GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

CHINA.

PROGRESS OF THE REBELLION.-RE-CAPTURE OF AMOY, AND EXECUTION OF 1000

OF THE REBELS. Hong Kong, Nov. 27.—The local news of this place is of the usual dull character, of this place is of the usual dull character, and is of trifling interest, but the intelligence which the present mail conveys to Europe is important in relation to the progress of the rebellion, which is fast breaking up the Chines Empire.

The health of Hong Kong is somewhat unfavourable, owing to the late hot sultry weather, and has been marked by increase to the sick list of the garrison. Civilians, too, have felt the effects of the high temperature. Of the garrison no less than 113 are in hospital, and of this number 75 belong to the 59th Regiment. Fever, bowel, and chest complaints have been and are still prevalent, and four deaths have taken place in the garrison since the middle of the place in the garrison since the middle of the month. About seventy invalids will shortly proceed home, and the whole of the Ceylon Rifle Regiment is in orders to return to Ceylon, leaving the military strength of the arrison very low.

At Canton, and in its immediate vicinity, all was quite. The number of executions for political offences affords clear evidence that the Imperial authorities are anxious to strike terror into the minds of all classes of strike terror into the minds of all classes of the population.

From Shanghai advices have been re-ceived to the 19th instant. The belliger-ents keep up a desultory warfare with little or no effect, and the struggle is aided and prolonged by some injudicious foreigners, who, for the profit attaching to the sale, do not hesitate to furnish the imperialists and the insurgents with arms and ammunition. But for the supplies so furnished it is pro-bable that both parties would quietly endeayour each to tire out and exhaust the patience of the other, instead of which they are tempted to struggle for mastery without the probability of accomplishing anything. It would also appear that the Imperialists, having heard that some guns were about to be removed from a foreign hong to the head-quarters of the rebels, endeavoured to prequarters of the rebels, endeavoured to prevent the coolies carrying the guns away; and it would also seem that these imperialists had provided materials which induced the foreign community to believe that they designed to burn down their houses. The consequence was a general turn out of all the foreign residents, aided by armed parties from the ships-of-war. With Mr. Wade, the British Vice-Counsel, at their head, the foreign residents drove the Imperialists from their settlement, although not without from their setlement, although not without exchanging shots, in which some six or seven of the Imperialists were wounded. On the following day Messrs. Wade and Meadows were sent by the British Consul with a despatch to Keih, the judge, to demand an explanation; that functionary stated that the imperial soldiers were under the general, and that strict orders had been given them not to enter the British limits. given them not to enter the British limits. On the 18th November Keih informed the British consul that on their return to camp the imperialists had reported that they were driven back by rebels dressed up in foreign clothes. The British consul has issued a notification relative to the attack, in which he deplores the loss of life that ensued, and congratulates the foreign community that no worse mischief ensued. The consul enjoins forbearance, and deprecates the fur-nishing of military supplies to the belliger-ents as subversive of the line of policy, strict neutrality, which the British government had intimated its intention to pursue. The ex-Taoutae has been exerting himself to retake the city, but failed, after a most despetake the city, but failed, after a most desperate attempt by sea and land.

Early on the morning of the 9th November, the ex-Taoutae despatched spies through the city to report that he proposed to quit for Chin-Keang-Foo, and when his fleet got under weigh, the report was deemed well founded. The wily mandarin, after a little manœuvring, suddenly sailed right for the city, and opened a brisk fire upon the insurgents' batteries, which could not be returned from the latter without firing into insurgents' batteries, which could not be returned from the latter without firing into the neutral fleet. Shortly after the insur-gents commenced a cannonade, doing much damage to the Taoutae's fleet. The second gents commenced a cannonace, doing much damage to the Taoutae's fleet. The second division attacked the square-rigged vessels Glenlyon and Snipe, belonging to the insurgents, and obtained possession of them, not by boarding, but by throwing on board a shower of stink pots; the smoke and flames were such that the crew were compelled to jump overboard, and endeavoured by swimming to reach the shore; the boats of the Taoutae attacked the poor wretches in the water, and speared every one that appeared above water. The imperialists, assisted by several foreigners in the Taoutae's fleet, made repeated attempts to capture the forts, but were bravely repulsed. After this, the imperialists' boats proceeded along the shore and set fire to one of the suburbs, which destroyed about 1,500 houses and an immense amount of property belonging to the rich merchants and shopkeepers in the neighbourhood. The parties employed in this work of wanton destruction consisted of the west coast pirates, who pillaged the district before they set fire to the dwellings, and carried off a large amount of treasure, opium, provisions, &c. Simultaneously with the naval attack an attempt was made to carry the city on the land side, where 3,000 imperialists advanced for the purpose of taking the city by surprise. The sentinels kept concealed until the advanced post, finding all quiet, boldly scaled the walls; as soon as the first three ascended the ramparts their heads were instantly cut off, and immediately a brisk fire was opened along the whole line, which forced a quick retreat. The imperialists returned to their camp in confusion, with many of their numbers killed and wounded. In the naval and land engagements it is estimated that 300 of the imperilasts lost their lives.

From Amoy the most melancholy accounts have been received, involving an amount of bloodshed that is calculated to strike terror into the hardest heart, and with any other people than Chinese would induce a reaction and a cry of vengeance on the authors of such fearful outrages as those now enacting at Amoy and its neighbourhood. The imperialists have retaken the place, and have marked their success by alsying in cold blood nearly 1,000 persons, most of whom took no part in the late movement except on compulsion. The streets and wharves of Amoy have literally streamed with human blood, not shed in any war-like operations, but done in awaye revenge and to blind the authoritier at Pekin as to the bravery of the enactors. A letter from Amoy, dated November 22, received but a few hours ago, states that up to that period all was quiet, and matters were more the same appearance, as far as foreigners were concerned, as under the insurgent release. Executions were of daily occurrence. The Mandarins: to mark their success, were reveiling in human gore, putting to death all who fall into their hands indiscriminately. On the subject of the present position and prospects of the great movement, the Friend of China is of opinion that the Tartar dynasty is now at its last gasp; and that the sext Chinese year will not unwarrantably be called as the reign of Hungtsen-tsicuen, the Prince of Peace.

We have further news from Melbourne We have further news from Melbourne to the 18th October. These accounts are even more satisfactory than the preceding. The value of the gold shipped from Victoria up to the last date was £7,152,615. The River Murray had been explored across South Australia, Victoria, and Mew South Wales to the extent of 1800 miles, and its navigable capacity had been asc such a satisfactory extent as to leave no doubt that hereafter this noble stream will doubt that hereafter this noble stream will become as important as the Ganges, the Mississippi, the St. Lawrence, or the Danube. Every class was prosperous, prices of labour still rising, land eagerly bought up at high rates, and great numbers returning to Europe with ample realised fortunes. Everything indicates the highest state of prosperity.

The India Mail has arrived with dates from Bombay to the 14th December, and from Hong Kong to the 27th November. The intelligence from Burmah is contradictory. There was a rumour that the natives had recaptured Pegu, and that a combined movement against the British was about to take place. We have also the old story of the Russians being at Khiva. The Afredees of the Kohat Pass has given in and accepted our terms. In China the in surgents have evacuated Amoy, and the Imperialists have committed horrible massacre there. Canton was quiet, but there has been great fighting at Shanghai. Dr. Bowring has been gazetted as Governor and Commander-in-Chief at Hong Kong, and Superintendent of Trade in China. The India Mail has arrived with dates

Covering the whole ridge first chosen, sweeping the valley, and climbing up another hill, with its George-street two and a quarter miles long, its 65,000 people, its thorough English look, shopped and gas-light,—it is, altogether, so like a sea-port our own shores, that the traveller is almost sorry it does not look stranger; for, as to anything outlandish, he might as well have stayed at home. But, now and then, orange-trees blooming by a might as well have stayed at nome. Sur, now and then, orange-trees blooming by a cottage, a flock of green parrots resting on a roof, the tatooed cheeks of a New Zeai-ander, or the spindle-legs and matty hair of a black Australian, certify that it is England of the control of land at the antipodes, and not England a

In Nova Scotia, when a gentleman holding such an office was proposed to be elected Speaker of the Assembly, he himself declared his ineligibility, as being an Excise Officer.

LANDS.—Private letters from the Ionian Islands inform us that Zante and Capalonia are in a most deplorable condition. The failure of the current crop for two successive yerrs has cut off the only supply from which the inhabitants of those two Islands, in particular, derive their main support. The land owner and the labourer are both suffering under such a calamity; but it is in the latter that want with its attendant horrors, weighs heavily and is crushing them to death. Their circumscribed condition, in a physical as well as in a social sense, renders them helpless in their present misfortune.

Any work which could offer the scanty remuneration of twelve cents per day, would, under existing circumstances, be hailed by thousands as a most propitious and heaven-sent boon. But there are no factories to employ the calious hand of the sturdy agriculturalist, and it must drop with weakness by his side until death relieves his sufferings. The relief also that might be obtained by spreading out, and thus rendering the intensity of suffering less observable, is rendered very difficult by the liquid element which locks them up in their native island. The Zantiotes in tions of the Fireman and Military were beyond all praise. It is probable, however, that if the communication between the different portions of the block had been cut offly means of iron doors, the whole building would not so easily or rapidly have fallen a prey to the devouring element.

It was impossible at the hour when the despatch was forwarded, the fire still raging, to give any minute particulars of the cutastrophe, or a description of the scene. The spectacle was awfully grand, and was wincased by a great number of people.

The destruction of the Legislative Hall is a loss which will be felt throughout Canada generally, but more particularly in Quebec.

A later account says that the fire was finally subdued without further damage. It is thought to have originated from one of the flues of the hot-as furnace. The building is said to be insured for £30,000 in offices in England.—New Brunswicker Februery 2

At 2h. 5m. p. m. the House were summoned to the Council Chamber, and elect a Speaker, the returned Members—naving discharged that duty, the material of the council Chamber, and elect a Speaker of the Assembly opposed to the Council Chamber, and elect a Speaker of the Assembly opposed to the Council Chamber, and elect a Speaker of the Assembly opposed to return to their own Chamber, and elect a Speaker, the work of the council Chamber, and elected Speaker.

Mr. Mooney then rose and proposed Mr. Macaulay's motion, that the Hon. Mr. Jardine, being a member of the Government, was not (according to the principle recognised at the establishment of Responsible Government) eligible for the Speakership.

Mr. HAVILAND said, there could be found no statute, rule, or motion, by which such a principle was established. When Mr. Pope was Speaker, he was a member of the Government, Pope was pentionally a member of the Government, Mr. HAVILAND. No! He can't. (Cries of "Spoken!")

Mr. Connor.—The Speaker of the House

Mr. Coxnor.—The Speaker of the House Commons, it is well known, is ex-officio, a more of the Privy Council. He might attend if he chose: but it is true he is never summoned. And, if we want a precedent here, do we not all know that when Mr. Pope was Speaker, he held nearly all the offices of the County. He was a member of the Government, Cellector of Excise, &c., &c., &c. (Cries of "Question!") Mr. Frassra—It would be unbecoming to force the appointment upon any hon. member against his will. Unless they were satisfied that the Hon. Mr. Jardine was anxious or willing to fill the Chair, the motion, he thought, ought not to be the Chair, the motion, he thought, ought not to be pressed.

The question was then put; and the House divided: divided:

So it was carried in the affirmative.

The House adhering to the motion just carried, the hon. gentleman on being invited to do so, advanced to the Chair; and, having accorded a couple of steps, he returned thanks for the honer conferred upon him, in a short but appropriate speech. He then took the Chair as Speaker of the House—and, having done so, stated his intention to resign his sest in the Executive Council, as he meant not to be the Speaker of a party, but of the whole House.

in his Speech, had justly spoken of it as one of an extraordinary character.

Docroo Coxnor.—That remark of His Excellency is amounted to a breach of the privileges of the Assembly, on his part.

Mr. Macaular.—That might be considered when the House should be in Committee on the reply to his Excellency's Speech. It would be irregular to take notice of it before.

Doctor Coxnor.—If any gentleman has been undely returned to this House, by a Sheriff, it is for the constituents injured by such return to come before this House; and, stating their grivance, to seek redress at our hands. None but those who have been properly sent to the Assembly, should be allowed to speak, or be heard in it.

The Assembly was not to be dictated to by Government. The members were the representatives of the people; and to them were they responsible. They were not like a chain daugling from the neek of the Crown: and, when the Crown presumed to send them messages effecting their long established and well known privileges, it was a descent from its due position by the Crown, and a direct innovation of the rights of the people. If constituents were aggrieved, let them, in the name of the people, apply to the House for redress, and it would undountedly be extended to them. The bare mention of the Sovereign's name, in the House of Commons, was, in some cases, held to be a breach of the privileges of the Commons—Hous much approaching to the nature of measage from the Crown! He was a loyal abject of the Crown: He was a loyal abject of the Crown: He was a loyal abject of the Crown: and aim to manifest his alligiance to the people who had sent him to it.

Mr. Moostr.—He was not at all disposed to give the learned Doctor credit for his boasted crown: the was a loyal emper of the Crown; but, in the Assembly, it would ever be his care and aim to manifest his alligiance to the people who had sent him to it.

Mr. Mooney.—He was not at all disposed to give the learned Doctor credit for his boasted patrissism. When he called to mind the conduct of the Assembly it would be a surprised and honourable member, in the Basion of 1848, when he was so anxious to get Tooles out of the House, he (Mr. M.) could be the manifest his allegiance to the people, his regard for their rights. Then (in 1848) so only bent was he on the exclusion of Mr. Coles, at, even after a Committee of seven members does napointed to prepare the draft of an address in answer to the Governor's Speech, noming would satisfy him but the House's going immediately into a Committe of Privileges, in the hope that, by their determination, he might effect is object, to the prejudice, not only of Mr. Coles at of Mr. Coles's constituents. So great then was his regard for the rights of the people and the privileges of their parliamentary representatives, that he declared, if the House asserted their power, they would cause Mr. Coles to stand outside of the Bar in his shirt sleeves, and quoted May on Parliament: in support of the views enunciated by himself? And was it he who would, if he left, have proceeded in so arbitrary a manner inde a representative of the people, who then the date of the privileges of the House; and loudly deprecated their being trampled upon.!

Mr. Davies.—It had been asserted, by hon members, that the presenting of the Return to the House by a member of the Government, was a breach of the privileges of the House; and that they ought to wait until the people petitioned the House for the Government, when acquainted with what they believe to be an infraction of the elective privileges of the people, to seek to lay before the House any document, by a due examination and consideration of which, the House might be entitly the condition of the elective privileges of the people, to seek whether the Return shall be received and read or not.

Mr. Montonery.—The course taken by the Hon. the Colonial Secretary was unusual and irregular. If parties were aggrieved by the Return, it was open to them to petition the House, and the Honse would grant them a hearing. Then, and in that case, the House would ask for the Return. that, by due consideration of the facts act forth therein, they might justly decide concerning the prayer of the party or parties petitioning.

Mt. HAVILAND.—He would defy any man to refer to a greater breach of parliamentary privileges, than that just perpetrated, by the House of Assembly, in their Address to Your Excellency on the 30th September last, contemplates no other or further change those of Queen Bess. Since that time, nothing relating to the election of the people's representative had ever found place in any Speech or message of the Sovereign addressed to the House of Commons. It was well known that he alone who was, by the proper authority, returned a representative of a constituency, could be recognized by the House as a member thereof. The proper course is unquestionably for any party or parties who may consider themselves aggreed by a Return to seek redress from the House

Mr. Dousz.—He had been a member of the Assembly for 20 years; and he had never before witnessed so irregular a course as that pursued by the Hon. Colonial Secretary, as a member of the Government. When he himself (Mr. Douse) disputed the legality of a Return by which he was excluded from a seat in the House, he was obliged to stand at the Bar, and give security for the amount of the expenses on sequent upon a due investigation of the facts connected with the Return of which he disputed the legality, Trovided he failed to prove its illegality. That was the proper course; and if Mr. Coles would come forward as he did, he, for one, would be ready to give him fair play.

Play.
Hon. Colonial Secretary.—Was it not on Hon. Colonial Secretary.—Was it not competent to the House to call the Sheriff to account for making a Return in direct opposition to a clause of the Election Law, which directs that he shall make return of that candidate who has the greatest number of votes! That the Sheriff, with respect to the Return in question, had been guilty of a breach of duty, he (the Hon. Colonial Secretary) was prepared to prove; but he could not do so unless he were allowed to shew, by the particulars set forth in the Return, how the breach of duty had been made.

behalf of the Government, to lay that Return, uncelled for by the House, upon the Table? Did it concern the rights of the Soverign or the rights of the people? It would be a new era indeed, if enquiries touching the validity of elections or legality of returns, were to acquisit to the the concernment. If the Government were so grossly ignorant as not to know it, they ought to be teld, that in all cases of disputed returns, it ested with the people who believed themselves wronged, or with the Candidate who conceived he ought to have been returned, to bring their or his giverance before the House, by Petition; and, then, the time, mode, and manner of proceeding to enquire into the facts of the case, with a view to a just and constitutional decision thereof, would rest entirely with the House. The Hon. the Colonial Secretary was, certainly, either atterly ignorant of the rights of the people, or totally disregardful of them. For the Government, there was not a single precedent to be found, even in the days of terror and arbitrary rule. He (Hon. Mr. Palmer), hoped it would now be seen, by the people, who sat in the Assembly to protect their rights, and who, on the contrary, to subvert them, for the promotion of their private ands. If the electors had been improperly dealt with, and came before the House with a Petition, or if the disappointed candidates had taken before him, the proper mode of proceeding would be adopted by the House, and the whole question dealt, with irrespective of Government dictation. He deeply regretted that His Excellency should be surrounded by man so grossly ignorant of the rights of the people, or as fortally disregardful of them, as were his present advisers. It was indeed deply to be lamented that any one to whom was entrusted the discharge of the duties of so high and responsible a situation should be, in any way, influenced by the counsels of men so ignorant or so unscrupulous. Should the time arrive when the Return should be wanted by the House, they would ask for it by a Message to

With full reliance on the knowledge possessed by Your Excellency on matters affecting the constitutional privileges of the Representatives of the people, we humbly and respectfully request that your Excellency will decline to accede to the prayer of the Memorialists to Dissolve the present House of Assimbly.

[Of Memorial to Sir Alexander Bannerman, to Dissolve the recently elected House of Assembly.] MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY;

Wz humbly desire to convey to Your Excel-lency, as the Representative of our Most Gracious Sovereign in this Colony, an assurance of our con-tinued attachment to Her Majesty's Person and Government.

This feeling of loyalty and attachment is deepened and strengthened by the reflection, that on Your Excellency's assumption of the Government of this Colony, the principle of Exceutive Responsibility was conceded to the Inhabi-

by a majority of the newly elected members, for the purpose of having the Legislature convened at an early day, was, we think, in bad taste; an answer had been previously given to the requisitionists, which was matter of public notoriety, and any further members of it was therefore superfluous; and we should pass it by an unworthy of further comment, were into for the extraordinary, and, in our opinion, totally incorrect assertion that is therein contained. In this part of the Speech, the Lieut Governor is made to any, that his reason for not acceding to that request was "that such a departure from the usual course would have been constrated into an admission on his part that evile has arisen demanding an immediate change,—for one of your own statues, passed in years ago, is in force (as it was at the time of the Election) defining what are Departmental Offices." Now, we day that any definition of what are and what are not departmental offices can be gathered from that statute, which was passed to prevent offices of emolument being distributed by the Government, among members of the House of Assembly, thereby diverting their allegiance from their constituents, and making them subservient to the Crown to the prejudice of the people. A wholesome and constitutional pialousy, and well calculated to keep the Representative soft he People in continual mind whose servants they are and where interest they are beaund to keep constantly in view. The circumstance of the statute having been passed six years ago—three years before the system of governing by Heads of Departments bolding seats in the Lower House of Assembly, and the refore responsible to the people, was thought effect of the projunt of the correment will now graup at the straw which they see in the shape of filling the servant which they see in the happy, no constitutions the projunt of the Government will now graup at the straw which they see in the happy, no contains spon this point.

therefore responsible to the people, was thought and a conclusive spon this point.

That the present administrators of the Government administrators of the Government acanost understand why the Council should be excluded from participating, as they have hitherto done, in a share of the salaried or departmental pifices of the Government, is not at all to be wondered at, for their whole conduct from the beginning shows that they have been totally ignorant of the principles of Responsible or Reif Government, and of the principles tice by which such principles are to be consti ally carried out: the answer, however, may be given in a very few words, and it is this: because the members of the Legislative Council hold their seats at "the pleasure of the Crown," and are not responsible to the people. That the Colony has been for the last three years prospering, and therefore tranquil and contented, is a circumstance which we should rather to be too me principles of Removernment, to yield to the extraordinary and unconstitutional attempt of the memorialists to controul the opinions of the memorialists to controul the opinions of the majority of a newly elected House of Assembly, or to deprive that majority of the opportunity of carrying out, in all its integrity, the established system of Responsible Government, in such form and mauner as will prove most conducive to the general interests of the Inhabitants of the Colony.

With full reliance on the knowledge possessed by Your Excellency on matter possessed by Your Excellency on matter of the Inhabitants of the Colony. nave, as yet, no reason to doubt Mr. Stark's compe-tency, and can only wonder why his name was intro-duced into the Speech at all; his semi-annual reports and suggestions of improvement, and his lectures on Agricultural Chemistry, will best show whether any great benefit will result from his labors as a Visitor of Schools.

The allusion to the Sheriff's Return to the writ of election for the first district of Queen's County, is unconstitutional, indelicate and uncalled for; nor is it at all extenuated by the admission, that "its legality is a matter entirely for you to decide;" -- but it is of is a matter entirely for you to decide;"—but it is of a piece with the ignorance displayed by the Colonial Secretary, on his return to the House of Assembly, in moving for leave to lay before the House the Writ of Election for the 1st District of Queen's County; and the former was intended, we suppose, to pave the way for the latter. This unconstitutional interference of the Crown with the privileges of the Assembly has, and have to see hear not in respected the see we are happy to see, been met in a proper and b ing spirit by the firm, yet temperate resolution posed by Mr. Palmer, and adopted by the House.

vernment of this Colony, the principle of Executive Responsibility was conceded to the Inhabitants of this section of the Queen's dominions. For nearly three years that principle has been in operation, and the many important measures of reform of which it has been the precursor, have been productive, as was anticipated, of great advantages to the people of this Island.

Your Memorialists regret to perceive a disposition on the part of a majority of the present House of Assembly, now about to be convened,—as was evinced by their Address to Your Excellency, dated the 30th of September, praying for an early call of the Legislature,—to overturn the Constitution established under Your Excellency's and to introduce or re-establish a form posed by Mr. Falmer, and adopted by mr. Falmer, and adopted by mr. Falmer, and adopted by mposing—array of figures with respect to the flourishing condition of the Revenue, is totally out of place. It is the business of the mover of the Address in answer to the we have no great fault to find with. The question as to the duty on the export of juniper knees had better constitution established under Your Excellency's auspices, and to introduce or re-establish a form of Government, not congenial to the wishes, and destructive, as your Memorialists believe of the best interests of a majority of the Inhabitants of Prince Edward Island.

best interests of a majority of the Inhabitants of Prince Edward Island.

Wen humbly beg to assure Your Excellency, that, holding opinions, as we believe we do, in accordance with a verylarge majority of the people of this Island, our feelings and opinions are not represented by the fifteen geptlemen who signed the Address to Your Excellency, dated the 30th of September, assuming to be Representatives of the people,—some of those gentleman having been elected, as your Memorialists understand, in consideration of their promises to support the Government, as now established, and to secure to us and our posterity the continuance of Responsible Government in all its integrity.

We therefore carnestly benecch Your Excellency that you will not admit of any othough effected in the Constitution of the Country, nor yield to any voteof a majority of the Assembly, which may have a tendency to alter the political complexion, and introduce different principles into Your Excellency's Government, from those by which it is at present influenced, without first affording to your Memorialists, an opportunity, by means of another General Election, of rectifying the errors of the past, and deciding on the merits of the Party seeking to change Your Excellency's Government.

The Speech from the Throne, on Thursday, was one of the longest that we ever remember to have heard delivered on a similar occasion. It comprises, however, but four topics,—on each of which we shall offer a few remarks. Since the introduction of Responsible Government, the Speech at the opening of the Session has slways been considered by us as emanating from the Executive Council; and we shall always continue so to treat it, not holding the Government for the time being in any way personally responsible for the incorrectaces of the statements or opinions which may be therein promulgated. The allusion to the Requisition presented during the vacation by a unspirity of the newly elected members, for the purpose of having the Legislature convened that early day, was, we think, in bad taste; an answer had been previously given to the requisitionists, which was matter of public notoriety, and any further men-

On Wednesday last, the 5th February, instant, being Small Debt Court day at St. Elemen's, a Mr. John Adams, of Let 16, in Prince County, whilst at New' Hotel, produced a Letter, in the passence of several persons, and alleged it to have been written to him by His Excellency Sir Alex. Bannerman, requesting his (Adams) influence to obtain Signatures to the Petition for the Dissolution of the Assembly. It having come to my knowledge that His Excellency's name had been used for the same purpose in various other sections of the Island, I, this morning, deemed it my duty to wait upon His Excellency and acquaint him with what Mr. Adams had publicly stated, when His Excellency positively desired his having, at any time, authorized his pame or influence to be used in obtaining signatures to the Petition praying for a Dissolution of the Assembly; and further declared that Mr. Adams' statement was "a gross falsehood," as be had never written a letter to Mr. Adams upon any subject.

I am, Gentlemen, yours, &c.

T. Heath Baylland.

His Excellency has also been pleased to order the name of David Irving, Esquire, Cherry Valley, to be neerted in the Commission of the Peace for Queen's

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE-WEEKLY-ENLARGED.

ON the Tith of last April THE DAILY TRIBUNGATION, having complated its twelfth year, was believed more than one fourth, or to the size of The London Times making it considerably larger than any other chesp Daily published in this country or in the world. No change in price was made in consequence of this Engreunent—the paper being still ufforded to Mail Subscribers at $5 per annum and what to Carriers and to Agents ordering it by Express or Mail for distant sale at $1.50 for one hundred copies, or $15 per thousand copies, payable in advance. At these prices, our aggregate receipts for our entire Daily edition do not exceed the sums we pay for Paper and Ink, leaving all other expenses to be defrayed from our receipts for Advertising. In other worlds, we return to each gurchaser of our paper from us, his money's worth in the nathed sheet we send him, looking for the reward of our own labor and the heavy expenses of Telegraphing, Correspondence, Reporting, Composition, Printing, Mailing, Book-Reuping, Reit, &c., to our Advertisers alone. We do not think it now possible to cheapen newspapers beyond, this point; if it ever; shall be bereafter, we intend to be even with the foremast in demonstry. not think it now possible to cheapen newspa good this point; if it every shall be hereafter and to be even with the foremost in demonstra ting the fact. Out SEMI-WEEKLY, EUROPEAN and CALIFORNIA editions were enlarged simultane-cually and equally with the Daily, and also without any increase of price. We respectfully solicit a comparison of our Semi-Weekly at $3 per annum, [two copies east a full year for $5, and ten copies for $20,1 with any. $4 or $5. Semi-Weekly, and will cheerfully sead copies for this purpose upon directro post-paid application.

THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRI-THE ...WEW-YORK WEEKLY TRI-BUNE entered on its thirteenth year on the 2d of Soptember, it was enlarged to the size of the Semi-Weekly and Daily, adding more than one-fourth to its capacity—also without increase of price. This Enlargement adds at least $20,000 per annum to our expenses, in addition to the previous cost of our Daily Enlargement adds at least $20,000 per annum to our expenses, in addition to the previous cost of our Daily Enlargement already effected. All our editions from the let of September appeared in entirely new. and heantiful type, prepared expressly for this paper. Our Steam Cylinder Presses are not surpassed by any in the world. Even though our Weekly Edition should be rapidly run up to 100,000 copies, we are prepared to print and mail every copy on the day (Thareday) that the form is put to press, without interrupting or retarding the regular issue of our three Daily editions, amounting to Twenty-odd Thousand copies. We stand ready to adopt any improvements, however expensive, which will canable us to disseminate intelligence more freshly and effectively, and shall especially hall, as we labor to effect a radical improvement in the celerity and reliability of the Mails.

of the Mails.

THE TRIBUNE has not now its character to make or to proclaim. It has not been and never can be a mere party organ. It has supported the Whig party because the distinctive principles of that party appeared to favor the great ends which it has laboured to subserve; it never advocated a measure because it was proposed or austained by the Whig party. It holds itself at all times as free to condean unsound coinciplist, unwise measures or correct acts should it was proposed or sustained by the Whig party. It holds itself at all times as free to condenn unsound principles, unwise measures or corrupt acts should the two former be propounded or the latter perpetrated by Whigs' as though they had emanated from the hostile camp. In so far as Peace, Liberty, Edacation, Temperance, Internal Improvement and Industrial Development may be subserved by acting with the Whig party, it must continue to be, as it has been, Whig.

Though never acting with any Abolition or other one-idea party, THE TRIBUNE is and must be the relentless foo of Hunans Slavery, as of whatever else tends to degrade Labor and obstruct the intellectual and sacial development of any portion of mankind. Were it able to perceive that a vote in New-York could abolish Slavery in Carolina, it might attatch itself to some one of the expressly Anti-Slavery parties: lacking that light, it declines to abandon the substances for the shadow of political good. But while it does not see its way, clear of any effective Political action against Slavery in the States which now cherish it, it regards the defeat of whatever effort to extend the giant wrong under the flag of our Union, or to obstuct by its power the progress of Abolition in other lands, as among the most urgent and accred of public duties, not to be subordinated to any party consideration whatever. And, while it does not propose to make Anti-Slavery the basis of Aboutson in care lanes, as among the next argent and acred of public duties, not to be subordinated to any party consideration whatever. And, while it does not propose to make Anti-Slavery the basis of Political action, other than defensive, it will neglect no opportunity, remit no effort, so to diffuse Light and Truth as to render the continuance of Slavery impossible in a land irradiated by the sun of Christianity and boasting itself the great exemplar of Political Justice and law-guarded Freedom.

For Temperance in all things, but especially the disuss of Intoxicating Beverages and the legal suppression of the Liquor Traffic, we shall struggle, as we have struggled, unflinchingly and untringly. We regard the Maine Law as essentially the most beneficent statute of our day, and confidently hope to see it acous prevail aniversally.

The Congressional Reports and Washington Correspondence will, as heretofore, be both reliable and satisfactory.

respondence will, as heretofore, be both reliable and satisfactory.

The Markets for Grain, Cattle, Cotton and other s of the country, will receive proper attentively reported in THE TRIBUNE. On our correspondence with the most important points throughout the world we need not here dilate. Of the fact that our Associate, B.A.Y.ARD T.A.Y.L.O.R., is now on the other side of the globe, sending us advices from the seat of war in China, and expecting soon to depict for our readers the physical, moral and social characteristics of jealousy-guarded Japan, the public is already aware. He will probably return by way of Australia and California, in both of which we have several correspondents. Briefly—we shall spare he expense to keep our readers well adviced on every subject of interest, and doubt not that the same generous measure of patronage hitherto accorded to us will continue to correct the continue of the correct of the continue of the correct of the shall spare no expense to keep our renders well advised on every subject of interest, and doubt not that the same generous measure of patronage hitherto accorded to us will continue to repay all our exertions. Any friend who believes he will do good by increasing, the circulation of THE TRIBUNE is authorised to solicit and receive subscriptions; and, on the proof that money has been mailed and postipated to our address, we take the responsibility of its angle trainmission. GLEASON'S PICTORIAL.

ON the first of January next, Gleason's Pictorial will commence its sixth colume, and will appear vastly improved in all respects, with a saperb new heading, new type and dress throughout, and will be printed upon the finest paper. As the proprieter of the Pictorial has purchased the entire good will of Baruam's New York Illustrated News. and hes merged that journal in the Pictorial, the public will reap the advantage of this concentration of the strength of the two papers upon one, both in the artistic and the literary departments. The same brilliant host of contributors and attists will be engaged on Gleason's Pictorial as heretofore, and a large addition is also made to the corps, both in talent and number. The most liberal arrangements have been completed, and such as will enable the Proprietor to produce by far the finest illustrated journal yet published, and nuch superior to the present issue of the paper. The columns of the Pictorial will constantly be beautified by all that can please and instruct in art and nature, and its Pictorial will constantly be beautified by all that can please and instruct in art and nature, and its literary department will fully sustain the high reputation it has so long enjuyed.

The pages of Gleason's Pictorial will contain views of every populous city in the known world, of all buildings of note in the eastern or western hemisphere, of all the principal ships and stoamers of the navy and merchant service; with fine and accurate portraits of every noted character in the world, both male and female. Sketches of beautiful scenery, nale and female. From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and must say we found it specific its action upon diseases of the liver and digestive organ, and the powerful influence it exerts upon nervous prostration, is really surprising. It calms and strengthess the nerves, bringing them into a state of repose, making sleep refreshing.

If this medicine was more generally used, we are satisfied there would be less sickness, as from the stomach, liver and nervous system, the great majority of real and imaginary diseases emanate. HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

MOST ASTONISHING CURE OF SCROFULOUS ULCERS-A CASE CERTIFIED BY THE MAYOR OF BOSTON.

Copy of a Letter from J. Noble, Esq., Muyor Boston, Lincolnshire.

Boston, Lincolnshire.

To Professor Holloway,
Dear Sir,—Mrs. Sarah Dixon, of Liquorpond street, Boston, has this day deposed before me that for a considerable period she was severely afflicted with Serofulous Sores and Ulcers in her arms, feet, legs, and other parts of her body; and although the first of medical advice was obtained, at the cost of a large sum of money, she obtained no abatement of suffering, but gradually grew worse.

Being recommended by a friend to try your Ointment, she procured a small pot, and a box of the Pille, and before that was all used, symptome of amendment appeared. By persevering with the medicines for a short time longer, according to the directions, and strictly adhering to your rules, as to diet, &c. she was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health.

Sussex, dated January 12th, 1863.

To Professor Holloway,
Sir,—I suffered for a considerable period from a severe attack of Erysipelas, which at length settled in my leg, and resisted all medical treatment. My sufferings were very great, and I quite despaired of any permanent amendment, when I was advised to have recourse to your Ointment and Pills. I did so without delay, and am happy to say the result was eminently successful, for they effected a radical care of my leg and restored me to the enjoyment of health. I shall ever speak with the utmost confidence of your medicines, and have recommended them to others in this neighborhood similarly afflicted, who derived equat benefit.

AT MALTA AND PORTSMOUTH HOSPITALS.

The following important communication has been forwarded to Professor Holloway for publication, by Mr. B. Dixon, Chemist, King-st., Norwich.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Smith, of Great Yarmouth, dated January 19th, 1853.

To Mr. Dixon,

Dear Sir,—I send you the particulars of a cure effected by Professor Holloway's invaluable medicines:—Mr. John Walton, late in Her Majesty's Service, in the British Fleet at Malta, had a very bad ulcerated ancle, and after having been in the Malta Hospital for six months, was sent to England as an invalid to Portsmouth Hospital, where he remained an inmate four months, there, as at Malta, refusing to have the limb amputated, he was turned out incurable. He then came to Yarmouth, and was under a medical gentleman for about three months, but his ancle became so much worse that all hope was lost. At this period, by my advice, he tried Holloway's Oistment and Pills, which, by agremitted application, healed all the ulcers, and restored him to perfect health and strength.

AYER'S PILLS.

A VERC'S PILLS,

A NEW and singularly successful remedy for the Acure of all Billious diseases — Costiveness, Indigestion, Jaundice, Dropay, Rheumalism, Fevers, Gout, Humors, Nervousness, Irritability, Inflammations, Headache, Pains in the Breast, Side, Back, and Limbs, Female complaints, &c., &c. Indeed, very few are the diseases in which a Pargastive Medicine is not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented, if a harmless but effectual Cathartic were more freely used. No person can feel well while a constive habit of body prevails; besides it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might have been avoided by the timely and judicious use of a good purgative. This is alike true of Colds, Feverish symptoms, and Billous derangements. They all tend to become or produce the deep seated and formidable distempers which load the hearses all over the land. Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Fill has been perfected with consummats skill to meet that demand. An extensive stell of the selecus by Physiciana, Trofiscor. and Tattients, has shown recuills eurpassing anything litherto known of any medicine. Cures have been effected beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the auspicion of untruth.

Did space permit, we could give many hundred such names, from all parts where the Pills have been used, but evidence even more convincing than the certificates of these eminent public men is shown in their effects upon trial.

These Pills, the result of long investigation and study, are offered to the public as the best and most complete which. The present state of medical science can afford. They are compounded not of the drught themselves, but of the medicaln virtues only of Vegetable remedies, extracted by chemical process, in a state of parity and combined together in such a manner as to insure the best results. This system of composition for medicines has been found in the Cherry Festoral and Pills both, to produce a more efficient remedy than had hitherto been obtained by any process. The reason is perfectly obvious. While by the old mode of composition, over yuncdicine is hurdened with more or less of acrimonious and injurious qualifies hy this, each individual virtue only that is desired for the curative effect is present. All the inert and obnoxious qualities of each substance unployed are left behind, the
