Lloyd George Has Sore Throat; He Must Take Rest

AGAIN BLAME IS PUT ON CATGUT

In This Toronto Case Coroner's Verdict is Death by Tetanus and Malignant Oedema.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—In view of the recent intense interest in the deaths throughout the Dominion of persons from a disease, the symptoms of which were apparently those of tetanus, although no tetanus germs have been found, an investigation was held last night by Coroner Clendinning into the death of Thomas Seymour, which was even more satisfactory than that held on Oct. 20 on Dr. Norman Allen, prominent Toronto surgeon, who died from tetanus while recovering from an operation.

IS CONVICTED OF SEITIOUS UTTERANCES

Toronto Judge Hopes Man Who Won D. C. M. Will Pledge Not to Repeat the Offence.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Trevor Maguire, D. C. M., labor candidate in the recent by-election in Southeast Toronto and a member of the Workers Party of Canada, was last night convicted of seditious utterances by a jury sitting in assizes under Mr. Justice Riddell. A strong recommendation to mercy was added. The case arose out of a May day celebration when a police force sergeant, W. J. Wells, took down an extract of Maguire's speech, including the following: "In looking around this British Empire (vampire) would be a better name we find it has committed untold atrocities in India, Egypt and other countries, including Canada and against Soviet Russia."

ENOUGH COAL IN CANADA FOR 30,000 YEARS

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Canadian Press)—"Canada has sufficient coal to last 30,000 years," said Dr. Charles Campbell to the Canadian Press last night. He is deputy minister of mines and chairman of a special committee of government scientists empowered to investigate the possibility of adapting Canada's bituminous to furnace use as a means of relieving the situation in the acute coal area. The "acute coal area," he explained, stretched from the western boundaries of Manitoba to Montreal, and it was within these limits that the demand for some solution was the most pressing.

FOOL JOKE IS CAUSE OF DEATH

Someone Removed Danger Signal and Doctor Killed in Auto Crash.

Simcoe, Ont. Nov. 1.—A perverted sense of humor was the cause of the death of Dr. John Jacques of Fisherville and the narrow escape of his son from sharing the same fate on Sunday afternoon. From the number of fish-er-ry boats on the lake, it was brought out that some practical joker had removed a red light which was hung on the barrier across the road at Nantkoke Creek, near Fisherville, where the contractor had demolished an old bridge, preparatory to installing a new structure. The light was found later hanging on the Garnet bridge, six miles from the place where the car driven by Dr. Jacques plunged into the creek.

Jordan Mill At Pleasant Point Is Troop of Flames

Entire Plant Wiped Out at the Noon Hour and Large Quantity of Lumber Also Destroyed.

The entire plant of the Jordan Mill at Pleasant Point, opposite Indiantown, owned by Stetson Cutler & Co., Ltd., together with at least 100,000 feet of lumber, was destroyed by fire this forenoon. Millions of feet of manufactured lumber and many houses in the vicinity were damaged by the flames for a time. Assistance in keeping the fire from spreading to the surrounding properties was given by the city fire department which sent several pieces of apparatus to the scene. A motor engine was engaged in pumping water from a small pond in the vicinity on the houses in the danger zone. At 2 p. m. the fire was working its way through the lumber piles towards the river and had already swept through a large portion of the new cut, as well as consuming much of the lumber stored in the yards. A pile of laths had also been attacked and they were burning briskly. It was planned to cut a lane, fifty or more feet wide, through the lumber piles, in an effort to save some of the stock. In the meantime a call was sent to the city fire department which sent several pieces of apparatus to the scene. "We're gonzo hev a noo preacher," said Hiram. "Ah," said the reporter, "the present pasty called 'elsewhere'?" "He don't suit," said Hiram. "Really," said the reporter, "that is too soon. What is the trouble?" "He don't interpet the Scrip'tur the way Silo Jonez wants it done," said Hiram. "Silo knows all about the Scrip'tur. New Leader Says Every Effort will be Bent to Restore Country to Better Economic Basis—Next Question is Support in Parliament.

(Canadian Press Cable). Rome, Nov. 1.—Italy was on the road back to normalcy today after a most exhilarating week that saw the younger generation rise to power and in a great triumph overthrow the older politicians. Tens of thousands of the vigorous young Fascisti and their enthusiastic admirers who accompanied them here from all over the land went on the way back to their homes today. Today the hour of triumph gave way to the drab business of toll. Dr. Mussolini was on the job early, and he said he was going to see to it that everybody else engaged in the business of the nation followed suit. He made it plain that he was going to rule with an iron hand that Italy might the sooner be restored to a better economic basis, and a more powerful place in international affairs.

Mexico City, Nov. 1.—An urgent call for help was received by the federal government yesterday from the governor of Quintana Roo, eastern province of Yucatan, who telegraphed that the entire coast has been lashed for the last week by severe storms, which have destroyed property and crops and caused some loss of life. The islands of Mujeres and Cozumel, off the Quintana Roo coast, have been swept bare, said the message, and the inhabitants are suffering from hunger. Newspaper dispatches from Yucatan say several small vessels have foundered in the gales sweeping the Gulf of Yucatan for seventy-two hours.

TRAINING FOR RURAL PUPILS.
Indiana Devotes Intensive Course For Teachers in Country Schools.

New York, Nov. 1.—The many rural schools in Indiana having only one or two or three teachers has resulted in the State Department of Public Instruction establishing a special course by which teachers for these schools may be trained in short terms. The plan as worked out by the authorities is a short intensive training that will give pointed and specific training for teaching in these rural schools.

The courses are divided into terms of twelve weeks each. A student teacher who has completed a twelve week course is entitled to a Class A certificate; one who remains for a second twelve week period is given a Class B certificate. Plans have also been suggested for a third course, which would allow teaching in larger schools. The curriculum for these courses was prepared by the State department, aided by educators from Indiana colleges and normal schools who are familiar with conditions.

Students who receive only this limited preparation may teach only those rural schools which are not directly connected with a high school. The courses are intended for students preparing to teach in schools where there are one, two, or three teachers. The first twelve weeks are planned to give the beginning teacher practical preparation for work in a one-teacher school in the open country. These Class A courses include rural teaching and organization, primary methods, reading, arithmetic, and some music, drawing, writing, agriculture, and physical education.

Problems in management of a rural school, such as construction of a programme, promotion and graduation of children, discipline, attendance, home conditions, and school sanitation and hygiene are taken up during the course. Illustrative drawings, plans, objects, and the materials actually used by the teacher in a rural school are used in

CANCER'S DEATH TOLL.
New York, Nov. 1.—Approximately 1,200,000 persons in the United States died from cancer from 1900 to 1920, inclusive, according to an announcement made here today by the American Society for the Control of Cancer. The society bases its estimate on figures obtained from the United States Census Bureau. The bureau's figures show that 87,410 deaths occurred during this period in the registration area. This area represents less than two-thirds of the population. By adding this third the total number of deaths is reached.

The society is conducting a campaign to so educate the public in the first steps of the disease that cure may be effected.

November 9 has been fixed by Governor Jack as the date of the inaugural into the circumstances surrounding the death of those who lost their lives in the Dream disaster on October 20.

CANADIAN NIGHT AT ECLECTIC CLUB

The annual meeting of the Eclectic club was held last night at the residence of the president, Rev. Canon H. A. Armstrong and appropriate to "Canadian authors' week," the programme was "A Canadian Evening." The programme was arranged by Mrs. Harold Lawrence and was an excellent one. A paper, "St. John in the Making," which had been prepared by Dr. George F. Matthews and was read by Canon Armstrong, a geological sketch of St. John and its formations was given. Canon Armstrong also read a biographical sketch of Dr. Matthew. A paper by Mrs. F. B. Ellis on "The New Brunswick Group" told of Elias Carman and the Roberts family. Miss Annie Scammell's paper told of James DeMille's boys' stories. Mrs. Heber Vroom read a paper entitled "A Song Writer" which told of E. G. Nelson, the author of "My Own Canada." Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

FALSE FIRE ALARM HARBOR SENDS WOMAN TO WORKHOUSE
New York, Nov. 1.—Members of fire companies in the Greenwich Village section believe they will have no more sleepless nights as a result of false alarms of fire being sounded by a woman who always escaped before the arrival of the apparatus.

In sentencing Miss Margaret Moore, 50 years old, of 78 Charlton street, to 30 days in the workhouse, Magistrate Moses H. Hyttenberg in Jefferson Market Court, reprimanded the woman for her act. She was arrested Saturday night at Varick and Houston streets after she had sent in a false alarm and was running away from the scene. She was identified by Acting Battalion Chief Louis Graves as the woman who had been suspected of calling out the fire apparatus on several occasions. According to the police, Miss Moore had been arrested more than a score of times for disorderly conduct.

District of Columbia Jury Says Stilson Hutchins Was Incompetent.

Washington, No. 1.—A jury in Circuit Court No. 1 set aside the will of Stilson Hutchins, founder of The Washington Post, on the ground that he was mentally incompetent when it was made. Mr. Hutchins died in April, 1912, leaving an estate valued at $4,000,000. The will declared void was executed on Dec. 26, 1910.

Under the terms of the will set aside Mr. Hutchins bequeathed to Mrs. Rose Keeling Hutchins, the widow, thirty-five per cent. of the estate, a like share to a son, Walter H. Hutchins, twenty per cent. to another son, Lee Hutchins, and the remaining ten per cent. to a granddaughter, Mildred Rogers.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis

Lesson No. 143

POINTS TO REMEMBER

Remember that:

In circuits employing amplification, the transformers should not be located too closely together and the leads from the transformers to the grids of the vacuum tubes should be made as short as possible. If the tube sockets and transformer cores are grounded, much of the tendency to "howl" will be eliminated.

When two transmitting stations are using frequencies which do not differ greatly, "beats" may be produced which have a frequency equal to the difference between the two transmitting frequencies. If these "beats" are within the audible range, they may cause interference in receiving stations.

A loud speaker may be connected to an amplifying circuit either by the use of a special output transformer or by inserting a choke coil in the plate circuit of the last stage of amplification and then shunting the choke coil and plate battery by a circuit containing the loud speaker in series with a condenser of large capacity. In either case the normal direct current of the plate circuit, by being prevented from passing through the loud speaker, does not cause distortion of the music or speech.

When using a half-wave rectifier for converting the alternating current of the house lighting circuit into direct current for charging a storage battery, never take hold of the terminals while the rectifier is connected to the lighting circuit as the shock, to the human system, of the half-wave pulsations is very dangerous.

In order to determine the proper polarity of a low voltage direct current circuit, place the terminals of the circuit in a glass filled with salt water. The terminal on which bubbles appear is the negative terminal. When charging a storage battery, the negative of the charging circuit should be connected to the negative pole of the battery.

When several stages of amplification are used "howling" often takes place in the amplifier due to a portion of the amplified energy being fed back into the input circuit. This effect may be reduced by putting each tube and its transformer in a separate metal case which is carefully grounded.

A new "B" battery of fifteen small dry cells has a potential of 22.5 volts when first put in service. It is practical to use this battery until the potential has fallen to 15 volts, at which point it should be replaced by a new battery. Under normal conditions the life of this battery is from nine months to one year and longer life may be obtained if the battery is encased in paraffine. The grid bias of "C" battery has a long life due to the fact that it does not supply current, its function being merely to maintain the grid at a negative potential with respect to the filament.

When resistance coupling is used in a multi-stage amplifier it is necessary to increase the voltage of the plate battery from two to four times owing to the fact that a large part of the voltage of the plate battery is absorbed in the resistance coupling.

IRENE CASTLE AND CENSORSHIP

Is Quitting the Stage for a While and Will Return When Bookings are Revised.

Rochester, Nov. 1.—Weary of strenuous jumps between performances and not entirely pleased with her bookings, Irene Castle quit after last night's performance of "The Dance and Fashion of 1921," here. Miss Castle left for her home at midnight today, accompanied by her husband. She informed her manager that she was going to take a rest and would not return to the stage until her bookings had been revised.

Miss Castle was thrown from a horse two months ago, and received a broken collarbone. She has not fully recovered from the shock, but endeavored to go on with her show.

"Rights don't affect the morals of a community," said Miss Castle in discussing her recent experience in Providence, where she withdrew two dances from the programme to please the authorities. She declared censorship was stupid, and that the subject bored her. She said the trouble now was all Isadora Duncan's fault.

"Everyone is interested in my difficulties with the Providence authorities, because Dubeau stirred up matters with her statements and abbreviated costumes," said Miss Castle. "Miss Duncan insulted the intelligence of Boston, a thing no person in the public can do, so Boston was naturally ready to find fault with her. They found it in her costumes which, of course, brought up the whole question of censorship."

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made. Really and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get its medicinal curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any drugstore 1/2 ounce of Pinex, pour it into a 15-cm. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and save easily 50¢. Tastes pleasant and saves easily 50¢.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the mucus, stops the nasty throat tickle and breaks the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is a really wonderful relief. A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable, concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your drugstore for "2% culture of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Outfitted to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. CUBA OPENS NEW ELECTRIC RAILWAY Line Stretches Sixty Miles, Connecting Havana and Matanzas.

Havana, Cuba, Oct. 31.—Past groups of slender, bending palm trees, the traveller finds himself hastened with antropical swiftness on Cuba's newest railroad, where electric traction is the rule.

Havana and Matanzas procured this transportation line because the sugar mills at Central Hershey wanted better facilities for moving sugar cane from the plantations. Expensive steam locomotives, which scatter fire-breeding sparks into the midst of the cane, were formerly used.

Electrification was therefore planned and an agreement was entered into with the Cuban government to build an electric passenger road connecting Havana and Matanzas as well as the extended railroad lines for tapping the sugar plantations.

The electric power system comprises a main power station and two automatic railway sub-stations, besides the power transmission lines. The system operates at 33,000 volts, although electricity is generated in the main power station at 2,200 volts, and then "stepped up" to the higher pressure.

The output of the two main mills is 150,000 kilowatts of sugar per season, or 375,000 pounds of sugar a day.

The autumn district meeting of the Baptist church was held at Apollonia on Oct. 29 and 31 and the meetings were highly inspirational. On Monday evening the service was led by Rev. Isaac Brindley and Rev. A. L. Tedford gave an eloquent address on "The Challenge of Our Times."

Miss Ada Ford, who has been in New York for the past two years studying art, arrived home recently, having accepted a position on the staff of Owens Museum of Fine Arts of Mt. Allison Ladies' College.

V. G. O'Brien, superintendent of the government institutions for Old Folks and Incapables in Portage La Prairie, Man., who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. G. B. Estabrook, Cookville, left recently on a tour through Nova Scotia to confer with members of the government of that province in regard to establishing similar institutions.

They can't smoke anywhere else on this train any more than you can," was the answer. "If she can stand it, I can. You might just as well get used to it. 'Twon't be long now before you men will have to share the smoker with the women as a regular thing. It's still something of a novelty, but I notice women smokers are riding with me often and often."

When she had finished her cigarette she got up and went back to one of the regular coaches. "I was just as if a man had wanted a smoke, dropped into the smoker for a few minutes, got a light from a fellow-passenger and then went back to his regular seat. WOMEN INVADING TRAIN SMOKERS

Puff Cigarettes Alone or With Escorts on Lackawanna Trains—Number Increasing.

"That's the limit and then some," exploded the portly passenger who got on at East Orange, bundling into the baggage end of the smoker on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western train which starts there every Saturday at 7:08 p. m. on its way to Hoboken.

"No! all occupied," was the answer. "But that isn't it. There's a woman in one of them."

The baggage man went the length of the car and turning, came back calling: "Newark tickets, please, tickets for Newark." About midway he saw the object of the standing passenger's complaint and her escort. He was a gray-haired, gray-moustached man of sixty or thereabouts, scholarly in looks and rather distinguished in bearing.

She lifted it to her lips and puffed meditatively, her gaze fixed on the rose. She was an unconventional, as obnoxious, apparently, of her surroundings and smoking publicly. She had been in her own boudoir or at her own dinner table. Not a flicker of self-consciousness, not a sign that she felt she was doing anything out of the ordinary, marked her demeanor as she took nonchalant puffs at the cigarette between snatches of conversation with her companion.

But nobody seemed to be paying any attention to her. She was just amusing and amusing her own company, which is all we ask of anybody in the smoker. No law that I know of to prevent a woman from smoking a train if she wants to, so long as she smokes in the smoker. No road rules against it yet that I've heard of. Smoke a pipe so far? I'm concerned if she wants to.

"But here I am, forced to stand up the baggage car because a woman takes my seat in the smoker. A smoker is no place for a woman. Smokers are built for men smokers, not for women, whether they smoke or not."

"Yes, the women do seem to be butting into lots of places built for men, don't they?" retorted the baggage man. "Ain't no rule forcing you to get up and give your seat to a woman who is standing in one of the regular coaches is there? A woman with a ticket is entitled to a seat in this train wherever she can and if, same's you are."

"The conductor," persisted the passenger with the grievance, "did you see that woman smoking there in the smoker? Have the women got a right to smoke in the smoker while we men stand and smoke here in the baggage car?"

"They can't smoke anywhere else on this train any more than you can," was the answer. "If she can stand it, I can. You might just as well get used to it. 'Twon't be long now before you men will have to share the smoker with the women as a regular thing. It's still something of a novelty, but I notice women smokers are riding with me often and often."

MAX STERNE DEAD

Professor of Music, Formerly of St. John, Passes Away in Amherst.

Throughout the maritime provinces a general feeling of regret will be experienced over the death of Professor Max M. Sterne, at his home in Amherst on last Monday morning. George passed away suddenly while walking home with him one evening.

Professor Sterne was born in Ingelheim, Bavaria, and served for a short time in the German Army during the Franco-Prussian war. Only a lad at the time, he was slightly wounded. Deciding that he had seen sufficient of Germany he emigrated to New York, where his musical ability soon won him a position as organist. Later he went to Philadelphia, and there led the choir in one of the prominent churches.

A short time afterwards, while still a very young man, he was offered a professorship and complete charge of the Conservatory of Music in Amherst, and it was there that he met Miss Hibbard, daughter of the late George Hibbard of Mimude, who afterwards became his wife. Following the termination of his stay at Sackville, Professor Sterne came to St. John, where he made scores of friends and acquaintances, with an innate love of music as a foundation for such friendship. Afterward he went to Marysville, N. B., where he was organist in the Gibson Church.

In the late 80's he and Mrs. Sterne moved to Amherst.

MORE EVIDENCE IN PARKER CASE

Stafford is Sent Up for Trial in Police Court Today.

In the case against Mrs. Bessie Parker, charged with the murder of Mary Emily Frontin, evidence was given in the police court this morning by Dr. George Baxter, William J. Farris and Kathleen Frontin, sister of the dead girl. Postponement was made until next Wednesday at two o'clock when it is expected, the crown will conclude the case. E. J. Henneberry represented the crown and E. S. Ritchie the accused.

Dr. Baxter said the girl had called at his office on July 27 and as a result of a conversation with her he had prescribed for her.

William J. Farris, an employe at the C. N. R. roundhouse, said he had known Miss Frontin for three or four years. He had seen her for the last time on the Friday of exhibition week in Union street. She had wanted some money and he had given her $40. They had had other meetings with reference to the money. He told of relations with her.

Kathleen Frontin, recalled, said she did not remember the date on which she had gone with her sister to the house of Mrs. Parker in Main street.

Two men were charged with drunkenness. One of them, an old offender was sent to jail for eight months and the other fined $208.

Robert Stafford was this morning committed to stand trial for assaulting Miss Kattie Caplin. Miss Caplin was recalled and said that she was positive that the accused was the man. She said she had seen him with a girl she knew, a week before the alleged offence and that on the occasion when she had first given evidence against him he had signed to her not to testify against him. J. M. Trueman appeared for the defence.

A case in which Israel Lampert is charged with assaulting Samuel Kanter was not taken up this morning as some witnesses failed to appear. Postponement was made to next Wednesday morning.

KITCHENER
A Town In 1912--A City In 1922--Why?

Mr. V. S. McIntyre, manager of the Hydro Electric System of Kitchener, writes:—"Due to the cheapness of hydro power for manufacturing purposes a great number of industries have located in this city. We have at present 196 power consumers which represent approximately 90 p.c. of the manufacturing plants in the city. All the large plants such as the Dominion Tire Company; Ames-Holden Rubber Company; Kaufman Rubber Co.; Lang Farming Co. and Canadian Consolidated Felt Company depend entirely upon hydro power for their power requirements. We have 14 furniture factories in the city all of which use hydro power."

Why did Kitchener secure some of the largest rubber companies in Canada—with their thousands of employes?—Cheap hydro power.

Why is Kitchener the centre of the furniture trade in Canada? Because their 14 furniture factories have cheap hydro power and use it.

Kitchener had 105 power users in 1912, using 500 H.P., while in 1921 they had 182 power consumers using 7,483 H.P.

Notice the increase in the number of industries and the growth of those already there due to cheap hydro power.

Kitchener's population in 1912 was 16,000; in 1921 it was 23,027.

Why did Kitchener's population increase 44 p.c. in 9 years? Because of industries locating there—attracted by cheap hydro power.

Vote for hydro and increased prosperity for St. John.

NOT SHAKEN IN BELIEF OF MRS. GIBSON'S STORY

Officials Probing Hall-Mills Tragedy Seek Man Described as Murderer.

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 1.—Maintaining that he felt confident that the eye-witness story told by Mrs. Jane Gibson would "stand up" Special Deputy-Attorney General Mott continued today his efforts to identify the man Mr. Gibson described as being the murderer of the Rev. Edw. Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor B. Mills.

According to Mrs. Gibson, witnesses have been found to corroborate her statement that a woman wearing a long "gray coat" was on the Phillips farm on the night of the murder.

Two of the murdered clergyman Mrs. Paul Bonner of New York and Mrs. Frank Voorhes, of Jersey City, told newspapers that their knowledge of the circumstances made them believe implicitly in the innocence of the rector's wife. It was Mrs. Voorhes' ten year old daughter, Francis, who was in the Hall home on the night of the murder and who says that Mrs. Hall was at home that night at least until nine p. m.

Detective James F. Mason, chief investigator for Mrs. Mott, coincided with his chief views, declaring he "has every confidence in Mrs. Gibson's story of the murder, and believes it will stand the strictest examination."

PROVINCIAL AUTONOMY IN EDUCATION

Endorsation of Principle by Conference in Toronto—Other Subjects Discussed, But No Action.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Absolute provincial autonomy in matters of education was the sole principal which succeeded in securing the endorsement of the provincial ministers of education and their deputies who yesterday concluded a two day conference. The matter of a national bureau of education contended for similar recognition from the gathering, but the most that it could secure was the promise of these present to bring it before their respective governments.

Other concerns which were also considered and upon which no decisive action was taken were those connected with the publication of text books and with the use of motion picture films in the class room.

In failing to endorse the project for a national bureau of education, the function of which would be to collect information concerning the various Canadian school systems and to investigate new educational movements, the conference without having accomplished the principal purpose for which it was called together. In spite of this, however, the delegates felt that the meeting had been justified if only as the forerunner of other similar conferences.

Fraser-Morrison.

A very pretty and interesting wedding was held this afternoon at four o'clock in St. David's church, when the pastor, Rev. Hugh Miller, B. A., united in marriage Miss Mary Gwendoline Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Morrison of Bathurst to John MacLean Fraser, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fraser, Princess street. During the ceremony special music was played by the church organist. The bride entered the church with John N. Journey. She was charmingly dressed in a navy blue serge tailored suit, with large black hat and fox fur, a present of the groom, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. They were unattended.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser left for a motor trip before taking up their residence at 74 Wall street. Going away, the bride wore a dress of black panne velvet with seal coat and burnt orange hat. A great many useful and handsome presents were received, among them a check from the Smith Brokerage Company, where the bride was employed, and a check and a Victory bond from the bride's parents. The groom is a well-known motor mechanic of North Market street. Among the out-of-town guests present at the wedding were Miss Hazel Morrison of Moncton and Miss Florence Morrison of Bathurst, sisters of the bride; Miss Jessie Fraser of Fair Vale, Louis Wadman of Moncton, and Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Lewin of Wolfville.

INSINCERITY IN MARRIAGE FATAL

Results Reflected in Children, Declared Rev. Father Lalonde.

"What Shall We Do With Our Girls and Boys?" With this title to his lecture, Rev. Father Louis Lalonde, S. J., addressed a large audience in St. Mary's College, Montreal, not, however, remaining strictly within the frame of his subject, but taking occasion to deliver some pungent remarks about modern family life, the vagaries of the young men and women of the day and the misguided child, resulting from ill-mated couples.

Father Lalonde spoke before an audience consisting of parents, priests and other church officials, together with several hundred of the boy pupils of the college, who filled all the back seats. The speaker, with veiled irony and wholly without any effect of preaching, developed his subject, interspersing it with anecdotes, to the delight of the children, and reserving his words of advice to the rest of the audience in language couched in terms at times ambiguous to the youngsters, but not to be misunderstood by the older generation.

Two pictures were drawn in words, to contrast the good and bad in family life, with the resultant unsatisfactory bringing up of the children in the latter case. Father Lalonde dwelt on the happy family; old-fashioned enough to have faith in God; consequently at least contented, if not overladen with worldly goods. The contrast:

"The young woman who poses for effect; who relies on her personal charms, toilette or eccentricity of manner to become so much the object of attraction, that she becomes the wife of some young man.

"The young man so often met with today. Hesitating to form a home for pecuniary reasons; weak of character, devoid of solid faith in the Above. These two married. How are the children brought up in such surroundings?"

Rash Marriages. "There are also the marriages," said Father Lalonde, "formed on the spur of the moment; by impulse, as they like to call it. They generally end with the parents drifting apart, and the children suffering for the rest of their lives."

"Marriage," said the speaker, "however old this may seem, and however often it has been repeated, is sacred. It should be represented neither as a spectre to slum nor as something like an easy way out of it. There must be some preparation. The sacrifices of marriage must be realized. There must be two masters to serve in our religion. The Lord does not tolerate hybrid alliances of sentimental pity and unchristian frivolity."

"There is the type of woman today," continued Father Lalonde, "who likes to have ambitious statuesque and pictures to decorate her home, and imagine that this is admirable if she hangs a crucifix on the same wall. She kneels devoutly before a Madonna in the morning. In the afternoon she provokes the passers-by by daring looks and language."

Father Lalonde verbally chastised those who refuse marriage for purely egotistical purposes. He had words of advice for those about to marry, and it was not at all like Mr. Punch's. He deplored the present way of bringing up children to dominate, instead of guiding them when they are small and teaching them obedience. Finally he spoke at some length on the dangers of forcing the adolescent into a vocation. The child, he said, must be carefully studied, and carefully guided into the sphere of livelihood which is to be his future. Above all, he warned, do not demand of a child to join priest-hood or a life of isolation from worldly pleasures as a nun. The child, better than parent, will understand when the time comes, as it did to St. Paul, whether life should be consecrated to the church or not.

EXCAVATIONS IN LONDON REVEAL ROMAN REMAINS

Church of St. Peter's-Upon-Cornhill on Site of Fortress

First Fortified Camp—Possibly Built Immediately After Order was Restored Following Revolt of Boadicea.

London, Sept. 29.—(By Mail)—Recent excavations in the city have led to the discovery of a number of relics of the Roman period, as the result of which archaeologists think it probable that the ancient church of St. Peter's-upon-Cornhill was built inside of what was once a Roman fortress. It is expected that future investigations will show that this was the first fortified camp of the Romans and, if so, it is possible that it was built immediately subsequent to the re-establishment of order after the revolt under Boadicea.

Comment on Last Week's Stock Market in Montreal.

(Montreal Gazette, Monday)

While the reactionary tendency of prices in the trading on the local Stock Exchange last week extended to parts of the list, the weakness was in no instance of any great proportion, and the average price of twenty representative securities listed on the local market declined on 1.03 during that period.

Of the forty-one issues that were dealt in to the extent of 100 shares or over during the week, only seven gained ground, with the greatest advance one of 3/4 points; thirty-one issues suffered losses, with the greatest reaction 4 points, while three issues remained unchanged from their previous closing prices.

Canada Steamships preferred was the most active stock of the week, having furnished trading in 6,642 shares, closed at 60 1/2 for a net loss of 2 points, and having sold as high as 63 1/2, and as low as 59. Brazilian was second in volume of trading, with a turnover of 4,319 shares, and closed at 41, off 1/2. Spanish River was third in activity, with 3,850 shares dealt in, declined 3/4 points, and closed at 83 1/2, and having sold as high as 85 1/2, and as low as 81. National Breweries was fourth most active issue, and was off 3/4 points, while steel of Canada, fifth in volume of trading, was off 3/4 points.

The greatest gain was scored by Dominion Textile, which issue was up 3/4 points to the closing of 190, and having had a turnover of 990 shares. The greatest loss was 4 points, and was suffered by two issues, namely, Canadian Car Preference and Twin City, the former closing at 82 1/2, and the latter closing at 87.

Among the strong spots of the week were Toronto Railway, which advanced 2 1/2 points, and Royal Bank, up 2 points while among the weak features were 8 points by Asbestos and 8 points by Ducker. The paper issues were, with exception of Bromp-ton, which was weaker, while Spanish River preferred, off 8, suffered the greatest decline in that section of the list.

Total sales were 4,221 shares, as compared with 48,245 shares on the same day the previous week, 78,468 shares on the same day last month, and 89,720 shares on the corresponding day last year.

Total sales of bonds amounted to $707,000, as compared with $18,880 on the same day the previous week, $1,070,700 on the same day last month, and $1,150,000 on the corresponding day last year.

Emergency Marks in Billions to be Issued Soon by Municipalities.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—Fifteen billion marks worth of emergency money will be issued soon by municipalities in Germany, including five billion by Hamburg and two million by Berlin, it is said. The sums will not appear in the figures on Germany's currency inflation reported for the federal government.

Hitherto when the municipality of Berlin issued such money no mention was made of security, the denominations being small. Regarding the current issue, however, it is said that guarantees will be provided by the industries. These will give the city notes and bills of exchange for small currency which they need, yet are not permitted to print themselves.

The industries will pay sufficient interest to cover the municipalities on the disappearance of much of this currency from circulation.

BUSINESS STEADILY GROWS

Weekly Trade Reviews Note a Continuation of Expansion.

New York, Nov. 1.—Business expansion continues to multiply and industries which have heretofore not felt the return of prosperity now report improvement according to the leading mercantile agencies. Dun's Review in commenting on the situation says "one of the best features of the present situation, marking a further departure from the pessimistic view of the past, is the fact that it is developing steadily in various lines and especially noticeable in textile channels."

It is further pointed out that "purchasing for immediate and nearby needs only, which had long been the common practice, is being succeeded in numerous instances by demands running well ahead, indicating a better sentiment and more confidence in the future. Losses in wages resulting from recent production strikes have not had without restrictive effect on consumption of commodities, yet the turnover remains heavy in the aggregate and general trade in the south responds to the noteworthy advance in cotton prices."

In further comment it is stated that "the general trade in the south is showing a tendency to move to higher ground, and a resumption of short selling in other sections is highly irregular market during the morning. Both speculative and investment shares moved in a conflicting manner, with the chief points of weakness in the Mexican oil and some of the food, motor accessories and independent shares."

In wholesale and jobbing trade, the industry trend is still in the direction of progress, reports, in fact, being the best since the late spring of 1920, and collections are the best since that year.

LIFE-SAVING SHIRT PUTS REAL NEWS IN ADVT.

Saved Truck Driver from Death Under Wheels of Locomotive — Store Rebuys It for Publicity.

Today Cecil B. De Mersado of Columbus, Ind., is driving a truck instead of playing an angel harp—and it's all due to the strength of his shirt!

Recently, the following news item appeared in an Indianapolis newspaper: "Columbus, Ind.—The strength of his shirt saved Cecil B. De Mersado, thirty-five years old, from instant death beneath the wheels of a Pennsylvania passenger locomotive when the truck which he was driving was struck by the train at a crossing here today. De Mersado was thrown from his seat on the truck, in front of the train. He was almost under the locomotive when his shirt caught on the fender. The shirt held while the train dragged him 200 feet."

A few days after the publication of this item in the newspaper, C. W. Miller, buyer of men's furnishings for Pettis Dry Goods Company of Indianapolis, chanced to learn that the superb shirt which had played such a heroic role was one of a brand stocked and featured by the store.

"Here," said Miller to himself, "is the chance of a lifetime to get some real human-interest news into my advertising."

So, hurrying to Columbus, he interviewed the injured man, secured the remains of the late-lamented shirt for advertising purposes, and returned to Indianapolis with what he termed a "hooking good story."

Pettis advertisements a few days later featured a reproduction of the news item, with the following story:

"By Mr. C. W. Miller, Buyer of Men's Furnishings."

"Shortly after reading this little article in the Indianapolis paper, I started for Columbus."

"As a matter of business information I wanted to know the source of a shirt that had the stuff and stamina to withstand such terrific strains and to save a man's life. I met the man in the hospital—hospitable with the spirit of a man who refuses to quit—well on the road to recovery. He was richly proud of his shirt. To it he admittedly owed his life. It was frayed and torn and stained—but a shirt for all that. He will continue to wear it."

"We took the shirt to the manufacturers and showed them the epithets. Right then and there we bought 6,000 shirts. This is the kind of merchandise we want; this is where it belongs. Pettis, where 'reliability' is a sixty-nine-year-old custom and practice. The manufacturers were willing to make price reductions, for, as they stated, 'such a deep and striking demonstration of the integrity of our shirts is very gratifying. We are perfectly willing to almost give them away' (referring to the 6,000 shirts), to spread their fame throughout your state."

"The sale is ready, gentlemen. Ready with values that will be talked about for months. Ready with shirts that you'll appreciate."

"We sincerely hope that your shirts will never have to withstand such a test as Mr. De Mersado's, but you can be sure that the 'stuff' is in them. They'll hold against frequent laundering."

CAMPAIGN TO CONTROL CANCER

Nova Scotia Medical Men's Work of Public Education Regarding the Disease—Cancer Week, Nov. 12-18.

(Halifax Echo)
Among matters of vital interest to the community along the lines of preventive medicine which were considered at a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Medical Society of Nova Scotia, was the serious question of the enormous death rate from cancer. A proposition or a campaign of education looking towards control was presented to the executive by Dr. John Stewart, and this proposition was heartily endorsed.

It was resolved that a statement be prepared to bear the individual signatures of the members of the executive, in order that the people of this province may be assured that the proposed campaign meets with their cordial sympathy and undivided support.

The Medical Society of Nova Scotia desires to draw the attention of the medical profession and the general public to the educational campaign under the name of "Cancer Week" shortly to be conducted throughout the United States and Canada.

Cancer Becoming More Common.
The belief that cancer is becoming more common and the evidence that the early stages of this terrible disease are often not recognized until the prospects of successful treatment has become doubtful or even hopeless, led a number of the leading surgeons and gynaecologists of the United States and Canada, with the spirited philanthropic and public spirited persons, to found the American Society for the Control of Cancer. The headquarters of the society are in New York. The regional director for Canada is Dr. Geo. E. Armstrong, of Montreal. The chairman for Nova Scotia is Dr. John Stewart, of Halifax.

The object of the society is educational, to draw attention to the vital facts of cancer, especially to the supreme importance of recognizing the earliest symptoms and appearances of the disease, and to impress on all that success in the treatment of cancer depends mainly on early recourse to treatment.

The Educational Campaign.
The educational campaign is to be carried on simultaneously in the United States and Canada in the "Cancer Week," Nov. 12-18. Due notice of details will appear in the press. The medical society earnestly commends this campaign to all citizens and trusts that the local medical societies and the members of the medical profession generally will do all in their power to aid it.

AN EPIDEMIC OF BRIBERY AND GRAFT IN RUSSIA

London, Oct. 31.—Graft and bribery are now proclaimed the enemy of Russia. Even the epidemics of cholera, typhus, and other diseases accompanying the famine are looked upon as something incomparably less dangerous and injurious to the country than the raging epidemic of bribery. This vice is a chronic Russian disease, but never before has it been so general, so hardened, and so cynically open as it is now.

Bribery is organically a "dark" affair—in present-day Russia it is done in daylight, openly discussed and bargained about, and openly performed. To take only the instance of the railways.

People who have not the time to stand in queues for tickets in order to buy their railway tickets—eventually getting a "standing seat" in a cattle truck—but who have sufficient money to buy, openly and openly, the services of the "company," pay for them all right, they do so. The extra amount paid is usually from fifteen to fifty times the price of the fare. The same time applies to goods traffic. Only "tools" and goods directly "business men" employ the services of the "company." They pay for them all right, they do so.

The Soviet government recently decided to strike a blow at the grafters and a special "Extraordinary Commission to Fight Bribery" was set up. In Sept. 16 the commission paid a sudden visit to all the Moscow railway stations and arrested 211 men; the occupation and position of the arrested men shows indubitably clearly the constitution of the "company."

There were arrested eighty porters, fifty agents of the okhrana (Soviet secret police), three assistant station masters, three controllers, two railway guards, four waiters, seven night watchmen and cleaners, eleven messengers and employees of the station buffets and thirty "outsiders" playing the part of brokers between the "company" and the public.

SANDFLY FEVER.
New Research at Finchley Air Force Hospital.
London, Oct. 10.—(By mail).—A research of very great interest is now in progress at the hospital of the Royal Air Force at Finchley. It relates to that troublesome and rather disabling condition known as sandfly fever, which proved such a trouble in various remote theatres of war.

The flies were brought to England and kept in special surroundings, in which it was found possible to maintain them. They laid eggs, and young flies were obtained after various stages of development had been passed through. Further, volunteers were taken to take the risk of a bite presented themselves. The remarkable discovery was then made that the young flies, bred in England, were able to transmit the disease. In other words, infectivity appears to be hereditary. It passes in the egg from parent to offspring.

Every precaution was taken to use only sterile soil and cages for the flies, so that other methods of transmission of the infection could be excluded. The work is arousing a great deal of interest, for it has hitherto been supposed that transmission by egg did not occur, and that until a fly bit an infected person it was free of the disease. Naturally, if this research stands the test of repetition by other workers, new views will require to be formulated and new methods adopted to cope with the source.

CHINESE OFFICIALS SEEK KIDNAPPERS OF A MISSIONARY

Shanghai, Oct. 31.—Chinese officials have launched a drive against the bandits who yesterday carried away H. E. Ledgard, British missionary, connected with the China inland mission, and looted and partly burned the town of Shang Tsaihsien, according to advices received from Hankow early today. Mission circles here have not received reports of any other missionaries captured by the brigands and it is believed that earlier reference to other kidnappings meant that native pastors or converts had been seized.

At a meeting of the creditors of Clark & Byron, St. Andrews, in the office of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, authorized trustee, yesterday afternoon, inspectors were appointed and authority was granted to dispose of the assets, which amount to about $1,500. Liabilities amount to about $3,500.

FROZEN GARBAGE A HEALTH MENACE

Cleanliness in Yards and Lanes During the Winter Urged by Dr. Boucher.

(Montreal Gazette.)
Dr. Boucher, director of the health department, made a plea yesterday for a clean city the year around. He repeated the practice of throwing garbage into lanes and yards in the winter, and added that a sure way to keep down the mortality was to exercise the same care regarding cleanliness in winter as in summer. Dr. Boucher's recommendation, made in the form of a statement, was as follows:

"We should all bear in mind, before the snow covers the ground for the winter, that a sure way to reduce the mortality rate in the city, is to keep the lanes, yards and lanes clear. Every winter, however, a great number of citizens think nothing of throwing their ashes, rubbish and garbage in the yards and in the lanes, without considering the results which such objectionable practices might entail. These substances freeze during the cold season, the snow covers them and they disappear from view until such time as the rise in temperature melts the snow and lays them open to view again.

"We should be able to enjoy the fine season, when it begins with the spring, without being exposed to the inconveniences caused by these offensive heaps of putrid matter which are an offence to the olfactory sense as well as a menace to the public health.

"Let every one take pride in the cleanliness of not only his home, but also his yard and his lane. In order to reach this state of cleanliness, it is necessary that we adopt the same measures of precautions in winter and in summer as regards garbage; this must be taken regularly by the vehicles of the incineration department with a view to avoid any accumulation, so that when the spring is at hand the whole city should present an attractive and hygienic aspect.

ORPHEUS SOCIETY.
The recently organized Orpheus Society held its first meeting last night in the school room of St. John's (Stone) church, which was secured through the courtesy of the vestry of the church. A large and well balanced chorus of fifty voices was in attendance. The study of Sir Siem Dale Bennett's "May Queen" was begun and the results were most encouraging. The society is still open for more members and the secretary, J. E. Bryant, and the conductor, J. E. Brown, were to enroll those who wished to join the society.

W. C. T. U. DONATIONS.
The W. C. T. U., at its meeting yesterday, voted the sum of $50 to the work of the Young Women's Christian Association in the city. The gift was made in response to an appeal presented at the previous meeting of the W. C. T. U. when sympathy with the work of the association was expressed. Plans were made for holding a pantry and apron sale at an early date to raise the society's usual contribution to the Protestant orphanage. Mrs. Hope Thompson, the president, was on the chair and led the devotions. Rev. W. D. Wilson, general secretary of the New Brunswick temperance alliance, appeared and announced the arrangements in connection with the forthcoming visit of the eminent speaker, Dr. Saleeby. Mrs. H. P. Newcombe and Mr. Wilson, in an interchange of question and answer, brought some interesting matters in regard to the temperance situation to the attention of the meeting. Mrs. Newcombe will leave on Friday to attend the Dominion W. C. T. U. convention in Toronto from November 4 to 9, and will go on to the world's W. C. T. U. convention in Philadelphia, from November 11 to 17. She undertook to bring back reports of the two conventions.

The total proceeds of the Red Cross membership drive in St. John amounting to $1,600, according to the last count yesterday, and this sum is about $200 in excess of last year's figure. The actual membership last year was 2,900, including about 600 junior members and 600 life members. The junior members will be counted separately this year, as the junior organization is part of the public school curriculum.

Zane Grey's New Story

Zane Grey has given to Ladies' Home Journal readers his greatest novel—THE VANISHING AMERICAN. A novel that he has spent ten years in writing, and which he regards as the most vital he has ever written.

It is the story of an American Indian, Nophaie, last of a noble line of redmen, and of the beautiful Marian, from a background of house parties, money and culture.

It is a story of their struggle to untangle the knotted skein of love and life. Of lurking danger, of hot, passionate anger and the sharp crackling of rifle fire.

The old Zane Grey thrill of adventure is here, the vigor of life in the open that made his last Journal serial, The Call of the Cañon, so memorable.

Mr. Grey has laid his novel in the great desert country, which he describes as no one else can. He pictures to us vividly the nobility of the Indian and the cruel way he has been wronged by the white man—the soul of a great race now vanishing from the earth.

Beginning in the November issue of THE LADIES HOME JOURNAL.

To Home Journal Readers: "It is a source of great satisfaction and inspiration to be able to reach the immense Ladies' Home Journal audience with what I regard as my best novel. I would rather publish my stories in The Journal than in any other magazine and the sense of its millions of readers living over again the adventures of my hero and heroine gives me a real thrill. Zane Grey"
