Minister Hanotau Defends the Policy of the French Government.

King Humbert's Significant Speech at the Opening of the Italian Parliament.

LORD ROSEBERY RETURNED. London, June 10. - Prime Minister Rosebery has returned from his yachting trip and is now in London. A Cabinet council will be held tomorrow.

A LONG DEATH LIST. Stuttgart, June 10 .- One hundred and twelve persons lost their lives in the flood. The Queen has donated 3,000 marks for the relief of the sufferers.

A MURDERED STATESMAN. Rome, June 10 .- Count Farretto, formerly Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, who was shot by an unknown person at Rimini in the evenng of June 3, died this morning.

GOOD WHEAT CROPS. Cairo, Ill., June 10 .- The wheat harvest has commenced in Western Kentucky and Southeast Missouri. The rain of ten days ago saved the wheat, and there can now be no doubt that there will be more than an average yield. Corn is also looking fine.

EARTHQUAKES IN AUSTRIA. Trieste, June 10.-Two shocks of earthquake were felt here at an early hour this morning, causing great consternation among the inhabitants. Thousands of people rushed from their houses, and many have refused to return, and are camping in the open squares, fearing a recurrence of the shocks. Little or no damage was done.

COAL MINE CATASTROPHE. Breslau, June 10.-The Segingolten mine, belonging to Count Von Donnersmark, is on fire. Out of the 490 miners at work when the fire broke out, only 40 reached the surface in safety. The fate of the other miners is not known as this dispatch is sent, but a terrible disaster is apprehended.

Berlin, June 10.-An explosion of firedamp occurred in a mining pit near Antoniennutte, Prussian Silesia, today, while 500 men were at work in the mine. Only 40 have been rescued, leaving 460

VICTIMS OF THE CLOUBBURST. Vienna, June 10.—Advices received from Wiener-Neustadt state that the recent cloudburst in that section washed away a great number of bridges and houses in the communes of Schwarzenbach, Sclatten and Hochweltersdorf, in some instances carrying away buildings the entire length of streets and submerging large tracts of territory. Some persons were drowned in the town of Schwarzenbach alone, and it is believed that the total loss of life is very great. The damage done in these places, which pecuniarily is over 300,000 florins, cannot be repaired for years.

THE CARDINAL'S ASSAILANT. London, June 10.-Lorenzo Covington. the man who was arrested and arraigned in the Bow Street Police Court on Saturday on the charge of having threatened to murder Cardinal Vaughn by throwing vitrol upon him for failing to receive £250, which he alleged he had lost through a certain action of the Catholic Church, was again arraigned this morning. The police have ascerat tained that the man is an American, but further information is not forthcoming. He was remanded for medical examination with a view of determining whether he is a crank or a blackmailer.

RESIGNATION OF THE GREEK MINISTRY.

Athens, June 10.-The members of the Greek Government today tendered their resignations. The King has summoned M. Del Yannis to form a Ministry. The resignation of the Ministry was a mere formality, this being the first meeting of Parliament since April last, when Del Yannis and his party received two-thirds of the votes cast.

Zamis, upon assuming the presidency, addressed the Chamber at length. The chief mission of the majority, he said, would be to improve the public credit and place the finances of Greece upon a secure basis.

THE REPORTED MISSIONARY MASSACRE.

The officials of the Methodist Missionary Society in New York are very hopeful that the reported massacre of the missionaries in Chengtu is untrue. Dr. Stephen J. Baldwin, the recording secretary, said: 'I do not think that these rumors are subsequent to the assurances we received by cable from our mission in Chengtu, under date of June 3. The cable read: 'The property destroyed; all safe; inform Toronto.'
This would indicate that all our people are safe, although the property has been destroyed." The missionaries who are at Chengtu are: Rev. Olin Cady and wife; H. L. Cartwright, M.D., and wife; Rev. J. F. Peat and wife; Rev. J. O. Curnow and wife; Rev. Dr. H. V. C. Hart, formerly of the Central China mission, and several of his associates of the Canadian Methodist Church. In the 76th annual report for last year the property of the Chengtu mission, including dwellings, chapels, schools, etc., was valued at $4,000.

FRENCH POLICY. Paris, June 10 .- M. Milleraud, Socialist, interpollated the Government in the Chamber of Deputies today in regard to the policy of France in the East and the acceptance of the invitation of Germany to take part in the ceremonies at Kiel on the occasion of the opening of the Baltic sea canal, declaring that the latter indicated a change in the French

M. Hanotaux, Minister of Foreign Affairs, denied that the acceptance of Germany's invitation furnished evidence of any change of policy whatever on the part of France. The acceptance of Germany's invitation was merely an act of politeness. The French sailors who would go to Kiel would represent free and strong France, fearing no comparigarding the East, M. Hanotaux said France was unwilling to leave Russia to struggle alone with difficulties which might influence the general policy of the Republic. France, he declared, remains faithful to her allies. Ex-Premier Goblet declared that the action of the Government in sending French warships to Kiel wounded the national sentiment of France. If a genuine alliance existed between France and Russia let M. Hanotaux plainly say Germany, he said, had not hesitated to publish the fact and terms of the Dreibund, and France had certainly no reason to be ashamed of having established an alliance with Russia. He (Goblet) was not animated by any feeling of revenge, but the separation of Alsace-Lorraine from France constituted a just reason for displeasure, and until that question was settled France remain neither courteous nor conciliatory. Premier Ribot said that France had united her interests with those of Russia for the preservation of the peace of Europe, and this alliance had made both countries stronger. The Chamber then voted confidence in the Government, 362 to 105. ENGLAND AND ITALY.

An Understanding Between the Nations

King Humbert's Warm Word . Rome, June 10.-The new Parliament was opened today with more than the usual display of ceremony. The King and Queen upon their arrival were loudly cheered by the immense crowd assembled in the plaza. All of the Ministers and a large number of other officials, with the entire diplomatic corps, were present, and a strong force of troops was confined in the barracks to preserve order should it' become necessary. Three hundred and seventy deputies were present. Signor Cavalliti and the other Socialist members were absent, in accordance with the previous announcement. The speech from the throne appealed to the patriotism of the members of all parties to assist in expediting the budget. The financial situation, the speech declared, had already been sensibly ameliorated. The Government also promised such judicial laws and reforms as would enable a better defense of social order. It might become necessary for the Government to have recourse to force in order to preserve the required degree of order, but the King preferred the pursuit of human methods always, and believed in a trial of love before arms. This passage in his Majesty's speech is taken to forecast a large measure of amnesty, and was vehemently applauded. The speech also announced officially the coming marriage of the Duke of Aosta to Princess Helene of Orleans, and the participation of the Italian squadron in the ceremonies at Kiel. His Majesty also alluded to the friendship existing between Italy and England, to the victories won by the Italians and to the anniversary of the liberation of buildings yesterday afternoon and de-Rome. When the speech was concluded stroyed one of the biggest industries in the applause was loud and prolonged. The speech as a whole made an excellent impression.

One particular passage in King Humbert's speech has been greatly commented upon. After referring to the part to be taken by Italy in the Kiel celebration his Majesty said: "We shall render our cordial greetings to England and show our close connection with the English navy." Pursuing the subject, he expressed thanks to the Government of Great Britain for having given a new proof of the sympathy of England with Italy by prohibiting the importation of arms into Africa to the detriment of the undertakings of Italy in the frontiers of Abyssinia. These utterances are interpreted in diplomatic circles as disclosing an agreement between Italy and England for common and concentrated action in Africa. UNCLE SAM'S CROPS.

The acreage in rye is 96.7 of that of last year. The average condition on June 1 was 82.2 per cent. The acreage of rice is 100.2 per cent of that of last year, and the condition

Samuel Hanna,

Like Results Never Accomplished by Any Other Medicine:

The case of Mr. Samuel Hanna, an esteemed resident of Manvers, Ont., has attracted the attention of hundreds living in the district. Since Mr. Hanna's cure, by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, scores who were previously skeptical are now thoroughly convinced that every word, and sentence of praise written in favor of Paine's Celery Compound in the past, is true and deserv-

As a speedy curer of disease, strengthener and health-giver, the vast majority of men and women in Canada admit that Paine's Celery Compound has no equal. Mr. Hanna writes thus about his wonderful cure: "After severe sickness and suffering for a length of time I am happy to state that I was made well by Paine's Celery Compound. To be raised up from a low and weak state inside of two weeks is a marvelous work, which nothing else but Paine's Celery Compound could have accomplished. "After using half the first bottle of the Compound, I was able to dig the holes for a forty rod fence, and help to build it. Before using Paine's Celery Compound I could not sleep and had no appetite; now I enjoy good sleep and a healthful appetite. Paine's Celery Compound is worth its weight in gold to any sufferer; it is the best medicine in the world."

Saturday in the little Church of St. John the Evangelist, which interested not a few, for the bride, Miss Hyman, was one of London's pretty girls, and popular in the best sense of the word. A lovely picture she made in her white satin bridal robes, and the sun shone beautifully, while the groom had not dwindled away into the wretched look. ing object most men are at this auspicious moment. What more could any one wish for in a wedding? But here comes the astute social philosopher, wondering at what he calls "the phe nomenon of the propensity of women to go to weddings." He says that the rule of the celebration of the festival of holy matrimony is that men go to weddings when they must, women when they may, and adds: 'Why women take such an acute interest in wed. dings is always a puzzle to men. The reason of it must lie in clothes." Clothes, indeed! Was it not a man, no less a personage than the sage of Concord, who wrote: "All mankind loves a lover?' Who but our men poets sing of love, love, from year's beginning to year's end? Who is responsible for the weddings, anyway, but these poor men, who, our philosopher would have us think, must be dragged by some awful compulsion into every matrimonial celebration? Why shouldn't we go to weddings? The phenomenon is not that women go, but that men do not! What is of greater interest? It may be that the fashionable crushes, the processions, the music, the flowers, yes, and even the clothing, are sometimes given a place of too great prominence, while the real sentiment of the occasion is kept in the background, but that does not prove that we go to see the clothes There is genuine interest in the event; sentiment and romance are no more dead in the masculine breast than in the feminine; the good old-fashioned love story is the fashion still, whether in books or in life, and whether you leave business or not to see the bridal train. We all, men and women, salute fade! The present styles make possible the daintiest of graduation dresses, and the only wonder is that the girls can keep out of them till the right occasion for them comes. Elaboration is frowned upon and white is always the chosen

"There are but few persons who know how to walk up stairs properly," said a well-known physician. "Usually a person will tread on the ball of his foot when taking each step, springing himself up to the next step. This is very tiresome and wearing on the muscles, as it throws the entire suspended weight of the body on the muscles of the legs and feet. You should in walking or climbing stairs seek for the most equal distribution of the body's weight ssible. In walking up stairs your feet should be placed squarely down on the step, heel and all, and then the work should be performed slowly and deliberately. In this way there is no take publis in voice culture. No 306 deliberately. In this way there is no each one is doing its duty in a natural manner. A resolution was introduced express ing high appreciation of the able sermon preached on Sunday morning by Dr. Carman, general superintendent, which was unanimously adopted.

The Sabbath school committee reported as follows: Number of schools, 470; teachers and officers, 5,521; number of scholars, 44,829; 2,187 united with the church during the year. Total raisperannuation fund, Sunday school aid and extension fund, and for school purposes, $23,789 38.

The Sabbath observance committee reported in substance as follows: "We are strongly averse to the running of trains, issuing of newspapers, operating of street cars, using our canal locks, etc., on the Lord's Day. We regret that Children's Fancy Straw Sailor Hats, by family visiting, buying and selling milk, arranging for funerals, riding of bicycles, hiring of liveries, the sacredness of the Lord's Day is much infringed upon." It was recommended that frequent attention be called to the subject from the pulpit and in the Sabbath school; that parents and all the membership be careful not to sanction or practice anything that shall derogate from its sanctity; and workingmen to use their organizations to prevent grasping and conscienceless corporations from filching from them their birthright—a seventh portion of their time-for rest and worship. TORONTO PICKING UP. Toronto, June 10.—The Rochester aggregation made a poor impression on the small crowd that attended the game today. Their errors were numerous, and they exhibited inability to cope successfully with the stategic delivery of Pitcher Gray. Besides, the visitors ap-peared too tired to play ball, and the fielders moved about very slowly. Their errors totaled 9, and were mostly rank and inexcusable. McPartlin was hit steadily all through the game, Freeman getting double and triple and Sippi a home run. Rochester failed to make a safe hit until the seventh inning, when Lush rapped out a triple against the right field fence. Freeman threw wildly and let the runner home; scoring the visitors' first tally. They scored again in the eighth on Demont's muff and Shinnick's three-bagger. Rochester's third hit was made in the ninth inning by Hamburg after two men were out. The game was too one-sided to be

ASYLUM VS. VICTORS. A very interesting game of basebail, and one that was greatly enjoyed by the patients, who always show much pleasure when the home team wins, was played on the asylum grounds Satturday between the Asylum club and the Victors, of London, resulting in fa-vor of the former by a score of 25 to 17. Everything ran smoothly from start to finish, the main feature of the game being absence of the flow of "mouth" usually attendant on baseball games. The Victors are a gentlemanly set of young men, such as the asylumites like to tackle. To Umpire Hincher, of London, is due to a great extent the smoothness of the game, his fair and prompt decisions at no time being questioned. The asylum club would like to arrange

THE PLUNDERERS AS FAR FROM JAIL AS EVER.

The Curran Bridge Scandal was discussed at considerable length in the Dominion House of Commons the other night, but no explanation that will be regarded as satisfactory by the public was given by those primarily responsible for the rascalities. It was a great fraud. It was perpetrated several years ago. Nearly three years have elapsed since the Government at Ottawa was made fully cognizant of the gigantic stealings, and still the culprits appear to be as far from the penitentiary as

To build this bridge, from $160,000 to $170,000 was necessary. But it has been shown by a commission, appointed by the Government to ward off responsibility from itself, that the country paid $390,000 for the work, or $230,000 in excess of the sum for which the Grand Trunk | fellow. Railway contractors were ready and willing to complete it. The commission showed that the country had been defrauded out of this enormous sum of money, and many instances of fraud were enumerated. That statement was in the possession of the Government nearly two years ago. In the fall of 1893 the Ministers knew as much as they do now-months before Parliament met. But the thieves, and those responsible for permitting them to steal, were permitted to remain at large. Parliament met, and still there was no action by the men in power. Parliament resolved not to interfere with the administration of justice, so far as the outside culprits were concerned, but to investigate how far the Government and its officials were responsible for the thefts, in that they permitted them to take place without protest. In July, 1894, when Parliament prorogued, no action had been taken by the Government. But after many months had passed, in October, 1894, action was taken against a solitary individual-Mr. St. Louis, the contractor for building the bridge. For six months the prosecution before a magistrate went dawdling along. Though we have a Minister of Justice and a Solicitor-General, and dozens of assistants, drawing in the aggregate many thousands of dollars a year, there does not seem to have been any energetic attempt to have the case pushed for trial. When, finally, less than a month ago, the magistrate disposed of the preliminary objections, he declined to commit the contractor for trial. He recognized -that there had been gigantic frauds that there had been gigantic fraudson all hands-but he held that owing to the looseness of the contracts between St. Louis and the Government at Ottawa, the contractor could not be prosecuted criminally. When the case was under discussion in the House, it was stated that the contractor will yet be proceeded against. but it came out that the thieves who stole over a million feet of timber have not been attacked, and not one of the army of engineers, sub-engineers, clerks of works, book-keepers and others employed to protect the public interest, have been arrested.

It is unnecessary to emphasize the criminal neglect of the men in power at Ottawa which those revelations substantiate. The worst feature of the case is the dilly-dallying which has taken place in the administration of justice. There may be reason for this delay, so far as the Ministers are concerned, but it has been directly opposed to the public interest. Mr. St. Louis is a relation of Mr. Ouimet, Minister of Public Works, and when he was before the Public Accounts Committee Mr. St. Louis seemed to think that he was being very hardly dealt with in being asked to account for the extraordinary payments made to him. He swore that he had been bled very heavily for Conservative election funds, in behalf of certain politicians, whose names, unfortunately, he did not divulge, and he made it apparent that he considered he should have all that he could get out of the Curran Bridge in order that he might be recompensed. No doubt the men in power at Ottawa will be inclined to agree with this estimate of the use of public funds. Their continual waste of public money on other contributors to their election funds was shown in the Connolly-McGreevy transactions, by which the country lost at least $700,000.

But even supposing the Government at Ottawa will yet take action against all those guilty of wrong-doing, or unfaithfulness, there are grave reasons for supposing that it will now be much harder to have justice done than would have been the case had prompt action been taken. When a business firm is defrauded-when a bank is robbedeffort is made to bring the culprit to while the enormity of his offense is fresh in the public mind. This promptitude has a double effect; it secures justice, as between the accused and his accusers, and it acts as a deterrent to those who may be tempted to do wrong. Justice, to be salutary, must be swift and sure. But that kind of justice is not being meted out in the Curran Bridge case.

ING IN LONDON.

Tomorrow evening, at 7:30, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada will begin its sessions in St. Andrew's Church. Several do, with pleasing impressions of the hundred ministers and elders will participate in the deliberations, and it is likely that the sederunts will continue till Friday of next week.

Twice previously since the union of the various branches of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, in 1875, has the General Assembly convened in this city -in 1876, when the late Dr. Topp, of Toronto, was elected moderator; and again in 1883, when Rev. Dr. King, now principal of Manitoba College, was selected as presiding officer. This naturally brings us to the question of who is likely to be elected moderator for the ensuing year. After the retiring moderatorthe veteran missionary, Dr. Mackay, of Formosa-has preached tomorrow night, the Assembly will be called upon to select his successor. The choice must be made from among the following nominees: Rev. Dr. Proudfoot, city; Rev. Dr. Robertson, superintendent of Northwest missions; Rev. Dr. Warden, Montreal; Professor Gordon, of Halifax: Professor Gregg, Toronto; Rev. Dr. Macdonald, Seaforth; and Rev. Dr. Torrance, Peterboro. All are eminent preachers, and any one of them would grace the moderator's chair.

Much interest is being evinced in the coming gathering, which will be open to the public. It is probable that three sessions will be held daily, and that the evening proceedings will be particularly attractive, as nearly all the great men of the Church are present, and will take part. The proposed new Hymnal, the two vacant professorships in Knox College, home and foreign missions, French evangelization, and appeals from the decisions of synods are among the leading items in the programme. On Sunday various city pulpits will be occupied by the visit-ing brethren, who in this and various Briggs, Toronto.

The Minister asked Mr. Martin not to press for the names of those to whom twine had been sold on credit. Mr. Costigan told Mr. McGregor that regulations governing fishing in Detroit and St. Clair Rivers and Lakes St. Clair and Erie had been suspended for the present since May 22, 1895. Seine Mr. Martin said he would withdraw it. net fishing is now permitted, though it was prohibited in 1894.

Mr. Dickey informed Mr. Laurier that it was true that the Government charging the Government for the city water supplied the citadel they would withdraw the military forces from that

Mr. Wallace stated that the quantity of hay exported from Canada to the United States and to England, respectively, in the following years was:

Great Britain. United States. Year. Tons. 1891.. .. 11,852 $ 150,291 50,000 $375,813 167,604 67,800 598,567 1892 .. 14,969 515,461 94,282 854,958 1893.. .. 50,892 1,700,409 87,847 733,575 1894.. ..175,559

Mr. Wallace stated that the total importations from Australia from June 30, 1894, to March 31, 1895, were of the value of $53,012. The chief items were: Bananas and pineapples, $1,346; hides and skins, $1,458; wools, $32,460. These are the free items. The dutiable imports were: Eggs, $4; oranges, lemons and limes, $2,874; butter, 36,907 pounds, $5,-926; lard, $187; salted beef, $161; canned meats, $7,413; mutton and lambs, 16,-052 pounds, valued at $576; poultry, $96; sausage casings, $366; tallow, $43; honey

There were some lively passages between Messrs. Martin and Boyd over a couple of Manitoba and Northwest matters. In reference to the homestead entry of Wm. Fleming in range 14. N. W. T., Mr. Martin moved for all correspondence with N. Boys, M.P. Mr. Fleming, in applying for a homestead, of land, a mere accidental error, in describing the mounds and other surveyors' marks. The land to which he made affidavit was under grazing lease to Mr. Boys. Although ordinarilly a grazing lease is no bar to homesteading, Mr. Fleming's entry was cancelled on the ground that he made a "false" affidavit. Messrs. Daly and Boyd defended the cancellation, the Minister saying that Mr. Fleming was open to an action for perjury.

Mr. Martin invited him to bring such an action. The motion carried. In moving for papers respecting the purchase of a site for the postoffice in Portage la Prairie, Mr. Martin attacked the choice of a site as inconvenient, inaccessible and costly. Ninety-nine feet were purchased at $75 per foot, or $5 less than the land upon which the Presbyterian church was located, could be obtained for. The site, he declared, cost three times its value, and was opposed to the wishes of the business community and citizens generally. The site was selected through the influence of Mr. Boyd, M.P. Mr. Boyd accused Mr. Martin of desiring the selection of a site in the east end of the town, where Mr. Martin's personal interests lay. "The memjustice at the earliest possible moment, conciliatory attitude towards Russia. ber for Winnipeg," he went on, "had, conveyance for pleasure driving, ernment, induced the Government to cate the Home for Incurables and the Land Titles Office on his property," Mr. Martin-That is untrue. Mr. Speaker-Order.

Mr. Martin-Well, Mr. Speaker, it is most untrue. Mr. Speaker-The honorable gentle man must withdraw the expression. Mr. Martin-I will not withdraw it because I can't. He's making a statement I know to be untrue. Mr. Speaker-If the honorable gentleman does not withdraw it I will have to name him. Mr. Martin-Of course, I will bow to the ruling of the chair, but can the member for Marquette be permitted to make untrue statements without contradiction? Mr. Speaker insisted on his point, and Mr. Boyd proceeded, and resented Mr. Martin trying to interfere with his patronage, for which he was prepared to take the responsibility.

Mr. Martin followed Mr. Boyd. He had told the corporation of the city of began: "The honorable gentleman quebec that if they persisted in overupon land owned by me." Mr. Boyd-No, I did not; I said it was reported. Mr. Martin-He certainly said first that they were, and afterwards qualified it by saying it was so reported. If he wishes to withdraw that, of course I am satisfied. As a matter of fact, I had no interest, near or remote, in the land referred to. It was purchased in one case from Wm. Smith, and in the other from Michael Blake.

This flat contradiction was simply saying in another form that Mr. Boyd's statement was untrue, but it seemed to be in better form according to the Speaker's view, but all the same Mr. Speaker was in error. It is quite parliamentary to say that a statement is false. It is only unparliamentary when it is added, "and the honorable gentle-man knows it." This incident is note-worthy as being the first time a Speaker has ever threatened to "name" a member of a Canadian Parliament. Mr. Oulmet defended the site of his postoffices, and said the cost was not excessive. The motion for papers passed. NOTES. Senator Boulton gives notice of a motion to the effect that in the opinion of this House if the excise duty on spirits, beer and tobacco were made equal to the productive duty on the same upon the average consumption during the past five years, an increase to the revenue would ensue of $2,500,000, and if 25 cents a gallon on spirits and 1 cents a pound on tobacco were added made an affidavit to a wrong parcel to the present duty a further increase of $2.000,000 would ensue.

The proprietors of Parmelee's Pills are constantly receiving letters similar to the following, which explains itself. Mr. John A. As a safe family medicine Parmelee's Vegetable Pills can be given in all cases requiring a Cathartic. Lady of the house-You can earn your dinner if you will chop that heap of firewood. BRITISH GRAIN TRADE. London, June 10.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: English wheats, after receding 6d early last week, recovered firmness. Foreign wheats have been steady, No. 2 red winter on pas-sage having sold at 29s; No. 1 California at 28s, and fine Duluth at 28s 6d. Corn, barley and oats have been quiet. Today there was an active trade in English wheats at 6d advance. Foreign and American were 6d higher, and Australian 3d dearer, while English flour was stationary. Round corn advanced 3d. Barleys were firm. Oats declined 3d, and linseed gained 6d. Cottonseed was 2s 6d per ton cheaper.

On 'Change. Special to C. E. Turner, broker, Masonic Temple, from Kennett, Hopkins Company.

Chicago, June 1.—The tip has been freely circulated that the Government will report a condition 71 to 74 on winter and 98 on spring wheat. Wheat has been sold all day on the belief that such a report would break the market 5c to 10c. Undoubtedly these conditions are higher than the trade has been counting on, in view of the very bad private reports, but it should be considered that the information from which the report was compiled was collected about two weeks ago. The lowest private estimate of the winter and spring is 425,000,000 bushels. Both the Price Current and Chicago Trade Bulletin agree on this. Snow puts his estimate at 434,000,000, and Thoman at 446,000,000. The Government may reduce the acreage so as to bring its crop estimate below either of these named, but the important thing to remember is that it will not show condition of winter wheat nearly as low as it would if taken now. Visible now about 3,500,000 below last year, and will probably be 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 smaller before it again increases. Primary receipts continue to run light and exports moderate. If wheat sells off on the Government re- presided. port it will probably be a good time to

Corn and Cats-Oats were strong early on dry weather predictions, but sold off later with other grains. Corn was weakened by heavy rains west of the Mississippi River, which it is assumed would greatly benefit the three principal corn states—Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas. Long stuff came out moderately. Oats look like a purchase for September on all soft spots, while corn may sell down considerably if the weather should improve.

eleven of his attendants. This intelligence proved very alarming to a wellknown family in this city. At Fort Sandeman is now stationed Col. Graves (sonin-law of Mr. P. E. Bucke, of Queen's avenue), who with a detachment of his regiment recently arrived in the disturbed neighborhood. Mrs. Graves at last accounts was with her husband, and the information then was that all were well. There is reason to believe that if Lieut. Howe and a detachment under him were killed, it was in an encounter with the hostile tribesmen, not at the fort but at some distance out, in which case the other members of the garrison would not be implicated. SENTENCE SUSPENDED.

John Millick and George Howard were given a very severe reprimand by the police magistrate this morning. They were up for sentence for entering the houses of Mr. St. George and Harry Wilkins on May 24, but the court told them in view of their having been dealt with by Judge Edward Elliott he would suspend sentence. Thope I may never see you again as long as the world lasts," said Hannington, the long-harbored resentment against Kingscott suddenly bursting in-"This will be the last time, I assure you."

"What do you mean?" said Ralph somewhat uneasily.

"Oh, I don't mean any harm to you. I am not going to hurt you. I mean only that I'm going to make a clean breast to Moncrieff of all the dealings I have ever had with you-including the way in which you used to bully Bertie Moncrieff, and the help I got from you when I made love to Molly. I don't supposed that he has ever heard that you used to plan our meetings, or that you arranged the details of that elopement. It will be a little surprise for Kingscott laughed lightly and made a step forward. "I have provided against that contingency,' he said. Hannington's perceptions were keen. His eye fell upon Kingscott's attireit seemed to him like that of a man ready for a journey; he carried a large bag in one hand.

"Oh, I see. So you are going to bolt at last," said Hannington coolly. Kingscott smiled and shrugged his

"My dear fellow, you are too clever by half," he answered. "I am going to pay a short visit to London, that Settle your affairs with Mr. Moncrieff as you please. I shall arrange mine pleasantly enough."
"Excue me," said Hannington, in a very determined tone. "You won't get off quite so soon as you think. I insist on you turning back with me now to Dunkeld, and being present at my interview with Molly's father. We We must have that matter of the robbery cleared up as soon as possible, as far as Molly is concerned."

"I know nothing about the robbery.
Appearances were agains Molly and

He stopped short. Hannington had seized him in a strong, masterful grip knocked him down. and was shaking him as a dog does a rat. "You lie!" he said. "And you know that you lie!"

But Hannington was out of training, and had lately led a peculiarly exhausting and unhealthy kind of life. On the other hand, Ralph was less courageous than his old acquaintance, and was inclined to make his way out of a difficult position by cunning, where Hannington would probably sink to brutality. His very lips looked pale in the evening light, while Hannington's face glowed with the burning red of anger and excitement.

"Let me go, you great fool!" said You will come with me to Dunkeld,

"I'll make you." "I'll do nothing of the kind. Let me go. I tell you I will come back."

"You will come with me now, and clear my wife's name." "How long is it since you have grown so fond of you wife?" said Kingscott with a sneer. It was an ill-advised remark. Hannington's hand clutched his collar more tightly than ever. The two men closed with one another. In the struggle it soon became evident that Hannington's supeior height and weight, as well as his frenzy of anger, told in his favor. Kingscott defended himself but feebly. He seemed to know that it was useless to contend for victory.

"There you are!" said Hannington at lest, as he held his opponent down upon the ground and looked at him with grim vindictiveness. "I have you now." What will you do? Will you walk quietly back to Dunkeld with me and hear what Moncrieff has to say to all that I can tell him? or will you take the thrashing that you deserve?"

"Neither," said Kingscott viciously. Hannington had slightly loosened his Kingscott wrenched his hand free and thrust it into his inner pocket. He kept his eyes fixed on his enemy's face; the savage hatred expression in them fascinated Hannington's attention for one moment, and in that moment he was lost. For Kingscott was a desperate man. The report of a revolver rang out to startle the silence of the lonely hills. To the man who fired that shot it seemed as if its echo would never die away. Although the lonely lane in which he stood was far removed from the habitations of man, he could not but fancy that the sound would rouse the avengers of blood, and bring them from scores of unsuspected nooks and corners to punish the murderer for his Kingscott rose to his feet. With a shaking hand he put the revolver back into his pocket, picked up his bag, and stood still, listening and looking. There was not a sound to be heard, save the chirp of a startled bird in the hedge. The gray sky seemed suddenly to have grown darker; the wind was rising, and rustled among the leafiless branches of the gaunt brown trees. Kingscott shivered and then laughed. He wanted to convince himself that he was not afraid. "The sooner I am off the better," he said, eyeing the body at his feet with strange invincible reluctance. "Is he dead? I'll look-no, I will not. What does it matter to me whether he is dead or alive? My business here is done. At any rate, I have paid him out for what he once made me, suffer. I knew all the time that it was he—not Bertie—who shot me at Torresmuir." He turned to go, but after taking a few steps he returned to Hannington's side. At first he thought there was no movement of the pulses; but a faint month. Elva Everitt and John Campthrob made it manifest by and by that life had not departed. the character of his niece. He turned away and strode hastily up the lane. He did not want to be seen in the high road now. He would strike across the fields and take a devious route towards Blairgowrie, thence to the nearest seaport town. He meant to make the best of his way to Spain. He disappeared into the gathering darkness and left John Hannington to his fate. The injured man became conscious after a time. He lay as Kingscot had left him, with his face turned up to the cloudy sky. The air was very cold, and a chill numbness presently took the place of pain. But he did not yet pass into sensibility again. His mind gradually acquired an extraordinary clearness; the whole of his past life seemed to unroll itself before him in the vivid light cast by the coming Eterenity. For the first time he judged himself; for the first time he wished that he had his life to live over again, and vowed to himself that if an earthly future were spared to him he would spend it differently. But he had no hope of life. Something in his sensations told him that he was doomed. He only longed intensely that he might not die without being able to say one word to Molly, to send a message to Lady Valencia, to ask pardon from Alan and his wife He calculated the chances of him being found alive and rated them very low. It was more than probable he would lapse into unconsciousness and pass gently before morning from unconsciousness to death. The bitter cold was more than his strength could bear. The process was already beginning when help came. A worikngman

-The use of the advertising advantages of a great newspaper is really only in the beginning of its development, remarks the Fourth Estate. So far it has barely touched trade as compared with the extent to which it will be carried as business sagacity learns to appreciate its advantages, unequaled by any and all other methods of inviting patronage for nearly every department of business.

-Charles Stratfold, Louis Cowan and Joseph Pasque, 12-years-olds from London West, were before Squire Lacey again yesterday on a charge of stealing a pocket-book from a lady at Wonderland. At the request of Mr. Sanders, inspector of the Children's Aid Society, the boys were remanded for another week to allow him to secure evidence and make inquiries into their history. "Many boys of tender years," said Mr. Sanders, "have the idea that they cannot be punished for any offense, but the sooner they rid themselves of the idea the better.

-A horse attached to a two-wheeled cart created quite a stir on Dundas street yesterday afternoon. It had been left untied in front of an office near the west end, and, becoming frightened, started eastward. When near the Market Lane the horse resolved to go back, wheeled around on the sidewalk in front of Kingsmill's drygoods store, and then took to the road. The cart was upset, but escaped damage, although the horse tried hard to kick the front off. A number of people were on the road at the time, but reached safe quarters.

—St. Thomas Times, Monday: St. George street hill, it is well known, is very dangerous to drive down, especially from the country side. It is only a week since an accident occurred, and another took place yesterday. Charles Cowan and wife, Mr. Herbert Patrick and Miss Florence Patrick, of London, were coming down the hill in a Gladstone, when the neck yoke broke and all were thrown out. Mr. Patrick was cut on the knee and face, and Miss Patrick badly cut on the face and bruised on the body. She was taken to the residence of her brother, Mr. Temple

THE MACLEODS. For more than a century the Macleods have been leading men in the Church of Scotland. Three of them have presided as moderator over the General Assemly, and the fourth Donald Macleod, of Glasgow, has just been chosen for that office. Dr. Macleod is the editor of Good Words, has traveled over most of the world, loves boating and fishing, is a capital storyteller, and has the most fashionable congregation in Glasgow. QUITE AGREEABLE. Manager Carr, Director Thomas H. Smallman and Solicitor I. F. Hellmuth met the members of the London Township Council yesterday afternoon and went over the line to Springbank, as surveyed along the north side of the river. If the railway company decides upon this route the township roads will have to be touched near the Grand Trunk Railway overhead bridge, Oak street, just west of London West's limits, and a rarely traveled road leading into the Ward property. The township councilors were quite agreeable to grant the company what was asked

THE CONVALESCENT HOME. The postponed meeting of the Convalescent Home was held on Thursday last, and several matters of importance were disposed of. Among the gifts gratefully acknowledged were a handsome sideboard from Mrs. Smart, and carpet from Mrs. Cleghorn; preserves, etc., from Miss Whitehead, Mrs. De la Hooke, Miss Hamilton, Mrs. Bullen; milk from Mr. Goodge, and donations in money-$2 from Miss C. Macklem, of Toronto; 50 cents from Mrs. Macbeth; $10 from the Ministering Children's League of the Memorial Church, and $5 from Mr. Beattie towards expenses of Lizzie Rice. Mrs. St. John Hytten-rauch having applied on the latter's behalf for an extension of her term of residence for three months more, in addition to the seven months already spent by the poor girl at the Convalescent Home, the condition of the leg being such that the artificial limb could not be fitted to it for some months longer, the request was granted, with the understanding that as the amount necessary for the purchase of the artificial limb had been provided already, further contributions should be allotted for her support meanwhile; and it is hoped that friends will help Mrs. Hyttenrauch to fulfill her pledge to the treasurer of the home. A sad case of face cancer, sent from the hospital, had to be declined, it being unanimously decided that medical treatment in the hospital was what was necessary. The applicant was sick and penniless and deserted by her husband, and consequently chargeable to the city. Her disease was of such a nature that it would not have been fair to other inmates to have given her admission. Otherwise her poverty would have been no bar to her admission to the Conva-

Date of General Election. When is it to be? The question is disturbing the souls of politicians. In view of the material alteration in the commercial policy of the country which would be involved in a change of government it is a matter which concerns the general public. Meanwhile the aching corns of the populace cry for a remedy, and the Government give no heed to the demand. Look here! don't suffer this neglect to delay the use of means open to all and which removes the most painful and obstinate corns in two days. Painless, sure acting corn cure. Put
