MILLERAND DECLARES FRANCE DETERMINED TO TRY GERMANS

U. S. RAILWAYMEN AGREE TO CONSIDER PROPOSAL MADE TODAY BY THE PRESIDENT

Brotherhood Representatives Decline To State What Plan Wilson Submitted—Proposition Is Not Expected To Stay Strike Called for Tuesday.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—President Wilson today made a proposal to the representatives of the railroad brotherhoods for a settlement of their wage demands, and the men agreed to give it consideration.

B. M. Jewell, president of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor, announced that the president's proposal would have to be "put up to the men" before any announcement could be made by the union representatives. The White House was expected to issue a statement later in the day.

Meantime there was no intimation whether the president had offered a substitute for an increase in wages in the nature of a continuation of the fight on the high cost of living, or whether he asked the workers to delay pressing their demands until the railroads were returned to the private owners on March 1.

WILSON READ STATEMENT.

Besides Mr. Jewell and Mr. Shea, E. J. Manion, president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, was present at the conference. The president met the representatives on the south portico of the White House, and read a statement which he had prepared after a study of the report on the wage negotiations presented to him by Director-General Walker D. Hines. The conference lasted about fifteen minutes. The president was in his wheel-chair.

Mr. Shea immediately notified the other union officials who have been conferring with Director-General Hines, advising them to call a conference to consider the president's statement. He indicated that the conference would consume most of the day, and might be continued tomorrow. He said there was no disposition on the part of the union men to act hastily, and that they desired to make a complete examination of the president's statement before reaching a decision.

The president's proposal, whatever it was, was not expected to stay the strike of the maintenance of way employees called for next Tuesday.

FRENCH PREMIER FIRM IN DEMAND FOR EXTRADITION

Millerand Insists Upon Execution of Treaty Clauses.

ALLIES SENDING NOTE

Will Be Firm, But Will Leave Way Open For Discussions.

Paris, Feb. 13.—Premier Millerand of France, who is attending the meeting of the supreme allied council in London, is energetically insisting upon the execution of the extradition clause of the Versailles treaty, and urging, if the Germans refuse to surrender men accused of war crimes, that they be tried in default, says the Echo de Paris.

Germany's proposal, that she try the alleged culprits, "is no more likely to be adopted at London than in Paris," says the Petit Parisien, which adds, the country will establish the culpability of former Emperor William, and again demand his extradition from Holland.

On the other hand the Matin says it is informed that, although a firm note will be sent to Germany, the door will be left open for further discussions, consideration being taken of Premier Lloyd George's suggestions and the political situation in England.

MR. JUSTICE RIDDELL CONDEMNS AMERICAN CHATTER INTENDED TO BELITTLE ENGLAND'S PART IN WAR

Ontario Supreme Court Judge Speaking to Boston Audience Brands Statement That Britain Sacrificed the Colonials As a Lie.

Boston, Feb. 13.—Mr. Justice William Renwick Riddell of Ontario, speaking before the Canadian Club here last night, characterized as "a lie which should be met at every stage," the "idle chatter of England sacrificing her colonials in the world war."

"God knows Canada has suffered bitterly," said Justice Riddell, "but for every well-loved Canadian name on a grave in France or in Flanders in proportion to population, there are two English homes similarly afflicted."

Justice Riddell said the American people had been "generous to a fault" in their recognition of Canadian soldiers in the world war. "But a propaganda belittling the part of England in the war is rampant throughout the United States," he continued. "If Boston is not cursed with it, then Boston is fortunate indeed."

The purpose and aim of English-speaking peoples, he said, is "truth, justice and righteousness."

YOUTHFUL BOLSHEVIK COMMANDER AT ODESSA THREATENS TO FIRE ON BRITISH SHIPS IN HARBOR

American Admiral Conveys Startling Information in Message Sent From Russian Port To Turkish City—Head of Red Forces Declares He Thought Treaty Had Been Made With British.

Constantinople, Feb. 13.—Gen. Uborevitch, the 28-year-old Bolshevik commander at Odessa, has threatened to open fire on the British warships there within three days if they remain in the harbor, according to a message received here from Rear Admiral N. A. McCully, commanding the United States naval forces operating in Russian waters.

The message was sent after the American officer had conferred with Gen. Uborevitch, who expressed surprise that the British had fired on his troops.

Gen. Uborevitch, the message reports, said he understood that the British had made a treaty with the Bolshevik Government. He declared merchant ships would be welcome at Odessa for commercial purposes.

The general stated that he suppressed looting immediately upon his arrival, and had molested nobody but spies and thieves.

FOUR SWEPT TO DEATH AS DAM BREAKS AWAY

Cofferdam On Which Men Stood Is Destroyed.

BODIES UNRECOVERED

Superintendent and Three Workers Are Victims of Accident.

Cobalt, Feb 13.—According to information received here by long distance telephone from Mayor McCoubrey of Iroquois Falls, four men lost their lives when a section of the cofferdam on which they were standing was swept away, the water rushing through the opening of the sluice gates, at the plant of the Abitibi Power and Pulp Company.

The victims are Superintendent Curris and three workers, Hannel, Roberts and Corry. They had been engaged in repairing the sluice slides and removing some of the cribbing of the cofferdam.

The task completed, the gates on one side of the dam were opened to permit of some waste material being carried away by the water. The pent-up waters of the river came through with a terrific rush, part of the cribbing which had not been removed was sucked into the current, and it plied up against the gates. Almost immediately the dam gave way and the four men were carried to their death as the structure gave way.

MILL NOT SHUT DOWN.

Montreal, Feb. 13.—A denial that the plant of the Abitibi Power and Paper Company was completely shut down at Iroquois Falls, owing to the break of a coferdam, was issued this morning by L. R. Wilson, the company's secretary. He said he had been advised by the mill manager that a cofferdam had broken on Thursday, and that five men were missing. The plant had lost about twelve hours through the accident, but today all the pulp section and half of the paper factory were operating. The plant would be in full working order again by next Tuesday, and the small loss of production would soon be made up, Mr. Wilson said.

DEAD ARE FOREIGNERS.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—H. Davis of the firm of Kilmer, Harding and Davis, local solicitors for the Abitibi Pulp and Paper Company, whose plant was wrecked at Iroquois Falls yesterday, stated today that while the names of the five men whose lives were lost were not at present available, it was understood that they were all foreigners and were not connected locally. In telephone conversation with Mr. W. O. McKerrol, superintendent of the company, Mr. Davis had been told that the damage to the mill was comparatively slight, and there would be no material shortage in newsprint as a result of the collapse of one of the gates of the spillway at the mill.

"Two of the four paper machines are still in operation, the sulphite plant and a part of the ground wood mill are still running. It is doubtful if the bodies of the dead will be recovered.

STEAMER IS GROUNDED.

London, Feb. 13.—The former German steamer Gregor, with 200 refugees from Odessa, broke adrift from a vessel having her in tow and grounded near Kilios Point in the Bosphorus on Wednesday, according to a Lloyds dispatch from Constantinople. One hundred and fifty persons have been rescued by use of breeches buoys. The vessel is reported to be breaking up.

PROFESSOR GAVE AWAY ALL HE HAD; ASKS FOR PENSION

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 11.—Dr. Edgar Fahs Smith, virtually penniless, and applying for a pension, from the Carnegie Foundation, will retire from his duties as provost of the University of Pennsylvania. In connection with his application for a pension from the Carnegie Foundation, Dr Smith, pointing to some papers, said:

"I have just arranged the last formalities necessary to obtain the pension. I have every reason to believe the foundation will take me on. The university has no pension fund. I have not a cent in the world. I have been a teacher all my life. That is wonderful, but unremunerative work and one does not grow rich either, from writing text books on chemistry."

It is a matter of common knowledge at the university that Dr. Smith virtually gave away all he had. He secretly supported poor students. He contributed to hundreds of charities. He never refused to give to any worthy cause. No mention has been made of Provost Smith's probable successor.

LORD BYNG SLATED AS NEXT GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF CANADA

British Newspaper Says Former Canadian Commander Is Slated For Post.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—(By Canadian Press).—An important British paper, the Essex County Standard, announced a couple of weeks ago, in an issue that has just reached Canada, the fact that Lord Byng of Vimy would be the next governor-general of Canada.

The paper in question, which is well known in the British Isles, claims to have certain exclusive information that there is a strong desire in present British political circles that the next governor-general of Canada shall be a man with military experience and one who has come into close contact with the Canadian troops.

It will be remembered that Lord Byng, then Sir Julien Byng, was at one time commander of the Canadian troops in the field.

GREAT BRITAIN SECURES HUNDREDS OF TONS OF GERMAN-MADE DYES

Manufacturers' Representatives Purchasing Large Supplies.

London, Feb. 13.—Great Britain is well ahead of the Allies in obtaining German dyes, of which three hundred tons have already reached this country.

The committee of dye-users, which has gone to Germany under the authority of the board of trade to purchase two million pounds of dyestuffs, includes representatives of the board as well as expert users, engaged in the cotton and woolen textile and the paint and varnish trades. They are ten in number and will devote a fortnight to selecting the colors most urgently required here. Their purchases will be in addition to the 1,500 tons to which Great Britain is entitled under the reparation clauses of the peace treaty.

FUND FOR THE HOSPITAL NOW SEVEN THOUSAND

Generous Responses Made To Request From the I. O. D. E.

The generous grant of $12,000 by the Middlesex County Council, together with the pledges of several of the I. O. D. E. chapters, societies and municipalities to raise $1,000 each, is evidence of the deep interest taken by the people of London and Western Ontario in the proposed War Memorial Children's Hospital. While the large sums promised will be very acceptable, the smallest amount will be gratefully received by the I. O. D. E. None of the money from subscriptions has been used for preliminary expenses, these being provided for by grants from the Municipal Chapter, London.

Since the last report to the press the following contributions have been received: Mary Armstrong Chapter, I. O. D. E., Strathroy, $100; Waterloo Chapter, I. O. D. E., Galt, $25; Botany Woman's Institute, Norwood, $10; Mr. Gunn, Mithurst, $1; Cynthia Grey Mail-Box, Advertiser, $25; sale of dog donated by Mr. Whetsitt, London, $20; East Harwick Woman's Institute, Mull, $25; Mrs. Carrie, Goderich, $2; Thames River Woman's Institute, Chatham, $25; Shetland Woman's Institute, Florence, $15; Woman's Institute, Wingham, $10; Town Line Woman's Institute, Thamesville, $2; Hamstead Woman's Institute, Gadshill, $25; from boxes in stores, $3.75.

The total contributions to date are $2,225 25. These with the $5,000 guaranteed by the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., London, will bring the fund to $7,225.25.

WILSON CONFESSES THAT HE MUDERED HIS WIFE

Regina, Sask., Feb. 13.—That he intentionally killed his wife, was the confession made by John Wilson to the sheriff of the judicial district of Prince Albert on Tuesday of this week, is the information which reached this city from official sources. Wilson was sentenced to death last week in the king's bench at Saskatoon for the murder of his wife in the fall of 1918.

MISSING BOY FOUND IN COMPANY WITH VETERAN

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 13.—Paul Kopping, a 12-year-old school boy, who disappeared from Williamsburg, Ohio, last November, and for whom a nation-wide search has been conducted, was found today in the company of Apollo Belvidere Murphy, an ex-soldier, with whom he had been living. Murphy knew the boy's parents before he went on active service and he explained to the police that he had taken Paul with him because the lad's prayers had brought him safely through several engagements in France.

Enlarged Building To Occupy a Whole Block On Wall Street.

New York, Feb. 13.—The New York stock exchange will erect a 22-story office bulding adjoining its present Wall Street home, it was announced today.

To acquire space for its trading and provide for future needs in board room requirements, the exchange recently purchased the Wilks and Mortimer buildings, pioneer nine-story "skyscrapers," which will be torn down to make way for the new structure. The enlarged exchange will extend a whole block on Wall street.

The cost of the new structure is estimated at $3,000,000, while the combined assessed value of the present exchange, the two buildings and the land is $8,000,000.

MEMBERS NOT EXPECTING AN ELECTION IN 1920

Claim Farmers Would Have Nothing To Gain Is Forcing Issue.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—(By Canadian Press).—The likelihood of a general election during 1920 as indicated by the executive of the Eastern Ontario Liberal Association in their call for the annual meeting to be held here next month is discounted by several members of Parliament who have been in the capital from outside during the last few days. These are of the opinion that while the growth of the farmer movement might rob the Government of some of its western supporters on such an issue as the tariff, these men would have nothing to gain by defeating the Government and thus forcing an election.

On the other hand, one Quebec Liberal member pointed out, the men who have thus far supported union Government, are likely to continue to do so and attempt to avoid a crisis and election, unless they have actually been chosen as nominees in a coming election campaign by their farmer constituents. Many of the western members, he claimed, were already practically disowned by their farmer constituents on account of their stand on several questions, so that it would be suicidal for them to force the Government to the country when they themselves were not likely to be chosen as candidates.

BROKERS ALLEGED TO BE IMPLICATED IN SECURITY THEFTS

Messengers Name Brokerage Houses in Confessions.

COMPLICATED SYSTEM

Adopted by Gang To Prevent Tracing of Stolen Bonds.

New York, Feb. 13.—The search for the men "higher up" in the conspiracy to steal more than $5,000,000 worth of bonds and securities from Wall Street brokerage houses has led to several cities in the United States and Canada, where the directing heads of the gang, through dishonest brokers, have disposed of stolen stocks and bonds worth millions.

A dozen detectives from Deputy Commissioner Lahey's staff hurried out of town tonight when word came from different points that men named in the confessions of the four messenger prisoners had been located. Among names mentioned to the police is that of a Montreal broker already under surveillance for some days.

Because of the startling nature of the messengers' description of the method used in disposing of the securities, the authorities did not believe at first that the statements were accurate. The boys boasted that the men "higher up" had fences for the sale of the stocks and bonds in all the important centres across the continent. They gave names and addresses, and late reports from Montreal, Chicago, Washington and Philadelphia indicate they told the truth.

Conferring With Police.

It became known today that a committee from the stock exchange has been in frequent conferences with Commissioner Enright and Marshal Lahey since the first arrests on Tuesday, and are giving them all available information concerning the activities of the suspected brokers.

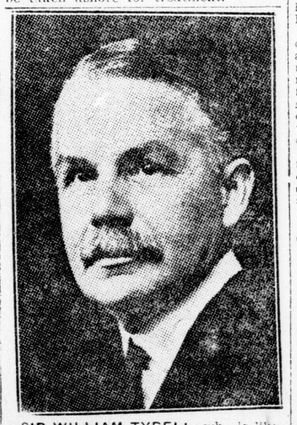

In view of the developments today a series of arrests was looked for in New York. The messengers have named in confessions several brokerage houses which handled large amounts of stolen securities.

The police said last night the man behind the scene was a genius for organization, and pointed out that the complicated system used for the disposal of the securities may result in its being difficult to find them.

One method was for brokers to deposit bonds in a bank as collateral for a loan in a city distant from where they were stolen. Thus the stolen securities could not be traced by their numbers.

GERMAN METHOD OF ENTERING PROTEST

Berlin, Feb. 13.—Physicians at Brunsbuettel at the beginning of the Baltic canal have voted not to go on board ships flying flags of nations which were parties to the demand for the extradition of Germans accused of war crimes. Sick sailors must, therefore, be taken ashore for treatment.

German Strategy Proved Worthless In Turk Campaign

The Teuton Military Leaders Played Losing Game Right From the Start.

Constantinople, Feb. 13.— German military leaders who commanded the Turkish armies during the great war played a losing game from the start, their ideas of strategy being badly at fault, said Mustapha Kemal Pasha, leader of the Turkish Nationalists in Asia Minor, recently. He declared he brought the condition of the affairs before the Turkish Government, but received a rebuff, which brought about his resignation from his post. He said he warned German commanders on the Western front in France in 1917 that the Allies would win the war.

FORMER SHERIFF, WHOM SONG AIDS TO ELECT, DIES

Newark, N. J., Feb 11.—Former Sheriff William Harrigan, probably the only man in the country ever elected to office by a song, died last night, a victim of pneumonia. He was 82 years old.

Harrigan was one of the most picturesque men in public life. His white beard seemed in itself to make him a favorite. It was shortly after George Cohan had made "Harrigan, That's Me," popular, that Harrigan, who had held many offices, sought the Democratic nomination as sheriff of Essex County. The song enabled him to beat the Democratic organization for the nomination and sent him into office over a strong Republican candidate.

As a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in 1910 he received state-wide prominence through the clash between his delegates and the supporters of Woodrow Wilson, who were in control of the convention.

Harrigan was a member of the Assembly from 1883 to 1887 and in 1893 and 1894.

URGES CONSOLIDATION OF ALL WAR DEBTS

San Francisco Citizen Advocates Standardization of All Currency.

Mexico City, Feb. 13.—Consolidation of the war debts of all nations involved in the world conflict, as well as outstanding trade balances, which would provide international obligations guaranteed by all powers involved, was advocated by John H. Arnold of San Francisco, speaking before the United States-Mexican Trade Conference here yesterday.

Mr. Arnold, who is a representative of the American Bankers' Association, urged that an international clearing house be established as an adjunct to his plan.

He declared an international bankers' conference should be called immediately and that manufacturers and commercial men of all nations be invited to send representatives. He said such a conference should provide measures for standardizing currency and for the elimination of exchange fluctuations, which would result in the restoration of confidence.

Following Mr. Arnold's address, a motion was adopted for the appointment of a committee to draft an indorsement of the speaker's suggestions, to be presented before the conference on Friday.

The law also legalizes:

60 PER CENT INCREASE

Soviet Government Engineers Claim Prospects Good for Big Output.

London, Feb. 13.—Two valuable gold fields have been discovered since the Russian Soviet Government recovered the Urals, according to a Moscow newspaper.

One field is said to lie thirty miles north of the most northerly mine of the Ekaterinburg mining centre. The soviet engineers have reported that if machinery were available these fields would make it possible to increase Russia's gold output by 60 per cent within two year. Herr Reiche, a German engineer in the service of the soviet, is said to have confirmed this report after a personal inspection of the fields.

HORATIO BOTTOMLEY MOVES AMENDMENT TO KING'S SPEECH

London, Feb. 13.—Horatio W. Bottomley, a member of the House of Commons from South Hackney, and editor of John Bull, which periodical has been actively critical of the United States recently, offered in the House of Commons today an amendment to the King's speech, in which the member deals with the relations between Great Britain and the United States.

Mr. Bottomley's amendment expresses regret "that while in his majesty's speech there is an assurance of the excellent relations which exist with all our allies, no mention is made of the great republic of the United States of America, and no indication is given of the present condition of the negotiations with that power, either in relation to the peace treaty or the league of nations, by which such treaty is governed, and which, according to his majesty's gracious speech at the opening of the present parliament constitutes the only hope of saving mankind from a recurrence of the scourge of war."

FORMER MEMBERS OF FIRST BATTALION FORM ASSOCIATION

Chester Butler Elected President by Acclamation.

OTHER OFFICERS NAMED

Organization Shows Promise of Becoming a Most Successful One.

Some fifty former members of the 1st Battalion met in the armories last night and organized the London branch of the 1st Battalion Comrades' Association. Officers were elected, and plans for getting a social program under way were discussed. Although the battalion is among the last of the London units to form an association of its former members, the organization promises to rank among the successful ones, judging by the enthusiasm shown by those who were present at last night's meeting.

Chestler Butler was elected president of the branch by acclamation. Gen. F. W. Hill, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., of Niagara Falls and Lieut.-Col. A. W. Sparling, D.S.O., of Saskatoon, who succeeded Gen. Hill, were made honorary presidents. Three vice-presidents, Major R. B. Ross, Lieut. H. W. McCrimmon and Sergt. James Murray, were elected. Sergt. D. J. Christinson was made secretary and Sergt.-Major Whitfield was elected treasurer.

An executive committee consisting of Q.M.S. E. Grier, L. S. Hopwood, Sergt.-Major F. C. Nevell, A. P. Goss, Sergt. A. D. Davis, Sergt. W. Elliott and Sergt. H. Wyse were elected, and given the work of making arrangements for social evenings, the securing of a permanent meeting place and the fixing of the amount to be charged for fees.

A social evening will be held by the London branch on the night of March 10 to commemorate the landing of the 1st Battalion in France and the taking up of headquarters at Merris; and, incidentally, to become more firmly organized. The officers expressed a desire for all former members in the city to be present. Plans are also being arranged to hold a reunion of all former members of the battalion on the night of April 23 to commemorate Neuve Chapelle, the first battle in which the battalion took part. The final plans for this meeting will be made on March 10.

A movement is on foot in all of the larger centres which confributed men to the battalion to form branches, and when this is accomplished it is planned to amalgamate the whole into one large association with central headquarters here.

An attempt will be made to have a division of the 1st Battalion canteen funds, which are held in trust by Ex-Mayor C. R. Somerville and T. W. Baker, made among all the branches of the association when the organization has been completed. The division would probably be made on a per capita plan.

G. W. V. A. ADOPTS A NEW MEMBERSHIP CARD DESIGN

Will Be Costly, But Is Very Highly Artistic.

The G. W. V. A. has adopted a form of membership card which is probably more artistic than that of any organization in the country. The card, which was designed by Farrier-Sergeant Cooper of Peterboro, has as a centrepiece the G. W. V. A. crest, with draped British flags over the top. The surrounding part is a building of Corinthian architecture.

On the columns of the building are inscribed all the battles the Canadians were in, from the time the first division got in the fray at Ypres in 1915, till the corps finished at Mons at the signing of the armistice.

The cards, which will be rather costly, will be distributed to every member of the association. Spaces have been left in which the photograph of the owner may be inserted as well as full particulars concerning his association with the G. W. V. A.

Possessor of 80 Motor Cars and 500 Wives

Oh, boy! He must have some income. Nizam Hyderabad purchased the celebrated diamond, the "Victoria," for $2,000,000, it weighed 180 carats. Those of us, who have but one motor car and one wife, the fact that a man can maintain such luxuries as 80 motor cars and 500 wives, causes the trifling outlay of $2,000,000 for a diamond to appear quite insignificant and hardly worth a passing thought. "mere trifle," John A. Nash, My Jeweler, has no $2,000,000 diamonds, but what he has are of the finest quality Blue White Perfect-Diamonds, that are sure to please. HOUSING COMMISSION WILL MEET PROVINCIAL OFFICERS

To Discuss Issue of Debentures and Other Matters.

The housing commission last night authorized City Clerk S. Baker to arrange a meeting with J. A. Ellis of the provincial organization. The issue of debentures for the housing commission work and other matters will be discussed. Mr. Baker expects to be in Toronto in connection with other business next week, and will use the opportunity to arrange this meeting.

A special meeting of the local commission will be held Monday to consider sketches of houses to be erected on the Pine Lawn survey. These are being prepared by Architect H. C. McBride. They will include plans for two and three bedroom houses and semi-detached houses.

"MADE IN CANADA" CAMPAIGN INDORSED BY A. AND N. V.

At their last regular meeting the Army and Navy Veterans of London adopted unanimously a resolution in favor of "Made in Canada" goods, and undertook to co-operate in any scheme to promote such buying.

It was also decided to send a resolution to the Soldier-Citizens' committee, at its meeting on Friday night, recommending that it co-operate with the chamber of commerce, the Rotary Club and other bodies in the promotion of a canvass of the citizens of London for funds for the Soldiers' Memorial Hall.

GUILTY OF BIGAMY, PROTESTS REMAND ORDERED BY COURT

Charles Geary Married in England and Canada.

Charles Geary, 18 Palace street, was convicted of bigamy in police court this morning, and was remanded for sentence. He admitted having married a girl in England, and then, after coming back to this country, going through the marriage ceremony with Edna L. Calvert of this city.

In defence, he said that his English wife had run away from him. He wanted to get a divorce from her, but she could not be located. On inquiring in England he claimed that he had been led to believe that he was free to marry again.

Miss Calvert did not know that he had been married before until she found out at the Soldiers' Aid Commission office where she had some business. Immediately on receiving this information she laid a complaint with the police.

Commenting on the case, Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon said: "If the marriage system is disregarded, the whole social system breaks down."

Geary objected to being remanded, saying that if he was going to "get it," he would like to get it immediately.

DR. FISHER REFUSES SUPERINTENDENCY OF MILITARY HOSPITAL

Dr. (Major) Stuart M. Fisher, neurologist for the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment for this district, announced today that he had definitely refused the offer of the medical superintendency of the new Westminster Psychiatric Hospital. He said that the statement in a local paper a week or so ago to the effect that he had definitely announced that he was to take charge was premature

Although the position carries a substantial financial remuneration, Dr. Fisher said that he preferred a private practice which he intends to locate in this city. As far as Dr. Fisher knew no move had been made by the department to secure a substitute.

WAS TAKING HOT DRINK TO SICK BOY; CAUGHT IN ACT

Angus McDonald Had to Pay a Fine of Two Hundred Dollars.

Angus McDonald, 238 Wolfe street, was fined $200 and costs in police court this morning for having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling. He claimed that he was taking the partly-filled bottle which was found on him last night to his boy, who was sick. He intended giving him a hot drink. The boy was 13 years of age.

Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon reminded him that if he had given the boy the whiskey he would have made himself liable to a charge of supplying liquor to a minor. He denied the charge that he was intoxicated, and it was not pressed.

TRAFFIC HELD UP WHEN SLEIGH STICKS ON TRACK

One mild-looking, but powerful team of horses, in front of a load of paper for The Advertiser, held up all traffic on Dundas street for a short time this morning. The horses were not unruly or disorderly in any way, but the runners of the sleighs got caught in the car tracks, and there they stopped in spite of the team's best efforts.

Street car No. 128 tried to push behind, but this was a failure. Then it tried pulling the load backward, and this threatened an upset.

Eventually a motorman solved the riddle. He got a crowbar and lifted up the front runner, while the horses, with a vigorous tug, brought their load safely across the rails.

SENT TO REFORMATORY OVER CHARGE OF THEFT

Joseph Murray of Windsor was sentenced to an indeterminate period of from three months to two years less one day in the Ontario Reformatory, in police court this morning on two charges of theft, one to which he pleaded guilty and the other of which he was found guilty. His chum, William G. Finlay, also of Windsor, was discharged on both counts.

During the week of February 2, Charles F. Wolfe of Toronto lost a club bag at a local hotel, and Harry Atkinson, 562 Richmond street, lost a gold watch and chain while bathing at the Y. M. C. A.

On Saturday, Murray and Finlay were arrested at the C. P. R. station by the city detectives. They were searched at the police station. On Murray was found some of the articles which were in the clubbag, and the watch. He pleaded guilty to stealing the watch, but said that he found the other articles at the C. P. R. station.

I. Levy, Herman Silverman and Noah Fox, three pawnbrokers, declared that Murray had come into their shops to sell them some of the goods which he had stolen.

Murray will be sent to the reformatory, and Finlay to Windsor, to face a charge of stealing several pairs of pants in that place.

QUEBEC TENANTS FORM AN ASSOCIATION FOR MUTUAL PROTECTION

Quebec, Feb. 13.—At a large meeting of tenants held here last night an association was formed for the objective of protecting the interests of tenants. The following resolution was dealt with:

"That immediate steps be taken to obtain a pledge from the two candidates for mayor, from the aldermen-elect and from the candidates for aldermen still in the field election day, providing if elected:

"To abolish the tenants' tax.'

"That the new council will at its first regular meeting after the election take up the housing question for immediate action, make arrangements and communicate with the provincial government for borrowing its share out of the $25,000,000 set aside by the federal government to relieve the present housing situation in Canada.'"

EMERALDS SCARCE.

London, Feb 13.—Owing to a word shortage, emeralds have become the rarest and most expensive of precious stones. Dealers are prepared to pay big prices for what they consider the best investment in the market. Prices during the past four years have been bounding up, until the emerald is now four times its pre-war price.

SPRING PROSPECTS IN TRADE HERE ARE BETTER THAN EVER

So States Bradstreet's Review of Situation.

London reports to Bradstreet's that there is little change in the trade situation, except that spring prospects appear more attractive as the season advances. Country produce prices are firm; the easier price tendency for eggs has been temporarily checked. Consumption of meats is rather diminished recently. This is partially accounted for by the influenza outbreak. Shortage of raw materials, particularly of steel and lumber, is evident throughout the western peninsula. Stove manufacturers report a scarcity of steel sheets. With the exception of industries that are unable to get adequate supplies of materials operations are close to maximum capacity.

Toronto reports to Bradstreet's that current trade among the wholesalers is of a satisfactory character, with evidences of an active spring season. Retailers are continuing the policy followed in January of clearing out broken lines of seasoned goods. Announcements of price sacrifices are conspicuous, and the reductions have stimulated business. In house furnishings, clothing, footwear, etc., trade has been reasonably active for this season. Wholesalers report that there is a lively demand for carpets, and indications point to a good trade in this department in spite of stiffening prices. Industries are impeded by a shortage of semi-finished steel. Deliveries from United States points have been hindered by the car shortage in the producing areas, and the efficiency of the mills has been lowered. It is the exception rather than the rule that users of steel products ordinarily secured from the United States, are able to operate at full capacity under present conditions. Tin plate and galvanized and black sheets are particularly scarce, and there is little hope of relief for a number of weeks. Lumber prices are very firm, and stocks have been lightened by exportations to the United States, a large part of which are for the motor car industry. The lumber cut in Ontario is appreciably larger than that of last year, but this is not expected to have any effect on prices since there is bound to be a shortage in any event. There is little change in the market for country produce. Eggs have been quoted at slightly higher prices. The live stock market is duller with a slight easing in prices.

Representatives of the building trades met during the week and took steps to have prices of materials fixed on a stable basis, so that there would be no irregular fluctuations. The building program for the calendar year is likely to eclipse the 1919 record. The paint and oil market is taking on a more active tone, and distributors are preparing for a busy season, in which export trading is figuring. There are no complaints about remittances on commercial obligations.

Montreal reports to Bradstreet's say the wholesale trade continues to be active. Some of our wholesale grocers have been busy with inventories. The labor trouble in Cuba is one of the principal reasons for the scarcity in the raw sugar market. Molasses and syrups show a further advance in prices during the week. Market conditions in most of the grocery lines show prices holding firm with the prospects of further advances in some lines.

A feature of the butter trade is the cable received this week from the British ministry of food advising our local commission not to make any more purchases without further sanction. The cheese trade is very quiet, exports being almost nil. Hay exporters have also received advices from their English houses to stop shipping, the stopping of exports in all cases being due to the exchange situation. Egg prices rule easier with the advancing season.

More moderate weather was the means of increasing the receipts of potatoes from country points, which has caused an easier feeling in the market. The offerings of live stock this week were of inferior quality and prices sagged 50c to $1 per hundred. Liquidation in all lines of grain was the cause of prices dropping to new low records.

The wholesale drygoods and hardware trades were quite active during the week. Lumber prices have advanced. There is a big demand for most lines in the retail trade, principally furniture. The offerings of which are being made at reduced values. Collections are reported good.

Windsor reports to Bradstreet's that city retailers are optimistic. They are not looking further than the immediate future, since price movements are uncertain under any circumstances. There is a very firm under tone at present, however, and those who have reserve stocks are congratulating themselves that their goods were bought at lower than replacement values. The building outlook appears more promising as the season advances. Collections are good.

Winnipeg reports to Bradstreet's that the spring trade outlook for this province is auspicious. City retailers are doing a fair trade, and the advance in prices on drygoods staples has encouraged a fair amount of buying. Farm improvements during the spring months will be more extensive than for some time, in spite of high prices of all building materials. In the local cash grain market, oats and barley are especially strong; demand for United States export account is centred in oats and this has caused an upward price movement. The prevailing exchange rates and the shortage of oats in the American grain centres have been contributing factors. Collections are quite good.

Quebec reports to Bradstreet's say conditions are generally satisfactory. In spite of rising prices, country storekeepers are ordering staple goods freely. Groceries and provisions report a fair turnover for the season. Paints, oils, varnishes, etc., are quiet, which is usual at the season. Amongst the factories, activity is general and labor is fully employed. In the city, retailers continue to advertise bargain sales, to make room for spring stock. Collections as a rule are fair.

SCHOOL NURSES WILL HELP COMBAT FLU EPIDEMIC IN LONDON

Volunteer for Service At Ottaway Avenue Emergency Hospital.

VENEREAL CLINIC HERE

Board of Health To Discuss Subject At Meeting This Afternoon.

Within the last 24 hours no change has occurred in the influenza epidemic, according to Dr. W. S. Downham, medical health officer for the city. Miss Ada H. Nash, Miss L. Cockburn and Miss B. Rowe, the three public school nurses, and other nurses of the city have volunteered their services, to combat the epidemic and are doing valuable work at the Ottaway avenue emergency hospital. This hospital was formerly a military wing of Victoria Hospital, but was to have been taken over by the hospital trust some time ago.

This afternoon the board of health met, but not to discuss the influenza situation. It was called for the purpose of discussing the establishment of a venereal clinic here. Provincial health authorities are here to explain the matter to the board.

It has not been found necessary to open an emergency hospital at Carling Heights for inflenza yet.

Lord Phillimore of England and Senator Root of U. S. Included.

London, Feb. 13.—The list of distinguished men from various countries, who have been invited to become members of the committee to prepare plans for the constitution of a permanent court of international justice was announced at this morning's session of the council of the League of Nations.

The men invited to serve on the committee are:

Lord Phillimore, former chief justice of appeal in England; Elihu Root of the United States; Baron Deschamps of Belgium, a member of The Hague court of arbitration; Senor Luis M. Drago, former Argentine minister of foreign affairs; Professor Carlo Fadda of the faculty of Jurisprudence of the University of Naples; Henri Fromageot, a prominent French advocate; Professor Gran of the University of Christiania, Norway; Dr. Loder of Holland; Dr. Milenki R. Vesnitch, Serbian minister to France; M. Atkidzuki of Japan; Rafael Altamira, a prominent lawyer of Madrid, and Clovis Bevilacqua of Brazil.

The council appointed Sir Reginald Power, formerly British minister to Argentina and Paraguay, as high commissioner to the free city of Danzig. Sir Reginald received a temporary appointment to this post in October last.

Arthur J. Balfour, who is presiding over the council sessions, after reading the names of the men invited to become members of the committee to organize the permanent court, said:

"Maybe for one reason or another Mr. Root may not deem it desirable to accept the council's invitation. The council hopes Mr. Root will always remember that he will be welcome at whatever stage of our sittings he may be privileged to accept, to add to our deliberations the great weight of his learning and name."

FREDERICTON BUSINESS BLOCK IS DESTROYED BY FIRE; LOSS OVER $100,000

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 13.—The Hayden-Gibson theatre block on the main street of Woodstock, N. B., was completely destroyed by fire, which broke out about 3 o'clock this morning and for a time threatened to wipe out the entire business section of the town. Estimates of the damage run from $100,000 to $150,000.

The Hayden-Gibson Theatre is a total loss, and the Gibson Tailoring Company, Limited, Stevens Bros., druggists; T. Bradley, fruiterer, and Dent's Bakery, were among the firms which were burned out. It is understood that the losses are largely covered by insurance.

R., announced today that an embargo had been placed on all freight except live stock and perishable goods entering the United States, through Newport, a port of entry east of Montreal. The effect is already felt locally in a small way through cars starting to pile up. There is probably a congestion of freight at Newport, according to Mr. Williams, and the embargo will stay into effect until things have been straightened out. All the eastern states fed by the Boston and Maine Railroad will be affected.

COUNTY COUNCILLORS GRANT THEMSELVES AN ADDITIONAL $1

Oxford County Officials Also Given Boosts in Salaries.

WOODSTOCK, Feb. 12.—At an adjourned meeting of the January session of Oxford County council today, the councillors voted themselves an increase of $1 a day for attendance at the regular meetings of the council and committee meetings, which makes the former pay $5 a day and the latter $4 a day. The warden was granted $150 a year instead of $100 as formerly.

County Treasurer R. McIntosh got an increase of $50 a year which makes his salary $1,400 per annum. Also the county clerk, N. E. Birtch, was raised $200 so as to make his yearly income equal to that of the treasurer. Heretofore, he had been receiving $1,260 a year, but the council was of the opinion that his and the treasurer's responsibilities were equally large. The council messenger, Alex. Matheson, was given a rise of $1 a day, which makes his salary $3 a day.

To Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker, manager and matron of the House of Refuge, an increase of $100 each was given, which makes their salary $600 and $500 respectively. Mr. and Mrs. Robly, turnkey and wife at the jail, were given $100 and $50 respectively, which brings their salaries up to $700 and $300.

NONE FOR KIDDIES' HOSPITAL.

The grant to the various agricultural societies of the county is $100 this year, which is twice that of former years. The contract for printing for 1920 was awarded to the Tillsonburg News. For the past few years the Woodstock Sentinel-Review has had this work, but it was felt that the job should be passed around.

COALITION UNIONISTS WIN.

London, Feb. 13.—In the by-election for the Ashton-Under-Lyne constituency to fill the seat made vacant in the House of Commons by the elevation of Sir Albert Stanley to the peerage, the Coalition-Unionist adherents won a victory by a comparatively narrow majority. Sir Walter Defreece, the candidate of this party, polled 8,864 votes, while W. C. Robinson, Laborite, received 8,327. Sir Arthur Marshall, Liberal, ran third, having received 3,511.

MANY CHURCHES GOING OVER TOP IN GREAT DRIVE

Coming In Slowly, But All Denominations Confident of Reaching Objective.

Enthusiastic reports have been received locally regarding the Forward Movement, and despite the fact that sickness is hampering collections, the work is progressing favorably in London district. Rev. W. H. Graham, organizer for the London district Methodists, informed The Advertiser today at noon that $325,000 for the conference has been secured of the $550,000 objective. Churches going over the top are: Stratford, Central, Trinity, Staffa, Monkton, Listowel, Mitchell, Wingham, Goderich, North Street and Victoria Street, Kirkton, Strathroy, Warwick, Essex, Leamington, Harrow, London Street, Windsor.

"Reports from St. Thomas and Sarnia districts are coming in slowly," said Mr. Graham, "possibly because of sickness. However, London and Windsor reports are coming in more rapidly."

Presbyterians Confident.

Speaking for the London Presbytery, Rev. D. C. MacGregor stated today that reports were coming in slowly because of sickness, and also because of the fact that congregations are awaiting complete returns before submitting them. "However," said Mr. MacGregor, "I have no doubt but that we will go over our objective. Everybody is confident of this."

Burns' Presbyterian Church, Delaware, has reported $540, while North Street Church of that village reports $330. Tayne's Mills congregation has collected $100. In a partial report last night Alma Church, St. Thomas, collected $350, and Knox Church, St. Thomas, $8,000. Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church here with an objective of $600, has netted $750, with the hopes of attaining $1,000.

Rev. A. C. Bingham of Egerton Street Baptist Church stated today that his denomination throughout the province had realized 62 per cent of the objective—$336,000, of which sum $55,000 was raised yesterday. The Middlesex Baptist Association set for its objective, $20,000 and $10,500 of this has now been raised.

"Reports are slow," said Mr. Bingham, "due possibly to sickness. However, they will all be in next week. With our own church we have done nothing because of the fire. We intend to eliminate the house to house canvass and conduct our campaign by mail. Throughout this district in Baptist congregations the results have been very gratifying under the conditions."

The Methodists' Score.

Further progress in the forward movement, in spite of the epidemic, was reported Thursday, although detailed reports were not available in most instances.

The London Conference of the Methodist Church has secured more than 50 per cent of its objective of $550,000, while the London district has secured $82,000 of its objective of $98,000. Hale Street Church has doubled its objective of $999, while the George Robinson Memorial Church has surpassed its objective of $3,000 by $800.

North Street Church of Goderich reported returns of $6,435. Its objective was only $4,300. Victoria Street Church in the same city has also obtained more than it expected. Park Street Church, Chatham, is $3,000 over its objective, and Victoria Avenue Church has also passed its original goal.

All Responding Well.

The Baptist campaign has been retarded by the general illness, but $8,500 has been collected in the city, while all the churches in Lambton and Middlesex are reported to be responding well.

Definite figures on the Anglican campaign in London are not available. Bishop David Williams stated that the epidemic was having a double effect. It was reducing the ranks of the workers and was affecting many people on whom the canvassers were calling.

Brantford has secured its objective of $10,000 in small subscriptions. The larger donations have not been counted. the canvass there is not yet complete. Watford has nearly doubled its objective, and Norfolk reached its goal in two days.

A telegram received by the Bishop of Quebec said the objective there had been made up by three churches in Quebec City alone.

The Presbyterian campaign has been suspended until Sunday.

The London district of the Methodist conference had no great change to report last night. Most of the districts have either reached their objective or nearly so. One or two of the local churches have been badly hampered by the influenza epidemic.

The rural churches are all responding in a fine manner. A great many of them have gone over their objective. Westminster was the first to do so, but had a close call by several of the others.

The totals for the rural districts up to last night were: Stratford Central, $10,000; Wingham, $20,000; Goderich, $22,500; Exeter, $21,300; Kirkton has gone $640 over their objective; Strathroy, $19,200; Sarnia, $12,000; Windsor, $45,400; Chatham, $42,000; Ridgetown, $10,000; St. Thomas, $18,070.

The above list added to the totals for the city give a grand total of $332,000.

JURY IS SELECTED IN WINNIPEG TRIAL AFTER MANY ARE CHALLENGED

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 13.—After more than three hours of challenges, denials and trials of jurors a jury was selected last night in the case of J. S. Woodsworth, who is charged with seditious libel as an outcome of the strike of last summer. Following the reading of the indictment, which is a lengthy document, Woodsworth moved that the indictment be quashed. Hugh Phillips, K.C., for the crown, asked that the motion be regarded as a notice of motion, inasmuch as the crown had not received previous notice of it, and Mr Justice Galt approved. The notice of motion will be dealt with Monday, till which day the court adjourned.

NEGATIVE WINS IN DEBATE.

LUCKNOW, Feb. 12.—The Library Society, organized by the young people of the fourth concession, Kinloss, held its first meeting recently in the Grey-Oxford schoolhouse. The program was in the hands of the men. The feature of the evening was a debate, "Resolved, That Money Has More Influence in the World Than Brains." The affirmative was upheld by Alex. Sutherland, Ross MacMillan and Dave Carruthers, while the negative was supported by Walter MacKenzie, Wm. MacDonald and Dan MacKinnon. The judges were Wm. Robb, Dick Martin and Russel MacDougal, and they gave their decision in favor of the negative. A dialog entitled "The Empty House," was given by the boys of the sixth concession, and Mr. Carnochan favored the audience with a number of Scottish songs. The Gazette was read by the secretary, C. MacMillan, and lent a humorous touch to the program.

EUROPEAN EDUCATION OF QUEBEC YOUTHS TO BE DEFRAYED BY GOVT.

Dentists Can Advertise to Heart's Content in Lower Province.

Quebec, Feb. 13.—It was announced in the Legislative Assembly yesterday by Hon. Athanese David, provincial secretary, that the Government will bring in a bill at the present session to create funds to enable young men to go to Europe to complete their studies.

An amendment to the workmen's housing act which gives additional powers to the municipalities borrowing from the federal grant made to the provinces was put through the Assembly.

Explaining the bill, Mr. Mitchell said that the Government would advance to cities and towns the amount asked for by them, and the latter in return would issue bonds to the Provincial Government with interest at 5 per cent.

Dentists in the Province of Quebec may advertise to their hearts' content even indulging in what is called display advertising. The private bills committee of the Legislative Council added an amendment to the dental bill to this effect. Providing, of course, that the Lower House concurs in the amendment this ends a long fight in favor of Dr. Gaston Millet, who has been in conflict with the college of dental surgeons on this subject.

FUNERAL OF ROY BARRELL.

The funeral of Roy A. Barrell, who died in Walkerville on Monday as the result of pneumonia, was held Wednesday from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Harold Jennings, 458 King street, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Impressive services were conducted by Archdeacon Richardson and Rev. H. B. Ashby. The archdeacon referred to the fact that Roy Barrell and the other members of the family were largely brought up under his care when he was pastor of the Anglican Church at St. John's, when Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Barrell resided there. He paid a tribute to the sterling character and manliness of the deceased.

The pallbearers were R. H. Carter, C. S. Morgan and D. Garrett of King Solomon Lodge, A., F. & A. M., of which Mr. Barrell had been a member for a number of years; and Herbert McNab, Jack Jennings' and Norman McCallum, personal friends, members of other Masonic lodges. Brother J. W. Holliday officiated for King Solomon's Lodge, No. 378. The floral offerings were very beautiful and included a wreath from the office staff of the General Motors Corporation of Walkerville, where Mr. Barrell had been employed, and where he was highly appreciated as well as flowers from friends in Walkerville, Woodstock and Detroit.

Mr. Barrell had spent practically all his life in London. When the war broke out he enlisted in the Canadian army, but as he failed to pass the medical board he was denied the privilege of serving overseas. He was for three years attached to headquarters staff in London as a sergeant.

He is survived by his wife, who was formerly Miss Edythe Birch, a granddaughter of ex-Ald. Joshua Garratt; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Barrell, of this city, and five sisters and one brother. The sisters and brother are: Mrs. Harold Jennings, London; Mrs. W. G. Reed, New York; Mrs. (Dr.) T. H. Brown, Orland, Cal.; Mrs. C. N. Cooper, London; Mrs. F. C. Evans, Walkerville; Edwin Barrell, of Walkerville.

PRESBYTERIANS HAVE ATTAINED ONE-HALF OF THEIR OBJECTIVE

London and Hamilton Synod Secures 55 Per Cent of Allotment.

REPORTS OF METHODISTS

Indicate That This Denomination Will Easily Gain the Amount Desired.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—Presbyterian Forward Movement headquarters reports that up until noon today contributions have been received to the amount of $1,747,286, representing almost 50 per cent of the total objective for the Dominion of Canada. Reports from various synods are as follows:

Maritime—$196,000; 46 per cent of allotment.

Montreal, Ottawa—$424,830; 55 per cent of allotment.

Toronto, Kingston—$526,867; 52.6 per cent of allotment.

Hamilton, London—$432,425; 55.8 per cent of allotment.

Among others the following presbyteries have exceeded their allotments: Quebec, North Bay, Sudbury and Algoma.

Reports from Methodist headquarters indicate that Ontario is well over the $2,000,000 mark, and the Dominion nearing $3,000,000 in the four days' drive. A few thousands will put Toronto over the top, and undoubtedly the city will "carry" the lagging portions of the home conference on to the $1,100,000 objective.

At least 180 of the 2,097 circuits of Canadian Methodism had attained their objectives by the end of the fourth day. They are located as follows: British Columbia, 24; Alberta, 1; Saskatchewan, 16; Manitoba, 13; Nova Scotia, 26, and the remainder in Ontario.

The Methodists are conducting a six-day canvass, not a five-day canvass as was stated in the morning papers.

NORWICH EXCEEDS OBJECTIVE.

Norwich, Feb. 13.—In the Methodist national campaign there are two churches in the Norwich district which have passed beyond their objective. The allotment to Norwich town was $5,320. According to latest reports the committee has obtained $7,118, which is 154 per cent of their objective. The town of Delhi allotment was $3,024. They report $4,257, which is 140 per cent of their objective.

WALL STREET.

Noon.—The market continued to weaken during the nervous first hour under lead of General Motors and Crucible Steel, which reacted 10 to 11 points respectively. Among other industrials the reversal ran from 2 to 8 points, rails adding moderately to initial declines. Tobacco, leather and food shares were weakest of the industrials. Oils and motors rallied towards noon, the street evidently taking a hopeful view of the conference between the president and the railroad employees. Call money opened at 7 per cent, and foreign exchange was firm.

1:30 p.m.—Rallies in which many leaders made full recovery occurred on the short rebound at midday. Among oils and shippings the advance cancelled most early losses extending to levels where actual gains of 2 to 10 points were recorded. A 6 per cent money rate and further strength of exchange were

FLU SITUATION IS BETTER

BRANTFORD, Feb. 12.—A special meeting of the board of health was held here this evening to further consider the influenza situation. Two cases have been admitted to a temporary hospital provided by the hospital board, and work is under way for the conversion of the old postoffice into an emergency hospital. The situation was reported here today as improved, and the authorities are hopeful that an emergency hospital will not be put into commission.

Assessor Ludlow announced here today that an increase on the assessment of all properties of 10 to 15 per cent was planned by the department this year.

Rev. R. W. Frid has accepted an invitation to remain as pastor of the Marlboro Street Methodist Church for a fourth year, subject to the approval of the stationing committee.

FEW SOLDIERS OUT OF WORK.

That unemployment among soldiers was comparatively light in this city was stated today at the soldiers' service bureau. Only those suffering from severe disabilities are out of work, while only 80 applications for relief from the Dominion emergency fund have been made for the two counties of Brant and Norfolk.

All indications point to Brantford going much over the objective in the Forward Movement drive. Zion Presbyterian Church reported a possible $35,000, while Grace Anglican Church, with others, report nearly $40,000 for an objective of $25,000.

WAS FIRST LINEMAN.

The death of Norbett Burnett at Ogdensburg, N.Y., recalls the first telephone wire built in this city by the deceased for Prof. Alexander Graham Bell, when the first sound was transmitted of the human voice by telephone. Burnett was employed by the Montreal Telegraph Company, and erected six poles between Brantford and Tutela, using beer bottle tops as insulators.

"Willow the Wisp"—A Northern Ontario story with a forest setting, having to do with a "Down-and-outer" who was reclaimed, and given old-time health and poise by the forest. A story of vivid interest and strong plot, with plenty of adventure and romance. Regular selling price, $1.25.

LARGER QUARTERS FOR WINTER FAIR AT PETROLEA CERTAIN

Dr. G. C. Creelman Promises To Give His Assistance To Scheme.

LOSING A GREAT ASSET

L. W. Oke, M.P.P., Declares Rural Depopulation Is Serious.

[By Staff Reporter.]

PETROLEA, Feb. 12.—It was an ideal day and an ideal crowd that thronged the big Lambton corn show here today. Every train on both the M. C. R. and Grand Trunk was crowded with sightseers, many of whom attended the livestock show this afternoon. Hon. Manning Doherty, who is ill in Toronto, was unable to be present.

Dr. G. C. Creelman of the O. A. C., the principal speaker at tonight's large meeting in the Victoria Hall, declared that he would do what he could towards getting larger quarters for the Lambton Winter Fair, and stated that the O. A. C. was properly coming in for criticism along with other Government institutions since the U. F. O. came into power. He explained that the instructors at the O. A. C. were underpaid. However, there was a spirit of unrest all over the country.

Too Many Wormy Apples.

The speaker told his audience of the aims and ambitions of the agricultural college. He declared that Ontario produced too many wormy apples and other crops that were not up to the proper standards. Alberta could come down and win the best prizes in Ontario. Dr. Creelman stated that at the present time it cost 30 cents a month to feed a chicken.

Leslie W. Oke, M.P.P., East Lambton, spoke briefly. He said Canadian boys should be shown how to make as much money on the farm as could be made in the city. At the present time the farmer was not making enough and the boy was leaving the farm. "The situation is serious," said Mr. Oke, "and the Government must do something. When the farmer loses his son to the city he is losing a great asset."

Rural Education.

Dr. S. B. Sinclair of the department of education, Toronto, spoke on "Rural Education." He said that when the agricultural and educational departments were working together in a rural school it was an ideal condition of affairs. Dr. Sinclair told of feeding a calf four months, morning and night. He sold it dressed, on the market, and four days later found that the value of the calf had increased four-fold.

The proper consolidated schools would furnish the country children with the best possible education. The speaker condemned the one-room rural school, where the teacher did not have time to do justice to the pupils. Specialized teachers in rural schools, with two years' training at an agricultural college, was in his opinion the ideal aim. The consolidated school was for the entire community, and there should be one every six miles of at least four rooms.

Winter Fair Building.

J. E. Armstrong, M.P., East Lambton, stated that if the Provincial Government would put up $10,000 for a winter fair building here, the people of the county would put up $5,000. The town of Petrolea would give the land for a site. Teams of horses to the number of 200 would help to draw gravel and material for the proposed new building. Bert Fancher, president of the Corn Growers' Association, acted as chairman.

The Lambton County Pure-Bred Livestock Breeders' annual sale was held this afternoon. There were 60 high-class animals sold by Auctioneer Capt. Tom Robson of London, and they brought nearly $7,000. The average price was about $116. The highest price paid for any animal was $255, Ruby Violet, 8-year-old cow, owned by Wm. Ross, Alvinston, bringing this amount. She was bought by J. J. Graham, Ailsa Craig.

Shorthorns Popular.

Hazel, a 4-year-old Shorthorn, was also bought by Mr. Graham for $250, the owner being George H. Sinclair of Florence. Other high-class Shorthorn animals that changed hands were: Rosebud; owner, George H. Sinclair; buyer, S. Nicholson, Parkhill; price, $200. Scottish Maiden; owner, G. H. Sinclair; buyer, S. Nicholson, Parkhill; price, $195. Marigold Beauty; owner, John Lang, Croton; buyer, P. W. McPhedran, Wyoming; price, $181. Lady May II.; owner, Charles Beatty, Croton; buyer, J. T. Sproule, Oil Springs; price, $200. Rose Knoyle; owner, Duncan McLean, Petrolea; buyer, Frank Wilson, Tupperville; price, $180.

Demand for Herefords.

There was a good demand for Hereford bull calves. Bonny Willie, 6 months old, owned by Robert Leach, Watford, brought $127. The purchaser was Wm. Anderson, Brigden. Rex II., 9 months old; owner, James Parker, Watford; buyer, H. A. Gilroy, Alvinston, $100. Curtle, 9 months old; owner, Robert Leach, Watford; buyer, W. H. Sheppard, Forest, $125.

COAL FOUND IN PRESCOTT; WILD RUMORS FOLLOW

Engineer of Stone Quarry Strikes Vein—Town Is Excited.

NOW AWAITING ANALYSIS

Much Depends On Quality of Fuel and Extent of Vein.

PRESCOTT, Ont., Feb. 12.—While drilling for rock samples on the company's new property, the Prescott Quarry Company engineer struck a vein of coal. Samples were taken and forwarded to Montreal for analysis. The extent of the vein or quality of the coal is yet uncertain. The vein was discovered at a depth of about forty feet.

The property was recently acquired by its present owner for the purpose of quarrying stone, the stone being found to be of an unusually fine quality. Should analysis of the coal prove satisfactory and the coal deposit be found to be extensive, it will be of great benefit to this section of Canada.

Excitement and wild rumors are rife in Prescott town on the probable extent of the field, and the natural results to follow if a coal mine should be operated in the vicinity. The property is about three-quarters of a mile east of Prescott town in Edwardsburg Township, between the G. T. R. tracks and the River St. Lawrence.

Winnipeg, Feb. 12.—To form an alliance between Manitoba farmers and labor, with the object of electing a Farmer-Labor Parliament in this province, similar to the new Ontario House, a convention is to be held in Winnipeg in April.

Decision to hold a convention was made Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Labor party.

Farmers who are opposed to the Norris Government are to be invited, along with Labor representatives from all parts of the province to attend the convention and arrange plans for a campaign to precede the elections to be held next July.

Dale, who has occupied the chair of education at McGill University since its foundation in 1908, has resigned in order to accept the invitation extended him by the University of Toronto to become director of its social service department with the title of professor of social science.

He will take up his new duties shortly.

INFLUENZA SPREADS THROUGHOUT ONTARIO; EXPECT PEAK NEAR

Deaths Are Fewer Than a Few Days Ago.

"CHRISTIAN TORONTO"

Dr. Hastings Makes Scathing Criticism of Lack of Volunteers.

TORONTO, Feb. 12.—Influenza continues to spread throughout the province of Ontario, but it is thought that the peak has been almost reached in many places, and that next week may see a slight reduction in the number of cases. While the disease appears not to have abated there are not quite so many deaths from influenza and pneumonia in proportion to the number of cases as was the case a few days ago.

In Toronto 25 deaths were reported today as directly due to the epidemic. Yesterday there were 42 deaths therefrom. Sixteen of the deaths recorded today were from influenza direct, and nine from pneumonia.

The Toronto board of health today decided to ask the city council to buy the old general hospital property on Gerard street east and have it converted into a hospital for the treatment of communicable diseases. The old hospital would accommodate 850 patients. It has been used as a military hospital since the outbreak of the war.

Dearth of Nurses.

There is a serious dearth of nurses in Toronto at the present time and earnest appeals from the medical officer of health here, Dr. C. J. O. Hastings, have met with discouraging response. Volunteers have been asked for through the press two or three times within the last week or so, and a registration bureau for the purpose has been established, but only a few volunteer nurses have put in an appearance.

In a report published today Dr. Hastings made the following scathing criticism in this connection:

"Christian Toronto."

"Probably the most appalling feature in connection with the present epidemic and the one that reflects most upon the people of the so-called 'Christian Toronto,' the city of churches, is the fact that in a city of half a million people there cannot be found but a handful that are willing to come forward and register for volunteer service to their fellow-citizens who are in dire need and dire distress."

Serious at Cobalt.

The Canadian Press correspondent at Cobalt wired tonight that the influenza situation there was serious. Chairman J. E. Holette of the committee appointed in Cobalt to fight the epidemic, this evening ordered an emergency hospital opened to handle the steadily increasing number of cases. The upper floor of the town hall has been fitted up as a temporary hospital, and a number of patients were taken there this evening. Cobalt has sent a telegram to the headquarters of the Victorian Order of Nurses at Ottawa, requesting that nurses be sent.

No Deaths In Day.

No deaths from the influenza were reported at Cobalt today. At Mileage 104, a family of three small children has been wiped out by pneumonia, following influenza, a boy and two girls, children of V. Des Jardins. The mother is reported to be in a serious condition from pneumonia. The deaths resulting from the epidemic in this district now total 23.

In Brantford the influenza situation was reported as having improved today. A special meeting of the local board of health was held tonight to further deal with the epidemic. Two cases were admitted to temporary accommodations, and the board decided to convert the old postoffice into an emergency hospital.

Hamilton reported the total number of influenza cases to date as 973, an increase of 141 since yesterday. Twenty-one deaths have occurred from influenza in Hamilton so far.

St. Catharines is one of the few places in Ontario that has not yet reported any influenza cases.

SAYS SHOULD HAVE SHOT SINN FEINERS DOWN LIKE DOGS

Cheers Greet Statement of Ulster Delegate in Toronto.

Toronto, Feb. 12.—Three enthusiastic gatherings greeted the Ulster delegates here tonight. Massey Hall held 3,000 sympathizers with Ulster's position on the question of the Government of Ireland, and large overflow meetings were held in Cooke's Presbyterian Church and the County Orange Hall addresses being given in each of these places by members of the Irish delegation. Mayor Church presided at the Massey Hall meeting. The Irish visitors left tonight for Ottawa, where meetings will be held tomorrow. They will leave the Canadian capital on Saturday for Boston.

Was Making Rebels.

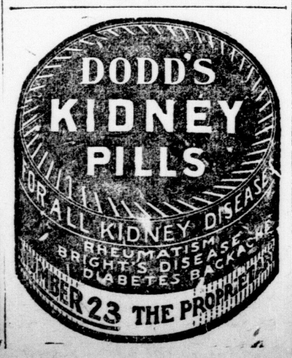

William Coote, M. P., chairman of the touring Ulster delegation, was the chief speaker at the Massey Hall meeting. He asserted that the British Government was making rebels in Ireland by its papering and glove-hand policy. "They are reaping the seeds they have sown," he declared. "They should never have allowed them to meet in Dublin and declare their Irish republic. They should have shot them down like dogs on the street."

Received With Cheers.

This sentiment was received with cheers. Equally welcomed by the gathering was a statement by Rev. Frederick E. Harte, M. A., that the Government of Ireland was "no business of the United States of America." Rev. Mr. Harte declared that Sinn Fein was guilty of "nothing short of deliberate revolution, of stabbing the empire in the back in the hour of its very greatest crisis." He said Ireland was not oppressed but was the freest country in the world.

"I'd like to see the Sinn Feiners in the United States," he said. "If Ireland is made free, as you call it, will you go back and live there?"

Addresses were given by other members of the Ulster delegation.

LAKE SEAMAN WANT EIGHT-HOUR DAY

CHICAGO, Feb 12.—Lake seamen want an eight-hour day and will probably take action during the next three weeks to secure it. They are at present working twelve hours a day while at sea, and on a basis of nine hours in port.

MAYOR DEPORTED ON SUSPICION

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Ian MacPherson, the secretary for Ireland, was asked in the House of Commons today why Alderman Tom Kelly, lord mayor-elect of Dublin, had been sent to prison. Mr. MacPherson replied that Kelly had been arrested and deported under the defence of the realm act, because he had been suspected of having acted in a manner prejudicial to the public interest.

FIGHT IN ASSEMBLY

PANAMA, Feb. 12.—Deputies Patino and Vonero engaged in a fist fight in the Assembly last night over the latter's resolution demanding the withdrawal of American troops from Chiriqui. Venero cited excerpts from President Wilson's addresses on the rights of small nations, which Patino termed "vacuous lyricisms."

FLIES OVER ANDES

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 12.—Lieut. Prieur of the French aviation mission made a success of flight across the Andes yesterday. Leaving Mendosa, Argentina, he landed eighty kilometres beyond Ovalle, province of Coquimbo, Chile. He was slightly injured through a bad landing, in which his machine was destroyed.

PREPARE ELECTION LISTS IN MANITOBA

WINNIPEG, Feb. 12.—The Government has started the preparation of election lists for the provincial elections, which will be held in July, probably July 26. The term of the Government automatically expires August 6, 1920.

The lists will contain about the number of names over any previous list, owing to the fact that women will be given the right to vote. Provision for the revision of the lists will be issued almost immediately after the session of the Legislature.

DIED AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

INGERSOLL, Feb. 12.—An illness of short duration resulted in the death today of Mrs. Bloor, wife of Alfred H. Bloor. She was 25 years of age, and besides the husband is survived by three small children. Since coming to Ingersoll about two years ago, Mrs. Bloor had made many friends. The remains will be forwarded Friday morning to Parry Sound, where interment will take place on Saturday.

Death has removed another old resident in the person of John Nunn, Sen., who passed away at the family residence, Benson street, following an illness of two weeks' duration. He was in his 74th year, and had resided here for 44 years. He was born in England, and was a member of the Sons of England, under whose auspices the funeral will be held Saturday afternoon. Besides the widow, he is survived by three sons, Albert and John of Ingersoll, Bert of Detroit, and one daughter, Mrs. Hawkins of Sarnia.

To Wash Away Those Wrinkles and Crowsfeet

If your face is disfigured with wrinkles, no matter what the cause, you can quickly dispel every line, even the most obstinate, by using a simple home-made wash lotion. Merely dissolve an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel—ingredients found in any drug store. Bathe the face in this, and—presto!—you scarcely believe your own eyes when you look into your mirror and behold the marvelous transformation!

The remarkable astringent action of the saxolite so tightens the skin, wrinkles are literally pressed out. Best of all, this result is not purely temporary, for the lotion also has a healthful tonic action, which tends to strengthen and tone up the weakened tissue, and added benefit may be expected with continued use. Use this once a day for a while; it cannot injure the most delicate skin. The treatment itself leaves no trace—no one guesses the secret of your increasing youthful appearance.—Advt.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Grey, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or grey. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick, glossy, and you look years younger.

MORTALITY RATE OF INFLUENZA IS ABOUT HALF THAT OF 1918

Washington Statement Says Epidemic Has Reached Peak.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The mortality rate due to the influenza epidemic this year was about half that in 1918, according to a statement issued today by the public health service, announcing that the present epidemic apparently had reached its peak.

"A comparison," the statement said, "of the excess mortality rate per 100,000 of population for the respective peak weeks of 1920 and 1918 shows Chicago 1,886, compared with 4,620; Milwaukee 1,434, as compared with 1,915; Washington 2,027, as compared with 9,789.

"These rates may be taken as a fair indication of conditions throughout the country. With the exception of some cities in Massachusetts and New York State, exclusive of New York City, practically all of the reports indicate a decline."

CABINET COMMITTEE ALMOST READY WITH NEW FRANCHISE ACT

War Times Elections Act Is in Bad Repute.

FORMER ACTS OBSOLETE

It Is Said New Bill Will Provide For Preparing Dominion Voters' Lists.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Feb. 12. — The cabinet committee in charge of the drafting of a new franchise act has, it is understood, almost completed its work. The proposed new act is based on the assumption that former acts are to all intents and purposes obsolete. The war times election act is not in good repute. The act of 1919 is designed only for by-elections, and the old Dominion act has become largely unworkable owing to important changes in recent years in the method of preparing provincial lists, which were used as the basis for federal voting.

The federal franchise for instance has been conferred on women. In Quebec women have not yet been declared eligible to vote for representatives to the Legislature. Other provinces have adopted new methods of preparing lists. Ontario, for instance, proving that they shall be taken by enumeration only in anticipation of a general election. Although it is contended that provincial lists cannot be generally made the basis for the federal franchise.

Provide for Preparation.

It is [illegible] act will provide for the preparation of the Dominion lists, but that wherever practicable provincial lists may be made the basis of the federal.

The war-time elections act and the by-elections act both provide for the preparation of lists by enumeration. The new act will, it is understood, perpetuate the principle.

If a recent provincial list exists anywhere the enumerators would have power to strike off persons who might be entitled to vote in provincial, but not in the federal elections, and to add names of persons federally but not provincially qualified. Where no provincial lists exist brand new lists would have to be prepared.

Objectionable Features.

In the matter of qualifications, many of the objectionable features of the war-times elections act will be abolished, and the provisions of the by-elections act will be adopted. As a matter of fact the right to vote depends primarily on citizenship, and under the amended naturalization act it is in the power of the secretary of state to refuse or grant naturalization as well as to deprive any individual already naturalized of his citizenship for the cause.

Under the by-elections act personal naturalization is required. That is to say, an alien could not qualify for the federal franchise through marriage with a British subject or through the naturalization of a parent. This reservation, however, did not apply to persons born on the North American Continent. Under the by-elections act, moreover, provision was made whereby a woman, otherwise qualified, who had lost her citizenship through marriage with an alien could secure the franchise.

Publish Sources.

A further provision of the new act, it is rumored, will be a requirement that the sources of campaign funds be made public.

Strong pressure is being brought to bear to have the principle of proportional representation applied in future federal elections and the calling of a "speakers' conference" has been mooted. Whether the principle is applied or not, it is fully believed that he next redistribution will increase the representation of urban centres.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT REJECTS MOTION TO REVISE PEACE PACT

Balfour Defends Treaty As Criticized by Laborites.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Most of today's session of the House of Commons was occupied in a discussion of the motion of William James Thorne, labor member for Westham, in favor of a revision of the peace treaty, which he subjected to severe criticism. The most interesting suggestion emanated from Lord Robert Cecil, that the league of nations should send two international commissioners to Russia to ascertain the exact conditions and to fix the provisional boundaries of the border states.

Arthur J. Balfour, lord president of the council, who made a general defence of the treaty and the Government's share therein, said he feared Lord Robert's suggestion would not result in a new heaven on earth in Russia. He also denied that the Government was encouraging Poland in a policy of adventure.

Motion Is Rejected.

The motion of William Thorne was rejected, 254 to 60.

Replying to the statement of Ronald McNeil, Unionist, that Premier Lloyd George had presented a memorandum on behalf of the British and French Governments' proposition on the Adriatic situation which would abrogate Montenegrin integrity, Andrew Bonar Law expressed his belief that a majority of the Montenegrins did not desire to restore the king of Montenegro, and it was quite possible the Montenegrin people might prefer to become part of a larger nationality than continue independent.

In reply to suggestions that the German indemnity ought to be a fixed sum Mr. Bonar Law said that if Germany propsed a lump sum it was not likely the allies would be unreasonable.

Awaits United States.

Replying to a question as to what steps the Government proposed to take for the relief of Central Europe, Austen Chamberlain, the chancellor of the exchequer, said that the final arrangements could not be made until the Congress of the United States had granted the necessary powers.

The relief administration and the British Government would have preferred to prepare a comprehensive plan, with allied and neutral co-operation, Mr. Chamberlain said, but in view of the urgency of the need and despite the financial situation in the United Kingdom, t' British Government had informed the United States that in addition to t... £12,500,000 voted for the current financial year, it was prepared to contribute a further sum, not exceeding half the sum contributed by the United States, and not exceeding £10,000,000 in all.

The Canadian Government, said the chancellor, had intimated its desire to make a contribution.

LAST WEEK SHOWED EMPLOYMENT GROWTH

OTTAWA, Feb. 12.—A steady increase in the volume of employment in Canada is shown in reports of 4,639 firms to the department of labor during January. These employers reported to the employment service of Canada a total of 668,391 persons on their payrolls for the week ending January 24, which represents an increase of one per cent over the preceding week.

Increases in staffs are reported by all classes of industry except a few in which no increase could be expected at this time, and the steady increase appears to be general throughout the country, being most marked in the province of Quebec.

LOWER TARIFF TO CUT DOWN LIVING COSTS

Liberal Chief Advocates Dropping of Duties on Foodstuffs and Machinery.

OTTAWA, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press)—An immediate downward revision of the tariff on foodstuffs as well as on machinery to bring about greater production in Canada, together with an energetic campaign to get people back to the land, featured the address of Hon. William L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, to the Ottawa Retail Grocers at their annual banquet here tonight.

Any revision of the tariff, however, Mr King declared, must be carried out with the interests of the whole country in view. Only in that way could the present undue high cost of living situation be overcome.

Restricting Supply.

"Anything artificial at present restricting the supply of the principal articles of food should be immediately removed. This brings us inevitably to a consideration of the tariff. My own conviction is that it is possible so to reform the tariff as not only to diminish the high cost of living in a manner which would immediately benefit consumers, but also to reduce the cost of the instruments of production generally, and so help agriculture and all other industries based on the natural resources of Canada."

In these words Hon. Mr. King outlined his cure for the present high cost of living.

Basic Industries Thrive.

"As the basic industries thrive," Mr. King continued, "all our other industries will thrive, all our interests, whether of agriculture, manufacture, commerce of transportation. Any revision of the tariff, which fails to keep all these steadily in view would not be in the national interest. It is obvious, however, that much can be done through tariff revision by way of reducing the high cost of living, which will prove to the benefit of one and all; and foremost in this connection is any well-considered step which will increase the supply of food to dwellers in towns and country alike."

Such expedients as boards of commerce were merest pretense of an endeavor to regulate prices in a manner which would benefit consumers generally, Mr. Kink declared, however, useful investigating bodies of that kind might prove in helping to check individual abuses here and there. He likened the efforts of the board of commerce to those of the man who sought to conserve the forests by shooting woodpeckers.

There is a vast difference in pancake flours. True, they are nearly all made from much the same grains, but Teco Flour has one unique ingredient of its own, quite aside from the high quality of the cereals selected. That unusual element is Buttermilk—powdered malted buttermilk.

Buttermilk is a recognized health food. By using it in this way, the lactic acid makes the starch in the flour more palatable, more digestible, and increases its nutritive properties.

No wonder Tecos have such a tempting savory, different taste.

THE STANDPATTERS AT OTTAWA.

A special Ottawa dispatch to the Montreal Gazette bears out exactly what has been claimed in these columns with reference to the Unionist cabinet at Ottawa, namely, that in the absence of the premier they intend to take no risk, however slight, of getting into political deep waters and that as far as the next session of the Commons is concerned it will be simply a case of marking time. The reason given by the Gazette correspondent for inaction during the approaching session is quite unique. The dispatch says:

"For two years Parliament has given the country an overdose of radical and uplift legislation, and the cabinet recognizes that to advocate business stability and control by moderates with success is impossible if there is to be continued innumerable legislative enactments that will make for class and factional disputes, alarm industry and add to the general unrest. Moderates cannot be united by meeting the demands of extremists, and for a time at least the Government will be content to administer along proven lines and political innovations will be discouraged."

This is about the best expression that we have seen of what Mark Hanna meant when he said "Stand pat." Let there be no mistake, the real masters of Unionist Government have spoken the word and standing pat will be the policy henceforth. It is quite interesting, however, to have the open confession of a good supporter (heretofore) of Unionism that the party must take the responsibility for the class and factional disputes, alarm of industry and general unrest. Some critics of the Government have been unkind enough to say things of that sort, but it is really most edifying to have one of the cabinet's best friends admit it. But no more of that for Unionism, no more cause for unrest, for alarm to industry, for class faction. No more progressive legislation, no more effort to alleviate the worker's lot, no more control of powers that prey, back to laissez faire, everybody for himself and the devil take the hindmost. The Government abrogates its functions, is "content to administer along proven lines," and intends to discourage "political innovations." Stand pat, that's the motto.

Well, all we need say is that while the cabinet may abrogate its functions and allow itself to wither up, this is not going to settle industrial alarm, calm class and factional disputes or stop the unrest that is prevailing. Indeed, we venture the prediction that in proportion as Parliament does allow itself to be put to sleep these sinister conditions will tend to increase. There is a dangerous spirit of unrest abroad, in Canada as in all other lands, and the only way to deal with that is to inquire into its causes, and if there be necessity, to put the axe to the very root. It is a lamentable confession of impotence that comes from the capital, as it is also an outrage that any body of men should regard the control of this country as so much their right that they refuse legislation lest it might in even the smallest degree affect their political fortunes. Truly political straightforwardness has sunk to a low ebb under the group who rule at Ottawa today.

NO NATIONALIZATION.

It did not take long for the British Parliament to warm up to boiling point. Premier Lloyd George, provoked by a Laborite's demand for the nationalization of all industries, declared that the British nation would not accept a soviet system, but would fight for liberty as of old to the death. It is evident that the atmosphere of the House of Commons is no longer that of a gentlemen's club, but is about as electrical as in the days of Guy Fawkes and Cromwell. Lightning is flashing and the little Welshman is chief Olympian.

The premier is almost solidly supported by the House of Commons, and probably has the great majority of the nation behind him in resisting a general nationalization or the political soviet. He is determined that the control of industries shall not pass into the hands of the workers. Mr. Brace, arguing for nationalization of the mines, presented a scheme by which officials, miners and general public should all share (theoretically) in the administration of the mines. But very reasonably Mr. Lloyd George contended that the miners' plan would really involve a governmental bureaucracy or perhaps ultimately full control by the mine workers. In such conditions he pointed out that there would certainly be a diminution of output, with disastrous results to the community and to the miners themselves.

Neither the experience of Russia and Hungary nor of United States railways is favorable to nationalization. Honest governmental control of profits is a far more attractive solution of industrial difficulties. Even confiscation of profits above a certain point would be less rash and risky than a plunge into general confiscation of capital. John Bull is never rash in his economic and political policy and Lloyd George is thoroughly representative of British spirit.

A PEOPLE WORTH HELPING.

The Canadian Indians, says the Inter-Church Forward Movement, established a praiseworthy war record, giving ample evidence of their loyalty by voluntary enlistment in the overseas forces and generous contributions to the patriotic and other war funds, totalling over $25,000. More than 3,000 enlistments have been recorded, or no less than 35 per cent of the Indian male population of military age—a remarkable record when it is remembered that they are wards of the Government. Many of them died on the field of honor fighting for the empire, and many more won high military honors and decorations. One lance-corporal excelled as a sniper and, as such, is reported to have killed 88 Germans. A private single-handed, with a dozen bombs, killed nineteen Germans and captured fourteen, being himself seriously wounded. One Indian walked over 500 miles to enlist. Another, a full-blooded red man, travelled three thousand miles by trail, canoe and steamer to join the forces. Many bands sent to the ranks practically every able-bodied male member of military age.

BETTER FARMING.

Hon. Duncan Marshall, Alberta's minister of agriculture, in an address delivered at Hamilton gave expression to some opinions on the farm problem that are worthy of careful consideration. He made the excellent point that much too frequently amongst young people of the farm is the feeling that farming is a somewhat ignoble calling. For this utterly wrong idea he partly blamed the schools. He declared that children should, through their teachers, be impressed with the vital importance to the country of agriculture. He would have in all schools a course or series of courses which would implant in the minds of pupils the great fundamental facts of cultivation. This would give the young the respect and attention for agriculture as a scientific pursuit that it deserves and needs.

SPIRITISM.

[Mabel Martin in New York Times.]

They say the spirit people
Are thronging all about—
Trying to pierce the shadows
Of grief, and fear, and doubt.

But in the great commotion
By all their testing wrought,
I go my way serenely—
Secure in this one thought:

If God allowed our loved ones
A part of earth to be
By bridging Death's deep silence,
My own would come to me.

Nor am I then unhappy,
Because, I know not whence,
Conviction comes with promises
Of life, love, recompense.

THE CLASSICAL WOMAN.

[London Pictorial.]

An artistic expert from Paris has just told us that modern women have no claims to "real' beauty.

Why? Are they not very charming? Are they not, indeed, irresistible? What is the expert grumbling about?

Apparently he is an academician. His tastes are classical. He is in love with correctness. He admires the aggressively Greek nose, the truly classical proportions, the gait of Juno and the "nobly-poised neck" of Venus. He dreams of an Ideal Woman rising from the sea.

That is all very well. But you cannot rise from the sea in these days, except in a rather unsatisfactory bathing dress. You cannot walk about, goddess-like. The stately bare-footed tread will not do for our muddy pavements. The statuesque pose does not suit modern costume.

That being so, why not admit that Venus and Juno are aesthetic anachronisms? They were no doubt very beautiful. May they not also have been a little dull? A statue is fair to look upon. Is it not a little cold. Above all, if you removed those "fair white women" of antiquity from the southern setting, would they not appear unwieldy and even awkward?

There is a type of modern beauty unknown to the classical ideal. It is less correct, but more interesting. It possesses the elusive fascination we call charm. Is it not as beautiful as the classical type?

We dare not affront our expert by asserting so much. We only dare to say that it is delightful, and that it goes better with modern manners, modern cities and modern dress.

CANADA'S OPPORTUNITY.

[Quebec Telegraph.]

"It is improbable that there will ever again come an opportunity such as exists at present," says H. N. Moore, the special correspondent of the Montreal Star in London, in a recently cabled letter, "for the development of Canada as the paradise of the winter sportsman." He bases this opinion upon the fact that Switzerland has for years attracted thousands of tourists from all parts of Europe, all with large sums of money, every winter, to indulge their passion for tobogganing, ski-ing, skating and the other exercises which the more temperate parts of Europe cannot provide. Today we are told Switzerland is in bad favor. Tourists are returning and protesting that they will never go again. They are writing to the Times about it. The cause is poor service and exorbitant prices. The Swiss maitre d'hotel, after five bad years, is endeavoring to make up all his losses in one, and is overdoing it. His prices are very high, and yet he is unable in many cases to obtain coal to heat even the public rooms of his establishment. Food is also scarce and far below the old standards. It is in view of these conditions that the correspondent in question sees Canada's opportunity. We can, of course, supply tourists with everything that is to be found in Switzerland, except wines and liquors. And all other things can be had in the Canadian winter so much better than in Switzerland. We have finer scenery, more bracing weather, with a much larger percentage of sunny days, and greater natural resources for the delight of the tourist. The opportunity is undoubtedly there if we will only grasp it. The success of this winter's sports, if the necessary means for financing them come to hand, will insure success another year. Our efforts in attracting American tourists should be only a step towards extensive advertising of our winter sports in Europe, in which we may rest assured of much railway and steamship assistance. As the Star's correspondent says, opportunity is knocking at our door in Europe as well as in America. The money we spend in advertising our winter attractions abroad will return to us ten, yes, even a hundredfold.

OUR BIRD SANCTUARIES.

[Quebec Telegraph.]

Our readers will remember that at last year's session of the Legislature, the Hon. Honore Mercier, then minister of colonization, mines and fisheries, submitted a bill to parliament which was duly approved and embodied in the statutes, providing for the protection of the rapidly disappearing flocks of wild sea birds inhabiting Perce Rock, Bird Rock and Bonaventure Island, some of which constitute such a remarkable attraction for tourists and especially for those of the bird-loving classes of the community. This action, most favorably commented upon at the time by conservationists in the United States and elsewhere, has also attracted notice in France, where a complimentary reference to it has been printed in the well-known Bulletin de la Ligue Francaise pour la Protection des Oiseaux for the month of December last, from which we quote the following: "Ornithological reserves have been created in Canada on the initiative of the Hon. Honore Mercier, minister of colonization, mines and fisheries of the Province of Quebec. These bird refuges, rigidly guarded, are found in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and are Perce Rock and Bonaventure Island, in front of the village of Perce, and Bird Rock, north of the Magdalens. These reserves shelter colonies of crested cormorants, gannets, gulls, kittiwakes, guillemots and razor-bill auks. It is worthy of note that none of these birds has any direct relation to human needs, and the Province of Quebec, in protecting them, is actuated by the lofty idea of preserving living creatures for their beauty, their scientific interest, and their place in nature." Our legislators in general, by whom the necessary law was adopted for setting apart these sanctuaries, and the Hon. Mr. Mercier in particular, who had the happy inspiration of framing it, have reason to be flattered at this gratifying appreciation of an act dictated solely by love and admiration of some of the beautiful things of creation, an appreciation all the more welcome, coming as it does from one of the world's great centres of art and science, where all that is really beautiful in both nature and art finds its most enthusiastic admirers and most devoted worshipers.

From Here and There

FOOLISH MAID!

"So poor Marie was nearly drowned. How in the world did it happen?"

"The vain creature! She wore all her engagement rings when she went in swimming."

THE PRESS.

[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.]

Owing to the lack of newsprint, Winnipeg has been without newspapers for some days. As a result the city is said to be flooded with sensational rumors, most of them without foundation. The press is often accused of sensationalism in the gathering and publishing of news. As a matter of fact, a respectable and responsible newspaper is a necessary and effective check on sensationalism. It is only, however, when a community is without newspapers that it begins to appreciate this truth.

A BACKSLIDING CHURCH ORGAN.

[London Morning Post.]

An appeal now being made on behalf of a poor country church for a new organ has been reinforced by a coincidence—the old organ happened to cipher, or produce of its own accord a long-drawn wailing sound just as the words were being read from Job, "They rejoice at the sound of the organ." This has been interpreted as a good omen, and it reminds a correspondent of what happened in the Sussex village of Jevington. A new organ was bought of the kind which could be played by turning a handle. The church was crowded to hear its opening recital. All went well till the end of the first Psalm; the singing then ceased, but the organ went on playing. It seems that the man in charge had failed to discover how to put on the brake. From that Psalm tune the organ went on to give a lively secular catch called "Drops of Brandy," and then started on a merry air entitled "Go to the Devil and Shake Yourself."

SIMPLIFYING THE PRINCE'S LIFE.

[London Chronicle.]

The statement that the Prince of Wales will take only two uniforms with him for his Australian tour is a reminder that in this respect things are very much easier for princes than of old. The break-up of the old European states relieves princes from having to maintain a large and expensive wardrobe of uniforms—some of them very expensive indeed—and some of them hardly ever worn. The collapse of Germany, Austria and Russia removes three of the most uniformed nations from the list, and it has not been customary to interchange uniforms with France.

BROWNING'S WALKS.

[William Sharp, in "Life of Robert Browning."]

In his early years Browning had always a great liking for walking in the dark. At Camberwell he was wont to carry this love to the point of losing many a night's repose. There was, in particular, a wood near Dulwich whither he was wont to go. There he would walk swiftly and eagerly along the solitary and lightless byways, finding a potent stimulus to imaginative thought in the happy isolation thus enjoyed, with all the concurrent delights of natural things, the wind moving through the tree branches, the drifting of poignant fragrances, even in winter-tide, from herb and sappy bark, imperceptible almost even by the alertest sense in the day's manifold detachments. At this time, too, he composed much in the open air. This he rarely, if ever, did in later life. Not only many portions of "Paracelsus," but several scenes in "Stafford," were enacted in these midnight silences of the Dulwich woodland. Here, too, as the poet once declared, he came to know the serene beauty of dawn; for every now and again, after having read late, or written long, he would steal quietly from the house and walk till the morning twilight graded to the pearl and amber of the new day.

PHYSICAL TRAINING IN SCHOOLS.

[Saskatoon Phoenix.]

Would it not be possible to equip a small gymnasium in each school and have it under proper supervision? Is it not possible to cultivate a healthy love of games in the school yard and to do something to help the children make the best and fullest use of the play-hour? Is it impossible to get daily physical exercises down to a system in every school and to have the teachers themselves adequately trained in physical culture? If these things canont be done, then we are in no way going to profit by the deplorable lesson contained in the record of recruiting. We will go on our way spending many thousands of dollars a year demonstrating the best way to rear pigs and cattle and horses, but neglecting the most imperative duty of all—the proper rearing of sound, healthy, physically perfect human beings. Can we really afford—is it right or sensible—to leave that to chance?

HELPING OUT THE FAMILY EXCHEQUER.

[Christian Science Monitor.]

Interesting information increases with leaps and bounds, the latest leap and bound, perhaps, having been made by the United States department of labor in a survey of the incomes in about a hundred American cities. The families have been observed as well as the incomes, for the examination of sources shows that one-sixth of the women in the homes visited in New York contribute to the family exchequer, and that in Johnstown, in the same state, three-quarters of the women are earners; Johnstown, however, has a glove industry which provides home work, and that accounts for the otherwise surprising number. In Boston one wife in ten is an earner; in Cleveland and Cincinnati, one in seven; in Pittsburg, one in 50, and in Charleston, one in 100. Nor is the fact any longer hidden that many city dwellers, except in the biggest and most congested cities, turn an honest penny by raising produce and poultry.

EX-SERVICE IMMIGRANTS COMING.

[Vancouver Sun.]

A definite decision has been reached by the soldier settlement board to extend financial assistance to imperial ex-service men who desire to come to this country to engage in farming. A committee composed of Mr. W. E. Scott, former deputy minister of agriculture for British Columbia, and Mr. Russell Wilson of Saskatoon, will make their headquarters in England for the purpose of scrutinizing the qualifications of applicants and selecting those to whom aid will be given.

Only men will be chosen who are of good physique and proven character. The misfits will not be encouraged to come to our shores. No imperial ex-service men will be accepted unless they can show that they have at least a thousand dollars when they land in Canada. They will be required to pay the board cash down 20 per cent of the cost of purchasing the land, stock and equipment intended for them.

The British Government will pay the transportation expenses of all who are approved by the selection board. When they arrive here they will be placed upon farms where they may gain experience before starting for themselves. Those who have farmed in Great Britain will spend one year in this preliminary training, while two years will be required of those who have had no previous experience.

These conditions may look a little stiff, but they make for ultimate success. They mean at any rate that none will come unless possessed of the will to conquer the difficulties which await them.

LIFE ON THE FARM.

[Peterborough Examiner.

In spite of the frequent complaints of the farming community about their condition of life, the Kingston Whig thinks that life on the farm has greatly improved in recent years, and that with mere co-operation and constructive planning, possibly under the direction of provincial and federal experts, many further improvements in the physical, intellectual and social life of the farm should be feasible.

These remarks have been prompted by the reading of a report of a recent survey of the farm homes in Orange Township, Iowa. This particular survey has disclosed some remarkably interesting and significant facts—facts that would doubtless be equally as true of any Ontario township. There are 132 farm homes in Orange Township, we are told. All of the families take and read newspapers and certain magazines. One hundred and twenty-five of them have respectable libraries, the average being 100 volumes. One hundred and thirty-two have telephones. Eighty have pianos, and seventy-nine have automobiles. Sixty-three have electric light, and fifty-seven have running water.

No wonder the farmer is a stabilizing influence and has no sympathy with wild talk of revolution, class warfare, communism and the dictatorship of the city "proletariat." Opportunity is still Canada's "other name"—in the city, the town, the village and the physical isolated farmhouse. The intelligent Canadian has no quarrel with anything save special privilege, injurious monopoly and obstruction of normal development of our national resources for the benefit of all.

LOVE OF THE WILD

BY ARCHIE P. McKISHNIE

Dick chuckled.

"They do 'ate Jnjuns an' niggers, sir; an' sir, that reminds me, there's an old Injun from the Point by the name of Noah Sturgeon waitin' up at th' place to see you, sir."

The Colonel knitted his brows.

"Sturgeon," he repeated; "Noah Sturgeon,—don't think I ever heard of him——"

"Your 'orse, sir?" questioned Dick, looking about him.

"Never mind about my horse—I'm going to ride yours. You follow up and keep a tight grip on the hounds. I don't want that old Indian to get eaten up."

They passed on down the black trail, and the spot that had witnessed the struggle between the "big 'uns" and the starving things of the Wild grew silent again with a great and oppressive silence. Only the tiny bare branches of the trees clicked under the restless wind that slumbered fitfully when the night grew old. The clouds crept from the sky away down and below the forest-fringe; then the white stars came out and rested, looking down on the Fire-Lick. Their soft light swept the open and fell across the crumpled forms of the dead things that had roamed the forest Wild. They lay pitifully silent and huddled, their red tongues lolling; their starving days at an end. Further into the second-growth bushland there were others of them, lying cold, beyond all life of the Wild. They had been cut off from their own; they had starved and fought and died. But they were only wolves after all.

CHAPTER II.
Injun Noah.

The cold dawn was stealing across the lake when Colonel Hallibut rode into his yard and, dismounting, turned his horse over to Dick. The hounds leaped and fawned upon him and he sternly commanded them to keep down. He led them through the door into the great kennel-yards and there arose a bedlam of glad yelps and growls of rage, as some favorite was petted or felt the fangs of jealousy of a stronger fellow. The master played the whip among them, laughing and shouting.

"Oh, you beauties!—Black Dan, you fire-eater. Down, Gabe, you branch of the devil. Poor old Jep; come on, purp, and let me pat your old sides; poor old Jep, noble old Jep. Weren't in the fight last night were you? Too old, boy; too old and stiff. Every dog has his day, Jep, and every man, too. Head boy, I thought for a while last night that mine was over!"

The old hound laid his wrinkled chin in his master's hand and gazed up at him with age-weakened eyes. Some of the younger dogs of the pack retreated snarling, with bristles erect, and lying down a short distance away, licked the wounds received in last night's encounter. Hallibut walked across to a wide, low building and unlocked the door.

"In there, all of you," he shouted, and the dogs sprang toward the door.

Old Jep came last, limping painfully, his whole attitude one of protest.

"Not you, old fellow," said the man; "you can stay out, and you'd best hang close to me."

He shrugged his broad shoulders, and with the old favorite following, crossed the yard and entered the stables. Dick was cleaning out the fetlocks of the horse the Colonel had just ridden in. He looked up as his master entered, then went on with his work.

"Where's Fury?" asked Hallibut, peering into an empty stall.

"Turned 'im about in th' yard, sir," stammered Dick. "'E was kicked in the night some'ow, sir, I'm sorry, but hit couldn't be 'elped; 'e broke 'is 'alter, sir."

"That flame of Hades is always breaking his halter," cried Hallibut.

"Well, of course that wasn't any fault of yours. Here's ten dollars—buy a halter he can't break, and keep what's over to get yourself a new jacket. I see this one you're wearing has been played with recently, eh?"

"Why, sir, that's so," laughed Dick "It do seem, sir, as I can't keep anythink whole any more, that stud Dobo is that playful, sir."

"Well, you best look out that Dobo don't get your head some time. And now when you've eaten and rested a bit I want you to put the saddle on Bay Tom and ride some of the kicks out of him. Go after the mare that turned traitor last night and fetch the wolfpelts back with you. They'll make the hounds a nice warm bed for the winter, and I guess they belong to the hounds all right. Don't know but what I owe those dogs something myself."

"I don't think, sir, as Bay Tom'll take like t' carryin' raw furs. 'E do seem to 'ate th' scent of blood. 'E'll like raise the mischief, sir, 'e will, and maybe kill me, sir."

"Well, if he kills you," said Hallibut dryly, "I won't ever ask you to ride him again. Now, you understand. And, Dick, I want that horse put through his paces. Use the quirt and spur, and lather him till he weakens. I'd do it myself only I've got to get the schooner stocked for a cruise."

"Very well, sir. And, sir, the old Injun, 'e be waitin' to speak with you."

"By George, I had forgotten. Yes. I'll go in and see him now."

The Colonel's housekeeper met him at the kitchen door.

"Oh, sir," she cried, raising her hands, "I'm so glad you've returned. Hall night hi've been scared most to death sir, 'E's hawful to look hat, sir."

Hallibut chuckled and laid his hand on the old lady's shoulder.

"You mean the old Indian, Nancy? Bless your heart, woman, he's harmless as a baby most likely. Bet a dollar he's been at my decanters. I'll go in and see him. Just lay the table for two of us. Like as not, being an Indian, he can eat whether he's hungry or no."

"But, sir," protested the old woman, "you'll not 'ave 'im sit with you, sir?"

"My dear Nancy, after what I've been through I'd welcome the company of a snake, providing it was a real snake and was clean. You'll please see that two plates are laid."

The big man stalked forward and opened the door into the wide sitting-room. Before the log fire was bent a slight figure clad in buckskin. The Colonel saw a withered old man, his thin face seamed with wrinkles, his black eyes peering from deep hollows that age had sunk there. His hair was crow-black, falling about his narrow shoulders. He arose with a lithe motion as the Colonel entered.

"How?" he said in good English.

"How?" returned the master of the house, holding out his hand.

The old Indian looked at it, but made no motion toward taking it. He raised his arm and pointed about the room.

"Good," he said; "much good."

"Sit down," invited the Colonel. "Now tell me what brings you here. You live on 'Point Aux,' I understand. It's a long way to the Point."

The Indian's eyes were fastened upon the portrait on the wall. They did not leave it as he spoke.

"Much," he said; "very much. Noah wish to speak of Bushwhacker. You leave Bushwhacker there; no touch. You know Bushwhacker girl—Gloss—you know; good."

He pointed toward the portrait. It was that of a young girl with glorious long-lashed eyes and smiling lips. Hallibut followed his gaze, frowned, then going over to the sideboard glanced along the array of bottles there. He picked up a glass and sniffed it.

"Have you been sampling any of these bottles?" he asked, sternly.

"Noah no drink until he speak. Noah know her," pointing to the portrait. "Noah tote her, wee papoose, many day journey. White man pay Noah money and Noah lay papoose in big Chief' wigwam. You know Big Chief Bushwhacker. Ugh, you know her,—Gloss!"

He stretched a claw-like finger toward the portrait.

"You know white girl; good. You no touch Bushwhacker."

Hallibut stood frowning upon the old Indian.

"Listen," he said, sitting down beside the old man, "you must understand that the portrait you see on the wall is not of a Bushwhacker girl or of anyone else you know. That's the likeness of a sister I had lost years and years ago. It was painted in England, a land across the Great Waters, Noah."

"No, no," cried the Indian. "Noah have good eyes. He can see and understand. Big man need not lie—white girl Noah' good friend."

Hallibut arose and wiped his streaming brow. Then he sank into a chair and ran his fingers through his grey hair.

IN MOTHERHOOD

A woman needs all the strength possible to take good care of her baby. The reflections of a married woman are not pleasant if she is delicate, run-down, or over-worked. She feels "played out." Her smile and good spirits have taken flight. It worries her husband as well as herself.

This is the time to build up her strength and remove those weaknesses or ailments which are the seat of her trouble.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholia and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, restores health and strength. It overcomes those disorders and derangements of womanhood. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. All druggists. Liquid or tablets.

STRATFORD, ONT.—"I am very enthusiastic in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic for expectant mothers. I have had experience both with the 'Prescription' and without, and am in a position to know that there is a vast difference. I was never nauseated or sick at all with my 'Prescription' babies, but was extremely uncomfortable with the others, and my suffering was greater when I had not taken the 'Favorite Prescription.'"—MRS. LEOTA M. PEPPER, No. 114 Grange Street.

What Will You Do If the Farmer Goes on Strike?

In the troublous period since the signing of the armistice, labor in the United States has been involved in a series of strikes, capital "has shown a disposition to strike in the sense of not seeking investments that are essential to the country," and now the postoffice department warns us the farmers threaten to strike. "The time is very near," says one letter to the department, "when we farmers will have to curtail production and raise only what we need for our own use, and let the other fellows look out for themselves." "I have just finished figuring up what the eggs, poultry, and cream that I sold last year brought me, and I will not be in the business next year," says another. Because the price of what the farmer sells is going down and the price of what he buys is going up, he is looking, it seems, with envious and resentful eyes upon the city dweller who "works only six or eight hours a day and makes two or three times as much as the farmer," whose working-day is from twelve to sixteen hours."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week, February 14, presents the views of the leading farm journals upon the replies received from farmrs by the postoffice department to a questionnaire which it recently sent out to two hundred thousand agriculturists. There is information in this article that deeply concerns millions of city dwellers, and the warning sounded is not to be lightly ignored.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MacDONALD COLLEGE.

A WOMAN'S WORKSHOP.

Recent years have seen great improvements in factories. They are better lighted, better ventilated, and better arranged than formerly. Two reasons are given for this: An awakened public opinion; and a growing conviction on the part of the employer of labor that it pays to surround the worker with good living conditions, because the returns are greater. If it pays to surround a woman in a factory with fresh air, plenty of light and working conditions, is it not also worth while to have good conditions for the worker in the home? The homemaker's workshop is her kitchen, and here fresh air, good lighting, and convenient arrangement are essential. The work tools must be near at hand. If it is found necessary to go to the pantry for a saucepan, to the shed for a broom and dustpan, to the store room for some flour, to the cellar for butter, and it may be to some other part of the house for something else, much of a woman's energy is used up by the time she has assembled her materials and utensils. A carpenter is not ashamed of his tools and they hang in his shop in full view, then why should a woman keep her working tools concealed? Is it that she fears that the kitchen will be all cluttered up and therefore not ready for visitors? This is not the purpose of a kitchen.

The working machinery should be related wisely. What is most closely related in activity should be related in space. Table, stove and sink must be near together, and in doing the work there should be as little crossing of routes as possible.

A woman should not have to stand where her shadow will fall upon her working space. The strong light must fall, as the artist makes it fall in a picture, upon the centre of interest; and this is upon the table, the sink, and the stove, where the work is being carried on.

A steady stream of fresh air must come to replace the heated air which in most kitchens during some part of the day is laden with the odors of the food being cooked. In many houses the ventilation comes from the opened door, and in climate such as ours this is fraught with danger in midwinter when cold gusts of outdoor air fall upon the heated worker. The woman who carries the comfort of the family in her hands, should have a kitchen conveniently arranged, well lighted and well ventilated.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

BUCHANNAN-FULTON.

A quiet wedding took place in King Street Presbyterian Church at 4 o'clock Wednesday, when Miss Florence Ethel Fulton and William Buchannan, both of Hensall were united in marriage.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. R. McIntosh, B. A., B. D.

The bride wore a modish serge, with toque and lynx furs, and carried a corsage bouquet of rosebuds and violets.

After the ceremony the party repaired to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. R. Colbert, Ingleside Place, where a dainty lunch was served.

After spending some time in Toronto and eastern points, Mr. and Mrs. Buchannan will reside in their new home in Hensall.

HOW TO DARKEN GREY HAIR

A Cincinnati Barber Tells How to Make a Remedy for Grey Hair.

Mr. Frank Harbaugh of Cincinnati, O., who has been a barber for more than forty years recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken grey hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound and ¼ ounce glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a grey-haired person look twenty years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the most delicate scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

THE STORY OF SWEET POPPY.

Sweet Poppy was the only little sister her five Boston terrier brothers had, and how proud of her those brothers were. Indeed, they had reason to be proud of her, for she was a very handsome puppy, with her dark, satin-like coat, her big dark eyes, her little twisty tail, and the prettiest white shirt front, white socks, and white part down her face. Poppy's master and mistress were very proud of her, too, for she was a splendid puppy, and would some day be a show dog, they thought.

Now, knowing all this, made Poppy vain, and conceited. She began to think her brothers were not nearly so nice as she was, and treated them badly. Of course, like all good brothers, they overlooked her naughty ways, and kept on thinking a great deal of her.

One by one, Poppy's brothers were sold to new homes. They were indeed sad to leave their little sister, but Poppy did not care. She thought only of herself and the good times she was having.

But, by and by, when the last brother had gone and Poppy was left with no one to play with but her old Mother Janie and her Aunt Daisy, she missed her playmates and became very lonely. They had gone to new homes, she thought; well, so would she. So that very afternoon she ran away.

"Where are you going, Poppy?" called one of her brothers who now lived nearby, and chanced to see her passing.

"I am going out into the world," Poppy answered.

"Stay and play with me for a while," her brother pleaded.

Poppy played with him for a few minutes, and then went farther down the street to play with another brother who lived there. But she soon tired of him, too, and went on her travels once more. That night she discovered another brother and stayed all night at his new home.

"You had better go back to Mother Janie," this brother told her. "I heard my new mistress talking to our old mistress over the telephone, and she told her you were here, so they will soon come for you."

Now, this was not at all to Poppy's liking, for she had seen little of the world. So she waited her chance and ran away before she could be taken home.

No sooner was Poppy out in the street than she was spied by a man with a suitcase.

"Just the pup for my little boy," said the man, and he picked Poppy up and slipped her in his overcoat pocket. It was very dark and cramped in there, but Poppy soon went to sleep.

When Poppy wakened she was on a train. She cried, to let her captor know she was awake, and he brought her out of his pocket. The rumbling of the train soon made Poppy's head ache, and she began to wish she had stayed home.

Who should Poppy spy in a seat nearby but one of her brothers. She remembered that he was the last one to be sold, and was to live in a big city far-away. That lady with the little girl was his new mistress, she guessed. Poppy tried to cry out to her brother, but the man, who had picked her up, boxed her ears and she was frightened into silence. At the next stop the lady and little girl with Poppy's brother got off the train. How lonely and frightened Poppy was then. She did not like this man who had her at all, but it looked as if she would have to stay with him. If only her brothers could come to her rescue she thought, but they were all far away.

But Poppy had one other brother. His new mistress was an actress, and would you believe it, she got on with her pup at the very next station. She spied Poppy right away.

"Why it's little Poppy," she cried, as she ran forward. "How did you get here?" And then when she spied the man who had Poppy she cried out in surprise. The man was her brother, too.

The man told his sister how he had got Poppy. "I thought she wasn't a good puppy and didn't have a home," he said. "If I had known the truth I would not have taken her."

"Well, then, you must send her back," the actress-lady said.

So it was that Poppy arrived home in a box. How glad she was to be safe home again, and how she wished she had treated her brothers better, for if she had not had so many brothers, she might never have been discovered, and might have lived unhappy for the rest of her days.

The High Cost of Sickness—Economy of the H. M. F. B.

Most effective is the hot mustard foot bath in the early stage of any acute respiratory infection.

In order to obtain the best results the H. M. F. B. should be taken in bed, which implies a good nurse. Let us remark here that the best course one can possibly follow when coming down with such an illness is probably to get into bed and have a trained nurse to give the hot mustard foot bath, even if she remains only an hour or two. Any good nurse could show you how to administer a H. M. F. B. much better than I can tell you how, but this is the usual technic:

Strip the patient and put him in bed between blankets. Give him a large drink of anything very hot—hot lemonade, hot broth, or even hot water. Half fill a foot tub or other roomy receptacle with water a trifle hotter than your hand will endure, and stir a tablespoonful of mustard flour in it. Let the patient lie on his back with the knees flexed and his feet in the tub under the blankets. Pile on several blankets. If he swears about the water burning his feet, swear right back at him. If he smiles, smile back. Give him his due, but keep adding a dipperful of hotter water now and then and dipping out a dipperful of the mustard water. This keeps the patient interested every minute.

As soon as the bath is under way, ring out a cloth in cold water and place it on the patient's forehead. Change this from time to time, to keep him from becoming hotheaded.

Keep the bath going fifteen to thirty minutes. Steady the tub with one hand under the blankets if the patient is nervous, and keep laving the water up over the legs.

Give him another pint of hot drink before the bath is over.

Do not permit him to throw off any of the blankets. It is necessary to be a trifle mean and determined about this, because just before perspiration becomes established the patient strongly yearns to uncover and get cool. Keep the covers tucked close about his neck and let him tell his troubles to the marines.

Give the patient now all the cold water he cares for. But see that he remains under the covers for an hour, whether he perspires freely or not.

At the end of an hour or two, remove the blankets, dry the patient with towels, put on a nice dry nightie, and toss him good-bye—on your fingers. Let him sleep it off.

Should Mrs. Gamp happen in assure her there is no danger now, even if the patient uncovers. However, if she is worried, you may ease her mind by bathing the patient with alcohol to "close the pores" again—it will do no particular harm one way or the other.

The H. M. F. B. is equally good for inflammatory earache and for the relief of the pain of so-called "ulcerated tooth."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Hernia and Exercise.

I am 49½ years old, and have a slight hernia. Can I safely do the somersaults and take the setting-up exercises you recommend for sedentary persons? If so, should I wear my truss while doing so? (C. W.)

ANSWER—Ask your doctor. In a general way I think that setting-up exercises and somersaults would be rather beneficial for one with hernia. The truss should be worn all the time, if at all. At least it should be worn constantly while you are out of bed.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Here Is Comic.

Here is Comic coming again, Miss Grey. Have been a wallflower for a whole year and believe there is more fun being in the whirl than looking on, so here I am with one or two bits I have not seen on the Page. Have certainly got more than a bit off it. I believe last time I wrote I answered Soldier's Wife re sterilizing fruit jars by putting salt in them before putting away. We have used salt for many years, but lately heard of another method. When jars with rubber, glass and ring are well washed and rinsed, put them in the warming oven until well dried, put together and put away. When needed again, put jars alone into the oven, when hot they are ready for use. This method came from a family of six, who put up from one to two hundred jars of fruit every year.

Here is an idea I developed some time ago, and I so thoroughly enjoy it, I'm going to pass it on: If a tea cosy can keep tea warm so long, why not have one to keep the bread warm while rising also? When I got the idea planned in my mind, I ripped and pressed a man's overcoat, measured my kneading pan, cut a paper pattern from measure, laid the pattern on large piece of coat and cut the outside, top and side pieces first. Then cut inside piece the same, and for filling I basted closely all the cuttings, edge to edge, on to the inside piece until it was three-ply, leaving a seam all around both top and side. Join side to top, leaving end of side open, as the dish is larger at the top. Then I basted the pieces for the outside together and stitched them around on the machine. I put the two tops together, basted them closely, draped the sides and hemmed them. Then laid the pattern on a piece of wool blanket, cut it out, and joined the parts and hemmed it on to the inside of the cosy, put tapes on the end of sides to tie when in use, and another on the top to tie up when not in use. A mat a little larger than the bottom of the dish, eight-ply, and bound, completed the cosy. When not in use roll it up and tie, then put into a bag made for the purpose and hang it up. This sounds like a lot of work, but I made mine in one afternoon, and have enjoyed the comfort of it every week for nearly three eyars. Any stout goods with blanket or batting filling would do as well as a big coat. I always set my yeast in a one-quart fruit jar, and made a cosy to fit it also. Will send along the recipe for yeast and bread shortly. It may help some.

Perhaps this little chat may help Mrs. M. with her babe. Speak gentle; it is better far to rule by love than fear. Don't slap—you just slap your temper into her and teach her to slap her dolly and others; don't tell her there is a boo-boo man, or that you will give her away, or that you will whip when you don't intend to. Foolish sayings like these are fibs, and is teaching the child that the mother is not to be trusted; it also teaches the child to tell fibs. Don't say and do things you don't want the child to do. Be patient, attract the child's attention from the desired object, talk reason. If that won't do, then spank on the spanking place. My plan was to have a small skate strap; ever so little of that was enough to hurt the feelings; then to show the strap occasionally was sufficient for peace. Babies' dispositions are so different, that each mother needs patience to try different methods of management. When I would appear to be beaten (for babies are so long winded), I would get out of the room long enough to cool off, and think out some ruse. Patience here means "tact," and tact means the more faults we cure in ourselves, the less we have to cure in children. I certainly pity the poor little tots that get slapped and then some, for doing just what their parents teach them—to slap—'tis wicked. Tell no naughty deeds to daddy. Keep his smile unclouded for baby.

I dropped a dollar on the H. C. L. last week by taking a sharp jackknife and ripping the silk of two of Laddie's collars, and put on fresh silk cut from a hankie he had no use for, and put them together again. Silk enough in the hankie for five more collars. So will drop the price into the C. H. fund.

Was pleased to see the community kitchen explained. COMIC.

Ans.—How lovely of you to send your "dropped" dollar to the fund! Your letter is so full of good thoughts I couldn't condense it. We appreciate your suggestions and contribution very much.

Just Come to Canada.

Dear Miss Grey.—I do enjoy reading your Mail-Box and have obtained several useful hints from it; am quite a newcomer, as I have only been in Canada four months, having married a Canadian, and come here to settle from England.

Inclosed is 10 cents for the hospital, and may I loan the stocking-foot pattern, as my husband is wearing his out pretty fast, on the farm.

I am delighted with the country, and everyone has been most kind to me.

Am very fond of poetry, and enjoy the quotations from different authors, and hope they will continue.

Inclosed stamped, addressed envelope. With all good wishes for 1920. From FELIX STOWE.

Ans.—We are very glad to welcome you to our Mail-Box and to know you are happy in Canada. Glad, too, you like poetry—one is never lonely when there are book friends at hand.

Worth While Books.

I am sorry I do not know more about Charlotte Bronte's family, except she had a sister, and one brother named Bramwell. I have friends living in Haworth, and I used to visit there often, and Charlotte Bronte was like lots more good authors, not appreciated until they have passed beyond. I saw where one of the readers signed herself as Jane Eyre. I wonder if she has read the book? I have read it more than once in my younger days, and was not someone asking about books? Well, anyone who wastes time and eyesight on any of Laura Jean Libbey trash, I am sorry their mind is not capable of reading anything better.

Inclosed find ten cents for the Children's Hospital. LIGHTCLIFFE.

Ans.—I often think perhaps our first choice of reading is dependent on what comes our way. It is very essential to guide youthful tastes and create a desire for the best in literature. Thank you for your splendid letter, Lightcliffe. It is one of many good ones received on the day I am writing this.

Cosy Corner Chats.

I noticed some time since one of the Boxites asking why her Christmas cactus did not bloom. I have found it a good plan to pinch off the new growths in the fall, when I bring the plants in off the porch for the winter, and in a short time the buds take their places. BETSY BABBITT.

Some recipes sent to the Mail-Box are good. Have a book with a good lot of them in it. Putting the recipes in one column was fine. Many a helpful hint have I got from your page. You certainly have a great deal of patience in answering all the letters, as you do. The answers are very interesting. MARCELLA.

I have got some good useful help from your page before so I thought maybe you could help me again. I have a feather quilt (cretonne covered), and the feathers will not stay in. They spread all over the bedclothes and get under the bed, in an awful mess. Is there anything to keep them from working their way through? MRS. B.

Could you or any of the readers suggest a good way to fix over a kitchen which is sealed with narrow boards and painted? Would like to paper it, but am afraid paper would crack. Hoping to see this in print. Will sign my name, SUNSHINE.

Like many of the Boxites, I, too, am a regular bookworm. Miss Grey, have you read 'Les Miserables" by Victor Hugo, and "Tale of Two Cities," by Charles Dickens? Didn't you find them interesting? They are my two favorite books, and their respective authors, along with Sir Gilbert Parker and Alexander Dumas, are my favorite authors. In the line of authoresses I have no particular favorites, but prefer the works of Myrtle Reed and Mary Roberts Rhinehart. How many of the Boxites enjoyed "The Amazing Interlude" by Mrs. Rhinehart? I thought it exceedingly fine. Well, Miss Grey, I am afraid I have taken up enough valuable space already, but will call again some time when I can be of more use. XANTIPPE.

Ans.—I do like your choice of books and authors, Xantippe. "The Amazing Interlude" is one of the loveliest of war stories. So glad you enjoyed it, too. "No good or beautiful thing ever dies."

I was interested in noting a remedy for smallpox given in the Mail-Box recently. My old home was near an Indian reserve, and this cure was tried and proven among the Indians and white people: Pour a quart of boiling water over a quarter of a pound of cream of tartar, and when cool allow patient to drink freely of this preparation. The disease germs will be killed at once.

A good way to use old umbrellas is to remove the broken framework and you will have a nice, fancy-headed stick for stirring a grate fire.

I have been reading your Mail-Box of late because it seems to be developing into a column of real value to women, for a while it threatened to be one prolonged, useless argument about country and city life. It's a relief to have this discontinued, don't you think so. Miss Grey? IVY.

Ans.—Yes, I agree that it is a relief, because as you say, Ivy, it was somewhat valueless and prolonged. Thank you, and come again.

Hello, Ura Kid's Pal. I read your letter in today's paper. I never thought about the bother I was going to cause you; won't you please forgive me? I'll admit I'm real thoughtless, especially about other people sometimes. Please don't bother to give it another thought. I couldn't for a moment think of taking any of your money which I had not earned. That would be common begging, wouldn't it? And anyhow, there are so many charities of one kind and another to dispose of one's surplus cash that it would be very selfish for me to take money for the purpose I had instituted giving help to in the line of clothing. If a person has no earthly use of something, and someone else can put it to a good purpose, I don't call that begging. Do you, dear friends? Are we not living for each other, and do we realize that it is quite possible for the richest person to become a pauper over night? To whom much is given, of the same shall much be required. CORNSTALK.

This is the first call I have made on you, but have been a constant reader of your Page for a long time. I see in Friday's paper where Fair 17 was asking for readers' views on entering the movies. We know some people say it is a low position. But I myself wouldn't feel I had a right to judge so harshly. We can find good in anything if we look for it, for it depends a good bit on ourselves. But what does Fair 17's family think of it—especially mother? She is your best friend, little girl.

THE CLOUD WITH A SILVER LINING.

It is nearly a year since I entered your sanctum, and was so cordially received that I resolved to return soon. But all last summer space was at a premium, and I refrained, and now that you have come into your own again you seem to be fairly deluged with letters. I never miss reading one of them, and find them very helpful (sometimes amusing). I want to thank Slim for her graham bread recipe. I have long looked for one without molasses in it, and since trying Slim's, use it all the time. Thank Peggy, too, for her cheap cocoa cake recipe. We liked it fine. I passed those two on to my city friends, and they were appreciated. I think it was Etak that was puzzled about what to tell her children about Santa Claus, and am inclosing a clipping from a local paper that I think worth perusing. If there is not room to have it published please pass it along to Etak. Thank you very much, friend Cynthia, for information re community kitchens. Wouldn't it be fine, Boxites, if we could all sit down to our meals without knowing what we were to have, but know it would be good anyhow? Why we would be as well off as the men.

Somebody wanted information about a cactus. We have an old one, quite large—measures 3 feet across, and has over 100 flowers on it. When warm weather comes, we put it out, pot and all, under a shade tree, or beside the garden fence, and pay no attention to it all summer. When the cold weather comes, bring it in, and the buds will appear in about two weeks. A friend got a slip off a large one last summer, and her slip had six flowers, but the old one, from which the slip was taken, did not flower this year, which shows that the slip does not need to be taken from a flowering plant. Was expecting to see a couplet from Burns for your headline on his anniversary. You can't be Scotch, but your are a wonder. The way you keep all parties coming back and with so many different views. Must quit or you will never let me come back. Please may I change my pen-name to SATELLITE.

Ans.—Sent the "Santa Claus" clipping to Etak. I wish we had room for it, but am 'frald it is impossible at present. Am sorry I overlooked Robbie Burns—it never must happen again, because I really am Scotch.

I saw in the Mail-Box last evening that Alice Blue was inquiring for words of an old song, "Widow by the Sea." There were two songs in my young day known as "Cottage by the Sea," and a this one has the "widow" idea, it may be the one. It, like many of the sentimental songs, has no literary merit, and is very "illogical," but the mournful air accompanying it used to make it a favorite with many. AUNT MARIA.

I think that's a splendid idea of just printing the cheery parts out of every letter, and the "Cosy Corner Chats" is a nice name for it. JUST BETTY.

Ans.—Your farm has a very pretty name. If it isn't a secret, write and tell us how you named it.

I see where some of the readers want to know how to clean the nickel on their stoves. Take a damp cloth each morning and rub off, then polish with dry cloth or piece of paper, as it does very well, and to make the blackening stick on the stove mix a little bit of vinegar, soap suds and a pinch of sugar (brown) to any kind of stove polish. What's the matter, Lonely? 'Frald to pop out 'cause it's leap year?

MUTT AND JEFF—Jeff, Old Dear, Is Jolly Well Right at That (Copyright, 1920, by H. C. Fisher. Trade mark registered in Canada.) BY BUD FISHER

Win Over Welland! And Then Where?

Juniors' Trip Upwards May Strike in Any Direction After Tonight's Game—Making Sure of the First, However.

There are a bunch of possibilities in store for the juniors if they succeed in annexing the Welland group tonight. Where do they go next? Nobody knows just yet, but there are several possible trips, and the most likely seems to be a trip to Toronto again, but this time to play and not watch a game. U. T. S. juniors or possibly the ringed crew from Parkdale would be their dish if the Toronto trip materializes—tasty or otherwise.

For tonight, however, their main job will be to make sure of a ticket for any further trips into the O. H. A. Welland team are not by any means easy picking. In Mike Maloney at centre, a diminutive, but pesky, little hockey artist, the fans will see a player who takes them all, big or little. Vicks on the defence is good, too, and furnishes trouble at all times. The Welland crew have a goalkeeper, too, they fancy as one of the neat, minding nets in the O. H. A., whom they could not use last game, but who may be in tonight's pastime.

The locals had a good fast workout last night and went to it with all sorts of pep. They are going out tonight to get a lead good and early in the game, so they can set their minds to rest, for the rest of the evening. Burgess' condition is much better, and he may possibly come on for a short period. Pring, however, has been playing a great brand of hockey the last two games, and that end will be looked after all right.

Preston Kids Take First In N. H. L. From Galt 4 To 2

Galt Draws First Blood, But Winners Went Out In Front From That On.

PRESTON, Feb. 12.—In the first of the home-and-home games played here tonight to decide the district in the junior series of the Northern League resulted in a win for Preston by a score of 4 to 2. The game was very fast from start to finish, and the teams were evenly matched. Galt scored the first, but the locals soon evened up and took the lead.

At the end of the first period the score was 3 to 1 in favor of Preston. Each team scored one in the second period, while the third was played with no score. Both goal tenders played a good game. Roth, Woodley and Ware were the pick of the locals. Skelly and George were the pick of the Galt team. Line-up:

Galt		Preston
Brison	Goal	Flegg
Gardiner	Defence	Fink
Skelly	Defence	Clark

Brock McAuley, Brisbin of Harriston and Guidi of Owen Sound Undefeated.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Feb. 12.—With the first round in all competitions, and the second in the Taylor and Pringle finished, Brisbin of Harriston, Brock McAuley of Southampton and Guidi of Owen Sound are still eligible for the three trophies. Junior Club Explains Higher Cost of Hockey

The Junior management find it necessary to raise the general admission from 35 cents to 50 for tonight's game. This is not done on account of the game being a semi-final fixture, but to overcome the heavy expense in bringing the Welland team here. The splendid support of the local fans is fully appreciated, and were the rink larger and more seats available this would not be necessary.

Western U. Beats Y Five in Their First O. B. A. Clash

34-19 Score Arrived At Over Hard Aggressive Game—Y Team Still Minus Valuable Players—Owls and Thistles Were Beaten.

Western U. accomplished the defeat of the Y. O. B. A. Intermediates at the Y. Fym last night by a score of 34 to 19. The half-time score was 16 to 10 in favor of the collegians, and up to that time the going was unusually even, despite the score.

The Y. team, though minus the services of their two best men, gave the Varsity a hard game for the whole session, and later on in the season, with both teams up to the mark, the two would furnish a hard game of basketball.

McGeoch was the high scorer of the game with 12 points, and Tommy Mascari of the Triangles was right after him with nine. Both teams passed passed well, but Varsity were deadly accurate in their shooting.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy, Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little bisurated magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bisurated magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little bisurated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and, moreover, the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion. —Advt.

SHE HAD SUFFERED FOR ELEVEN YEARS

Only Weighed 100 Pounds—Elijah Mitchell Praises Tanlac for Restoring Wife's Health.

"As long as I live I will praise Tanlac for what it has done for my wife," said Elijah Mitchell, Oyster Pond, Jeddere, Canada, recently. Continuing, Mr. Mitchell said:

"For the past eleven years my wife has been in extremely poor health. Everything she ate disagreed with her, and she suffered terribly with indigestion. She would bloat badly with gas after every meal and complained of a heavy feeling just like her food had formed into a lump, and she would have the worst sort of cramping pains. She was bothered with constipation so bad she had to always be taking some sort of laxative and at times suffered with intense headaches. She was so nervous the least little noise out of the ordinary would completely upset her, and she would tremble all over and become weak after the least little excitement, and was so restless at night she could get but little sleep. She had fallen off from 140 to 100 pounds, and was in such a weak condition and so badly rundown she was about as near a physical wreck as anyone ever gets to be and live. She would very often have to give up entirely and go to bed, and at one time was confined to her bed for four months.

"She had taken many different medicines, but none of them seemed to do her a particle of good. Well, I had been reading so much in the Halifax newspaper of the good Tanlac was doing others that I got her some, and while she has only taken five bottles, it is simply remarkable how it has built her up.

"She is gaining in weight and strength every day, and looks like a different person, and she says she feels better in every way than she has in years. She can eat anything she wants, and never suffer any bad after effects; her nerves are getting in fine condition, and she can sleep as peacefully as a child all night long. She never complains of a pain of any kind any more, and has not had a headache since she started taking Tanlac. I was badly worried over her condition, and I cannot tell you how thankful we both are for the good Tanlac has done her."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

Stecher used principally the head lock and scissors, while Szbyszko relied upon the toe hold.

NO MATTER HOW BAD THE COMPLEXION

Stuart's Calcium Wafers Provide the Wonderful Calcium Sulfide That Gives the Skin What It Requires To Prevent Pimples, Blackheads and Such Skin Disfigurements.

The pink freshness of a natural complexion is greatly admired these days because of the too general use of rouge, powders, creams and other make-ups. It goes without saying that a natural, beautiful complexion has health beneath it and with health is vivacity and leadership in social and other activities. No matter how bright and active one may be, a face covered with pimples is a handicap. Never before was the question of healthful appearance so much in evidence. Get rid of pimples, blackheads, roughness, redness and itching rash by using Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They contain calcium sulphide, considered by scientists absolutely essential to clear, healthy skin.

If you are discouraged you can now cheer up. No matter how bad your skin may be from such conditions Stuart's Calcium Wafers ought to work wonders with it. And then good-bye to blackheads, pimples, boils, rash, and a muddy, sallow complexion.

So don't be blue, don't despair, get a 50-cent box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers today at any drug store in the United States, and soon you may have as beautiful a complexion as you ever wished for.

LINDSAY MIDGETS BEAT HEAVY T. C. C. CREW IN SLUSH 6--5

LINDSAY, Feb. 12.—On ice that was heavy with slush, the Lindsay Midgets battled with the Toronto Canoe Club Giants here tonight for one hour, the Midget winning by 6 to 5. The game was a veritable battle, both teams being handicapped by the heavy ice, and the visitors, who greatly outweighed the Midgets, used their weight effectively, and at times Referee Whitehead incurred much displeasure by not ruling with a stiff hand. The visitors scored first. White working in a long shot. Lindsay evened before time. The second period ended 3 to 3, but was Lindsay's as far as the play went. Moore in goal for the visitors stopped dozens in the final.

FILMS SHOW AMERICAN SKATER'S CLAIM INCORRECT

Christiania, Feb. 13.—Films taken of the 10,000 metre ice-skating race on Sunday between Oscar Mathieson of Christiania and Robert McLean of Chicago, show that the flagman at the curve where McLean took the inner instead of the outer track gave the American skater the proper signal. It is therefore held here that McLean's claim that an incorrect signal given by an official at the curve was the cause of his mistake in taking the wrong course is untenable.

GRANITES BEAT PARKDALE.

Toronto, Feb. 12.—Granites defeated Parkdale 9 to 2 in a senior O. H. A. game here tonight, and thereby took the lead in group two. The winners only occasionally showed championship form. Parkdale were without Muston and McCaffery, two of their best players and were at no time able to do themselves justice.

Granites' victory gives Kitchener a chance to tie up the group.

Harry Watson played a great game for Granites, and Aird and Jeffery shot true and hard.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advt.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

By strengthening the nerves, weak, tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health.

CAUTION—Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.—Advt.

ALLIES WILL INSIST THAT GERMANS BE PUT ON TRIAL

Entente's Position To Be Outlined in New Note To Germany.

London, Feb. 12.—The allied supreme council today, after discussing the situation arising from Germany's violent protest over the extradition, agreed on the question of insisting on these demands, it was stated tonight.

It had been reported that there were differences between France and Great Britain as to whether the demands should be modified. It is probable that the position of the Allies will be set forth soon in a statement. This may take the form of another communication to Germany, or possibly one to Holland. As far as can be ascertained, however, nothing definite has been decided regarding any further steps to be taken toward Holland.

International Exchange.

The financial council, in dealing with other questions, decided that financial experts of the allied governments, many of whom are here, should meet soon to discuss the problem of international exchange, in an effort to devise a plan for its stabilization.

Date Is Not Settled.

It was not settled when the first meetings of these experts should be held.

The council finally decided that its headquarters should remain in Paris. For the convenience of the British governmental authorities, however, it will continue to sit here for the present, probably through the coming fortnight. It is expected that Premiers Lloyd George and Nitti will be in constant attendance. Premier Millerand will probably be called home before long, in which case France will be represented by Philippe Berthelot, political director of the foreign office, and Paul Cambon, ambassador to Great Britain.

Although Marshal Foch and Gen. Weygand arrived at No. 10 Downing Street just before the first session of the council today, they did not attend either of the two meetings held. Belgium was represented by Premier Delacroix.

By Dr. Miles, the Great Specialist, Who Sends a $3.75 Trial Treatment Free.

Many Report Cured After Doctors Failed.

At first no disease is apparently more harmless than dropsy; a little swelling of the eyelids, hands, feet, ankles or abdomen. Finally great shortness of breath, cough, faint spells, sometimes nausea and vomiting, and a lingering and wretched death if the dropsy is not cured.

Dr Miles has been known as a leading specialist in these diseases for 30 years. His liberal offer of a $3.75 Treatment free to all sufferers is certainly worthy of serious consideration. You may never have such an opportunity again.

The Grand Dropsy Treatment consists of four dropsy remedies in one, also Tonic Tablets and Pura-Laxa for removing the water. This treatment is specially prescribed for each patient and is three times as successful as that of most physicians. It usually relieves the first day, and removes swelling in six days in most cases. Delay is dangerous.

LONDON MAN SAID TO BE RUM RUNNER ESCAPES FROM JAIL

First Prisoner Lost by Chief Griffiths of Walkerville in Forty-Five Years.

WINDSOR, Feb. 12.—Observing his 70th birthday today, Chief of Police Griffith of Walkerville lost his first prisoner in 45 years' service, when Albert Saunders of London, Ont., held on a charge of breach of the Ontario temperance act, escaped from custody tonight, after picking the lock on his cell and sampling the chief's cigars, which he had left on his desk in a room adjoining the cells.

Saunders is thought by the police to be one of an organized gang of rumrunners, for following his plea of "guilty," before Magistrate Miers in court this afternoon, he is said to have confessed to assisting in the operation of a system by which liquor would be procured in London, brought to Walkerville, where it would be hidden until the breaking up of the Detroit River in the spring, when it would be taken across to Michigan by rowboat. The gang is said to have just opened operations, which were brought to a speedy termination this afternoon with Saunders' arrest by Sergeant Birchell. A dragnet has been thrown around the border by the police, who expect to locate the fugitive in a few hours.

C. P. R. EXTENSIONS.

Although intimating that extensions on a wide scale were contemplated for the windsor terminal of the C. P. R., Grant Hall, vice-president of that road, following his tour of inspection this afternoon would make no definite statement tonight, when approached by the Advertiser. He would not even satisfy question of members of the chamber of commerce who entertained him while here, and who were anxious to know what would be done with regard to providing better facilities for handling freight here. Plans now under consideration by officials of the road had not been definitely settled, Mr. Hall said, and he did not feel at liberty to discuss them until such time as definite action had been determined.

GERMAN ARMY STILL 400,000 STRONG, AND EQUIPMENT IS GOOD

General Niessel Says Government Can Carry Out Pact.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—The German army is still 400,000 strong, according to a report received by the committee of foreign affairs today from Gen. Niessel, head of the Baltic mission. In addition, there are 100,000 policing forces, officers and non-commissioned officers Germany also is well supplied with tanks, machine-guns and aeroplanes. In the neutral zone alone on the right bank of the Rhine the policing forces number 15,000.

Gen. Niessel adds that the German minister of defence, Noske, is in the hands of the general staff, and that the German Government is capable, if willing, of obtaining execution of the treaty clauses by the country.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—Edmund de Rothchilds, father of Georges Mandel, until recently secretary to former Premier Clemenceau, and now member of the Chamber of Deputies for the Gironde, died here yesterday. GOT RID OF THE COUGH THAT STICKS

Some coughs seem hard to shake off—stick right to you in spite of all you do to get rid of them.

Those are the kind of coughs that are dangerous—that weaken the lungs so that the germs of consumption find a ready foothold.

We know of no remedy that will cure stubborn coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It allays the inflammation, soothes the irritation, and heals the diseased mucous lining of the lungs and bronchial tubes.

Mrs. Leo. Allen, Petite de Grat Bridge, N.S., writes: "Last winter I had an awful cough that kept me in the house for over two months. I tried several cough remedies, but got no relief. I was almost discouraged when a grocer here offered me a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. After taking that one my coughing began to cease. I took two more, and they cured me completely."

Get the genuine Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c.; manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FREE PANTS Saturday"

When I came to London this week I had instructions from the Scotland Woolen Mills to give London people one solid week of the greatest clothing values this continent ever saw. I was going to hold a week's festival in return for the splendid business done by our London store.

But I failed. There weren't enough model Suits to go around. I wired my head designer: "What can you do for London?" He wired back: "Shops slack for next three weeks before spring rush. Must keep our tailors busy. More spring woolens than we have room for. Pay you to give extra PANTS to get immediate orders."

That's Why I'm Doing This!

In three weeks we will have to ask our customers to wait for Suits. My next shipment of goods is going to cost me 25 per cent. more. As soon as we get busy my tailors will demand more wages.

Clothing Prices Are Going To The Sky

MEN! BUY NOW! BUY QUICK, before prices jump!

Think what a tremendous opportunity you have to-morrow. A FREE PAIR OF PANTS with every Suit, just like handing you from $10 to $15. And you get Scotland Woolen Mills fabrics and styles and tailoring—TO YOUR MEASURE.

I've never given value like this before. I was the pioneer of big value in tailored clothes. No one has ever been able to approach my values yet.

But in the next twenty years I do not expect to see this value duplicated in London.

MEN! Take the advice of a man who knows the clothing business inside and out. BUY NOW! Get these FREE PANTS. Buy your Spring Suit. Buy next Fall's Suit. If you can possibly afford it, buy three Suits. It will pay you.

ONE DAY ONLY—Our store will be crowded. If you are late you may not get measured.

I Want You Out-of-Town Men to Share in This

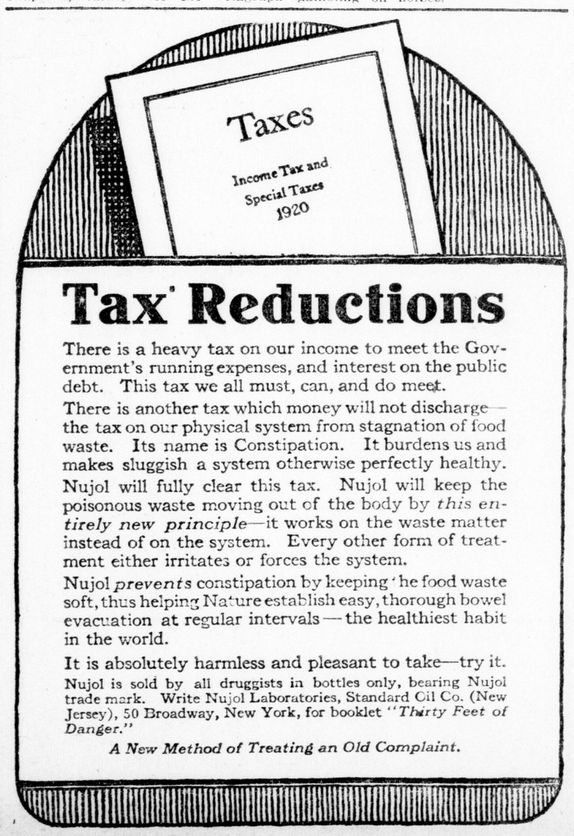

Not one tailor in a hundred gives a thought to men outside the city. I DO. You are friends of mine. I don't meet very many of you. But I want to hand you $10 or $15 in the shape of FREE PANTS along with these London men.

HERE'S MY OFFER:

Send in a small deposit. We'll send by return mail a beautiful set of samples, style plates, measuring chart, tape line. You can talk it over with your wife—take your time, pick out the suiting you like. If you don't like any—back comes every cent of your money. If you buy, you get the FREE PANTS. But write at once, because I can't hold this offer open.

Tax Reductions

There is a heavy tax on our income to meet the Government's running expenses, and interest on the public debt. This tax we all must, can, and do meet.

There is another tax which money will not discharge—the tax on our physical system from stagnation of food waste. Its name is Constipation. It burdens us and makes sluggish a system otherwise perfectly healthy.

Nujol will fully clear this tax. Nujol will keep the poisonous waste moving out of the body by this entirely new principle—it works on the waste matter instead of on the system. Every other form of treatment either irritates or forces the system.

Nujol prevents constipation by keeping the food waste soft, thus helping Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take—try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in bottles only, bearing Nujol trade mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger."

Rheumatic Pains

Quickly Eased By Penetrating Hamlin's Wizard Oil

A safe and harmless preparation to relieve the pains of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lame Back and Lumbago is Hamlin's Wizard Oil. It penetrates quickly, drives out soreness, and limbers up stiff, aching joints and muscles.

You will find almost daily uses for it in cases of sudden mishaps or accidents such as sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just as reliable, too, for earache, toothache, croup and colic.

Get it from druggists for 30 cents. If not satisfied return the bottle and get your money back.

Ever constipated or have sick headache? Just try Wizard Liver Whips, pleasant little pink pills, 30 cents. Guaranteed.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¾ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advt.

WANT MORE PATROL BOATS ON LAKE ERIE; ENFORCE REGULATIONS

Lake Erie Fishermen's Association Ask For Government Commission.

CHARGE DISMISSED

West Lorne Man Cleared of Charge of Stealing Whiskey.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 12. — The Lake Erie fishermen's convention closed this afternoon after the shortest session since its inception in 1915. The delegates were somewhat alarmed over the influenza epidemic, and many of the speakers were unable to attend owing to illness so that this year's convention was not as large as that of past years. The attendance throughout the convention, however, was good, and many interesting matters were dealt with.

H. Hinriechs Jun. of Erie, Pa., gave an instructive address this afternoon on the proper care of fish, so as to avoid a herringless Lake Erie. He declared that many of the methods adopted by fishermen to make big hauls are nothing less than an absolute destruction of the fishing industry. Fish that are immature and not fit for market purposes are killed by millions annually by the use of trap nets, declared the speaker, and if there is any law possible to prevent this it should be passed at the earliest possible date.

Mr. Hinriechs was emphatic in his statement that unless more care is taken the fishermen will be unable to make a catch. He urged the adoption of some measure making it compulsory for every fishing port to provide an allotment of spawn each season to the nearest hatchery and in this way replenish the supply.

COMMITTEE NAMED.

The convention appointed Reeve N. S. Cornell of Port Stanley, A. E. Crew of Merlin, and Capt. Robinson of Port Dover, a committee to present to the Government the resolutions adopted at the meeting.

It was also decided to ask the Provincial Government to appoint a commission, not including any members of the Fisnermen's Association, to make a tour of the lake shore with a view to the revision of the present regulations governing fishing in Lake Erie. They also ask for further restrictions on gill net fishing, the pound net men alleging that the gill nets are often placed within the ten-mile limit.

The Government will also be asked to place three more patrol boats on the lake to enforce the issuing laws.

At the election of officers the whole of the old executive was re-elected. The officers are as follows: Honorary president, Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works; honorary vice-president, A. E. Ponsford; president, A. S. Brown, Kingsville; vice-president, A. E. Crew, Merlin; secretary-treasurer, H. A. Short, Port Stanley.

CHARGE DISMISSED.

Harry Bolton of West Lorne appeared today before County Magistrate Hunt on a charge of stealing a bottle of whiskey from the depot at West Lorne. The case was dismissed. The charge was laid by Detective Hare of the Pere Marquette, who with Inspector Ross of this city had been investigating the mysterious disappearance of a bottle of whiskey. C. St. Clair Leitch appeared for the defendant, and elected trial by a higher court. The preliminary hearing, however, resulted in the youth's dismissal. Crown Attorney McCrimmon prosecuted.

NOT MR. CONLEY.

J. C. Crombie is the member of the Horticultural Society who is seriously ill, not Mr. A. P. Conley of the Talbot Hotel. The names were inadvertently confused in yesterday's report. Mr. Conley was at his desk today, and informed The Advertiser that he is as well as he ever was or expects to be.

A LOCK DEAD.

Mr. A. Lock, for 28 years head pattern maker at the Canadian Iron Foundries in this city, died at his home in Malakoff street today. The late Mr. Lock was born in Devonshire, England, 69 years ago, but came to Canda when quite a young man. He made his home in St. Thomas for the greater part of his life, where he was widely known and very highly esteemed. Mrs. Charles Campbell of Brantford, is a daughter of the deceased.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Knox Church had a narrow escape from destruction by fire last night, when a stove left burning in the building became over-heated. The flames had reached the ceiling of the basement when found by the janitor and extinguished.

SCHOOL IS CLOSED.

Fingal School is closed as a result of the influenza epidemic. An order from the board of health at Fingal this morning took this action to combat the disease, which is said to be spreading rapidly in that district.

GOING AHEAD.

The Forward Movement is making great headway in this city, and practically all the churches have already exceeded their objectives.

IN TORONTO.

E. H. Caughell of the local gas offices, is in Toronto attending a meeting of the Canadian Gas Association, of which he is vice-president. The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the advisability of lowering the standard of gas quality from 5.20 to 4.20 British thermol unit calorific standard.

OSCAR McKENNEY ILL.

Reeve Oscar McKenney of Aylmer and Mrs McKenney are confined to their home through illness, according to reports reaching here today. Mr. McKenney caught a cold while at the county council meetings here recently.

SIXTY-FIVE JOIN.

Sixty-five new members have joined Central Methodist Church, this city, since the Forward Movement opened recently. A special service of thanksgiving will be held on Sunday next.

FLOUR.

MONTREAL, Feb. 12.—There were no new developments in the condition of the local flour market, with fair trade passing in spring wheat and blended flour, but winter wheat flour trade is quiet.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Speculative selling weakened the corn market today after a little show of strength in prices at the opening. Initial upturns were associated with the fact that receipts here proved to be smaller than had been looked for. Subsequent selling pressure was based largely on depression in the stock market. Opening quotations, which ranged from ⅛c off to ¾c advance, with May at $1 30¾@1 31¾, and July at $1 28¼@1 28¾, were followed by material setbacks all around.

Oats were governed by the changes in corn. After opening a shade to ⅛c higher, including May at 78⅝@79c, the market underwent a moderate sag.

IMPORTANT CAPTURE MADE BY POLICE AT GALT YESTERDAY

Jack Holiko of Preston Who Is Charged With Several Robberies, Remanded.

GALT, Feb. 12.—Chief Gorman made an important capture this morning at the C. P. R. depot when he arrested Jack Holiko, aged 17, giving his address as Preston, while he was waiting for a train. The arrest followed the complaint of Henry Chew, the proprietor of a local Chinese cafe, who declared that a young man had stolen $32 and a gold watch from his place, and that when confronted the robber drew a razor. When arrested it was learned that Holiko was the party who had robbed a Hespeler home on Tuesday. The $50 Victory Bond which he had taken, being found on him, in addition to a searchlight, skeleton keys and other articles. Holiko was arraigned in police court and was remanded until Monday.

OVER OBJECTIVE.

While returns of the campaign now in process in the various churches of the city in behalf of the Forward Movement are not complete, as the canvassers have not made their rounds, it was announced today that both Central and First Presbyterian Churches had exceeded their objectives.

ILL TEN DAYS.

After ten days' illness with influenza and pneumonia, Clarence Sigsworth, a young man of 21 years of age, accountant of the Galt Shoe Company, passed away this morning at 11 o'clock. Deceased had spent practically all his life here and is survived by his father, three brothers and two sisters.

WANT HIGHWAYS.

At a representative meeting of the township, county and municipality councils of the Counties of Brant and Waterloo held here today to discuss highways, a resolution was passed, requesting the Counties of Brant and Waterloo to ask the Government to designate as provincial county highways the road from the city of Galt to Paris via Sprague's road, and from the city of Galt to Brantford via the East River road, and St. George to Brantford, and that the municipalities interested send delegates to wait upon the Provincial Government to support the requests of the two counties.

CANADIAN CURLERS WIN AT UTICA, N. Y.

Utica, N. Y., Feb. 13.—In what proved to be the closest and keenest struggle ever waged in international curling circles Canadian curlers yesterday successfully defended the Gordon international medal, winning from the United States by a score of 189 to 187. The superb play of the Heather and Lachine rinks in the afternoon round brought victory to the Canadians, the former outclassing the newly-organized Syracuse club, 27-10, and the veteran, Robert Lucas, leading his rink to a 20-11 win over Braeburn. By virtue of its score of 27 points, the Heather rink, skipped by N. B. McLeod, secures possession of the medal for the ensuing year.

The United States curlers led in the morning play one up, 95 to 94.

BASEBALL CLUB OWNERS IN GENTLEMEN'S AGREEMENT

Chicago, Feb. 13.—"A gentleman's agreement" for resumption of relations between the major and minor baseball leagues, with the probability that a written agreement would supersede it as soon as the Baltimore Federal League suit was settled, was in prospect today when the club owners met in a joint session. Minor league representatives asked for restoration of the draft and the formation of a board to handle cases developing between the majors and the minors. The majors considered these demands so solid that only the absence of President Barnard E. Johnson of the American League from the meeting yesterday apparently prevented official action.

The selection of a chairman of the national commission to succeed Garry Hermann, which was left to President John Heydler of the National League, and President Johnson of the American League, it was said, probably would not be announced for 30 days.

COLLECTED OVER $360.

WARDSVILLE, Feb. 12.—Canvassers for the Methodist Forward Movement campaign were busy in the village yesterday afternoon, and when about half way through reported over $360 subscribed.

The library board met in the Library Tuesday night for its annual meeting. Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. V. Faulds; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. Douglas; assistant, Mrs. Blott.

HOOSIER

Kitchen Cabinet Club

A carload of 1920 models have been received and are now on sale. See our window.

Over one million women use the Hoosier every day and they recommend it to their friends.

On looking over our records since the original Club was opened by us in February, 1912, we have sold over thirteen hundred Hoosiers, and the universal verdict is that they would not do without them.

Can you imagine how many miles of steps these thirteen hundred Hoosiers have saved for the women of London? Let us save miles of steps for YOU; not only through one year, but through the many years of your lifetime.

The saving of time and work is probably your most important duty. The accomplishment of this task will return countless benefits—a keener enjoyment of life, better health, social opportunities, etc.

Start in the kitchen to make this saving. For here it is that greatest drudgery prevails. Install a Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet. Let its scientifically-arranged conveniences save miles of steps and hours of needless labor.

The Hoosier cuts kitchen work nearly in half.

It saves food by preventing waste in measuring and mixing and by keeping supplies in protected places.

By providing places for 400 articles within arm's reach it saves miles of steps.

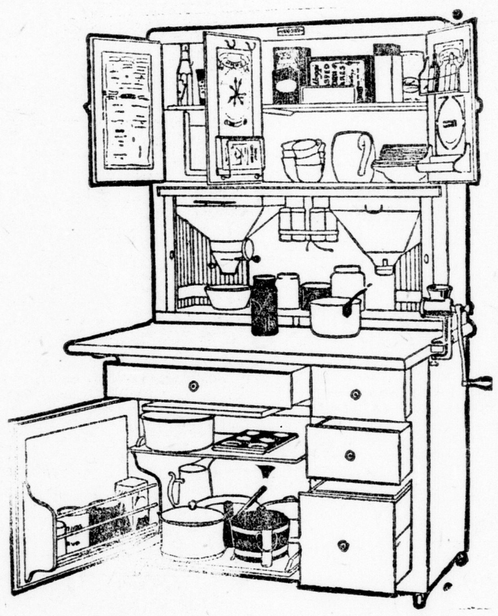

It is scientifically arranged, with the most-used articles nearest at hand.

40 WORK-REDUCING FEATURES.

The Revolving Rack of seven Glass Jars keeps spices airtight and ever ready.

The patented Shaker Flour Sifter shakes out flour light and fluffy instead of grinding flour and grit through a sieve.

The Hoosier Two-Way Sugar Bin holds twice the ordinary amount.

The Oversize Base has 25 per cent more space for pots and pans.

The wide, uncluttered cupboard provides ample work space above the sliding table top.

Hoosier experts have experimented thousands of times to perfect this "automatic servant."

Now Hoosier's Council of Kitchen Scientists pronounce it as efficient as can be made.

ACCEPT ONE ON TRIAL.

We are the authorized Hoosier dealers in our city, and will deliver this cabinet on convenient terms.

Hoosier's famous guarantee amounts to a free trial—your money all back if you are not delighted.

To make sure of getting the model you admire most, come and pick it out without delay.

This Hoosier Club offers inducements that have never been offered before. Call and inspect the full line and be convinced. The line is complete. Prices range from $56 up.

A small deposit secures one, and $1.00 a week pays the balance.

HELENE'S MARRIED LIFE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

IV.—Some Detective Work On My Part.

I did not wait for Tony to return from seeing Alice to her taxi. I hurried to the exit. Alice and he were standing close together, near a taxi, talking. I hailed another taxi that was looking for a fare, gave a direction to the driver and was driven rapidly away.

My heart was pounding with excitement. If I hadn't been so miserable, I should have felt exhilarated—like Sherlock Holmes setting off on a new case.

Only in this particular instance the case meant all my happiness!

For I was driving to the jeweler's from whom Jim had bought the bracelet. I was spurred on by a torturing curiosity—to learn the very worst!

It's true I had been there before. But now I wanted to discover if anything was known about the "lady in the case."

I utterly despised myself—and yet I had to go—I couldn't keep away!

The taxi drew up with a jerk. I told the driver he might wait. Then, screwing up my courage, I walked once more through the swinging glass doors and so into the shop.

Here my heart failed me!

"I—I've come—to look at brooches." I stammered lamely, flushing under the quizzical gaze of the owner of the place.

He laid a tray-load of baubles on the counter. My fingers fluttered nervously among them.

"I—I'll take this one," I picked out an insipid little pearl-brooch.

"Four pounds ten." He eyed me curiously. "I am sure he guessed my mission. "Anything more that I can do for you?"

I handed the four pounds ten to him across the counter. My courage—and my color—rose.

"You remember the diamond watch-bracelet that you showed me—is it still for sale?"

He shook his head.

"I told you I was sending it to Canada. I posted it myself a day or two ago. I sold the other one to a young gentleman, who had a lady with him——"

"What—what was she like?" I stammered eagerly. I'm sure the jeweler thought I was a little mad.

He leaned across the counter and stared pityingly at me. His voice was lowered discreetly when he spoke.

"She was small, and fair, and very pretty. Determined to have the very best, too, she was!"

My heart sank painfully. It sounded so like Alice.

"She dropped a card out of her purse. I picked it up," he went on.

"What—what name?"

"Mrs. Anstruther — of Anstruther Lodge."

"Thank you—good afternoon." I hurried from the hateful place.

An hour later, when I returned to my empty little flat, it dawned on me I hadn't even waited for the brooch which I had paid for!

"The jeweler will think me crazy—but nothing will ever induce me to go back to the shop where Jim has so humiliated me!" I told myself repeatedly.

A thought that held a ray of comfort struck me. I had only known Jim for a few short weeks—was it not possible he had bought the expensive gift for Alice before he ever met me?

But Alice herself had said she had received it "just a short time ago." There was the jeweler's confirmation, too!

I cried myself to sleep that night.

I found a corner in a first-class carriage. Just as the train was about to start a porter flung the door wide open, and a man jumped in, nearly sprawling across my feet.

"I beg your pardon," he said courteously. And with a little start I realized that the newcomer was the good-looking, middle-aged man whom Alice had spoken to in Rumpelmayer's — none other than Mr. Travis Lloyd, the local "catch."

I buried myself behind my magazines. I didn't feel that I could be even civil to the man.

After a time I felt that he was looking at me. His gaze was not impertinent and not embarrassing. It was respectful and admiring. He evidently knew that I knew Alice.

It was getting dusky when we drew up at the country station nearest to Anstruther Lodge. Tony had gone down by an earlier train, and he had said that he would meet me. In any case, there would be a car.

Tomorrow—The Face in the Moonlight.

HEALTH BOARD CALLS FOR VOLUNTEERS TO HELP FIGHT EPIDEMIC

Mayor Little Says Hospital Trust Has Been Negligent—Situation Not Bad Enough For Closing Orders—"Don't Worry" Best Prescription.

Volunteer nurses to check the spread of influenza were called for by the board of health at a special meeting Thursday afternoon. The Red Cross is to be asked to take charge of the work and organize the volunteers.

Conditions were not such as to warrant closing schools, theatres, churches and other public buildings, the board stated. Special regulations will be applied to these places, however.

The volunteer nurses will be asked to take care of cases of illness which are not serious enough to demand expert attention. This is expected to relieve the demand on hospital accommodation, which is needed for more serious cases. Three school nurses will be sent to supplement the staff at the emergency hospital in connection with Victoria Hospital.

Mayor Little declared he was far from satisfied with the manner in which the situation had been handled by the hospital trust. He declared that plans made Saturday for using a military wing as a temporary hospital to meet the emergency, had not been carried out. He stated that if proper arrangements could not be made by the present management then the management would be changed.

"It is no wonder the finances of the city are in an outrageous condition when things are handled in this manner," he said. "The hospital trust was preparing to open this wing as a ward of 80 beds on February 15, to take care of soldiers now at Tecumseh Barracks. I see no reason why it could not be ready for 80 civilians in the same time."

Cooking Is Difficulty.

The chief difficulty is apparently with the cooking. Superintendent Heard reported earlier in the meeting that the wing was being supplied with uncooked foods from the main kitchen of the hospital. He claimed that the staff was undermanned, but was supplying 450 people from a kitchen meant to supply 200.

Mayor Little stated that the board of health had engaged a cook for the new wing on the understanding that the hospital trust would have gas plates installed in the new wing. Apparently this had not been done.

Superintendent T. H. Heard made no reply to the mayor's statement, but left the room.

"It is a funny thing," continued the mayor, "that this wing has been lying idle for a month, while patients have been turned away from the hospital. We had to chase all over the town and arrange for an emergency hospital in the military barracks at Carling Heights. Then we find that there is room for a hundred beds at Victoria. It was understood that the hospital should supply 80 beds for soldiers, but the transfer of these cases can be postponed for a time. If they were ready to take care of 80 soldiers, they can take care of 80 citizens, and they'll do it, too."

Other members of the board were not quite in accord with the mayor. Both E. H. Russell and Mrs. Partridge said they thought the understanding was that the hospital trust would furnish the ward, but that it absolutely could not undertake to do the cooking as the capacity of the kitchen was already overtaxed.

Keep Schools Open.

H. Hayman, chairman of the board of education, appeared before the health authorities to offer co-operation. His offer of the services of the school nurses was accepted. The general opinion of the board was that closing the schools was not necessary. Mr. Hayman asked to issue instructions to have all sick children sent home immediately. It was also stated that there was no objection to parents keeping children at home if they did not wish them to attend schools at present.

Mr. Hayman said that teachers and nurses were taking all possible precautions.

The general opinion at the meeting was that the influenza was of a much milder type than in 1918, but that every precaution should be taken to prevent its spread.

Dr. Downham said that military hospitals at the heights equipped for 170 patients had been arranged for and could be used if volunteers were found to take over the work.

Domestic science classes in the schools may be called on to cook supplies for patients and nurses. In fact the whole organization of 1918 may be brought into being again.

Mayor Little declared that the city council would not hesitate to pass any necessary appropriation for the work, but there was no need to provide extra accommodation, while some existed at Victoria Hospital.

The board expressed a desire to obtain official figures on the situation, but regarded the task as hopeless. Physicians had declared they were too busy to make reports.

Dr. Downham said all the organization of 1918 was in effect now, but that volunteer workers were lacking. Only these were needed, and the city would be as fully prepared to meet the flu as it was when it was at its height in 1918.

Theatres a Help?

A deputation of theatre owners appeared before the board in reference to the rumored closing of their places of business. They expressed a willingness to do this if the board considered it in the interests of public safety, and offered to take every precaution while the buildings were kept open. They urged the effect of the theatre performances on public morale as an argument for keeping them open, asserting that New York, which kept its theatres open, had the smallest death rate in the last epidemic. They also pointed out that about 200 people would be thrown out of employment if the theatres closed.

Chairman J. H. Saunders said that the board would close every theatre, church, public building and even factories in the city if it considered such a course necessary. He did not think it necessary, however.

Dr. Downham said that in his opinion the situation was not as bad as in 1918, and he did not think it warranted a closure order.

E. H. Russel said that even the 1918 campaign had been exaggerated, and that people had been scared into being ill. If any closing were done he would advocate closing every street car.

"The inhuman and indecent crowding on the cars is a menace to the city," he declared.

Preliminary rules for theatres and other public buildings were drafted. They are:

No standing to be allowed.

Thorough airing before use.

No smoking in any section of the building.

Patrons who cough or sneeze excessively must be requested to leave.

Places to be ventilated to fullest extent possible during use.

Slides will be shown on the motion picture screens advising persons who are ill not to attend the performances and advising everybody who feels all right to go about his or her business as usual.

"Don't Worry" is the prescription for forestalling this epidemic.

DOLLAR DAY WAS A BIG SUCCESS FROM EVERY VIEWPOINT

Public Pleased With Bargains and Merchants With New Customers.

Although sickness prevented numbers of citizens from taking advantage of the Dollar Day bargains offered by the local merchants on Thursda, both the buyer and the seller were rewarded amply yesterday—the buyer by securing articles at prices far below normal and the seller by meeting hosts of new customers in addition to the regular ones.

In the opinion of Mrs. Housekeeper there is only one one other day in the year to compare with the February Dollar Day, and that is the Dollar Day in August. These two days follow each other at six-month intervals, and are looked forward to by merchant and consumer. This year the first of these days measured up to expectations.

For some days the businessman was preparing for this day and had most of his goods brought to open view and ticketed, so that the purchaser could not fail to notice the price. Some goods were sold at half price, and others at several times less than the ordinary selling price.

Believing that "the early bird gets the worm," many of the shoppers were on the streets before the stores opened in order to be the first at the doors of places in which they had seen bargains shown on the previous evening.

Forced To Close Doors.

Some of the retail houses were forced to close their doors to keep back the crowds until they were able to handle them. Buyers were let out of the back doors, and as soon as the congestion in the stores was removed, prospective ones were allowed in the front entrances.

As the day hurried to a close the bargain counters showed through the rapidly diminishing piles of goods. The phenomenon was accounted for by the numbers of parcels being carried homeward by the general public.

Not only the citizens but visitors from all parts of Western Ontario shared in the spoils of the day. The day being a market one, the farmers brought in their wares and with the cash obtained by the sale of them, added to other substantial amounts of cash which they had brought with them, the rural inhabitants loaded their vehicles with goods which the retail merchants had displayed.

From every point of view the day was a successful one, and had it not been for the sickness in the city the Dollar Day of February, 1920, would have been the most successful one ever staged.

SIGNALLERS' SOCIAL

Very Enjoyable Evening at Armories Wednesday.

On Wednesday last the Signallers' Club had a most successful evening at the armories, the evening being spent at cards. Signaller L. P. Malone presided at the piano in excellent style, and the attendance indicated an assured success for the club.

The executive of the club is complete and the membership is growing rapidly and now embraces members who served overseas in some branch of inter-communication in famous units of the Canadian corps, and comprises battalion and battery signallers, runners, wireless men, linemen and so on.

The next meeting of the Signallers' Club is slated for Wednesday, Feb. 25, at the armories, and will take the form of a smoker with cards, followed by supper.

All who served overseas in any branch of inter-communication service are cordially invited to attend, and further particulars of the club may be had from the president, Captain W. C. Butler, or the secretary, Captain H. T. May, or the committee, who will be pleased to welcome new members.

At The Theaters

AT THE GRAND.

The picture, "When the Clouds Roll By," with Douglas Fairbanks starring, is still featuring the program at the Grand, and will continue to be shown for the remainder of the week.

The vaudeville acts for this part of the week are some of the best that have been witnessed here for some time. Ferry, "The Frog Man," presents one of the cleverest contortionist exhibitions that has been seen. The special setting for this act is one of beauty as well as being original.

Weston, Young and Reading Company offer some very catchy bits of song and comedy. Dan Ahern packs most of the wit that has been seen here for a long time. His skits are very original and his stories, on the other acts, draw a lot of laughs.

The "Three Flying Wards," with their acrobatics caused many in the audience to draw breath sharply, and showed more pep and daring that most of the acts of this description. The skill and judgment of the acrobats shows throughout the whole of their difficult act.

AT THE PATRICIA.

Locklear, the flying daredevil, in "The Great Air Robbery," a picture which made Patricia Theatre audiences gasp and hold their chairs on Thursday, opens up a field for motion picture adventures, which heretofore has not been trespassed on to any great extent, namely—the air. Thousands of feet above the earth this daring conqueror of the air does stunts that to the average human being seem impossible. One of his feats is to change from one aeroplane to another, while both machines are rushing through space at full speed.

Another thing that he does, and which is as daring and as seemingly impossible is to rescue an airman, who, while flying has become ill and allowed his machine to "dead leaf" toward the ground. Locklear, with the assistance of a pilot, follows this machine, changes over to the other machine and takes control of it, bringing his sick comrade to safety.

This film serves to illustrate the fact that when man consolidates his position as conqueror of the upper regions there will appear the sky-highwayman as successor to the highwayman of terra firma. In this Universal feature there is an air robbery. An outlaw squadron robs a mail ship in the Government air lanes, taking $20,000 in gold and killing the driver. It is only the timely arrival of the hero, Larry Cassidy (Locklear), that saves the situation.

Although the air was "location" for this picture, cupid did not fail to take a leading part in the unravelling of the absorbing plot. And there was the happy ending just as in all other modern love stories.

"The Musical Chrysties," a clever duet, presented a vaudeville turn that received many well-deserved encores and curtain calls. They play several musical instruments in a delightful manner, and work in little bits of comedy here and there.

A Rainbow comedy and a cartoon, "Mutt and Jeff in Iceland," complete a performance that is worth seeing, and which will be repeated today and Saturday

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Never before has the life of a cabaret girl been depicted as vividly as Alice Brady, in the role she adopts in her latest picture, "Redhead," now showing at the Majestic, exemplifies it. She takes the part of Dazie, a girl whom no one believes to be decent. It does not require much imagination to follow the inner thoughts of the girl. Miss Brady makes you see the heartache she bears—the greatest heartache in the world—that of loving a man and not being loved in return. A synopsis of the story follows:

Matthew Thurlow, a rich young man-about-town, marries Dazie, alias "Redhead," one night when both are under the influence of liquor. While at a party in one of New York's gay restaurants, where Dazie is a star entertainer, Bill Rickson bets him that he will never marry Dazie. Matt takes up his bet and to lose no time in winning it, marries Dazie on the spot, the ceremony being performed by Rolly Gard, a justice of the peace and a friend of his.

The next day both regret their foolishness. Matt is mainly supported by his rich uncle, Parker Thurlow, who, when he hears of Matt's marriage, cuts off his allowance. He is forced to go to work. He obtains employment in an automobile factory, where, through his intimate knowledge of automobiles, he advances rapidly. Despite his numerous threats to leave Dazie he still lives with her, but treats her with scorn and humiliation. Dazie has decided to make a man of him and pretends that she does not see the insults hurled at her. She mothers and loves Matt and does everything in her power to make it easy and comfortable for him.

Dazie's parents come from a little town in the country to see her. Much to her surprise her husband treats them with consideration and kindness. He even takes them out to dine and shows them the city. Matt's uncle calls on him and tells him that if he will divorce his wife he will reinstate the boy in his good graces. Matt refuses. He suddenly begins to realize how much his wife means to him. Many incidents follow each other in quick succession which brings this photoplay to an unexpected but happy ending.

Charlie Chaplin in "The Fireman" succeeded in drawing from the crowded house every smile, giggle and laugh that it possessed on Thursday.

Bert Caldwell, baritone, delighted his audience. The program, which is to be repeated today and Saturday, is completed by scenic pictures and travelogues.

MARJAH, AT MAJESTIC ALL NEXT WEEK.

Among the many and varied questions asked Marjah during his engagements in various cities are the following: "Where can I find my lost son?" "When will I marry, and whom?" "Where are my rings?" "What am I best suited for?" "Will I ever receive any money from the old country?" "Is my friend true to me?" and other questions too numerous to enumerate. Marjah will appear three times daily at the Majestic, starting next Monday afternoon, and would greatly appreciate it if the public intending to ask him questions would write their questions at home, inclose in a sealed envelope, and hold same in their hand. For those who do not, the management will supply paper and pencils. The special matinee for ladies only will be given Wednesday at 10:30 a.m., at which questions of a private nature will be answered. Positively no men admitted.

LOEWS NEW YORK PUBLICITY DIRECTOR PROMISES SURPRISE.

N. T. Grandlund, publicity director for Loews Theatres, wired the local manager, E. A. Lake, yesterday afternoon that the New York offices had arranged one of the biggest surprises of the year for the formal opening of the London house Monday evening next.

The nature of his surprise was not divulged in his telegram, but "first-nighters" will in all probability be treated to one of the brightest theatrical events in the history of London. b

FUNERAL OF VETERAN MAY BE ARRANGED IN TORONTO

Secretary John Cunliffe of the Great War Veterans' Association, stated last night that he had been in communication with the Toronto branch of the association concerning the funeral of the late Private E. M. Roberts.

Difficulties were encountered with the military authorities here, as they said that Robinson had been transferred to No. 2 district at Toronto while undergoing treatment in hospital there.

Private Roberts enlisted here with the 24th Battalion and served overseas with the 21st. He was a resident of this city, living on Broughdale avenue.
