A VISIT TO THE MARTELLO TOWER

Something Saint John People Know Little About

LINKS OLD WITH THE NEW

An interesting collection of weapons and other relics of war time and an enchanting view await those who climb the tower hill.

It is said that only the strangers who are in New York ever go to Coney Island and that likewise the British Museum is left deserted by the residents and frequented as a storehouse of historic interest by the visitors to London alone.

And so in St. John, what may be called our chief place of historic attraction—Martello Tower—is, except in the case of a very few residents who take particular pride in the curious left to the pleasure seeking tourist to enjoy.

It was this fact that prompted a visit to the West Side yesterday, and although the tower itself simply repeats any effort which was necessary to get to it, there were certain attendant advantages which made the trip a valuable and memorable one.

For instance, as you go up the Carlton Heights to the tower a vista gradually opens before you the like of which can certainly not be excelled in St. John and one which reminds you strongly of the far-famed view from Mount Royal in Montreal.

Inland toward the north can be seen the blue expanse of Kings county, at least thirty miles distant, becoming more hazy and bluer as they seem to recede in the distance.

Toward the bay another view of memorable beauty but little familiar to the residents of St. John can be seen alone the harbor and Partridge Island with vessels moving to and from, not so frequently as in the winter, it is true, but there they remain until the close of the otherwise perfect tranquility and calm of the scene.

Glancing farther out toward the open water one really sees the Bay of Fundy, not the little portion of it which usually suffices the people of St. John—a magnificent stretch far away to the south can be seen the hills of Nova Scotia and quite distinctly too. As the eye travels down the bay the coast seems to withdraw and the hills to disappear in situ until finally they all disappear and are lost in the horizon.

Over the bay schooners and tug-boats could be seen apparently motionless on the great calm stretch.

Toward the East lies St. John with its numerous spires and brick buildings, not a sight which attracts the eye, but a sight which however, fairville with its green fields and trees and pretty houses forms a marked contrast.

Taken all in all the view is a wonderful one and gives you the most exact idea of St. John and all its surroundings, one which can be obtained in no other way.

The tower.

But to come to the tower. It was built, as is generally known, in 1812 by the soldiers of the 104th Regiment, who carried the rocks of which it is constructed from the beach in wheelbarrows—a hard enough walk for the average citizen of today. War, however, never tested the walls of the tower, but after being allowed to be neglected for a long period it was taken over by the provincial government and is now valued as one of the few landmarks of the troublous times of years ago.

After ascending to the first floor from a ladder leading up outside you enter the main floor of the building. Here the keeper, R. O. Danvers, has a most interesting collection of relics ranging from cannons to coins.

Cannon which were used at Queens-Town Heights when General Brock met his death may be seen. Rifles of the same calibre and type, such as were used in the wars against the Indians, blunderbusses which belonged to the early Dutch settlers who came out in the early seventeenth century, all are there and prove of great interest to everyone who has the chance of seeing them.

Powder horns and leather drinking flasks, shell coverings, and by the gunner when they had to load at the muzzle. A number of uniforms, some as many as a hundred years old, are hung up on the walls. Guns, bayonets, military harness, bugles, shot and helmets of their have seen battles, all of them have some point of interest in connection with them.

The Modern with the Old.

Not all the collection possesses value because of its antiquity, several relics which saw service in the Crimea, swords and assegais brought back by the soldiers who went to South Africa have found a resting place here.

Those who delight in old china and pewter ware may likewise take an interest in the Martello collection. Coffee pots of antique design and made of copper, pewter and silver are stored away here, old flints and steels reflect credit on the collector; while coins of many different countries and buttons of various beauty and unique interest, one must visit it. What better excursion could be planned than a Saturday afternoon's trip to the tower with tea on the green outside?

Again in Paris.

Paris, Aug. 1—King Alfonso and Queen Victoria arrived here last evening from London on their way back to Spain.

SENT TO JAIL FOR ATTACKING WIFE

Bushfan's Fate to Be That of Others—Today's Police Court

A fracas in Union Alley was a matter of consideration in the police court this morning. Philip Bushfan was charged by his wife with assaulting her.

He said he had no "personal recollection" of the affair but believed it quiet possible that the charges were true. His Honor severely reprimanded Bushfan without the option of a fine at the same time he said he would deal out the same penalty to any others who come before him in the future charged with a like offence.

A man named Rogers was before the magistrate charged by his brother with using threatening language towards him on May 26. When the brother took the stand and gave evidence he told of having struck his brother himself but had a very hazy memory of the terms his brother had used towards him.

He was told to sit down and try to start his thinking apparatus moving. Rogers was remanded on the threatening language charge and fined $8 or two months for being drunk.

A woman charged with being drunk in Union Alley went to the Home of the Good Shepherd without the option of a fine.

Two prisoners who were sitting by one another on the bench on drunkenness charge were hard of hearing and when they saw that one of themselves was being called created a mild diversion by their willingness to plead; one in fact said he was guilty before the charge was read. He was fined $8 or thirty days, the other was remanded. One other was fined $8 or two months in jail.

FEAR END OF NEW BRUNSWICK'S LUMBER KING IS NEAR AT HAND

Fredricton, N. B., Aug. 2.—There is no change reported today in the condition of Alexander Gibson. He is not expected to live many more days.

Adam Moore, a noted guide, accompanied by wife, daughter and two sons, will leave on Monday for the Tobique, where they will remain until the close of the hunting season. He has several Americans booked for fishing trips during August.

Charles Cremin of this city has been in the Tobique woods since June with his Americans.

It is expected that rafting operations at the Douglas booms will be finished by the end of the week.

There was a very heavy downpour of rain here this morning.

NEW FREEMAN ON SUNDAY MUSIC

In reference to Sunday sacred band concerts, the New Freeman says, in part, this morning: "If sacred music be selected it could be a splendid agency for the elevation of public thought. Catholics accustomed to music in all the Sunday services would not depend on such musical exhibitions in parks, but they would scarcely see anything wrong in such exercises and would enter into their spirit like the rest of the public."

Such Sunday concerts in our four principal parks will be well to eliminate the merely theatrical or so-called "concert" music which is so common in the parks.

If the general public wishes to see secular music in the Sunday concerts this can be done by supplanting merely sentimental music and giving instead some composition of a national and even a familiar kind such as the general and unceremonious could find entertainment in."

IN CHINA

Shanghai, Aug. 1.—A general Yung, commanding the government fleet, formally notified the consular and customs officials that it was his intention to bombard the Wu-Sung forts tonight. All the northern reinforcements have arrived at the arsenal and 2,600 loyal troops from Hankow have arrived at Shanghai.

Won by Ankle Deep.

Alexandria, Egypt, Aug. 2.—Ankle Deep, the speedy motor boat representing the Lake George Racing Association, easily won the second race for the gold challenge trophy yesterday afternoon, and will represent America in the International races to be held in England.

The $2,000 cup offered by the American Power Boat Association, was awarded to Count Casimir Menkowski, owner of the Ankle Deep.

When you want a chauffeur or any kind of help put a Want Ad in this paper. Employers competent in various kinds of business read our Want Ads daily. Or, if you are looking for a position as chauffeur or for any other work turn to our Classified Advertisements. You may find the very job you want. Irish Block The Unionist Game; Save Government

Unionists Resort to Trickery to Secure Advantage—Parliament to Sit Till Aug. 21—Big Autumn Campaign by Liberals—Further Criticism of Friedmann

(Times' Special Cable)

London, Aug. 2.—Parliament will continue in session during the hottest days of August and unless unexpected progress is made next week will not rise until the 21st. The members grumble bitterly over the long hard working session and over the merciless discipline of the party whips who regard the briefest absence from the precincts of the house while parliament is sitting as a heinous crime.

Parliament has ceased to be the best club in Europe, it has become, instead, a somewhat dreary legislative machine with long hours and little scope for individual display. Several members who have to combine big private business with parliamentary work are evidently suffering in health from the sustained strain.

Sylvester Home, who endeavored to combine the role of leading Congregationalist preacher and statesman has been compelled to abandon most of his ministerial activities.

Parliament is being brought into some discredit by school boy games, the Unionists endeavoring to secure snap divisions by trickery. On Wednesday they nearly succeeded in directing their forces to come at a given moment straight to the terrace without going upstairs. Only the steady attendance of the Irish members saved the government from defeat.

On Thursday night a Unionist member draped a type written letter in the precincts of the house giving details for another snap division. This reached Liberal hands and consequently yesterday morning the entire strength of the Liberal whips' office was telegraphing and telephoning members insisting on their attendance at noon. When the Liberals all arrived they discovered that the Unionist letter was nothing but a practical joke. Liberals Very Hopeful.

It is becoming daily more difficult to keep members in constant attendance. The Liberal party is approaching the end of the session more hopefully than for some months. There has been a marked revival of confidence due partly to the absolute failure of the Unionists to advance any constructive policy acceptable to the country and partly to the steady legislative accomplishments of the government. The passage of the Scottish temperance bill through the House of Lords on Thursday is the first substantial accomplishment of the parliament act. Without this act forcing the Lords, a compromise in the Scottish temperance bill, whose moderation would amuse Canadian reformers, would have stood no chance of success.

Many of the shortcomings of the insurance act are being amended and the worst blots on the hand act are being removed. The coming autumn will see a great Liberal campaign throughout the country, a campaign run once more on wholly aggressive lines.

Turn Against Friedmann.

Europe is discussing the Friedmann consumption cure, and expert opinion here is growingly unfavorable. Recent messages from Berlin show that almost the entire body of prominent experts have become critics if not pronouncedly hostile. They object strongly to the secrecy which surrounds the origin of the cure, and they declare the results so far are all unsatisfactory, in some cases not alone negative but positively harmful. They again ask Friedmann to act as great medical discoverer have acted in the past, making every detail of his investigations and discoveries public so that they may be judged thoroughly.

"COLORED" CATHEDRAL IN TORONTO AND PASTOR

The retirement of E. Whittaker from the position of chief appraiser in the customs house, which occurred yesterday, will not be followed by any new appointment to that department. When Mr. Whittaker was given leave of absence six months ago, preliminary to his retirement, James McKinney was given an appointment in the appraisers room and took over the duties formerly performed by James B. Daly in the express department of the office and Mr. Daly assumed Mr. Whittaker's former duties. Under this arrangement, which will be continued, there will be no chief appraiser.

By reason of its age and standing in the Methodist Episcopal Church for Canadian colored people, the church of that denomination in Toronto has become known throughout Canada as the cathedral of the denomination. The picture of the pastor, Rev. Richard A. Ball, is inset.

SEARCH KEPT UP AT LOCH LOMOND IN TODAY'S HEAVY RAIN

In spite of the heavy rain the work of searching for the bodies of Miss Dowling and Miss Davin was carried on vigorously this morning at Loch Lomond. The men employed by the city stayed out all night and are continuing today, and another automobile with men arrived on the scene early this morning.

It is expected that a large number of volunteers will go out this afternoon to help. Up to a late hour today no further success had attended the efforts of the searchers.

Miss Georgie Patterson, who has been very ill since her terrible experience of Wednesday, passed a very comfortable night and is much improved this morning.

Head of Trappists Dead.

Montreal, Aug. 2.—Growing so weak towards the end that the rigorous Trappist rule that every member of the order shall die on the floor amid sackcloth and ashes, was for once dispensed with, Right Rev. Dom Antoine Oger, O. C. R., famous head of Canada's most picturesque hermitage of the Trappist order, died here last night.

Mr. Edward did his best to give an opportunity to the British nation to buy the collection, which forms a fairly complete record of Sir Lawrence's skill from his early boyhood up to his death, but talked in his patriotic endeavor.

WANT JOE MARTIN TO RETIRE; HE DECLINES

Party Men Object to Canadian's Stand on the Marconi Matter

London, Aug. 2.—The independent attitude adopted by "Joe" Martin, M. P. for East St. Paulers in voting with the opposition at the close of the Marconi debate, has brought its penalty, and Mr. Martin has been asked by the local association not to seek re-election.

Mr. Martin tells the Canadian Association Press "He'll do nothing of the kind," and that the rumor about his resignation is entirely without foundation. It is understood that the local Liberal association is withdrawing its support from Martin, who, however, will probably start a new association in the interior of liberal labor.

ROAD MENDING TRIP IS SPOILED BY THE WEATHER MAN

St. John Automobile Men to Leave on Next Saturday on a Trip to Boston

The road mending trip to Hantsport which the members of the New Brunswick Automobile Association were planning to make this afternoon has been postponed on account of the weather but will be held later in the season.

Next Saturday the association run to Boston will commence. The members of the association will leave St. John at 1:30 p. m. on Saturday, August 9 and spend that night in St. Stephen. The next day they will make the run to Bangor, proceeding to Portland on Monday and arriving in Boston on Tuesday, the 12th. The balance of the week will be spent in and around Boston and the return journey will be commenced on Sunday, August 17, arriving in St. John on Wednesday.

ALFAFA TO HAVE SQUARE DEAL

(Saxton Record)

An important decision has just been reached in the provincial department of agriculture to give alfalfa "a square deal." The proposal is one pregnant with the greatest possibilities. We already know that alfalfa can be successfully and even profitably grown in this country and in other parts of New Brunswick. Undoubtedly Kings has led all other countries in experimenting with this most valuable of fodder plants. The efforts, so far, however, have been of a spasmodic order. Now it has been decided to appoint a regular superintendent for alfalfa plots and the person selected is C. W. McDougall, dairy inspector, who was the first man to boost alfalfa here and give its production serious thought. The department of agriculture is prepared to spend its present money each year, for five years fully, to test the alfalfa possibilities. Mr. McDougall will be entrusted with the task of evolving a seed fully acclimated to the soil and climate of the province. He will also be charged with the task of solving the feed problem of this province. The feed bills of this great dairy section amount to several million dollars and the introduction of alfalfa as a staple product of New Brunswick would greatly lessen this drain on the resources of our farmers. Every province in Canada is now devoting much attention to alfalfa growth and it is most gratifying to find New Brunswick lining up in the forefront of this movement. It is now in actual planting, the programme for a campaign of encouragement will be mapped out and next season should see the movement in full swing. Already one considerable plot has been secured by the department for seed purposes and a Sussex man will supply the first installment of native ground seed.

MR. CRONK TO TORONTO

A Toronto despatch says that W. B. Cronk is to succeed Geo. Fernley as city freight agent of the Intercolonial in Toronto, Mr. Fernley becoming commercial agent in Montreal.

Mr. Cronk formerly was superintendent of the Grand Trunk Pacific between Edmonton and Montreal.

THE MARKET

There was a good number of farmers in the market today with a large supply of fresh produce. Meats were generally high. Lamb ruled favorite and was in sufficient quantities to supply the demand. It sold at from 15 to 24 cents. Beef and veal were not greatly sought. Beef sold at from 12 to 24 cents and veal for 12 to 22 cents. A few chickens sold at fancy figures between 81 and $1.75.

Beets and carrots were scarce as the farmers have been taking advantage of the fine weather for their hay. What there is of the former is sold at 28 cents. The best eggs sold for 30 cents. Plenty of native vegetables are now in the stalls. Potatoes are high at 80 cents a peck. Native beans are making their first appearance at 65 cents a peck. Peas four for 45 cents each. Celery brought ten cents, and cabbage seven cents.

A few last strawberries sold at eighteen cents, which was also the price of raspberries. What few blueberries there were were quickly snapped up. Cranberries were fifteen cents a quart. Turnips went at 50 cents a peck; squash at five cents a pound.

LOVELL'S DIRECTORY

Publication Accepted as a Standard at Least Equal to Dominion Census Shows Chief Eastern Cities Advancing in Last Two Years

(Canadian Press)

Montreal, Aug. 1.—That eastern Canadian cities have enjoyed a rapid growth in the last two years is the belief of the compilers of Lovell's Directory, issued today, and generally accepted as a standard at least equal in authority to the Dominion census.

Every eastern maritime city of importance has shown an advance in population according to Lovell's, which furnishes the following present estimates:—

St. John, N. B. 67,000
Halifax, N. S. 55,000
Sydney, N. S. 22,000
Moncton, N. B. 14,000
Charlottetown, P. E. I. 12,000

The directory gives greater Montreal a population of 632,238, or without the suburbs, 568,083.

BASEBALL TODAY AND NEXT WEEK

If the weather should clear at all, the Marathons and Bangor will play this afternoon at 8:30 on the Marathons grounds. It is hoped for the sake of the management that the weather will clear so as to enable them to play this game as Saturday's receipts are what they depend on, and when Saturday or holidays are wet, the season is so short that it never can be made up. Although they have had fine weather for baseball the last month, still May 24th the following Saturday and July 1, all being wet lessened the receipts very much.

At the Marathons are under more expenses than any of the other clubs, it is to be hoped from this out that the weather will be fine so that all the games may be played and that the attendance will be materially increased from this out. There is no question that the four clubs are evenly matched and there has been some sensational ball playing this year on the Marathons grounds, yesterday's game being won by a whirlwind finish in the ninth inning, which made the fans stand up and shout.

The scheduled games for next week are as follows:—
Monday—Calais at St. John; Bangor at Fredericton.
Tuesday—Calais at St. John; Bangor at Fredericton.
Wednesday—Fredericton at St. John; Bangor at Calais.
Thursday—Bangor at St. John; Calais at Fredericton.
Friday—Calais at St. John; Fredericton at Bangor.
Saturday—Calais at St. John; Fredericton at Bangor.

Failed to Form Cabinet

The Hague, Aug. 2.—Dr. Kirk Bos, a Liberal democratic member of the Chamber of Deputies, who had been endeavoring to form a coalition cabinet, was relieved of the task yesterday by Queen Wilhelmina. Dr. Bos was unable to carry out the wishes of the queen because the Socialists declined to accept portfolios in a coalition ministry.

Want Something?

Was there ever a time when you didn't?

When you drew your first breath in this "vale of tears" you wanted food and attention. You advertised the fact by crying and got what you wanted.

This is a natural sort of world. Mother answered your cries. Your baby advertisement got you the attention you wanted and mother was repaid a hundred fold by your love and health.

Merchants and business men who are advertising in today's Telegraph and Times want something.

They want your patronage. Their advertising is no good unless it serves you. If it does, both benefit.

Today's Telegraph and Times contains many interesting announcements. They are varied in character. All of them will not appeal to every reader—but each of them will be important reading to some one.

HALL CAINE TO HAMPSTEAD HEATH

Manxman Pays $50,000 For Plot For Home

LITERARY FOLK

New Laureate Low on List of Newspaper's Popular Vote, While Kipling is at Top—Dr. Bridges Not Widely Known

(Times' Special Correspondence)

London, July 21.—That picturesque and proverbially "happy" suburb of London, Hampstead, has just lost a famous literary man in the person of H. G. Wells, who has left Shelly's old street, Chiswick, and moved down to the West End, but it is about to gain another in the person of Hall Caine, Hampstead's famous "heavenly" literary wild stretch which is the favorite holiday-making ground of London's "Aryans" and "Arriets," has it seems, made a conquest of the Manxman, who now declares that he can write nowhere else.

For this statement, which doubtless will be read with grief mixed with incredulity in the Isle of Man, I have the authority of no one else than Mrs. Hall Caine. She and her husband have had for several years a beautiful house in Avenue road, St. John's Woods—a street that numbers several other celebrities, Martin Harvey, an actor, for one, among its residents—but Mrs. Caine told a woman friend of mine the other day, that they were giving it up. The friend expressed surprise, knowing that the house, besides being an uncommonly fine one, possessed a lovely garden, but Mrs. Caine declared that her husband found it impossible now to write except on Hampstead Heath, adding that they were going to build a house for themselves up there, and that they already had bought a piece of land for which they had paid $50,000.

Of course a sum like that is a mere flea bite to the Manxman, who has just made a new American contract for good news knows how many years and how many thousands of dollars, but it is a matter of some importance to the Manxman, who is the successor to "The Woman Who Gave Me," surrounded by gaping costs. The rubber-necking that every day drove Rudyard Kipling away from Rotting Dean would be nothing to it. H. G. Wells is on the war path again. This time his quarry is the London "Globe," which is one of the oldest and most respectable of English newspapers. Wells is a member of the Gipsy Club, and evidently a report reaching the "Globe" to the effect that he meant to go "on tramp" for a bit for the sake of proving that even a man "steeped in city life" may gain a living on the road. The "Globe" printed a highly complimentary little paragraph on the subject to the effect that he meant to go "on tramp" to waste his experience. "He has shown in his works of fiction a remarkable power of getting 'inside the skin' of a character," the newspaper added, "and we shall look forward with the greatest interest to a novel of his which will be a 'referendum' organized among its readers by a London weekly

GRATITUDE PROMPTED THIS LETTER

Prominent People Proud To Testify For "Fruit-a-lives"

MR. TIMOTHY McGRATH, 180 Atlantic Ave., Montreal.

March 1st, 1912

"For years, I suffered from Rheumatism, being unable to work for weeks at a time and spent hundreds of dollars on doctor's medicines, besides receiving treatment at Notre Dame Hospital where I was informed that I was incurable. I was discouraged when a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-lives.' After using three packages I felt relieved and continued until I had used five packages when a complete cure was effected. I consider 'Fruit-a-lives' a wonderful remedy. You are at liberty to use this testimonial to prove to others the good that 'Fruit-a-lives' has done me."

to decide who should be laureate. Kipling topped the poll with 22,680 votes, while Dr. Bridges came eighth on the list with 710 votes, or exactly two per cent of those cast. The seven poets whose popularity with these readers eclipsed the official laureate were Mrs. Meynell, who came second with 5,996 votes; John Masfield, who was third with 3,297; Thomas Hardy, who got 2,170; William Watson, who secured 1,689; Henry Newbolt, who had 812 and G. K. Chesterton, who actually polled 777 votes. Of course Kipling ought to have had the laureateship; equally, of course, he would have had it had a Liberal administration not been in office, whereas he is a dried-in-the-wood Tory. Meanwhile another test of the comparative popularity of the two writers occurred to me. I have turned up both the best known dictionaries of quotations—"Bartlett" and "Benham," and neither of them seems ever to have heard of the new laureate. The most recent of these volumes gives thirty-one pages from Kipling, sixty-seven from William Watson, twelve from Henry Newbolt, and thirteen from Thomas Hardy.

It proves to be nearly two years and seems even longer, since 1910 we had a new novel from William Morgan, the veteran author of "Joseph Vance" and "Alice-for-Short." His last romance was "A Likely Story," and as it struck me that Mr. Morgan's big army of admirers must be wondering when another book was to be forthcoming, I wrote and asked if I might promise another from his pen? Here is his terse and characteristic reply:

"Yes, by all means predict a novel by me. Time unfixes and title unknown—author and publisher are the only points arranged—and some 600 pages of text"

HER BABY WAS BOTHERED WITH DIARRHŒA

FROM THE TIME SHE WAS BORN

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURED HER

Mrs. THOMAS SKALDING, Schreiber, Ont., writes: "My little girl, who is now nearly four years old, and is as healthy and strong as can be, was bothered with Diarrhœa from the time she was born until she was over two years old. The doctor in the hospital where I was when she was born, did everything he could but did not get it stopped. Just as soon as I got out myself, I got a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and gave it to her, off and on, whenever she needed it, and I never had a doctor in the house once, for it would always check it without any bad after effects, and in time cured her altogether. I always kept it in the house, as I have never found anything to compete with it for Diarrhœa."

When you ask for "Dr. Fowler's" be sure you get it, as some of these no-name, no-reputation, so-called, strawberry preparations are being sold on the reputation built up by "Dr. Fowler's."

To insure getting the genuine, see that the name of The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont., appears on the yellow wrapper. Price, 35 cents.

MONTREAL

BULGARIA FACES HEAVY DEMANDS

London, Aug. 1.—The allies in their demands presented to the peace conference today, proposed the establishment of a frontier standing east from the Struma river, running midway through Rumenia, and reaching the Aegean Sea, sixteen miles west of Dedagatamb.

This would leave Bulgaria a coast line on the Aegean Sea of less than thirty miles. If these drastic terms are accepted Bulgaria will issue from two wars a little larger than when she entered into them, but she will have to abandon a large amount of territory to Roumania. In addition, the allies maintain their demand for an indemnity.

It is probable that the negotiations will be protracted and that the armistice of five days will be renewed. No objection is likely to be raised to its renewal, for it seems evident that both the Serbians and the Greeks have fought themselves to a standstill.

A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Belgrade asserts that the casualties of the Serbian army in the past month of fighting aggregate nearly 35,000.

ON THE DARWINIAN THEORY AND TWO STRAW HATS

By J. R. HAMILTON Former Advertising Manager, Danamaker's, Philadelphia

CHARLES DARWIN, Scientist, creator of the Law of Evolution, was perhaps also the greatest genealogist that ever lived.

But Darwin did something more than tracing the human family back. He traced it forward.

He followed it from the trees to the cave; from the cave to the hut; from the hut to you in your swivel chair or your street car or your feather bed.

He traced the meaningless wanderings of monkey tribes to the directed intelligences of men.

He traced it to foresight, to economy, to discrimination, to brains, to you.

And the knowledge that you are what you are, is the thing that is going to direct your actions now.

The hat stores are selling straw hats now at about half price. And because you have foresight and judgment, you are going out and buy two straw hats instead of one.

This is where economy comes in. You know that a dollar at interest will only safely earn three cents in a whole year. But the same amount invested in straw hats will earn one hundred per cent in the same time.

You are going to do the same thing with your clothes. You will save from 750 to $10 on a $15 or $20 purchase. You know that there is no other investment in the world can do a thing like that.

You are going to buy shoes and shirts, collars and ties, underwear and in fact everything you need for your body and your home.

Your are going to do this because it is the Clearance Season now in all good stores. You know that prices are down to a minimum. And your foresight tells you that you will use all these things at some later day even if you do not chance to need them now.

And you will read all the advertising in this paper to find out where these things can best be bought. For one of the latest and greatest of your human powers is—discrimination.

These are the things you will do because you are no longer a wandering tree-dweller at the mercy of the hour, but have risen to the estate of—a man.

NOT CLOSE TILL TONIGHT Lyric Will Be Open This Afternoon and Tonight; Then Work on Improvements

The attention of readers is called to a statement given out in yesterday's Times in which through a mistake in the notice sent in, it was stated that the Lyric Theatre would close for improvements last night instead of tonight.

The regular performance will be given this afternoon and evening. The programme, consisting of two vaudeville acts, Ollie Johnston, a dark wire walker and Billy Kenny, a polite entertainer, with three excellent picture features, after which the Lyric will close its doors for three days, reopening on Thursday of next week.

Already the painters, carpenters and decorators have begun to change the appearance of this popular resort, and its reopening on next Thursday will be an event of no passing interest.

It will, a modern up-to-date theatre to the theatrical district of greater St. John. The new opera chairs to be installed have been constructed especially for the Lyric, with an eye to the comfort of its patrons, while the painting and decorating will be found most pleasing.

The stage is to be equipped with an entire new set of scenery and the lighting system to be overhauled.

In a very short time the Unique will undergo several changes, and the vicinity of King square will soon become a place St. John can well be proud of.

BARGAINS EXTRAORDINARY IN SUMMER MILLINERY

Model Millinery Company Have Reduced All Lines of Ladies' and Children's Seasonable Headwear and Accessories to Rapid Clearance Prices

To clear their entire stock of this year's summer millinery, at the earliest possible moment, to make room for early arrivals in fall and winter lines, is the object of the Model Millinery Company, whose early August sale began yesterday.

In all lines offered the goods are strictly this season's productions, many of the most striking and beautiful creations having come to hand but recently, having been purchased at great reductions from leading style producers who desired quick clearance.

In size, coloring and material there is an ample variety to suit all ages and tastes. There is also a splendid assortment of untrimmed hats in all prevailing styles.

Accessories of every description have also been marked at extra special clearance prices, and will doubtless find very rapid sales.

Those mothers who would get most in their children's headwear for the smallest outlay, should make it a point to attend this sale at the earliest possible moment, as in this line the bargains are phenomenal and the supply limited. The Model Millinery Company's salon at 29 Canterbury street, will be opened till ten o'clock tonight.

ANNOYING DANDRUFF

Will Make Canada a Bald-headed Nation if not Checked

M. Pasteur, the great French Physician of Paris, once said: "I believe we shall one day rid the world of all disease caused by germs."

Dandruff is caused by germs, a fact accepted by all physicians. Dandruff is the root of all hair evils. If it were not for the little destructive germs working with a persistency worthy of a better cause, there would be no baldness.

Parian Sage will kill the dandruff germs and remove dandruff in two weeks or money back. It will stop itching scalp, falling hair and prevent it from turning gray.

It is the hair-dressing par excellence, daintily performed and free from grease and stickiness. It is the favorite with women of taste and culture who know the social value of fascinating hair.

Comes in large 50-cent bottle at all druggists and leading druggists and toilet goods wholesalers everywhere. "The Girl with the Auburn Hair" is on every package.

TRIAL BY JURY IS ITSSELF ON TRIAL

"Palladium of British Liberty" In Melting Pot

REPORT OF COMMISSION

Lord Mersey Was Chairman and His Opinion is Tensely Put—Cannot Advise Abolition at Present, But Changes Suggested

(Times' Special Correspondence)

London, July 10.—Trial by jury in England is in the melting pot, and no one can now tell how that institution, which patriotic British orators have been in the habit of alluding to as "the palladium of our British liberty," will emerge. There are a lot of people, and among them an uncommonly large number of judges, lawyers and other experts who would like to see it suppressed altogether, but it is hardly likely that the man in the street, who has a deep-rooted faith in the expert will consent. At the same time he is deeply dissatisfied with the system which compels him to give up days and sometimes weeks of his time to listening to other people's troubles, so it is not unlikely he will agree to some compromise severely curtailing the system.

The first step in changing any old established law or custom in England is to appoint a royal commission to take testimony and report on it. That was done in the case of the jury system in December, 1911, and the commission has just published its report. This commission was presided over by Lord Mersey, who had charge of the Titanic investigation.

What he thinks of juries in criminal cases may be judged from a remark which he is said to have made at a gathering of lawyers. It was—

"If I were placed on trial for a criminal offence and had my choice, I would choose a trial by jury if I were guilty, for then I might get off, but if I were innocent I should strongly prefer to be tried by a judge."

More vigorous but much to the same effect was the address made by a famous Scottish judge to a jury who had just brought in a verdict of "Not guilty" in a murder trial.

"Gentlemen of the jury," said the judge, "if ever it should be my misfortune to commit a murder and be placed on trial for my life I pray God that I shall be tried before twelve such asses as yourselves."

The jury system

The first step of the royal commission on the jury system was to try to discover the origin of the system, but in this case the effort was not particularly successful. Popular legend credits its invention to Alfred the Great, but the commission found that there were traces of it before the time of the Romans. Blackstone calls it "a trial that hath been used time out of mind in this country and seems to have been coeval with the first civil government thereof."

It is clear, however, that when the Normans came they found the jury system in full swing and they adopted it and developed it. At first, however, it was rather an assemblage of witnesses of a man's neighbors who knew of their character and who were called to assist the king's judge in doing justice. Especially in civil cases the jury was a fact-finding body. Interest to them, and thinking of their neglected business.

Sometimes Hardship

British jurymen are not paid and real hardship sometimes results. One of the witnesses before the royal commission was a laborer who lived at Bourne-mouth, a seafaring coast watering place. He earned only 87 a week, but he was the nominal occupier of a house worth $120 a year. He had to travel to London, where he was summoned on a jury and had to attend at Winchester, the county seat, forty miles away on his own railway fare and support himself for more than a week, during which, of course, he earned no wages. If he had not done so the judge could have sent him to jail.

Somewhat similar is the complaint made by the "lawful men" of the County of Middlesex, which takes in most of the country lying between London and the city. The high courts of justice are situated in London and much the greater part of the litigation for the whole of the county is tried in London. The district must supply the juries for the high court, so that, in addition to selling the country to the Londoners, the jurors, the men of Middlesex have to judge between the citizens of Liverpool and Birmingham and other places of which they know nothing. It is hard to see how, if the jury system is to be retained, all this can be avoided, for London obviously has a greater hardship to compel men from Yorkshire and Lancashire, for instance, to travel to London to serve on a jury.

Particularly severe criticism is levelled at what is known as the "special" jury. As stated, the ordinary or "petit" jury is composed of men living in houses of the value of $100 a year or more. Litigants who want a more intelligent jury have the privilege of demanding a special jury whose members must live in houses rented at $1,000 or more. But in England the great majority of persons living in $1,000 houses are publicans, because the value of their liquor license monopoly adds a fictitious value to the property. In fact, it is not that most special juries are juries of publicans and in many cases less intelligent than the ordinary jury. It is not that most publicans are Tories and you can imagine the plight of a Liberal candidate for parliament, for instance, who sees before such a jury for damages for a campaign libel.

What he thinks of juries in criminal cases may be judged from a remark which he is said to have made at a gathering of lawyers. It was—

"If I were placed on trial for a criminal offence and had my choice, I would choose a trial by jury if I were guilty, for then I might get off, but if I were innocent I should strongly prefer to be tried by a judge."

More vigorous but much to the same effect was the address made by a famous Scottish judge to a jury who had just brought in a verdict of "Not guilty" in a murder trial.

"Gentlemen of the jury," said the judge, "if ever it should be my misfortune to commit a murder and be placed on trial for my life I pray God that I shall be tried before twelve such asses as yourselves."

IS IT PLAN TO HAND OVER INTERCOLONIAL TO CANADIAN PACIFIC?

Hon. H. R. Emmerson Expresses His Views on People's Railway Matters

(Moncton Transcript)

The Hon. Mr. Emmerson, M. P., returned to Moncton this afternoon, on the Boston train, so-called after an employer of about three weeks, a portion of the time being spent in Ontario and the rest in the United States.

"I am not surprised," he said to a Transcript representative, "at the acute feeling for a long time past that the Intercolonial railway, as I have for some months anticipated just this result. I have for a long time feared that the influence of the Canadian Pacific with the present government would become so powerful that the company would work the 'oracle' to the point of securing, if not the Intercolonial itself, such privilege in the shape of rights as would be tantamount to the acquisition of the railway which perhaps would be the easiest method of the C. P. R. to acquire the people's road, as it would not involve an outlay of any capital expenditure."

"I was in sympathy," he said, "with the minister of railways in securing one general manager rather than the continuance of the board of management, which I had always opposed; but when I learned that the general manager was chosen from the ranks of the C. P. R. officials, I feared the worst. The salary paid that gentleman is altogether out of proportion to the mileage of the Intercolonial, as compared with some of the other lines of the United States, which are justified in paying very large salaries. The Intercolonial is a small railway comparatively, and it seems to me that the minister would have acted wisely if he had chosen one of our own bright young men and given him a trial rather than to have gone seeking a head from private railway corporations."

"My fears were greatly increased when I found that the government was also importing officials to fill other high positions. The time has come, when the Intercolonial is likely to stand, and it is suggested that in order to safeguard themselves banks should follow the practice of most country banks and send a form for their customers to sign acknowledging the correctness of the balance. Without interest to note the various precautions which should be adopted in order to safeguard against forgery. It is pointed out by the 'Times' that the most fatal clerical error of checks is the commission of a forgery of checks in the business, usually compares the pass-book and returned checks with the counter-foils, and who has an opportunity for committing a series of forgeries extending over a long period of time without detection. Eventually no doubt the offender is caught. Some day when he is on a holiday, or when he is ill, or when it occurs to some partner or director more particularly to investigate the state of the banking account, an entry will cause suspicion, the clerk is asked for an explanation, confesses, and is sent to jail."

It is, of course, only by a system of elaborate checking and counter-checking that such forgery can be prevented. At the same time, there are several precautions which might be more generally observed by bank customers, rendering the task of the forger even more difficult than it is now.

As a well-known bank manager said in the course of a few days ago, people are extraordinarily careless in handling checks. They cross them with rubbery writing or lose the amounts with typewriting or loose, sprawling handwriting. They check their checks lying around, and fall to observe the simplest bank rules, and are often surprised at the successful forgeries which go on.

There are eight rules which bank depositors should be careful to observe:

1. Mark checks not to exceed a definite amount.

2. Write the amount in figures close together.

NORTH END MEN START SHEEP RANCH Have Hundred on Farm at Cedars—The Berry Crop—Potatoes and Hay Good—River Travel

Two enterprising young men of the North End have gone into the sheep raising business. They have secured a farm at the Cedars on the St. John river, formerly owned by Charles Nichols of that place, and which covers an area of 100 acres. On the sheep ranch are now more than 100 sheep and the owners, it is said, intend to increase this number to 1,000 or more, within the near future. The river boats are not now bringing down any strawberries to speak of, the season for them being over. This summer's crop is the lightest handled for some time. Raspberries, while not as plentiful as last year, will be an average crop and are said to be of an exceptional fine quality this season. Gooseberries and currants are also on the market now and quite plentiful. New potatoes are being brought down the river in large quantities and the

SHARKS THWARTED The City "Hickshog" Takes Sentimental Chance on a Dime

The Municipal Pledge Department—which is the euphonious name for the city pawnshop—is supposed to do business on sentiment, and doesn't. If you don't believe it, take your wedding ring down and watch them apply the acid test. But the department fell this morning. Yes, it fell with its eyes wide open and nothing but the bare word of a widow stands between the city and a dead loss of 10 cents. Yes, it was her wedding ring. Sounds like "East Lynne," but it's a true story. She took it off her finger and passed it across the counter to Ralph Perry. "We couldn't lend more than 75 cents on this, madam," whispered Shylock in Perry's ear. "We couldn't lend more than 75 cents on this, madam," repeated Mr. Perry. The widow shook her head and reached out her hand for the thin, worn ornament. "It's all I have," she said, "but 75 cents is not enough. It wouldn't do me any good." "That's all we could possibly risk on it," prompted Old Scrooge in Perry's other ear. "The gold is worn so thin it has scarcely any value. We'd probably lose on it as we are." Perry delivered Old Scrooge's ultimatum faithfully, as the widow wiped her eyes with her handkerchief. "But I would redeem it," she pleaded, for I absolutely must have money." "Seventy-five cents," said Shylock, harshly. "Seventy-five cents," growled old Scrooge. The widow slipped the ring back on her finger and started out. And then it was that Ralph Perry, basely deserting every principle of money lending turned on Shylock and Old Scrooge and kicked them both out of the door. Then he called the widow back. "How much did you want on the ring?" he asked. "I wanted to borrow 85 cents," said the widow. "I want to get a pair of shoes for my little and that is the least I can buy them for." "Give me the ring," said Perry, "and here is the 85 cents. I'll take a chance on losing that dime myself." Outside, Shylock and Old Scrooge uttered cries of rage and fell—Kansas City Star.

MISS BROWN'S BODY HAS BEEN RECOVERED

Funeral on Sunday—Miss Patterson, One of Survivors, Gives Directions For Further Search

After two days' relentless search for the bodies of the three victims of the terrible drowning calamity in Loch Lomond, the body of Miss Mathilda Brown was recovered yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock by Walter Lamont and George Macaulay, two young boys. Close to the shore, and far from where the searchers were groping, the youngsters in rowing about happened to see the body, and calling others to their assistance, brought it to the surface. With the feet tangled in some red grass, and the hands stretched above the head and within a few inches of the surface of the water, the body was standing perpendicular, and with the head thrown back, it was near the shore of the Cold Springs when located. The searchers working some distance away were called. The body was disentangled from the grass and raised to the surface, and placed in a canvas bag taken to the Log Cabin Fishing Club. Coroner Berryman was informed and immediately drove over to Dr. W. F. Simon, and arrived there soon after 5 o'clock. Permission was given for the removal of the body to the city. John Chamberlain, undertaker, took charge of it, taking it first to his rooms and then to the late home of the deceased, at 192 Waterloo street. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon from her home in Waterloo street.

The search for the bodies of Miss Dowling and Miss Davis was continued today and better results are expected as a result of the lake showing where Miss Patterson, one of the survivors, believes the accident occurred. A plan of the lake was prepared by her brother, James Patterson and she was able to indicate their location at the time the boat upset.

FARM LABORERS' STRIKE ABOUT OVER

(Continued from page 8). 7.—The mines are to be acquired by the formation of a three per cent. coal of the proceeds of the business. Members listened to the proposal in a somewhat jocular spirit as Mr. Walsh began, but his earnestness was unmistakable, and he added interesting particulars as to the available coal supplies of this country, which showed that there was a supply capable of lasting 300 years at the present rate of production. The speaker remarked that he was doubtful whether the bill was in order, seeing that it "seemed to involve some slight change on the taxpayer," and such bills are not in order if moved by private members. But he added that he would give Mr. Walsh the benefit of the doubt. The bill, therefore, was read a first time. No Liberal names appeared among its backers. It was a labor bill pure and simple, and represents a purely labor view of the lines on which a nationalization scheme should be cast. The bill is the first of its kind, and those who are opposed to schemes of nationalization now know the sort of bill with which they are likely to be confronted in the future. Passenger Airship Service Colonel H. S. Massey, in a letter to the Times, announces that a passenger airship service is about to be established in England, and that the necessary preliminaries have already been concluded.

According to present arrangements, it is proposed to start a company in the early autumn, and though the actual figure has not yet been decided on, it is probable that a capital of about $1,250,000, will be asked for. Those who have made the preliminary arrangements have already entered into a twelve years' contract with one of the best known makers of balloon envelopes in Europe for the supply of all the envelopes required, and the company will be given the sole rights of dealing in the envelopes in the British Empire. The promoters are also in possession of plans for revolving sheds which it is proposed to erect on the western side of London and in certain provincial cities, and by their contract the company is assured of the help of some of the most highly-skilled workers in the industry, in building the airships. If the company is formed it will be able to take over any semi-rigid airship immediately, and it would be possible to undertake flights without delay. It is proposed that the ships shall make flights from London to Brighton and Paris and to important commercial centres, such as Manchester and Birmingham. The vessels would be run on commercial lines, but in times of war they could be fitted with guns without difficulty.

NOVELISTS WHO SMOKE

Noted Writers in England Find Inspiration in the Weed (London Tit-Bits) Sir A. Conan Doyle is a great lover of the pure cigarette; so, too, is the famous Sir Gilbert Parker, whose fine romantic stories enjoy such widespread popularity, and his study is invariably made aromatic with the smell of it while he is at work. Another brilliant writer of fiction, whose genius is closely bound together with the mild cigarette, is R. Hichens, one of the best and most popular of authors. The late Robert Barr was immensely fond of the cigarette, and but rarely settled himself down to any task without first making sure that his cigarette-case was at his elbow. E. F. Benson, the famous author of "Dodo," also enjoys a cigarette, and is fond of declaring that he finds it a great help, as well as a most pleasing companion, when he is hard at work with his pen. Very few of our popular writers of fiction favor a cigar, probably finding the mouth end of it much too thick to hold between the lips with any degree of comfort when at work. Arthur Morrison, however, seeks comfort and inspiration in a good cigar. G. K. Chesterton can also be bracketed with Mr. Morrison in favor of the cigar. Pipe Celebrities The pipe is the special favorite among most of our popular writers of fiction. Cutcliffe Hynes, the famous author of "Captain Kettle" and other exciting stories of peril and adventure, is a great lover of the pipe, and nearly always has it in use, especially when he is carrying his gun on his arm, which is his favorite outdoor pastime. Max Pemberton is also fond of his pipe, and but very seldom takes up his pen to write without having it between his teeth. Probably the greatest of all humorous writers of sea stories is W. W. Jacobs, whose immensely popular yarns always create an abundance of good, hearty merriment and jovial pleasure. He also is a firm believer in his dearly-loved briar. R. Androm, the well-known author of that amusing book, "We Three and 'Troddele," is another humorous writer who loves a pipe. He confesses that he cannot write unless a peculiar shaped briar is at hand, and that he always smokes one particular brand of tobacco.

Army Nurses on Horseback A unique military nursing organization has gone under canvas at Pribright for a fortnight's training. This unit is the First Aid Nursing Yeomanry Corps, composed of trained nurses who are also expert horse-women. They combine these valuable qualifications with a scheme of military training to enable them to offer their services to the authorities in time of need in a direction that may be found invaluable. This week they rode from London to Pribright where, for the next fortnight, they will be engaged in a scheme of practical training. The camp was pitched by an advance party, all the work, except that of erecting the heavy hospital marquees being done by the members of the corps themselves. The camp is quite complete, with hospital for training work, dress marquees, bell tents for sleeping, horse lines, etc. Each member of the corps is responsible for the grooming and care of her own horse, and this was the first task in reaching camp, the horses being watered, fed, and rubbed down before the members of training in camp is a very practical one, the whole of the duties under canvas being discharged by the ladies themselves, who take it in turn to do the cooking, waiting, and orderly duties, while instructional work is carried on morning, afternoon and evening in stable duties, first aid, stretcher drill, hospital work, riding drill, and signalling, instructors from the cavalry, Royal Army Medical Corps, and other corps being engaged to assist in this work. The nurses provide their own horses and uniforms, and subscribe to the upkeep of the corps, which is well equipped with a light, four-wheeled ambulance wagon, stretchers, and other kit. neck, which is the prevalent Divorce Court fashion. Sobbing bitterly, the witness stammered to her counsel's questions, which elicited a story to the effect that her marriage was one of affection on her part, and she believed at the time on her husband's part also. She said they lived happily until January of this year.

FOR LONG FILMS Number of Two and Three Reel Subjects Increasing ARIZONA IN PICTURES The Spoilers, Too, For The Movies—Quo Vadis to Be Produced Before The King—4,000 Players in Battle of Waterloo

(Times' Special Correspondence) London, July 19.—There is hardly a vaudeville artist in this country who would not give almost anything he possessed for the privilege of appearing before the king and queen. There is an honor in the music hall profession more eagerly sought, yet, yesterday, I met several performers who seemed to regret that they had accepted Lord Derby's invitation to appear recently at Knowsley in Lancashire, before their Majesties.

Chicago is overtaking New York as a theatrical producing center and will some day become the dramatic metropolis of North America, is the striking prediction advanced by A. Milo Bennett in the New York Dramatic Mirror. Basing his argument on facts and figures set forth in the report of the Chicago Association of Commerce, Mr. Bennett maintains that the relative position of New York and Chicago in matters theatrical is changing rapidly, and that ultimately Chicago will become the natural focus of the demands of the country at large, and is found to reflect more accurately the artistic tastes of all sections and their consequent demands upon theatrical producers than any other point.

Looking as like and slender as ever, and apparently brimming over with happiness, Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw arrived in New York on Wednesday on the liner Olympic, to fulfill her stage engagement in America since the tragedy on the Madison square Roof Garden.

Recent announcements from nearly all of the leading photoplay producers, that the number of two and three-reel subjects will be increased at the sacrifice of one-reel films, are not surprising to those who have followed the trend of things for the past year. The one-reel photoplay has been practically at a standstill for at least that time, whereas it has been shown that book and play adaptations demanding a more extensive treatment may justify the expenditure.

Back to Melodrama There has been a decided trend of late months towards melodrama and now most of the London managers are quite sure that in that direction lies success. Thus it is not difficult to forecast an autumn season of this class of production. George R. Sims, a generation ago one of the most prolific writers of melodrama, has entered the lists again and is writing a "shocker" for the Aldwych Theatre with Hilda Spang in the cast.

Return to Stage Sir Herbert Tree has persuaded Miss Maxine Elliott to return to the stage. She will be seen early in the fall in the production of Joseph and His Brethren playing the part of Potiphar's wife. William A. Brady has bought a new play by Graham Moffatt, author of "Buntie Pulls the Strings," and the principal part will be played by Moly Peterson, who creates the role of Buntie in America.

Jack Clifford, the dancer and I rehearsed our act privately in London, and we went on at a matinee unannounced. We made an instantaneous hit, and after realizing that I had made good on my own ability, I saw no reason why I should not accept an offer in my own country.

THE TITLE COUNTS William Hammerstein, while negotiating for the return engagement of Lady Constance Richardson, said to his father: "Reports differ about her dancing." "That doesn't matter," retorted Hammerstein père. "She doesn't dance with her feet. She dances with her titles."

Arthur Boucher and his wife have just closed with a German cinema firm for a performance of "Macbeth" for film purposes and are to get £1,000 for what will amount to about a week's work. That is what Sir Herbert Tree received for doing "Henry VIII." a few weeks ago. It was the supposition in the early days of the cinema that film performances of a play would hurt the play itself, but it is interesting to note that Sir Herbert has actually stipulated that the film production of his Henry VIII. shall be shown in America before he himself goes over to do the play.

Home Ties, a play dealing with woman suffrage, by George Middleton, is to be produced by Cohen and Harris. ferably Nance Oldfield. Gerald du Maurier has just had a proposal to do a film performance of "Home Ties," but has not yet decided to accept it.

Gabrielle Ray Gets Decree The following special cable despatch from the French published in the New York American: Pretty Gabrielle Ray, ex-Gaiety girl and the most famous post card beauty in the world, went on the witness stand in the Divorce Court as she told the story of her unhappy marriage to Eric Loder, whom she is now suing for the restitution of conjugal rights.

Quo Vadis is just as successful in Europe as in America and is the one photoplay that is presented at Buckingham Palace, Eng., by royal command. Among the many notable players of the cast, B. Castellani, who appears as the giant Uras, is apparently the greatest feature. He was prevailed upon to make a special personal appearance at Albert Hall in London, for which prices ranging from two and one-half dollars down were charged. The king and queen were present, and the mammoth hall was crowded. Uras shook hands with thousands of English admirers.

Johnny Coulon Speaks Up

FROM T. S. ANDREWS. Milwaukee, July 31.—The claim of Kid Williams, of Baltimore, of the hantam weight life has caused Johnny Coulon, the champion, to write a letter to the writer Johnny says: "My Dear Andrews:—I see where Williams claims my title. Well he may claim all he wants to, but when the time comes I will prove it. Two bouts for me on my return and then a championship match."

HOSIERY

Nothing is more disappointing than a poor quality of hosiery, and there are few things in which it is so difficult for anyone but an expert to distinguish the worthy from the unworthy.

We protect the patrons of our hosiery department from dissatisfaction by handling only qualities that we know to be trustworthy. We buy from only reliable makers, and subject every purchase to a minute examination, rejecting every pair of stockings that does not come up to the high standard we've set for ourselves.

We have stockings for as little as 25c. and for as much as $1.50. Every pair from the lowest to the highest price is a thoroughly good quality which is certain to prove eminently satisfactory.

You'll find a complete stock of light and medium weights here, in all sizes.

In spite of the fact that the weather the girls were in high spirits on leaving this morning and a very enjoyable time was looked for.

A TRIBUTE TO C. B. FOSTER
Good Words For C. P. R. New Brunswick Man Who Has Made Success
(Canadian Courier)

Among the high officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway, whose duties it is to look after the millions of passengers who travel on its thousands of trains and its feet of eighty steamers, none is more popular than Charles Beverley Foster. He was recently made assistant passenger traffic manager and later line for promotion to one of the executive offices—than which there is no greater honor in the transportation world.

"Charlie" Foster, as he is familiarly known to hundreds of travelers, was born in Kingston, King's county, in 1871. When two years past of age he became a stenographer in the passenger department of the Canadian Pacific at St. John, and in a short twelve years rose to be district passenger agent at that point. In 1904 he was moved to Toronto, thence to Vancouver, and later to Winnipeg. Now he comes to the final resting place of the C. P. R.'s best men—the head office in Montreal.

Mr. Foster has a record of homes which quite outshines the best record of any other man in Canada except the man who moves to avoid paying rent. When he went to Winnipeg, in 1910, he had difficulty in finding a house. After looking about several times, he finally settled in a beautiful home. One day he and his wife found themselves nicely settled with the blinds and curtains and screens all complete. They sat down and talked over the possibility of their enjoying it for a few years and they had missivings. Next day he got a telegram to meet a high official in Chicago, and he and Mrs. Foster were suspicious. The expected happened—he got moving orders to Montreal.

Mr. Foster is a master of detail and a maker of friends. These are the outstanding characteristics which have carried him so fast up the ladder of success.

THE RIVER SERVICE
August 2, 1913.
To the Editor of the Times—
Sir:—Regarding the steamship service on the St. John river, as we are not all bank managers and lawyers, it is necessary for the majority of business men to be in town much earlier in the morning than is possible at present.
What is needed is a steamer for the suburban business only, and if a boat was provided that would carry passengers, say as far as Public Landing, leaving at a reasonable time in the evening and arriving in town not later than eight o'clock in the morning, it would make it possible for more business men to get away to the country, and could, no doubt, be made to run on a paying basis, besides being an inducement for a great many to build cottages along the shores of the river, but the present service discourages any attempt of the kind.
A steamer on this route could make two, or perhaps three, trips daily, and give all classes an opportunity to get up river at almost any hour of the day, and would, no doubt, pick up a certain amount of excursion and tourist traffic.
CHAS. LILLEY.

IN A BAD FIX IF THERE IS STRIKE

Suburbanites on I. C. R. Becoming Worried Over It

PLANNING WHAT TO DO

Milk Supply of City Also Would Be Badly Affected if Train Service Should Be Suspended—Pictou Joins Outcry Against Increased Rates

As the possibility of a strike on the I. C. R. increases there has been considerable speculation regarding the effect such an event would have on the patrons of the road. If a strike is declared it is believed that the train service will be interrupted, if not wiped out, and this would be a serious matter to those living along the line of the government road.

Among those who are discussing the matter are the suburbanites who are dependent upon the I. C. R. for their daily trips to their places of business in the city and their trips home. Many of those who are spending the summer in the country are holding themselves in readiness for a quick move to their winter quarters in the city if a strike is declared.

There are many others, however, who reside permanently in the suburbs, for whom this solution would not be available, and they are wondering what will happen if the trains stop. Those who have automobiles have no cause for worry, and even the owner of the humble bicycle is protected against isolation, if his home is not too far from the city. Co-operative automobile service is talked of by some of the suburbanites, and others are planning, if necessary, to remain in the city until the trouble is over.

The Milk Supply
Another feature of immediate concern to a large proportion of the city's population would be the cutting off of the milk supply, the greater proportion of which comes from points along the I. C. R. Almost every other commodity can be brought to the city as easily over other lines of transportation, but the loss of the connection with the eastern end of Kings County, where the dairying business flourishes, would be a serious matter to the city.

There are other features of the situation which are causing some worry, and the belligerent attitude of the I. C. R. management and the Ottawa government does not tend to allay the uneasiness.

Pictou Objects to Rates
Pictou, N. S., Aug. 1.—C. M. Hayes, the new traffic manager of the I. C. R., accompanied by Mr. Storey, freight agent, arrived here yesterday afternoon in a private car attached to the local train from Stellarton. The president and secretary of the board of trade had a talk with them as to the recent increase on the freight rate on coal from Stellarton to Pictou which had been hoisted to fifty cents a ton, an increase made last February having been followed by another of the same amount on July 1.

The board of trade men pointed out that as other places had kicked successfully for a decrease they wanted similar consideration shown for Pictou. The result was a decrease to forty cents a ton, leaving the consumer to write with a net increase of about twenty per cent over what the rate was in January.

SUNDAY CONCERTS

To the Editor of the Times—
Sir,—I notice that the commissioners, led by Mr. McLellan, have made a move, in my opinion in the right direction in re the bands playing in King Square some sacred music on Sunday afternoon for the benefit of those who wish to hear it. I think King Square is the most suitable place and the Salvation Army could fill the bill in Rockwood Park. The hours specified, from 8:30 to 5:30, are such that they would not conflict with church arrangements. So far so good. But, sir, I would humbly suggest that to make a little variety, and in order to give the businessmen time to pause and replenish their lungs with air, seats be provided and placed underneath the stand to accommodate a church choir, or an amalgamation of church choirs. I think there would be enough vocal soloists to lead in vocal music of hymns of a familiar nature, and give songs of praise and thanksgiving to the Almighty dispenser of all events, for the many merces they have received, are daily receiving and will receive in the promise of crops not only in the province but all over the great dominion of Canada. And I would also suggest that there could be one or more spirited speakers obligated to give short addresses on say: Sabbath Observance or any subject that would be suitable for the occasion, time limited, not to exceed ten minutes for the addresses; and that a conductor or chairman be appointed to have the affair conducted decently and in good order.
Yours,
KEEP OFF THE GRASS.

August 1, 1913.
To the Editor of the Times—
Sir, in a recent issue of your valued paper I saw it is proposed to hold so called sacred concerts in King Square during the Sabbath afternoon, as a citizen I would like to strongly protest against this. We have in St. John beautiful churches and beautiful music is there to be heard, free for everyone. If those who are obliged to remain in the city wish for music on Sunday, surely the sacred quietness of the interior of a church is far better suited to their requirements than a crowded square, where I have always noticed the benches well filled with gentlemen whilst the ladies are left to stand.
Let us have a quiet day in the seven. Thanking you for publishing this letter.
Yours faithfully,
ONE AMONG SO MANY.

TWENTY-ONE DEATHS
There were twenty-one deaths in the city this week, from the following causes: Senility three, heart disease 2, infantion 2, premature birth 2, and apoplexy, meningitis, pneumonia, consumption, endocarditis, empyema, myocystitis, typhoid fever, chronic nephritis, cerebral thrombosis and osteomyelitis of femur each one.
