

MASONIC DELEGATES POURING IN FOR GRAND LODGE CONVENTION

A Large Number of Prominent Masons of Ontario Have Already Arrived for the Big Gathering—Interest in the Elections Is Very Keen and There Will Be Warm Competition.

Although the grand lodge does not meet until Wednesday morning, large numbers of Masons are coming into the city today.

The advance guard arrived Saturday, but this morning the number was increased by the arrival of practically all of the board of general purposes. They will hold their first meeting this afternoon to prepare the business to be presented to the grand lodge.

M. W. Bro. A. T. Freed, of Hamilton, the grand master, arrived Saturday evening, and greeted the brethren as they arrived.

Judge Harding, of Lindsay, chairman of the committee on benevolence, was also an early arrival, and the two spent a pleasant time together. R. W. Bro. D. J. Gunn, of Hamilton, was early on the ground, getting reports of readiness, and doing other necessary work.

The New Grand Master.

R. W. Bro. Judge D. F. MacWatt, of Sarnia, the coming grand master, arrived on No. 6 at noon, and later was joined by the Toronto contingent.

Those who will go are Mayor Stevely, Ald. Beattie, Ferguson, Stewart, Fitzgerald, Saunders, Rose, Cooper, Gerry, Electrical Engineer Sifton and possibly Ald. Garratt.

There is some talk on the street that the conference will not be altogether a love feast, but will be on the contrary rather a warm session. It is known that Hon. Adam Beck is not delighted with the attitude of the council of London, and it is certain that some of the members of the council are not tickled to death with his handling of the power question.

Preparing Ammunition. In the meantime both sides are preparing ammunition for the event, and if signs fall not there will be some interesting developments.

It may develop into an afternoon where the council will be jollied along, but this will not happen unless the council and the commissioners are in better humor.

Several of the aldermen will not be invited, but will ask some pointed questions, and will demand a straight answer as to why Hamilton was given preferential treatment.

Expert stenographers will be on hand for both parties.

AN INSURANCE FIGHT. Montreal, July 19.—The Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association has declared war on unlicensed companies doing business in Canada, and as a starter has entered an action against the Willis Faber Company, Limited.

The agents of S. L. Lloyd's London. The underwriters and the outside people fought the matter out of Ottawa last session, and the deposit of $50,000 by domestic and $100,000 by foreign companies as required by the insurance act, was not disturbed. There is a penalty for not complying with the law, and the underwriters ask that the same be inflicted.

IMMIGRATION FIGURES. London, July 18.—The British emigrants to Canada in 1908 numbered 81,221, as against 151,216 the previous year. To the United States they were 96,869, as against 170,264 for the previous twelve months. Emigration from England in 1908 was the smallest in 12 years.

In response to several invitations, William Henry, founder of the Royal Life Saving Society, will visit Canada in August with the object of extending the organization.

His majesty has approved of General Willich and M. K. Moorhead, United States consuls at Quebec and St. John, N. B., respectively.

C. M. Hays, sails on the Lusitania today. Interviewed he said that the G. T. P. would be completed from ocean to ocean in three years.

THE WEATHER. TOMORROW—FAIR. TEMPERATURES. Toronto, July 19—8 a.m. Windy; fine and cool.

Today—Fresh northerly to northwesterly winds; fine and cool.

Tuesday—Northeasterly winds; fine.

FORECASTS. Stations. 8 a.m. Low. High. Yesterday. Today.

Heavy showers and thunderstorms have raged since Saturday in the Ottawa and St. Lawrence Valley, and light local rain in the Western Provinces.

headed by M. W. Bro. John Ross Robertson and R. W. Bro. Aubrey White, a prominent candidate for the position of deputy grand master. All are quartered at the Tecumseh House.

An hour was spent in renewing old acquaintances, and sharp at 2:30 the board got down to business.

Other than the board there were many brethren whose names are mentioned for grand lodge honors, and they are all busy meeting old friends and making others.

Committee Reports. The committee reports are well advanced, and are now in the hands of the printers.

R. W. Bro. W. Geo. Eakins, of Toronto, is chairman of the printing committee, and he is busy at work, and will be until the grand lodge ends its labors.

The election to the different offices is creating much interest, and there is likelihood of keen rivalry for the different positions.

As announced R. W. Bro. Judge MacWatt (Continued on Page Eight.)

Interview Will Not Be a Love Feast. Mayor and Aldermen Will Go to Toronto to See Hydro-Electric Commission.

The mayor and several of the aldermen will go to Toronto tomorrow to interview the hydro-electric commission to find out where the city stands.

Those who will go are Mayor Stevely, Ald. Beattie, Ferguson, Stewart, Fitzgerald, Saunders, Rose, Cooper, Gerry, Electrical Engineer Sifton and possibly Ald. Garratt.

A GRAND NEPHEW OF THE GREAT NAPOLEON

There is no doubt a large gathering will listen to Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte's address to the Canadian Club at noon on Tuesday.

He will arrive in the city this evening, and will spend his holiday with Mrs. Becher.

The fame of the distinguished visitor reached London long ago, and there is a warm welcome awaiting him.

Mr. Bonaparte made his first bid for fame as a civil reformer in his home city of Baltimore. The great success that attended his efforts became a national theme, and he was immediately marked for preference.

There was no surprise expressed when President Roosevelt, himself a civil reformer, added Mr. Bonaparte to his cabinet. It is expected he will speak on civil government.

Mr. Bonaparte is a grand nephew of the hero of Austerlitz, Jena, Marengo and scores of other battles.

MR. JAMES EGAN CELEBRATES HIS EIGHTY-SECOND BIRTHDAY

Pioneer Photographer of London Is Still Hale and Hearty and Takes a Keen Interest in Public Affairs—A Life Honorary Member of the Public Library Board of London.

Mr. James Egan, one of London's oldest and most highly esteemed residents, is today quietly celebrating his 82nd birthday at his residence, St. George street.

Though he has reached such a ripe age, Mr. Egan is in the enjoyment of the best of health, his mental powers, always of the keenest, are as clear as ever they were, and his friends declare he would easily pass for a man at least a couple of decades younger than he is.

He possesses a remarkable memory, and it is extremely interesting to listen to him recall incidents of early days in London.

Born in Devonshire, Mr. Egan is of Irish parentage, but was born in the town of Plymouth, Devonshire, England. The family came to Canada in 1831, remained in Quebec for three years, and then came west, settling in the then very small village of Woodstock. There Mr. Egan acquired a knowledge of the printer's art, and in 1848 he found himself the

LONDON GIRL WAS KILLED IN FERNIE

Word Received Here of Death of Miss Lucy Horwood in British Columbia.

MET WITH AN ACCIDENT

But No Particulars Are as Yet Available—Was Engaged in Salvation Army Work in the West.

Mr. Henry Horwood, of 131½ Duchess avenue, received a telegram yesterday from Fernie, stating that his daughter, Miss Lucy Horwood, had died there during the morning, as a result of having met with an accident. No details whatever have as yet been received regarding the accident.

Miss Horwood was Mr. Horwood's third youngest daughter and was 24 years old. She had been engaged in Salvation Army work for some years and received her early training in the work in Toronto and in this city.

Held Rank of Captain. Two years ago she left to do army work in the west, and at the time of her death was holding the rank of captain and was stationed in the Fernie district. Miss Horwood was born in England, but came to Canada with her parents when very young. She was a most energetic worker and was widely known and esteemed among the people of this city.

Another sister, Miss Nellie Horwood, is an ensign in the army, and has been working in Vernon, B. C. A brother, Alfred, in Winnipeg, is also in the army, and will accompany the remains to this city.

The Survivors. Besides her father, Mr. Henry Horwood, Miss Horwood is survived by four brothers and four sisters: Mrs. Smith of Central avenue; Miss Lydia Horwood, of Toronto; Mrs. Dick of the Base Line; Miss Mabel, of this city; Alfred, of Winnipeg; William, of Toronto and Henry and Herbert, of this city.

It is expected that the remains will arrive in the city on Thursday or Friday and arrangements will be made for holding the funeral under the Salvation Army auspices.

The First News. The family received a telegram on Saturday evening advising them that Miss Horwood had been injured and yesterday received another announcing that she died at 3 o'clock on Sunday morning.

A Splendid Worker. Local Salvation Army officers all speak in the highest terms of the late Captain Horwood.

"She was a splendid girl," Ensign Henderson of the local headquarters told The Advertiser this afternoon, "and was a general favorite ever since she engaged in the work. She had been lieutenant in Sarnia, and Norwich, and at No. 2 station in Hamilton. She was an active and energetic soldier and very clever in her work. With her sister, Ensign Nellie Horwood, she left two years ago to work in the west. For a time she was in Vancouver, and later was appointed to take charge of Fernie."

We have had no word as yet regarding the accident which caused Captain Horwood's death, but it has been the cause of great sorrow to us all."

ADVERTISER LADIES OFF FOR FRANCE

Will Now See the Sights of Paris, Versailles and Other Places.

ALL IN GOOD HEALTH

Interesting Letter From Mr. Geo. M. Miller, Who Is Accompanying the Ladies on the Tour as the Advertiser's Representative.

(Special Cable to The Advertiser.)

London, England, July 19.—The Advertiser's European party is leaving London this morning for Newhaven, where we take boat for Dieppe and thence to Paris, France. The party has had a delightful stay in London and are loth to leave. Everyone is in the very best of health.

A Letter From Europe. A letter has been received at this office from Mr. Geo. M. Miller, who is in charge of The Advertiser's European Travel Club. It is dated Liverpool, and is as follows:

"We are ending our ocean voyage and expect to be in Liverpool some time tonight, although we will not disembark till Saturday morning. The trip so far has been very enjoyable, and we have had no trouble of any kind. Of course on board ship everyone can get up when they like, eat when they like, and where, and the party are talking full advantage of these privileges."

On account of not landing in Liverpool till Saturday, our schedule will be altered slightly, and we may go direct to Edinburgh, then over to Glasgow and south to London.

"We have Sir Frederick Borden, Hon. G. P. Graham, and the Hon. Mr. Brodeur on board, and they have been very nice to all the party."

BONAPARTE COMES TO LONDON TONIGHT

Grand Nephew of Great Napoleon Will Pay a Visit to London.

Toronto, July 19.—Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte, of Baltimore, former secretary of the United States navy, and ex-attorney-general of that country, with Mrs. Bonaparte, is at the King Edward Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Bonaparte arrived last evening, and will remain in Toronto one day only, and thence to the coast. Mr. Bonaparte resigned his portfolio in 1890, and has since been engaged in the United States navy.

His trip is purely for pleasure. He is a grand nephew of the great Napoleon Bonaparte. His grandfather was Jerome Bonaparte, king of Westphalia, whom the emperor deprived of his titles and banished to America because he married against the imperial will a Baltimore heiress.

TOOK SUIT OF CLOTHES CONSCIENCE SMOTE HIM

Peculiar Action of Ernest W. Telling, Who Had Been Working for London Tp. Farmer.

Ernest William Telling, a young Englishman, who has been in the country something over three years, appeared before Squire Chittick this morning, charged with stealing a suit of clothes belonging to Frank Sherbrooke, of a vote of 41 to 70.

Telling had been working for Mr. Sherbrooke. He was to receive $2 per week for his services. Working from 5:30 a.m. till 3 p.m., however, had no allowances for Telling, so Sunday night he appropriated a suit of clothes belonging to Mr. Sherbrooke, which, with care, could have been made into two suits for Telling. According to the latter's story he was sitting in Victoria Park, when his conscience suddenly smote him, and he thought he had better give himself up before any further complications arose. So he marched over to the police station, and surrendered himself. He was brought to the court-house this morning, where he was remanded to jail till tomorrow at 2:30 p.m.

DEPUTIES MUST WORK

French Chamber Decides to Dook Pay of Those Who Don't Attend.

Paris, July 19.—The Chamber of Deputies Saturday adopted a regulation that all its members should sign an attendance book on arrival at the chamber, and any not signing for six consecutive sittings should be considered as absent without leave, thereby losing the right to draw payment for such sittings.

Many deputies regard the order as being unworthy of the chamber's dignity, but while a majority cheered M. Jaures and Pelletan, and others who spoke against the proposal, it was adopted by a vote of 41 to 70.

The regulation is intended to prevent voting by procuration, which is allowed in the chamber, but it will hardly attain its object, as it contains nothing to prevent a member from signing the attendance book and leaving another member to deposit his ballot for him.

BACKED BY BOURASSA

Editor Jailed for Contempt Will Contest Soulanges.

Montreal, July 18.—It is announced that Jules Fournier, editor of the Nationaliste, of Montreal, who was sentenced to three months' imprisonment for contempt of court by Sir Francis Langstaff, but subsequently released, will be a candidate in Soulanges County for the Quebec Legislature at the next election. Mr. Fournier will have the support of Mr. Henri Bourassa.

MASON DROWNED.

Toronto, July 19.—It has been learned that Hector Mason, drowned in Lake Friday night last, formerly worked for the Canadian Gas, Power and Launch Company, of this city, but he had no relatives here.

A BIG JOB FOR EX-ALD. CARSON AS INSPECTOR OF LIBRARIES

Public Librarian of London Said To Be Slated for a Position Under the Ontario Government—Ex-Alderman Matthews May Also Get a Good Job.

Librarian Carson may leave the city to take a position with the Ontario Government.

The appointment of Mr. Carson as inspector of libraries for the province has not yet been made, but the announcement is expected within a few days.

He will reside in Toronto, if he accepts the position, and will be engaged in looking after the libraries of the province.

The growth of these institutions during the past few years has been very great, and the Government has decided to appoint an expert to look after them.

Mr. Carson's name was suggested, and he will get the appointment if he wants it.

Salary of $2,500. The salary has not been stated, but it will be about $2,500.

NOW FEARED THAT GIRL WAS DROWNED

Miss Julia Cane, Who Escaped From Asylum, Was Seen Saturday, But Again Disappeared.

WOMAN WAS DEMENTED

And May Have Thrown Herself Into the River—Very Cunning, However, and May Be Hiding.

Eleven attendants from the asylum, accompanied by three police officers, have been searching along both sides of the river bank north of Becher's Island ever since Saturday evening for Miss Julia Cane, the young Bidolph woman, who a week ago, made her escape from the asylum.

Up to Saturday about 4 o'clock the slightest trace of the girl had been found, but as Mr. Alex. Flowers, caretaker at Mrs. Becher's residence, was down about Becher's Island, he met a young woman clad only in a waist and underclothes.

She had no shoes nor stockings on, and told him that all her clothes had been blown away into the river and that she had been down swimming.

Disappeared Again. Mr. Flowers left the girl, saying that he would go and get her some clothes. When he went back she had disappeared and later when he called the police station the officer in charge at once recognized by her description that it was Miss Cane.

The asylum authorities were notified at once, and two policemen went up as soon as possible, and they were joined in a little while by the asylum attendants, but although every nook and corner was searched not a trace of the girl could be found.

Extremely Cunning. Dr. Robinson stated to The Advertiser that she is extremely cunning and very clever at concealing herself. How the girl has managed to exist is puzzling the physicians.

She is very slight, only weighing about 85 pounds, and according to the police, has had to be fed by means of a tube for some time.

It is feared that the girl may have thrown herself into the river, as no trace whatever has been found of her. Had she made her appearance at any house her unusual apparel would have attracted attention at once.

A MINIATURE TORNADO PASSED OVER LONDON

Straw Hats Were Tossed About Like Autumn Leaves in the Breeze.

A miniature tornado that seemed to have wafted itself from the North Pole instead of its usual location, made light dresses anything but a comfort yesterday, while straw hats showed an annoying proclivity to dash from their owners' heads and roll merrily down the street, with the aforesaid owner in hot pursuit with burning vindictive words upon his tongue that ill-betted the quiet Sabbath. Never during the day did it get well warmed up, and people who had acquired the summer habit, were compelled to wear the raiment of July in the temperature of April. The highest temperature recorded was 68 degrees, while the night before it was as low as 58 degrees.

Last night a few courageous ones, willing to bear the scoffs of their fellows, unheeded their overcoats, and lived in comfort, even though last night the mercury did drop as low as 46 degrees. It is gradually on its upward way again, however, and today at 2 o'clock it was 71 degrees.

Walter Howson Sued for $60 and Job Was Too Big for the Magistrate.

Walter Howson, of this city, on Saturday brought an action against James and Mary Marsh, of London Township, for non-payment of wages. The amount asked for was $60, but as this exceeded the jurisdiction of the magistrate's court, Squire Taylor, before whom the case was heard, awarded him $12. Howson paying the costs of the proceedings.

The case will be taken to the division court for the recovery of the remainder of the amount.

KEEP TYPHOID FEVER AWAY FROM CAMP

Fever Is Prevalent at Glace Bay
But the Military Will Be Well Guarded.

Glace Bay, N. S., July 18.—Soldiers who came into town Thursday from No. 3 colliery reported that some of their number had been compelled to do electric light wiring for the Dominion Coal Company and other engineering work around the colliery. When seen this morning with reference to the matter, Col. Dr. Foster, head of the medical corps, said it was quite true that some of the soldiers had been working around the mine, but it was for the militia and not the company. "The company very kindly erected huts for our men within the enclosure," said Col. Foster, "and placed at our disposal some wire to equip the huts with electric light. Men from the engineers' corps wired the huts, and now we are supplied with electric light by the company. We are merely attending to our duties as soldiers, and don't propose to work as strike-breakers."

Officers of the U. M. W. thought it was strange that the militia should accept favors from the company. "If they accepted favors from us there would be a taint of protest from the company and the militia department at Ottawa," said Peter Patterson, one of the officers. "It seems to me that the Government should attend to the needs of the militia while they are here, and not allow them to accept favors from the company."

This view is held by a large number of the citizens of Glace Bay, and Mayor Douglas may enter a protest to the militia department.

Col. Foster stated that there were a large number of cases of typhoid fever among the people in No. 3 colliery district, and that every precaution was being taken to prevent the spread of the disease to the soldiers' camps. He also added that scarlet fever was prevalent.

The mayor yesterday afternoon received a telegram from Ottawa, which indicates that the troops being recalled in part or in entirety will not be considered favorably. Petitions are being circulated asking for a meeting of the ratepayers to decide whether the citizens want the troops to remain or not.

An increase of 200 tons from the mines and 300 from the banks is announced by the company for yesterday. The increased output was brought about by an increase of 75 men in the number working. No. 1 producing 130 tons more than yesterday, No. 2 was the same as yesterday, Nos. 3 and 4 a little better than yesterday, and No. 5 about 100 tons better.

LUMSDEN SUCCEEDED BY GORDON GRANT

Ottawa, July 17.—Mr. Gordon Grant, inspecting engineer of the Transcontinental Railway commission staff, has accepted the position of chief engineer vacated by S. H. D. Lumsden, at a salary of $10,000. He will commence in a few weeks.

MORE SHOCKS.

Athens, July 19.—Further earthquake shocks were felt today at Anafit and the neighboring region, but no casualties were reported.

Gas Distended His Stomach

CAUSED PALPITATION, AND PREVENTED SLEEP—WHEN HEALTH WAS GONE, CURE FOLLOWED USE OF "NERVILINE."

"My last wish will be," writes Harry P. Pollard, a well-known boot and shoe traveller of Hartford, "that every one with a bad stomach may learn as I did, before it's too late, that Nerviline is the one remedy to cure. Why, I was in mighty bad shape, my digestion was all wrong, and every night I would wake with a start and find my heart jumping like a threshing machine. This was caused by gas on my stomach pressing against my heart."

When I started to use Nerviline I got better mighty fast. It is certainly a grand remedy for the travelling man, keeps your stomach in order, cures cramps, prevents lumbago or rheumatism, breaks up chest colds and sore throat—in fact there hasn't been an ache or pain inside or outside for the past two years that I haven't cured with Nerviline. Do you wonder I recommend it?"

For general household use Nerviline has no equal; it will cure the achy and ails of the entire body—refuse anything but Nerviline, 25 cents per bottle, five for $1.00, at all dealers, or the Catarthine Company, Kingston, Ont.

GRAND REUNION OF BORDER TOWNS

Windsor, Walkerville and Sandwich Planning Celebration.

FOR THE HOME COMERS

Mrs. Hetty Green, Minnie Maddern Fiske and Seth Bullock Among Those Invited.

Detroit, July 18.—Windsor, Walkerville and Sandwich will join two weeks hence in holding an Old Boys' Reunion, the first celebration of the kind for either of the three municipalities and one that promises to be the most successful held this year in Canada.

Initial steps towards the formation of an Old Boys' Association was taken, yesterday, last February. Temporary officers were elected, with Frank Hutton, one of the oldest of Windsor's residents, as president, the mayors of Windsor, Walkerville and Sandwich as vice-presidents, Ald. J. H. Shepherd as treasurer, and Charles L. Baker as secretary.

At a subsequent meeting it was decided to form a permanent association. The same officers were retained and plans were laid for a reunion during the week in August of the present year.

Prominent Folk Invited. Among those to whom invitations have been sent are Mrs. Hetty Green, of New York, reputed to be the wealthiest woman in the world, who resided in Windsor some 20 years ago; Edwin Green, the railway magnate, of Mexico; Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske, the actress, who was the daughter of the late Thomas Davis, a resident of Windsor during the time he controlled an opera house in Detroit; Byron E. Walker, the president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce; W. P. Leech, president and general manager of the Chicago American, who was born in Sandwich, and is the son of Gov. Leech, who was shot over 20 years ago by two prisoners escaping from the jail; Seth Bullock, of Deadwood, S. D., noted hunter, Indian fighter and personal friend of Theodore Roosevelt; Hon. J. C. Patterson, former member of the Dominion cabinet, and Hon. T. Chase Casgrain, one of the prominent barristers of Montreal.

Since the organization meeting some changes have been made in the personnel of officials and committees. W. J. McKee was made honorary president, Ald. Shepherd was replaced as treasurer by John Curry.

The chairman of committees are: Reception, Mayor Wigle; finance, John Curry; programme, J. F. Smyth; entertainment, Mayor Donnelly; printing, J. A. McKay; decoration, Arch. McKee; sports, Dr. J. A. Smith; transportation, John Hartnett; fireworks, Mayor Chilver; military, Col. F. H. Laing; clothing, A. L. Irion.

The general executive committee consists of John Curry, George Bartlett, J. F. Smyth, W. J. McKee, Dr. J. A. Smith, S. A. Griggs, W. C. Kennedy, George E. White, S. Stover, E. G. Henderson, John Turk, Francis Cleary, Dr. W. J. Beasley, Fred Neal, A. F. Dewson, A. F. Healy, T. A. McKee, N. J. Clinton, P. Hanrahan, W. Boug, A. D. Bowley, B. Holman, A. L. Irion, G. Gagnier, Arch. McKee, J. W. Drake, C. J. Wall, John Hartnett, Joseph Madill, J. A. Laing, J. F. McKee, Wm. Woodliff, W. A. Hanrahan, Dr. Ashbaugh, W. T. Carter, J. A. McKee, F. J. Hughes, Walter Black, Col. F. H. Laing, Col. Easton, Dr. H. R. Casgrain, Major Robinson and J. E. Doble.

The celebration will open on Monday. That evening addresses of welcome will be delivered by President Hutton, Mayor Wigle, Mayor Chilver, Mayor Donnelly and others. On Tuesday there will be a short parade of old boys and addresses by some of the home-comers. In the evening a ball will be given in the armories.

On Wednesday there will be a floral parade to Walkerville and a regatta. Thursday has been declared civic holiday, and a big military demonstration will be held at White Park. The Essex Fusiliers, with the regimental band, and possibly the band of the Forty-eighth Highlanders, will be in attendance.

There will be a band concert in the evening, followed by a display of fireworks. On Friday it is planned to give a cauldron parade around Windsor, Walkerville and Sandwich, followed by the dedication of the water fountain W. P. Leech has donated to the town of Sandwich, and pageantry on the river, in which a band of Indians from Waipole Island will participate and appear in the reproduction of "The Landing of the Jesuit Fathers."

The secretary has the names of over 300 old boys living in Detroit and vicinity, and almost as many guests were expected. They will be at home to their friends at St. Mary's in August.

McFARLANE—BRITTON

The marriage of Miss Mae Britton, eldest daughter of Samuel Britton, to Lloyd A. McFarlane, of St. Marys, was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents in Bridgeton on Wednesday, July 14. Rev. A. J. Thomson officiating. The house was prettily decorated and about 75 guests were in attendance. The bride was given away by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Alice Britton, and Miss Effie Perkins, sister of the groom, who acted as flower girl. Mr. Fred Neil, of Seaford, assisted the groom. Miss Mary Shochett, of London played the Wedding March and Bridal Chorus. The bride wore a pretty panel dress of white point d'esprit and allover lace, over ivory silk, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and ferns. After a choice dejeuner the bride and groom left on a wedding tour to London and points east. They will be at home to their friends at St. Mary's in August.

SKIDDING AUTO KILLS FOUR

Berlin, July 18.—During a race today a pacing-maker motor bicycle exploded, jumped the barrier, and fell into the closely-packed onlookers. Four persons were killed. It seems that the accident was due primarily to the auto-bicycle's skidding on a slippery place. Almost before the spectators were aware that anything was amiss the machine was among them.

Women's dresses caught fire like paper. One woman became a pillar of flame, and dashed about, shrieking with pain and fright.

People scrambled over the barriers, and, panic-stricken, rushed down the banked track, where the competitors in the race ran over them before they were able to stop, and were themselves thrown and badly hurt. Between 30 and 40 were seriously injured.

It is stated at a late hour that several of the injured, who were removed to a hospital, have since died, bringing the total list of fatalities up to eleven. The bodies at the track are so charred that their sex cannot be determined. Some of the worst injuries were caused by trampling in the panic. The total number of the injured cannot be learned, as many of those hurt were taken to their own homes. More than thirty were removed to the hospital, some of whom may die.

The Wind Cuts a Mile Wide Swath

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 17.—Red Hook village, 21 miles from here, was swept by a terrific wind and rain-storm early last night and great damage was done.

For a square mile trees were uprooted, fences swept away and buildings toppled over. The roof of the Baker chocolate factory was carried away and the floors covered with a foot of water, ruining the stock.

The storm came from the west, and cut a swath a mile wide. A number of residences were almost wrecked. The grandstand at the baseball grounds was lifted bodily and carried into the highway. Telephone and telegraph wires were torn down and but one wire remains. A big orchard was completely devastated. No one was injured.

Two Dead in the Dock Strike Fight

Cleveland, Ohio, July 18.—In a fight growing out of a strike of employees of the Lake Carriers, Richard Brown and William Woods were shot and killed here tonight, and one man was shot in the arm. James E. Purvis, 52 years old, a marine engineer of Detroit, was later arrested. Union cards were found on both of the dead men.

Purvis is a non-union chief engineer on the steamer Centurion, which arrived here early this morning. After leaving his boat at the Cleveland and Pittsburg dock he was attacked by three men. He escaped and was again attacked. Upon the second attack, he drew his revolver and fired several shots. Woods dropped dead with a bullet in his head. A policeman, attracted by the shooting, captured Purvis and Brown. Brown escaped and was captured again and begged for a chance to rest. As he sat down he fell over and died. It was discovered that a bullet had penetrated his brain.

FRISBIE IS HELD IN ROSENBERG CASE

A Warrant Charging Crime in First Degree Issued for Cleveland Man.

Port Huron, Mich., July 18.—A warrant charging Sam Frisbie, the young Cleveland man, with murder in the first degree, in connection with the slaying of Louis Rosenberg at Joe Bodore's summer resort at the St. Clair Flats last Wednesday, was issued late Sunday afternoon, on the return of Prosecuting Attorney Brown, who has been investigating the case at the Flats.

Frisbie was arrested Thursday morning and has since been held at the county jail here pending a vestigation of his story and the crime. He was with Elbera, the man who poisoned himself, when the police took charge of the island resort, and who, Frisbie claims, beat down Rosenberg with the butt end of his revolver.

On his return from the Flats, Prosecutor Brown went to his story that he is innocent and did not more than help Elbera drag the body from the water, and dump it in the rushes about 400 feet from the dance pavilion, where it was found.

STILL SEARCHING FOR KENNEDY AND BOULTBEE

Boat Found at Hamilton Bay Not That of Missing Men.

Hamilton, July 17.—The boat that was found by Capt. Lundy in the bay here is not that in which young Boultee and Kennedy left Niagara-on-the-Lake on Sunday last. Their boat had the letter "N" and the figure "7" on one of the sails, and neither of these are to be found on the sail of the boat found by the captain.

Another point against its being the boat of the young men is the fact that it was discovered a mile west of the pier, which would mean that to be Boultee's craft it must have drifted through the canal, an impossible feat. The police think that the boat, which had one and a half pairs of socks and shoes in, may testify to another fatality, and are making inquiries around the bay. Mr. Bell, Boultee's brother-in-law, failed to discover any trace of the young men and the boat during his search along the lake shore in the neighborhood of Winona and Jordan.

Up to noon Saturday the friends of F. Oswald Boultee and J. C. Kennedy, the two young men who are reported as lost on Lake Ontario on Sunday, had received no word. All hope that the young men are alive has gone to seek the missing pair. L. A. Kirkland, of 38 Dundas street, who met Boultee and Kennedy at Niagara-on-the-Lake, states that their boat had been severely damaged in a storm of Saturday prior to the day they sailed for Winona. There were some holes pounded in her bottom. He, with others, helped to haul the boat out of the water and assisted to patch up the holes.

Mr. Kirkland stated that he did not regard the craft as seaworthy, but as he is not a yachtsman he was not in a position to judge. He knows, however, that he would not have taken a chance with the boat, and that the information, call on E. De la Houke, city agent, or E. Ruess, depot agent.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY

TYPHOID GERMS RENDERED HARMLESS BY

MONTERRAT OR SOVEREIGN LIME FRUIT JUICE

Montserrat or Sovereign Lime Fruit Juice

No medical discovery, unless it were an antidote to tuberculosis, could be more welcome than this by which typhoid germs can be rendered harmless.

The story of the discovery is an interesting one. The National Drug and Chemical Company of Canada, Limited, were aware that Montserrat Lime Fruit Juice had extensive use as a whole-some beverage in the British Navy and Mercantile Marine, and that it was valued as a preventative of scurvy among the sailors.

This suggested that Lime Fruit Juice might also have other medicinal value. Accordingly, samples of "Montserrat" and "Sovereign" Lime Fruit Juice were submitted to the Molson Laboratories of Pathology and Bacteriology, at McGill University, Montreal, with instructions to test the Lime Fruit Juice by careful experiment.

The report received clearly established that both "Montserrat" and "Sovereign" Lime Fruit Juice have a positive germicidal action upon the organism of typhoid fever.

For readers who may not be posted it may be explained that typhoid fever results from poisonous germs, or bacteria as they are also called, which get into the human system, and multiply there, localizing themselves chiefly in the intestines.

Many forms of disease are now prevented or cured by administering substances inimical to the germs that produce the disease, and now comes the good news that so simple and agreeable a remedy as "Montserrat" or "Sovereign" Lime Fruit Juice will act as a preventative of typhoid fever.

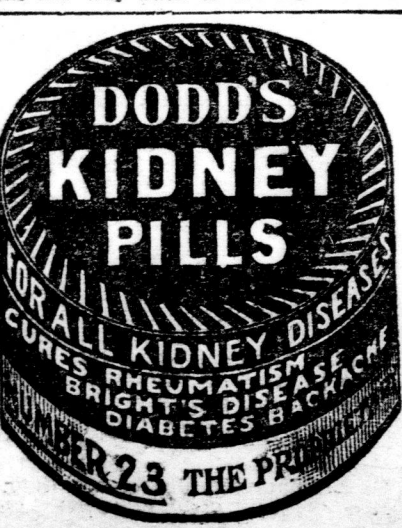

This means much. For now every family can protect itself against typhoid infection in the water supply by using "Montserrat" or "Sovereign" Lime Fruit Juice. Care should be taken to add the Lime Fruit Juice to the drinking water at least fifteen minutes before using.

And at the same time that it is a medical preventative, it is an inexpensive, refreshing and most palatable summer drink.

Put into every-day English the report states that one tablespoonful of "Montserrat" or "Sovereign" Lime Fruit Juice, added to a tumbler of water, killed the typhoid germs entirely in from thirteen to fifteen minutes.

Butchers Punished. Constantinople, July 19.—The report of the court martial on the Adena massacres which has just been made public, denounces the incapacity and apathy of the Vati and other local authorities. The report concludes as follows: "Fifteen persons have been hanged; 800 deserve death; 15,000 deserve hard labor for life; 80,000 deserve minor sentences. If it is decided to proceed with the punishment we will cordon the town and deal expeditiously with the matter."

LONDON, MONDAY, JULY 19.

RELIGION AND SPORT.

The Toronto Presbyterian clergyman, who, last Sunday evening, came out with a warm eulogy of all kinds of outdoor sports; who had a good word for the old clay pipe with which the tired man soothes himself after his day's labor; who even wished that more of the young people could have the relaxation of dancing; may probably have startled some of his audience. We refrain from mentioning his name lest we bring him into disrepute with some of his stouter brethren who read The Advertiser.

At the same time, we think he had some ground for his statements, and his arguments carry weight. Sports, pastimes and recreation, rightly indulged in, make better men and women. By them both body and soul can be benefited. This is a strenuous life; it may be too strenuous. Perhaps we would all be better if we took things easy; were not so anxious for success; did not pursue the fleeting dollar with so much energy. But while it is well to have ideals, we must accept conditions. We have to take life as it is, and make the best of it. And it is certain that in these days the easy-going man will not succeed in accomplishing anything for himself, and will have little influence on society. This is the world's busy day, and we must work while the day lasts.

But all experience establishes the fact that it is not wise to work one's self out; that he works hardest, and will be able to work longest and best, who at intervals relaxes the tension of body and mind. Santarians tell us that the most profitable rest—outside of our regular sleep—is not to be gained by absolute idleness, but by change of occupation from the severe to the light—from hard work in business to easy work in play. Recreation is necessary for the man who wants to do good work. The word does not mean "pleasure"—it means literally the process of re-creation—the renewal of wasted tissue and exhausted strength.

At the same time, it is a fact that those forms of exercise which give pleasure are far more effective than those which are merely taken as a matter of routine duty. The treadmill is exercise, but not of the best kind. This is in accord with the physiological fact that anything that gives pleasure has a good effect. We do not mean the imaginary pleasures attending dissipation, or overindulgence of the bodily appetites. The pleasure in these cases is inappreciable compared with discomforts. But agreeable sights or sounds, pleasing odors, enjoyable amusements, are all beneficial to a greater or lesser degree. When they are taken in excess they cease to be pleasing, and cease to be beneficial.

And this is not inconsistent with Christianity. The theology of the dark ages which made a fetish of pain, and rated a man's happiness in the next world in proportion to his misery in this, which made pleasure pernicious and mortification meritorious, still lingers in the minds of some people. But there is no divine authority for this pitiful doctrine. It has driven more people away from religion than it has ever attracted. A wiser, and saner, and more Christian theology has no place for it. But true religion and reasonable pleasure are in harmony. Christianity is not opposed to the outdoor sports that take a man to the golf links; to the quieter amusements that are found in social gatherings and artistic entertainments. It is only the excess that does harm. When the man neglects his business for sports; when the woman neglects her home duties for the pleasure of society; when the soul is starved that the body may feed, then there is evil as bad as the evil for which a remedy is sought.

So, to return to our Presbyterian friend, we think his utterance timely, and recommend his words to the consideration of all, when he says: "Pleasures and sports are the safety valves of the human life. If we did not have a little relaxation, the tension would break and we would go to terrible extremes of pleasure. . . . God meant us to have pleasure, or he would not have filled the world with so many beautiful things for us to enjoy, nor would he have put into our hearts the desire for pleasure."

THE TERRORS OF ENGLISH.
(Success Magazine.)
If and S and an I and an O and a U With an X at the end spell Su.
And an E and a Y and an E spell I.
Pray, what is a speller to do?
Then if also an S and an I and a G and a H and a D spell side.
There's nothing much left for a speller to do.
But go commit stonxeyesighed!

A GREAT YIELD.
(Montreal Gazette.)
Mr. D. E. Mann, of the Canadian Northern, predicts a yield of 140,000,000 bushels of wheat in the prairie provinces this year. Mr. Mann is a hopeful prophet, and it is within the possibilities that he is also a true one. They have made a great beginning of the crop year in the West.

WHITNEY'S DENIAL OF CIVIL RIGHTS.
(Goldwin Smith.)
Are we Englishmen or are we not? Have we the privileges of Englishmen or have we not? Does an Englishman lose them when he sets foot in Canada? There may possibly be a question as to the applicability in any particular case of those constitutional historians called "the keystones of English liberty," and held to be the distinction of a free from a despotic monarchy. But of the vital importance of those principles there never has been and it is presumed there never can be any question; there is at all events when they are concerned no excuse for insouciance.

THE CRIME OF OLD AGE.
(Brooklyn Citizen.)
There is much profitless talk just now about age as a bar to employment. In more manual labor when a man is really physically enfeebled by age, it is a bar that cannot be overcome. In other lines that call for intellectual activity chiefly, it should not be. The old are needed to "teach the young idea how to shoot." There is a place for Nestor, even in an army, as well as for Hector. Youth has its advantages, and age has its own, and the old head on young shoulders is too great a rarity to be despised on for the running of business of the world. But it is noticeable that the cry for "young blood," more prevalent than now, comes mostly from lips that are old. "It is a crime to be old," said an old man caustically to another who refused him employment on that account—"unless one is an employer."

The policemen were in good form on Saturday and won from the Lambeth team by a score of 12 to 2. A large crowd was present at Springfield and witnessed a good game. Bolton and Powell played well.

YOUNG CORBETT TAKES A BRIDE.
San Francisco, July 19.—William Rothwell, better known to the sporting world as Young Corbett, former lightweight champion pugilist, was married yesterday to Miss Daisy Mersereau, of Virginia. The couple were married at Shannonsville, where Corbett trained for his unsuccessful fight last Saturday with Johnny Frayne.

THE CANADIAN TEAM TAKES JUBILEE CUP.
Bisley Camp, July 18.—To mark the jubilee meeting of the N. R. A., the prize list this year contained a "Jubilee Cup," to go to the teams making the highest aggregate in the Mackenzie and Kootenai matches. It might have been won by the winner of either cup, or even by a runner-up on the two cups, but by unexpectedly winning both these events, the cup has been awarded to the Canadian team.

The couple were married at Shannonsville, where Corbett trained for his unsuccessful fight last Saturday with Johnny Frayne.

THE CANADIAN TEAM TAKES JUBILEE CUP.
Bisley Camp, July 18.—To mark the jubilee meeting of the N. R. A., the prize list this year contained a "Jubilee Cup," to go to the teams making the highest aggregate in the Mackenzie and Kootenai matches. It might have been won by the winner of either cup, or even by a runner-up on the two cups, but by unexpectedly winning both these events, the cup has been awarded to the Canadian team.

THE COMBINATION BEAT THE ROWERS.
Five Thistle Rinks Victors in Some Good Games Saturday.
Five Thistle Club rinks, assisted by one from the Rowing Club, played the London Rowing Club on Saturday, and the combination won by 21 shots. The bowling was good and the games were thoroughly enjoyed. Some of the tournament rinks had a work-out, and some of them showed form.

DORANDO BACK HOME WITH FAME AND GOLD
Tells His Countrymen America Is the Place to Win Glory and Cash.
New York, July 19.—"America is a great country to make money in; also to make fame in," in the concrete opinion of Dorando, the Marathon winner, in an interview at Genoa, according to a special cable dispatch.
"Both come easy," he adds. "You make the money; other people make the fame."
Dorando, on landing at Genoa, was immediately assailed by 130 Italian reporters, and almost mobbed by his enthusiastic compatriots, who seemed to want to carry him bodily off the vessel, and who also seemed unaware that he had lost a few races, after all, since he quit Italian shores.
Nearly every reporter bore an invitation of his paper for Dorando to write articles at whatever price he pleased on his experience in the United States.
Dorando replied that he intended to return to his home in two months before, who also seemed to be worthy of this, to put up a good fight even when I felt I could not win.
Dorando added that he had been invited and even urged by several American managers to sign agreements for five years, which would be distinctly to his advantage, but he felt that he preferred to retain his freedom, whether he suffered in the long run or not.

JOHNSON TRAINING IN AN AUTOMOBILE
Couldn't Lick a Middleweight, and Says Jeffries Is Only Bluffing.
Chicago, July 19.—Jack Johnson, after acting as umpire at a ball game here yesterday, sparred three brief rounds on the ball field with his sparring partner.
That Johnson was not in condition to meet anybody outside of a lightweight for some time to come was apparent. That he will never clash with Jim Jeffries was volunteered by himself.
"The $1,000 I offered to bet some time ago that Jeffries never would post a forfeit to meet me or anybody else in the ring goes," said the champion between puffs after the diamond battle around the home plate, where the fight was staged. "Jeffries never had the slightest intention of covering my $10,000, and he never will."
The fact that I was to meet Jeffries yesterday was simply a press agent yarn. I never promised anybody that I would be there. Neither was I hurt in an automobile accident at Cedar Lake, but I am through with that bug."
Johnson said he would start for Detroit in his automobile today, and will try to make the trip in fifteen hours. He claimed there was $1,000 up on the result.

LAIRD IS THE NEW CHAMPION
Toronto Man Takes League of Lower Lakes Title on the Rochester Links.
Rochester, N. Y., July 17.—William G. Laird, of the Toronto Golf Club, won the individual championship of the League of the Lower Lakes this afternoon by defeating Gurney T. Curtis, of the Country Club of Rochester, by 1 up in 18 holes in the finals. Carhart, of Detroit, froze Rochester out of the consolation by defeating Fred Will in the consolation finals by 2 up and 1 to play.
Laird's victory in the individual championship gives Toronto the team match, and the individual championship, practically all the honors for the approaching and putting contest, and the driving contest do not count in the tournament proper.
During the day A. J. Christie, professional, of the Country Club of Rochester, and George Cumming, Toronto Golf Club, another professional, played 18 holes for a purse of $50. Christy won by 1 up. Cumming, in his score of bogey, the strokes being identical with the colonel for every hole. Going out he was bogey, identical, for every hole except that he had a four and a three transposed in two instances.
Today's summary:
Semi-Finals.
Laird, Toronto, beat Standish, Detroit, 4 up and 3 to play.
Curtis, Rochester, beat Russell, Detroit, 2 up and 1 to play.
Finals.
Laird, Toronto, beat G. T. Curtis, Rochester, 1 up in 19 holes.
Consolation Semi-Finals.
Carhart, Detroit, beat Daik, Rochester, 1 up.
D. Will, Rochester, beat McMillan, Detroit, by default.
Finals.
Carhart, Detroit, beat D. Will, of Rochester, 2 up and 1 to play.

A Prince of Sinners

BY PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM.

Author of "A Lost Leader," "The Malefactor," "A Maker of History," Etc.

"That," she said, "is ingenious, but not convincing. So you will please come tomorrow at 4 o'clock. I shall stay in for you."

"At 4 o'clock," he repeated, helplessly.

Lady Caroom waved to them from the path.

"Sybil, come here at once," she exclaimed, "and bring Mr. Brooks with you. Dear me, what troublesome people you have been to find. I am very glad indeed to see you again."

She looked Brooks in the face as she held his hand, and with a little start he realized that she knew.

"You most exquisite of young men," she exclaimed, "come home with us at once, and explain how you dared to avoid us all this time. What a ghost you look. I hope it is your conscience. Don't pretend you can't sit with your back to the horse, but get in there, sir, and—James, the little seat—and make yourself as comfortable as you can. Home, James! Upon my word, Mr. Brooks, you look like one of those poor people whom you have been working for in the slums. If starvation was catching, I should think that you had caught it. You must try my waffles."

Sybil caught his eye, and laughed.

"Mother hasn't altered much, has she?" she asked.

Mr. Lavette interfered.

"What is this Kingston Brooks affair that Lavette has hold of now?" yawned a man over his evening paper. "That fellow will get into trouble if he doesn't mind."

"Some new sort of charity down in the East End," one of the little group of club members replied. "Fellow has a lot of branches, and tries to make 'em a sort of family affair. He gets a pile of subscriptions, and declines to publish a balance-sheet. Lavette seems to think there's something wrong somewhere."

"Lavette's such a suspicious beggar," another man remarked. "The thing seems all right. I know people who are interested in it, who say it's the most comprehensive and common-sense charity scheme of the day."

"Why doesn't he pitch into Lavette, then?" Lavette's awfully insulting. Brooks the other day inserted an acknowledgment in the papers of the receipt of one thousand pounds anonymous. You saw what Lavette said about it?"

"No. What?"

"Oh, he had a little sarcastic paragraph—declined to believe that Brooks had ever received a thousand pounds anonymous—challenged him to give the number of the note, and said plainly that he considered it a fraud. There has been no reply from Brooks."

"How do you know that?"

"This week's Verity. Here it is!"

"We have received no reply from

Mr. Kingston Brooks up to going to press with respect to our remark concerning the thousand pounds alleged to have been received by him from an anonymous giver. We may add that we scarcely expected it. Yet there is another long list of acknowledgments of sums received by Mr. Brooks this morning. We are either the most credulous nation in the world, or there are a good many people who don't know what to do with their money. We should like to direct their attention to half-a-dozen excellent and most deserving charities which we can personally recommend, and whose accounts will always stand the most vigorous examination."

"That's pretty strong," the first speaker remarked. "I should think that that ought to stay the flow of subscriptions."

Lord Arranmore, who was standing on the hearthrug smoking a cigarette, joined languidly in the conversation. "You think that Brooks ought to take some notice of Lavette's impudence, then?"

"Well, I'm afraid his not doing so looks rather fishy," the first speaker remarked. "That thousand pounds note must have been a sort of a myth."

"I think not," Lord Arranmore remarked, quietly. "I ought to know, for I sent it myself."

Every man straightened himself in his easy-chair. There was a little thrill of interest.

"You're joking, Arranmore."

"Not I! I've sent him three amounts anonymously."

"Well, I'd no idea that sort of thing was in your line," one of the men exclaimed.

"More it is," Arranmore answered. "Personally, I don't believe in charity. In any modern application of it at any rate. But this man Brooks is a decent sort."

"You know who Brooks is, then?"

"Certainly. He was my agent for a short time in Medchester."

"Mr. Hennibul, who was one of the men sitting round, doubled his copy of Verity up and beat the air with it. "I knew I'd heard the name," he exclaimed. "Why I've met him down at Enton. Nice-looking young fellow."

Arranmore nodded.

"Yes, that was Brooks."

Mr. Hennibul's face beamed.

"Great Scott, what a haul!" he exclaimed. "To-day, you've got old Lavette on toast—you've got him for a long time over. There was your week in Paris with Prince Comfere, and now your supper parties are the talk of London."

"They are justly famed," he answered, gravely. "for you know I brought home the chef from Voltaire's. I am sorry that I cannot ask you to one."

GAI, A STORY about my k k affairs

"Don't be ridiculous, Arranmore. Why do you do these things? Do it amuse you, give you any satisfaction?"

"Upon my word I don't know," he answered.

"Then why do you do it?"

explanation," Lord Arranmore remarked. "But all the same I am going to surprise you. Do you know that I am very much interested in your experiment?"

Brooks raised his eyebrows. "Indeed!"

"Yes, I am very much interested," Lord Arranmore repeated. "I should like you to understand that my views as to charity and charitable matters remain absolutely unaltered. But at the same time I am anxious that you should test your scheme properly and unhampered by any pressure from outside. You are all the sooner likely to grow out of conceit with them. Therefore let me offer you a word of advice. Publish your accounts, and sue Lavry for a thousand pounds."

Brooks was silent for a moment.

"My own idea," he said, slowly, "was to take no notice of these attacks. The offices where the financial part of my concern is managed are open to our subscribers at any time, and the books are there for their inspection. It is only at the branches where we do not admit visitors in London being among the prettiest."

"The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," is a proverb not applicable to Dutch babies, as rocking went out of fashion some years ago. The doctors found out that the movement was a serious cause of discomfort in the children, which up to that time had been attributed to other causes. So now the cradles are immovable; the baby may not even be taken out and walked about the room to be put to sleep."

To the young mothers it is often very hard not to be allowed to cuddle their babies as much as they like. The little princess is as strictly brought up in this respect as any of her future subjects, and thrives as well as the others.

"Of course they do," he answered. "The queen also strictly keeps to the appointed hours for the baby's meals, which take place every three hours. The fact that the queen nurses her baby herself is highly commended by all medical authorities, the leading article in the medical papers of the day, saying: 'If Queen Wilhelmina had never done anything else in her life but settling the example she now sets to her country and the rest of the world by nursing her baby, she would have deserved our highest praise and gratitude.'"

The prince has been away very often during the day, of late, as nearly all the royal duties now devolve on him. But the moment he comes home his steps are directed toward her royal highness's apartments."

At night the infant princess sleeps in a room overlooking the palace gardens. She is watched by one of her own nurses, and she sleeps there in the cradle used by Queen Wilhelmina, which was fitted up again for this purpose by order of the queen mother."

A SIMPLE LIFE FOR THE LITTLE PRINCESS

Holland's Queen Will Bring Up Baby That She May Be Healthy.

The Hague, July 18.—As her royal highness the Princess Juliana is now a young woman of well settled habits, it may interest your readers to know something of the routine of her daily life. The great event of the morning is the bath, at which both the mother and the grandmother like to assist; then she is dressed in the baby things her own mother wore, though many dainty frocks have been added to the existing layette; the one presented by her majesty's mistress of the robes and the Irish lace robe given by the Dutch colony in London being among the prettiest.

An airing in the garden is the next item in the day's programme. As soon as the weather is settled again the princess will spend the whole day in the open air, only going indoors for the purpose of meals and dressing."

CAR TOPPLED OVER

Conductor and Lineman Killed in a Traction Car Accident.

New Bremen, Ohio, July 17.—Two persons were killed and many injured here today when an interurban car dived into the Ohio River. The car was carrying about 20 passengers. The car was dived into the river by a bridge which had collapsed. The car was dived into the river by a bridge which had collapsed. The car was dived into the river by a bridge which had collapsed.

EMPRESS'S GLOVES "LEFTS"

But Theresa Gave Count Hadik One Hundred Goldpieces.

Vienna, July 17.—Count Hadik, who once was reported engaged to the mother of Gladys Vanderbilt, has a fight on his hands with Count Nicholas Esterhazy because the latter claimed that one of his ancestors made the celebrated "coup" on Berlin during the seven years' war, bringing back from there 24 pairs of gloves for his empress Maria Theresa.

Count Hadik produced documents, to show that his great-grand-uncle of the same name did the gallant deed in the middle of the century, and that the Third Austrian Hussars, he took Berlin by surprise, exacted a large war contribution and a parcel of gloves for his empress.

UNDESIRABLES EXILED

Four Thousand Were Sent Out of Germany Last Year.

Berlin, July 17.—Germany's drastically efficient method of dealing with undesirable aliens is strikingly illustrated by an official report just issued, announcing that during 1908 four thousand foreign workmen were expelled from the country.

The authorities were animated by various motives in carrying out these expulsions. Numerous foreign workmen were expelled for no other reason than that they were guilty of breaches of contracts into which they had entered with their German employers. Those foreign workmen who failed to fulfill the conditions of their agreements with German employers of labor were ordered by the police to leave the country, and were kept under strict police supervision until they had been ejected beyond the frontiers of the country.

Other foreign workmen were expelled because they conducted themselves in a disorderly way, thereby becoming a public nuisance. Others, again, were ordered to leave the country because they perpetrated different offences which brought them into collision with the German law.

The majority of the workmen thus expelled were men of Polish nationality from Russia, Poland and Galicia.

AUTO HONKS, ROBBERS RUN

Familiar Sound on Highway Saves a Contractor's Roll.

New York, July 18.—The honk of an auto coming down the road probably saved the life of George Bugbee, a contractor of Armonk, near Mount Vernon, who was held up by three highwaymen, while he was on his way to the home of C. R. Agnew with $300 to pay off a gang of Italian workmen who are doing some work there. Mr. Agnew is a brother of Senator George B. Agnew, of New York City.

Another "Sunshine" Feature

This is an entirely new idea, and will especially interest people who reside in gas districts. The gas ring takes the place of the lower Sunshine fire-pot, thus making it possible to burn gas in your furnace without inconvenience. Such is not possible in a furnace where the ordinary gas log is inserted; for, should the gas give out, a coal or wood fire could not be started until the gas pipes were disconnected.

To provide against sweating in the summer time, Sunshine Furnace is equipped with a nickel-plated steel radiator and dome. All bolts and rivets are nickel-plated, all rods copper-plated. This special treatment, besides meaning quicker and greater radiation from the radiator and dome than cold chill iron could possibly give, acts as protection for the bolts, rivets and rods from iron-oxide gas. When cast iron comes in contact with our nickel-plated steel it is coated with our special Anti-Rust treatment, which prevents the slightest possibility of rust commencing anywhere in Sunshine Furnace.

lonely place on the highway, three Italians jumped from behind the bushes and each leveled a revolver at him, at the same time disabling the money.

Bugbee, who was unarmed, started to run, and one of the bandits, who was only fifteen feet away, fired at him, and the bullet struck him in the shoulder, putting his right arm out of business.

Then a second Italian fired and the bullet went through his coat, grazing his neck. Seeing that he could not escape, Bugbee stopped, and his assailants, revolvers in hand, were closing in on him, when a big auto was heard honking along the road.

Bugbee had expected the bandits to pounce on him and take the roll, but when they heard the auto they stopped a moment and then fled. He was taken to White Plains to have his wounds dressed. The bandits fled to the woods and they are being pursued by Sheriff Scherper and two deputies. Bugbee says that they were strangers, and were not any of the Italians employed on the Agnew place.

THE WEEKLY REVIEW OF BRADSTREETS

Commercial Conditions From All the Chief Centres of the Dominion.

Montreal reports to Bradstreet's say general trade holds a steady tone, although there is a noticeable tendency in some lines towards the usual mid-summer lull. Prospects for the fall continue good. Rain during the week has much brightened the crop outlook, although it was rather late for the hay. Reports from the surrounding districts say other crops are now looking well, and that the farmers are inclined to look for a good yield. Prices for products are expected to be good. There continues a good sorting business in drygoods, and fall orders are coming in satisfactorily. Cotton prices hold very strong. Fall dress goods are moving well and values are firm. Collections show improvement, no doubt due to a good trade at retail. Grocers report a good normal trade and the business in hardware holds active. A good brisk tone is reported in most lines of manufacture, and a scarcity of skilled operators is noted. Manufacturing jewelers here are particularly pleased with the outlook. Several of them state trade so far this year to total greater than the entire twelve months of 1908. Produce is coming forward well, and prices are steady to firm. General collections show some improvement.

Toronto reports say general business is moving satisfactorily. Holidays are responsible for some slackening, but there is still a good sorting trade in most susceptible lines. The outlook for fall business looks very cheerful. Good rains have considerably helped the grain crops and reports from Ontario and particularly the west are optimistic. In drygoods there are good orders coming for fall and winter lines. In many cases orders are fairly large as retailers are anxious to forestall further price advances. In most other lines retailers seem inclined to lay in fairly good stocks in preparation for an active fall trade. Hardware business continues good. Builders' supplies are moving briskly, and the demand is expected to hold until cold weather. Fruit crops are looking well and there is a resultant demand for sugar. Leather and hides hold steady to firm. Produce generally is coming in freely and prices show an easier tone. The hay crop is only fair as the recent rains were too late to do much good. Dressed hogs and provisions hold firm on light supplies.

Winnipeg reports say a good volume of business is moving in all branches of trade. Crop reports continue to grow more cheerful, and the general tone regarding fall prospects is one of pronounced optimism. Wholesale lines are being rushed into the country with all speed, and it is expected the grain and stock market will be in the hands of the retailers before the start of the crop movement. Shipments of harvesting machinery are heavy. Factories are now busier than they have been any time since 1907, and money is circulating freely. The sorting trade in drygoods has kept up well, values in most lines are firm. Prices of farm products hold steady to firm. Collections are reported improving.

Vancouver and Victoria reports say there continues a good tone to general trade all along the coast. Prices promise well and provincial industries are busily engaged. Root and vegetable crops are particularly good. The salmon pack is expected to be heavy. The state of trade here is set forth in a large increase in customs receipts at Vancouver for June over all previous records for the same month. Ordering for fall and winter has been good, and there is still a fairly active sorting trade in summer lines. Collections are generally satisfactory.

Quebec—The trade situation remains unchanged. Orders to hand are more of a sorting-up nature. Crop reports from different parts of the province are encouraging. City trade is dull, which is usual during the heated term many being absent at country points. Garden produce has been coming forward in large quantities and during the week, strawberries were plentiful at 6 cents a box, not likely to be any lower. No failures in the district to speak of.

Hamilton reports say business at retail in summer lines of drygoods, clothing, etc., continues good, and sorting orders are coming in notwithstanding the lateness of the season. In other lines of goods trade is fairly good and few complaints are heard on the matter of collections. Local factories are busily engaged. In one or two instances manufacturers have been unable to close down for a fortnight as they usually do owing to the rush of business. Crop reports from the surrounding country continue very cheerful, and the outlook for fall trade is good.

London reports say the volume of trade moving is of excellent proportions. The demand for seasonable lines appears to be active, and the business done in fall lines has been good. Crops in the district are looking well, and a good harvest is expected. Factories are generally pretty well supplied with orders, and it would appear they will continue busy throughout the season. Collections are fair to good.

Ottawa reports say conditions have changed but little during the week. Good rains have helped some crops, but they came too late to do much good to hay. The crop outlook, however, is fairly good and prospects are good for fall business. Retail trade is moderately active, and wholesalers report an excellent business in fall lines. Remittances are coming forward fairly well.

MRS. RUIZ'S $130,000 FORTUNE MISSING

Jewels and Gowns Taken to Paris, But There Is No
Clue to Money.

London, July 17.—It developed today that the fortune left by Mrs. Agnes Ruiz, the beautiful American woman friend of a well-known American millionaire, who committed suicide recently in this city, was much more valuable than at first supposed.

In addition to the jewels and gowns, valued at many thousands of dollars, Mrs. Ruiz possessed, at the time of her arrival in London, $130,000 in cash.

At least Frank O'Brien, a brother of Mrs. Ruiz, has informed his London attorneys, that Antonio Ruiz, father-in-law of the suicide, gave her that amount of money, and that she transferred the entire sum to her London account.

Yet, since the day Mrs. Ruiz, despondent and desperate, supposedly because she had been jilted by her millionaire admirer, destroyed herself with a revolver, no trace of these jewels, no trace of this money, no trace of her wonderful wardrobe has been found.

Jewels Taken to Paris.
That is the work to which Mr. O'Brien has devoted himself, and his labors may involve visits to the continent as well as scurrying about England.

From his investigation it appears that Mrs. Ruiz's wardrobe and jewels disappeared simultaneously. Frank Wilkinson, a personal friend of S. G. Vanderbilt, and a confidante of James Hazen Hyde, took them to Paris. This much was surmised after the news of her coroner or his subordinates tried to suppress the facts became known.

It was learned today that Miss Kathleen Caney, who had been a sort of secretary or confidential maid to Mrs. Ruiz, is living in great comfort here. It is understood that $20,000 cash was set aside for her provided she remained here instead of returning to America.

Miss Caney is said to have remarked that it would be many months before she returned to New York, and added:

"There will likely be a lot of litigation as a result of Mrs. Ruiz's suicide, and I intend remaining in England to do whatever I can as a witness."

Miss Caney Knows Much.
Miss Caney discreetly withheld the name of the person for whom she might be a witness. Neither did she state the nature of the case in which she might figure.

"Miss Caney," says one who is in a position to speak with accuracy, "has been provided with a magnificent home and every luxury, that she may be content here and not yearn for America. She is to return to America, discontented, she might say, but she is to tell things which would create a flurry. She had knowledge of some affairs of Alfred Vanderbilt and of Mrs. Ruiz at the time Elsie French divorced Vanderbilt, naming Mrs. Ruiz, and at the time Mrs. Ruiz divorced her wife, naming Vanderbilt."

MOROCCO IN A STATE OF ANARCHY

International Intervention Is Now Believed To Be Imminent.

Tangier, July 17.—The internal situation in Morocco occasions the deepest apprehensions, and it is believed that international intervention cannot long be delayed. The entire country is the prey of complete anarchy.

Whether Roghi is actually master of Fez is not yet certain, but Mulai Hafid is manifestly helpless and a prisoner in the capital, and Mulai El Kebbi, the son of the late sultan, who has been proclaimed sultan in Zeccur, is advancing at the head of a large force on Mequinez.

The foreign board is without money, and as it refuses to give security for loan, negotiations for which have been going on in Paris, the eventual control of the customs by the exasperated creditors is being discussed as an early probability. Events in the Rif country are expected to precipitate matters.

VENDETTA, 10,000 MILES

Missoula, Mont., July 19.—After chasing his intended victim over a distance of 10,000 miles and travelling through nearly all the countries of Asia, Europe and the United States, Georgia Akpurakan today arrived in Missoula and immediately made a desperate attempt to murder Abu Akhm, a native of Bombay, who has been located in Missoula several months.

When Akpurakan made his attack on Akhm the latter fled and sought shelter in the office of County Attorney E. C. Mulrooney, his assailant pursuing him with a drawn knife, seemingly intent upon his death. In the county attorney's office Mulrooney himself was forced to use desperate measures to protect the intended victim from the fury of the pursuing Hindu, who was finally kicked out of the room where Akhm was sequestered, and was later handed over to the sheriff.

BIG SOUTHERN FIRE.

Jamestown, N. Y., July 17.—Fire today destroyed a large section of the business part of the village of South Dayton. Starting in Byron Shale's bakery, on Park street, the fire extended to and destroyed five buildings, including eight business establishments. The loss is between $50,000 and $75,000, covered by insurance.

WAS OFFICER SUMON KILLED IN A DUEL?

Another Theory as to the Death of an American Marine Officer.

New York, July 17.—An Annapolis dispatch to the American says that two persons of prominence who live in Annapolis, and who prefer not to have their names mentioned, confirmed the existence of certain documentary evidence that James M. Sumon, the young marine officer, who met his death on Oct. 12, 1907, was challenged by one of his fellow officers. The statement of Owens, the chauffeur, makes it probable that this is the explanation of the affair.

One of the men who saw the documentary proof said that there was a letter found in Lieut. Sumon's effects and now in possession of Mrs. Parker, his sister. This letter showed conclusively that an arrangement for a duel with arms existed between Sumon and another officer whose name was mentioned, but which he could not remember. The letter closed, he said, with these words: "Let's call the gun play off."

This evidence will likely be corroborated by direct testimony if the statements made by certain officers and other acquaintances of Sumon can be taken. Owens, the chauffeur, is confident that something of the sort took place.

There are a number of witnesses whose testimony might shed light upon matters connected with the case, who were not secured by either the board of investigation or the federal grand jury. One of these is a former employee of the academy whose work took him near the scene of action that night. He does not wish to be connected with the affair if he can avoid it. He said yesterday that he heard part of the quarrel which preceded the shooting, and also heard the actual shooting.

Among the remarks which he heard from the party was "Let me get at him. I'll kill him." Who it was who shouted this he does not know, nor can he identify positively any of the party. He heard the shots clearly, stating that they were in rapid succession and then two more. This evidence is of much importance, as an examination of the revolver with which Sumon was killed would have shown how many cartridges had been expended.

A thorough investigation showed nothing to support the statements that any young women of Annapolis are out of town on account of fear of being summoned to appear before the court of inquiry on Monday.

CANADA AT SEATTLE

Many Clever Exploitation Ideas at the Dominion's Exhibit.

Seattle, July 19.—Many clever exploitation ideas are to be seen in the building housing the exhibit of Canada at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in Seattle. The exhibit is exceptionally comprehensive in scope, and its arrangement presents it in the most desirable manner possible. Every department of wealth production is represented, and these are carefully labelled with descriptive accounts of interest.

In attractively bringing the wood and pulp industry before visitors, an ingenious and beautiful display has been employed. In the department devoted to this display, a panoramic view has been called into use, and this is aided by natural effects. A waterfall supplies a small stream and this makes its way through the front part of the exhibit. A jam of logs is represented in pulp production, shield the houses of a colony of beaver, and these industrious animals show the skillfulness of their teeth by the smoothly-cut trees, felled through their labors.

Two pairs of these animals are contained in the shelter of the waterfall, and supply the required touch of real life to the picture. Specimens of paper, fibre tubs, pails and other utensils show the various uses to which wood pulp is adapted. The exhibit is one of the most attractive of the exposition, and daily attracts thousands of interested spectators.

GIGANTIC PHONE MERGER

New York Hears That $970,000,000 Is Involved.

New York, July 18.—The merging of all the Bell Telephone companies of the country into a gigantic corporation, representing a capitalization of $970,000,000, is believed to be foreshadowed in the action taken by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, in providing for the absorption of the stock of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company.

Although no official statement could be obtained today, it is believed that the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company will accept the offer of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to exchange its stocks share for share.

The plan has the approval of the directors of the New York company. Under the terms of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company's offer, the New York and New Jersey Company's stock, which pays seven per cent dividend, must be transferred by August 31. The authorized stock issue is $195,000,000, with a funded debt of $1,100,000.

COMPANY WINS.

Utica, July 18.—Sixty-five inspectors in the Remington typewriter works at Utica, who struck in sympathy with the aligners some time ago, decided yesterday to return to work in the factory. This virtually settles the fight in favor of the company, and it may be considered that the strike is broken. The company now has 800 men at work, and a still larger number will be engaged on Monday. Some of the striking aligners are seeking work elsewhere, and a number of them will leave town tonight. The places of the old aligners are being filled with great difficulty.

A Woman Humiliated

WOULD NOT ATTEND SOCIAL FUNCTIONS BECAUSE OF HER HAIR.

There are many women in this world, handsome in features, perfect in form, graceful of movement and brilliant of mind, who keep in the background just because they have thin, colorless and lustreless hair.

In Paris they understand things about the hair that we do not know in this country. It was a Parisian, Dr. Sabouraud, who discovered that thin hair and dandruff are caused by a microbe.

It is Parisian Sage that proves Dr. Sabouraud's theory to be correct, for it is rigidly guaranteed. It should be used freely in summer as it keeps the scalp clean and cool and free from odors.

The price for Parisian Sage is only 50 cents for a large, generous bottle, and is for sale by leading druggists everywhere. Sold in London on the money-back plan by W. T. Strong. The girl with the auburn hair is on every package. Made in Canada by Giroux Manufacturing Company, Fort Erie, Ont.

The Misses Jones, of the St. Thomas Conservatory of Music, Miss Bella Magee and Miss Jessie Morrison, of London, are the guests of Mrs. A. S. Smith at Glen Rosa Cottage.

Mrs. Chene, of Buffalo, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Wm. Green, at the Log Cabin on William street.

Mr. J. J. Turner, broker, of London, is located at Willow Beach for the summer.

Canon Downie has returned home after spending a week in Toronto.

TRUST-MADE GOODS BARRED FROM ARMY

Washington, July 17.—Trust-made products have been boycotted by Secretary of War Dickinson, and will not be used by the army. He has adopted a new rule, which is the most radical step in recent years, in the purchase of government supplies. In a recent letter to Brig.-Gen. Henry D. Sharp, commissary-general, Mr. Dickinson directed that no contract should be entered into with any corporation which is a party to a trust, or combination in restraint of trade. He has also ordered that no dealings be had by the department with any middleman or agent where it is known that the middleman or agent is the representative of an unlawful concern.

The question first came up several months ago in connection with the purchase of tobacco. The substance of the secretary's ruling was cabled to the commissary officers in the Philippines, in Hawaii, and in Alaska for their guidance. Gen. Sharp has prepared a circular order for distribution among the commissary officers of the army. This order was dated June 7 last, and was a confidential document, but a copy of it became public today. The circular contains the secretary's letter to Gen. Sharp, the final decree, filed on Dec. 15, 1908, in the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York, in which it was adjudged that the American Tobacco Company, the American Cigar Company, the American Stogie Company, and the MacAndrews and Forbes Company constitute a combination in restraint of trade, and a list of the companies enjoined by the decree in the tobacco trust cases.

AVOIDED STRIKE.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 17.—At the conference yesterday between the Republic Iron and Steel Company and the Amalgamated Association officers, the 1909 scale was signed, thereby preventing a walkout of about 10,000 men employed in the Republic Company's plants. The 1909 scale signed today is practically a duplication of last year's scale, with a few minor changes. The puddlers' scale, also signed yesterday, based on the selling price of iron, was fixed at $5 12½ a ton for the next 60 days. This is a reduction of 19½ cents under the previous scale for puddlers.

TWO GAMES AT TECUMSEH PARK

Youngs and the Rockets Were Winners on Saturday.

EIGHT-SEVEN, FIVE-TWO

First Contest Won in the Ninth Inning
by the Leaders of the League.

There were two good games of ball seen by a fair-sized crowd at Tecumseh Park on Saturday afternoon. In the first game Youngs' luck was with them, and they won in the ninth inning by a score of 8 to 7.

The second game was won by the Rockets who defeated the Stars by a score of 5 to 2. The play in both contests abounded in brilliant plays, and was of a kind that delighted the fans.

For a long time the game between Youngs and the Rockets looked good for ten, if not more innings. Youngs were leading by a score of 5 to 2 at the end of the fourth, and made it 6 to 2 in the sixth. In the seventh, however, the Rockets held a swift and piled up five runs, giving them a lead of one. Youngs tied the score in the eighth, while the Rockets were unable to do anything in their half. In the first half of the ninth they again failed to score, and with none out game was called. The score is as follows:

SATURDAY'S GAMES
DOWN THE RIVER

St. Johns and Acadians Winners in Springbank League.

Y. M. C. A. WEAKENED

Second Contest Marked by Close Finish Being Decided in Last Half of Ninth.

In the first game of the Springbank League series Saturday afternoon, the Y. M. C. A. team met a serious defeat at the hands of St. John's Club, to the tune of 15 to 1. It is only fair to say that the Y. M. C. A. had lost several of their best men, and though their positions were filled very satisfactorily, the change had a decided derogatory effect upon the team play.

Other than this, however, their playing was not up to the mark, and the number of errors mounted up heavily. Indeed, a good part of the scoring against them was made through errors. Hamilton pitched a good game, but with one or two exceptions he got only a moderate support. Now and then there was some snappy playing, but it was not good ball, nor as good as that team should and could have played. The teams were:

St. John's—Parkinson, s.s.; Phelan, 1b.; Stinson, c.; McIntyre, c.f.; Callahan, r.f.; Morrison, 2b.; Walden, 3b.; Legg, l.f.; Richardson, p.
Y. M. C. A.—Quick, r.f.; Rowlands, s.s.; Davidson, 3b.; Gillies, l.f.; Ball, c.f.; Brown, 2b.; Wright, 1b.; Hamilton, p.; Smith, c.

The second game on the other hand between the Acadians and Grays was one of the best of the season, and was only decided in the last half of the ninth inning.

The Acadians opened the game in the second inning, Meldrum crossing the plate for the first score. In the following inning a wild throw by Chaffey to third permitted Murray to even the score.

Again in the fourth inning a nice hit by Hardy brought B. Orr across the plate. The sixth was an off inning for the Acadians. Fitzgerald was inclined to be slow in playing the field. B. O'Rourke and B. Orr succeeded in scoring by a series of pretty steals and finally Stevenson stole home. Chaffey being somewhat somnolent at the time. The Acadians now began to show signs of life again. Costello's sacrifice advances Moore to third, and another sacrifice by Meldrum secures a score. The seventh inning was all Acadians. Chaffey made a nice hit, enabling W. Lee to get to third. R. Lee came along with an infield hit which enabled W. Lee to score, and Fitzgerald came along with an opportunity hit, scoring Chaffey. Moore makes a safe hit. R. Lee crossing the plate, tying the score. Costello again sacrifices, enabling Fitzgerald to reach the home plate safely, and Meldrum does the same for Moore, leaving the Acadians two runs to the good.

In the ninth Stevenson hit to Costello, who threw high to first, and R. Lee in trying to cut the runner off at third, pitched high, enabling him to score. B. Orr followed up with a nice hit, which succeeded in scoring Orr and O'Rourke, again giving the Grays the advantage. Moore saved the situation by scoring on Costello's safe hit, again tying the score, and Harding settled matters by a fine hit which scored Costello and Meldrum, and the game closed. Grays 8, Acadians 10, leaving Harding on base.

It was a very fine exhibition of ball throughout, and its close finish aroused great enthusiasm. Baker pitched a fine game, and Fitzgerald also did well though inclined to be slow. Moore was always there with the stick in an emergency, and as a baserunner is a master. Throughout there was some very pretty playing.

The teams were as follows:
Grays—Orr, r.f.; B. O'Rourke, l.f.; B. Orr, 3b.; Stephenson, c.; Hardy, s.s.; Nichols, c.f.; O'Rourke, 2b.; Murray, 1b.; Baker, p.
Acadians—Moore, c.f.; Costello, 3b.; Meldrum, r.f.; Hodges, s.s.; Harding, l.f.; W. Lee, 2b.; Chaffey, c.; R. Lee, 1b.; Fitzgerald, p.

PLAYER INJURED.

Mr. T. Maitland, one of the players of the Orient Baseball Club, while playing at Springbank on Saturday evening, was struck in the face by a ball, and rendered unconscious for a time. He was brought to the city and attended by Dr. Teasdale. The injury did not prove serious, and Mr. Maitland is able to be around again all right.

Jeffries was there, but no Mr. Johnson.

Chicago, July 17.—James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson failed to meet here today according to the schedule outlined by their representatives. Jeffries was at the appointed place, but Johnson did not leave his training camp in Indiana until late in the day, and said that he would not meet Jeffries.

Jeffries issued a signed statement later in which he said:

"In view of the many conflicting reports regarding my intention of making a public fight with Jack Johnson, I am glad to state that I will make my plans public as follows:

"At the conclusion of my theatrical contracts, which will be July 26, I will sail for Europe for two or three weeks' visit to Carlsbad. Before sailing, I will post my forfeit to meet Johnson before the club offering the best inducements, and the best prepared to hold the contest. Sam Berger, who is my pugilistic manager, will remain over here and consider offers for the match and will have all the details in readiness for the final signature when I return.

"I sincerely hope that my action will quiet the doubts of those who have questioned the sincerity of my intentions."

DERBYS BEAT
RAMBLERS 1 TO 0

First Game in East End League
Saturday Was Fast One.

ALERTS WON SECOND

Defeated the Cubs by 8 to 1—Daly, First Southpaw of Season, Was Tried Out.

Derbys 1, Ramblers 0.

The Derbys copped the first game in the East End League Saturday afternoon by the narrow margin, both teams being in fine trim. The men, with few exceptions, fielded perfectly and few chances were passed up.

Waud was the first man on the winning team to reach the third sack. By a well placed bingle he covered three-quarters of the circuit in the fifth round, but was left on the base when the side was retired.

Luney's Wild Heave.

The deciding and only run of the game was scored in the sixth inning. Daniels and Rockwood, aided and abetted by Luney, of the opposing team, being responsible.

This is how it happened: Rockwood bunted a slow one along the third base line and made first. Daniels duplicated the play, and Luney attempted to throw out the man who was advancing to second. He heaved a little wide of the mark, and Rockwood reached third. Murray singled, and scored the winning run, Rockwood crossing the plate.

Great Throw Home.

Wagner hit a long fly to Clark at centre, and went out, and Daniels taking advantage of the play attempted to do some scoring, but was thrown out at home, Clark making a brilliant heave from the middle ground.

THE SPANISH PRETENDER DEAD IN LOMBARDY

Don Carlos De Bourbon, Duke of Madrid, Passes Away in His 61st Year.

Rome, July 18.—The pretender to the Spanish throne, Don Carlos De Bourbon, Duke of Madrid, died today at Varese, Lombardy, aged 61 years.

His pretensions were based on the ground that Isabella, daughter of Ferdinand VII, who was Don Carlos's grandniece, and Christina, mother of Alfonso XII, owing to the Salic law were debarred from the succession when the Carlos took up arms in 1872 and reigned as Charles VIII. over the greater part of Northern Spain until 1876, when, being surrounded by the forces of Alfonso XII, who had recently been proclaimed king at Madrid, he retired into France.

As the undisputed senior male heir of the house of Bourbon he had a distinct right to the throne of France in the event of the restoration of the monarchy.

He was frequently invited by the French royalists to put forward his claim, but he always abstained from doing so.

His heir is his son, Don Jaime, who is an officer in the Russian army.

HE THREW $15 PIE IN HER FACE, SHE SAYS

Husband Had Too Much Money, Declares Mrs. Brown.

Baltimore, July 19.—Society here is taking fresh interest in the divorce action instituted by Mrs. Mabel Brown against her husband, Frank Showden R. Brown, son of former Gov. Brown, and brother of the former Mrs. Gordon Taylor, who was married to the Standard Oil millionaire.

Mrs. Brown has supplemented her original complaint concerning the cruelties she had to endure at the hands of her husband.

In a late statement she says that one night he brought home a party of friends and threw a pie in her face, saying it cost $15.

"Frank had too much money," says the celebrated beauty, "and our tastes were entirely dissimilar. He liked lurid things while I wished the simple life. He would have been all right but for his money."

Brown's father never became reconciled to the runaway husband and Mrs. Brown has brought suit against him for alienation of her husband's affections.

Upon the death of Brown's mother he inherited some $100,000. Instead of going into business, he essayed to become a newspaper reporter. He got a place on a Baltimore paper and reported for his assignments behind a pair of horses and a driver named Brandy and Soda. A footman rode beside him. This was too much for the newspaper editor and he lasted two weeks as a reporter.

He met his wife, then Miss Mabel Michael, not well off, but ravishingly beautiful, on an automobile trip. He fell in love with her at once and within a few days persuaded her to elope with him to New York. They were married by the Rev. Henry Marsh Warren, New York's champion marrying parson. The new Mrs. Brown achieved great popularity in society because of her beauty.

QUEEN OF ENGLAND HELPS POOR WIDOW

Woman's Letter Answered the Following Day—Selling Fruit Now.

London, July 17.—A romantic story of the Queen's well-known sympathy with the poor has come to light.

Four months ago the husband of Mrs. E. Smith, living at Mary building, Oakley street, southeast, died of consumption, leaving a wife destitute with five young children.

As the youngest child was a year-old baby, Mrs. Smith was hampered in obtaining work, and for some weeks the family struggled on together as best they could.

A few days ago things were looking very black in the little home in Mary building. Mrs. Smith could not obtain work they had no money, and there were five hungry children to feed. What was to be done?

"Why not write to the Queen?" suggested a poor but sympathetic friend, "and tell her of your trouble?"

At first the idea seemed almost ridiculous, but then the poor widow remembered Queen Alexandra's care for the suffering is proverbial; that no one is too poor or lowly for her loving thought. She wrote and posted the letter. The very next day a reply was received from Miss Knolly, on behalf of the Queen, directing that the Church Army should assist Mrs. Smith in the most practical way possible.

How Mrs. Smith received the news of the Queen's thoughtfulness is best told in her own words: "I cannot say how grateful I am to her majesty for her kindness to me," she said.

"I received some money immediately from the Church Army, and they are going to give me a stock of fruit to sell in the streets—a business to which I am accustomed."

"Through the influence of her majesty I have also had an offer to place my two eldest children—a boy of 12 and a girl of 10—in an orphanage."

TREASURE HUNT DROPPED

Search for Spanish Ship on British Coast Has Been Abandoned.

London, July 18.—After operations extending over three months, the quest for sunken treasure at Dollar Cove, in Mount's Bay, has been abandoned.

Diving and sand-pumping have been carried on at the spot where a Spanish ship with specie on board is supposed to have foundered, the treasure being estimated at about 20 tons of dollars.

The salvors are silent as to the actual results of their search, but it is understood that the enterprise is a failure, like others preceding it.

There is a local tradition that many years ago the boys of the farms "the neighborhood used to go down to the shore at low tide and pick up the dollars up in pails and buckets. It is true—might explain why more recent efforts have been attended with so little success."

LOVE DISAPPOINTMENT CAUSED THIS SUICIDE

Young Rothschild Was in Love With Beautiful, Young Chicago Girl.

Chicago, July 18.—Dr. Rudolph Menn, of this city, last night placed an authoritative seal upon the story that Baron Oskar Rothschild, the youngest son of Baron Albert Rothschild, of Vienna, had killed himself because of his family's opposition to his engagement with Olga Menn, the physician's young and beautiful daughter.

The doctor told of his daughter's meeting with the young baron, when he arrived in Chicago with a party of friends on their way to Europe from the Orient six weeks ago. A friend of the nobleman was taken ill and was sent to the hospital, where Dr. Menn is a staff physician. The baron met the doctor's daughter and from that first meeting they were together much of the time that the young man was in Chicago.

Not a week after meeting Miss Menn, the doctor said, young Rothschild proposed marriage. He was accepted and left soon after for Vienna, with the promise that Miss Menn and her mother would follow. He expected that his father would not consent to his marriage with an American girl, but thought the young woman's beauty would win him over.

The baron cabled to his father, but the reply was not enthusiastic. Young Rothschild then wanted to marry Miss Menn at once, but Dr. Menn refused to allow this and the baron sailed for Europe to plead with his father. A short time ago the girl and her mother sailed.

"You can imagine what a shock the news of her fiancé's death was to my daughter," said the doctor. "Olga was expecting Baron Oskar to join her at Hamburg and take her and her mother on to Vienna. They were then to be introduced to the baron's family. They expected to go with the Rothschilds to their summer home in the south of Austria, and there were to be entertained, according to the young man's plans."

CALVERT IN BIG DEAL

Govt. Whip Engineers Reorganization of Thermos Bottle Company.

Montreal, July 18.—A re-organization of the Thermos Bottle Company has just been put through by which the business will be transferred to a syndicate of Ontario men, and the whole plant and offices removed to Toronto. The deal was concluded a few days ago at New York by Mr. S. Calvert, M. P., and the business will be carried on under the old name as a joint stock company, with a capital of $300,000. The moving spirits in the enterprise are Messrs. R. J. Copeland, C. A. W. Fraser, Ottawa; W. S. Calvert, M.P., Stratford, Ont.; and Mr. Bailey, formerly general manager of the Metropolitan Bank.

Under the re-organization Mr. Copeland will be president of the company, with Mr. Calvert vice-president, and Mr. Fraser secretary-treasurer.

Mr. W. S. Calvert was in Montreal on Saturday making preliminary arrangements for the transfer of the business and planning for its removal to Toronto. The new company was arranged to install machinery to manufacture the thermos bottles, with the exception of certain parts which were covered by European patents and would have to be imported. The company will install its factory in the Hunter-Rose building at Toronto. There was a much larger demand for Thermos goods in Toronto and through Ontario and the west than in Montreal or Quebec province.

JAMES EGAN CELEBRATES

editor and proprietor of the only newspaper then published in the county of Oxford. This paper he ably conducted for three years supporting the Baldwin-Lafontaine ministry.

Came to London in 1851.

In 1851, four years before London became a city, he arrived here as an engaged in photography, being the pioneer in London in that art, which was then in its infancy. To thoroughly qualify himself, Mr. Egan took a course of study of the mysteries of the camera at Rochester, N. Y., and then he came to London. He also carried on an extensive and profitable business as a dealer in photographers' supplies. In the early eighties he was appointed inspector of weights and measures—a position he filled until superannuated some years ago.

A Public-Spirited Citizen.

Mr. Egan has ever been a public-spirited citizen. He has taken an interest in the Public Library. For some time he was a member of the library board, and on his retirement last year ago, he was appointed a life honorary member.

Mr. Egan is well known to almost every Londoner, and all will join in wishing him many years yet of health and happiness.

CHASED BY LIONS.

Nativasha, British East Africa, July 19.—Leslie A. Tarlton, of Nairobi, who accompanied the Roosevelt expedition to the Sokot country, arrived here last night. He was chased to every bush and five lions, the district having been invaded by many of these animals. It is probable that the Roosevelt party will arrive here from its shooting trip on July 27.

EXPERIMENTS ON ANIMALS DEFENDED

Medical Research Society Holds Annual Meeting in London.

London, July 18.—Lord Cromer presided at the annual meeting of the Research Defense Society, and made an eloquent appeal for sympathy for the scientists whose research work involves experiments on animals.

Some few years ago, he said, the lord chief justice stigmatized a notorious anti-vivisectionist book as "an hysterical work." The members of the society did not suffer from hysteria. "I think we are eminently sane. We cannot attempt to emulate, still less to rival, the proceedings of those who thrill the minds of the public with the imaginary tortures inflicted on a brown dog. We do not plaster the railway stations of the metropolis with caricatures of Stephen Coleridge, secretary of the Anti-Vivisection Society, and his allies. These are all arts which we must leave to our opponents."

Yet he is glad that anti-vivisection societies existed. It was well that the physiologist should remember that there were critics on the watch who would be inclined to show him mercy should he inadvertently pass the narrow border line which separated the infliction of suffering which was justifiable from that which could not be justified.

The evidence presented to the royal commission on vivisection, Lord Cromer said, showed that there was not a single alleged case of extreme and unnecessary cruelty brought forward by the Anti-Vivisection Society which did not hopelessly break down under cross-examination.

This he believes is natural, for a physiologist has the same feelings of sympathy toward the animal world as are felt by every civilized human being, and, putting the matter on much more ground, the struggles of an animal in pain tend to nullify the accuracy of the experiment. It could be proved up to the hilt that experiments on living animals had prolonged human life and relieved human suffering.

It is almost inconceivable, according to the speaker, that any body of thinking men and women could hesitate for one moment to sacrifice the lives of a certain number of mice, rabbits and rats if the least chance existed of eventually finding a remedy for a terrible scourge like cancer.

THE BOY SHAH WEEPS AT LEAVING MOTHER

Little Chap Didn't Want To Be Monarch, But the Diplomats Insisted.

London, July 19.—The Tehran correspondent for the Times describes the affecting scene at the parting of the new Shah from his parents. Both his mother and father broke down at the thought of parting with their only son, and offered their second son in his place. The boy wept bitterly in sympathy with his parents, and at first declined to leave his mother. Finally their majesties being informed that it was the wish of the British and Russian governments that he should be crowned, he was persuaded to agree to the departure of the youthful Shah.

When the formalities were concluded, the boy still continued to weep, and it was not until admonition to the effect that crying was not allowed in the Russian legation, before he dried his tears. Then the little man came out bravely and proceeded to the palace, where his mother is free to visit him.

The ex-Shah accepts his strange position with oriental philosophy and shows no lack of personal dignity. He expressed a desire to live in the Crimea.

There is some obscurity, says the Times correspondent, about the reasons that induced the Shah to abandon the struggle, but the final result is highly honorable to both sides. Much credit is due the Russian and British representatives for their firmness in resisting pressure to call in the Russian troops.

The city received very little damage from the rifle and shell fire.

BACK TO WORK

Pittsburg Steel Car Strike Practically Settled.

Pittsburg, July 19.—Without the slightest display of violence of any sort on the part of the striking employees, the plant of the Pressed Steel Company partially resumed operations today. Five hundred men landed at the company's wharf from the steamer Steel Queen, the car company's material boat, quietly entered the shops and took up their tools in various departments without outward manifestation that a labor disturbance of any kind had interrupted shop operations for the week past.

Then men who were put to work are reported to be the American workmen of the car company who walked out with the foreign strikers, but refused to stay on strike, as they found the foreigners had little excuse for refusing to work.

The company office stated that at the week-end they hope to have their plant in full operation.

HEAVY WEATHER.

Rochester, July 19.—A heavy wind has been interfering with navigation on Lake Ontario. The steamer Arundel on a trip to Olette Beach, near Buffalo, had to put back to Charlotte, when off Oak Orchard. The North King for Cobourg and Port Hope, Ont., had to return. The Alexandria, a Montreal ship, last night was abandoned and she is trying to get a chance to sail.

OTHERS AT ZION CITY.

Chicago, July 19.—Zion City, the town of one religion, is receiving its first touch of denominationalism. Under the administration of a receiver, the Methodists and the Baptists have gained a foothold within the territory that was closed to every faith but the Jewish. During the lifetime of John Alexander Dowie, both the Methodists and Baptists held religious meetings yesterday in the Zion City Hotel, formerly known as Elijah Hospice.

LATHAM FAILS TO FLY ACROSS ENGLISH CHANNEL

Aeroplane Drops in the Ocean Six Miles From the French Coast.

Dover, July 19.—Although starting under the most favorable conditions, Herbert Latham, the French aviator, failed in his first attempt to fly across the English Channel. Making an ascent at 6:45 this morning, the aviator sailed beautifully in wide sweeping circles, and appeared to have every prospect of success in his hazardous undertaking. Wireless reports from San Gate soon announced that the machine was out of sight, and the watchers at Dover, M. Latham's objective point, were warned to be on the look-out. The machine never appeared, however, and as the time passed the greatest anxiety prevailed. Soon came the report that the monoplane had fallen into the sea, and the hopes of M. Latham's friends that he would be the first to accomplish the channel flight were disappointed.

When the day broke, a heavy fog hung over the French shore, a light rain was falling, and it was expected here that the flight would be given up. At the morning advanced, however, the sky cleared, and by 5 o'clock there was little wind and no mist, the watchers on this side being able to see ten miles across the sea. Under the conditions prevailed on the French side and the wireless instruments gave the information that the Frenchman had decided to make the attempt. Two were sent out, and every preparation made for the reception of the aviator. The disappointment, therefore, was all the greater when the news came that the attempt to cross the channel had met with failure. It was not until here of the rescue of M. Latham. A brief message said that the torpedo boat destroyer Harpon had returned to the French coast, and that the monoplane had dropped into the water six miles from the French coast, or shortly after it disappeared from sight at Dover. The wrecked monoplane was still floating, and M. Latham was sitting calmly in his seat, smoking a cigarette.

AEROPLANE RECORD BROKEN BY CURTISS

His Machine Sails Twenty-Four Miles in a Little Less Than an Hour.

Mnecola, N. Y., July 17.—A climax to the frequent aeroplane flights which Glen H. Curtiss has been making at Hempstead Plains, L. I., with increasing success, came today when he sent his flyer 24.7 miles in 52 minutes and 30 seconds, and qualified as the first candidate for the cup offered by the Scientific American. This flight is not only Curtiss' best, but is the longest made with an aeroplane this year. The cup for which the aviator tried today was offered for the longest flight of this kind during the current year, the only condition being that the winner must cover at least 25 kilometres over a measured course.

The Aero Club of America, and land within 100 metres of the starting point. Curtiss came to earth today barely within the required distance, and the judges decided that he had complied with all the terms of the competition. He will win the Scientific American cup. Another flight was made by Curtiss today, he captured last year also in Hammondsport, N. Y., unless his flight is excelled before the end of the year.

The flight, although made at an early morning hour, was witnessed by a large number of persons. Curtiss rose easily and circled the course at a variety of altitudes, which showed he had his machine well in hand. The average for the whole distance was 23.4 miles an hour. At no time did he rise above 60 feet and most of the time he was flying at 15 or 20 feet of the ground. At the beginning of the twentieth round he encountered a strong head wind and fearing that his gasoline would fail before he could complete another round he shut off the engine and gracefully descended. After alighting he found that he still had two quarts of fuel left, enough to have carried him several miles further.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. McKeough leave tomorrow for England, whither they have been called by the serious illness from typhoid fever of their daughter, Miss Bessie, who is staying with her aunt.

Miss Margaret Rose Hart, daughter of Charles P. Hart, concession 3, Dover, passed away last evening at the early age of 24 years. The funeral takes place on Monday morning.

TAFT'S REVISION
List of the Articles That May Come in Free.
Washington, July 18.—Wyoming's senators and representatives are vigorously opposing a lowered tariff on coal, as proposed. They fear that the industry in their state would be ruined by cheap Canadian coal.
Two railroads are now building from Northwestern States to Canada to take the coal fields, and Wyoming capitalists are alarmed.
Senator Clark and Representative Mondell are protesting against any reduction of the present rate of 67 cents per ton, in spite of the fact that the Senate adopted a 60-cent rate. It is understood that the 45-cent rate, if adopted, will provide for no change in the existing rate of 15 cents a ton on slack, but the Elkins amendment, providing that this rate shall apply only to natural slack, shipped as such at the mines, shall be accepted.
Indications are that when the new tariff bill becomes a law the rates on the articles which the President desired to come in free will be as follows: Iron ore, free (present rate 40c per ton); oil, free (now protected by countervailing duties); hides, 7 1/2 per cent ad valorem (present rate 15 per cent); coal, 45c per ton (present rate 67 cents); lumber, probably $1.25 on rough, with Senate rates on finished. This would be a material reduction throughout the lumber schedule.

PLEASANT PLACES FOR SUMMER VACATION
Handsome Illustrated Pamphlet issued by the Intercolonial Railway.
A nicely illustrated pamphlet descriptive of pleasant places where one may spend a summer vacation, rather comforting to peruse in the hot weather, when the thoughts are inclined to wander to the seaside, where cooling breezes are wafted from the ocean. "Tours to Summer Haunts" is the title of an interesting publication issued annually by the Intercolonial Railway, this year, more interesting than ever, as it is more extended as regards the reading matter, and of more practical value by reason of the neatly tabulated schedules of special rates and the hotel lists showing rates and accommodation.
It is in midsummer and in the latter part of the season that the water-places of Eastern Canada are at their best, and visitors to that summer paradise in Canada will find there much that is novel, and much that will charm, for in no other part of the Dominion is there such a great variety of tourist attractions. Here are the mountains, the fertile valleys; here the crystal brooks joining with noble rivers, the home of salmon, and of trout; here the forests abounding in big game, and everywhere the seashore with its sublime coast scenery and splendid opportunities for boating and bathing.

The descriptive portion of the pamphlet is well-written, and the general information is of a character that will appeal most strongly to the tourist. It is compiled in a style practically concise, in a book handsomely bound, and very nicely illustrated. Those who write to the General Passenger Department at Moncton, N. A LIVELY DISCUSSION REGARDING VACCINATION
The People's Forum Proposed to Deal With the Matter at the Next Meeting.
At the meeting of the People's Forum last evening in the St. George's Hall, the subject, "Human Nature," was dealt with at considerable length, by Mr. Charles Hill.
The lecturer demonstrated that human nature was not bad, but that bad human beings existed as a result of false education, religion and environment.
The speaker called attention to the teachings of the Christian churches, and argued that men and women were taught to look upon the teachings of Christ from a purely selfish standpoint, and to also pay constantly for their own individual salvation.
It was further stated that the present methods adopted by Christian teachers were responsible for developing and encouraging irresponsibility by leading men and women to believe that they could help themselves by merely believing in the saving power of something or someone outside themselves.
Christ, in the opinion of the leader, meant that men should look upon his great sacrifice only as an example for others to follow, and not as a prop to lean upon.
One member took up the argument that self-preservation was the first law of nature, and the lecturer absolutely denied that such was the case. He then cited many instances from the primitive days of tribal communism right up to the present time, to controvert the doctrine that selfishness is inherent in human nature.
The discussion was so interesting that it was decided to deal with it again at some future meeting.
Next Sunday the subject for discussion will be, "Is vaccination a crime against humanity?"
The lecturer on this occasion will strongly oppose compulsory vaccination, and the medical profession are cordially invited to send capable representatives along to uphold vaccination if it can be morally upheld. A scheme will be advanced to test the powers of the board of education on this particular subject.

McCLARY PICNIC WAS A WINNER
Big Crowd Had a Splendid Day at Port Stanley on Saturday.
HAD ORIGINAL FEATURES
Dreadnought Band Made a Hit With All—Foundrymen Won the Baseball Match.

The McClary picnic was held at Port Stanley on Saturday, and as expected it was the best in years. Several hundred employees with their wives and families, headed by that now-famous kazoo band, the McClary Dreadnought, journeyed to the lakeside on the early trains. Many more followed on later trains, and when the programme commenced in the afternoon, practically all the employees were present. All had a fine time. The programme of sports was extremely interesting and somewhat out of the usual run. The baby show was one of the features. In this event the babies were numbered and held by persons other than the parents. This caused a great deal of amusement to the spectators, and some embarrassment to those selected to hold the "kiddies." The entry list was quite a long one, and some exceptionally fine babies were shown.

An Original Feature.
Another original feature was the stump speech making and comic song competitions. These attracted large crowds, and created great amusement. The prize-winners showed more than ordinary ability in their lines.
The pillow fight and the ladies' nail driving contest were again most popular.
The Baseball Match.
The baseball match in the morning between the foundrymen and the up-town departments, attracted a large number of spectators. All the old-timers in the McClary establishment were in the game, somewhat slower than formerly but much alive. The foundry boys were too strong for the others and won by a score of 11 to 10 in a fine game. The batteries were: Foundry, Delaney and J. Barnes; Uptown, Ross and Maul. J. Pirie umpired, and J. Bartlette had a busy time scoring. Colonel Gartshore, manager of the company, was present, and he looked after the comfort of the employees in his inimitable way. Nothing that would make the day pleasant was omitted, and the employees unanimously voted it one of the best they had ever attended.
The evening was spent in boat rides on the lake, and in other ways. The

Cool Comfort in Hot Weather
One can feel cool and well-fed, yet full of energy and "go" when the hot weather diet is selected with reason. Fresh foods and fatty substances generate bodily heat. When one is, so to speak, "between two fires" the one inside—combustion (digestion) of food—and the other a blazing sun outside, it's small wonder humanity is uncomfortable and unhappy. In hot weather some attention should be given to food. Try a breakfast of Grape-Nuts and Cream
Some fruit.
Soft-boiled eggs.
Slice of crisp toast.
Cup of well-made Postum.
Such a meal keeps the blood cool and nourishes body and brain—

THE COMMITTEES.
This committee to whom credit must be given for the fine programme was composed of the following: H. L. Milligan, chairman; J. Upton, secretary; G. Alfreds, J. C. Pierson, W. Lyons, M. Lehman, F. T. Ross, J. F. Barnes, Col. W. M. Gartshore, J. H. K. Pope, P. W. King, R. A. Somers, J. Walton, M. F. Irwin, S. Milliken, A. M. Smith, F. Westbury, W. B. Pope, William Nobbs, T. Walker, W. Weir, George Brownlee, F. Crossley, A. Ralph, J. Head, J. Jarman, Frank Barnes, J. Smith, J. A. Bartlette, J. Pirie, J. Kirkpatrick, B. Askey, E. Walker, W. Pink, Richard Rollings, F. Welsh, G. Murray.
A SINGING PEOPLE.
It is a thesis that could be maintained and defended that the Hebrew people sang songs from David to Christ; they probably did some singing before the upper limit here suggested, and they have added strains to Juda's lyre since the lower limit; that is, we may go far to prove a continuity of sacred song even when we cannot prove a continuity of the gift of prophecy. The Maccabees put a proviso in their instruments of government that those were but expeditious to last until a prophet should arise; their hymns, however, show that if the prophet was gone or not yet come the singers were still in the camp and in the congregation. They sang when the Lord took them into captivity, and they sang when He caused them to return; they sang when He filled them with good things, and not the less, if somewhat wailing, when there was no herd in the stall and no fruit on the fig tree; they sang their penitence when they were driven back before their enemies; and they broke into great exultations when their oppressors fled from before their face or succumbed to disasters in which they could trace the saving hand of Celestial Deliverer—Dr. Rendel Harris.

There was to have been a game of rounders in the evening between lady teams, but this event could not be pulled off.
F. Delaney was official starter for the events and did his work well.
The sports committee, which was composed of all the members of the general committee and others, did their work perfectly, and there was not a hitch to mar the pleasure of the day's events. H. L. Milligan was chairman and J. Upton secretary, and they did their duty in an excellent manner.

DAVID AND GOLIATH
Subject of Rev. A. J. Vining's Sermon in Talbot Street Baptist Church—Other Pulpits Yesterday.
There was a large congregation present at St. Paul's Cathedral last evening. Rev. J. G. Perdue preached, taking as his text, "Thou Art the Man," from II. Samuel, xlii, 7.
"Sins," he said, "invariably blinds us to our sense of right and justice, and it continued, destroys them altogether. Some men go so far as to say that sin is a solitary act; that is, they say that certain wrong acts do no harm except to the individual who does them. This is a great mistake. We invariably regard our own actions in a light vastly different to that in which we regard the actions of others, and invariably minimize our shortcomings."
In concluding, Mr. Perdue urged his hearers to flee from sin and make Christ their guide through life.
Talbot Street Baptist Church.
"A Fight to a Finish," was Rev. A. J. Vining's theme at Talbot Street Baptist Church last night, based on the story of the struggle between David and Goliath.
"Notwithstanding that David fought Goliath in the name of the Lord," he said, "he had made the most careful preparation by doing everything well that he had ever had to do. When the opportunity came he was ready to accept it. We can all imitate this example profitably. Everyone should accept his opportunity and do away with procrastination and doubt. David's victory over Goliath meant Israel's victory, and Christ's victory over death means our victory if we accept him!"
St. Andrew's Church.
The pulpit of St. Andrew's Church was occupied yesterday by Rev. Dr. Meldrum, of Cleveland. In the evening Dr. Meldrum spoke from the text Revelations xxi, 16, "The city lieth four square."
"Let us look at this city of man's soul," said the speaker, "a city which faces in all directions, because man's character is open to influence from all sides. From the east gate of the city we look out into the past, this is the gateway of experience that the memories of past victories may be a stimulus to present effort.
"Then, there is the south side, the side of joy, of comfort and peace. God has given us a capacity for enjoyment and it would be anomalous if he had done this and refused us the right to gratify it.
"The north side is that of toil and discipline. Hero character is forged by presence of great duties. Innocence may do for children, but character is required for men and endurance is the crowning virtue of character.
"The west side is the side of the forward look, of hopeful anticipation. Life needs all the gateways for the perfect development of man, and each side has its lessons and duties and songs, but the sweetest song is that of the
