

STRONG STAND NECESSARY IN SOLVING MEXICAN PROBLEM

London Paper Says Wilson Will Drift Into War If He Tries to Pacify Mexico With Mere Smooth Words—Lind Is Ready to Present His Message.

[Canadian Press.] London, Aug. 12.—The Morning Post finds a parallel between the situation which preceded the Spanish-American war and the present Mexican situation. It says if President Wilson thinks with the pacifists that good words and patience will solve the problem he will drift into the storm he wishes to avoid, but that if he sees that nothing short of a strong government in Mexico will make the maintenance of peace possible, he will decide either to defend the party in Mexico that offers the best prospect of efficiency or to intervene with such promptitude and such force as may insure the result at which he aims. The Post adds that it is to be hoped Mr. Wilson is not an adherent of the doctrine of pacifism.

LIND IS READY.
Mexico City, Aug. 12.—The message of the State Department at Washington, which John Lind, the personal representative of President Wilson has for President Huerta, ready for presentation. At least a part of the State Department's desires are expressed in a document which has been translated into Spanish.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, took steps yesterday to ascertain if the Mexican Government would receive the communication. That it will do so there is little doubt, since it has never expressed unwillingness to accept embassy communications, and the receipt of this message would not involve the reception of Mr. Lind or Dr. William Bayard Hale, who also is in Mexico on behalf of the State Department.

All Are Reluctant.
All persons concerned in the presentation of the statement of the attitude of the United States Government toward Mexico are reluctant to see its character. It is believed that it will be followed by at least one other and that the full import of Washington's suggestions or demands will be left for a still later stage.

Mexican officials are uncommunicative regarding the special mission of Mr. Lind, but unofficially the attitude of non-compliance with any plan of interference on the part of the United States Government has not been altered.

A CURIOUS EXPERIMENT.
[Canadian Press.] London, Aug. 12.—The Daily Chronicle, in an editorial today, says it considers President Wilson's demand that President Huerta renounce the presidency of Mexico a curious experiment in foreign diplomacy, and one scarcely likely to be carried through easily.

"A proud race like the Mexicans, and the President with a fairly strong backing," the editorial says, "are very unlikely to surrender, and we doubt if the United States would really care to face the stupendous task of reducing Mexico by force of arms. Mr. Wilson's demand for a general election almost borders on the ludicrous, because there is no such thing in Mexico as an election by ballot as the ballot is understood in great democratic countries."

Can't Get Money.
Arguing that it is impossible for Mexico to obtain any money until the United States Government recognizes Huerta and that without money the country is bound to drift into anarchy, the Chronicle considers that the best and safest course would be to recognize Huerta and give him the opportunity to redeem his pledges of progress. If he failed, then it adds, the time will have come for stronger action.

Balkan Example.
The Daily Mail declares that with the awful welter of war and barbarism just pitched up at Bucharest, the American statesman has every reason to cling to diplomacy, and that if President Huerta is to be treated with courtesy, because the attitude of Washington will be largely determined by Mr. Lind's report.

Not Unmoved.
"The United States cannot look on unmoved for an indefinite period," continues the Daily Mail, "while a dictator is disarming or destroying his opponents and gradually establishing more or less of a beneficent despotism. If Huerta will hold elections and get confirmed in power, no doubt America will recognize him, notwithstanding."

BRITISH NATIVE FORCE WAS AMBUSHED IN SOMALILAND

One White Officer and More Than Fifty Men Were Killed By Followers of the Mad Mullah Before Help Came.

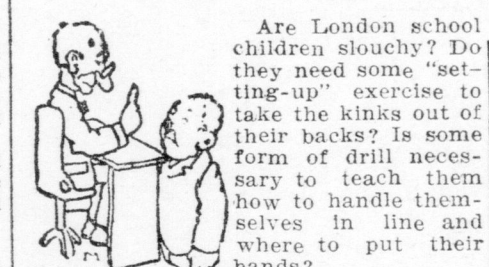

[Canadian Press.] Aden, Arabia, Aug. 12.—Succor was brought on Aug. 10 to the small remnant of the camel corps of British native troops which had lost many officers and men, killed or wounded, in a battle in Somaliland, the British protectorate, with followers of the Mad Mullah.

The British commission and commander-in-chief, Horace A. Hyatt, hearing the report, sent a flying column to the aid of the camel corps.

The reinforcements found all that was left of the camel corps entrenched eighteen miles to the southeast of the town of Burao, in the centre of the protectorate.

The camel men had been ambushed by over 2,000 Dervishes, who had killed one white British officer and wounded another, as well as killing or wounding 50 or 60 of the native troops. Heavy losses have been inflicted on the Dervishes.

The commissioner has advised the authorities in London that many thousands of tribesmen are on the warpath, and that the town of Burao is likely to be attacked.

PHYSICAL DRILL
FOR THE SCHOOLS
BOYS SLOUCHY

Are London school children slouchy? Do they need some "setting-up" exercise to take the kinks out of their backs? Is some form of drill necessary to teach them how to handle themselves in line and where to put their hands?

Chairman E. R. Dennis, of the board of education, believes they are. He is convinced that drill and manual exercises should be compulsory rudiments of the London public school education. With that end in view the question of manual exercise is going to be a vital one this fall when the schools convene again for the year.

Physical Defects.
The head of the London school board bases his assertions on the physical defects of the city school children, on a visit paid to one of the city schools prior to the summer holidays. Accompanied by one of the other members of the board, Chairman Dennis went to the school in question for the purpose of inspection. Part of this inspection was a fire drill test. The children obeyed the alarm fire call with dispatch and perfect order, but their conduct in the school yard when they were formed up again to be marched back to their classrooms was what attracted the attention of the chairman.

Too Slouchy.
Instead of forming in compact, orderly ranks, the boys slouched and leaned. They seemed unable to find proper places for their hands and threw them round their companions' necks, leaned against the latter, and shuffled into the school building in anything but orderly form.

In this exhibition there was food for considerable thought on the part of the chairman. His result will likely be seen in some drill manual that will be compiled for each school. There isn't any taint of militarism about this. It's simply going to be a physical training for the boys and girls alike.

BISHOP FALLON STAYS EAST
BIG PROGRAM IS ON HAND

It is authoritatively stated that there is no foundation whatever for the story that Bishop Fallon will become head of a new archdiocese in the west, with headquarters at Brandon. It is pointed out that Bishop Fallon has embarked upon an educational program in London that will take ten years to work out and which to abandon or turn over to other hands at present would be very serious.

This includes a seminary for priests, a college for young boys of quasi-military character, a college for girls under the direction of the Ursulines and a novitiate under the direction of the Redemptorist Order of monks. It is understood that considerable business is involved in the bishop's present visit to Rome, and that important announcements with regard to them will be made upon his return.

BRAINY BACTERIA
MAKE COVES' ICE
PURE AND SAFE

The Little Fellows All Duck Below the Surface, Says Dr. Hill.

But Board of Health Is Not Sure of It, and Will Discuss the Matter.

Brainy bacteria vs. weather conditions! Who wins?

That question is going to be answered at the board of health this afternoon. The ice question is up again, and the purity of the Coves, from which most of the city ice supply is taken, is scheduled to be brought forward as one of the most important of the many-sided ice problems of London. It is contended that the Coves, into which many South London sewers find an outlet, are improper places from which to harvest ice. Bacteria is alleged to find a home, a breeding ground and a hunting field in the waters of the Coves. Against these contentions will be urged the fact that the said bacteria have brains.

Brainy Bacteria.
To a casual observer just how brains in the bacteria would be any argument as to the propriety of using Cove ice, from a health standpoint, might seem doubtful. Science has stepped in, however, and supplied the requisite information.

According to science, as exemplified by Dr. H. W. Hill, head of the local Institute of Public Health, the harmful bacteria, of the type that frequent the Coves, have brains. By the exercise of the thinking facilities, which are part and parcel of these "brains," the bacteria are not found in the ice. The argument of Dr. Hill is to the effect that natural formed ice, on river, lake or pond, is purer than artificial ice could ever be.

Recommends Cove Ice.
His contention is based on the fact that the brains of the bacteria cause them to go lower and lower, as the

FALLS VICTIM TO CHLOROFORM

West London Woman Addicted to the Habit Found Dead in Bed.

AN INQUEST ORDERED

Mrs. Janie McGinn, 65 years old, wife of James McGinn, who resides at No. 4 Dundas street west, the first house west of the Dundas street bridge, was found dead in bed at an early hour this morning by her daughter, Minnie. Death was apparently caused by chloroform inhalation.

The woman, according to her daughter, has been addicted for some time to the use of chloroform and morphia mixed, which she has been purchasing in a local drug store.

Retired in Usual Health.
She retired last night in her usual health, and nothing was known of her death until her daughter went to her room to call her this morning, when she discovered that her mother was dead. The police department was notified, and Detective Down, who was sent out on the case, called Coroner Ferguson, who after learning the facts decided an inquest was necessary. A postmortem will be conducted this afternoon, and a jury to investigate the death will meet in the police station Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

The husband and the little daughter, it is said, know where the woman purchased the drug. They refused to give any information to the coroner. They also say they will not reveal the drug's name unless compelled to do so at the inquest. Whether a charge will be preferred against the druggist is problematical at present, as it is not known whether a druggist can be penalized for selling the drug without a doctor's prescription.

After viewing the body Coroner Ferguson gave permission for its removal, and it was taken to Griffith & Whillie's undertaking rooms, where the jury viewed it.

The personnel of the jury is: William Richmond, foreman; Arthur Mann, J. C. Perkins, D. Tripp, Thomas McGinn, Thomas W. E. Walker, Ed Hart and Ed Dunn.

ATTACK ON TRACTION COMPANY
SHOWN A FALSE STATEMENT

Absolutely No Truth in Charge That Passengers Were Kept on Cars by Company All Night—Could Have Come Back to City Had They So Desired.

While Manager Warburton, of the London and Lake Erie Transportation and Railway Company, was out of the city today, an indignant denial was made at the company's offices of the story published last night referring to the suffering imposed upon passengers of the line through the power being shut off on Saturday night. It was asserted that there was absolutely no truth in the statement, published for the purpose of attacking the company in an endeavor to bolster up the fight for electrification.

Had To Shut Off.
Officers of the company admitted that the power was shut off on 11 p.m. Saturday night, and that it remained off until 12:39 a.m. Sunday morning.

"It was simply a question of shutting off the power or burning out our machines," said one of the officials today. "As to the statement that the people who were going to Port Stanley to catch the Cleveland boat were kept on the cars all night—there was nothing to it at all."

Passengers Were Informed.
"The passengers were told at St. Thomas, one hour before the car left for Port Stanley, that the boat had gone, and there was no need of their going further on their journey. They could have come back to London on a car that left St. Thomas at the same time the car went on to Port Stanley."

"The passengers remained in the car at their own risk, and could have come back to London, had they so desired. They were informed by the conductor of the boat's departure before the southbound car left St. Thomas. One hour after they were so informed our northbound car, which had been on the streets of St. Thomas for the entire time, left. The passengers could have come back on that car had they so desired."

MAY NOT RECOVER.
[Canadian Press.] Woodstock, Aug. 12.—Wm. Dunster, jun., of Huron street, this city, lies in the General Hospital here with a revolver bullet in his head. The shooting occurred when Dunster was in the house alone for a few minutes. He said it was an accident. There are slight hopes of his recovery.

BIG DELEGATION OFF TO HAMILTON TODAY
Hamilton Old Boys Will Take Part in the Centennial Celebration.

A large deputation of Londoners left on the Ontario Limited for Hamilton this morning to attend the Centennial, which is being held in the Ambitious City all this week. Nearly all of those going from here were Hamilton Old Boys, and as this is London's day for celebrating in Hamilton, all were full against the revolving knives when he slipped as he was unscrewing an oil cap. His arm was almost cut off and the elbow terribly lacerated. Workmen hearing his cries at once stopped the machinery. Dr. Orme, of Lucan, dressed the wounds.

Mrs. Grace Beemer Expects Accittal
[Special to The Advertiser.] Woodstock, Aug. 12.—Removed from the local jail to Woodstock Hospital on Sunday, Mrs. Grace Beemer, who is waiting her trial next month on a charge of murdering her husband, Fred Beemer, of Blenheim Township, yesterday gave birth to a daughter, weighing eleven and a half pounds.

Mrs. Beemer has been occupying the woman's quarters in the local jail, and has had a nurse with her every night. She is said to be in good spirits and to have great hopes of acquittal. The other eight children of the Beemer family have been placed in foster homes by the Children's Aid Society.

American Consul Says Leaders Have All Been Captured.

[Canadian Press.] Washington, Aug. 12.—The uprising led by Cipriano Castro in Venezuela is officially reported by American Consul Voelter, at Caracas, as a failure. He confirms earlier reports that Gen. Torres and his officers, who headed the revolution in the eastern part of the country have been captured.

An Arm Crushed—William Clare, an employee of the London Bolt and Hinge Company, had his arm crushed in some machinery Monday afternoon. Dr. Dunn can attend him, and he was taken to Victoria Hospital. His recovery will be a matter of only a few days.

I. O. O. F. GRAND ENCAMPMENT IN SESSION AT BELLEVILLE
Oddfellows From All Canada Gathered for the Fifty-Ninth Annual Convention—R. H. Ketcheson Will Likely Be New Head.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Belleville, Aug. 12.—The 59th annual convention of the I. O. O. F. grand encampment opened here today. There are about 100 delegates to the grand encampment, about the same number to the Rebekah assembly, over 600 to the grand lodge, while several hundred Patriarchs Militant are camped in the armories.

The grand encampment met this morning, Bro. E. M. Clapp, of Toronto, presiding. The reports of the various officers showed a very healthy condition of this branch. Encampments had been established at Milton, Burlington, Toronto and North Bay, while some that had not been working for the past few years were reorganized at Owen Sound, Orillia, Bowmanville, Kincardine and Cornwall.

Eighty-One Encampments.
There are now 81 encampments in operation, with a membership of about 7,800; the net increase for the past year was 526. The receipts of the encampments were $24,195; the amount spent for relief, $6,500; funds invested, $32,000.

Very little work of importance was done at the session, the principal being the consideration and adoption of a new constitution for subordinates. The officers are to be elected this afternoon. It is expected that Mr. R. H. Ketcheson, of Belleville, will receive the principal office by acclamation.

WEDDING INTERRUPTED
BY ARRIVAL OF POLICE*Young Man Alleged to Have Given Girl's Age Falsely.

Port Hope, Aug. 11.—Saturday evening last preparations were in progress for a wedding at a residence in Margaret street. It developed today that Rev. A. H. Goring, pastor of the Methodist Church, who was to have performed the ceremony, was in the act of reading the license when a warrant for the arrest of the prospective bridegroom, William Henry Franklin Dixon, on a charge of perjury, in that he swore that the bride-elect, Kate Clara Saddler, daughter of George Saddler, of Peterboro, was 20 years of age, whereas she will only be 16 on the 17th of next month.

The girl's father attended an excursion to Niagara Falls and Dixon is alleged to have availed himself of the opportunity to coax her to come to Port Hope, where he has been living since January. He came here from Peterboro after the deposition of a charge against him of abducting the same girl. Dixon obtained the marriage license from Henry Reynolds, a local jeweler, by swearing that the girl was 20 years of age and he 28, although he appears to be over forty.

Dixon appeared in the police court this morning before J. W. Sanders and T. Long, Justices of the Peace, and was remanded until Wednesday.

INVESTIGATED BY
VISITING DOCTORS*Relic of 500,000 Years Ago

Discussion.*Professor Wm. Bateson Gave Splendid Paper on Heredity at Big Meeting.

London, Aug. 11.—The famous Piltown skull, recently discovered, and now reposing in South Kensington Museum, was the object of a pilgrimage today by the anatomical section of the International Medical Congress.

Some scientists assert that the skull was wrongly reconstructed, and a model has been made and arranged according to their ideas, giving a brain capacity larger than that of the ordinary man of the present century. Instead of the ape-like form originally attributed to it.

Most of the scientists agree that the skull represents the man of 500,000 years ago, although some contend that the skull dates back only 150,000 years. The question considered by the anatomists was whether the prehistoric man had the brain power of the man of today or was half man, half ape.

Discuss Heredity.
"Heredity" was the subject of a paper by Prof. Wm. Bateson, who was Silliman lecturer at Yale University in 1907, and formerly professor of biology at Cambridge University.

He thought that the blame for the increase of lunacy had been attributed to the excessive strain of the modern struggle for life and to the use of alcohol and drugs. No doubt, he argued, there was some justification for this assumption, but those acquainted with genetic physiology knew that the real cause of the spread of lunacy lay in the preservation of definite strains in their midst. Great Britain's new mental deficiency bill was a beginning of reform on the lines of heredity, said the lecturer, but he added:

Does Not Favor Violent Methods.
"It should be sorry to see adopted the violent methods put to use in some parts of the United States. It is one thing to check the reproduction of hopeless defectives, but another to organize wholesale tampering with the structure of the population, such as will follow if any marriage not regarded by officials as eugenic is liable to prohibition."

Alcoholism Blamed.
Dr. Benno Langer, of Wiesbaden, took the view that parental alcoholism was responsible for much of the degeneracy of children, and urged the need in all countries of the establishment of alcoholic refreshment institutions like those of the United States.

Dr. Fred B. Albee, of New York, in the Orthopedic section, regaled his colleagues with numerous records of the work done in transplantation as a cure for hunchback.

Quebec, Aug. 12.—Gasoline fumes escaping from the fuel tank of an auxiliary schooner killed three persons as they slept in their berths during a trip up the river from Mutton Bay, a settlement near Natashquan. It was learned here today. The dead are:

James Robbitt, Mutton Bay.
Mrs. James Robbitt.
Mrs. Charles Vigneau, Natashquan.

The information of the tragedy, which was conveyed to Quebec by a vessel arriving from the north shore of the St. Lawrence, is devoid of details. The schooner on which the three dead people were passengers was owned and commanded by one Mercer. Captain Mercer had bade good-night to his passengers Thursday evening. It was stated, when they appeared in the best of health. Sending to the cabin Friday morning to rouse them for breakfast, he found their corpses, death apparently having occurred at an early hour.

MARGOT HAL'S B. OF C. STAKE

Opening Races of Grand Circuit at Detroit Were Rather Tame.

Detroit, Aug. 11.—Racing at the opening of the Grand Circuit meet at the state fair grounds today was rather tame. The only real contest was in the Board of Commerce Stake for 2-year-olds, which went five heats before Margot Hal was returned a winner. Dillon Axworthy won the trotting division of the Matron Stake; Tillie Tipton the pacing division, and Lord Dewey the 2:15 trot, all in straight heats.

Dillon Axworthy was by far the best among the ten starters in the Matron trotting section. The pacing section with only three starters, was merely a procession from start to finish in both heats, the colts never changing their relative positions after the word was given.

It took Margot Hal some time to get going in the Board of Commerce Stake, but when she finally found her stride she made a show of her opposition. Delray, making his first start since the Buffalo meet, made a fine bid in the first heat of this event.

Tomorrow's program includes the Chamber of Commerce $5,000 stable for 2:13 pacers, a $3,000 purse for 2:15 trotters, and the 2:10 trot and 2:06 pace a $1,000 each.

Superintendent W. R. Davidson a short time ago issued strict orders calling for politeness to the travelling public from rowdy conduct on the depot platform, and since these have been in effect the actions of people who hang around the depot have undergone a great change.

cruiser to Mexican waters, the Washington Government was marking time on the Mexican situation today.

No Report Yet.
Special Representative Lind made no report as to what had occurred since his arrival at Mexico City, and it was learned that the President expects no detailed statement from him immediately. The Nashville was the cruiser today ordered to Mexican waters. She is to assist in the work of removing American refugees. Like the cruiser Tacoma, which was ordered to Mexico yesterday, the Nashville is to be used at ports where harbor facilities are not sufficient to permit of the entrance of the battleships now in Mexican waters.

Walking For Lind. Embattled President Kennedy today in official circles of the President's determination to wait upon former Governor Lind's report on Mexican communications before deciding upon any definite course of action in this Government. The President intends, however, that eventually suggestions shall be made by the United States to the Mexican President looking toward the establishment of peace in Mexico.

These communications will be transmitted through the American Charge d'Affaires in Mexico City. The time for communicating them and probably their specific character will be determined by developments in Mexico. The President has known what he has to decide. He has had definite ideas as to the time that will be required for Mr. Lind to complete his temperature of the water increased and ice is formed in winter time. The Coverd does not freeze to the bottom, and the head of the local health institute there fore insists that the Cove ice is free from bacteria," said bacteria hav- sought refuge on the bottom of the ponds, and therefore not having been included in the congealed water above them, water that is cut and stored for consumption in London as "ice."

According to the statement on the question, as compiled by Dr. Hill, the only possible source of bacteria con-lodgment in the ice sold in London. It is washed along the surface water having been washed along the top of the Coves after the ice had first formed there, thus preventing the bacteria in the surface water, from escaping to a warmer climate, farther down, below the surface. Be these statements as they may, strong opposition to the use of cove ice has developed, and there is considerable that action will be taken at today's meeting to attempt and secure another source of ice supply.

Another Phase.

Previous attempts of the board to do this are responsible for another phase of the ice question, also scheduled to come before the board today. It is only a few years ago that one the city ice dealers, on the advice an recommendation of the board of health decided to change his source of supply. Ponds Mills was selected by the board as the most advantageous spot, and the dealer repaired, spending several thousand dollars in equipping the plant there. After the building was erected and everything ready for the harvest it was found that gas emanated from the ice.

ling from decomposed vegetable matter in the pond gave forth unpleasant gaseous odors. The ice itself was pure but the odors caused the abandonment of the Pond Mills scheme. With the "assistance" from the board of health the said dealer has been content. Since that time he has ignored the board, and now some of the members declare that they will force him to take out a permit.

mit for supplying ice, something he has not yet done. The dealer declines to have anything further to do with the board of health regulations or rule and a merry little battle is anticipated in forcing him to take out a permit, such proceedings are attempted, as no seems likely.

Special Features For Western Fair

One of the special features which Secretary A. M. Hunt has secured for the grandstand attractions of the Western Fair is the Cora Youngblood Musical.

eleven lady cornet and trombone players said to be unexcelled anywhere in their class, will provide a high class musical program each afternoon and evening of the fair.

A troupe of Arabs, the Marions, actual performers; Freres De Hock, acrobats; Steiner's Comedy Circus

Danny Ryan's funny clowns, will take part in the grandstand attraction. The fireworks this year will include an elaborate representation of a threshing outfit in full blast.

For the Midway, fifteen clean, instructive and entertaining shows have been secured.

of the Government to Interfere in Case.

Half way between being an aftermath of its recent visit to Toronto to secure departmental investigation in the London Collegiate and a prelude to the private investigation that is to be, a committee of the board of education met Monday night. The object of the session was to adopt a formal report to be presented to the board of education at its next session, conveying to that body the statement of the Ontario Department of Education that it would not interfere in the M

No Other Course.
In view of the attitude taken by the department at Toronto there was no other course open to the committee and the meeting Monday night was simply for the purpose of adopting formal report as to the information given out. There was more significance to it, however, than the mere drafting of a report. It will be the forerunner of an investigation into the Collegio's fiasco on the part of the board itself.

The action of the department has shifted the onus of responsibility to the shoulders of the board members. It is now up to them. The board recognizes that with the principals efficiency being constantly attacked something will have to be done, a done quickly. Those present at night's meeting were Chairman E. Dennis and Drs. Shaw, Mugan and Teasdale.

Up to the Board.

"With two or three members of board constantly knocking him, principal would be unable to do good work, no matter if he was the qualified man in the country," said one of the trustees to The Advertiser. "It would be a physical impossibility for him to attempt to get the discipline out of the school for that reason. As he won't resign we have got to have an investigation."

"I don't see why we can't do it ourselves. All we have to do is to select a competent man who can go up and see if the charges that the principal time table of classes, etc., is faulty. We can look into the assertion that some of the teachers are overworked, and some of them underworked, and in his report we can either vindicate the principal, and so end the controversy, or we can find out once and for all whether he is inefficient. If he is inefficient, we can ask him for his resignation, and end the matter that way."

"In the Good Old Summer Time"

Mr. George S. Gibson, present in the interests of the company, and Mr. J. B. McKillop, crown attorney, represented the crown. After hearing the evidence the jury deliberated for some time, finally arriving at the above conclusion.

Joseph Coulter, foreman of the bakery, was the first witness called. He told the jury of starting from the first floor on the elevator on which were three men besides himself and Hewitt, also a load of empty cases. When nearing the bakeshop floor he tried to stop the elevator, and finding that he could not do so, he jumped off, calling to the other men as he did so, to step back and wait on the car until the next floor was reached, when they were to get off. After alighting from the car he took hold of the elevator cable, and tried to stop the car with an equalizer, which ran alongside the cables, and could not do so—and pulled with all his might, but could not move the cable. Just before the floor, Hewitt tried to get off the car feet first, and by throwing his arms around an arm which extended from one side of the car. Someone shouted to him, but he was unable to hear the floor of the car and the ceiling of the room in a sitting position, and the car jammed.

Dr. Balfour, who was called to attend the injured man, when he reached him, but his pulse was scarcely discernible. The result of his post-mortem examination was that he died of hemorrhage, due to ruptures of the liver and right lung. The injuries, in his opinion, were caused by the crushing of the body.

Factory Inspector's Report.

Mr. Harry Clark, factory inspector, gave evidence to the effect that the elevator, when examined by him three months ago, was in first-class condition, and was guarded as required by law, and that he had no objection to its use.

At this point the foreman of the jury asked that Coulter be recalled, and questioned as to whether he pushed the wrong cable, in the box the foreman gave a description of the cables and their locations, and said that after the accident he had the proper cable in his hand. When he stepped from the car he still had the cable in his hand, and he was the proper one.

Charles Fidler was one of the men on the car at the time of the accident. He corroborated the testimony of Coulter.

Nothing attracted his attention until Coulter attempted to stop the hoist on the third floor. This Coulter was unable to do, according to the witness, and the former then jumped on the floor and pulled the wrong cable, and the elevator reached the fourth floor, Hewitt stepped forward. Just then he got in position to dive, as the witness said, and fell to the bottom of the fourth floor, and instead of the bottom of the fourth floor, the elevator was on the floor of the bakeshop, and Hewitt was wedged between it and the floor.

Edgar Lane, a youth who was also on the elevator at the time of the accident, gave evidence similar to that of Coulter and Fidler, with the exception that he did not see the accident occur.

John Gardner was also on the elevator at the time of the accident, but owing to a number of cases that were on the car at the time, he could not see what was going on.

John Brooks was standing near his machine on the bakeshop floor. He saw the elevator coming up and noticed Mr. Coulter step on the floor, and the rope at the time, and after stepping onto the floor, he pulled on the rope in an endeavor to stop the car.

Next he noticed Hewitt walk to the edge of the elevator floor and slip his feet over the edge. The next instant he caught between the elevator floor and the ceiling. The witness and Coulter then ran down two floors, and it took the combined strength of the two of them to move the rope and let the car down a few feet to loosen Hewitt's body.

Albert Ashward was also on the bakeshop floor, and gave evidence similar to that of Brooks.

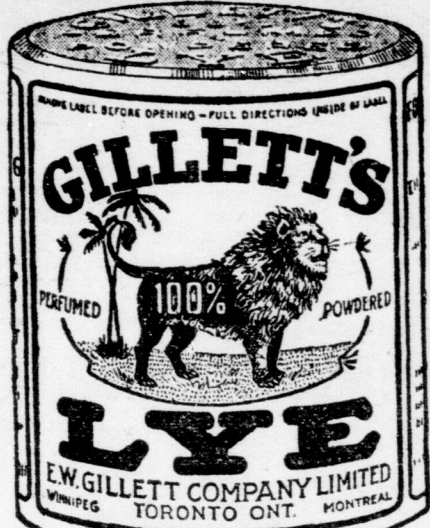

Superintendent Charles F. Benson said that the gear part of the elevator was inspected every day, and to his knowledge there was nothing the matter with it. After being notified of the accident he got on the elevator and rode to the fourth floor, and noting the matter with the car, which responded every time he attempted to stop or start it.

COULDN'T CONTROL THE ELEVATOR

Jury on Hewitt Inquest Decides as to Cause of Accident.

WANT EXPERT RUNNERS

Employees Give Evidence as to Fatal Crushing of Workman at McCormick's.

The jury find that George Hewitt came to his death on Friday night, the 8th inst., as the result of injuries sustained in an elevator accident on the premises of the McCormick Company. We are of the opinion that the inability of the foreman to control the elevator was the circumstance that contributed to Hewitt's death. All factory elevators in the judgment of this jury should be operated exclusively by competent and duly licensed operators.

Nine witnesses, including Factory Inspector Harry Clark and Superintendent Charles Benson of the McCormick Company, gave evidence at the coroner's inquest held Monday night in the police station to inquire into the death of George Hewitt, the young Englishman, who was fatally crushed between an elevator and the ceiling of the fourth floor of the McCormick building last Friday night.

Mr. George S. Gibson, present in the interests of the company, and Mr. J. B. McKillop, crown attorney, represented the crown. After hearing the evidence the jury deliberated for some time, finally arriving at the above conclusion.

BOWELS BAD, LIVER TORPID? CASCARETS

Constipated, Bilious, Head-achy, Stomach Sour, Take a Cascaret

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.
