GENTLEMAN'S MAGAZINE, complete, from its commencement in 1731 to December, 1817, with Index up to 1786, many hundred portraits and other engravings of old English and parochial and national antiquities, bound in 97 vols, half calf, 37.50. 401

A most valuable book of reference for all subjects appertaining to local history, historical events, literature, biography, family history, American affairs: full list of births, marriages, and deaths for upwards of eighty years. Mr. Allibone, in writing of CAVE, the founder, well says, "It should be in the library of every student of English literature and political history." And we may add that Cave, was, perhaps, the most enterprising and fearless newspaper originator of his time. He it was who broke through the cast iron rule and defied the Commons in reporting Parliamentary news, and in the number for June, 1738, we have Gulliver's account of the famous empire of Great Lilliput, meaning by this the English Parliament. The Commons after this not interfering with his publication of the so-called Lilliput debates. DR. JOHNSON was part editor, and in the commencement of his literary career, drew his chief means of support from his contributions to the "Gentleman's Magazine." In 1778, JOHN NICHOLS obtained a share in the magazine, and rendered it more valuable than at any period of its former history. EDMUND BURKE entitled it one of the most chaste and instructive miscellanies of the age—an opinion corroborated by DR. WARTON and EDWARD GIBBON, the latter of whom urged Nichols to make a selection for future reference from its overflowing pages. RICHARD GOUGH was for many years a constant contributor.

The Boke of Saint Albans, By DAME JULIANA

Berners, containing Treatises on HAWKING, HUNTING and COKE ARMOUR, printed at Saint Albans by the Schoolmaster-printer in 1486, reproduced in facsimile with an introduction by

WILLIAM BLADES, author of "The Life and Typography of William Caxton." A treatyse of Fysshynge wyth an Angle, by DAME JULIANA BERNERS, being a Facsimile Reproduction of the First Book on the Subject of Fishing, printed in England by WYNKYN DE WORDE at Westminster in 1496, with an Introduction by Rev. M. G. Watkins, M.A., with woodcuts of ancient fishing tackle, both works printed with fine old Black Letter, are LARGE PAPER COPIES and bound in stout vellum boards, 4to, 12.50, London, 1880-1881. 461

THIS FIRST TREATISE ON FISHING PRINTED IN ENGLAND must ever have a great interest for the bibliophile and for the follower of the "gentle art." "The Treatyse of Fysshynge wyth an Angle," which claims this position, has ever been cherished by both as of surpassing value for its rarity, as well as for its intrinsic interest. The work has also a peculiar interest as being the quarry from which so many subsequent writers on fishing have drawn riches which they have adapted to their own use, and that frequently without acknowledgment; while even Isaac Walton himself has not only drawn much of his inspiration from its perusal, but has clearly taken his "Jury of flies" and other information almost intact from its pages. Such gentle spirits too as Herbert Donne, Walton, Paley and Bell, have without doubt read and caught enthusiasm from the lofty sentiments of the noble authoress of "The Treatyse." Its poetic language, its appreciation of all the gentle surroundings of the angler's life, and its sense of the beautiful in nature, have contributed to the innocent pleasure of those who have read it in earlier and later times. The modern angler will be amused by the circumstantial directions it gives in quaint language as to the dyeing and making of lines, and the six methods of angling and playing fish, and may find useful hints in the common sense instructions about the weather, the seasons of the year, and the different baits to be used for different fish, while he will read with wonder the directions concerning the construction of the rod, the making of paste, and the keeping of live baits. The "Treatyse of Fysshynge," by Dame Juliana Berners was first printed by Wynkyn de Worde in the second edition of the "Book of St. Albans," in 1496; and the motive for so publishing the work is thus given by the authoress in the concluding paragraph,—"By cause that this present treatyse sholde not come to the hondys of eche ydle persone whyche woulde desire it yf it were enprynted alone by itself put in a lityll plaunflet, therefore I hauz complyd it in a greter volume of dyuerse bokys concernynge to gentyll persones whyche sholde haue but lityll measure in the sayd dysporte of fysshynge sholde not by this meane vtterly dystroye it."
