MILITIA GENERAL ORDERS.

It is an open secret that since the inception of the MILITIA GAZETTE, Major Wm. P. Anderson, 43rd battalion, has been actively interested in its management, and particularly in the editorial work of the paper.

In consequence of the success which the GAZETTE has attained the duties of management have rapidly become more onerous, and Major Anderson has for this reason been reluctantly compelled to sever his connection, both editorial and financial, with the GAZETTE, and entrust it to a vigorous new management, under which it will be possible to pay increased attention to the many opportunities for its development, and by its improvement to enhance its value as an organ of the force the promotion of whose interests was the great aim of its establishment.

Major Anderson, in severing his connection with the GAZETTE, wishes us to state that he still remains in full sympathy with its objects, and will so far as opportunity permits aid us by his advice and experience, and he therefore bespeaks for the new management that cordial support which the GAZETTE has heretofore received. He also wishes to take this opportunity to thank those members of the force with whom he has been brought more immediately in contact for their uniform kindness to him personally, and for the valuable assistance which has always been so cheerfully rendered, and which has made his work for the paper a veritable labor of love.

WITH this issue the Canadian Militia Gazette enters upon the third year of its existence. We are happy to be able to state that the encouragement and support extended by the force have placed us in a position to promise an enlargement at no distant date, the pressure of advertising matter having rather crowded us for space in recent issues. Improvement in other respects may be looked for also, but we will say no more for the present than that in making the contemplated changes we will have always to be guided by the state of our exchequer, and that we can only incur increased expense in improving the publication in proportion as the support extended to us becomes more liberal.

Comment and Criticism.

A N officer who attended the camp of No. 3 military district at Kingston, has kindly written for us an interesting letter concerning the incidents of the period under canvas. It was not received in time for this issue, but will appear in our next. Similar favors from officers, or men, of other camps would be appreciated.

THE surgeons on duty at the recent camp at Ottawa have, we are pleased to hear, taken steps to impress upon the Militia Department the necessity of paying more attention to the health and comfort of the men called out to attend camp. At a meeting they held on Friday evening last a very full discussion took place concerning the matter. Amongst the chief topics touched upon were the scant issue of blankets, to which we referred in our last issue; the unsuitable nature of the head gear served out, and of the uniform generally for summer service, and the lack of medical supplies. Surgeon Moore, of the 41st, the principal medical officer, will present to the department a report embodying the recommendations agreed upon at the meeting.

T is sincerely to be hoped that this will not be the last of the matter. There are in the stores, we are informed, any quantity of medical supplies, and an order is only needed for the doctors to be equipped as fully as they could desire. But if the recommendations in the other respects be attended to, we fancy there will not be very great call upon the medicine chest. It would be expecting too much to think that a common sense summer uniform will be provided before another drill season, but the men will be better able to bear that now in use when they have served out to them sufficient blankets, so that they will not have to wear, as many do at present, unseasonably warm underclothing to guard against taking cold during sleep. Two blankets and a rubber sheet, as we recommended in our remarks on the subject last week, are what the surgeons consider should be served out to each man.

WE trust that when the principal medical officer makes his report it will be acted upon. Hospital staffs and ambulance corps are fine things in their way, but it is well to leave them as few opportunities as possible to get their work in. The soldier in the hospital tent or off parade on sick leave is not benefiting himself or the country, and it is much more profitable to go to a little expense and trouble to keep him in health than to cure him or pay him sick indemnity. The surgeons have done well in taking up the matter.

THE programme for the Dominion rifle association prize meeting this year has been published, and the books are now being distributed. The typographical appearance of the work is exceptionally neat, reflecting great credit upon the taste and skill of the printers.

THE details of the shooting programme, and also additions to and changes in the regulations made this year, appear in another place in this issue, together with a comparison of the bill of fare with that of last year. We fancy the compilers did not attend the "grievance" meeting of the competitors of 1886, for the desire then expressed concerning the introduction of Martini rifle competitions does not seem to have been fully understood. The general feeling seemed to be against the Snider rifle for 600 yards shooting, its reliability at that range being questioned. A resolution was passed asking that matches at ranges greater than 500 yards be shot with the Martini. There was little objection to the Snider for matches up to the distance just mentioned. But the way the competitors have been met is by giving them in the grand aggregate the same number of matches with the Snider at 600 yards as heretofore, and reducing the number at 500 to make way for a Martini match at the longer range. It will be found to be a mistake to curtail the shooting at 500 yards. Younger shots, to whom the association should cater, have better opportunities at that and are encouraged to come to the meeting to shoot at it. Having once done well they will always be ambitious to pay another visit to Rideau.

The Dominion Rifle Meeting.

THE prhgramme for the Dominion Rifle Association annual prize meeting for 1887, to open at the Rideau ranges, Ottawa, on the 20th August, has just been issued, and as usual we publish a synopsis of it for the information of our readers. Several important changes will be noted. The shooting will occupy five days, it being considered inexpedient to again crowd it into four as was done last year consequent upon the abolition of sighting shots. The last match in the grand aggre gate will be finished on Thursday, the 1st September; the Governor-General's match takes place first thing on the morning of the following day, and the afternoon will be left free for the distribution of prizes.

The prize list shows a further increase this year of some $650, if the Marquis of Lorne's special prize of $100 for British Columbia be deducted from the total for 1886. The increase is in the value of the prizes offered, the number remaining about the same. In the "Ouimet" and "Dominion of Canada" matches the lowest prizes are $5, in place of $4 as customary formerly, and in the "Standing" match, which formed an exception before with $3 as the value of the lowest prizes, these have now been increased to $4. In the provincial team competition for the London Merchants' Cup, the two prizes have been increased twenty-five per cent. in value simultaneously with the addition of a new range, 200 yards. The prizes for the revolver match, which last year had very few entries, have been reduced in number and value.

The shooting programme presents some radical changes. The most important of these is the introduction of Martini competitions into the grand aggregate. The "Ouimet" match, seven rounds at 600 yards, and the "Standing" match, seven rounds at 200 yards, will be fired with this weapon. The total number of shots remaining the same, the Snider aggregate has been thus much reduced, now comprising seven shots at 200 yards, in place of fourteen as last year; five at 400, same as before; twenty-one at 500, against 28; and twenty-six at 600 yards, as last year. While one Snider match at 600 yards was given over to the Martini, its place has been supplied by robbing the 500 yard range, the Rideau match being changed to 600.

The "heavy marching order" nuisance having been abated, the Gzowski military match, and that for the British challenge shield, which will now be fired in "drill order," are expected to excite much greater interest, and this time they have been given a prominent place in the programme, being set down for the afternoon of Tuesday, the second day of the meeting. All the riflemen being then present, and no other firing, except at long range extra series, being allowed that afternoon, there will be no impediment in the way of each and every corps having five representatives at the meeting entering a team. The smaller targets formerly used in these matches up to 250 yards have been abolished, and the targets will now be 6 ft. by 2 ft. 6 in. at all distances.

The London Merchants' Cup match, for teams of eight representing affiliated provincial associations, will this year for the first time be fired with Martini rifles, and also will be a three range match, 200, 500 and 600 yards, the 200 yards range being new.

In the Martini extra series matches there is a reduction in the number of prizes offered for the 500 and 600 yards competitions, and an increase for the longer ranges Two distinct matches at 800 and at 900 yards have been substituted for the one at those ranges combined which proved so bothersome last year.

In the general regulations for the conduct of the meeting the council have given more attention to the matter of dress, and have added to-section III, that uniform must be "in accordance with the regulations and orders of the militia," and also that "waist belts must be worn, except when firing."

"Blowing off" is to be allowed, not at the firing points, but at pitsto be provided at adjacent places "where competitors can blow off before joining their squads," upon presentation of tickets costing, with one round of ammunition, five cents each.

The regulations regarding rifles have an additional clause providing that on the back sight "temporary marks or lines of any kind, removable at pleasure, may be used, but" [new] "not consisting of slips of paper or other substance capable of being shifted or removed." Concerning position, an addition has been made providing that in standing the left elbow must be clear of the body. A new clause has been added to the regulations for the decision of ties, this being that when a "possible" score is made the maker shall fire three shots immediately after.

The Snider ammunition to be used will this year be served out by the register keepers, at the firing points, and the price has been included in the entrance fees. Martini ammunition will be for sale on the ground as usual. Entries at the published rate will be received by the secretary of the association, Lieut.-Col. Bacon, Militia Department, Ottawa, up to four o'clock on Wednesday, 24th August. Entries tendered subsequent to this will be received or not according to circumstances and at the discretion of the committee, and on all these an increased rate of 20 per cent. will be charged.

All competitors must be members of the association, either direct, for which the fee is $2, or by affiliation on payment of $1. The matches are open to all members except where otherwise specified.

The following table affords ready means of comparison between the number and value of prizes awarded in each competition last year and this:—

Jubilee Celebrations.

THE CAPITAL had a two days' celebration of the jubilee, on the 30th June and 1st of July, and on each day military demonstrations formed important features. On the 30th the corps in attendance at the brigade camp were reviewed on Cartier Square, being put through by Lieut. Col. Lamontagne, D.A.G. Major-General Middleton, and Col. Panet, deputy Minister of Militia, were amongst the officers who were present. The major-general was attended by Capt. Wise, A.D.C., and Capt. Gourdeau of the P.L.D.G., while Lieut. Brown, of the last named corps, was in attendance on Col. Panet. The officers of the brigade staff who took part in the review, were, besides the D.A.G., Lieut.-Col. Lewis, brigade major; Lieut.-Col. Bredin, 59th, camp Qr.-Mr.; Major Todd, G.G.F.G., musketry instructor; and Surgeon Moore, 41st Batt., the principal medical officer. The review was not a success from a military standpoint, the rifle brigade as a whole showing anything but proficiency in drill. The Prescott Cavalry and the Ottawa Field Battery excelled, however, and carried out their part in a manner which evoked hearty applause. Their marching past at quick time and at the double was grand, and the cavalry wheeled at the double in a perfect line. The day was oppressively warm, and the ambulance corps were kept busy carrying to the rear riflemen who could not stand the temperature in the unserviceable uniform they are compelled to were.

On the morning of Dominion Day the Major-General inspected the Fifth Royal Scots of Montreal, this event also taking place on Cartier Square. The Scots had left Montreal at nine o'clock the previous evening, but their "special" was unfortunate, and they only reached Ottawa at about four a.m. A detachment of the Governor-General's Foot Guards under command of Col. Macpherson, went to the Canada Atlantic station at midnight, to await the arrival of the visitors and escort them into the city, but at one o'clock Col. Macpherson received a telegram sent by Col. Caverhill from Coteau, stating that the Scots would be very late in arriving, thanking the Guards for their kind intentions, and advising them not to wait longer. This good advice was taken, and the Guards returned home, except the colonel and some of the other officers whs remained at the drill hall until the Scots arrived there at about five o'clock in the morning, and did all in their power to make the officers of the latter battalion as comfortable as possible. A special lunch for the officers had been prepared in the Guards' orderly room, while the men were well looked after in the main body of the hall, where well spread tables were awaiting their arrival.

As a mark of attention to the visiting corps the Guards turned out in full dress uniform, Major Todd commanding, for the morning review. Finding the great crowd which had assembled on the square pressing in so upon the Scots that they could not with comfort perform any movements, the Guards proceeded to make themselves of service to their visiting comrades in arms, and soon cleared that portion of the square flagged ous for the review. Having cleared the space they remained in extended order and prevented encroachments by the crowd.

The Scots passed a fine inspection, the Major-General expressing himself as highly pleased with them A fine strapping body of men, they would look well in any uniform, but their Scottish costume shows them off to double advantage. They are well drilled and marched past in quick time to the stirring strains of "The Campbells are Coming," and subsequently at the double, with rare steadiness and perfect dressing. The spectators were quite taken with the kilted laddies, aud gave them round after round of well deserved applause. Besides Col. Caverhill, Major Lyman and Capt. Hood were called upon to put the battalion through various movements. After the inspection the Scots marched through the principal streets, being followed all the way by a great crowd anxious to drink in the music of the bag pipes and full of wonder and admiration at the marvellous extent and equipment of the Drum Major.

The afternoon was spent in seeing the sights of the city, or in attendance at the sports at Lansdowne Park, where there were several events specially for the military, with handsome prizes offered. Scots succeeded in winning the gold cup given for the tug of war contest, in which twelve men a side defeated the 43rd Rifles' team, taking

In the bayonet exercise competition, for squads of twelve, that from the Ottawa company of the Rifles did the work better than the team of the Scots, who were second, or that of the Arnprior company, those three being the only competitors; but the two cups, gold and silver, have not yet been awarded, on account of a protest entered. The Ottawa company's team had two sergeants in the ranks, and should thus be disqualified it is claimed; the Arnprior company had also a sergeant, and would similarly suffer, and the Scots, it is claimed, had a battalion team, not a company team as it should have been, and consequently they too were not eligible or entitled to either of the trophies. The committee are a bit perplexed what to do under the circumstances.

The other military sports, with the winners, were as follows:

Skirmishing race, quarter mile.—Entries, W. Kerr, 5th R.S.; Corpls. Dowler and Heron, No. 4 Co., 43rd Batt. In this race the men had to kneel and fire five Dowler came in first, with Heron a good second, and Kerr a fair third. Prizes, 1st gold medal, 2nd silver medal.

Pitching tents.—Entries, one squad from the P.L.D.G. and two from No. 1 Co. of the 43rd Rifles. Time: Squad 1 of the Rifles, 5.20 minutes; squad 2 5.33 minutes. The P.L.D.G. men did not complete their task. The winning team was composed as under: Sergt. Grant, Corpl. Bray, Ptes. Jones, Nunn, Taylor. Prizes, 1st, gold cup; 2nd, silver cup.

Hurdle Jumping—1st Trooper Gordon, P.L.D.G.; 2nd, Sergt. Rogers, P.L.D.G.; 3rd, Sergt. Miller, Prescott Cavalry—height 4 ft. 6in.

The Scots left for home at eleven o'clock in the evening, well pleased with their visit to Ottawa, whose citizens were also well pleased with their guests. While the regiment were drawn up at the station preparatory to entering the cars, Mayor McLeod Stewart made a brief address, thanking the Scots for having come and helped to swell the success of Ottawa's jubilee celebration. He also complimented the men upon their appearance and the manner in which they had conducted themselves while in Ottawa. A Scot himself, his heart swelled with pride as he beheld them. Col. Caverhill called for three cheers for the Mayor, which were heartily given, and the Scots then embarked, the band, stationed on the platform, playing "Auld Lang Syne" as the men bid farewell to their newly formed acquaintances or old friends in Ottawa, and entered the cars to return home.

MILITARY JUBILEE AT QUEBEC.

A grand military tournament of mounted and dismounted sports open to B Battery, R.C.A., and the cavalry school corps, was held on the plains of Abraham, Quebec, on the 21st June, in honor of the Queen's jubilee. There being no other celebration in town, the race course was crowded, all Quebec turning out; the track being lined with carriages three and four deep, and the grand stand (reserved for ladies only), in its gala dress of flags and pennants, was crowded with the youth and beauty of Quebec.

The marquee and tents for the use of competitors, with the grassy plains and noble river beyond, formed a picturesque back ground to the beautiful and stirring picture. The band of B Battery added greatly to the pleasure of the spectators by playing a choice selection at intervals during the afternoon. The weather was quite threatening during the afternoon, but the rain fortunately kept off until after the conclusion of the fun. Major Short, commanding B Battery R.C.A., to whose energy and exertions the happy result of the afternoon was mainly due, must feel gratified that his attempt to afford Quebec a jubilee entertainment was so thorough and unqualified in success. The Quebec Chronicle gives the following account of the sports and list of prize winners:

THE NINETIETH CLASS FIRING.

Winnipeg.—The annual class firing of the Ninetieth Batt. Winnipeg Rifles took place at the Stony Mountain range last week. In previous years each company did its firing separately, but this year it was decided to place them side by side on the ranges and under precisely similar circumstances let them struggle for the mastery. The results justified the innovation, for the trip to Stony Mountain was not only extremely pleasant but likewise profitable. The rivalry between the companies is rendered much keener by meeting on the range in a trial of skill, and is expected to result in increased proficiency in the use of the rifle.

The battalion paraded at the drill shed at 8.30 and marched some 240 strong, exclusive of officers and the band, to the station, where a special railway train met them and speedily conveyed them to Stony Mountain. They marched up to the ranges to martial strains played by the band, and upon arriving there they without much delay got to work. In order to keep all the targets going A and B companies began firing at the 200 yards distance, while the others took up their positions at the 400 yards range. The day was in most respects a good one for the purpose. It was clear and bright, and the only interference was a wind occasionally violent, which blew diagonally down the field and bothered the marksmen to a considerable extent, especially the new hands. Owing to the great number of contestants and the slowness which characterized the working of the targets, the battalion had to remain much longer than had been anticipated, and finally darkness fell before all the companies had completed their scores. The result of the competition is therefore not definitely decided.

The company whose highest men make the best aggregate will hold the handsome challenge shield until next year's contest. The highest individual score in the regiment will have the cross rifles with a crown attached to his sleeve as a memento of his prowess; and the men who head the scores in each company will also be given the cross rifle badge.

About 10 o'clock the train was boarded, and the city was reached half an hour later, the boys passing the time coming in by singing some of the pieces contained in the extensive musical repertoire of the Ninetieth. The battalion marched up street and dispersed for their homes about eleven o'clock.

Major Bedson enterteined Colonel Boswell and officers of the battalion at dinner.
