Champlain Memorial Marks Advent of White Race

April 24, 1615, was a great day in the lives of the townsfolk of the little seaport of Honfleur in Northern France, for on that day, Sieur Samuel de Champlain, whose earlier voyages and discoveries in the New World had stirred the imagination of the French Court and of the merchants of the Norman and Breton seaports, set sail in the little ship, the St. Etienne, with a party of four Recollet brothers to Christianize the Indians. After a stormy voyage the little ship sailed up the St. Lawrence to that natural citadel, now the city of Quebec. Later Champlain went on to Montreal, where he found a large band of Indians assembled to meet him, reminding him of his promise to assist them in their wars. Realizing that this would lead to exploration and eventually to colonization, he set off to Quebec to make arrangements, the Indians sending out their scouts. Before he returned from Quebec, the Indians growing impatient set out with Father Le Caron and twelve Frenchmen into what is now the Province of Ontario. Champlain, with two Frenchmen and ten Indians started up the Ottawa to the Mattawa, and joined with the Hurons in a war expedition against the fierce Iroquois, by means of which Champlain, who was an enthusiastic explorer as a soldier, discovered Lake Ontario. Returning from the wars, Champlain spent Christmas, 1615, with his friend, Chief Darontal at Cahagnie, near where now stands the town of Orillia on Lake Simcoe. The gallant gentleman returned to Montreal in June, 1616, where he found his friends, the Recollets, had given up hope of seeing him again. Champlain's work as an explorer was now done, but his voyages into Ontario opened up the path to the west to the missionary and the trader.

and ten years later sailed from Cherbourg by the same route to the Canadian Gibraltar. On board the "Montroyal" was Vernon March, the famous English sculptor who designed and executed the monument recently erected at Orillia, to the memory of the gallant soldier, missionary and explorer, Samuel de Champlain, near the site of Cahagnie, from which little settlement, Champlain started out with his Indian friends on the disastrous expedition against the Iroquois and where he returned with his discouraged allies. The bronzes for the monument are colossal in size, the figure of Champlain himself being twelve feet high, of astounding action and vigor. In addition to this main figure are two groups, one, "Christianity" representing a Recollet father holding aloft the Crucifix to the savages (No. 1). The other is "Commerce" and shows the voyageur with a similar pair of Indians (No. 2). The total weight of the bronzes is more than nine tons. It is mounted on a pedestal of Benedictine stone, 30 feet square and 18 feet high, giving the monument a total height of 30 feet (No. 2). Mr. Vernon March (No. 4), the sculptor, is an interesting figure. He is one of a family of seven brothers and one sister, all of whom are artists and sculptors. At their studio and workshop, in Farnborough, Kent, which formerly was an old post house, they do their own casting as well as designing. Mr. Vernon March's work, particularly that for war memorials, has won the highest recognition in all parts of the Empire and the memorial at Orillia in both conception and execution is one of the finest examples crossed on the "Montroyal," and will assist his brother, in the erection of the bronzes. The late Lord Strathcona was one of the original promoters of the monument and made the initial contribution to the fund, while the Canadian Pacific Pacific steamship, "Montroyal," which one hundred

"God Gives the Seed--the Bread We Need, Man's Labor Must Provide It."

Upper--The old method of reaping the crop. Lower--The modern method. Inset--Testing grain at elevators in Winnipeg. It is estimated that sixty-nine thousand harvesters will be needed to garner the crops in Western Canada this year. Of this number probably nineteen thousand will be supplied by the Western and prairie provinces leaving fifty thousand to be recruited in the East. This is an unusually large number. It means that from all parts of Eastern Canada a great army of Canadian men must be mobilized to harvest the grain upon which the general prosperity of the country depends. The famous gold rush of 'ninety-eight held no greater touch of glamour and romance than this annual exodus to the wheat fields of the west. From office, factory and college our young men and old men, and some of our women too, are preparing to enlist in the great adventure from which all hope to return hardy, bronzed and with a swollen savings account. The railway companies are fully prepared for the rush. Their Colonist cars of the newest, most serviceable and comfortable type, of which they have a greater supply on hand than ever before, are in readiness and there is more than enough motive power available for immediate service. The Colonist car has kept pace with the remainder of railway equipment in the march of progress. In the olden days many prospective harvesters remained at home because of the stories they heard of hard-

Just Like City Water Service

No matter where you live, you can now have running water under pressure in your home.

Modern plumbing, including bathroom with hot and cold water, lavatory, shower, toilet, and faucets in many convenient places—think what this means to the suburban or farm home.

With the present standards of living these conveniences are a necessity. They make for comfort, health, sanitation and labor-saving. They were formerly to be had only in the city, but now, will give you all the advantages of city water service. Duro Systems are built in many sizes and styles. They meet the needs of a bungalow or a country club. They are driven either by electric motor or gasoline engine.

Empire Duro Water Systems

A Duro system is worth all it costs for fire protection alone. It is easily installed in old or new homes—taking water from deep or shallow well, cistern or spring.

They are compact, powerful, and automatic. They are driven either by electric motor or gasoline engine. The illustration shows one of the engine-driven systems, pump and engine being mounted as a unit.

Everybody is Sentimental.
The truth is that we are all sentimental at heart, whatever our culture. Says Robert M. Gay in the Atlantic Monthly. Even though we appreciate Brahms, shall we not find some pleasure in the repository of the hand organ, and, though we admire Botticelli, shall we utterly condemn "Daisy and Joan"? There are moods in which Jean Ingelow and Mrs. Hemans are not mawkish. The thousands still weep over the death of Little Nell, though the critics sneer.

Submerging a Submarine.
A submarine submerges by admitting water to various tanks, making it so heavy that it will not float. When it desires to rise powerful electric pumps empty these cylinders. Breathable air while submerged is insured by many cylinders containing compressed pure air or oxygen. In the latest submarines there is machinery to purify breathed air, the carbonic acid gas being absorbed from it by potash and the purified air being cooled and reoxygenated.

Making Salt.
Great improvements have been made in the methods of making high grade salt both by the grainer and vacuum pan processes. The mechanical grainers in which the brine enters the plant and is not touched by human hands until it is almost ready for shipment are marvels of ingenuity. Fine table salt is now made almost exclusively by vacuum pan processes. These evaporators have so greatly reduced the cost of making fine salt that the old time methods long ago passed into history.

Just Wanted to Know.
"Say, pop, is it true that a shark has to turn over before it can bite?"
"Yes."
"And do you think it has to turn over to drink, too?"
"I don't think so. Why do you ask?"
"It was just thinking of Uncle Henry."

"What about Uncle Henry?"
"I have often heard you say he drinks like a fish, and I was just wondering if it is because he throws back his head until he nearly lies on his back."
—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Assured His Curiosity.
"John," exclaimed the nervous woman, "there's a burglar in the house!"
"Do you mean to tell me that after I tried every door and window in my effort to get into my own home, just because I happened to throw back my head, a burglar comes along and wakes you up at the first rattle of the door knob? I'm going down to see him."
"What are you going to do?"
"I'm going to interview him and see if I can find out how he did it."
—Washington Star.

Blueberry Bushes.
Under such favorable conditions as exist in the vine barren blueberry culture is to be classed as the age of its first bearing not with the slow fruiting apple orchard, but with the quick fruiting peach, with this difference, however, that while the peach tree remains in vigorous fruiting condition for comparatively few years the blueberry bush with suitable pruning bids fair to last a man's lifetime and even longer.—National Geographic Magazine.

Are New Yorkers American?
The most "Fondish of India, who, after an excessively brief, gay winter at home, habitually betook herself to the Riviera, London, to Paris and to the usual spring, summer and autumn haunts of European elegance, was once asked by an intelligent and curious foreigner some question concerning the habits and customs of her compatriots. She paused, meditated prettily, says Harrison Rhodes in Harper's Magazine, and then made a profoundly significant reply.
"I'm not sure," she said, "that I'm the best person to ask. You see, I'm a New Yorker, and I know so few Americans."

American Hames.
Before I came to America I fancied that I should find one long row of apartment houses extending from New York to San Francisco, some of them palatial, but tawdry, others lowly and some squalid. This idea was partially formed from reading in your own journals of your lack of home life as compared with our preponderance of it in England. On the contrary, I found in the localities I visited much that we can learn from you Americans of homeliness and of home living. The amazing thing to me is what your women accomplish in the actual building of their homes, and that, too, with small means.—Lady Ines Stuart in Country Magazine.

A DAY'S RECORD.
Let every dawn of morning be to you as the beginning of life and every setting sun be to you close. Then let every one of these short lives leave some sure record of some kindly thing done for others as well as some greedy strength or knowledge gained for yourselves.—John Ruskin.

THE OTTAWA TRAGEDY

No need to be honest or truthful. No need to be clever or bright; it doesn't matter a jot if you're learning or not.
So long as your clothes are right. 'Twas a day to be remembered. When all parliament was shocked; That tragic, awful moment While the Empire swayed and rocked.

A look of consternation spread All o'er each noble face, While from the speaker's nerveless hand Clattered the gilded mace.

What was the dire calamity; This dreadful, frightful thing; Could it be some brutal Boshevik Had dared molest the King?

But no, not that, but this was it, I blushingly relate: Right there amongst that gilded throng, Those gentlemen, so sedate— Four members from the prairies, The savage, uncouth West Were seated there in parliament Each minus coat and vest.

—G. F. Lee, Midnapore, Alta., in The Grain Growers' Guide.

NO CANADIANS IN CANADA

A very peculiar condition exists in this country which in the interest of a sound and sane national spirit should not longer be permitted to obtain. It is now necessary for a Canadian to cross the border into the United States in order that his or her identity may be established. Ostensibly while in this broad Dominion there are today more than nine millions of people, none of these are Canadians. Every race under the sun is duly represented but Johnny Canuck is a minus quantity. When in this country a proud father applies for a certificate of registration at any district registrar in Canada he observes a marginal note informing him that: Racial origin will be described by stating to what people or tongue each of the parents belongs, whether English, Irish, Scotch, French, German, Russian, Rutenian, Slovak, Galician, etc. The words "Canadian" or "American" should not be used, as they express nationality but not a race of people.

Even a casual analysis of this remarkable statement on the part of any fair minded person—it matters not from what country—will, we feel sure, furnish convincing proof as to its fallacy. More than anything else it is responsible for that lack of patriotic sentiment which is all too often apparent, and without which no country can truly prosper. A country without a soul! A people without a national spirit! Nine millions of beings drifting upon the tide of Yankee Jingoism and time-worn Imperialism. British statesmen are alarmed over present conditions in Canada, rearers, a breaking away from the Empire is feared. They have no fears about Canada's loyalty so far as the Empire is concerned. The trouble with Canadians is that they are loyal to every one but themselves. The people of the Dominion will neither use as a title for their addresses the word "Canadian" nor will they use it as a title for their names. They are not Canadians but they are Americans.

A BEAUTIFUL WORLD

By W. Lomax Childress
Here's a song of praise for a beautiful world,
For the banner of blue that's above it unfurled,
For the streams that sparkle and sing to the sea,
For the bloom in the glade and the leaf on the tree;
Here's a song of praise for a beautiful world.

Here's a song of praise for the mountain peak,
Where the wind and the lightning meet and speak,
For the golden star on the soft night's breast,
And the silvery moonlight's path to rest;
Here's a song of praise for a beautiful world.

Here's a song of praise for the rippling notes
That come from a thousand sweet bird throats,
For the ocean wave and the sunset glow,
And the waving fields where the reapers go;
Here's a song of praise for a beautiful world.

Always have a nice bright fire for broiling.
Baste roasting meat frequently.
Clear up all dishes as you are cooking.
Do not put away dirty dishes, but do them now.
Eggs used extravagantly do more harm than good.
Fill dirty basins and sauce pans with cold water and they will half-clean themselves.
Green vegetables should boil fast with the lid off.
Have everything ready before you begin to cook.
If meat is tough, wash it well with vinegar and dry it.
Judge the freshness of meat by its firmness to the touch.
Keep your hands cool for making good pastry.
Lift your hands high when rubbing in fat; it lets the air pass through.
Meat from which soup is to be made must always be put to cook in cold water.
Never beat a cake after the baking powder is to be added.
Open and shut oven door gently as few times as possible while baking.
Pastry must always be put in a hot oven.
Quickly stir omelettes, or they will not be a success.
Root vegetables should boil gently with the lid on.
Silver should be washed in white soap suds and quickly dried.
The acum should be removed from boiling liquids as soon as it rises.
Uncover teapots when you go for a vacation.
Vegetables and bread left in soup causes it to turn sour.
Water boils when it gallops; fat does when it is still.
"X" time taken in beating eggs is time profitably spent.
Young meat, like veal and lamb, require longer cooking than beef, etc.
Zealously follow these recipes and do not rest satisfied till your cooking is perfect.

INTERESTING ANNOUNCEMENT
Word comes from Montreal that that great family and farm paper The Family Herald and Weekly Star has been enabled to reduce its subscription price to One Dollar a year. This certainly will be interesting news in every Canadian home where the Family Herald is known and to many who will avail themselves of the offer. At Two Dollars a year The Family Herald and Weekly Star was generally admitted to be good value, in fact big value, but when reduced to One Dollar a year it will certainly be the marvel of the newspaper world.

Canada is proud of that great Weekly, and has every reason to be so, as it has no superior and few equals in the world today. The Publishers announce that notwithstanding the change in price every feature will not only be maintained but improvements will follow. The Publishers are fortunate in being in a financial position to do this, and Canadian homes will have the advantage. When the new rate is made known it certainly will bring a rush of subscribers to the Family Herald. One Dollar is a small amount for such a great paper.

Wrangell is Prospectors' Base

(Upper) A bird's-eye view of Wrangell, which was the base for the gold rush in '88, and from which prospectors this year are setting out on further explorations. (Lower) Another view of Wrangell, on the south-east coast of Alaska. (Inset) A Canadian Pacific Coastal steamer which is on the Pacific coast route.

The town of Wrangell, superbly situated off the coast of South-Eastern Alaska, is the centre of unusual interest this season, as the base from which prospectors are going in large numbers up the Stikine River into the Cassiar and Dease Lake Districts of Northern British Columbia. While the Gold Rush seems not so universal as was at first predicted—during the Winter months a stampede only comparable to the rush of '88 into the Yukon was very generally foretold—it is in all likelihood a more healthy influx of practical mining men from whose explorations in these richly mineralized districts much good may be expected.

It was the Gold Rush of '88 that made Wrangell the town that it is to-day, though it is one of the oldest settlements in Alaska. Its foundation dates back to 1830 when Baron Wrangell was Governor of Alaska, and a trading post was established there. This was later leased by the Hudson's Bay Co. It was thought that Wrangell via the Stikine River would be the most direct route into the Yukon, but the building of the White Pass and Yukon R.R. destroyed such hopes.

The industries of Wrangell are fishing and lumbering. Six canneries look to Wrangell as the source of their supplies, and the saw-mill furnishes a large part of the salmon boxes used in S.E. Alaska.

The journey up the Stikine River to the old Hudson's Bay town of Glenora, and to Telegraph Creek is one fraught with beauty. Awe inspiring mountains of great height, swiftly flowing waters, mammoth trees, and deeply rugged canyons being encountered in making the ascent of the river, in a small gap

About nine miles from the town of Wrangell and at the mouth of the Stikine River, is Farm Island where the Wrangell Indians lived perhaps five hundred years ago, and on this island is the aviation field where the New York to Nome aeroplanes made the first landing in Alaska. This exploit was as dangerous as the first trips across the Atlantic for their flight bore them over deep canyons, dense forests, rugged mountain peaks and glaciers, in a country uninhabited by white or Indian.

Twenty miles up the river, having passed the famous Popoff Glacier and Shakes' Mineral Springs—a stream of water gushing from a granite mountain, and of such great heat as easily to boil an egg—the boundary between the United States and Canada is reached, and the first branch of the Stikine River leads off to the right. This is the Iskut and it waters a region famous for its scenery, big game, and mineral prospects. The whole journey occupies four days. The way into the Cassiar and Dease Lake countries is made by pack train from Telegraph Creek and for the benefit of prospectors going in during this season copies of the Report of Dr. O. M. Dawson can be obtained by applying to the Director of the Geological Survey, Ottawa, or 510 Pacific Building, Vancouver, B.C. Although this report was written nearly forty years ago, it contains much valuable information regarding the country, and the placers worked in the early days, thereby bearing out the high standard of all the reports made by this remarkably accurate and able geologist, Dr. O. M. Dawson.

BLONDIE AND BRUNETTE COME TO TOWN

Often they showed off. Inset is Blondie finishing supper. Taking a swim in the icy cold water.

One day in early summer, a party of guides were camping near Emerald Lake in the Canadian Pacific Rockies. Now it happened that the campers had with them a very young and very unwise dog, who rashly got frisky with a Lady Black Bear and chased her up one of the big jack-pines standing on the border of the lovely lake. The only thing that saved the young canine was the fact that the lady was a Black Bear, not a Grizzly. But when the bear stayed on her lofty perch, the campers discovered that she had left behind her a young family, cuddly little things not much larger than puppies and just as playful. Two of them they took along, leaving one for the unnatural mother.

One was a light-brown fluffy thing, so her new friends christened her Blondie, the other being of the dark brown variety, naturally was called Brunette. They were about two months old when Mary Graham Bonner met them and, so charmed was she with the two baby cubs, that she tells the story in St. Nicholas Magazine. "If you went away and came back in a week, you'd hardly know them, they grow so fast!"

There never were brighter little bears, no, nor smarter ones. They will keep you entertained always! And it was all pretty true. But winter was coming and as they had been brought up by humans, the guides feared that their native instinct would not assert itself and decided to build a winter bed for them. But even though they had spent the summer with humans, they were going to sleep through the winter in their own lares and penates—the guides' den was not dark enough. So the stupid humans learned that all the shades should be pulled down in the little house and all the curtains drawn, and in crawled the two little bears, and when only a day or two later, when one of the guides went to look, they still had their little green-brown eyes partly open but were too sleepy to even be interested in their favorite meal of cakes and syrup. And soon they were off to the Land of Nod to dream sweet dreams until snows grew soft and they could venture out if the sun were bright enough to cast their shadow. And when that time finally came, the first words they heard were the old familiar ones: "How they have grown!"

THE OUTLOOK, MIDDLETON, N. S.

- LAWRENCETOWN FLOWER SHOW
- The first show held under the auspices of the Women's Institute in the Demonstration Building on Wednesday last proved to be, in every way, a great success. The attendance was good, both afternoon and evening, and the magnificent display of flowers was a revelation to all who saw them. The committee were certainly fortunate in having such excellent and expert judges as Messrs. W. T. Blain, of Kentville and Henry Fox of Annapolis Royal. Everyone was loud with praise of the painstaking and conscientious work done by them. The committee and exhibitors alike owe them very sincere thanks.
- It is now well assured that the Flower Show will not only be an annual event but will be bigger and better every year.
- The ladies were kept busy dispensing tea and ice cream throughout the whole period. This entailed quite a lot of work on their part as the day was very hot and refreshments were much in demand.
- The hall, which contained the flowers was a vision of beauty, ably with glorious colours and fragrant with the perfume of many sweet blossoms.
- A very fitting conclusion to the event was a concert given by local talent to whom the committee wish to express their appreciation.

Sing a song of Clean Up—
What a dirty spot!
Four-and-Twenty kinds of filth
In every vacant lot!
When the breeze bluster
See the dust-clouds fly!
That's the way to scatter germs
On every passer-by.
- But Dad has got his rake and hoe
And Mother's got her broom:
The kids are helping clean the lots,
We've got some flowers in bloom,
Police departments helping us,
"Streets and alleys" too,
That's the way to make a town
Fit for me and you!

THE USEFUL LEMON

A few drops of lemon juice squeezed into food chopper before grinding, raisins or other sticky fruit will prevent the fruit adhering to chopper.

When making prunes or blueberry pie, adding a teaspoonful of lemon juice kills the flatness and gives fine flavor.

After preparing celery for table, rinse it in a little water into which has been put some lemon juice. This keeps it crisp for hours and prevents discoloration.

Put a little lemon juice over apples and bananas cut for salad; it brings out flavor and prevents darkening.

If you need sour milk in a hurry, you can have it by adding a teaspoonful of lemon juice to pint of sweet milk.

Put a little lemon juice occasionally in water used to wash teeth. It is good for both gums and teeth.

Use it with salt to remove iron rust and ink stains.

After gridding onions, wash chopper and rinse with boiling water which has a little lemon juice in it and there will be no clinging onion odor.

The juice of half a lemon in cup of water in morning is a healthful drink.

A piping hot lemonade taken at night is fine for a cold.

Lemon juice with honey will help hoarseness.

Lemon juice with rosewater whitens and softens hands.

Young Bragger—My grandfather built the Rocky Mountains.
Unsympathetic Listener—Aw, that's nothing. Do you know the Dead Sea. Well, my grandfather killed it.

"SNAPSHOTS" FOR BETTER PICTURES PUBLISHED BY W. H. DILL

Each month Mr. W. H. Dill, Middleton's photographer, sends out a picture book entitled "Snapshots" to his large list of customers. Mr. Dill's studio is situated in The "Snapshots" is of particular interest to those who use a Kodak. Here, however, we give the contents of the September issue.

IT BLINDS THE LENS AND BLURS THE PICTURE

The amateur who wishes to know why he is cautioned to see that the sun does not strike into the camera lens, when making exposures, need look only to his own eyes for an explanation. The functions of the human eye and of the camera's eye—its lens—are somewhat similar, and neither can do its work well with bright light shining directly into it.

When the direct rays of the sun strike the lens they spread a flood of light, conveying no image, over the entire picture area of the film. This interferes with the rays of light that carry the image of the subject to the film and thereby cuts down the contrast in the negative. The scene cannot register properly on the film any more than it can register properly on the retina of a light blind eye.

The most brilliant illumination is obtained when the sun shines over the camera's back, directly toward the subject. In most cases, however, it is preferable to have the light come partly from the side because living subjects do not like to face directly into the sun, which subjects usually look best when their shadows are visible.

Again, it is true that at times pleasing lighting effects can be obtained by picturing the shadow side of subjects that are brightly lit, but here is where extra care should be taken to see that direct rays of sunlight do not come into the lens. If this is not possible by making the picture from a point of view where the shadow of a tree or building falls across the lens, hold a hat or some object in such a position that the lens will be shaded.

THE TITLE "HONOURABLE"

To the Editor of The Outlook: Sir: In reply to an enquiry with regard to the proper use of the title "Honourable," in Canada, I have to say that the official and legal regulations appear to be as stated below. Of course, the Canadian title is only for use in Canada by Canadians. I have heard of a Canadian who was threatened with prosecution in England for prefixing "Honourable" to his name on a hotel register, without adding "Canada." "Honourably," besides being an official title in the United Kingdom, is a title inherited by certain children of the nobility, who have vested interests in it. Those entitled to the prefix in the Dominion are indicated as follows:

The Lieutenant-Governor (during office only); Privy Councillors of Canada (for life); The Solicitor General (during office only); Senators (during office only); The Speaker of the House of Commons (during office); The Chief Justice of Canada, the Judges of the Supreme and Exchequer Courts of Canada, and (in Nova Scotia) the Chief Justice and Judges of the Supreme Court (during office); Presidents and Speakers of Provincial Legislatures (during office only); Provincial Executive Councillors (during office only); Legislative Councillors of Provinces are not entitled to "Honourable" unless they were appointed before July 1st, 1918.

By special recommendation of the Governor-General for His Majesty's permission, Speakers of Senate and House of Commons, on retirement, after 3 years' service, may retain title.

Also, on similar conditions, the above mentioned Chief Justices and Judges may retain such title.

To be specific, the only individuals legally or properly entitled, at present, to the Canadian prefix "Honourable," in or of Nova Scotia are:

Right Honourable W. S. Fielding, Hon. E. M. Macdonald, Hon. E. K. Spinney, Hon. B. H. McCurdy, Members of the Senate of Canada, Judge of the Supreme Court, His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor now in office, The Prime Minister of the Province, Each of the present members of the Provincial Executive Council, When Speakers of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly are chosen, each of them will be entitled to "Honourable" while in office.

If the public, and especially the press, would take cognizance of these facts, and also remember that it is usually considered an insult to a gentleman to bestow on him a title which is not his by right, and a disgrace to him if he accepts such title without protest, we should experience a sudden and grateful demobilization of the army of "Hons." now for a long time past billeted on this Province.

Yours very truly, W. E. MACLELLAN.

Tonic Treatment For Indigestion

THE SURGEST WAY TO RELIEVE STOMACH TROUBLE IS THROUGH DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS

When the stomach is feeble and food lies in it undigested, the poisonous gases distend the walls of the stomach and cause serious interference with the other organs, especially by the action of the heart and lungs. These poisonous gases have other effects. They are absorbed by the blood and so weaken and corrupt it, as to cause aches in remote parts of the body and the formation of unhealthy tissue everywhere. Excessive nervousness, these troubles vanish just as soon as the stomach is made strong enough to digest the food. In other words, it needs a tonic that will enable it to do the work of changing the food into nourishment. The tonic used ought to be one that will agree with the most delicate stomach and this is exactly what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do.

Here is a bit of convincing proof given by Mrs. Chas. Laidner, Millersburg, Pa., U.S.A.:—"For some years I was a sufferer from stomach trouble. Everything I ate caused distress. I could not eat meat or potatoes, and I grew weak and very nervous. No medicine seemed to help me until I was persuaded to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these simply worked wonders. I took the pills faithfully for a couple of months, by which time every symptom of the trouble had disappeared, and I have not since been the slightest victim of stomach trouble. No wonder I praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Here and There

Canada spent $49,056,179 last year for pensions and re-establishment of Veterans of the Great War, according to a report recently issued from Ottawa by the department in charge of this work.

Without a dissentient voice over 4,000 cattle owners in 200 districts have voted to make Prince Edward Island a disease-free area under the Department of Agriculture arrangement which calls for a two-thirds vote of all cattle owners.

Two thousand young buffalo from the Wainwright herd will make a 700-mile trek northward this summer to the buffalo reserve on the Slave River where they will be turned loose to mingle with the wood bison which roam that area.

"In all parts of Canada and the United States," according to Robert G. Hodgson, editor of the Fur Trade Journal of Canada, "Muskrat farms are being established, mostly on a large scale and they are rapidly turning what was once marshland of little value into the most productive part of the farm," Mr. Hodgson adds.

The record established recently at Acme when 114 horses worked in one field at one time setting the crop of Mrs. C. W. King, has been broken at Gadsby, Alberta. When the neighbours of J. E. Ball who recently suffered a broken arm, put in his 100-acre crop, 39 outfits were at work on one day and 175 horses. The crop was put in a single day.

H. E. Morris, whose horse Manna made a run away victory in the English Derby, will visit Canada in the fall en route to China from which country he hails. He will sail on the Canadian Pacific S.S. Minnedosa from Southampton on October 8, stay a short time in the Dominion, and sail from Vancouver for China on the S.S. Empress of Australia, October 29.

Rebuilt in nine months after the fire that destroyed it last October, the Chateau Lake Louise hotel opened for the current season on Sunday, May 31 as the Trans-Canada train arrived from its cross-continent run. The hotel was rebuilt under exceptionally difficult conditions in temperatures as low as fifty degrees below zero during which a wooden wall heated by stoves had to be erected about the construction works.

Following the opening visit by Their Majesties King George and Queen Mary to the Wembley Exhibition, the Duke and Duchess of York also went over the grounds. Their Majesties were especially delighted with Treasure Island, the Paradise of children, and travelled over the miniature Canadian Pacific train that runs around the Island, passing en route the replica of Banff Station and the reproduction of the Canadian Pacific Rockies.

Canada will be well represented at the New Zealand and South Seas International Exhibition to be held at Dunedin between November, 1925 and April, 1926. Both the Dominion Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway have announced their intention to send well-appointed exhibits to the Exposition. It is probable that the provincial governments and many Canadian manufacturers will follow suit.

Have it done The Outlook way.

Keep Children Well During Hot Weather

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours' illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house prevents stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through.

They are sold by all druggists or will be mailed on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. A little booklet, "Care of the Baby in Health and Sickness" will be sent free to any mother on request.

(1) Either seize the motor vehicle and arrest the offender and bring him before a Magistrate, or—
