SPAIN'S CABINET

Senor Silvela Succeeds Senor Sagasta as Premier.

Madrid, March 6 .-- The new cabinet took the oath of office Saturday. The ministry is composed as follows: Senor Silvela, premier and minister of foreign affairs. Senor Dato, minister of the interior. Marquis Villa Verda, minister of finance.

Senor Duran, minister of justice. General Polavieja, minister of war. Marquis of Pidal, minister of public works for the colonies.

Admiral Camara, minister of marine. It is expected that Gen. Martinez de Campos will become president of the senate.

The brother of Marquis Pidal, it is thought, will be chosen as president of the Chamber of Deputies. EXCITEMENT IN MADRID.

There was some excitement in the cafes when the formation of the Silvela cabinet was announced. The "Marsellaise" was sung, and there were cheers for liberty. Those who are in the immediate surrounding of Senor Silvela say his settled idea is to regenerate the country. He holds that the queen regent can ratify the treaty of peace without a vote of the chambers, and that, therefore, their dissolution need not defer the ratification.

MUTES MARRIED. Buffalo, N. Y., March 6 .- At the city hall on Saturday, Mayor Diehl married a deaf and dumb couple. Henry A. Acheson, at one time champion runner of the United States, was the groom, and his bride was Miss Carolyn K. Haller, of Batavia. The usual questions were written on paper, and a copy was given to the bride and groom. They read the questions and wrote "Yes" to them, each signing the paper. The couple then leaned over the mayor's shoulder as he read the solemn words pronouncing them man and wife, and each nodded approval when the novel ceremony was finished. Acheson was born in Cayuga, Ont., 30 years ago, and is a printer by trade.

Pekin, March 6 .- The Tsung-Li-Yamen (Chinese foreign office) has returned to the Italian charge d'affaires, Marquis Salvago Raggi, his dispatch containing the demand of the Italian Government for a lease of San Mun Bay on the same conditions as those under which Germany holds Kiao Chau Bay, accompanying it with a letter declaring that the Chinese Government is unable to grant the request.

The demand of the Italian Government for 99-year lease of San Mun Bay, province of Che Kiang, as a coaling station and naval base, included also a demand for the concession of three islands off the coast of Che Kiang, with the right to construct a railroad from San Mun Bay Yang Lake, and to preferen railroad and mining privileges within a sphere of influence covering the southern two-thirds of Che Kiang province.

CHINESE EXCITED. According to a dispatch to the Associated Press from Pekin last Friday, the action of the Italian Government had caused great excitement there, not only among the Chinese, but also among the foreign diplomatists, the Chinese being convinced Great Britain was chiefly responsible for the de mand, and that it had been made to emphasize Great Britain's displeasure at the turn which the Northern Railroad question had taken,

The attendance at the services was one of the most notable that has ever gathered in Washington on such a sad occasion.

At a little after 5 o'clock, President McKinley and the members of his cabinet entered the church, the audience rising. They were shown to seats in the front of the church. Here also were seated the members of the United States supreme court, accompanied by Chief Justice Fuller, and the members of the high joint commission, of which Lord Herschell was presideent. representatives in congress and dis-tinguished citizens of Washington. The service was a very impressive one, and lasted nearly an hour. The church was opened shortly before 3 o'clock for the reception of floral offerings, which were as notable for elegance as they were in numbers. Particularly beautiful was the tribute of the Anglo-American high joint commission. It consisted of a wreath of palms, upon which was massed red and white roses and calla lilies. Extending upward from the base of the wreath were the British and American flags, entwined with crepe, and gracefully looped bows of purple ribbon lay between them. The offerings sent from the executive mansion and the British embassy were conspicu-ously beautiful. Numerous wreaths of ivy and fragrant violets were among the tributes which lay upon and about the casket.

Who Passed Away This Morning From the Effects of Pneumonia.

New York, March 6 .- Rudyard Kipling passed a comfortable night Saturday, sleeping most of the time, and seeming to benefit by it.

Elsie Kipling, the poet's three-yearold daughter, also improved during the night. Josephine, 5 years old, who is at the home of Mrs. Deforest, underwent no change during the night. Discussed by Cable Correspondents--Britain's Budget Will Show a Deficit -- How Is It To Be Met? == Mr. Morley's Definition of a Jingo.

for the first time in many years is going to show a deficit for the financial year, which ends on March 25. The receipts are already half a million pounds sterling below Chancellor Hicks-Beach's estimates, and it is evident from the departmental programme that he will have to raise three millions by increased taxation to meet the coming year's requirements. Mr. Morley's taunt that he could now define a jingo, as a man who is willing to spend £50,000,000 annually in a time of general peace on the nation's military equipment, hasn't stung the electors. It will doubtless be often repeated in the coming budget debate, but only by a dwindling group of the Manchester school. Even the moderate Spectator declares that "no one but a madman would propose to reduce either the land or sea forces at the present time," and this in a week when the army estimates are announced as nearly a million and a half above those of 1898, and the country knows that the navy will follow suit. The expenditures of the two services next year will be nearly $48,000,000. "This," says the Outlook, "is the cost of keeping the islands and coasts of the empire inviolate, and no sane man will begrudge the cost." Chancellor Hicks-Beach has not the slightest notion of cutting down the naval or military expenditure.

HOW IS REVENUE TO BE RAISED? The problem of producing more revenue finds many suggested solutions. The Times points out that it is not of Great Britain, thus removing the merely an expedient to tide over a single year that has to be found. When St. Paul's, London, surrendered before the threats of the antiritualists, it was thought that the holy war in the church, as it was called, was at an end. That it was not so was shown by a lively scene enacted the other night in Gorleston, where insure communication between the two high ritual is in popular favor. It coasts. was at a meeting called by the Wyckliffites to protest against the introduction of ritualism into local churches. The vicar of Gorleston, Rev. Forbes Phillips, himself attended at Sandown Park. An enormous the meeting, and seems to have led the disturbance. He first of all asked the Wykliffite chairman how long he and his brethren had done time. This was warmly resented, and not much of a spark was required to create a blaze, and the vicar, stick in hand, dashed to the platform, followed by his supporters. The vicar made a grand leader in the fight, and floored not a few of the Wykliffites before he was surrounded and borne down by sheer force of numbers. It might have gone very hard with him had not the police appeared on the scene, stopped the battle, and closed the meeting without even a benediction.

ANGLO - FRENCH NEGOTIATIONS. Very favorable reports were received during the week regarding the negotiations on outstanding questions between Great Britain and France. It is said that M. PARTITION OF CHINA. The political event of the week undoubtedly was Italy's demand for a "door" in the Celestial Empire. The be doubted that this will prove the signal for a general and final rush. Japan will advance her long-expected claim to the province of Fukien (on the mainland of China and opposite the Island of Formosa), and Russia will seize a pretext for urging further concessions injurious to British influence out of the hopeless government at Pekin." Italy, however, has not yet got her concession, and a dispatch from Pekin says there are indications that the dowager empress is disposed to reject the demand.

RUSSIA'S ATTITUDE regarding the guarantees of the British loan on account of the northern Chinese railroads has caused considerable anxiety among the investors, who, however, rely upon Lord Salisbury to carry out his promise, and insist that China respect her engagements and terms of the railroad contract. Up to attitude, and it is generally believed

Russia will not go beyond a protest. KIPLING AND THE POPE. Popular interst has been divided between Rudyard Kipling's struggle with death and the sick man of the Vatican. The Kipling bulletins are followed with intense interest. The Times, during the course of a long editorial, says: "The deep interest manifested in America may be regarded as a fitting tribute to the writer, who has lately done more than diplomacy, treaties, arbitration and speech-making to convince the two nations sprung from the same stock that they are still in many ways one." The illness of the pope gives rise to speculation regarding his successor. and revives the stories of intrigues at the Vatican. But the latest favorable bulletins have dispelled the gloomy forebodings. It appears that the pope himself was responsible for the attack, as, after the audiences of Monday, when very tired, he insisted upon driving in the garden to Leo's Tower, in spite of the biting north wind. He returned to his apartments shivering with cold, and on feeling himself in pain he said recalled the spiritualistic prophecy of Mlle. Couedon, who declared that the Archangel Gabriel had announced that the pope would die immediately after President Faure. "Perhaps," said the pope, "God's will spoke through her THREATENED BY THE SEA. Reports from Dunwich, Aldenburgh and Southwold, three towns on the east coast of England, state that during and since the recent hurricane the sea has made alarming inroad upon the shore. Dunwich has suffered more than any town on the coast. This was at one time one of the largest com-mercial cities of England, though it is now but a small village. In the last century a number of its chapels and the remainder of the village is threat-ened with destruction. An old chron-icle records that a wood, called East Wood of the King's Forest, extended several miles southeast of the town, but many years ago it was destroyed by the sea. In an eruption of the sea in 1739, the roots of a great number of trees were exposed. The sea has made menacing encroachments on the small town of Aldenburgh. This place was also considerably larger in the last century. At Southwold, since a recent survey, the sea has gained upon the coast more than a mile. Many thousands of pounds are being spent on defense works.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY. Great interest was excited at the meeting of the Society of Electrical Engineers on Thursday night by Signor Marconi's wireless telegraphy demonstration. He sent message from one end of the hall to the other by means of a small apparatus. He said that operations, which had been in progress daily for months between the South Foreland and the lightship of the East Goodwins, showed that on no single occasion had communication been interrupted, despite all sorts of bad weather. Messages between the Queen at Osborne and the Prince of Wales, on the royal yacht, had been transmitted, in some instances for a distance of eight miles over land. Intervening hills, although 300 feet higher than the vertical wire of Osborne, offered no obstacle. During his lecture Signor Marconi received a note conveying the permission of the French Government to establish his system between Folkestone and Boulogne. Signor Marconi states that vertical wires, rising to a hight of 114 feet, will be sufficient to SANDOWN RACE MEETING. The fashionable interest of the week centered in the military race meeting crowd was present there on Friday, when the much-coveted trophy, the grand military cup, was competed for by crack riders, representing the British army. The weather was fine, and many women wore spring-like dresses. The club lawn and paddock were crowded, and the scene was like the height of summer. Several people drove to Sandown Park from London, including the Marquis of Londonderry who rode in an open barouche, with four horses and postillions. The cup was won by Lambay, ridden by its owner, Capt. T. H. Reipland, of the Grenadier Guards.

KIPLING'S FIGHT FOR LIFE. The New York Post's London cable says: Kipling and his struggle for life have held first place in every Englishman's thoughts the past week. Few men, perhaps only one other English writer, of this era, could have evoked questions, and in regard to Madagas- similar national solicitude, for whether his imperialism will be judged good or bad in the light of history, he is beyond question England's supreme political poet at the present moment.

A NOTABLE FEATURE. Perhaps the most noteworthy feature of this national outpouring is the absence of any sign of sympathy from the Queen, the Prince of Wales, or any and has tended more and more to alter consideration elsewhere, while the Mus- other member of the royal family, except the Princess Louise. Some suggested the Queen has not forgotten at she regarded as undue freedon with her personality in Kipling's poetic references to "The Widder at Windsor." However that may be, the Queen and the prince so closely identify themselves with all expressions of national feeling that their abstention now is the inevitable subject of comment.

COST OF EXPANSION. The proceedings in the Commons when the army estimates were introduced afforded a striking object lesson to Englishmen of the stupendous Saturday Review says: "It can hardly burdens which the empire's expansion throws upon taxpayers. The whole world knows how small an affair England's army is. 190,000 men, against France's 580,000, yet the ministry has to justify an increase in expenditure of $5,000,000, making the gigantic total of $103,000,000, or $240,000,000 for the army and navy together, for the financial year beginning next month. As Balfour said in effect, when winding up the debate. "You can't keep up a splendid empire for nothing."

Englishmen are not a little puzzled to know where the money is to come from to meet these ever-growing warlike expenditures.

RITUALISM IN ENGLAND. Ritualists in the Church of England the past week have thrown down the gauntlet in a way most disconcerting to those who believed the ecclesiastical crisis was vanishing before the gentle ignore Russia's protest against the persuasions of bishops, exerted individually upon offending clerics. The Engnow, Lord Salisbury has taken a firm lish Church Union, of which Lord Halifax is president, and which includes some most zealous workers of the church, has in public meeting resolved that it cannot admit the right of bishops, or of any court, to decide what usages are permissible for them. In effect, they say to the bishops, "Leave us alone or we will disestablish the church." And it is certain the union, to whose ranks thousands of ritualists have been flocking of late, is powerful enough to make its threat effective. The bishops are thus face to face, not as before with individual offenders against discipline, but a strong and organized body, and will need all their tact to prevent a fresh and grievous

A NICE MAN.

Mr. P. M. LeBreton, brother of Mrs. Lily Langtry, the actress, obtained a decree nisi in the divorce courts, owing to his wife's misconduct with Lord Grantley, who was mulcted in costs. They were married in 1877. Lord Grantley's wife was Miss Katharine McVickar, daughter of William H. McVickar, of New York. She died in 1897. Le-Breton and Lord Grantley were almost like two brothers, visiting each other, and going about constantly together. Mr. LeBreton testified that he did not suspect anything until last autumn, when he found that the couple had been at various London notels as Mr. and Mrs. Gray. The suit was not defend-

THE FAMILY KNOWN IN CAN-

Some 25 years ago Captain LeBreton, a brother of P. M. LeBreton, was touring through Canada. While at the Rossin House, Toronto, he died from pneumonia, and was buried in St. James' Cemetery. He was the third son of the Dean of Jersey, and a brother of Mrs. Langtry, the "Jersey Lily. For a time his grave was unmarked, but when Mrs. Langtry first went to Toronto as an actress, she visited the cemetery, and found the grave of her departed brother. A pretty cross was erected to mark the spot. Visitors to the cemetery a couple of years ago remarked a beautiful wreath hanging over the cross on the stranger's grave. It was explained that Mrs. Langtry had been there that day and had pas this floral tribute to her brother. The French heel-marks in the sod showed that the "Jersey Lily" had climbed the iron fence to perform this sisterly function herself. She always decorates her brother's grave when she visits To-

WHAT WILL CHINA DO? The New York Commercial Advertiser's London cable says: China is rising fast again. Englishmen and Germans regard complacently the demand of Italy for a concession as strengthening the powers, who are in favor of freedom in trade, but there is an ominous likelihood that yielding by China, which seems inevitable, will provoke demands from other quarters for new concessions, until the whole coast of the Celestial Kingdom has been appropriated practically. Information from i many sources is to the effect that the cur at Genoa.

STRUGGLE FOR INFLUENCE. The struggle for influence at Pekin between Russian and British ministers is worrying Britain also. Good information from St. Petersburg indicates that, in spite of the scanty progress made last summer, Lord Salisbury is working again toward an understanding with Russia on the matter of trade with China. According to that informa-tion, the Russian Cabinet is beginning to realize the huge burden it has assumed in the appropriation of Manchuria, and it is willing to pause in the matter of acquisitions and even to consider the advisability of open door in Manchuria, at least for the present. so as to obtain foreign aid in developing the trade and the resources of Northern China. De Witte, the Russian minister of finance, is the chief advocate of that policy. His colleagues are considering it closely, and the czar, it is believed confidently, is not averse to it.

KING'S CROWN AND SWORD

STOLEN. An extraordinary theft has been committed in the City Art Gallery at Birmingham. An old case containing the jeweled crown of the King of Delhi, his steel sword, the handle of which was covered with gold, and two bracelets, with jeweled finger rings attached, was opened and the treasures stolen. These articles were lent to the city corporation for exhibition about sixteen years ago by Captain Meakin, of the Fifteenth Hussars. It was several days after the robbery took place that it was discovered, the job having been done so deftly. The articles are worth to a collector about $1,000, though to an illegitimate possessor their value is comparatively small.

TO DOUBLE A STEAMER'S SPEED. Signor Cordosa, the distinguished Italian inventor, announces that he has invented a screw propeller which will double the speed of ships at onehalf the present coal consumption. Signor Cordosa refuses to reveal the details of his invention, but he has convinced Turin capitalists of its value. A stock company has been organized, which will equip a vessel with the new propeller. The trial trip will oc-

Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company.

The Most Prosperous Year in the Company's History.

A large number of shareholders, policyholders and agents were present on the 22nd of February, at the Manufacturers' Life offices in Toronto to attend the twelfth annual meeting of this progressive company.

Two thousand two hundred and seventy-four (2,274) applications have been received for $3,758,689 of new business, and policies have been issued for $3,434,889 On the 31st day of December, the total insurance in force was $13.072.724. being an increase of $1,205,495, which is the largest gain in one year in the history of the company.

The premium income also shows a very substantial gain of $52,970 02, the figures being $450,736 47, as compared with $397,766 45 for 1897. The income for interest and rents was $65,429 86, bringing the total income up to $516-166 33, a gain of $67,882 41.

The total expenditure, including expenses of management, death claims, and other payments to policyholders, dividends to stockholders, and re-insurance premiums, was $290,880 75, so that the excess of income over disbursements amounts to $225,889 75, a very handsome sum to add in one year to the accumulated funds, which now amount to $1,522,871 61. The management is to be congratulated on the fact that the year's operations have merited very complimentary remarks from Mr. D. Parks Fackler, than whom there is no more eminent or independent actuarial authority

UNPRECEDENTED SUCCESS. In Canadian financial and insurance circles the name of the Manufacturers' Life has, since the company's inception, been synonymous with enterprise and vigorous and substantial growth, but in no single year has the company progressed in such a marked degree as during 1898, as may be

OZONE-For Lung Trouble.

"Advised By Three Doctors to Make His Will." Dear Sirs.—I take much pleasure in recommending Ozone. I can truly say it saved my life I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs. I was so run down that I had no hope of recovery. Three doctors told me to make my will. I tried everything recommended for consumption. I had taken nearly a dozen bottles of Cod Liver Oil, besides spending one hundred dollars in doctor's bills, until at last I was advised to try Ozone. Before I had taken two bottles my cough was entirely cured. Before I had taken Ozone two months I was as well as ever. I am, yours truly, William Paul, Orillia, Ont.

The most important of these are the army reorganization bill, the navy personnel bill, the bill providing a code of laws for Alaska, the omnibus claims bill, and numerous import-

The navy personnel bill completely reorganizes the navy, and is the consummation of years of earnest effort by the navy department. The original army bill was intended to meet the same want for the army, supplied to the navy by the personnel bill, but it failed, and the present bill is considered defective, in that it is only a temporary measure. It however, increases the army to 100,-000 men, and provides for the retention of this number until 1901.

The omnibus claims bill provides for the settlement of several hundred claims, some of which were almost a hundred years old.

The Alaskan code also meets a longfelt want in supplying a system of laws to the Northwest Territory. In the last hours of congress it was provided that the admiral of the navy should receive the pay and emoluments of the last general of the army. This legislation was supplemental to the passage of the bill reviving the grade of admiral for the benefit of Admiral Dewey. Its effect is to give Admiral Dewey compensation at the rate of $14,500 a year. Admiral Dewey now holds the highest rank in the military service of the United States, army or navy, and sinks with the highest officers in the principal foreign navies.

CANADA AND AUSTRALIA

Their Mutual Commerce Growing-Gratifying Figures.

Ottawa, March 6.-The last number of the Year Book of New South Wales, received at the department of trade and commerce, contains information to show the growth of Canadian dealings with the antipodes since the establishment of the direct line of steamers between Canada and the Australian colonies. In 1892, the year before the opening of the line, Canadian exports to New South Wales amounted to £10,-655. In 1897, the last year for which returns are available, the imports from Canada had grown to £187,291. The increase has been on an even, greater percentage than in the case of the United States dealings with the Australlan colony. In exports to Canada the same thing is visible. In 1892 the exports from New South Wales to Canada are set down at £37, while in 1897 they had developed to £11,555. There is a possibility that the Canton Bay would be considerably shorter than by New Zealand. If those offers be accepted New Zealand will be excluded from the course, and the steamers will go right on to Queensland. +000000000000000000000000000000000000

A Live Board of Trade.

When the Grand Trunk car shops removed to London, Brantford did not sit down and mope, but gathered up her energies and started to forge ahead with remarkable success. The annual report of the Brantford Board of Trade, just received, tells a tale of progress that larger and more pretentious cities may well envy. The population last year increased by 1,500, or 10 per cent, the exports by 32 per cent, the number of factory employes by 20 per cent and navies. Indeed, so far as naval preparthe aggregate of their wages by 22 per cent. It was a jubilee year for the manufacturers, no fewer than sixteen of them adding to their buildings and plant. It is evident that much of Brantford's prosperity is due to the impulse of a first-class Board of Trade, working heartily in unison with the City Council and other public bodies. The business men and municipal representatives of London should take a leaf from Brantford's book. The new president of the Brantford Board of Trade is Mr. T. H. Preston, of the Expositor, and his inaugural message is full of information and practical suggestions for the advancement of the city. An important feature is his reference to the necessity of a technical school in a manufacturing center like Brantford. Mr. Preston points out the great 'development of the technical school system in Germany, France, Great Britain and the United States, and urges that the matter be taken into consideration. 'In the course of his address he throws out a number of hints for the City Council, and alludes in that state will be rewarded with a to the kindly spirit in which that body has received advice from the Board of Trade. There is no such co-operaion in this city. In fact, in recent years the local Board of Trade has not been a very influential factor, though our business men are second to none in ability and energy. A keener civic consciousness is needed. Brantford seems to possess it in a very profitable degree and well deserves her success. It is a live city, and has a live Board of Trade with a live pre-

The Manufacturers' Life.

The Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company enjoyed in 1898 the most prosperous year in its history, the gain in all respects being phenomenal. The directors report that last year 2,274 applications were received for $3,758,689 of new business, and policies were issued for $3,434,889, a gain of $741,670 or 27.54 per cent. The total insurance in force on Dec. 31 was $13,072,724, an increase of $1,205,495 or 10.15 per cent. The premium income also rose last year from $397,766 45 to $450,736 47, an increase of 13.33 per cent. The excess of income over disbursements amounted to $225,889 75 last year, bringing the accumulated funds up to $1,522,871 61. The annual report, published in another column, exhibits a very convincing array of facts, illustrating the remarkable progress and development of twelve years of its existence. Mr. Vivian Reeve is the manager for the London district.

Observations.

All these requests from A., B. or C., for bonuses, or exemptions, are simply requests that their taxes shall be paid in whole, or in part, by the remaining letters of the alphabet +++

I see that our former fellow-townsman, Sir John Murray, K.C.B., LL.D., F.R.S., finding his many other important engagements pressing upon his time, has resigned the position of scientific member of the Fishery Board of Scotland, and Prof. D'Arcy Thompson, of University College, Dundee, has been appointed by the Queen in his stead. +++

At a time when the jingo and imperfalistic spirit runs pretty high, and when force is being deified, voices of another sort are heard. The Christian Guardian thinks it a painful anomaly that the Toronto public school warboys should be sent off to join in a military parade at Tampa, Fla., at a time from any direction. when Canada is welcoming the Russian Doukhobor refugees from "the cruelest of war centers." The Guardian goes on to say:

"The Doukhobors (spirit-wrestlers) have been led by the Spirit of God to Europe could hardly have more done take the same position as the Quakers. With thousands of Quakers and Mennonites and Doukhobors, who are opposed to war, Canada is becoming an important center against war, and in favor of peace, as she was a great force against slavery, and for human freedom years ago. Could the Dominion of Canada nationally and openly take the same attitude towards war and wea-adoption, and yet he is the object of pons of destruction as is taken by these thousands of peace-loving citizens, whom we welcome? Can Canada throw away her firearms and disband her militia, and vote no more money for mil-itary colleges or war preparations, and trust the Prince of Peace for her future? If she had faith in Jesus Christ she could, at the coming session of par-liament. If all the Methodists in Canada would take the same attitude toward war as the Quakers and Doukhobors, it would greatly assist. If the Presbyterians, Baptists and Congregationalists would join in the movement, it would be irresistible, and Canada would lead the world in peace, as well as in temperance. There is no national in Jesus Christ and his Spirit to lead on by following him?"

I suppose the answer of some would be that the Guardian's talk is probably all right, ethically, as Tolstoi's is, but that in a world full of imperfect people it is not practicable? What do you think? +++

The German response to the request of the Czar of Russia to discuss the propriety of international reduction of armaments is the announcement that the army will be next year increased from 557.093 men to 573,000 men. It is asserted that the annual cost of the German army will be increased from $512,000,000 to $520,000,000 this year, and that in 1900 it will be $7,000,000 or $8,-000,000 more. This does not lead us to hope that the European nations will at an early day reduce their armies or ations for eventualities are concerned, the action of Germany and Russia in increasing their navies has compelled the British Government to sanction a very large addition to the naval ish nation pre-eminent over that of all of the first-class combined. That much is deemed requisite in the interests of ish dominions. It cannot be denied, however, that every nation is feeling the burden of sustaining so many non-producers in idleness. ***

Three London lawyers were on hand, and ave policy-holders. Now that the motive of the lawyer agitators has been exposed, the "indignation" will fizzle out, and the collection of the policy-holders' the Manufacturers' Life during the dollars to fee lawyers, will become increasingly difficult.

> The Cause of the Squea! [St. Thomas Journal.] ine simple fact of the matter is that They confidently expected Mr. Laurier to bring home a treaty that they could pick to pieces and use as campaign material for their own party. He didn't do it. couldn't get the terms he wanted and he came away without them. Canadians by attempting retaliation would only show that they were deeply disappointed at the outcome, and that they did feel more or less that they were dependent on the Americans.

> Government Did Well [Toronto News.]

Seeing that the alleged surplus has been exposed very thoroughly, the general effect of the new bill is not calculated to injure the Government except with the liquor interest, and even possible opposition from this source has been modified by confirming the operation of the new measure to cities. Altogether the bill is very shrewdly conceived and ably framed. As it is analyzed more closely defects which are not apparent on the face of it may be discovered, but on the first reading it does not appear to be one that lays the Government open to serious attack

It may be said that cause is to be found in the fact that the death occurred in our national capital, where Lord Herschell had been in the discharge of an important international commission. ## BANK ROBBERY

All Carried Revolvers-The Montreal Gang Believed To Be the Culprits.

Montreal, March 6.-Chief Detective Carpenter has received a letter from Chief Detective Campau, of Windsor, Ont., asking him to send full informaregarding the six burglars artion rested here the other night, and who are supposed to have been connected into the sea. with the Blenheim, Ont., bank robbery. Chief Carpenter had photographs they are known to be dangerous char- there. When searched at the jail, each of them was found in possession of a fully loaded revolver. Extra precautions are being taken, as it is regarded as likely that they might make an attempt to escape.

Windsor, March 6.—Provincial Detectives Campau and Mahoney were at Blenheim, having an interview with Manager Powell, Cashier Peacock and Police Magistrate Gosnell, with a view to arresting some local parties who are suspected of having had a hand in the burglary of the Blenheim bank.

The authorities are satisfied that the men arrested in Montreal are the guilknowledge.

SATISFACTORY INAUGURATION

Of the Spring Trade in Canada.

Toronto, March 6. - Bradstreet's weekly review of Canada's wholesale trade says in part: The past has been a comparatively busy week at Montreal. The house sales have shown a considerable increase of buyers. This month buyers from various parts of the country and many more are expected before the first of April. A particularly satisfactory feature of business is the generally firm and advancing condition of values. Active preparations are going forward for the shipping business, and an enormous movement from this port is looked for during the coming season.

Trade at the Pacific coast continues active, the prospect still holding good for a large season's business, particularly in the building trade at Vancouver, where the boom shows no sign of a relaxation. The very satisfactory inauguration of the spring business at the ware-houses in Toronto last week has been followed up by an active house trade and mail orders, which have kept the trade busy. In drygoods and millin-ery most of the retailers are buying a superior and more costly class goods than in previous years, which, with the increase demand in nearly all lines, should make a large addition to the average season's turn-

An increased amount of business is being done at Winnipeg and Manitoba points, and a further expansion of trade is confidently expected as the season advances. The demand from the retailers for spring goods is increasing, and values continue very firm. The arrival of settlers continues to have a good effect on general business and the demand for farm lands, prices for which are well maintained.

Forty Dead Bodies Taken From the Debris-Probably 100 Injured-Country Looks as if a Volcanic Eruption Had Occurred.

Toulon, March 6.-The naval powder magazine of La Goubran, between La Seyne and Toulon in department of Var, Southern France, exploded at 2:30 yesterday morning. All of the soldiers on duty at the magazine were killed, and a number of inhabitants of the surrounding district, the buildings in which were razed, also fell victims. Forty corpses have already been recovered. The cause of the explosion is not known.

Fifty thousand kilograms of black powder exploded. It looks as though a volcanic eruption had occurred, the country being swept almost bare within a radius of two miles, houses destroyed, trees overturned and distorted, fields devastated and covered with stones and impalapable black dust.

Some of the stones are enormous, one weighing 50 kilogrammes fell in the suburb of Pone de Las. Signs of the explosion are evident in all the suburbs of Toulon and in the city Even at St. Jean Devar, five itself. miles distant, windows were shattered and doors battered in. Later reports show that of the seven sentries four were killed outright, and the others severely injured, the corporal being literally scalped and the scalp overhanging his face like a veil. A large number of soldiers are now employed in clearing away the debris, but the work is very difficult.

It is impossible to ascertain accurately the number killed, but it is believed no fewer than 100 were injured. Although it was a clear night, the explosion was so terrific as to produce slight rainfall.

Fortunately the neighboring magazines escaped. It is now believed that the explosion originated in the chemical decomposition in smokeless pow-There is no suggestion of foul

The whole city is in mourning, flags are at half-mast, theaters are draped and casinos closed.

Both the government and municipal authorities are forwarding relief funds. M. Lockroy, minister of marine, has telegraphed 10,000 francs, towards the maintenance of the families of the victims, and ample subscriptions are being opened here. Four of the injured have succumbed to their injuries. It is believed that fifteen are still buried in the debris. All the bodies found or recovered are terribly mutilated. Sixteen were found in the rocks near the shore, and it is feared that others were precipitated

He expected to remain in Dawson until the afternoon of Dec. 24, and then to hasten to his camp, to be present at a grand Christmas dinner, for which the following bill-of-fare had been arranged: Bean soup, boiled beans, baked beans, boiled bacon, cold and hot, and fried bacon. He regaled himself at Dawson, before writing, with a beefsteak, for which he paid $7.

The Rossin House, Toronto.

To globe-trotters, the name "The Rossin," the finest hotel in Ontario. has long stood a synonym of cosiness, home-like comfort and up-to-date luxury, attributes which are much advertised, and in reality possessed little, by other pretentious houses. While being the most centrally located of the Toronto hotels, it is happily remote from all the noise, smoke and dust of the railways, yet only two blocks from the Union Station, up York street, at its intersection with King street, Toronto's historic and most fashionable promen-

In capacity "The Rossin" can comfortably accommodate 400 guests, 50 of its rooms having bathrooms attached. As a protection against fire it is built with brick partitions throughout. There are five stairways from the upper to the first floor, and, nightly, watchmen patrol the corridors, insuring the perfect safety of guests. An additional feature of the house is the absence of winding passages-all the hallways being attractively wide and lofty. In every respect the architect, with an eye to safety, health and comfort, wrought on a generous scale. In fine, the house is like its management, like its cuisine, like its patronage, the best and most modern in the city. This hotel home, it will be known

THE GUELPH-

The management of the London hockey club have sent the following letter to The Advertiser, which explains

LONDON VS. GUELPH. To the Hockey Clubs of Canada:

The game of hockey played in Princess rink, London, on Feb. 21, 1899, between the London and Guelph teams, for the championship of Western Ontario, has been the sensation of the season in sporting circles, and the unjust decision of the O. H. A. executive committee, in throwing out the game, and ordering it to be played over in this city, is bound to have far-reaching and disastrous results. To arrive at a correct understanding of the matter, it early. will be necessary to briefly sketch events preceding and leading up to the match.

Early in the season a few admirers of the manly sport organized the London hockey club, and entered the lists ior teams were organized later, with the intention of booming the game in the city, and furnishing innocent amusement for the boys composing them. Whenever any member of these teams showed superior abilities as a player, the senior team would draft him into service, the junior teams being regarded as hockey training schools for the boys of London. Thus a deep interest in the game was kindled all over the city, which bade fair to grow, and prosper, as never before in its history. And when the London team won victory after victory, until they landed in the "finals," the interest arose to fever-heat, and blazed forth in proud admiration of "our boys."

Then came the game with the Guelph team, who boasted of not losing a match in two years, and who egotistic-Guelph Nationals." They came to London with the air of conquering heroes, while their large contingent of backers which Guelphites are noted. The match Tuesday evening, Feb. 21, before an immense audience, and proved a very painful surprise to the "famous" agthe game stood 2 to 1 in their favor. And here a ludicrous incident occurred, Guelph club: "Half-time; 2 to 1 in our favor. They are dead easy.'

And thus the second half opened with the Guelph team more than confident of victory, which they plainly exhibited in every act and word. But the London boys had taken their true measure, and soon passed them in the race. Then it was that the real character of the Guelph players came to the surface. Deliberately tripping and slashing their opponents in the roughest and most brutal style, they seemed determined to disable some of the London team, and thus accomplish by foul means and trickery what they could not win by fair playing. It was during this exciting stage of the contest that a goal was shot by Guelph a few seconds after Referee Gauthier's whistle had sounded. Goal Judge Tillman refused to allow it, and was upheld in this decision by the referee. A dispute arose, and Carmichael, one of the Guelph forwards, hurled at the goal judge a volley of the foulest epithets, and struck him over the head with his hockey stick, crushing in his hat, and injuring the scalp. For this base, cowardly and ruffianly act, Carmichael deconsequently could not legally act upon it, though hundreds of spectators saw it, and demanded Carmichael's expulsion The London team did not want the game to end in that manner, as it sport should che would have done had the guilty to "infamous." player been expelled. They knew they held victory in their grasp, and at their request play was resumed, and the trouble settled by referee appointing a new goal judge. This did not help the Guelph kickers, and the match finally ended 6 to 4 in London's favor, the Nationals meeting their Waterloo, and retiring sadder but wiser men. After the game the teams fraternized together, and the Guelphs admitted a fair, clean and honorable deleat. Their backers and friends, however, had lost considerable hard cash and felt very sore, while the management could not accept defeat like honest men, and began at once to

A GOOD STOMACH

Is Essential to Health and Happiness -But Don't Blame the Stomach for Biliousness.

A suffering man soon finds some place to put the blame, and the stomache comes in for more than its share. When one gets bilious, has sick headache, sour stomach, and belches wind, he is apt to think his stomach responsible for all, when in truth it is the liver and kidneys that are deranged and by leaving poisons in the blood upset the digestive system and cause endless misery.

Biliousness soon wears out temper and makes men and women nervous, irritable and despondent. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure biliousness, sour stomach and sick headache, by making the kidneys and liver healthy, active and vigorous.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the kidneys, liver and bowels and by their direct action on these organs effect prompt and lasting cures. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all and find some kind of a trv in London's victory. They claimed to discover what they and everybody in both clubs knew long before the game was scheduled, that three members of our team had graduated from the junior teams of our city, and occasionally played in said teams. These boys had never played in a senior team except London, and two of ally called themselves "the famous the three had played in every game for the intermediate championship, and had never been objected to before. The second morning after the match Capt. and "rooters" scoured the city, public-ly parading the betting instinct, for returned to London to look up information on which to base a protest. He was played off at the Princess rink on said while here that he was opposed to a protest, as London had fairly won the match, but he must obey orders. The protest entered with the O. H. A. gregation from Guelph. At half-time executive committee stated that Johns. Peel and Hobbs, of the London team, were members of, and had played with showing how cock-sure hey were of ul- the City League clubs; also that the timate victory. One of the Guelph con- ice was in a totally unfit state to play tingent rushed out to the nearest telegraph station, and wired the following water." Coming from an aggregation, message to Dr. Stirton, president of the self-styled "famous" Nationals, the objection to the condition of the ice is indeed laughable. Was the ice not in as good a condition for the Guelphs as for the London team? When we consider the fact that the Guelph team was in constant daily practice, that they are a larger and more muscular set of men, and that several members of the team are "paid players," with no other visible means of support during the hockey season, "soft ice" a decided advantage to them. But the London team are their superiors, and would have trimmed them had the ice been as hard and as smooth as glass. The richest part of the protest business in the rank inconsistency of the Guelph club. When Listowel protested the game with the Nationals because of a doubtful goal counted, the latter branded the act as very unsportsman-like, and got out printed badges boasting, "We win our games on ice, not by committee," and the day after the London game the Guelph Herald contained the following boastful paragraph: "The Nationals could take to the committee room and cast Lendon to the wall, because Johns, Peel and Hobbs played City League games in London for a silver cup. But the boys served expulsion from the rink; but in red and black have always been the referee did not see the blow given, averse to committee rooms, and will abide by last night's decision, winning their games on the ice." How the mighty hath fallen! The "famous" Nationals have eaten their own words, and as exponents of manly sport should change the word "famous"

Mr. C. W. Smith, owner of the Jubilee Rink, permitted all the city league games to be played there, but these matches were always played after skating for the evening was over, without extra charge to see them. No money changed hands in this league in any shape or form, as it had no financial organization whatever. Mr. Smith donated the cup to create a friendly competition, and changed the schedule of games at pleasure. If Guelph had a city league to train her boys she would not be compelled to practically violate the rules of the association by going to Bolton for Snell, Orangeville for Shields, Alliston for Carmichael, and Berlin for Raynes.

And now comes the closing scenes of this farce. In the Toronto Globe of Tuesday, Feb. 28, we read that a meeting of the O. H. A. executive committee would be held in that city at 5 o'clock p.m., on that date, to consider the Guelph protest, though we had received no official notice of such meeting. We 'phoned Secretary Beaton, and at our request he postponed the meeting until 11 a.m. Wednesday, March 1. President W. S. Smith, Vice-President George Macbeth, and Capt. John S. Brown, of the London club, went to Toronto with our defense, and were at Mr. Beaton's office at the appointed hour. They found none of the executive committee present except Secretary Beaton, consequently no meeting was held. In talking over the protested game with Mr. Beaton, he made light of the technical grounds on which the protest was based, and claimed that clause K. when inserted in the rules of competition, was intended to apply to the Toronto Bank League only. He also asserted that none of the O. H. A. players of Toronto were playing in any other league, though the Toronto pa-pers reported that St. George's team won the junior O. H. A. championship, and that the same seven players won the Toronto City League championship-two distinct and separate organ-

Had the committee thrown out these players, and kept them out until a proper application had been made for their reinstatement, then its course would have been consistent. As it is, the committee's rank decision has struck the manly game of hockey a severe blow, and has proven them unfit for the positions they occupy:

In answer to this surprising decision the following communication was sent to the secretary:

ronto: Dear Sir,-In reply to the ruling of the executive committee of the Ontario Hockey Association, re the Guelph protest of game played Feb. 21, I beg to say that the London Hockey Club, having already fairly defeated the Guelph team, we refuse to meet them W. S. SMITH, President London Hockey Club. Judging by the telegrams and let-ers we have received from hockey clubs and players in every section of Ontario, and the favorable comments of the leading newspapers, we are confident that ninety-nine per cent of the people are with us, and condemn as this country. On Thursday the famous strongly as ourselves the unmanly and unsportsmanlike course of the Guelph club's managers, and the inconsistent, leader, and a born genius. The most unfair decision of the O. H. A. committee. In spite of the trickery practiced, the London hockey team will continue to be the recognized intermediate champions of Western On-tario for 1898-99, and nothing the O. organization, composed of Italy's best H. A. executive committee or Guelph Nationals can do can steal the fairly-won honors from its rightful owners. W. S. SMITH, President, GEO. MACBETH, Vice-President. J. S. BROWN, Captain. London, March 6, 1899.

Benzine Exploded in a Russian Railway Car

Seven People Were Killed and Sixteen Injured.

Spain's New Cabinet Characterized as Ultra-Montane - Repatriated Soldiers Make a Scene-Italian Government Ordered Orleans Away.

DISASTROUS EXPLOSION. St. Petersburg, March 6.-Last evening a carboy of benzine exploded in a third-class railway carriage on the line to Dwinsk, south of St. Petersburg.

The carriage was burned, six women and a man were killed, and sixteen others were injured.

SPAIN'S NEW CABINET. Madrid, March 6.-The new cabinet has been well received by the Conservatives and business world, but the Democrats and Republicans denounce it as representing the most ultramontane section of the Conservatives. The Weylerites are violently opposed to the cabinet, and stormy times are If predicted. The elections to the cortes will take place in April next. A number of repatriated soldiers made a demonstration at Valencia vesterday evening. They marched through the streets headed by a banner, inscribed "Long Live the Army." "We Are Hungry." The processions were dispersed by the police, and there The processions were no serious disturbances.

ORDERED ORLEANS AWAY London, March 6.-The Times Paris orrespondent says that the Duke of Orleans, the pretender to the French throne, left Turin for Palermo on the strong advice, almost injunction. of the Italian Government. It was pointed out to him that Italian territory could no longer serve as a center for royalist conspirators, even of the opera bouffe species.

PARTITION OF SAMOA.

London, March 6 .- The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says he hears that Germany will not propose the partition of the Samoan Islands, but will quietly wait and see whether England or the United States will propose it.

DREYFUS PROSTRATED. London, March 6 .- A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Cayenne states that ex-Capt. Dreyfus, in a recent conversation, said that his return to France and appearance before the court of cassation were imminent. The dispatch adds that the prisoner is suffering from prostration, and his mental condition is giving anxiety.

The music lovers of this city are no doubt eagerly awaiting for the coming of Rosenthal, whose only appearance will take place at the Grand on Wednesday, March 15. This wonderful the Keyboard," stupendous, amazing, astounding, sympathetic, magnificent etc., and further, to quote from the pen of New York's most eminent critic, Mr. H. E. Krehbiel: "Rosenthal said farewell for the time being to the New York people at the recital in Carnegie Hall to over 4,000 people. Before he returns to us he will have demonstrated the extreme possibilities in many respects of piano playing to the people whose faces are turned westward. Happy people! Infinitely nappy in the prospect of hearing such an artist! Happy, then, is the opportunity to begin at the beginning of the list of adjectives which has been exhausted here in the efforts to characterize the wonderful playing of this master-poet of the pianoforte, this profoundly analytical musician. All are now turned over to the men who must write and talk hereafter, while New Yorkers permit the spell that he wove around them to wear off, or maintain the intoxication by going over what they heard in memory until he returns to them,'

THE BANDA ROSSA CONCERTS. It will be of interest to all who appreciate a really good band concert to know that the greatest band in all Italy is now making a second tour of Banda Rossa will give a concert at the Grand. The visit of this great European band, fresh from a series of new triumphs in its native sunny Italy, will unquestionably arouse interest and enthusiasm among our musicloving citizens.

"THE SLEEPING CITY."

A thrilling incident in a varier spectacle which "The Sleeping City" fords, is a sensational escape from Sing Sing. There are also other stirring climaxes in this latest and victorious four-act comedy-drama of New York life. It is a play with excellent characters, and a plot of the most intense and unflagging interest. Hilarious mirth alternates with deep pathos. and the numerous powerful situations of every varying character, in conjunction with a wealth of scenic splendor and mechanical effects, make the piece "The Sleeping City" will be a "go." seen at the Grand (matinee and night)

on Wednesday.

Manager Florence Ziegfeld is a firm believer in the value of first-class ac tors to develop and sustain the success of a play. When "The Turtle" was originially produced at the Manhattan Theater, in New York, the public marveled at the expensive cast, and figured that so many high-salaried people in one organization could not possible prove a successful business proposition. That Mr. Ziegfeld was correct is shown by the fact that this farce gave 200 performances at the home theater.
"The Turtle" is to be seen here on Friday evening at the Grand.

Oliver Scott's colored minstrels appeared at the Grand Opera House Saturday afternoon and evening, and on both occasions the house was crowded. The company furnished capital entertainment for the large audiences. From start to finish the performances were artistic and catchy. ## MAY TURN OUT TO BE MURDER!

Charles Clark, of Maitland Street, the Victim.

Found Lying Near the Parlor Stove Severely Injured

By Blows on the Head and Neck-Was Seaten and Robbed by Parties Unknown-He Is 80 Years Old.

What may possibly turn out to be a case of murder was reported to the police this morning, but as yet little can be said about the matter.

One thing is certain, and that is, that if the injured man in the case recovers from his wounds it will be a very great surprise. The injured man in the case is Mr. Charles Clarke, who lives at the north-$1,500 addition to his residence at the east corner of St. James and Maitland

> On Saturday, he was in the city, and went to his home at night, and when his sister retired she left him sitting by the coal stove. Yesterday morning when she arose, her aged brother was not in his bed, which had not been disturbed, nor was he sitting at the stove. She searched the house, and found blood-marks by the stove. She went to the parlor, and there found the old man lying across a chair in a semiconscious condition.

> Dr. Graham was called, about six o'clock yesterday. He found that Mr. head. The flesh is black, badly swollen, left ear, an indication, the doctor thinks, that the bone of the skull is > fractured. Mr. Clark told the doctor that he had been hit by somebody, and that his money and watch had been taken. He says he had between $35 and $60 in $5 bills, with him, when he went home. The doctor thinks that the old man was struck by someone who knew he had the money. The sister is very deaf, and it would have been an easy matter to have effected an entrance and assaulted Mr. Clark without her hearing it.

Neither Mr. Clark nor the sister, with whom he lives, were ever married. Mr. Clark is said to be a man of some means, and last week he is reported to have given $300 to his nephew, James Stewart, an employe at J. H. Chapman's. The police are investigating the affair. The opinion has been advanced that the old man fell on the stove, and then staggered to the parlor, and that he must have lost his watch and money before going home. This Dr. Graham thinks unlikely.

No tracks were found near the place on Sunday morning morning, and if the man was assaulted and robbed it must have been between 9:30 and 10 o'clock on Saturday night, when the ground was soft, and about which time it rained and snowed, the latter melting as it struck the ground.

CLOSELY WATCHED

Marion Brown, the alleged murderer of P. C. Michael Toohey, has for some time past caused the jail officials considerable trouble, besides protesting against and refusing to eat prison fare. The prisoner has been keeping the shaved his beard with a piece of glass, and cut off a large tuft of hair over his forehead, which has materially altered his appearance. Brown refused to tell what he shaved and cut his hair with, and a strict watch was kept on him. His cell and clothes were always searched while he lies in the bath. But for some time nothing was found. Then a piece of glass about two inches square was found, with a very sharp edge, and a prison iron spoon, with the handle edge ground very fine.

A prisoner who was in the cell next to the one occupied by Brown, stated to a friend that he knew how Brown managed affairs.

On another occasion a letter was smuggled out of the jail, addressed to Brown's mother. It went astray, and having found its way to the dead letter office at Ottawa, was returned to the officials of the London postoffice. Brown has been crestfallen ever since he ascertained that his scheme didn't

Hunt' Bros.' mill closed down Feb. 27, and since then last Saturday was the only day that it could be operated. The ice-jam at the cove is the cause of the water rising, and no time should be lost in devising some means to remove the difficulty. The engineer's department found dytality could not be restored.

Deceased was the leader of the Presbyterian Church and college work in the west, and his death will be generally mourned. Coming here from Toronto in the early eighties, he at once began the work of building up Manitoba College, and succeeded in making it one of the leading Presbyterian institutions of Canada.
Touching references to the deceased were made in many of the city pulpits this evening. The Manitoba College board, at a meeting held last week, recognized that Rev. Dr. King would be unfit for college work for some months at least. and Rev. Dr. Bryce was appointed acting principal, with Rev. Dr. Baird as acting treasurer. A GREAT LOSS TO THE CHURCH.

Rev. Dr. Warden, general agent of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, said of Dr. King: "He was one of the foremost men in the church, and in Manitoba there was no man whose opinion was more valued not only in church affairs, but in the affairs of the province generally. His loss will be very greatly felt in connection with the college in Winnipeg as well as in connection with the whole work of the church in the Northwest. He had in a very special manner the faculty of attracting men to himself, and no man was perhaps so loved throughout the whole church than he was. During his residence in Toronto he was greatly loved; in fact, he was generally esteemed by everybody who came in contact with him."

A DINNER PILL. - Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmlee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion.

GREAT COUNTRY GOOD CLIMATE

Dawson City Weather Superior to Ontario's

In Many Respects - Neither Winds Nor Storms-A Great Future for the Country.

A special correspondent in Dawson City, writing to the Toronto Globe, under date of Jan 27, gives this glowing account of the Klondike:

The greatest drawback to this country is its isolation. It is a tremendous task bringing in a load of mail over the 600 miles of ice between here and Skagway. The police have done nobly so far, but they have not got a suffifact that the ice is not solid, but in cakes two or three tiers deep. When a charge of dynamite was used the cakes spread or were cracked, but the ice spread or were cracked, but the ice every second week. I believe also that we should have telegraph community. cation. The service, I believe, would ter to establish a telegraph system. You may ask, "Is there is any prospect that the business of the Klondike yes. This is A GLORIOUS COUNTRY.

After the mines that are now being worked are worked out under the pres ent methods the real mining of the country will then begin. At present it requires 25-cent dirt to pay; after the introduction of improved methods and machinery two-cent dirt will yield fortunes. I will give you a sample— a fair sample: On the fifth tier from Skookum and sixth tier from Bonanza Creeks, 500 feet up on Gold Hill, the miners are working in from 10 to 16 feet deep of gravel carrying gold; that is, there is that depth of pay gravel. cents to $25 to a pan. It will easily average 50 cents. Now this two feet is about all the miners can afford to "rock," for up on the benches they This leaves from 8 to 14 feet of gravel that averages about 10 cents to a pan (two shovelsful). Some day all this vast body of gravel will be worked by hydraulics. Then you will hear of such an output of gold as will

STARTLE THE WORLD. The benches and hills will far exceed the creeks in the output of gold. There is scarcely a hill adjacent to a gold-bearing creek that will not pay to work by hydraulics. Besides this, all the creeks will be worked over again as soon as the present owners work them out under the present system, and I shall be very much surprised if more gold is not taken out the second time than the first. Yes, I will repeat, I believe in the permanency of this country. All this country wants is a chance. It has not had fair play. It has been maligned as no other country on God's earth. The severity of the climate has been grossly exaggerated. I can candidly say that the weather in Dawson during the winter is many respects far superior to what you have in Toronto. We have

Mrs. Poirier, whose maiden name was Viau, and Parslow will be hanged on Friday next, March 10.

The murder of Poirier was, for atrocity, one of the worst crimes ever committed in this country, and the woman was the principal actor in the awful deed. According to the evidence, Parslow failed on more than one occasion to murder Poirier at the demand of Mrs. Poirier, and when the woman was afraid that Poirier would return to life after several fatal cuts from the hands of Parslow, she, with a butcher's knife, almost severed the head of her husband from the body.

TO BE MURDER!

Charles Clark, of Maitland Street, the Victim.

Found Lying Near the Parlor Stove Severely Injured

By Blows on the Head and Neck-Was Beaten and Robbed by Parties Unknown-He Is 80 Years Old.

What may possibly turn out to be a case of murder was reported to the police this morning, but as yet little can be said about the matter. One thing is certain, and that is, that if the injured man in the case recovers from his wounds it will be a very great surprise.

The injured man in the case is Mr. Charles Clarke, who lives at the north-$1,500 addition to his residence at the cast corner of St. James and Maitland corner of Colborne street and Dufferin streets. He is about 80 years of age, and lives with his sister.

> his sister retired she left him sitting OPENING OF by the coal stove. Yesterday morning when she arose, her aged brother was not in his bed, which had not been disturbed, nor was he sitting at the stove. She searched the house, and found blood-marks by the stove. She went to the parlor, and there found the old man lying across a chair in a semiconscious condition.

Dr. Graham was called, about six o'clock yesterday. He found that Mr. Clark had received some very severe blows on the left side of the neck and head. The flesh is black, badly swollen, and water oozes continually from the half of the upper floor of the public cents to $25 to a pan. It will easily left ear, an indication, the doctor library building. A pay position has average 50 cents. Now this two feet is thinks, that the bone of the skull is fractured.

Mr. Clark told the doctor that he had been hit by somebody, and that his money and watch had been taken. He says he had between $35 and $60 in $5

fected an entrance and assaulted Mr.

Clark without her hearing it. Neither Mr. Clark nor the sister, with whom he lives, were ever married. Mr. Clark is said to be a man of some means, and last week he is reported to have given $300 to his nephew, James Stewart, an employe at J. H. Chapman's. The police are investigating the affair. The opinion has been advanced that the old man fell on the stove, and then staggered to the parlor, and that he must have lost his watch and money before going home. This Dr. Graham thinks unlikely.

No tracks were found near the place on Sunday morning morning, and if the man was assaulted and robbed it must have been between 9:30 and 10 o'clock on Saturday night, when the ground was soft, and about which time of an Idea." His remarks were listened it rained and snowed, the latter melting

Marion Brown, the alleged murderer of P. C. Michael Toohey, has for some time past caused the jail officials considerable trouble, besides protesting against and refusing to eat prison fare. She was for a considerable his forehead, which has materially altered his appearance. Brown refused to tell what he shaved and cut his hair with, and a strict watch was kept on him. His cell and clothes were always searched while he lies in the bath. But for some time nothing was found. Then a piece of glass about two inches square was found, with a very sharp edge, and a prison iron spoon, with the handle edge ground very fine.

A prisoner who was in the cell next to the one occupied by Brown, stated to a friend that he knew how Brown managed affairs. On another occasion a letter was smuggled out of the jail, addressed to Brown's mother. It went astray, and having found its way to the dead letter office at Ottawa, was returned to the officials of the London postoffice. Brown has been crestfallen ever since he ascertained that his scheme didn't

CITY MILLS CLOSED DOWN

The Swollen Thames Puts a Stop to Flour Making-Ice Jam at the Cove Causes Much Trouble.

Owing to the rise of the river, the mills of Messrs. Hunt Bros. and J. D. Saunby are idle, and have been for a week past. The ice-jam at the cove is the cause of the trouble.

Hunt' Bros.' mill closed down Feb. 27, and since then last Saturday was the only day that it could be operated. The ice-jam at the cove is the cause of the water rising, and no time should be lost in devising some means to remove the difficulty. The engineer's department found dynamite unpracticable, because of the fact that the ice is not solid, but in charge of dynamite was used the cakes spread or were cracked, but the ice would not move in any quantity.

The trouble originated in January. when the ice on the river above the mills moved down the river, but the ice at the waterworks dam did not move until some weeks later. By that above had become grounded at the

Dr. King would be unfit for college work for some months at least, and Rev. Dr. Bryce was appointed acting principal, with Rev. Dr. Baird as acting treasurer.

A GREAT LOSS TO THE CHURCH. Rev. Dr. Warden, general agent of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, said of Dr. King: "He was one of the foremost men in the church, and in Manitoba there was no man whose opinion was more valued not only in church affairs, but in the affairs of the province generally. His loss will be very greatly felt in connection with the college in Winnipeg as well as in connection with the whole work of the church in the Northwest. He had in a very special manner the faculty of attracting men to himself, and no man was perhaps so loved throughout the whole church than he was. During his residence in Toronto he was greatly loved; in fact, he was generally esteemed by everybody who came in contact with him."

GREAT COUNTRY GOOD CLIMATE

Dawson City Weather Superior to Ontario's

In Many Respects-Neither Winds Nor Storms-A Great Future for the Country.

A special correspondent in Dawson City, writing to the Toronto Globe, under date of Jan 27, gives this glowing account of the Klondike:

The greatest drawback to this country is its isolation. It is a tremendous task bringing in a load of mail over the 600 miles of ice between here and Skagway. The police have done nobly so far, but they have not got a sufficient quantity of dogs. Once they get cakes two or three tiers deep. When a a proper dog train service established we hope to receive letters at least every second week. I believe also that we should have telegraph communication. The service, I believe, would pay. Anyone here would pay cable rates. It would not be a difficult matter to establish a telegraph system. You may ask, "Is there is any prostime the double quantity of ice from pect that the business of the Klondike will keep up?" I answer emphatically yes. This is

A GLORIOUS COUNTRY.

After the mines that are now being worked are worked out under the present methods the real mining of the country will then begin. At present it requires 25-cent dirt to pay; after the introduction of improved methods and machinery two-cent dirt will yield fortunes. I will give you a sample—a fair sample: On the fifth tier from Skookum and sixth tier from Bonanza Creeks, 500 feet up on Gold Hill, the miners are working in from 10 to 16 feet deep of gravel carrying gold; that library building. A new partition has been put up, leaving a fair-sized room in the center of the building, in which the nucleus of a museum, donated to average 50 cents. Now this two feet is about all the miners can afford to "rock," for up on the benches they have to use the old-fashioned rockers. This leaves from 8 to 14 feet of gravel the library board some time ago is on that averages about 10 cents to a pan (two shovelsful). Some day all this

STARTLE THE WORLD. The benches and hills will far exceed the creeks in the output of gold. There is scarcely a hill adjacent to a gold-bearing creek that will not pay to work by hydraulics. Besides this, all the creeks will be worked over again as soon as the present owners work them out under the present system, and I shall be very much surprised if more gold is not taken out the second time than the first. Yes, I will repeat, I believe in the permanency of this country. All this country wants is chance. It has not had fair play. It has been maligned as no other country on God's earth. The severity of the climate has been grossly exaggerated. I can candidly say that the weather in Dawson during the winter is in many respects far superior to what you have in Toronto. We have NEITHER WIND NOR STORMS here. If a man is frozen it often occurs that he is too heavily clad at the time, or it might happen that he had

"Thanks; but I would rather hear no more," cried Eden, hastily; and she made her escape, but with such flushed cheeks and perturbed looks, that Captain Lyssendon muttered something beneath his breath not very com-plimentary to the wizard; and even the heedless major looked grave, and felt afraid that his coadjutor had carried the fun too far.

While Eden, who had returned to Flip's stall, was restoring to their places some dominoes that had been thrown out of their box, she found thrown out of their box, she found the smile for smile, and little thinking how those baleful, bright eyes were how those baleful, bright eyes were lottery should be instituted. The projesal was received with ac-lamations, and Major Hallis was deputed to manage it. This he did in a style peculiar to himself, and after having, with a little help from Captain Lyssendon, divided the collection into lots, he invited those present to draw tickets from the bag with which H and P provided him.

But the folded papers it contained were scrawled with hieroglyphics, and, therefore, their educations having been very much neglected, the major told them, and on one but himself being able to read Sanscrit, it was he who announcea the number of the lot that fell to the holder's share.

They were the charms she had sold to Frank Lyssendon, and and it must have been by his hand, or at all events by his connivance, that they were bestowed on Eden Aubrey. CHAPTER XII.

Happily unconscious of the ill-will with which she was regarded, Eden carefully placed all hers and Lottie's treasures in a basket, which Rifles promised to bring to the cottage presently; reserving only a flagon of Eaude-Cologne to carry in her pocket to her mother, and the bunch of charms, which, little dreaming how much evil they would entail upon her, she fastened to the chain of her mother's hair, from which hung a little gold watch, one of the few treasures, prized beyond its worth because it had been her father's.

This done, she was gratefully clining Mr. Stretby's offer to send her and her sister home in the phaeton, when Mrs. Merstham swept across the room, leaning on the arm of Frank Lyssendon, whom she had invited to lead her to her carriage.

She beckoned the wondering Eden to approach, and accosted her with an some sign of intimacy betwixt her and Frank Lyssendon.

Company. The safe shot into this hole through a window hardly a foot larger than itself on either side. So cleanly did it cut its way through the planking which was nailed across the window, that only four or five bricks were torn away on the right hand side. The safe was found when preparations were made to start a laundry in the Norris building, and the cellar had to be cleaned out to make room for London Board to Apply for Incorporation.

Sale of Cheese on the Local Market Characterized as a Farce-Rules Broken With Impunity-Death-Blow to the Half-Pound "Up Beam" Custom.

The members of the London Cheese Board and men interested in cheese the district surrounding London, gathered at the county buildings on Saturday to discuss questions relating to the disposal and sale of cheese. The attendance was large and the proceedings were carried on with a spirit of enthusiasm.

Mr. Gideon Decker, of Delaware, was elected chairman, and Mr. Ezra Hunt, of North Street factory, secretary. Mr. S. H. Nagle, Muncey Road, was called upon to explain the objects of the gathering. Speaking from 25 years' experience in the dairying business, Mr. Nagie said he had concluded that dariymen all the country over lacked interest in the business, and allowed people who knew nothing about the business to run them, and just about everything in the dairying line. It was needless to speak of the gross impositions to which salesmen and makers of cheese had been subjected for a long time, but the schemes of the buyers of last year had capped the climax. The rule compelling salesmen to sell on the board only, he said, was demonstrated by last season's work to be simply a scheme to corner factorymen. The board was all right. If the rules were adhered to it would be a con-venience to both buyers and sellers. Last year the rules had been violated, the penalty was applied, and offenders laughed, because they knew there was no way of enforcing the rules by law. The question of cheese inspection would have to be considered, and also the half-pound "up-beam" matter. In order to protect themselves, something would have to be done. He advised that the meeting follow in the steps the Listowel district makers, and apply for the incorporation of five members. If incorporation were secured both buyers and salesmen would be amenable to the law in case of viola-tion of the rules of the board. Mr. Decker spoke of the one-half pound "up-beam" weights, and advanced the opinion that under the present system factorymen were being docked considerably more than half a pound. In most cases it was about one and a half pounds per box.

Discussion followed these remarks, and the general opinion was that it would be more satisfactory if the cheese were paid for according to the weight, even if the price was a frac-tion less per pound. The effect under this system was that the average number of pounds of milk required to a pound of cheese was made higher, and it was a great injustice to the maker. Many of the members were willing to concede the half-pound, but objected to the concession of anything

Mr. John Geary explained that the "up-beam" system had never been adopted by the London on board. It had been forced on them that day, one of the most horrible by the buyers, who always bought subboiler explosions in the history of De- ject to this rule, and the salesmen altroit, occurred below, and a little for- lowed them to do so, with little or no ward of the room in which Hillier was objection. He thoroughly understood the position of the buyer, who wanted Among the torn and dismembered to make all he could, but he knew also bodies there were found in the hot that the buyers had never acted ruins the remains of George J. Hillier, squarely with the salesmen, and the the bookbinder. But the safe was not schemes of last summer were the most iniquitous he had ever seen employed.

Then the factorymen would

Mr. H. J. Smith, Delaware, thought there should be a definition of what up-beam" should be. Mr. J. C. Dance, Northwood, said he had never considered the one-half pound "up-beam" a thing of very great importance.

James Glenn, of Glanworth, thought cheese could be sold to better advantage if shipped in consignments by the London board to some honest commission merchant on the other side.

Samuel Dart, Westminster, who has had experience in shipping consignments, said so far as he was concerned, it had proved most satisfactory. He thought if some of the moneyed people could be induced to come over here and buy up the factories and hire good men to run them, it would be a good scheme. His reason for giving the board the go-by was certain actions of the buyers.

On motion of S. P. Brown, Maple Grove, and Mr. Coughlin, it was decided that in future the London board will not give the half-pound "up-beam," but simply beam weight.

The matter of selling on Saturday only was thoroughly thrashed out. Mr. Ezra Hunt pointed out that this was one of the rules the buyers had asked for, and had been the first to ing on market day, nor to sign any agreement to that effect." The question of cheese inspection was warmly discussed. Mr. Decker spoke strongly in favor of cheese being inspected before being sold.

Mr. Lee, of West Nissouri, thought great injustice was the only legacy that accrued to makers by the present system. The sale of cheese on the London board he characterized as a farce. Others were of the same opinion.

Mr. John Geary thought that was carrying the matter a little too far. It would not be possible to inspect the cheese before buying.

Mr. J. S. Pearce pointed out the impracticability of the suggestion. Buyers would only be satisfied with their own inspection. To inspect the cheese in every factory before the sale was impossible, and unless a buyer inspected all, he might better inspect none, because, the chances were that he would not get any of the cheese he had in-spected when he came to the board, and the time lost in inspecting a few factories was valuable. Under incor-poration this would be fair to all. In case of any dispute between buyer and seller the arbitration committee would have to decide, and both parties would be compelled to abide by their finding. A motion by Mr. Lee and Mr. Sanderson to make all sales on the board bona fide, not subject to inspection after sale, was voted down.

Mr. E. S. Hunt and J. C. Dance mov ed for the appointment of a committee to secure the incorporation of the London Cheese Board, and this carried.

The committee appointed were: G. Decker, Delaware; S. H. Nagle, Muncey Road; J. C. Dance, Northwood; S. P. Brown, Maple Grove, and James Crinkshaw, White Oak. At a subse-quent meeting of the committee Mr. Decker was elected chairman and Mr. Brown secretary. The committee will meet on Saturday next.

days ago, receiving a fall on a hard floor. Solicitor for Samuel Hilton, Sparta has issued a writ against Chas. Stafford and the other executors of the late William D. Hilton, who died in Detroit in August last, to set aside deceased's will. The plaintiff and other members of the family were not mentioned in the will.

Mrs. Mary Jane Sinclair, wife of Mr. James Sinclair, North Yarmouth, died Friday morning after an illness of two weeks from pneumonia, aged 31 years. The demise of the lady is rendered all the more sad from the fact that she was married on Feb. 15 last. She was a daughter of Mr. John McGregor, of Shedden.

The Windsor board of nealth held a meeting Friday night in regard to the case of Ferris, who was taken to the pest house last Thursday, supposed to be suffering from smallpox. After some discussion, a resolution was passed, appointing Dr. Coventry to make the diagnosis of the case. If he cannot attend, some other doctor will be called. probably Dr. Duffield, of Detroit.

The Walkerville council is preparing a bylaw to fetch the Bell Telephone Company to time. It is claimed by the town electrician that the wires of the telephone company are not sufficiently insulated to protected the buildings in town, and that, although the company has been repeatedly asked to place its lines in better shape, all of the requests have been ignored. Now it is proposed the company to do so. The death is announced at Mersea, Essex county, of Isaac Hartwick, aged 73 years, from the grip. His was an interesting life. He was born in a log cabin on the spot where London now stands, there being no other dwelling in sight. From there, when he was a youth, his parents moved Ridgetown, where, at the age of 25, he married Miss Caroline Everly, daughter of Joseph Everly, of Ridgetown. Shortly after their marriage the young couple removed to Zone township, Kent.

The residence of Andrew McFarlane, near Cowal, was destroyed by fire the other morning, and the family had a narrow escape with their lives. All were sound asleep upctairs, when Miss McFarlane, hearing a noise below, went to the door, and found the lower portion of the house almost enveloped with flames. She quickly aroused the rest of the occupants, who were entirely ignorant of the devouring ele-They had soarcely time to snatch a few scanty erticles of apparel and flee before the nouse was completely enveloped. As it was, Miss McFarlane, who had to assist her father, who is well advanced in years, was badly burned. Everything was lost, including two gold watches and $20 in money.

On Thursday morning, when a G. T. R. train, running at a high rate of speed, was about two concessions south of Burgessville, a slight jar was felt by the passengers. Some of them looking out the car windows as the train crossed the concession saw a team of horses tearing madly down the road. Then they knew something must have been struck, and when the train stopped they expected to find the mangled remains of a man. The train backed up, and the passengers and trainmen were gratified to find Samuel Cassley gathering himself together, but almost entirely unhurt. "I thought I had plenty of time to get across," said Cassley, "before the train get through the cut. When a

Other than this Cassley did not exhibit any great concern about his narrow escape. The wagon was badly smashed, and how the driver escaped is what the passengers could not understand.

CIRCUS COMBINE

How the Old-Time Antagonists Have at Last Got Together.

New York, March 6 .- The concentration of the circus business in a few hands has reached an astounding point. The Barnum & Bailey shows became the property of James A. Bailey, the surviving partner, by payment to Mr. Barnum's heirs a sum said to have been $700,000. They have been in England over a year, and now the news is that they are to remain there. Mr. Bailey has merged them into a limited liability company. The particulars are given by the trustworthy London correspondent of the Clipper. Mr. Bailey sells the property and trade mark for $2,250,000, of which he gets two-thirds to pass a new bylaw which will compel in money and one-third in stock. The rest of 400,000 shares, of the par value of £1 each, will be offered to the general public, and options are now quot ed on the stock exchange, at an advance of 25 per cent. Vast buildings are to be put up in London, and Mr. Bailey will be the managing director. The coalition of circuses in this country has been remarkable. The late Adam Forepaugh was for many years

Barnum's only considerate rival. The Forepaugh menagerie especially held its own against the king of showmen. After a while the two ended their fight will take care of the liver.

"The way to be happy is to have a good liver and a good heart."

You look to the heart

with a treaty, under which they divided the country, and their routes no longer conflicted. After the death of Forepaugh his shows were bought by Bailey, and were operated under the Forepaugh name.

But there was a third concern, hardly heard of in the east, but of renown in the west, that of the Sells Bros., who kept up a strong opposition. But they and Bailey have coalesced, and now the only big circus and menagerie in America is lettered on the fences along its tours as the Sells Bros.-Forepaugh shows.

The history of the three Sells brothers is told interestingly by a correspondent of the Dramatic News. They started in 1871 as traveling auctioneers at Wahrington's Court House, O. Heming & Cooper's circus was exhibiting there the day they came to town. They concluded to follow the show a few days, and take advantage of the crowd to sell their goods. Violent opposition from the show people inten-sified the determination of the brothers to keep along with them during the season. The auctioneers secretly laid plans for embarking in the circus business the following year. They have made large fortunes. James A. Bailey was the advance agent of Heming & Cooper at the time the Sellses so vigor. ously asserted themselves as auctioneers. Now, after the lapse of more than a quarter of a century, during which Bailey and they have been continuously in the circus line, the old antagonists find themselves in the closest business relations.

GEN. GOMEZ'S PLAN

Asks That 10,000 Cubans Be Enlisted in the Service-Agoncillo's Rescue.

Havana, March 6.-Gen. Maximo Gomex asks Governor-General Broke to reduce the American army of occupation to 10,000 men, retaining 10,000 Cu-ban soldiers in the service of the military government. At least, so says Senor Manuel de Cespedos, who acted as interpreter at yesterday's council, adding that Gen. Broke took the proposition under consideration, and promised to consult Washington. Gen. Broke himself says nothing on the subject.

If any Cuban soldiers are enlisted, it will be under American officers, and the old organizations will be broken up. Were 10,000 enlisted, this would allow $300,000 to be divided among the remainder, less those already employed on the streets and the rural police,

He was a native of Ireland, and came to Canada when a young man, settling in the wild forest of what was later the township of Usborne, Huron county, where he spent most of his life, a busy and prosperous farmer. He was widely known and highly respected. His death severs one of the few links with pioneer life in the township. A family of five sons and three daughters survive. The remains will be taken to Exeter this evening, thence to the old homestead for interment. Mrs. McGill died some years ago.

Mr. Joseph Baldwin, who lives on the Union road, about three miles from Port Stanley, was driving to the village with his niece to attend the revival services in the Methodist Church, when he was surprised and somewhat frightened by two men, who stopped his horse. Mr. Baldwin spoke to them and received the answer, "Hold up your hands," and a revolver was held close to his nose. Firmly believing he was in a bad predicament, he shouted to the horse, and it jumped forward. Several revolver shots were fired at him. Mr. Baldwin came on to Fort at a faster rate than usual. He left his niece, Miss Stacey, and went to Union and secured a warrant for one young man, returned to the Port and secured the services of Constables Stanton and Going, and started out to locate the parties, but made no arrests, although having an interview with the parties he suspected. General belief is that was done by two young men as a lark. On the evening of March 2, Mr. Charles King, ex-alderman, underwent a similar experience.

FAT STOCK SHOW. Secretary Browne stated that a committee of the Fat Stock Association had been in the city, and looked over the buildings, and reported general satisfaction. They would ask the board to supply buildings, light, heat, fodder and water. The board will endeavor to get this show for London this year. A committee, composed of Secretary Browne, Col. Leys, Vice-President Little, W. M. Spencer and James Brown, was appointed to interview the city council, civic body would be willing to make if the show comes here. The next item was the setting of the fair date for 1899. For a number of reasons it was decided to hold it from the 7th of September to the 16th. The Western will open just at the close of the Industrial at Toronto. On recommendation of Secretary Browne and James Brown, chairman of the grounds committee, a number of alterations will be made. The road on the west side of the horticultural and poultry buildings has been practically useless, and the recommendation was made that the dairy, horticultural and poultry buildings be placed against the west fence, combining the three buildings. A "lean-to" for offices, etc., 11 feet wide and about 100 feet long, was also recommended to be built alongside a strip of fence near the King street entrance. This move will leave the center of the grounds more open, and will The grounds and building committee ed to call for tenders for an extension to the machinery sheds.

Mr. George Taylor thought the street railway should pay for the privilege of the "loop" through the fair grounds. Referred to a committee to report.

Vice-President Little, Mayor Wilson and the chairman of the attractions committee were appointed a railway committee, to get the lowest rates possible for visitors to the fair. The cheap rates of last year were in great measure responsible for the gratifying success of the Western for 1898.

To the Board of Education of the City of London: The petition of the undersigned citizens, ratepayers, parents and others interested in educational matters in the city respectfully showeth 1. That no provision is made in our public schools for the training of our girls in cooking and sewing, or in any other such practical branches of education as are generally included under the term "domestic science."

2. That those subjects are taught in the schools of England, France, Sweden, Germany, the United States and other countries, as well as in Mon-treal, Halifax, Kingston and other parts of Canada, and are found to be of great benefit to the community. That the educational authorities in the countries where these subjects are taught are highly favorable to the continuance of the same, and to their introduction wherever their educational value is appreciated. 4. That at present there is a very general demand for an education which deals with actual facts with things as well as with books, in order that technical skill may result from the proper exercise of observation, judgment and applied knowledge. 5. That whilst the school system of jority were against it. Ontario tends to the introduction of special subjects for training in various departments, according to the numerous demands of practical life, no provision has as yet been made in the London public schools for the teaching of those special subjects more peculi-arly fitted for girls as distinguished from boys, such as would direct their tastes and talents towards the home duties which will be required from the majority of them. 6. That we are thoroughly convinced that the teaching of such subjects, comprehended under the name of domestic science, would prove of incalculable value to girls in their relations to health, home, economy and happi-

Nelles, CITY COUNCIL DEGRADED

So Says Rev. A. G. Harris, of West London-The Reverend Gentleman Wants No More Such Experiences.

During the morning service at the Empress Avenue Methodist Church, West London, yesterday, the pastor, Rev. A. G. Harris, said that he had an experience in the early part of the past week, which he hoped would never occur again. When the deputation waited on the city council to protest against the granting of the two licenses in West London, the council never took any notice of them. Mr. Harris said that the city council were certainly degraded, one of the members being so intoxicated that he could hardly sit in his chair. The speaker further said that the city was in the hands of the liquor people, although the great ma-
