Successful Trip of a Steamer Across the Atlantic with Petroleum for Fuel. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 21.—The first steamer to cross the Atlantic burning only liquid fuel was the British steamship arrived at this port yesterday from Shields and Dartmouth. The Baku Standard sailed from Dartmouth on Jan. 20 with petroleum residuum as her only fuel. This residuum is a product of oil of little value and no it as fuel should prove a success. The most important advantage discovered on the run was that perfect combustion was possible, an end never before obtained when coal is used in the fire room. The consumption was about 20 tons of the fuel in 24 hours, while in the same time 36 tons of bituminous coal is consumed. On this

[Special to the ADVERTISER,]

TORONTO, Feb. 21. - During the haif hour's sitting to-day an endless number of petitions on every conceivable subject were read to an inattentive audience, and a long list of bills were launched upon a precarious and uncertain existence. Owing to Speaker Ballantyne's absence through having contracted a heavy cold, Hon. Jacob Baxter, president of the last Parliament, occupied the seat on the Dr. Willoughby asked in how many cases, since the introduction of the ballot, had petitions been filed against the return of members to the Legislature, and in how many cases had a scrutiny taken place, and what was the cost in each case of the scrutiny.

Mr. Clarke asked—Did the Government, in the years 1892 or 1893 instruct Mr. J. K. Stewart, Provincial inspector of licenses, to inquire into the operation of the license law in the city of Hamilton, and as to the accommodation provided by the places to which licenses were given in the city? Has the Provincial inspector made a report to the Government in relation to these matters, and if so, did he find that places were licensed which had not the requisite accommodation?

Mr. Harcourt replied that Mr. Stewart had been instructed to make a report in regard to the matter, and had found that several places were not in accord with the regulations. In answer to a further query from Mr. Clarke, he said he was not averse to presenting the full report to the House if it were asked for in the usual way.

Another petition for amendments to the litel law was presented by Mr. Meredith signed by Mr. John Cameron, president of C. C. Hodgins, Lucan, head adviser J. Blackburn, chairman of the Free Press Printing Company; Mr. Thomas Coffey, publisher of the Catholic Record, and Mr. George Wrigley, of the Sun Publishing Company.

A petition from the County Council of Middlesex-signed by W. S. Calvert, warden, and T. E. Robson, clerk-relative to the reduction of railway rates was presented by Mr. Tooley. The passenger rates at present, asserts the document, are excessive. These should be reduced to a maximum rate of 2 cents per mile for first class passengers, and 12 cents per mile for second class passengers. Immediately after the House had risen, the Government was waited upon by a deputation from the Grand Council of the Royal Templars. It consisted of Rev. A. M. Phillips, Dr. A. Robertson, ex-M.P., Milton, and Mr. W. W. Buchanan, Hamilton. These gentlemen were received by Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. A. S. Hardy, Hon. Richard Harcourt, Hon. G. W. Ross, Hon. John Dryden and Hon. E. H. Bronson.

Mr. Buchanan laid the request of the Templars (whose membership, he said, reached 15,000) before the Cabinet. The delegation, he said, had just come from the annual convention of the order, at which general gratification had been expressed at the position assumed by the Ontario Government. Bearing in mind, however, the law's delays, and as an earnest of better things to come, the convention was anxious to see certain necessary reforms in the license law made at the present session. Consequently the Grand Council had decided to ask: 1. That every license shall be considered as a new one, and that, before any license be granted, a petition in its favor, signed by a majority of the electors of the polling subdivision in which it was proposed to establish the license, should be necessary. 2. That no liquor should be allowed to be consumed upon the licensed premises. 3. That the proportion of licenses to the population should not be more than two for the first 1,000 of population and one for every additional 800.

The first provision, Mr. Buchanan said, far from being sweeping, was quite within the spirit of the present act. The second provision was similar to that contained in Baku Standard, a bulk oil carrier, which was aimed at the consumption of the license law of Nova Scotia. It liquor in the bar-room, and would greatly diminish the habit of "treating." The third provision, he thought, was fully in accord with the trend of public sentiment. The proportion which it asknown use unless the experiment of using signed was often exceeded. Toronto, for instance, had one license to every 1,300 inhabitants, and in Hamilton until recently the proportion had been very large. Rev. A. M. Phillips, in his address, explained that the clause relating to consumption on the premises was an effort to curtail the treating practice. The object was not to prevent the consumption of run the residuum was from Russian oil, but liquor in the building in which it was puron the outward trip Pennsylvania oil fuel chased, but the person buying would be detected, Wiman offered to transfer to Mr. Canada.

Sir Oliver Mowat, in reply, said that the Government, not knowing that the temperance workers desired anything further than had already been conceded, had given the matter no further consideration. He could, however, give them the assurance of a Cabinet consideration of their demands. At present no further promise could be

The Business Community of New York Startled

By the Arrest of Erastus Wiman on Charges of Forgery.

R. J. Dun & Cc.'s Agency the Complainants-The Amount Involved Placed at $229,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Erastus Wiman, formerly manager for R. G. Dun & Co.'s mercantile agency, builder of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railroad, and a prominent advocate of the annexation of Canada to the United States, was arrested to-day charged with forgeries mounting to $229,000. He was arraigned before Judge Martine and committed to the Tombs in default of $25,000 bail.

The arrest was made this afternoon at the office of Mr. Wiman's son-in-law, Norman S. Willer, in the Washington building, on a bench warrant issued by Judge Martine, soon after the grand jury had handed down two indictments charging Wiman with forgery in the second degree. Mr. Wiman expressed some surprise at his arrest, and then asked if there would be prison. any opportunity to get bail. As soon as it was known that Mr. Wiman had been arrested Assistant District Attorney Lindsay made known the complaint on which the in-dictments were founded. Dun & Co. except in regular and proper business of the agency, and that he should not use the name of the association in issuing, making, drawing or indorsing any note, bill of exchange, draft or other obligation except only in indersements for the account of the association. He also had a right to sign firm checks for firm purposes only. All Mr. Wiman's business relations to Mr. Dun were expressed in those

The complaint goes on to say that "by various acts of embezzlement through misrepresentation, concealments, breaches of his agreement, misuse of the powers confided to him and gross usurpation of powers with which he was not trusted, he succeeded during the years 1889, 1890, 1891, 1892 and up to February, 1893, in stealing from Mr. Dun the enormous sum of $229,018 90. He has committed so many crimes that the selection for prosecution is difficult, but out of the long list of his offenses I have selected for presentation to you, two forgeries and two or more larcenies, so perfectly clear, so easily established and so indefensible that Madison Square Bank. without reference almost to others. "In February, 1893, R. G. Dun & Co. owed upwards of $10,000 to E. W. Bullinger, of this city for materials purchased on Feb. 6, 1893. Wiman being in urgent straits for money, directed the cashier of R. G. Dun & Co. to make out a check to the order of Mr. Bullinger, and instead of transmitting it to him in part payment of his account deliberately forged the name of E. W. Bullinger on the back of the check and deposited it to his own credit in his own bank. The account of Bullinger on the books of the firm was debited with that house in the usual course of time. "A few days before the Bullinger case just cited, viz., on Jan. 20, 1893, Wiman committed another forgery under circumstances very similar. On that date R. G. Dun & Co. owed the Campbell Printing Press and Manufacturing Company the sum of $5,580 for two printing presses purchased in May, 1892. Wiman procured from the cashier of R. G. Dun & Co. a check to the order of Ogden Brewer, treasurer of the Campbell Company, on the pretext that he desired to pay the account. He then went to the Campbell Company, and telling them that R. G. Dun & Co. were short of funds, asked them whether they would like notes for their account instead of cash. On Mr. Brewer acquiescing he made two notes covering the amount in his own name and delivered them to him. He then forged the name of Ogden Bower, treasurer, on the back of the check and appropriated it to his own use. "Mr. Dun first learned of any of Mr. Wiman's crimes in the latter part of February, 1893. Neither he nor his assistants in R. G. Dun & Co. had any suspicion of the extent of them or of the amount embezzled by him. That could only be ascertained by a critical examination of their books, which has recently been supplied, but on discovering some of them Mr. Dun immediately, on the 20th day of February, 1893, terminated his contract with Wiman, dismissed him from learning that Wiman was insolvent, refused to accept them or to receive any preference over his other creditors. Wiman, therefore made a formal assignment for the beuefit of his creditors, but his assets have amounted to almost nothing.

"Dr. Dun did not submit the proof of Wiman's crimes to the authorities on first discovering them, because he was moved by considerations of sympathy for Wiman's amily, with whom he had been on terms of friendship for many years, and because of the piteous appeals for mercy which Wiman made to him in a letter.

"In the second place he had then no appreciation of the extent of Wiman's embezzlement, nor the length of time during which he had systematically abused his confidence. The whole history of his many doings had to be unearthed from the voluminous records of the business of four or five years.

"Again Mr. Dun was led to believe by the gross exaggeration of Wiman as to the value of Wiman's interest in Staten Island that it was possible to realize something substantial for his creditors, many of whom would suffer more severely than Mr. Dun himself, although not in so large a sum.

"In view of the fraud practiced upon them as well as upon himself, and upon the conviction that a man of Wiman's character ought no longer to be allowed to masquerade as an honest man in this community, and out of a sense of obligation to the mercantile world, he has decided to expose Wiman's conduct and to hand him over to the authorities."

There was no signature to the foregoing complaint, but its authorship is credited to ex-District Attorney Delancey Nicoll. The names of the witnesses signed were: R. D. Douglas, E. W. Bullinger, Ogden Brower, treasurer Campbell Printing Press Company, and cashier of R. Dun & Co. On being arraigned before Judge Martine,

Mr. Wiman was asked whether he would furnish bail to-night. "No, sir," said Mr. Wiman, "I do not intend to. Judge Martine then held him in $25,000

ROYAL TEMPLARS.

Second Day's Session-Officers Elected-Temperance Committee's Report.

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—The second day's session of the Grand Council of the Royal Templars of Temperance was swelled by the arrival of a large number of delegates, who had come late on the previous day. The first matter taken up was the proposition to change the laws so as to permit the institution of an independent select degree in each Province for the admission of select members, who were unable to institute select degrees in their own council. This was discussed, but not adopted.

The report of the committee on legislation was submitted and considered. The action of the grand councilor in organizing the union prohibition committee and pressing the prohibition campaign during the past year was heartily indorsed, as was also the action of the various conventions, and satisfaction was expressed with the result of the interview with the Ontario Government.

A resolution advising the union prohibition committee and the Dominion Council of the Royal Templars to take steps with a view to securing the nomination and election to both the Legislature and the House of Commons of prominent independent candidates was unanimously adopted.

During the discussion on this motion the suggestion that the political parties who desired to show favor to the prohibition movement might be induced to aid in securing the election of a few uncompromising advocates of the cause met with much

It was decided to appoint a deputation towait upon the Provincial Government and ask for immediate legislation increasing the restrictions upon the liquor traffic during the time that the decision of the courts is being awaited.

The temperance committee's report thanked the Dominion Government and Gen. Herbert for their action in prohibiting canteens in volunteer camps, and expressed the hope that the same course would be adopted by the military department at military schools and posts.

During the afternoon a deputation was appointed composed of W. W. Buchannan, editor of the Templar, Hamilton; D. Robertson, H. D. Miller and Rev. A. M. Phillips, B.D., of Toronto, to wait upon the Government and to present the resolutions adopted at the morning session, and this deputation met the Government at 4

The committee on White Cross work recognized and approved the many excellent publications of the order with respect to this department of the work, and also the letters and articles which have appeared in the Templar from time to time. They urged that the councils continue to prosecute the work by bringing the question to the front at public meetings, and ermons, as well as by the circulation of literature.

A number of fraternal greetings were received from other temperance societies, and from the Royal Templar grand bodies of the other provinces, and were suitably responded to by the committee appointed specially for that purpose. The committee on sick and fraternal benefit presented a very satisfactory report, showing that the funds were in an excellent condition, and that the losses during the past year, with a largely increased membership, were upwards of $1,000 less than the year previous. A resolution was introduced and unanimously carried authorizing the presiding officer and secretary to prepare an energetic protest to the Dominion Government against the ratification of the French treaty, and to call upon the local councils throughout the Province to use their influence upon the local members of Parliament to secure their opposition to the ratification of the CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—The fear that the young lady Sunday school teachers who instruct the heathen in the Chinese Sunday school will be injured by the evil influences of the celestials has caused serious trouble in the aristocratic First Presbyterian Church of this city. In opposition to the school which the church has established some of the gentlemen of the congregation have formed an "anti-Chinese Sunday School Society," of which Dr. J. W. Carr is president. They claim that because a lady teacher is assigned to each Chinese scholar, the teachers, who almost without exception are young, are in great danger from the close personal contact with the Mongolians. Cases of marriage of teacher and pupil are cited, and a determined effort to rescue the young ladies from possible peril will be made. An entertainment given by 100 Chinamen to as many Chicago ladies at the church last night brought matters to a focus. The oceasion was the Chinese Sunday school New Year social.

A few days later, while Mrs. Beresford was standing near the horse's head, the animal sneezed in her face. Soon afterward she was stricken with chills and pains and swelling of the forehead. The husband and children have also been exposed and their condition is being closely watched. The health authorities killed the horse and will cause the arrest of the traders who sold it to Beresford at a price that was ridiculously low.

Annual Meeting of the Western Fair Association,

The Retiring Officers and Directors Re-elected.

Encouraging Financia Statement-Out of Debt-More Prizes Wanted and Better Live Stock Accommodation Asked For.

The Western Fair Association has paid all existing debts during the last year and now stands without liabilities and over $5,000 to its credit in the bank. The annual meeting of the association was held in the city hall yesterday. There was a fairly large attendance of representatives, and President Porte occupied the chair. In submitting the seventh annual report the president congratulated the members on another prosperous year, and went on to refer to the success of last year's show. He laid particular stress on the encouraging progress made in the live stock department and noted that the Western, like many other Canadian fairs, had suffered from the World's Fair. This drawback had been providentially offset by favorable weather on the principal days. Continuing the report says:

It will be seen by the financial statement that the capital account has been increased by the payment made on real estate of $2,250. This, we are proud to say, is the last payment on the additional lands acquired by the association on the west side of the park proper. The total paid for this real estate is $8,900, not including interest. Besides this the amount expended by this association on Queen's Park property for construction or permanent improvement is $7,658 48. The other assets in the statement consist of furniture and chattels, $3,134 10. These, with cash in bank, make our present assets $24,700, and there are no outstanding liabilities of any kind. The buildings and lands are conditionally held by the city of London.

It was necessary during the past year to make considerable repairs to the storage barn for straw and hay. New floors were put into the horse stalls requiring them and other repairs were made to each of the buildings, besides some important internal alterations which were needed for the better display of the exhibits, and for office accommodation.

Important alterations were also made on the horse ring, such as enlarging and raising the attraction platform, moving back the judge's stand, raising the roof of the band stand, etc., to enable our patrons to view the attractions and hear the music provided from any portion of our grand stands. The expenditure incurred in these repairs and improvements has been charged to expense account. The financial statement is hereto attached, and having been audited as usual, its correctness is attested by Mr. G. F. Jewell, F.C.A., auditor for the city of London.

The thanks of the association are especially due to the breeders, agriculturists and manufacturers for the interest manifested by them in the success attained and the desire to assist in making each successive Western Fair more attractive than its predecessor. The continued liberal patronage by the public is also a cause for thanks, and is the best evidence of the ever-increasing popularity of our exhibition.

Your directors wish to acknowledge the hearty co-operation of the city council and water commissioners. In this connection the iron fence around the ornamental pond and fountain should be particularly referred to, being a very necessary improve-

Nor do we wish the attentions shown at all times by the railways and express companies' managers and officials to be forgotten. Our acknowledgments are also due the citizens and others who contributed in money and many handsome special prizes. To the press of the city and Province, who so willingly assist by spreading far and wide the high standing of the Western Fair in their well-written articles, our thanks are also due.

Every year it was getting harder and harder to run the show and make it a financial success. He did not think the expenses could be curtailed any more and the prize list enlarged, but if there was any readjustment of the existing prizes it could be easily attended to.

Mr. J. W. Little explained that it would be very imprudent to offer a greater prize list this year. One wet day would nearly wipe out the balance in the bank. The profits of the Toronto exhibition were only about equal to the Western, notwithstanding that it received a grant of $80,000 from the city of Toronto.

The election of directors then took place, and they in turn afterwards elected officers. The retiring directors were unanimously re-elected, as also were the officers. Following is a complete list of the directors

-Typhoid fever continues to cause much suffering and death thoughout the country. In Ontario last year, according to the Provincial Board of Health, this disease was reported from all the cities, from 62 per sent, of the towns, 32 per cent. of the lownships and 26 per cent. of the villages. In the large majority of cases the disease arises from the use of water charged with excremental filth. In most cases the cause has been traced to the well. Local boards of health have been instructed to continue the energy and action inaugurated a year ago in the inspection of drains, cesspools and outhouses. The disease could be entirely driven out if the people insured themselves against unsanitary surround-

-In Spain this winter great distress is prevalent among the laboring classes. Many hundreds of unemployed men are walking the streets of Madrid, Cadiz and other cities in the vain search for work. One day recently 4,000 men went in a body to the Government offices in Madrid asking for relief in the shape of work for themselves and families. The Government was able to do but little for them. Brigandage has greatly increased, and its spread is attributed to the distress among the rural population. Spain has a "protective" tariff; but it does not appear to work there with any greater success than in ther continental countries that have been ajoled by selfish men into adopting it.

FLEPHONES FOR THE CLERGY Every minister in the city should be supplied with a telephone by his congregation. No doctor can afford to be without telephonic connection, for he knows the value to his patients of this agency for speedy communication. And no clergyman should be left without a telephone, as his presence in the households of members of his flock is often sought for with as great urgency as is that of the medical adviser. It is humiliating to a preacher to be frequently called up by way of a neighbor's telephone. to his inconvenience and to the loss of the company, which does not provide for such farming out of its instruments. Church managers who have not already added this necessary instrument to the outfit of their pastor should no longer delay. Telephonic communication is an absolute necessity to all men occupying public or semi-public positions, and the clergyman who does not enfoy it is handicapped in the performance of his labors

CONSUMPTION COMBATTED.

Every recurring winter the ravages of consumption are brought forcibly to public attention by the various provincial and state boards of health. It is satisfactory to learn that though the number of deaths from consumption annually registered in Ontario is still very large, there is an improvement which may be regarded as an indication that the ravages of the destroyer may yet be effectually combatted by medical science and the education of the people.

In his interesting address on "Tuberculosis in Ontario," given before the Provincial Board of Health the other day, Dr. Bryce pointed out that during the year 1882 there had been 2,464 deaths from consumption in the Province, while in 1892, with a largely increased population, there had been but 2,592 deaths. The proportion of deaths from this cause has been much larger in both England and the United States than in Canada. Last year there were more cases than during any previous year. He advised that homes for consumptive people should be established, and that persons should be required to report to the authorities when they had consumptives living in their houses. He also advised that some steps should be taken to have hospitals, factories, theaters, churches, court houses, railway stations, lecture rooms, asylums and other public places subjected to sanitary inspection. The public should know on authority that these places were clean and free from infection.

There can be no doubt that the ravages of many infectious diseases have been stayed by the isolation of those afflicted. One hundred years ago leprosy was so prevalent in England that hospitals were established at various points for the isolation of patients. To-day, as a result of the precautions taken, the disease is practically unknown. Smallpox has been combatted in a similar manner.

While there are differences of opinion among physicians, as to the infectious character of consumption, there can be no doubt that, to a considerable degree, the disease is capable of being communicated from an afflicted person to a comparatively healthy one. This view was upheld by the Philadelphia College of Physicians at a recent meeting. That influential body passed a resolution deprecating the registration of consumptives and their treatment as subjects of contagious disease, on the ground that it would add to the hardship of the lives of the unfortunates, stamping them as outcasts of society, while not leading to any measure of real value not otherwise obtainable. This medical organization declares strict attention on the part of physicians in charge of the individual cases, insisting on the disinfection of the sputum and of the rooms, on adequate ventilation, and on the separation of the sick from the well as far as possible, will meet the requirements of the situation so far as they practically can be met, and better than any rules that for diseases so chronic, can be carried out by a board of health.

The New York Board of Health is somewhat more progressive in this matter than is the Philadelphia College of Physicians. It has in its services a distinguished scientist who acts as bacteriologist, and his verdict, founded on extended investigation, is that consumption is a contagious disease. As a consequence, somewhat similar precautions to those recommended for adoption in this Province by Dr. Bryce, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, will be adopted in New York city, and at the same time steps will be taken to establish an hospital exclusively for the treatment of consumptives. Every case of consumption occurring in New York will in future be reported by the physician in attendance to the Board of Health, which will enforce regulations to prevent an extension of the disease.

As the Ontario Board of Health has adopted the report made by Dr. Bryce, we will soon have some effective measures in force for the further reduction of the ravages of this most deadly of afflictions. Meanwhile, the superintendents of general hospitals are expected to take all necessary means to secure the isolation of consumptive patients. The annual death-rate from the disease, we feel assured, can be vastly reduced if proper steps are taken to educate the people how to save themselves.

BADLY OFF FOR POWDER. The St. John, N. B., Globe, referring to the proposition of Mr. Meredith that the Legislature should in future only meet once every two years, says:

"This is an absurd idea, for under cur system of responsible government every administration ought to face the representatives of the people at least once a vear. Mr. Meredith must be very short of available ammunition to use against the Government when he has to fall back on uch a proposal.'

Mr. Meredith is indeed short of ammunition, and what is nearly as bad, some of the guns he used in former campaigns are now hopelessly spiked.

-When Geo, E. Drummond returned to Montreal from the meeting of the Manufacturers' Association he remarked to a Gazette reporter: "The feeling throughout was in favor of protection, the belief being that the Government must stand by that policy. "Must" is the word, and Hon. Mr. Bowell, who attended the meeting, heard it and promised obedience. Canada needs a government that will rule, not for the benefit of the few, with their "musts," but to secure the welfare of the masses

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR THE FUTURE.

It is very pleasing to know that the Western Fair Board is now entirely out of debt. as was shown in the very satisfactory financial statement presented at the meeting yesterday. The accruing resources of the association will in future be devoted to rendering the annual exhibitions even more attractive than they have been in the past. The Western Fair is managed admirably.

and the directors deserve the undivided support of the citizens of London.

NATIONAL PARK FOR THE WEST. The resolution of the Ontario Govern. ment to make the necessary provision for forming Rondeau Point into s park will have the warm approval of the people of the western peninsula. In its present semi-wild condition the Point is not a credit to the Province, and it is certain that if steps were not now taken to preserve its shady timbers, it would not be long before it would be entirely denuded of them. This fact has repeatedly been brought under the notice of the authorities by Hon. David Mills and Mr. Ferguson, M.P.P., whose advice has now been taken. much to the satisfaction of the thousands in the west who know what a magnificent picnicking ground the Rondeau Point is. There are some 8,000 acres in the proposed park. At one time they were leased for a period of twenty years to the late Col. Prince, and some have advised that they should be sold or again let on long lease, but wiser counsels have prevailed. Under the new arrangement the great natural beauty of the lakeside resort will be preserved. and doubtless Rondeau will become an increasingly favorite spot for holiday-makers.

ADVANCES IN ELECTRICITY. People around Niagara Falls object to the phrase "harnessing Niagara," used by some newspaper correspondents to describe the application of its power to machinery. They say that Niagara's strength is not appreciably lessened by the fact that a little water is made to flow through a tunnel. That is so. There is enough water passing over the rocks at Niagara to drive all the machinery for many miles around, and to generate electricity to propel all the railway trains that now run between New York and Chicago, and what is more, one of these days, when the product is cheapened, we will see that wonderful revolution accomplished. Few people note how quickly the experiment of the present becomes the accomplished reform of the future. On June 5, 1880, the Scientific American published an illustration of Edion's sample electric railway, as operated at Menlo Park, N. J., where the wizard then carried on his work. A representative of the Scientific American went over Mr. Edison's little bit of road, the construction and nature of which and its electrical force he describes, and then says:

"This grand experiment is destined to test the applicability of the electric current to this purpose and to develop a railway system suitable for plantations, large farms and mining districts, and perhaps it is not entirely visionary to expect that our street and elevated railways may at no very distant day be successfully operated by electricity."

The prophecy of sixteen years ago was long since a reality, and except where city councils and street railway companies are fighting about terms, there is not a city of any importance on the continent that does not have its electric railway. Surely, then, the displacement of the steam locomotive on long routes is within measurable distance. Already we have chronicled the fact that it is proposed to have an electric railway between New York city and Philadelphia, and to-day a dispatch from Kingston, N. Y., states that a company has been formed to construct a line between that city and Ellensville, 28 miles away. In addition to this those who saw the practical work which the electric steam launches were doing at the Chicago Exposition know that the sea is just as likely as the land to witness great electrical triumphs. The Scientific American truthfully says that "if the next ten years witness as great progress in electric railroads as the last decade has sufficed for, the face of the country will be revolutionized."

BLUE BEATS RED. The members of the London Curling Club, now that their minds are relieved from any anxiety as to the tankard, had a jovial bonspiel at the Simcoe street rink yesterday afternoon. They divided into "Reda" and "Blues," and a "roarin' game" it was. The granites were flung with the greatest skill and good humor on both sides and the "Blues" won by 27 shots, amid great enthusiasm. The "Reds" consoled themselves with the thought that luck would beat cleverness any day. A capital appetite was worked up for the substantial supper which followed at Mr. J. P. Evans' hotel. The score in this was even. President Hewitt Fysh occupied the chair and related some interesting curling reminiscences, including astonishing feats which he had witnessed in

A WONDERFUL LEAP. RED WING, Mion., Feb. 21.-There seems to be no limit to the possibilities of the ski-runner in leaping through space. At the tournament held on Saturday afternoon Torjus Hemmestvedt, the world's champion aki-runner, broke his own record by 16 feet. A previous thaw had rendered the course icy and correspondingly slippery, and the contestants dashed down the steep incline with almost lightning-like rapidity.

Many excellent records had been made, and the spectators were already satisfied that they had seen the most marvelous feats of ski-running possible. When Hemmestvedt came down the last time he leaped through space the enormous distance of 120 feet, which eclipses by far all the records both in this country and Norway. The champion fell in a hard place, but did not hurt himself seriously. ATHLETICS.

Two Instructive Meetings Held at Dorchester Station.

Interesting Addresses by Practical Men on Farm and Dairy Topics.

Two more of the series of meetings in the east riding of Middlesex arranged for by the Farmers' Institute were held at Dorchester Station yesterday afternoon and evening. The meetings were in every way success, and the farmers of the district. aware that valuable information would be imparted to them both in respect to the farm and the dairy, attended both sessions in very large numbers. The without any attention being paid to their meetings were held in the town request. hall, and among those present were Messrs. J. A. Ruddick, of Woodstock; J. W. Wheaton, London; A. Patullo, Woodstock; J. H. Elliott, president of the institute, and Jas. Beattie, Hubrey; W. and J. D. Thompson, Derwent; R. Vining, S. Barr and Thos. Cornish, Mossley; J. and D. Lawson, Hubrey; A. M. Munro, Glanworth: A. and T. Baty, Wilton Grove; W. Sutherland, Banner; A. York and L. Cooper. Gladstone; H. York, Belmont; Chas. Guest. Ballymote; E. McCann and J. Patterson, Dorchester Station; J. A. James and Jas. Crockett, Nilestown; Jas. Smith and Chas. is likely that the bylaw will go before the 147 & 149 Dundas St. E. Connor, Harrietsville, and Jas. Rodgers | people. The afternoon meeting was opened at 2 o'clock by the president, J. H. Elliott, who delivered a short address of welcome. Mr. S. B. Gorwell, who was a delegate to the Central Farmers' Institute convention held in Toronto, gave a lengthy statement of the work done by that body at its last session. The report created considerable discussion but was finally adopted. Arrangements had been made by which address the gathering in respect to the "Swine Industry and Swine Raising."

Through some unforeseen cause, however, Mr. Brethour was unable to be present, but | than ordinary promise. He was a brilliant his place was filled by Mr. R. H. Harding. of Thorndale. Mr. Harding answered all manner of questions put to him by his listeners, and offered many suggestions which will no doubt be carried out. Mr. Harding was followed by Mr. J. A. Ruddick, a practical dairyman, who, though young, has had wide experience. He is now in charge of the experimental winter creamery at Woodstock under the Dominion Government. He took as his subject the Babcock milk tester, which he has been using at the station in Woodstock. The question which had been greatly discussed of late is the advisability of paying for milk according to the percentage of butter fat. Two years ago about three factories adopted this plan. At first the patrons were doubtful as to whether it would be beneficial, but the plan has grown, and now there are upwards of 100 dairymen using the little machine. Some of the factorymen had pointed out slight deficiencies. but he thought it was merely in order to escape the work which the introduction of the machine would involve. He had no doubt that during the past summer the intense heat and drought had a great effect upon the product of the dairy. For about three months he had been experimenting at the town of Perth at a factory which had about 75 patrons. About 87,000 pounds of milk had been handled, and, having reduced some to an equal quantity to make a comparison, he found the following results: cheese of fat. milk Pounds o 9qT 2.83 2.78 2.67 2.57 2.58 4524 4584 468 477 503 $ 88 As will be seen from the table, the rich milk did not yield as much cheese in proportion to the fat. Mr. Ruddick thought on that account that the patron who brought the rich milk and helped to raise the poorer milk up to the average (3.05) should receive the benefit.

Mr. Ruddick also gave several other important reasons why the tester should be adopted, and at the conclusion of his interesting and instructive address was tendered a hearty vote of thanks.

The last address on the afternoon programme was given by a practical farmer, Mr. Thos. Baty, of Wilton Grove. Mr. Baty makes a feature of caring for coin fodder after it is cured and explained by miniature plan what was, in his opinion, the best way to keep corn in order to retain its strength and milk-producing qualities.

A lengthy discussion followed the proposal of Mr. Gorwell that the meeting indorse the following resolution passed at the institute meeting in Toronto:

"That the Provincial Legislature be memorialized asking that body to so amend the Municipal Act as to define what shall constitute a lawful road, and that no rural municipalities be required to make the traveled portion of any road more than 24 feet in width."

In spite of the strong protests of a mem-will be sent to Mesers. Waters and Tooley, M.P.Ps., asking them to support it when it comes before the House.

EVENING SESSION. The attendance at the evening session was very large, the hall being packed to the doors. Miss M. Spring, a young lady of considerable ability, gave several instrumental selections in a very creditable manner. She was loudly encored.

Mr. Ruddick was again on the programme, and handled the subject of "Winter Dairying" in an able manner. He first referred to the great increase in the exports of Ontario cheese during the past twelve years. In 1882 the value of the exports was $5,000,000, while last year they amounted to $13,500,000. But now, he thought it did not appear as necessary to promote the production of cheese as in the past. On the other hand, the dairymen should turn their attention to making butter in the winter. In Woodstock two years ago a winter creamery was started, and, it having proved very successful, the number in the Province has increased to 223. At first he had to battle against many obstructions, and it was no easy task to get a good quality of milk. "Dairying does not pay" was an old cry, but it only came from quarters where no interest was taken in the dairy; where old methods were followed and where the grumbler would not try to adopt any improvements. In the most prosperous districts a large percentage of the farmers were interested

Mr. J. W. Wheaton, of London, spoke on the duties of patrons to factories, and illustrated his many points by laughable incidents. He strongly advocated, as a key to the success of all dairying, hearty cooperation between all parties concerned in "Good Roads" was the topic for an able address, full of interest, by Mr. Pattullo, of Woodstock, editor of the Sentinel-Review. At the conclusion of Mr. Pattullo's remarks votes of thanks were passed to all who participated in the meeting, and what will doubtless prove to be a gathering of great benefit to farmers was brought to a

We, the Liberal party of Canada, in convention assembled declare:

That the customs tariff of the Dominion should be based, not as it now is, upon the protective principle, but upon the requirements of the public service.

That the existing tariff, founded upon an unsound principle and used as it has been by the Government as a corrupting agency, wherewith to keep themselves in office, has developed monopolies, trusts and combina-

It has decreased the value of farm and other landed property;
It has oppressed the masses to the enrichment of the few;

It has checked immigration; It has caused great loss of population; It has impeded commerce; It has discriminated against Great

In these, and in many other ways, it has occasioned great public and private injury, all of which evils must continue to grow in intensity so long as the present tariff system remains in force.

That the highest interests of Canada demand a removal of this obstacle to our country's progress, by the adoption of a sound fiscal policy, which, while not doing injustice to any class, will promote do mestic and foreign trade and hasten the return of prosperity to our people

That to that end, the tariff should be reduced to the needs of honest, economical and efficient government That it should be so adjusted as to make free, or to bear as lightly as possible upon the necessaries of life and should be so arranged as to promote freer trade with the whole world, more particularly Great Britain and the United States

We believe that the resu ts of the protective system have grievously disappointed thousands of persons who honestly sup-ported it, and that the country in the light of experience is now prepared to declare for a sound fiscal policy.

The issue between the two political chant does not care to have to parties on this great question is now clearly

The Government themselves admit the fess their willingness to make some changes, but they say that such changes must be based only on the principle of protection.

We denounce the principle of protection as radically unsound and unjust to the masses of the people, and we declare our conviction that any tariff changes based on that principle must fail to afford any sub stantial relief from the burdens under which the country labors.

This issue we unhesitatingly accept and upon it we await with the fullest condence the verdict of the electors of Canada. druggists in London keepit.

Every good business man is now studying the signs of the times. General business, although dull, did not prove exceptionally so in 1893 for those who persistently sought it in legitimate ways by judicious newspaper advertising. However dull it may be at any time, it will always be dullest with those who fail to advertise their wares.

Business is not dead, but there is not enough of it at present to satisfy every one. Many get less than they need. Some get enough. The latter are always the liberal advertisers. As in the past, so in the future—they will get the lion's share. Now is the time to plan out a vigorous campaign for 1894. We are ready to assist.

Everywhere throughout Western Ontario-in the homes, on the news-stands street cars, depots, railway trains; in fact, whenever and wherever people have time to read, they have the people's favorite paper, The LONDON ADVERTISER, with them. Its motto is-"First of all, the news." The Ap-VERTISER is bright and clean, and will always be found sustaining its position abreast of all that is best in legitimate journalism.

Mr. Guraett, editor and proprietor of the Ingersoll Chronicle, died at 5 a.m Wednesday, of diphtheria. His illness was not at first considered serious, but it developed into a malignant form of diptheria. Deceased had been fifteen years connected with this paper, and leaves behind him a wife, the daughter of Sheriff Brady, and three children. Mr. Gurnett was 36 years of age, and was a prominent member of the A. F. and A. M. Mr. Gurnett, it is said, carried a life insurance of $20,000. His sudden taking off has cast a gloom over the whole town. A Sad Predicament.

A small boy leaned over the railing at Blackfriars bridge last night watching the carnival on the ice below. He unconsciously thrust his tongue out and it came in contact with the frosty iron. It stuck there. The boy tried to induce the iron to release it, but in vain. Deprived of the organ of speech, he could not call to the skaters below, and for a long time kicked the bridge frantically and emitted smothered squeals that would have melted the heart of anything but metal on a cold night. How he envied the boy who stood on the burning deck! At last some passers-by noticed his violent agitation from behind and went to his rescue. They were nonplussed how to relieve him. To use force might leave a piece of his tongue on the bridge. Somebody lit a match to warm the spot, but the prisoner at the bar nearly choked with sulphur. By this time a crowd had collected. A happy thought struck an onlooker, and a number took turns in breathing on the iron. Finally success rewarded their generous efforts, and the tongue gradually peeled off, slightly disfigured, but still intact. The boy declares he will keep a stiff upper lip when he stands on a bridge in future.

Stayed Execution of Judgment to Throw His Mother Out. PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 22 .- As Emanuel Johnson, the landlord, had obtained judgment in dispossess proceedings and was making his way to the clerk's office of the District Court to take out an execution yesterday morning, two little boys, ragged, dirty and with the toes peeping from their well-worn shoes, pushed their way from the rear of the room toward Judge Kerr, and in childish tones pleaded with him to allow their mother, who was the defendant, to remain in her rooms, and not let "the wicked landlord put her out." One of the little chaps, aged about 8 years, told the judge that his mother was ill, out of work, and "we're all starving because I can't get food at the relief place. Dey say me mudder must come for de grub." He assured the judge that his mother would pay the rent as soon as she got well and could get to work. The judge, with an extra effort, kept the moisture from his eyes, and, turning to the clerk, issued a stay of the execution. The little fellows left the courtroom crying, but happy.

Washington's Birthday. NEW YORK, Feb. 22. - Washington's birthday was duly celebrated in this city. At sunrise Christopher R. Forbes, grandson of John Van Arsdale, unfurled the Stars and Stripes on the old flagpole in Battery Park. At the block house at the upper end of Central Park, overlooking the district known as Harlem Plains, there was another flag raising, which was participated in by the Pequod Club and a detachment of young Tammany braves. Later in the day a bust of Washington was unveiled in the general postoffice. In the evening the sons and daughters of the revolution will have public dinners and speech-making.

ONE FOUND ALIVE.

Five Woodchoppers Caught in a Snow slide in Nevada.

VERDI, Nev., Feb. 22 .- About noon Monday five woodchoppers were caught in a snowslide in the mountains five miles from here. Nothing was known of it until attention attracted by groans, and on investigation found Ed. Ede pinioned in the snow, where he had lain over 24 hours in a terrific wind and snow storm. His head was caught between two timbers and pierced by a protruding nail. He was conscious when taken out, and hopes are entertained of his recovery. The names of the other unfortunates are Tom Thrasher, M. S. Wheeler, Michael Warner and Leonard Nelson, all of Reno, Nev. They are supposed to be dead. A rescue party is now digging in the snow for their bodies. Two other woodchoppers who occupied a cabin 400 miles distant had a narrow escape. They made no investigation. Great indignation is felt at their seemingly inhuman conduct.

Later-The four men who were buried in a snowslide have not been found. Fifty men have been shoveling snow in the hope of finding the others, but without success.

For a week the midday thermometer had warked 80 or more in the shade. Golden weather for those who could lie and watch the lazy breakers on a rocky shore, or tread the turf of deep woodland, or drink from the pebbled stream in some mountain gien. But the by-ways of Southwark languished for a cloud upon the sun, for a cooling shower, or a breath from its old enemy, the east. The cry of fretful children sounded ceaselessly. Every window was wide open; women who had nothing to do lounged in the dusk of doorways and in arched passages, their money all gone in visits to the public house. Ice-cream men found business at a standstill; it was Friday and the youngsters' ha'pence had long ago come to an end. Laborers who depended upon casual enjoyment chose to sleep through the thirsty hours rather than go in search of jobs; a crust of bread served them for a meal. They lay about in the shadowed epots, shirt and trousers their only costume, their shaggy heads in every conce vable attiude of repose.

Where the sun fell, the pavement burned like an oven floor. An evil smell hung about the butchers' and the fish shops. A public house scented a whole street with alzoholic fumes; from sewer-grates rose a miasma that caught the breath. People who bought butter from the little dealers had to carry it away in a saucer, covered with a piece of paper which in a few moments turned oily dark. Rotting fruit, flung out by costermongers, offered a directed to little ragamuffins prowling like the cats and dogs. Babies' bottles were choked with thick-curdling milk, and sweets melted in grimy little hands.

Among the children playing in a court deep down by Southwark Bridge, was one boy, of about 7 years old, who looked healthier and sweeter than most of his companions. The shirt he wore had been washed a week ago, and rents in it had obeyed the needle. His mother-made braces supported a pair of trousers cut short between the knee and ankle, evidently shaped out of a man's garment. Stockings he dispensed with; but his boots were new and strong. Though he amused himself vigorously, he seemed to keep cool; his curly hair was not matted with perspiration, like that of the other youngsters; the open shirt —in this time of holiday coat and waistcoat were put away to be in good condition when school began—showed a body not ill-neurished; and his legs were of sturdy growth. A shouting, laughing, altogether noisy little chap. When his shrill voice rang out, it gave his playmates the word of command; he was ready, too, with his fists when occasion offered. You should have seen him standing with arms a kimbo, legs apart, his round little head thrown back and the brown eyes glistening in merriment, Billy Burden, they called him. He had neither brother nor sister—a fortunate thing, as it enabled his parents to give him more of their love and attention than would have been possible if other mouths had clamored for sustenance. Mrs. Burden was very proud of him, and all the more decent comen in the court regarded Billy with affectionate admiration. True, he had to be kept in order now and again, when he lost his temper and began to punch the heads of boys several years older than himself; but his frank, winsome face soon overcame the anger of grown-up people.

His father, Solomon Burden by name worked pretty regularly at a warf on the Middlesex side, sometimes earning as much as a pound a week. Having no baby to look after, his mother got a turn of work as often as possible, chiefly at warehouse-cleaning and the like. She could trust little Billy to to school and come home at the right time; but holiday, when he had to spend the whole day out of doors, caused her some anxiety, for the child liked to be off and away on long explorations of unknown country—into Lambeth, or across the river to the great London streets, no distance tiring him. Her one fear was lest he should be run over. To-day he had promised to keep well within reach of home, and did so. At Mrs. Burden's return from a job in Waterloo Road he was found fast asleep on the landing. She bent over him, and muttered words of tenderness as she wiped his dirty face with her apron. Of course, they had only one room—an attic just large enough to hold a bed, a table, and Billy's slittle mattress down on the floor in a corner. Their housekeeping was of the simplest; a shelf of crockery, two saucepans, and a trying-pan supplied Mrs. Burden with all she needed for the preparation of meals. Apparel was kept in a box under the bed, where also was the washingbasin. Up to a year ago they had had a chest of drawers; but the hard winter had obliged them to part with this. When Mrs. Burden unlocked and opened the door, the air within was so oppressive that she stood for a moment and drew a deep breath. The sound of the key wakened Billy, who sprank up joyfully.

"Ain't it been 'ot again, mummy!" the boy exclaimed. "There was a 'bus-horse fell dead. Ben Wilkins seen it!" "I a'most feel as if I could drop myself," she answered, sinking upon the bed. "There ain't no hair to breathe; I wish we weren't under the roof.'

She stood up again and felt the ceiling-It was some six inches above her head. "My gracious alive! It's fair bakin'." "Let me feel-let me feel !"

She lifted him in her arms, and Billy proved for himself that the plaster of the ceiling was decidedly warm. Nevertheless a fire had to be lighted to boil the kettle. Father might come home any moment, and he liked his cup of tea.

As she worked about, the woman now and then pressed a hand to her left side, and seemed to breathe with difficulty. Sweatdrops hung thick upon her face, which was the color of dough. On going down-stairs to draw water for the kettle she took a quart jug, and after filling this she drank almost the whole of it in one long draught. It made her perspire still more freely; moisture streamed from her forehead as she returned to the upper story, and on arriving she was obliged to seat herself.

"Do you feel bad, mummy?" asked the child, who was accustomed to these failings of strength when his mother came home from a day's work. "I do, Billy, hawful bad; but it'll go in a

Thereat Mrs. Burden first looked, then spoke, wrathfully. As his habit was, her husband retorted, and for a few minutes they wrangled. But it was without bitterness, without vile abuse. Domestic calm as understood by the people who have a whole house to themselves is impossible in a Southwark garret; Burden and his wife ware regarded by their neighbors, and rightly, as an exemplary pair; they never came to blows, never to curses, and neither of them had ever been known to make a scene in Every Young Man should be possessed of certain information without which millions contract pernicious and most destructive habits-habits which make young men permanently aged, pale, haggard, listless, devoid of ambition, easily tired, languid, forgetful and incapable; fill mad-houses and swell the lists of suicides; separate husbands and wives; bring untold suffering to millions, even unto the third and fourth generation. Parents, guardians and philanthropists can do no better service to the rising generation, than to place in their hands the information and warnings contained in a little book carefully prepared by an association of medical men who have had vast experience in dealing with the grave maladies here hinted at, and who feel that they owe it to humanity to warn the young of the land against certain destructive habits, which are far more prevalent than any layman can imagine, and which if persisted in gradually undermine the constitution and health, and destroy the stamps (to pay postage), to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. At Death's Door.—Dyspepsia Conquered.—A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live, when I commenced the use of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 pounds. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over 30 dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when I first commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia. Hardin, from the time he steppid into the prison at Chester, began to cultivate the friendship of the trusty convicts who were employed as cart drivers. He became a fast friend of one of these, and yesterday the cart driver permitted him to jump into his vehicle and lying down in the bottom of the bed the trusty driver loaded the cart with clay, completely covering the form of the train-robber. When the cart was loaded the trusty driver drove out of the gates and arriving at the river bank, where a dump had been established to strengthen the levee, Hardin was dumped with the clay down the embankment into the river, and iti s thought that by pre-arrangement there was a skiffnear at hand into which he jumped and was rowed beyond the reach and sight of the authorities.

From Committing Suicide. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 21.—Mrs. Elizabeth Page walked into the city yesterday after a tramp of 300 miles from St. John, Kan., to save her son's life. She came from the Cherokee Strip, whence she had gone from Detroit, Mich., when the Strip opened last September, in quest of a home. She secured a claim, but was compelled to give it up to a prior claimant. Disgusted she returned eastward with her four children, the oldest of whom was 16 years old. At St. John the family could proceed no further, as one of the horses had died. The remaining horse was sold. With the money John Page, the oldest boy, went to Kansas City to find work. He failed, and wrote his

STARVING TO DEATH.

Saved by Paine's Celery Compound.

It was Worth More to Me Than One Hundred Dollars Worth of Medicines From Doctors,

Disease and death are again completely defeated and banished by the miraculous power of Paine's Celery Compound. All the combined forces of disease and suffering could not prevail against the curing virtues of nature's strength and life re-

Mr. John Irvine, of Heckston, Ont., sends us the following graphic account of his rescue from death:

"Three years ago I had a severe attack of la grippe, which left me in a very weak and debilitated condition. The next autumn I had another attack, which left me in a very bad state. My health was nearly wrecked, I had no strength, and felt tired all the time. I was so weak that my legs would not support my body, and I have often fallen to the ground when trying to attend to my work both in the field and in my barn, and would be compelled to lie wherever I had fallen, until I could muster sufficient strength to rise. "My appetite was all gone, and when I would try to eat, in order to gain strength, I would suffer untold misery for hours. It seemed to me that I was slowly starving to death.

"I tried different doctors but did not derive any benefit from their treatment. My friends thought I was going to die, and I verily believe I would have died had I not tried your Paine's Celery Compound. I bought six bottles, and can conscientiously say I received more benefit from it than I ever dreamed of; it was worth more to me than $100 worth of medicines from the doctors. began to improve in health before I had finished the first bottle; and to-day I am completely restored to health. I can do as good a day's work as I ever could, can now eat any kind of food without experiencing trouble afterward, and can sleep as well as when I was a boy.

"I have not had to use any of the Compound for months, which convinces me that the cure is permanent. I feel it my duty to let every sufferer know what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me, and it seems impossible for me to say all that I should in its favor. My wife, who has been a sufferer for years with chronic rheumatism, was greatly benefited by the use of your medicine. I send you this testimony unsolicited."

CITY VOTERS' LISTS.

Names of Well-Known Citizens Left Off the Lists.

By accident, no doubt, the following well-known citizens have found their names

Thos. Taylor, 287 Dundas street. Geo. Loveless, sen., 185 St. James street. Rev. W. J. Clark, 307 Wolfe street. Lou Paladino, 464 Talhot street.

John McKinley, 2114 Dundas street.

U. A. Buchner, 257 Talbot street. These gentlemen discovered, by a personal inspection of the voters' lists, now on view daily, afternoon and evening, at the Young Liberal rooms, Oddfellows' block, that they were disfranchised, and they are enabled, under the new Ontario law, to have their names placed on the lists by application at the Liberal rooms without the necessity of going before the county judge.

Is your name on or off the list? No one can be certain unless he person-

The only necessary qualifications are: 1. You are a British subject.

2. You are 21 years of age or upwards. 3. You reside in the city.

This afternoon and evening will be a most suitable time to examine the lists and make the necessary affidavit, which cost the voter nothing. Be sure now, and avoid disappointment on election

The monthly meeting of the London Medical Association was held on Monday evening in the Medical School. A large number of members were present, and the proceedings were of much interest to the profession. The association recognize the great evil that has wounded the practice of medicine in the way of lodge and contract practice, and propose to invoke the aid of the Ontario Medical Council to remedy the evil. Dr. Butler read a valuable paper on 'Acute Inflammation of the Middle Ear," which is so prevalent as a result of la grippe. Dr. Drake presented the notes of a very unusual and interesting case of rupture of the heart, and exhibited the specimen. The papers were discussed at length by many of the members.

Memorial Missionary Meeting. The annual missionary meeting of the Memorial Church was held last night with a large attendance. Rev. Canon Richardson Dixon, Toronto. Rev. Mr. Crisp and Rev. Westlake's views of London are fine. See Mr. Roy were also present. In presenting the report for the past year Rev. Canon Richardson referred to three fields of missionary work-diocesan, domestic and foreign-and he was glad to say that the congregation had recognized all these and done its part in supporting them. They had sent to the treasurer $728 for mission purposes; besides this the W. A. reported $374, and the Havergal Mission Band $70, a total of over $1,100. Of this sum $437 84 was devoted to the work in this diocese.

The two branch cut-off sewers would run, one along the south branch and the other along Carling's Creek, and all branch sewers would run into these two cut-off sewers. 2. Your committee would recommend that none of these MACKLE'S specialty. Studio corner Dundas branch sewers be put down at a level of ywt less than fail of one foot in 200 feet. they should be put down so that in the center of the street the depth of the sewer would be at least | ten feet. 3. Your committee would recommend that the Provincial and Dominion Governments be approached and asked to contribute a share towards the payment of the cost of this work. And that the rest be raised in two parts, one to be a general tax on all the ratepayers at so much on the dollar, and the other half as a frontage tax on all property in the city. 4. Your committee would recommend that the outlet of all sewers be made under water; and those at present not doing so be attended to at once under the supervision of the Board of Health. A Flourishing Court.

Court Pride of the Dominion, A. O. F., one of the largest and most prosperous of city lodges, held a capital smoking concert at its rooms in the Albion Block last night. Barklamb, Thomas Tuxford, Sergt. Cooper (Barracks), J. Reid, Private Warren (Military School). and G. Stickles; instrumentals by Bros. Fred. Rossiter, P. Young, and also recitations, etc. Bro. Fred. Rossiter was the accompanist. The committeemen were Bros. H. Down, A. Woonton, E. Brown, E. Price, J. Stiling, D. Palmer and W. Magwood. Court Pride has reason to take pride in its record for 1893 just published. St. Andrew's Church Notes. The session of the church has decided to procure an assistant to help the pastor, Rev. J. A. Murray, for a few months. Of late the pastor's health has not been as good as desired, and it is expected the assistance which it is proposed to give him will be very helpful in his arduous labors. Important improvements are being made in the basement of the church for the better accommodation of the Sabbath school. The reopening will take place in a short time, when an old-fashioned tea meeting will be given. In the meantime the Sabbath school services are being held in the auditorium of the church. A "bureau of information" has been established in the vestibule, where information of all kinds can be received and given regarding church affairs. Eight new ushers have been appointed, all young men. Mr. Jas. Gillean, Mr. D. McDonald and Mr. Jas. Mills, who have acted in this capacity for a number of years, having expressed their wish to retire, have been placed on the honorary staff.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Yates. Mrs. Yates, relict of the late Wm. Yates, died very suddenly last night at her home, No. 31 Hamilton road. She had just finished writing a letter to her son George, and had gone to her room, when almost immediately one of her daughters heard her breathing heavily. daughter went to the mother's assistance, but was just in time to see the old lady breathe her last.
