

RICHESON SAYS HE IS INNOCENT

bridge Baptist minister, charged with the murder of Miss Feliz, will be presented before the Suffolk county grand jury at a special session on Thursday of this week. This announcement was made this afternoon by Suffolk county.

One of the results of the grand jury consideration of the case this week will be to forestall and also take the place of the municipal court hearing in the matter, which was to have been held next Tuesday, the day on which Richeson's marriage to Miss Violet Edmonds of Brookline, was to have been solemnized. The prosecution, it is understood, was not inclined to let the attorney for the defense become acquainted with the nature of the government's evidence against the minister and inasmuch as the grand jury proceedings are conducted in secrecy, the counsel for the prisoner will not know the extent of the government's case.

In the event that Mr. Richeson is indicted by the grand jury, District Attorney Pelletier plans to have the prisoner tried before a jury in the criminal court at a special session to be held in January.

Pulpit Comment.
Boston, Oct. 23.—In many churches of Greater Boston sermons yesterday carried references, outspoken or veiled, to the case.

In the pulpit of the Immanuel Baptist church, Cambridge, where Richeson was ed eight days ago on the uncertainty of worldly things, the Rev. George Cross, of the Newton Theological Institution, faced the congregation yesterday. He made reference whatever to the plot of the man for whom he substituted, he avoided saying anything which might seem to have a reference to the case.

There was no word of Richeson's resignation at either service. On the sign outside the door his name stood forth in gilt letters as the pastor. Officers of the church had received no communication from him on the subject. Thomas M. Rumney, chairman of the finance committee, said that he and other members had received a resignation without having a church executive meeting act.

Richeson's relatives are rallying to his aid. His sister, Mrs. E. W. Richeson, a nurse, has come from Farmington, N. H. An uncle, Dr. William A. Richeson, of Amherst (Va.), where Richeson's father lives on a farm, has placed his money at the disposal of the accused man. Charles Richeson, brother of the pastor, has made preparations to come from Amherst to Boston with money to enlist in the fight for acquittal. He is expected to arrive here.

With that money behind him and the probability that the fortune of Miss Feliz Edmonds, his prospective bride, will be laid at his disposal, Richeson will be relieved of embarrassment because of his own lack of funds. He is practically penniless.

The police put in a busy day following the reported movements of Aris and Richeson on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 14, the day the girl met death. Deputy Winters interviewed Prof. Charles Bennett, of the New England Conservatory of Music, who saw the couple from time to time in D'Brien's sea grill on Dartmouth street. He also went to see Miss Annie Keefe, of 14 Ms. Vernon street, where the pastor, the pastor, and Miss Katharine Stevens, the waitress of the grill. Both recall the couple's frequent dinners there.

While it is known that Miss Linnell had been taking medicine for some time and apparently had stopped it, she was shot before her death. Dr. Leary said last night that he did not think the medicine could be connected with the case.

Richeson spent a lonely day in his cell at the end of "Murderers' row." The regular Sunday gospel services were held, and singing carried on in the adjoining choir to his ears, but he was not allowed to take part. From his pocket Bible he read, if he desired. No visitors were admitted on Sunday.

Richeson's Other Escapades.
Liberty, Mo., Oct. 22.—The Rev. J. J. Feliz, father of Miss Feliz, to whom Rev. Clarence Light Thompson, who was engaged while attending William Jewell College in this city, refuses to allow or deny the engagement, but friends of the woman admit it.

Miss Feliz met Richeson at a divinity students' reception at the Baptist church shortly after he came to Liberty in 1922. Mr. Carroll county (Mo.) where he professed religion. She at once took a deep interest in him. He was a constant caller at her home, and it was thought generally that they would be wedded.

He completed his course in college, but Richeson was detected cheating in the final examinations of 1925 and suspended. He was expelled the next year for repeating his performance.

Richeson immediately brought suit against the college to compel it to give him a diploma, but withdrew it after an interference with the faculty. He is said to have been charged with unbecoming conduct with a young woman member of the Build Park Baptist church in Kansas City, where he had preached every Sunday during his student days.

Richeson is said to have been engaged to two young women in Carroll county (Mo.), by whom he was cited when news of his affair with Miss Feliz reached their ears.

Another sensational episode in which he was involved occurred before his acquaintance with Miss Feliz began. One Sunday he called upon a young woman in Ames a day or two before, and stretched out on the lounge, but refused to get up until after 2 o'clock in the morning, when several college students were summoned to see him home. He left the house with his assistance, but declined to accompany them further than the sidewalk, and walked away without saying a word of his or explaining his conduct. After he said that he had a fit, the young man refused to accompany him, and the doors of her house were barred to him thereafter.

When Richeson was expelled from college, Miss Feliz resigned her position as teacher of Latin and mathematics in the very high school, and it was thought that they would marry at once, but he left her hurriedly and married a woman named Feliz (Col.), and she took a position as teacher of a school in Kansas City, which he held until last fall, when she went to home of a sister at Lake City, because of failing health and grief over the death of her lover, from whom she had occasionally during the intervening years.

Miss Feliz loaned Richeson $700 after eminent ministers in the state who had in assisting him become disgusted with the money was repaid during the last year.

Philadelphia, Oct. 20.—Perhaps the silent treatment would fit this game today as well as any other. In the first place, the Athletics put over everything they tried and got the "broads," and then they hit the ball all over the lot besides, a combination that was never known to be beaten in baseball.

When the game started today, both clubs were up against it for pitchers and the selection was bound to be a sort of lottery. "Connie" Mack had Bender and Plank at his possibilities. The Indian had pitched on Tuesday and had had a lot of curves, which kills a man's arm. He has the reputation of not being able to come back in one day.

Plank had worked for one inning yesterday at the Polo grounds and had warmed up most of the afternoon. That fact being a strain on him, and he is not a robust man, he was not pitched on Tuesday and had had a lot of curves, which kills a man's arm. He has the reputation of not being able to come back in one day.

Two Charges of Stealing Made Against Former St. John Banker—Gang of Crooks Alleged to Have Induced Accused Man to Help Them in Swindling the Bank of N. B.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Sunder, Oct. 20.—Instead of lessening the mystery surrounding the death of William Ryder, who was found with three bullet holes through his body in the woods near White's plantation on Wednesday, Oct. 13, the opening session of the inquest which was held at Newtown, Kings county, today left the case as puzzling as before.

The chief feature of the inquest was the difference of opinion between the two doctors as to the possibility of the deceased having committed suicide.

Dr. Hornsey, who conducted the post-mortem examination on Saturday last, is a practitioner of long experience who, in his younger days as army surgeon during the American civil war, became familiar with gunshot wounds of every description. He maintained that no man after receiving two of the wounds could have fired the third shot into his own body.

He dismissed the possibility of the man having removed his shirts after the three bullets had passed through his body, saying that, by that time, he would be dead.

Doctors Disagree.
Dr. A. S. Lamb, who, as coroner, had pronounced the case to be suicide and had given permission to bury the body, still contended that Ryder had killed his own head. Although confessing his lack of experience with wounds of this description, he believed that the circumstances and the evidence still made the suicide theory tenable and would only admit that murder would have been possible if the victim had committed the deed, which he did not consider likely.

Refused to Answer Questions.
Clark waived extradition and even refused to answer the routine questions as to his birth and business.

Upon the two charges preferred against Clark by the Canadian authorities, Magistrate Butts ordered him committed to the city prison for thirty days or until his extradition has been arranged.

Clark was held in custody at the Duke of York Hotel, where he is confined here. The request papers, which the Duke of York Hotel is asked to sign, will probably be the first ones to come before him in any way serve to explain the cause of the inquest.

The inquest was held in the public hall erected by the enterprising residents of the community last summer. Coroner P. W. Walker, who presided, and Geo. W. Fowler, M. P., were present on behalf of the crown. The jury consisted of E. Keith (foreman), F. M. Campbell, O. G. Hall, P. H. Ould, G. W. Kay, Ambrose Manning and O. G. Hall.

Police McLeod, of Sussex, was in attendance and the stenographic report of the proceedings was taken by Miss Thompson.

Hall Crowded.
The hall was crowded with about 200 spectators, including many women and children, some of whom were asked to be present at the investigation.

The occurrence of such a shocking tragedy in a peaceful country district was in itself enough to attract the interest of the neighbors and when they were allowed to see the body, they were amazed and surprised by a writer of the most imaginative detective fiction.

Mrs. Ryder, dressed in her widow's weeds, sat at the front of the hall with her two daughters, and while they were scrutinizing the body, they were directed towards her.

After the noon recess an adjournment was granted until 2 o'clock, when at 10 o'clock, as Dr. Thorne was examining the body, Mr. Fowler wished to examine the scene of the tragedy.

EARL GREY'S VIEWS ON CANADIAN ELECTIONS

From Earl Grey's address at the Royal Colonial Institute, London, October 24.

I can say with the greatest confidence that with the exception of an occasional crank here or there it is impossible to find an annexationist throughout the whole of Canada.

I say with equal confidence that there is no expectation in Canada that the recent Canadian elections should be used for inducing any change into the tariffs of the United Kingdom. It cannot be too clearly understood that Canadians are as adverse to the idea of interfering in your local affairs as they are to any interference on your part in theirs.

The relation of Canada to the Empire was contained in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's words that "the twentieth century belonged to Canada."

In justice to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, my affection and admiration for that distinguished statesman requires me to say that he and his Government were actuated by no annexationist sentiment in the policy they adopted. It was certainly in no sense a policy of dislike to closer connection with the mother country.

Let it be clearly understood that the Canadian people are not in sympathy with any form of Imperialism which involves the idea of subjection of a self-governing people to an authority outside or to any form of government involving the idea of jingo aggressiveness.

SUIT TO BREAK THE STEEL TRUST

U. S. Government Began Proceedings Yesterday—Multi-millionaires, Including Carnegie and Morgan, Defendants

—One Charge is That Trust Officials Deceived Roosevelt in Regard to Tennessee Coal & Iron Deal.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Trenton, N. J., Oct. 20.—The government's long-planned suit to break up the so-called "Steel Trust" was begun here today in the United States Circuit Court. It is the most sweeping anti-trust action ever brought by the department of justice.

The government asks not only for the dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation, but for the dissolution of all constituent or subsidiary companies which are alleged to have combined in violation of the Sherman law to maintain or attempt to maintain a monopoly of the steel business.

There are thirty-six subsidiary corporations named as defendants. J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie, Charles M. Schwab, George W. Perkins, E. H. Gary, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Henry C. Frick, Charles Steele, James Gayley, William H. Moore, J. H. Moore, Edmund C. Converse, Percival Roberts, Jr., Daniel Greid, Norman B. Ream, P. A. B. Widener and William J. Palmer are named individually as defendants.

Many Defendants.
The United States Steel Corporation, Carnegie Steel Company, Carnegie Company, Lake Superior Consolidated Steel and Wire Company of New Jersey, National Tube Company, American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, American Sheet Steel Company, American Sheet Steel Company, American Bridge Company, Lake Superior Consolidated Iron Mines, all of which were organized under the New Jersey laws, and the H. C. Frick Coke Company, Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Company, and the Great Western Iron Company are named as corporation defendants.

Louis W. Hill, James N. Hill, Walter J. Hill, E. L. Nicole, and J. H. Gruber are named as trustees in connection with the ore companies. The Steel Corporation lease of the Great Northern Railway Company's ore properties, which the directors of the steel company today formally decided to cancel, is alleged to be illegal. The government acknowledges that it was advised of the steel corporation's intention in this respect, but states that under the terms of the lease no cancellation would be effective until Jan. 1, 1915, and there is no limit upon the amount of ore that can be taken out in the interim.

The Steel Corporation's acquisition of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company during the panic of 1908 is declared illegal. The Tennessee Coal & Iron Company declares that E. H. Gary and Henry C. Frick misled former President Roosevelt when they told him "that little benefit would be derived from the sale of the corporation, it is conceded, greatly strengthened its control of ore supply and

(Special to The Telegraph.)
London, Oct. 20.—Four hundred Italians were killed or wounded in the fighting around Tripoli on Monday and Tuesday, but all newspaper correspondents were forbidden to communicate the extent of the casualties, according to a new agency despatch received here today from Tripoli, which escaped Italian censorship by being filed at Valetta.

The situation at Tripoli, the despatch adds, is serious. European residents fear a massacre or a holy war has been proclaimed by the natives of Tripoli and Benghazi.

At Shazareth the line of the Italian defence is reported as being hard pressed by the Arabs.

A Chain of Forts.
Rome, Oct. 20 (via Frontier).—Reports received here today from Tripoli say that General Caneva, commander of the Italian army of occupation, has completed an elaborate plan for an advance into the Tripoli interior. The advance will be made through the formation of a chain of forts, so strongly fortified as to make them impregnable to the enemy.

Each fort will be provided with field artillery and with cavalry for scouting purposes. In addition each garrison can easily be reinforced from the neighboring forts, as all the posts are to be connected by telegraph.

As the Italian force advanced from the coast it was surprised at the absence of inhabitants. A search was made and the natives were discovered hidden in the grottoes where they had fled in fear of the aeroplane scouting in advance of the soldiers.

Free distribution of large quantities of grain for sowing in the reward offered to the Italians and for their assistance against the Turks. Any attempt at hostility of the concealment of arms by the natives will be inexorably punished.

Italians Routed.
Maita, Oct. 20.—The Italian reverse at Tripoli on October 23, according to steamship passengers who were on their way here, amounted almost to a rout. Italian outposts during a reconnaissance encountered a Turkish outpost which repulsed the Italians and found themselves suddenly attacked on all sides. Three companies of Bersaglieri (Light Infantry) were totally annihilated, several officers were made prisoners and mutilated and hanged by irregulars.

The return of the remainder of the Italian force, carrying a great number of wounded, said by some of the passengers to be seven hundred, caused intense excitement among the Arab population of Tripoli. The Arabs attempted to revolt, firing many shots and wounding many Italians. The attempt was soon quelled and hundreds of Mussulmans were arrested and shot. The passengers say that when they left Tripoli the town was still teething with excitement.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Boston, Oct. 20.—The special session of the Suffolk county grand jury which was convened today to consider the evidence accumulated by the police against Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, in connection with the death by poisoning of Miss Feliz Linnell, the Hyannis singer and Sunday school teacher, assumed something of the aspect of a trial, because some of the witnesses for the defence as well as government witnesses were called.

When the grand jurors adjourned at 6 o'clock this evening, they had heard the testimony of more than a dozen persons, including three who are directly connected with the case for the defence. These three were Mr. and Mrs. Moses Grant Edmonds, father and mother of Miss Violet Edmonds, the accused clergyman's fiancee, and Robert Burns, head of a local detective agency, who has directed the investigation of the case.

Richeson's mother, Mrs. E. W. Richeson, was called to testify that she had seen her son on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 14, the day the girl met death. # DETECTIVE OFF TO BRING CLARK BACK

Accused Bank Clerk Willing to Come? Officer Killen and Counsel for Bank of N. B. Left Last Night

Former Branch Manager Held Without Bail in New York Court—Had Nothing to Say About the Charges Against Him.

New York, Oct. 24.—At about the time today when Harry B. Clark, late of St. John, New Brunswick, but now in the Harlem court prison, appeared to board the Kaiser, Wilhelm Der Grosse, bound for Europe, he was facing Magistrate Butts on the charge that he had stolen $7,000 from the bank of New Brunswick, of which he was a branch manager in St. John, and had run away. This amount was specified in the "short affidavit" presented to the magistrate. More detailed matters, such as the larceny of $30,000 and Clark's responsibility to the bank for an alleged loss of $50,000 will be taken up with the officer from St. John, reaching New York.

Clark is now held until Thursday as a fugitive from justice, without bail. He was arrested Monday night by Pinkertons who had trailed him since he left St. John on June 30 and stated that he was willing to go back to Canada. He made no statement to the local police and the Pinkertons, Clark had been victimized by a group of stock promoters who inveigled him into loaning large amounts of the bank's money on worthless security. Their scheme, it is said, was to open a grape vine of offices in various cities of Canada and the United States and apply to banks for loans, presenting sound securities and giving officers of some of the dummy companies as references. In this way, it is understood, Clark, as the manager of the bank, made himself liable for large losses.

Detective Starts for Clark

Detective Killen, accompanied by Chas. F. Sanford, of Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford, left last evening by the Boston express for New York, having in his possession a warrant for the arrest of Harry B. Clark, in which the former bank manager is charged with embezzlement of several amounts. Arriving in New York this evening, Detective Killen and Mr. Sanford, who is acting as counsel for the Bank of New Brunswick, will be on hand to meet Clark as he goes to the police station on Thursday morning. It is understood that his examination in New York will be very brief and only for the purpose of testing the validity of the Pinkerton's affidavit. Killen has in his possession and is identifying the prisoner as the person mentioned in the warrant.

Detective Killen is expected to return to the city with his prisoner within a few days. The fact that Clark is reported as having expressed his willingness to come back to St. John without extradition proceedings may make this possible. In addition to the losses sustained by the bank in which, it is said, Clark became the dupe of clever swindlers from the United States, it is said to be in a claimant case of theft which is charged against him.

R. B. Kessen, general manager of the Bank of New Brunswick, said yesterday that Clark would be brought back to St. John and charged with theft. He said further that the stories in circulation as to the amount of money he had taken were ridiculous exaggerations. It had been stated that from the bank side altogether from the financial transactions of outside parties and which were now the subject of litigation. The bank has added did not expect to lose the money involved in those cases, but the question was a legal one. Even if the bank lost, the sum involved was comparatively small and would not cause it any inconvenience. Clark himself, when brought to St. John, he will be immediately, will be placed on trial for theft.

Held Without Bail

New York, Oct. 24.—The young man who gave his name as Harry B. Clark, who was arrested last night at Lenox Avenue and 120th street, in connection with the Bank of New Brunswick matter, St. John, N. B., was willing, and in fact admitted, this morning to go back to Canada, according to the police of the West 125th street station. While the authorities would not allow the young man to talk and the police

RICHESON'S FAMILY FIANCEE SEES HIM IN PRISON

It is Said That the Accused Minister Will Endeavor to Prove an Alibi—State Witnesses to Go Before Grand Jury Today.

Boston, Oct. 24.—Removed today from the grave in the cemetery at Hyannis, the body of Miss Avis Linnell, the nineteen-year-old music student for whose death by poisoning Rev. G. V. T. Richeson, of Cambridge, is under arrest at the Charles street jail, was brought back to Boston tonight by order of District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier.

Incidental to the examination of the body, the officers will also make a careful search of Miss Linnell's bathroom which was buried in the casket with the body, for anything which might have been used as a receptacle for the fatal powder. Such a container has not yet been found, and the fact has bothered the investigating officers, as it leaves a notable gap in their chain of evidence.

No definite statement as to just what is to be accomplished by the examination of the body came from the district attorney's office tonight, beyond the declaration that the body must be looked over again on the possibility that it may contain something overlooked in the first examination. The district attorney existed as to the nature of the question.

Certain About the Poison

"We are certain that cyanide of potassium was the poison used," said the district attorney, the defence believed that the body was brought back to the city for some other purpose, a mere examination of a garment. Whatever the explanation of the move, it is understood that the examination of the body will be made at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning at the city hospital morgue. It is probable that the defence will not be represented by any lawyer.

Attorney Philip R. Dunbar, of counsel for Mr. Richeson, petitioned the court this morning to allow his client to have access to the defence present at the trial. This move was opposed by the government and the court decided to delay a decision on the matter until after the morning. Court will open tomorrow morning, and the defence will have its first representation by the defence at the examination planned for the early morning.

Without expressing a word as to his innocence or guilt, asking only that the question as to his resignation as pastor be held in abeyance until after the hearing in court. Mr. Richeson, who is being held in his cell in Charles street jail, a letter to his congregation at the Immanuel Baptist church, Cambridge.

Richeson, a Heart Breaker

Boston, Oct. 24.—Rev. Mr. Richeson must have been a heart breaker if the reports about his having been engaged to a young woman were true. It is said that he was engaged to a young woman named Miss Linnell, and which, according to her statement, he had taken away to the States. He had left hands of no fewer than three other girls previously.

MISS HELEN WOODRUFF SMITH

A branch of promise and unusual interest is at present attracting wide attention in New York. Russell Griswold is suing Helen Woodruff Smith for $50,000 head bail. Miss Smith is the daughter of the late James D. Smith, once president of the New York Stock Exchange. The plaintiff is a Broadway chorus man. Fervent letters written by Miss Smith to Griswold and which were sealed with countless "eye kisses" were read to the jury.

It was reported that a family reunion was to be held at the Edmonds home last night, at which would be present the Rev. Mr. Richeson, his fiancée, Miss Violet Edmonds, and her father, Col. Lillian V. Richeson, of Saratoga Lake (N. Y.), a sister, and Douglas Richeson, of Chicago, a brother of the minister. All are in the city today.

Sweethearts Meet in Jail

Miss Violet Edmonds, the fiancée of the Rev. Clarence V. J. Richeson, now in the Charles street jail awaiting trial for the murder of Avis Linnell, spent an hour yesterday afternoon at the jail with her fiancée, who is wearing and although Miss Edmonds' first visit to the jail and the first meeting of the clergyman and the young woman since the police placed him under arrest.

While the mother of the young woman accompanied her to the jail, the minister and his fiancée conversed together alone for the greater part of the time allotted them. A jail officer stood near Miss Edmonds. While the conversation between the affianced pair was through the cell bars, their hands met time and time again and their faces were pressed close to the bars. A few minutes after the conversation between Miss Edmonds raised the heavy black veil she was wearing, and although Miss Edmonds' eyes were dim and her voice at times steady, both conversed in low but earnest tones.

Miss Edmonds arrived at the jail about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and remained within the prison until 6 o'clock.

Alibi, Richeson's Defence

The defence of Richeson is drafted. Inasmuch as the government has the plan of the accused clergyman. He will offer an alibi which his sympathizers claim will be substantiated by reputable witnesses, among them being the Rev. Mr. Richeson's sister. Not only will Richeson deny that he was in the company of Miss Linnell on the day prior to her death and account for his movements on that and previous days of the fatal week, but he will also assert in his behalf that another man had opportunity to give her the poison. This man, he outlines the case framed to date by those who are interested in the interests of the young clergyman.

The police officials make it appear obvious that they have much evidence not yet disclosed, but those who are wearing the mantle that will be thrown about Miss Richeson as a garment of protection express equal confidence in the outcome. It is pointed out in behalf of the imprisoned preacher that although he was an intimate friend of the Hyannis girl he was not nearly so deeply in love with her as may have appeared in early reports, and that at the opportune time explanations can be made which will make many phases less dark and damaging. Better engaged was Richeson, he is as supporters, but they don't seem to disturb the police, who are leaving no stone unturned. Plain clothes men from Belmont square are working day and night. It is expected that the police will be as detectives for the defence, and that they will be supported by Robert Burns, of the Burns Detective Bureau, 1 Benson street. It was learned yesterday that the defence will attempt to show that Richeson was married to Miss Rose Edmonds, a sister of Miss Violet Edmonds. Both men were students at the Newton Theological Seminary, and it was there that Miss Rose first became acquainted with the man she is engaged to marry.

THE NORTON REVIVAL. Norton, Oct. 23—Sabbath was a great day in Norton. Rev. Mr. Sealey, assisted by others, conducted an inspiring service in the forenoon.

At 3 o'clock Rev. John Lennox led the united chorus choir in rapturous song. Rev. C. P. Goodson, the organist, joined the Goodsonian choir of eighty voices with the large choir, making such a volume of music as has not been heard in this town.

The subject of the sermon of Rev. Mr. Goodson was "The Unavoidable Christ." This was regarded by many the best sermon ever preached in Norton. Many asked for prayers and made definite decisions for Christ—rising in the crowded building at the call of the preacher.

The longed-for Goodson stays the better people like him—and the more the crowds come from great distances to hear his earnest appeals.

The meetings to continue every night during the week at 7:30. Mr. Goodson preaches a special sermon on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock to mothers, though the public is invited. On Saturday evening he wishes to meet all the members of the community for a heart to heart talk on making life count.

Judge Wilson Holds That Affidavit for a Recount is Defective.

Fredricton, N. B., Oct. 26.—Judge Wilson this morning delivered judgment in the Sunday-Queen election case, declining to proceed with the recount, and confirming Col. McLean in his seat. The objections made to Luther B. Smith's application for a recount, were— (1) That the sum of $100 required under section 193 of the election act, for security of costs, was not deposited with the clerk of the court within four days after that on which the returning officer had made the addition of the votes for the purpose of declaring the candidates elected. (2) That the judge had no jurisdiction to grant the application outside of the electoral district of Sunbury and Queens. (3) That the affidavit upon which the second order for a recount was issued was not sufficient to give him jurisdiction in any case.

The first objection was overruled by the judge. In regard to the second, he was of opinion that, as he acted in his judicial capacity, he had no authority to grant an order for recount outside of the electoral district of Sunbury and Queens, and therefore it was defective and the objection made by the respondent's counsel was upheld.

The third objection, His Honor referred to the affidavits and cited order by Chief Justice Townsend and Judge McLeod, which he thought were in line with the case.

The judge, being based on the applicant's information and belief, were held to be defective, and His Honor decided that he could not proceed with the recount. Mr. and Mrs. Clark left by steamer Calvix Austin for Boston on the way to their home in Boston.
