All his old friends in St. John will hope for his speedy recovery.

Mr. Campbell went west in 1907. Before leaving St. John he was a member of the Times staff, and proved himself very clever and moving young newspaper man. Going to Winnipeg he was very successful in the same line of work for a time, but moved on to Montana and for several years has been engaged in horse ranching.

The stork recently visited the home of Corporal E. W. Stringer, 66th New Brunswick Battalion and deposited a shabby baby girl. Then arose the perplexing problem of nomenclature. This enigma was soon obviated by naming it Olive, Helen, Millicent Stringer. The little lady being born whilst daddy was "On His Majesty's service." The initials of the phrase are baby's.

POSTMAN FINDS BODY OF BABE

This morning when Frank Gagey, a postman, was walking through an alley off Main street he noticed a bundle on the ground and upon examining it found that it contained the body of an infant. He summoned Policeman Briggs and in turn summoned Coroner W. F. Roberts. The body of the baby was placed in Fitzpatrick's blacksmith shop to await orders of the coroner. The child was wrapped up in canvas and the latter was covered with paper. It is thought the baby was placed there sometime during the night or during the early hours of the morning.
