The lowering skies and rain of today have proved a tremendous disappoints is convenor of the reception committee, ment to thousands of members of the Orange Order in the city and surrounding district who for weeks have been anticipating the doings of the "Glorious Twelfth" in London.

One of the busiest men in town for days has been Secretary W. J. Hodgins who mournfully remarked this forenoon as he watched the rain beginning to sprinkle, "If it had been the usual o'clock along King street from Taibot. noon as he watched the rain beginning to sprinkle, "if it had been the usual fine Twelfth of July weather, we would have had at least 5,000 people in the parade. Another Disappointment.

There was another big disappointment in connection with the rain. For weeks, loyal Orangemen of the district (and perhaps more especially the "True Blue") ladies) have been looking forward to reaping a rich harvest on Saturday, the Twelfth, from the tag day to be held on behalf of the orphanage to be erected for the children of soldier members of the order who gave their lives in the war.

Bright and early the "True Blue" ladies were out with their boxes and tags, appealing for the orphanage. If the rain didn't dampen their enthus iasm, it was a difficult matter to self anything to people on the street, caught out without umbrellas.

Notwithstanding the showers, however, the bands and members of the reception committee valiantly met all incoming trains, the cheery strains of fife and drum and brass instruments extending a heartening welcome. Visiting Orange contingents were escorted to toolets, and every possible arrangement.

New York Player Is Going Strong—Cobb Takes Slump.

Chicago, July 12.-Roger Peckinpaugh, New York, who hit safely in 29 consecutive games, including last Wednesday's contest, continues to lead the regulars in batting in the American League, his mark, .382, remaining unchanged from last week, according to the averages released today. Tyrus Cobb, who returned to the game after more than two weeks' absence from the Tiger line-up, has not recovered his batting eye, and has dropped from second to fifth place. On the other hand Joe Jackson, the slugging outfielder of the White Sox, has struck his stride and has climbed from seventh to second London's sewage disposal plant is inadequate. according to J. H. Saunders, chairman of the board of health, and other men, who have made investigations. All the sewage of the city cannot be treated, and, as a result, much of it goes into the river in a raw state.

This year will see no relief, it was stated, but possibly the work will be commenced early next year. Chairman Saunders declared that the sewage beds are very full even in the dry season, and it was feared by him that a flood might result in the sewage backing into the city's cellars.

Much of the piping will have to be relaid, as some of it is not of as large a diameter as it should be.

COUNCIL HAS DISCUSSION.
Paris, Thursday, July 10.—The allied supreme council received today Major-Gen. Sir H. E. Watts of England, Gen. Naulin of France. Gen. Diroblant of Italy, and Major-Gen. Chas. P. Summerall of the United States, forming the dents at Fiume. The commission to investigate recent incidents at Fiume. The commission to investigate recent incidents at Fiume, the sat Fiume. The commission to investigate recent incidents at Fiume, and Hungarian frontiers and concluded its meeting with a discussion of the aerial convention.

This, it will be recalled, was drafted by an inter-alled commission formed to study laws of aerial navigation, but certain delegations, notably the American and Japanese, needed supplementary instructions from their governments.

The council decided to adjourn further discussion of the convention.

MEREDITH HAS MADE $40,000 IN PROBES SINCE YEAR 1905

Dewart's Interesting Commentary on "Professional Commissioner."

WESTON, July 11.—H. H. Dewart, Liberal leader of Ontario, speaking here today aroused the enthusiasm of the audience when he showed what the "confessional commissioner," as he rofessional commissioner," as he med Sir Wm. Meredith, had received or making various investigations from both the Dominion and Ontario Governments. The records showed that since 1905 Sir William had been paid $38,800 by the two governments, and Mr. Dewart estimated that the amount would go over the $40,000 mark when the salary for investigating the administration of the O. T. A., and as a member of the police commission was paid. In addition, Sir William Meredith received a salary of $9,000 a year.

The speaker quoted a resolution, moved by Sir William Meredith when a member of the Opposition in 1889, in which he expressed the opinion that the appointment of police commissioners should be made by a "body more removed from the influence of partizanship and more directly responsible to and under the control of the people." That was another reason, Mr. Dewart said, why the chief justice should rot have conducted the recent probe.

Engineers and others who work hot shops, and pass into the cold a scantily clothed, are also very sus ceptible to liver and kidney trouble. In Bright's disease, the kidney ncreased or reduced in size and agorged with blood, or is white or nottled. It is almost sure to prove fatal if the proper remedies are not administered in time.

The welfare of the whole system depends on the proper action of the liver and kidneys. These organs are vital. They cleanse the system and keep it in prime working condition. If not cared for they permit the body to be poisoned and ill-health results.

To keep your liver and kidneys in perfect working condition, you should take Dr. Clement's Juniper Pills regularly. They are Nature's own remedy for liver and kidney troubles. They enable the kidneys to throw off all poisonous substances, such as lead, which otherwise would produce serious results They cure rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, gout and all diseases of the liver, kidneys and stomach.

Don't Overload Stomach. A few sound stomachs pass the food along at once; that is to say, a good stomach empties itself into the intestines in ten minutes or an hour. How-ever, this is not so generally. An ab-normally protracted course of digestion is a more common occurrence. Your stomach is perhaps one of those which does not empty itself between meals, and it never gets a chance for a good rest. That is not enough to ward off dilation. Indeed, if you are the least bit sluggish in intestinal movements the dilation of the stomach will occur and this means a tendency of the stomach to this means a tendency of the stomach to make more hydrochloric acid and other juices than is good for you.

Obviously, the treatment is to avoid overloading the stomach. Effervescent soda waters and other alkaline drinks help the victim of such disorders, but partial facts and rest for the weary controls are demanded. The gastric apparatus are demanded. The intervals between meals must be made much longer than usual.

Nine Hours Between. You should try to recline an hour before each meal to give the stomach a chance to empty itself completely. The

Citizens Should Have Say in New Postoffice Plans

A valued correspondent suggests that citizens should have something to say about the style of building to be given London as a new postoffice and federal building. In Liverpool, for example a national competition was held, and the result was St. George's Hall, which our friend calls "the beyond the allotted "three score and ten" revive most perfect adaptation of Grecian architecture in the old problem of the fountain of youth. Men the world."

The young genius who furnished the plans was, up to then, a nobody among architects. He died shortly after, and was said to have worked himself to death in the competition. But his life was consecrated to an ideal and given to the accomplishment of a worthy achievement.

How much better this idea of inspiring the best brains of the whole country than giving the work to Government favorites? We have heard much of the architecture of the new parliament buildings, which was let directly by Hon. Robert Rogers to a firm of architects. And should not all plans be submitted to the cities concerned, not for shredding by amateurs, but for consideration by a committee of citizens who have some ideas on architecture, and who, with the rest of the population, have to live with the building?

Bitter Attacks On Dewart Show Fear of Opponents

The Conservative press is making desperate attacks on Hartley Dewart, M.P.P., leader of the Ontario Opposition. Leaving any constructive acts in the interest of the province out of the question, the Toronto Times indulges in a bitter tirade upon Mr. Dewart because he supported Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the last Dominion election. It calls him an enemy of the country because he did not regard conscription under Borden administration as the proper method of bringing the people of Canada together for united effort, and was courageous enough to state his views from the public

In the face of his staunch Liberalism, Mr. Dewart was elected in a solid Conservative constituency, turning over a majority of 4,000, and adding a margin of safety to the extent of 600 votes. This by-election in 1916 was one of the first lost by the Legislature. Since that time, Dewart has represented his Toronto constituency three score and ten to four score and ten and make at Queen's Park. So far as we are aware, not a the sunset of life a new awakening, a source of single petition against his remaining in office has been circulated in Toronto, and this in the face of what the Times would term his "disloyalty." In the opinion of the Times that subject is truly disloyal who does not submit himself to the crucifying processes of the Toronto Tory machine. No man has done more, or is a greater menace to the solidarity of that sinister organization whereby Ontario's chief city is the creature of ward politicians who can claim rank with Tammany than Mr. Dewart. It is his strength in the citadel of reactionary government that alarms the Con- for his quaking and throneless brother.

And aside from this, it appears that Mr. Dewart, who is no whited sepulchre, is apt to at- ment to get in touch with his constituents and tract the sinners' vote. All the self-anointed give them an account of his stewardship. Holy Willies in the country are against Mr. Dewart because they are told that they should be against him. He believes that the temperance issue should be decided by the people, and declares for honest and rigid enforcement of the law. He would not appoint Mr. Ayearst to administer the law, but he would get someone who was not acting as "banker" for private detectives. Mr. Dewart's faults will be known to the public at any rate. He will not declare that he is a more righteous man than his neighbor, but, if he is the man his close friends say he is, he will be for a clear-cut decision on every question by means of people will be the voice of God.

Liberalism in Ontario will do well to regard dropping out? these constant attacks upon Mr. Dewart in their proper colors. It is because Hartley Dewart threatens the smug self-sufficiency and starchamber methods of the present Government that he is so often and so bitterly assailed.

Why Bait These Old Men?

It is about time someone stepped in to put a stop to the practice indulged in by callow youths, passing drivers and others of baiting the lieved it to exist, but, "according to the provincial poor old men whose duty it is to perform humble service as street cleaners.

There are several of these cleaners in the city whose peculiarities or physical infirmities appear to make them the butt of practical jokes of many kinds. Men in motor cars seem to find it a pretty sport to swoop down upon these old men, sound- in the magazines. We have never heard of a course ing their horns loudly and "making the old guy in municipal work, yet there are scores of such jump." Indeed, the "old guy" has to jump to positions to be filled. Surely people as a whole should have some consideration for these men. Their work is poor enough at best; it is hard work. It is necessary work, and they should not be hampered. In fact, every motorist should go out of his way to save them not only from danger, but from unnecessary effort. It may be a callous, unthinking age, but the man who inflicts a cruelty upon such as these is the same kind of man who would strike down a child without much feeling. It is a cowardly thing, and while it may have had its origin in the name of good-natured banter, it has come to be too barbaric a sport to carry further.

Let the old men alone! Give them a helping hand if that is possible, and if you persist in pestering them, here's hoping that a vision of yourself, bent and aged, worn and footsore, pushing a scraper over the filth of a city pavement, may come to you some night in a dream.

The Fountain of Youth

[New York Herald.]

Recent announcements of the birthday anniversaries of prominent citizens who have passed and women will, in the very nature of things, grow old; but why should old age be accompanied with disease and decay, pessimism and pain?

The love of living is the most profound instinct of mankind. We cling to life most desperately. Why should not this natural desire be the companion of joy and happiness to the last? Men have searched the world over for the traditional elixir of youth, either to lose their lives in the search or to turn back with the realization that it is to be found only in human hearts and souls.

What are the keys to a happy and prolonged life? Where are the springs of eternal youth? young life had been spent overseas, stayed you would like it again?"

The spotlight of fashion is on the evening wrap. This picturesque garment may be brocade, thin as the gauze of a fairy's wing, woven with metal designs of silver or gold or bronze, or it may be chiffon velvet that falls with the exquisite grace that velvet alone commands.

Jewel Clasps.

Jewel Clasps.

Jewel clasps, either genuine antique or reproductions, are used with charming effect on these capes. Many of these clasps are reproductions of those found on sacerdotal garments worn by high ecclesiastics of the Middle Ages. Another attractive closing is the fashion of tying the cape with great strands of beads that end in jewel tassels.

After everything has been said for the wonderful colors, the most beautiful evening cape is developed from ful evening cape is developed from ivory white chiffon velvet. It is draptd in lines that would invite the brush of any artist. The swirl of the velvet manages to form voluminous sleeves from which emerges a line of black. When the cape is open this line of black is found to the cape. When the cape is open this line of black is found to be one of a series of broad charmeuse stripes that border the lining of white crepe charmeuse. These black stripes are several inches wide, and appear only around the lower edge of the cape and in the sleeve opening. The piece de resistance of this wonderful wrap is found in the collar, which is made of white and black fox. The white skin makes one long, lovely curve, and the black the other. An attractive bronze cape is shown with a draped border and collar of Kolinsky. The lovely markings of this fur blend beautifully with the background of bronze chiffon, on which is brocaded a design of gold flowers.

A Butterfly Model.

The deep collar of Kolinsky is extremely becoming, and the very unusual shape of the border gives further opportunity to display this beautiful fur. This cape is draped upwards toward the front. Two strands of tarnished gold beads are attached to the inner side of the deep collar, and may be tied one over the other when the cape is thrown backwards and worn be tied one over the other when the cape is thrown backwards and worn with the collar open.

A delicately different cape is a butterfly model of black taffem. This drapery is manipulated to look like the outspread wings of a gorgeous butterfly. The bits of glorious color are furnished by flewers in vivid shades of rose, blue and green. The model has this design embroidered in colored beads, but a figured taffeta scattered with vivid flowers would charmingly develop this butterfly cape, whose upstanding collar is white fox. The charm of this model lies both in the grace of its line and in the loveliness of its coloring.

Tarnished Gold Chain.

This cape carries an interesting chain of tarnished gold set with imitation jade and cat's eyes makes a sympathetic bit of color against the bronze background, and the jade green is especially effective when contrasted with bronze. This cape may also be developed in four shades of orchid, runnning from pale pinkish lavender in the top ruffle through the slightly darker tones to a blue violet in the under drapery. Capes of dark wool fabrics will be more popular than ever for fall wear. Street capes of wool-back satin in black, navy and bronze are being ordered by many smart women for early fall wear, while the heavier wool velours and duvetynes will find ways of draping themselves in new lines this fall.

I think it is too bad to jump on every man that dares show his nose in the Mail-Box the way some of the Pageites do. Even O. L. has stopped writing because someone told him he didn't know anything about hats. Just because he told the truth and stepped on their corns! We all know there is too much spent on hats. Why, I know workingmen's wives who get two or three hats a year and none costs less than $6 and $8, and that is a low estimate. lead was cut down to one run by virtue across with a pretty bunt. Command's foul, which Nichols got under, ended of two Flint scores in the six inning, but Johnny Schmidt traveled along without further danger until he had only one more man to get, and Flint's Command chances looked as robust as a man lost in a desert. But Centre Fielder Orme spilled the applecart by tripling to deep right, and "Dutch" Wetzel duplicated the trick with a three-cushion drive over Command's head, Orme bringing in the run that tied the score.

Command's wonderful catch of Wetzel's long drive in the fifth, and Mitchell's catch of Orme's fly in the chell's catch of Orme's fly in the seventh were the choice of the fielding features. Carpentier. French heavyweight champion, is planning to tour America the first four months of 1920. While in this country it is understood that the Frenchman will be signed up with Jack Dempsey, Mike O'Dowd and probably Mike Gibbons.

The bout will be Herman's first long-distance battle since winning the title from Kid Williams on a decision in 20 rounds at New Orleans two years ago. Though Puryear is an excellent battler, it is not believed that he is now the equal to the champion.

BY BRETT PAGE.

New York, July 11.—That intangible thing, the new season, has begun beyond the peradventure of a doubt. It struggled into being one swelteringly warm evening at William A. Brady's playhouse. The title of this primal adventurer is "At 9:45."

Written by that playwright of many thrilling efforts, Owen Davis, this newest offering is a worthy successor of many of his own and other writers' dreams. It is a thrilling, guess-whoshot-him story, that begins with a woman struggling at the door of the family library, begging her companions to break in, for she has heard a shot, and is convinced that the heir to the family has been murdered. They enter, search for him, fail to find him, open a closet door, and his still breathing body falls out upon them. Then begins at the search for the assassin.

this dainty little miss will be heard in a closet door, and his still breathing program of delightful song numbers.

A comedy film, the Grand screen magazine, and special music by the magazine, and special music by the search for the assassin.

Should you have the opportunity to see this play you will understand why this is so.

Those who do their best to make this play very real at times are Marie Goff, as the heroine, John Cromwell, Frank as the heroine, John Cromwell, Frank Hatch, Noel Tearle, Elise Bartlett, John Harrington, George Backus and Idalene Cotton. They contrive to heighten some instants of tense expectation in this novel play. "At 9:45" assuredly is a drama of suspense. Another extension of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation activities is agitating Broadway. This organization, whose notable plans have been the subject of more than one announcement and accompanying comment in this column, have now bought control of Charles Frohman, Inc. Thus "the child of the drama," "the industry that is still in its infancy," as its ardent admirers like to call the motion picture business-art, has grown so big that it's now "supporting" father.

This is but one—although by far the most important—of the extension of motion picture activities prophested in this space last week. It is the struggle of the motion pictures to extend its story field, to take to itself those speaking stage stories of today and to-morrow, and to open up the vast res-ervoir of the past. By its move the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation has tapped the Charles Fronman well-spring. But at the same time it has

The speaking stage, represented by no less an active and engaging personage than A. H. Woods, has done some "speaking" for story reservoirs. Mr. Woods has cornered the hitherto untapped reservoir of the Yiddish drama.

It is declared that Mr. Woods paid an interestingly large sum for the rights to plays heretofore seen and heard only in Yiddish theatres. The number of these plays is said to run into several hundred. Perhaps some

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July-the month of oppressive heat; red-hot days and sweltering nights, is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they come on sud-denly to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come suddenly will banish it. Probably the most important disclosure was the fact that a manufacturing company has offered to install. disclosure was the fact that a manufacturing company has offered to install a 60-ton plant in this city, in which it is claimed ice can be manufactured at from 80 to 90 cents per ton. St. Thomas citizens are at the present time paying as a retail price for artificial ice no less than $18 and $20 per ton. This ice is sold wholesale at the local packing company for $4 per ton. The trades and labor council indorsed the proposition suggested by some citizens a week or so ago of forming a civic ice and cold storage plant. The members also decided to take action with regard to the gas question. Just what steps will be taken is not as yet known, but it is understood that they will demand definite action on the part of the city council in the investigation that is to be made in formed tonight that the inquiry which was to have been held this week has been postponed until about the middle of the month, owing to unexpected developments.

"Today, on the first occasion I have had the opportunity since my appoint ment as leader to discuss provincial issues. I propose to refer to the attitude of the Liberal party to the convention, to my own record and legislative stewardship during the time I have sat in the House, upon this question, and to some phases of the recents.

have the issues of the referendum vote been taken out of party politics, but they must be kept out.

Government Trying Tricks.

"There must be no mixing of the vote upon the referendum with the vote upon a general election in this province. There are veidence that the Government still proposes to make a party football of this question, but this cannot and will not be tolerated.

"In the amendment to the Ontario election act brought in last session I opposed a clause which expressly provided for the taking of the double vote upon the same day. This clause was as follows: 'If the day fixed for taking the vote upon such question is the same day as that upon which polling takes place at the election of a member to serve in the assembly or at the election of members of a municipal council, the polls for voting upon such question may be held in the same places and by the same officers, and at the same time as the polls at the election as the case may be."

"'After insistent objection this clause was struck out. But it may be said that there is still the right to take both votes upon the same day, even though there is no such express legislation as was proposed, but I contend that when the Government dropped this clause for the bill under consideration, it is in honor bound to see that the voting does not take place upon the same day and to keep distinct in their submission to the people the separate gree of LL.B. OWEN SOUND, July 11.-Ex-President W. H. Taft of the United States is to visit Owen Sound, according to arrangements which have just been completed by President Patterson of the local board of trade. The visit is to take place next February, and while here he will give a lecture on one of the world topics of the day. Arrangements are being made to give him big reception while in Owen Sound. The distinguished statesman has been secured to lecture on twelve days only in Canada, and Owen Sound is fortunate in securing one of them. The hoard of trade had to give a heavy guarantee to secure booking on that date, but the seats will be sold at as low a figure as possible, as the boar of trade states that it is not tryli to make money out of the propositio
