Combined, they cover Canada's most progressive territory.

London is the capital and important railway center of the most fertile and smiling territory in the world. It lies between Niagara and Detroit, and Great Lakes north and south, in the agricultural garden of the continent.

The London Advertiser has been established 34 years.

It supplies full market reports, and goes into the hands of live business men, wife-awake farmers, and the general public.

It has always been a favorite in home circles, where its advertisements are carefully read in the leisure of evening by those who do the buying.

The Advertiser goes into thousands of homes where, through habit, and identity of opinion, it is the only newspaper taken. Without it, "the whole field" cannot possibly be covered.

The purchasing quality of the circulation of The Advertiser has been frequently tested in specific instances by leading merchants, with the most satisfactory results.

The circulation of The Advertiser increased 20 per cent during the past five months, and will more than maintain this percentage of increase throughout 1897.

There is one infallible test of the advertising efficacy of any newspaper—namely, results. Make the trial!

Estimates of cost, and proof-sheets of advertising, furnished on application.

Tobacco has certainly some value. The British Government are using the smuggled article to kill insects in the New gardens.

The Hudson Bay railway project has apparently dropped from view. Nansen has discovered a much more feasible route to the North Pole.

The French naval Minister has made a modest request for nearly two hundred warships and torpedo boats. This means another floating debt.

Greece might be willing to part with some of the universal sympathy she enjoys, if she could get in exchange a few more warships and regiments.

The United States has a standing army of 25,000 men, and they may all be needed on the Canadian frontier to watch smugglers when the Dingley bill is in force.

Talk is cheap, as the saying goes, but if the Ottawa Opposition try, to prolong the tariff discussion until midsummer, the business interests of the country will find their talk as dear as it is dry.

The Liberal Ministers are very properly removing needless officials in various departments. In so doing they are fulfilling their pledges to reduce the cost of government without impairing its efficiency.

Sir Charles Tupper does not wish to see the Manitoba school question dead and buried, but he would like to keep it in a state of suspended animation, so that it could be revived for special occasions. He has no use for it, except where it can be of use to him.

The report that the Queen intends abdication in her son's favor is hardly credited. Victoria has always distinguished herself by anxiety to please her people, and it is their unanimous wish that she should remain on the throne which she has glorified beyond any of her antecedents.

The New Victoria Hospital.

That there is a strong public sentiment in London in favor of signalizing the diamond jubilee of the Queen by the erection of an entirely new, modern style hospital, cannot be denied. If the capital of Western Ontario once thoroughly makes up its mind, it is abundantly able to carry out the idea.

The License Bill.

The second reading of the License Bill in the Ontario Legislature was taken yesterday. Mr. Marter, Mr. Whitney and others spoke, but did not show themselves men of light and leading on an important question, but contented themselves with criticism of the motives of the Government.

More Catholic Than the Pope.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell, in the debate on the address, said he would vote again as he voted before, on the remedial bill, even if the Pope himself were satisfied with the terms of the present settlement. Why Sir Mackenzie Bowell, an Orangeman in ex-celsis, should want to be more Catholic than the Pope, is one of those things which, as Lord Dundreary used to say, no fellow can find out.

The Carson Political.

The day of the successful interference of the Quebec Catholic clergy in political affairs has passed away. When will you be able to say the same regarding the political Protestant parsons of Ontario? Such was the declaration and query addressed to the writer by an observant Quebec Catholic statesman the other day.

Undoubtedly, there is an indisposition in the neighboring Province to submit to undue influence in matters political. This feeling is confined to no section of the community, and is in no way an indication that the citizen adhering to this view of his duty is in consequence less a consistent member of his church.

The right of a clergyman to take part in the discussion of affairs of State is undoubted. How far he can go, or in what manner, is a matter which ought to have his most earnest consideration. A clergyman could not be debarred from getting out of his pulpit, and going on the platform to argue on matters of State with his fellow-citizens. That no impropriety is involved in his so doing is proved by the presence in the House of Commons at Ottawa of a clergyman as a representative of a western constituency. He is in Parliament as a citizen, however, not as the pastor of a religious body.

There may be times in the history of a state when a preacher should turn his pulpit into a political rostrum, but the occasions are rare indeed. It is doubtful if they come to most clergymen in the history of a lifetime. A preacher, indeed, who becomes a political parson practically asks us to believe that the newspaper press and the statesmen of today are derelict in their duty, and that the world requires his services as a sort of modern Jeremiah.

Some people hold that the duty of a preacher is to say what he believes, no matter what the effect of his declarations. Freedom he should have most certainly to express his convictions on all manner of subjects, if he considers it the part of wisdom so to do. But would it be the part of wisdom for the clergy to enter into the pulpit discussion of all sorts of controversial questions merely because he had a strong conviction thereon? Let us reflect for a moment to what this would lead the pulpit. One preacher believes in the single tax system, and believes that the present method is robbery. A neighboring preacher holds that the present system, if not perfect, is on right lines, and that a tax on land values only would be oppressive to many persons. So in regard to many other subjects in every-day controversy among men, as for example, the prohibition question, upon which many good men and women hold opposing views.

By many the view is strongly held that religion is not advanced by the severe dogmatizing of preachers upon semi-political or wholly political questions, all the phases of which they can scarcely have had opportunity to study. Something must be left to the statesman, to the expert in political science, as well as to the moralist. It may be admitted that right is always right, but who shall always infallibly fix upon what is right?

When, upon any subject before the public, a clergyman feels called to take a side, in the interests of religion, upon a question on which he knows his congregation are divided, it is his duty to fairly state both sides, and let his people be the judges of his conclusions. To threaten them with pains and penalties, or to argue that they are not within the pale of Christianity because in all things they do not see as he does, is not only most improper doctrine for a preacher to inculcate, but it may at any time lead him into serious difficulty—if he is a man who keeps his mind open to receive new light.

Ottawa, Ont., March 31.

The report of the Dominion Auditor-General for the last year of the Conservative Government, ending June 30 last, is bulkier than ever. It is a ponderous production of several thousand closely printed pages, and contains a great mass of information on the subject of the expenditure of the people's taxes. One of the most noticeable pages is that chronicling the distribution of $39,969.70 for legal expenses and taxed costs. Among those who shared in this distribution was Wm. Douglas, Chatham, $10; T. G. Meredith, London, $10.55; Meredith & Fisher, London, $29. This is a poor showing for Western lawyers when compared with $10,944.42 paid to Borden, Ritchie & Co., Halifax; $3,583.54 to John S. Hall, Montreal; $2,496.66 to F. E. Hodgins, Toronto; $5,400 to Christopher Robinson & Co., Toronto, and $17,376.96 to O'Connor & Hogg, Ottawa. E. B. Osler, Q.C., this year is only paid $1,850.

Among civil servants who received pay from more than one source this year were the following: G. A. Bayard, London, exciseman, $78.83; duty pay, $59. E. D. Cameron, Brantford, Indian superintendent, $1,200; commission on land sales, $16.50. Henry Dunn, Chatham, engineer Dominion building, $490; caretaker gas office, $12. N. J. Dignan, Stratford, exciseman, $1,200; extra services, $45.60. Wm. Greer, London, caretaker, Ontario House, $400; customs, extra messenger, $49.50; messenger excise, $120; caretaker weights and measures, $35; caretaker gas office, $36. Edward Lee, London, exciseman, $1,000; extra pay, $41.50. P. E. Maroon, Windsor and London, exciseman, $837.50; in charge of large factory, $39.92. P. H. Mitchell, M.D., physician to Muncie Indians, $28.55; physician to the Chipewas, $45.19. M. Payne, Port Stanley, sub-collector of customs, $300; meteorological telegraph services, $400; telegraph operator, $15. E. G. Randall, Bayfield, sub-collector of customs, $250; reporting fishery intelligence bureau, $15. J. F. Taylor, Strathroy, exciseman, $550; sub-collector of customs, $300. A. M. Williamson, Kinardine, sub-collector of customs, $600; commission on excise, collector $83.85. W. P. Wilson, Jun., Woodstock, customs landing waiter, $637.50; share of customs seizures, $50.

The total expenditure last year amounted to $42,154,218.18, according to the report of the auditor-general; but it is reported that several large sums due were not paid out, and had to be met by the new Government.

Fifteen hundred dollars was appropriated for the use of the High Court judges, to pay traveling expenses to London, for weekly sittings, but only $935 was expended.

Superannuation of public officials was quite freely resorted to last year. To meet expenditures under this head $273,240 was granted, but the late Government expended $311,231.73. For militia and defense the expenditure was $2,128,430.22.

For cattle quarantine in Ontario, the following, among other payments were made: J. H. Wilson, V.S., services and expenses, inspecting, $28.95; E. P. Westell, V.S., Sarnia, $600; McDougall, caretaker, Sarnia, $600; rent of station at Sarnia, two years, $200.

For pensions on account of the Northwest rebellion, $19,392.49 were paid last year. The mounted police, who participated in the outbreak, were given $3,352. Retired judges drew $44,275.43. 22 persons figure as recipients of pensions in connection with the outbreak in 1812-14. They drew in all $1,760; the amount paid to each being $80. The only western veteran is Mr. Theo. Oaks, Brooke, Ont.

Among those drawing superannuation allowances were: P. E. Bucke, London, $1,200; Jas. Cowan, Galt, $129.92; John Denahy, London, $204; John Hunter, London, $578; J. K. J. nedy, London, $216; Wm. Moore, London, $46.66; R. Radcliffe, Goderich, $420; A. G. Smyth, London, $519.96; F. Sweetman, Newbury, $195.40; Wm. Taylor, Wingham, $98; S. Watts, Woodstock, $492.96; Richard Wright, London, $168; John Winn, Goderich, $672.

Last year, the Government issued new silver coins to the amount of $140,000. There was a profit to the country of $69,484.64. The face value of copper coin issued was $10,000; and the profit to the country was $7,123.58.

Wm. S. Calvert, the brainy member for West Middlesex, is the son of Mr. David Calvert, who came to Canada from Armagh, Ireland. His mother was a native of Glasgow, Scotland. The father of the member settled in Lanark, and was one of the pioneers of that Ontario county. He moved west just as he reached the age of 21, and took up the land in the county of Lambton on which the village of Watford now stands. The land was then wild, and he sturdily set to work to clear it, and was eminently successful. When the Sarnia branch of the G. T. R. was built, the elder Calvert went into store-keeping, and remained in business for a number of years. Then he retired, and is spending his green old age amid the scenes of his early business success. The future M. P. was born on his father's farm, and was educated at the public school and Watford Seminary. While yet a young man he entered the banking business, and remained in it for six years. Then he moved to Napier, in Middlesex county, and continued the business of private banking in connection with a general store. In 1886, Mr. Calvert was prevailed on to enter public life. He was elected reeve of Metcalfe, and continued to hold that important position till 1894, in which year he was elected warden of the county of Middlesex. Mr. Calvert's abilities were again recognized when the Liberals of West Middlesex, with whom he had always been associated, came to select a candidate for the representation of the riding in the House of Commons. He was duly nominated, and proved a model candidate as he is proving a model representative. By a majority of 211 he was elected in a constituency gerrymandered to prevent the return of a Liberal. Though the majority was unusually large, it was well deserved, for Mr. Calvert is an able representative, and when occasion arises, whether on the floor of Parliament or in the committee room, he will be found ever striving to advance the interest of his constituency and of the dominion as a whole. Mr. Calvert is a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity, and in 1888 he was selected as district deputy grand master for the St. Clair district. He is also a notary public, a commissioner in the High Court of Justice, and a justice of the peace. He was happily married to the daughter of Mr. James G. Sutherland, miller and merchant, Napier. They have five interesting children.

Another attempt is to be made to get Government assistance for the proposed ship canal between Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie. The Canadian (Norfolk) has circulated a statement among his fellow-representatives, showing the difficulties in the navigation of the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers. It is claimed that on the Detroit River route of about 110 miles there are no fewer than 32 changes of course. In 1836 no fewer than 38 vessels were more or less disabled because of the difficulties of navigation. There is a proposition to build a bridge between Detroit and Windsor. It is contended that if this canal is built the objection to this bridge would be removed, as in-lake traffic would find its way through the shorter and safer channel. The cost of construction is estimated at $5,519,609, and it is claimed that the enterprise would pay from the first. The distance that would be saved by the new canal is 79 miles, and the time saved 15 hours. Lighted by electricity the canal could be used night and day. At the points selected, the canal will be thirteen miles across, and no great engineering difficulties are anticipated. The distribution of this statement regarding the merits of the scheme is believed to be the precursor to an appeal for Government aid. That may come in due course, but at present the first declared duty of the new Administration is to provide for the completion of the deepening of the canals to fourteen feet. Till this work is done, it is scarcely to be expected that the proposed ship canal between Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie will be subsidized by the Government.

The Department of Agriculture have arranged to put the cold storage in full running order for every description of Canadian produce this spring. It is already partially in running order. On sides I hear warm congratulations to Hon. Mr. Fisher, Minister of Agriculture for his energetic efforts to promote the export trade of farm produce. Already the Ontario egg exporters promise to send to Great Britain at least 150 carloads of eggs! Shippers in other parts of the Dominion agree with them that cold storage will very much improve the trade in eggs with the motherland. Mr. Semple, the Wellington M. P., informs me that he has studied the question of cold storage in conjunction with egg shippers and others. The conclusion reached is that while cold storage is valuable in which to properly convey perishable produce by rail and steamer, to market, it is not advisable to keep either butter or eggs in cold storage for any length of time before transport. Very limited building accommodation, therefore, is required by farmers or dealers in which to carry out local cold storage prior to shipment. In the long run, the producer who sells and markets his butter and eggs promptly, even at a season when prices rule low, will obtain the best results from his industry.
