INVENTS MACHINERY

Agriculturist Makes Apparatus Capable of Planting Full-Grown Mangels.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter. Norwich, July 18 .- The town of Norwich, Ont., is the seat of Canada's farm industry. It is just a little over a year ago that the work and experimenting carried on for some years by Ralph R. Moore en-abled him to launch forth as the er grower of Canada. Foresaw Industry Would Suffer. His enterprise started in this nanner. During the early stages of the war, Canada's leading agrono-mists foresaw that, with the upsetting of Europe, the seed industry of Holland and Germany would suffer and that as Canada was depo on these countries for the bulk of her and root seed, this country would suffer from a decreasing seed with the idea of remedying this ments of agriculture started experi-ments to determine how much of C. A. Zavitz of the Ontario Agricultural College had conducted experiments in co-operation with the sugar factories of Canada to see what could be done in the way of increasing the sugar content of the commercial sugar beet. This necessitated the growing of seed from the sugar beets sent to the college, and as far as can be learned this was the start of Canadian root seed production on any considerable scale. The experi ments were so successful that the tests and experiments were extended to improve the yield and quality of the mangel crop. Before long it was found that not only the seed of roots, but the growing of all vegetable seed n Canada was capable of commercial expansion.

During the last two years of the war the stocks of imported seed dwindled to such an extent that seed became very costly, and old and stock is still going on, and seeing the can sow full-grown mangels for the need for more reliable seed for Canalian gardeners and farmers, Mr. Moore decided to see what he could do in producing seed in sufficient farm machinery attached to a rigid quantity to warrant him in devoting his whole time to the project.

Produced Mangel Seed.

Wiser than some, who would have plunged wholesale into the propagaconfined his efforts at first to the production of a strain of simon-pure acclimatized mangel seed, feeling that since more data could be covering the growing and cleaning of this seed than any other, it would day, in addition to a wonderfully pro-ductive strain of giant sugar-beet ductive strain of giant sugarmangel, Mr. Moore has a full list of garden seeds, all of which he produces in his test and propagation grounds at Norwich.

When The Advertiser visited his farm "Cairnlea" at Norwich, the 1923 stock crop from which next year's seed will be threshed, were approaching maturity. Large table onions had been set out by hand, and an acre of these in the bloom stage showed promise of a large crop of seed. Let-tuce, radishes, parsnip, and in fact every conceivable seed that the gardener uses, is grown in the plots at

All this has not been accomplished in a day. The growing of the seed in itself is not a great task. The backknows that if he yard gardener eaves parsnips in the ground for two seasons the seed stalks are thrown simple. In my case I was tempted up in the second season and seed formation follows as surely as darkness follows day. The big part of the undertaking comes in the perpetua-tion of perfect characteristics in the are slow and experience comes after

To say that Mr. Moore understands perfectly what is needed when he selects plants for seed stock, is putting it mildly. One of the most exacting and tedious operations at his plant is in the record or pedigree work which does in improving his stock. Every individual plant which is kept to produce seed for the next year's stock crop is judged and scored on its merit before it is allowed to pro-duce seed. Records giving yield, germination and earliness of matur-ity are kept and each year the highest scoring plants are used in pro ducing seed for the next year's sales. Last year was the first year in which Mr. Moore was able to offer a complete list of garden seeds, and he says that by advertising them hon, estly and selling them as Canadian grown seed he found no difficulty in disposing of all he could produce. To show what the Norwich farmers think of him, they made such a heavy drain on his supply of mangel seed that he was brought to the point where he had to turn down outside orders toward the last of the seeding

"I have now got 20 acres under intensive cultivation in the production of seed, and if I start to expand my business I must get more land. Just at present I would rather go slow. I am nicely started, and I would prefer to learn more about it and entrench myself, as they say, before going

The most difficult part of the undertaking, so Mr. Moore found, was in the threshing and cleaning of the seed after he had produced it. Threshing machinery and cleaning equipment for this kind of work is little understood in this country, and like other pioneers. Ralph Moore became other pioneers. Ralph Moore became other pioneers, Ralph Moore became or and mechanic in turn as the need for equipment in each operation

A silver cup, a silver melody and a silver lining to the blackest of life's clouds. Isn't that the heaven of all true pipers, more especially when the cups represent the provincial championship and when the blue ribbon of supremacy flies merrily from the graceful handles? Here The Advertiser staff photographer shows the two cups given by The Advertiser for the bagpipe contests being held today at the Highland games at Port Stanley under the auspices of the Caledonian Society. The cup on the left is that for the band contest and the other is for the individual piping contest, and will grace the home of Ontario's master piper tonight.

Will Extend to Union.

Considerable interest is of course service to Union along the much-traveled gravel road between Port Stanley and St. Thomas. The village of Union has already made ap-plication to erect six street lights along the highway, and there is a strong possibility that steps will be taken in the near future in the direction of lighting the whole nine miles of the road, especially as hydro is to be carried the biggest step of the way to Union. It is pointed out that such lighting service would greatly minimize the possibility of accidents along the road.

PROVINCIAL INSPECTOR INVESTIGATES ODORS

Recommends Improvements In Woodstock's Sewage Disposal Plant.

Woodstock, July 17.-Inspector De Many Public and Separate La Porte of the provincial board of health, visited Woodstock this afternoon at the request of the city council to investigate the odors arising from the sewage disposal plant, and to recommend a remedy. His recommendations were to the effect that sludge-drying beds should be installed to deal with the sludge from the tanks, and that in order to prevent the odors from spreading the plant should be covered in. At present it s open. He also recommended that the filter plates at the bottom of the tanks should be removed, and new plates of English design installed in their place. The total cost of these changes he estimated to be about from six to seven thousand dollars. He expressed the opinion that the offensive odor of which the citizens have been complaining was not all together due to the disposal plan but was largely to be blamed upor report at once, and the council will take action acting on his report.

DECLARES ABBE'S PISTOL NOT USED

Firearms Expert States Shots Were Fired From Two Revolvers.

WRITING CONFUSING

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, July 17 .- The most sen sational session so far in the trial of Rev. Father Delorme occurred at the hearing this afternoon. L. C. Horton, New York, handwriting expert, had delivered an opinion that "cut both ways" to the effect that he could not say whether the accused was or was not the writer of the address on the package containing the victim's watch, which had been sent to Chief of Provincial Police Lorrain.

Then the defence called William A. Jones, firearms expert to the New York police department, who gave it as his expert opinion that the builets found in the body of the victim carried no marks anything like the marks on the test bullet fired from the accused's revolver. Nor were these "mortal builets" of the same make, and he concluded that the death bullets had been fired from two pistols. He further declared that the abbe's weapon was in perfect condi-tion as to its barrel, while the weapon showed no signs of having been over Further Sensations.

Further sensations came when the crown took up cross-examination. It was ascertained that Jones had ob tained a Bayard pistol from a Mr. Hamilton. On the crown pressing that the high constable be sent to the latter's hotel to hold him at the disposition of the court, Mr. Hamilton got up in the well of the court and announced his presence. The crown dence. This drew strong protests from the defence until Mr. Calder "I am instructed that Mr. Hamilton is known all over the United States as a fabricator of evidence."

Mr. Hamilton then left the court. William A. Jones, firearms expert district attorney's department of the city of New York, was called by the defense. He had been for 17 years in charge of the school for pistol practice of the New York police practice of the New York police force, firing about 6,000 cartridges day. He was familiar with the diferent makes of pistols and revolvers n the market at the present time in America and also with the different makes of cartridges and of the pow ders with which they are loaded.

Examined All Bullets. C. H. Cahan, K.C., for the de-fense, took the witness over the ground covered by the crown in respect of the three bullets found in the body of the victim and of a fourth test bullet fired from the Abbe's Bayard revolver. During the 33 years that have passed, Wilhelmina's picture has been impressed on many stamps of Holland, and of the Dutch colonies, and a census of stamp portraits would probably place her jesty today in the first eight nota-bilities for the number of varieties of stamps obtainable, bearing her portrait. Queen Victoria's record of 3,193 distinctly different stamps prob-

A study and review of these many issues of Queen Wilhelmina stamps offers an interesting field to philatists. They were first brought out in September, 1921, when a ministerial decree issued at the Hague noti-fied the world that "the postage postage stamps and other postal values bearing the impression of the late William III. have in future the portrait of Queen Wilhelmina." Some values were immediately put out, but the economical Dutch instinct prevailed and the postoffice department saw to Several witnesses were examined, including members of the train crews who were operating in the race course switching yard near Egerton street at the titme of the accident. The first witness examined was F. J. Bean, who said that he had made a post-mortem examination. He said that the head of the de-ceased was severed from the body, the right arm was cut off six inches from the shoulder, and the right foot was almost severed at the ankle. The second witness was Ralph Russel, a yard helper, who was one of the night shift working the switches in the yard at the time that the deceased was thought to have been killed. He said that he had spoken to the deceased just after the unfortunate man had got down out of a box car. He had told Russel that he had boarded the train at Paris, and that he was going to London. Russel said that he did not see the man again until he found him

London Chamber of Commerce Indorses Suggestion From St. John.

A suggestion from the St. John N.B., board of trade to the effect that the Maritime seaports should be used to a greater extent in the shipment of Canadian products in place of the American ports met with the approval of the directors of the London Chamber of Commerce at their meeting yesterday afternoon. Reasons given by the St. John board AT WILTON GROVE are that the maritime ports are open all the year round, and that the preferential tariff within the empire has been extended so that it makes allowance for goods shipped all the way through empire ports.

The maritime port boards of trade have asked Lloyds to grant the same insurance rates to them as to the North Atlantic ports.

DENIES ALL BLAME FOR BURNED BARNS

Fire Marshal Heaton of Toronto Conducts Investigation At Woodstock.

FARMER'S EVIDENCE

Special to The Advertiser. Woodstock, July 17. - Emphatic denials that they were responsible were made by both Reuben and Albert Armstrong, sons of Mr. Henry Armstrong whose barns were burned almost to the ground under suspicious circumstances recently at Sweaburg, upon examination by Crown Attorney Ball at the investigation being undertaken by Fire Marshall Heaton of Toronto, in the court house here today. The sitting was adjourned at six o'clock this eve ning until 1 o'clock tomorrow morn

The evidence of Henry Armstrong, two of his sons, and a number of representatives of the fire insurance companies under which the propert burned was insured, were taken to Gay. There remains to be taken the evidence of William Armstrong, the other son of Mr. Henry Armstrong, and several spectators of the fire.

The crown attorney asked Mr.

Henry Armstrong if he would be surprised if the amount of indebtedness on the property previous to the fire reached the total of $20,900. This sum had been the result of Mr. Ball's calculation during the detailed evivarious encumbrances on his prop-erty. The witness stated that he had not thought it was quite so much. He did not raise any objection to the remark made by Mr. Ball that if the total insurance had been collected indebtedness would have been greatly relieved.

Well Insured. Crown-"Did you ever in your life have so much insurance on your property as you had for the few months before the fire?" Mr. Armstrong-"I don't know that I did, but I always wanted to carry as much insurance as I could." The witness admitted that his property had been insured at good value and in some cases at full value f not more. He could not give any information about the actual fire a he had been confined to the hospital on the night of it's occurrence.

The two brothers called to the stand could give no explanation or even any definite opinion regarding the cause of the fire, other than they believed the barns had been set of fire by some one. They based this conclusion upon the distance of the barns apart, and the fact that lightseason was held recently in the fair ning doesn't generally hit in the

He had asked several people about it but no one could say how it caught fire. The general talk, he said, was that it had been started by some one. His sons thought that the fire in the east barn started in the straw on the ground floor, and in the west barn in the granary. His son Bert had made this statement to him. The two

On the east section of the farm, said Mr. Armstrong, were two mortgages, one $3.000 and one of $1,500. He was one year in arrears in the interest of one of the mortgages, and three of four months behind on some of the others.

Before an adjournment was called Fire Marshall Heaton asked Mr. Armstrong for his valuation of the dwelling house, and the old house on the farm. He placed his valuation of the dwelling house at $3,000 and of the old house at $500.

CUCUMBER BLIGHT IS HARMLESS IN OPEN AIR

Agricultural Experts Say Its Effects Are Confined To the Hothouse.

Special to The Advertiser. Chatham, July 17. - The disease known as "timber-rot" which was said to be playing havoc with the commercial cucumber plantings of Kent county will not develop in the open air after the plants have been set out, stated local officers of the department of agriculture today. On this account the growers and dealers throughout this county need feel no alarm as the disease itself dies a natural death after the plants are placed in the fields, stated Mr. Gray, assistant agricultural representative. Richard Sands, B.S.A., M.S.A., is on the staff of the experimental farm at Ridgetown and told The Advertiser that the disease is a blight that pertains entirely to plantings in the hot-beds and hot-houses. Deliciously Crisp—and Laxative!

The immediate Dominion-wide acceptance of Post's Bran Flakes with Other Parts of Wheat has been due entirely to the fact that it is a delicious, appetizing laxative bran food. It took four years to perfect it. Four years of experiment and the expenditure of a tremendous sum of money.

Bran was made and sold before-but such bran! Harsh, dry, unappetizing-no wonder people baulked at it. Post's Bran Flakes happily combine laxative qualities with delicious flavor. Thin, crisp, toasted flakes—and as far as taste goes you'd never know the bran was there. But it is! It does its work. It keeps you fit. Promotes regular body habits. Keeps you clear of poisons. Keeps you healthy—up on your toes.

Eat Post's Bran Flakes regularly. Give it to the whole family. Insist on genuine Post's Bran Flakes at your grocer's. Serve with cream or milk-or fresh fruit. A generous package for 18c.-2 for 35c.

a triple, and Kirby bettered him with a homer, and London came right back and knotted it again.

Then the bowing and scraping took place. It was in the seventh inning, with the score standing 7-all. Schaefer lifted one, and Riley and Kirby started for it; both stopped to give the other a chance to break into the box-score, and Schaefer was safe—and so was the ball. He had worked around until Thut lifted a high one back of Claire. Davey thought he'd let Payne get it, and Payne thought he'd let Davey get it. Neither got it, but Schaefer got home and Thut reached second. He romped home when Riley threw McNamara's grounder to the stand. Two more were added in the eighth for good measure.

The council of the English Lawn Tennis Association, shocked by some of the newspaper photographs of women tennis players, has circularized secretaries of clubs where open tournaments are to be held, asking that press photographers be restrained from taking pictures of an "objectionable nature." The circular says the council "strongly deprecates publication of tario League, giving details for the inter-league cricket game, which is to be played at Galt on Saturday next.

Golf, Gossip and Golfers By Miss Cecil Leitch,

Few golfers really know the definition for a stymie. It is well to have this point clear in mind, so I shall clear the matter here and now.

When the opponent's ball lies in the line of the player's putt to the hole in match play.

When the opponent's ball lies in the line of the player's putt to the hole in match player is not stymied unless the nearest points of the balls are more than six inches apart. When the distance is less than six inches the obstructing ball can be removed and replaced after the other ball is played. Two players taking part in a team measurement should be taken from the top of the balls. The incident occurred on the home green, and as a result of this mistake, the match ended in favor of the wrong side.

Need Alteration.

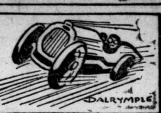

It must be admitted that some of the present rules are in need of alteration, particularly that part of rule 27, which deals with casual water in a hazard. Two players from equally bad (or good) shots may find the same hazard. One other may be on perfectly good ground, yet the owner of the former ball is obliged to pay a penalty stroke for lifting, it is true the ball thus lifted can be dropped either in the hazard or behind it, but when the hazard is within reach of the green, there are few players who would not drop in the hazard were the rule to allow such a course without penalty.

At all times it is important to have one's ball marked in a manner which

KING'S STARTS TODAY

Associated Press Despatch. Bisley Camp, July 17.—Sergt.-Major W. A. Hawkins of Toronto added to his aurels today by capturing second prize tion which calls for ten shots on the one-thousand-yard range. The match is open to all comers.

Sergt, Corrie of the Highland Light Infantry was first; Captain Criswick of the Army Service Corps was third, and Dr. Kelly of London was fourth. The second prize won by Hawkins was £5.
Captain King of the Territorial Reserve won the ties which gave him first prize in both the Graphic and the Stock Exchange matches today after an exciting contest with Sergt. Fulton and Corporal Norton of the Westminsters and Sergt. Rowland of the Staffordshire Regiment.

There are 910 entries for the King's competition, the first stage of which opens tomorrow. Last year's entries totalled 806.

Major Northover, formerly of Winnipeg, made one hundred consecutive kills in the clay birds shooting today.

The Canadian team won the colonial prize, which is awarded in connection with the Rajah of Kolapora competition to the team from outside the Mother Country which registers the highest score. The prize is £50.

The Canadians, with a gross score of 1,113, were only 16 points behind the Mother Country team in the Kolapore match. That shooting conditions were excellent was shown by the fact that even Canada's score was higher than any previously recorded since the present conditions governing the Kolapore match were instituted four years ago.

The aggregate scores of the other teams were: Mother Country 1,129; India 1,682; Gold Coast 1,006, and Guernsey 968.

EASTERN CANADA LOOP FINANCES FIXED UP

Associated Press Despatch.

Montreal, July 17. — Baseball in the Eastern Canada Baseball League is now assured. Following the deadlock over the Three Rivers franchise directors of the league met here today and decided to take over the club and operate it under the supervision of the league for the time being. It will make its home at Three Rivers and will be managed by Mr. Desrochers, who has been connected with the Royals here. The debts of the club will be settled by the league tomorrow, and arrangements will be made to proceed, according to schedule.

A suitable agreement with Ex-Alderman Betteze of Three Rivers, who was in the field for the franchise, could not be reached.

Square Garden the writer stated that it was on the cards that Dempsey and Firpo should meet in the Argentine's home city, and now it looks more than ever as though the matter would be taken up seriously.

Firpo has not taken with good grace the criticisms of his boxing ability as displayed in the Willard fight. He has been sullen, and has worried Rickard over threats to depart at once for Buenos Aires. What the big fellow must think of Jimmy Deforest, who led the attack upon his present status as a boxer, may be left to the imagination. Deforest says that he is still attached to him, so far as he knows. Maybe so, but an humble opinion is hereby offered that Jimmy is attached to Firpo the same way the ground is attached to a soaring balloon—only by past association. Kearns and Dempsey had a good scare in Montana, and were glad to get out with whole skins. An excellent suggestion would be forthcoming to give Buenos Aires a wide berth unless they intend to present Firpo with a victory. Scott's Acceptance of 13 Chances Tuesday Recalls Wallace's 17-Chance As Perfect Shortstop Day -. 400 Hitters Are Getting Fewer.

By JOHN B. FOSTER.

Copyright.

New York, July 17.—When Everett Scott, famous shortstop for the Yankees, accepted 13 chances in a recent nine-inning game against the White Sox, nary a trumpet blew a blast, although it was an achievement worthy of note. Bobby Wallace holds the record with 17 chances handled in a regulation game.

It was the first time in years that Scott had such a busy afternoon; in 1920 he did not reach double figures during the season, although he accepted nine chances on five different occasions. The following season he accepted 12 chances on two different occasions. In 1922 he dropped back to 11, but he accomplished that number three times.

Has Peculiar Record.

Has Peculiar Record.

Scott has a peculiar record as a shortstop. He does not flash up with a 10 here, an 11 there and a 16 somewhere else, but he goes along season after season with a big total. This year he has not been nearly as spectacular as some of the National League shortstops, but none of the American leagues have for that matter. He has managed to knock down eight chances five times, nine once, 10 once, and now 13.

I3.

In 1922 the "Deacon" had more total chances than any other American League shortstop, but both Peckinpaugh and Sewell surpassed him in doing stunts. That he should have come up to 1923 to make a 13 is likely to gratify him considerably inasmuch as he was counted out of baseball at the finish of the last world's series, not only by his own league contingent, but also by most of the critics.

George Sisler and Ty Cobb were the only 400 hitters in the American League. There is no Sisler to make joy for the fans this year, and Cobb is half a mile below his 1922 form. He thought, that he was as good as ever in the spring, and perhaps he is so far as his legs are concerned, but the aggravations of managing seem to set heavily on him as they do on all who aspire to that job.

on him as they do on all who aspire to that job.

Bentley and Mueller are the only two in the National League who are peeking over the .400 horizon. The former plays only as a pitcher for the Giants, and Mueller has been sent to a lower league.

In the American, Smith, who has been pinch hitting for the Yankees with wonderful success, is 500. Heilmann of Detroit is batting .400. He is a "legit"; League shortstop, but both Peckinpaugh and Sewell surpassed him in doing stunts. Sir John S. Hendrie Dies Following Brief Illness In Hospital At Baltimore

Associated Press Despatch. Baltimore, July 18 .- Sir John S. Hendrie, president of the Hamilton Bridge Works, and former lieutenanted C.V.O. in 1907; was a councillor governor of Ontario, died at midnight at Johns Hopkins Hospital here. t Johns Hopkins Hospital here. Sir John, who was brought here from Hamilton, Ont., about ten days ago, underwent an operation for an intestinal growth last Thursday, and his condition was reported favorable until Monday night, when pneumonia developed and he grew rapidly worse. Hospital officials early today had practically given up hope for his re-brothers, Colonel William Hendrie and George M. Hendrie, and a son, William E. Hendrie, were with Sir John when the end came.

Lieut.-Col. John Strathearn Hen-drie, K.C.M.G., C.V.O., ex-mayor of Hamilton, Ont..., ex-M. L. A., and exlieutenant-governor of Ontario, widely known as a statesman, manufacturer, contractor, railway builder, capitalist, sportsman, military man and a public-spirited citizen generally, was born in Hamilton, and lived in that city practically all his life Member of Legislature.

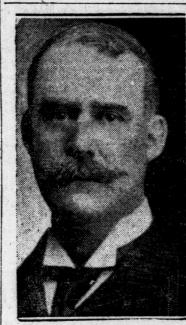

Col. Hendrie sat for West Hamilthe Ontario Legislature for several years, being first elected in 1902. He was a Conservative, and for a number of years was a member of the government of the late Sir James Whitney without portfolio, he having been offered and declined the portfolio of commissioner of public works in the Whitney administra-tion. As chairman of the railway committee of the Ontario Legislature Col. Hendrie prepared the railway bill which was passed by the legislature He was appointed lieutenant-gov ernor of Ontario in 1914 and held that office until 1919. Col. Hendrie's natural gift for pubic service found vent in numerous avenues outside of politics. He was n Board of Trade: director of the Great West Life Assurance Com-pany; director of the Hendrie Cartage Company, Hamilton; director of the Northern Navigation Company; director of the Niagara Navigation Company; director of the Mercantile Trust Company; director of the Bank of Hamilton; president of the Hamilton Jockey Club; member of the Royal Hydro-Electric Power Com-mission, 1906; member of the National Battlefields Committee: a delegate of the Inter-Provincial Confer-ence at Ottawa in 1910; was commanding officer of the 4th Field Bat-tery of Canadian Artillery, Hamilton,

He won the king's plate in 1919 with Shimonese, four-year-old chestnut filly, by Martimas out of Lyddite, and in 1910 with Parmer, bay gelding by the Commoner out of Placena.

Early in his business career Col.

Hendrie constructed railroads in Canada and the United States. He promoted the Hamilton Bridgeworks Company and was president of the company at the time of his death. Born in Hamilton on August 15, 1857, John S. Hendrie was a son of the late William Hendrie, founder of the Hendrie Cartage Company, Ham-ilton; founder of the Valley Farm in 1899; commanded the Canadian racing stables; for a number of years president of the Ontario Jockey Club, and also winner of the coveted queen's plate in 1902 with Lyddite. John S. Hendrie was educated at Hamilton Grammar School and Upper Canada College, Toronto. In April, 1885, he married Lena Maude, daughter of the late P. R. Henderson, Kingston, Ont.

He is survived by one son, Major Ian Hendrie, and one daughter, Mrs. (Col.) Hugh Cwen, and by two brothers and four sisters, a brother and sister in Hamilton, a brother and sister in Detroit, and a sister in Montreal and Toronto.

John Tod, Former Londoner, Tells of Problems of Canadian West.

WHY "DRYS" LOST

Visitor Says Manitoba Was Disgusted With Method of Prohibition Enforcement.

If sentiment against Ontario liquor laws was as strong as that registered in Manitoba in the recent referendum there would be no question as to the result of a similar plebiscite in this province, according to John Tod, former Londoner, now visiting ing circles in Winnipeg, declared a victory for wet forces in the western province was inevitable owing to the march to the station a practice for obnoxious methods of enforcing pro-hibition. All Manitoba was disgusted watched them go by with varying with the liquor policy of the government. Bootlegging was rife and drinking in private homes more prevalent than before the law came into effect. In such overwhelming voting against a continuance of the system, the people of Manitoba voiced their protest against the numerous objectionable reform measures with which the province was becoming afflicted.

Sees Prosperity Ahead.

Mr. Tod sees in the death of the temperance laws of Manitoba a feeling of satisfaction and greater con-tentment with conditions in the province. Prohibitory liquor enactments were thorns in the prosperity and future of the west, he says. Within the next five years Mr. Tod predicts a boom throughout the prairie provinces surpassing anything of the past. Citizens who last year returning by the thousands. The wheat crop promises to exceed, both in quality and volume, the bumper crop yield of 1915. If the high expectations of the farmers materialize, industrial and agricultural prosperity will come rapidly and universally. Unfortunately the returns farmers receive for their crops are out of proportion to the high cost of living. The anticipated huge harvest will offset the effect of low prices and debts with which the majority prairie farmers are burdened will be less difficult to bear.

Bring In All Immigrants.

"In spite of agitation against unties of war still fresh in their memory, will find it hard, perhaps, to believe, the sentiment voiced by record and believe the sentiment voiced by record and believe the sentiment voiced by record and believe the sentiment voiced by restricted immigration. "We our greatest The strikers continue to ignore the during the years of unrestricted immigration. Only since provincial and federal governments have legislated against certain types of foreigners have the western provinces suffered. A great many men are touring the country warning the people the settlement of foreigners. men are reactionaries whose inborn conservatism impedes the natural growth of Western Canada.

"Some so-called Canadians would oust foreigners from the country because their religious or social creeds do not happen to match their own. And the worst of it is that many of our legislators are obsessed with the same idea. There is room enough in the west for every nationality and every sect. The big thing to be taught is tolerance. So long as prejudice and bigotry are given a voice in our immigration question, just so long will the west remain

PIPE CONTESTS

Competition For Advertiser Trophies One of This Afternoon's Big Events.

The 1:20 train on the L. & P. S. today was a Scottish pilgrimage to the Port. The Caledonian Society of Elgin and Middlesex gathered their various clans together and left with the drone of the pipes and the flutte: of the kilts as a fit and worthy ac-companiment to their day at the lakeside. The pipe band of the Western Regiment played themselves down to Mr. Tod, who is prominent in bank- the train from the Armories, and as emotions, those who appreciate the pipes in the height of enjoyment, and those who fail entirely to see how they can be called musical instru-ments backing into open doorways and shutting their windows as the boys with the tartan went by. Nevertheless, in the bright sun-reform shine they made a gallant picture province carrying in the song of their pipes and in the swing of their step the memory of every great adventure that has engaged the old flag. At St. Thomas the Windsor pipe band lett the train for a short route march, and the good people of the railway town listened to another burst of the holiday music of the pipers.

Many From St. Thomas. A large number of Caledonians joined the train at St. Thomas, though many of them had gone before in the morning. At Port, where the lake sparkled and twinkled in the still air, the Scots disembarked and started their program for the Highland games. On the beach were the races and the tug o' war between Middlesex and Elgin. On the height-were the piping contests. The On-tario pipe band and the individual piping contests for The Advertise trophies, representing the provincial championships, are the feature of to-day's games, and will be the first recognized bagpipe championships to held in Ontario Fifty pipers went to the Port, and sixty dancers, both boys and girls, are competing for the MacDoneld medals. Then there were babies by first experience of the trials of con-

Nations Arrange Terms of Note Shall Be Kept

Strict Secret. Associated Pres: Despatch. Paris, July 18 .- The French foreign office indicated today that it expected munication on the reparations pro.

to receive on Friday the British comlem. It has been pre-arranged by both the French and British foreign offices that the precise terms of the note shall be guarded with the greatest secrecy until the two governments have reached an agreement, or have become convinced that they cannot agree. It is not supposed in the highest political levels here that the note will be such that it can be either accepted or rejected, as a whole. British note, it is understood here, is neither being sent as a finality nor is it expected that it will be received here as such. The prevailing idea is to close no doors to an agreement, but to keep the conversation going in an earnest spirit on both sides, with the hope of finding a common ground for agreement

Mr. Walker doesn't pretend to be a champion player, but he can hold his own with most of the local men, and has made checkers his hobby for 25 years. The 25 years can be proved, because an account of his participation in a championship game at Thorndale just 25 years ago is to be found on turning up the old Advertiser files.

"Checkers is a very scientific game requiring a great deal of skill, patience and deep thought," says Mr. Walker. "It affords the best kind of recreation, because you have to keep your mind entirely free from every-thing else when you play. Else you won't be able to avoid the traps of enemy or map out your own paign. More than this it is an inspiration to try for 'the king row' in the game of life as in checkers. Keeps Hair in Curl On

Hot, Wet or Windy Days

Here's a hair curling secret that is decidedly "worth while." Just apply a little liquid silmerine before doing up the hair, using a clean tooth brush for the purpose and you will have as beautiful curls and waves as you could wish for. The waviness will look so natural no one will guess it was artificially acquired. And it will last ever so long, regardless of heat, wind or dampness. You can obtain liquid silmerine at any drug store and a few ounces will last for months. It is neither sticky nor greasy. It serves also as a beneficial dressing, keeping the hair soft, silky and lustrous. It's fine for both long and bobbed hair.—Advt.

Fifty Mothers and Children Elect Officers At July Meeting Attend—Enjoy Splendid Held At Home of Beatrice Cook.

One of the most enjoyable picnics "The Blue Bird Club" has become held this season was the one given "The Lucky Seven." The change of Monday at Thames Park by the pri- name occurs with the breaking away mary and junior departments of Chalmers Presbyterian Sunday school. Fifty mothers and children were present, and a splendid program make up the total membership, yet were present, and a splendid program of races had been arranged. The children also enjoyed a delightful swim in the plunge and later a picnic supper was served. The teachers in charge of this enjoyable affair were Mrs. Weames, Mrs. Tanfield, Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Tilley.

The results of the races were as follows: The the splendid work which they have done in the city during the past few years, would do credit to a much larger organization.

At the recent annual meeting Miss Grace Blanchard was elected president, with Miss Helen Maine, secrefollows:

Mrs. Tilley's class—1 David Duncan, 2 Harry Bell, 3 Kenneth Phillip.

Mrs. McPherson's class—1 Clifford Phillip, 2 Ronald McDonald, 3 Clartary and Miss Florence Quigley, treasurer, the other four members being Miss Beatrice Cook, Miss Mariorie Hunter, Miss Freda Dobbin and Miss Helen Baker. The club activi-2 Gwendolyn Mann, 3 Isobel McPherties are carried on under the super-vision of Mrs. W. D. Quigley. The club has decided to be an independent organization and so has severed its official connection with the Askin Street Church. The work which it has done in the past few years includes the furnishing of the Blue Bird Nursery at the Bethesda Hospital two years ago. Splendid contributions have been given to the Russian and Chinese relief funds. Mrs. Ida Harrison was given $20 to-wards her social service work, and just this week the club has added another $15 to this, to help out the W. C. T. U. fresh air camp fund. Miss Tapscott, accompanied by her niece, Miss Margaret Steven, leaves shortly for a vacation at Erie Side, Cleveland. Just now the members are busily engaged on nightgowns for the small children at the Ronald Gray Memor-ial Home.

The money used in this work, has been raised by means of bazaars and private selling of candy and home cooking. The girls have also constituted themselves magazine agents, taking subscriptions, and using their commission for club work.

The club meets every second Tuesday, but for the months of July and August, the meetings have been reduced to one month. This month's meeting was held at the home of Miss Beatrice Cook, Stanley street

MOTORIST SAYS ROAD IS IN VERY BAD STATE

Declares the Detour Between Thamesford and London Unfit For Car Traffic.

Special to The Advertiser. Woodstock, July 17.—A local motor-ist, who made the trip to London and back on Sunday, gives a warning to the motoring public regarding the condition of the road between Thamesford and London. It has been believed that this section of the highway is in good condition for traffic, but the latest information is to the effect that it is closed, and that the detour designated by the provincial department of highways is in a fright-ful condition and is really unfit for motor traffic.

As the same also applies to the Bower hill detour, this motorist advises

Bees have pre-empted the top of the Henry Clay statue at Lexington. Kentucky. This statue was struck by lightning a few years ago, and the head dislodged. A new head was fashioned, and it is in it that the bees have their bires. Surveys indicate that near the mouth of the River Rio de la Plata the Atlantic is more than eight miles of Equipment With 25,000 Horsepower Capacity.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, July 17.—Noah A Timmins, president of the Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines, announced in Toronto, today that the contract for the dam and power house for the power development of Hollinger Consolidated at the Island portage on the Abitibi River had been awarded to Sir William Arrol, Limited, of St. Catharines, Ont., and London, Eng., present plans call for the installation of equipment with a productive capacity of 25,000 horsepower. Some 20,000 horsepower will be delivered at the mines for the use of the Hollinger Company, and a further 2,000 horsepower will be at the disposal of the municipalities in the neighborhood. It is anticipated that the development will be completed and power available for distribution in the fall of 1924 be completed and power available distribution in the fall of 1924.

Grain Markets

Winnipeg. July 17.—There was a better tone to the wheat market here today. Selling pressure was not so pronounced, and there appeared to be active buying on a fairly large scale of the October future, which was relatively stronger than July. Export interests and eastern buyers were reported to be in the market. Following the easy opening, prices advanced fractionally, July touching a high of $1.05 and October $5\cdot c$. The close was \(\cdot c\text{lower} \) for December.

The coarse grain markets were more or less quiet, but displayed a better tone, and values were inclined to be fractionally higher. Trading continues on a small scale, with a little business passing from day to day.

The cash markets lacked interest, and rractically no trading was recorded today. All spreads remained unchanged.

CHICAGO Associated Press Despatch.

Chicago, July 17.—New breaks in the season's low price record for all future deliveries of wheat took place today, and for the first time this season the September delivery sold under 96c a bushel. Hedging sales of newly harvested wheat, together with inadequacy of demand, had much to do with the fresh setbacks in price. Closing quotations were unsettled, varying from %c net decline to %c advance; September 96%c to 98%c and December 99%c to 99%c. Corn, oats and provisions scored gains; Corn %c to 1%c, oats %c to %c and provisions 10c to %c and provisions 10c to %c and provisions scored gains; Corn %c to 1%c, oats %c to %c and provisions 10c to %c and provisions scored gains; Corn %c to 1%c.

Date 14c to 12c and provisions 10c to 17c.

As usual of late, hedging pressure was most in evidence around the opening, and it was during this period to-day that the September delivery fell to the day's minimum of 94%c.

Some selling of wheat today was based on denials that the Canadian Bureau of Statistics had estimated the Canadian stureau of Statistics had estimated the Canadian yield of wheat this year to total as much as 500,000,000 bushels. Instead, the condition of the Canadian crop on June 30 was reported as 105 per cent of the decennial average of 15% bushels an acre. The acreage estimated was 22.163,000 acres. On this basis the last Canadian official estimate would indicate a crop of 366,000,000 bushels, which is a little less than last would indicate a crop of 366,000,000 bushels, which is a little less than last vear's total.

Corn and oats appeared to have been oversold, and corn in particular responded readily to eastern buyers.

Associated Press Despatch. Chicago, July 18.—Wheat scored a sharp advance in price today during the early dealings, ascending in some cases more than 2½c a bushel. The sudden rise was largely due to hurried active purchasing on the part studen rise was largely due to hurried active purchasing on the part of previous sellers, who were nervous over concerted efforts being made to lift values. Unusual publicity given to the movement urging investors to "buy 1,000 bushes of wheat," and housewises to "buy a harmel of flowr." housewives to "buy a barrel of flour," received especial notice in this connection. Besides, there was an evident falling off in the volume of rural offerings of wheat. CATTLE PRICES DROP

Trading Continues Slow With Little Demand For Export.

Special to The Advertiser. Toronto, July 18 .- The market continues slow at the week's clean-up, the trend of prices being generally on the down grade. Choice butcher cattle are quoted at from $7 to $7.50, but there are few at the top price, for the season chiefly that there are only very of the right quality to command the top prices. A few choice baby beeves are selling steady around $8 to $8.50, or even up to $9 for anything special, but this class just now seems about the steadlest thing in the market.

"Ong tray!"

A lady entered with a tripping gait, and fluttered over to his desk.
"Are you the young man who passes on contributions?" she asked.
"No, miss," said the s. e. "But I have traveled around some trying to get contributions, on passes. If that tightly-rolled Ms. yoù have there now is a sonnet, stating that November's chill and spectral hand is on the withered globe. I am afraid that you will have to talk to the business manager, and have it entered at u. r., which means usual rates. You see we ran a great deal of spectral hand and withered globe and dying roses business during October. If it was something, now, a little livelier we could use it very nicely.

"Ch, but it is not a poem, it is a love story," said the young lady.
"That is quite different," said the s. e., trowning a little and putting his feet against a picture of Maud S, on the wall. "Does the heroine begin to feel that she has vague longings for some more congenial spiritbegin to feel that she has vague long-lngs for some more congenial spirit-someone who can understand the kind in your story, and still preserve caprices and mysterious, unfathom-what our dramatic editor calls the unities when he writes up a show he hasn't seen?"

"I'm afraid my story could not be changed so much. I will call again and see the literary editor."

"Oh, you stand a much better chance with me than you would with him at present. Somebody has writ-ten, and asked him to publish a comparative estimate of the characters of Cinderella, Trilby and Socrates, stating all points on which they differ, and why, and he has gone down to the roller mill to grind his teeth However, you may come back and see him tomorrow. WANT AD TIPS

What Borrowers Want To Know

is the easy way to quickly place funds. Loan advertisers who,

out of years of experience, have standardized their Want advertising, have learned what these things which appeal most to borrowers are. Two different things run "neck and neck" for attention-one, the ease with which a loan can be ob-ence. Often some reverse in personal affairs forces it, the assumption of financial obligations is necessary, but deplored.

Inexperienced borrowers often apply for loans and are refused.

To get the money, and get it quickly, becomes a moving human wish. Or, possibly, the borrower has urgent need of the money.

DRESSED AS BOY: HATES GIRL LIFE

Held by Chicago Police in Connection With Brutal Street Slaving.

SOUGHT MAN'S

By MARGARET DALE. Copyright.
Special to The Advertiser

Chicago, July 18.—For the second time in 30 days the police blotters of Chicago have recorded the unof Chicago have recorded the un-canny story of a sex metamorphosis adopted to veil a life that led from the haunts of the underworld into a prison cell. Today it was slim, sofe-eyed Blanche Voorhees, "going on 19," who had swapped her birth-right of feminine charm and girlish innocence for an olive drab shirt, grey trousers, close-cropped hair grey trousers, close-cropped hair and the argot of a young Apache. By a strange coincidence, perhaps purely by suggestion, she has been linked in the suspicion of the police linked in the suspicion of the police with that other anomaly, the girlman Thompson, now held for the brutal murder of Richard Tesmer.

"Girls have not got a chance in the world. You got a be a boy to get along," was the explanation little Miss Voorhees gave for her masculing exting when masquerading as a recent suspect in the Tesmer mur-der case. Thompson, the girl-man, when questioned by the police in the same manner, replied, as he rouged his cheeks, that though he might be a man, he preferred to go through life as a woman. Must Pass Scrutiny. A month ago Mrs, Tesmer positive ly identified Thompson as the "girl" who shot her husband while she robbed him and smiled as she pulled the trigger. But, despite her "posi-tive identification" of Thompson, the police insist that the young and pretty masquerader, Blanche Voorhees must pass the scrutiny of the widow efore she can resume the natura pabiliments of her sex and go free They wish to be entirely sure that it was the Mona Lisa smile of the girl-man, and not that of the man-girl, which sent Tesmer to his death two months ago.

"I didn't dress like a boy to be smart," said Miss Voorhees, "it just seemed the easiest way, that's all. Wonders at Arrest. "Girls get such a rotten deal in this world. Its only a man who gets on. I got tired of waiting on the table in Fort Wayne. If a girl has looks, she's insulted, and I don't not like the one I had. I decided I'd go home, or the nearest thing to a home I have, which is in Danto a nome I have, which is in Dan-ville, where my mother lives, so I dressed in boys' clothes and rode the rails, just like the hoboes do, and I got away with it. And then I bummed it back again to Chicago. I came up here to see my married sister, and I was just about to get a man's job when I was arrested. I wish I knew why they arrested me."

Although there is a striking contrast between Thompson the girlman and Blanche, the man-girl, the former being hardened, cynical and seemingly insensible to the amenities laid to rest in the Vanesso ground. She leaves two Annie of Oakland and of Poek Market Market She leaves two ture and refinement, psychologists declare they may be actuated by the same motives in banishing the signs and prerogatives of all that each sex akes pride in.

Berlin, July 18.—Although the population of the Ruhr district are worrying their heads off because of the occupation of that area by the French, they still have time to try to solve the question of "How to be happy though married."

Essen, the biggest industrial center in the Ruhr, forgot all about the phabythough the solutions the unhabitants were requested to decide who were the happiest married. The winers were a man and woman who had seven children. The wife's answer to the old query of "How to be happy though married." was that one should have a musician for a husband. Her husband, she said, played the accordion all the time, and not only succeeded in keeping the children tranquil, but also kept the wolves from the door. "Music not only hath charms, but it quieteth both the beast and the haby." was the prescription of this
