CHARTER APPLIED FOR GAS COMPANY MERGER

Capitalization Will Be $15,000,000, and Western Ontario Will Be Scene of Operation—Provincial Directors Are Brantfordites.

As announced in these columns several weeks ago, a huge gas company merger is being formed by the Liberty interests of New York. Particulars are given in the application for the charter made at Toronto this week. A despatch to-day says: A huge gas concern for Western Ontario is in course of establishment. All the necessary details of its incorporation are included in today's Ontario Gazette. The name of the enterprise is to be the Southern Ontario Gas Company, Limited, and the capitalization will be $15,000,000. Practically all forms of gas manufacturing are provided for, with a view to extensive exploitation of by-products as well as natural and artificial gas. Cover Western Ontario. A large part of Western Ontario, including Essex, Kent, Middlesex, Elgin, Brant, Wentworth, Lambton, Norfolk, Waterloo and Wellington will provide a market, and arrangements are made for prospecting and refining of all the gas and petroleum obtainable. Restrictions placed on the new company are the ordinary ones applying to municipal rights, but power is given to maintain and operate lines for the distribution of oil and gas to consumers in any part of the district mentioned. The capitalization is arranged by the division of the stock into 150,000 shares of $100 each. The head office will be in Hamilton. The provincial directors are drawn from Brantford. The head office is to be at Brantford and the provincial directors are James Harley, Edmund Sweet, A. M. Harley, O. M. Hall and J. Graham.

ANOTHER COMPANY IS LAUNCHED HERE

The Courier is informed that Mr. Charles Brown and others have secured an option on the entire premises formerly occupied by the Farmers Binder Twine Company. It is expected that an organization is now being effected for the manufacture of presses and other machinery on a big scale. A company has been formed and stock has already been raised with considerable success. The new industry promises employment to a considerable number of hands.

HALF HOLIDAY IS IN DOUBT

Grocers, Butchers and Barbers Will Close Shop However.

There is said to be some doubt as to there being a general half-holiday on Wednesday in Brantford this summer, although the clerks are making a stronger demand than ever for the usual half-day per week for relaxation. The note in the Courier last evening referred to the grocery clerks, with the butchers being likely to start the half-holiday in May this year. The barbers will also close shop as usual, but on the front streets there is some difference of opinion. Some contend that there is absolutely no loss or inconvenience while others who oppose the half-holiday declare that there is such. Quite a number of stores will close up entirely, or at least with greatly reduced staffs, on Wednesday afternoon next, although there may be a general closing during the summer.

Old Timers

Hughes and Howie Have Great Collection of Pictures.

Hughes and Howie have a number of old time lacrosse groups in their window. One of them shows the team of 1883, and when the writer remembers that he used to report the doings of that same team, it is thought to make him realize that he is getting into the Methuselah class. Dick Orchard is in the centre of the picture—dear old Dick, who, as a field captain, used to follow up the players with steam engine velocity, and whose beatific smile when one of his boys notched a goal, was a treat to see. Dick, who also used to keep a tailoring store on Colborne street, passed to the great beyond many years ago. Others in the group are Tom Green, (Indian), now a government engineer. L. Brady, the present proprietor of the Norfolk House, Sumner, Dr. Sager, F. Westbrooke, H. Heath and H. Oldham, who still live here. Virgil Lee, now in Chicago, "Shirley" McGuire, now of Orillia, Johnny Fax, residing in Chicago and E. Forde, H. McGlashan, A. Angus, the last three dead. The team flourished in the days when all stores used to close in order to witness any match between them and Paris.

Go to Hamilton.

The Brantford Canton, I.O.O.F., will attend divine service in the Hamilton Canton to-morrow in the Ambitious City. The locals will leave by special car at 1.30.

LOFT BUILDING TO BE ERECTED

Land is Purchased on Emily Street and Work Will Be Rushed.

Announcement was made to-day by Industrial Commissioner Emerson of the purchase by the Greater Brantford board of a site on Emily street for the new loft building for the encouragement of infant industries. The land will provide room for a loft building, also a small factory. The building itself will be three stories, and will have 30,000 feet floor space on each floor. Plans for the building are about completed and work on the same will be undertaken this summer. The site of the new building will be near the Gospel Tabernacle on the north side of the street.

BUTCHERS GO TO HAMILTON

Brantford Prices Not as High as in Ambitious City.

It may seem strange, but it is true, that wholesale butchers who live west of Brantford, some as far as Paris, are going right through this city to Hamilton to attend market with their produce. This week several big loads of meat from this district went to Hamilton. The butchers state that they are able to get in some instances two cents a pound better price, and that the long trip is comparatively a minor consideration, as they have all day to spend anyway.

A Suit

Is Entered by Rural Dean Wright Against C.P.R. for $25,000.

The many friends of Rev. Rural Dean Wright of St. Jude's Church will be pleased to hear that after many months illness, his condition now shows improvement. It will be remembered that the reverend gentleman was on his way from Toronto to Fort William on a C. P. R. train when in passing from one car to another there was a sudden lurch of the coach and the door slammed violently against him, inflicting severe wounds to his head and side. He was taken to an adjacent hospital and afterwards suffered from hemorrhage. Later other complications ensued. It is rumored that steps have been taken for an action against the Company with damages placed at $25,000.

AUSTRIA'S WARLIKE MOVE AGAINST MONTENEGRO.

RULERS WHO HAVE DISTURBED EUROPE AND SCENE OF THREATENED CONFLICT. The above diagram shows the situation in regard to Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, and King Nicholas, of Montenegro. Austria's decision to move against Montenegro without the aid of the Powers if King Nicholas does not give up Scutari has caused much speculation. Austria's policy concerning this is regarded by the people of the dual monarchy as one which will bring on a desperate and long fought conflict.

THE FLUTTERING YELLOW OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE ON PARADE IN NEW YORK

Streets Were Astir Bright and Early—Swinging to the Music of Forty Bands, There Will be a Grand Spectacle at 2 O'clock this Afternoon—All Walks of Life to be Represented.

[Canadian Press Despatch] NEW YORK, May 3.—The streets of New York were astir to-day with the fluttering yellow of woman suffrage. Bedecked in this color, hundreds of women from all over the country poured into the city to-day to reinforce many thousands more pledged to march up Fifth Avenue this afternoon in probably the biggest parade ever held for the cause of "Votes for Women." The muster roll indicated an army of thirty thousand strong, augmented by two thousand male sympathizers, brave enough to dare the taunts of unbelievers and the "antis." Perfect weather conditions inspired the marchers. While platoons of police began to take positions along Fifth Avenue to protect the parade from possible disorderly demonstrations, the marchers, recruited from every walk of life, began to gather this forenoon in Washington Square and nearby cross streets. They were due to swing into New York's famous thoroughfare of wealth and fashion at 2 o'clock, and to the music of forty bands march five abreast to the Plaza at Fifty-ninth street and Fifth Avenue. Upon disbandment at that point the program called for two mass meetings, one to be held in the Plaza, another at Carnegie Hall, near by, at which prominent speakers, including Dean Sumner of Chicago, were to make addresses. In front of the great New York public library at Forty-second street and Fifth Avenue a reviewing stand had been erected, from which city officials and other persons of prominence might review the parade. Leaders of the cause were highly elated at the success of last night's demonstration, attended by several thousand persons, men and women both, held in the Metropolitan Opera House. A brilliant pageant tableau, portraying woman's "dream of freedom," was a feature of the demonstration. Theodore Roosevelt, appealing to the East, and especially to New York State, to grant votes for women, and holding that it is woman's right to be represented on the floor of the state's coming constitutional convention, was the principal speaker. The parades of the Women's Suffrage party turned out wearing yellow George Washington straw hats, adorned with yellow rosettes, and every man and woman in the parade carried a yellow suffrage flag. The men's division mustered behind Otiswald Garrison Willard and Mrs. Beatrice Forbes Robertson Hale on horseback, and a cavalcade of other prominent men and women in couples. Conspicuous in the line-up was a little group of pilgrims commanded by "General" Rosalie Jones, famous for their cross-country marches to Albany and Washington. They were dressed in their pilgrim cloaks and hoods and their battered walking boots. Indians, cow girls and a prairie schooner were other features which attracted attention.

MISS WEINAUGH SELLS PROPERTY

Makes a Very Important Deal in Toronto City.

One of the largest deals for some weeks on Spadina avenue, Toronto, was closed yesterday. J. A. Cherry, acting for a syndicate, purchasing nine stores, 318 to 338 inclusive, from Miss Annie Weinaugh, Brantford, at $200,000, Tamer and Gates, conducted the negotiations. The property, which is a half block north of St. Patrick street, has a frontage of 157 feet by a depth of 100 feet, and the stores all well rented and returning good revenues, are three stories, solid brick. The property is in the zone of influence of the cross-town street car line that it now appears will be running this year. Spadina avenue now deserves the term of "textile street" of Toronto, there being located on it many of the high-class hosiery, mantles and clothing manufacturers of the city. The new buildings, all substantial looking, give Spadina avenue a decided air of prosperity.

Too Much

Architects Will Not Recommend Stone for Post Office.

After consultation the architects at Ottawa have decided that they cannot recommend the Canadian red stone for Brantford's new public building, because the cost would cause the estimates on the structure to be exceeded by many thousands of dollars. The stone which will be used is the Berea, from Ohio. It is grey in color and is said to be an attractive stone.

The Pope

Is Making Rapid Progress Towards Recovery.

[Toronto News Service] ROME, May 3.—Pope Pius X continues to progress in the recovery of his health. Every day he descends to his library and devotes several hours to work. It is learned that one of the first acts after he became convalescent, was to appoint Dr. Andrea Amici, his own private physician. Although Dr. Amici is not the official Vatican physician, he shared with Professor Ettore Marchiafava, the responsibilities of caring for the Pontiff during his recent illness. His Holiness expressed the warmest desire to-day to receive Cardinal Ferrata, who has just returned from Malta, and to hear from him everything concerning the Eucharistic Congress, which has just been held there.

REAL SHAKE-UP IS ORDERED

Civic Affairs Too Loose—Mr. Ungar's New Job.

The whole municipal system will be re-organized and each department will be put on a more business-like basis, said a member of the city council this morning. There are too many bosses, the city father stated, and there is far too much waste of time and material in connection with the carrying of the city's business. Continuing, he said the city's affairs are run on too much of a slipshod manner, and there will be a check put on the same in the very near future. The sewer department has been put under the supervision of Frederick Ungar, and he will in future be held responsible for the tearing up of the streets and putting them back in good condition after any excavating has been done. Each department should be run like a stock room in one of the large manufacturing establishments. No person should be given a bolt or a nut or anything else without an order from the proper authorities. This dictum will be carried out in future, said the Courier informant.

Plans Not Ready

The Public Library Building Committee met yesterday afternoon at the library to look over the plans for the new extension. Owing to the plans not being completed, nothing was done.

GREENWICH MUSEUM IS CLOSED TO THE PUBLIC

The Fear of the Suffragette Outrage Given as Explanation—Mrs. Pankhurst in the Hospital—Might Have Escaped in an Aeroplane.

LONDON, May 3.—Following the closing of Windsor Castle and Hampton Court to the public the authorities have now closed the Naval Museum at Greenwich because of fear of Suffragette outrages. Lady Willoughby de Broke presided at a meeting of the Actresses' Franchise League at the Drury Lane Theatre yesterday afternoon. Gertrude Elliott and others made speeches. The league is a non-militant organization, but it is noteworthy that when Irene van Brugh alluded to the "deplorable disorders in connection with the suffrage movement," there were some loud protests. Mrs. Pankhurst, by permission of the Home Office, was removed yesterday from 41 Norfolk Square to the country house, near Woking. She traveled in a motor ambulance and was accompanied by a nurse. Scotland yards detectives followed her in an automobile, as they were unaware of her destination. The house is now being picketed by detectives and policemen. That Airship Flight. The story about an attempt to get Mrs. Pankhurst out of the country in an aeroplane was emphasized by a curious incident soon after her arrival at the Smyth house. A machine was seen flying very low, passed over the house and gardens as if it was reconnoitering, and quickly disappeared. The name of the occupant of the machine is not known. There were no serious outrages yesterday, although there were several cases of acids and other fluids being poured into mail boxes. Miss Nina Boyle, the head of the militant department of the Women's Freedom League, addressed a meeting of the league in London last night in order, as she said, to proclaim what the leaders think of the Government. She said it was a Government of cads, curs and cowards. She expressed the hope that she would soon have the pleasure of repeating the charge in the law courts. She called for volunteers for a fresh militant protest. Mrs. Despard also called for militant volunteers. After the police had made a complete sweep of the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political Union they allowed the suffragettes who are out of jail to enter, and they immediately hoisted their flag over the roof. A woman who appeared to be a leader, but who refused to give her name, said defiantly: "We will soon have things in full swing again. The people say the campaign has only begun; just wait and see." The discovery of a bottle labeled nitro-glycerine at Piccadilly station caused a passing scare yesterday afternoon. It turned out to be an insignificant matter and probably was a practical joke. "Vengeance" Threatened. The disclosures in Bow Street Police Court yesterday when the band of six militant suffragettes who were arrested in the police raid on the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political Union on Wednesday, and Miss Annie Kenney, who was arrested on her arrival from Paris, were arraigned have naturally caused considerable of a sensation, but it is not expected that the revelations will end with these developments, nor can much hope be built on the fact that with arrests and seizure of documents that the outrage mania has even been scotched. The disease has spread length and breadth of Great Britain, and the ease with which unsuspected individuals who are absolutely unaware by the law are able to commit desperate crimes makes it probable that the arrests will be "avenged." As a challenge to the threat of government counsel that subscribers to militant suffragette funds would be likely to get into serious trouble, Lawrence Houseman, the English music composer, announced yesterday that he had sent a contribution to the Women's Social and Political Union.

ONE GOOD RESULT OF THE BLOCKADE

LONDON, May 3.—The principal editorial in the Times this morning is devoted to the naval debate at Ottawa, as set forth in Hansard, which is just to hand. "Our Parliament at Westminster," says the Times, "is in fact an Imperial Parliament, but it is questionable whether it has ever attempted, on any occasion since the debates which preceded the American War of Independence, to enter so thoroughly and earnestly as the Canadian Parliament is now doing into the political meaning of the bond between the Mother Country and the daughter communities." The Times then reviews the Borden and Laurier speeches, and concludes: "We must confess to sharing Mr. Borden's inability to see how his proposals can be held to entail the very wide consequences which Sir Wilfrid Laurier described, but the argument between Laurier and himself presents Canadian statesmanship in so broad and impressive a light that it is difficult wholly to deplore the divisions which have brought the argument on. If Laurier's contention, that Imperial federation is impossible without the surrender of control of all national affairs within the Empire to a single body, were to be generally sustained, the prospect would be as unwelcome to British as to Canadian opinion, but for our own part we regard the argument as much too absolute. "The question as to what responsibilities in policy and defence can be shared between autonomous Governments is a different question from that of how funds required for the common use are to be raised. It seems to us that Imperial organization need not be complicated at all by the problems of taxation which Sir Wilfrid Laurier very rightly creates."

Awful!

Two Carloads of Bones Upset West Brantford People.

A couple of car loads of old bones standing on a Grand Trunk siding near the Ryerson school in West Brantford, is causing a lot of trouble and considerable annoyance to the people living in that vicinity. The school children could hardly stand the stench from the bones yesterday and in the evening the people got after Alderman Samuel Suddaby and he in turn got in communication with Sanitary Inspector Glover and the city solicitor. The city solicitor wired the solicitor of the Grand Trunk to the effect that the cars had to be unloaded immediately, or else a legal action would be taken. The people living in the vicinity of the West Brantford school say that the odor from the old bones is almost unbearable. Here is a chance for the members of the board of health to get busy and make a name for themselves.

Temporary Quarters.

The Bank of Montreal will in all probability use the store recently vacated by J. T. Wallace, the grocer, as temporary premises if the talked-of new bank building for them goes through.

A Theft

Is Alleged to Have Been Committed in Regard to City's Lumber.

"There's a mystery—where did the lumber go?" said a member of the council this morning. It appears that a thousand feet of lumber was ordered by a certain civic official to be used in fixing up the grand stand at Agricultural Park, and after the carpenters engaged had completed their work only about one third of the material was used, and the remainder was piled under the stand and mysteriously disappeared. A certain alderman got wind of it and intends to find out where the lumber went and who took it if he possibly can.

The Market.

The following prices prevailed at the Brantford market to-day: Beef, 10-15 cents per lb.; veal, 8-15 cents per lb.; pork, 12-16 cents per lb.; eggs, 20c per dozen; butter, 30c per lb.; cheese, 17-20 cents per lb.; comb honey, 15c; potatoes 80-90 cents per bag; apples, 20-30 cents per basket; Hubbard 5c per bunch; asparagus, 10c per bunch or 3 for 25c; cabbage, 40c per dozen; spring onions, 25-30c per dozen bunches; parsnips, 15c per basket; carrots 15c per basket; maple syrup $1.50 per gallon.

THE LAKE ERIE AND NORTH-EARN.

It is not so very long since, before there was opportunity to suggest, let alone to consider, an alternative route, it (Courier) demanded that the Lake Erie and Northern Company should be given the right of way it asked for—Expositor.

Well, the Courier is proud of having had a share in helping to bring that road here.

Furthermore it did not demand the Jubilee Terrace route, but pointed out the difficulty of reaching Galt except along the river and even the preparers of the alternate route recognized that, for their plan was to use the other side of said river to the cutting out of Holmedale.

Did the organ want to see the latter injustice perpetrated?

To sum up, this paper after looking over the ground, thought that the present route was the most feasible and said so.

After the involving of much unnecessary expense, the Dominion Railway Board have said the same thing.

In other words this paper was correct.

Does our cotem think that there is anything wrong in being right? But what's the use of asking the organ, when it has that feeling too seldom to possess a correct diagnosis of the symptoms.

"COURIER AUDACITY"

The organ apparently deems it an audacious thing to tell the truth and we had long expected as much.

It is not necessary or worth while to analyze the precious fulmination in detail, but for about a column there is the hysterical attempt to show,

1. That if the Expositor fought for private corporations against the people, it was before the present proprietor took hold.

2. That in cases where Corporations have been endorsed, both papers have done so because that course seemed reasonable at the time.

Without using any strong language, that contention as against the Courier is absolutely untrue.

Let us look into this matter a little. Our cotem during the course of itsigmatole, says:

The matter of the Brantford waterworks was settled when The Courier was owned by the late Mr. Lemmon, and the Expositor was not under its present ownership but even as to this our contemporary states what is entirely untrue when it says: "The Expositor was fighting to bind over the concern to a private U. S. corporation."

The editor of this paper is not particularly anxious to project his blushing personality into its column but as a matter of fact in 1887 he was then, as now, editor of the Courier, and formulated its policy. He was alone at first in fighting for municipal ownership, until Mr. C. B. Heyd joined in the fray. If the Expositor doubts this audacious statement, let it ask Mr. Heyd as to the truth of it.

Now then, as to the Expositor itself. If it turns to its file of Oct. 29, 1887 it will find that it used these words:

We hope that whatever scheme may be adopted, it will be undertaken by an independent company. So much for that.

What the Courier did was to challenge the Expositor to name one thing on behalf of the people which it had ever inaugurated, and also why it always seemed to favor corporations.

This evidently touched our cotem on the raw and it comes back with talk of "audacity" untruths, mask wearing and a lot more buncombe. It also insinuates that when this paper claims to have taken a lead on behalf of the people on more than one occasion, it lies.

Well here is a partial list—

1. Courier fought for Municipal control of the Waterworks; the Expositor fought for private corporation control.

2. The Courier fought for the abolition of the Bell Telephone monopoly by the introduction of competition; where was the Expositor at first on that?

PLEASE PUBLISH MY TESTIMONIAL

So Other Sufferers Will Take "Fruit-a-lives" And Be Cured

Gratitude—heartfelt gratitude—prompted this letter. Madame Langlois was so thankful to "Fruit-a-lives" for restoring her to health and strength, that she gladly allowed her letter to be published.

Meanwhile, without any desire to keep our much esteemed cotem unduly hot under the collar, the audacious Courier would like to gently remind the Expositor that these two queries with regard to itself still stand—

1.—When, where and at what time did it ever take the initiative on behalf of the interests of the people?

2.—Why is it that the organ has such a soul absorbing love for private corporations and monopolies?

THE NAVY PROPOSAL

"The Simcoe Reformer says that it is pleased to keep the company of the people who are not 'stuck' on the naval programmes of either political party at Ottawa. The company is a large one—greater than the politicians imagine—Stratford Beacon (Liberal).

Why should the Reformer and the Beacon imagine that so large a number do not want Canada to do anything at all on behalf of the Mother Land?

Surely any thinking Canadian must realize that there has been a long overdue obligation upon the part of the Dominion in this matter. *

In the name of common decency those who object to do anything ought not to feel proud of that fact.—Brantford Courier.

Canada's obligation to the Motherland may be long overdue, but we do not remember of hearing of any loud call from The Courier for its liquidation until the Tory-Nationalist alliance was formed and an "emergency" created to meet the conditions of the pact.—Stratford Beacon.

As a matter of fact The Courier has for years pointed out the shame of putting the entire burden of Canadian shore defence, and merchant marine defence, upon the shoulders of the British taxpayers, but evidently the Stratford paper has overlooked that fact.

The Beacon adds: A moderate expenditure on a naval police force on both ocean shores to keep trade routes open and be available for protection of the empire, which the Laurier government proposed, is their limit as a starting point in naval construction.

As a matter of fact that isn't Laurier's present proposal at all and well the Beacon knows that fact.

He has both hands up for three dreadnoughts which he wants built in Canada, thus adding an additional cost of $75,000,000 for plant alone.

If the Borden plan is extravagant then the Laurier plan is very much more so.

Surely the Beacon will concede that plain truth.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Instead of closing up British museums because of the militant suffragettes, they ought to stick a whole lot of 'em in museums as freaks.

A woman in Cincinnati has been granted a divorce because hubby refused to give her any of the fresh eggs from the family coop and instead handed them to his mother who lived with them. Further more when he was away from home he handed "Mumsie" the key to the henery.

Some women consider the domestic yoke pretty heavy, but here is one who apparently didn't get enough of the same.

What does The Courier mean by stating that The Expositor fought to hand over the waterworks of this city to a private United States corporation. This assertion is most unqualifiedly untrue, and the reverse of the fact.—Expositor.

It is eh? Well the Expositor that period yelled for "an independent company" and Moffatt, Hodgins and Clarke (from the States), at the time were the only people in view.

SIR CECIL SPRING-RICE, NEW BRITISH AMBASSADOR

who succeeds the Hon. James Bryce.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice is the new British Ambassador to the United States.

What the Other Fellow Thinks

So Say We All of Us. Galt Reporter: The Province heartily wishes that a sick Adan Beck may soon be a well Adan Beck. In the Minister of Power's case it has been too ardent devotion to the public's interests.

Japan's Real Grievance. Calgary, Alta., Herald: California's aggressiveness in legislating against the Japanese is likely to open up once more the whole question of granting to the yellow man the status of Caucasians. Japan's real grievance is not against the law which forbids an unnaturalized alien to hold land, but against the law which prevents a Japanese from becoming naturalized.

True Modesty. Paris Review: The Senate has a Reform majority of 20 or 25 and may throw out the final bill. Premier Borden cannot be afraid of this or he would promptly reduce the majority by filling the four vacancies. We know a man who would make a first class bald-headed senator and would mention his name if we were not so durned bashful.

The Contradictory Globe. Toronto News: One day the Globe demands the construction of two Canadian fleet units, one for either coast, as proposed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, altogether unwilling, that they would cost $150,000,000—75,000,000 for plant alone to begin building them. The next day the same paper warns us against the creation of which policy makes more directly for the development of such syndicates. Mr. Borden's temporary plan or having three battleships built in Britain to meet a need repeatedly emphasized by Mr. Churchill; or the Opposition leader's hurriedly and crudely conceived scheme of rushing the country into a huge expenditure on plants that would have to be employed continuously in turning out Dreadnoughts to warrant their construction?

Where do the words "unqualifiedly untrue" rest now?

The Toronto Globe is still banging away at the Proudfoot charges. The fact that Grit organs have become so excited over this incident is good proof of how little they have had to yell "scandal!" about since the clean Whitley Government attained office. What they had to swallow of this nature, in the days of Rossism and did cheerfully gulp down, it would be a positive shame to recall.

The Courier asks The Expositor to state why it (The Expositor) has such a soul-absorbing love for corporations and monopolies. To which we would reply: When did The Courier ever attempt to discuss a public question without deliberately seeking to misrepresent the position of an opponent.—Expositor.

Don't get excited, old chap, just name and prove one instance if you can.

ONE MAN TO HANDLE ALL

Government Railways Will Be Placed Under New Supervision.

MONTREAL, May 3.—The Star today says: By the terms of an order-in-council which it is learned, will be passed by the Government at Ottawa almost immediately, the board of management of the Canadian Government railways, the Intercolonial and Prince Edward lines, will be dissolved, and the management hereafter vested in one commissioner, Mr. F. P. Gutelius.

Mr. Gutelius will be given whole power in the direction of the system and have headquarters in Montreal. At the present, at least, the other members of the board will likely remain with the road as officers under the commissioner in charge. Mr. Gutelius will have full power to employ such staff as he deems advisable and assign to them their duties and functions.

In the board, as heretofore constituted, Mr. A. W. Campbell, as deputy minister of railways, was chairman. He will continue as deputy minister, but will not be directly connected with the administration of the government railways.

Mr. F. P. Brady is at present in charge of the operation of the line. Mr. E. Timin is the traffic superintendent, Mr. D. Pottinger, the superintendent of finances, and Mr. J. B. T. Caron, the legal member of the board.

All these positions are to be abolished, though certain of the officers will continue as assistants to Mr. Gutelius. The latter, however, will be the whole authority, inasmuch as he will be responsible to the government for the management and operation of the line. Mr. Pottinger will probably retire soon.

The new commissioner is recognized as one of the ablest railroad men in the country, having had experience in the construction and operation of many railways. He was formerly superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal, and previous to that held many responsible positions on the same system.

For the past year and a half he has been a member of the commission investigating the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway. That inquiry is about completed, and Mr. Gutelius will be able to very shortly enter upon his new duties.

The system of having one commissioner has worked admirably in connection with the transcontinental line, which after the advent of the present Government was placed under the sole direction of Major Leonard. By leasing branches designed to serve as feeders the Government plans for a wide extension of the activities of the Intercolonial in the eastern provinces, and Mr. Gutelius is regarded as well fitted for the direction of development.

FRIEDMANN FAKIR OR NOT

His "Cure" Has Not Been Fully Tested—Toronto Doctors Speak.

TORONTO, May 3.—When Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann arrives in Toronto to administer the second inoculation of his tuberculosis serum to the hundred or more patients he treated several weeks ago it will be quite without the endorsement of the representative medical fraternity of the city. This was made known in an official statement issued by the Toronto Academy of Medicine yesterday after a meeting of its council. Dr. Friedmann will treat only those patients whom he saw last time, and it is understood, that even this is disapproved by the majority of the physicians in the city in view of the entire group of circumstances surrounding the German physician and his "cure."

The statement issued yesterday by the council of the Academy of Medicine will be followed by further resolutions which will be put before the meeting Tuesday. The council's statement is as follows:

Academy's Statement. "While the Academy of Medicine of Toronto disapproves of the spectacular and commercial manner in which Dr. Friedmann's treatment of tuberculosis has been presented, it strongly advises both the profession and the public to await results of investigation not yet complete.

"In the cases treated by him in Toronto there has been any improvement which is not secured by other methods of treatment.

"Dr. Friedmann has not received the endorsement of the medical profession in Toronto, through the Academy of Medicine, the University of Toronto, the medical faculty of the university, or any representative body of the profession.

"Dr. Friedmann was given every opportunity in the field of experimental medicine by individuals engaged in such work.

"To reach City on Monday. Dr. Friedmann is expected in Toronto on Monday, a telegram to that effect having been received by the committee of doctors in charge of his visit.

The arrangements for Dr. Friedmann's second visit are being made by the same physicians that had charge of the first, and only those persons who received the first injection and who, in the opinion of Dr. Friedmann, require a second inoculation, are to be treated.

In reference to the discussion as to whether the reputed sale of his cure is or is not a breach of professional ethics, while doctors of the city are extremely reticent in giving their opinions, members of the profession generally regard the matter as personal and involving no one but Dr. Friedmann, who is entitled to act as he pleases regarding the sale of this discovery.

Mr. Gutelius will have full power to employ such staff as he deems advisable and assign to them their duties and functions.

In the board, as heretofore constituted, Mr. A. W. Campbell, as deputy minister of railways, was chairman. He will continue as deputy minister, but will not be directly connected with the administration of the government railways.

Mr. F. P. Brady is at present in charge of the operation of the line. Mr. E. Timin is the traffic superintendent, Mr. D. Pottinger, the superintendent of finances, and Mr. J. B. T. Caron, the legal member of the board.

All these positions are to be abolished, though certain of the officers will continue as assistants to Mr. Gutelius. The latter, however, will be the whole authority, inasmuch as he will be responsible to the government for the management and operation of the line. Mr. Pottinger will probably retire soon.

The new commissioner is recognized as one of the ablest railroad men in the country, having had experience in the construction and operation of many railways. He was formerly superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal, and previous to that held many responsible positions on the same system.

For the past year and a half he has been a member of the commission investigating the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway. That inquiry is about completed, and Mr. Gutelius will be able to very shortly enter upon his new duties.

The system of having one commissioner has worked admirably in connection with the transcontinental line, which after the advent of the present Government was placed under the sole direction of Major Leonard. By leasing branches designed to serve as feeders the Government plans for a wide extension of the activities of the Intercolonial in the eastern provinces, and Mr. Gutelius is regarded as well fitted for the direction of development.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFULLY DARKENS THE HAIR WHEN FADED AND GRAY

Mixed With Sulphur Makes Hair Soft and Luxuriant and Removes Dandruff

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wye-the-Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy."

—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wye-the-Sage" which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known down town druggist says his customers insist on Wye-the-Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two; it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

Your Furs are Safe in our Vaults!

Why send them out of town when they can be stored just well in Brantford?

Furs are so highly prized by everyone, it follows that great care must be taken to protect them from the ravages of moths. It is a fact that more furs are ruined by these pests than by actual wear.

The cold, dry air system of storage is a positive safeguard against moths. Much work and worry can be avoided by simply telephoning us at 819, and we will call for your furs and other winter apparel. You place your own valuation on each article, and we are responsible to you for that amount in case of loss by fire or moths. Our charge for storage and insurance is 3 per cent. of the value—a moderate charge when it is remembered that we carefully dust each article, and hang them in a vault that is intensely cold.

Nothing is packed or folded. Everything is kept on hangers, so that the most delicate article will not become creased or mussed, and will carry no odor of moth preventatives.

previous to the mass meeting which will be held shortly.

Boys' Night

To-morrow evening at the First Baptist will be observed as boys' night, when the claims of the boy be emphasized in three short addresses. Scout Master MacFarlane will speak on "The spiritual aspect of the work"; Mr. Will Peirce of Woodstock on "Boys Wanted"; and the pastor, Rev. Llewellyn Brown, on "That boy of yours." Parents with their children are specially invited.

Lacrosse.

The Brantford Intermediate La-

tice at Agricultural Park last night.
Seventeen players turned out. A practice will be held on Monday night.
It is up to those who have not yet turned out to be on hand, if they wish to try out for the team. The boys have had several offers to go out of the city for the 24th, but will probably play in the city as there is no other special sport on for that day.

Class Banquet

A happy event took place in Brant Avenue Sunday school room, where Mrs. Shultis' Sunday school class gave their annual banquet. This is an organized class, the losing side in the contest giving the banquet which was much appreciated by all. The winning side supplied a good program of piano solos, recitations and dialogue. A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of a life membership certificate of the Mission Circle to Miss Beatrice Longstreet for proficiency and the best all round girl for the year.

A Life Member

At the regular meeting of Park
Baptist Mission Circle on Thursday,
May 1st the society again honored one of its members who has for many years been a member of the circle, and a most faithful member of the Women's Missionary Society. The address and presentation was made by Mrs. Thomas Ryerson. Mrs.
Bond in reply expressed her deep appreciation of the honor conferred upon her. This is the third life membership certificate that has been presented to members of the circle since Easter. Others who assisted in the programme were Mrs. Ruddy, Mrs. eters and Mrs. Emerson.

An important transfer of business has been carried through during the past week. The business carried on for so many years by Messrs Park & Co., 72 Colborne street, has been acquired by Mr. Edward Pickles of the Pickles' book store. The present business on Market street will be continued as usual, and in addition to the picture framing business on Colborne street, a good line of stationary, books, magazines, etc. will be introduced. The business on Market street has had a phenomenal success since its start five years ago and the best support of the public of Brantford will no doubt be given to such a progressive concern.

A Sensation In India

BOMBAY, India, May 3.—A profound sensation was caused today by the sudden breaking off of the projected marriage of Princess Indira, only daughter of the reigning Emperor of Baroda, to Prince Jitendra, son of the Maharajah of Cooh Behar, which was to have been celebrated in Calcutta on Monday next.

The princess announced her decision to her parents and her affianced last evening and called this morning for England.

Elaborate preparations had been made for the ceremony, in which descendants of two of the most prominent native rulers in India were to have been united.

The reason for the step taken by the princess has not been divulged, but it is understood that it is probably a question of caste. Such an occurrence is almost unique among the ruling families of India and it is to be traceable to the princess' unusual intimacy with English customs. The Maharajah of Baroda, her mother, is the author of "The Position of Women in Indian Life," and has advanced ideas on the subject.

The state over which the gawkwar of Baroda is over 8,000 square miles in extent and has a population of two million. He is one of the wealthiest men in India and as a ruler is entitled to a salute of 21 guns. He has written several books and is a man of high education. His full name is: His Highness the Maharajah Gawkwar of Baroda, Sir Sayaji Rao III. His son Shrimat Jaisingrao studied at Harvard University and the Gawkwar himself has visited America.

It was reported that during the Durbar at Delhi at which George was crowned Emperor of India, the Gawkwar insulted the King by not appearing in full dress.

Two Cadets Are Missing

KINGSTON, Ont., May 3.—J. W. Logie of Hamilton and A. L. Smith, cadets of the first year at the Royal Military College, are missing. They went out canoeing yesterday afternoon, rowed to Wolfe Island, landed, and then started off again. They have not turned up at college since, and the whole establishment is out in search of them.

MISS RAMONA BORDEN TO LEAVE SOON FOR SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., WITH MOTHER TAKES BLAME FOR MYSTERIOUS FLIGHT

RAMONA BORDEN

Miss Ramona Borden, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Gail Borden, the condensed milk manufacturer, who ran away from Dr. Adams' sanitarium at Pompton Lakes, N. J., last week, and was finally found in Boston by her father, is to leave next Saturday for San Francisco, Cal., to remain there indefinitely. Miss Borden, who is in poor health, denies emphatically that she was spirited away by Mrs. William J. White, wife of a millionaire chewing gum manufacturer. Miss Borden takes full blame for her mysterious flight.

BIG FIRE AT BRADFORD

Extensive Sheds of Midland Railway Were Burned to Ground.

BRADFORD, Eng., May 3.—Extensive sheds belonging to the Midland Railroad, and containing quantities of freight were burned down here during the night, causing a loss of $500,000.

Mysterious fires have broken out in these sheds on three successive Friday nights. The militant suffragettes were suspected of arson, but there were no proofs of this. The latest fire was evidently incendiary, as the firemen discovered that it had been started simultaneously in several parts of the building, which is 250 yards long by 50 yards wide. The fire began at 10 o'clock last night and spread quickly, nineteen load of freight cars and quantities of dry goods and carpets being consumed by the flames. The firemen were able to save the station buildings, only by directing all their efforts to them and flooding them with water.

Earlier in the night a fire had been started in some cars loaded with straw in another yard, apparently to divert attention from the principal scene of operations of the incendiaries.

School Burned

ARBERDEEN, Scotland, May 3.—One of the public schools of this city was partly burned this morning by militant suffragettes, the damage amounting to $2,500. A large quantity of suffrage literature was found scattered about the building.

A Warning

Is Issued in Connection With Lake Erie and Northern Layout.

Stakes placed by surveyors in Belle View, Paris and other parts of the county are being removed by unknown parties.

Mr. Alan Jackson drew the attention of a Courier reporter this morning to two sections of the Ontario statute, which reads as follows: "Every one is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to seven years imprisonment who willfully pulls down, defaces, alters or removes any mound, land mark, post or monument lawfully erected, planted or placed to mark or determine the boundaries of any province, county, city, town, township, parish or other municipal division.

"Every person is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to five years imprisonment, who willfully defaces, alters or removes any mound, land mark, post or monument lawfully placed by any land surveyor to mark any limit, boundary, or angle of any concession, range, lot or parcel of land."

A Robber

Also a Big Spender Reported Caught in Paris.

PARIS, May 3.—A man who aroused the suspicions of a detective because of his lavish expenditures in a Mont Marte night cafe was arrested here last night. The police say the anthropometric records show that he is Christopher Clement, proprietor of a hotel in Boston, Mass. It is alleged by the police that Clement in 1899 robbed a mail train in Corsica of $80,000 and escaped to the United States where he opened a hotel. They further allege that their investigations show that Clement has visited France every year since the robbery, but up to last night had kept out of their sight.

When arrested the man had in his pockets $7,600, and wore jewelry said to be worth $300. It is stated also that he has a large sum on deposit in a Paris bank.

A COUNTESS SHOT TO DEATH

Mysterious Tragedy is Reported in England To-Day.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

HENLEY, England, May 3.—"Death by the accidental discharge of her own gun was the tragic fate this morning of the Countess of Cottenham, wife of the Earl of Cottenham and beautiful twin daughter of the Marquis of Abergavenny, whose dead body with a gunshot wound through the heart was found in the grounds of the family residence of Elvenden Priory, Goring-on-Thames, Oxfordshire.

The affair was at first a mystery, and it was not known whether she had been murdered, had committed suicide, or had been accidentally shot, until the Earl of Cottenham himself, who was carrying a heavy load of stumps after noon gave evidence. He took the stand and swore that he had been out with his boys, and when he returned to Elvenden Priory and found his wife missing he instituted a search, which resulted in the discovery of her corpse with the gun beside it near the stump of a tree, over which she had evidently stumbled and caused the weapon to go off. The jury thereupon returned a verdict of accidental death.

The dead countess' name was Lady Rose Nevill. She was a daughter of the Marquis of Abergavenny and was born in 1866.

At Elvenden Priory, where the Earl and the rest of the family are residing, it was intimated that the Countess probably had tripped over the stump of a tree and that the gun she was carrying had been accidentally discharged. The Countess frequently roamed through the woods with a gun and she was a fine shot.

The twin sister of the dead Countess of Cottenham was Lady Violet Nevill, who became Countess Croyley and whose divorce suit against Earl Croyley in 1897 created a widespread sensation. She died in 1910.

The Countess of Cottenham first married John Blundell Leigh, and also went through the divorce court in 1899, her husband being the plaintiff and the Earl of Cottenham the co-respondent. She married the Earl of Cottenham in the same year, and had three sons who are all living.

To The Editor

EMPLOYEES AS SHAREHOLDERS.

To the Editor of The Courier,

Sir.—Having read with extreme interest of the action of the shareholders of the Steel Company of Canada at their recent annual meeting held in Hamilton, whereby they decided to sell preferred shares of the Company's stock to their employees, by the making of easy payments, following a plan similar to that adopted by U. S. Steel Co., which is now in operation for some time and which has undoubtedly proved to be very successful.

Such schemes as these have been introduced in England and the U. S. in the great ship-building and other industries, and have proven beyond doubt to create that enthusiasm and interest amongst the workers, unparalleled in the history of any commercial undertaking. As a young Englishman employed in a very humble capacity at the Steel Co's branch at Brantford, and fully alive to the varying opportunities of life as they arise, I feel assured and I feel assured and fully convinced that such a scheme as this will meet with the whole-hearted support of my fellow workmen.

Although the details of the scheme were left to be settled by the Directors, I think that under the guidance of Mr. Lloyd Harris and others, the terms will be made congenial. I remain,

Yours truly,
LLOYD GEORGE,
West Brantford.

Scout Notes

The local scout troops paraded at the armories last night and held a good practice for the coming rally. They were inspected by members of the scout council who were much impressed by the smart appearance, and splendid manner in which the scouts, who numbered one hundred, carried themselves.

After a close inspection, the scouts were addressed by the Rev. R. D. Hamilton and Capt. M. A. Colquhoun, who expressed their pleasure at the progress which the scouts were making. The band, under Bandmaster Maich, rendered the general salute in an excellent manner, and was complimented by the council for the efficiency which it had attained.

The scout council and Scout Masters then adjourned for a business meeting, while the troops, in command of the assistant scout masters, held a march out, headed by the bugle band. Several matters were brought up and disposed of at the council meeting. It was also decided to ask Rev. Archdeacon Mackenzie and Rev. Henry Wright to act for the council.

The troops are securing good officers. Eleven scout masters and assistants were on parade last night.

WILL INSPECT CIVIC WORKS

The Corporation Yard Will Likely be Moved From Oxford Street.

Mayor Hartman, and the chairmen of the different standing committees will make a tour of inspection of the municipal buildings and the corporation yards on Monday to ascertain in what condition they are in. The mayor started this morning that a report on the corporation yard was wanted, and that the board of works had a couple of sites in view.

The aldermen will bring in a report of their inspection at the next meeting of the Council.

The piece of land adjoining the pumping station on Greenwick street is spoken of as a likely site, as it is about as central as any place in the city. The haul from the yard in West Brantford to the different parts of the city is too far and a more central location is needed.

Admired the Light and Fixtures

A number of flattering remarks were heard this morning from citizens who attended the market in reference to the electric light and fixtures which were placed on a pole yesterday at the east side of the city hall by order of Hydro Electric Commissioner Ireland.

BERNARD SHAW AT IT AGAIN

Proof Spirit Will be the Diet He Says, for Superhumans.

LONDON, May 3.—Bernard Shaw lecturing at the National Liberal club last night on "The Case for Equality," foreshadowed the superman of the future as "a self-controlled epileptic, fed exclusively on proof spirit."

He maintained that the world "will have to breed a new sort of human being if the problems of social organization are ever going to be solved. One way to breed the best men and women is to make the entire community intermarriageable. That can be done only by securing to everybody an equal income."

Shaw concluded, "equality of income is an extremely practical and immediate political subject," only he refused to give an explanation how it is to be brought about.

Brant Encampment

The Golden Rule degree was conferred upon a number of patriarchs at the regular meeting of Brant Encampment in the I. O. O. F. hall last night. The degree team, under the direction of F. W. Hayward, gave a fine exemplification of the work.

Want a G. T. R. Siding

The Brantford Foundry and Development Company, Limited, situated on Grey street, have made application to the city council to have a G. T. R. siding placed at the right of their building. The city clerk informed Mr. W. B. Burrell that the company would have to submit plans of the same before any action in the matter could be taken.

At the Colonial

The moving pictures of a few colored men playing poker, which were shown at the Colonial Theatre last night caused a lot of amusement, especially to those who know the game. There is some great manipulation of the cards and when it comes to a show down one player has a royal flush and another five aces and then come out the razors. A lively scene follows. The other features on the bill are good.

Through the Reserve

Over many rough roads, some good ones, and through several deep mud holes, a Keeton motor car carried Methodist Mission party over the reserve yesterday. Three District Chairmen, Revs. A. E. Lovell of Brantford, W. J. Smith of Hamilton and A. C. Eddy of Jarvis, Controller Morris of Hamilton, Mr. Fred Mann of this city and Rev. A. C. Farrell of Toronto, who is in charge of Methodist Indian Missions, met, made up the commission. They visited all the Methodist missions on the reserve and interviewed all the missionaries and investigated the conditions. They will have some important recommendations to make to the coming conference. The Keeton car was in the capable charge of Mr. Thos. Hutton. Both driver and car did their work well and took their part bravely through or over all the difficulties of the spring roads.

$3.50 RECIPE FREE FOR WEAK MEN.

SEND NAME AND ADDRESS TO DAY—YOU CAN HAVE IT FREE AND BE STRONG AND VIGOROUS.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of energy, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy on the prescription free of charge in a plain ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow-men to send them a copy in confidence, so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful potent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting, restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised and so cure himself at home quickly and quietly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3755 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

DIPPING THE FLAG.

One of the Oldest of All Methods of Marine Greeting.

The salutation given when a vessel lowers or "dips" its flag is one of the oldest and most honorable of all forms of marine greeting.

The form of dipping has always been demanded by English speaking seamen, and its execution has burned the hearts and the powder of generations of naval commanders.

In the old days for a foreign ship, whether merchant or naval, to enter an English port without saluting top-sails or dipping its national flag was to run the risk of war, although the profoundest peace existed.

Without warning or argument the shore defenses of a man of war would send a round shot across the bows of the foreigner, and the latter would instantly come down the insolent intruder was brought to her senses by being raked through and through.

Such was the reception accorded by Sir John Hawkins in the sixteenth century to the Spanish admiral who, in time of peace, sailed into Portsmouth sound without telling his top-sails or lowering his flag.

Salutes are essential matters of naval etiquette and are exchanged on an elaborate code fixed by the maritime powers. The number of guns to be fired under all circumstances is minutely stipulated.—Harper's Weekly.

CHANGES IN WORDS.

How, for instance, "Boor" Was Transformed into "Nighpor."

Word building is as much a piece of carpentry as is house building; only it takes longer, sometimes a century or more, and by that time the word's first meaning is usually changed.

For example, the old word for "neighbor" was "Old." One's good neighbor was known as one's "good old." This became shortened to "good sibs" and later to "gossips." Then the word's whole meaning changed and gossip no longer meant good neighbor, but applied to the sort of talk exchanged between two "farmer" boys.

The old word for farmer was "boor." And "boor" later was used for describing farmer-like or rough persons. The farmer living nearest to one was known as the "nighpor," and this phrase in course of time was twisted to "nighpor."

You've heard the proverb "Little pitchers have big ears." Well, it doesn't refer to the utensil that holds water or goes to the corner side door. "Pitcher" was a slang term with some meaning as our word "chop" or "fellow." It was a "pitcher" that had big ears" is a more sensible rendering of the proverb.—Chicago Journal.

Samuel Pappas and Nell Gwyn.

After dinner with my wife to the king's house to see "The Maids of Honour."

I mightily commended for the regularity of it, and the strain and wit, and the truth is, there is a comical part done by Nell, which is Flormell, that I never can hope ever to see the like done again by man or woman. The king and Duke of York were at the play, and saw a great performance of a comical part was never, I believe, in the world before as Nell does this, both as a maid, then most and best of all when she comes in like a young gallant and hath the motions and carriage of a spark the most that ever was seen and have been making me, I confess, admire her.—From the Diary of Samuel Pepys.

Taming a Fox.

Foxes as a rule are treacherous and shy, yet I soon found that they responded to a certain kind of affection. I became quite friendly with four foxes and used to go in and out of their cage several times a day and invariably took with me a handful of raisins. I found they were very fond of any sweet fruit, especially raisins, and it was not long before they would eat them freely from my hand. At first I had to approach cautiously and not dare to attempt to place my hand on them. But by and by I petted them almost as freely as I would a dog, and they ceased to show any fear in my presence. It was not long before I could take them from my hand, I confess, admire her.—From the Diary of Samuel Pepys.

The matinee ended about five o'clock so that just left time for a hurried run up to the Armories and the Horse Show, arriving in time for the last steeplechase and for which there were several entries.

In leaving one had only the choice of a train at 6.05 or 11.45 p.m., and although the former was early, the latter was late, so we got to the station, picked up our parcels and arrived in Brantford again about 8.15 having had a most enjoyable, if rather strenuous, day.

Lawn Tennis

The game of Lawn Tennis is becoming very popular in the city and many of the young people are taking the game up and it promises to be a popular sport this summer.

It is not quite as strenuous as Lacrosse, baseball or football, but to be a first class lawn tennis player requires a keen eye and a steady nerve and great agility. The game is scientific and to become proficient a player has to keep in shape and practice just as hard as in any other game.

DIPPING THE FLAG

of the Oldest of All Methods of Marine Greeting. The salutation given when a vessel or "dips" its flag is one of the most and most honorable of all forms of greeting. This form of salute has always been handed by English speaking vessels and its execution has burned the hearts and the powder of generations of naval commanders. In the old days for a foreign ship, the merchant or naval, to enter an English port without reeling topside or dipping its national flag was to the risk of war, although the present peace existed. Without warning or argument the defenses of a man of war would be open to the assaults of the foreigner. If the offending flag did not instantly come down the insolent intruder was brought to her senses by being dived through and through. It was the reception accorded by John Hawkins in the sixteenth century to the Spanish admiral who, in a spirit of peace, sailed into Port Antonio without telling his topicals or bringing his flag. It is an essential matter of naval etiquette and are exchanged on an abode code fixed by the maritime power. The number of guns to be fired in all circumstances is minutely detailed.—Harper's Weekly.

CHANGES IN WORDS

For instance, "Boor" Was Transformed into "Neighbor." Good building is as much a piece of country as is house building; only it is longer, sometimes a century or more, and by that time the word's first meaning is usually changed. For example, the old word for neighbor was "sib." One's good neighbor was known as one's "good sib." This became shortened to "good" and later to "gossip." Then the word's whole meaning changed, and it no longer meant good neighbor, but applied to the sort of talk exchanged between good neighbors. Like the word "farmer," too. The word for farmer was "boor." And "boor" later was used for describing people like or rough persons. The man living nearest to one was known as the "neighbor" and this phrase in use of time was twisted to "neighbor." You've heard the proverb "Little berrers have big ears." Well, it doesn't refer to the utensil that holds water, but goes to the corner side door. "Ber" was a slang term with some meaning as our word "chap" or "fellow." Thus "Little berrers have big ears" is a more sensible rendering of the proverb.—Chicago Journal.

Metals and Metaphors.

It is most amazing," said a metallurgist, "how the world relies on metaphors for its metaphors and similes. The orator is silver tongue and golden mouthed. An explorer is bronzed by African suns. A resolute chap has an iron will. A sluggard moves with lead feet. An ostrich has a copper-lined stomach. A millionaire has tin fingers. It is as slippery as quicksilver. A borrower has brass."—

I want you distinctly to understand, all that when your colleague's wife is a new hat I want one too." "Chain yourself, my dear," we've tied it between us. You're neither you going to get one."—Ellegende letter.

The Lesser Evil.

I hate a barber that talks politics the time, don't you?" "Can't say I do. I'd rather have a talk politics than hair tonic."—Washington Herald.

"Funny, isn't it, about the blowing of a manhole?" "How's it funny?" "Because a man generally blows up pieces."—Baltimore American.

within striking distance. What has happened this far need not be figured seriously. Three of the strongest clubs have been cutting each other's throats.

Ty Cobb's escape from a severe penalty, in the matter of his fine, comes as a big surprise, especially as his case sets the precedent for disposition of offenders against the special rule that he violated.

It is known that President Johnson was wroth at Cobb last summer, at the time of the strike, holding that that player himself could have stopped the action of his team-mates.

One name was dropped yesterday from the list of the unbeaten pitchers of the American league who have records for two or more games, and one was added.

SPORTING COMMENT

Like a bolt from the blue came the injury to Manager Kane yesterday afternoon, and there was great distress in the camp last night.

At present Shea is billed to play centre field, but this expectation may not be fulfilled. Coose or Donovan are both good hitters and good fielders.

Toronto won a game yesterday, and all the world was thrilled by that startling achievement.

Speaking of those Cubans, they whitewashed Knotty Lee 6-0 yesterday. Chubby Coose, in remarking about what Kane considered the Cuban weakness—inability to hit—declared after his three-inning experience with Cuban bats, that it was a strong weakness which Amby discovered.

Everything is ready for the big opening on Wednesday with Ottawa, except a ball team complete in all departments.

A Good Battery

ENGLISH—This catcher looks to be a promising lad.

HARRY DONOVAN—He has speed to burn this year.

Oh, You Cubans HAMILTON, May 3.—The barnstorming Cuban Stars took Knotty Lee's Kolts into camp yesterday afternoon to the whitewash tune of 6 to 0, due mainly to the stellar heaving of Pedrosa, who allowed but two scratch hits.

IS COBB THE JINX? Detroit is Beaten by Chicago, Making Tigers' Eighth Straight Defeat

THE PRESIDENT Mr. Nelson has assured his friends that he is able to watch baseball now until the last man is out in the last inning. We doubt it.

DETROIT—Easterly's long double to centre in the ninth after Borton had beaten an infield tap by inches, broke up a red hot pitcher's battle yesterday and gave Chicago the fourth straight game of the present series.

In the eighth with Crawford on third and one out, Gainer fanned and Beal fled to Mattack. In the ninth, with High, who batted for Stanage, also on third waiting to score, Crawford popped weakly to Weaver.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—Most of the action in to-day's game between Philadelphia and New York was confined to the seventh innings, the former winning 4 to 3.

BROOKLYN, ay 3.—Boston evened up the series with Brooklyn yesterday by hammering out a 4 to 1 victory in the ninth innings.

PITTSBURG, May 2.—After suffering five straight defeats, Pittsburg nod out St. Louis yesterday afternoon.

CHICAGO, May 2.—Smith's generosity in giving passes, coupled with an error and opportune hitting gave Chicago a four-to-one victory over Cincinnati yesterday.

President Murphy yesterday announced the sale of Outfielder Knisely and Infielder McDonald to the Birmingham, Ala., club of the Southern league.

Kane Injured—Notes About the Red Sox

It was a disastrous practice that the Red Sox held yesterday afternoon, in more ways than one.

Who will take his place in left field? Yes, that's the question. Who will fill the outfield looks as weak as a cup of boarding-house coffee.

Let's hope that they will soon be up and at it again. Brundage is a good clean hitter, but has a lot to learn about fielding.

In batting practice and in scrum games McCarty has hit all around (and back again) the other two.

The Royals of Toronto will be here this afternoon for an exhibition and should be given a royal reception by the Red Sox.

From England to America by Aeroplane in 15 Hours

This is the Confident Prediction of Claude Grahame-White, Who is Himself Making Preparations to Cover the Distance This Year in Thirty Hours.

(Special Despatch.) LONDON, Saturday. FURTHER details concerning the scheme of Claude Grahame-White to fly across the Atlantic are now at hand. The popular English aviator proposes to make this remarkable flight during the coming year. According to Mr. Grahame-White's calculations, the trip can be made in thirty hours.

who is anxious to accompany him has already made a handsome offer. "The machine will be constructed at Hendon. "I hope to land in New York harbor, and doubtless our appearance there will cause some surprise. Such a flight has been talked about a good deal in the world of aviation, and I may say that for me it has a great attraction."

ARRANGEMENTS for the trip are practically complete. A large hydro-aeroplane, driven by four engines of 250-horse power each, is being designed for the journey. A smaller machine, driven by four 50-horse power engines, has been constructed for experimental flights.

"The engines will be larger than any yet designed, and I anticipate some difficulty in obtaining them. "It is, of course, highly important that for the greater part of the journey, they should be reliable and efficient. We should be able to dispense with one of them (should it fail us) on the last part of the journey, because the aeroplane will be lighter owing to the expenditure of fuel."

BRITISH PARLIAMENT BUDGET

Interesting Discussion in the Greatest of All Houses of Parliament Gleaned From the British Press.

Mr. Lloyd George proposed in the House of Commons on Monday a resolution paving the way to a Bill for engrafting on the written Constitution the practice of collecting income tax on the authority of a Budget resolution.

This measure is rendered necessary by the decision in Bowles v. Bank of England declaring it illegal to deduct income tax from dividends before the Finance Bill has passed into law. Mr. Gibson Bowles from the Visitors' Gallery was an interested listener to Monday's debate.

The chancellor's motion proposed to give statutory effect for a limited period (until Aug. 25 of each year) to any resolution passed by the Committee of Ways and Means for the imposition of a new tax for the variation of any existing tax, or for the renewal of any temporary tax.

Mr. Lloyd George said he was not proposing to make any innovation. It was a motion to regularise and legalise a custom which had been followed by every Government for the last sixty years. So far as Customs were concerned, the practice went still further back. It was a practice in accordance with public interest and a convenience to the taxpayers.

Since 1861 it had been the unbroken practice of the Exchequer, after the House of Commons had passed the resolution, to collect the Income Tax before the Finance Act embodying the resolution was carried into law. The Customs Consolidation Act of 1876 gave something like statutory recognition of the practice, because under the Act, Customs duties could be levied on a resolution passed by the House of Commons.

This custom and practice was never challenged in courts of law in this country until last year. It was, however, challenged in Australia, where the courts decided that a resolution of Parliament gave adequate authority to the Treasury.

Obviously, if there were no power to levy new taxes until Parliament had had time to consider the proposals and embody them in an Act, the Exchequer might lose a great deal of revenue owing to forestalling. That would be a very disastrous matter in the case of a war tax.

Question of Tariff Duties.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain (C., Taster Worcestershire) speaking as a former Chancellor of the Exchequer, said he always desired that the King's Government should be carried on with the greatest advantage to the State and the minimum of inconvenience to the subject.

"The state of the financial business of the country last year was a positive scandal, owing to the neglect of duty of the House of Commons, but he thought there would be a greater inconvenience in the cessation of the practice of the past fifty years than Mr. Gibson Bowles appeared to think.

"Some hon. members opposite cheered the Chancellor of the Exchequer's statement that he would favourably consider amendments to exclude new taxes from the scope of the resolution. He had never conceived that it would be possible to bring into force a whole scheme of revenue on a reformed tariff for the first time on the first day on which the statement disclosing it was made. He submitted that the Chancellor must not be in a hurry to exclude all new taxes from the scope of his proposals. If he did exclude them all he might greatly hamper himself or a successor at a time of national crisis when they might immediately require revenue to meet the expenditure of a great war.

The resolution was passed by 220 to 79.

The second reading of the Provisional Collection of Taxes Bill, embodying the principles of the resolution, was carried on Wednesday by 257 to 114.

Plural Voting Bill

Mr. Pease, Minister for Education, introduced the principal government bill of the session on Tuesday, being a measure to abolish plural voting at general elections, and introduce the system of one man one vote.

He remarked that the Opposition's objection was founded on the view that this was piecemeal legislation and an attempt to redress an anomaly in the interests of one political party in that House (Opposition cheers).

They asked, added Mr. Pease, "why introduce legislation merely to help one party in the state and defer franchise, registration, and electoral reform, the reconstitution of the House of Lords and Redistribution—subjects on which there might be a greater consensus of opinion?"

His reply was that the government intended during the lifetime of the present parliament to proceed with these reforms (Opposition laughter and cries of "Put it in the preamble.") They were all agreed that no autumn session ought to be taken this year except in the case of an exceptional emergency; and the only consideration which really retarded the Government from dealing with those other measures at once was the question of time.

This Bill would extend to the United Kingdom, and would not affect the right of any individual to exercise his vote at any by-election so long as his name appeared on the register. At the next General Election he would be left with the advantage of selecting which of his plural votes he liked to register.

During Mr. Pease's speech the Opposition were in jocular mood and derisive questions were asked when he remarked that it was a one-clause bill.

Mr. Johnson-Hicks: Any schedules. Mr. Pease: No schedules.

Some Unionist Members: Any preamble. Mr. Pease: No preamble. (Laughter.) The operative clause, he continued, prohibited the exercise of a plural vote by enacting that at a general election a person should not vote or ask for a ballot or voting paper in more than one constituency and imposed a penalty on anyone who voted more than once at a general election.

They proposed to adopt the penalty in the Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act, 1883. That would impose a maximum fine of £200 or a maximum period of two years imprisonment, with or without hard labour, and would incapacitate the individual from holding any official or public office from voting in any election during a period of seven years.

"The Bill," said Mr. Pease, "will

Lord Rosebery on Ideals of the Press

Lord Rosebery was the guest of the evening at the annual dinner of the London Press Club at De Keyser's Hotel on Saturday, and in the course of an interesting speech the ex-Premier stated that he believed the British Press was the best and purest in the world.

The Press, he said, were critical, were not dispassionate, they sounded occasionally the bugle notes of war and strife from the top of the mountain, but in the secluded part he occupied he had neither passion nor wish to stir up strife, and he observed the whole drama in an atmosphere to which they could not aspire.

So far as he could make out the reporter had largely disappeared. Now he only reported the great lions of the front benches, every wag whose name it was necessary for every citizen to observe. (Laughter.) The removal of verbatim speeches from the newspaper gave space for other matter of a more interesting kind and that was probably one of the greatest reliefs that the newspaper reader ever experienced. (Cheers and laughter.)

"You are introducing this bill, not caring one brass farthing whether it makes this House a more exact representation of the democracy or not, but because this bill loads the dice against the opposition as a party."

Leave to introduce the bill was given by a majority of 126.

The Press, though a great steam engine in power, was a little sensitive it would not have the sympathy of the public and could not speak the views of the nation.

He believed in the power, the potentialities, and even more in the responsibilities of the Press.

Press in Armada Times

The Press has developed greatly since the days when the Spanish Armada threatened in 1588. Then a fly sheet was issued. Now every day we produced not a newspaper but a library. The pouring of this great Niagara of information upon the public carried its responsibility as well as it conferred great benefit.

One heard a great deal about the apathy of the public on the great questions of the day; and he thought it was perfectly true. There was a profound apathy. People had no time to bother about anything except their own concerns and the last football match. (Laughter.)

Was not that apathy due to the prodigious amount of startling news which the Press offered to every inhabitant of these Islands? Was it a fact that this great number of impressions, hastily and consecutively made, had blunted the receptivity of the brain? Was it not possible that the population nourished on the perfect journalism had not the slightest interest in any possible event that could occur to-morrow?

He felt that the responsibility for the apathy of the country as regards public questions was largely due to the perfection to which journalism had been brought.

The power of the Press was enormous, far greater than that of any member of Parliament or any Minister of the Crown. He prayed journalists in issues which involved peace or war to diminish them as much as possible. From the bottom of his heart he asked the Press when any such issue might occur, and the atmosphere was electrical enough at the present moment, not to say a word that might unnecessarily or expected in defence bring about their fellow-countrymen the innumerable catastrophes of war.

GERMAN-FRENCH QUARREL SERIOUS

Regrettable conduct on the part of a few students towards five Germans at Nancy on Sunday threatens to lead to a diplomatic incident. Count von Wedel, secretary of the German Embassy, called at the Quai d'Orsay on Tuesday to inquire on behalf of the Ambassador if the French Government had received any precise information regarding the incident. He was informed that as soon as definite information was received it would be communicated.

Herr von Schoen, the German Ambassador, later called at the Foreign Office. M. Pichon, Minister for Foreign Affairs, gave the Ambassador the first information received, and added that in order to make himself thoroughly conversant with the incident, the Minister of the Interior had decided to send to Nancy M. Ogier, Councillor of State, and a departmental chief of the Ministry of the Interior. This high official will make a complete examination of the facts. He left Paris in the evening.

The first police report of the incident is as follows:

"Three Germans, accompanied by two ladies, were present on Sunday evening at a performance given at the Casino. A few joking remarks were made to them by some students, and there was some whistling from the gallery. The incident, however, passed off unnoticed by the general public. The five foreigners left the Casino shortly before 11 p.m. to go to a restaurant, and five or six students followed them.

"The incident at the Casino was repeated, and the proprietor of the restaurant requested the students to be quiet. They did so immediately, and without recriminations. When the foreigners left the students, escorted by some fifty persons eager to see what was going on, accompanied them to the railway station, and repeated their jests regarding them. It was then nearly 1.30 a.m. A dozen demonstrators gained access to the railway platform, and continued their manifestations until the departure of the train for Metz.

"The three Germans are not officers. The investigation opened by the central commissioner of police is being continued, but it may already be stated that the incident has been grossly exaggerated. This incident appears to be due to some rather headstrong young men, who did not realize the bad state of their attitude."

A telegram from Metz says that one of the Germans bears a strange resemblance to Lieut. Brandos, who was on board the Zeppelin IV, when it landed at Luneville, and this resemblance perhaps explains the mistake by the Nancy students.

Without waiting for an official report, and before the results of the investigation have been published, the Berlin press has broken out into a wild fury about the incident.

"Poor France, poor Frenchmen!" exclaims the Taegliche Rundschau, and expresses the hope that Germans in their travels will avoid France as they avoid the gutter in crossing the street.

In the Reichstag several members alluded to the subject insisting on energetic measures. The Foreign Secretary replied that should the newspaper accounts of the affair prove true it would be a most regrettable incident, and would show how right the Imperial Chancellor was lately in alluding to the spread of Chauvinism in France.

The Paris Temps on Tuesday had an article strongly rebuking the German violence of comment.

C. I. HOOD CO., LOWELL, MASS.

"209 Upper Front St., Exeter, N. H., May 27, 1912. Gentlemen:—It is with the sincere purpose of benefiting others I write what Hood's Sarsaparilla did for me. On getting up one morning I found what seemed to be a mosquito bite on the calf of my right leg. Soon the eruption grew larger and continued day after day, becoming more and more troublesome. The physician advised poulticing, and I soon found I had a running sore. It ate steadily into the flesh, discharged freely, and grew worse. Another physician told me to use a rubber bandage, but the sore grew worse until

There Was Not a Spot of Healthy Skin as Large as a 10c Piece Between My Knee and Ankle. My leg was now a dreadful sight. There were places large and deep enough to hold an egg. I was told the leg must be amputated. The specialist said he had seen many bad sores, but none equal to mine. "One day a neighbor, Mrs. Buckley, spoke of the value of Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, and I said I don't think such a simple thing as Hood's Sarsaparilla would do me any good. But my husband joined in urging me to try Hood's, and as he bought a bottle, I thought I might as well take it. Before I finished that first bottle, I suffered less pain and could see the edges of the sore beginning to heal. As I kept on with the medicine, new flesh formed, the raw surface diminished, and after using ten bottles the Sore Was Completely Healed and My General Health Perfect. I am able to work every day, weigh 175 pounds, my leg never gives me any trouble, and I use it the same as the other. I believe it my duty to tell what Hood's Sarsaparilla did for me, and I praise it to all my friends." Mrs. Josephine Sargent.

Having cured such a tenacious case of scrofulous impurity as that described above, and it has cured many other cases, is certainly to be relied upon for all troubles caused or promoted by impure or low state of the blood.

MURDERER FACES CROWD

Two Policemen and a Woman Fatally Shot.

Finally Brought to Bay in a Culvert Near Woods.

Bedlington, the Northumberland town which gives its name to a famous breed of terriers, was the scene of an extraordinary triple tragedy recently, two policemen and a woman being shot dead by a publican.

The murderer is John Amos, licensee of the Sun Inn. Mr. J. Woodrison, the owner of the inn, had given him notice to quit, and Mr. and Mrs. Grice of Sedghill, had been accepted as tenants in his place. Shortly before four o'clock, Mr. Woodrison arrived at the house with Mr. and Mrs. Grice. A dispute is said to have arisen between Mr. Woodrison and Amos regarding the question of taking stock. Mr. Woodrison left the house and sent for the police.

Shortly afterwards Constable Mussell arrived at the house. He was met in the passage by Amos, who was armed with a Winchester rifle. Without warning Amos fired point-blank at the officer, the charge entering his neck, and killing him instantly.

Mrs. Grice, who was already in the house, rushed to an upper window, shouting, "Save me, save me." Hearing her cries, Sergeant Barton ran to the door, and at that moment Amos emerged from the front door and pointed the rifle at Mrs. Grice, who disappeared from the window. Several people then attempted to go to the woman's assistance, but Amos turned the rifle upon them and threatened to shoot if they did not retire.

He then went back to the house. There he met Sergeant Barton who had reached the bar. Again, without any warning Amos raised the rifle and fired. The charge struck the sergeant in the breast causing a fatal wound. The officer died on the floor of the bar.

Mrs. Grice, apparently sought refuge in the cellar, where she was found later, dangerously wounded, dying very soon afterwards.

Amos found his way to the front of the house again. He was still armed with the rifle, and was hatless and coatless. The Sun Inn stands on some high ground and from this position Amos faced the crowd. He was apparently quite calm and unaffected by what had occurred.

Murderer's Cigarette

From the crowd that had gathered a little distance away a man named Young ventured towards the armed man, but was peremptorily ordered back by Amos who put the gun to his shoulder. Young retreated. Then Thomas Wilson also went forward. He asked Amos to give up the gun, but Amos only replied, "Get away, I don't want to shoot you."

Next, with amazing coolness, Amos put down the rifle, took a cigarette from his waistcoat pocket, and a search party was immediately organized, comprising armed policemen and armed civilians, and the country was scoured for miles round. For three hours not a trace of the man could be found, but he was at last run to earth. He had hidden in a culvert in a wood only about 150 yards from the Sun Inn. A man fired a shot into the culvert, a shout was heard, and Amos emerged bleeding from the head. He held up his hands and asked, "What is the matter?" His gun was discovered in the culvert.

Hundreds of people followed him and his escort to the police station. Amos was charged on Wednesday with willful murder. He was brought into the court between two constab-bles. His head was bandaged, and he seemed to be in a dazed, depressed condition, never uttering a word throughout the brief proceedings, which ended in a remand till Tuesday.

When the inquest on the three victims was opened at Bedlington on Thursday, Amos was not present. Only formal evidence of identity was given, and the inquest adjourned for eight days.

The Chief Constable at the close made an appreciative reference to the dead officers. Probably, he said, all the cases which came before the magistrates were cases of madness, but this was an occurrence which transcended most, and he felt they all sympathized most deeply with the relatives of those who had been so untimely killed. He had already received references to a similar effort from the constables and others in the district. The officers who had lost their lives, were both young, and both Northumbrians. He had had peculiar opportunities of knowing what stuff they were made of, and he thought those who knew them—and probably they all knew them—would be glad to hear that they had agreed with him that as representatives of Northumbrian policemen they would be hard to beat. In their death they had proved to be what they knew them to be in life.

Sergeant Barton was a particularly distinguished officer. He was one of the only two members of the force who had been awarded by the late King with a medal for gallantry at the shipwreck of the Era McTavish on Oct. 17, 1907.

A Mystery

In Connection With the Bank of England—An Official Gets Out.

For some days extraordinary statements were in circulation in banking circles in the city concerning a leading official at the Bank of England.

It was stated that this official in question had for some time held a most responsible position in one branch of the bank where valuable securities would pass through his hands.

Some days ago he failed to come to the bank. Inquiries by the authorities showed that he had left his home and nothing was known of his whereabouts. Since then nothing has been seen or heard of him.

An examination of the documents which had been in his care it was said revealed the absence of securities valued at several thousands of pounds. The directors of the bank after consultation, called in private detectives. The bonds in question were said to be principally those of South American companies.

A curious coincidence which tends to deepen the mystery came to light on Saturday, when a circular letter was issued by Messrs. Leathwait and Simmons, advertising agents, of Binchen Lane, city, to a number of leading bankers and brokers who were known to deal largely in bonds of this nature. It is stated that the following bonds are believed to have been lost or stolen. They followed a list of Algoma Central and Hudson Bay Railway Co. 5 per cent. 1910 £500 First Mortgage Bonds, with coupons to June, 1910, attached; Argentine 4 1/2 per cent. 1888 £1000 bond, with coupons to Oct. 1927;

At the recent annual convention of the association of that riding expressions of confidence in Sir Wilfrid Laurier and D. A. Gordon announced that he was lately in the present parliament but that he would not offer for re-election.

Mr. Gordon captured the seat in the general election of 1911 by a majority of 283.

Brazilian 4 per cent 1811 £1000 bonds with coupons to Oct. 1927; and Chilean 5 per cent 1911 (second series) bond for £1000 with coupons to 1949.

The circular concluded: "Bankers, brokers, and all others whom it may concern are cautioned against dealing with the above mentioned bonds."

Inquiries have also elicited the information that the mystery of the missing bonds is at an end that the official in question has never occupied more than a subordinate place in the bank and that the bonds themselves have been traced and recovered.

and Locomotor Ataxia

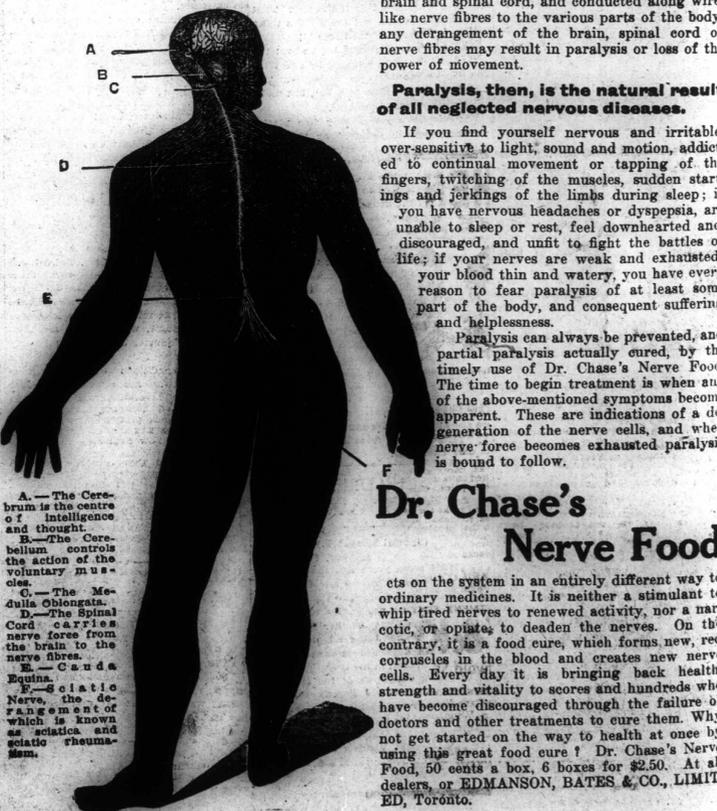

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will cure you.

To understand paralysis and locomotor ataxia, which is paralysis of the limbs, and its causes, it is well to remember that every movement of the body or its members is due to the contraction of muscle, which can only take place under the influence of nerve force. As this all-important nerve force is created in the nerve centres of the brain and spinal cord, and conducted along wire-like nerve fibres to the various parts of the body, any derangement of the brain, spinal cord or nerve fibres may result in paralysis or loss of the power of movement.

Paralysis, then, is the natural result of all neglected nervous diseases.

If you find yourself nervous and irritable, over-sensitive to light, sound and motion, addicted to continual movement or tapping of the fingers, twitching of the muscles, sudden startings and jerking of the limbs during sleep; if you have nervous headaches or dyspepsia, are unable to sleep or rest, feel downhearted and discouraged, and unfit to fight the battles of life; if your nerves are weak and exhausted, your blood thin and watery, you have every reason to fear paralysis of at least some part of the body, and consequent suffering and helplessness.

Paralysis can always be prevented, and partial paralysis actually cured, by the timely use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The time to begin treatment is when any of the above-mentioned symptoms become apparent. These are indications of a degeneration of the nerve cells, and when nerve force becomes exhausted paralysis is bound to follow.

THE EXPULSION ORDER A SHAM

English Judge Suggests That Criminals Be Branded.

Strong remarks were made at the Old Bailey on Wednesday by Mr. Justice Rowlatt as to the utter uselessness of deportation orders, and he suggested branding offenders.

The observations were the outcome of the trial of Jules Emile Leroy, 20, for boarding house thefts. Leroy swore he had been mistaken for his twin brother, but was found guilty.

Arthur Wild, twenty-five, artist, and John Wild, twenty-three, were men placed in the dock, having already pleaded guilty to being connected in the theft.

Mr. Tully-Christie, defending, explained that they were on April 5 sentenced to three years penal servitude at the Lewes Assizes for other robberies.

Detective Inspector Saunders said the brothers Wild were Belgians, and their correct name was Russell. Arthur Wild had been in this country for five or six years, and was wanted by the police at Brussels for a theft at Liege. The two brothers worked together, John getting a situation at the house to be robbed, and in this way a house at Notting Hill was cleared of jewellery worth about £800. None of it had been recovered. They also got £200 worth of jewellery at a ladies club at Kensington.

Later John Wild obtained a situation as valet to Mr. Thomas Becham of operatic fame. He very quickly absconded and jewellery valued at £400 also disappeared.

At the men's lodgings were found jimmies, skeleton keys and a quantity of wax for taking impressions of keys. Leroy and one of the Wilds were armed when arrested. As far as he could gather the three prisoners were leaders of a foreign gang of boarding house thieves and their confederates met them at a cafe in Soho.

to receive instructions. Leroy had been twice convicted in France.

The judge asked the inspector whether in his opinion, deportation orders were successful or not.

The inspector said he himself had had six cases in which aliens had been deported and had afterwards come back. If a man took a second class ticket no one could prevent him coming in.

Judge Rowlett said the orders seemed to be as great a sham as ever existed in connection with our criminal law. He hoped that before these men came out of prison an act would be passed under which a man ordered to be deported would be marked—not in any way to damage his appearance, but in such a way that it would be immediately known he had been expelled.

Mr. Tully-Christie appealed to the judge not to send the Wilds to prison for any period beyond that for which they would already have to serve. There was no reason why the ratepayers should have to keep these men any longer than three years.

Judge Rowlett said the question was whether deportation orders were of any value at all. Eventually his lordship sentenced Leroy to twelve months imprisonment with hard labor, and the brothers Wild, each to five years penal servitude, to run concurrently with the three years. This would mean, he said that they would have two years to serve for this offence. All the three prisoners would be recommended for expulsion.

BAD TRAGEDY IN LONDON

Pretty Woman is Charged
 With the Murder of an Aviator.

Jealousy there is no doubt was the cause of a tragedy which occurred in a flat in Coventry Mansions, Denman street, Shaftesbury avenue on Tuesday, a young aviator, named Julian Bernard Hall being shot dead.

The ground floor of the building in which the tragedy occurred is occupied by the Coventry Club. Above are a number of flats one of which was rented by Hall. The porter heard shots fired and asked a policeman to investigate. The officer found Mr. Hall lying dead on his bed. A young woman who was in the flat, was arrested and charged with his murder.

Later in the day the woman was brought up at Marlborough street. She gave her name as Jeannie Baxter, twenty-four, of Carlton Mansions Portsdown road, Maida Vale. She was fashionably dressed and carried a long white stole and muff. Throughout the brief proceedings she sobbed continually.

Detective Inspector Hawkins said he saw Baxter at Vine street Police station at two o'clock that afternoon. On being informed of the charge she said, "He is not dead? I am very sorry. I did not think I had killed him." She had been out all night. The murder occurred about 11.40 a.m. While the charge was being taken she remarked, "He has aggravated me to do this. My God, my God, have I really murdered him—is he really dead?"

In reply to the magistrate, who asked if she had any questions to put, the woman said in agonized tones, "I have so much to tell you but I cannot tell you now."

The officer who was called to the flat said he found Hall lying undressed on the bed, bleeding from the mouth. The woman came into the room unnoticed and said, "I did it. I shot him four times. I had arranged to do it. I hope it is not serious. Fetch a doctor." At the police station she said, "He wanted me to shoot him in the mouth and to place the revolver in his hand. I said 'No fear; I am not such a coward.'"

Mrs. Baxter when asked if she wished to question the constable, replied, "He (Hall) asked me to shoot him. He wanted me to put the revolver in his hand and then run out of the room and say he had done it. I said that I would not; I would not be such a coward."

"This is not the time to make a statement of that kind," said the magistrate. "You had better reserve it."

The woman was remanded for ten days.

Jack Hall as he was familiarly known to his associates, was only twenty-four years of age. He was an accomplished boxer and golfer and had recently taken up aviation. He became a pupil of the Bristol Flying School, attached to the Brooklands Aerodrome, and was granted the Royal Aero Club's certificate in February. His family is well known in Sheffield, his father being associated with a large industrial concern in the North.

Hall has been frequently seen with the woman and they seemed greatly attached to one another. It is stated that they were to have been married in a few days. A hitch however occurred. It is stated that Hall had been seen recently with another woman, and this led to quarrels. Baxter is understood to have stated to the police that there had recently been a row between them in consequence of his refusal to marry her. Her visit to the flat is believed to have been made with the object of persuading him to take the step.

Mrs. Baxter, who is of Scotch nationality, and a decidedly pretty woman, is a widow, and has a little daughter of six.

The Boy Scouts

The Provincial Council for Ontario are arranging for a training camp for Scout officers to be held from July 11th to 21st, on the grounds of St. Andrew's College Rosedale, Toronto. Representatives from each District in the Province will be invited and a staff of instructors will be appointed to instruct in the respective branches of Scout craft, discipline, Scout games, drill, physical work, woodcraft and organizations, etc. In fact the training will be arranged to give a general knowledge as far as the time will allow of the general work necessary to carry on the work of either Troop or District.

This is going to fill a long felt want and has met with the keenest approval throughout the whole Province. It has been brought about through the kindness of a Toronto friend who is interested in the Movement throughout the whole Province. This combined with the senior work will bring about the very near future a list of qualified Scoutmasters and Assistant Scoutmasters.

WEDDING SURPRISE.

Wealthy American Bride Who Simulated Poverty.

There was a romantic wedding at Brooklyn, U.S.A., on Tuesday between Mr. Montague Flagg, an architect, and Miss Mary Benson. While Mr. Flagg is poor and unknown in his profession, Miss Benson is worth several hundred thousand pounds in her own right, and is heir to a large fortune from her aunt.

Not until the wedding day was Mr. Flagg aware of his bride's great possessions, for Miss Benson had kept the fact secret, not caring to be for her money. She is an artist, and when Mr. Flagg met her he believed her to be an independent young woman, who sold her pictures for a living.

Miss Mary Benson in a simple way giving her money to the poor and working among them. Mr. Flagg has ideals, and Miss Benson met them. The young couple used to plan how they could live next to nothing, the girl entering into the spirit of the thing so realistically that her lover believed that she had no more money than himself.

Rotundity.

Ping Bodie trained all winter long. And in the spring they found that he had rounded into form with the accent on the round.

Sam Langford, the ebony gladiator, is on his way home from Australia to take up the argument with Joe Jeannette where he left off.

One is not surprised to read that the Purple relay team is off color. Naturally it feels blue.

Hank O'Day says he is anxious to start work as an umpire, demonstrating how easy it is to become anxious.

DELACOUR

The City That Will be Built

This Townsite --- the Investment for Quick Profits ---

YOU cannot find a better or safer investment than the Townsite of Delacour, which has just been placed on the market.

Delacour is situated in one of the most thickly populated sections in Alberta, on the Tofteld-to-Calgary branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and is only twenty miles from Calgary.

We guarantee this to be the original townsite.

The Dominion Railway Commission have approved and confirmed the station grounds, railway sidings, and road allowances. These are right in the centre of the townsite.

Get in before the railroad. The Grand Trunk will reach Delacour shortly, and will be completed into Calgary this spring. This will mean a big increase in the value of every lot in the townsite.

Swallowell—the last townsite we sold—was a farm a year ago. Now it is a hustling western town with a railway and over thirty places of business.

Delacour Townsite is real inside property. Lots can be had now as low as $1.00 per foot, but a material increase in price is expected as soon as the railway reaches the town.

Railway Stations

By HOWARD L. RANN

A RAILWAY station is a distributing centre for spare time which is visited by people who have a vague idea of getting somewhere before the week is out. It is erected for the accommodation of passengers who otherwise would not come equipped with a spring coat, an army tent and a full complement of cold victuals. Railway stations are inhabited by three individuals who do not intend to go anywhere and therefore are never in a hurry. These are the ticket agent, the baggage agent and the telegraph operator. The ticket agent can never understand why a passenger can't take the afternoon train as well as the one that leaves at 6.15 a. m. and sometimes arranges the matter so that everybody is perfectly satisfied but the man who wants the ticket. Nothing is more offensive to a ticket agent than to request him to hurry, for he knows how many trains there are a day and is willing to put his time against yours. The baggage agent is a languid person who is forbidden by the rules and regulations from moving off a walk for fear of heart failure. The train may be pulling into a station and fifteen people be lined up with sixty-four pieces of luggage, but this will not prevent the baggage agent from standing on one leg and sharpening a lead pencil, incidentally breaking off the lead three or four times, meanwhile conversing upon some irrelevant topic with the hack driver. If any travelling salesman suggests that he would like to have his trunks checked in time to connect with the fall business, the baggage agent will make it a point to get around to him inside of fifteen minutes after the train has left. The telegraph operator is hired for the special purpose of answering telephone calls whenever he can do so without having to get up out of his chair. He is also required to post the arrival and departure of trains on a blackboard in the waiting room, which is lucky to arrive within two hours and a half of the actual leaving time. Every once in a while the telegraph operator will happen to think of a telegram which came in day before yesterday, and it will despatch the same with the utmost promptness. A railway station at night is a scene of great animation, especially when the train is in and the ticket window is closed on account of the agent being invited out to dinner. It is a pleasant place to spend three or four hours of leisure time and is used for that purpose by people who have not heard of the last wash-out.

ROUND THE WORLD FOR A CRIMINAL

After chasing a man who had robbed a banker round the world, a French detective found his quarry hundreds of miles up the Amazon river. But he was stricken with fever and death came in a week to rob the tracker of his prey.
Georges Pietre was four years ago a cashier in a Paris bank. He stole twelve thousand pounds and disappeared, the banker's daughter accompanying him in his flight. The banker employed M. Lescot, a detective to find the missing couple. The trail led first to Marseilles, where Lescot discovered the girl, whom Pietre had abandoned. Having restored her to her parents Lescot set out again on the hunt for Pietre.
From Marseilles through Egypt to Zanzibar, from Zanzibar to Capetown, and thence to Liverpool, the detective tracked Pietre and before succeeding in catching him up, it was expensive work, and Lescot wired to the banker asking if he should go on. The latter thinking not only of his own loss, but also of his daughter's wrongs, replied that the detective was to get the man and not consider the cost.
Setting to work again Lescot discovered that Pietre had gone to South America. The detective followed, and tracked Pietre from town to town up the Amazon, until he reached Manaus, where he was ill with the fever for three months. That interruption seemed likely to end the chase. But a white man lived in a hut 200 miles further up the river.
The detective set out in a canoe, paddled by six natives. The canoe was upset, and alligators killed four of the natives. The rest of the journey was made on foot through the wildest of country. It occupied two months.
Finally Lescot came across a hut. A handsome native woman barred the door. Forcing his way in the detective found Pietre lying stricken with fever on a cot. As he called him by name the fugitive sat up and admitted his identity, and before he died a week later, signed a confession.
The detective who had hunted him round the world buried him and placed a rough cross on the mound that marked the grave. Then he set out to make his way back to civilization again, but without the man he had travelled 50,000 miles to capture.

"TIRED OF WILFUL LIES."

London Policeman's Preparations for Death After Night Duty
A bright eleven year old boy, Edward Eggleton, told a graphic story at the Thames police court on Wednesday, when his father, Walter Eggleton, a police constable, living in Belgrave street E. was sent for trial on a charge of attempting to murder his three children by making them inhale coal gas and attempting suicide.
After putting him and his two sisters to bed, said the boy, his father, who was a widower, went out on duty. He returned at midnight and made them dress and lie on the kitchen sofa and covered them with blankets. He then pasted paper over the cracks of the door and windows. The boy fell asleep and was awakened by the girl's crying for help. His father was "asleep" in a chair with a sheet over his head and a

CHICAGO MORALS.

Chicago, having been accused publicly of being the "worst city morally in the United States," has taken prompt action to remedy things. A "vice inquiry" has been held, to ascertain the real basis of Chicago's wickedness, and at midnight one day last week the police raided the fashionable restaurants in the semi-monied district, to secure expert witnesses.
This midnight drag-net brought shame and confusion to many names hitherto considered above reproach. They have not been published says The Chicago Dispatch, but they can be found in the official record of Chicago's upper ten.
Some of the frequenters of the all-night restaurants, cabarets, and dance halls run by brewers were removed to the police station and their depositions taken.
Frantic efforts are being made by the wealthy relatives of these people to conceal the identity of the midnight roysters, discovered, and big sums are offered for their freedom.
Some prominent citizens, arrested by the police in the small hours, excused themselves on the ground that they were studying sociological conditions, and others said they were out to reclaim the fallen; but the biggest section admitted honestly that they had been caught napping, and that the police had taught them a useful lesson.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE SICK HEAD
Sick Headache and relieves all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distaste to eating, Pains in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cure.

WHY LIQUID CATARRH REMEDIES FAIL
They go direct to the stomach, have very little effect on the linings of the nose and throat, and entirely fail to cure. Only by cleansing the air passages by relieving the inflammation and killing the germs is cure possible. No combination of Antiseptics is so successful as Catarrh-zone. In breathing it, you send the richest pine balsams right to the seat of the disease. Irritating phlegm is cleared out, hoarseness, coughing and hacking are cured. For a permanent cure for catarrh, nothing equals Catarrh-zone, 25 cts. and $1.00 at all dealers.

The Cameo Ring

Is Very Popular at the Present Time

The Cameo is the revival of a style that was very fashionable years ago.

There is something indescribably dainty about a ring of this kind.

See what we have to offer in this line. You'll find them priced very moderately at $3.00 to $6.00.
