APPEAL MADE BY JOHN E. REDMOND

Irish Leader and Anti-Home Rule Campaign

Discovery in the River Wye in England is Reported, "Possibly Hiding Place of Bacon's Key to Shakespeare"—Sir Henry Ward to New York?

(Canadian Press) The ten, April 25—In a cable message to John O'Callaghan, of this city, national secretary of the United Irish League of America received yesterday, John Redmond, the Irish leader, tells of the plans of the anti-home rule campaign and calls upon the Irishmen of America to aid in a counter-campaign with their "American dollars."

In response to the message, National President M. J. Ryan, of Philadelphia, has sent out a call to all of the branches of the league, urging them to do their utmost for the cause of home rule in Ireland. The message from Mr. Redmond, reads as follows: London Press announces today $100,000 subscribed to pay expenses of the anti-home rule campaign which commences May 1, for speakers opposing home rule. The anti-home rule campaign is on over Great Britain. Our counter campaign must start instantly. We rely on prompt assistance from America. Our prospects are magnificent."

London, April 25—According to the Daily Express, a startling development has taken place in the search for the supposed Bacon-Shakespeare secret which the Duke of Beaufort and Dr. Orville W. Owen of Detroit are conducting in the bed of the river Wye at Chepstow. This startling development is the discovery, 80 yards from the scene of the excavations, of a cache which may possibly be the key to the mystery of the Shakespeare plays. The Duke of Beaufort's agent, H. Pierce Gordon, says that the spot at which the cache was found was indicated with astounding clearness in a series of New York papers which the explorers have obtained. These readings, it is stated, are of an extraordinary character, but Dr. Owen is reluctant to publish them until he has made a further examination of the cache.

Sir Henry's first work as a conductor was with the Rousby Opera Company in 1898. Ten years later he founded the Nottingham City Orchestra and in the same year conducted the London musical festival. He was continuously engaged in concert work up to 1907 when he conducted the Birmingham symphony concert.

NO SUCH PROMISE, SAYS CARNEGIE

Iron Master Not Backing Trust Company To End BEFORE GRAND JURY

Today's Developments in The Dynamite Conspiracy Case

WOMAN APPEARS Mrs. Ingersoll of San Francisco to be Asked to Identify McNamara as 'Bryce'—McMonigal Laughs as he Speaks of Dynamiting

(Canadian Press) New York, April 25—Andrew Carnegie testified yesterday before the grand jury as to his relations with the now defunct Carnegie Trust Company, which adopted his name as its title, but with which he has no connection aside from financial assistance rendered when the institution found itself in difficulties and appealed to him for aid.

In the collapse of the institution, it is said that vast sums of money which Mr. Carnegie loaned it have been tied up and he believed that during the hour and ten minutes in which he was before the grand jury late yesterday afternoon, he related some details of these loans and was asked to what extent he had promised further aid.

He was questioned in connection with the printed, but unconfirmed statements that state banking department officials had testified to close the trust company when they first learned of the impairment of its capital, because of an understanding that Mr. Carnegie would see the institution safely through, as a matter of personal sentiment. It is understood that Mr. Carnegie's testimony was in contradiction of the rumor that he had made any such promise.

Witness for Joseph G. Robin, who stands self convicted of grand larceny which started the failure of the string of banks, including the Carnegie Trust Company, was in consultation with District Attorney Whitman today arguing in favor of clemency for Robin who is to appear for sentence next Thursday. Robin's counsel said that if his client were allowed his freedom on a suspended sentence he believed he would rehabilitate several of the banks which he had helped to wreck, and thereby save the money of depositors.

New York, April 25—(Canadian Press)—Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion of the world, and One Round Hogan, the sensational Californian, will come together here tonight in a ten-round bout which may possibly result in the championship changing hands.

The bout is of more than ordinary interest to boxing fans. His opponent is a slight favorite with odds quoted at 5 to 4.

There was a flash of flame and a cry of terror, and the children began to jam into the aisle.

A man jumped forward and wrapped his coat about the blazing garments of the child. The danger was over in a moment, but the children could not be checked in their flight, and the parents, who had been seated in the side pews, fearing for the safety of their little ones, joined the excited crowd.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

IN HIS OWN DEFENCE

By Benjamin F. Butler

(From a speech in personal vindication of his administration at New Orleans during the civil war, the U. S. House of Representatives, April 23, 1871.)

To all the frittering charges of taking small amounts of money and property from rebels in Louisiana I make one for all in answer: I claim to have captured and leveled assessments there of nearly three millions of dollars. I charged myself with that amount upon the books of my department, and reported the same to the proper officers. My accounts have been for nine years open to inspection, are now open, and I challenge investigation, as I ever have done. All those who had caused the wrong could bear the burden. I sent to the treasury of the United States nearly half a million dollars. I cared for many thousands of enlisted four regiments of white and colored soldiers, and I had no general light draft steamers to penetrate the bayous and rivers to clear out guerrillas. All that took me one cent from the tax-raised money of the loyal north.

I received for such administration the high commendation of my superiors and the plaudits of my countrymen and I leave the facts of history, when the hour comes that calumny cannot serve party purposes, as my best defence. For what I did in New Orleans, or elsewhere, commander of the U. S. troops, I have neither apology, retraction, nor explanation to make, save that I wish that I despotic military power with which I was intrusted, and which I exercised, I would at my own confidence and moderation. Let me assure my detractors if, as before, I am ever forced into the same position, so much more, the "little finger of Rehoboth" will be heavier than the whole hand of Solomon.

KING'S MESSAGE TO BIBLE TERCENTENARY

NEW YORK MEETING

New York, April 25—King George V of Great Britain, sent a special message to the tercentenary Bible celebration in Carnegie Hall tonight. It was dated "Buckingham Palace," and was read by the British ambassador, James Bryce. The king said:

"I rejoice that America and England should join in commemorating the publication, 300 years ago, of that version of the Holy Scriptures which has so long held its own among English-speaking peoples.

"The circulation in our homes has done more, perhaps, than anything else on earth to promote, among old and young, the moral and religious welfare on either side of the Atlantic.

"The version which bears King James' name, is so clearly interwoven in the history of British and American life that it is right we should thank God for it together.

"I congratulate the president and people of the United States upon their share in this, our common heritage."

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"REMEMBER that when you are right you can afford to keep your temper, and when you are wrong you can't afford to lose it."

"Although she had more than the ordinary woman's provocation to scold, he said to her sternly that she never raised her voice."

"I know a woman who ought to have that for an epithet."

"And I think it would be an epithet to be proud of."

"This woman has a very nervous and quick tempered husband in her household, and yet, according to the testimony of all who have visited her, never in the course of her dealings with any of them has she been known to raise her voice to disagreeable heights.

"Nor does this mean that this woman is the weak, inefficient sort of person who simply lies down and lets everybody trample upon her.

"On the contrary, her children almost always mind her first time she speaks; the two dogs, one of whom is a setter pup—and if anybody knows anything on earth more thoroughly obsequious and habitually impervious to control than that, let him inform me; I don't—they her as they obey no one else, and the nervous husband is more quickly calmed and rationalized by her voice than by any other influence.

"When the pet is simply this: When the average person gets angry or excited or disturbed, or wants to emphasize something or to demand immediate obedience, he usually raises his voice and in so doing suppresses every right that he has, level tones. The result is that one gets a sense of force from her low spoken words far beyond the impression that any shouting could give.

"A man who would make a dog mind without raising his voice—

"These are two people who almost always command respect from the impression of their own self-control."

"I'm not so sure but that this would be a good test for a woman to apply to find out if she has a man or only a dress suit for a lover."

"Obeyance by the dog would be the dog would control, or win instant obedience by a low spoken word."

"Is he a steam whistle or a steam engine?"

COMPELLED TO WORK FOR ONE CENT AN HOUR

(Sackville Tribune).

A number of young men from the upper part of the parish appeared before George A. Fawcett, Justice of the Peace, of Middle Sackville, recently upon information laid against them by the road officials for refusal to do winter road breaking in their district. The magistrate was very reluctant to fine the men as the feeling is very strong against the law which compels an able bodied man to work for one cent an hour.

BAKED SUICIDE TO FOUL HER HUSBAND

North Adams, Mass., April 26—The death of Miss Olivia F. Maxwell in New York after she confessed to the deed had been trying to deceive her husband by false stories of her suicide, was brought about by the husband, Gilbert F. Maxwell, who was a graduate of the law school of this city. Mrs. Maxwell, in the belief of her husband and friends, is mentally deranged. Her husband had two children, a boy of 9 and a girl of 11, both of whom are with the father in New York.

About a year ago Mrs. Maxwell instituted divorce proceedings against her husband, and she was granted a decree nisi. When the case was about to come up in court, Mrs. Maxwell sent a letter to her attorney asking them to drop the proceedings and at the same time she sent a communication to the local lodge of Masons, asking that her husband, who had been suspended from the lodge when the divorce case was instituted, be reinstated in good standing.

Some three weeks ago a bundle of clothes was left by Mrs. Maxwell in a state room on one of the Fall River line steamers and at the same time Mr. Maxwell said that she was going to commit suicide. An investigation showed that she had not killed herself.

Believing the woman should be taken care of, Mr. Maxwell traced her to Troy, N. Y., and then to Boston, where she was where she was arrested and taken to Bellevue hospital for investigation as to her sanity.

BAKED SUICIDE TO FOUL HER HUSBAND

North Adams, Mass., April 26—The death of Miss Olivia F. Maxwell in New York after she confessed to the deed had been trying to deceive her husband by false stories of her suicide, was brought about by the husband, Gilbert F. Maxwell, who was a graduate of the law school of this city. Mrs. Maxwell, in the belief of her husband and friends, is mentally deranged. Her husband had two children, a boy of 9 and a girl of 11, both of whom are with the father in New York.

About a year ago Mrs. Maxwell instituted divorce proceedings against her husband, and she was granted a decree nisi. When the case was about to come up in court, Mrs. Maxwell sent a letter to her attorney asking them to drop the proceedings and at the same time she sent a communication to the local lodge of Masons, asking that her husband, who had been suspended from the lodge when the divorce case was instituted, be reinstated in good standing.

Some three weeks ago a bundle of clothes was left by Mrs. Maxwell in a state room on one of the Fall River line steamers and at the same time Mr. Maxwell said that she was going to commit suicide. An investigation showed that she had not killed herself.

Believing the woman should be taken care of, Mr. Maxwell traced her to Troy, N. Y., and then to Boston, where she was where she was arrested and taken to Bellevue hospital for investigation as to her sanity.

It's really a pitiful sight when women go about with faded, lifeless, ill-looking hair. Women ought to make themselves as attractive as possible, for with Parisian Sage fascinating hair is so easy to get.

If your hair isn't as full of life and luster as it should be; if it is turning grey or falling out use Parisian Sage and you will be joyfully surprised in a week.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed by A. Shipman Smith, also sold and guaranteed in Fairville by Allen's Fairville Drug Co. and druggists everywhere. Beware of cheap imitations. Parisian Sage is the only hair grower that will cure hair loss, and it will grow abundantly. It is sold in Mail orders, filled, in bottles, prepared, by Messrs. Manufacturing Co., Fort Erie, Ont.

The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

LUMBERMEN TO OTTAWA

All prepared for a vigorous fight for the repeal of the objectionable clause of the Canadian Water Carriers' Act, relieving all shippers of responsibility in the case of loss or damage to a lumber cargo, a delegation left for Ottawa last evening. When the last delegation was at Ottawa, Wednesday, April 26, was fixed as the date of the second meeting, but owing to pressure of other business before the house, the date was changed from Wednesday until Thursday. Those going from St. John were J. H. Taylor and Hugh Mackay. Mrs. Gregory accompanied her husband.

It was also expected that W. B. Snowball, Hon. J. P. Burchill, F. E. Neale and James Robinson, of Miramichi, and J. Nelson Smith, of Albert county, would go to Ottawa, as members of the delegation. The delegates will be supported by largely signed petitions from lumber shipping districts of Nova Scotia.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

You feel pain in the back, find that urine heavy and unduly colored, have indigestion and irregularity of the bowels, and there may be rheumatic twinges. You wonder what has gone wrong with you, and you are sure that you are being exposed to sudden changes of temperature, possibly sitting in a draft, or passing from a very warm room to be suddenly the outdoor air.

The kidneys are most susceptible to cold, and a sudden change of temperature throws an extra burden on them, clogging the pores of the skin, which are ordinarily open, and the result is the removal of poisons from the blood.

The danger lies in not understanding the meaning of the symptoms, as in the first paragraph. Once you know that the kidneys need assistance you can help them promptly by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Every day you put off treatment you are taking the risk of developing chronic disease, dropsy or rheumatism. Because of the insidiousity of the falling kidneys your system is being loaded with poisonous impurities, and that means pain and suffering.

Get Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills today. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

NOTED SCIENTIST IS SEEKING A DIVORCE

Philadelphia, April 26—Prof. Austin J. O'Malley, noted as a scholar and scientist throughout the world, and for years head of the department of England at Notre Dame university, has applied for a divorce from his beautiful young wife.

Dr. O'Malley declares she robbed his brother of jewels and at one time attempted to elope with the young son of a New York broker. The technical grounds for the divorce is desertion. The final chapter of the stormy matrimonial venture of the scientist probably will be written in common pleas court here.

Dr. O'Malley declares his wife will not put in an appearance, she has given him a final decree by default.

Dr. O'Malley met his wife, who was Miss Elizabeth, one of St. Francis' most beautiful girls, while she was a pupil at Notre Dame and he was instructor. After a courtship of two years, he married her in 1888 to 1890, the couple were married in New York, to which city William E. Elgie, father of the bride, had moved.

Following their honeymoon the couple took up their residence at South Bend, Ind., and Dr. O'Malley resumed his work of instruction. He had been married only a few months when he was taken dangerously ill. South Bend physicians who attended him were unable to diagnose his illness, and he was brought to this city. Local specialists immediately declared that minute doses of arsenic were being administered to Dr. O'Malley.

Several weeks in a local hospital, Dr. O'Malley eventually recovered and sent South Bend for his wife. They apparently became reconciled and took up their residence at the home of Dr. Joseph O'Malley, a brother of the scientist.

So afraid was he that the poison administered to him was arsenic, that Dr. Joseph O'Malley demanded that the professor give up his college work and devote the rest of his life to study.

Shortly after Dr. O'Malley became settled in the South Bend street home jewelry and diamonds began to disappear. Mrs. O'Malley herself was the first to report the loss of a diamond stickpin. Following this there disappeared a diamond snuffbox, two diamond rings and other valuable stockpings. Dr. Joseph O'Malley applied to the authorities for assistance in apprehending the thief or thieves assigned to the case placed Mrs. O'Malley under arrest. In her subsequent arrest, were found pawn tickets for the lost jewelry. The police also found numerous diamonds and pearls.

When Mrs. O'Malley was arrested and charged with the theft of the jewels which were William J. Hearin's, a Canadian student and son of a New York broker. They were just stepping into a tax preparatory to eloping. In her subsequent arrest, were found pawn tickets for the lost jewelry. The police also found numerous diamonds and pearls.

MARGARET ANGLIN'S

TORONTO WELCOME

(Toronto World)

Margaret Anglin, who stands foremost among Canadian actresses, arrived at the Royal Alexandra Theatre and appearing in her latest play, "Green Stockings," a clever comedy.

A visitor to her apartment at the King Edward yesterday afternoon found a veritable garden of blossoms, tributes from many admirers to greet the fair Torontonian on her home coming.

Even though the accomplished actress herself assured "The World" that for almost two years she had been acting without one single day's vacation, and in addition, traveling most of the time, it was hard to believe in view of her high spirits, good health and tremendous energy. Miss Anglin, however, remained "fit" and "fresh" and hope for success on the American or any other stage who is not lucky enough to be endowed with more than ordinary strength and who is not prepared to make everything subservient to her career. The strain upon our physical system is such that only the strong can hope to accomplish anything of permanent value.

"I have already played one week of my Canadian tour, visiting Ottawa, Hamilton, Kingston and Peterboro, in all of which cities I was splendidly received, and now tomorrow I am to face an audience in my home town," she exclaimed. "Can you wonder that I am a little excited and perhaps somewhat nervous? I want to do my best for them and show them that I have not stood still in my art since I last came here."

Miss Anglin said that her managers have just arranged to take theatre in New York, beginning next September, where she will appear in a repertoire of plays now being selected. She will remain there for the entire season, so that in any case these days will be the last of her travels for a long period.

His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, Mrs. Gibson and party, will be the guests of Miss Anglin at the Royal Alexandra this evening.

FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY OF TWO CITY CHURCHES

Two of the Anglican congregations of the city will next month celebrate the 15th anniversary of the consecration of their respective churches, with special services. St. Jude's, Carleton, will commence their services on May 8, while St. Mary's will begin on May 7.

There was a meeting in St. Mary's church last night at which arrangements were made for the due celebration of the occasion. Sunday May 7 there will be special services with noted preachers, both morning and evening. Monday night will be a children's night when the jubilee of the Sunday school will be observed. Tuesday will be "historic night" and a congenial social will be held Wednesday evening.

Water soaked goods, rescued from fires, are dried by electricity in a large warehouse provided for the purpose by the New York underwriters.

A recent census gave Prussia 32 cities of more than 100,000 inhabitants each, and 61 of more than 50,000 residents, every city showing a birth rate for the past five years in excess of its death rate.

To purify drinking water as it is drawn from the pipes an ozonizer has been invented into which the electric current is switched as the faucet is turned.

Opening of Our New House-Furnishing and Drapery Department

Opening of New Drapery Department, Third Floor

A BEAUTIFUL AND ARTISTIC DISPLAY OF Newest Housefurnishings, Hangings, etc.

will be on exhibition tomorrow, Tuesday, in our bright, new room, which has just been fitted up for attractive display purposes. All sorts of New Curtains, Portieres, Hangings, as well as Chintz, Muslins, etc., will be shown in extensive range of designs and colorings.

Whether contemplating merely simple additions to the beauty of the home or complete schemes of interior treatment, this display of the most recent importations in House-Furnishings can hardly fail to suggest new possibilities.

On Thursday this department will be especially prepared to aid those planning Spring improvements by exquisite displays that will be found to abound in serviceable suggestions.

New English Chintz
For Cushions, Coverings, Hangings, etc.

The patterns of fifty years ago are rejuvenated and nothing could be prettier than the gayly colored, old fashioned floral designs, on light background, or the more sombre print patterns, in tapestry effects. These come in medium weights and range in price from 25c. to 50c. yard.

English Colored Bordered Bedspreads
Full Size Spreads, in white with floral pattern and border, in green or in green ground, with design in white, $1.45 each

Crotonnes
These are more in demand this season than ever before. The designs and colorings are beautiful. This pretty and serviceable material is full of delightful possibilities.

Plain Sofa or Porch Pillows are very fresh and summery looking, while a pretty box or trunk cover adds much to the appearance of a room. There are also numerous dark colorings particularly suitable for cosy corners. Price 10c. to 28c. yard

White Bedspreads
Large assortment of White Bed Spreads, in heavy honey comb or light weight.

"ARTS CRAFTS" DESIGNS IN New Curtain Scrim
Newest American makes in Dainty Curtain Scrim, in a large variety of colored designs and border on cream or ecru ground. Wood colors are the favorites, but the dull reds, yellows and wedgewood blues are also popular.

One of the newest designs shows a plain centre with a handsome six inch border, in rich green shades with just a touch of tan and brown; shades to match or blend with the color scheme of any room.

STOP TAKING DRUGS They Are Poisonous to Your Stomach, Nerves and Vitals

Ever since you can remember you have understood that the way to cure a pain outside was to take something inside. That is the foundation of our Canadian drug habit. Since childhood you have depended on drugs to kill pain. It never occurred to you that the drug was also killing the nerves of the stomach and overtaxing the heart.

My Electric Belt does wonders in a few applications. It arouses all the dormant energies, develops muscular and nerve life, and restores the feelings of youth, courage and vigor. It makes perfect men of the weakest, puniest specimens of half-men.

BRITAIN'S DRINK BILL

In Canada we hear a great deal about the poverty of Great Britain and the struggles of the poor here to make both ends meet. When we consider that Great Britain spends almost $800,000,000 per year for liquor, and when we consider the loss of time, wasted energy and other economic wastes following the use of liquor, one does not wonder so much at the poverty of the country. It is amazing to think that a country that spends that amount of money on liquor and still be one of the leading commercial nations of the world.

A fine portrait of Miss Margaret Anglin appears in this week's issue of the N. Y. Review, as she appears in her great success in comedy "Green Stockings."

More than a year ago when Miss Anglin was in Boston Mrs. Howe published in the N. Y. Review a portrait of her which she had written "Hippolytus" and the actress was allowed to read the manuscript.

MORE THAN 1,000 BOYS AND GIRLS DAILY ON ONE PLAYGROUND

(Toronto News). The fact that there was an average daily attendance of more than 1,000 boys and girls last summer of 611 girls and 688 boys, explains why the Toronto Playground Association should believe that the people of Toronto will be glad to play in the unkept supervised playgrounds.

Over a thousand children in one district of the big city played every day in a single playground. The girls were assisted in their play by two trained women supervisors.

Other congested districts of Toronto need other supervised playgrounds. A campaign for four hundred sustaining members has been begun this week.

Why Studious Children Always Crave Oatmeal

Nature gives us more organic phosphorus than any other grain she grows. And phosphorus is the brain's main constituent. Brain's growth, brain's work, brain's power, all depend on it.

JITPOLD IS UNIQUE AMONG WORLD'S RULERS

Agent of Bavaria is a King Without a Throne - Has Escaped Madness That Has Overtaken Many Members of Family

The German reigning princes, headed by a Kaiser, contributed a stream of royal otioses to a remarkable volume, written and illustrated by the most famous living dramatist as a present to the prince regent, Bavaria, on his 91st birthday, which fell on March 12. The Kaiser's contribution is: "Ready, eye, ready, for the glory of the empire."

The Austrian emperor writes: "Consciousness of duty, well and truly, exalts us in good fortune and comforts us in gloomy hours."

For it is insanity that has made the regent of the House of Bavaria. His other was driven from the throne by his elder brother, Maximilian II, who became king, a physical and mental monstrosity.

Peace and prosperity have prevailed ever since Luitpold took up the reins of government on June 13, 1886, and his proclamation as King of Bavaria has at various times been mooted on the ground of King Otto's incurable insanity.

When quite a young man Prince Otto showed various signs of brain trouble, but the first serious symptom occurred during the Franco-Prussian war, when he called out a squadron of cavalry and ordered them to charge a stone wall.

His dementia did not, however, become acute as to necessitate complete measures of isolation and restraint until 1870, a time when his brother Ludwig, already tainted with the same madness, had been on the throne for twelve years.

At one time he used to pass the whole day in the park, and when indoors would muse himself by studying the opera of his favorite composer Verdi. Then some Rigoletto would pervade the castle. He also consumed innumerable cigarettes.

Now he never speaks; his functions are purely mechanical and he usually on his floor in a state of appalling squalor.

In an electric gas invented in England which seems to be successful a projectile is hurled through a tube by the action of jet-propulsion on the outside.

THE LAST OF THE DUEL (Kingston Whig) A proposal has been submitted to the French Chamber of Deputies for the abolition of the duel. The bill provides: (1) To make the duel a breach of the law, both principals and seconds being punishable by imprisonment for from three months to three years, and a fine of from 24 to 240 francs.

Whether or not the bill succeeds in its purpose, the duel is doomed even in France. It has already become a matter of amusement and ridicule, and it will eventually be laughed out of existence, even if legislation should fail.

POPULAR GROOMS AND PRETTY BRIDES ARE MARRIED TODAY

Weddings of interest to many in St. John—J. M. Trueman and Miss Roden; D. C. Dearden and Miss Hogan

A pretty wedding took place at 6 o'clock this morning in St. Stephen's Presbyterian church, when Miss Annie May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Roden, of Paradise Row, was united in marriage to John MacMillan Trueman, son of the late Judge Trueman and Mrs. A. I. Trueman, of this city. Only the immediate relatives were invited, and the young couple were unattended.

The bride was charmingly attired in a tailor-made travelling suit of blue broad cloth, and wore a small blue Gage hat, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lily-of-the-valley. Rev. Gordon Dickie, pastor of St. Stephen's, performed the ceremony, and Miss Wilson presided at the organ.

After the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Trueman left on the Boston train for a trip to New York and Washington and other cities in the United States. On returning they will take up their residence at Renfrew for the summer months.

Both bride and groom are very popular in young people's circles, and a host of friends will wish them every happiness. They received a dazzling array of gifts from friends in the city and abroad, including cut glass, china, silverware and furniture. The choir of the church, of which the bride was a member, sent her a handsome silver scallop dish, and the teachers in the Sunday school gave a Morocco bound Bible.

Mr. Trueman is a member of the legal firm of McInerney & Trueman, and was for a number of years on the staff of one or other of the local newspapers, where he was always very popular with his associates and with the public.

Dearden-Hogan.
A social event that has been anticipated with great interest, was the marriage of Miss Kathleen Mary Hogan, eldest daughter of Mrs. Julia A. Hogan, of 230 Princess street, and Daniel C. Dearden of 100 Douglas avenue. The ceremony took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon, in the cathedral, Rev. A. W. Mahan officiating. The couple were unattended.

The bride's gown was of Roman gold broadcloth, an imported costume, with hat to match, with large willow plumes. She carried a large bouquet of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley, and looked very pretty. While the invited guests were very numerous there was a large gathering of friends of the bride in the church to witness the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Dearden will leave this evening by E. C. B. for a wedding trip to include Montreal, Toronto, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo. On their return they will reside in Douglas avenue. The wedding presents were in great number, including some beautiful silverware and cut glass. Most of the wishes will be expressed for Mr. and Mrs. Dearden for a long and happy married life.
