When Parks, who had made an appointment to see Durrant, called after the departare of the other Salvationists, he found the way to Durrant's sensibilities paved

Parks introduced himself in a manly, considerate way. He told Durrant he was his friend whether he was innocent guilty of the crime he had been convicted of, since he was a minister of God whose duty it was to give spiritual comfort. Parks was evidently sincere, and Durrant expressed his thanks. Then Parks spoke of God and the eternal life beyond the world. He asked Durrant to devote his thanks. devote his thoughts to that other life. le did not rant, but spoke with feeling. Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 5.—At 5:30 o'clock this afternoon James Haffa, of Philadelphia, committed suicide by jumping from the Goat Island bridge into the rapids. The body caught on a rock a short distance above the falls and was hanging there at ten oclock to-night, but no effort was made to recover it. Haffa has been hanging about the city for several days, and on more than one occasion said he would jump into the river. He appeared to be of somewhat unsound mind. He claimed to have been a sea captain and to have served in the navy during the civil war. He was on his way back to Philadelphia from some place in Canada. Conservative papers, being much troubled in mind over the dissensions and bickerings that rend their own party, have been seeking relief by magni-

Mr. Laurier wrote Mr. Beaugrand a note in which he quoted this announcement and added this comment: "I do not recognize in the Patrie the right to speak in the name of the Liberal party, and the opinions which you express in the foregoing lines in no way reflect the feelings of that party. Since I assumed the direction of the party. I have been constantly seeking to keep it within the broad lines of the English Liberal school, and it shall not leave that path so long as I continue to occupy the position which I now hold." In the meantime, though there is much necd for economy and reduction of taxation, the province persists in hanging on to its useless and costly legislative council, an encumbrance which all theother provinces but Nova Scotia have shaken off. The Taillon government has also in prospect a "bad quarter hour" in respect of the French loan. It may be remembered that this loan netted the province only 77 and that the bonds were shortly afterwards sold by the Paris purchasers at a considerable advance. This is a rather awkward matter to held at Leamington, England, for the litical drowning and are calling on Mr. exchequer is in so bad a shape.

THE STATE ELECTIONS.

National issues were but remotely iuvolved in yesterday's elections in the United States, as this is what is called in the technical phraseology of politics mercial interests of the country were left an "off year." In a few cases the composition of the state legislatures was decided, and these of course have a more of the federal senate. But even in those "mostly fools." states where legislative elections took esteem as a statesman he has won in a point of interest because of her takization of the state would go into the hards of the Republicans.

TURKEY'S TROUBLES

The Sultan's Procrastinating Policy Lands Him in an Awkward Position.

Outside Powers at Last Show They Mean Business in Armenian Reforms.

Added to This, Internal Troubles Are Tearing the Ottoman Empire Asunder.

Constantinople, Nov. 7.-Halia Rifat Pasha, Turkish minister of the interior. has been appointed grand vizier in succession to Kiamil Pasha, resigned.

The Turkish minister for foreign af fairs, Said Pasha, has promised to give the ambassadors of the Powers a definite reply within two days of what steps the Porte intends to take in order to restore order in Armenia and provide for the protection of Christians in that part of the Turkish empire.

Revoluionary placards are being scat-tered here almost daily in the streets, and it is well known that the sultan has been threatened with a choice between abdication and assassination. Arrests of Armenian and Turkish suspects are constantly being made here and elsewhere, but the newspapers are so thoroughly under the control of the government that only a few important facts are allowed to leak out.

Of course such a state of affairs cannot be allowed to exist much longer as the lives of all Christians in Armenia are in danger and there is hourly expectation of most serious trouble in almost every part of the Turkish empire. The mere calling out of the army reserves will have little or no effect upon the situation, as the Turk- ing letters accompany the print.

Capt. Hamilton further remarks that "Vancouver called Burrard Inlet after 'Royal Navy,' but I do not find any reason for the statement made in a recent government guide book issued at Ottawa that Sir Harry Burrard entered the inlet which bears his name while in command of the tender Chatbam, one of Vancouver's ships." Vancouver Letter.

concessors of the constant Vancouver, Nov. 5-At the meeting of the city council last night resolutions were passed expressing the approval of the board of the proposal of G. F. Moncton for the erection of a smelter and refining works in this city, and promising when more definite particulars of the proposed industries have been furnished to submit a bonus by-law to The bonus is to be in the shape of a bounty on the initial products of the works after their operation has been begun. They ask for a bounty of $5 per ton on the first five thousand tons of ore smelted and $3 per ton on the first ten thousand tons of bullion refined. The total cost of the works is to be between $350,000 and $400,000, the most expensive part of the undertaking being the refinery. There is at pres ent no bullion refinery in Canada, and in this city, died suddenly last night only two or three exist at distant parts born in Toronto forty years ago, and were erected here it would be reasonable to expect that not only the great bulk of the bullion produced in the province would be sent here for refinement, but much also from smelters in the Pacific coast states. > > Provincial Secretary Baker has sent in a letter to the city council explaining way the provincial executive did not carry out the wishes of the city council regarding the salary to be paid to the newly appointed police magistrate for this city. The council asked that the salary should be $1200 per year; the government decided to keep it at the old figure of $1806. The provincial secretary in his letter says anything lower than $1800 would not be sufficient re-compense for a man of qualifications suitable for the discharge of such im-portant functions, and instances the fact. that the police magistrate of Victoria gets $2400. The government, therefore respectfully declined to be guided by the judgment of the city council in this matter. The provincial government is, of course, responsible for the administration of justice within its magisterial limits, but some of the aldermen are nevertheless very much incensed that their advice regarding a salary which they are compelled to pay has not been ac-that it should be so.

In connection with the matter of provincial revenues, it may be mentioned that a subject which will soon provoke much public discussion is that of the tax on the producing mines of the province. Mr. N. C. Schon, of this city, in a public speech the other day, advecated a system of royalties by which if the predictions of mining developmen third or one-half of the provincial reve nues. The subject is one of great in terest, and will no doubt prove a very important feature in the provincial leg islation of the early future.

Sutherland, T. H. Parker, ex-Mayor lames Hay, S. G. McKay. THE WHIP AT HOME. Mr. James Sutherland was given a warm reception by his constituents. Mr. Sutherland said that ever since Mr.

Laurier had been leader of the Liberal party it was his (Mr. Sutherland's) inention to meet the wishes of his friends in Oxford by having a grand demonstration worthy of the county and the cause represented by the Liberal leader. During the past few years, because of circumstances quite beyond his control, it was impossible for him to meet the wishes of his constituents and his own desires in this direction. Mr. Laurier's work had been very heavy and the term of parliament very uncertain. He had travel from one end of the Dominion o the other during the few months of the recess in which the weather was leagues, and said: suitable. Mr. Sutherland expressed his resent looking so well and hearty after vacation abroad. He thought it night be truly said that he was going to premier of Ontario for another quarer of a century. He was succeeded by Mr. Marter, the present leader of the opposition He had no chance of a chief justiceship, but he ought to get something to recon cile him to the cool shades of opposition which he might be for a long time. Mr Laurier was likely to put it out of the power of Mr. Marter's party to ap point him to a good office. On Mr Marter's account he was sorry for that but, at the same time, he was not sorry that Mr. Laurier had such a good prospect of giving the country good govern-ment and of placing the Reform party in power, though it might prevent Mr Marter from getting a good office in compensation for his suffering as the hopeless leader of a hopeless opposition. Mr. Lauries remarked parenthetically, that he did not mean by the comparison to say that the minds of the ministerial writers were diseased, although there was a s militude. The man was afraid of being poisoned, and he refused to eat any thing. He would not be poisoned, but he died of starvation. That was the course the ministerial press would have the people follow. They must make no change, but die of starvation. The ministerial press had an objection on behalf of the farmers, and also on be half of the manufacturers. They told with power because they would "have free trade as it is in England," and this Forse than extravagance, going would destroy the industries of Canada.

Sir Richard began his speech by saying that Mr. Laurier had brought with him from the province of Quebec a gentleman who at present shared with him (Sir Richard) the distinction of being about the best abused man in Canada.

Mr. Laurier's political utterances were characterized by that same brilliancy of thought which has stood out prominently during his Ontario tour. He spoke for nearly an hour, assailing the methods of the present government, defending himself against the accusations of the ministerial press, and clearly defining his position in regard to the Manitoba school question. He expressed extreme satisfaction and gratitude for the manner in which he had been welcomed by the electors during his tour, and especially those of Woodstock. "I have attended larger meetings than this," said Mr. Laurier, "but in all my tours I have not addressed a better or more enthusiastic This meeting has been the best of all. "Personally I regret having to take this step, for various reasons, amongst which may be mentioned that I have no wish to make the affair public for the sake of Mr. Hutcheson himself, and also of avoiding another scandal in the city government, but the attitude of certain aldermen who have made insinuations of spiteful and other unworthy motives, and the fact that the affair has become public cause me to bring

The days of trouble for aldermen are over, and the council groping its way through the darkness of legal ignorance is a thing of the past, for which the councils of succeeding generations will have to thank the board of 1855, who placed at their head a legal adviser, to attend all meetings of the council and safely pilot the municipal craft between the shoals and past the rocks of civic legislation, Mr. C. Dubois Mason, the newly appointed legal adviser, occupied a deek alongside of the city clerk last night, ready to expound any question of law that should arise.

His Worship Mayor Teague presided, there being also present Ald, Humphrey, McMillan, McLellan, Partidge, Williams, Bragg, Wilson, Cameron and Hell.

Thomas A. Bryden wrote re the side-walk on Kingston street, James Bay, pointing out some inaccuracies in the consideration of this matter. He called attention also to, the fact that the fence on the north side had been there for 21 yeers, thereby establishing a complete legal right to the land.

This was the first use the board made of their new pilot, Ald McMillan moving the reference of the matter to the cuty solicitor. Carried.

James L. Raymur reported that a third payment had been made to Walkely, King & Casey, amounting to $8000; making a total of $17,000 paid to the contractors on the water works. The work secured so far amounted to $23; 234.

Mr. Jorgensen also enclosed another account in connection with extra plants for the works, amounting to $101.

Add. McMillan pointed out that when Mr. Jorgensen got the appointment in was only you with the was to get 2½ per, cent., and if there was to get 2½ per, cent., and if there was any work he could not attend to he was to have a clerk of the works. Mr. Jorgensen got the appointment he was to get 2½ per cent., and if there was any work he could not attend to he was to have a clerk of the works but he was to give his whole time to the work. The alderman thought that before this amount was paid there should be some inquiry.

Ald. McLellan understood that this amount was for something outside of the contract.

Ald. McMillan moved that the matter be referred to the water committee. Ald. Williams agreeing with the remarks of the mover, and promising that the water committee would hunt up the question.

The caretaker of the market reported eccipts for October $111. Received and Robert Ledingham repeated his appli-

Ald. McMillan understood that at the Ledingham investigation Mr. Ledingham, it was stated, was not reinstated because there was no vacancy. Now there is a vacency and there was another appointment made. What was the reason?

Ald. Bragg knew that there had been some changes recommended, but did not know of any vacancies.

Ald. McMillan asked who made the appointments-the chief or the wardens? The letter was laid on the table until the reading of the fire wardens' report. A petition was presented on behalf of the Methodist church, Victoria, West, for a sidewalk leading to the church. Referred to the street committee with power to act.

The cemetery committee recommended the appropriation of $50 for necessary repairs to the caretaker's cottage. Car-

At this stage Robert Ledingham's application was taken up and referred to the wardens, with power to act if there was a vacancy.

The finance committee reported that they did not consider the city indebted to John Dalby for $20, as claimed. The report was adopted. The council adjourned at half-past nine o'clock.

> THE MARQUIS NO MURDERER. The Jury in the De Nayve Murder Trial Acquit the Prisoner.

Bourges, Nov. 6.-The jury in the trial of the Marquis de Nayve yesterday returned a verdict of not guilty. The verdict was not a popular one with the large gathering in the court room, the great majority of whom looked upon the Marquis as guilty. Even the presiding judge during the trial had aluded to the prisoner as "the murderer." and his charge to the jury was strongly gainst the Marquis. It is thought that the evidence adduced at yesterday's sitting, when a former governess to the Marquis' daughter testified that all the misery in the family was due to the sinister influence of the Abbe Roussellot, who, she said, wanted to break up the household and thus get he wife's fortune, had considerable to do in bringing about to-day's werdict. (Rossland Miner.) On every hand only encouraging signs are to be seen here and it is not too much to say that the output for the coming winter will double that of last. The advent of two railroads with one objective point has stimufated the exertions of the small owners, and everyone who has a few tons of ore in sight is preparing to snip.

Steve Bailey, at the Payne, has sacked and on the dump as much ore as was shipped during the whole of last winter. Two hundred tons take up every available inch of store room and still it is being turned out at the rate of two or three tons a day. People who should know, claim that he can ship at least 500 tons this winter without hurting the mine, and if this is so, a nice profit should accrue considering that the ore gives smelter returns of nearly 200 ounces of silver and 65 to 70 per cent, of

The Washington wagon road is completed and the tramway is now rapidly been pushed to completion. centrator will be in operation before the first of the year and its work will add not a little to the tonnage of the camp. The Slocan Boy, a crown granted claim lying immediately west of the Washington, has been leased to a Mr. Gibson and four or five men are now at work. The shaft is down 113 feet and the north drift shows 18 inches of min-galena. Two men are driving a tunnel on the summer on the McGuigan lake slope and it is almost certain that this property will also be among the shippers in a small way. Eight men are working at the R. E. Lee and the bucket tramway is in operation. The output will scarcely fall short of 100 tons.

The Last Chance has over 100 tons on the dump and the main showing has not been touched. No stoping has been done, and ore will for this winter only be taken out as development demands. The American Boy is making a shipment of 80 tons via the K. & S. railway. The Ruth has 60 or 70 tons out and the stopes present a fine appearance. The Carnation, owned by Dan and

He went out then and returned between 11 and 11:30, He noticed a light in the woman's room when he returned, but this was not unusual and he went to bed in his own room. When he got up this morning he noticed that the light was still burning in the woman's room. He went in and blew it out and pulling aside the curtains found that the woman was not in bed. A search revealed the body on the floor. Robrig immediately reported the matter to Officer Carson, who took charge of the body and removto the morgue, where it now is. Her friends cannot believe that she commit-ted suicide, If she died a natural death, why was the necktie tied tightly around her neck?

From Wednesday's Dally.

In the opinion of Dr. John Lang, who this morning held a post mortem examination, the death of Margaret J. Smith, alias Mattie Crowe, was caused by strangulation. As to whether she tied the knot in the necktie, which caused her death, he could not say.

This evidence and other facts brought out at the inquest this afternoon make it look very much as though the unfortunate woman had been murdered. There are those who believe that both Mattie Crowe and Cape Mudge Sally, whose body was found on the reserve some time ago, were killed by the same

This not being unusual he went to bed and did not wake up until about 8 next morning, when he saw the light still burning. After putting the light out he found the body. produced, and which was found tightly tied about the neck, was such a tie as would have been worn with the cotton waist in which the deceased had been May Williams, a friend of the deceased, residing on Herald street, related the substance of a conversation which took place during a call paid by Mattie Crowe to her on Monday evening. Matie had then complained of being in bad health and had asked for the return of 25 cents witness had previously borrowed, explaining that she had just paid her rent and was "dead broke." When Mattie went home she took with her two bottles of beer. Rohrig had lived with Mattie Crowe during the past three years, and though witness had never een any serious quarrels between them, Mattie had told her that he was rough with her when drunk. To a juryman witness said that she could not remember that the deceased had the tie on the last night seen alive.

Edward Rohrig afterwards told his. story in the witness box and was followed by William Stedman, alias Boscow itz Billy, who furnished the material evidence of having seen the deceased standing at her door as late as midnight on Monday. She was then alone and soliciting. From this evidence, only secured a few hours before the inquest, it s evident the crime was committed in the early hours of Tuesday morning. The case was still in progress at 4 o'clock.

LONDON MARKET WAS FLAT. The Speculation in Mines Is Showing Its Bad Effects.

New York, Nov. 6.-The Evening Post has the following special financial cablegram: The stock market was flat today, closing, however, above the worst. The selling was mainly from the continent. Consols fell to 1061/4 and closed at 1051/2 bid. There were heavy sales in all stocks from Glasgow, where the speculation in mines has been rampant. Americans were flat, but closed above the lowest. A quarter of a million in gold has gone from the Bank of England to-day for Paris; although the rate of exchange, 25.19, precludes any profit on the transaction.

About Two Million Dollars of New York Money Gene Up in Smoke.

and Have Many Hair-Breadth Escapes.

New York, Nov. 6 .- So fierce and stub- the "Katy" at 11 a.m., about four miles born was a fire which broke out in a clothing house at 147 Crosby street last night that, before it could be got under control damage estimated at a million dollars, was done. The flames so soon got beyond the control of the firemen that an alarm had to be turned in call- of distress, mingled with groans, indicating all the engines of the city below 59th street. From the point where the fire was first seen the flames ran quickly through the building, which extends from the corner of Crosby and Bleeker streets through the 150 foot block, until it makes the southeast corner of Broadway and Bleeker street. This building was destroyed. From this building the flames got into the structure adjoining on the south, while to the north the flames shot across narrow Bleeker street, caught the enormous building of the Manhattan Savings institution, the upper storeys of which soon fell with a great crash while the firemen were at work on the lower floors.

Jacob Adler & Co., control the clothing establishment on the floor where the fire started. Beneath them on the ground of the building, facing Broadway, is the Empire State Bank. On the upper floors are Lauterbak & Co., silks, and several like concerns. Half an hour after the flames were first seen in Crosby street the building had been demolished. The walls still stood erect, but the apertures where the windows had been, showed through them a solid sheet of flame.

Notwithstanding the enormous heat, the firemen crowded the building closely. From the very first it was seen the building was doomed and the only chance was the saving of the adjacent structures. Suddenly, a few minutes before nine clock, where all had been light for blocks and blocks around; from the glare of the flames, there came darkness. From the rent walls there came a great cloud of black smoke that blotted out all the light and made the air so pungent in narrow Bleecker street that the fire fighters were compelled to run for the men had just determined to force their way through it and again get their position at the lines, when with a low sullen roar, the high standing walls parted, seemed to hang in the air for a moment, supported by the roaring flames, and then fell, a mighty weight, where a few moments before the firemen had stood.

The five-storey building to the south caught fire with the falling of the walls, and the firemen's attention was called to that. Twenty of them were before the place directing twenty streams of water when an explosion came that shook the building, and a second later every him that anything he said might be used in evidence against him. Robrig said he was quite drunk when he want here. When the want here is the street. The iron shutters were forced from their fastenings and sent sailing through the air. It was just about this time that the flames sprang across the street and caught the building of the Manhattan Savings institution. Every effort was now expended on the big bank building, but despite everything that could be done the fire spread. Fire Chief Francis J. Reilly and twelve men were in the 6th storey of the building when from above the flames came so rapidly that their escape by the stairs or from the window through which they entered the building was cut off. By cutting a hole through the side wall of the building to the north the chief and eleven of the men escaped as the flames roared about them. Sor of them were badly burned. Chief Reilly, when he reached the street, raint-It was found that Reilly's back was injured, and he with several others were taken to the hospital. It is now estimated that the total loss from buildings, stock, etc., will reach $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

CANDIDATE FOR LYNCHING.

A Monster Murders His Wife and Burns the Body.

New Whatcom, Wn., Nov. 6 .- A report reached here this afternoon of the burning of a house belonging to a young farmer named Speisman at Timou, between Everson and Lynden, in county, last night, and the death of Mrs. Speisman in the flames. It is reported that a pistol shot was heard in the house before the fire broke out, and there is a suspicion that the woman was murdered and the house Larned to destroy evidence of the crime.

The coroner returned this afternoon from the scene of the tragedy. An inquest was held and a verdict rendered that Mrs. Speisman had been murdered by her husband, Frederick J. Speisman, who then set fire to the dwelling. The woman's limbs were burned to a crisp and her skull had been crushed by a blow from some blunt instrument. The couple were married six years ago, but separated, and were only recently reunited. A warrant has been issued throp. Marlborough Marries Millions-Miss The New York Political Monster Vanderbilt Attains an American Girl's Ambition.

Wealthy New Yorkers Make the Occasion One of Old World Court Splendor.

New York, Nov. 6.-The Duke of Marlborough and Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt were married this morning by Bishop Potter. The scene inside the church was a brilcentre aisle, was thronged with guests who could not be accommodated with seats. Women of wealth and social prominence vied with each other in the richness and grandeur of their equippage, tending to make the occasion one equal in brilliancy to the old world court functions. There was a surpliced choir of sixty voices, Immediately the choristers were seated, the New York symphony orchestra, under the direction of Walter Damrosch, commenced playing the wedding march from "Lohengrin," and shortly afterwards Mrs. Vanderbilt, accompanied by her two sons, W. K. jr., and Harold, entered the church and were escorted to their seats. Sir Julian Pauncefote, representing the Duke's family, accompanied by the members of the embassy, were escorted to their seats. The bridegroom, accompanied by his best man. Hon. Ivor Guest, walked from the vestry to the chancel rail, where they awaited the coming of the bride. few minutes after the Duke's entrance, the bridal procession formed and proceeded to the chancel. The bridesmaids were Miss Katherine Duer, Miss Elsa Brenson, Miss May Goulet, Miss Laura Jay, Miss Daisy Post, Miss Evelyn Burden, Miss Morton and Miss Marie Wintitude to catch a glimpse of the bride as the slender girl appeared, leaning on the arm of her father. At the chancel rail the bridal procession were met by the
