HARTLAND TO LOSE A LEADING INDUSTRY

Estey & Curtis Co., Ltd., Have Bought Stand in Fredericton and Will Gradually Transfer Their Business

The news that Estey & Curtis Co., Ltd., may remove to Fredericton is heard with keen regret.

The firm was organized by B. S. Miller as chief promoter in 1896 and has had a steadily prosperous development, so that today the turn-over is fully one hundred times that which was expected for the first year.

It may not be fully realized that this business is one of the leading enterprises of the county, giving employment throughout the year to fifteen or twenty people at good wages. Besides manufacturing an extensive line of proprietary medicines and preparations they also conduct an extensive wholesale business, not only in drugs and druggists sundries but in confectionery, cigars and tobacco, stationery and certain lines of groceries.

Mr. Miller has bought the Long hotel property at Fredericton, and of it the Mail says:

"One of the largest transactions in real estate, which has taken place in this city in some time is in process of completion. By it Estey & Curtis Co., Limited, of Hartland, druggists, have acquired the Long's Hotel property at the corner of York and King streets. The price paid is said to be in the vicinity of seventeen thousand dollars. A. R. Slipp, K. C. of Slipp & Hanson, acted in the matter.

The new owners will make extensive alterations to the hotel building, putting in store fronts and using the property for a wholesale drug business.

"The property is an extensive one, including not only the hotel building, but also the stables and other wooden buildings on the lot. The latter is about half an acre in extent, having an area of 19,000 square feet. Its situation is one of the best in the city for business purposes.

"About a year ago J. Clark & Son, Limited, negotiated for the purchase of the property and the sale was actually reported, but a disagreement on a minor detail prevented the closing of the transaction.

"Long Hotel has been known as a house of public entertainment in Fredericton for many years. In addition to the original founder of the hotel proprietors have been the late Albert Everett, the late P. D. McKensie, Ernest Howes and William Allen. The last named sold to the Hartland company.

Mr. Miller says that the difficulty in shipping goods from Hartland to points on other railways is one of the chief reasons for removal of business.

No immediate change is expected in the business here except that A. A. Barter will remove to Fredericton and take charge of the branch there. Stock will be carried in that city to care for the ever growing business south, east and north.

It is likely that Mr. Miller will remove his family to Fredericton after a time. He has been in the last 25 years a most energetic and helpful citizen. The part he played in the organization of the Hartland Bridge Company is not to be overlooked, nor the time and money which he spent in carrying on war philanthropic and patriotic work.

Should Mr. Miller remove entirely the town will lose an industry second only to one or two others.

RICHARD BARKER OF UPPER KENT

Our community sustained a great loss by the death of Richard Barker who passed away on the morning of March 30, after an illness of only one short week. His death came as a great shock to his host of friends and he will especially be missed and mourned by the Methodist church of which he was a faithful and devoted member. For him to live was Christ, to die was gain.

Besides his wife and three children, he leaves a widowed mother, two brothers, Owen of Chester, and Guy of Houlton, and a sister, Mrs. Sam Armons of Benton. We tender our sincere sympathy to the widow and children and all the other sorrowing and bereaved ones.

BELOVED PRIEST IS LAID TO REST

Impressive Funeral Services of Rev. Fr. Joyner at Grand Falls

Aged 74 years, Rev. Henry T. Joyner, P. F., Grand Falls, died at St. Basil Hospital on Wednesday, after a short illness of bronchial pneumonia. He was an Englishman by birth, a graduate of Oxford University, and in early life a member of the Church of England. For many years Fr. Joyner was stationed at Chatham, where he was greatly beloved, and transferred to Grand Falls in 1904. The splendid new church, built to replace the old one destroyed by fire in 1905 and now completely free of debt, has been erected during his pastorate. The body will be taken to Grand Falls for interment. His Lordship Bishop O'Halloran, of Chatham, is expected to attend the funeral.

The funeral services of the late Rev. H. Joyner who died at Hotel Dier hospital at St. Basil on Wednesday, April 6, was held here in the Roman Catholic church on Friday at 10 o'clock. Eighteen priests were in attendance. Rev. Father Wheaton of Bathurst was celebrant assisted by Rev. Father Duval of Drummond as deacon, Rev. Father Clavier as sub-deacon and Rev. Father Lambert of St. Eulais as master of ceremonies. About sixteen hundred people of all denominations gathered in the church to pay their last tributes to one who was held in high esteem and loved by all. Among the clergy present was Monsignor O'Keefe of Chatham, at one time parish priest at Grand Falls, and who delivered a very touching sermon. Rev. Father, Come of St. Leonards spoke very feelingly in French. The floral tributes were beautiful and the choir assisted by Rev. Father Martin of St. Anne, sang the solemn requiem mass. The The Cadet Corps, conducted by A. D. John, principal of the high school led the procession to the grave followed by the pall bearers who were J. P. Kelly, E. McChesney, Dr. Guy, J. Bar, J. T. McChesney and J. E. Bar. The funeral directors were J. J. St. Pierre, Allan McLaughlin, B. Willett, A. Willett, Jos. O'Regan, Chas. Mulherie, W. B. McChesney and others. The ushers were Lawrence McChesney, R. M. McChesney, H. Willett, M. McChesney and H. Kelly. Rev. Father Joyner was parish priest here for over sixteen years and built during the last fourteen years one of the finest churches in the province of New Brunswick and will stand as a monument of his energetic work while here among us.

MAN KILLED AT LOWER WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, April 10—Frank Porter, sr., of Lower Woodstock, met a tragic death on Thursday afternoon. Dr. Sullivan went to his home to doctor a horse. Mr. Porter went to the barn to open the large barn doors, which had been nailed up for the winter. He went up on a scaffold to pry them open. The nails giving way quicker than he anticipated, he plunged headlong on the ice in the yard, which killed him instantly. He leaves his wife, six sons, one daughter, three brothers and one sister. The funeral was held yesterday and was conducted by Rev. L. E. Ackland, of this town.

Mr. Porter was sixty-eight years of age.

Grandma is Their Doctor

"ON an old-fashioned bureau, in a house I know, lies a large-sized New Testament with the binding well worn, and with it a much-used old copy of Dr. Chase's Receipt Book. When the calves have the colic or the neighbor's baby the earache, 'Grandma' hands out well-assimilated advice from the Dr. Chase Book. When 'Grandma' herself feels 'run-down' Dr. Chase's Nerve Food stands ready on the dining-room table among the salt and pepper shakers."

In these few simple words Mrs. Bert Smith, Way's Mills, Que., beautifully describes the way in which many a grandmother is a blessing to her family and to her neighbors as a guardian of health.

And what finer compliment can be paid to Dr. Chase's Receipt Book and Dr. Chase's Medicines than the approval of such mothers of experience as the one here described.

Just as in this home, Dr. Chase's Almanac hangs on the wall in the great majority of Canadian homes, and in the cupboard or medicine chest will be found one or more of Dr. Chase's Medicines ready for use in case of emergency.

If you did not receive a copy of Dr. Chase's Almanac it will be sent free by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

The Women's Institute met on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Charles Raymond. There were 16 members and one visitor present. The meeting was called to order by the singing of "O Canada," after which each member responded to the roll call by "Some useful hint on Housekeeping," which proved very interesting. The minutes of the last meeting were then read by Mrs. E. D. Sadler. A short program consisted of a fine solo, "O dry those tears" by Miss Louise Blackie, a very nice reading by Mrs. J. W. Niles, also a nice reading entitled "To let unfurnished" by Mrs. M. L. Jamer. Much important business included "Town Improvement." It was decided that "Arbor day" be chosen as a general "cleaning up day," a suitable dumping place was discussed, and a committee appointed to look after the matter. Mrs. Miss Armstrong, Mrs. J. W. McPhail and Mrs. Marshall Armstrong each expressed their views. Mrs. Miss Armstrong suggested that a Medal be given the Titus lady by the Institute in recognition of his heroic act in rescuing the McKinnon lad from drowning, a few weeks ago. THE SALVATION ARMY APPEAL

Salvationists of all ranks are now in the midst of their great annual effort to raise money for the Self-Denial Fund. Every possible means is used to bring before the public the fullest information as to the service the Army is rendering, both in Canada and in other parts of the world. The evidences of splendid success achieved in all departments are beyond dispute, and it is hoped that the appeal now being made will meet with such a liberal response as to enable the Army of the Helping Hand to go forward faster than ever.

Of the multitudes which go to make up the world of hapless humanity, surely none has such a claim upon the sympathy and pity of the rest of mankind as the leper. He dies bit by bit until his vital parts are attacked, and then his system crumbles up—he is gone. No one ever thinks of saying "Poor fellow!" when he passes way, for it is only in life that he is mis-merited with, and in death none mourns his loss. The Salvation Army is doing a great work among these people in the Dutch East Indies, where there are nearly 50,000 lepers, among whom the Army Officers are working, and spending their lives. Medicines are dispensed, and the very best done to brighten their lives by means of meetings, and even a Band with fourteen players—all lepers—is now in evidence.

Catalysis in Industry

There is a curious phenomenon in chemical sciences which goes by the name of catalysis. The term covers a multitude of actions. Thus finely divided platinum physically promotes the combustion of some gases, possibly by superficial absorption of the gases and air, so bringing about an intimacy of contact which is an essential to chemical change. The examples from chemical industry are most numerous, a notable one being that of the production of sulphuric acid by the catalytic oxidation of sulphur dioxide by a comparatively small amount of oxides of nitrogen, of which only handling losses occur, as they do not undergo permanent change of composition and do not lose their powers of operating cyclically.

The Middle Name

A study of a record of recent burials given in a parish magazine showed that not one child out of twenty was given only one Christian name. Yet it may not be generally known that at one time in Great Britain middle names were illegal. Enlish statutes were most definite as to the naming of children. Coke stated that "a man cannot have two names of baptism." So late as the year 1460 there were only four persons in the kingdom who possessed two given names. Even 150 years ago double names were extremely uncommon.
Now it is the exception to find a child who has not two Christian names.

HOW WOMEN AVOID SURGICAL OPERATIONS

Some Are Extremely Necessary, Others May Not Be

Every Woman Should Give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Trial First

Chicago, Ill.—"I was in bad with a female trouble and inflammation and had four doctors but none of them did me any good. They all said I would have to have an operation. A friend of mine told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took 25 bottles, never feeling a pain and at the end of that time I was perfectly well. I have never had occasion to take it again as I have been so well. I have a six room flat and do all my work. My two sisters are taking the Compound upon my recommendation and you may publish my letter. It is the gospel truth and I will write to any one who wants a personal letter."—Mrs. E.
H. HAYDOCK, 624 St. Lawrence Ave., Chicago, Ill.

A Vermont woman adds her testimony to the long line of those fortunate women who have been restored to health by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound, after it had been decided an operation was necessary:

Burlington, Vt.—"I suffered with female trouble, and had a number of doctors who said that I would never be any better until I had an operation.
I was so bad I could hardly walk across the room and could not do any thing.
My sister-in-law induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it certainly has helped me wonderfully. I keep house and do my work and have a small child. I have recommended Vegetable Compound to a number of my friends and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. H. E. SMITH, Apple Tree Point Farm, Burlington, Vt.

In hospitals are many women who are there for surgical operations, and there is nothing a woman dreads more than the thought of an operation, and the long weary months of recovery and restoration to strength if it is successful.
It is very true that female troubles may through neglect reach a stage where an operation is the only recourse, but most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by cancer, disseminated tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same.
When disturbing ailments first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles.
In fact, many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts.

SOME ROYAL ROMANCES

DICTATES OF HEART HAVE OCCASIONALLY BEEN FOLLOWED.

An English Prince or Princess Can defy the Disapprobation of the Monarch by Securing Approval of the Lords and Commons—Commoners Have More Than Once Been Married to Members of the British Royal Family.

NO member of the British royal family may marry without permission, as it were.

If we go back to the reign of George III, we find that this monarch sent to the Houses of Lords and Commons on the 20th of February, 1772, a message claiming the right of approving of all marriages of royalty in England. In consequence of this communication a bill was introduced into Parliament and finally passed by which descendants of the King, over twenty-five years of age, on giving the Privy Council twelve months previous notice, might, at the expiration of that period, marry without the royal consent, unless the Lords and Commons en masse should declare their disapprobation of it.

It is interesting to know that the bill mentioned originated in the marriage of George III's brothers—the Duke of Gloucester and Lady Waldegrave, and the Duke of Cumberland with Mrs. Horton, neither of which unions had been recognized at court. Love does not always play the leading part in the matrimonial alliances of reigning families. In many instances they are determined solely by dynastic or political considerations, with little regard to the princes and princesses. So it happens that royal marriages, often arranged for reasons of state, do not always prove to have been "made in Heaven."

It can be said without fear of contradiction, however, that the King of Spain's choice of Princess Ena of Battenburg as his queen was dictated solely by his love for a gentle and attractive young girl. Princess Ena certainly brought romance to an already romantic Spain, but in so doing she forfeited her right—although a remote one—of succession to the British throne.

The present reigning House of Britain occupies the throne under the Act of Settlement of 1700; which stipulates that any member of it who shall be united in marriage with a Roman Catholic shall forfeit all right to the crown. The Act in question, by the way, does not prohibit matrimonial alliances with adherents of the Greek Rite, and it will be remembered that the late Duke of Edinburgh, King Edward's sailor brother, married the Grand Duchess Marie of Russia without endangering his right to a place in the line of succession to the throne.

More than one male member of the British royal family has married according to his own heart and against the law of the court. William IV, led Mrs. Jordan to the altar, and George IV, married Mrs. Fitzherbert. When there were rumors during the reign of George III, that there had been a legal wedding between his eldest son and this lady, the marriage was publicly and officially denied. Had proofs of its occurrence been available at the time, it is probable that the prince would not have been allowed to ascend the throne, for Mrs. Fitzherbert was a Roman Catholic.

The late Duke of Cambridge had a horror of marriage de convenance politique, as matrimonial alliances of reigning families are described in diplomatic phraseology, and he created somewhat of a sensation by marrying a lady of his own choice. That lady was Miss Louisa Parker, an actress of great beauty, who won the public fancy as Columbine in a Drury Lane pantomime.

The love story of Infanta Josephine, a grand aunt of King Alfonso of Spain, reads like a fairy tale. This royal lady lost her heart to Guel y Rente, a journalist and poet, who started as a Havana newspaper.

After leaving Cuba, Guel y Rente went to Madrid where, after suffering want and even hunger, he dedicated a book of verses to Princess Josephine, who, pleased with the volume, made his acquaintance. In the long run she eloped with the author and married him at Valladolid.

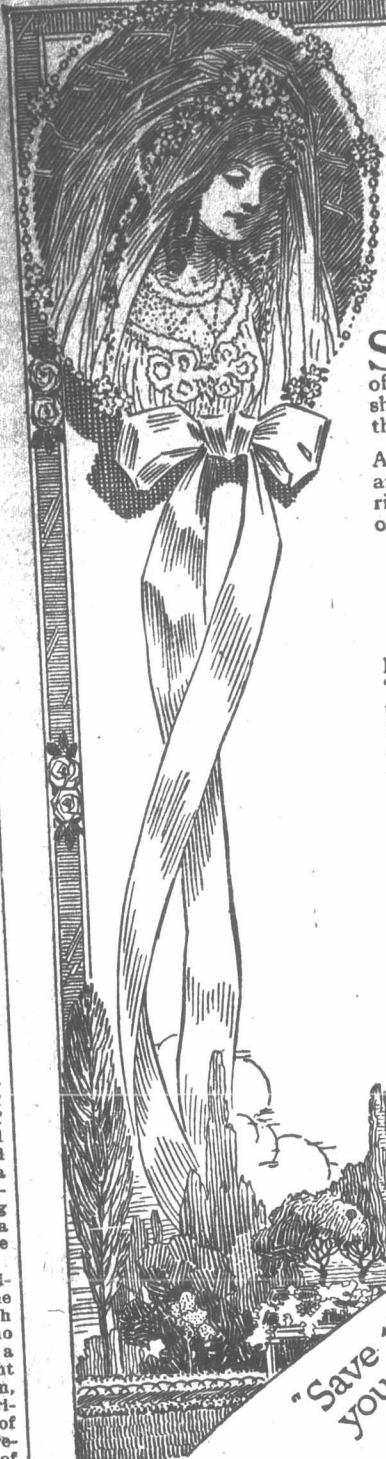

More recently Princess Elvira of Bourbon, and Infanta of the Royal House of Spain, fell in love with a poor artist, and eventually eloped with him from Rome.

The elopement of the Dowager Duchess of Girona with the Marquis Rappallo resulted in the former being banished from her country for ten years by her brother-in-law, King Victor Emmanuel.

Princess Amelie, allied by ties of blood to the reigning House of Bavaria, eloped no fewer than four times, and on each occasion with a commoner. One of her lovers was the husband of an actress, and his elopement with the princess led his wife to commit suicide.

Persian Native Bread.
The Persian native bread to-day is very little different from that used a thousand years ago. The Persian oven is built of smooth masonry-work in the ground, and is usually about the size of a barrel; many of them have been used for a century. The dough is formed into thin sheets about a foot long and two feet wide and slipped against the side of the oven. It bakes in a few minutes.

Cruel Criticism.
Bert, passionately—"Life to me was a desert until I met you!"
Doreen, coldly—"Is that why you dance like a camel?"

Grandmother came to this House a Bride

SHE came into it perhaps 60 years ago, she enriched it with all the romance of youth, the experience of maturity and, thanks to its wonderful preservation, she was permitted to spend the evening of her life amid the old familiar walls.

And to-day it still stands—a trifle old-fashioned in architecture perhaps—but in every essential, a home rich in memories and a silent tribute to the wisdom of protection against decay.

POTATO PRICES AND POTATO PRODUCTION

A government report on the present low price of potatoes compared with that of last year bases the cause on the comparison between the potatoes consumed and the potatoes produced. The annual consumption of potatoes in that section supplied by the Canadian and United States farmers is estimated at 400,000,000 bushels yearly. The crop of 1919 amounted to 375,000,000 bushels, a shortage of 6 per cent. With the consumption of about the same amount this year, the 1920 crop showed 425,000,000 bushels, an over-run of 6 per cent.

These reports indicate there is no enormous shortage required to make an abnormally high price nor an equally great surplus to create present conditions. If there is a decrease in acreage of potatoes planted this spring of 10 per cent., conditions will be the same as a year ago. Last spring potatoes sold at over $10.00 a barrel.

While no one looks forward to prices on this year's crop running as high as $10.00 a barrel, the enormously high price which prevailed a year ago, with a decreased acreage and the consequent shortage, a price of $3.00 or $4.00 a barrel on the coming crop will not be out of line.

Every potato raiser recalls the pre-war conditions when $1.00 a barrel was considered the standard price for potatoes. This was not a price that would show any particular margin over the cost of production, but it was the price which paid all expenses and made the farmer feel that he was at least holding his own.

A year ago seed potatoes cost $10.00 or $12.00 a barrel. This year they cost but a little more than $1.00 a barrel. A year ago labor was scarce and high, and indeed almost impossible to obtain, while this year there is no scarcity and wages are reasonable. While nothing indicates that $1.00 a barrel potatoes will pay expenses, no doubt if this year's crop is sold at $2.00 a barrel, the grower will cover all his costs and anything above that will be a balance on the right side.

In going over our records for the past several years, we have found that each year of low prices is followed by a year of high prices, and we believe that this is due to these conditions which have made low prices now. When potatoes go to a very high figure there is a heavy acreage planted that spring which gives a large yield and a surplus the next year. This results in lower prices when the increased crop is harvested.

It is the farmer who has crops to sell when the price is high who gets the best returns, and every where you will find the successful farmer the one who goes ahead from year to year planting about his usual crop without being influenced greatly by the prices at the time he plants. He is interested not in the prices at seeding time but in the prices when he has the crop to sell and he figures that particularly the time not to curtail his planting is when the prices are low as these prices are usually followed by a high level the coming year. This is the natural result of a smaller crop from decreased acreage.

Every indication we have now points to a marked decrease in potato acreage. We have it from the Southern States who plant for the early market, also from the middle sections who are now ready to plant. The farmers in Aroostook and in other sections of Maine are still undecided, but in all sections there will be a smaller acreage and a smaller crop.

Whether it is a year of heavy or light seeding, the farmer must look to his fertilizer supply and even more to the quality of the supply. Fertilizer is a most important factor in making a large crop and the money put into fertilizer must be well spent.

This year probably more than any other, the farmer is asked to experiment by trying mixed fertilizer chemicals or in buying fertilizer mixed by hand. It is almost impossible to mix fertilizer without the proper machinery for doing it, and the mixing, milling and screening is equally as important as using the proper materials.

In addition to the difficulty in mixing fertilizer in most of the home-mixed fertilizer, the best materials are not used. A recent bulletin issued by the Ohio Experimental Station reported the results of a twenty-five years course of experiments on a rotation of potatoes, wheat and clover. The four lowest returns came from a fertilizer made up of Nitrate of Soda, Acid Phosphate and Muriate of Potash with a small amount of Dried Blood.

The only safe way is to buy a complete mixed fertilizer with the plant food from proper and varied sources. The are mixed completely, seasoned well and reground and screened as shipped. They are fine and dry and will readily run through the planter. When you use a high grade complete mixed fertilizer you are not experimenting.

All the "Made at Windsor, N. S." fertilizers are from the best materials, our plant has the best machinery for mixing, milling screening, and every bag or barrel shipped goes out in good shape.

New Brunswick Teachers Organize in Saskatchewan

The following letter from a former New Brunswick teacher is interesting: Please find enclosed my cheque for $150 to renew my subscription to your paper. I have been in the West three years and have taken or had your paper sent to me regularly and would feel lost without it and the news of dear old Carleton County.

We held a reunion meeting of New Brunswick teachers while at the annual Teachers' Convention in Regina this week. There were over thirty former New Brunswick teachers present and we intend holding annual reunions at each convention and having an annual banquet. As I am the secretary of the organization so formed I have the names and addresses of all the former N. B. teachers present and will gladly give them to any one inquiring for the same.

Yours very truly,
E. A. WELCH
Principal S. D. 1633
Wilcox, Sask.

Mr. Welch encloses the following from Regina Post:

A reunion meeting of former New Brunswick teachers now teaching in Saskatchewan was held at the Metropolitan Methodist Church Wednesday.

R. H. Kitchen presided and explained the object of the meeting was to arrange for a general reunion and social gathering at each Easter convention.

The following executive was elected to make the necessary arrangements: President, R. H. Kitchen, Creelman; vice-president, Miss F. W. Wier, Scott; secretary, E. A. Welch, Wilcox; G. R. Anderson, Moose Jaw Collegiate; and Miss B. C. Wheaton, Regina.

GRAND FALLS

On Monday the members of the newly reorganized band gave a very enjoyable dance in MacLaren's Theatre. An orchestra has lately been formed here and it furnished music for the dancing. The members of the orchestra were: Herbert Mulherin, Raymond McCluskey, Ralph Kirkpatrick, Michael McCluskey, Sperry Merritt, Frank Willett. Their playing is good and it is greatly to the credit of the town that there is a good orchestra here, and that music for all occasions need no longer be furnished by people outside the town.

On Tuesday evening a very much enjoyed entertainment was given in Kerton's Opera House, under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Patstone. The chief feature of the entertainment was the play, "Sleeping Beauty," in which about thirty children took part. The part of Princess Mayflower, Sleeping Beauty, was taken by Miss Marjorie Wiley, who took the part most excellently. Her songs were well sung and her dancing very graceful. Master Cyril Patstone, as Prince Vallant, pleased the audience with his conception of the part. Miss Grace Kirkpatrick made a very stately queen and looked well in her royal robes. Master Theodore Patstone was king and did his part well. Misses Emily Estey and Phyllis McLaughlin were splendid as Fairy Nettle and her associate. Misses Jane Pirie and Maria Johnston were the nurses; Maria Billie Olmstead and Ronald Patstone were charming little pages; Master Ralph Bertelsen and Arnold Foster were courtiers; Misses Constance White and Margaret Smith were ladies-in-waiting to the queen. The good ladies were: Misses Marion White, Mary Chapman, Muriel Patstone, Peggy Burgess, Ola F. Rogers, Florence Taylor, Lillian Berti, M. Viola Dixon, Clara White, Doris Rogers, Marion McLeod, Carrie Johnston, Queenie Johnston; Bruce Burgess took the part of cook. One of the prettiest scenes was the fairy revel by moonlight. Several very pretty costumes were all very handsome and appropriate. Between the acts a male quartette consisting of Rev. A. J. Patstone, C. C. White, F. L. Dixon, H. E. Wiley, gave some vocal selections.

Mr. Wiley and Mr. Patstone sang a duet. Nine girls, Misses Jane Pirie, Beulah Larson, Alberta Simkevitz, Frances Mushrahl, Clara White, Trevesa Martin, Dora Burgess, Corrine Martin, Marion McLeod gave a very pretty short drill, being dressed in white with colored scarves and band-aux decorated with stars. The fun of the evening was furnished by a "Rooster Parade," in which twelve boys dressed to represent roosters, gave an exhibition of marching, growling and lively rooster fight. The boys taking part in this were: Billings Chapman, Burton Olmstead, Bruce Burgess, Nelson Potras, Journer McCluskey, Hugh Foster, Donald Wiley, Ralph Bertelsen, Cyril Patstone, Alister Taylor. The Grand Falls orchestra played several selections; Mrs. C. A. Kirkpatrick was the accomplished accompanist, assisted by Master Ralph Kirkpatrick with the violin.

Murphy, Age 76, Says He Knows From Experience Tanlac Is Good For Old Folks

"You can tell them that Tanlac is the right medicine for old folks, too, for I have tried it and it has done me more good than everything else I ever took combined," said John Murphy, of 46 Charlotte St., Halifax, N. S. Mr. Murphy is now seventy-six years of age and a lifelong resident of Halifax. He is employed as night watchman by the Halifax Tram Co.

"For a long time I have been troubled with indigestion and took a great deal of medicines. Everything I ate disagreed with me. Food felt like a lump in the pit of my stomach and caused me to bloat all up with gas and I felt sick at my stomach nearly all the time. I had no appetite and the more nourishing foods, like beans, fat meat and things cooked in grease, I could not eat at all.

"I also suffered with severe pains in the small of my back. I had frequent headaches and was terribly nervous all the time and could never sleep well. Last August a friend of mine told me of the fine results he had gotten from Tanlac, so I started taking it myself and it has done me a world of good.

"It gave me a great appetite and fixed my stomach up so I can eat three good meals a day, including pork and beans and fatty foods that I would not dare eat before. I am no longer troubled with the pain in my back and I sleep very much better. I have taken the Laxative tablets along with the Tanlac and have been helped wonderfully in every way. I am still taking a dose or two a day and it keeps me in good trim. Tanlac will always get a good word from me."

The house is thoroughly well finished throughout and is warm and comfortable in winter and accessible to pure, fresh air in the summer. There is a large woodshed attached and a clapboarded and painted barn that will accommodate several horses; also a garage. Never-failing supply of water in the yard and at the kitchen sink. Enough ground for a good-sized garden. This is an ideal home for a couple that wishes to retire, or for any family. The house has four sleeping rooms and more could be finished in the attic, which is reached by stairs.

Mr. Waters also offers for sale a farm in Ashland district, three miles from the river, with a down-hill haul to market. Of this 100 acres, 30 acres are cleared and a part freshly seeded, 10 acres ploughed and the remainder in grass. There are 70 acres of woodland that will yield enough firewood to pay for the place and leave many years supply. There is also a good quantity of pulp and lumber. The prices of both these properties will interest any buyer, and full particulars of the whole may be had from Mr. Waters, at the house. DON'T DELAY. These properties will move quickly. Part of the purchase price may remain on mortgage if desired.
