Governors-General to Have Status of Viceroy Is One Result of Lord Byng's Precedent Established at Last Elections Here

By HERBERT BAILEY LONDON, Nov. 20.— The report on inter-imperial relations, drafted by Lord Balfour, which is one of the most momentous documents ever issued by an Imperial conference, is a triumph not only for Canada's national attiti de towards the constitutional problems of the British Empire, but also the tact, skill and constitutional knowledge of the Canadian delegation.

This is the opinion expressed in the highest circles today. Not only has Mackenzie King obtained for Canada all that he wanted, but he has also supported the aspirations of other Dominions like but he has also supported the aspirations of other Dominions like Ireland and South Africa, thereby solidifying the unity of the Em-pire as well as exerting a restraining influence over elements that threaten to disturb Imperial unity.

PORT MUSINGS

WITH the arrival of the C. G. M. M. steamer Canadian Leader, due here today, the port of Saint John will stir from its summer lethargy and awake to its usual winter activity. The scream and roar of winch and derrick will cause a welcome disturbance through the night and day hours along the western waterfront. Busy tugs will scurry up and down and across the tide, going in quest of, or returning with their overshadowing loads. Street cars and ferries, morning and evening, will carry their extra burdens of flour and dust-covered sons of toil, their grabhooks hanging from their shoulders. Giant ocean liners will set forth from here to the markets of the world and return with their rich import cargoes. The waiting list at the employment office will dwindle practically to the ineligible. The business folks will again wear the smile of contented optimism.

Saint John will have taken on its winter atmosphere and its citizens will be given rich food for thought. They will see the prosperity which the annual winter port business brings, and they will say, "Why must any of cur Canadian traffic be sent overseas through a foreign port? Why addressed to Premier Baxter, calling for the strict cannot we enjoy a measure of this activity

The system, although in theory excellent, has tended to make the immigrant feel that the State has assumed responsibility for him by helping him to leave his old home." Certainly the onlookers see most of the game, but in this case one cannot avoid the feeling that the spectator has fastened on an exception or so, deduced therefrom a false generalization, and condemned something which in result one has regarded as eminently satisfactory.

"Like any other business enterprises, our community is subject to the same rules and regulations in regard to purpose, organization, manage-ment and guidance. To function properly the city must be self-sustaining to such an extent as to provide and supply adequately its population with all the necessities of a civilized human existence. "This supply is commonly known as the local market of the community, and its bulk is limited in accordance with the economic status, intellectuality, and industriousness of its population." * * *

The activities of the population he divides into two distinctive cardinal groups, the first of which he terms a fundamental or basic group, which includes:

1.-Food in all its varied modern preparations 2 .- Wearing apparel to suit all tastes, season and climates.

3 .- Dwellings of all descriptions for industry, usiness, habitations, for residence and visitors. 4.—Means of communication in a modern sense 5.-Means of distribution of commodities. 6.—All agencies that serve the intellectual, ioral, spiritual and health wants of the people. 7.—Agencies of public relations and administra-

On the basic group he places the responsibility for determining the character, possible growth and prosperity of the community and says that although the growth of the group may have certain limitations, where proper energy is applied it is almost limitless. * * *

Turning to the question of opportunities he declares that, as a rule, every city has some ad-vantages and it is therefore to the interest of the people of the community to make the most of opportunities to develop the basic group to facilities to handle all the traffic offering, is there any reason why we should not be provided with chief inspector under the Prohibition Act has all the facilities necessary? Is nationalization the solution to these questions?"

Perhaps the Duncan report will have something to say on the matter, but, regardless of whether or not any real betterment accrues from that source, the whole of Canada should have sufficient. data now to see the necessity for the development of Atlantic ports on an extensive national basis. This accomplished, the port of Saint John should become a complete, all-the-year-around Canadian outlet.

TRAFFIC AND SKYSCRAPERS

OBSERVATION of our elders ought to teach us equally how not to do things and how to do them. Because a certain course has been adopted, even because it has been accepted as correct, does not necessarily prove its correctness. When faced with deciding on a course of action wherein precedent has already been established, it is well to examine what objections have been laid against it.

If all goes as we hope and expect, Saint John is on the eve of a great expansion. How is it going to expand architecturally-in a vertical or a horizontal direction? It were well to have in advance of need some ideal at which we intend to aim, to plan our building expansion along predetermined lines, not haphazard nor on decisions insufficiently debated beforehand. The cities of the United States, and the city of New York in particular, have led the way in vertical expansion. Have they gone to extremes in this direction and account. thereby created for themselves other problems more difficult of solution than that of accommodation?

Has the skyscraper caused the appalling con gestion noticeable in the cities of the United States? A Mr. Miller of New York, a borough president, is in favor of them, but says that to have many more of them New Yorkers would have to live underground. Mr. W. B. Harmon, of the Harmon National Real Estate Corporation, says that the skyscraper has proved that the first two storeys of a building are the revenue producing storeys, and that above that only enough income is produced to pay the interest on the investment in construction. Mr. Herbert Adams, of the Regional Plan for New York, says that although skyscrapers "were a small part of the city and did not seem to be the greatest cause of congestion, they might in the future threaten the life of the city itself."

Mr. Robert A. Pope, an engineer and member of the American Town Planning Association, declares:

"No solution of the skyscraper problem will he reached until city authorities determine the traffic capacity of streets in various parts of the city and then arbitrarily limit the height of buildings so as not to 'overload' the streets. The only city plan that dealt with the height of buildings, had been formed with regard to light and air and not at all with regard to traffic, which should be the scientific basis for any height limitation. Natural laws are to a certain extent curbing the had influence of the skyscraper, because the present congestion is proving so uneconomic that it is driving business from New York and causing many office buildings which formerly would have been located in the heart of Manhattan to be built in Brooklyn, or even in Jersey City."

So, quite apart from the light, air and noise considerations of vertical town planning, we find that form of expansion one of the direct causes of traffic congestion, and this includes not only street traffic, but that of subways and elevated. It stands to reason that it must be so. If you take a superficial area where at present, say, or pleasure, and multiply that number of people by, say, five, congestion of approaches will only of a desert. In a city it means that existing communications must bear five times the traffic. On

Canada's Population Problem PUBLIC POLICIES AND PUBLIC OPINION-THE BACKDOOR TO THE

NOTE: The Times-Star today takes pleasure in presenting below the first of a series of articles on Canada's population problem writ-ten by Mr. C. W. Peterson, an ac-knowledged authority on this sub-ject. These articles form an able analytical study of this all import-ant problem, and while they embody the Western viewpoint they will prove both interesting and illumin-ating to all Maritime readers. Every phase of the questions of population and immigration is discussed quite frankly and every Maritimer should read the series with profit. The second article will appear in next Wednesday's issue of the Times-Star.

Although Modern Children Must Live the Life of Their Age, Parents Can Teach Them to Take Their Pleasures in Moderation, Give Them Standards to Attain, and Develop in Them the Strength to Live Up to Their Ideals.

PERHAPS there never was a time in the whole history of the world when there was such a crying need for wise fathers and mothers, or when parents seemed so little able to deal intelligently with the child-rearing oblem as now.

When we look at the young people of today it appears that parents are divided into two groups: those who give their children unbridled liberty and license and exert no authority over them, and those who give their children no freedom whatever and enforce the tyranny of the Middle Ages over them. And which system works out most disastrously nobody can tell.

ON ONE side we see boys and girls, still in their teens, going the pace that kills. And just because they are too young and too ignorant to realize what they are doing, they commit ex-cesses that appall even an old rounder.

THEY have high-powered cars in which they are out joyriding until all hours of the night. They have petting parties and booze parties. They have no respect for any law of God or man, and, in their own expressive slang, they tell their parents where they get off.

A ND, on the other hand, we see parents who are so horrified at what these uncontrolled youngsters do that they put the rews on their own boys and girls and crush every particle of cleasure out of their lives.

THEY will not let their daughters go to a party or a dance, or have a date with a young man. They will not let a young man come to the house, and the consequence is that the girl slips out of the back door and meet house of the start of th meets boys on the street corner. And because her pleasures are forbidden and dangerous, she goes farther than the wildest of the wild girls.

'TOPSY and Eva" christened Rosetta and Vivian Duncan, are the latest musical comedy stars to sign film contracts. These sisters having met with considerable success in the stage piece, "Topsy and Eva," are go-ing to make a film version of it for United Artists as the first of a series of pictures.

Vivian Duncan plays the dainty, angelic "Eva" and Rosetta, the hoy-den, "Topsy." As soon as the script is finished they will start work in Hollywood. Meanwhile they are con-. tinuing to appear on the stage. Musical comedies with a little mak-ing over frequently form the basis for a good movie. Colleen Moore scored a hit in "Sally." "Sally, Irene and a hit in "Sally." "Sally, Irene and Mary," and "Kid Boots," are among the more recent motion pictures adapted from musical shows.

Gloria Swanson has to undergo an operation—but it will only be a "reel" operation—in a scene in "Sunya," her first United Artists' picture. Two real surgeons with assistants and nurses from a New York hospital will be used to lend an air of reality when the scene is shot.

Neil Hamilton has been loaned by Famous Players to Fox Films to play the part of the aristocratic Beverly Cruger in "The Music Master," the story that was a sensation ten or fifteen years ago when David Warfield teen years ago when David Warheld toured the country in it. Helene, the daughter, will be played by Lois Moran and Alec B. Francis has been cast in the role made famous by War-because of the way he was raised. I have heard dozens of such men say: "I was as poor as a dog when I I have heard dozens of such men say: "I was as poor as a dog when I was a child, I never had any decent clothes. I never had a penny of spend-ing money. I used to envy a little kid that I knew who had a pony. I had to go to work when I was 14 years old. I never had a college education and I don't want my children to go through the hardships that I did."

and I don't want my children to go through the hardships that I did." So he lavishes money as if it were water upon his children. He buys them imported cars while they are still mere infants, and they go tearing around breaking the speed laws. He sends them to college and gives them enormous allowances, and they learn nothing but how to be wasteful. He requires nothing of them, and they grow up to be idle, worthless cumberers of society, who know no law but their own pleasure. Such scientific studies indicate that the results of human activity vary with the type of work performed. Physical work improves as the muscles become lorsened and warm up, but falls with the type of work is found to be striking and definite. Correct illumination means a lesser number of accidents

SUCH parents cannot see that the struggle they had to make, the difficulties they had to surmount, the self-denial they had to practice, have made them the successful men and women they are, and that they do their children a deadly wrong when they stand between them and the things that make character. Prize-fighters are not trained in silken boudoirs and by loung-ing about on down cushions. It takes hard work and strenuous exercise to develop muscle. And the reason why there are so many flabby-souled men and women who turn quitters and have not the grit and courage and strength to stand up and fight the battle of life, is because their parents have weakened their morale and made them namby-pambles by protecting them from every hardship. them namby-pambies by protecting them from every hardship.

BUT if the too-soft parents ruin their children, so do the too-harsh ones. It is foolish for fathers and mothers not to realize that a new order prevails, and that children cannot be reared in the same fashion that their grandparents were.

The days of slavery are over. Parents no longer can exercise supreme The days of slavery are over. Parents no longer can exercise supreme authority over their children. You can't lock a girl up in a tower and feed her on bread and water until you bring her to submission nowadays, nor does the threat of turning the maiden out of doors terrify her. She already has a job, and she will just get a room at the Y. W. C. A. or set up a little flat with another girl. All that the stern father can do is to drive his children away from home and deprive the girls of the protection that the children away from home and deprive the girls of the protection that the background of a home gives her.

TO A CERTAIN extent, the boys and girls are going to do what all the other boys and girls are doing, because we must all live the life of our age. We belong to our day and are molded by our environment. Wise parents realize that they cannot help this. It is a fact they cannot alter.

is a fact they cannot alter. But they can modify the effect of the times on their children. They can teach them self-control. They can teach them to take their pleasures in moderation. They can give them standards to five by and ideals to struggle up to, and they can develop in them the strength to live up to their ideals.

PARENTS who are neither too easy nor too hard, who drive with a light rein but a strong hand, who have the wisdom to see their duty to their children and the strength to do it, that is the greatest need of today.

WU PEI-FU. Wu Pei-Fu, perhaps the greatest military man in all China in spite of misfortunes following the Feng Yu-hsiang of 1924, is a man of genuine culture. He is remarkably skilful in writing the graceful Chinese characters, and this is in itself one of the most approved of all ancient classics and patterns upon them in framing mili-tary campaigns and other plans. Like-wise, he is a keen student of philosophy and something of a philosopher in his imparting a suggestion of fullness above the waistline, with a straighter, slim line from the waist down, is cleverly carried out in the model sketched above. Deep blue velour is the material used, while the flat seams with coarse stitching are a smart feat-ure. The fullness is imparted by a loose cut of the ragian sleeves, ending in a slight blouse at either side of the waist. The collar and cuffs and something of a philosopher in his are of black caracul. Nurse of Health Centre Staff Accepts Position at Wilmington

Miss Mary Murdoch, nurse of the Health Centre staff, leaves the city at the end of the present month to take When the very responsible duties of superintendent of the Visiting Nurses' Association of Wilmington, Delaware. The association is a public health or-ganization and Miss Murdoch will have the oversight of 16 nurses, whose duties include general public health nursing in all its bracnhes, besides nursing, conducting mothers' classes and nutrition classes and giving instruction in occu-pational therapy to the bed-ridden pa-tients and shut-ins in their own homes. In this last branch of their work the nurses teach arts and crafts which the shut-ins can use to employ the time, aid in their own support and help them to keep in a happy mentality.

WILL BE MISSED.

Miss Murdoch will be much missed in Saint John where she has been con-nected with the Health Centre staff for nearly three years. She is a daughter of Mrs. William Murdoch, Leinster street, and received her early training in nursing at the General Public Hos-pital in Saint John where her sister is now superintendent of nurses. Awards Are Made In Connection With Wallace Nesbit Competition Yesterday at the lunch hour a pleasing little ceremony took place in Rothesay Collegiate school, when a group of four students was presented with silver medals for winning the New Brunswick championship in the cadet branch of the Wallace Nesbit all-Canada competition in first aid work, under St. John Ambulance Association's general supervision. In a very happy speech Colonel W. B. Anderson, Officer Commanding Miiltary District No. 7, pinned silver marksmanship, and complimented the Dominion Rifle Association circles for ladies of the Rothesay Collegiate for their high averages, stating that the institution had been ranking high in on behalf of the lads.

ease from which she suffered for 10 years. Through sympathy for other sufferers she has issued a statement telling how, after four doctors and numerous medicines failed to help her, she finally tried the Ovelmo combination treatment and found the blessed relief she sought. "I was sick in bed," the eczema which had spread all over my body. Ovelmo brought about my plete recovery. I cannot praise it too highly."

Mrs. Weaver is but one of over 35,000 former sufferers who have issued similar statements of results obtained from this remarkable treatment, which can now be obtained at any good drug store. It stops itching and soothes burning and soreness at once and causes rapid healing of the lesions. The eruption fades and vanishes, leaving the skin soft, clear and smooth. Ovelmo also improves digestion and puri-fies the blood and druggists sell the complete treatment with a guarantee of prompt results or money back. It is wonderful for eczema, itch, tetter, salt rheum and kindred skin diseases and is particularly recommended for severe, stubborn cases of long standing.

The Pride of a Custom Car at the Price of a Conventional Car

A MASTERPIECE of custom design, built close to the road and as close to perfection as mortals can come-the Studebaker Custom Sedan.

The greyhound grace of a long, low-swung custom body-agleam with the beauty of pinstriped duotone lacquers-sumptuously upholstered in fine Chase mohair with broadlace trim-and decorated with that feminine touch which is just as necessary in the interior of a Sedan as it is in achieving luxury and comfort in a home!

Disc wheels, pin-striped to har-monize with the coachworkfour-wheel brakes and two-beam acorn headlights-a ventilating windshield (exclusively Studebaker) which insures fresh air without drafts or moisture-and the security and stamina of the quiet Studebaker L-head motor whose mile-age records vividly demonstrate Studebaker's policy of making good with the public by makingbetter in the plant. The smooth flow of power and absolute freedom from vibration which have long characterized the Studebaker L-head engine, are insured by Studebaker's big crankshaft, fully machined and dynamically balanced.

Poised on the radiator is the silvered emblem of Atalanta, twofold symbol of graceful speed and competitive STUDEBAKER futility!

FUGAZY VERY OPTIMISTIC.

Times-Star boys have been lording it over their typographical breth-ren but the feminine brand of knocking 'em over shown last night by Mrs. Sulis, and the Misses Corber, Culley, Scott and Cawley proved too much for the linotype crew and they bit the dust by a fairly safe margin. A return match is planned. The boys tried to fool the public by playing under an assumed name but a lively young reporter heard of the affair and takes pleasure in showing them up. This team of ladies played two games last year with Moncton girls and was forced to bow to the superior bowling prowess of their sisters from the Railway Fugazy left the conference appearing well satisfied and highly optimistic over his chances of promoting the big pugilistic plum for 1927. Figures furnished by the Financial Post prove that newsprint production in Canada up to October 31 was ahead of the whole twelve months of last year. Production is up in the States, but Canada has captured the lead. Well above 99 per cent. of the output is reported sold and shipped.

The newsprint industry is coming Canada's way every day. For over twenty years a rising market, a gradually declining supply of raw material. With enough for 50 years arranged for, the Ste Anne Paper Co. has the power, the plant, the pulpwood and water transport to market. A big undertaking backed by the big news-print companies.
