BALLOTS CAST UP TO NOON EXCEED ALL RECORDS.

Voting in Every Ward Began Early and Continued Strong—Conservatives Claim Good Lead at Noon.

Election day opened with the weather quite favorable. At 9 o'clock, the opening hour of the polling booths, voters were on hand to cast their ballots and from that till noon the votes were cast in numbers which in some wards eclipsed past records. By one o'clock in the polling divisions of most wards more than half of the ballots were in the boxes. This circumstance is taken as a sign that the poll is going to be exceptionally large.

In Wellington ward the voting began early, though in some divisions, particularly the county divisions, the voting for the first hour was backward. After ten o'clock, however, voters began to appear in numbers and the deputy returning officers from that out were kept busy. By twelve o'clock in some divisions half of the poll had been cast. During the noon hour there was a big rush and it is safe to estimate that in Wellington ward by one o'clock considerably over half of the poll was cast.

Both parties in Wellington ward worked cheerfully and when questioned expressed themselves as confident in the outcome. Wellington ward, it will be remembered, gave McKewen a majority in the by-election and this majority the Liberals declared they would maintain. In most divisions the Conservatives are not claiming anything like a big majority in Wellington but they are confident in their ability to keep the vote even.

Prince ward, with its polling divisions scattered along three streets, was a hard ward to obtain accurate information about. In most divisions the number of votes cast by one o'clock was half of the actual list. Considering the fact that Prince ward has always proved a hard ward for either party to vote, the number of votes cast by noon will give a good idea of the unusual activity of the election.

Prince has always been a Liberal ward, and, of course, estimating approximately, was giving the government a majority by noon. The minority, however, was not believed by the Liberals themselves to be very large, although the Liberals declared that as the afternoon advanced the majority would increase. The Conservatives concede the Liberals a majority in this ward, but are straining every nerve to keep it down.

The Liberal vote in Prince ward was up to noon being estimated at 1,000. From inquiries made of reliable persons it seems that many Liberal voters had dropped McKewen.

In Queen's ward at nine o'clock sharp the voting began and up to one o'clock the voters kept pouring in a continuous stream. By twelve o'clock half of the poll had been cast, something which has not occurred in this ward for many a campaign. It was estimated on all hands that by twelve o'clock the Conservatives were far ahead.

Up to noon little had occurred in the wards to mar the general good feeling between the ward workers of both parties. In Prince ward a Syrian, taken into one of the polling divisions by the Liberals. Once in he refused to take the oath, which was put to him and insisted upon voting without fulfilling the preliminary. He was told to go out but stubbornly refused to move. As only one voter in the division had taken the oath, he was allowed to stay at once the action of the Syrian caused a temporary pause in the voting. The sheriff was notified and the booth was surrounded by a motley crowd of all foremen and there was considerable drunkenness. The same can be said of the booths along Main street—Dufferin and Lansdowne. Down at Lorne ward in Indian town—over the hill—there was the usual activity, perhaps the most bustling booths in the whole northern section of the city. Government workers were there endeavoring to offset the heavy Conservative vote, but at noon the tide had not in the least been stemmed.

Utmost confidence reigned among all the workers on both sides. Lansdowne men for the Liberal interests hoped and expected to nullify the Lorne ward Conservative vote with a majority of their own, and so on. Dufferin Liberals claimed a big surplus.

One of the noticeable features of the contest in the northern end of the city was the presence of intoxicated men and the numbers of hangers-on. These latter were waiting for money, and were particularly conspicuous in Dufferin ward and in Lansdowne state and had plenty of cheers for the Liberals.

A certain manufacturing establishment near Indian town was the visiting spot for a lot of men. They went in the alley to the inner office. The owner of the place is an active government supporter.

"Disinterested" Liberals of large calibre, who have figured prominently in the papers during the transportation controversy, visited Indian town most "casually" during the height of noon hour, and visited some of the back streets. They are most prominent citizens.

In Kings ward both sides seem happy. The Liberals claim a handsome majority and the Conservatives, while conceding a majority, say it will be small compared with Liberal majorities in previous years. In February last McKewen led Dr. Daniel 65 votes, but the Conservatives are sure that today this vote will be cut down.

Both sides are working hard and every man is being watched carefully by both parties. Up to noon one of the largest votes ever recorded was polled in Kings ward.

In Dukes there is considerable kick because the city and county booths are so far apart, the city booths being at the Salvation Army barracks, on Charlotte street, and the city and county at Reed's Point. The Conservatives are sure of a majority of from 50 to 100.

In Sydney the fight is hot and both sides claim majorities.

IN KINGS COUNTY.

Word from Kings county this morning was to the effect that the contest there was being waged by both parties with great determination to win. At Bellefleur the Liberals started the rumor that the St. John Sun had been purchased by the government, the object being to create consternation among the Conservatives. St. John was rung up by telephone and the rumor was quickly killed.

At Rothsay the Liberals made the attempt this morning to force upon the returning officer some bogus non-resident voters. The attempt, however, was frustrated by the Conservatives.

To show how the Liberals are working upon the credulity of the farmers in Kings county the following incident which took place at Rothsay this morning might be cited.

A farmer entered the polling booth. The returning officer asked him his name and residence. He replied giving residence at Sheffield.

"Then why are you here?" asked the returning officer.

"G. G. Scovill sent me," was the reply.

THE PROVINCE GENERALLY.

Word from the various counties in the province indicates great activity on both sides. In York, Westmorland, Kent, Charlotte, Queens-Sunbury and Northumberland the Conservative confidence has been growing steadily.

DOUBTFUL IDENTITY.

(New York Times.)

Marshall P. Wilder, the diminutive humorist, who is about three feet tall, was talking with James J. Corbett, former champion pugilist, on a Broadway corner the other day when a New Yorker passed with a lady friend from a town up state to whom he was showing the sights.

"See those two men?" he said, indicating the wit and the fighter. "They are Marshall P. Wilder and Jim Corbett."

"Is that so?" said the lady. Then after a moment's pause, "which is Corbett?"

PORT ARTHUR AT ITS LAST GASP.

Japs Have Captured Commanding Positions and May Enter Fortress When They Are Ready Russians Destroying Arms and Valuables.

CHIEF FOO, Nov. 3, 4.30 p. m.—Port Arthur is doomed. The correspondent of the Associated Press here has received information, the reliability of which is beyond question, that the Japanese now occupy positions which place the east end of the town at their mercy.

The last assault has gained for them positions which insure their ability to enter the main east forts whenever they are ready.

It is calculated by the Japanese that if the Russians do not surrender, the latter will be capable of prolonging their final stand at Liaoli mountain and on the Tiger's Tail for a much longer time with the mere hope of prolonging the struggle. Long before the second Pacific squadron arrives the Japanese flag will wave over the wrecked citadel. This will end Viceroy Alexey's dream of an invulnerable city.

The Japanese have not occupied the main forts and highest points of the East hills, but they occupy in overwhelming numbers positions which will enable them to drive the Russians back whenever they desire.

When the Japanese occupy the East Port Ridge, they will completely dominate the other Russian forts with their artillery.

CHIEF FOO, Nov. 3, noon.—Japanese arriving from Dalny today report that the Japanese have captured Rihlung Mountain and Sungshu Mountain, which lies between the railroad and Rihlung Mountain. They also report that the Japanese have captured east Keekwan Mountain.

Conservative Japanese, realizing the intense desire of the Japanese for good news on the emperor's birthday, received the above reports with reserve. Regarding the capture of Rihlung and Sungshu Mountains the report is not considered improbable, but Japanese say that it is not intended to occupy East Keekwan Mountain. In August the Japanese succeeded in entering

MURDER IN CHINATOWN.

Renewal in New York of the Chinese Highbinder Outrages of San Francisco.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—A shooting affray with many features resembling the highbinder outrages of the San Francisco Chinese quarter which occurred in Chinatown early today may result in the death of Mock Duck, one of the most prominent members of the reform element in the local Chinese colony. Mock was waylaid as he was passing through Pell street and one of two henchmen fired at him, lodging a bullet in his abdomen, causing an extremely dangerous wound. When his alleged assailant, who was captured as he was running down Pell street, was being taken to the patrol box by a policeman, the couple were surrounded by three other Chinamen with drawn revolvers demanding the release of the prisoner. The situation was becoming serious when the case of the police arrived and found the policeman and his prisoner backed up in a doorway, the officer holding back three armed Chinamen. The would-be rescuers fled when the reinforcements arrived. Near the scene of the shooting the police found a revolver with a twelve-inch barrel and a hunting knife with a blade eight inches long. The man under arrest is Lo Sing, a laundryman.

Mock was tried for the murder of a fellow Chinaman about two years ago, but was acquitted. Immediately after his release from prison he became active in the Chinese quarter in co-operating with the Barkhurst Society. By his work Mock had gained the enmity of many of his fellow countrymen, against whom the work of the society was directed and he had frequently been threatened with death.

(Harper's Weekly.)

Two well known men about town were discussing a new club-house which had recently been built at great cost. One of them had just been inspecting the new building.

"What style did you say it was?" asked the other.

The man who had seen the building reflected a moment. "I think it was either Late Pullman or Early North German Lloyd," he replied.

Of Splendid Farm Lands in the Century Magazine for November, written by Thomas F. Millard, who gives a most interesting and candid view of the Russian military organization in the Far East, dwelling particularly upon the man in the ranks. He shows that the officers, except those recruited for the general staff, for the most part are either dandies who do not take their duties seriously or else ignorant, stupid and ambitious. The Russian army is one of young generals and old captains. The drilling of the soldiers is left to non-commissioned officers. Excessive conviviality is the rule, not the exception, and officers devote more time to wine than they do to work. The passion for gambling runs high. Personal cowardice is rare, but there is almost an entire neglect of that scrupulous regard for details which is so important in modern warfare.
Among the men conditions are even worse. Of the privates, 98 per cent. do not read or write. The system of Russian conscription, which requires that only half of the military population shall serve with the colors, permits the most intelligent to escape. The ranks are filled from the moujik class. Ivan is simple, kindly, unswervingly loyal to the czar, unquestioningly obeys officers who take little interest in his welfare, is patient under reverses, courageous in the presence of the enemy, and gently endures poor food and excessive fatigue. But he lacks personal initiative, knows little of modern tactics, is a poor shot because given little target practice, and is likely to become practically helpless if he loses his officers. His kind of discipline is suggested by one incident. An officer, to show a foreigner how perfect was the discipline, wondrously struck a private. The poor fellow did not flinch and uncomplainingly wiped the blood from his head. The brutalizing Russian system scarcely implies obedience, but at the expense of more valuable military qualities. Opposing an enemy whose army is on a high plane of efficiency from commanding general to private, it is not strange that victory, where numbers are equal, is not with the Russians.

THE RUSSIAN SOLDIER.

The chief reason for the astounding success of the Japanese is strikingly pointed out in an article in the Century Magazine for November, written by Thomas F. Millard, who gives a most interesting and candid view of the Russian military organization in the Far East, dwelling particularly upon the man in the ranks. He shows that the officers, except those recruited for the general staff, for the most part are either dandies who do not take their duties seriously or else ignorant, stupid and ambitious. GIRL ENDS LIFE AT FIANCÉ'S DOOR.
Kneeling on Porch of Faithless Sweetheart's Home Anne Koes Drinks Poison.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Francis because her sweetheart did not keep his promise to marry her, Anne Koes, 22 years old, No. 101 Sanford street, Brooklyn, ended her life yesterday, kneeling on the porch of her fiancé's home, at No. 186 Cover street, Ridgewood Heights, Borough of Queens. The young woman drank the contents of a two ounce phial of carbolic acid after offering prayers asking forgiveness for the sin she was about to commit.
Miss Koes lived with her widowed mother and sister Ida and, according to the family, she and Oscar Burkhardt had been sweethearts for more than a year. The girl left her place of employment in Williamsburg last June, her mother says, to prepare for her wedding, but Burkhardt postponed the event. The courtship was continued, and recently the girl told her friends that Burkhardt had set the date for their marriage.
Saturday was the day selected and Mrs. Koes last night declared that Burkhardt failed to appear at the appointed hour. The young woman was depressed and left the house with a friend about half-past nine o'clock. Her mother says that she met Burkhardt at the door of a friend's home. Screams of a young woman attracted several persons in Cover street yesterday morning and led to the discovery of Miss Koes on the porch of Burkhardt's home. She was kneeling. She drank the stuff before any one could interfere and died before the arrival of Dr. Edmund of the German Hospital.

Lady Decies' Fulmer Zaida Takes His Eleventh Championship at London Show.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Fulmer Zaida, a beautiful female chinchilla cat, which its owner, Lady Decies, valued at $5,000, won the championship at the National Cat Club's show in Crystal Palace. The aristocrat of catdom was fully represented by 650 cats entered at the show.
Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein showed three cats and Prince Christian two. The Countess of Aberdeen exhibited two. Lady Decies nine, Mrs. Herring twelve and Sir Claude and Lady Alexander no fewer than twenty cats.
Cats which their owners prized at anything from $25 to $100 were common, but Fulmer Zaida was the only all her rivals. She is nine years old and has won altogether about ten championships.
The show bore evidence that the long haired cat is as popular as ever and that the sleek, dun colored and blue eyed Siamese cat is becoming a great favorite.

A FRENCHMAN ON ROOSEVELT.
(Argonaut).

There has just appeared in Paris, from the pen of Albert Savine, a book upon "Roosevelt Intime," which is highly complimentary to the president. The following anecdote is literally translated:
ROOSEVELT AIDS ONE DEACON.
During one of the sojourns which the president made each year at Farmington with his sister, Mame Robinson, the people of the colony were wont to present him their homages. In the west, the distances are often long to traverse, even in that which one calls the village. The president wished to carry away certain oldsters in his proper carriage.
One was arrived at the high of the hill. Roosevelt, who guided his horse by the bridle, went to remount upon his seat of comfort. The old lady, who perceived the old Barber, deacon of the church, methodist, occupied to pursue his best certain coach recalcitrant, who unheeded themselves to eat the herb of a neighbor's field.
"What do you there?" him demanded the president.
"I seek to chase my beasts of that field."
"I go to aid you."
And the president legged the barrier.
Putting to profit the experience which he had acquired as a raiser with the cowboys, he put himself to the pursuit of the beasts, and made them to re-enter into their legal limits, not at all by the authority which the constitution gave him, but thanks to his liability to manage the beasts with corn.

DUEL THAT WASN'T FOUGHT.
(Washington Star).

Of Senator Blackburn, who makes long speeches sometimes, a colleague told this story at a dinner at which the senator was to give a toast:
"In his younger days, Mr. Blackburn was very chivalrous. Asked by a friend to second a duel, he readily consented. At sunrise the parties met at the appointed place. It was Mr. Blackburn's duty to say the last words about the terms of the duel. 'And, gentlemen,' continued the speaker, 'do you know that that duel never took place?'
"For a very simple reason," said the colleague, 'when Joe finished speaking it was too dark for a duel.'"
"I've noticed," said the girl's father, "that you have been calling for some time on my daughter. I'd like to know what your object is."
"I'd—like to know first," replied the cautious young man, "what your objection is, if any."

OBJECT AND OBJECTION.

NEWFOUNDLAND DOG SUPPLY IS SHORT.

American Consul at St. John Says There is Not a Single Thoroughbred There.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1.—The demand for Newfoundland dogs has been so great of late that a dealer in this city declares the supply has been exhausted, that he is unable to obtain a single thoroughbred specimen. He wrote a short time ago to the American Consul at St. John, Nfld., asking him at what price he could obtain thoroughbred dogs there. The consul replied that he had made an investigation and found that Newfoundland pups could be bought at $10 apiece. The dealer prepared to give an order for ten young dogs. Before sending, however, he received information from the consul that further investigation demonstrated that the breed of Newfoundland dogs was not so pure as he had supposed. He was ascertained, a thoroughbred Newfoundland dog in the whole island, all having been crossed with hounds and other dogs.
The consul stated that he learned that the only person known to possess a pure breed of Newfoundland dog was a man in Pennsylvania. The dealer wrote to the latter, only to be told that the demand for his dogs was much greater than he could supply, and that orders had been placed which precluded any more for several years.
"It is well known," said the dealer, "that the smooth breed of Newfoundland is extinct, but that the other varieties are so nearly so as to render the obtaining of one practically an impossibility has come upon me in the nature of a surprise. The smooth Newfoundland had a rather small head and was white in color, with black spots. The breed desired now, which I have been endeavoring to obtain, is the very large sort, with broad muzzle, head raised, noble expression, wavy or curly hair and bushy curled tail; black and white in color. A smaller almost black breed is also desired, though to a less extent and is about as difficult to obtain."

SAYS PRAYER HAS BROUGHT HIM RICHES.
The Rev. E. W. Kenyon Now Hopes to Make New England the "Christian Centre."

SPENCER, Mass., Nov. 1.—Riches have come to the Rev. Essek W. Kenyon, of Stillville, he asserts, in direct answer to prayer, and he has founded a Bible students' community through which he hopes eventually to make New England "The Christian centre of the United States."
"The divine gospel of St. Matthew," says Mr. Kenyon, "I interpreted literally, as the whole Bible should be interpreted, for it is all reality. I prayed for a farm and it was given to me by Deacon John M. Marble, of Sutton. I wanted more buildings in which to lodge my Bible students and in which to locate my Bible school, and these, too, were given me. Once I needed $200. I prayed for it, for I had no money, and in less than an hour a woman came to me and gave me a check for that amount.
"Again I wanted $100 to pay expenses. I was just starting my community of Bethel. I asked God to send the money and in more than an hour before another woman sent me an envelope containing exactly $100.
"I do not pray vaguely for help, but if I wanted a farm or a horse or a building or a sum of money I would say so in my prayer and all these things have been given me. We take no collections. We do not present our needs to the public or even to the church. We have lived by faith in God alone."
One of the many rules and regulations of Bethel reads:—"No familiarities, love-smelling or going out together between men and women."

WATER AND SEWERAGE BOARD.
At a meeting of the water and sewerage board yesterday a long discussion took place on insurance for the Mace pulp mill. It was announced that several are anxious to buy the mill.

The major informed the board that following properties, which are of little value, went with the mill: A property on the Quaco road, the Robert duplex property, the Bible property, situated about a mile and a half above McKenzie's Corner; the Powers property at Cape Spencer; the Stevens property at Grand Bay; and the property adjoining the Stevens property at Grand Bay.
What estate asked where William Thomson & Co. got the $1,000 worth of water which they had recently sold to vendors of the mill.
The engineer thought the company probably bought it from the city. Aid Christie wanted to have a committee appointed to find out where the tug boats get their water. This motion was carried and the matter was left to the chairman, superintendent and one of the aldermen.
Percy W. Thomson, of Wm. Thomson & Co. tells the Star that the water on the main pipe would be $18. The meters can be placed in a vault in the Catholic cemetery where other furnishings are. This makes the cost low.

The invitations to the annual ball to be given by the Neptune Club will be issued in a few days.
The senior Neptunes had a practice on the Shannon grounds yesterday afternoon, a good number turned out to get in shape for Saturday's game. The N. B. team will arrive here Friday and the game will start at 2.30 on Saturday.
The dance given by the Neptune Rowing Club in their assembly rooms last evening was a very pleasant affair. The only ladies present were those who participated in the performance of Prince Ramon. The Prince Ramon choruses acted in a similar capacity last night. About forty couples were present.
J. Jargens of Holland, was at the Royal yesterday. Mr. Jargens is a wealthy young man, who having completed his commercial education, has been traveling for about a year. Since leaving Holland he has visited Canada, the United States, Newfoundland and Australia. Previous to his coming to Canada, Mr. Jargens left last evening for New York.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.
Faith is believing without thinking about it what you couldn't if you did. Anything that makes a woman look a fright is sure to be the latest fashion. If a woman's clothes are comfortable it is sure proof they are not in the fashion.
What specially fascinates a girl is to trust a man she knows cannot be trusted.
Women like to have Thanksgiving come around so they can wish they had something to be thankful for.
Adam blamed it all on Eve, but ever since she has been blaming her boy's on some other Eve's boy.
A woman likes to have a great deal of sentiment so she can be sorry for the disappointment it causes her.
A girl thinks she is sick abed when her new gown doesn't come home for her to wear to church next morning.
When a woman can't discover any bad habits in her neighbor's husband she begins to suspect he must lead a double life.
You can't feel comfortable unless Ungar's do your laundry work.

GAS O' LINE, OR LENE.
(From Rough Notes).
1. A product of petroleum, and the devil. Used for heating, lighting, cooking power, cleaning, bed bug and foiling, rate-raising and general extermination. These are a few of the standard uses of the fluid. It is an ex-terminant in every sense of the word, with a few other senses thrown in for good measure, and its field of usefulness and destructiveness is ever widening. Among its recent undertakings is the proposition of automobiles. This style of locomotion is said to not be unpleasant to the one propelled, but when it gets under a fellow, as it sometimes does, and give him a swift kick into the unknown beyond it is not joy that he dies of.
2. Its chief fault is its volatility. If it were not for this it would be robbed of its hazard—and, most likely, its usefulness as well.
3. Any one wishing to risk a sudden departure over the gasoline route by entering on his or her premises must obtain permission from the company writing him or her fire insurance if he or she wishes to leave it as an available asset to his or her estate.
4. Gasoline is a good thing to start a fire with—a big, quick fire.

New 20th Century Suits Honest Insides.

We say honest because most ready-to-wear clothing is not tailored on the inside—the parts that are hidden between the outer cloth and the lining. The makers of 20th Century Clothing make the insides of their garments the fundamental principle on which they base the permanent perfect fit and the wearing qualities of all their garments.

More new suits came in yesterday—stylish double and single breasted backs—in the fashionable brown mixtures. These add to our already good line of suits at that ever popular price, $15.

Our Black and Blue Serge Suits at $15 are all new lately. These are the most popular lines we have yet handled. The 20th Century label on every coat affords a thorough guarantee.

RAW DAUGHTER KILLED BY TRAIN.

Rose Kiley Ground to Death in View of Her Mother and Sisters.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 1.—In the presence of her mother and sisters, Rose Kiley was killed by a train on the Harlem Railroad at Scarsdale station today.

On last Thursday the Kiley family moved from New York to Scarsdale, where for several seasons they have occupied a country home. They attended St. John's Catholic church, in White Plains. Their home is on Central avenue, a short distance from the railroad station and this morning Mrs. Kiley and her three daughters went to the station to take the train to White Plains.

Mrs. Kiley and her daughters were standing on the station platform when the noise of the approaching train attracted their attention. The station is on the west side of the tracks, the southbound track being between the northbound track and the depot. Mrs. Kiley suddenly stepped to the tracks with the evident intention of crossing to the other side to take the northbound train just as it dashed around a curve. Before she had time to reach the other side the engine struck her and hurled her beneath the wheels. Death was almost instantaneous. The girl's mother and sisters, who were overcome by the tragedy, were attended in the station by passengers. John Sullivan, the engine driver, was running the train, and said that he saw the young woman on the southbound track and that when he was opposite her she stepped immediately in front of his engine.

ACCIDENT YESTERDAY.

James Perry met with a severe accident yesterday morning at the Station, Cutler mill, Indian town. He was crossing the run upon which the logs are hauled up from the river, when he slipped and fell a distance of fifteen feet. His head came into contact with a deal end, and he was knocked unconscious for over half an hour. He was taken to his home on Adelaide street. Dr. McIntyre, who attended him, had to take five stitches in his nose and lip so badly cut were they. Mr. Perry also received a severe shaking, which may prove serious in his case, as he is a man of middle age.

We do shirts, collars and cuffs with that pliable finish that does not crack a curve.

PORT ARTHUR

A Summary of Months of Hard Fighting.

The Besieged Have Had no Rest from the Incessant Storm of Shells Poured in by the Japs.

TOKIO, Nov. 2.—(a. m.)—The official reports of the Port Arthur operations since August 1, form a record of almost continuous fighting of a desperate nature. The Russians first struggled desperately to block every Japanese advance and then the concentrated artillery fire of the Japanese with its kind. Later the Japanese began running parallel and traversing the Russian trenches. The Japanese have been constantly making sorties. They rushed into the Japanese trenches and engaged in ferocious struggles with the engineers and pioneers. With desperate courage the Japanese continued to close in upon the fortress, progressing stage by stage. The Japanese infantry never failed to respond when called to make an assault on almost impossible positions and when the troops gained a foothold they generally held it with unflinching determination. The reports commencing August 1, record the assault and capture of Taku mountain, a general advance following and then a general bombardment opened August 19 and August 20, an attack on Panlung Mountain, and engagements protected the later position.

The Japanese artillery first shelled the Pantung fortification and then Aug. 21 the Japanese infantry charged and were beaten back, owing to the deadly fire from the Russian machine guns and the ineffectiveness of the preliminary construction of the wire entanglements. The Japanese were also forced to abandon a fort southeast of Keekwan Mountain, which was captured after desperate fighting, owing to the enfilading fire of the neighboring forts.

During the morning of Aug. 23, the Japanese troops forming the centre and charged the Russian position on Mount and by noon had captured two-thirds of it. The Russians who continued to hold the position, were desperately aided by the fire of the west fort and forced the Japanese to abandon the positions occupied. The Japanese centre immediately reformed, stormed, captured and held the west fort, forced the abandonment by the Russians of the east fort and mastered the entire position.

On the night of Aug. 23, the Japanese centre, with the right co-operating, attacked the heights northwest of Wang Tai and the north fort east of Keekwan Mountain, but the Russians were forced to abandon the attack on account of the heavy losses sustained from machine gun fire from every direction. On the morning of Aug. 24, the Russians concentrated their artillery fire, attacked the left Japanese line and were repulsed. On the 25th of the month and the first week in October the Russians continued to attack and shell the Japanese position. They managed to seriously damage the new Japanese works and to hamper the operations of the Japanese miners. By Aug. 29, the Japanese miners had reached within about 40 yards of Fort Kurokutan and about 80 yards east of the northern fort on Keekwan Mountain and some 50 yards from Fort Sulshing.

August 12 the Japanese discovered that the Russians were endeavoring to mine Panlung Mountain. The afternoon of August 18, the Japanese used siege and naval guns, opened a general bombardment, and at six o'clock in the evening made assaults on Fort Sulshing and Kurokutan, and on a Russian position on 203 Metre Hill. The attack was continued at dawn Aug. 20, when the Japanese again assaulted Fort Kurokutan. They also captured four additional forts, two southeast of 174 Metre Hill, inflicting serious casualties on the retreating Russians. The Japanese attacked 203 Metre Hill from the east, north and west during the night, and a company of the Japanese managed to reach and secure a foothold on the northwest point of the summit of the hill, which the Japanese prepared to reach and capture the entire position. The Russians, however, were reinforced and desperate fighting followed. The gallant little company of Japanese, without food or water, managed to hold the position throughout August 21 and until the night of August 22, when they retreated. During the fight the Japanese threw bombs and stones at the Russians.

August 25 the Russians centred their fire upon the Japanese trenches leading to Rihlung Mountain. A detachment of one hundred Russians then advanced and attacked the Japanese trenches. The Japanese charged the Japanese trenches, throwing bombs into the trenches. During Aug. 28 the Japanese bombarded the Russian fort. Seven or eight shells struck Russian warships. The Japanese continued to shell the Russian fort and hit the Poltava, Peresviet and Pobieda were each hit five times. The night of Oct. 2 the Russians desperately attacked the Japanese miners and also the Japanese siege line, but were repulsed after a fierce battle. The Japanese continued to shell the Russian fort and hit the Poltava, Peresviet and Pobieda.

On Oct. 11 the Japanese captured the railroad bridge south of Yungtung.

and Oct. 12 and 13 Japanese shells set fire to the Peresviet, apparently disabling her. They also set fire to another warship, name unknown.

Oct. 16 the Japanese centre taking advantage of a bombardment stormed and captured a fort in the centre of Rihlung mountain, after a desperate struggle. The Russians left behind them a hundred dead, one gun, one small gun and two machine guns. Desperate fighting also took place around Sunshu mountain and 203 metre hill. Oct. 18 the Japanese captured some Russian prisoners who said that the fall of Port Arthur was near at hand, that the food supplies were insufficient and that the Russian battalions were greatly reduced numerically. They added that General Stoessel was offering rewards in money and medals for four hundred volunteers to make a sortie and destroy the Japanese guns. From October 18 the Japanese continued to drive their trenches forward, the Russians desperately resisting. On Oct. 24 the Russians ran a sledge from east of Keekwan mountain and dynamited the Japanese traverse. A conflagration raged at Port Arthur during the afternoon of Oct. 24.

On Oct. 25 the Japanese sank a thousand-ton steamer anchored at the mouth of the Keekwan river. On the afternoon of October 26, in front of the left detachment of the left army, a force of the enemy, consisting of a regiment of infantry, three regiments of cavalry and two batteries of artillery, advanced from Litewhan, Hantsan and then northward. Our detachment after the fight succeeded in repulsing the enemy. As the detachment sustained only a slight loss, while the enemy's cavalry lost heavily. Fifty of the Russians retreated in all directions and in disorder, leaving thirty dead.

The left column of the left army on the night of October 29, seized and burned a village about 400 yards northwest of Chengtienpo.

TWO BOYS DISAPPEAR IN CANADIAN WOODS.

Discovery of Overturned Canoe, a Coat and Hat Leads to Belief That They Are Drowned.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Donald McLean, son of Angus McLean, of the McLean lumber company, and Fred A. Ryden, whose father owns the Buffalo Ink Works, went canoeing in the Canadian North Woods on Thursday day and no trace of them has since been found. As the canoe in which they set out has been discovered, over this story it is believed that they were drowned.

McLean is nineteen years old, while Ryden is only sixteen. Both boys were graduated from St. John's Military School, at Manlius, N. Y. They were here to inspect the collection as a gold medal for being the best drilled boy in school. Both had intended to enter a college this fall.

The boys went to Canada with a party of twelve from Buffalo. McLean and Ryden went canoeing on the Canoeing River, on hundred miles north of Ottawa, last Thursday afternoon. When they did not return a canoe was found, and the overturned canoe was found. Later McLean's coat was found, and on Friday a dog which accompanied the boys came into camp bringing with him McLean's hat.

Unger's heavy, pliable finish is a winner.

POLITICAL APATHY.

(Washington Post.) Representative Clayton, of Alabama, told the story of election times in the state mentioned:

"Early in the morning of a general election in Alabama an old lady named Zeke Johnson held himself to the polls, where for some time he stood helplessly gazing about without attracting the least attention.

"Finally, however, some one observing the predicament of the old fellow, asked: 'Haven't you voted yet, Zeke?' 'No, sah, I ain't voted yet.' 'Then the man who had questioned the darty passed on without comment and the same thing occurred three or four times, until at last the suggestion was made that Zeke should vote. At this the negro approached a man whom he felt he knew better than any one else in sight and said:

"See here, boss, what's the matter with dis election, anyhow? 'Nothing the matter,' was the answer. 'It's all one way.' 'Den, boss, youse ain't got no use for a nigger 'rounds heah?' 'Not the least use.' 'Well, den, if dat's de case I reck on I'll mossy along. Good day, boss.' 'And Zeke went off without casting his vote.'

Careful laundering is done at Ungar's.

LOVE FOR MOTHER.

SAVED HIS LIFE. NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Frank Pruszkowski, thirteen years old, has recovered from injuries received by being run over by a railroad train a month ago. The boy's legs were both severed at the knees, and when he was carried to the hospital in Bayonne, N. J., and the doctors looked at the mangled limbs they said he could not live.

The little fellow has displayed remarkable pluck, and this and his love for his mother, the doctors say, have saved his life. When the lad came to his senses after the accident he found his mother weeping over him, and he smiled and said: 'Don't cry so hard, mother. I can see by the doctors' faces that they think I'm going to die, but I ain't. I'm going to live and love you.'

The boy was wheeled about in a chair yesterday and will be discharged in a few days.

LARGE SIZE.

Miss Honeley—He said something very complimentary about my aristocratic bearing. Miss Peppery—Indeed? Miss Honeley—Yes, he said I looked as if I had been born with a silver spoon in my mouth. Miss Peppery—Yes, Tablespoon!

Stiff, but rubbery, is the way your shirts, collars and cuffs come from Ungar's.

TORONTO ACQUIRES VALUABLE FOSSILS.

Dr. Matthews Has Sold His Collection to William McKenzie.

Dr. Matthews of this city has sold his valuable collection of Cambrian fossils to Wm. McKenzie, the Toronto railway magnate, who will present it to Toronto University. These fossils, which belong to the oldest period of the earth's history, of which well preserved organic remains are known, and are the result of Dr. Matthews' patient and laborious investigations for over half a century, of the fossiliferous deposits of the maritime provinces.

They are exceedingly valuable to geologists and students, because there are among them the types of a great many new species and varieties of animals. They are the best representations that exist of the animal life of the Cambrian period as far as the maritime provinces and Newfoundland are concerned. Dr. Matthews and his brother, Rev. Charles Matthews, were the first to make original investigations along this line in the Maritime provinces, and their first collections were placed in the hands of Prof. Charles T. Hart, who afterwards became a student of Dr. Matthews' researches, as well as of the country Dr. Matthews continued the work, and made large collections, which were destroyed in the fire of 1877. The collections sold to Mr. McKenzie have been made since that time.

The studies carried on by Dr. Matthews in New Brunswick were afterwards extended to Cape Breton and Newfoundland. As a consequence there are contained in the collections many species unknown previous to Dr. Matthews' researches, as well as those previously described.

The collections contain one hundred and thirty genera, thirteen sub-genera, three hundred and eighty species, forty-one mutations and sixty-eight varieties. Nearly all of the species, mutations and varieties are new. There are about five hundred different forms and about five pieces on an average to each form. The pieces range in size from a pin-head to fifteen inches in length, and consist chiefly of sea shells, worms and crustaceans. The final arrangements for the collection were made last week by Prof. Parks, lecturer in paleontology at Toronto University, who came here to inspect the collection as the representative of Mr. McKenzie. Dr. Matthews' object in disposing of the collection was to see it safely housed in a fire-proof building, and to have it where it would be of more general benefit to the students of geology.

The price paid for the collection was $2,500. It will be shipped to Toronto by rail, and will be on display which Dr. Matthews says will take about a month.

WILL NOT LEAVE HER CHILDREN.

Mrs. Keating and three children, who were found in a house on Sheriff street, are still being cared for by the Salvation Army at the Evangeline Home, St. James street. Mrs. Keating was instrumental in finding employment for Mrs. Keating in the reformatory, and made arrangements to have the children cared for at the almshouse. However Mrs. Keating objected to this. She did not wish to have the children placed in a home where they would be separated from her family. The eldest girl is able to take care of the baby, and Mrs. Keating wishes to get some situation in the city, so that she may be able to keep her home intact.

BASKET BALL AT ROTHESEY.

A game of basket ball was played at Rothesey yesterday between the ladies of Trinity College and the Methodist girls, which resulted in a victory for the latter with a score of six to two. The game was well contested and was a good exhibition of basket ball. In the first half the Rothesey ladies scored one field goal, while the St. John girls failed to put the ball in the basket. The second half was faster and it was not long before Trinity earned the score. The superior passing of the Rothesey team brought the score up to six before the game ended. W. H. Patterson, B. A., refereed in a satisfactory manner. The Rothesey girls are playing snappy ball, but with a little more practice the Trinity team would be a hard one to beat.

SECOND THOUGHT.

(Harper's Weekly.) Representative Richardson, of Tennessee, tells of a campaign conducted by Governor "Bob" Taylor in that state.

Meeting for the first time a delegate from one of the eastern counties to the state convention, Mr. Taylor said: "I am glad to meet you, sir. I have known your father for a good many years, but this is the first time I have had the pleasure of seeing you. I see that the son is a better-looking man than the father."

"Oh, come, Governor," replied the delegate, humbly, "you needn't try to jolly me that way, for I'm for Barkedale, all right, even if the old man is for your father."

"A man, like a razor, must have some temper to be any good at all."

"Yes, temper is a good thing to have but a very bad thing to lose."

SECOND THOUGHT.

(Harper's Weekly.) Representative Richardson, of Tennessee, tells of a campaign conducted by Governor "Bob" Taylor in that state.

Meeting for the first time a delegate from one of the eastern counties to the state convention, Mr. Taylor said: "I am glad to meet you, sir. I have known your father for a good many years, but this is the first time I have had the pleasure of seeing you. I see that the son is a better-looking man than the father."

"Oh, come, Governor," replied the delegate, humbly, "you needn't try to jolly me that way, for I'm for Barkedale, all right, even if the old man is for your father."

"A man, like a razor, must have some temper to be any good at all."

"Yes, temper is a good thing to have but a very bad thing to lose."

The concert to be given under the auspices of the St. John orchestra in Union Hall, North End, will be held on next Monday night, not tonight as reported.

The schooner Georgia arrived today from Gloucester, Mass. It is expected that she will load here for New York. The demand for laths has been very steady of late and the prices are in consequence firm and the freights correspondingly low.

The postponed meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Carmarthen street church was held last night and was well attended. Mrs. Joseph Seymour presided and the various reports showed the society to be in a satisfactory condition. The treasurer reported that $23.34 had been raised for the work during the year. An interesting programme of solos, readings and addresses was carried out.

BAPTIST UNION.

Proposal Favored by Main Street Church.

At a largely attended meeting in Main street Baptist church, Tuesday evening, a motion favoring Baptist union was passed unanimously. The question was freely discussed, the principal speakers being Rev. H. H. Roach and Rev. J. H. Hughes. On motion of W. H. White, seconded by E. N. Sprague, the resolution was adopted, as follows:

"Resolved, that this church accept the basis of union as adopted by our convention and the Free Baptist church of New Brunswick at their late annual meetings, and that we favor the organic union of the churches of the Baptist and Free Baptist denominations."

"Passing this resolution, the committee, acting with a corresponding committee of the Free Baptists of New Brunswick, will call a meeting of the two bodies consummating the union. Practically all the Baptist churches in the city are now in sympathy with the union."

MARRIAGE IN FAIRVILLE.

At six o'clock Thursday morning, at St. Rose's church, Fairville, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding, when Rev. C. C. Collins officiated in marriage Emma Marie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hanlon, and James S. Logue. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mamie Hanlon, and the groom was supported by his brother Cornelius Logue.

The bride's dress was of cream Bedford cord, with chiffon and lace trimmings, a green picture hat with green plume. The bridesmaid wore a green dress with cream picture hat.

After the nuptials the party returned to the home of the bride, where a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold lot set and chain, and to the bride a cheque. Mr. and Mrs. Logue left on the seven o'clock train on their bridal tour.

CLOSING MEETINGS.

In City Hall, Carleton, last night, about seven hundred electors assembled to hear addresses by J. B. M. Baxter and Dr. A. A. Stockton. W. D. Baskin presided.

J. B. M. Baxter severely criticized the government's policy. Dr. Stockton made a strong speech. After outlining the Conservative policy, Dr. Stockton analyzed the Grand Trunk Pacific deal, clearly showing it to be graft and gift throughout.

Orange Hall, Fairville, was crowded last night with an enthusiastic audience to hear J. D. Hazen, M. P. P., and A. W. Macrae. Both speakers dealt ably with the issues of the day and to judge by the frequent applause their arguments told.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK.

Dr. Potts is also secretary of the Educational Society of the Methodist church, and will speak in the interests of this society on Wednesday evening.

THIS EVENING.

Vaudeville at York Theatre. Election returns from all over the Dominion at St. Andrew's Rink and Opera House.

THE BETTING FAVORS BORDEN

$500 to $200 on Laurier's Defeat.

Odds on the Montreal Stock Exchange Show Remarkable Change in Public Opinion.

D. C. Clinch received a telegram shortly after noon today from Montreal to the effect that the betting on the Montreal stock exchange at noon today was $500 to $200 that Borden would have a majority of twenty in the next house.

This news has given great stimulus to the Conservative workers who, while satisfied that the Conservatives would win, looked with a little anxiety toward Quebec. The telegram received by Mr. Clinch goes on to say that there is almost any amount of Conservative money in sight, but that there are no Liberal takers.

This is the final admission that Laurier is doomed—Fort Arthur next.

POLICE COURT.

A Fine Minstrel Show Given This Morning by Strong Array of Talent.

In the police court this morning there was a splendid array of talent on the bench and the performance was a good one.

The first part looked like a minstrel line up, with "Tony" Burns on one end and "Willie" Burns on the other. It was a case of father and son, both colored. In the centre was Mary Bree and it was due to Mary that the performance was not the great success it might have been.

Mary forgot where or when she was arrested and as the officers refused to give her any information on the subject till her case was called she was obliged to plead guilty and goes to jail for two months.

"Tony" Burns also pleaded guilty and was fined $4. He has only been out a short time. His son, Willie, was arrested on a warrant charging him with assault. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded. The warrant was sworn out by Willie's wife, nee Ann King.

The others were common drunks. The two men arrested on suspicion of stealing tools from Michael Birmingham's shop on Duke street were remanded till Friday.

DRIVER MACAULAY, DEAD.

I. C. R. Engineer Who was Injured in the Collision at Oxford Died Last Night.

Driver MacAulay, of the I. C. R., who was injured in the accident near Oxford Junction on Tuesday, died last night at ten o'clock, as a result of injuries received at the time. Deceased had both legs taken off and for a time it was hoped that he would recover.

This is the third death that this engine has to its credit.

ELECTION RETURNS.

The Conservatives have secured St. Andrew's rink and have engaged a special telegram wire and an operator. Election returns from all over the Dominion will be bulletinized here earlier than anywhere else.

PARIS WILL QUOTE ST. LOUIS AS EXAMPLE.

PARIS, Nov. 2.—Parisians are watching closely the outcome of the St. Louis fair.

There is a general agitation of the question here whether Paris will have a fair exposition in 1929 to celebrate the jubilee of the Third Republic.

Upon the success or failure of the St. Louis fair much will depend.

Many Parisians hold the opinion that great fairs do harm instead of good. The newspaper La Patrie has opened a voting contest on the subject and the opinion of its readers is about equally divided, with a slight preponderance against.

RUSSIA IS TOO BLUE FOR CELEBRATION.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 3, 12.30 p. m.—There was little attempt today to celebrate, except in a perfunctory way, the tenth anniversary of the accession of Emperor Nicholas. The Imperial family attended a Te Deum at the Kazan cathedral and there were services in all of the churches. Later the troops were paraded, the theatres gave free exhibitions to the school children and there was music and other holiday displays in the parks. But, on account of the war and the anxiety regarding the situation at Port Arthur, everything was on a small scale.

BRIDE'S GOWN WAS ABLAZE.

LENOX, Mass., Nov. 1.—While Miss Mary Wynnas and Albert Logata were being married at St. Charles Catholic church here today the bride's gown caught fire from a candle and she had a narrow escape from death. One of the wedding party held the candle so close to the veil that it became ignited and in an instant the bride was enveloped in flames.

There was much excitement, while the best man and usher threw off their coats and wrapped them about the bride, extinguishing the fire. While the bride lost a part of her gown, the ceremony continued.

MIKADO'S BIRTHDAY PARTY.

TOKIO, Nov. 3, 1 p. m.—Upon the occasion of his birthday at luncheon today, the emperor briefly addressed his guests extending welcome to the foreign diplomatic corps and ministers of state. During the course of his remarks he said: "We regret that the time had not come to see peace restored in the Far East in realization of our desires."

He then proposed the health of the sovereigns and rulers represented at his court, expressed the wish that the bonds of friendship existing between the respective countries might be drawn closer.

Baron d'Aethan, the Belgian minister, dean of the diplomatic corps, responded, congratulating the emperor on the day and expressing regret at the continuance of the war.

Continuing, Baron d'Aethan said: "We again express our wishes for peace and do so with more fervor when we contemplate with profound emotion the ravages already caused in suffering families and the thousands of noble victims on each side in the armies in the field, struggling and shedding their blood with a bravery that rises to the height of a sublime and indomitable heroism."
