MONEY MUSK.

D-o-w-n comes the bow First couple join right hands and swing!"
As light as any blue bird's wing
Whirls Mary Martin all in blue—
Calico gown and stockings new,
And tinted eyes that tell you true,
Dance all to the dancing sound.

She flits about big Moses Brown
Who holds her hands to keep her down
And thinks her hair a golden crown
And his heart turns over once!
His cheek with Mary's breath is wet,
It gives a second somerset!
He means to win the maiden yet,
Alas, for the awkward dunce!

"Your stoga boot has crushed my toe!"
"I'd rather dance with one-legged Joe,"
"You clumsy fellow!" "Pass below!"
And the first pair dance apart.
Then "Forward six!" advance, retreat,
Like midges gay in sunbeam street
"I'is Money Musk by merry feel.
And Money Musk by heart!

"Three quarters round your partner swing!"
"Across the set!" The rafters ring.
The girls and boys have taken wing
And have brought their roses out!
"Tis "Forward six!" with rustic grace
Ah, rarer far than—"Swing to place!"
Than golden clouds of old point lace
They bring the dance about. Then clasping hands all—"Right and left !"
All swift!y weare the measure deft
Across the woof in loving weft
And the Money Musk is done!
Oh, dancers of the rustling hask,
Good night, sweet hearts, 'tis growing dusk,
Good night f' raye to Money Musk,
For the heavy march begun!

NOTES AND NEWS. UNITED STATES. A Mexican woman, a lineal descendant f the Montezumas, has sued the pro-GRAND VIEW HOUSE, prietor of a Chicago beer garden for $10,000 damages, on account of being refused a glass of beer because of her color. A New York law journal argues that lawyers as a class are very poorly paid, and that it is only by the force of an in-domitable will and extraordinary talents that one of them occasionally rises to

Among the archives of Missouri is a resolution passed in 1824, and still in effect, requesting the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Judges, and other State officials and members of the General Assembly to dress in clothing, the growth and manufacture of Missouri.

The Sacramento Union says that there is a snow bank in the Rocky Mountains which sends its waters into the Colorado, and thence to the Gulf of California, to the Columbia river and the North Pacific Ocean; and also into the Missouri and the Gulf of Mexico.

The Detroit Free Press tells about an archin that was seated on the Post Office steps, going through a watermelon, when a man halted and asked, "This is a great town for hogs, isn't it, bub?" "Wall, mo," drawled the lad, as he filled his mouth again and kept his eyes on the man; "you'll be awful lonesome here!"

At the funeral of Dr. Jonathan Mayhew of Boston, in 1766, the Rev. Dr. Chauncey offered prayer, which is said to have been the first prayer ever offered at a Boston funeral; so scrupulous were the Puritans to avoid what might seem the least ap proach to the Roman Cathelic practice of praying for the dead.

There was a man in Murray county, Wis., who got mad when he found that the grasshoppers had called for his wheat, so he got a big roller and crushed wheat andgrasshoppers together into the ground. It killed the insects, and a succession of showers revived the wheat so that it was as good as new. It rays to get mad now and then. The eggs out West are bothering the people who don't understand how the live creatures which are being frequently reported as found in fresh eggs managed to get in a their singular quarters. The instances given are quite numerous, but the stories appear rather doubtful. One case, for instance, is that an egg was found to contain a live potato bug. Benito Sarona of New Mexico went to Arizona recently and stole two horses.

He was followed by three frontiersmen. They overtook him, bound him to a sapling, whipped him until the blood flowed, silt his ears, and left him tied in the wilderness. A man named Martinez released him, and in less than a week he stole Martinez's saddle, but gratefully left the house. A disconsolate widow in the western part of the State of New York, daughter

In the second story are the mill-stones. The bottom one is cemented in brickwork, while the upper one is wedged fast to the shaft and revolves with it. Not being balanced or trimmed, it is constantly wearing off particles of stone, which mix with the flour. The grain is introduced through an oxhide hopper, the mouth of which is an old boot leg sticking through the roof. The flour flies off in every direction over the floor, and is finally swept up in a heap and put into oxhide sacks. The next result is New Mexican bread.

Mr. Drinkwater, of Trinity College, performed a feat which is believed to be without parallel. He swam under water a distance of 83 yards, and was immersed in the current for one minute and seven seconds. Upon emerging, he appeared little the worse for the exertion. A grandmother writing to the London Times says that base ball is not an Am - rican game, but an ancient English one, long ago discarded in favor of cricket. As proof she cites a letter of the celebrated Mary Lepel, Lady Hervey, written in 1748, in which the family of Frederick, Prince of Wales, are described as "diverting themselves with base ball, a play that all who are or have been schoolboys are well acquainted with."

GREY & WHITE COTTO'S The power of chemical agency has singular illustration in its modifying effect upon the properties of cotton. When examined by a lens, the fibre of cotton is found to consist of a flattened or ribbon-shaped tube, but when treated by chemical process, with a cold strong solution of caustic soda, it appears to shrink, and assumes the form of a-simple cylinder; thus, three important and very remarkable alterations occur at the same time—that is, the fibre becomes stronger, it acquires increased attraction for coloring matter, and it becomes smaller. In most cases where chemical agency is employed in the preparation of vegetable abres, either to remove impurities, to destroy color, or indeed for any other purpose, the object in view is generally altained at the sacrifice of a little strength, but in this case there is increased tenacity imparted. singular illustration in its modifying ef-Hats and Caps, Haberdashery in Great Variety, DANIEL & BOYD.
