

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF TRAVELER FOUND DEAD IN ROOM IN HOTEL

Coroner MacLaren Orders an Inquest on Body.

IS IT SUICIDE OR HEART FAILURE?

The Tecumseh House Employees
Think the Latter—Came From Chicago.

Lying on the floor of his room at the Tecumseh House, with his head resting on the edge of the bed, Mr. Charles R. Babeuf, of Chicago, traveler for the Oliver Typewriter Company, was found dead last evening at 7:30 o'clock by Mr. George H. O'Neill, proprietor of the hotel, and Mr. Dan Dewar, night clerk.

The man had evidently been dead for some hours as rigor mortis had set in.

Coroner MacLaren was notified and will hold an inquest.

Babeuf was well known at the hotel and had been coming there for over six months. He came into the city on Thursday and registered.

He was given a room, and later was about the house as his custom.

On Saturday evening he retired about 12 o'clock.

Night Clerk Dewar left the room at 12:30, after locking the door leading into the bathroom at the request of Mr. Babeuf.

Dewar then left him, and that was the last seen of him alive.

Suspicion Aroused.
Yesterday, shortly before noon, one of the maids informed the clerk that Mr. Babeuf had not arisen, and that she could get no response from him.

Nothing was thought of this, however, and the room was not opened, as it is quite usual for roomers to sleep late on Sunday mornings.

Shortly after 7 o'clock last evening, Mr. O'Neill was again informed that no response could be got from the room, as the clerk had telephoned there repeatedly.

The maid also reported that she could get no answer.

Mr. O'Neill determined to investigate, and with Mr. Dewar went to the room. No response could be obtained.

Traveler Was Dead.
Mr. O'Neill then broke the door open.

There was no person in the bed, but on going around to the other side, Babeuf's body was found lying on the floor with only a nightgown on.

It was lying between a rocking chair and the bed with the head and left shoulder resting against the edge of the bed.

The body was picked up and laid on the bed. It was quite cold, and the man had evidently been dead for some hours.

Dr. Geo. D. Wilson was summoned, but nothing could be done. Mr. O'Neill informed Coroner MacLaren, who took charge of the remains.

The room was thoroughly searched by Coroner MacLaren, but nothing was found that looked suspicious.

There were no poison bottles nor anything of that nature.

There were no marks of violence on the body.

Babeuf had about $25 on him, besides considerable jewelry.

Something Mysterious.
"I will hold an inquest," said Coroner MacLaren. "There is something mysterious about the man's death, and a thorough investigation will have to be instituted. I found no bottles or anything of that nature. The room was very orderly, and the man's papers and documents were in good order. He had two $10 bills, a $2 bill and a $1 bill. There is considerable jewelry also on his person."

Was Well Known.
Babeuf was well known to the attaches of the hotel. He had been coming to the house for six months or more, and being of a jovial disposition, he became well acquainted with them. He was apparently about 50 years of age, smooth shaven, with a prominent nose, and of rather sturdy build. Babeuf was of French descent. He was the representative of the Oliver Typewriter in Western Ontario and frequently made trips to nearby towns.

Mr. O'Neill informed the traveler's employers directly about the affair, and instructions are being awaited.

Nothing is known about his family. It is said that he has a wife in Chicago, and one grownup son in Indiana.

Coroner MacLaren would not make a positive statement as to the cause of death. It is either heart failure or suicide, he thinks.

VICTIM OF BARRACKS TRAGEDY BURIED WITH MILITARY HONORS

Color-Sergeant Lloyd Interred in Stratford Cemetery With Impressive Ceremonies—Police On Close Watch for Private Moir.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Stratford, Ont., April 20. — With the sound of the shots of the firing party re-echoing through the cemetery, and the call of the "Last Post" ringing clear on the air, the remains of the late Color-Sergeant Henry Lloyd were interred in Avondale Cemetery this afternoon. The body arrived from London this morning, and was taken to his former residence on Nile street, where his brother lives at the present time. At 1 o'clock the Twenty-eighth Regiment Band headed a large procession of soldiers from his own company and others, which marched from the armories to the resting-place of the deceased, and thence to St. James' Church, where impressive burial services were conducted by Rev. W. T. Cluff, the rector. The pall-bearers were: Staff-Sergeants Fletcher and Smith, Sergeants Bowers and Bissett, of E Company, and Sergeants Madill and Wilton, of A Company.

The firing party was composed of twelve members of the company of which deceased was a member. There was also a large attendance of officers and men from other companies, who gathered to pay their last respects to the dead soldier.

Watching for Moir.
The local police authorities informed The Advertiser this morning that they were keeping careful watch of all roads leading to this city from St. Marys, in the expectation of gaining some information in regard to the fugitive Moir, who is believed to be coming in this direction. Up to the present time they have received no information as to his whereabouts. While they entertain the possibility of his coming this way, it is thought that he would make every effort to avoid touching the city, in every part of which the details of the tragedy are known.

But Was Nailed by the Owner and Policeman
Bolton.

William Johnston, a young Englishman, who says he is a sailor, was found guilty this morning by Magistrate Love, of breaking into the home of John Bedgood, at 210 Horton street, and stealing a number of articles therefrom.

Johnston is a nervy type of thief, and came very nearly getting away. When Mr. Bedgood came home on Saturday night about 10:30 he saw a man coming out of the laneway by his house.

Conservative Call For a Convention

The Conservatives of London will hold a convention on Friday next if the Auditorium can be obtained for that date, and if suitable arrangements cannot be made, then the convention will be held on Monday night.

The two names that will come before the convention are those of Hon. Adam Beck and Mr. Wm. Gray.

There will be a battle royal for the position, and some very interesting things will probably occur.

Mr. Gray is confident he can win the convention, if he is given a chance. He does not get it, he will oppose Mr. Beck anyway, he says.

It was stated this afternoon that Mr. Beck would not run in a third-cornered fight with Mr. Gray, but would retire and seek a Toronto seat.

CANNOT COME TO TERCENTENARY

Ottawa, April 20. — The following cable has been received from the high commissioner for South Africa by the Governor-General of Canada: Johannesburg, April 18, 1908, Prime Minister of Cape Colony, Transvaal and Orange River Colony, much regret, owing to pressure of public business, that it is impossible for them to visit Quebec for the forthcoming tercentenary celebration, and they have therefore nominated Sir Henry Devilliers, chief justice, Cape Colony, to represent them. They wish me to express their entire sympathy with the object of the gathering with which they are in full accord, and trust that the celebration may be a great success. (Signed) High Commissioner.

SOUTH OXFORD LIBERAL CONVENTION

Woodstock, April 20. — South Oxford Liberals will gather at Norwich today to choose a candidate for the Legislature, and hear an address by Leader MacKay.

The indications are that the convention will be one of the largest and most representative in some years.

Among the names which may come before the convention are Dr. McKay, T. R. Mayberry, Alex. Rose, R. Hawkins, Richard Seldon and C. W. Carroll.

Physicians Leave.
Dr. W. J. Tillmann and Dr. H. A. McCallum left yesterday afternoon for New York, from whence they sail shortly for the old country, where they will spend several months, visiting the large hospitals there.

RUMOR MOIR WAS CAPTURED IN A BARN NEAR STRATFORD

But the Police Know Nothing About It—Exciting Man Hunt
Continues On the Stratford Branch of the Grand —Detective Nickle Returns.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon a story, which could not be verified at the time of going to press, was being circulated to the effect that Private Moir had been captured in a barn two miles this side of Stratford. The Stratford police stated over the long-distance phone, that as far as they had heard no reports of the capture had been brought to the city. The last reports that they had was that Moir was seen yesterday, near St. Marys, he was then going towards that town.

Detective Returns.
Detective Thus, Nickle arrived this morning from Kelly's Siding, where he has been engaged in the search for Private Moir.
At the police station it was stated to The Advertiser that the police did not think that Moir had gone as far as Kelly's Siding.

PTE. MOIR WAS DISSATISFIED WITH POSITION AS ORDERLY

Thought That the Job of Attending Colonel Belton's Horse Was Beneath Him—Comrades Say He Will Suicide Rather Than Be Taken—Was Usually Inoffensive.

The fearful tragedy at the Barracks was the sole topic of conversation yesterday, and the interest taken in the fate of the desperate soldier was second only to the interest shown when the desperado Marion Brown made his thrilling escape in 1898.

Rumors of the whereabouts of the murderer were many. The police station was constantly besieged by inquiries as to the location of the man, and if there had been a battle. The opinion seemed general that Moir was desperate and that he would sell his life dearly. Among his comrades at the Barracks it was the expressed opinion that Moir would commit suicide just as soon as it dawned upon him that his case was hopeless.

REMAINS THOSE OF MARK GOOD COVES VICTIM IS IDENTIFIED

By Mr. John Price, Who Says He Cannot Be Mistaken—Deceased
Had Been in This Country for Twenty Years—Worked in Perrin's at One Time.

The remains of the man who was killed on the Grand Trunk tracks near the Cove Bridge on Friday night were identified this afternoon at Smith, Son & Clarke's undertaking rooms, as those of Mark Good, an Englishman, who came to this country about 20 years ago.

Mr. John Price, of 928 Waterloo street, is the gentleman who identified the body.

Mr. Price is positive that he is not mistaken, as besides the general similarity of features, he says Good had a bullet wound in his left side, which he received while serving with the American army in the Philippines.

When the body was examined it was found that there was a scar on the left side just about six inches below the heart.

In Canada Twenty Years.
"Good came to this country from England about 20 years ago," Mr. Price told The Advertiser.

"For some time he worked in the brick yards, and later worked in Perrin's biscuit works.

"He was somewhat unsettled, and fond of roaming around."

"About fourteen years ago he left London, and we heard no more of him until he wrote that he was with the American army in the Philippines.

"Later he wrote again, saying that he was in the hospital, suffering from a wound he had received in an engagement."

"He has a brother, George Good, in Mount Forest, and a sister, Mrs. Corbin, in West London. I had heard nothing from him since the letter from the hospital."

MORE FINES FOR ROWDY CONDUCT

Police Magistrate Love Is Determined to Wipe It Out in London.

That Magistrate Love intends to continue his good work of ridding London's streets of that class of semi-drunken rowdy who makes insulting remarks to ladies and other passers-by, was again in evidence this morning when William Evans and George Gould were found guilty of being drunk and disorderly, and not being able to pay the fines of $10 that were imposed on them were sent down to think their conduct over with Host Carter for twenty-one days.

The officers have orders to arrest everybody who acts in the slightest way unbecoming and his worship has promised to do the rest.

The case against Mr. J. B. Smallman and Contractor Mr. Martyn, re the new building, was adjourned for a week as the parties interested in New York have not been able to get here yet.

James Harris, who recently served a term for being a drunken vagrant, was again drunk and was placed on the Indian list with a warning of what will happen if he comes up again.

Clifford Shobottom was also placed on the Indian list for being drunk and disorderly paid $2.

A young man who was drunk and disorderly was sent down to the jail for a month.

SEVENTY-FIVE MISSING

City and State Unite for Systematic Search of Chelsea Ruins.

Boston, Mass., April 18.—The question of making a systematic search of the ruins of the Chelsea fire for the bodies of victims was discussed today by Medical Examiner McGrath and Mayor Beck, and it was decided to lay the matter before the state authorities. Eleven bodies have been recovered from the brick-filled cellars up to noon today, and the list of missing still numbers 75. It is the belief of the Chelsea officials and the medical examiner that the bodies of many of those who have failed to turn up are still in the ruins.

Canada's Patron Saint
St. John the Baptist Formally Assigned by Vatican.

Rome, April 19.—A papal decree has been issued assigning St. John the Baptist as the patron saint of Canada. Some time ago a petition was sent to the Vatican by the Archbishop of Quebec. It was signed by thousands of Canadian Catholics, and it impressed the Pope very much. It is customary for each country to have a patron saint, and several have been officially proclaimed as such by the Holy See in several countries, including, and even cities. A relic of this saint will be sent from here to Canada by the Vatican authorities.

Rifle Away.

With all the thrilling features of a western man hunt, the London police are continuing their chase after the desperate slayer of Color-Sergeant Lloyd.

A desperate man, armed with the most fearful of modern smallarms, is the quarry, and it is a thrilling chase.

For eighteen hours not a single clue of the whereabouts of Moir was secured. It seemed as if the earth had swallowed him.

Search was made everywhere, but not a person could be found who had seen him.

The whole country was paroled, but he had evidently escaped from the net.

Where the Man Hunt Is Going On.

The county constabulary throughout Middlesex had been given descriptions of the man, and told to be on the lookout.

Station agents were warned to report the stranger as soon as seen.

Yet for eighteen hours, from the time of his spectacular flight, not a trace of him was secured. He had evidently taken refuge in some barn or outhouse, and quietly waited for evening before making his escape.

Hunger forced him, however, to come out in daylight.

MISTAKEN FOR THIEVES TWO MEN ARE KILLED

Columbus, Ohio, Police Officers Shoot
Innocent Men to Death.

Columbus, Ohio, April 19.—Mistaken for burglars, John and William Frank, sons of R. O. Frank, a grocer, were shot and killed today, by City Patrolmen Heinze and Casey.

Shortly before the shooting burglars were discovered by neighbors in Frank's grocery store. The owner of the store and the police were informed about the same time of the burglary. The two young men, who were later shot, another brother, Albert, and William Younger, badly armed themselves and ran to the grocery. Patrolmen Heinze and Casey were watching in the shadows of the building, when the four young men arrived, and each party mistook the other for the burglars. According to Younger, "W. D. Frank fired a rifle four times at Patrolman Heinze, who drew a revolver and fatally wounded the young man. Patrolman Casey ordered the other three young men to throw up their hands, and they did so, the survivors say.

Patrolman Casey declares, however, that John Frank did not throw up his hands, but aimed a revolver at the patrolman. Casey then shot John Frank.

FOR A MILLION OF MONEY

BY ARTHUR W. MARCHMONT
Author of "By Right of Sword," "When I Was Czar," etc., etc.
Copyrighted, 1908.

It came in the afternoon. Elated over the result of his quarrel with Merridew, and knowing that his threat about the police was mere air, Purvis drank liberally of the excellent wine the butler had put before him at luncheon. He was in a loquacious mood, and would have talked to the man, but the latter, being doubtful about the position, deemed silence the best course.

After luncheon Purvis sat smoking by the open French window of the library, when Olive, who knew where he was, passed on the veranda.

"Come here, you," he called.

"Is it me you want, sor?" she cried as if in astonishment.

"Why, it's the little Irish girl, of course it's you I mean. Come in here."

Feigning reluctance, Olive approached the window. I mean here, the room. Come along. I want to talk to you," he insisted.

"What might your honor be pleased to want with me?" she asked.

He winked slyly. "I kept that secret for you all right. I told you you had done me a good turn. So you did, and I shan't forget it either. You're safe to stay in this house, whoever else goes, you see if you don't."

"Sure, I'm much obliged to your honor, but I saw the light of kindness in your eyes the instant I looked into them."

"Well, look into them again and see if it's still there," and he laughed.

"Oh, sor," cried Olive, shrinking away.

"It's all right, girl. Don't you be afraid of me. There are plenty who are, but you needn't be one of them. What's your name, by the by?"

"Mollie O'Brien, sor."

"Mollie, is it? And a pretty name for a pretty girl. Well, Mollie, mind this, you've got a friend in George Purvis, and one that can be a good friend, too, old crook as he is—or as some people think him, anyhow."

"Thank you, sor," said Olive, turning to go out.

"No, no, don't be off yet. How's my wife?"

"Your wife, sor?"

"Yes, my wife. Your mistress, Mrs. Rachel Merridew." He laughed as he said this, and shook his head knowingly.

"Old tell your honor—" "Don't you try to lie to me," he broke in fiercely, clenching his fist and shaking it in her face. "This thing has shaken me up, I tell you, and I'm dangerous. Tell me everything."

"You're hurtin' me arm, your honor," faltered Olive.

"To hell with hurting you. Here you shall come up and tell your story to my wife. I'll get to the bottom of this, somehow, and find out who you are and what your game is. Come on!" And he dragged her roughly across the room to the door.

CHAPTER XLVIII.
In the Dead of Night.

Only the merest accident saved Olive from the discovery which must have followed had Purvis carried out his intention to take her up to the presence of Mrs. Merridew to repeat to her the story about Selma Hammond.

In his anger Purvis stumbled against a chair, and for the moment loosened his grip on Olive's arm. With a sudden jerk she freed herself, and darted back to the window; and just at the moment two of the gardeners crossed the gravel path on to the lawn and began to work at a flower bed.

"If ye'll trate me like that agin, I'll call for help, sor; but if ye'll let me bide I'll tell ye all I know. Ye've no call to trate me like this," she said. "An' if ye were to do what you said, ye'd be after never seein' your child agin."

In his fury he had started to capture her again, but paused at seeing the two men outside. "Tell me then," he said, sternly. "This is everything in the world to me, mind."

Olive told him then all that she knew of Selma; that she was certainly his daughter, and had told her of the Merridews, and her life with them that she did not know Mrs. Merridew was her mother, and had no recollection of him; and that when it had been found out that she and Selma had met, the girl had been taken away.

If he now said a word of this to either the mother or the son, she warned him that Selma would be certainly taken away and placed out of his reach.

He listened intently, only breaking in now and then with a fierce oath of rage and threats of what he would do to revenge his child's treatment. But he believed she would be able to get at Selma, and that some friends, whom she had interested in her, were at that moment seeking her, and had in all probability found her, his rage changed to emotion, and he nearly broke down.

"Sure, my heart was just brakin' for the poor colleen, dear, swate thing that she is, and as innocent of wrong as a babe, an' callin' me her only frind in all the world; an' what could I do, when I came here and found out who they was, but try to help her. An' now you would ruin me for it."

"No, no, Mollie. Don't be scared. I won't breathe a word of what you've told me till my girl is safe in my arms again. You're a good girl, a head of a girl, and no one shall hurt you. I know too much for these folks to think of crossing me. Don't cry now," he added, for Olive appeared to be sobbing violently.

"Oh, it's ruined Oi am entirely, an' all for doin' a kindness," she wailed, refusing to be comforted. "They'll turn me out without iver a word of character; an' what'll Oi be after doin' thin'?" and her sobs increased in violence.

"Turn you out. I'd like to see 'em try it. I'd turn them out first. Why, a word from me and all this—" He checked himself abruptly.

"Oh, it's not you, sor, but the mistress, your wife, that 'ud do it. Oh! what'll Oi do? What'll Oi do? A day of black sorrow is this for me, alonna."

"Come, my girl, cheer up. I can't tell you why, but I've got the whip here, and could bring all this tumbling about their ears, and they won't dare to touch you if only I crack it. My little Selma's friend is my friend. Come, cheer up."

At that Olive consented to be comforted. Having got out of a very awkward predicament, and having gained, in addition, most encouraging information, she had no further use for tears.

She exacted a promise from Purvis that on no account would he let fall a hint of what she had told him, and gave one in return that she would let him know the instant she had news of Selma.

DASHING FIGHT IS CHURCHILL'S

Manchester By-Election Proves
One of the Fiercest Waged in Years.

London, April 18.—The recent reconstruction of the cabinet, which came about as a result of the retirement of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and the assumption of the office of premier by Herbert H. Asquith, has plunged the country into a miniature election. Not less than seven by-elections have been made necessary to fill the vacancies created by the cabinet changes. Four of these will be decided during the coming week.

By far the most interesting will be held to return a member from the northwest division of Manchester, where the fate of Winston Churchill, who is seeking re-election on his election to the presidency of the board of trade, will be a sure index of the country's estimate of the past two years of radical rule than are the verdicts of the smaller constituencies which recently have gone against the Government. This constituency has fought hard, and the political fighters in both the dominant parties are preparing for the fray. Mr. Churchill will again be opposed by W. Joyson Hicks, who contested this seat in the Unionist interests at the last general election in Manchester. There is also a Socialist candidate in the field, but he does not cut much of a figure.

Mr. Churchill is showing his customary dashing energy in as fiercely a waged contest as has been seen in this country in years. After a brief Good Friday truce he has addressed not less than half a dozen meetings today, four of which were in the open air in different parts of the constituency. Mrs. Churchill's mother, Mrs. Cornwallis West, is repeating her tactics of the last election. She accompanies her son to the platform and is untiring in her work among the doubtful groups of electors.

The woman suffragists are proving a thorn in the side of Mr. Churchill. Although he has declared himself in favor of woman suffrage, the women are overrunning the constituency in favor of the Unionist candidate, declaring that the recent attitude of the members of the cabinet and of parliament proves that the Government has no intention of doing the cause of the women to the front.

In the hardly anticipated eventuality of an adverse result, some complacent Radical holding a "safe" seat will be given political inducement to resign in favor of Mr. Churchill. Consequently, beyond the prestige to both himself and the Government he represents, Mr. Churchill's position in the cabinet will not be affected.

BUYS BELMONT PARK

Lieut.-Gov. Dunsinuir of British Columbia Adding To His Estate.

Victoria, B. C., April 20.—Hon. James Dunsinuir has added to his already large estate near Calgary a tract of 25 acres, which adjoins and will be incorporated with Hatley Park, and is forming a huge natural park and game preserve. Negotiations have been in progress for some time, and this week the whole of Belmont Park, with the exception of fifteen acres on the south side of the Metcheson road, passed into the possession of Hon. Mr. Dunsinuir. The tract acquired consists of 25 acres, and is situated in the heart of the Hatley Park estate. The price is said to have been $20,000.

BABY WAS FORGOTTEN

Easter Bargains Were Too Much for New York Shopper.

New York, April 18.—In the haste of closing a day's shopping on Thursday, a mother forgot her baby, and in a few minutes the child was left alone in the store of James A. Hearn & Son, in West Fourteenth street, when away their stocks for the day. They were aroused by the wailing of a baby. Search in the nursery revealed a pink-faced infant who had been overlooked when the other youngsters were checked out to their mothers. The mother of this baby could not be found.

All the shoppers remaining in the store hurried to the floor to look at the baby. They cooed at it, played with it, and some of the women wanted to adopt it, but James A. Hearn & Son, in a moment of panic, decided to call the child to the attention of the police. The mother of this baby could not be found.

HON. MR. HARCOURT TO PRIVATE LIFE

One of Legislature's Strongest
Members Who Will Not Stand for Re-election.

Welland, April 18.—Hon. Richard Harcourt will not be a member of the next Ontario Legislature. While no public announcement of his withdrawal has yet been made, the member for Monck has written the officers of the Reform Association throughout the province definitely advising them of his retirement from active political life.

Mr. Harcourt has not been in the best of health during the past few years, and this is understood to be the reason for vacating his seat. He has numerous business interests besides his duties as a member of the law firm of Harcourt & Cowper, which require his whole attention.

In the withdrawal of Mr. Harcourt the Province loses one of its biggest men. For over thirty years Mr. Harcourt has been a member of the Ontario Legislature, representing the riding of Monck continuously.

Mr. Harcourt is the third son of the late Michael Harcourt, who represented Haldimand in the Canadian Legislature previous to confederation. He was born in Seneca, Haldimand, Ont., in 1849, and was privately educated by the Rev. B. C. Hill, M.A., afterwards attending Toronto University, where he secured his degree of B. A. in 1870 and M. A. in 1871.

Becoming principal of Cayuga high school he was, after one year, appointed public school inspector for Haldimand.

He was called to the bar in 1876 and in 1890 was appointed a Q. C. by the Ontario Government. In 1896 he was recommended for the same dignity by the Tupper administration.

Mr. Harcourt first entered the Legislature in December, 1878. He entered Sir Oliver Mowat's Government as treasurer, Sept. 30, 1890.

In business affairs Mr. Harcourt has taken an active part, having been at various times a director of the Toronto General Trusts Company, president of the North American Mining Company and president of the Home Life Assurance Company.

In 1896 Mr. Harcourt was selected, with others, to serve as a commissioner on the revision of the Ontario statutes.

Mr. Harcourt has also taken a deep interest in the affairs of his church, the Anglican. He was one of the founders of the Church of England Literary and Publishing Company, and has served as a delegate to the church synod. He has been supreme leader of the Canadian Order of Home Church.

The only man who looms up large as Mr. Harcourt's successor is Mr. Thomas Marshall, of Dunville. He is admitted by Conservatives to be a strong man. Mr. Marshall declared any idea of opposition to Mr. Harcourt for the nomination, but he is now looked upon as the next standard-bearer in Monck of the Liberal party.

SOME CHANGES IN POWER CONTRACTS
The Transmission Line To Be Held in Trust for the Municipalities.

Toronto, April 20.—The contracts between the municipalities in the western power union and the hydro-electric commission are expected to be ready within a week. The change in the form of the contract which was made at the request of the municipalities is one providing that the transmission line will be held in trust for the municipalities by the Government after it has been paid for.

The various municipalities will pledge their credit for the cost of the line, which will be built under Government supervision and paid for by means of forty-year debentures.

Any city or town joining the combination after the line is constructed will be charged for a portion of the capital cost.

HE WAS AN EASY MARK
Portuguese Merchant Victim of Variety of Ancient Swindle.

Lisbon, April 19.—A new variety of the "Spanish prisoner" swindle has just been perpetrated on a prominent merchant here named Justino Almeida.

A few days ago he received a letter purporting to come from a bankrupt Russian banker, who stated that he had $480,000 deposited in the Bank of Portugal.

He proposed that the merchant should receive the whole deposit, keeping for himself $150,000, and delivering the remainder to his messenger.

One condition was imposed, however, and that was that the merchant should first advance $14,775.

Almeida accepted the offer, and handed a check for $1,675 to the messenger, who gave in return a check for $180,000. When Almeida presented the check at the bank yesterday it was promptly refused, the officials stating that no such deposit existed.

PRESIDENT TO VISIT KING
Entire French Squadron To Accompany Chief Executive.

London, April 18.—When President Fallières, France, visits England next month it will be the sign for one of the biggest naval demonstrations ever seen off the coast of England.

M. Fallières, the French ambassador in London, has been in France for several weeks making arrangements for the visit of the French president, and the event is looked upon as a very important one in diplomatic and governmental circles. It has been practically settled that the entire French channel squadron will escort President Fallières to Dover, where it will be received by the home fleet. There will be 60 French and English warships, not counting the torpedo boats.

No wine may hereafter be sold in Spain on Sundays, and the inns must be closed on weekdays at midnight.

NETTED FORTUNE AND HAD REVENGE

Wife of French Financier Played Coup—Made It Warm
for Bears.

Paris, April 19.—When the financier Rochette was arrested recently, a number of outside brokers and others interested in the stock market, who had been anticipating the event and had combined for that purpose, immediately sold heavily all the stocks in which Rochette was interested, forming a sort of "bear" syndicate, with the intention of buying back later on to cover their sales at a price at least 50 per cent lower. Then it was that all the stocks went down to a few francs each.

A few days later, to the surprise and astonishment of the "bear" syndicate, the various stocks in which Rochette was interested began to improve in price, and at the settlement the "bears" found themselves short in their calculations by a sum of $500,000, so that, instead of making a large profit, they have lost heavily.

It is now stated on good authority that the originator of the move which led to the unexpected improvement in price was Mme. Rochette herself. Immediately on hearing of her husband's arrest she returned from Biarritz to Paris and met some of her husband's business associates. She learned of the "bear" selling, and at once decided on action.

She realized on everything she could, and with $500,000 thus obtained gave orders to numerous brokers, outside brokers and other market intermediaries to buy for cash "spot" terms for immediate delivery as many of each of the principal different kinds of shares as the means at her disposal would allow.

She devoted special attention to the shares which were most threatened. While the newspaper reporters were hunting for her high and low, she sat in a little office for four hours every day giving her orders to the day's market and anxiously watching the rise of prices on the impulse of her cash purchases.

The result became clear in the discomfiture of the "bear" syndicate, and when she met her husband outside the investigating magistrate's room and threw herself weeping into his arms, she was able to tell him that she had made $500,000 for him through her shrewdness in forcing the "bear" syndicate to deliver to her agents' stocks at a much higher price than they had sold, while, at the same time, her action had tended to allay and limit the shareholders' panic.

MURDERED BY A CLOWN

Man Stabs Mother-in-Law and Cuts Her Husband's Throat.

Paris, April 18.—A young man named Linas, of Toulouse, and a friend, both dressed for a carnival as clowns, called on an old couple named Naudy, the father and mother of Mme. Linas, yesterday. Mme. Linas had said to her husband some days before, and returned to her parents' home.

The husband, on learning that she was out, drew a long knife from the pocket of his costume, stabbed his mother-in-law to the heart, cut his father-in-law's throat, and with his companion, rushed into the street, where they were followed by a policeman and imprisoned.

BABIES TO BE CAPTURED

Soldiers To Adopt Kidnapping To Stamp Out Cannibalism.

Lisbon, April 18.—France and Portugal have agreed to co-operate in their possessions in Guinea for the extermination of cannibals.

During the recent campaign, which resulted in the victory of the Portuguese troops, some of the natives devoured the bodies of those tribesmen who fell in battle. It has been moved whether any Europeans were eaten.

Instructions have been given to the Portuguese punitive expedition to capture all the children belonging to the tribes and to hand them over to more civilized tribes.

CROOK HUNTER DEAD

Made More Than 5,000 Arrests in Twenty-Nine Years.

New York, April 18.—Just as police headquarters were opening up for business this morning there came this message: "Dead—Robert M. McNaught, detective sergeant, retired."

It was the announcement of the passing out of a detective known in all large cities in this country, in South America and in European capitals.

"When 'Bob' McNaught retired three years ago he had been a policeman twenty-nine years, and all but three years of that time he had been a headquarters detective."

It was said of McNaught that he knew more crooks, big and little, than any detective in the country. An alert, quick-moving man, he had spent most of his life observing crooks and their ways.

McNaught made more than 5,000 arrests. His prisoners numbered big crooks, little crooks, slick crooks and blundering crooks, murderers and bad men. For a long time he was in the jewelry district shooting off the thieves who wandered along the "dead line" established by Brynes.

It was said of him that he could get information of a relation of a man better than any other detective. He believed that the crook of today is smarter than the crook of twenty years ago.

"Today they are better educated and shrewder," he said to a friend not long ago. "You have got to watch them. They don't hang out where you can find them. They work alone a good deal. Some of the old-timers will never be beaten in their particular lines, I suppose, but the young crooks of today are a shifty lot."

TOBACCO TRUST TO BE DISSOLVED

Held Liable Under the Sherman Law—Three Big Plants Closed.

Richmond, Va., April 18.—Rumors are current in this city today to the effect that the American Tobacco Company, with branches all over the world, is about to dissolve. The dissolution is practically admitted by officials of the company in this city, who will not allow their names to be mentioned in connection with the administration. This step, it is said, has been decided upon on the advice of the attorneys for the company in Washington, who are of the opinion that the company will be liable under the terms of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The Whitlock branch of the American Cigar Company, subsidiary of the American Tobacco Company, closed tonight for the purpose of taking an inventory. The plant will not open again until Monday, April 27. Simultaneously with the closing of the Whitlock branch, the Jersey City, N. J., branch, and also the branch at Lancaster, Pa., closed for the same purpose. Just what steps will be taken in closing down the other branches in this and other cities cannot be learned.

The three big plants mentioned are known as the machine-made cigar branches. The company has hundreds in Petersburg and Norfolk, Va., Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York City, Jacksonville, Tampa, and Key West, Fla., Charleston, S. C., Chicago, and other places in this country, as well as Havana, Cuba, and many other cities in foreign countries, including the Philippine Islands and the Hawaiian group, and China. When the three machine-made cigar plants start up again, it is said, they will no longer be connected, or known as being connected, with the American Tobacco Company. They will be known as the Cigar Stands Company, the American Cigar Company, American Licorice Company, together with the many other underlying and subsidiary companies composing the American Tobacco Company, will undergo the same process as that of the three machine-made cigar plants and that a number of separate independent companies controlling the tobacco and paper cigarette, boxes, leaf, export and other companies will be reorganized under separate heads.

KILLED IN THE SUBWAY
Montreal Railway Clerk Ground to Pieces at New York.

New York, April 18.—In the pockets of the clothing of an unknown man who was ground to death today under a train in the subway, the police found a card bearing the name of D. Sullivan, 22 Laguardia street, Montreal, Canada.

It was learned later that he had registered at the Hotel Empire yesterday as "D. Sullivan, Montreal."

Soon afterwards he left a small sum of money with the clerk, and at the same time said he was going out to see the city. Sullivan did not return again, and his room at the hotel was not occupied last night. In a value in the hotel room the police found letters indicating that D. Sullivan was a clerk in the employ of the Grand Trunk Railway. One of the letters was addressed to Sullivan at 323 Palace street, Quebec. The writer, who

STEAMER DISABLED

Vessel Reported in Trouble Off St. John, N. B.

St. John, N. B., April 18.—The steamer Victoria, Capt. Pickering, with the weekly mails and passengers, arrived at Halifax after a rough passage yesterday.

At 3:40 o'clock yesterday morning, when the ship was 136 miles east-southeast, Second Officer Baylis, who was on the bridge, observed a steamer on the port bow displaying two red lights, one below the other, signifying "not under control." Mr. Baylis signalled with the Morse code for 15 minutes, but got no reply.

The disabled steamer was a large craft, with three masts and one funnel. When last seen the ship was moving ahead, but in a zig-zag course.

One of the broad slopes of Mont Brizet, near Lodeve, France, is reported to have become detached from the foundations, and to have moved over a distance of nearly a quarter of a mile, carrying with it the soil, meadows and woods, and covering up in its passage roads and bridges that stood in the way. A chestnut grove has traveled 500 feet without suffering any apparent damage, but many small lakes have been formed by the damming of the waters.

The Londoners took the championship for pairs with a plus score of 17-5, which was over six points higher than the score made by the next pair up.

Other Londoners who succeeded in winning prizes were J. W. McGuire, H. S. Wilcox, J. Connors, J. M. Doyle.

ON THURSDAY NEXT THE IDEAL BOWLERS will take a jaunt to Guelph. Those who will take the trip are Ed Shea, Ken Murray, W. Lashbrook, J. Martell and possibly Ben Waterworth.

THE EXECUTIVE OF THE EAST END BASEBALL LEAGUE will meet tomorrow night to consider the question of players who have signed two or more contracts as a result of the Anchor-Somerville mixup.

NEW SHAMROCK LAUNCHED

Many Celebrities Witness the Ceremony at Fife's Shipyard.

Clydebank, April 19. — New Shamrock was launched at Fife's yard at Fairlie Friday. Robert Baldership, Sir Thomas Lipton's personal representative, many local celebrities, and hundreds of spectators assembled at the yard at 7:30 o'clock a.m., and watched the launching, which William Fife superintended.

When the boat was half way down the ways it stuck for a moment, but gradually moved into its place after some little trouble. When the boat had landed safely in the water it was seen she was beautifully decorated.

The Shamrock predominating. The bay was crowded with boats carrying spectators.

New Shamrock will go to Gourock on Monday to have its mast stepped.

MACK HAS THE PENNANT

Athletics' Manager Says Nothing Can Stop His Men.

New York, April 19.—Both the New York and Philadelphia American League teams look strong, according to the judgment of old-time baseball men who saw the opening series between the two clubs here this week.

This team here is strong," said Manager Mack, speaking of the Yankees. "It is a well-balanced team and while not especially good with the stick, is fast and gingery. Stahl played mighty good ball during the series. He batted in both runs one day and saved another game by a good throw."

Can't Be Stopped. "As for us," and here the Athletics' manager spoke with extra emphasis, "they can't stop us. We should have won all three games. Olding went in to the first game without sufficient training and lost for us by failing to slide at the home plate. Hartsel lost the second by failing to run out a long hit and being caught at home after two brilliant throws. In the same game we had two men thrown out at third. I have tried out three new pitchers in the three games and all three have shown up well. I would not undertake to say which is the best of the three."

Mack appears to be the most confident manager in the league, and the good showing of his pitchers does seem to make his team formidable. The American League team appears to have a big following in the metropolis and evidently is growing in popularity.

BASEBALL.

A game of baseball was played on the Island diamond Good Friday morning between the Nelsons and the Shamrocks, the former team winning by the score of 30 to 5. Batteries: Nelsons, Boyce, Tanner and Chatto; Shamrocks, Sullivan, Sage and Hewitt.

The Waterloo Street Stars went to the high school diamond yesterday afternoon, and defeated the Princesses Avenues by the score of 7 to 6. Batteries: Waterloos, Catalano and Burns; Princesses Avenues, Nelles, Campbell and Sanborn.

Lloyd's Register reports that the shipping under construction in the United Kingdom amounts to 459,000 tons less than in the previous twelve months. This is the biggest decrease since 1884.

Saturday's Winners. At Aqueduct—Indomitable 11 to 5, Thistlede 2 to 5, Juggler 5 to 2, Res-tigouche 6 to 1, Chaperon 8 to 1, Voor-tees 6 to 5.

At San Francisco—J. W. O'Neill 4 to 1, Tom Hayward 3 to 2, Yada 13 to 10, Marster 10 to 1, Boggs 8 to 5, Pa-jaroita 13 to 10.

SAME OLD SAMMY.

Anyone who thinks McGraw has unearthed a new utility player named Nicklin will be surprised when the Giants come here to find out it is only our old friend Sammy Strang, formerly of the Cubs and Sox. His name already has been, Sam Strang Nicklin, but owing to parental objection to his playing baseball he never before used the patronymic—Chicago Exchange.

TERRY MCGOVERN.

Terry McGovern threatens to get back into the boxing game. And why shouldn't he? Hasn't he the lovely name to conjure with and the lovely record to exploit? He is fraught with limitless possibilities, even though he hasn't the wherewithal to whip the meekest ad lowliest in the remote cot in the forgotten ward in the home for incurables—Exchange.

SOME NOTES OF HARNESS HORSES

The El will start in the Chamber of Commerce, Detroit.

Darkey Hal, 2:07 1/2, is extensively entered in the grand circuit.

Roy Brook, owned by Billy Fitch, of Hamilton, will be the reliance of Canadians in the M. and M.

Do not overlook the fact that entries for the Brandon, Man., stake races, close May 23, with the secretary, Mr. C. Fraser.

Rufus, the pacing gelding, by Arbuteau, 2:09 1/2, that Frank James, of Hamilton, recently sold to Jack McDonald, of Winnipeg, is said to be one of the most promising of green paces.

Jack Rattenbury is training Deltic, 2:17 1/2, by Arbuteau, 2:09 1/2, at Hamilton. This mare is owned by Mr. Van B. Woodruff, of Oshawa, and is booked for a low record this year.

The roan pacing gelding Sphinx B, 2:15 1/2, that was formerly in the stable of George Powell, the Orillia reinsman, recently won a free-for-all half-mile heat race on the ice at Halifax, N. S.

Burke & Co., of Alvinston, Ont., have purchased from R. B. Root, of Otisville, Mich., the trotting stallion Alta Electric, 3:36 1/2, by Electric, 2:38 1/2, out of the great brood mare Pepperomia, by Alcantara, 2:22.

A. W. Tyson, of the Guelph horseman, is shaping up the big Sir John gelding Springer, 2:18 1/2, for this season's campaign. Springer came into the limelight when he beat a good field in the 2:19 pace at Seaford last year after a six heat struggle.

Lulu Hal, by Star Hal—Brownie (dam of Charley B., 2:07 1/2, Ducky Hal, 2:07 1/2, Alpha Hal, 2:21 1/2, etc.), by Hamlet, is doing nicely in the hands of Rod McKenzie, the Guelph horseman. This mare has no record, and will be to the races this year for the first time.

George McPherson, the well-known Canadian reinsman, is back in this country after spending the winter in New Orleans, where he had an incident with the gallopers. He is much improved in health, and also in pocket as a result of his outing.

The trotting mare Ida Bays 2:23 1/2, by Monarch 2:13 1/2—Orman Maid, owned by H. H. James, of Hamilton, was shipped last Saturday from Hamilton to Winnipeg where the Hamilton reinsman Howell, p. 2:20 1/2, is handling a select string of trotters and pacers.

Nellie Raine, 2:22, owned by McKenzie Brothers, of Guelph, is heavy in foal to Bingen Pilot, the Crickston Stock Farm stallion. This mare was one of the sensational pacers a few years ago when she could show better than a 1:15 gait as a 2-year-old. She is by Lorraine (own brother to Del-march), dam Mistletoe (dam of Wild Holly, 2:14 1/2), Jim Wilson, 2:14 1/2, Rob Roy, 2:20 1/2, and Nellie Raine, 2:22, by Rooker.

Nat McNair, of River Louison, N. B., will come to the Canadian circuit this year with a select string of horses in charge of Trainer Charles Henry. The lot includes Will Be, 2:16 1/2, pacing stallion; Belmar, 2:21 1/2, trotting reference to Chas. Armstrong, the Newark outsider, is all bosh. The real Armstrong is at present working out with Stalling's Newark Eastern League bunch, and has not signed with Hamilton, N. J. Rara Falls, Guelph or London. Mr. Wreath states that the player will probably be farmed out for a year, and that Captain Bird is almost sure of first chance of signing him in case he is not used by Newark.

SPRAINS, WEAK MUSCLES—HOW BEST TREATED. In minor sprains the muscle is strained a little and all that's needed is a vigorous rubbing with Nerville. This draws the extra blood away and permits the muscle to return to its normal condition. The unusual sprain Nerville enjoys, is owing entirely to its penetrating power—it strikes in deeply, that's why it removes deep-seated pains and cures rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy and sciatica. As liniments go, there is just five times more pain-destroying power in Nerville than any other remedy. No wonder its sale is so large.

Montreal and Quebec. A veritable edition de luxe amongst railroad pamphlets has just been issued by the Grand Trunk to proclaim amongst tourists the glories of the cities of Montreal and Quebec. The brochure is beautifully printed, and generally arranged in the artistic style of earlier days, when the ornamentation of a volume was regarded as an important incident to its presentation of reading matter. It is also very well written, and gives an interesting description of the two most interesting cities in Canada, with many illustrations from photographs that have not hitherto been published. Sent to any address on receipt of a two-cent stamp. Apply to J. D. McDonald, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

SATURDAY BARGAINS. The best is none too good for you. That is why we are offering any 10 cent cigar made in London, four for 25 cents. OMEARA'S CIGAR STORE. Phone 267. Grand Opera Block.

FOR MARRIED MEN ONLY. When your razor is dull as a hoe, ask your wife if she wasn't paring her corns. Get her Putnam's Corn Extractor, it's the only painless and safe cure. All the dealers sell "Putnam's."

Rats, which have never appeared in Manitoba and the middle west before are beginning to be seen in noticeable numbers at various points.

Another Lemon For Tommy Burns Easily Defeats Smith at Paris

South African Champion Easily Victim for World's Champion.

Paris, April 19.—Tommy Burns, the American heavyweight champion, made a chopping block of "Jewey" Smith, of South Africa. Friday, flooring the latter four times and putting him away for the ten count in the fifth round with a terrific right swing to the jaw. The contest, which was a one-sided affair from the start, was scheduled for ten rounds and attracted the largest audience in the history of pugilism in this city. Americans and Parisians alike fought for seats, which sold at high prices, to witness the champion in action.

Beaten From Start. Smith was beaten from the start, although he landed several heavy body blows in the first and second rounds.

It was apparent to the audience that Burns was merely toying with the South African until the third, when Burns started to work in earnest. A left hook to the jaw at the start of the round put Smith down, but Burns seemed reluctant to end matters there. Smith came back gamely in the fourth, but failed to put a glove on the champion, who scored two knock-downs with ridiculous ease.

Rallied in Sixth. The South African rallied in the fifth, only to receive a rain of blows showered upon him by the champion, who brought the affair to a finish by swinging furiously to Smith's jaw, knocking him down. The fire department quickly extinguished a blaze which started in the decorations, causing slight damage.

An explosion of photographic apparatus in the third round caused a small panic, in which scores of spectators leaped to their feet, determined to rush from the arena. The fire department quickly extinguished a blaze which started in the decorations, causing slight damage.

A VANDERBILT COLT FOR ENGLISH DERBY. Paris, April 19.—W. K. Vanderbilt has now definitely decided to enter his colt, Seaside II, for the English Derby.

Duke, Vanderbilt's trainer, is devoting every effort to get the colt in perfect condition and has set his heart on winning the blue ribbon event of the turf. He feels confident he will succeed, and his confidence is shared by French racing men generally.

"I never ran a horse for the Derby," Duke said recently. "It is the ambition of my life to win the great event. It is too early for predictions, but I believe I have the winner."

Beaten Last Week. Although Seaside was beaten last week, French turfmen regard the animal as one of practically unlimited possibilities. He is a large bodied colt that has not yet attained perfect form, but to all appearances will be at the zenith of his powers by June, when the Derby is run.

Perry Belmont is reported as a candidate for Derby honors. He is reported as having two horses entered in the great English event, and friends say this is why Vanderbilt will make a special effort to win the event this year. Belmont has not yet joined the large American racing colony in France, but is laying plans to do so in the near future.

Seaside's performances already are closely watched and followed of the English turf say they would not be surprised if Croker's victory of last year would be repeated by Vanderbilt.

BUFFALO OUTSIDER TO BE GIVEN TRIAL. Comes Highly Recommended by Second Baseman Klineck.

In addition to the list of players which have been mentioned as possibilities for the London International League team Terence Riley, a young Buffalo outsider, will probably be given a tryout by Manager Wreath.

Riley is recommended by Klineck, who has been signed to play second base for London, and last year hit for .360 with the Pullmans of Buffalo.

Manager Wreath this morning stated that all the talk which has been circulating in reference to Chas. Armstrong, the Newark outsider, is all bosh. The real Armstrong is at present working out with Stalling's Newark Eastern League bunch, and has not signed with Hamilton, N. J. Rara Falls, Guelph or London. Bold Burglar Beneath the Bed While Many Sit in Adjoining Room

Daring Attempt Made To Burglarize a Colborne Street Residence.

What appears to have been a most daring attempt at burglary took place at the home of Mr. I. Quick, 190 Colborne street last night, between 9 and 10 o'clock. Fortunately the burglar was frightened away before anything of value had been taken.

The thief confined his efforts to a bedroom on the ground floor, running off a sitting-room in the adjoining room. Mr. and Mrs. Quick, their four daughters and a young gentleman friend. About 9 o'clock one of the young ladies retired to the bedroom to secure a pair of slippers. As she entered she noticed the door ajar, which she thought had been closed. She was wide open. However, seeing nothing further to excite alarm, she dismissed the matter from her mind, after closing the window.

Along about 10 o'clock another one of the girls entered the bedroom in question, and at once called out that a man had been there. Those present at once ran into the room and discovered all the drawers in the dresser standing near the window wide open, and the clothing in the same disarranged and thrown about as if someone had been searching for jewelry or money.

Investigation proved that the would-be burglar had probably been concealed under the bed when the first young lady entered the room, as large clots of mud were found on the floor underneath the bed. On the windowsill were also found traces of muddy boots. The daring of the burglar can be appreciated when it is realized that the door leading to the bedroom was never at any time fully closed during the evening, and that from the darkened room he could look out and see the slippers gathered around the piano. Evidently he thought he could safely take advantage of the diversion created by the music, and make away with any valuables which might be in the bedroom.

Although the police claim to know nothing of the matter, it is reported that the home of Mr. J. G. Raymond, 442 King street, was entered at a late hour last night, and some $80 worth of valuables taken.

It is supposed that the same party who visited Mr. Quick's home was the one who entered the latter place.

Isaac Webster, London Pioneer, Dead

Mr. Isaac Webster, one of London's oldest and best-known residents, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry McCutcheon, 379 Maitland street, at the advanced age of 90 years.

Mr. Webster was the oldest living Methodist in the city, having been a member of the church for 71 years, in which time he has taken a keen and active interest in all the work.

Mr. Webster was a son of the late Robert Webster, a descendant of the United Empire Loyalists who came to Canada from New York during the war of independence, and settled in London Township.

Mr. Webster was 2 years old when his father settled in London Township.

Mr. Webster could recollect the early times perfectly, and his accounts of the life and church work were extremely interesting.

In 1855 he came to this city and shortly after engaged in the grocery business.

Ever since he came to London Mr. Webster had been a member of Dundas Center Church, and for over 40 years had been a trustee.

When, in 1905, he celebrated his eighty-eighth birthday, the trustee board presented him with an album containing photographs of many of the officials of the church.

Mr. Webster died about a year ago very active, but his health had been such that his death was not unexpected.

The funeral will be held to Webster's Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

A Fast I. C. R. Express Is Ditched

Montreal, Que., April 20.—The I. C. R. Maritime Express, due in Montreal last evening from Halifax, was ditched near St. Helene de Bagot between St. Hyacinthe and Drummondville while running 30 miles an hour. She was about an hour late at the time. There was no warning, and all but one car left the rails. The passengers were tossed about, but none were seriously injured. A porter was hurled through a window into a pool of mud, and was half suffocated before rescued.

THE SULTAN GIVES IN TO ITALY

London, April 20.—A dispatch received here from Rome says orders have been issued countermanding the sending of an Italian squadron to Turkish waters for the purpose of covering the Sultan into granting Italy certain postal privileges in Turkish territory.

The Turkish ambassador to Rome,

Moustapha Rechid, gave Foreign Minister Tittoni satisfactory assurances that Italy would be accorded the same treatment with regard to postoffices as that enjoyed by the other powers. The foreign minister expressed his satisfaction at this equitable settlement, and thereupon countermanded the orders for the naval demonstration.

Want Music in Barrooms Cut Out

A meeting of the license commissioners was held on Saturday afternoon, when all the licenses for local hotels were renewed, in accordance with the list published in The Advertiser some time ago.

The license of the Britannia House was transferred from Mr. Morrow to Mr. John Cook, who recently purchased the hotel.

Rev. D. S. Hamilton, Secretary McDermid and Mr. McQueen were present.

At the meeting, and urged upon the commissioners the necessity of forbidding music in barrooms in the future, as it acted as a lure to many who otherwise might not be in the hotels.

The blinds were removed from barrooms in order that any secrecy may be stopped. These matters will be considered.

Commissioners Greer and Jones and Inspector Galpin were present.

CITY MAY FIND HOME FOR HARRIS

There seems to be some sort of a slight misunderstanding between the city and the county as to which should claim Henry Harris as a resident.

Harris, it will be remembered, was brought to the county jail by a local junk dealer, who found the old fellow wandering around near the asylum several days ago. Harris was suffering so badly from acute rheumatism that he was practically unable to walk.

Since then Harris has appeared before Squire Chittick twice—the last time today—and each time he has been remanded.

Now the county officials declare that the only thing they can do is to keep the old man in jail until warm weather arrives, when he will be allowed to go free, unless the city sends him to some charitable institution. The county officials declare that they could not commit him to one of the county charitable institutions if he was a county charge. However, inasmuch as Harris had always made his home in the city up until the day he was brought to the county jail, they do not feel that they can be held responsible for his welfare.

Harris will come up again in a week, and if he is able to walk by that time, and if the weather is warm, he will probably be allowed to go where he will.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon to Webster's Cemetery.

MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE

The April Session Listens to an Address on Evangelism.

The April session of the London Ministerial Alliance met, in the Y. M. C. A. parlors this morning with the following present: Dr. Ross and Messrs. Martin, Hamilton, Harris, Garrett, Shields, Carew, Walker, Black, Mackay, Ball, Inkster.

Rev. T. T. Shields gave an address on the subject of evangelism. Mr. Shields has had a large experience in evangelistic work and is recognized as a very efficient worker in this particular field. The speaker urged that evangelism be made the continual business of the church, and not rely upon special evangelistic missions.

The next and final session of the alliance for the current year will be addressed by Rev. Dyson Hague on "The Historic Episcopate."

REMAINS THOSE OF MARK GOOD

the Philippines, and how or when he came back I cannot say.

May Be a Mistake.

Mrs. B. Corbin, of 32 Paul street, a sister of Mark Good, viewed the body at Smith's undertaking rooms this afternoon, but could not state definitely whether it was that of her brother or not.

Mark had rather light hair," said she, "and his eyes were blue."

The hair of the corpse is dark in appearance, but it may be that it is discolored by soot and dirt.

Mrs. Corbin stated that her brother left London twelve years ago. Two years later she received a letter from him at Washington, D. C., asking for the price of a pair of shoes.

Since that time Mrs. Corbin said that she had received no word, beyond hearing it reported that her brother was a soldier in the Philippines, and had been shot through the side, but had recovered.

Mrs. Price, from whom the picture in this paper was obtained, is an old friend of the Good family.

"I'll know whether it is Mark Good or not as soon as I see the body," said she to The Advertiser.

Mrs. Price said that she had not heard from Mark Good for a number of years. At that time he was in Washington, D. C., and was about to enlist in the United States army.

W. E. Stevens, barrister, Aylmer, is seriously ill at his home as a result of injuries received here on Friday. He is a P. D. D. G. M. of the Oddfellows, and in company with the St. Thomas delegation, was walking in the parade, when he fell in a faint, striking his head on the pavement. His chin was badly cut, and concussion of the brain is feared.

Chief Clarke at Brantford.

Brantford Expositor: Chief Clarke, of London, in company with an architect Friday paid a visit to this city to inspect the Brantford fire department and particularly the new building in the East Ward. The visitors were accompanied by the excellence of the equipment and general layout of the latter station.

THE MESSAGE OF EASTER

Talbot Street Baptist Church Services Largely Attended.

The services yesterday, both morning and evening, at the Talbot Street Baptist Church, were very largely attended. The excellent music rendered by the choir, appropriate to the Easter season, added not a little to the celebration of the risen Saviour.

In the morning Rev. Mr. Vining chose as his text, "The Resurrection." This object so often used to illustrate the resurrection, such as the butterfly, the bud, or the flower, are not true illustrations, the speaker said, but to infuse life into inanimate matter, and that is resurrection, and that is what Jesus did when he raised Lazarus from the grave.

In the evening the pastor resumed his study of the history of Israelites, beginning with the death of Solomon, and showing the development of the causes that led ultimately to the secession of the ten tribes, during the reign of Rehoboam.

At Dundas Center.

The musical programme on Sunday evening, under Mr. J. Parnell Morris, was of an especially inspiring character. The "Hallelujah Chorus" was given a fine rendering. The ladies' trio, by Miss A. Reid, Miss G. Reid, and Miss Alice Hall, with violin obbligato by Miss Edna McSabb, was much enjoyed. The choir, consisting of 12 voices, rendered perfectly the "St. Mary Magdalene" (Stainer), with solos by Mr. Skinner, Miss Reid and Miss Hall, as also the anthem, "Easter Dawn" (Bartlett), were beautifully rendered.

INSIDIOUS DOUBT

Better Leave Science and Philosophy Alone, Says Editor Macdonald.

Chicago, April 20.—Those Christians who are not strongly fortified against the insidious workings of doubt were adjured to give a wide berth to science and philosophy yesterday, by J. A. Macdonald, managing editor of the Toronto Globe. Mr. Macdonald was speaking before a mass meeting of young men at the Young Men's Christian Association.

"Your traditional believers would do well to give science and philosophy a wide berth," he said, "there has been a wide spread of doubt, and a tendency to emphasize the finality of the physical sciences that constitutes a very real peril for the young man who is not well grounded in these abstruse subjects. It will not do to give them a superficial hearing. The mind to come through the fire untouched must have been carefully tempered first for such a ordeal. Let the rest avoid this perilous field of controversy."

Mr. Macdonald was talking on the general topic of some ideals of service.

"The ideal of true public service is only just beginning to make its way," he said, "The rich man, the man of intellectual culture, is still too prone to measure his power by the things which can take rather than by the gifts he can give. This is a false and vicious ideal, and must be supplanted by the Christlike doctrine of public service."

TAKE REDISTRIBUTION FROM LEGISLATURE

It is Reported That Premier Whitney Favors Independent Commission.

Toronto, April 20.—The News says: Those in close touch with Premier Whitney say that if his present views are maintained, the recent redistribution will be the last in Ontario undertaken on the system which has hitherto prevailed.

The plan of the First Minister is said to embrace the putting on the statute books of a law under which an independent commission will be permanently appointed whose duties would be to have charge of a redistribution after the taking of the census every ten years.

Certain principles will be laid down, a unit of population for cities and for rural districts, and adherence to municipal and county boundaries.

The composition of the commission has not been suggested. It would probably include a high court judge to preside, and other members who would act by reason of the offices they held. The plan, as understood, is to make the commission and its work statutory and permanent.

RIVER CLEAR OF ICE

St. Lawrence Now Free for Ships From Quebec to Gulf.

Quebec, April 18.—Everything at this port is now ready for the opening of navigation, and the river is clear of ice from Quebec to the Gulf. The Government steamer Montcalm, at Levis dock all winter undergoing repairs, is now coaling, so she can sail for the Gulf on Monday next to cruise around the lower St. Lawrence and transfer information by her wireless telegraph to incoming steamers as to the condition of the ice in the Gulf, also to tow any vessel that might get caught in an icefield, a precaution that the Government finds necessary at this time of the year.

The Richelieu and Ontario Navigation steamer, the New Quebec, docked last fall in the Levis drydock to undergo alterations, came out this morning, and will proceed to Sorel when the Lake St. Peter ice moves down the St. Lawrence River. The Quebec had a narrow escape from injury while attempting to leave her winter quarters owing to the lowness of the tide. Her side got caught at each side of the dock's gateway, and she had to be pushed back until there was higher water, when she floated out without difficulty.

OTTAWA-BROCKVILLE LINE

English Capital Said To Be Interested in It.

Brockville, April 18.—A movement is said to be on foot to construct an eastern line between Ottawa and Brockville, making use of the patent water powers between the two places. The distance by the C. P. R. is now 14 miles, and at this season the charter for an electric line was renewed. English capital is at the back of the project, and their representative will in a few days go over the proposed route and make a full investigation.

PROSECUTING JOHNNAITES

A Blasphemous Religious Sect of Russia To Be Broken Up.

St. Petersburg, April 20.—The authorities of St. Petersburg finally have decided upon the prosecution of the leaders of the notorious "Johnnaites" sect, whose practices have brought the name of Father John of Kronstadt into evil repute in the eyes of all Russians, except the lowest classes. Dozens of men and women, who surround the supposed saint have assumed such sacrilegious titles as the Holy Ghost, the Virgin, Archangel Michael, Mary Magdalene, John the Baptist and the designations of other apostles, and they are to be thoroughly investigated. The prosecutor has secured material grounds upon which to bring charges; not only will he be prosecuted for blasphemy and the laws of religion, but for forgery, blackmail, robbery and a number of other crimes all committed under cover of religion.

WHY HILL WAS BARRED

Not Wealthy Enough To Represent U. S. at the German Court.

Washington, April 18.—"The objection to Dr. Hill as ambassador to Berlin was simply and solely that his private fortune would not enable him to represent properly the dignity of the American nation."

This statement was made today in the House of Representatives by Mr. Longworth, of Ohio, son-in-law of President Roosevelt, during the consideration of the diplomatic appropriation bill. Mr. Longworth was making a plea for maintenance by the Government of suitable legation buildings.

LOCAL MARKET.

Monday, April 20.
It was thought that there would have been an extra good demand for wheat as was offered today, as there was only six loads on the stand, and the supply has been small since last Thursday. The quality of hay offered today was very inferior, which probably accounted for the slow demand. Sales were made at $13 to $14 per ton.
No oats were offered, and there should be an excellent demand for the same at tomorrow's market. One load of straw sold at $3.75.
Mr. McIntyre purchased a car load of live hogs at $6.25 per cwt for select and $4.75 per cwt for fat sows.

One of the daintiest and most satisfying little comedies seen at the Grand in many moons was "We Are King," which played to fair audiences Saturday afternoon and night.

True, there is nothing very original in the story, but it is cleverly unfolded, and it was a clever company which produced it. Mr. Edmund Carroll, in the dual role of the correspondent of the London Record, and the king, proved himself an admirable actor, with plenty of talent and an easy stage manner which took with the audience. His support was excellent.

A SPLENDID SPECTACLE WILL BE THE QUEBEC TERCENTENARY

Brilliant Staff and Magnificent Squadron To Accompany Prince of Wales.

London, April 19.—Arrangements have been completed for the visit of the Prince of Wales to Quebec in July to attend the tercentenary celebrations and inaugurate the monument on the Plains of Abraham, to Wolfe and Montcalm, and the men who fought under them for possession of what is now the Dominion of Canada. This will be the prince's second visit to Canada, the first having been nearly ten years ago, when returning from his world tour he visited all the chief towns and also spent some time fishing and hunting in the Northwest. This time, however, he will go no farther than Quebec, and his stay will not be extended over a fortnight.

The prince will cross the Atlantic on a fast cruiser, probably the Minotaur, which will be accompanied by another cruiser as an escort. He will leave Portsmouth July 18, and reach Quebec the 23rd.

The British Atlantic fleet will go over in advance of the Minotaur and escort to take part in the celebration and give a fitting welcome to the prince to the throne. His royal highness will be accompanied by a brilliant staff, so that none of the pomp and ceremony of the British court will be missing.

Among the staff will be Sir Francis Hopwood, permanent under secretary for the colonies, who of all men in England probably knows more about the colonies, and upon whom the Canadians at least rely when dealing with the mother country.

French and American squadrons also will be at Quebec, and invitations have been sent to France and to all the colonies to send delegations to take part in the celebrations. Australia has accepted and will be represented by Lord Dudley, the new governor-general of the commonwealth. Brouages, in the Charente Inférieure, the birthplace of the explorer, Champlain, has been asked to send a representative, as also have the families of General Wolfe and Montcalm, Levi J. Murray and Simon (Lord) Fraser, who performed deeds of valor in the taking of Quebec.

The prince on landing July 22, will be received by the governor-general and will be presented with an address by the Dominion Parliament. On the 23rd the scene of the landing of Champlain will be reconstituted, and the old navigator shown arriving with a crew in a replica of his ship. The fetes will then be formally opened by the prime minister in a speech, to which Sir Wilfrid Laurier will reply.

The programme for the following days is:

July 24—Dedication of the battlefield. Military and naval review.

July 25—Review of the fleets.

July 26—Thanksgiving Day. Services in the Roman Catholic and English Cathedrals.

July 27—Naval display ashore by 10,000 sailors. Representation of the bombardment of Quebec by the British fleet and army under Saunders and Wolfe.

July 29—Prince of Wales leaves Quebec.

New York, April 19.—The New York Herald in a special cable from its London correspondent today says:

"I understand that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman realizes now the hopelessness of his condition, and that no person outside of his family is allowed to see him except Captain Sinclair, his Scottish secretary, and the Archbishop of Canterbury. The latter calls on him almost every day. The prime minister's visits are themselves hints of the painful condition of the late prime minister. He is said to be allowed to sit in his room. This is true, but is misleading. He finds his bed so irksome that he craves to get up, so he is daily lifted from his bed and propped up in a sort of beehive chair, with pillows and cushions. In that position he is little less comfortable and somewhat less subject to heart attacks. There are illnesses in which a sitting position is practically imperative. The late Lord Salisbury, could not, without great risk, be propped up in bed during the final stages of his illness."

Quebec, April 19.—Nine men were killed by a premature blast of dynamite on the Transcontinental Railway construction at a camp at St. Cagane de Armagh, about 25 miles north of here in Bellechase County.

The dead comprise Foreman Campbell from New Brunswick, an Englishman named A. Hinkston, and seven French-Canadian laborers. Three others were injured.

The victims were all within 20 feet, and four of them were blown into fragments.

TRAIL LOST AT KELLY'S SIDING

brought to the police station that Moir had been seen at the Grove, a post-office about 3 miles northeast of London.

This was the first definite clue, and as there was no possibility of mistaking the man.

Detectives Nickle and Egelton and Sergt. Gilmour of the Barracks, started in pursuit. All carried Winchester rifles. On arriving at the Grove, the officers found that there was no mistaking the man.

Moir was dressed in the regulation khaki uniform and carried the rifle. He approached Postmaster Robinson and asked for something to eat.

The postmaster had not heard of the tragedy at that time, and willingly gave the fellow some food.

He only remained a few minutes—just long enough to get the food—and then started across the fields in the direction of Wyton, a little village further northeast.

Seen at Wyton.
That was the last seen of him by Mr. Robinson.

Shortly after 7 o'clock, he appeared at Wyton, going to the home of Mr. Moir.

Moir again asked for food, but as Mr. Martin's family had been ill, there was little to be given him, as the latter was practically empty.

"The man is evidently Moir," said Mr. Martin to the Advertiser.

BANGING IT THROUGH

The Objections to the Ordinary Mechanical Pianoplayer.

Artistic musicians look upon the ordinary mechanical pianoplayer as highly objectionable because it is so palpably mechanical. And there is reason for this. If the slow movement of Beethoven's Appassionata Sonata is to be banged through without any phrasing, its entire value as an art work is lost. Musical expression is the whole of music. Technique is simply a means to an end. But if that technique can be produced by mechanical means so perfectly that it will respond to the slightest wish of the artistic musical temperament, what then? This without exaggeration, it is claimed, is exactly the accomplishment of the Angelus, the king of pianoplayers. By means of the phrasing lever and the melody button the mechanism is under perfect control as to tempo and accentuation. That is why the Angelus has been secured by Messrs. Gourlay, Winter & Leeming, Toronto, for installation as an interior part of the Gourlay Piano. No better instrument than the Gourlay is manufactured in Canada, and no better player is manufactured in the world. The combination, therefore, of the Gourlay-Angelus is one of the triumphs of the century. Catalogue and price list are free for the asking. Leslie Harris Tomorrow.

There will be a large and influential audience on Tuesday evening at the Auditorium (Y. M. C. A.) Hall, to welcome the appearance of England's greatest entertainer, Mr. Leslie Harris. His short tour of the United States and Canada opening at the Hudson Theater, New York, in January, has been one big success. The press and public have united in acclaiming him the greatest single entertainer in the world.

Mr. Leslie Harris is an accomplished musician, writing most of his own words and music, plays the piano like a regular virtuoso, has a good singing voice, a charming personality and dramatic ability of the highest order.

Referring to Mr. Leslie Harris, in Hamilton, Thursday last, The Spectator says: "One of the most interesting and delightful entertainers ever seen in Hamilton. Kept his audience in a roar of laughter." The Herald says: "The entertainment given by Mr. Leslie Harris, the most enjoyable ever heard in this city in recent years."

The Times says: "Easily ranks with George Grossmith at his best, and in most things excels that artist."

Seats now on sale and plan open at Nordheimer's. A few excellent rush seats at 50 cents will be on sale at the hall, Tuesday evening.

"Barber of Seville" Today.

The Dunsmore English Grand Opera Company will be heard at the Grand this afternoon and evening in Rossini's famous comic opera masterpiece, "The Barber of Seville." This organization, headed by Madame Montaldi Baldini is presenting the opera in the same capable manner that it has been presented at both of the big opera houses in New York.

Proceeding by reports claiming for her no extraordinary ability, Miss Montaldi Baldini, first came to America last year. Industrious and without fanfare of trumpets she applied herself to the work of rehearsal in preparation for her bow before the most critical and yet most appreciative opera audience in the world, the clientele of the Manhattan Opera House. The quality and range of voice she revealed on the opening night proved a revelation to even the most confirmed habitue of the opera house, and the critics agreed that hers was a complete and worthy success.

"Ma's New Husband."

"Ma's New Husband," comes to the Grand for one performance next Wednesday evening. Its comicallities are said to be irresistible and the situation, while the music and special numbers have been received with popular acclaim. These, varied in theme, include solos, duets, quartettes and sextettes, are deftly introduced during the action of the piece in such a way that they never divert the mind from the thread of the story.

Easter in the Churches of London

Splendid Music, Interesting Sermons

Bishop Williams' Impressive Sermon in St. Paul's—Bishop McEvay in St. Peter's.

Notwithstanding that Easter Sunday was not nearly as bright or pleasant a day as Good Friday, every church in the city had one of the largest congregations of the year.

All the churches had decorations appropriate to the season, many of them being most beautifully adorned with large Easter lilies and sprays.

In every church, too, there was special Easter music, and some really splendid programmes of sacred music were rendered.

St. Paul's Cathedral presented a very beautiful appearance yesterday. The handsome new font erected in memory of Dean Innes was profusely decorated with Easter lilies and ferns, while the reading desk and pulpit were banked with sprays and oleanders.

Bishop Williams preached to a very large congregation, taking his text from Psalm, iii, 3: "The bath sent redemption unto his people."

"All history bears out the statement that the people of that age lived in darkness as far as any hope of a future life was concerned," said his lordship, referring to the time of the text. "No one had ever had any proof of the resurrection, which the body of Christ had risen and appeared to his disciples and the women. Some people try to make out that because there are variations in the story as told in the different chapters, that it cannot be true."

"No two persons who were ever asked to tell a story will tell it in the same way," he said. "Take the well-known instance of the battle of Waterloo. Wellington declared that the battle started at 11 o'clock in the morning; Napoleon said it was at 12, and Marshal Ney had no doubt what ever that it was at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. But because these three men differed there is no doubt that the battle of Waterloo was fought."

"So it is with Christ. Because those who were with him tell the story of his resurrection in a different way, there is no doubt that he arose from the dead."

"The resurrection marks the difference between Christians of today and the people before Christ was crucified. He has conquered death, and we have a sure foundation laid, and are redeemed from all doubt."

"We are redeemed also from all sense of failure, for we have a sure something to us more than mere living."

"It was the consciousness of this that enabled the Christian martyrs to undergo the severest of deaths. However evil might triumph for the moment, they knew goodness was sure to win in the end. To outward appearances evil is triumphant in many places today. Never was the victory of good over evil more strongly shown than by the resurrection. It has redeemed us also from the tyrannical and hopeless sense of death."

"Time was when no matter how much man might wish for immortality, they had seen no proofs of it. The same hopelessness is seen at present among the heathen and those who have not accepted Christ. To the individual the resurrection is the greatest uplifting influence. The While riding yesterday afternoon, Mr. E. Banks of this city, was badly injured by a fall from a horse. His shoulder blade was splintered and he was bruised badly. His injuries are very painful and will lay him up for some time.

Mr. Banks and a friend were riding along at a good stiff gallop, when the horse he was riding crossed its front legs, turning a somersault. Banks was thrown a considerable distance, alighting on his back.

His friend was following close behind, and the horse attempted to jump over Banks. It did not clear well, and Banks was struck on the right shoulder blade by the horse's hoofs, fracturing it.

Banks was taken home, and the bone set.

SUFFRAGISTS GET HOPE

Women Agitators Encouraged by Inauguration of New Ministry.

London, April 19.—The woman suffrage agitators have taken new hope of final triumph with the appointment of Herbert Henry Asquith to be Prime Minister.

Not that Mr. Asquith has himself been anything more than lukewarm in his espousal of the women's cause; nor that they have any reason to feel that Mrs. Asquith will exert her great influence for them. Their hope lies in the brilliant and scholarly young Mrs. Harold John Tennant, Mrs. Asquith's sister-in-law, who is devoted heart and soul to the cause of equal suffrage and has fought many of its battles, although so far she has refrained from any public demonstration that would be likely to land her in jail. It is well understood, however, that this has been only in deference to the wishes of her husband's family and because she has realized the possibility of what has just taken place, the coming in of an Asquith ministry.

Mrs. Tennant was one of his majesty's superintending inspectors of factories, a practical, brainy, enthusiastic working woman, when Harold John Tennant married her a few years ago. She was Margaret Edith Abraham, the daughter of Irish parents, who were educated by one of the most scholarly English women of the generation—Lady Dilke's sister.

Later she became Lady Dilke's private secretary and dispensed the large sums Lady Dilke spent every year to build up trades unions for girls and also to force the House of Commons to pass laws for the safety and protection of working women. Lady Dilke often said that Margaret Abraham had the finest mind she had ever encountered in a woman, and she took great pride in her protégée.

TO AID ADMIRALTY

Masters of Ships Will Report on War Vessels Encountered.

London, April 18.—The admiralty is inviting the co-operation of ship-owners in the direction of improving its naval intelligence department. The merchant skipper is to be called upon to assist by reporting every warship he meets, whether British or foreign.

The admiralty is supplying block sketches to shipmasters through ship-owners so that they may more easily identify any war vessel they encounter. Their duty will be to signal intelligence to any of his majesty's ships which they may pass on the high seas or to hand it over to the proper authorities at colonial or foreign ports.

At present probably the ship's captain does not care two straws whether they pass as long as they do not get in their way. There is to be nothing in the way of a fee or reward for this additional duty of the British shipmaster. He is expected to do it for love of country. Considering the great preponderance of British shipping, shipmasters have a splendid opportunity for acting as watchdogs in every part of the globe. At least it is considered desirable that they should familiarize themselves with the appearance, not only of the craft on whose assistance they might some day have to rely, but of those from which it might on occasion be necessary they should run away.

man who has grasped its significance will not allow his affections to center in earthly things.

"He will be cheerful and hopeful, as only those can be who realize beyond any doubt that their lives are something which they can use by doing good deeds and following his commands to win the heavenly reward and dwell with their Master after death."

A very beautiful programme of Easter music was rendered by the choir. Miss Duggler sang very beautifully also the solo, "Hosanna," by Jules Granier.

In the afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the new font was used for the first time, when Mr. Frank Reid's infant son was christened by Canon Dann. The baby was called Arthur King Reid.

Large congregations were present at St. Andrew's at both the morning and evening services. Rev. Dr. Ross spoke on the resurrection in the morning, and continued the subject at the evening service. The theme was a very beautiful one, and Dr. Ross told in a way that brought forth all its beauty and impressiveness.

The choir, under the direction of Mr. Charles E. Wheeler, rendered a programme of Easter music that was very much appreciated. Miss Mortimer's rendition of the solo, "Every Flower that Blooms," was most acceptable.

At Dundas Church yesterday morning Rev. B. B. Lancelley preached a very beautiful sermon to children on the joyousness of Easter. In the evening the church was crowded when Mr. Lancelley preached on the resurrection.

The choir rendered some splendid selections, and solos were sung by Madam Egbert, of Detroit, Mr. W. Skinner, Miss Reid and Miss Halls.

Commencing this evening, Miss Alice Chapman, of Boston, will speak every evening this week in Dundas Church.

At the New St. James' Church yesterday morning, the pulpit was occupied by Rev. Mr. Nixon, of Hyde Park, who spoke of Easter and all that it means. In the evening Rev. James Rollins, of King Street Presbyterian Church, preached.

The choir, under the direction of Mr. J. J. Amont Galbraith, rendered some splendid music and solos were sung by Mr. McClymont and Mrs. E. Wyatt.

At the First Methodist Church last evening Rev. J. W. Graham preached on "Faith, Hope and Charity."

The choir at both services rendered most acceptably a programme arranged by Mr. A. D. Jordan.

St. Peter's Cathedral was filled to overflowing at all services, large numbers of visitors from out of town being in attendance.

In the morning Bishop McEvay sang the pontifical high mass. He was assisted by the priests of the parish.

Father Aylward delivered a splendid Easter address, in concluding which he made a special appeal to those present to pray earnestly and attend the services regularly.

The morning service was concluded by Bishop McEvay extending the Papal blessing on all who had received the Holy Communion.

In the evening Father Goetz, of Walkerville, celebrated vespers, assisted by Fathers O'Neill and Ford.

At Colborne Street Methodist Church, Rev. F. E. Malott preached two splendid Easter sermons.

Special music, arranged by Mr. Geiger, added greatly to the beauty of the services.

Mrs. Cochrane and the Colborne Street Quartet, composed of Mrs. Cochrane, Mrs. Westman, Mr. Westman and Mr. Andrews, rendered some excellent numbers.

Signet Ring For Sovereign Francis

At their regular meeting the other evening, the members of Forest City Camp, No. 1, W. O. W., presented Sov. John Francis with a valuable signet ring, engraved with the emblems of the order.

A beautifully-worded address had been read by Sov. James Pope, thanking Sov. Francis for his services as C. C. of Uniform Rank, No. 10, Capt. F. Baillie made the presentation. Although taken by surprise, Sov. Francis, in a neat speech, thanked the members of Forest City Camp for their kindness in presenting him with the ring.

Fancy Drill.

There being about 125 members in attendance, the Uniform Rank, under command of Capt. Baillie, gave an exhibition of fancy drill for the benefit of those present.

After closing camp the members enjoyed a game of carapell, captained by W. C. Fitzgerald and Sov. Francis. In a closely-contested game Sov. Fitzgerald's team won by three points.

C. P. R. Rates Re Freight Shipments

The C. P. R. has issued the following circular re the marking and addressing of freight:

The attention of all concerned is again directed to the necessity of fully marking all freight.

1. Each package or piece of less than carload freight forwarded all rail, also each package or piece of carload and less than carload freight forwarded "lake and rail" must be plainly marked with the name or initials of the consignee and the destination in full, so as to insure prompt delivery, even if separated from the waybill.

2. Marks on packages should be compared with the bill of lading, and correction, if necessary, made by the shipper or his representative. Old marks must be removed or effaced.

3. Tags should not be used when the nature of the goods will permit of the address being stencilled on packages. If this be not possible, some distinguishing mark or brand must be placed upon the goods, and must be shown in the bill of lading. Agents must transfer such mark or brand to the waybill, which must describe the goods fully. For example, in the case of a shipment of canned goods, the bill of lading, (and also the waybill) must show so many cases of tomatoes, so many cases of pears, so many cases of corn, etc., as well as the brand and the mark indicating the consignee and destination.

4. The marks on the packages must correspond with those shown in the bill of lading. For example, on a shipment to Winnipeg the packages must be marked "Winnipeg," and not some other destination for which the goods may be ultimately intended. If packages are intended for redistribution beyond, a special designating mark may be used for the guidance of those attending to the redistribution, but only the destination given in the bill of lading must be shown on the goods.

5. Frequently in connection with lake and rail shipments, there is on the same boat more than one consignee for one consignee. In order to prevent such consign
