He then proceeds to describe how the various mounted bodies, the Canadians, Roberts Horse and French's cavalry time after time engaged the Boers, and held them while the infantry and baggage passed. The walls of tack by British troops advancing by the building were destrated and the some mysterious route. structures in the neighborhood are a mass of flames. The shrieks of women and children in the adjoining streets added to the ghastliness of the scene. Ten workmen were killed and 32, including Herr Grunberg, the manager of the works, were injured. Brabant's Success.

The Times has the following from a special correspondent, dated Mafeteng, Basutoland, April 25: I rode from Jammersburg here, skirting Wepener, and I met Gen. Brabant's advance guard four miles south of Wepener. They reported THREE SUCCESSFUL FIGHTS

The Boers have everywhere retired at the first pressure of the British advance, and the hope that Gen. Rundle would be able to induce them to remain at Dewet's Dorp until they had been forced to fight or to surrender has been disappointed. No attempt was made to pursue the commandoes retiring from Wepener. Everything now depends upon the progress of Gen. French's cavalry brigades, but they the entering a very difficult, hilly and practically unknown country. The cavalry have already had a long march over heavy and sandy roads, and nothing is known regarding the condition of the horses. In any case it is now a race between the federals and the forces of Gen. French and Gen. Hamil-The slowness of the recent move ments of the British infantry, and previous experience of the ability of the Boers to move rapidly with guns and baggage over their own country, leads to a belief that Lord Roberts' enveloping operations will have to be repeated further north. AT DEWET'S DORP. London, April 25.—2:25 p.m.—Lord Roberts has telegraphed the following message to the war office: "Bloemfontein, April 25.—Dewet's Dorp was occupied by Chermside, without opposition, at 9:30 a.m. today.' The war office has issued Lord Roberts' list of the casualties prior to the occupation of Dewet's Dorp, showing that Captain Denny, of the Thirteenth Hussars, was killed, and that a captain, two lieutenants and twentytwo men were wounded. Capt. Prothera, who was wounded at Karesfontein, has since died.

London, April 26. — Spencer Wilkinson, in the Morning Post, says: "The army deployed in the Free State may not be used for a converging attack on Thabanchu. Unless the Boers are in strong position and great numbers there, a mere concentric advance may well suffice to compel their retreat.Generals Brabant and Hart are not likely to pursue the Boers retreating in the direction of Ladybrand. There has been a general re-vival this year of this game all over the Dominion, and many places that have not had teams for many years, are getting in line. A practice will be held tonight at 6:30, at the Western Arbitration.

The numerous strikes which break out in many directions every year in the early summer throughout the United States and Canada, show that something is wrong.

These strikes do harm to many, and seldom do much permanent good. Besides loss to both sides, they cause inconvenience to innocent third parties. The right or wrong is seldom exclus-Ively with either party; though each side, through failure to put itself mentally in the other's place, may bonestly enough think itself entirely in the right and its opponent entirely to the wrong. That is the standpoint of everage human nature, as it is the sendency of everage human nature to bry to have its own way.

How is this state of things to be remedied? There is one remedy only that fairly meets the situation, and that remedy the general public, if it knew its business and interest, would insist on. The remedy is arbitration. Even arbitration might not satisfy each side absolutely. Very likely; as the right or wrong in most disputes is not exclusively on one side. But by any fair arbitration, in nine cases out of ten, justice would be done on the everage about as perfectly as can be expected in an imperfect world, and this side the Golden Age.

In New Zealand, obligatory arbitration has absolutely prevented strikes; dispensed even-handed justice: relieved employers from harassment and unfair competition; while giving employes the feeling that they also will obtain what in all the circumstances le found to be fair, as between man

It may take some time for the Unitod States and Canada to get into the happy position of New Zealand in the respect we have been discussing; but It will come, and we believe sooner than some expect. For example, a new organization is growing up in the United States among the employing printers of the republic, one of the principal aims of which is to settle, through a capable and even-tempered commissioner recently appointed, as many disagreements as possible by ar-

The Duke of Argyll.

The Duke of Argyll, who has just passed away, was the representative of one of Scotland's ancient and aristocratic homes. His son, the Marquis of Lorne, had the distinction of marnent politician, though he was never what could be called a popular leader. He belonged to the Whig section of the Liberal party-a section which has been very largely absorbed in the so-called Unionist party. The duke came at last to be a critic of men and things in general rather than a leader or worker. There is one point in his character and career which can be mentioned with pleasure, the deep and constant interest he took in science and philosophy. He cannot, of course. be classed in the front rank of sciencists or philosophers, but he furnishes a good example, of which there are many in great Britain, of men of swealth and leisure who devote much time and energy to the pursuit of Durely intellectual interests. As a conproversialist he was not a match for Prof. Huxley, but like Dr. St. George Mivert, who also has recently passed beyond the region of controversy, he belped to stem the tide of materialtem, which at one period of the nineteenth century seemed to be so closely bound up with the study of physical science. Though not the kind of pubne man to call forth any intense perconsi attachment or awaken any widespread enthusiasm, in his own way the Duke of Argyll, though no doubt nampered by class interests, sought to serve his own generation faithfully.

A Striking Suggestion.

In the last issue of the Nineteenth Century the Marquis of Lorne has a suggestion for helping to people South Africa with loyal British subjects. He tells us that there exists a State Children's Aid Society. On its list of supporters may be seen the names of men who have held foremost positions in Great Britain. Its objects are defined as being these:

1. To obtain the dissolution of large aggregated schools, so that the children may be brought up, when possible, in families, or in small groups, where they will be in daily touch with the various interests and activities of mocial life

2. To dissociate the children from all connection with the workhouse and the officials who have to deal with the pauper class.

3. To obtain for the state further powers of control over neglected children.

The very existence of such a society points to a great evil, namely, that in the crowded cities there are parents who negleot their duties. This is a sad state of things, but as it exists a remedy must be provided. The Marquis (now Duke of Argyll) points to judicious emigration as one of the eastest means of dealing with the problem. During ten years 2,410 children have been sent out, and the sum of £28,952 has been spent upon them by authority of the Local Government Board. The selection has to be judiciously made and the work carefully done. The example of Canada is cited, and the precautions required by Ontario and Manitoba pointed out.

Along these or similar lines the writer thinks child-emigration might be diverted to South Africa after the settlement which will follow the present war. There will, he thinks, be plenty of room after those who have suffered most for the white race have had the pick of the land. Little settlements might be formed, where clergy and school masters could bring up healthy, loyal colonists. "They would, in short, be bred up to usefully fill places in the South African union of provinces which shall keep for the races who have to live there together the benefits of the best characteristics of the European races." This may be a good idea; the new duke seems to have great faith in it; but like other movements of the same kind, everything will depend upon how it is done.

Not Peace, but a Sword.

Men have often been startled by the saying of the Prince of Peace, that he came not to bring peace, but a sword. It was not that he desired war, or loved strife, but he saw what the result of his efforts would be, and faced it clearly and courageously. It is part of the mysterious moral order of this world that those who most sincerely desire peace are the means of bringing strife. The men who seek to make the world better, whether they act wisely or unwisely, do stir up strife. Part of this no doubt comes from our indiscretions; part is, however, inevitable. No great commotion or war is stirred up by one line of action, or one set of circumstances. There are always many varied forces at work; and the final butcome is the resultant of powers which check and modify each other. We have an illustration of this principle in the present war.

There are no body of men who have been more anxious to avert war than the leading Nonconformists of England, and we may safely say that from that quarter have come influences which have helped to prepare the way for war. We do not mean that their outcry against war encouraged the Boers to think that they could go to any length in their defiance of the British Government, nor that their support of peaceful measures in the past has been construed as a sign of weakness, and an outcome of fear. There is some truth in these statements, but we are thinking of something deeper. It is the work of the London Missionary Society. on behalf of the natives, that has, during the past century, brought out clearly the difference between the ideals and methods of Briton and Boer. Anyone who cares to read carefully the history of the Colonial Office transactions will find the names of Christian missionaries mostly connected with the great Nonconformists of England. These men may sometimes have been mistaken, and some of them may have been fussy and indiscreet, but we know that among them were some of the rying into the royal family. The late noblest men that Britain has ever sent nearly always in conflict with the Boer as to the treatment of the natives and the missionary work of the church

> The comparative steadiness of the native races during the present crisis tells its own tale. As a whole, they pray for the success of the British because they know that it means justice for them. Many influences have no doubt tended to prepare the way for this great conflict, but one has certainly been the different ideals of the two peoples. From England, from Exeter Hall, the center of so much missionary activity, and the object of so many sneers, have gone humanitarian influences; influence directed to the freedom of the slave and the uplifting of the poor. Those who sent out these influences were always advocates of peace; but they have often learned that in that way where men seek for peace, they often find the sword, and their only consolation is the thought that if knowledge brings the sword, knowledge will take the sword away.

A serious accident occurred to A. Smart, near Holland, Man. shooting a duck his gun exploded, driving part of the barrel through his and into his thigh. He is in a critical condition.

Home is made by the family. Without the love which comes with children there may be a house but never a home, in the best meaning of the word. Many a house which was only four walls and a roof has been made a home by the agency of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Nature sets her face against childlessness and "Favorite Prescription" works with nature to remove the obstacles to maternity.

"I had been a sufferer from uterine trouble for "I had been a sufferer from uterine trouble for about three years, having two miscarriages in that time and the doctors that I consulted said I would have to go through an operation befere I could give birth to children," writes Mrs. Blanche E. Evans, of Farsons, Luzerne Co., Pa., Box 41. "When about to give up in despair, I bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and after taking it felt better than I had for years. Felt improved before I had taken one-half bottle. After taking four and a half bottles I gave birth to a bright baby girl who is now four months old and has not had a day of sickness. She is as bright as can be. I cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

If You Need a Spring Medicine

To drive away those drowsy weary, worn out feelings; or

To purify your blood, regulate your bowels, and stir up your sluggish liver; or.

To brace you up and give clearness to your brain and strength to your body.

Take Burdock Blood Bitters. is the best spring medicine.

Here is a statement from one of them:

Mrs. Harris J. Croft, West Dublin, N.S., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a spring medicine for the past two years, and find it has never been recommended too nighly. Previous to using B.B.B. I was treubled with a dull, drowsy drag myself around, I was pale and thin and any little work seemed a great task, Since using B.B.B. I am strong, can work hard and yet not feel tired. Movements has increased twenty pounds. I would advise anyone requiring a spring medicine to take B.B.B. in preference to any other lates and thin the woods again. the darkness, within 1,000 yards of the Boer trenches across the river. The horses and carriages were withdrawn beyond range, and at daybreak the British opened a heavy bombardment with shrapnel and lyddite. The Boers were taken completely by surprise, but they replied with five guns, including a 40-pounder, and a heavy rifle fire was opened at the same time. The duel continued many hours, the Boers finally evacuating the position with, it is believed, considerable loss. There were no casualties on the British side. During the evening the guns were silently withdrawn.

FIRED A SHOT, THEN DIED. London, April 25.-A dispatch from Buluwayo, dated April 17, says: There were some gallant deeds during Col. Plumer's recent fighting in his attempt to relieve Mafeking. Capt. Crewe was killed while trying to bring in Capt. Gates, whose horse had been shot. shot. Trooper Lees, who had been wounded, said: "Comrades, don't mind me: I'm sent for. Give me a rifle till I have one more shot." A rifle was handed to him, and he fired one shot after which he rolled over dead. BUGLE BLASTS.

The Anglican Archbishop of Cape Town has written a letter to Sir Alfred Milner, expressing the conviction in the absence of an official statement by the Church of England, that enduring peace cannot be secured while the South African republics retain their independence.

Persistent rumors are circulating at Cape Town of dissension in the Cape cabinet. It is said that Mr. W. P. Schreiner, the premier, and Mr. Solomon, attorney-general, favor the annexation of the Transvaal and the Free State; that Mr. J. W. Sauer, commissioner of public works, and Dr. Te Water, minister without portfolio advocate the independence of the republics, and that Mr. J. Herriman, treasurer, is neutral. The president of the London board of trade, Mr. Charles Thomson Ritchie, says it is a delusion to suppose that the Spion Kop dispatches, were pub-lished without the consent of Lord Roberts. Their publication does not necessitate a recall of Sir Redvers

RUNNING FIGHT

Between the Discomfited Boers and Their Pursuers-Enemy Left Their Dead Unburied in the Trenches.

London, April 26.-All the interest in the South African war is now centered in the running fight in progress between the burghers retreating from the southern portion of the Orange Free State and Gen. French's horsemen and the infantry of Gens. Pole-Carew, Chermside and Rundle. The Boers clung to their positions as long unchanged at 11c to 12c per lb (dressed weight); South American sell at 10c to now slipped off to hold the next commanding ridge through a broken country admirably suited for a rear guard defense.

Dispatches from Aliwal North, under date of Wednesday, April 25, say the Boers left Wepener so hurriedly that many of the dead were left in the trenches unburied. Commandant S.

Cronje is reported to have been killed. According to advices from Bloemfontein, the attack of the Boers at Brandfort, to get in touch with the command at Thabanchu, was frustrated by a force dispatched by Gen. Tucker from Glen.

A dispatch from Pretoria reports the arrival there of Lord Rosslyn as an unwounded prisoner.

THE QUEEN

Leaves Dublin En Route for England.

Dublin, April 26.-Queen Victoria and Princess Christian and Henry of Battenberg left the vice-regal lodge at noon and drove to Kings' Bridge station, on their way to Kingstown and England. Large crowds at every point of vantage gave her majesty a loyal farewell. The train started for Kingstown at 12:30 amidst the heartiest demonstrations.

Enormous numbers of the people had preceded the Queen to Kingstown, and occupied the plers and other places from which the royal yacht Victoria and Albert was visible.

A memorable demonstration occur-red as her majesty, attended by a brilliant suite, boarded the Yacht, which steamed seaward at 1:15 p.m. amid the firing of a royal salute by the fleet, and hearty and prolonged cheer-ing from the throngs linking the water-

WILL GET NO RAISE OF PAY

Detroit Street Railway Company Refuse the Men's Request-Introduction of New Teamsters Making Some Trouble.

Detroit, April 26.-The Street Railway Employes' Association sent a request for a raise in wages to the company and the answer given not only refuses the request, but intimates that a reduction may possibly be made in the near future. The association has evidently decided to ignore the answer of the company. Delegate M. J. Mc-Leod has asked Mr. Du Pont when he would be willing to meet a committee of the men for conference and Mr. Du Pont has set this afternoon at 2:30. The letter of refusal written by Mr. Du Pont calls attention to the fact that the men are getting 16½ per cent higher than the men in other cities of the same class as Detroit. Mr. McLeod says that the income derived from two cars would be suffi-cient to pay all that the increase ask-ed for would amount to. The men are getting 21 cents an hour for a day of nine hours, the length of work done being limited by the action of the men themselves. Mr. McLeod figures from the duplicate trip sheets, taken by the men against the orders and warning men against the orders and warning of the company, that the company's business has increased at least 50 per cent in the last year. The company claims that it must protect itself, in view of the recent heavy taxation.

Toronto, April 25.—The Shedden and Hendrie companies sent out a number of lorries this afternoon to collect freight for the first time since the carters' strike began. The lorries were manned by teamsters collected at outside points and brought to town, and the new men had a hard time of it. Groups of men jeered and swore at them as they drove through the streets, and in some cases windows opened unexpectedly and water was thrown on them by unseen tormentors. The police were out in the wholesale quarter in force, guarding the teamsters, but only one arrest was made-that of a man who kicked a horse afthat of a man who kitted a horse ter chasing the driver away. A conference is to be held tomorrow that may result in a settlement.

Detroit, April 25.—The press feeders did not strike at noon today. The printers and the pressmen did not seem disposed to order a sympathetic strike and the feeders would have considerable difficulty in carrying on one by themselves. It was arranged that a committee of the feeders should meet one from the employers' association, and employers to come to a setisfactory.

Baster and instother participants in the riot save those injured, and all were arrested by the police with the exception of Gibbons, who made his escape. Baster, who fired the fatal shot, is a super-intendent, employed by the Baker-Vawter Printing Company. The kill-ing was the outcome of three months' trouble with striking laborers. firm employs non-union labor, and three months ago several pressmen and feeders were discharged because they joined the union. The assaulting party consisted of Miller, Mc-Guire, Pottgetter, Jeckiske and Gib-bons. With the exception of Miller all are former employes of the firm. Those who were assaulted were Baster, Bernard and Yarranton. The latter three were on their way to their homes from work when the assault took place.

Conduct of the War Comes Up tor Discussion.

Over 44,000 Remounts Have Been Sent to South Africa.

London, April 26 .- The House of Commons reassembled this afternoon. James M. Barrie, the novelist, has accepted the invitation of a committee to contest the seat for the Edinburgh and St. Andrew's Universities, provided the Liberals of the constituency generally approve of his candidacy.

Lord Roberts' recent Spion Kop dispatches, and move the production of further papers on the subject.

George Wyndham, parliamentary secretary of the war office, replying to questions, declared Lord Roberts had made no complaint whatever on Gen. Lord Methuen's Magersfontein operations. Neither, he continued, did Lord Roberts' dispatches indicate that the advance was either retarded or modifled by the scarcity of remounts. At the same time, the secretary declared, it was true that the expenditure of horseflesh had exceeded all the estimates, and that the war office had invariably exceeded the requisitions from

The difficulty in procuring ships, Mr. Wyndham said, had handicapped the authorities, but already this year they had sent out 27,041 horses and 17,143 mules as remounts, in addition to those accompanying the troops, and by the end of May the remounts would number 42,000 horses and 23,000 mules. Steps had also been taken to supply the necessary rolling stock for the result, but Sunday. as far as the government was aware, the military problem before Lord Rob-erts had not turned on the question of of her daughter, Miss Stella, who is remounts, or rolling stock, but on the suffering from a severe attack of ton-fact that Lord Roberts had shifted his silitis. base from Cape Town to Bloemfontein, thus necessitating the recapturing and repair of the railroad and the clearing of the line of communication for a distance of 750 miles on a single track, with a rise of 4,500 feet.

MAFEKING. Regarding the relief of Mafeking. which, Mr. Wyndham asserted, all had at heart, the secretary would realize that its speedy relief would not be aided by divulging the objective of any of Lord Roberts' forces. CABLE NOTES.

Conduct of the War Comes Up tor Discussion.

Over 44.000 Remounts Have Been Sent to South Africa.

London, April 26.-The House of Commons reassembled this afternoon. James M. Barrie, the novelist, has accepted the invitation of a committee to contest the seat for the Edinburgh and St. Anoffense charged was political, it is said drew's Universities, provided the Liberals of the constituency generally approve of his candidacy.

James Lowther (Con.) was heartily cheered when he gave notice that he would call attention on May 22 to Lord Roberts' recent Spion Kop dispatches, and move the production of further papers on the subject.

George Wyndham, parliamentary secretary of the war office, replying to questions, declared Lord Roberts had made no complaint whatever on Gen. Lord Methuen's Magersfontein operations. Neither, he continued, did Lord Roberts' dispatches indicate that the advance was either retarded or modifled by the scarcity of remounts. At the same time, the secretary declared. it was true that the expenditure of horseflesh had exceeded all the esti-Latest Reported-Formerly a Delimates, and that the war office had invariably exceeded the requisitions from cate Man-One Box of Doda's Kidney South Africa.

The difficulty in procuring ships, Mr. Wyndham said, had handicapped the authorities, but already this year they had sent out 27,041 horses and 17,143 mules as remounts, in addition to those accompanying the troops, and by the end of May the remounts would number 42,000 horses and 23,000 mules. Steps had also been taken to supply the necessary rolling stock for the result, but as far as the government was aware, the military problem before Lord Roberts had not turned on the question of remounts, or rolling stock, but on the fact that Lord Roberts had shifted his base from Cape Town to Bloemfontein, thus necessitating the recapturing and repair of the railroad and the clearing of the line of communication for a distance of 750 miles on a single track, with a rise of 4,500 feet. Regarding the relief of Mafeking, which, Mr. Wyndham asserted, all had at heart, the secretary would realize that its speedy relief would not be aided by divulging the objective of any of Lord Roberts' forces. CABLE NOTES.

THE TRIUMPH

Exercises exerci CHAPTER XI.

Lady Selwyn had some reason for asking the question. Mrs. Rivers had started so violently, the child almost fell from her arms. The two ideas had suddenly occurred to her; the first was, how cruelly Lacy Beatrice would use Rupert now that he stood between her child and fortune. She would doubtless torture him as she had done her; make his life wretched, poison Lord Selwyn's mind, if that were possible, against him. She foresaw, and with truth, endless sorrow for her most beloved son. The second thought, not much less painful, was the wrong she had un-consciously done to the mother and child. She was Lord Selwyn's lawful wife, Rupert his legitimate son. What were the two before her? She shrunk shlvering from the thought. When she made what she believed a most heroic sacrifice she had not foreseen this. What was that proud, stately lady after all? Not Lord Selwyn's lawful wife, although she believed herself

She had not foreseen this-truly as that she must one day die, she had not foreseen it. She had made her sacrifice believing that no one save herself would suffer, forgetting the cine Company Home on contingencies that might arise! this was one of them. What, in the eyes of the law and of men, were Beatrice and her little child? What if ever, by any remote unfore-seen chance her fatal secret were made know: what would become of them? Well might the fragile hands that held little Lance tremble; well might the troubled face under the crape veil grow ghastly in its despair. "I did not think that I should ever like children," Lady Beatrice was saying, when her visitor forced back her thoughts and attention; "but I love

Then he crossed the room and went over to her, touching the baby's little face with his hands, then bending down and kissing it, just as years ago he

"He is a grand little fellow, Mrs.

From her heart there arose a wild prayer for help and mercy; her courage was failing, her strength leaving her. How could she bear it? Yet she said to herself that it was her punishment, and she must endure it to the bitter end.

Then Lady Beatrice took little Lance from her, as a sign that the interview was ended. Mrs. Rivers rose to

"If you are fond of pictures, Mrs. Rivers," said Lord Selwyn, "Rupert will show you our collection; it is considered a very fine one."

She remembered the day, when, leaning on his arm, she had inspected all the gems of art collected by the Selwyns for generations past. that picture surpassed in beauty any other the house contained. Remembering all this, she bowed her thanks, but spoke no word.

"I think," said his lordship,"that you have quite won that boy's heart, Mrs. Rivers; he seems to like being with you better than any one else.' And again the dark-robed figure bowed. Wondering at her persistent silence, and attributing it, as his wife did, to awe and timidity, Lord Selwyn opened the door for her, and Mrs. Rivers passed out.

"I am waiting for you," said Rupert, as she came to the stairs. "Now we will go and look at my mother's pic-It used to hang in the drawingroom, but Lady Beatrice sent it to the

W. Lester, of London, and R. C. Davison, of Melbourne, Australia, in Town-Raport Splendid Business Abroad-Wonderful Success of the Dodd's Remedies.

[From the Globe.] Mr. J. W. Lester, London, representative of the Dodd's Medicine Company in Europe, and Mr. R. C. Davison, of Australia, both formerly of Toronto, are in town on a business visit. These two gentlemen are the foreign agents of one of the most enterprising business firms in Canada, it having substantial establishments in no less than four of the English-speaking countries-the United States, England, Australia and Canada, the headquarters. Messrs. Lester and Davison were seen at the offices of the company, Yonge street. Both gentlemen are enthusiastic as to the wonderful growth of the business in the countries represent. Mr. Lester crossed the Atlantic on the Oceanic, landing in New York. Mr. Davison landed in Vancouver, and came on to Toronto via the C. P. R.

"How long have the Dodd's remedies been known in England?" Mr. Lester was asked.

"Well, that is hard to say exactly," replied Mr. Lester. "You see, their reputation had crossed the pond ahead of us, and mail orders from the old country were common before we advertised over there. But if you mean how long has our English office been in operation—since 1898."

"Do you find that Dodd's Kidney Pills are likely to become as popular there as in this country?"

Mr. Lester laughed. "They are quite as popular already," he replied. "They met with even quicker appreciation on the old sod than in their native country. As soon as it became generally known, by means of advertising, that a reliable cure for kidney disease had been found, orders poured in faster than we could fill them. There had been other remedies advertised for kidney disease before, but they had membered how, when her own portrait been disappointing. The new Canadian was taken, Lord Selwyn had declared remedy became famous as a certain cure for the diseases it was recommended for, and few people in the British Isles at the present time are unacquainted with its virtues." Do you find that the success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in England has brought forth imitations, as it has in this country' "Yes," said Mr. Lester, "that was bound to happen. However, we adopt the same policy towards imitations in England as in Canada—we ignore them. We keep pegging away at our England own business, and leave the public to decide as to the merits of the case. The original is always more worthy confidence than the imitation, and that fact seems to be on our side. Anyway, imitations have done us as little harm in England as they have in Canada.' Mr. Lester reports also that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have been equally well received in England. He will remain in Canada for about three weeks. Mr. Davison's story of the success of Dodd's Remedies in Australasia was proportionately gratifying. They have repeated their usual success in the antipodes, having been introduced in Australia the same year as in England. The different managers of the land. POLICE COURT

Mr. Bartram's Case Against City Engineer Graydon and Eleven of the City Fathers Dismissed.

City Engineer Graydon and eleven of the city fathers were lined up before the police magistrate this morning for about two hours. Mr. W. H. Bartram contended that the city engineer was guilty of misdemeanor, which is an indictable offense, in not carrying out the instructions of the council in not measuring a certain street. Mr. Graydon claimed that he had not been so ordered, although the resolution had been passed by the council.

Magistrate Love held that the engineer had acted within his rights in not having carried out the resolution, as it would have entailed a great deal of unnecessary labor. Mr. Bartram considered that the aldermen should have dismissed the city engineer, but owing to the magistrate's decision he offered no evidence against Arthur McLurg was fined for riding on the sidewalk and two drunks were discharged.

[Special to The Advertiser per C.P.R.]
Ottawa, April 26,-At the railway committee today the Mackenzie-Mann railway system interests in Manitoba and the Northwest were arrayed against the Canadian Pacific, with the result that the big road was defeated by more than two to one. The fight was on the Manitoba and Northwestern, which was waiting extension for five years, although it had two years to run, and intended paralleling the Mackenzie-Mann road. The extension was refused on a vote of 29 for to 66 against. The bill was therefore de-

GREAT GAME COUNTRY

Along the Route of the Intercolonial Railway - Tourist Travel to the Maritims Provinces Is Greatly Increasing Messrs. N. Weatherston, traveling freight and passenger agent, Toronto, and James Kelly, traveling passenger agent, St. John, N. B., representing the Intercolonial Railway of Canada, and in the city, in the interests of tourist travel to Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, where good shooting and fishing abounds. They have been making an extensive of Canadian cities in this behalf. Mr. Kelly thinks London one of the most beautiful cities in the Dominion. The Intercolonial Railway is in more senses then one the people's line. As a government road it is owned by the people, and in the operating of the line this principle is ever kept in view, so that the best available service will be given. It is popular as the great tourist and sportsman's route, and that by which the desirable piaces in the provinces by the see can be most conveniently reached. With the Prince Edward Island Railway, also the people's line, it embraces nearly 1,600 miles of road, with rail and steamer connections. for many hundreds of miles in addition to this, and it traverses the most varled and inviting tourist country on the continent. Each year the advantages of this route are becoming better known and the volume of travel is increasing. Starting from Montreal, the Intercolonial crosses the Victoria Jubilee bridge, passing through the beautiful country east of the Canadian metropolis and takes the shortest and most direct route to Quebec. Following the south shore of the Lower St. Lawrence, the line makes its way among picturesque French-Canadian villages, and enters upon the first portion of the game re-gions reached by this line. The best large game regions in Canada are, those in Eastern Quebec and Northern New Brunswick, and this road is a good route by which to reach them. Entering New Brunswick the sportsman is in a province of which it is estimated about five million acres are good game grounds, and where the large game, moose, caribou and deer, are not only holding their own in respect to numbers, but are in some cases actually increasing. This is due to a good game law, and to the efforts which have been made to enforce it. The moose which are found in this part of Canada have no equals in size outside of Alaska. In a recent season one was killed which has a spread of 66 inches, fairly measured straight across from tip to tip of the antlers, and from this size down to 50 inches records are too common to excite wonder. While numbers of these have been taken, many more await the coming of the skillful marksman. One feature of the game country reached by the Intercolonial will commend itself to sportsmen, and that is the convenience with which supplies can be procured at many points along the line. Wherever the road passes through the counties of Restigouche, Gloucester, Northumbercountry, or is in close communication Queen's county.

Norton, the splendid moose grounds of Partridge are abundant everywhere that there are woods along the line in all the provinces. Wild geese, duck, brant and other fowl are numerous along the Lower St. Lawrence, the Baie de Chaleur, the gulf shore on Northumberland Strait, and all around the shores of Eastern Nova Scotia. There is specially good shooting also around the shores of Prince Edward Island.

For Those Who Use the Great Spring Restorative---Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

A Blood-Builder and Nerve Restorer That Brings Health, Strength and Vitality to the Pale, Weak and Emaciated.

In the spring, when all nature is aroused by the thrill of new life and hope, the human body has a struggle to overcome the ill effects of artifical winter life. The blood is thin and watery, the system weak and debilitated, the nerves starved and exhausted and a restorative is demanded.

To meet the requirements of those whose vitality is low, the Prince Edward Island Railway, are and who are unequal to the fight against disease, Dr. Chase prepared his now famous Nerve Food which has proven itself the greatest blood-builder and nerve restorative known to the scientists,

The pale, weak and sickly feel the new life blood throbbing through their shriveled arteries when this great restorative is used, The new nerve force goes tingling through the nerve fibres until it permeates the whole body even unto the most remote branches.

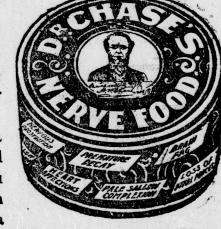

Every organ feels the inspiration of the new life and is aroused to activity. The action of the heart is strengthened, the kidneys purity the blood, the liver filters out the bile, and the whole digestive apparatus is set in proper working order.

The influence of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food can best be understood by a study of the accompanying figure, which shows the mutiplex ramifications of the nervous system of the human body. New, rich blood is formed, new nerve force created by this great restorative. It cures by the building up process, the only reasonable way of assisting headache and dyspepsia, irritability, nervousness, paleness, weakness, and despondent, languid feelings are the beginnings which end with nervous prostration, paralysis, locomotor ataxia, epilepsy or insanity.

It is not wise to wait for a collapse of the nervous system before beginning treatment, Sleeplessness, nervous

Almost everybody needs a spring tonic and restorative, and every physician will tell you that there is no preparation which is so beneficial as a blood-builder and a nerve vitalizer as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It prevents and cures the ills of spring, puts color in the pale face, gives strength and vitality to the weak, and new life, new hope, new confidence to all who use it. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or by mail from Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
